INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors and Member
Nunami Services, LLC
Denver, Colorado

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Nunami Services, LLC (a development stage company) as of March 31, 2007, and the related statements of operations, changes in member's equity and cash flows for the year then ended and for the period October 15, 2004 (inception), to March 31, 2007, that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Nunami Services, LLC as of March 31, 2007, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended and for the period October 15, 2004 (inception), to March 31, 2007, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information included in the accompanying information is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

(A Development Stage Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1 - Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nunami Services, LLC (the Company) was formed on October 15, 2004, as a Delaware limited liability company operating as a registered broker-dealer under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 (the Act). The Company is 100% owned by Nunami, Inc. (a Delaware Corporation). The Company's principal business will consist of providing stock loan services to hedge fund borrowers and beneficial owner lenders. The Company also intends to offer automated trade execution services, often referred to as Direct Market Access.

Once the Company commences operations, the Company intends to operate pursuant to paragraph (k)(2)(B) of Rule 15c3-3 of the Act and will not carry customer accounts or clear customer transactions. Accordingly, all such transactions will be executed and cleared on behalf of the Company by its clearing broker on a fully disclosed basis. The Company's agreement with its clearing broker provides that the clearing broker will keep such records of the transactions affected and cleared in the customer accounts as are customarily made and kept by a clearing broker pursuant to the requirements of Rules 17a-3 and 17a-4 of the Act and will perform all services customarily incident thereto. All customer funds and securities received, if any, will be promptly transmitted directly to the clearing broker. As a result, the Company is exempt from the remaining provisions and requirements of Rule 15c3-3 of the Act.

The Company's activities have been limited to organization and to obtaining its license to conduct business as a registered broker-dealer under the rules and regulations under the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). As the Company's principal business has not commenced, the Company is considered to be in the development stage.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents as of March 31, 2007.

Concentrations of Credit Risk and its Clearing Deposit

Financial instruments, which potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk, consist principally of temporary cash investments and the clearing deposit. The Company places its temporary cash investments with what management believes are high-credit quality financial institutions.

Clearing Deposit

Clearing deposit includes $10,000 deposited with the Company's clearing broker to offset risks assumed by the clearing broker related to clearing and settling securities and cash transactions on behalf of the Company.

NUNAMI SERVICES, LLC
(A Development Stage Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Income Taxes

The Company has elected to be treated as a Limited Liability Company (LLC) for income tax purposes. Accordingly, taxable income and losses of the Company are reported on the income tax returns of the Company's member and no provision for income taxes has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 2 - Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the uniform net capital requirements of the SEC under Rule 15c3-1, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. The SEC requirements also provide that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if certain minimum net capital requirements are not met. At March 31, 2007, the Company had net capital of $14,865, in excess of the amount required to be maintained at that date. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was .03 to 1.

Reconciliation with Company's computation:

There is no difference from the Company's computations included in its Part II of Form X-17A-5 as of March 31, 2007 and the audited computation above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL
REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17A-5

Board of Directors and Member
Nunami Services, LLC
Denver, Colorado

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Nunami Services, LLC (the Company) for the year ended March 31, 2007, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements caused by error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted that the following matters involving the control environment and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures to be performed in our audit of the financial statements of Nunami Services, LLC, as of and for the year ended March 31, 2007, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated May 8, 2007. Due to the Company having very limited operations, there are not adequate segregation of duties within the accounting processes of the Company to allow for an adequate control environment.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at March 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives, except as described in the preceding paragraph.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
