Re: Responding to your letter of May 2, 2007

Dear Ms. Jastredowski:

I received your above referenced letter on May 4, 2007, and immediately forwarded your letter to the auditor, Spencer Hostetter, with a request to respond immediately. I also researched the Georgia Secretary of State Board of Accountancy web site and found that Mr. Hostetter was licensed since 1976 as a CPA under the name Charles Spencer Hostetter, Georgia License No. CPA003636. I forwarded this information to John Macharia at 9:38 am on May 4th via email.

Yesterday, via hand delivery, I received Mr. Hostetter's response to your letter consisting of the following enclosed items:

1. Letter regarding licensing and a copy of his license information from the Georgia Secretary of States Board of Accountancy website.
2. Statement of Changes in Liabilities to Subordinated to General Creditors. (This schedule was not submitted with the original audit report on March 31, 2007, due to oversight by the accountant who did not know it was required since it had not been filed previously and the balance sheet showed no changes between the two year ends.)

I have also enclosed an executed Form X-17A-5 for the Statement of Changes in Liabilities Subordinated to General Creditors. Copies have been sent via U.S. Postal Service this day to the appropriate SEC local office and to the SEC Washington, D.C. offices named below.

Sincerely,

Steven G. Early, CEO
Financial Operations Principal

Dear Steve,

I have enclosed a copy of my license verification from the Secretary of States office. I am not sure why there is any question concerning this . If there is any further information needed please let me know.

Sincerely
