Report on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5 for a Broker-Dealer Claiming an Exemption from SEC Rule 15c3-3

Gentlemen:

In planning and performing our audits of the financial statements of HBH Advisors, L.L.C. (the Company), as of and for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2006 and 2005, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Independent Auditors' Report

Gentlemen:

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of HBH Advisors, L.L.C. as of December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the related statements of income, changes in member's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of HBH Advisors, L.L.C. as of December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the results of its operations, and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the schedule on page 8 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole, and in conformity with the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

HBH Advisors, L.L.C.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2006 and 2005

Note 1 Company's Activities

The primary business activities are merger and acquisition advisory and capital sourcing services. The Company's office is located in Westchester, Illinois. The Company was formed in May 2002 and received its license to operate as a registered broker dealer in November 2002.

Note 2 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue and Cost Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue and expenses on the accrual basis of accounting. As such, revenue is recognized when services are performed and transactions are completed; expenses are recognized as incurred. Revenue for services that are paid in advance is amortized over the term of the engagement.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Advertising

The Company expenses advertising costs as they are incurred.

Income Taxes

The Company is a single member limited liability company. All income is passed through to the Company's sole owner, an S Corporation, and no income taxes are paid by the Company.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statement in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Due to the inherent uncertainty involved in making estimates, actual results reported in future periods may be based upon amounts that differ from those estimates.

Reclassifications

Certain items in the prior year financial statements have been reclassified to conform with current year presentation.

Note 3 Fair Values

The carrying amounts for cash approximates fair value due to the short period of time to maturity.

HBH Advisors, L.L.C.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2006 and 2005

Note 4 Concentrations of Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents and trade accounts receivable. The Company held, from time to time, significant amounts of money in various banks in excess of the amount covered under FDIC insurance. Concentrations of credit with respect to trade receivables exist due to the small number of customers comprising the Company's customer base.

The Company does not have a concentration of available sources of supply, material, labor, services or other rights that, if suddenly eliminated, could severely impact its operations.

Note 5 Computation of Net Capital

The Company is required to maintain a minimum net capital, in accordance with SEC Rule 15c3-1. Net capital required under the rule is the greater of $5,000 or 6-2/3% of the aggregate indebtedness of the Company.

On December 31, 2006, the Company had net capital of $169,618, which was $164,618 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. The Company had aggregate indebtedness of $ - 0 - as of December 31, 2006.

On December 31, 2005, the Company had net capital of $163,152, which was $158,152 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. The Company had aggregate indebtedness of $ - 0 - as of December 31, 2005.

Note 6 Cost Sharing Arrangement

The Company entered into an agreement with The Fred Jones Companies, Inc. (TFJC), the Company's sole owner, to share various costs. Under the agreement, HBH Advisors, L.L.C. was charged $7,500 per month for shared employees, $500 for rent, and $500 for miscellaneous office expenses. This cost sharing arrangement was terminated effective April 1, 2005.

Note 7 Reconciliation Pursuant to Rule 17a-5(D)(4)

Computation of Net Capital Under Rule 15c3-1

There were no reconciling items between the December 31, 2006 unaudited Focus report and this report, which affect net capital.

Note 8 Related Party Revenue

During 2005, $157,527 of the Company's revenue was received from Fred Jones Enterprises, LLC, a company related through common ownership.
