GLENWOOD SECURITIES, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006

Note 1 - Nature of Business

Glenwood Securities, Inc. (The "Company") is a New York State corporation formed in 1995, for the purpose of conducting business as a broker on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange. The Company is registered as a broker-dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), and is also a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD").

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

a) Revenue Recognition

Securities transactions (and the recognition of related income and expenses) are recorded on a trade date basis. Commission income and related expense are recorded on a settlement date basis. There is no material difference between settlement date and trade date.

b) Income Taxes

The Company has elected to be treated as an "S" Corporation under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and New York State tax regulations. Under the provisions, the Company does not pay federal or state corporate income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the stockholder is liable for individual income taxes on his respective share of the Company's taxable income. The Company continues to pay New York City general corporation taxes.

c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers demand deposited money market funds to be cash equivalents. The Company maintains cash in bank accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits or where no insurance is provided. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and does not believe it is exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

d) Equipment

Equipment is carried at cost and is depreciated over a useful life of 5-7 years using accelerated methods.

e) Use of Estimates

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses.

Note 3 - Marketable Securities Owned

Marketable securities consist of traded securities at quoted market values, as illustrated below

	Owned
U. S. Government Bonds	$9,531
	$9,531

GLENWOOD SECURITIES, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006

Note 4 - Servicing Agreement

The Company entered into a Servicing Agreement with W. P. Stewart Securities Limited, a Bermuda limited liability company (WPSSL), on January 5, 1998. WPSSL, a registered broker-dealer, agreed to pay the Company a monthly fee to provide certain trading executions services. WPSSL was obligated to pay the Company a minimum of $57,076 per month. For 2006, the Company received $399,534 under this agreement, which has been included in servicing agreement income on the statement of operations. This agreement was terminated on August 31, 2006.

Note 5 - Prior Period Adjustment

The Company used the services of an outside firm for its bookkeeping functions. In 2006, it was discovered that since at least 2002, this firm misappropriated assets of the Company in the amount of approximately $746,000.

At December 31, 2005, $230,000 of this amount was reported as an asset "loans and exchange" on the balance sheet. In 2006, $40,000 was repaid to employee pension accounts, to reimburse them for prior year shortages. The remaining $476,000 was charged to stockholder distributions and various expense categories over the years and closed to retained earnings.

In January 2007, the Company received $500,000 from its insurance company as a settlement to reimburse it for its loss, reducing such loss from $746,000 to $246,000.

These financial statements reflect a prior period adjustment of $230,000, reconciling the losses already taken in prior years, of $476,000 less the loss discovered in 2006, of $40,000, to the final amount of $206,000 as follows:

	12/31/2005	Adjustment	Corrected
Receivable	$230,000	$ 270,000	$500,000
Prior losses closed to retained earnings	$476,000	$(270,000)	$206,000
Current year repayment of prior year misappropriation:
Expense	40,000	(40,000)	-0-
Retained earnings	-0-	40,000	40,000

Since the insurance settlement and the reimbursements to employee pension accounts pertain to the prior years misappropriations, it is being reflected in the prior year adjustment.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006

Note 6 - Commitments and Contingencies

Legal Proceeding

The Company used the services of an outside firm for its bookkeeping functions. In addition to misappropriations of cash perpetrated against the Company (Note 6) there were additional acts of misappropriation of cash perpetrated against other broker-dealers.

On or about May 8, 2006, the Company received notice from one such broker-dealer claiming the return of $70,000 which was allegedly withdrawn from their bank account without authorization by the bookkeeping firm and deposited into the account of the Company (the Company was used as a conduit and this money was transferred out for the benefit of the bookkeeping firm). It is not being claimed that the Company was complicit in the alleged unauthorized withdrawal, but rather that it was unfairly enriched as a result and therefore must return the $70,000.

The Company replied to this claim in writing in early June 2006 by denying the claim for return of funds and requesting additional information. It is premature to opine on the ultimate outcome of this claim should it ultimately lead to litigation.

On February 2, 2006, the Company received a letter from another broker-dealer, in a claim that appears related to the facts underlying the case discussed above demanding the return of $30,000 which was allegedly withdrawn from its account and deposited into the account of the Company. In investigating this claim it appears that this broker-dealer received monies that were improperly withdrawn from the Company in excess of $30,000 he is claiming.

It is premature to opine on the ultimate outcome of this claim should it ultimately lead to litigation, but it appears possible that the Company could potentially be owed monies in excess of the $30,00 claimed.

Management believes that the resolution or the ultimate outcome of these matters is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the financial condition of the Company and, therefore, no provision for liability has been made in the accompanying financial statements.

Note 7 - Financial Instruments with Off-Balance Sheet Credit Risk

As a securities broker, the Company is engaged in buying and selling securities for a diverse group of institutional and individual investors. The Company introduces these transactions for clearance to another broker-dealer on a fully disclosed basis.

GLENWOOD SECURITIES, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 7 - Financial Instruments with Off-Balance Sheet Credit Risk (continued)

The Company's exposure to credit risk associated with non-performance of customers in fulfilling their contractual obligations pursuant to securities transactions can be directly impacted by volatile trading markets which may impair the customer's ability to satisfy their obligations to the Company and the Company's ability to liquidate the collateral at an amount equal to the original contracted amount. The agreement between the Company and its clearing broker provides that the Company is obligated to assume any exposure related to such non-performance by its customers. The Company seeks to control the aforementioned risks by requiring customers to maintain margin collateral in compliance with various regulatory requirements and the clearing broker's internal guidelines. The Company monitors its customer activity by reviewing information it receives from its clearing broker on a daily basis, and requiring customers to deposit additional collateral, or reduce positions, when necessary.

Note 8 - Net Capital Requirement

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 1500%. At December 31, 2006, the Company had net capital of $346,255, which was $341,255 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. The Company's net capital ratio was 18.25%.

A copy of the Firm's statement of Financial Condition as of December 31, 2006, pursuant to SEC Rule 17a-5, is available for examination at the Firm's office and at the regional office of the SEC.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Officers and Directors of Glenwood Securities, Inc.
c/o Gettenberg Consulting
40 Wall Street, 34th Floor
New York, NY 10005

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Glenwood Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2006. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the statement of financial condition based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards required that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of financial condition is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the statement of financial condition. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall statement of financial condition presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the statement of financial condition referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Glenwood Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2006, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

To the Officers and Directors of Glenwood Securities, Inc.

Gentlemen:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Glenwood Securities, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2006, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion of the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5 (g) (1) and (2) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by Glenwood Securities, Inc. that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5 (g), (1) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3 (a) (II); (2) in complying with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company (1) in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13; (2) in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and (3) in obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above mentioned objectives.

Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that may be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for determining compliance with the exemption provisions of Rule 15c3-3, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report recognizes that it is not practicable in an organization the size of Glenwood Securities, Inc. to achieve all the divisions of duties and cross checks generally included in a system of internal accounting control and that alternatively greater reliance must be placed on surveillance by management.

Further, that no material differences existed between our computations of your net capital, or determination of the reserve requirements, and your corresponding Focus Report Part IIA filing, except as noted in Schedule I.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and other regulatory agencies, which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
