Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of
Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation as of June 30, 2007 and the related statements of income, change in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The financial statements of Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation as of June 30, 2006 were audited by other auditors whose report dated August 15, 2006 expressed an unqualified opinion on those statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatements. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation as of June 30, 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1— Company Operations

Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation (the “Company”) was incorporated in the state of Arizona on August 15, 2001 and commenced operations in May 2002. The Company is a full service broker dealer and a member of the National Association of Security Dealers, Inc. (NASD) and Securities Investors Protection Corporation (SIPC). The Company also offers investment-banking services for both public offerings and private placements. The Company is located in Scottsdale, Arizona and provides services to customers throughout the United States.

The Company, like other securities firms, is directly affected by general economic and market conditions including fluctuations in volume and price levels of securities, changes in interest rates and demand for investment banking, securities brokerage and other services, all of which have an impact on the Company’s statement of financial condition as well as its liquidity.

Note 2—Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The significant accounting policies followed by the Company are as follows:

(A) Management’s use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect that reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Due to their prospective nature, actual results could differ from those estimates.

(B) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash includes cash and may, at times, include cash equivalents, which consist of highly liquid debt instruments with original maturities of three months or less.

(C) Securities Transactions

Securities transactions of the Company and commission income and expense are recorded on an accrual basis. Securities owned are valued at market value.

(D) Depreciation

Depreciation of furniture and equipment is computed using the straight—line method over useful lives of 7 years, computer systems 3 years and office equipment 5 years.

Note 2—Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital of

YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 2002
(Concluded)

Note 2—Net Capital Requirements (Continued)

$100,000, and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital shall not exceed 15 to 1. At June 30, 2007, the Company had net capital of $328,359, which was $228,359 in excess of its minimum required net capital. At June 30, 2007 the aggregate indebtedness balance was $362,505 creating a ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital of 1:91; the aggregate indebtedness to net capital requirement is met.

Note 3—Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company has its customers' transactions cleared through a clearing organization pursuant to clearance agreements. Nonperformance by its customers in fulfilling their contractual obligations pursuant to securities transactions with the clearing organization may expose the Company to risk and potential loss. The Company utilizes a clearing organization that is highly capitalized and is a member of major securities exchanges.

Cash deposits with banks potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk. The Company places its cash deposits with quality financial institutions and generally, by policy, limits the amount of credit exposure in any one financial institution to the amount of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) coverage of $100,000. At June 30, 2007, the Company had $141,192 of cash deposits in excess of the FDIC coverage.

Note 4—Rent

As of January 1, 2006, the building occupied by the Company was purchased by SCA Partners, LLC, a related equity. Estimated payments for the next two years are:

2007 - $105,000
2008 - $105,000

Note 5—Additional Information

The additional information pages contained within this audit are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements. They are however required by rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The information contained on these pages (10 and 11) has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in my opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

To the Board of Directors of
Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation for the year ended June 30, 2007, we considered its internal control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

As required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of practices and procedures followed by Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation, including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computation of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exceptive provisions of rule 15c-3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verification, and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of the Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraphs. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimate and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and the practices and procedures referred to above and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurances that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss, from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected and could affect future periods. Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standard established by the AICPA. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amount that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We did not note any matters involving internal control issues, including control activities for safeguarding securities.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to above are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Based on this understanding and on our financial audit review, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at June 30, 2007 to meet the SEC's objectives.

We recognize that it is not practicable in a company the size of Scottsdale Capital Advisors Corporation to achieve all the division of duties and cross checks generally included in a system of internal accounting control, and alternatively greater reliance must be placed on surveillance by management.
