MCM Financial Corp.
Las Vegas, Nevada

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of MCM Financial Corp. as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the related statements of operations, stockholder's equity and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of MCM Financial Corp. as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements, taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III and IV is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements, but is supplemental information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements, taken as a whole.

MCM FINANCIAL CORP.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006 AND 2005

1. Nature of operations and background information:

Business activities. MCM Financial Corp. (the Company), offers consulting services to clients, ordinarily described as "money management." The Company does not hold funds or securities for customers. The Company operates primarily in Southern Nevada; however, its future operations could be affected by adverse changes in economic conditions in the local area or in the United States, in general, including the effect of the war on terrorism.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies:

Use of estimates. Timely preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ordinarily requires management to make estimates that affect reported amounts, which estimates may require revision in future periods.

Cash equivalents. Cash equivalents include highly liquid investments with initial maturities of three months or less.

Income taxes. The Company, with the consent of its sole stockholder, has elected to have its income taxed as an "S corporation" and, accordingly, these statements do not include any provisions for corporate income taxes or benefits.

Revenue recognition. Management fee revenues are recognized when earned and consist of commission percentages established by various agreements applied to customers' investment assets managed.

3. Net capital requirements:

The Company is subject to the net capital provisions of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. The rules adopted by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission prohibit a member from engaging in securities transactions if the ratio of its aggregate indebtedness, if any, to net capital, as defined, exceeds 10 to 1, or if its net capital, as defined, falls below $5,000. Net capital and the related net capital ratio may fluctuate on a daily basis. The net capital ratio of the Company was .00 to 1 and .02 to 1 at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The Company's net capital was $21,240 and $12,410 at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. Therefore, the Company was in compliance with these requirements.

4. Related party transactions:

Use of the Company's premises are provided to it by an entity affiliated through common ownership at no cost and without accounting recognition. During 2006 and 2005, the Company recorded expenses of $13,500 and $12,500, respectively, to reimburse the affiliate for other charges.

5. Supplemental cash flow information:

	2006	2005
Reconciliation of net income to net cash provided by operating activities
Net income	$ 9,087	$ 2,761
Increase in operating (assets) liabilities
Prepaid expenses	(257)	100

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

Shareholder
MCM Financial Corp.
Las Vegas, Nevada

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of MCM Financial Corp. (the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States, we considered the Company's over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the Company's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the Company's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the Company's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the Company's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the shareholder, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, the National Securities Clearing Corporation, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
