Independent Auditor's Report

To the Member of
KelBra Securities, LLC
Las Cruces, New Mexico

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of KelBra Securities, LLC (a New Mexico limited liability company) as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the related statements of income and member's capital and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audits in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of KelBra Securities, LLC as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with U. S. generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2006 and 2005

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Organization. The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). The Company is a New Mexico Limited Liability Company owned by James D. Bicknell.

Estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principals requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recognition of Income. Revenue from sale of investment company shares and related clearing expenses are reported on a trade-date basis as securities transactions occur.

Cash. For purposes of reporting cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include money market accounts and any investment instruments purchased with an original maturity of one year or less.

Accounts Receivable. Accounts receivables are recorded when invoices are issued. Receivables are written off when they are determined to be uncollectible. No allowance for doubtful accounts has been established. All receivables are considered collectible.

Furniture and Equipment. Furniture and equipment are recorded at cost. Depreciation is computed over lives of 5 to 7 years by the straight-line method for financial reporting purposes and under the methods prescribed by the Internal Revenue Service for tax purposes.

Concentrations of Risk. Revenues were generated from services to two clients. For the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, one client was accountable for 55% and 66%, respectively, of revenue and the other for 45% and 34%, respectively, of revenue.

The Company had only two customers. For the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, one customer represented 55% and 65%, respectively, of accounts receivable and the other for 45% and 35%, respectively, of accounts receivable.

2. Income Taxes

The Company is a single owner limited liability company which is a disregarded entity for income tax purposes. All elements of income and deductions are included in the tax return of the sole member.

3. Related Party Transactions

The Company is affiliated with Beacon Hill Ltd. Co. through the common ownership of James D. Bicknell. Both companies occupy the same premises. Under the affiliate agreement between the two companies, Beacon Hill Ltd. Co. is responsible for all rental or lease costs and utilities in connection with the property at

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (CONTINUED)

December 31, 2006 and 2005

3. Related Party Transactions (continued)

2001 Copper Loop, Suite 2, Las Cruces NM. The Company has the ongoing benefit of using the facility and fixed assets of Beacon Hill Ltd. Co. without charge. KelBra Securities LLC will reimburse Beacon Hill Ltd. Co. for payroll expenses at a rate of 20% based primarily on the amount of time the employee spends on activities for KelBra Securities LLC. All other expenses, such as telephone, office supplies, internet connection, and postage are allocated between the two companies based on employee man hours worked for each Company. This determination is made on January 1 of each year. The allocation of expenses for 2006 and 2005 was Beacon Hill Ltd. Co. 35% and KelBra Securities LLC 65%.

4. Depreciable Assets

Major classes of depreciable assets, their estimated useful lives, and related depreciation expense are as follows:

Assets	Cost		Depr. Expense
	December 31,		December 31,
	2006	2005	2006	2005

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control
Required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission

To the Member of
KelBra Securities, LLC
Las Cruces, New Mexico

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of KelBra Securities, LLC (the Company), for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgements by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practice and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of the inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we considered to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006 and 2005, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Member, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than those specified.
