Report of Independent Auditors

To the Member:

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Rubicon Global Investments, LLC as of December 31, 2006, and the related statements of operations, changes in member's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Rubicon Global Investments, LLC as of December 31, 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As discussed in Note 1 to the financial statements, Rubicon Global Investments, LLC changed its method of accounting for share-based payments in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123(R) on January 1, 2006.

RUBICON GLOBAL INVESTMENTS, LLC

Notes to the Financial Statements For the Year Ended December 31, 2006

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

General - Rubicon Global Investments, LLC (the "Company") is a limited liability company established in November 2000. On October 12, 2005, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. approved the Company's membership. The Company charges customers a fee for providing electronic trading activities as an introducing broker-dealer. The Company will not hold customer funds or safekeep customer securities.

Basis of accounting - The accompanying financial statements are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America on the accrual basis of accounting. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition - The Company's revenues are recognized when earned.

Expense Recognition - The Company's expenses are charged to expense as incurred.

Income Taxes - The Company is treated as a partnership for federal and state income tax purposes. Consequently, no provision has been made for federal or state income taxes, since these taxes are the responsibility of the member.

Concentration of Credit Risk - Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to a concentration of credit risk principally consist of cash and accounts receivable.

The Company had cash in excess of federally insured limits of $16,249 at December 31, 2006.

The Company had one customer that comprises 100% of total accounts receivable at December 31, 2006.

For the year ended December 31, 2006, one customer accounted for 100% of fees.

Comprehensive Loss - For all periods presented, there were no differences between net loss and comprehensive loss.

Stock-Based Compensation - Prior to January 1, 2006, the Company accounted for stock-based compensation awards to employees using the intrinsic value method under the recognition and measurement principles of Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock issued to Employees." The application of APB Opinion No. 25 did not result in compensation expense because the exercise price of the stock-based awards was equal to the fair market value of the stock at the grant date.

RUBICON GLOBAL INVESTMENTS, LLC

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended December 31, 2006

Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 123(R), "Share-Based Payment". SFAS No. 123(R) replaces SFAS No. 123 and superseded APB No. 25 and related interpretations. Under SFAS No. 123(R), the Company must measure the fair value of all stock-based awards to employees, including stock options, on the date of grant and amortize the fair value of these awards to compensation expense over the service period. The Company elected the prospective application method, under which prior periods are not revised for comparative purposes. The valuation provisions of SFAS No. 123(R) apply to new awards and to awards outstanding as of the effective date that are substantially modified. For stock-based awards granted on or after January 1, 2006, the Company will recognize stock-based compensation expense on the straight-line basis over the requisite service period, which is generally the vesting period. Prior to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R), the Company applied the minimum value method to the value of the stock-based awards in accordance with SFAS No. 123. Under the prospective application method prescribed in SFAS No. 123(R), estimated compensation expense for stock-based awards that were valued using the minimum value method and were outstanding and unvested as of January 1, 2006 should not be recognized as compensation expense. The Company will continue to report these amounts under the disclosure-only provisions of SFAS No. 123.

The adoption of SFAS No. 123(R) did not have a material effect on our financial position and results from operations.

2. Related Party Transactions

During the year ended December 31, 2006 the Company received $102,000 from its member.

In January 2006, the Company and Headwaters Holdings, LLC ("Headwaters") entered into an expense sharing agreement. Under the agreement the Company retained Headwaters to provide support services for a three-year period. The support services include renting of office space and utilities. Headwaters will be paid a set fee of $450 a month, $350 for office space and $100 for utilities. At December 31, 2006, amounts owed to Headwaters under this agreement totaled $5,400 and this amount included in accounts payable. For the year ended December 31, 2006, rent totaled $4,200 and utilities total $1,200 for a total of $5,400 of expenses.

3. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregated indebtedness to capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2006, The Company had net capital of $101,027. Net capital is $96,027 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. At December 31, 2006, the Company's ratio of aggregated indebtedness to net capital was 0.15 to 1.

Report of Independent Auditors on Supplementary Information

To the Member:

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Rubicon Global Investments, LLC as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006, and have issued our report thereon dated March 9, 2007. Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information contained in the following pages are presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The supplementary information contained in the following page has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Report of Independent Auditors on Internal Control

To the Member:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplementary schedules of Rubicon Global Investments, LLC (the "Company"), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting ("internal control") as a basis for designing our audit procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or performs custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control activities for safeguarding securities that we considered to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the member, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
