INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Trustees
Omni Financial Securities, Inc.
Columbus, Ohio

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Omni Financial Securities, Inc. (Company) as of December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the related statements of operations, changes in shareholder's equity and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits:

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Omni Financial Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I and II is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

OMNI FINANCIAL SECURITIES, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2006 AND 2005

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND PURPOSE

Omni Financial Securities, Inc. (Company), an Ohio corporation, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Manex Financial Management, Inc. (Parent), formerly named Omni Financial Management, Inc. The Company was incorporated in 1991, and is engaged in the selling of mutual funds and variable annuities to the general public in the Central Ohio area.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A summary of significant accounting policies consistently applied by management in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements follows:

Basis of Accounting - The Company uses the accrual basis of accounting for book and tax purposes.

Accounting Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Accounts Receivable - Accounts receivable are recorded when commissions are earned and are presented in the statement of financial condition net of any allowance for doubtful accounts. Accounts receivable are written off when they are determined to be uncollectible. Any allowance for doubtful accounts is estimated based on the Company's historical losses, the existing economic conditions in the industry and the financial stability of those individuals who owe the receivable. No allowance for doubtful accounts was deemed necessary at December 31, 2006 or 2005.

Revenues and Expenses - The Company records revenues and expenses directly related to securities transactions on a trade date basis.

Federal Income Taxes - The Company records income taxes in accordance with SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes (SFAS No. 109). SFAS No. 109 requires an asset and liability approach for financial reporting purposes. Deferred income taxes are provided for differences between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and the financial reporting amounts at the end of the period, and for net operating loss and tax credit carryforwards available to offset future taxable income. Changes in enacted tax rates or laws result in adjustments to recorded deferred tax assets and liabilities in the periods in which the tax laws are enacted or tax rates are changed.

The Company files a consolidated federal income tax return with its Parent. The tax allocation agreement between the two entities provides that the Parent will pay all consolidated federal income taxes on behalf of the group and the Company will make payments to the Parent in an amount equal to the tax liability, if any, that it would have had if it were to file a separate return. As a result, the loss generated for 2006 will be utilized on the parent's 2006 income tax return. The Company has considered this tax benefit in the management fee that it pays to its Parent.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Statement of Cash Flows - For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of 90 days or less to be cash equivalents.

NOTE 3 - NET CAPITAL

The Company is subject to the uniform net capital rule of the Securities and Exchange Commission (Rule 15c3-1), which requires that the Company maintain minimum net capital and that the Company's ratio of "aggregate indebtedness" to "net capital" not exceed 15 to 1 (as defined by Rule 15c3-1). The Company had net capital of $7,335 and $8,228 as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, which was in excess of the net capital required by NASD of $5,000. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital at December 31, 2006 and 2005 was 1.01 to 1 and .36 to 1, respectively.

NOTE 4 - RELATED PARTIES

The Parent allocates to its subsidiaries certain expenses it incurs that are related to the subsidiaries' operations via management fees. Total management fees paid by the Company to the Parent for 2006 and 2005 were $87,950 and $113,250, respectively.

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5 FOR A BROKER-DEALER CLAIMING AN EXEMPTION FROM SEC RULE 15c3-3

Board of Trustees
Omni Financial Securities, Inc.
Columbus, Ohio

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Omni Financial Securities, Inc. (Company) for the year ended December 31, 2006, we considered its internal control in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in the following:

1. Making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a) (11).
2. Determining compliance with the exemption provisions of Rule 15c3-3.

Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons.
2. Recording of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of the Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitation in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be a material weakness under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, which we considered to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Trustees, management, the SEC and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
