(4) The Borrower shall furnish to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders the original or a certified copy of a receipt evidencing payment of Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes made by the Borrower within 30 days after the date of any payment of such Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes.

(5) If, following the imposition of any Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes on any payment by the Borrower to any Lender in respect of which the Borrower is required to make an additional payment pursuant to this Section 1.16, any Lender receives or is granted a credit against or remission for or deduction from or in respect of any taxes paid by it or shall obtain any other relief which, in such Lender's opinion, is both reasonably identifiable and quantifiable by it without involving it in an unacceptable administrative burden (any of the foregoing being a "saving"), such Lender will reimburse the Borrower with such amount as such Lender shall have concluded, in its absolute discretion but in good faith, to be the amount or value of the relevant saving. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with the right of any Lender to arrange its affairs in whatever manner it thinks fit and, in particular, no Lender shall be under any obligation to claim relief for tax purposes on its corporate profits or otherwise, or to claim such relief in priority to any other claims, relief, credits or deductions available to it or to disclose details of its affairs. The relevant Lender will notify the Borrower promptly of the receipt by such Lender of any such saving and of such Lender's opinion as to the amount or value thereof, and any reimbursement to be made by such Lender will be made promptly on the date of receipt of such saving by such Lender or, if later, on the last date on which the applicable taxation authority would be able in accordance with applicable Law to reclaim or reduce such saving.

(6) Each Lender shall promptly notify the Borrower upon any change occurring in terms of its residency status (or that of any of their respective partners) under the ITA, and, subject to Section 1.17, the Borrower shall not be required to pay any additional amounts or indemnify the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral

Agents or the Lenders pursuant to this Section 1.16 in respect of deductions or withholdings on account of any applicable Canadian withholding tax under Part XIII of the ITA or other Taxes; provided that this Section 1.16(6) shall not apply in respect of any deductions or withholdings which become exigible as a result of an assignment by a Canadian Resident Lender to a Foreign Lender of some or all of its Commitments or Accommodations hereunder at any time after the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default.

(7) GE Canada Finance Holding Company represents and warrants to the Borrower that as of the Closing Date it is not a non-resident of Canada for purposes of Part XIII of the ITA.

Section 1.17 Capital Adequacy; Increased Costs; Illegality.

If, with respect to any Lender, (i) any change in any law, rule, regulation, judgment or order of general application, or any change in the interpretation or application of such law, rule, regulation, judgment or order, occurring or becoming effective after this date, or (ii) compliance by any Lender with any direction, request or requirement (whether or not having the force of law) of any Governmental Entity made or becoming effective after the date, has the effect of causing any loss to such Lender or reducing such Lender's rate of return by (w) increasing the cost to the Lender of performing its obligations under this Agreement or in respect of any Accommodations outstanding (including the costs of maintaining any capital, reserve or special deposit requirements but other than a reduction resulting from a higher rate or from a change in the calculation of income or capital tax relating to its income or capital in general), (x) requiring such Lender to maintain or allocate any capital or additional capital or affecting its allocation of capital in respect of its obligations under this Agreement or in respect of any Accommodations outstanding, (y) reducing any amount payable to it under this Agreement or in respect of any Accommodations outstanding by any material amount, (z) causing such Lender to make any payment or to forego any return on, or calculated by reference to, any amount received or receivable by it under this Agreement or in respect of any Accommodations outstanding, then such Lender may give notice to the Borrower specifying the nature of the event giving rise to the loss and the Borrower may either, (i) on demand, pay such amounts as the Lender specifies is necessary to compensate it for any such loss, or (ii) provided no loss has yet been suffered by the Lender or the Borrower has paid the compensating amount to the Lender, repay the Accommodations outstanding, together with all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, and all other Obligations then outstanding and terminate the Lender's Commitments. A certificate as to the amount of any such loss submitted in good faith by the Lender to the Borrower shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes, absent manifest error.

ARTICLE 2
CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

Section 2.1 Conditions to the Initial Accommodation.

Subject to the terms of this Agreement, the obligation of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders to make the initial Accommodation hereunder is subject to the following conditions to be fulfilled or performed at or prior to the Closing Date, which conditions are for the exclusive benefit of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders and may be waived in whole or in part by the Administrative Agent and all of the Lenders in their sole discretion:

(1) Due Diligence. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have completed to their satisfaction all business, environmental, pension plan, labour and legal due diligence, including without limitation, satisfactory completion of appraisals, valuations and audits of the Collateral.

(2) Entry of Court Orders. The Sanction Order, the US Confirmation Order and the order of the Canadian Court approving the CBCA Plan of Arrangement shall each have been duly issued and entered in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders and their respective counsel and without limiting the foregoing there shall be no motion having been brought, which is pending, or notice of motion having been served, which is pending, to set aside, vary, appeal or seek leave to appeal any such Order (unless the relief sought therein or thereby could not, in the sole opinion of the Administrative Agent and all Lenders, adversely affect the rights or interests of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or any Lender under any such Order, this Agreement or any other Loan Document, including with respect to the Collateral, unless approval of the Administrative Agent and all Lenders is obtained), and all appeal periods for such orders shall have expired.

(3) Other Orders. All other CCAA Orders and US Orders and all motions relating thereto shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders and their respective counsel, and without limiting the foregoing there shall be no motion having been brought, which is pending, or notice of motion having been served, which is pending, to set aside, vary, appeal or seek leave to appeal any such Order (unless the relief sought therein or thereby could not, in the sole opinion of the Administrative Agent and all Lenders, adversely affect the rights or interests of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or any Lender under any such Order, this Agreement or any other Loan Document, including with respect to the Collateral, unless approval of the Administrative Agent and all Lenders is obtained), and all appeal periods for such orders shall have expired.

(4) No Litigation. No litigation shall have been commenced against any Credit Party which could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect or a material adverse effect on the consummation of the CCAA Plan or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Loan Documents.

(5) Absence of Default. Each of the Credit Parties shall be in full compliance with each of the covenants to be performed by it in each Loan Document to which it is a party, and no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred or will occur upon the Administrative Agent and the Lenders making the initial Accommodation to the Borrower hereunder and, in the sole determination of the Administrative Agent and all of the Lenders, no material adverse change shall have occurred in, or in respect of, the financial condition, business, profitability, operations, assets or prospects of the Credit Parties since December 31, 2005.

(6) Cash Management System. The Credit Parties shall have established such cash management system (including the TD Banking Services Agreement) as shall be acceptable to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders. Such cash management system shall be subject to such lock box agreements and Blocked Account Agreements, all to be in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders.

(7) Security Interests. The Administrative Agent and all Lenders shall be satisfied that the Administrative Agent (for the benefit of itself, the Co-Collateral Agents and the other Lenders) has a valid and perfected Lien over the Collateral of the Credit Parties and the Excluded Subsidiaries with the priorities as established by the Intercreditor Agreement, subject to Permitted Encumbrances, and for greater certainty and except as specified in Section 3.5 the Administrative Agent shall have received such documents duly executed by each Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiary and other Persons as the Administrative Agent may request in order to perfect, publish and record its Lien over the Collateral, and shall have received acknowledgements, estoppels, waivers, subordinations, postponements, discharges, priority agreements and inter-creditor and non-disturbance agreements (to the extent not previously delivered and to the extent they continue to be enforceable and can be relied upon by all Lenders) from those Persons having filed such financing statements (or other instruments or documents) without adequately limiting the description of the scope of their collateral acknowledging that their Liens do not cover the Collateral (unless their Liens constitute Permitted Encumbrances), including, without limitation, the Intercreditor Agreement, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders.

(8) Loan Documents. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received duly executed originals of each of the other Loan Documents duly executed by all Persons party thereto.

(9) CCAA Plan and Related Documents. The Administrative Agent and each of the Lenders shall be satisfied with the form and substance of the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan of Arrangement and all documentation and other instruments executed and delivered in connection therewith in order to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby, including without limitation the Term Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement, the Province Intercreditor Agreement, the New Province Warrants, the New Warrant Indenture, the Pension Agreement and the Plan Sponsor Agreement, and no Applicant or other Person shall have waived any conditions of the CCAA Plan or any condition precedent to the transactions contemplated thereby without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and each of the Lenders.

(10) Sale of Non-Core Assets. The Administrative Agent and each of the Lenders shall be satisfied with the status of, and plans for the proceeds of, all Non-Core Asset Sales.

(11) Repayment of Indebtedness. All Senior Secured Facility Obligations and DIP Facility Obligations (including all proceeds of Asset Sales held in trust by the Monitor) and all pre-Filing Date indebtedness, pre-Filing Date claims and other claims (excluding certain secured claims, priority tax claims, critical vendor claims, intercompany claims and other claims that are to be treated as unaffected claims under the CCAA Plan) shall have been repaid or otherwise provided for in accordance with the terms of the CCAA Plan, all commitments relating to the foregoing shall have been terminated, and all Liens related thereto shall have been terminated or released, in each case on terms satisfactory to the Co-Lead Arrangers, the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, and no other pre-Filing Date indebtedness, debtor-in-possession financing or other claims against the Borrower and the other Applicants shall remain outstanding except as specifically provided in the CCAA Plan.

(12) Corporate Structure. The Administration Agent and each of the Lenders shall be satisfied with (i) the corporate structure of the Credit Parties, (ii) the capital structure and tax treatment of the Credit Parties resulting from the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan of Arrangement, and (iii) the board of directors of the Borrower and of each General Partner as of the Closing Date.

(13) Real Estate Security. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received duly executed originals of the Mortgages and all other documents comprising the Real Estate Security entered into by each Credit Party which owns or leases any Real Estate other than Excluded Real Estate, dated before or as of the Closing Date, and all instruments, documents and agreements executed pursuant thereto (including, without limitation, title insurance policies related thereto for the benefit of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders), together with, if requested by the Administrative Agent, all necessary estoppel certificates, waivers of landlords, mortgagees or bailees, and evidence of registration or filing of each Mortgage in the land registration system applicable to the subject real property, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders.

(14) Borrowing Notice. The Administrative Agent shall have received from the Borrower a duly executed Borrowing Notice in the form of Exhibit "D".

(15) No Violation of Law etc. The Accommodation will not violate any applicable Law, order or judgment.

(16) Representations and Warranties. Each of the representations and warranties made by the Credit Parties in or pursuant to this Agreement and any other Loan Document shall be true and correct on and as of such date as if made on and as of such date, except for those representations and warranties which speak to a specific date which shall be true and correct as of such specific date. With respect to any such representations and warranties that do not relate solely to the Closing Date or any other specific earlier date, the Borrower may supplement each such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule herein or in any other Loan Document, with respect to any matter hereafter arising that would have been required to be set forth as an exception to such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule or that is necessary to correct any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby; provided that no such supplement to any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule shall amend, supplement or otherwise modify any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule, or be or be deemed a waiver of any Default or Event of Default resulting from the matters disclosed therein, except as consented to by the Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders in writing.

(17) Insurance. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received satisfactory evidence that the insurance policies required to be maintained by the Credit Parties by this Agreement are in full force and effect, together with appropriate evidence showing the Administrative Agent as loss payee, and showing the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders as additional insured where appropriate, in each case, as their interests appear. All of the policies described herein shall contain language that they cannot be cancelled or non-renewed by the insurer without the insurance broker endeavouring to provide at least 30 days notice to the insured parties (including, without limitation, the Administrative Agent).

(18) Third Party Approvals. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received satisfactory evidence that the Credit Parties have obtained all required consents, approvals and waivers of all Persons, including, without limitation, all requisite Governmental Entities, to the execution, delivery and performance by the Credit Parties of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents and the consummation of all transactions contemplated by the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan of Arrangement, and all applicable waiting periods shall have expired without any action being taken or threatened by any Person which could restrain, prevent or otherwise impose adverse conditions on the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and by the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan of Arrangement, and no Law, rule or regulation shall be pending, contemplated or in force and effect which could reasonably be expected to have such effect.

(19) Pension Agreement and Regulations. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall be satisfied in their sole discretion with all Laws, regulations and agreements necessary or desirable to resolve all outstanding issues with respect to the Canadian Pension Plans, the related deficits and pension funding issues, including without limitation, to (i) give effect to the transactions contemplated by the Pension Agreement, and (ii) ensure that except for the relevant portions of the level contributions and any free cash flow contributions made prior to a Default in accordance with the Pension Agreement and the Stelco Pension Regulation, all as approved by the Co-Collateral Agents, and except for payments under the Non-Core Pension Plans and payments on account of any benefit improvements under the Stelco Main Pension Plans as provided for under the Pension Agreement and the Stelco Pension Regulation, no payments are required to be made on account of the solvency deficiencies or going concern unfunded liabilities under the Canadian Pension Plans (and no related Lien, Pension Deemed Trust, claim or other charge of any other Person (including of any Governmental Entity, guarantee fund, pension plan administrator or pension plan member, former member or beneficiary) will rank in priority to the security of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders) prior to the repayment in full of all Obligations. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any such regulation and/or agreement, including, without limitation, the Pension Agreement and the Stelco Pension Regulation, shall in all respects, be in form and substance satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents.

(20) Constating Documents, Share Register and Resolutions. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received for each Credit Party, (i) such Person's constating documents and, if a party thereto or bound thereby, each shareholders or partnership agreement, together with all amendments thereto, and (other than in respect of the Borrower) such Person's share or partnership register; if any, and (ii) resolutions of such Person's board of directors and/or partners or shareholders, approving and authorizing the execution, delivery and performance of the Loan Documents to which such Person is a party and the transactions to be consummated in connection therewith, each certified as of the Closing Date by an officer of such Person as being in full force and effect without any modification or amendment.

(21) Incumbency Certificates. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received for each Credit Party, signature and incumbency certificates of the officers of each such Person executing any of the Loan Documents, certified as of the Closing Date by an officer of such Person as being true, accurate, correct and complete.

(22) Officer's Certificates. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received duly executed originals of a certificate of an authorized signing officer of each Credit Party, dated the Closing Date, in respect of customary corporate matters and confirming and providing evidence that as at the Closing Date and after giving effect to the initial Accommodation, the Borrower shall have not less $100,000,000 of Availability and shall have made borrowings under the Term Credit Agreement as of the Closing Date in an amount sufficient to achieve such Availability threshold, and stating further that, (i) no Litigation shall have been commenced against any Credit Party which could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, and (ii) since December 31, 2005 there has been no material adverse change in respect of the financial condition, business, profitability, operations, assets or prospects of the Credit Parties taken as a whole.

(23) Status. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received for each Credit Party, such Person's certificates of status, compliance and/or good standing (as applicable) evidencing such Person's qualification to conduct business in each jurisdiction where its ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business requires such qualification, each dated a recent date prior to the Closing Date and certified by the applicable authorized Governmental Entity.

(24) Opinions of Counsel. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received duly executed originals of opinions of counsel to the Credit Parties and in respect of certain of the Excluded Subsidiaries and local counsel as may be requested by, and each in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to, the Administrative Agent and all Lenders and their respective counsel.

(25) Financial Statements and Reports. The Co-Lead Arrangers and the Administrative Agent shall have received and be satisfied with (i) to the extent required by Lenders who were also not a party to the Financing Agreement or the DIP Credit Agreement, (a) audited Financial Statements of the Borrower for each of the last three (3) Fiscal Years, including balance sheets, income and cash flow statements, audited by independent public accountants of recognized national standing and prepared in conformity with GAAP, together with such accountants' report thereon, and (b) unaudited interim Financial Statements of the Borrower for the three (3) fiscal Quarters most recently ended prior to the Closing Date (including, without limitation, monthly Financial Statements for any such period of less than three months), (ii) the November 18, 2005 forecasts and the income statement, balance sheet and cash flow by quarter for 2007 as presented in the November 18, 2005 forecasts, and (v) delivery of the Initial Actuarial Valuation, all of the foregoing to be in form and substance satisfactory to the Co-Lead Arrangers and the Administrative Agent.

(26) Appraisals. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received and reviewed (i) an appraisal of the Collateral performed no more than 60 days prior to the Closing Date, and (ii) a written report with respect to the examination of all Inventory and Accounts, in each case performed by a qualified person acceptable to the Administrative Agent and at the cost and expense of the Borrower, such appraisal and such report to be in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and each Lender and which reflect assets values at levels acceptable to each of them.

(27) Surveys. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received and reviewed such environmental surveys, reviews or audits that the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents request be completed, each such survey, review or audit to be conducted by such Persons and be in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and each Lender.

(28) Work Stoppages. There shall be no labour work stoppages, strikes or work slow-downs at any facility of the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries during the 30-day period prior to the Closing Date, and there shall have occurred a resolution with respect to the collective bargaining agreement for the Lake Erie facility on terms satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and each of the Lenders.

(29) Fees. The Borrower shall have paid the Fees required to be paid on the Closing Date (including those listed in Section 1.9(1), and shall have reimbursed the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders for all Out-of-Pocket Expenses as of the Closing Date.

(30) Other Documents. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received such other certificates, documents and agreements respecting the Collateral and/or any Credit Party as the Administrative Agent and the Lenders may, in their sole discretion, request, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and each Lender.

Upon the execution of this Agreement and the making of the initial Accommodation hereunder, all of the above conditions precedent shall have been deemed satisfied except as the Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall otherwise agree in writing.

Section 2.2 Further Conditions to Each Extension of Credit.

Subject to the terms of this Agreement, the obligation of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders to make any Accommodation on any date (including, without limitation, the initial Accommodation) is subject to the following conditions to be fulfilled or performed, which conditions are for the exclusive benefit of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders and may be waived in whole or in part by the Administrative Agent and all of the Lenders in their sole discretion:

(1) Absence of Default. Each of the Credit Parties shall be in full compliance with each of the covenants to be performed by it in each Loan Document to which it is a party, and no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing on such date or after giving effect to the Accommodation requested to be made on such date.

(2) Security Interests. The Administrative Agent and all Lenders shall be satisfied that the Administrative Agent (for the benefit of itself and the other Lenders) has a valid and perfected Lien on the Collateral of the Credit Parties and the Excluded Subsidiaries with the priorities as established by the Intercreditor Agreement subject to Permitted Encumbrances, and for greater certainty the Administrative Agent shall have received such documents duly executed by each Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiary and such other Persons as the Administrative Agent may request in order to perfect, publish and record its Lien on the Collateral, and shall have received acknowledgements, estoppels, waivers, subordinations, postponements, discharges, priority agreements and inter-creditor and non-disturbance agreements (to the extent not previously delivered) from those Persons having filed such financing statements (or other instruments or documents) without adequately limiting the description of the scope of their collateral acknowledging that their Liens do not cover the Collateral (unless their Liens constitute Permitted Encumbrances), all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders.

(3) Borrowing Notice. The Administrative Agent shall have received from the Borrower a duly executed Borrowing Notice in the form of Exhibit "D".

(4) No Violation of Law, etc. The Accommodation will not violate any applicable Law, order or judgment.

(5) Representations and Warranties. Each of the representations and warranties made by the Credit Parties in or pursuant to this Agreement and any other Loan Document shall be true and correct on and as of such date, as if made on and as of such date except for those representations and warranties which speak to a specific date which shall be true and correct as of such date. With respect to any such representations and warranties that do not relate solely to the Closing Date or any other specific earlier date, the Borrower may supplement each such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule herein or in any other Loan Document, with respect to any matter hereafter arising that would have been required to be set forth as an exception to such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule or that is necessary to correct any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby; provided that no such supplement to any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule shall amend, supplement or otherwise modify any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule, or be or be deemed a waiver of any Default or Event of Default resulting from the matters disclosed therein, except as consented to by the Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders in writing.

(6) Other Documents. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received such other certificates, documents and agreements respecting the Collateral and/or any Credit Party as the Administrative Agent and the Lenders may, in their sole discretion, request, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and each Lender.

(7) Fees. The Borrower shall have paid the Fees required to be paid by it prior the making of such Accommodation and shall have reimbursed the Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders for all Out-of-Pocket Expenses incurred by them prior to the making of such Accommodation.

The request and acceptance by the Borrower of the proceeds of any Accommodation shall be deemed to constitute, as of the date thereof, (i) a representation and warranty by each Credit Party that the conditions in this Section 2.2 have been satisfied, and (ii) a reaffirmation by each Credit Party of the granting and continuance of the Administrative Agent's Liens on behalf of the Lenders pursuant to the other Loan Documents.

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

To induce the Administrative Agent and the Lenders to enter into this Agreement and to make Accommodations available to the Borrower, the Borrower hereby makes the following representations and warranties to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders with respect to all Credit Parties, all of which shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the Borrower acknowledges that the Administrative Agent and the Lenders are relying on such representations and warranties in entering into this Agreement and making such Accommodations hereunder:

Section 3.1 Corporate Existence; Compliance with Law.

Each Credit Party (a) is a corporation or a limited partnership, as the case may be, in each case, duly incorporated or formed, and, duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its respective jurisdiction of organization; (b) is duly qualified to conduct business and is in good standing in each other jurisdiction where its ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business requires such qualification; (c) has the requisite power and authority and the legal right to own, and pledge, mortgage or otherwise encumber and operate its properties, to lease the property it operates under lease and to conduct its business as now, heretofore and proposed to be conducted; (d) has all material licenses, permits, consents or approvals from or by, and has made all material filings with, and has given all material notices to, all Governmental Entities having jurisdiction, to the extent required for such ownership, operation and conduct; (e) is in compliance in all material respects with its constating documents and bylaws; and (f) is in compliance with all applicable provisions of law in all material respects except with respect to Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits as set forth in Section 3.15. There are no unanimous shareholders, shareholders or other agreements in existence in respect of the Shares of any of the Restricted Subsidiaries and the Excluded Subsidiaries, including any such agreements which would restrict the pledge of the Shares of such entities by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders, other than (x) the sole shareholder declarations by the Borrower with respect to Commercial Distribution Services, Inc., CHT Steel Company Inc., Stelcam Holdings Inc., Stelco USA, Inc., Welland Pipe Ltd., Stelco Holding Company, Ontario Coal Company and Ontario Eveleth Company, copies of which have been delivered to the Lenders and their counsel (collectively, the "Restricted Subsidiary USDs") to the effect that the Borrower will have all the rights, powers, duties and liabilities of the directors of such Restricted Subsidiary or Excluded Subsidiary, as the case may be, as of the effective date of each such respective Restricted Subsidiary USD, and (y) the Limited Partnership Agreements.

Section 3.2 Corporate Name, Executive Offices, Collateral Locations.

As of the Closing Date, the corporate name or limited partnership name, as the case may be, (in each case, as it appears in its constating documents and other official filings in the jurisdiction of each Credit Party's existence, incorporation, formation or organization, as applicable) and trade name of each Credit Party, the jurisdiction of incorporation or formation of each Credit Party, the current location of each Credit Party's chief executive office, registered office according to its constating documents, principal place of business, Books and Records and the locations at which any Collateral is located are set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found..

Section 3.3 Corporate Power, Authorization, Enforceable Obligations.

The execution, delivery and performance by each Credit Party of the Loan Documents to which such Credit Party is a party and the creation of all Liens provided for therein: (a) are within such Person's power; (b) have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate or other action; (c) do not and will not contravene any provision of such Person's constating documents; (d) do not and will not violate any law or regulation, or any order, decree, judgment, injunction, writ, decision, ruling or award of any court or Governmental Entity; (e) after giving effect to the Sanction Order and the US Confirmation Order and except as set out in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., do not and will not conflict with or result in the breach or termination of, constitute a default under or accelerate or permit the acceleration of any performance required by, any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust, lease, agreement or other instrument to which such Person is a party or by which such Person or any of its property is bound; (f) do not and will not result in the creation or imposition of any Lien upon any of the property of such Person other than those in favour of the Administrative Agent, on behalf of itself and the other Lenders, pursuant to the Loan Documents; and (g) do not and will not require the authorization, consent or, the giving of notice to, the filing of or registration with, or approval of any Governmental Entity or any other Person, including, without limitation, any order, permit, waiver, exemption, authorization and approval of any Governmental Entity having jurisdiction over the operation by any Credit Party of the Collateral, all of which will have been duly obtained, made or complied with prior to the Closing Date except as set out in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.. Each of the Loan Documents shall be duly executed and delivered by each Credit Party that is a party thereto and each such Loan Document shall constitute a legal, valid and binding obligation of such Credit Party enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, as such enforceability may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and by principles of equity.

Section 3.4 Financial Statements and Projections.

(1) Financial Statements. Except for the Projections, all Financial Statements concerning the Credit Parties that have been delivered to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders have been prepared in accordance with GAAP consistently applied throughout the periods covered and present fairly in all material respects the financial position of the Persons covered thereby as at the dates thereof and the results of their operations and cash flows for the periods then ended. All written reports, inventory listings and certificates of any kind made or given to any Agent or Lender pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement or any other Loan Document are true, complete and accurate in all material respects in respect of the subject matter relating thereto.

(2) Projections. All Projections delivered to the Administrative Agent have been prepared by the Borrower in light of the past operations of the Credit Parties' businesses and future payments of then known contingent liabilities. The Projections are based upon estimates and assumptions stated therein, all of which the Borrower believes at the time of delivery to be reasonable and fair in light of current conditions and current facts then known to the Borrower as of such delivery date and reflect the Borrower's good faith and reasonable estimates of the future financial performance of the Borrower and of the other information projected therein for the period set forth therein. The Projections have been delivered to the Co-Lead Arrangers and the Administrative Agent.

Section 3.5 Ownership of Property; Liens.

(1) Each Credit Party has good, valid and marketable title to, and legal and beneficial ownership of, all of its properties and assets (which for the purposes of this Section 3.5(1) does not include any Real Estate). None of the properties and assets of any Credit Party is subject to any Liens, other than Permitted Encumbrances. Each Credit Party has received all deeds, assignments, waivers, consents, nondisturbance and attornment or similar agreements, bills of sale and other documents, and has duly effected all recordings, filings and other actions necessary to establish, protect and perfect such Credit Party's right, title and interest in and to its properties and assets with the exception of any assignment or transfer documents that would reflect the allocation of Intellectual Property assets pursuant to the CBCA Plan of Arrangement, which assignment or transfer documents shall be filed for recordal purposes as soon as reasonably practicable following the Closing Date. All filings, registrations and recordals necessary under applicable law to create, preserve, protect and perfect the security interest and other Liens of the Administrative Agent in and on the Collateral which constitutes personal property or assets of a Credit Party have been made (with the exception of any security notice or grant of security interest intended for recordal with the Canadian Intellectual Property Office, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, U.S. Copyright Office or any other Intellectual Property registry, which notice or grant shall be filed for recordal purposes as soon as reasonably practicable following the Closing Date), and such security interest and other Liens are subject to no other Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances.

(2) The Real Estate listed in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. constitutes all of the real property locations owned, leased or subleased by any Credit Party as of the Closing Date. Each Credit Party owns good and marketable fee simple title to all of its owned Real Estate and valid and marketable leasehold interests in all of its leased Real Estate free and clear of all Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances, provided that any sublease may be dependent on the continuance of the applicable head lease, all as described on Schedule Error! Reference source not found.. Copies of all such leases have been made available to the Administrative Agent. Schedule Error! Reference source not found. also describes any purchase options, rights of first refusal or other similar contractual rights pertaining to any Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage. All material permits required to have been issued or appropriate to enable the Real Estate to be lawfully occupied and used for all of the purposes for which it is currently occupied and used have been lawfully issued and are in full force and effect. Each Credit Party has received all deeds, assignments, waivers, consents, nondisturbance and attornment or similar agreements, bills of sale and other documents, and has duly effected all recordings, filings and other actions necessary to establish, protect and perfect such Credit Party's right, title and interest in and to all such Real Estate and other properties and assets which are subject to a Mortgage. All filings, registrations and recordings necessary under applicable law to create, preserve, protect and perfect the security interest and other Liens of the Administrative Agent in and on the Credit Parties' Real Estate have been made, and such security interest and other Liens are subject to no other Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances.

(3) No Person has any written or oral agreement, option, understanding or commitment, or any right or privilege capable of becoming such, for the purchase from any Credit Party of any Collateral (excluding Inventory sold in the ordinary course of business), except as expressly permitted in connection with a Disposition in accordance with Section 6.8, and except as otherwise set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. (or Schedule Error! Reference source not found. in the case of any Shares).

Section 3.6 Accounts and Inventory.

Each Trade Account Receivable is based on an actual and bona fide sale and delivery of Inventory or rendition of services by a Credit Party to its customers in the ordinary course of its business. The calculation of the Borrowing Base as set forth in the most recently delivered Borrowing Base Certificate was determined strictly in accordance with, and not in contravention of, the criteria set forth in the definitions of "Eligible Accounts Receivable" and "Eligible Inventory".

Section 3.7 Labour Matters.

As of the Closing Date, no strikes or other material labour disputes against any Credit Party are pending. Payment made to employees of each Credit Party comply with each federal, provincial, and local law or foreign law applicable to such matters. Hours worked by employees of each Credit Party comply in all material respects with each federal, provincial, and local law or foreign law applicable to such matters. All payments due from any Credit Party for employee health and welfare insurance have been paid or accrued as a liability on the books of such Credit Party, each Credit Party has withheld all employee withholdings to be withheld by it and such withholdings have been timely paid to the respective Governmental Entities, and each Credit Party has made all employer contributions to be made by it pursuant to applicable law on account of the Canada Pension Plan maintained by the Government of Canada, employment insurance and employee income taxes. As of the Closing Date, except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., no Credit Party is a party to or bound by any Collective Agreement. As of the Closing Date there is no organizing activity involving any Credit Party pending or threatened by any labour union or group of employees. As of the Closing Date there are no representation proceedings pending or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened with any labour relations board, and no labour organization or group of employees of any Credit Party has made a pending demand for recognition. There are no complaints or charges against any Credit Party pending or threatened to be filed with any Governmental Entity or arbitrator based on, arising out of, in connection with, or otherwise relating to the employment or termination of employment by any Credit Party of any individual, that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 3.8 Ventures, Subsidiaries and Affiliates; Outstanding Shares and Indebtedness.

(1) As of the Closing Date, no Credit Party has any Subsidiaries is engaged in any joint venture, partnership or similar arrangement with any other Person, or is a Person set forth in subsection "(a)" of the definition of "Affiliate" of any other Person, except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found..

(2) The authorized capital of each of the Restricted Subsidiaries (other than the Limited Partnerships) and, to the best of the knowledge of the Borrower each of the Excluded Subsidiaries, the number and type of Shares issued by it, together with the holder of such Shares and the percentage of such Shares held by each such holder, is set forth on Schedule Error! Reference source not found.. All of such Shares of such Restricted Subsidiaries and, to the best of the knowledge of the Borrower, the Excluded Subsidiaries have been duly issued and are outstanding as fully paid and non-assessable, and the persons so listed on Schedule Error! Reference source not found. as the owners of such Shares are the registered and beneficial owner thereof with a good title thereto, free and clear of all Liens, other than Liens permitted pursuant to subsections (d), (e) and (f) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances", and other than those restrictions on transfer, if any contained in the constating documents of such Restricted Subsidiaries and Excluded Subsidiaries.

(3) The limited partnership interests of each of the Limited Partnerships are divided into the number of units as specified in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., and Schedule Error! Reference source not found. also specifies the number of units issued by each such Limited Partnership, the holder of such units and the percentage of such units held by each such holder. All of such units have been validly issued in accordance with each respective Limited Partnership Agreement, and the persons so listed on Schedule Error! Reference source not found. as the holders of such units are the registered and beneficial owners thereof with a good title thereto, free and clear of all Liens, other than Liens permitted pursuant to subsections (d), (e) and (f) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances", and other than those restrictions on transfer, if any, contained in the Limited Partnership Agreements.

(4) There are no outstanding rights to purchase, options, warrants or similar rights or agreements pursuant to which any Credit Party may be required to issue, sell, repurchase or redeem any of its Shares or other equity securities or any Shares or other equity securities of any Subsidiary except in respect of any agreements to purchase in favour of, or stock option plan(s) for, directors, officers and/or employees of the Credit Parties to purchase New Common Shares of the Borrower, and except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found..

(5) Other than in respect of Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Loan Documents, the Term Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents or Indebtedness as permitted by Section 6.2(d) or under the Supply and Services Agreements or the Slabco Tolling Agreement, Schedule Error! Reference source not found. describes all outstanding Guaranteed Indebtedness of each Credit Party as of the Closing Date and all Indebtedness of each Credit Party as of the Closing Date for (i) borrowed money, (ii) all reimbursement and other obligations with respect to letter of credit, bankers' acceptances and surety bonds, whether or not matured, (iii) all obligations evidenced by notes, bonds, debentures or similar instruments, (iv) other than in respect of indebtedness created under Purchase Money Mortgages permitted under the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances", all indebtedness created or arising under any conditional sale or other title retention agreement with respect to property acquired by such Credit Party (even though the rights and remedies of the seller or lender under such agreement in the event of default are limited to repossession or sale of such property), (v) all obligations under speculative commodity purchase or option agreements or other commodity price hedging arrangements, in each case whether contingent or matured, (vi) Shares in the capital of such Person which are redeemable or retractable at the option of the holder, or which by their terms or by contract are required to be redeemed or retracted, and (vii) all obligations under any foreign exchange contract, currency swap agreement, interest rate swap, cap or collar agreement or other similar agreement or arrangement designed to alter the risks arising from fluctuations in currency values or interest rates, in each case whether contingent or matured.

(6) The Excluded Subsidiaries do not carry on any business nor do they have any property or assets, Indebtedness or Guaranteed Indebtedness, other than Guaranteed Indebtedness in respect of Obligations of the Borrower under the Loan Documents, the Term Credit Documents and the Secured Notes Credit Documents and other than as set forth in the balance sheets of such Excluded Subsidiaries dated as of December 31, 2005 and as provided to the Co-Collateral Agents prior to the Closing Date.

(7) No director, officer or employee of any Credit Party has any debts or liabilities owing to any Credit Party other than loans in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices for travel and entertainment expenses, relocation costs and similar purposes up to a maximum of $1,000,000 in the aggregate.

Section 3.9 Government Regulation.

No Credit Party is subject to regulation under Canadian federal, provincial, local or foreign statutory Law that restricts or limits its ability to incur Indebtedness or Guaranteed Indebtedness or to perform its obligations hereunder. The making of the Revolving Line of Credit available to the Borrower by the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, the incurrence of the Obligations, the application of the proceeds thereof and repayment thereof will not violate any provision of any such Law or any rule, regulation or order issued by or policy of any securities regulatory authority or securities exchange.

Section 3.10 Taxes.

(1) All returns, reports and statements, including information returns, in respect of Taxes required by any Governmental Entity to be filed by any Credit Party have been filed with the appropriate Governmental Entity and all Charges have been paid prior to the date on which any fine, penalty, interest or late charge may be added thereto for non-payment thereof (or any such fine, penalty, interest, late charge or loss has been paid), excluding Charges or other amounts being contested in accordance with Section 5.2(2).

(2) Schedule Error! Reference source not found. sets forth in respect of the Credit Parties that do not file returns in respect of Taxes under the IRC, as of the Closing Date (i) those taxation years that have not yet been assessed by the CRA or the applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities, (ii) the taxation years that are currently being audited by the CRA or applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities, (iii) any assessments or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened assessments in connection with such audit, otherwise currently outstanding, and (iv) the most recent taxation year that an audit by the CRA or the applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities has been completed.

(3) Schedule 3.10 sets forth in respect of the Credit Parties that do file returns in respect of Taxes under the IRC, as of the Closing Date (i) to any Credit Party's knowledge, those taxation years that have not yet been assessed by the applicable local or foreign Governmental Entities, (ii) to any Credit Party's knowledge, the taxation years that are currently being audited by the applicable local and foreign Governmental Entities, (iii) to any Credit Party's knowledge, any assessments or, threatened assessments in connection with such audit, otherwise currently outstanding, and (iv) to any Credit Party's knowledge, the most recent taxation year that an audit by the applicable local or foreign Governmental Entities has been completed.

(4) Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., no Credit Party has executed or filed with the CRA or any other domestic or foreign Governmental Entity any agreement or other document extending, or having the effect of extending, the period for assessment or collection of any Charges. Except for Permitted Encumbrances, none of the Credit Parties nor any of their respective predecessors are liable for any Charges (a) under any agreement (including any tax sharing agreements), or (b) to each Credit Party's knowledge, as a transferee.

Section 3.11 Pension and Benefit Plans.

(1) Canadian Pension and Benefits Plans. Schedule Error! Reference source not found. lists all pension and benefit plans applicable to the Credit Parties for its Canadian employees or former Canadian employees, including all Canadian Benefit Plans and Canadian Pension Plans (other than, for greater certainty, plans maintained by the Government of Canada or any government of a Province of Canada to which any Credit Party is obligated to contribute by statute) currently maintained by any Credit Party. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., the Canadian Pension Plans are duly registered under the ITA and all other applicable Laws which require registration and no event has occurred which is reasonably likely to cause the loss of such registered status. All material obligations of the Borrower and any other participating Credit Party (including fiduciary, contribution, funding, investment and administration obligations) required to be performed in connection with the Canadian Benefit Plans, the Canadian Pension Plans and the funding agreements therefor under the terms thereof and applicable statutory and regulatory requirements, have been performed in a timely and proper fashion. There have been no improper withdrawals or applications of the assets of the Canadian Pension Plans or the Canadian Benefit Plans. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., there are no material outstanding disputes concerning the assets or liabilities of the Canadian Pension Plans or the Canadian Benefit Plans. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., no events have occurred which could give rise to a partial or total wind-up of any Canadian Pension Plan. The Borrower has delivered to the Administrative Agent copies of the most recent actuarial valuation reports filed with the Financial Services Commission of Ontario in respect of each of the registered Canadian Pension Plans, as well as the most recent valuation reports prepared in connection with the non-registered Canadian Pension Plans. There is no non-registered Canadian Pension Plan in respect of which an event has occurred that could require immediate or accelerated funding in respect of unfunded liabilities or other deficit amounts.

(2) ERISA.

(a) Schedule Error! Reference source not found. lists all ERISA Affiliates. Copies of all US Pension Plans, including Title IV Plans, Multiemployer Plans, ESOPs and Welfare Plans, including all Retiree Welfare Plans, together with a copy of the latest IRS/DOL 5500-series form for each such Plan (other than Multiemployer Plans) and the most recent actuarial report for each Title IV Plan, have been made available to the Administrative Agent. Except with respect to Multiemployer Plans, each Qualified Plan has been determined by the IRS to qualify under Section 401 of the IRC, the trusts created thereunder have been determined to be exempt from tax under the provisions of Section 501 of the IRC, and nothing has occurred that is reasonably likely to cause the loss of such qualification or tax-exempt status. Each Plan is in compliance, in all material respects, with the applicable provisions of ERISA and the IRC, including the timely filing of all reports required under the IRC or ERISA, including the statement required by 29 CFR Section 2520.104-23. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., neither any Credit Party nor ERISA Affiliate has failed to make any contribution or pay any amount due as required by either Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 of ERISA or the terms of any such Plan. Neither any Credit Party nor ERISA Affiliate has engaged in a "prohibited transaction," as defined in Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the IRC, in connection with any Plan, that would subject any Credit Party to a material tax on prohibited transactions imposed by Section 502(i) of ERISA or Section 4975 of the IRC. To the knowledge of the Borrower, the most recent actuarial report for each Title IV Plan fairly presents the financial condition and the results of each such plan in accordance with US GAAP. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., no ERISA Affiliate provides health or welfare benefits for any retired or former United States employee or is obligated to provide health or welfare benefits to any active United States employee following such employee's retirement or other termination of service.

(b) Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.: (i) no Title IV Plan has any Unfunded US Pension Liability; (ii) no ERISA Event or event described in Section 4062(e), Section 4063 or Section 4064 of ERISA with respect to any Title IV Plan has occurred or is reasonably expected to occur; (iii) there are no pending, or to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened claims (other than claims for benefits in the normal course), sanctions, actions or lawsuits, asserted or instituted against any Plan or any Person as fiduciary or sponsor of any Plan; (iv) no Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate has incurred any liability as a result of a complete or partial withdrawal from a Multiemployer Plan and, if such a withdrawal were to occur within one year after the date of this Agreement, the total liabilities of such Persons under all such Multiemployer Plans would not exceed U.S.$6,400,000 and would be payable in a lump sum or in instalment payments with additional interest in accordance with the provisions of Section 4219(c) of ERISA; (v) within the last five years no Title IV Plan of any Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate has been terminated, no notice of intent to terminate any Title IV Plan has been filed and no amendment has been adopted to treat a Title IV Plan as terminated whether or not in a "standard termination" as that term is used in Section 4041(b)(1) of ERISA, nor has any Title IV Plan of any Credit Party or any ERISA Affiliate (determined at any time within the last five years) with Unfunded Pension Liabilities been transferred outside of the "controlled group" (within the meaning of Section 4001(a)(14) of ERISA) of any Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate (determined at such time); (vi) except in the case of any ESOP, Shares of all Credit Parties and their ERISA Affiliates make up, in the aggregate, no more than 10% of the fair market value of the assets of any Plan measured on the basis of fair market value as of the latest valuation date of any Plan; (vii) no liability under any Title IV Plan has been satisfied with the purchase of a contract from an insurance company that is not rated AAA by the Standard & Poor's Corporation or an equivalent rating by another nationally recognized rating agency, and (viii) no ERISA Affiliate has received notice from any Multiemployer Plan that it is in reorganization or is insolvent, that increased contributions may be required to avoid a reduction in plan benefits or the imposition of any excise tax, or that such a plan intends to terminate or has terminated, or is subject to any proceeding brought by the PBGC.

Section 3.12 No Litigation.

No action, claim, lawsuit, demand, investigation or proceeding is now pending or, to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened against any Credit Party, before any Governmental Entity or before any arbitrator or panel of arbitrators (collectively, "Litigation"), (a) that challenges any Credit Party's right or power to enter into or perform any of its obligations under the Loan Documents to which it is a party, or the validity or enforceability of any Loan Document or any action taken thereunder, (b) that challenges any transaction contemplated by the CCAA Plan, the CBCA Plan of Arrangement, the Sanction Order or the US Confirmation Order, or (c) that could be reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except as set forth on Schedule Error! Reference source not found., as of the Closing Date, there is no Litigation pending or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened, that seeks damages in excess of $500,000 or injunctive relief against, or alleges criminal misconduct of, any Credit Party, or that could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 3.13 Brokers.

No broker or finder brought about the obtaining, making or closing of the Revolving Loan, and no Credit Party has any obligation to any Person in respect of any finder's or brokerage fees in connection therewith.

Section 3.14 Intellectual Property.

Each Credit Party owns or has rights to use all General Intangibles necessary and material to continue to conduct its business as now or heretofore conducted by it or proposed to be conducted by it, and each active Canadian and American Patent, Design Trademark, registered Copyright and License of the Credit Parties is listed, if registered or application for registration has been made, together with application or registration numbers, as applicable, in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.. No decision or judgment has been rendered by any Governmental Entity which would limit, cancel or question the validity of, or any Credit Party's rights in, any General Intangibles in any material respect. No action or proceeding is pending, or, to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened, seeking to limit, cancel or question the validity of any General Intangibles or any Credit Party's ownership interest therein, which, if adversely determined, would result in a Material Adverse Effect. To the best of the knowledge of the Borrower, each Credit Party conducts its business and affairs without infringement of or interference with any Intellectual Property of any other Person in any material respect. No Credit Party is aware of any infringement claim made in writing by any other Person with respect to any Intellectual Property.

Section 3.15 Environmental Matters.

(1) The Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage is free of contamination from any Hazardous Material except for such contamination that would not result in Environmental Liabilities that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. No Credit Party has caused or suffered to occur any Release of Hazardous Materials on, at, in, under, above, to, from any of its Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. The Credit Parties are and have been in compliance with all Environmental Laws, except for such non-compliance that would not result in Environmental Liabilities which could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. The Credit Parties have obtained, and are in compliance with, all Environmental Permits required by Environmental Laws for the operations of their respective businesses as presently conducted or as proposed to be conducted, except where the failure to so obtain or comply with such Environmental Permits would not result in Environmental Liabilities that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect; and all such Environmental Permits are valid, uncontested and in good standing. No Credit Party is involved in operations or knows of any facts, circumstances or conditions, including any Releases of Hazardous Materials, that are likely to result in any Environmental Liabilities of such Credit Party which could be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect; and no Credit Party has permitted any current or former tenant or occupant of the Real Estate to engage in any such operations. There is no Litigation arising under or related to any Environmental Laws, Environmental Permits or Hazardous Material that seeks damages, penalties, fines, costs or expenses that could be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect or injunctive relief against, or that alleges criminal misconduct by, any Credit Party. No notice has been received by any Credit Party requesting information under any Environmental Law or identifying it as a potentially responsible party under any Environmental Law that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect and to the knowledge of the Credit Parties, there are no facts, circumstances or conditions that may result in any Credit Party being identified as a potentially responsible party under any Environmental Law that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. The Credit Parties have made available to the Administrative Agent copies of all existing environmental reports, reviews and audits and all written information pertaining to actual or potential Environmental Liabilities (including the most recent Industrial Hygiene, Safety, Environmental, Risk Management and Asset Integrity Report of each Credit Party), in each case, in the possession of the Credit Parties and relating to any Credit Party and its properties and assets, requested by the Administrative Agent.

(2) Each Credit Party hereby acknowledges and agrees that neither the Administrative Agent nor any Co-Collateral Agent or Lender is now, or has ever been, in control of any of the Real Estate or any Credit Party's affairs.

Section 3.16 Insurance.

Schedule Error! Reference source not found. lists all insurance policies of any nature maintained, as of the Closing Date, for covered losses by each Credit Party. Each of the Credit Parties has insurance in place, issued by responsible insurers, as is appropriate to the business of each Credit Party and its property and assets, in such amounts and against such risks as are customarily carried and insured against by owners of comparable businesses and assets, all in compliance with the provisions of this Agreement. All such policies of insurance are in full force and effect and the Borrower is not in default, as to the payments of premiums or otherwise, under the terms of any such policy.

Section 3.17 Deposit, Disbursement and Securities Accounts.

Schedule Error! Reference source not found. lists all banks, Securities Intermediaries and other financial institutions at which any Credit Party maintains a Bank Account or other account, and such schedule correctly identifies the name, address and telephone number of each depository or securities intermediary, the name in which the account is held, a description of the purpose of the account, the complete account number therefore and if such account is subject to a minimum balance requirement, the amount of such requirement. There are no blocked accounts, lock boxes or similar arrangements relating to any of such accounts, other than those contemplated by this Agreement. No Credit Party maintains any Securities Account. All cash of all Credit Parties in deposit accounts maintained by such Credit Parties is or are subject to a Blocked Account Agreement.

Section 3.18 Customer and Trade Relations.

There exists no actual termination or revocation of any contract with (or, as of the Closing Date, any material adverse modification or change in the business relationship of any Credit Party with), any supplier material to its operations or any customer or group of customers whose purchases during the preceding 12 months caused them to be ranked among the ten largest customers of the Borrower and the other Credit Parties taken as a whole, where the contract so terminated or revoked with such supplier or customer has not been replaced with a contract or other arrangements with one or more third parties in a reasonable period of time which, in the aggregate, are not materially adverse to the Credit Parties than the terms of the contract so terminated or revoked.

Section 3.19 Material Contracts; Government Contracts.

Schedule Error! Reference source not found. contains a list of all Material Contracts. Each of the Credit Parties is in compliance in all material respects with all Material Contracts to which it is a party and no Credit Party, or to the best of the Borrower's knowledge, any other party to any Material Contract has defaulted under any Material Contract. No event has occurred which, with the giving of notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a default under, or in respect of, any Material Contract. There is no dispute regarding any Material Contract which could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 3.20 Compliance with Industry Standards.

Each of the Credit Parties keeps adequate Books and Records with respect to its business activities in which proper entries, reflecting all financial transactions, are made in accordance with GAAP and on a basis consistent with its Financial Statements. Each of the Credit Parties maintains all of its Books and Records, in accordance with applicable Laws and the standards established by any Governmental Entity having authority over the Credit Party and its property and assets, and all of such Books and Records are true, complete and accurate in all material respects.

Section 3.21 Possession of Collateral.

Each Credit Party has possession and control of all the property and assets owned by such Credit Party, other than property and assets which are being processed, repaired, transported or shipped in the ordinary course of business. Except as disclosed in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. (briefly describing any consignment arrangements to which any Credit Party is party by agreement, counterparty and location), none of the Credit Parties consign any of its assets or property to any other Person.

Section 3.22 Bonding; Licenses.

Except as set forth on Schedule Error! Reference source not found., as of the Closing Date, no Credit Party is a party to or bound by any surety bond agreement or bonding requirement with respect to services or products sold by it or any trademark, patent or industrial design license agreement pursuant to which the Credit Party is a licensee with respect to services or products sold by it.

Section 3.23 CCAA Plan Documents.

The Borrower has delivered to the Administrative Agent complete and correct copies of the Term Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents and the Pension Agreement and all schedules, exhibits, amendments, supplements, modifications, assignments and all other documents delivered pursuant thereto or in connection therewith.

Section 3.24 Material Adverse Effect.

No Credit Party has incurred any obligations, contingent or non-contingent liabilities, liabilities for Charges, long-term leases or unusual forward or long-term commitments that, alone or in the aggregate, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, and no contract, lease or other agreement or instrument has been entered into by any Credit Party or has become binding upon any Collateral and no Law or regulation applicable to any Credit Party has been adopted that has had or could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. Since December 31, 2005, no event has occurred, that alone or together with other events, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 3.25 No Default.

No Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing.

Section 3.26 Full Disclosure.

No information contained in this Agreement, any of the other Loan Documents, any Financial Statements or other written reports from time to time delivered hereunder or thereunder or any written statement furnished by or on behalf of any Credit Party to the Administrative Agent, Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender pursuant to the terms of this Agreement contains or will contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omits or will omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances under which they were made.

ARTICLE 4
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND INFORMATION

Section 4.1 Reports and Notices.

The Borrower agrees that from and after the Closing Date and until the Termination Date, it shall deliver to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and each Lender, as required, the following financial statements, notices and documents, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and all Lenders, as applicable:

(1) Borrowing Base and Related Certificates.

(a) Within six (6) Business Days of each month end, the Borrower shall deliver the following reports with respect to the Borrowing Base Parties:

(i) a Borrowing Base Certificate;

(ii) a monthly Accounts aging summary by invoice date and by each Borrowing Base Party. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request a detailed listing of the Accounts aging;

(iii) a detailed monthly accounts payable aging and "unaudited accounts payable" detail;

(iv) a calculation of the Trade Accounts Receivable which would not meet the criteria of an Eligible Account Receivable;

(v) a daily summary of Accounts for each of the Borrowing Base Parties. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request detailed backup documentation, including, but not limited to, a copy of the internally generated month end sales journal and invoice register, cash receipts and collections journal, credit memo journal and the debit memo journal;

(vi) an aged listing of the ten largest Accounts and accounts payable for the applicable month;

(vii) a reconciliation of the cash receipts journal to the Blocked Accounts prepared by each of the Borrowing Base Parties;

(b) In addition to Section 4.1(1)(a) above, within 6 Business Days of the 15th of each month, the Borrower shall deliver the following reports as at the previous month end with respect to the Borrowing Base Parties:

(i) a reconciliation of Accounts aging and accounts payable to the respective trial balances, each Borrowing Base Parties' general ledger and to the month end financial statements;

(ii) a monthly Inventory "Cost Complex: Control Ledger" for each Borrowing Base Party;

(iii) an Inventory summary by account ("Report 22");

(iv) a copy of the Inventory Sales Cards by division;

(v) a reconciliation of the monthly Inventory cost control ledger to the trial balance by division, each of the Borrowing Base Parties' general ledger and to the month end financial statements of each Borrowing Base Party; and

(vi) a calculation of the Inventory which would not meet the criteria of Eligible Inventory;

(c) In addition to Sections 4.1(1)(a) and (b) above, the Borrower shall deliver the following reports with respect to the Borrowing Base Parties within six (6) Business Days of the 15th of each month if Availability is greater than or equal to $100,000,000 and there is no Event of Default which is continuing:

(i) a Borrowing Base Certificate; and

(ii) a daily summary of Accounts for each of the Borrowing Base Parties. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request detailed backup documentation, including, but not limited to, a copy of the internally generated month end sales journal and invoice register, cash receipts and collections journals, credit memo journal and the debit memo journal if deemed necessary by the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents; and

(iii) an Account aging summary by invoice date and for each Borrowing Base Party. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request a detailed listing of the Accounts aging;

(d) in addition to Sections 4.1(1)(a), (b) and (c) above, if Availability is less than $100,000,000 or there is an Event of Default which is continuing the following reports listed in subsections (i) through (iv) below with respect to the Borrowing Base Parties are to be provided weekly:

(i) a Borrowing Base Certificate together with such supporting documentation including updated sales listings, adjusted accounts receivable balances, Inventory balances and a reconciliation of cash receipts (including ineligibles);

(ii) a daily summary of Accounts for each Borrowing Base Party. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request detailed backup documentation, including, but not limited to, a copy of the internally generated month end sales journal and invoice register, cash receipts and collections journals, credit memo journal and the debit memo journal if deemed necessary by the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents;

(iii) an Account aging summary by invoice date and for each Borrowing Base Party. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request a detailed listing of the Accounts aging; and

(iv) notwithstanding Section 4.1(1)(b) above, such reports referred to therein are to be delivered within 10 days of each month end.

(2) Monthly Financial Statements. The Borrower shall, within 30 days of each month end, provide to the Administrative Agent internally prepared Financial Statements for such month together with an officer's certificate in the form of Exhibit "C".

(3) Quarterly Financial Statements. The Borrower shall, within 45 days of the end of the first three (3) Fiscal Quarters of each Fiscal Year, provide to the Administrative Agent unaudited quarterly Financial Statements for such quarter, together with an officer's certificate in the form of Exhibit "C".

(4) Annual Financial Statements. The Borrower shall, within 90 days after the end of each financial year, provide to the Administrative Agent audited annual Financial Statements and an operating plan for the subsequent year, such annual Financial Statements and such operating plan as approved by the Borrower's board of directors (and such operating plan to be acceptable to the Administrative Agent, with such operating plan deemed to be so acceptable unless written notice of non-acceptability setting out particulars thereof is delivered to the Borrower by the Administrative Agent within thirty (30) days of receipt of such operating plan) together with an officer's certificate in the form of Exhibit "C".

(5) Other Credit Documents Notices. The Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders as and when due, all notices, reports, statements, documents, certificates and other information required to be delivered by any Person pursuant to the Term Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, the Pension Agreement and the Secured Notes Credit Documents.

(6) Pension and Benefit Matters. The Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent and each Lender copies of all material correspondence with and filings to the Financial Services Commission of Ontario or the Superintendent of Financial Services (Ontario) in relation to any Canadian Pension Plan, at the same time such correspondence or filing is delivered or made, as the case may be. For greater certainty, upon the filing of each Form 7 under the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) furnished to the trustee of each registered Canadian Pension Plan, if such Form 7 contains any information which is different from the information contained in the Form 7 most recently delivered to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, the Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent in sufficient copies for distribution to each Lender, an officer's certificate of the Borrower confirming that the Form 7 attached to such officer's certificate accords with the corresponding valuation reports on such plans prepared by the Borrower's actuary and confirming that all contributions indicated in such form have been made when due.

(7) Notices of Dispositions and Liens. The Borrower shall forthwith provide notice to the Co-Collateral Agents of (i) any Dispositions of Term Priority Collateral made in accordance with Section 6.8, concurrently with the consummation of such transaction, and (ii) any Liens (other than Permitted Encumbrances) and Prior Claims over any of the Collateral received by any Credit Party that are registered, preserved, perfected or become effective or enforceable after the date hereof.

(8) Notices from MOL, MOE and/or MAG. The Borrower shall forthwith provide the Administrative Agent and each Lender with copies of (i) any notices or other documents required to be delivered under applicable Law by any Credit Party to the MOL, MOE or MAG or any other Government Entity under the jurisdiction of the MOL, MOE or MAG, as the case may be, in respect of any material non-compliance by a Credit Party of any such applicable Law, or (ii) any notices or other documents received by any Credit Party from the MOL, MOE or MAG pursuant to which the MOL, MOE or MAG, as the case may be, purports or informs such Credit Party of their intention to exercise any of their powers under applicable laws including their intention to obtain warrants or commence compliance or enforcement proceedings against any such Credit Party or the Collateral.

(9) Default. The Borrower shall forthwith provide notice to the Administrative Agent of the occurrence of any Default, Event of Default or the existence of any event, circumstance or condition that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

(10) TD Banking Services Agreement. The Borrower shall forthwith provide the Administrative Agent with a copy of any notice given or received by it pursuant to the TD Banking Services Agreement which has not been provided by TD directly to the Administrative Agent.

(11) Other Information. Upon the request of the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender, the Borrower agrees to provide such other information, reports, notices or documents as may reasonably be requested by such Person including, without limitation, (i) copies of agreements with, or purchase orders from, the Credit Parties' customers, copies of invoices to customers, proof of shipment or delivery, access to its computers, electronic media and software programs associated therewith (including any access codes, electronic records, contracts and signatures) and such other documentation and information relating to Accounts and Other Collateral as the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents may reasonably require, provided that such access does not constitute a violation of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (Canada) or any similar provincial privacy legislation in effect from time to time, (ii) notice as promptly as practicably possible of any threatened or actual seizures or detentions of any Collateral of any Credit Party by any Person, copies of any Material Contracts, Canadian Pension Plans, Canadian Benefit Plans, leases and collective agreements, and (iii) such other information, reports, notices or documents respecting the Credit Parties' business, financial condition or prospects as any such Person may from time to time reasonably request.

The Borrower shall deliver any financial statement, notice or document delivered to the Administrative Agent and/or the Co-Collateral Agents pursuant to this Section 4.1 contemporaneously to each of the Lenders to the extent not otherwise delivered to such Lenders.

ARTICLE 5
AFFIRMATIVE COVENANTS

The Borrower agrees as to all Credit Parties that from and after the date hereof and until the Termination Date:

Section 5.1 Maintenance of Existence and Conduct of Business.

(1) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to: (i) subject to Section 6.1, do or cause to be done all things necessary to preserve and keep in full force and effect its corporate, limited partnership or other existence and its rights and franchises except with the prior consent of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders; (ii) subject to Section 6.1, continue to conduct their respective Businesses substantially as now conducted as of the date hereof or as contemplated by the CBCA Plan of Arrangement except with the prior consent of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders; and (iii) at all times maintain, preserve and protect all Collateral used or useful in the conduct of its Business and keep the same in good repair, working order and condition in all material respects (taking into consideration ordinary wear and tear) and from time to time make, or cause to be made, all necessary or appropriate repairs, replacements and improvements thereto consistent with industry practices.

(2) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, obtain and maintain all material authorizations and consents of and approvals from and give all material notices and make all material filings and registrations with, and take any other material action in respect of, any Government Entity or any other Person, including (without giving effect to any materiality standard in the case of subsection (i) below) any order, permit, waiver, exemption, authorization and approval of any Governmental Entity, advisable or required in connection with (i) the execution, delivery and performance by such Credit Party of the Loan Documents to which it is a party and the creation of all Liens provided for therein, and (ii) the operation of its business and its property and assets, and the ownership or lease, as the case may be, of such property and assets.

(3) Forthwith upon the repayment in full of all Project Financing obligations owing by Lake Erie Slab Company Inc. ("Slabco") to Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi (Canada) or any of its Affiliates, the Borrower shall either (i) cause Slabco to be wound-up into Lake Erie Steel GP, Lake Erie Steel LP or any other Credit Party, or (ii) cause Slabco to execute and deliver such guarantee and security and other Loan Documents in the forms delivered by the other Credit Parties as of the Closing Date (or as amended, restated or modified thereafter), together with such other instruments, certificates and opinions as are necessary in the opinion of the Administrative Agent to satisfy the conditions precedent set forth in Sections 2.1(7), (8), (18), (20), (21), (22), (23), (24) and (29) as if Slabco had been a Restricted Subsidiary as of the Closing Date.

Section 5.2 Payment of Charges.

(1) Subject to Section 5.2(2), the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to pay and discharge or cause to be paid and discharged promptly all Charges payable by it, including (i) Charges imposed upon it, its income and profits, or any of its property (real, personal or mixed) and all Charges with respect to Tax, social security and employee matters, (ii) lawful claims for labour, materials, supplies and services or otherwise, (iii) all storage or rental charges payable to warehousemen or bailees, and (iv) all service or repair charges payable to servicers or repairers.

(2) Each Credit Party may in good faith contest, by appropriate proceedings, the validity or amount of any Charges, Taxes or claims described in Section 5.2(1); provided, that (i) adequate reserves with respect to such contest are maintained on the books of such Credit Party, in accordance with GAAP; (ii) no Lien shall be imposed to secure payment of such Charges (other than as permitted by subsections (b) and (e) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances") that is superior to any of the Liens securing the Obligations and such contest is maintained and prosecuted continuously and with diligence and operates to suspend collection or enforcement of such Charges; (iii) none of the Collateral becomes subject to forfeiture or loss as a result of such contest; (iv) such Credit Party shall promptly pay or discharge such contested Charges, Taxes or claims, as applicable, and all additional charges, interest, penalties and expenses, if any, and shall deliver to the Administrative Agent evidence reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent of such compliance, payment or discharge, if such contest is terminated or discontinued adversely to such Credit Party or the conditions set forth in this Section 5.2(2) are no longer met; and (v) the Administrative Agent has not advised the Borrower in writing that the Administrative Agent reasonably believes that non-payment or non-discharge thereof could have or result in a Material Adverse Effect.

(3) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Lien shall be filed or claimed thereunder (a) for Taxes due any Governmental Entity, or (b) which in the Administrative Agent's opinion might create a valid obligation having priority over the Administrative Agent's and the Lenders' security over the Collateral, the Borrower shall immediately pay and cause each Restricted Subsidiary to pay such Charge and remove the Lien of record at the request of the Co-Collateral Agents. If the Borrower or the applicable Restricted Subsidiary fails to do so promptly, then at the Administrative Agent's election, the Administrative Agent may (i) create an Availability Reserve in such amount as it may deem appropriate in its sole business judgment, or (ii) upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, imminent risk of seizure or garnishment, filing of any priority Lien, claim, forfeiture, or sale of the Collateral, pay such Charges on the Borrower's or the applicable Restricted Subsidiary's behalf, and the amount thereof shall be an Obligation secured by the Loan Documents and due on demand.

Section 5.3 Books and Records.

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to keep adequate Books and Records with respect to its business activities in which proper entries, reflecting all financial transactions, are made in accordance with GAAP and on a basis consistent with its Financial Statements. Each Credit Party shall maintain all of its Books and Records in accordance with applicable Laws and the standards established by any Governmental Entity having authority over the Credit Party and its property and assets.

Section 5.4 Accounts.

(1) Until the Administrative Agent has advised the Borrower to the contrary upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries, at its expense, shall enforce, collect and receive all amounts owing on the Accounts in the ordinary course of its business and provided Line Availability is not less than $75,000,000, any proceeds it so receives may be utilized by the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries in the ordinary course of its business. Upon the request of the Administration Agent, the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to deliver any requested Chattel Paper or Instrument to the Administrative Agent (in each case, accompanied by instruments of transfer executed in blank), and shall, if requested by the Administrative Agent, mark any Chattel Paper or Instrument that has not been delivered to the Administrative Agent with the following legend: "This writing and the obligations evidenced or secured hereby are subject to the security interest of CIT Business Credit Canada Inc. as Administrative Agent, for the benefit of the Lenders."

(2) The Borrower agrees to notify the Administrative Agent, and cause the Restricted Subsidiaries to notify the Administrative Agent: (a) of any matters adversely affecting the value, enforceability or collectability of any material Account and of all customer disputes, offsets, defences, counterclaims, returns, rejections and all reclaimed or repossessed merchandise or goods, and of any adverse effect in the value of its Inventory, in its reports provided to the Administrative Agent hereunder, in such detail and format as the Administrative Agent may reasonably require from time to time, and (b) promptly of any such matters which are material, as a whole, to the Accounts and/or the Inventory. The Borrower agrees to continue to follow its existing procedures regarding the issuance of credit memoranda and will provide duplicates to the Administrative Agent upon its request after the occurrence of an Event of Default upon accepting returns or granting allowances, and cause the Restricted Subsidiaries to do so.

Section 5.5 Insurance.

(1) The Borrower covenants and agrees to maintain comprehensive/umbrella, property and casualty insurance and business interruption insurance on its and the other Credit Parties' assets and business under such policies of insurance, with such insurance companies, in such reasonable amounts and covering such insurable risks as are at all times reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent. All policies covering the assets are, subject to the rights of any holders of Permitted Encumbrances holding claims senior to the Administrative Agent, to be made payable to the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, in case of loss, under a standard non-contributory "mortgagee", "lender" or "secured party" clause and are to contain such other provisions as the Administrative Agent may require to fully protect the Administrative Agent's and the Lenders' interest in the Collateral and to any payments to be made under such policies. Copies of the policies are to be delivered to the Administrative Agent, with the loss payable endorsement in the Administrative Agent's favour, on behalf of the Lenders, and shall provide for the insurance broker endeavouring to provide not less than thirty (30) days prior written notice to the Administrative Agent of any amendment, renewal, non-renewal, expiration, termination or cancellation. At the Borrower's request, or if the Borrower fails to maintain such insurance, the Administrative Agent on the Lenders' behalf may arrange for such insurance, but at the Borrower's expense and without any responsibility on the Administrative Agent's part for: (i) obtaining the insurance; (ii) the solvency of the insurance companies; (iii) the adequacy of the coverage; or (iv) the collection of claims. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default which is continuing, the Administrative Agent shall, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement and the rights of any holders of Permitted Encumbrances holding claims senior to the Administrative Agent, have the sole right, and at its option, in the name of the Administrative Agent or the Borrower, to file claims under any insurance policies, to receive, receipt and give acquittance for any payments that may be payable thereunder, and to execute any and all endorsements, receipts, releases, assignments, reassignments or other documents that may be necessary to effect the collection, compromise or settlement of any claims under any such insurance policies.

(2) The insurance acquired by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders may, but need not, protect the Credit Parties' interest in the Collateral, and therefore such insurance may not pay claims which the Borrower may have with respect to the Collateral or pay any claim which may be made against the Borrower in connection with the Collateral. In the event the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchases, obtains or acquires insurance covering all or any portion of the Collateral, the Borrower covenants and agrees to be responsible for all of the applicable costs of such insurance, including premiums, interest (at the applicable interest rate for Revolving Loans), fees and any other charges with respect thereto, until the effective date of the cancellation or the expiration of such insurance. The Administrative Agent may charge all of such premiums, fees, costs, interest and other charges to the Revolving Loan Account. The Borrower hereby acknowledges that the costs of the premiums of any insurance acquired by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders may exceed the costs of insurance which the Borrower may be able to purchase on its own. In the event that the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchases such insurance, the Administrative Agent will notify the Borrower of said purchase within thirty (30) days of the date of such purchase. If, within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such notice, the Borrower provides the Administrative Agent with proof that the Borrower had the insurance coverage required by this Agreement (in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent) as of the date on which the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchased insurance and the Borrower continued at all times to have such insurance, then the Administrative Agent agrees to cancel the insurance purchased by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders and credit the Revolving Loan Account with the amount of all costs, interest and other charges associated with any insurance purchased by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders, including with any amounts previously charged to the Revolving Loan Account.

Section 5.6 Application of Proceeds of Collateral.

(1) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, after receipt by such Person of Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds in respect of any Disposition (other than the sale of Inventory in the ordinary course of business) or loss, destruction or condemnation, as the case may be, of any ABL Priority Collateral (1) forthwith apply such proceeds upon receipt thereof to the prepayment of outstanding Accommodations (together with all interest, fees and other amounts owing with respect thereto) in accordance with Section 1.3, and (2) forthwith thereafter deposit the amount of any excess Asset Sale Proceeds of Insurance Proceeds, as the case may be, into a Blocked Account.

(2) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, after receipt by such Person of (i) Asset Sales Proceeds in respect of Dispositions of Term Priority Collateral as permitted by Section 6.8 or (ii) Insurance Proceeds in respect of any loss, destruction or condemnation, as the case may be, of any Term Priority Collateral of (or held on behalf of) the Borrower, any Steel Entity or any Coke Entity in an aggregate amount not to exceed $50,000,000 for all such Persons from the date hereof until the Maturity Date, (1) prepay outstanding accommodations (together with all interest, fees and other amounts owing with respect thereto) under the Term Credit Agreement or the Exchange Notes, as the case may be, in an amount equal to such proceeds, or, in the case of such Insurance Proceeds only, reinvest such proceeds in the respective business to which they relate within eighteen (18) months of receipt of such proceeds, (2) with respect to any excess Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds, as the case may be, not so applied in accordance with subsection (1) above but subject to Sections 4.1(2) and 4.1(3) of the Intercreditor Agreement, forthwith apply such proceeds to the prepayment of outstanding Accommodations (together with all interest, fees and other amounts owing with respect thereto) in accordance with Section 1.3, and (3) forthwith thereafter deposit the amount of any such excess Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds into a Blocked Account. For greater certainty, the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents shall be required with respect to any use or application by the Term Agent or any Credit Party of Insurance Proceeds in respect of Term Priority Collateral of (or held on behalf of) the Borrower, any Steel Entity or any Coke Entity in excess of an aggregate amount of $50,000,000.

(3) For greater certainty and for purposes of Section 5.6(2)(1) above, if such Insurance Proceeds of the Borrower, any Steel Entity or any Coke Entity in an aggregate amount not to exceed $50,000,000 in the aggregate for all such Persons is committed to be reinvested within 18 months of such Insurance Proceeds being so received (or such longer period not in excess of 24 months to the extent such period in excess of 18 months is reasonably required to determine the most commercially effective method to reinvest such proceeds and the Borrower is pursuing such determination with commercially reasonable diligence), then such Insurance Proceeds, for the purpose of determining compliance with Section 5.6(2)(1) as of any date, shall be deemed to be so reinvested.

Section 5.7 Compliance with Laws Generally; Compliance with Pension Obligations.

(1) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to comply in all material respects with all applicable Laws and decrees, and agreements, licences, authorizations and permits material to the operation of the business of such Credit Party (excluding Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits, and with respect to Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits, in accordance with Section 5.9(a)).

(2) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties to make, or cause to be made, all contributions or other payments required to be made to the Canadian Pension Plans under applicable Laws (including without limitation the Stelco Pension Regulation) and the Pension Agreement and to all Canadian Benefit Plans in accordance with the terms thereof when due. If any Credit Party fails to make any such contribution or other payment when due, the Administrative Agent may, subject to the ITA, the Pension Agreement and applicable Law, make such contribution or payment on the Credit Party's behalf (without any obligation whatsoever to do so); provided, that any Event of Default resulting from a Credit Party's failure to make such a contribution or other payment shall not be cured by Administrative Agent's payment thereof. If the Administrative Agent makes a contribution or payment on a Credit Party's behalf, the Obligations of the Borrower hereunder shall be automatically increased by the amount of such contribution or payment, shall be due upon demand by the Administrative Agent and shall bear interest, calculated daily at the per annum rate of the sum of the then applicable Canadian Prime Rate plus the Applicable Canadian Prime Rate Margin plus the Default Rate of Interest, until paid.

Section 5.8 Intellectual Property.

(1) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to conduct its business and affairs without knowing, intentional or wilful infringement of any Intellectual Property of any other Person which a Governmental Entity has previously determined to be valid and enforceable, and shall not and shall cause each other Credit Party not to (i) enter into any agreements not in the ordinary course of its business and not inconsistent with past practices which prohibit, restrict or limit in any way the granting of Liens to the Administrative Agent in Intellectual Property hereafter owned or acquired by any Credit Party if such Intellectual Property is necessary and material to the conduct of such Credit Party's business, or (ii) file, either itself or through any agent, employee, licensee or designee, an application for the registration of any Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright with any Canadian Intellectual Property Office or the United States Patent and Trademark Office or the United States Copyright Office or any similar office or agency in respect of any Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright which is necessary and material to the operation of its business without giving the Co-Collateral Agents concurrent written notice thereof. Upon request of the Co-Collateral Agents, the Borrower shall and shall cause each such other Credit Party to execute and deliver any and all intellectual property security agreements as they may reasonably request to evidence the Lien in favour of the Administrative Agent on such Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright, and the intangible property of such Credit Party relating thereto or represented thereby.

(2) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to take all actions consistent with past practices and which are necessary or reasonably requested by the Co-Collateral Agents to maintain and pursue each application, to obtain the relevant registration and to maintain the registration of each of such of its Designs, Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights (now or hereafter existing), including the filing of applications for renewal, affidavits or declarations of use, affidavits of non-contestability and opposition and interference and cancellation proceedings, unless the relevant Credit Party shall determine, acting reasonably, that such Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright is not necessary and material to the conduct of its business.

(3) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to notify the Administrative Agent immediately if it knows or has reason to know that any application or registration relating to any Intellectual Property (now or hereafter existing) that is necessary and material to the conduct of its business may become abandoned or of any adverse determination or development (including the institution of, or any such determination or development in, any proceeding in any Canadian Intellectual Property Office, the United States Patent and Trademark Office or the United States Copyright Office or any court) regarding its ownership of such Intellectual Property, its rights to register the same, or to keep and maintain the same.

(4) In the event that any material Intellectual Property is infringed upon or misappropriated by a third party, the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to notify the Administrative Agent promptly after it learns thereof. The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to, unless it shall reasonably determine that such Intellectual Property is in no way necessary and material to the conduct of its business, promptly sue for infringement or misappropriation and to recover any and all damages for such infringement, misappropriation or dilution and shall take such other actions as the Administrative Agent shall reasonably deem appropriate under the circumstances to protect such Intellectual Property.

Section 5.9 Environmental Matters.

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party and each Person within its control to: (a) conduct its operations and keep and maintain its Real Estate in compliance with all of its environmental compliance, monitoring, remediation and other policies in effect as of the Closing Date and otherwise implement any and all investigation, remediation, removal and response actions that are necessary in order to remain in compliance with such policies, (b) notify the Administrative Agent promptly after such Credit Party becomes aware of any violation of Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits or any Release on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any Real Estate that is reasonably likely to result in any Environmental Liabilities in excess of $5,000,000, and (c) promptly forward to the Administrative Agent a copy of any order, notice, request for information or any communication or report received by such Credit Party in connection with any such violation or Release whether or not any Governmental Entity has taken or threatened any action in connection with any such violation, Release or other matter. If the Administrative Agent at any time has a reasonable basis to believe that there may be a violation of any Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits by any Credit Party or any Environmental Liability arising thereunder, or a Release of Hazardous Materials on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any of its Real Estate, that, in each case, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, then each Credit Party shall, upon the Administrative Agent's written request (i) cause the performance of such environmental audits including subsurface sampling of soil and groundwater, and preparation of such environmental reports, at the Borrower's sole cost and expense, as the Administrative Agent may from time to time reasonably request, which shall be conducted by reputable environmental consulting firms reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent and shall be in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent, and (ii) permit the Administrative Agent or its representatives to have access during regular business hours and upon reasonable notice (or, after the occurrence of an Event of Default, at any time) to all Real Estate for the purpose of conducting such environmental audits and testing as the Administrative Agent deems reasonably appropriate, including subsurface sampling of soil and groundwater. The Borrower shall reimburse the Administrative Agent for the costs of such audits and tests and the same will constitute a part of the Obligations secured hereunder.

Section 5.10 Real Estate Matters.

(1) After the Closing Date, no real property or warehouse space shall be leased by any Credit Party which is not so leased on the Closing Date to store Collateral with a fair market value in excess of $10,000,000 in the aggregate for all such Collateral (provided that the Eligible Inventory component thereof shall not have a fair market value in excess of $5,000,000 in the aggregate) without the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents.

(2) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to timely and fully pay and perform its material obligations under all leases and other agreements with respect to each leased location or location where any Collateral is or may be located. To the extent otherwise permitted hereunder, if any Credit Party proposes to acquire a fee ownership interest in Real Estate after the Closing Date, it shall first provide to the Administrative Agent environmental audits, and, if requested by the Co-Collateral Agents, a mortgage or deed of trust granting the Administrative Agent a Lien on such Real Estate, together with title opinions or a mortgage title insurance commitment, all in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents, and, if required by the Co-Collateral Agents, supplemental casualty insurance and flood insurance, and such other documents, instruments or agreements reasonably requested by the Co-Collateral Agents, in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents and consistent with the requirements contained herein with respect to fee simple Real Estate.

(3) If the sale by the Borrower, Welland Pipe Ltd. and Camrose Tubes Limited to Universal Capital Corporation of the Excluded Real Estate identified in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. as 615 Rusholme Road, Welland, Ontario (including Canal Access) ("Rusholme Road") is not completed on or prior to July 31, 2006, the Borrower shall and/or shall cause the applicable Affiliate to execute and deliver a Mortgage and such other Real Estate Security with respect to Rusholme Road in the forms delivered by the other Credit Parties as of the Closing Date (or as amended, restated, or modified thereafter), together with such other instruments, certificates and opinions as are necessary in the opinion of the Administrative Agent to satisfy the conditions precedent set forth in Section 2.1(13) as if Rusholme Road was not Excluded Real Estate as of the Closing Date.

Section 5.11 Right of Inspection and Access to Management and Audits.

The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, during normal business hours, upon one (1) Business Day's prior notice: (i) provide the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents and any of their respective officers, employees, agents and appraisers access to the properties, facilities (including the computer systems of each Credit Party used to store, log, track, monitor and record any and all Collateral), personnel and accountants of each Credit Party and to the Collateral, and (ii) permit the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents and any of their respective officers, employees, agents and appraisers, to inspect, audit and make extracts from any Credit Party's Books and Records. The Borrower also, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing, consents (and shall cause each Restricted Subsidiary to do so) to the Administrative Agent contacting any and all third parties the Administrative Agent may reasonably require from time to time, including, without limitation, CRA for purposes of verifying the state of the Collateral and the Borrower's and each Canadian Restricted Subsidiary's tax position and agrees to execute and deliver a CRA business consent form in respect thereof (which may only be used by the Administrative Agent following the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing). If an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, or if access is necessary to preserve or protect the Collateral, as determined by the Co-Collateral Agents, each such Credit Party shall provide such access to the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents at all times and without advance notice. The Credit Parties shall reimburse such Agents for any out of pocket expenses incurred by such Agents, as well as for the reasonable fees and expenses of any advisers or consultants retained by such Agents, in connection with any such access, inspection, audits, reviews and evaluations conducted pursuant to this Section 5.11.

Section 5.12 Appraisals.

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to permit the Co-Collateral Agents from time to time to conduct, at the sole cost and expense of such Credit Party, (i) annual Inventory appraisals, (ii) field examinations of the Collateral three (3) times per Fiscal Year, (iii) quarterly Inventory appraisals at any time that Availability is less than $100,000,000; (iv) annual appraisals of other assets (including, without limitation, Shares, Real Estate subject to a Mortgage and Equipment) of such Credit Party, and (v) any such appraisals and field examinations listed above at any time upon the occurrence of an Event of Default.

Section 5.13 Supplemental Disclosure.

From time to time as may be reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent, the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Parties to supplement each representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule herein or in any other Loan Document, with respect to any matter hereafter arising that, if existing or occurring at the date of this Agreement, would have been required to be set forth as an exception to such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule or that is necessary to correct any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby; provided that (a) no such supplement to any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule shall amend, supplement or otherwise modify any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule, or be or be deemed a waiver of any Default or Event of Default resulting from the matters disclosed therein, except as consented to by the Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders in writing, and (b) no supplement shall be required or permitted as to representations and warranties that relate solely to the Closing Date or any other specific earlier date.

Section 5.14 Further Assurances.

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to, at such Credit Party's sole cost and expense and upon request of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or the Lenders, duly execute and deliver, or cause to be duly executed and delivered, to it such further instruments and do and cause to be done such further acts as may be necessary or proper in the reasonable opinion of the Person making such request to carry out more effectively the provisions and purposes of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, including, without limitation, the perfection, publication and other registration of the Administrative Agent's Liens on the Collateral of the Credit Parties. The Administrative Agent is hereby authorized by the Borrower to file (including pursuant to the applicable terms of the PPSA) from time to time any financing statements, continuations or amendments covering the Collateral whether or not the Borrower's signature appears thereon. The Borrower hereby consents to and ratifies any and all execution and/or filing of financing statements on or prior to the Closing Date by the Administrative Agent.

NEGATIVE COVENANTS

The Borrower agrees as to all Credit Parties that from and after the date hereof until the Termination Date, without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders, or such other consent requirements as expressly set forth in this Article 6, which consent may be given at the sole option and discretion of the Administrative Agent and such Required Lenders and which all Credit Parties agree may be arbitrarily or unreasonably withheld or delayed, that:

Section 6.1 Mergers, Subsidiaries, Etc.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, directly or indirectly, by operation of law or otherwise, (a) form or acquire any Subsidiary, or (b) amalgamate, merge or consolidate with, acquire all or substantially all of the property or assets or Shares of, or otherwise combine with or acquire, any other Person, except, provided that no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or would result therefrom, (i) any Restricted Subsidiary which is created or formed, as the case may be, and existing under the laws of a state of the United States of America may consolidate with or amalgamate or merge with, or convey, transfer or lease all or substantially all of its assets in a single transaction or series of transactions to any other Restricted Subsidiary which is created or formed, as the case may be, and existing under the laws of a state of the United States of America, and (ii) any Excluded Subsidiary may liquidate, wind-up or dissolve into or otherwise amalgamate, consolidate with, or transfer all or substantially all of its property and assets to, any Credit Party.

Section 6.2 Investments.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, directly or indirectly make or permit to exist any Investment in, or make, accrue or permit to exist loans or advances of money to, any Person, through the direct or indirect lending of money, holding of securities or otherwise, except (a) (i) each Credit Party may maintain its existing Investments in its Subsidiaries and Affiliates as of the Closing Date, (ii) Hamilton Steel LP may make Investments in Baycoat Limited, Z-Line Company and D.C. Chrome Limited, and (iii) Lake Erie Steel LP may make Investments in Slabco, in each case in subsections (ii) and (iii) above, in accordance with the applicable joint venture agreement, shareholders agreement or advances agreement; (b) subject to Section 6.4, each Credit Party may extend trade credit in the ordinary course of business; (c) the Borrower may make Investments consisting of the purchase of any equity Shares of any Subsidiary that do not result in the occurrence of a Fundamental Change; and (d) each Credit Party may make Investments consisting of unsecured intercompany loans and advances to any other Credit Party or to any Excluded Subsidiary consistent with past practices for (i) the extension of trade credit, (ii) payments in respect of OPEB and Canadian Pension Plans required to be made by Welland Pipe Ltd. and Stelpipe Ltd., (iii) payments made in the ordinary course of business to Chisholm Coal Company in respect of environmental remediation costs incurred by it, (iv) payments made in the ordinary course of business in respect of employees obligations incurred by Chisholm Coal Company, Stelco USA Inc., Stelco Coal Company and Kanawha Coal Company, and (v) payments made in the ordinary course of business in respect of purchases of steel and coke, coal and ore, scrap metal and for steel processing services, provided that, in each of the foregoing cases for (a) to

(d) above: (A) each Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiary shall record all intercompany transactions on its Books and Records in a manner reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent; and (B) no Default or Event of Default has occurred or would occur after giving effect to any such proposed intercompany loan or other Investment. For greater certainty, no payments shall be made for the purposes of subsection (d)(ii) above by any of the Steel Entities to or on behalf of Welland Pipe Ltd. or Stelpipe Ltd., as the case may be.

Section 6.3 Indebtedness.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Indebtedness, except (without duplication) (i) the Revolving Loans and the other Obligations, (ii) Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Term Credit Agreement or the Exchange Notes in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $375,000,000 (plus any Term Credit Capitalized Interest Payments), (iii) Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Secured Floating Rate Notes issued pursuant to the Secured Notes Trust Indenture in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed the U.S. Dollar equivalent of $275,000,000 as of the Closing Date, (plus any Secured Notes Capitalized Interest Payments), (iv) Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Province Note in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $150,000,000, (v) Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the TD Banking Services Agreement in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $5,000,000, (vi) Indebtedness permitted to be created, incurred or assumed in respect of any other Permitted Encumbrances, (vii) provided no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result therefrom, Indebtedness in respect of foreign exchange contracts and non-speculative commodity options permitted pursuant to Section 6.18, (viii) Indebtedness permitted pursuant to Section 6.2(d), (ix) Indebtedness under the Supply and Services Agreements, and (x) any refinancing or replacement to the Indebtedness described in Section 6.3(1)(ii), (iii) or (iv) without giving effect to any increases in the maximum principal amounts of such Indebtedness beyond those permitted on the Closing Date.

(2) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to:

(a) make any payments or prepayments in respect of Indebtedness permitted under Section 6.3(1)(ii), (iii), (iv) or (v) or under Guaranteed Indebtedness expressly permitted under Section 6.6, including, without limitation, on account of principal, interest, fees, expenses and other amounts, except:

(i) provided no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result therefrom which has not been waived in accordance with the terms hereof, (x) payments of principal by the Borrower under the Term Credit Agreement (from and after

(A) the date which is three months after the Closing Date, and (B) any time prior to the date which is three months after the Closing Date when Availability is in excess of $100,000,000 (and in such case, only to the extent that Availability would remain in excess of $100,000,000 after the making of such payment)), and under the TD Banking Services Agreement, (y) regularly scheduled payments by the Borrower of interest (including, for greater certainty, Capitalized Interest Payments), fees, gross-up, indemnification and reasonable expense reimbursement under and in accordance with the provisions of each of the Term Credit Agreement, the Secured Floating Rate Notes, the Province Note and the TD Banking Services Agreement (but, for greater certainty, Capitalized Interest Payments are also permitted while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing), and (z) payments in respect Guaranteed Indebtedness expressly provided under Sections 6.6(a), (b) and (f); and

(ii) after the commencement of any Enforcement Action or any Insolvency Proceeding which is continuing, (x) payments of principal by the Borrower under the Term Credit Agreement or any outstanding Exchange Notes, and (y) regularly scheduled payments by the Borrower of interest (excluding Term Credit Capitalized Interest Payments), fees, indemnification, gross-up and reasonable expense reimbursement under and in accordance with the Term Credit Agreement or any outstanding Exchange Notes, as applicable, and in each such case for (x) and (y) above, only to the extent that (1) each of (A) Availability and (B) projected Availability on a rolling 13-week-basis (based on consolidated cash flow projections prepared by the Borrower for such rolling 13 week period in form and content satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents acting reasonably) are in excess of $100,000,000 (and, in such cases, only to the extent that Availability would remain in excess of $100,000,000 after the making of any such payments), and (2) the Lenders have not suspended the Revolving Line of Credit, terminated their Commitments hereunder or otherwise so reduced such Commitments, in each case, in their sole discretion; or

(b) directly or indirectly, voluntarily purchase, redeem, defease, prepay or offer to prepay any principal of, premium, if any, interest, fees, expenses or other amounts payable in respect of any Indebtedness, other than the Obligations, Indebtedness between the Credit Parties and otherwise as expressly permitted under subsection (a) above.

For greater certainty, (x) the Borrower may make regularly scheduled Term Credit Capitalized Interest Payments at any time, including while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing, and (y) proceeds of Dispositions of property and assets effected in compliance with Section 6.8 may be applied to payments of principal outstanding under the Term Credit Agreement in accordance with Section 5.6 and the Intercreditor Agreement at any time, including while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing.

(3) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into any commitment letter, term sheet or similar binding or non-binding arrangement or agreement in respect of the provision of debtor-in-possession or similar financing to the Borrower and/or the Credit Parties with any Person other than the Administrative Agent and the Lenders.

Section 6.4 Employee and Affiliate Transactions.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into or be a party to any purchases of goods and/or services with any Affiliate of such Credit Party or any other non-arm's length Person except (i) the Supply and Services Agreements, the Lake Erie Coke Lease, the Hamilton Coke Lease and the Slabco Tolling Agreement, and (ii) other transactions in the ordinary course of such Credit Party's Business, in each case in (i) and (ii) above, upon fair and reasonable terms that are no less favourable to such Credit Party than would be obtained in a comparable transaction with a Person who is dealing at arms-length with such Credit Party.

(2) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into any lending or borrowing transaction with any employees of any Credit Party, except loans to its employees in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices for travel and entertainment expenses, relocation costs and similar purposes up to a maximum of $1,000,000 in the aggregate at any one time outstanding.

Section 6.5 Capital Structure and Business.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (a) make any changes in any of its business objectives, purposes or operations that could reasonably be expected to adversely affect the repayment of any of the Obligations or could reasonably be expected to have or result in a Material Adverse Effect, (b) make any change in its capital structure, including the issuance, sale, exchange, abandonment, redemption, repurchase, release or other disposition of any Shares, warrants or other securities convertible into Shares or any revision of the terms of its outstanding Shares, other than(i) changes to the equity capital structure of the Borrower and issuances of New Common Shares and other equity securities of the Borrower, provided such changes and issuances do not result in the occurrence of a Fundamental Change, (ii) Dispositions of Shares permitted under Section 6.8(1)(f); (iii) the issuance of Exchange Notes, (iv) Secured Notes Capitalized Interest Payments, and (v) issuances of equity Shares permitted by Section 6.2(c) or (c) enter into any agreement, term sheet or commitment letter to do anything prohibited in subsections (a) and (b).

(2) No Credit Party shall engage in any business other than the Businesses currently engaged in by it or as contemplated by the CBCA Plan of Arrangement.

Section 6.6 Guaranteed Indebtedness.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, create, incur or assume any Guaranteed Indebtedness except (a) by endorsement of instruments or items of payment for deposit to the account of any Credit Party in the ordinary course of business, (b) for Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred for the benefit of any other Credit Party if the primary obligation is expressly permitted by this Agreement (including, for greater certainty, under the Supply and Services Agreements and the Slabco Tolling Agreement), (c) the guarantees by the Restricted Subsidiaries of the Obligations and of the obligations of the Borrower under the Term Credit Agreement, the Exchange Notes and the Secured Floating Rate Notes, (d) the guarantees by the General Partners (other than HLE Mining GP, HMLTN Energy GP and Lake Erie Energy GP) and the Limited Partnerships (other than HLE Mining LP, HMLTN Energy LP and Lake Erie Energy LP) and, provided such Subsidiary is also a Restricted Subsidiary for purposes of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, any other Subsidiary who is required under the Province Note to become a guarantor of the obligations of the Borrower under the Province Note, (e) Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred in respect of obtaining the consents listed in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., and (f) indemnities in favour of their directors, officers, employees and consultants in the ordinary course of business.

Section 6.7 Liens.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, create, incur, assume or permit to exist any Lien on or with respect to any of its properties or assets (whether now owned or hereafter acquired) except Permitted Encumbrances. The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, become a party to any agreement, note, indenture or instrument, or take any other action, that would prohibit the creation of a Lien on any of its properties or other assets in favour of the Administrative Agent or the Lenders as additional collateral for the Obligations, except as expressly permitted by Section 5.8(1)(i).

(2) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, consent to or bring any application or motion for any Lien or other charge to be granted by a Governmental Entity (by court order or otherwise) over the Collateral or any part thereof in priority to or pari passu with the Liens created by the Loan Documents.

(3) The Borrower shall cause The Stelco Plate Company Ltd. not to (i) create, incur, assume or permit to exist any Lien on or with respect to any of its property or assets except those in favour of CIBC on the date hereof, (ii) create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Indebtedness, except Indebtedness in favour of CIBC on the date hereof, and (iii) conduct or operate any business.

(4) For greater certainty, the Borrower shall not and shall cause the applicable Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to create, incur, assume or permit to exit any Lien on or with respect to the Excluded Real Estate, other than Permitted Encumbrances (other than Liens referred to in subsection (d) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances").

Section 6.8 Sale of Shares and Assets.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to Dispose of any of their respective property or assets other than (but subject to the last paragraph of this Section 6.8):

(a) Dispositions of Inventory of the Borrowing Base Parties in the ordinary course of business;

(b) Dispositions of any property or assets (other than Shares, Inventory of any Borrowing Base Party out of the ordinary course of business and Accounts of any Borrowing Base Party) of any of the Restricted Subsidiaries (other than any of the Steel Entities) or any of the Excluded Subsidiaries;

(c) in addition to subsection (a) above and subsection (e) below, Dispositions of any property or assets (other than Shares, Inventory out of the ordinary course of business and Accounts) of Hamilton Steel LP and Hamilton Steel GP in an aggregate amount not to exceed $5,000,000 in any Fiscal Year;

(d) in addition to subsection (a) above and subsection (e) below, Dispositions of any property or assets (other than Shares, Inventory out of the ordinary course of business and Accounts) of Lake Erie Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel GP in an aggregate amount not to exceed $5,000,000 in any Fiscal Year;

(e) Dispositions of any property or assets (other than Shares and Inventory out of the ordinary course of business) which have become worn-out, unserviceable, obsolete, unsuitable or unnecessary in the conduct of the respective businesses of the Borrower or any of the Steel Entities in an aggregate amount not to exceed $10,000,000 for all such Persons combined in any Fiscal Year; and

(f) Dispositions of any Shares of any Credit Party, provided such Disposition does not result in the occurrence of a Fundamental Change;

In the event that a Disposition is effected pursuant to a transaction permitted under this Section 6.8, and no Default or Event of Default exists or would result therefrom, the relevant Credit Party that owns the Collateral that is the subject of such Disposition shall, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement, be released from the Liens constituted by the Loan Documents (as to such Collateral), and, where applicable, any guarantee; provided however, that the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents shall be required in respect of the release of any such Liens and/or guarantees provided by any Borrowing Base Party, which consent may be withheld in their sole discretion. The Administrative Agent shall deliver (and the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders hereby authorize the Administrative Agent to deliver), at the Borrower's expense, such waivers, consents, and other instruments to the applicable Credit Party as the Credit Party may reasonably require in order to evidence such releases.

(2) For greater certainty, Section 6.8 does not restrict or limit the ability of the Credit Parties or the Excluded Subsidiaries to effect transactions in accordance with Section 6.1.

Section 6.9 ERISA.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and any ERISA Affiliate not to, cause or permit to occur an event that could result in the imposition of a Lien under Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 or 4068 of ERISA.

(2) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and any ERISA Affiliate not to, cause or permit to occur an ERISA Event to the extent such ERISA Event could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 6.10 Hazardous Materials.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, cause or permit a Release of any Hazardous Material on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any of the Real Estate where such Release would (a) violate in any respect, or form the basis for any Environmental Liabilities under, any Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits, and (b) otherwise adversely impact the value or marketability of any of the Collateral, other than such Releases that could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 6.11 Sale-Leasebacks.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, engage in any sale-leaseback, synthetic lease, securitization or similar transaction involving any of its assets.

Section 6.12 Accounts.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Party not to, (i) compromise, adjust or extend the time for payment of any Accounts or grant any discounts, allowances or credits thereon in each case other than in the normal course of business, (ii) fail to fulfill and perform any and all warranty obligations to its customers which could impact the recoverability of any Account, or (iii) (x) redate any invoice or (y) make sales or provide services on extended dating, (in the case of this subsection (y) only, beyond that customary in the respective Businesses).

Section 6.13 Payments and Restricted Payments.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, make any Restricted Payment, except (a) intercompany loans and advances between the Credit Parties to the extent permitted by Section 6.2, (b) dividends and distributions by Subsidiaries paid to the Borrower or to another Credit Party,(c) payments permitted under Section 6.3(2) as they relate solely to the Secured Floating Rate Notes and the Province Note, (d) payments permitted under Section 6.4; (e) the payment of reasonable and customary fees and reimbursement of expenses payable to employees, officers, and directors of such Credit Party; (f) the payment of management fees (or other fees of a similar nature), provided the terms and conditions of such fees otherwise comply with Section 6.4(1) hereof; and (g) payments contemplated by the Supply and Services Agreements, the Lake Erie Coke Lease, the Hamilton Coke Lease and the Slabco Tolling Agreement; provided that and for so long as, in each case, no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result after giving effect to such Restricted Payment.

Section 6.14 Change of Corporate Name or Location; Change of Fiscal Year.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and the Excluded Subsidiaries not to, (a) change its name, (b) change its chief executive office, registered office pursuant to its constating documents, principal place of business, corporate offices, the location of its records, including Books and Records, concerning the Collateral or, other than in compliance with Section 5.10(1), warehouses or locations at which Collateral is held, stored or located, (c) change the type of entity that it is, (d) change its organization identification number, if any, issued by its jurisdiction of organization or (e) change its jurisdiction of formation or organization without, in each case above except for subsection (c) (which shall require the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and each of the Lenders), at least 30 days' prior written notice to the Co-Collateral Agents and after the written acknowledgement of the Co-Collateral Agents that any reasonable action requested by the Co-Collateral Agents in connection therewith, including, without limitation, the obtaining of any landlord waiver and anything else necessary or desirable to continue the perfection (in order to protect the priority) of any Liens in favour of the Administrative Agent, on behalf of Lenders, in any Collateral, has been completed or taken, and provided that any such new location shall be in Canada for any Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary which is existing under the laws of Canada or any province thereof, or any State acceptable to the Co-Collateral Agents for any Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary which is existing under the laws or any State of the United States of America. Without limiting the foregoing, no Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary shall change its name, identity or corporate or limited partnership structure in any manner that might make any financing, financing change, or continuation statement or other applicable perfection filing made in connection herewith materially misleading within the meaning of the PPSA or any other applicable law except upon 30 days' prior written notice to the Co-Collateral Agents and after the written acknowledgement of the Co-Collateral Agents that any reasonable action requested by the Co-Collateral Agents in connection therewith, including to continue the perfection of any Liens in favour of the Administrative Agent, on behalf of Lenders, in any Collateral, has been completed or taken. No Credit Party shall change its Fiscal Year.

Section 6.15 No Impairment of Intercompany Transfers.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, directly or indirectly enter into or become bound by any agreement, instrument, indenture or other obligation (other than this Agreement, the other Loan Documents, the Term Credit Documents and the Secured Notes Credit Documents) that could directly or indirectly restrict, prohibit or require the consent of any Person with respect to the payment of dividends or distributions or the making or repayment of intercompany loans by a Subsidiary of any Credit Party to any Credit Party or between Credit Parties.

Section 6.16 Changes to Material Contracts and Pension and Benefit Plans.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, change or amend the terms of any Material Contract, Supply and Services Agreement, Limited Partnership Agreement, Restricted Subsidiary USD or the TD Banking Services Agreement in any manner adverse to any Credit Party, the Administrative Agent or the Lenders.

(2) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, change or amend the terms of (including by way of entering into any Supplemental Indenture (as identified in the Platform Trust Indenture)) any of the Term Credit Documents, Secured

Notes Credit Documents or the Province Credit Documents, except as permitted by the Intercreditor Agreement or the Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be. The Borrower shall not exercise any right of Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance pursuant to, and as such terms are defined in the Secured Notes Credit Documents. The Borrower shall not post any security as contemplated by Section 4.01(d) of the Supplemental Indenture, and the Borrower shall not pay to or deposit with either of the Secured Notes Trustees, any amounts as contemplated by Section 5.03 (to the extent such payment or deposit would result in the violation of Section 6.3 hereof or any provision of the Intercreditor Agreement) or Section 12.11(1)(a)(ii) of the Platform Trust Indenture. The Borrower shall not appoint or allow any Person other than itself or the Secured Notes Trustees to be the Paying Agent pursuant to, and as such term is defined in the Secured Notes Credit Documents.

(3) The Borrower shall not increase the amount of the D&O Trust and upon termination of such trust the Borrower shall ensure that all amounts therein shall be returned to the Borrower.

(4) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (i) make any amendment to any Canadian Pension Plan, or the Pension Agreement (including, without limitation, by changing the benefits under any Canadian Pension Plan) in a manner which (y) increases the quantum of contributions or other funding to be made thereunder, or; (z) increases or could result in an increase in the amount of any solvency deficiency or going concern unfunded liability thereunder; in each case, in an aggregate amount in excess of $5,000,000 or which, in the sole discretion of the Co-Collateral Agents, compromises the priority of the security granted in favour of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders, (ii) terminate (in whole or in part) in violation of Section 9.1(i) any Canadian Pension Plan or (iii) fail to maintain the currency of any contribution obligation in respect of any Canadian Pension Plan in accordance with the Pension Agreement, the Stelco Pension Regulation, the PBR or other applicable Law. The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, establish any new pension plan (whether a defined benefit pension plan or otherwise) without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders.

(5) Except for purposes of permitting commuted value transfers under Section 42 of the PBA in circumstances other than a partial plan wind-up, the Borrower shall not and shall cause each other Credit Party not to make any contribution or other payment to the Canadian Pension Plans in excess of the minimum amount thereof required to be made under the Pension Agreement, the Stelco Pension Regulation and the PBR.

(6) Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. the Borrower shall not and shall cause each other Credit Party not to cause or permit any ERISA Affiliate to, cause or permit to occur an event that could result in the imposition of a Lien under Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 or 4068 of ERISA which could, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to exceed US$1,000,000 in liability to any Credit Party or cause or permit to occur an ERISA Event to the extent such ERISA Event could, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in any liability to any Credit Party in an amount which would exceed US$1,000,000.

Section 6.17 Compliance with Orders.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Applicants not to, take or omit to take any action that would result in a breach or contravention of or non-compliance with or otherwise alter, amend, vary or change the Sanction Order, the US Confirmation Order or the order approving the CBCA Plan of Arrangement in any respect that could, in the sole opinion of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, adversely affect any of the rights or interests of the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender under such Orders, this Agreement or any other Loan Document, including with respect to the Collateral.

Section 6.18 No Speculative Transactions.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, engage in any transaction involving speculative commodity options, futures contracts or similar transactions, except for non-speculative commodity options, future contracts or similar transactions on an unsecured basis or secured by Letters of Credit issued pursuant to this Agreement, in either case, solely to hedge in the ordinary course of business against fluctuations in the values of commodities or foreign currencies receivable or payable by it and interest rate swaps, caps or collars, in each case, pursuant to its reasonable business needs.

Section 6.19 Deposit and Disbursements Accounts.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (i) own or maintain a Bank Account or a Securities Account, or (ii) enter into a blocked account agreement, lock box agreement or similar arrangement in respect of any Bank Account or a Securities Account, without the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents.

Section 6.20 Excluded Subsidiaries

The Borrower shall not permit any Excluded Subsidiary to conduct any business, acquire any property or assets or otherwise become liable for any obligation except as set forth in Section 3.8(6) and except for nominal amounts as may be required to liquidate, wind-up or dissolve such Excluded Subsidiary.

ARTICLE 7
FINANCIAL COVENANTS

Section 7.1 Maximum Maintenance Capital Expenditures.

Other than in respect of Strategic Capital Expenditures, the Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, incur Capital Expenditures or Maintenance Capital Expenditures, as the case may be, in any Fiscal Year (calculated on a cumulative and consolidated basis) in amounts greater than 125% of the amount of Capital Expenditures or Maintenance Capital Expenditures, as the case may be, set forth in the annual operating business plan for such Fiscal Year provided to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders pursuant to Section 4.1(4).

ARTICLE 8
TERM

Section 8.1 Term and Termination.

(1) Unless demand is earlier made pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement, the Borrower shall repay, and there shall become due and payable, the Obligations and all accrued and unpaid interest thereon and all other amounts payable with respect thereto, on the earlier of the Early Termination Date and the Maturity Date. With respect to each Maturity Date, the Borrower may, by written request given to the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders no earlier than ninety (90) days and no later than sixty (60) days prior to the first anniversary of the Closing Date, and thereafter, no earlier than ninety (90) days and no later than sixty (60) days prior to each anniversary date of the Closing Date (each such date, a "Renewal Date"), request that this Agreement be amended to extend the Maturity Date for a further term of two (2) calendar years from the Renewal Date. If on or before the thirtieth (30th) day following the receipt of such written request for an extension of the Maturity Date, the Administrative Agent with the written consent of each Lender, in accordance with Section 11.3(2) of this Agreement, gives written notice to the Borrower advising that it consents to such request for an extension, the Maturity Date shall be so amended and extended, upon the terms and conditions set forth in such notice. If the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, does not notify the Borrower within such period that it does so consent, then there shall be no extension of the then current Maturity Date.

(2) The Borrower may terminate this Agreement at any time upon five (5) days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent. All Obligations shall become due and payable as of any termination hereunder or under Article 9 hereof and, pending a final accounting, the Administrative Agent may withhold any balances in the Borrower's account (unless supplied with an indemnity satisfactory to the Administrative Agent) to cover all of the Obligations, whether absolute or contingent, including, but not limited to, cash reserves for any contingent Obligations, including, without limitation, an amount of one hundred and five percent (105%) of the face amount of any Bankers' Acceptances, any outstanding Letters of Credit with an expiry date on or after the effective date of termination of this Agreement and the Sundry Credit Facility Indemnity. All of the Administrative Agent's and the Lenders' rights, liens and security interests shall continue after any termination until all Obligations have been indefeasibly paid and satisfied in full.

Section 8.2 Survival of Obligations Upon Termination of Financing Arrangements.

Except as otherwise expressly provided for in the Loan Documents, no termination or cancellation (regardless of cause or procedure) of any financing arrangement under this Agreement shall in any way affect or impair the obligations, duties and liabilities of the Credit Parties or the rights of any Agent or any Lender relating to any unpaid portion of the Revolving Loans or any other Obligations, due or not due, liquidated, contingent or unliquidated, or any transaction or event occurring prior to such termination, or any transaction or event, the performance of which is required after the Maturity Date. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein or in any other Loan Document, all undertakings, agreements, covenants, warranties and representations of or binding upon the Credit Parties, and all rights of the Agents and the Lenders, all as contained in the Loan Documents, shall not terminate or expire, but rather shall survive any such termination or cancellation and shall continue in full force and effect until the Termination Date; provided, that the provisions of Article 12, and the obligations under Section 1.15, Section 1.16, Section 1.17, Section 10.1(2), Section 10.1(7), Section 11.2(9), Section 11.3(5) and any other indemnities contained herein or in the other Loan Documents shall survive the Termination Date.

ARTICLE 9
EVENTS OF DEFAULT; RIGHTS AND REMEDIES

Section 9.1 Events of Default.

The Administrative Agent may, or if directed by the Required Lenders shall, terminate this Agreement immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following "Events of Default":

(a) the Borrower or any other Credit Party, as the case may be, (i) fails to make any payment of any principal amount of the Accommodations when due and payable, or (ii) fails to pay interest or any of the Accommodations or any other Obligations (other than principal), fails to pay any Fees or fails to reimburse the Administrative Agent, Co-Collateral Agents or Lenders for any expense reimbursable hereunder or under any other Loan Document within 2 days following the Administrative Agent's demand for such reimbursement or payment of same;

(b) any representation or warranty made or deemed to be made by any Credit Party under this Agreement or any other Loan Document, or any information contained in any notice, document, report, Financial Statement or certificate delivered under this Agreement or any other Loan Document (other than Projections, which shall be subject to the condition that they have been prepared in good faith based on assumptions believed to be reasonable at the time made), shall prove to have been incorrect in any material respect as of the date when made, deemed made or delivered as the case may be;

(c) any Credit Party shall fail to perform or observe any term, covenant or agreement contained in Article 6 or Article 7 or (except as set forth below in any other subsection of this Section 9.1) any other negative covenant contained in any other Loan Document;

(d) any Credit Party shall fail to perform or observe any term, covenant or agreement (other than those referenced in Section 9.1, (a), (b) and (c) above or below in any other subsection of this Section 9.1) contained in this Agreement or any Loan Document on its part to be performed or observed and such failure shall remain unremedied for ten (10) days;

(e) any Credit Party fails to pay the principal of, or premium or interest on, any of its Indebtedness (excluding Indebtedness under this Agreement) which is outstanding in an aggregate principal amount exceeding Cdn. $30,000,000 (or the equivalent amount in any other currency) when such amount becomes due and payable (whether by scheduled maturity, required prepayment, acceleration, demand or otherwise) and such failure continues after the applicable grace period, if any, specified in the agreement or instrument relating to the Indebtedness; or any other event occurs or condition exists and continues after the applicable grace period, if any, specified in any agreement or instrument relating to any such Indebtedness, if its effect is to accelerate, or permit the acceleration of the Indebtedness; or any such Indebtedness shall be declared to be due and payable prior to its stated maturity;

(f) without limiting the generality of Section 9.1(e), any Credit Party fails to pay the principal of, or premium or interest on, any of its Indebtedness under the Term Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents or the Province Credit Documents when any such amount becomes due and payable (whether by scheduled maturity, required prepayment, acceleration, demand or otherwise) and such failure continues after the applicable grace period, if any, specified in the agreement or instrument relating to such Indebtedness; or any other event occurs or condition exists and continues after the applicable grace period, if any, specified in any agreement or instrument relating to any such Indebtedness, if its effect is to accelerate, or permit the acceleration of the Indebtedness; or any such Indebtedness shall be declared to be due and payable prior to its stated maturity;

(g) any judgment or order for the payment of money in excess of Cdn. $10,000,000 (or the equivalent amount in any other currency) is rendered against any Credit Party and either (i) enforcement proceedings have been commenced by a creditor upon the judgment or order, or (ii) there is any period of ten (10) consecutive days during which a stay of enforcement of the judgment or order, by reason of a pending appeal or otherwise, is not in effect;

(h) any ERISA Affiliate fails to pay when due an amount or amounts aggregating in excess of U.S. $1,000,000 which it shall have become liable to pay under Section 4062, 4063 or 4064 of ERISA except as provided in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.; there occurs a complete or partial withdrawal from, or a default, within the meaning of Section 4219(c)(5) of ERISA, with respect to one or more Multiemployer Plans which could cause one or more ERISA Affiliates to incur a current annual payment obligation in excess of U.S. $1,000,000 except as provided in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.; or a notice of intent to terminate a Plan is filed under Title IV of ERISA by any ERISA Affiliate, any plan administrator or any combination of the foregoing if such termination would result in a Material Adverse Effect; or the PBGC institutes proceedings under Title IV of ERISA to terminate, to impose liability (other than for premiums under Section 4007 of ERISA) in respect of, or to cause a trustee to be appointed to administer any Plan, if such action by the PBGC would result in a Material Adverse Effect;

(i) the institution of any steps by any Credit Party or any applicable Governmental Entity to terminate or wind-up a Canadian Pension Plan (wholly or in part) if, as a result of such termination or wind-up, any Credit Party may be required to make an additional contribution (at the time of such termination or wind-up or at any time thereafter) to such Canadian Pension Plan, or to incur any wind-up deficiency (at the time of such termination or wind-up or at any time thereafter) to such Canadian Pension Plan, equal to or in excess of $5,000,000 or the equivalent thereof in another currency for such Canadian Pension Plan and all Canadian Pension Plans so previously terminated or wound-up after the date hereof; the institution of any steps by any Governmental Entity to make any changes to benefits under any Canadian Benefit Plan or Canadian Pension Plan which either (i) increases the quantum of contributions or other funding required under such plan, or (ii) increases or could result in an increase in the amount of any solvency deficiency or going concern unfunded liability under such plan; in each case, in an aggregate amount in excess of $5,000,000 or which, in the sole discretion of the Co-Collateral Agents, compromises the priority of the security of the Agents and the Lenders in the Collateral;

(j) any Credit Party or Governmental Entity shall fail to perform, observe or comply in any material respect with any term, covenant or agreement contained in, or any termination or revocation by any Person other than the Administrative Agent of, or any acceleration of any amounts owing pursuant to, the Pension Agreement, the Stelco Pension Regulation or the other Laws addressing the condition precedent set forth in Section 2.1(19), or any change in the Laws addressing the conditions precedent set forth in Section 2.1(19);

(k) an Order or Notice of Proposal is issued by the Superintendent of Financial Services (Ontario) pursuant to any of Sections 87 to 89 of the PBA in respect of a Canadian Pension Plan that directly or indirectly requires the payment of, or directly or indirectly results in the obligation to pay, any monetary amount in respect of such Canadian Pension Plan, where such payment(s) or obligation(s) to pay (individually or in the aggregate) (i) exceeds $5,000,000, or (ii) could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect; or any change is made to applicable Laws, regulations or any agreements, including without limitation the CCAA, BIA, PBA, the Stelco Pension Regulation, the PBR or the Pension Agreement and which relate to any amounts due, accruing due, past due or which may become due hereafter under any Canadian Pension Plan (including without limitation in respect of payments, contributions, going concern unfunded liabilities, solvency deficiencies or wind-up deficiencies), which could result in any Pension Deemed Trust or other Lien arising, becoming enforceable or otherwise crystallizing in favour of any Person which is not subordinated and postponed in all respects to the repayment in full of the Obligations and to the Liens in favour of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders in the Collateral; or any other change is made in any Law or regulation which, in the sole discretion of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, could reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect on the priority of the Liens created by the Loan Documents, on the enforcement rights and remedies of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders under the Loan Documents, on the Collateral or on the ability of the Borrower to repay the Obligations when due (whether or not there shall have occurred any of the events listed in Section 9.1(m)) below;

(l) there is a Fundamental Change;

(m) any Credit Party (i) becomes insolvent or generally not able to pay its debts as they become due, (ii) admits in writing its inability to pay its debts generally or makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, (iii) institutes or has instituted against it any proceeding seeking (x) to adjudicate it a bankrupt or insolvent, (y) liquidation, winding-up, reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, protection, relief or composition of it or its debts under any law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or relief of debtors including any plan of compromise or arrangement or other corporate proceeding involving or affecting its creditors, or (z) the entry of an order for relief or the appointment of a receiver, trustee or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its properties and assets, and in the case of any such proceeding instituted against it (but not instituted by it), either the proceeding remains undismissed or unstayed for a period of 10 days, or any of the actions sought in such proceeding (including the entry of an order for relief against it or the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its properties and assets) occurs, or (iv) takes any corporate action to authorize any of the above actions;

(n) the audited annual Financial Statements of the Borrower are qualified in any material respect by the Borrower's independent auditors;

(o) any violation or non-compliance occurs with respect to any of the terms of the Sanction Order or the US Confirmation Order or the order of the Canadian Court approving the CBCA Plan of Arrangement;

(p) any material provision of any Loan Document for any reason ceases to be valid, binding and enforceable in accordance with its terms (or any Credit Party or other Person party to a Loan Document shall challenge the enforceability of any Loan Document or shall assert in writing, or engage in any action or inaction based on any such assertion, that any provision of any of the Loan Documents has ceased to be or otherwise is not valid, binding and enforceable in accordance with its terms), or any Lien created under any Loan Document ceases to be a valid and perfected Lien having the priorities set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement (except as otherwise permitted herein or therein) in any of the Collateral purported to be covered thereby;

(q) Availability falls below 10% of the Initial Revolving Credit Amount plus 10% of the amount of each Incremental Tranche which the Borrower elects to request pursuant to Section 1.2, at any time for any reason whatsoever;

(r) any Credit Party to a Material Contract fails to perform, observe or comply in any material respect with any term, covenant or agreement contained in such Material Contract; or any party to any Material Contract delivers a notice of termination or revocation (other than in accordance with its terms and not as a result of default) in respect of such Material Contract and such Material Contract is not replaced with a contract or other binding arrangement with one or more third parties within a reasonable period of time on terms no less favourable in the aggregate, to such Credit Party than the terms of the Material Contract so terminated or revoked;

(s) any failure by any Credit Party or any other Person party to the Blocked Account arrangements to perform, observe or comply with any term, covenant or agreement contained in the Blocked Account arrangements contemplated in the Loan Documents, which the Co-Collateral Agents in their sole discretion deem to be materially adverse to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders;

(t) if any execution, sequestration, garnishment, claim or other process of any court, tribunal or other Person becomes enforceable against the Borrower for an amount in excess of $10,000,000 or if a distress or analogous process for an amount in excess of $2,500,000 becomes enforceable against or is levied upon the Collateral;

(u) any Credit Party or Credit Parties are required by a Governmental Entity to make expenditures or pay damages, fines, claims costs or expenses aggregating $10,000,000 at any time on a consolidated basis to remediate or in respect of, Environmental Liabilities, as the case may be;

(v) without limiting the generality of any of the foregoing provisions of this Section 9.1, any Credit Party or any other Person party to the Intercreditor Agreement or Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be, shall fail to perform, observe or comply with any term, covenant or agreement contained in the Intercreditor Agreement or Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be, which the Co-Collateral Agents in their sole discretion deem to be materially adverse to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders; or

(w) the occurrence of a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 9.2 Remedies.

(1) If any Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Administrative Agent may (and at the written request of the Required Lenders shall), without notice, suspend the Revolving Line of Credit with respect to additional Revolving Loans, whereupon any additional Revolving Loans shall be made or incurred in the Administrative Agent's sole discretion (or in the sole discretion of the Required Lenders if such suspension occurred at their direction) so long as such Default or Event of Default is continuing. If any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Administrative Agent may (and at the written request of the Required Lenders shall), without notice except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and subject to applicable law, increase the rates of interest applicable to the Revolving Loans to the Default Rate of Interest.

(2) If any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Administrative Agent may (and at the written request of the Required Lenders shall), without notice: (i) terminate the Revolving Line of Credit with respect to further Revolving Loans; (ii) reduce the Commitments from time to time; (iii) declare all or any portion of the applicable Obligations, including all or any portion of Revolving Loan to be forthwith due and payable, all without presentment, demand, protest or further notice of any kind, all of which are expressly waived by the Borrower and each other Credit Party; and/or (iv) exercise all rights and remedies allowed under the applicable Loan Documents other than the Real Estate Security (and with the consent of the Co-Collateral Agents, exercise all rights and remedies allowed under the Real Estate Security), applicable Laws of Canada and of the United States and any province or state thereof, including but not limited to the PPSA and other applicable Laws; provided, however, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default specified in Section 9.1(m), the Revolving Line of Credit shall be immediately terminated and all of the Obligations shall become immediately due and payable without declaration, notice or demand by any Person.

Section 9.3 Waivers by Credit Parties.

Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement or by applicable Law, the Borrower on behalf of itself and each of the other Credit Parties waives: (a) presentment, demand and protest and notice of presentment, dishonour, notice of intent to accelerate, notice of acceleration, protest, default, non-payment, maturity, release, compromise, settlement, extension or renewal of any or all commercial paper, accounts, contract rights, documents, instruments, chattel paper and guarantees at any time held by the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender on which any Credit Party may in any way be liable, and hereby ratifies and confirms whatever the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender may lawfully do in this regard, (b) all rights to notice and a hearing prior to the Administrative Agent's taking possession or control of, or to Administrative Agent's reply, attachment or levy upon, the Collateral or any bond or security that might be required by any court prior to allowing the Administrative Agent to exercise any of its remedies, and (c) the benefit of all valuation, appraisal, marshalling and exemption laws. The Borrower on behalf of itself and each of the other Credit Parties acknowledges that in the event such Credit Party fails to perform, observe or discharge any of its obligations or liabilities under this Agreement or any other Loan Document, any remedy of law may prove to be inadequate relief to the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender; therefore, such Credit Party agrees, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or by other applicable Law, that such Persons shall be entitled to temporary and permanent injunctive relief in any such case without the necessity of proving actual damages.

ARTICLE 10
AGREEMENT AMONG THE LENDERS

Section 10.1 Agreement among the Lenders

(1) The Administrative Agent, for the account of the Lenders, shall disburse all loans and advances to the Borrower and shall handle all collections of Collateral and repayment of Obligations. It is understood that for purposes of advances to the Borrower and for purposes of this Section 10.1, the Administrative Agent is using the funds of the Administrative Agent.

(2) Unless the Administrative Agent shall have been notified in writing by any Lender prior to any advance to the Borrower that such Lender will not make the amount which would constitute its share of the borrowing on such date available to the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent may assume that such Lender shall make such amount available to the Administrative Agent on a Settlement Date, and the Administrative Agent may, in reliance upon such assumption, make available to the Borrower a corresponding amount. A certificate of the Administrative Agent submitted to any Lender with respect to any amount owing under this Section 10.1 shall be conclusive, absent manifest error. If such Lender's share of such borrowing is not in fact made available to the Administrative Agent by such Lender on the Settlement Date, the Administrative Agent shall be entitled to recover such amount with interest thereon at the rate per annum applicable to Revolving Loans hereunder, on demand, from the Borrower without prejudice to any rights which the Administrative Agent may have against such Lender hereunder. Nothing contained in this shall relieve any Lender which has failed to make available its rateable portion of any borrowing hereunder from its obligation to do so in accordance with the terms hereof. Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to obligate the Administrative Agent to make available to the Borrower the full amount of a requested advance when the Administrative Agent has any notice (written or otherwise) that any of the Lenders will not advance its rateable portion thereof.

(3) On the Settlement Date, the Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall each remit to the other, in immediately available funds, all amounts necessary so as to ensure that, as of the Settlement Date, the Lenders shall have their Pro Rata Share of all outstanding Obligations.

(4) The Administrative Agent shall forward to each Lender, at the end of each month, a copy of the account statement rendered by the Administrative Agent to the Borrower.

(5) The Administrative Agent shall, after receipt of any interest and fees earned under this Agreement, promptly remit to the Lenders their Pro Rata Share of any (i) fees they are entitled to receive, and (ii) interest computed at the rate and as provided for in this Agreement on all outstanding amounts advanced by the Lenders on each Settlement Date, prior to adjustment, that are subsequent to the last remittance by the Administrative Agent to the Lenders of such interest amounts.

(6) The Borrower hereby acknowledges that each Lender is solely responsible for its portion of the Line of Credit and that neither the Administrative Agent nor any Lender shall be responsible for, nor assume any obligations for the failure of any Lender to make available its portion of the Line of Credit. Further, should any Lender refuse to make available its portion of the Line of Credit, then the other Lenders may, but without obligation to do so, increase, unilaterally, its portion of the Line of Credit in which event the Borrower is so obligated to the other Lenders.

(7) In the event that the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents, the Lenders or any one of them is sued or threatened with suit by the Borrower or any one of them, or by any receiver, trustee, creditor or any committee of creditors on account of any preference, voidable transfer or lender liability issue, alleged to have occurred or been received as a result of, or during the transactions contemplated under this Agreement, then in such event any money paid in satisfaction or compromise of such suit, action, claim or demand and any expenses, costs and legal fees paid or incurred in connection therewith, whether by the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents, the Lenders or any one of them, shall be shared proportionately by the Lenders provided such suit, action, claim or demand does not result directly from the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents, a Lender or any combination of the foregoing, in which case the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents, the Lender or any combination of the foregoing shall be solely responsible for the satisfaction or compromise of such suit, action, claim or demand and payment of such expenses, costs and fees. In addition, any costs, expenses, fees or disbursements incurred by outside agencies or attorneys retained by the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents, to effect collection or enforcement of any rights in the Collateral, including enforcing, preserving or maintaining rights under this Agreement shall be shared proportionately between and among the Lenders to the extent not reimbursed by the Borrower or from the proceeds of Collateral.

(8) Each of the Lenders agrees with each other Lender that any money or assets of the Borrower held or received by such Lender in connection with this Agreement, how or when received, shall be applied to the reduction of the Obligations (to the extent permitted hereunder) after (x) the occurrence of an Event of Default, and (y) the election by the Required Lenders to accelerate the Obligations. In addition, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Borrower authorizes, and the Lenders shall have the right, without notice, upon any amount becoming due and payable hereunder, to set off and apply any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, provisional or final) at any time held and other obligations at any time owing by such Lender or an affiliate of such Lender to or for the credit or the account of the Borrower against any of and all of the obligations of the Borrower now or hereafter existing under the Loan Documents held by such Lender, irrespective of whether or not such Lender shall have made any demand under the Loan Documents and although such obligations may be unmatured. The rights of each Lender under this Section are in addition to other rights and remedies (including other rights of set off) which such Lender may have.

ASSIGNMENTS; AGENCY; AMENDMENTS

Section 11.1 Assignments.

(1) The Borrower acknowledges that, subject to the terms hereof, the Administrative Agent and the Lenders may sell and assign all or any portion of their respective Commitments for the loans and extensions of credit made and to be made to the Borrower hereunder.

(2) The Borrower authorizes the Administrative Agent and each other Lender to disclose to any such purchasing lender (each, a "Transferee") and any prospective Transferee any and all information in such Lender's possession concerning the Borrower and its Affiliates which has been delivered to such Lender by or on behalf of the Borrower pursuant to this Agreement or which has been delivered to such Lender by or on behalf of the Borrower in connection with such Lender's credit evaluation of the Borrower and its Affiliates prior to entering into this Agreement, provided that such Transferee agrees to hold such information in confidence in the ordinary course of its business in accordance with Section 13.12 hereof.

(3) Subject to Section 11.1(4), the Lenders shall have the right at any time to assign to one or more assignees all or a portion of its rights and obligations under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents (including, without limitation, its obligations under the Revolving Loans) with the consent of the Administrative Agent, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Upon execution of an Assignment and Transfer Agreement (a) the assignee thereunder shall be a party hereto and, to the extent that rights and obligations hereunder have been assigned to it pursuant to such assignment, have the rights and obligations of a Lender hereunder, and (b) a Lender shall, to the extent that its rights and obligations hereunder have been assigned by it pursuant to such assignment, relinquish its rights and be released from its obligations under this Agreement. The Borrower shall, if necessary, execute and cause each Credit Party to execute any documents reasonably required to effectuate the assignments. It shall be a condition of any assignment by any Lenders hereunder that (i) the amount being assigned shall, provided no Event of Default has occurred which is continuing, not be less than the lesser of (x) $25,000,000, or (y) the entire interest of such Lender hereunder (and if an Event of Default has occurred which is continuing, there shall be no such limit), (ii) such assignment shall be of a pro-rata portion of all of such assigning Lender's rights and obligations hereunder and under the other Loan Documents, (iii) the parties to such assignment shall execute and deliver to the Administrative Agent an Assignment and Transfer Agreement, and (iv) any assigning Lender hereunder shall pay the Administrative Agent an assignment fee of five thousand dollars ($5,000) as a condition to any assignment hereunder.

(4) No Lender may assign all or a portion of its right and obligations under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents prior to the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing without the prior written consent of the Borrower, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each of the Lenders shall have the right to assign to one or more of its branches or Affiliates which is a Canadian Resident Lender all or a portion of its rights and obligations under this Agreement (including, without limitation, its obligations under the Revolving Loans) without the consent of the Administrative Agent or the Borrower or paying any assignment fees provided such assignment complies with all other provisions of this Section 11.1.

Section 11.2 Agency.

(1) Each Lender hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, under this Agreement and any Loan Documents and irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Agreement and all Loan Documents and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms of this Agreement and all Loan Documents together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Agreement, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities, except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any Lender or any other Agent and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Agreement and the Loan Documents or otherwise exist against the Administrative Agent.

(2) Each of the Co-Collateral Agents, the Lenders and the Borrower confirms the appointment and designation of the Administrative Agent (or any successor thereto) as the person holding the power of attorney ("fondé de pouvoir") within the meaning of Article 2692 of the Civil Code of Québec for the purpose of the hypothecary security under the deed of hypothec to be granted by the Borrower under the laws of the Province of Quebec and, in such capacity, the Administrative Agent, shall hold the hypothecs granted under the laws of the Province of Quebec as such fondé de pouvoir in the exercise of the rights conferred thereunder. The execution by the Administrative Agent, as such fondé de pouvoir, prior to the date hereof of any deed creating or evidencing any such hypothec is hereby ratified and confirmed. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 32 of the Act respecting the special power of legal persons (Quebec), the Administrative Agent may acquire and be the holder of any of the bonds (or similar instruments) secured by such hypothecs. Each assignee Lender that becomes party to this Agreement by either becoming a party to this Agreement directly or by executing an Assignment and Transfer Agreement shall be deemed to have ratified and confirmed the appointment of the Administrative Agent as fondé de pouvoir.

(3) The Administrative Agent may execute any of its duties under this Agreement and all Loan Documents by or through agents or attorneys-in-fact and shall be entitled to the advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties.

(4) Notwithstanding the terms of any security agreements, the Liens on the Collateral granted by the Credit Parties to the Administrative Agent on behalf of itself, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders pursuant to any Loan Documents shall be held by the Administrative Agent for the rateable benefit of itself, the Co-Collateral Agents and all Lenders and any proceeds from any realization of any such Liens (after deducting all reasonable costs and expenses of every kind incurred or incidental to the care or safekeeping of any of the Collateral or in any way relating to the Collateral or the rights of the Administrative Agent, on its own behalf and on behalf of the Lenders, or the Lenders, hereunder, including reasonable legal fees and disbursements on a solicitor and his own client basis and the costs of any receiver or consultant of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders engaged), shall be applied to the aggregate amount of Accommodations outstanding to each Lender rateably (whether such Liens are held in the name of the Administrative Agent or in the name of any one or more of the Lenders and without regard to any priority to which the Lender may otherwise be entitled under applicable law) in accordance with Section 1.3. If any Lender obtains any payment (whether voluntary, involuntary or through the exercise of any right of set-off) on account of Accommodations made by it, in excess of its rateable share of payments obtained by all the Lenders, the Lender shall account to and pay over to the other Lenders their rateable share.

(5) Neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, or attorneys-in-fact shall be (i) liable to any Lender or any other Agent for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such person under or in connection with this Agreement and all Loan Documents (except for its or such person's own gross negligence or wilful misconduct), or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the Lenders or any other Agent for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by any Credit Party or any officer thereof contained in this Agreement and all Loan Documents or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with, this Agreement and all Loan Documents or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Agreement and all Loan Documents or for any failure of any Credit Party to perform their obligations hereunder or thereunder. The Administrative Agent shall not be under any obligation to any Lender or any other Agent to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Agreement and all Loan Documents or to inspect the properties, books or records of any Credit Party.

(6) The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any note, writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter, cablegram, telegram, e-mail, telecopy, telex or teletype message, statement, order or other document or conversation reasonably believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper person or persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Borrower), independent accountants and other experts selected by the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action under this Agreement and all Loan Documents unless it shall first receive such advice or concurrence of the Lenders, or the Required Lenders, as the case may be, as it deems appropriate or it shall first be indemnified to its satisfaction by the Lenders against any and all liability and expense which may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action. The Administrative Agent shall in all cases be fully protected in acting, or in refraining from acting, under this Agreement and all Loan Documents in accordance with a request of the Lenders, or the Required Lenders, as the case may be, and such request and any action taken or failure to act pursuant thereto shall be binding upon all the Lenders.

(7) The Administrative Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Default or Event of Default hereunder unless the Administrative Agent has actual knowledge of or has received written notice from a Lender or the Borrower describing such Default or Event of Default. In the event that the Administrative Agent has actual knowledge of or receives such a notice, the Administrative Agent shall promptly give notice thereof to the Lenders. The Administrative Agent shall take such action with respect to such Default or Event of Default as shall be reasonably directed by the Lenders, or Required Lenders, as the case may be; provided that unless and until the Administrative Agent shall have received such direction, the Administrative Agent may, in the interim (but shall not be obligated to) take such action, or refrain from taking such action, with respect to such Default or Event of Default as it shall deem advisable and in the best interests of the Lenders. In the event the Administrative Agent at the request of the Required Lenders or otherwise, continues to make Revolving Loans and advances under this Agreement upon the occurrence of a Default or Event of Default, any such Revolving Loans and advances may be in such amounts and on such additional terms and conditions as the Required Lenders may deem appropriate.

(8) Each Lender and other Agent expressly acknowledges that neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents or attorneys-in-fact has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by the Administrative Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Credit Parties shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by the Administrative Agent to any Lender or other Agent. Each Lender represents to the Administrative Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Lender and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of and investigation into the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Credit Parties and made its own decision to enter into this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. Each Lender also represents and covenants that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Lender and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other condition or creditworthiness of the Credit Parties.

The Administrative Agent, however, upon request, shall provide the Lenders with copies of all financial statements, projections and business plans which come into the possession of the Administrative Agent or any of its officers, employees, agents or attorneys-in-fact.

(9) Each Lender agrees to indemnify the Administrative Agent in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed by the Borrower and without limiting the obligation of the Borrower to do so), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements (including, without limitation, all out-of-pocket expenses) of any kind whatsoever (including negligence but not the gross negligence on the part of the Administrative Agent) which may at any time be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against the Administrative Agent in any way relating to or arising out of this Agreement, the Loan Documents, or any ancillary documents or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or the transactions contemplated hereby or any action taken or omitted by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with any of the foregoing; provided that no Lender shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements resulting solely from the Administrative Agent's gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

(10) The Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents will use their reasonable business judgment in handling the collection of the Accounts, enforcement of its and their rights hereunder and realization upon the Collateral but shall not be liable to the Lenders or any other Agent, except for the Administrative Agent's or Co-Collateral Agents' gross negligence, for any action taken or omitted to be taken in good faith or on the written advice of counsel. Each Lender expressly releases the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents from any and all liability and responsibility (express or implied), for any loss, depreciation of or delay in collecting or failing to realize on any Collateral, the Obligations or any guarantees therefor and for any mistake, omission or error in judgment in passing upon or accepting any Collateral or in making (or in failing to make) examinations or audits or for granting indulgences or extensions to the Borrower in accordance and consistent with the terms and provisions of this Agreement, any account debtor or any guarantor, other than resulting from the Administrative Agent's or Co-Collateral Agents' gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

(11) The Administrative Agent may make loans to, and generally engage in any kind of business with the Borrower as though the Administrative Agent were not the Administrative Agent hereunder. With respect to its loans made or renewed by it or loan obligations hereunder as Lender, the Administrative Agent shall have the same rights and powers, duties and liabilities under this Agreement as any Lender and may exercise the same as though it was not the Administrative Agent and the terms "Lender" and "Lenders" shall include the Administrative Agent in its individual capacity.

(12) The Administrative Agent may resign as the agent to the Lenders upon 30 days' notice to the Lenders and such resignation shall be effective upon the appointment of a successor Administrative Agent. If the Administrative Agent shall resign as agent to the Lenders then the Lenders shall appoint a successor agent for the Lenders whereupon such successor agent shall succeed to the rights, powers and duties of the Administrative Agent and the term "Administrative Agent" shall mean such successor agent effective upon its appointment, and the former Administrative Agent's rights, powers and duties as agent to the Lenders shall be terminated, without any other or further act or deed on the part of such former agent or any of the parties to this Agreement. After any retiring agent's resignation hereunder as the agent to the Lenders the provisions of this Agreement shall enure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was the agent to the Lenders.

Section 11.3 Amendments.

(1) Subject to the remainder of this Section 11.3, no amendment or waiver of any provision of any of the Credit Documents, nor consent to any departure by the Borrower or any other Person from such provisions, is effective unless in writing and approved by the Required Lenders. In addition to requiring the prior written approval of the Required Lenders, the Administrative Agent shall not, without the prior written approval of the Co-Collateral Agents:

(a) amend this agreement to alter, amend or waive:

(A) the definitions of Availability, Line Availability, Borrowing Base, Eligible Accounts Receivable, Eligible Inventory; Inventory Loan Cap, Collateral, Restricted Subsidiaries or Required Lenders;

(B) the events that trigger activation of the Blocked Accounts or the transfer of all funds received or deposited in to the Blocked Accounts to the depository accounts;

(C) Availability or Line Availability thresholds;

(D) eligibility of any Collateral, any advance rate of any basis of reserves which, in any such case is favourable to the Borrower;

(E) appraisal or audit frequency; or

(b) waive, amend or forbear with respect to any Defaults or Events of Default; or

(c) consent to:

(i) any "Permitted Encumbrances" under the definition;

(ii) the terms of any orders applicable to the Borrower;

(iii) increase the advance percentages against Eligible Accounts Receivable or Eligible Inventory or alter or amend the Administrative Agent's criteria for determining compliance with such definitions of Eligible Accounts Receivable and/or Eligible Inventory if the effect thereof is to increase Availability; or

(iv) any reduction in the amount of the ABL Term Priority Collateral Capped Amount (as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement).

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, the Administrative Agent will not, without the prior written approval of all Lenders:

(a) amend the Agreement to:

(i) increase the Line of Credit;

(ii) reduce the interest rates;

(iii) reduce or waive:

(A) any Fees in which the Lenders share hereunder;

(B) the repayment of any Obligations due the Lenders hereunder;

(iv) extend the maturity of the Obligations created hereunder;

(v) alter, amend or waive:

(A) Section 1.2(a);

(B) this Section 11.3 or any provision hereof expressly providing for "all of" or "each of" the Lenders; or

(b) except as otherwise required in this Agreement, release any guarantee or Collateral in excess of $500,000 during any year.

Subject to the provisions of Section 2.1 and Section 2.2 and this Section 11.3, in all other respects the Administrative Agent is authorized by each of the Lenders to take such actions or fail to take such actions under this Agreement if the Administrative Agent, in its reasonable discretion, deems such to be advisable and in the best interest of the Lenders. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, subject to this Section 11.3(2) and any direction of the Required Lenders, the Co-Collateral Agents are authorized to take such actions or fail to take such actions in connection with (a) the exercise of (i) any and all rights and remedies under this Agreement (including but not limited to the exercise of rights and remedies under Section 9.2), and (ii) the discretion of the Co-Collateral Agents in determining compliance with the eligibility requirements of Eligible Accounts Receivable and/or Eligible Inventory and establishing Availability Reserves, (b) the release of Collateral not to exceed $500,000 in the aggregate during any Fiscal Year, and/or (c) curing any ambiguity, defect or inconsistency in the terms of this Agreement; provided that the Co-Collateral Agents, in their reasonable discretion, deems such to be advisable and in the best interests of the Lenders. In the event this Agreement is terminated pursuant to the terms hereof, the Administrative Agent will cease making any loans or advances upon the effective date of termination except for any loans or advances which the Co-Collateral Agents deem, in their sole discretion, are reasonably required to maintain, protect or realize upon the Collateral.

(3) In the event that any Lender's consent is required pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement and any Lender declines to give its consent but the requested consent is given by the other Lenders, it is hereby mutually agreed that the Administrative Agent and/or any other Lender or Lenders (including any third party which, with the consent of the Administrative Agent, may become a Lender hereunder) shall have the right (but not the obligation) to purchase such Lender's share of the Revolving Line of Credit for the full amount thereof together with accrued interest thereon to the date of such purchase. In the event that more than one Lender desires to so purchase such dissenting Lender's share of the Revolving Line of Credit, each such Lender shall have the right to purchase an amount of such Lender's share of the Revolving Line of Credit based on its Pro Rata Share.

(4) If either Co-Collateral Agent proposes an adjustment or revision to Availability Reserves or Eligible Accounts Receivable or Eligible Inventory or exercising a right or makes any other proposal regarding a determination or action which may be made by the Co-Collateral Agents pursuant to this Agreement, and the Co-Collateral Agents collectively cannot agree on such adjustment, revision or action, the final determination shall be made by the individual Co-Collateral Agent asserting the more conservative credit judgment, such credit judgment to be exercised in good faith.

(5) If the Administrative Agent is required at any time to return to the Borrower or to a trustee, receiver, liquidator, custodian or other similar official any portion of the payments made by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent as result of a bankruptcy or similar proceeding with respect to the Borrower, any guarantor or any other Person, then each Lender shall, on demand of the Administrative Agent, forthwith return to the Administrative Agent its rateable share of any such payments made to such Lender by the Administrative Agent, together with its rateable share of interest and/or penalties, if any, payable by the Lenders.

ARTICLE 12
SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS

Section 12.1 Successors and Assigns.

This Agreement, the other Loan Documents, and all Liens created hereby or pursuant to any other Loan Documents shall be binding upon each Credit Party and their respective successors, assigns, transferees and endorsees and any trustee or successor in interest of any Credit Party in a proceeding under any Insolvency Law. This Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be binding upon, and inure to the benefit of, each Agent and each Lender, and their respective successors, assigns, transferees and endorsees. No Credit Party may assign, transfer, hypothecate or otherwise convey its rights, benefits, obligations or duties hereunder or under any of the other Loan Documents without the prior express written consent of the Administrative Agent and all Lenders. Any such purported assignment, transfer, hypothecation or other conveyance by any Credit Party without the prior express written consent of the Administrative Agent and all Lenders shall be void. The terms and provisions of this Agreement are for the purpose of defining the relative rights and obligations of each Credit Party, each Agent and each Lender with respect to the transactions contemplated hereby and no Person shall be a third party beneficiary of any of the terms and provisions of this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents, except under and as specified in any applicable indemnification clauses contained in such Loan Documents.

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 13.1 Complete Agreement; Modification of Agreement.

The Loan Documents constitute the complete agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter thereof and, except as set forth in Section 11.3, may not be modified, altered or amended except in writing signed by the Borrower (and/or the other applicable Credit Party or Credit Parties, as the case may be) on the one hand, and by the Administrative Agent with the prior written consent of the Required Lenders, on the other hand (drafts and copies of any such modification, alteration or amendment to be provided by the Administrative Agent to all Lenders concurrently as provided to the Borrower or such other Credit Party or Credit Parties, as the case may be). Any letter of interest, Commitment Letter, or confidentiality agreement, if any, between any Credit Party and the Agents or any Lender or any of their respective Affiliates, predating this Agreement, other than the Fee Letter, and relating to a financing of substantially similar form, purpose or effect shall be superseded by this Agreement.

Section 13.2 Gender and Number.

Any reference in the Loan Documents to gender includes all genders and words importing the singular number only include the plural and vice versa.

Section 13.3 Headings, etc.

The provision of a Table of Contents, the division of this Agreement into Articles and Sections and the insertion of headings are for convenient reference only and are not to affect the interpretation of this Agreement.

Section 13.4 Currency.

All references in the Loan Documents to dollars, unless otherwise specifically indicated, are expressed in Canadian currency.

Section 13.5 Certain Phrases, etc.

In any Loan Document (i) (y) the words "including" and "includes" mean "including (or includes) without limitation" and (z) the phrase "the aggregate of", "the total of", "the sum of", or a phrase of similar meaning means "the aggregate (or total or sum), without duplication, of", and (ii) in the computation of periods of time from a specified date to a later specified date, unless otherwise expressly stated, the word "from" means "from and including" and the words "to" and "until" each mean "to but excluding".

Section 13.6 Accounting Terms.

All accounting terms not specifically defined in this Agreement shall be interpreted in accordance with GAAP.

Section 13.7 Incorporation of Schedules.

The schedules attached to this Agreement shall, for all purposes of this Agreement, form an integral part of it.

Section 13.8 No Waiver.

The Administrative Agent's, any Co-Collateral Agent's or any Lender's failure, at any time or times, to require strict performance by the Credit Parties of any provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall not waive, affect or diminish any right of the Administrative Agent, such Co-Collateral Agent or such Lender thereafter to demand strict compliance and performance herewith or therewith. Any suspension or waiver of an Event of Default shall not suspend, waive or affect any other Event of Default whether the same is prior or subsequent thereto and whether the same or of a different type. None of the undertakings, agreements, warranties, covenants and representations of any Credit Party contained in this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents and no Default or Event of Default by any Credit Party shall be deemed to have been suspended or waived by the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender, unless such waiver or suspension is by an instrument in writing signed by an officer of or other authorized employee of the Administrative Agent, the applicable Co-Collateral Agent and the applicable required Lenders, and directed to the Borrower specifying such suspension or waiver.

Section 13.9 Remedies.

The Administrative Agent's, Co-Collateral Agent's and the Lenders' rights and remedies under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be cumulative and non-exclusive of any other rights and remedies that the Administrative Agent, Co-Collateral Agent or any other Lender may have under any other agreement, including the other Loan Documents, by operation of law or otherwise. For clarification, it is the intention of the parties hereto that all transfers of any account balances pursuant to the cash management systems and the Administrative Agent's agreements with the Credit Parties and/or the Credit Parties' banks or financial institutions contemplated by the cash management systems and any action that may be taken by the Administrative Agent to better perfect or protect its interest in the Collateral (including the priority of such interest) shall not be considered enforcement of the Administrative Agent's Liens. Recourse to the Collateral shall not be required.

Section 13.10 Severability.

Wherever possible, each provision of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be interpreted in such a manner as to be effective and valid under applicable law, but if any provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall be prohibited by or invalid under applicable law, such provision shall be ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition or invalidity without invalidating the remainder of such provision or the remaining provisions of this Agreement or such other Loan Document.

Section 13.11 Conflict of Terms; Priority.

(1) If any provision contained in this Agreement conflicts with any provision in any of the other Loan Documents (other than the Intercreditor Agreement or the Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be), the provision contained in this Agreement shall govern and control. If any provision in this Agreement conflicts with any provision of the Intercreditor Agreement or the Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be, the provision contained in the Intercreditor Agreement or the Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be, shall govern and control.

(2) Any reference herein or in any of the other Loan Documents to a Permitted Encumbrance is not intended to subordinate or postpone, and shall not be interpreted as subordinating or postponing, or as any agreement to subordinate or postpone, any Lien created by any of the Loan Documents to any Permitted Encumbrance.

Section 13.12 Confidentiality.

Each of the Agents and each of the Lenders agree to maintain the confidentiality of any Information provided by any Credit Party to them, in the ordinary course of their business, provided that the foregoing confidentiality provision shall terminate five (5) years after the termination date of this Agreement, and provided further that any such Agents or Lenders may disclose such Information (i) to each of their Affiliates, directors, officers, employees, agents and advisors, including accountants, legal counsel and other advisors (it being understood that the Persons to whom such disclosure is made will be informed of the confidential nature of such Information and instructed to keep such Information confidential), (ii) to the extent required by any regulatory authority or other Governmental Entity, court orders, applicable laws or regulations or by any subpoena or similar legal process, (iii) to any other party to this Agreement, (iv) in connection with the exercise of any remedies under any Loan Document or any suit, action or proceeding relating to any Loan Document or the enforcement of rights thereunder, (v) subject to an agreement containing provisions substantially the same as those of this Section, to (x) any actual or prospective assignee of or participant in any of its rights or obligations under this Agreement, or (y) any actual or prospective counterparty (or its advisors) to any swap or derivative transaction relating to the Borrower and its obligations, (vi) with the consent of the Borrower, or (vii) to the extent such Information (x) becomes publicly available other than as a result of a breach of this Section, or (y) becomes available to any Agent or any Lender on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the Borrower. For the purposes of this Section, "Information" means all information received from the Borrower or any Credit Party relating to the Borrower, any of its Subsidiaries, or their respective business, other than any such information that is available to any Agent or any Lender on a non-confidential basis prior to disclosure by the Borrower; provided that, in the case of information received from the Borrower after the date hereof, such information is clearly identified as confidential in writing at the time of delivery. Any Person required to maintain the confidentiality of Information as provided in this Section shall be considered to have complied with its obligation to do so if such Person has exercised the same degree of care to maintain the confidentiality of such Information as such Person would accord to its own confidential information.

Section 13.13 Governing Law.

The validity, interpretation and enforcement of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be governed by the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

Section 13.14 Notices.

(1) Except as otherwise herein provided, any notice or other communication required hereunder shall be in writing (provided that, any electronic communications from the Borrower with respect to any request, transmission, document, electronic signature, electronic mail or facsimile transmission shall be deemed binding on the Borrower for purposes of this Agreement, provided further that any such transmission shall not relieve the Borrower from any other obligation hereunder to communicate further in writing) , and shall be deemed to have been validly served, given or delivered when hand delivered or sent by facsimile, or three (3) days after deposit in the mail, with proper first class postage prepaid and addressed to the party to be notified or to such other address as any party hereto may designate for itself by like notice, as follows:

provided, however, that the failure of the Administrative Agent to provide the Borrower's counsel with a copy of such notice shall not invalidate any notice given to the Borrower and shall not give the Borrower any rights, claims or defences due to the failure of the Administrative Agent to provide such additional notice.

Section 13.15 Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in any number of separate counterparts (including counterparts by facsimile), each of which shall collectively and separately constitute one agreement.

Section 13.16 Press Releases and Related Matters.

The Borrower acknowledges and agrees on behalf of itself and the other Credit Parties that neither they nor their Affiliates will in the future issue any press releases or other public disclosure using the name of any Agent or any Lender or any of their Affiliates or referring to this Agreement or the other Loan Documents without reasonable prior notice to such Persons and without the prior written consent of such Persons unless (and only to the extent that) such Credit Party or Affiliate is required to do so under law and then, in any event, such Credit Party or Affiliate will consult with such Persons before issuing such press release or other public disclosure. Each Credit Party consents to the publication by the Administrative Agent of a tombstone or similar advertising material relating to the financing transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The Administrative Agent shall provide a draft of any such tombstone or similar advertising material to Borrower for review and comment prior to the publication thereof. The Administrative Agent reserves the right to provide to industry trade organizations information necessary and customary for inclusion in league table measurements.

Section 13.17 Reinstatement.

This Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and continue to be effective should any assignment or petition be filed (or similar proceeding be instituted) by or against any Credit Party for liquidation or reorganization, should any Credit Party become insolvent or make an assignment for the benefit of any creditor or creditors or should a receiver, interim receiver, receiver and manager or trustee be appointed for all or any significant part of any Credit Party's assets, and shall continue to be effective or to be reinstated, as the case may be, if at any time payment and performance of the Obligations, or any part thereof, is, pursuant to applicable law, rescinded or reduced in amount, or must otherwise be restored or returned by any obligee of the Obligations, whether as a "voidable preference," "fraudulent conveyance," or otherwise, all as though such payment or performance had not been made. In the event that any payment, or any part thereof, is rescinded, reduced, restored or returned, the Obligations shall be reinstated and deemed reduced only by such amount paid and not so rescinded, reduced, restored or returned.

Section 13.18 Right of Set-off.

Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, each Lender is authorized at any time and from time to time, to the fullest extent permitted by law (including general principles of common-law), to set off and apply any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, provisional or final) at any time held and other indebtedness at any time owing by it to or for the credit or the account of any Credit Party against any and all of the obligations of any Credit Party under any of the Loan Documents, irrespective of whether or not the Lender has made demand under any of the Loan Documents and although such obligations may be unmatured or contingent. If an obligation is unascertained, the Lender may, in good faith, estimate the obligation and exercise its right of set-off in respect of the estimate, subject to providing the Borrower with an accounting when the obligation is finally determined. Each Lender shall promptly notify the Borrower after any set off and application is made by it, provided that the failure to give notice shall not affect the validity of the set off and application. The rights of the Lenders under this Section 13.18 are in addition to any other rights and remedies (including all other rights of set-off) which the Lenders may have.

Section 13.19 Advice of Counsel.

Each of the parties represents to each other party hereto that it has discussed all the provisions of this Agreement with its counsel.

Section 13.20 No Strict Construction.

The parties hereto have participated jointly in the negotiation and drafting of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. In the event an ambiguity or question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement or such other Loan Document, as the case may be, shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties hereto and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favouring or disfavouring any party by virtue of the authorship of any provisions of this Agreement or such other Loan Document, as the case may be.

Section 13.21 Judgment Currency.

(1) If, for the purpose of obtaining or enforcing judgment against any Credit Party in any court in any jurisdiction, it becomes necessary to convert into any other currency (such other currency being hereinafter in this Section 13.21 referred to as the "Judgment Currency") an amount due under any Loan Document in any currency (the "Obligation Currency") other than the Judgment Currency, the conversion shall be made at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Business Day immediately preceding (i) the date of actual payment of the amount due, in the case of any proceeding in the courts of any jurisdiction that will give effect to such conversion being made on such date, or (ii) the date on which the judgment is given, in the case of any proceeding in the courts of any other jurisdiction (the applicable date as of which such conversion is made pursuant to this Section 13.21 being hereinafter in this Section 13.21 referred to as the "Judgment Conversion Date").

(2) If, in the case of any proceeding in the court of any jurisdiction referred to in Section 13.21(1), there is a change in the rate of exchange prevailing between the Judgment Conversion Date and the date of actual receipt for value of the amount due, the applicable Credit Party shall pay such additional amount (if any, but in any event not a lesser amount) as may be necessary to ensure that the amount actually received in the Judgment Currency, when converted at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of payment, will produce the amount of the Obligation Currency which could have been purchased with the amount of the Judgment Currency stipulated in the judgment or judicial order at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Judgment Conversion Date. Any amount due from a Credit Party under Section 13.21(2) shall be due as a separate debt and shall not be affected by judgment being obtained for any other amounts due under or in respect of any of the Loan Documents.

(3) The term "rate of exchange" in this Section 13.21 means the rate of exchange at which the CIBC would, on the relevant date at or about 12:00 noon (Toronto time), be prepared to sell the Obligation Currency against the Judgment Currency.

Section 13.22 Time of the Essence.

Time shall in all respects be of the essence of this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be effective, executed, accepted and delivered at Toronto, Ontario by their proper and duly authorized officers as of the date first set forth above.

FORM OF ASSIGNMENT AND TRANSFER AGREEMENT

Reference is made to the exit facility credit agreement dated as of _____, 200__ (as amended, modified, supplemented and in effect from time to time, the "Exit Facility Credit Agreement"), among Stelco Inc., a corporation (the "Company"), the Lenders named therein, and CIT Business Credit Canada Inc., as Administrative Agent (the "Administrative Agent"). Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings assigned to such terms in the Exit Facility Credit Agreement. This Assignment and Transfer Agreement, between _____ (herein the "Assignor", as further defined and set forth on Schedule 1 hereto and made a part hereof) and _____ (herein the "Assignee", as further defined and set forth on Schedule 1 hereto and made a part hereof) is dated as of Effective Date (as set forth on Schedule 1 hereto and made a part hereof).

1. The Assignor hereby irrevocably sells and assigns to the Assignee without recourse to the Assignor, and the Assignee hereby irrevocably purchases and assumes from the Assignor without recourse to the Assignor, as of the Effective Date, an undivided interest (the "Assigned Interest") in and to all the Assignor's rights and obligations under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement as specified in Schedule 1 hereto and all right, title and interest of the Assignor in and to the Loan Documents relating thereto.

2. The Assignor (i) makes no representation or warranty and assumes no responsibility with respect to any statements, warranties or representations made in or in connection with the Exit Facility Credit Agreement or any other instrument, document or agreement executed in conjunction therewith (collectively the "Ancillary Documents") or the execution, legality, validity, enforceability, genuineness, sufficiency or value of the Exit Facility Credit Agreement, any Collateral thereunder or any of the Ancillary Documents furnished pursuant thereto, other than that it is the legal and beneficial owner of the interest being assigned by it hereunder and that such interest is free and clear of any adverse claim and (ii) makes no representation or warranty and assumes no responsibility with respect to the financial condition of the Company or any guarantor or the performance or observance by the Company or any guarantor of any of its respective obligations under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents furnished pursuant thereto.

3. The Assignee (i) represents and warrants that it is legally authorized to enter into this Assignment and Transfer Agreement; (ii) confirms that it has received a copy of each of the Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement (each as defined in the Exit Facility Credit Agreement), the Exit Facility Credit Agreement, together with the copies of the most recent financial statements of the Company, and such other documents and information as it has deemed appropriate to make its own credit analysis; (iii) agrees that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent, the Assignor or any other Lender and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit decisions in taking or not taking action under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement; (iv) appoints and authorizes the Administrative Agent to take such action as agent on its behalf and to exercise such powers under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement as are delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms thereof, together with such powers as are reasonably incidental thereto; (v) agrees that it will be bound by the provisions of the Exit Facility Credit Agreement and will perform in accordance with its terms all the obligations which by the terms of the Exit Facility Credit Agreement are required to be performed by it as Lender; (vi) confirms that it has reviewed each of the Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement, confirms that the Assigned Interest is subject to each of the Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement and agrees that the Administrative Agent can bind the Assignee and its Assigned Interest to the provisions under and pursuant to each of the Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement; [and (vii) represents and warrants that it is not a non-resident of Canada for purposes of Part XIII of the Income Tax Act (Canada)/is a Canadian partnership within the meaning of Section 102 of the ITA/is an authorized foreign bank deemed to be resident in Canada for purposes of the ITA in respect of all amounts paid or credited to it under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement [if the Assignee is organized under the laws of a jurisdiction outside Canada] the Assignee has delivered to the Administrative Agent a certificate as to the Assignee's exemption from Canadian withholding taxes with respect to all payments to be made to the Assignee under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement] [NTD: "(vii)" above only to be inserted if assignment occurs at a time when no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing]

4. Following the execution of this Assignment and Transfer Agreement, [such agreement will be delivered to the Administrative Agent for acceptance by it, effective as of the Effective Date, and] a copy of this Assignment and Transfer Agreement shall thereafter forthwith be delivered to the Company [and the Administrative Agent]. [Note: modify sentence accordingly depending on whether or not consent of Administrative Agent is required under Section 11.1 of the Exit Facility Credit Agreement.]

5. From and after the Effective Date, the Administrative Agent shall make all payments in respect of the assigned interest (including payments of principal, interest, fees and other amounts) to the Assignee, whether such amounts have accrued prior to the Effective Date or accrue subsequent to the Effective Date. The Assignor and Assignee shall make all appropriate adjustments in payments for periods prior to the Effective Date made by the Administrative Agent or with respect to the making of this assignment directly between themselves.

6. From and after the Effective Date, (i) the Assignee shall be a party to the Exit Facility Credit Agreement and, to the extent provided in this Assignment and Transfer Agreement, have the rights and obligations of a Lender thereunder, and (ii) the Assignor shall, to the extent provided in this Assignment and Transfer Agreement, relinquish its rights and be released from its obligations under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement.

7. This Assignment and Transfer Agreement may be executed in counterparts (including counterparts by facsimile) and all such counterparts shall constitute one and the same instrument.

8. This Assignment and Transfer Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Province of Ontario and the laws of Canada applicable therein.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Assignment and Acceptance to be executed by their respective duly authorized officers.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE CO-COLLATERAL AGENTS

Immediate Co-Collateral Agent Rights:

- GE as Co-Collateral Agent is allowed to attend field examinations.

- All reporting sent to CIT shall also go directly to GE. Either Co-Collateral Agent may directly request specific reporting with respect to Sections 4.1(1), (2), (3), (4) and (11) of this Agreement.

- No annual fee to GE as Co-Collateral Agent except as specifically set forth in the Financing Agreement.

Without restriction to the Administrative Agent's rights hereunder, upon (a) Line Availability being less than $100,000,000, or (b) the occurrence of an Event of Default, the Co-Collateral Agents will have the following additional rights which may be exercised until such time as Line Availability is greater than or equal to $150,000,000 if calculated on a 90 day rolling average, and during such 90 day period, at no time has Line Availability been less than $125,000,000:

- Ability to implement Availability Reserves.

- Ability to use their discretion as it relates to Eligible Accounts Receivable and Eligible Inventory.

If either Co-Collateral Agent proposes an adjustment or revision to Availability Reserves or Eligible Accounts Receivable or Eligible Inventory as permitted by this Exhibit "G", or exercising a right or makes any other proposal regarding a determination or action which may be made by the Co-Collateral Agents pursuant to this Agreement, and the Co-Collateral Agents collectively cannot agree on such adjustment, revision or action, the final determination shall be made by the individual Co-Collateral Agent asserting the more conservative credit judgment, such credit judgment to be exercised in good faith.

This CREDIT AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), dated as of March 31, 2006 among STELCO INC. ("Borrower"), the Lenders signatory hereto, and 1685970 ONTARIO INC. (in its individual capacity, "Tricap"), for itself, as Lender, and as Agent for the Secured Parties, and the other Lenders signatory hereto from time to time.

RECITALS

A. On January 29, 2004, Borrower, Stelpipe, Stelwire, CHT Steel and Welland Pipe commenced proceedings under the CCAA and the CBCA (the "Reorganization Proceedings"). In connection with the Reorganization Proceedings, an amended and restated plan of reorganization and of compromise and arrangement pursuant to the CCAA and the CBCA (as such plan of reorganization and of compromise and arrangement may be amended, modified or supplemented in accordance with its terms, the "CCAA Plan") was filed with the CCAA Court on December 9, 2005 and sanctioned by the CCAA Court on January 20, 2006; and

B. In conjunction with the transactions contemplated by the CCAA Plan, Borrower has requested that Lenders extend a revolving term credit facility to Borrower of up to three hundred and seventy-five million Dollars ($375,000,000) in the aggregate to provide inter alia (a) working capital financing for Borrower and the other Credit Parties, (b) funds for Capital Expenditures, all as permitted hereunder; and for these purposes, Lenders are willing to make certain loans and other extensions of credit to Borrower of up to such amount upon the terms and conditions set forth herein; and

C. Borrower has agreed to secure all of its obligations under the Loan Documents by granting to Agent, for the benefit of Agent and other Secured Parties, a security interest in and hypothecs and lien upon, all of its existing and after-acquired personal, real, movable and immovable property; and

D. The Guarantors are willing to guarantee all of the obligations of Borrower to Agent and other Secured Parties under the Loan Documents and have agreed to secure all of their obligations under their guarantees by granting to Agent, for the benefit of Agent and other Secured Parties, a security interest in and hypothecs and lien upon, all of their existing and after-acquired personal, real, movable and immovable property; and

E. All Annexes, Disclosure Schedules, Exhibits and other attachments (collectively, "Appendices") hereto, or expressly identified to this Agreement, are incorporated herein by reference, and taken together with this Agreement, shall constitute but a single agreement. These Recitals shall be construed as part of the Agreement.

DEFINITIONS

Capitalized terms used in the Loan Documents shall have (unless otherwise provided elsewhere in the Loan Documents) the following respective meanings and all references to Sections, Exhibits, Schedules or Annexes in the following definitions shall refer to Sections, Exhibits, Schedules or Annexes of or to the Agreement:

Unless otherwise specified, references in the Agreement or any of the Appendices to a Section, subsection or clause refer to such Section, subsection or clause as contained in the Agreement. The words "herein," "hereof" and "hereunder" and other words of similar import refer to the Agreement as a whole, including all Annexes, Exhibits and Schedules, as the same may from time to time be amended, restated, modified or supplemented, and not to any particular section, subsection or clause contained in the Agreement or any such Annex, Exhibit or Schedule.

Wherever from the context it appears appropriate, each term stated in either the singular or plural shall include the singular and the plural, and pronouns stated in the masculine, feminine or neuter gender shall include the masculine, feminine and neuter genders. The words "including", "includes" and "include" shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation"; references to Persons include their respective successors and assigns (to the extent and only to the extent permitted by the Loan Documents) or, in the case of governmental Persons, Persons succeeding to the relevant functions of such Persons; and all references to statutes and related regulations (except the Pension Regulation) shall include any amendments of the same and any successor statutes and regulations. Whenever any provision in any Loan Document refers to the knowledge (or an analogous phrase) of any Credit Party, such words are intended to signify that such Credit Party has actual knowledge or awareness of a particular fact or circumstance or that such Credit Party, if it had exercised reasonable diligence, would have known or been aware of such fact or circumstance.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual covenants hereinafter contained, and for other good and valuable consideration, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. AMOUNT AND TERMS OF CREDIT

1.1 Credit Facilities.

(a) Revolving Term Credit Facility. Subject to the terms and conditions hereof, each Lender agrees to make available to Borrower from time to time, until the Target Date, its Pro Rata Share of advances under the Revolving Term Loan Commitment (each, a "Revolving Credit Advance"). The Pro Rata Share of the Loan of any Lender shall not at any time exceed its separate Revolving Term Loan Commitment. The obligations of each Lender hereunder shall be several and not joint. Until the Target Date, Borrower may from time to time borrow, repay and reborrow under this Section 1.1(a). Each Revolving Credit Advance shall be in a minimum amount of one million Canadian Dollars ($1,000,000) and integral multiples of one hundred thousand Dollars ($100,000) thereafter, and shall be made on notice by Borrower, pursuant to a Notice of Revolving Credit Advance, to one of the representatives of Agent identified in Annex B. Any such Notice of Revolving Credit Advance must be given no later than 11:00 a.m. (Toronto time) at least three (3) Business Days before the proposed Revolving Credit Advance. Each such Notice of Revolving Credit Advance must be given verbally and in writing (by telecopy or overnight courier) and shall include the information required in Exhibit 1.1(a) and such other information as may be required by Agent. The entire unpaid balance of all Loans and all other non-contingent Obligations shall be immediately due and payable in full in immediately available funds on the Final Maturity Date.

(b) Reliance on Notices. Agent shall be entitled to rely upon, and shall be fully protected in relying upon, any Notice of Revolving Credit Advance or similar notice believed by Agent to be genuine. Agent may assume that each Person executing and delivering any notice in accordance herewith was duly authorized, unless the responsible individual acting thereon for Agent has actual knowledge to the contrary.

(c) Termination of Revolving Term Loan Commitment. From and after the Target Date, the Credit Facility shall be a non-revolving term credit, for a term ending on the Final Maturity Date, the aggregate amount of Revolving Credit Advances outstanding as of the Target Date shall thereafter be deemed to constitute term loans hereunder and the Revolving Term Loan Commitments of each Lender shall be reduced ratably. From and after the Target Date, no further advances will be permitted under this Agreement other than continuations or rollovers of Loans which are outstanding on the Target Date. Subject to the other provisions of this Agreement, as of 5:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on the Target Date:

(i) all undrawn Commitments shall be automatically and permanently cancelled and thereafter no amount of any outstanding Loan that is repaid may be re-borrowed and any repayment or prepayment shall permanently reduce the Commitments by the amount of such repayment or prepayment; and

(ii) all outstanding Loans shall be due and payable in full on the Final Maturity, provided that, if any Default or Event of Default is then subsisting, all outstanding Loans and all accrued interest and fees in respect thereof shall be due and payable in full on the Target Date.

(d) Exchange Notes. Subject to Section 5.13, at the request of the Requisite Lenders made at any time or from time to time after the Target Date, the Lenders shall receive Exchange Notes as evidence of all of the principal amount of the Loans of such Lender then outstanding. The principal amount of the Exchange Note will equal 100% of the aggregate principal amount (including for certainty, all accrued and capitalized interest thereon) of the Loans which they evidence. Each Lender shall be entitled to require that the Exchange Notes be denominated in U.S. Dollars determined at the Equivalent Amount in US Dollars of the Loans, and in such case bearing interest at a rate based on libor and which has the same economic effect and provides the same return to the Lenders as the Loan Rate and have an expiry date that is the later of (i) Final Maturity Date, and (ii) that date that is five years following the date on which the Exchange Notes were issued. If a Default or an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing on the date such Exchange Notes are issued, any notices given or cure periods commenced while the Loan was outstanding shall be deemed given or commenced (as of the actual dates thereof) for all purposes with respect to the Exchange Notes (with the same effect as if the Exchange Notes had been outstanding as of the actual dates thereof).

(e) Advance of Final Maturity Date. In the event that Cumulative Free Cash Flow, determined from the Closing Date to the Fiscal Quarter immediately preceding the Target Date, is less than negative $200,000,000, the Final Maturity Date shall be that date which is the final day of the Fiscal Quarter ended after the Target Date.

1.2 Prepayments, Reductions in Commitments.

(a) Voluntary Prepayments. Borrower may at any time, on at least 3 Business Days' prior written notice to Agent, voluntarily prepay all or part of the Loan; provided that any such prepayments or reductions shall be in a minimum amount of five hundred thousand Dollars ($500,000) and integral multiples of two hundred and fifty thousand Dollars ($250,000) in excess of such amount thereafter.

(b) Mandatory Prepayments. Subject to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement and the ABL Loan Agreement, as applicable, immediately upon receipt by any Credit Party of any Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds, Borrower shall prepay the Loans owing by it in an amount equal to all such proceeds. Any such prepayment shall be applied in accordance with Section 1.7. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) to the extent that any Asset Sale Proceeds from any Disposition or Insurance Proceeds are committed to be applied to a Property Reinvestment Application within 18 months after such Disposition (and if so committed in fact applied within 12 months of such commitment or such longer period not in excess of 24 months to the extent such period in excess of 18 months is reasonably required to obtain regulatory approvals and the Borrower is pursuing such approvals with commercially reasonable diligence) then such Asset Sale Proceeds need not be applied to prepayment of the Loans.

(c) Application of Certain Mandatory Prepayments. Prior to the Target Date the Commitments shall not be permanently reduced by the amount of any such mandatory prepayments. Following the Target Date, the Commitments shall be permanently reduced by the amount of any such mandatory prepayments made.

(d) Reduction of Commitment. The Borrower may, subject to the provisions of this Agreement, reduce the Lenders' Commitments under the Credit Facility in whole or, in part, upon three (3) Business Days notice to the Agent, by a notice stating the proposed date and aggregate principal amount of the reduction. In such case, the Borrower shall pay to the applicable Lenders in accordance with such notice the amount of amount by which the Loans outstanding under the Credit Facility exceed the proposed reduced Commitment. Each partial reduction shall be in a minimum aggregate principal amount of Cdn.$10,000,000 and an integral multiple of Cdn.$100,000.

(e) No Implied Consent. Nothing in this Section 1.2 shall be construed to constitute Agent's or any Lender's consent to any transaction that is not permitted by other provisions of this Agreement or the other Loan Documents.

1.3 Use of Proceeds.

Borrower shall utilize the proceeds of the Loans for the purposes of (i) funding the repayment of all amounts owing under the Financing Agreement and the DIP Credit Agreement on the Closing Date, (ii) making any other cash payments as contemplated by the CCAA Plan and as approved by the Agent and the Lenders, (iii) funding the ordinary course working capital requirements of the Credit Parties (and the making of any intercompany advances to any of the respective Credit Parties for the same purpose), (iv) Capital Expenditures of the Borrower (and the making of any intercompany advances to any of the respective Credit Parties for the same purpose), and (v) making Investments as permitted under Section 6.2.

1.4 Interest.

(a) Interest Rate. Borrower shall pay interest to Agent, for the rate benefit of Lenders, in arrears on each Interest Payment Date, at the Loan Rate. All computations of interest shall be made by the Agent taking into account the actual number of days (including the first day but excluding the last day) occurring in the period for which such interest is payable, on the basis of a year of 365 days or 366 days, as the case may be.

(b) Extension to Next Business Day. If any payment on any Loan becomes due and payable on a day other than a Business Day, the maturity thereof will be extended to the next succeeding Business Day and, with respect to payments of principal, interest thereon shall be payable at the then applicable rate(s) during such extension.

(c) Calculation of Rates. The Loan Rate is a variable rate determined for each calendar month. Each determination by Agent of an interest rate and Fees hereunder and under any other Loan Document shall be presumptive evidence of the correctness of such rates and Fees.

(d) Payment In Kind Interest. To the extent the Loan Rate (excluding any Loss Increment) exceeds 12.64% per annum (the interest payable with reference to such difference in rates being the "Excess Interest"), Borrower may, at its option (upon written notice to the Agent delivered not less than five (5) days prior to the applicable Interest Payment Date), elect to satisfy its obligation to pay such Excess Interest, by adding such Excess Interest to the principal amount of the Loans (in which such case the Commitment may be exceeded by the amount of such Excess Interest). Upon such election being made, Borrower shall have no obligation to make a cash payment of interest to the Lenders on such Interest Payment Date. Upon such election being made, the principal amount of the Loans shall be increased on the Interest Payment Date by the Excess Interest which would otherwise have been payable in cash on such Interest Payment Date.

(e) Default Rate So long as an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing under Section 8.1(a), or 8.1(j), or so long as any other Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, and at the election of Agent (or upon the written request of Requisite Lenders) confirmed by written notice from Agent to Borrower, Borrower or the applicable Credit Party shall pay interest on the Loans, both before and after judgment, at a rate per annum equal to the (1) in the case of overdue interest, the rate of interest payable under Section 1.4(a) on the principal amount to which such overdue interest relates, and (2) in the case of all such other amounts (which amounts, for greater certainty, shall not include overdue principal or interest), the Loan Rate plus 5.00% (the "Default Rate"). Interest at the Default Rate shall accrue from the initial date of such Event of Default until that Event of Default is cured or waived and shall be payable upon demand.

(f) Limitation on Interest. If any provision of this Agreement or of any of the other Loan Documents would obligate Borrower or any other Credit Party to make any payment of interest or other amount payable to any Lender in an amount or calculated at a rate which would be prohibited by law or would result in a receipt by such Lender of interest at a criminal rate (as such terms are construed under the Criminal Code (Canada)) then, notwithstanding such provisions, such amount or rate shall be deemed to have been adjusted with retroactive effect to the maximum amount or rate of interest, as the case may be, as would not be so prohibited by law or so result in a receipt by such Lender of interest at a criminal rate, such adjustment to be effected, to the extent necessary, as follows: (1) firstly, by reducing the amount or rate of interest required to be paid to such Lender under this Section 1.4, and (2) thereafter, by reducing any fees, commissions, premiums and other amounts required to be paid to such Lender which would constitute "interest" for purposes of Section 347 of the Criminal Code (Canada). Notwithstanding the foregoing, and after giving effect to all adjustments contemplated thereby, if a Lender shall have received an amount in excess of the maximum permitted by that section of the Criminal Code (Canada), Borrower shall be entitled, by notice in writing to such Lender, to obtain reimbursement from such Lender in an amount equal to such excess and, pending such reimbursement, such amount shall be deemed to be an amount payable by such Lender to Borrower. Any amount or rate of interest referred to in this Section 1.4(f) shall be determined in accordance with generally accepted actuarial practices and principles as an effective annual rate of interest over the term that the applicable Loan remains outstanding on the assumption that any charges, fees or expenses that fall within the meaning of "interest" (as defined in the Criminal Code (Canada)) shall, if they relate to a specific period of time, be pro-rated over that period of time and otherwise be pro-rated over the period from the Closing Date to the Termination Date and, in the event of a dispute, a certificate of a Fellow of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries appointed by Agent shall be conclusive for the purposes of such determination.

(g) Interest Act (Canada). For purposes of disclosure pursuant to the Interest Act (Canada), the annual rates of interest or fees to which the rates of interest or fees provided in this Agreement and the other Loan Documents (and stated herein or therein, as applicable, to be computed on the basis of a 365 day year or any other period of time less than a calendar year) are equivalent are the rates so determined multiplied by the actual number of days in the applicable calendar year and divided by 365 or such other period of time, respectively.

1.5 Fees.

(a) Commitment Fee. Borrower shall pay to Tricap, on the Expiry Date (as defined in the Tricap Commitment Letter), the commitment fee set forth in the Tricap Commitment Letter.

(b) Extension Fee. Borrower shall pay to Agent, for the benefit of each Lender, on the Target Date, a fee in the amount of three per cent (3%) of the Commitment of such Lender under the Credit Facility in existence on the Target Date.

(c) Annual Fee. Borrower shall pay to Agent, on each anniversary of the Plan Implementation Date, an amount, being three percent (3%) of the aggregate Commitment, determined as of the Closing Date.

1.6 Receipt of Payments.

Borrower shall make each payment under this Agreement not later than 2:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on the day when due for value on that day to the Collection Account. For purposes of computing interest and Fees as of any date, all payments shall be deemed received on the Business Day on which immediately available funds therefor are received in the Collection Account prior to 2:00 p.m. Toronto time. Payments received after 2:00 p.m. Toronto time on any Business Day or on a day that is not a Business Day shall be deemed to have been received on the following Business Day. Without limiting Section 11.16, if Agent receives any payment from or on behalf of a Credit Party in any currency other than the currency in which the Obligation is denominated Agent may convert the payment (including the proceeds of realization upon any Collateral) into the currency in which such Obligation is denominated at the rate of exchange (as such term is defined in Section 11.16(c)).

1.7 Application and Allocation of Payments.

(a) All payments and prepayments applied to the Loans shall be applied ratably to the portion thereof held by each Lender as determined by its Pro Rata Share. As to any other payment, and as to all payments made when an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or following the Final Maturity Date, Borrower hereby irrevocably waives the right to direct the application of any and all payments received from or on behalf of Borrower, and Borrower hereby irrevocably agrees that Agent shall have the continuing exclusive right to apply any and all such payments against the Obligations as Agent may deem advisable notwithstanding any previous entry by Agent in the Loan Account or any other books and records. In the absence of a specific determination by Agent with respect thereto, payments shall be applied to amounts then due and payable in the following order: (1) to Fees and Agent's expenses reimburse hereunder; (2) to interest on the Loans; (3) to principal payments on the Loans; (4) to all other Obligations including expenses of Lenders to the extent reimbursable under Section 11.3.

(b) The Agent is authorized to, and at its sole election may, charge to the Loans balance on behalf of Borrower and cause to be paid all Fees, expenses, Taxes, costs (including insurance premiums in accordance with Section 5.4) and interest and principal, owing by Borrower under this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents if and to the extent Borrower fails to pay promptly any such amounts as and when due. At Agent's option and to the extent permitted by law, any charges so made shall constitute part of the Loan hereunder.

1.8 Loan Account and Accounting.

Agent shall maintain a loan account (the "Loan Account") on its books to record: all Revolving Credit Advances, all payments made by Borrower, and all other debits and credits as provided in this Agreement with respect to the Loans or any other Obligations. All entries in the Loan Account shall be made in accordance with Agent's customary practices as in effect from time to time. The balance in the Loan Account, as recorded on Agent's most recent printout or other written statement, shall, absent manifest error, be presumptive evidence of the amounts due and owing to Agent and Lenders by Borrower; provided that any failure to so record or any error in so recording shall not limit or otherwise affect Borrower's duty to pay the Obligations. Agent shall render to Borrower a monthly accounting of transactions with respect to the Loans setting forth the balance of the Loan Account for the immediately preceding month. Unless Borrower notifies Agent in writing of any objection to any such accounting (specifically describing the basis for such objection), within 30 days after the date thereof, each and every such accounting shall be presumptive evidence of all matters reflected therein. Only those items expressly objected to in such notice shall be deemed to be disputed by Borrower.

1.9 Indemnity.

Each Credit Party that is a signatory hereto shall indemnify and hold harmless each of Agent, Lenders and their respective Affiliates, and each such Person's respective officers, directors, employees, legal counsel, agents and representatives (each, an "Indemnified Person"), from and against any and all suits, actions, proceedings, orders, claims, damages, losses, liabilities and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and disbursements and other costs of investigation or defense, including those incurred upon any appeal) that may be instituted or asserted against or incurred by any such Indemnified Person as a result of or in connection with credit having been extended, suspended or terminated under this Agreement or the other Loan Documents and the administration of such credit, and in connection with or arising out of the transactions contemplated hereunder and thereunder and any actions or failures to act in connection therewith including the taking of any enforcement actions by Agent, including any and all Environmental Liabilities and including any and all reasonable legal costs and expenses arising out of or incurred in connection with disputes between or among any parties to any of the Loan Documents (collectively, "Indemnified Liabilities"); provided, that no such Credit Party shall be liable for any indemnification to an Indemnified Person to the extent that any such suit, action, proceeding, claim, damage, loss, liability or expense results from that Indemnified Person's gross negligence or wilful misconduct. No Indemnified Person shall be responsible or liable to any other party to any Loan Document, any successor, assignee or third party beneficiary of such Person or any other Person asserting claims derivatively through such party, for indirect, punitive, exemplary or consequential damages which may be alleged as a result of credit having been extended, suspended or terminated under any Loan Document or as a result of any other transaction contemplated hereunder or thereunder.

1.10 Taxes.

(a) Subject to Section 1.10(e), any and all payments by or on behalf of a Credit Party hereunder or under any other Loan Document shall be made, in accordance with this Section 1.10, free and clear of and without deduction for any and all present or future Taxes (excluding Taxes imposed on or measured by the net income or capital of Agent or any Lender) all such included Taxes being "Withholding Taxes". If a Credit Party shall be required by law to deduct any Taxes from or in respect of any sum payable hereunder or under any other Loan Document (excluding Taxes imposed on or measured by the net income or capital of Agent or any Lender), (i) the sum payable shall be increased as much as shall be necessary so that, after making all required withholdings and deductions (including withholdings and deductions applicable to additional sums payable under this Section 1.10), Agent or Lenders, as applicable, receive an amount equal to the sum they would have received had no such withholdings or deductions been made, (ii) the applicable

Credit Party shall make such withholdings and deductions, and (iii) the applicable Credit Party shall pay the full amount withheld or deducted to the relevant taxing or other authority in accordance with applicable law. Within 30 days after the date of any payment of Taxes, Borrower shall furnish to Agent the original or a certified copy of a receipt evidencing payment thereof.

(b) In addition, and subject to Section 1.10(e), each Credit Party agrees to pay any present or future stamp or documentary taxes or any other excise or property taxes, financial institution's duties or similar levies (all such taxes being "Other Taxes") that arise from any payment made under this Agreement or under any other Loan Document or from the execution, sale, transfer, delivery or registration of, or otherwise with respect to, this Agreement, the other Loan Documents and any other agreements and instruments contemplated hereby or thereby. Each Lender agrees that, as promptly as reasonably practicable after it becomes aware of any circumstances referred to above which would result in additional payments under this Section 1.10, it shall notify Borrower thereof.

(c) Subject to Section 1.10(e), each Credit Party hereby indemnifies Agent and each Lender for the full amount of Withholding Taxes and Other Taxes (excluding Taxes imposed on or measured by the net income or capital of Agent or any Lender) and paid by Agent or such Lender, as appropriate, and any liability (including penalties, interest and expenses) arising therefrom or with respect thereto, whether or not such Taxes were correctly or legally asserted. Each payment under this indemnification shall be made within 10 days after Agent makes written demand therefor, for its own benefit or the benefit of the affected Lender.

(d) If, following the imposition of any Taxes on any payment by the Credit Party to Agent or any Lender in respect of which such Credit Party is required to make an additional payment pursuant to this Section 1.10, Agent or any Lender receives or is granted a credit against or remission for or deduction from or in respect of any taxes paid by it or shall obtain any other relief which, in Agent or such Lender's opinion, is both reasonably identifiable and quantifiable by it without involving it in an unacceptable administrative burden (any of the foregoing being a "saving"), Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, will reimburse the Credit Party with such amount as Agent or such Lender shall have concluded, in its absolute discretion but in good faith, to be the amount or value of the relevant saving. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with the right of Agent or any Lender to arrange its affairs in whatever manner it thinks fit and, in particular, neither Agent or any Lender shall be under any obligation to claim relief for tax purposes on its corporate profits or otherwise, or to claim such relief in priority to any other claims, relief, credits or deductions available to it or to disclose details of its affairs. The Agent or relevant Lender will notify the Borrower promptly of the receipt by it of any such saving and of Agent's or such Lender's opinion as to the amount or value thereof, and any reimbursement to be made by Agent or such Lender will be made promptly on the date of receipt of such saving by Agent or such Lender or, if later, on the last date on which the applicable taxation authority would be able in accordance with applicable Law to reclaim or reduce such saving.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Agreement to the contrary, prior to an Event of Default which has occurred and is continuing, the Credit Parties shall not be required to pay any additional amounts or indemnify the Agent or Lenders pursuant to this Section 1.10 in respect of deductions or withholdings on account of any applicable Canadian Withholding Tax or other Taxes under Part XIII or Part XIII.1 of the ITA.

(f) Notice to Borrower as to Residence under the Income Tax Act (Canada). Each Lender shall promptly notify the Borrower if it is, or becomes, a non-resident of Canada for purposes of Part XIII of the ITA.

1.11 Capital Adequacy; Increased Costs; Illegality.

(a) If any Lender shall have determined that any law, treaty, governmental (or quasi governmental) rule, regulation, guideline or order regarding capital adequacy, reserve requirements or similar requirements or compliance by any Lender with any request or directive regarding capital adequacy, reserve requirements or similar requirements (whether or not having the force of law), in each case, adopted after the Closing Date, from any central bank or other Governmental Authority increases or would have the effect of increasing the amount of capital, reserves or other funds required to be maintained by such Lender and thereby reducing the rate of return on such Lender's capital as a consequence of its obligations hereunder, then Borrower shall from time to time upon demand by such Lender (with a copy of such demand to Agent) pay to Agent, for the account of such Lender, additional amounts sufficient to compensate such Lender for such reduction. A certificate as to the amount of that reduction and showing the basis of the computation thereof submitted by such Lender to Borrower and to Agent shall be presumptive evidence of the matters set forth therein.

(b) If, due to either (i) the introduction of or any change in any law or regulation (or any change in the interpretation thereof) or (ii) the compliance with any guideline or request from any central bank or other Governmental Authority (whether or not having the force of law), in each case adopted after the Closing Date, there shall be any increase in the cost to any Lender of agreeing to make or making, funding or maintaining any Loan (other than in respect of Taxes, which are only subject to indemnity pursuant to Section 1.10 hereof), then Borrower shall from time to time, upon demand by such Lender (with a copy of such demand to Agent), pay to Agent for the account of such Lender additional amounts sufficient to compensate such Lender for such increased cost. A certificate as to the amount of such increased cost, submitted to Borrower and to Agent by such Lender, shall be presumptive evidence of the matters set forth therein. Each Lender agrees that, as promptly as practicable after it becomes aware of any circumstances referred to above which would result in any such increased cost, the affected Lender shall, to the extent not inconsistent with such Lender's internal policies of general application, use reasonable commercial efforts to minimize costs and expenses incurred by it and payable to it by Borrower pursuant to this Section 1.11(b).

1.12 Currency Matters.

Principal, interest, reimbursement obligations, fees, and all other amounts payable under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents to Agent and Lenders shall be payable in the currency in which such Obligations are denominated. Unless stated otherwise, all calculations, comparisons, measurements or determinations under this Agreement shall be made in Canadian Dollars.

2. CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

2.1 Conditions to the Initial Loan.

No Lender shall be obligated to make any Loan on the Closing Date, or to take, fulfill, or perform any other action hereunder, until the following conditions have been satisfied or provided for in a manner reasonably satisfactory to Agent, or waived in writing by Agent and Requisite Lenders:

(a) Credit Agreement; Loan Documents. This Agreement or counterparts hereof shall have been duly executed by, and delivered to, Borrower, Agent and Lenders; and Agent shall have received such documents, instruments, agreements and legal opinions as Agent shall reasonably request in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other Loan Documents executed and delivered by the applicable Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary, each in form and substance satisfactory to Agent.

(b) Security Agreements. Agent shall have received duly executed originals of (i) the Security Agreements, dated the Closing Date, and all instruments, documents and agreements executed pursuant thereto, (ii) and where such Security Agreements include a pledge of Stock, accompanied by (as applicable) share, unit, partnership interest or equivalent certificates representing all of the outstanding Stock (including, without limitation, any joint venture interests held by any Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary) being pledged pursuant to such Pledge Agreement and Stock transfer powers for such certificates executed in blank or if the constating documents of the issuer of such Stock contain a private company or similar restriction requiring that transfers of such Stock be approved by the directors, members or partners of such issuer (in contrast with the directors, members, partners or shareholder(s) of such issuer or solely the shareholder(s)) then, the approval of such directors, members or partners.

(c) Mortgages. The Credit Parties shall have executed and delivered Mortgages covering all of the Real Estate other than the Excluded Real Estate (the "Mortgaged Properties") together with: (i) current as built surveys, zoning letters and certificates of occupancy, in each case, reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to Agent, in its sole discretion; (ii) evidence that the Mortgages have been recorded in all places to the extent necessary or desirable, in the judgment of Agent, to create a valid and enforceable first priority or ranking lien (subject to Permitted Encumbrances) on each Mortgaged Property in favour of Agent for the benefit of itself and Lenders; and (iii) title insurance policies in respect of such Mortgaged Properties, for the benefit of the Agent and the Lenders, in form and substance, and issued by a title company, satisfactory to the Agent, in its sole discretion.

(d) Insurance. The Agent and the Lenders shall have received satisfactory evidence that the insurance policies required to be maintained by the Credit Parties by this Agreement are in full force and effect, together with appropriate evidence showing the Agent as loss payee, and showing the Agent and the Lenders as additional insured where appropriate, in each case, as their interests appear. All of the policies described herein shall contain language that they cannot be cancelled or non-renewed by the insurer without the insurance broker endeavouring to provide at least 30 days notice to the insured parties (including, without limitation, the Agent).

(e) Security Interests and PPSA Filings. Agent shall have received evidence satisfactory to Agent that Agent (for the benefit of itself and the other Secured Parties) has a valid and perfected security interest in all assets of all of the Credit Parties which, so long as the ABL Facility is in existence, shall be (i) a valid and perfected first priority security interest (and valid and published first ranking hypothec, if applicable) in the Term Priority Collateral, and (ii) a valid and perfected second priority security interest in the ABL Priority Collateral, including (x) except as specified in Section 3.5, such documents duly executed by each Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiaries (including financing statements under the PPSA and other notice filings and applicable documents under the laws of any jurisdiction with respect to the perfection and publication of Liens) as Agent may request in order to perfect and publish its security interests and hypothecs in the Collateral, and (y) copies of search reports listing all effective financing statements and other applicable notice of lien filings that name any Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiaries as debtor (including its French form of name), together with certificates of the applicable Governmental Authority constituting evidence thereof, none of which shall cover the Collateral, except for Permitted Encumbrances.

(f) Guarantees. Agent shall have received Guarantees executed by each of the Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries of Borrower.

(g) Letter of Direction. Agent shall have received duly executed originals of a letter of direction from Borrower addressed to Agent, on behalf of itself and Lenders, with respect to the disbursement on the Closing Date of the proceeds of the initial Revolving Credit Advances.

(h) Constating Documents and Status. Agent shall have received, for each Credit Party, such Person's (a) constating documents and all amendments thereto, and (b) certificates of compliance or status (or applicable equivalent thereof) evidencing each Credit Party's qualification to conduct business in each jurisdiction where its ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business requires such qualification, each dated a recent date prior to the Closing Date and certified by the applicable authorized Governmental Authority.

(i) Bylaws and Resolutions. Agent shall have received, for each Credit Party, (a) such Person's bylaws (if any), together with all amendments thereto and (b) resolutions of such Person's board of directors, partners or other appropriate Persons, approving and authorizing the execution, delivery and performance of the Loan Documents to which such Person is a party and the transactions to be consummated in connection therewith, each certified as of the Closing Date by such Person's corporate secretary or an assistant secretary as being in full force and effect without any modification or amendment.

(j) Incumbency Certificates. Agent shall have received, for each Credit Party, signature and incumbency certificates of the officers of each such Person executing any of the Loan Documents, certified as of the Closing Date by such Person's corporate secretary or an assistant secretary as being true, accurate, correct and complete.

(k) Opinions of Counsel. Agent shall have received duly executed originals of opinions of McCarthy Tetrault, LLP, counsel for the Credit Parties (and covering such matters in respect of the Excluded Subsidiaries as may be agreed to between the Agent and Borrower), together with any local counsel opinions reasonably requested by Agent, with respect to, inter alia: (i) due authorization, execution and delivery of the Loan Documents by each Credit Party, (ii) power and capacity of each Credit Party to enter into the Loan Documents to which it is a party, (iii) that the execution and delivery of the Loan Documents by the Credit Parties does not contravene or conflict with any of the constating documents, by-laws, shareholders', partnership or similar agreement to which any Credit Party is subject, any law, statute, rule or regulation to which any Credit Party is subject, (iv) enforceability of each of the Loan Documents and the Pension Agreement against the Credit Parties, and (v) perfection of the Liens in favour of the Agent, all in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Agent and its counsel, dated the Closing Date.

(l) Other Matters. Agent shall have received satisfactory evidence that since December 31, 2005, (i) no event or condition has occurred or is existing which could reasonably be expected to result in or have a Material Adverse Change; (ii) there has been no Material Adverse Change; (iii) no Litigation has been commenced which, would have a Material Adverse Change or could challenge any of the transactions contemplated by the Agreement and the other Loan Documents; and (iv) there have been no Restricted Payments made by any Credit Party.

(m) CCAA Plan/CBCA Arrangement. Agent shall be satisfied, acting reasonably, with the terms and conditions of all agreements, indentures, security instruments, share articles and other documents, approvals and actions relating to the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Arrangement and the implementation thereof, including the form and content of:

(i) the ABL Credit Documents, the New Secured FRN Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, the Pension Agreement, the Pension Regulation, the new Province Warrants and the New Warrant Indenture;

(ii) the CCAA Plan, the CBCA Arrangement and any amendments made thereto;

(iii) the implementation process for the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Arrangement;

(iv) any approvals, waivers and consents contemplated by the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Arrangement;

(v) Agent being satisfied, acting reasonably, with the terms and conditions of all CCAA or CBCA orders and any order issued by the U.S. Bankruptcy Court, in each case made or issued on or after the date of acceptance of the Tricap Commitment Letter, and (1) no such order shall have been vacated, stayed, reserved or otherwise modified, (2) no leave shall have been sought seeking to appeal any such order, and (3) no motion shall been brought or notice of motion served, in any case that is pending, to do any of the foregoing, if such action could, in the reasonably held opinion of the Agent, adversely affect the rights or interests of the Agent or the Lenders under any such order or the transactions generally, and all appeal periods for orders issued under the CCAA and the CBCA and, if applicable, any other statute or the U.S. Bankruptcy Court shall have expired; and

(vi) Agent (or an Affiliate of Agent) shall have acquired not less than 9,818,000 New Common Shares pursuant to the Plan Sponsor Agreement representing not less than 37.61% of the New Common Shares to be distributed by the Borrower in accordance with the Plan Sponsor Agreement.

(n) Intercreditor Agreement. The Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement, in form and substance satisfactory to Agent and Lenders, shall have been executed and delivered by all parties thereto.

(o) Audited Financials; Financial Condition. Agent shall have received the Financial Statements, certified by Borrower's Chief Financial Officer, in form and substance satisfactory to Agent, and Agent shall be satisfied, in its sole discretion, with all of the foregoing.

(p) Approvals. Agent shall have received (i) satisfactory evidence that the Credit Parties have obtained all required consents and approvals of all Persons including all requisite Governmental Authorities, to the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents and the consummation of the Transactions or (ii) a certificate of an officer of Borrower in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Agent affirming that no such consents or approvals are required.

(q) Payment of Fees. Borrower shall have paid the Fees required to be paid on the Closing Date in the respective amounts specified in Section 1.5 and shall have reimbursed Agent for all fees, costs and expenses of closing presented as of the Closing Date.

(r) Capital Structure; Other Indebtedness. The capital structure of each Credit Party and the terms and conditions of all Indebtedness of each Credit Party shall be acceptable to Agent in its sole discretion.

(s) Due Diligence. Agent shall have completed its business and legal due diligence.

(t) Other Documents. Agent shall have received such other certificates, documents and agreements respecting any Credit Party as Agent may reasonably request.

2.2 Further Conditions to Each Loan

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, no Lender shall be obligated to fund any Loan if, as of the date thereof:

(a) any representation or warranty by any Credit Party contained herein or in any other Loan Document is untrue or incorrect as of such date, except to the extent that such representation or warranty expressly relates to an earlier date and except for changes therein expressly permitted or expressly contemplated by this Agreement;

(b) any Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or would result after giving effect to any Loan; and

(c) Agent shall have received duly executed originals of a Notice of Revolving Credit Advance from Borrower, dated the date of the proposed Loan.

The request and acceptance by Borrower of the proceeds of any Loan shall be deemed to constitute, as of the date thereof, (i) a representation and warranty by Borrower that the conditions in this Section 2.2 have been satisfied and (ii) a reaffirmation by Borrower of the granting and continuance of Agent's Liens, on behalf of the Secured Parties, pursuant to the Security Documents.

3. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

To induce Lenders to make the Loans, each Credit Party executing this Agreement makes the following representations and warranties to Agent and each Lender with respect to all Credit Parties, each and all of which shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement.

3.1 Corporate Existence; Compliance with Law.

Each Credit Party (a) is a corporation or limited partnership, as the case may be, duly incorporated or formed and organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its respective jurisdiction of organization; (b) is duly qualified to conduct business and is in good standing in each other jurisdiction where its ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business requires such qualification; (c) has the requisite power and authority and the legal right to own, and pledge, mortgage or otherwise encumber and operate its properties, to lease the property it operates under lease and to conduct its business as now, heretofore and proposed to be conducted; (d) has all material licenses, permits, consents or approvals from or by, and has made all material filings with, and has given all material notices to, all Governmental Entities having jurisdiction, to the extent required for such ownership, operation and conduct; (e) is in compliance in all material respects with its constating documents and bylaws; and (f) is in compliance with all applicable provisions of law in all material respects except with respect to Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits as set forth in Section 3.15. There are no unanimous shareholders, shareholders or other agreements in existence in respect of the Stock of any of the Restricted Subsidiaries and the Excluded Subsidiaries, including any such agreements which would restrict the pledge of the Stock of such corporations by the Borrower to the Agent on behalf of the Lenders, other than (x) the sole shareholder declarations by the Borrower with respect to Commercial Distribution Services, Inc., CHT Steel Company Inc., Stelcam Holdings Inc., Stelco USA, Inc., Welland Pipe Ltd., Stelco Holding Company, Ontario Coal Company and Ontario Eveleth Company, copies of which have been delivered to the Agent and its counsel (collectively, the "Restricted Subsidiary USDs") to the effect that the Borrower will have all the rights, powers, duties and liabilities of the directors of such Restricted Subsidiary or Excluded Subsidiary, as the case may be, as of the effective date of each such respective Restricted Subsidiary USD, and (y) the Limited Partnership Agreements.

3.2 Corporate Name, Executive Offices, Collateral Locations.

As of the Closing Date, the corporate or limited partnership name (as it appears in its constating documents and other official filings in the jurisdiction of each Credit Party's existence, incorporation, formation or organization, as applicable) and trade name of each Credit Party, the jurisdiction of incorporation or formation of each Credit Party, the current location of each Credit Party's chief executive office, registered office according to its constating documents, principal place of business, Books and Records and the locations at which any Collateral is located are set forth in Schedule 3.2.

3.3 Corporate Power, Authorization, Enforceable Obligations.

The execution, delivery and performance by each Credit Party of the Loan Documents to which such Credit Party is a party and the creation of all Liens provided for therein: (a) are within such Person's power; (b) have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate or other action; (c) do not and will not contravene any provision of such Person's constating documents; (d) do not violate any law or regulation, or any order, decree, judgment, injunction, writ, decision, ruling or award, of any court or Governmental Entity; (e) after giving effect to the Sanction Order and the US Confirmation Order, and except as set out in Schedule 3.3 do not and will not conflict with or result in the breach or termination of, constitute a default under or accelerate or permit the acceleration of any performance required by, any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust, lease, agreement or other instrument to which such Person is a party or by which such Person or any of its property is bound; (f) do not and will not result in the creation or imposition of any Lien upon any of the property of such Person other than those in favour of the Agent, on behalf of itself and the other Lenders, pursuant to the Loan Documents; (g) except as set out in Schedule 3.3(g) hereto, do not require the authorization, consent or, the giving of notice to, the filing of or registration with, or approval of any Governmental Entity or any other Person, including, without limitation, any order, permit, waiver, exemption, authorization and approval of any Governmental Entity having jurisdiction over the operation by any Credit Party of the Collateral, all of which will have been duly obtained, made or complied with prior to the Closing Date except as set out in Schedule 3.3. Each of the Loan Documents shall be duly executed and delivered by each Credit Party that is a party thereto and each such Loan Document shall constitute a legal, valid and binding obligation of such Credit Party enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other Laws affecting creditors' rights generally and subject to general principles of equity, regardless of whether considered in a proceeding in equity or at law.

3.4 Financial Statements and Projections.

(a) Financial Statements. Except for the Projections, all Financial Statements concerning the Credit Parties that have been delivered to the Agent and the Lenders have been prepared in accordance with GAAP consistently applied throughout the periods covered and present fairly in all material respects the financial position of the Persons covered thereby as at the dates thereof and the results of their operations and cash flows for the periods then ended. All written reports, inventory listings and certificates of any kind made or given to any Agent or Lender pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement or any other Loan Document are true, complete and accurate in all material respects in respect of the subject matter relating thereto.

(b) Projections. All Projections delivered to the Agent have been prepared by the Borrower in light of the past operations of the Credit Parties' businesses and future payments of then known contingent liabilities. The Projections are based upon estimates and assumptions stated therein, all of which the Borrower believes at the time of delivery to be reasonable and fair in light of current conditions and current facts then known to the Borrower as of such delivery date and reflect the Borrower's good faith and reasonable estimates of the future financial performance of the Borrower and of the other information projected therein for the period set forth therein. The Projections have been delivered to the Agent and the Lenders.

3.5 Ownership of Property; Liens.

(a) Each Credit Party has good, valid and marketable title to, and legal and beneficial ownership of, all of its properties and assets (which for the purposes of this Section 3.5(a) does not include any Real Estate). None of the properties and assets of any Credit Party is subject to any Liens, other than Permitted Encumbrances. Each Credit Party has received all deeds, assignments, waivers, consents, nondisturbance and attornment or similar agreements, bills of sale and other documents, and has duly effected all recordings, filings and other actions necessary to establish, protect and perfect such Credit Party's right, title and interest in and to its properties and assets, with the exception of any assignment or transfer documents that would reflect the allocation of Intellectual Property assets pursuant to the CBCA Arrangement, which assignment or transfer documents shall be filed for recordal purposes as soon as reasonably practicable following the Closing Date. All filings, registrations and recordings necessary under applicable law to create, preserve, protect and perfect the security interest and other Liens of the Agent in and on the Collateral which constitutes personal property or assets of a Credit Party have been made, (with the exception of any security notice or grant of security interest intended for recordal with the Canadian Intellectual Property Office, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, U.S. Copyright Office or any other Intellectual Property registry, which notice or grant shall be filed for recordal purposes as soon as reasonably practicable following the Closing Date), and such security interest and other Liens are subject to no other Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances.

(b) The Real Estate listed in Schedule 3.5 ("Real Estate") constitutes all of the real property locations owned, leased or subleased by any Credit Party as of the Closing Date. Each Credit Party owns good and marketable fee simple title to all of its owned Real Estate and valid and marketable leasehold interests in all of its leased Real Estate free and clear of all Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances, provided that any sublease may be dependent on the continuance of the applicable head lease, all as described on Schedule 3.5. Copies of all such leases have been made available to the Agent. Schedule 3.5 also describes any purchase options, rights of first refusal or other similar contractual rights pertaining to any Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage. All material permits required to have been issued or appropriate to enable the Real Estate to be lawfully occupied and used for all of the purposes for which it is currently occupied and used have been lawfully issued and are in full force and effect. Each Credit Party has received all deeds, assignments, waivers, consents, nondisturbance and attornment or similar agreements, bills of sale and other documents, and has duly effected all recordings, filings and other actions necessary to establish, protect and perfect such Credit Party's right, title and interest in and to all such Real Estate and other properties and assets which are subject to a Mortgage. All filings, registrations and recordings necessary under applicable law to create, preserve, protect and perfect the security interest and other Liens of the Agent in and on the Credit Parties' Real Estate have been made, and such security interest and other Liens are subject to no other Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances.

(c) As of the Closing Date, no Person has any written or oral agreement, option, understanding or commitment, or any right or privilege capable of becoming such, for the purchase from any Credit Party of any Collateral (excluding Inventory to be sold in the ordinary course), except as expressly permitted in connection with a Disposition in accordance with Section 6.8(a)(ii) or (a)(iii) or (a)(vi) and except as set forth in Schedule 3.5 (or Schedule 3.7 in the case of any Stock).

3.6 Labour Matters.

As of the Closing Date, no strikes or other material labour disputes against any Credit Party are pending. Payment made to employees of each Credit Party comply with each federal, provincial, and local law or foreign law applicable to such matters. Hours worked by employees of each Credit Party comply in all material respects with each federal, provincial, and local law or foreign law applicable to such matters. All payments due from any Credit Party for employee health and welfare insurance have been paid or accrued as a liability on the books of such Credit Party, each Credit Party has withheld all employee withholdings to be withheld by it and such withholdings have been timely paid to the respective Governmental Entities, and each Credit Party has made all employer contributions to be made by it pursuant to applicable law on account of the Canada Pension Plan maintained by the Government of Canada, employment insurance and employee income taxes. As of the Closing Date, except as set forth in Schedule 3.6, no Credit Party is a party to or bound by any collective bargaining agreement. As of the Closing Date there is no organizing activity involving any Credit Party pending or threatened by any labour union or group of employees. As of the Closing Date there are no representation proceedings pending or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened with any labour relations board, and no labour organization or group of employees of any Credit Party has made a pending demand for recognition. There are no complaints or charges against any Credit Party pending or threatened to be filed with any Governmental Entity or arbitrator based on, arising out of, in connection with, or otherwise relating to the employment or termination of employment by any Credit Party of any individual that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change.

3.7 Ventures, Subsidiaries and Affiliates; Outstanding Shares and Indebtedness.

(a) As of the Closing Date, no Credit Party has any Subsidiaries, is engaged in any joint venture, partnership or similar arrangement with any other Person, or is a Person set forth in subsection "(a)" or "(b)" of the definition of "Affiliate" of any other Person, except as set forth in Schedule 3.7.

(b) All of the issued and outstanding Stock of each Restricted Subsidiary and, to the best of the knowledge of the Borrower, each of the Excluded Subsidiaries is owned by each of the Stockholders and in the percentages set forth in Schedule 3.7. All of such Stock (other than that with respect to the Limited Partnerships) have been duly issued and are outstanding as fully paid and non-assessable, and the person so listed on Schedule 3.7 as the owner of such Stock is the registered and beneficial owner thereof with a good title thereto, free and clear of all Liens other than Liens permitted pursuant to subsections (d), (e) and (f) of the definition of Permitted Encumbrances other than those restrictions on transfer, if any contained in the constating documents of such Restricted Subsidiaries and Excluded Subsidiaries.

(c) The limited partnership interests of each of the Limited Partnerships are divided into the number of units as specified in Schedule 3.7, and Schedule 3.7 also specifies the number of units issued by each such Limited Partnership and the holder of such units. All of such units have been validly issued in accordance with each respective Limited Partnership Agreement, and the Person so listed on Schedule 3.7 as the holder of such units is the registered and beneficial owner thereof with a good title thereto, free and clear of all Liens other than Liens permitted pursuant to subsection (d), (e) and (f) of the definition of Permitted Encumbrances other than those restrictions on transfer, if any, contained in the Limited Partnership Agreements.

(d) There are no outstanding rights to purchase, options, warrants or similar rights or agreements pursuant to which any Credit Party may be required to issue, sell, repurchase or redeem any of its Stock or any Stock securities of any Subsidiary, except in respect of any agreements to purchase in favour of, or stock option plans for, directors, officers or employees of the Credit Parties to purchase New Common Shares and except as set forth in Schedule 3.7.

(e) Other than in respect of Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Loan Documents, the ABL Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, Indebtedness as permitted under 6.2(d), or under the Supply and Services Agreements or the Slabco Tolling Agreement, Schedule 3.7 describes all outstanding Guaranteed Indebtedness of each Credit Party as of the Closing Date and all Indebtedness of each Credit Party as of the Closing Date for (i) borrowed money, (ii) all reimbursement and other obligations with respect to letter of credit, bankers' acceptances and surety bonds, whether or not matured, (iii) all obligations evidenced by notes, bonds, debentures or similar instruments, (iv) other than in respect of indebtedness created under Purchase Money Liens permitted under the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances", all indebtedness created or arising under any conditional sale or other title retention agreement with respect to property acquired by such Credit Party (even though the rights and remedies of the seller or lender under such agreement in the event of default are limited to repossession or sale of such property), (v) all obligations under speculative commodity purchase or option agreements or other commodity price hedging arrangements, in each case whether contingent or matured, and (vi) all obligations under any foreign exchange contract, currency swap agreement, interest rate swap, cap or collar agreement or other similar agreement or arrangement designed to alter the risks arising from fluctuations in currency values or interest rates, in each case whether contingent or matured.

(f) The Excluded Subsidiaries do not carry on any business nor do they have any property or assets or any Indebtedness or Guaranteed Indebtedness (other than the Guarantees given to the Lender in respect of this Agreement, to the ABL Agent and to the New Trustees), other than as set forth in the balance sheets of such Excluded Subsidiaries dated as of December 31, 2005 and as provided to the Agent prior to the Closing Date.

(g) No director, officer or employee of any Credit Party has any debts or liabilities owing to any Credit Party other than loans in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices for travel and entertainment expenses, relocation costs and similar purposes up to a maximum of $1,000,000 in the aggregate.

3.8 Government Regulation.

No Credit Party is subject to regulation under Canadian federal, provincial, local or foreign statutory Law that restricts or limits its ability to incur Indebtedness or Guaranteed Indebtedness or to perform its obligations hereunder. The making of the Loans to the Borrower by the Agent and the Lenders, the incurrence of the Obligations, the application of the proceeds thereof and repayment thereof will not violate any provision of any such Law or any rule, regulation or order issued by or policy of any securities regulatory authority or securities exchange.

3.9 Taxes.

(a) All returns, reports and statements, including information returns, in respect of Taxes required by any Governmental Entity to be filed by any Credit Party have been filed with the appropriate Governmental Entity and all Charges have been paid prior to the date on which any fine, penalty, interest or late charge may be added thereto for non-payment thereof (or any such fine, penalty, interest, late charge or loss has been paid), excluding Charges or other amounts being contested in accordance with Section 5.2(b).

(b) Schedule 3.9 sets forth in respect of the Credit Parties that do not file returns in respect of Taxes under the IRC as of the Closing Date (i) those taxation years that have not yet been assessed by the CRA or the applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities, (ii) the taxation years that are currently being audited by the CRA or applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities, (iii) any assessments or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened assessments in connection with such audit, otherwise currently outstanding, and (iv) the most recent taxation year that an audit by the CRA or the applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities has been completed.

(c) Schedule 3.9 sets forth in respect of the Credit Parties that do file returns in respect of Taxes under the IRC, as of the Closing Date (i) to any Credit Party's knowledge, those taxation years that have not yet been assessed by the applicable local or foreign Governmental Entities, (ii) to any Credit Party's knowledge, the taxation years that are currently being audited by the applicable local and foreign Governmental Entities, (iii) to any Credit Party's knowledge, any assessments or, threatened assessments in connection with such audit, otherwise currently outstanding, and (iv) to any Credit Party's knowledge, the most recent taxation year that an audit by the applicable local or foreign Governmental Entities has been completed.

(d) Except as set forth in Schedule 3.9, no Credit Party has executed or filed with the CRA or any other domestic or foreign Governmental Entity any agreement or other document extending, or having the effect of extending, the period for assessment or collection of any Charges. Except for Permitted Encumbrances, none of the Credit Parties nor any of their respective predecessors are liable for any Charges (i) under any agreement (including any tax sharing agreements), or (ii) to each Credit Party's knowledge, as a transferee.

3.10 Pension and Benefit Plans.

(a) Canadian Pension and Benefits Plans. Schedule 3.10(a) lists all pension and benefit plans applicable to the Credit Parties for its Canadian employees or former Canadian employees, including all Canadian Benefit Plans and Canadian Pension Plan (other than, for greater certainty, plans maintained by the Government of Canada or any government of a Province of Canada, to which any Credit Party is obligated to contribute by statute) currently maintained by any Credit Party. Except as set forth in Schedule 3.10(a), the Canadian Pension Plans are duly registered under the ITA and all other applicable Laws which require registration and no event has occurred which is reasonably likely to cause the loss of such registered status. All material obligations of the Borrower and any other participating Credit Party (including fiduciary, contribution, funding, investment and administration obligations) required to be performed in connection with the Canadian Benefit Plans, the Canadian Pension Plans and the funding agreements therefor under the terms thereof and applicable statutory and regulatory requirements, have been performed in a timely and proper fashion. There have been no improper withdrawals or applications of the assets of the Canadian Pension Plans or the Canadian Benefit Plans. Except as set forth in Schedule 3.10(a), there are no material outstanding disputes concerning the assets or liabilities of the Canadian Pension Plans or the Canadian Benefit Plans. Except as set forth in Schedule 3.10(a), no events have occurred which could give rise to a partial or total wind-up of any Canadian Pension Plan. The Borrower has delivered to the Agent copies of the most recent actuarial valuation reports filed with the Financial Services Commission of Ontario in respect of each of the registered Canadian Pension Plans, as well as the most recent valuation reports prepared in connection with the non-registered Canadian Pension Plans. There is no non-registered Canadian Pension Plan in respect of which an event has occurred that could require immediate or accelerated funding in respect of unfunded liabilities or other deficit amounts.

(b) ERISA.

(i) Schedule 3.10(b) lists all ERISA Affiliates. Copies of all US Pension Plans, including Title IV Plans, Multiemployer Plans, ESOPs and Welfare Plans, including all Retiree Welfare Plans, together with a copy of the latest IRS/DOL 5500-series form for each such Plan (other than Multiemployer Plans) and the most recent actuarial report for each Title IV Plan have been made available to the Agent. Except with respect to Multiemployer Plans, each Qualified Plan has been determined by the IRS to qualify under Section 401 of the IRC, the trusts created thereunder have been determined to be exempt from tax under the provisions of Section 501 of the IRC, and nothing has occurred that is reasonably likely to cause the loss of such qualification or tax-exempt status. Each Plan is in compliance, in all material respects, with the applicable provisions of ERISA and the IRC, including the timely filing of all reports required under the IRC or ERISA, including the statement required by 29 CFR Section 2520.104-23. Except as set forth in Schedule 3.10(b), neither any Credit Party nor ERISA Affiliate has failed to make any contribution or pay any amount due as required by either Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 of ERISA or the terms of any such Plan. Neither any Credit Party nor ERISA Affiliate has engaged in a "prohibited transaction," as defined in Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the IRC, in connection with any Plan, that would subject any Credit Party to a material tax on prohibited transactions imposed by Section 502(i) of ERISA or Section 4975 of the IRC. To the knowledge of the Borrower, the actuarial report for each Title IV Plan fairly presents the financial condition and the results of each such plan in accordance with US generally accepted accounting principles. Except as set forth in Schedule 3.10(b), no ERISA Affiliate provides health or welfare benefits for any retired or former US employee or is obligated to provide health or welfare benefits to any active US employee following such employee's retirement or other termination of service.

(ii) Except as set forth in Schedule 3.10(b): (i) no Title IV Plan has any Unfunded US Pension Liability; (ii) no ERISA Event or event described in Section 4062(e), Section 4063 or Section 4064 of ERISA with respect to any Title IV Plan has occurred or is reasonably expected to occur; (iii) there are no pending, or to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened claims (other than claims for benefits in the normal course), sanctions, actions or lawsuits, asserted or instituted against any Plan or any Person as fiduciary or sponsor of any Plan; (iv) no Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate has incurred any liability as a result of a complete or partial withdrawal from a Multiemployer Plan and, if such a withdrawal were to occur within one year after the date of this Agreement, the total liabilities of such Persons under all such Multiemployer Plans would not exceed US$6,400,000 and would be payable in a lump sum or in instalment payments with additional interest in accordance with the provisions of Section 4219(c) of ERISA; (v) within the last five years no Title IV Plan of any Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate has been terminated, no notice of intent to terminate any Title IV Plan has been filed and no amendment has been adopted to treat a Title IV Plan as terminated whether or not in a "standard termination" as that term is used in Section 4041(b)(1) of ERISA, nor has any Title IV Plan of any Credit Party or any ERISA Affiliate (determined at any time within the last five years) with Unfunded Pension Liabilities been transferred outside of the "controlled group" (within the meaning of Section 4001(a)(14) of ERISA) of any Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate (determined at such time); (vi) except in the case of any ESOP, Shares of all Credit Parties and their ERISA Affiliates make up, in the aggregate, no more than 10% of the fair market value of the assets of any Plan measured on the basis of fair market value as of the latest valuation date of any Plan; (vii) no liability under any Title IV Plan has been satisfied with the purchase of a contract from an insurance company that is not rated AAA by the Standard & Poor's Corporation or an equivalent rating by another nationally recognized rating agency, and (viii) no ERISA Affiliate has received notice from any Multiemployer Plan that it is in reorganization or is insolvent, that increased contributions may be required to avoid a reduction in plan benefits or the imposition of any excise tax, or that such a plan intends to terminate or has terminated, or is subject to any proceeding brought by the PBGC.

3.11 No Litigation.

No action, claim, lawsuit, demand, investigation or proceeding is now pending or, to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened against any Credit Party, before any Governmental Entity or before any arbitrator or panel of arbitrators (collectively, "Litigation"), (a) that challenges any Credit Party's right or power to enter into or perform any of its obligations under the Loan Documents to which it is a party, or the validity or enforceability of any Loan Document or any action taken thereunder, (b) that challenges any transaction contemplated by the CCAA Plan, the CBCA Arrangement, the CBCA Order, the Sanction Order or the US Confirmation Order, or (c) that could be reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change. Except as set forth on Schedule 3.11, as of the Closing Date, there is no Litigation pending or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened, that seeks damages in excess of $500,000 or injunctive relief against, or alleges criminal misconduct of, any Credit Party, or that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change.

3.12 Brokers.

No broker or finder brought about the obtaining, making or closing of the Facility, and no Credit Party thereof has any obligation to any Person in respect of any finder's or brokerage fees in connection therewith.

3.13 Intellectual Property.

Each Credit Party owns or has rights to use all General Intangibles necessary and material to continue to conduct its business as now or heretofore conducted by it or proposed to be conducted by it, and each active Canadian and US Patent, Design, Trademark, registered Copyright and License of the Credit Parties is listed, if registered or application for registration has been made, together with application or registration numbers, as applicable, in Schedule 3.13. No decision or judgment has been rendered by any Governmental Entity which would limit, cancel or question the validity of, or any Credit Party's rights in, any General Intangibles in any material respect. No action or proceeding is pending, or, to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened, seeking to limit, cancel or question the validity of any General Intangibles or any Credit Party's ownership interest therein, which, if adversely determined, would result in a Material Adverse Change. To the best of the knowledge of the Borrower, each Credit Party conducts its business and affairs without infringement of or interference with any Intellectual Property of any other Person in any material respect. No Credit Party is aware of any infringement claim made in writing by any other Person with respect to any Intellectual Property.

3.14 Environmental Matters.

(a) The Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage is free of contamination from any Hazardous Material except for such contamination that would not result in Environmental Liabilities that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change. No Credit Party has caused or suffered to occur any Release of Hazardous Materials on, at, in, under, above, to, from any of its Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change. The Credit Parties are and have been in compliance with all Environmental Laws, except for such non-compliance that would not result in Environmental Liabilities which could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change. The Credit Parties have obtained, and are in compliance with, all Environmental Permits required by Environmental Laws for the operations of their respective businesses as presently conducted or as proposed to be conducted, except where the failure to so obtain or comply with such Environmental Permits would not result in Environmental Liabilities that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change; and all such Environmental Permits are valid, uncontested and in good standing. No Credit Party is involved in operations or knows of any facts, circumstances or conditions, including any Releases of Hazardous Materials, that are likely to result in any Environmental Liabilities of such Credit Party which could be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change; and no Credit Party has permitted any current or former tenant or occupant of the Real Estate to engage in any such operations. There is no Litigation arising under or related to any Environmental Laws, Environmental Permits or Hazardous Material that seeks damages, penalties, fines, costs or expenses that could be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change or injunctive relief against, or that alleges criminal misconduct by, any Credit Party. No notice has been received by any Credit Party requesting information under any Environmental Law or identifying it as a potentially responsible party under any Environmental Law that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change and to the knowledge of the Credit Parties, there are no facts, circumstances or conditions that may result in any Credit Party being identified as a potentially responsible party under any Environmental Law that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change. The Credit Parties have made available to the Agent copies of all existing environmental reports, reviews and audits and all written information pertaining to actual or potential Environmental Liabilities (including the most recent Industrial Hygiene, Safety, Environmental, Risk Management and Asset Integrity Report of each Credit Party), in each case, in the possession of the Credit Parties and relating to any Credit Party and its properties and assets, requested by the Agent.

(b) Each Credit Party hereby acknowledges and agrees that neither the Agent nor any Lender is now, or has ever been, in control of any of the Real Estate or any Credit Party's affairs.

3.15 Insurance.

Schedule 3.15 lists all insurance policies of any nature maintained, as of the Closing Date, for covered losses by each Credit Party. Each of the Credit Parties has insurance in place, issued by responsible insurers, as is appropriate to the business of each Credit Party and its property and assets, in such amounts and against such risks as are customarily carried and insured against by owners of comparable businesses and assets, all in compliance with the provisions of this Agreement. All such policies of insurance are in full force and effect and the Borrower is not in default, as to the payments of premiums or otherwise, under the terms of any such policy.

3.16 Deposit, Disbursement and Securities Accounts.

Schedule 3.16 lists all banks, Securities Intermediaries and other financial institutions at which any Credit Party maintains a Bank Account, Securities Account or other account, and such schedule correctly identifies the name, address and telephone number of each depository or securities intermediary, the name in which the account is held, a description of the purpose of the account, the complete account number therefore and if such account is subject to a minimum balance requirement, the amount of such requirement. There are no blocked accounts, lock boxes or similar arrangements relating to any of such accounts, other than those contemplated by the ABL Credit Documents.

3.17 Material Contracts; Government Contracts.

Schedule 3.17 contains a list of all Material Contracts. Each of the Credit Parties is in compliance in all material respects with all Material Contracts to which it is a party and no Credit Party, or to the best of the Borrower's knowledge, any other party to any Material Contract has defaulted under any Material Contract. No event has occurred which, with the giving of notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a default under, or in respect of, any Material Contract (which, in the case of the agreements referred to in paragraph (c) of the definition "Material Contracts", have not been cured). There is no dispute regarding any Material Contract which could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change.

3.18 Compliance with Industry Standards.

Each of the Credit Parties keeps adequate Books and Records with respect to its business activities in which proper entries, reflecting all financial transactions, are made in accordance with GAAP and on a basis consistent with its Financial Statements. Each of the Credit Parties maintains all of its Books and Records, in accordance with applicable Laws and the standards established by any Governmental Entity having authority over the Credit Party and its property and assets, and all of such Books and Records are true, complete and accurate in all material respects.

3.19 Possession of Collateral.

Each Credit Party has possession and control of all the property and assets owned by such Credit Party, other than property and assets which are being processed, repaired, transported or shipped in the ordinary course of business. Except as disclosed in Schedule 3.19 (briefly describing any consignment arrangements to which any Credit Party is party by agreement, counterparty and location), none of the Credit Parties consign any of its assets or property to any other Person.

3.20 Bonding; Licenses.

Except as set forth on Schedule 3.20, as of the Closing Date, no Credit Party is a party to or bound by any surety bond agreement or bonding requirement with respect to services or products sold by it or any trademark, patent or industrial design license agreement pursuant to which the Credit Party is a licensee with respect to services or products sold by it.

3.21 CCAA Plan Documents.

The Borrower has delivered to the Agent complete and correct copies of the ABL Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, the New Secured FRN Credit Documents and the Pension Agreement and all schedules, exhibits, amendments, supplements, modifications, assignments and all other documents delivered pursuant thereto or in connection therewith.

3.22 Material Adverse Change.

No Credit Party has incurred any obligations, contingent or non-contingent liabilities, liabilities for Charges, long-term leases or unusual forward or long-term commitments that, alone or in the aggregate, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Change, and no contract, lease or other agreement or instrument has been entered into by any Credit Party or has become binding upon any Collateral and no Law or regulation applicable to any Credit Party has been adopted that has had or could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Change. Since December 31, 2005, no event has occurred, that alone or together with other events, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Change.

3.23 No Default.

No Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing.

3.24 Full Disclosure.

No information contained in this Agreement, any of the other Loan Documents, any Financial Statements or other written reports from time to time delivered hereunder or thereunder or any written statement furnished by or on behalf of any Credit Party to the Agent or any Lender pursuant to the terms of this Agreement contains or will contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omits or will omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances under which they were made.

4. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND INFORMATION

4.1 Reports and Notices.

Each Credit Party executing this Agreement hereby agrees that from and after the Closing Date and until the Termination Date, it shall deliver to Agent or to Agent and Lenders, as required, the Financial Statements, notices, Projections and other information at the times, to the Persons and in the manner set forth below:

(a) Monthly Financials. To Agent and Lenders, within 30 days after the end of each Fiscal Month, internally prepared Financial Statements for such month, certified by the Chief Financial Officer of Borrower. Such Financial Statements shall be accompanied by the certification of the Chief Financial Officer of Borrower that (i) such Financial Statements present fairly in accordance with GAAP (subject to normal year-end adjustments) the financial position and results of operations of Borrower and its Subsidiaries, on a consolidated basis, as at the end of such Fiscal Month and for that portion of the Fiscal Year then ended and (ii) any other information presented is true, correct and complete in all material respects and that there was no Default or Event of Default in existence as of such time or, if a Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, describing the nature thereof and all efforts undertaken to cure such Default or Event of Default. Such financial information shall be accompanied by the certification of the Chief Financial Officer of Borrower that (i) such financial information presents fairly in accordance with GAAP (subject to normal year-end adjustments) the financial position, results of operations and statements of cash flows of Borrower and its Subsidiaries, on both a consolidated and unconsolidated basis, as at the end of such Fiscal month and for that portion of the Fiscal Year then ended, (ii) any other information presented is true, correct and complete in all material respects, (iii) all payments required to have been made pursuant to applicable law (including the Pension Regulation) in respect of Canadian Pension Plans and in respect of the Pension Agreement have been made and (iv) that there was no Default or Event of Default in existence as of such time or, if a Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, describing the nature thereof and all efforts undertaken to cure such Default or Event of Default.

(b) Quarterly Financials. To Agent and Lenders, within 45 days after the end of the first three (3) Fiscal Quarters of each Fiscal Year, unaudited quarterly Financial Statements for the Borrower and its Subsidiaries, certified by the Chief Financial Officer of Borrower, together with a schedule or annex setting forth the Cumulative Free Cash Flow as of such Fiscal Quarter and a reasonably detailed summary of the calculation of same. Such financial information shall be accompanied by the certification of the Chief Financial Officer of Borrower that (i) such financial information presents fairly in accordance with GAAP (subject to normal year-end adjustments) the financial position and results of operations of Borrower and its Subsidiaries, on a consolidated basis, as at the end of such Fiscal Quarter and for that portion of the Fiscal Year then ended and (ii) any other information presented is true, correct and complete in all material respects and that there was no Default or Event of Default in existence as of such time or, if a Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, describing the nature thereof and all efforts undertaken to cure such Default or Event of Default. Such financial information shall be accompanied by the certification of the Chief Financial Officer of Borrower that (i) such financial information presents fairly in accordance with GAAP (subject to normal year-end adjustments) the financial position, results of operations and statements of cash flows of Borrower and its Subsidiaries, on both a consolidated and unconsolidated basis, as at the end of such Fiscal month and for that portion of the Fiscal Year then ended, (ii) any other information presented is true, correct and complete in all material respects, (iii) all payments required to have been made pursuant to applicable law (including the Pension Regulation) in respect of Canadian Pension Plans and in respect of the Pension Agreement have been made and (iv) that there was no Default or Event of Default in existence as of such time or, if a Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, describing the nature thereof and all efforts undertaken to cure such Default or Event of Default.

(c) Annual Audited Financials. To Agent and Lenders, within 90 days after the end of each Fiscal Year, audited Financial Statements for Borrower and its Subsidiaries, on a consolidated and unconsolidated basis, setting forth in comparative form in each case the figures for the previous Fiscal Year, which Financial Statements shall be prepared in accordance with GAAP and certified without qualification, by an independent chartered accounting firm of national standing or otherwise acceptable to Agent. Such Financial Statements shall be accompanied by (i) the annual letters to such accountants in connection with their audit examination detailing contingent liabilities and material litigation matters, and (ii) the certification of the Chief Executive Officer or Chief Financial Officer of Borrower that all such Financial Statements present fairly in accordance with GAAP the financial position, results of operations and statements of cash flows of Borrower and its Subsidiaries on a consolidated and unconsolidated basis, as at the end of such Fiscal Year and for the period then ended, and that there was no Default or Event of Default in existence as of such time or, if a Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, describing the nature thereof and all efforts undertaken to cure such Default or Event of Default and be also accompanied by a schedule or annex setting forth the Cumulative Free Cash Flow as of the end of such Fiscal Year and a reasonably detailed summary of the calculation of same.

(d) Other Credit Documents Notices. If requested by Agent and Lenders, any notices, reports, statements, documents, certificates and other information required to be delivered by any Person pursuant to the ABL Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, and the New Secured FRN Credit Documents.

(e) Pension and Benefit Matters. To Agent and Lenders, copies of all material correspondence with and filings to the Financial Services Commission of Ontario or the Superintendent of Financial Services (Ontario) in relation to any Canadian Benefit Plan or Canadian Pension Plan, at the same time such correspondence or filing is delivered or made, as the case may be. For greater certainty, upon the filing of each Form 7 under the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) furnished to the trustee of each pension plan of the Borrower and each Restricted Subsidiary, if such Form 7 contains any information which is different from the information contained in the Form 7 most recently delivered to the Agent and the Lenders, deliver to the Agent in sufficient copies for distribution to each Lender, an officer's certificate of the Borrower confirming that the Form 7 attached to such officer's certificate accords with reports on such plans prepared by the Borrower's actuary and confirming that all contributions indicated in such form have been made when due.

(f) Notices of Liens. To the Agent, each Lender and counsel to the Agent and each Lender copies of notices or other documents in respect of any Liens (other than Permitted Encumbrances) and Prior Claims over any of the Collateral received by any Credit Party that are registered, preserved, perfected or become effective or enforceable after the date hereof.

(g) Notices from MOL, MOE and/or MAG. To the Agent and each Lender, copies of (i) any material notices or other documents required to be delivered under applicable law by any Credit Party to the MOL, MOE or MAG or any other Government Entity under the jurisdiction of the MOL, MOE or MAG, as the case may be, in respect of any material non-compliance by a Credit Party of any such applicable Law, or (ii) any material notices or other material documents received by any Credit Party from the MOL, MOE or MAG pursuant to which the MOL, MOE or MAG, as the case may be, purports or informs such Credit Party of their intention to exercise any of their powers under applicable laws including their intention to obtain warrants or commence compliance or enforcement proceedings against any such Credit Party or the Collateral.

(h) Default. To the Agent of the occurrence of any Default, Event of Default or the existence of any event, circumstance or condition that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change.

(i) TD Banking Services Agreement. To the Agent, a copy of any material notice given or received by it pursuant to the TD Banking Services Agreement.

(j) Annual Business Plan. To Agent and Lenders, at least 60 days after the end of each Fiscal Year, a copy of the annual business plan for the next Fiscal Year, as approved by the board of directors of Borrower.

(k) Other Information. Upon the request of the Agent or any Lender, to the Person making such request, such other information, reports, notices or documents as may reasonably be requested by such Person including, without limitation, (i) copies of agreements with, or purchase orders from, the Credit Parties' customers, copies of invoices to customers, proof of shipment or delivery, access to its computers, electronic media and software programs associated therewith (including any access codes, electronic records, contracts and signatures) and such other documentation and information relating to the Collateral as the Agent may reasonably require, provided that such access does not constitute a violation of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (Canada) or any similar provincial privacy legislation in effect from time to time, (ii) notice as promptly as practicably possible of any threatened or actual seizures or detentions of any Collateral of any Credit Party by any Person, copies of any Material Contracts, Canadian Pension Plans, Canadian Benefit Plans, leases and collective agreements, and (iii) such other information, reports, notices or documents respecting the Credit Parties' business, financial condition or prospects as any such Person may from time to time reasonably request.

4.2 Communication with Accountants.

Each Credit Party authorizes (a) Agent and (b) so long as an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, each Lender, to communicate directly with its independent chartered accountants, and authorizes and shall instruct those accountants and advisors to disclose and make available to Agent and each Lender any and all Financial Statements and other supporting financial documents, schedules and information relating to any Credit Party (including copies of any issued management letters) with respect to the business, results of operations and financial condition of any Credit Party.

5. AFFIRMATIVE COVENANTS

The Borrower shall, and agrees that it shall cause each Credit Party to, so long as any amount owing by a Credit Party under this Agreement or any other Loan Document remains unpaid or any Lender has any obligation under this Agreement:

5.1 Maintenance of Existence and Conduct of Business.

(a) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to: (i) subject to Section 6.1, do or cause to be done all things necessary to preserve and keep in full force and effect its corporate or limited partnership existence and its rights and franchises except with the prior consent of the Agent and the Lenders; (ii) subject to Section 6.1, continue to conduct their respective Businesses substantially as now conducted as of the date hereof, or as contemplated by the CBCA Arrangement, except with the prior consent of the Agent and the Requisite Lenders; and (iii) at all times maintain, preserve and protect all the Collateral used or useful in the conduct of its business and keep the same in good repair, working order and condition in all material respects (taking into consideration ordinary wear and tear) and from time to time make, or cause to be made, all necessary or appropriate repairs, replacements and improvements thereto consistent with industry practices.

(b) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, obtain and maintain all material authorizations and consents of and approvals from and give all material notices and make all material filings and registrations with, and take any other material action in respect of, any Government Entity or any other Person, including (without giving effect to any materiality standard in the case of Subsection (i) below) any order, permit, waiver, exemption, authorization and approval of any Governmental Entity, advisable or required in connection with (i) the execution, delivery and performance by such Credit Party of the Loan Documents to which it is a party and the creation of all Liens provided for therein, and (ii) the operation of its business and its property and assets, and the ownership or lease, as the case may be, of such property and assets.

(c) Forthwith upon the repayment in full of all Project Financing obligations owing by Slabco to Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi (Canada) or any of its Affiliates, the Borrower shall either (i) cause Slabco to be wound-up into Lake Erie Steel GP, Lake Erie Steel LP or any other Credit Party, or (ii) cause Slabco to execute and deliver such guarantee and security and other Loan Documents in the forms delivered by the other Credit Parties as of the Closing Date (or as amended, restated or modified thereafter), together with such other instruments, certificates and opinions as are necessary in the opinion of the Agent to satisfy the conditions precedent set forth in Sections 2.1(a), (b), (c), (e), (f), (h), (i), (j), (k), (n), (p) and (q) as if Slabco had been a Restricted Subsidiary as of the Closing Date.

5.2 Payment of Charges

(a) Subject to Section 5.2(b), the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to pay and discharge or cause to be paid and discharged promptly all Charges payable by it, including (i) Charges imposed upon it, its income and profits, or any of its property (real, personal or mixed) and all Charges with respect to Tax, social security and employee matters, (ii) lawful claims for labour, materials, supplies and services or otherwise, (iii) all storage or rental charges payable to warehousemen or bailees, and (iv) all service or repair charges payable to servicers or repairers.

(b) Each Credit Party may in good faith contest, by appropriate proceedings, the validity or amount of any Charges, Taxes or claims described in Section 5.2(a); provided, that (i) adequate reserves with respect to such contest are maintained on the books of such Credit Party, in accordance with GAAP; (ii) no Lien shall be imposed to secure payment of such Charges (other than as permitted by Subsections (b) and (e) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances", that is superior to any of the Liens securing the Obligations and such contest is maintained and prosecuted continuously and with diligence and operates to suspend collection or enforcement of such Charges; (iii) none of the Collateral becomes subject to forfeiture or loss as a result of such contest; (iv) such Credit Party shall promptly pay or discharge such contested Charges, Taxes or claims, as applicable, and all additional charges, interest, penalties and expenses, if any, and shall deliver to the Agent evidence reasonably acceptable to the Agent of such compliance, payment or discharge, if such contest is terminated or discontinued adversely to such Credit Party or the conditions set forth in this Section 5.2(b) are no longer met; and (v) the Agent has not advised the Borrower in writing that the Agent reasonably believes that non-payment or non-discharge thereof could have or result in a Material Adverse Change.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Lien shall be filed or claimed thereunder (a) for Taxes due any Governmental Entity, or (b) which in the Agent's opinion might create a valid obligation having priority over the Agent's and the Lenders' security over the Collateral, the Borrower shall immediately pay and cause each Restricted Subsidiary to pay such Charge and remove the Lien of record at the request of the Agent. If the Borrower or the applicable Restricted Subsidiary fails to do so promptly, then at the Agent's election, the Agent may upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, imminent risk of seizure or garnishment, filing of any priority Lien, claim, forfeiture, or sale of the Collateral, pay such Charges on the Borrower's or the applicable Restricted Subsidiary's behalf, and the amount thereof shall be an Obligation secured by the Loan Documents and due on demand.

5.3 Books and Records

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to keep adequate Books and Records with respect to its business activities in which proper entries, reflecting all financial transactions, are made in accordance with GAAP and on a basis consistent with its Financial Statements. Each Credit Party shall maintain all of its Books and Records in accordance with applicable Laws and the standards established by any Governmental Entity having authority over the Credit Party and its property and assets.

5.4 Insurance.

(a) The Borrower covenants and agrees to maintain comprehensive/umbrella, property and casualty insurance and business interruption insurance on its and the other Credit Parties' assets and business under such policies of insurance, with such insurance companies, in such reasonable amounts and covering such insurable risks as are at all times reasonably satisfactory to the Agent. All policies covering the assets are, subject to the rights of any holders of Permitted Encumbrances holding claims senior to the Agent, to be made payable to the Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, in case of loss, under a standard non-contributory "mortgagee", "lender" or "secured party" clause and are to contain such other provisions as the Agent may require to fully protect the Agent's and the Lenders' interest in the Collateral and to any payments to be made under such policies. Copies of the policies are to be delivered to the Agent, with the loss payable endorsement in the Agent's favour, on behalf of the Lenders, and shall provide for the insurance broker endeavouring to provide not less than thirty (30) days prior written notice to the Agent of any amendment, renewal, non-renewal, expiration, termination or cancellation. At the Borrower's request, or if the Borrower fails to maintain such insurance, the Agent on the Lenders' behalf may arrange for such insurance, but at the Borrower's expense and without any responsibility on the Agent's part for: (i) obtaining the insurance; (ii) the solvency of the insurance companies; (iii) the adequacy of the coverage; or (iv) the collection of claims. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default which is continuing, the Agent shall, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement and to the rights of any holders of Permitted Encumbrances holding claims senior to the Agent have the sole right, and at its option, in the name of the Agent or the Borrower, to file claims under any insurance policies, to receive, receipt and give acquittance for any payments that may be payable thereunder, and to execute any and all endorsements, receipts, releases, assignments, reassignments or other documents that may be necessary to effect the collection, compromise or settlement of any claims under any such insurance policies.

(b) In the event the Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchases, obtains or acquires insurance covering all or any portion of the Collateral, the Borrower covenants and agrees to be responsible for all of the applicable costs of such insurance, including premiums, interest (at the applicable interest rate for Revolving Loans), fees and any other charges with respect thereto, until the effective date of the cancellation or the expiration of such insurance. The Agent may charge all of such premiums, fees, costs, interest and other charges to the Collection Account. The Borrower hereby acknowledges that the costs of the premiums of any insurance acquired by the Agent on behalf of the Lenders may exceed the costs of insurance which the Borrower may be able to purchase on its own. In the event that the Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchases such insurance, the Agent will notify the Borrower of said purchase within thirty (30) days of the date of such purchase. If, within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such notice, the Borrower provides the Agent with proof that the Borrower had the insurance coverage required by this Agreement (in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent) as of the date on which the Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchased insurance and the Borrower continued at all times to have such insurance, then the Agent agrees to cancel the insurance purchased by the Agent on behalf of the Lenders and credit the Loan Account with the amount of all costs, interest and other charges associated with any insurance purchased by the Agent on behalf of the Lenders, including with any amounts previously charged to the Loan Account.

5.5 Application of Proceeds

Subject to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement and the ABL Loan Agreement, Borrower shall cause all Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds to be paid to the Agent, to be applied to the prepayment of Loans and other amounts outstanding hereunder in accordance with Section 1.2.

5.6 Compliance with Laws Generally; Compliance with Pension Obligations.

(a) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to comply in all material respects with all applicable Laws and decrees, and agreements, licences, authorizations and permits material to the operation of the business of such Credit Party (excluding Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits, and with respect to Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits, in accordance with Section 5.8.

(b) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties to make, or cause to be made, all contributions or other payments required to be made to the Canadian Pension Plans under applicable Laws, including without limitation, the Pension Regulation, and the Pension Agreement and to all Canadian Benefit Plans in accordance with the terms thereof when due. If any Credit Party fails to make any such contribution or other payment when due, the Agent may, subject to the ITA, the Pension Agreement and applicable Law, make such contribution or payment on the Credit Party's behalf (without any obligation whatsoever to do so); provided, that any Event of Default resulting from a Credit Party's failure to make such a contribution or other payment shall not be cured by Agent's payment thereof. If the Agent makes a contribution or payment on a Credit Party's behalf, the Obligations of the Borrower hereunder shall be automatically increased by the amount of such contribution or payment, shall be due upon demand by the Agent and shall bear interest, calculated daily at the per annum rate of the sum of the then applicable Loan Rate plus the Default Rate of Interest, until paid.

5.7 Intellectual Property.

(a) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to conduct its business and affairs without knowing, intentional or wilful infringement of any Intellectual Property of any other Person which a Governmental Entity has previously determined to be valid and enforceable, and shall not, and shall cause each other Credit Party not to (i) enter into any agreements not in the ordinary course of its business and not inconsistent with past practices which prohibit, restrict or limit in any way the granting of Liens to the Agent in Intellectual Property hereafter owned or acquired by any Credit Party if such Intellectual Property is necessary and material to the conduct of such Credit Party's business, or (ii) file, either itself or through any agent, employee, licensee or designee, an application for the registration of any Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright with any Canadian Intellectual Property Office or the United States Patent and Trademark Office or the United States Copyright Office or any similar office or agency in respect of any Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright which is necessary and material to the operation of its business without giving the Agent concurrent written notice thereof. Upon request of the Agent, the Borrower shall and shall cause each such other Credit Party to execute and deliver any and all intellectual property security agreements as they may reasonably request to evidence the Lien in favour of the Agent on such Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright, and the intangible property of such Credit Party relating thereto or represented thereby.

(b) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to take all actions consistent with past practices and which are necessary or reasonably requested by the Agent to maintain and pursue each application, to obtain the relevant registration and to maintain the registration of each of such of its Designs, Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights (now or hereafter existing), including the filing of applications for renewal, affidavits or declarations of use, affidavits of non-contestability and opposition and interference and cancellation proceedings, unless the relevant Credit Party shall determine, acting reasonably, that such Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright is not necessary and material to the conduct of its business.

(c) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to notify the Agent immediately if it knows or has reason to know that any application or registration relating to any of its Intellectual Property (now or hereafter existing) that is necessary and material to the conduct of its business may become abandoned or of any adverse determination or development (including the institution of, or any such determination or development in, any proceeding in any Canadian Intellectual Property Office, the United States Patent and Trademark Office or the United States Copyright Office or any court) regarding its ownership of such Intellectual Property, its rights to register the same, or to keep and maintain the same.

(d) In the event that any material Intellectual Property is infringed upon, or misappropriated by a third party, the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to notify the Agent promptly after it learns thereof. The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to, unless it shall reasonably determine that such Intellectual Property is in no way necessary and material to the conduct of its business, promptly sue for infringement or misappropriation and to recover any and all damages for such infringement or misappropriation and shall take such other actions as the Agent shall reasonably deem appropriate under the circumstances to protect such Intellectual Property.

5.8 Environmental Matters

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party and each Person within its control to: (a) conduct its operations and keep and maintain its Real Estate in compliance with all of its environmental compliance, monitoring, remediation and other policies in effect as of the Closing Date and otherwise implement any and all investigation, remediation, removal and response actions that are necessary in order to remain in compliance with such policies, (b) notify the Agent promptly after such Credit Party becomes aware of any violation of Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits or any Release on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any Real Estate that is reasonably likely to result in any Environmental Liabilities that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change and (c) promptly forward to the Agent a copy of any order, notice, request for information or any communication or report received by such Credit Party in connection with any such violation or Release whether or not any Governmental Entity has taken or threatened any action in connection with any such violation, Release or other matter. If the Agent at any time has a reasonable basis to believe that there may be a violation of any Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits by any Credit Party or any Environmental Liability arising thereunder, or a Release of Hazardous Materials on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any of its Real Estate, that, in each case, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Change, then each Credit Party shall, upon the Agent's written request (i) cause the performance of such environmental audits including subsurface sampling of soil and groundwater, and preparation of such environmental reports, at the Borrower's sole cost and expense, as the Agent may from time to time reasonably request, which shall be conducted by repute environmental consulting firms reasonably acceptable to the Agent and shall be in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Agent, and (ii) permit the Agent or its representatives to have access during regular business hours and upon reasonable notice (or, after the occurrence of an Event of Default, at any time) to all Real Estate for the purpose of conducting such environmental audits and testing as the Agent deems reasonably appropriate, including subsurface sampling of soil and groundwater. The Borrower shall reimburse the Agent for the costs of such audits and tests and the same will constitute a part of the Obligations secured hereunder.

5.9 Real Estate Matters.

(a) After the Closing Date, no real property or warehouse space shall be leased by any Credit Party which is not so leased on the Closing Date to store Collateral with a fair market value in excess of $10,000,000 in the aggregate for all such Collateral (which is not so leased on the Closing Date) without the prior written consent of the Agent.

(b) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to timely and fully pay and perform its material obligations under all leases and other agreements with respect to each leased location or location where any Collateral is or may be located. To the extent otherwise permitted hereunder, if any Credit Party proposes to acquire a fee ownership interest in Real Estate after the Closing Date, it shall first provide to the Agent environmental audits, and, if requested by the Agent, a mortgage or deed of trust granting the Agent a Lien on such Real Estate, together with title opinions or a mortgage title insurance commitment, all in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Agent, and, if required by the Agent, supplemental casualty insurance and flood insurance, and such other documents, instruments or agreements reasonably requested by the Agent, in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Agent and consistent with the requirements contained herein with respect to fee simple Real Estate.

(c) If the sale by the Borrower, Welland Pipe Ltd. and Camrose Tubes Limited to Universal Capital Corporation of the Real Estate identified in Schedule 3.5 as 615 Rusholme Road, Welland Ontario (including Canal Access) ("Rusholme Road") is not completed on or prior to July 31, 2006, the Borrower shall and/or shall cause the applicable Affiliate to execute and deliver a Mortgage and such other Real Estate Security with respect to Rusholme Road in the forms delivered by the other Credit Parties as of the Closing Date (or as amended, restated or modified thereafter), together with such other instruments, certificates and opinions as are necessary in the opinion of the Agent to satisfy the conditions precedent set forth in Section 2.1(c) as if Rusholme Road was not Excluded Real Estate as of the Closing Date.

5.10 Right of Inspection and Access to Management and Audits.

The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, during normal business hours, upon one (1) Business Day's prior notice: (a) provide the Agent and any of its officers, employees, agents and appraisers access to the properties, facilities (including the computer systems of each Credit Party used to store, log, track, monitor and record any and all Collateral), personnel and accountants of each Credit Party and to the Collateral, and (b) permit the Agent and any of its officers, employees, agents and appraisers, to inspect, audit and make extracts from any Credit Party's Books and Records. The Borrower also, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing, consents (and shall cause each Restricted Subsidiary to do so) to the Agent contacting any and all third parties the Agent may reasonably require from time to time, including, without limitation, CRA for purposes of verifying the state of the Collateral and the Borrower's and each Canadian Restricted Subsidiary's tax position and agrees to execute and deliver a CRA business consent form in respect thereof (which may only be used by the Agent following the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing). If an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, or if access is necessary to preserve or protect the Collateral, as determined by Agent, each such Credit Party shall provide such access to Agent and to each Lender at all times and without advance notice. The Credit Parties shall reimburse Agent for any out of pocket expenses incurred by Agent, as well as for the reasonable fees and expenses of any advisers or consultants retained by Agent, in connection with any such access, inspection, audits, reviews and evaluations conducted pursuant to this Section 5.10.

5.11 Appraisals

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to permit the Agent from time to time to conduct, at the sole cost and expense of such Credit Party, at any time upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, annual appraisals of the fixed assets (including, without limitation, Stock, Real Estate and Equipment) of such Credit Party.

5.12 Supplemental Disclosure.

From time to time as may be reasonably requested by the Agent, the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to supplement each representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule herein or in any other Loan Document, with respect to any matter hereafter arising that, if existing or occurring at the date of this Agreement, would have been required to be set forth as an exception to such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule or that is necessary to correct any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby; provided that (a) no such supplement to any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule shall amend, supplement or otherwise modify any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule, or be or be deemed a waiver of any Default or Event of Default resulting from the matters disclosed therein, except as consented to by the Agent and the Required Lenders in writing, and (b) no supplement shall be required or permitted as to representations and warranties that relate solely to the Closing Date or any other specific earlier date.

5.13 Exchange Notes.

If Borrower has received requests to issue at least $50,000,000 in the aggregate principal amount of Exchange Notes, then, pursuant to Section 1.1(d), all Loans then outstanding shall be exchanged for Exchange Notes as follows:

(a) following receipt of a request or requests (the "Exchange Request") of the holder or holders of Commitments (or beneficial owner of a portion thereof) representing at least $50,000,000 in the aggregate principal amount of total Commitments, Agent shall notify Borrower of the receipt of such Exchange Request;

(b) Borrower shall, as promptly as practicable following notice of the receipt by the Agent of the Exchange Request under Section 5.13(a) (but in any event no later than forty-five days following such notice):

(i) select a bank or trust company to act as Exchange Note Trustee,

(ii) execute and deliver, and use its best efforts to cause the Exchange Note Trustee to execute and deliver, the Exchange Note Indenture if such Exchange Note Indenture has not previously been executed and delivered;

(iii) execute and deliver to such holder or beneficial owner in accordance with the Exchange Note Indenture, Exchange Notes as evidence of all of the principal amount of the Loans, bearing interest as set forth therein dated the date of the issuance of such Exchange Note, payable to the order of such holder or owner, as the case may be, in the same principal amount as such Loan being evidenced (for certainty, including any capitalized interest); and

(iv) cause counsel to Borrower to deliver to the Agent an executed legal opinion in form and substance customary for a transaction of that type to be mutually agreed upon by Borrowers and the Agent;

(c) Loans delivered to Borrowers under this Section to be evidenced by Exchange Notes shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the terms of the Exchange Note Indenture.

(d) Unless the Agent otherwise agrees or directs, the Exchange Note Trustee shall at all times be a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of Canada and having its principal offices in Toronto, Ontario, and shall be authorized under such laws to exercise corporate trust powers and is subject to supervision or examination by federal authority and which has a combined capital and surplus of not less than $500,000,000.

(e) The Exchange Note Indenture shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent and the Requisite Lenders, and in any event shall provide that the unpaid principal amount of each Exchange Note shall bear interest at a rate per annum equal to that of the Loans on the date of issuance of the Exchange Note. It is understood and agreed that the Loans exchanged for Exchange Notes constitute the same indebtedness as such Exchange Notes and that no novation shall be effected by any such exchange.

(f) Upon execution of the Exchange Note Indenture, the Exchange Note Trustee shall be required and deliver an addendum to the Intercreditor Agreement, in form and substance satisfactory to the parties to the Intercreditor Agreement, acting reasonable, whereby the Exchange Note Trustee, for and on behalf of the holders of the Exchange Notes, agrees to be bound by the obligations of, and is entitled to the rights of, the "Term Agent" as such term is defined in the Intercreditor Agreement.

5.14 Further Assurances

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to, at such Credit Party's sole cost and expense and upon request of the Agent or the Lenders, duly execute and deliver, or cause to be duly executed and delivered, to it such further instruments and do and cause to be done such further acts as may be necessary or proper in the reasonable opinion of the Person making such request to carry out more effectively the provisions and purposes of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, including, without limitation, the perfection, publication and other registration of the Agent's Liens on the Collateral of the Credit Parties. The Agent is hereby authorized by the Borrower to file (including pursuant to the applicable terms of the PPSA) from time to time any financing statements, continuations or amendments covering the Collateral whether or not the Borrower's signature appears thereon. The Borrower hereby consents to and ratifies any and all execution and/or filing of financing statements on or prior to the Closing Date by the Agent.

6. NEGATIVE COVENANTS

Borrower agrees, as to itself and all other Credit Parties that so long as any amount owing by a Credit Party under this Agreement or any other Loan Document remains unpaid or any Lender has any obligation under this Agreement:

6.1 Mergers, Subsidiaries, Etc.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, directly or indirectly, by operation of law or otherwise, form or acquire any Subsidiary, or amalgamate, merge or consolidate with, acquire all or substantially all of the assets or Stock of, or otherwise combine with or acquire, any Person provided that:

(a) any Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate with or amalgamate or merge with, or convey, transfer or lease all or substantially all of its assets in a single transaction or series of transactions to, the Borrower or any other Restricted Subsidiary (provided that immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, provided further that neither Lake Erie Steel LP nor Hamilton Steel LP may consolidate, amalgamate or merge with, or convey, transfer or lease all or substantially all of its assets to, one another or the Borrower);

(b) any Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate with or amalgamate or merge with any other Person, provided that: (i) the surviving entity of such consolidation, amalgamation or merger is a Restricted Subsidiary; (ii) such surviving entity shall be a Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Borrower and shall be governed by the laws of Canada or a province or of the United States or a state thereof; (iii) the Agent and Lenders receive confirmation that the other amalgamating, merging or consolidating entity(ies) carry on all or substantially all of its or their business in one or more of the Businesses; (iv) the relevant Restricted Subsidiary (and any other Person, if applicable) shall have delivered such Security Documents and other documents, and Agent and the Lenders have been provided with such legal opinions, as Agent or any of the Lenders may reasonably require to confirm to Agent and the Lenders the continued validity, enforceability and effectiveness of the Loan Documents and that the Liens granted in favour of Agent and Lenders will continue to constitute a valid, perfected Lien on the Assets and undertaking of the surviving entity (subject to Permitted Encumbrances); and (v) the Agent and Lenders have received confirmation that no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or would result from such transaction;

6.2 Investments.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, directly or indirectly make or permit to exist any Investment in, or make, accrue or permit to exist loans or advances of money to, any Person, through the direct or indirect lending of money, holding of securities or otherwise, except (a) (i) each Credit Party may maintain its existing Investments in its Subsidiaries and Affiliates as of the Closing Date, (ii) Hamilton Steel LP may make Investments in Baycoat Limited, Z-Line Company and D.C. Chrome Limited, and (iii) Lake Erie Steel LP may make Investments in Slabco, in each case in subsections (ii) and (iii) above, in accordance with the applicable joint venture agreement, shareholders agreement or advances agreement; (b) subject to Section 6.4, each Credit Party may extend trade credit in the ordinary course of business; (c) the Borrower may make Investments consisting of the purchase of any Stock of any Subsidiary; and (d) each Credit Party may make Investments consisting of unsecured intercompany loans and advances to and/or Investments in any other Credit Party or to any Excluded Subsidiary consistent with past practices for (i) the extension of trade credit, (ii) payments in respect of OPEB and Canadian Pension Plans required to be made by Welland Pipe Ltd., Stelpipe Ltd. (iii) payments made in the ordinary course of business to Chisholm Coal Company in respect of environmental remediation costs incurred by it, (iv) payments made in the ordinary course of business in respect of employees obligations incurred by Chisholm Coal Company, Stelco USA Inc., Stelco Coal Company and Kanawha Coal Company, and (iv) payments made in the ordinary course of business in respect of purchases of steel and coke, coal and ore, scrap metal and for steel processing services, provided that, in each of the foregoing cases for (a) to (d) above: (A) each Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiary shall record all intercompany transactions on its Books and Records in a manner reasonably satisfactory to the Agent; and (B) no Default or Event of Default has occurred or would occur after giving effect to any such proposed intercompany loan or other Investment. For greater certainty, no payments shall be made for the purposes of subsection (d)(ii) above by Lake Erie Steel LP or Hamilton Steel LP to or on behalf of Welland Pipe Ltd. or Stelpipe Ltd., as the case may be.

6.3 Indebtedness.

(a) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, create, incur, or assume any Indebtedness, except (without duplication) (i) the Loans and the other Obligations (including, without limitation, the Exchange Notes), (ii) Indebtedness in respect of the ABL Credit Documents in an aggregate maximum principal amount of $600,000,000 (together with any Protective Advances), (iii) the New Secured FRN Credit Documents in an aggregate maximum principal amount of the Equivalent Amount in US Dollars of $275,000,000 plus any additional New Secured FRNs issued as payment-in-kind interest pursuant to Section 2.06 of the First Supplemental Indenture, (iv) the Province Credit Documents in an aggregate maximum principal amount of $150,000,000, (v) Indebtedness under the TD Banking Services Agreement in an amount not to exceed $5,000,000, (vi) Indebtedness permitted to be created, incurred or assumed in respect of any other Permitted Encumbrances, (vii) provided no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result therefrom, Indebtedness in respect of foreign exchange contracts and non-speculative commodity options permitted pursuant to Section 6.17, (viii) Indebtedness permitted pursuant to Section 6.2(c), (ix) Indebtedness under the Supply and Services Agreements, (x) any refinancing or replacement to the Indebtedness described in Section 6.3(a)(ii), (iii) or (v) and (ix) any modifications, supplements or increases to the Indebtedness described in Section 6.3(a)(ii),(iii) and (iv), to the extent (if any) provided for in the Intercreditor Agreement.

(b) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (i) make any payments or prepayments in respect of Indebtedness permitted under Section 6.3(a)(iii), (iv) or (v) or under Guaranteed Indebtedness expressly permitted under Section 6.6 except, provided no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result therefrom, (x) regularly scheduled payments by the Borrower of principal and interest (including, for greater certainty, payments of payment-in-kind interest in the form of the issuance of additional Secured Notes in accordance with Section 8.01 of the First Supplemental Indenture "Capitalized Interest Payments") in accordance with the provisions of the New Secured FRN Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement in effect as at the Closing Date and fees indemnification and reasonable expense reimbursement under and in accordance with the provisions of each of the New Secured FRN Credit Documents and the Province Credit Documents (but, for greater certainty, Capitalized Interest Payments are also permitted while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing), (y) interest, fees and expenses and repayments, prepayments and revolvements under the TD Banking Services Agreement and (z) payments in respect Guaranteed Indebtedness expressly provided under Sections 6.6(a), (b) and (f) and (ii) directly or indirectly, voluntarily purchase, redeem, defease, prepay or offer to prepay any principal of, premium, if any, interest or other amounts payable in respect of any Indebtedness, other than the Obligations or any Indebtedness between Credit Parties or the Indebtedness under the ABL Credit Documents, and otherwise as expressly permitted under subsection (i) above.

6.4 Employee and Affiliate Transactions.

(a) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into or be a party to any purchases of goods and/or services with any Affiliate of such Credit

Party or any other non-arms length Person except (i) the Supply and Services Agreements, the Lake Erie Coke Lease, the Hamilton Coke Lease and the Slabco Tolling Agreement and (ii) other transactions in the ordinary course of such Credit Party's business and, in each case, upon fair and reasonable terms that are no less favourable to such Credit Party than would be obtained in a comparable transaction with a Person who is dealing at arms-length with such Credit Party.

(b) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into any lending or borrowing transaction with any employees of any Credit Party, except loans to its employees in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices for travel and entertainment expenses, relocation costs and similar purposes up to a maximum of $1,000,000 in the aggregate at any one time outstanding.

6.5 Capital Structure and Business.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (a) make any changes in any of its business objectives, purposes or operations that could reasonably be expected to adversely affect the repayment of any of the Obligations or could reasonably be expected to have or result in a Material Adverse Change, (b) with respect to any Credit Party other than the Borrower and except as permitted in Section 6.8, make any change in its capital structure, including the issuance, sale, exchange, abandonment, redemption, repurchase, release or other disposition of any Stock, warrants or other securities convertible into Stock or any revision of the terms of its outstanding Stock or (c) enter into any agreement, term sheet or commitment letter to do anything prohibited in subsections (a) and (b).

6.6 Guaranteed Indebtedness.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, create, incur or assume any Guaranteed Indebtedness except (a) by endorsement of instruments or items of payment for deposit to the account of any Credit Party in the ordinary course of business, (b) for Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred for the benefit of any other Credit Party if the primary obligation is expressly permitted by this Agreement (including, for greater certainty, under the Supply and Services Agreements and the Slabco Tolling Agreement), (c) the guarantees by Credit Parties of the Obligations, (d) the guarantees by the Credit Parties of the Indebtedness in respect of the ABL Credit Documents, the New Secured FRN Credit Documents and (e) the guarantees by the General Partners (other than HLE Mining GP, HMLTN Energy CP and Lake Erie Energy GP) and the Limited Partnerships (other than HLE Mining LP, HMLTN Energy LP and Lake Erie LP) of the obligations of the Borrower under the Province Loan Agreement and, provided such Subsidiary is also a Restricted Subsidiary for purposes of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, any other Subsidiary who is required to become a guarantor under the Province Loan Agreement, (f) Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred in respect of obtaining the consents listed in Schedule 3.3 and (g) indemnities in favour of their directors, officers, employees and consultants in the ordinary course of business.

6.7 Liens.

(a) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, create, incur, assume or permit to exist any Lien on or with respect to any of its properties or assets (whether now owned or hereafter acquired) except Permitted Encumbrances. The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and

Excluded Subsidiaries not to, become a party to any agreement, note, indenture or instrument, or take any other action, that would prohibit the creation of a Lien on any of its properties or other assets in favour of the Agent or the Lenders as additional collateral for the Obligations, except as expressly permitted by Section 5.7(a)(i).

(b) The Borrower shall cause The Stelco Plate Company Ltd. not to (i) create, incur, assume or permit to exist any Lien on or with respect to any of its property or assets except those in favour of Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce ("CIBC") on the date hereof, (ii) create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Indebtedness, except Indebtedness in favour of CIBC on the date hereof, and (iii) conduct or operate any business.

(c) For greater certainty, the Borrower shall not and shall cause the applicable Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to create, incur, assume or permit to exit any Lien on or with respect to the Excluded Real Estate, other than Permitted Encumbrances (other than Liens referred to in subsection (d) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances").

6.8 Sale of Stock and Assets.

(a) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, sell, transfer, convey, assign, factor or otherwise dispose of their Collateral other than:

(i) Inventory sold in the ordinary course of business

(ii) Dispositions of assets which have become worn-out, unserviceable, obsolete, unsuitable or unnecessary in the conduct by the Borrower or any of the Subsidiaries of their respective businesses;

(iii) Dispositions of assets as part of a series of transactions pursuant to which such Assets are being upgraded or replaced with assets of substantially similar or greater value;

(iv) Dispositions of property or assets of any of the Restricted Subsidiaries (other than Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP) or any of the Excluded Subsidiaries;

(v) Dispositions of any property or assets of each of Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP in an aggregate amount not to exceed $25,000,000 for each of Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP in any Fiscal Year; and

(vi) Dispositions between Credit Parties;

(vii) Dispositions of any Shares of any Credit Party.

(b) To the extent that the Asset Sale Proceeds of any Disposition, which are not in excess of $10,000,000, that would otherwise be included in the calculation in Section 6.8(a)(v) are applied to a Property Reinvestment Application within 18 months after such transfer (and if so committed in fact applied within 18 months of such commitment or such longer period not in excess of 24 months to the extent such period in excess of 18 months is reasonably required to obtain regulatory approvals and the Borrower is pursuing such approvals with commercially reasonable diligence), then such Disposition (or, if less than all such Asset Sale Proceeds is applied as contemplated hereinabove, the amount thereof so applied), for the purpose of determining compliance with Section 6.8(a)(v) as of any date, shall be deemed not to be a Disposition.

(c) In the event that a Disposition is effected pursuant to a transaction permitted under this Agreement, and no Default or Event of Default exists, the relevant Credit Party that owns the Collateral that is the subject of such Disposition shall, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement, be released from the Liens constituted by the Security Documents (as to such Collateral), and, where applicable, any Guarantee. The Agent shall deliver (and the Lenders hereby authorize the Agent to deliver), at the Borrower's expense, such waivers, consents, and other instruments to the applicable Credit Party as the Credit Party may reasonably require in order to evidence such releases.

(d) For greater certainty, Section 6.8 does not restrict or limit the ability of the Credit Parties or the Excluded Subsidiaries to effect transactions in accordance with Section 6.1.

6.9 ERISA.

(a) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause of each the other Credit Parties and any ERISA Affiliate not to, cause or permit to occur an event that could result in the imposition of a Lien under Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 or 4068 of ERISA

(b) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and any ERISA Affiliate not to, cause or permit to occur an ERISA Event to the extent such ERISA Event could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change.

6.10 Hazardous Materials.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, cause or permit a Release of any Hazardous Material on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any of the Real Estate where such Release would (a) violate in any respect, or form the basis for any Environmental Liabilities under, any Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits, and (b) otherwise adversely impact the value or marketability of any of the Collateral, other than such Releases that could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Change.

6.11 Sale-Leasebacks.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, engage in any sale-leaseback, synthetic lease or similar transaction involving any of its assets.

6.12 Payments and Restricted Payments.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, make any Restricted Payment, except (a) intercompany loans and advances and/or Investments between the Credit Parties to the extent permitted by Section 6.3; (b) dividends and distributions by Subsidiaries paid to the Borrower or another Credit Party; (c) payments permitted under Section 6.2 and Section 6.3(b) as they relate solely to the New Secured FRNs or the Province Loan Agreement; (d) payments permitted under Section 6.4; (e) the payment of reasonable and customary fees and reimbursement of expenses payable to employees, officers and directors of such Credit Party; (f) payments contemplated by the Supply and Services Agreements and the Lake Erie Coke Lease, the Hamilton Coke Lease and the Slabco Tolling Agreement and, so long as, in each case, no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or would result after giving effect to any Restricted Payment. For purposes of clarity, no Credit Party shall be permitted to make any payment, loan, contribution, investment or other transfer of funds or other property to any Subsidiary which is not a Credit Party unless expressly permitted by this Section 6.12.

6.13 Change of Corporate Name or Location; Change of Fiscal Year.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, (a) change its name, (b) change its chief executive office, registered office pursuant to its constating documents, principal place of business, corporate offices or warehouses or locations at which Collateral with value in excess of $10,000,000 held, stored or located, or the location of its records, including Books and Records, concerning the Collateral, (c) change the type of entity that it is, (d) change its organization identification number, if any, issued by its jurisdiction of organization or (e) change its jurisdiction of formation or organization without, in each case above except for subsection (c) (which shall require the prior written consent of the Agent), at least 30 days' prior written notice to the Agent and after the written acknowledgement of the Agent that any reasonable action requested by the Agent in connection therewith, including, without limitation, the obtaining of any landlord waiver and anything else necessary or desire to continue the perfection (in order to protect the priority) of any Liens in favour of the Agent, on behalf of Lenders, in any Collateral, has been completed or taken, and provided that any such new location shall be in Canada for any Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary which is existing under the laws of Canada or any province thereof, or any State acceptable to the Agent for any Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary which is existing under the laws or any State of the United States of America. Without limiting the foregoing, no Credit Party shall change its name, identity or corporate, limited partnership or other capital structure in any manner that might make any financing, financing change, or continuation statement or other applicable perfection filing made in connection herewith materially misleading within the meaning of the PPSA or any other applicable law except upon 30 days' prior written notice to the Agent and after the written acknowledgement of the Agent that any reasonable action requested by the Agent in connection therewith, including to continue the perfection of any Liens in favour of the Agent, on behalf of Lenders, in any Collateral, has been completed or taken. No Credit Party shall change its Fiscal Year.

6.14 No Impairment of Intercompany Transfers.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, directly or indirectly enter into or become bound by any agreement, instrument, indenture or other obligation (other than this Agreement, the other Loan Documents, the ABL Credit Documents and the New Secured FRN Credit Documents) that could directly or indirectly restrict, prohibit or require the consent of any Person with respect to the payment of dividends or distributions or the making or repayment of intercompany loans by a Subsidiary of any Credit Party to any Credit Party or between Credit Parties.

6.15 Changes to Material Contracts and Pension and Benefit Plans.

(a) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, change or amend the terms of any Material Contract in any manner materially adverse to any Credit Party, the Agent or the Lenders.

(b) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, change or amend the terms of (including by way of entering into any Supplemental Indenture (as identified in the New Platform Trust Indenture)) any of the ABL Credit Documents, New Secured FRN Credit Documents, Province Credit Documents except as permitted by the Intercreditor Agreement. The Borrower shall not exercise any right of Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance pursuant to, and as such terms are defined in the New Secured FRN Credit Documents. The Borrower shall not post any security as contemplated by Section 4.01(d) of the First Supplemental Indenture, and the Borrower shall not pay to or deposit with either of the Secured Notes Trustees, any amounts as contemplated by Section 5.03 (to the extent such payment or deposit would result in the violation of Section 6.3 hereof or any provision of the Intercreditor Agreement) or Section 12.11(1)(a)(ii) of the New Platform Trust Indenture. The Borrower shall not appoint or allow any Person other than itself or the Secured Notes Trustees to be the Paying Agent pursuant to, and as such term is defined in the Secured Notes Credit Documents.

(c) Except as required to give effect to the Pension Agreement, the Pension Regulation or to otherwise give effect to the CBCA Arrangement, the Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (i) make any amendment to or (except in the case of the Non-Core Pension Plans, voluntarily) terminate (in whole or in part) in violation of 8.1(g) any Canadian Pension Plan or the Pension Agreement in a manner which (y) increases the quantum of contributions or other funding to be made thereunder, or; (z) which increases or could result in an increase in the amount of any solvency deficiency or going concern unfunded liability thereunder; in each case, in an aggregate amount in excess of $10,000,000 or which, in the discretion of the Agent, compromises the priority of the security granted in favour of the Agent and the Lenders or (ii) fail to maintain the currency of any contribution obligation in respect of any Canadian Pension Plan in accordance with the Pension Agreement, the Stelco Pension Regulation, the PBR or other applicable Law. The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, establish any new pension plan (whether a defined benefit pension plan or otherwise) without the prior written consent of the Agent and the Lenders, which shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(d) Except as set forth in Schedule 6.15(d), the Borrower shall not and shall cause each other Credit Party not to cause or permit any ERISA Affiliate to, cause or permit to occur an event that could result in the imposition of a Lien under Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 or 4068 of ERISA which could, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to exceed US$1,000,000 in liability to any Credit Party or cause or permit to occur an ERISA Event to the extent such ERISA Event could, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in any liability to any Credit Party in an amount which would exceed US$1,000,000.

6.16 Compliance Orders.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Applicants not to, take or omit to take any action that would result in a breach or contravention of or non-compliance with or otherwise alter, amend, vary or change the Sanction Order, the US Confirmation Order or the order approving the CBCA Arrangement in any respect that could, in the sole opinion of the Agent and the Lenders, adversely affect any of the rights or interests of the Agent or any Lender under such Orders, this Agreement or any other Loan Document, including with respect to the Collateral.

6.17 No Speculative Transactions.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, engage in any transaction involving speculative commodity options, futures contracts or similar transactions, except for non-speculative commodity options, future contracts or similar transactions on an unsecured basis or secured by letters of credit solely to hedge in the ordinary course of business against fluctuations in the values of commodities or foreign currencies receiveable or payable by it and interest rate swaps, caps or collars, in each case, pursuant to its reasonable business needs.

6.18 Excluded Subsidiaries.

The Borrower shall not permit any Excluded Subsidiary to conduct any business, acquire any assets or otherwise become liable for any obligation except as set forth in Section 3.7(f) and except for nominal amounts as may be required to liquidate, wind-up or dissolve such Excluded Subsidiary.

7. TERM

7.1 Termination.

The financing arrangements contemplated hereby shall be in effect until the Final Maturity Date and the Loans and all other Obligations shall be automatically due and payable in full on such date.

7.2 Survival of Obligations Upon Termination of Financing Arrangements.

Except as otherwise expressly provided for in the Loan Documents, no termination or cancellation (regardless of cause or procedure) of any financing arrangement under this Agreement shall in any way affect or impair the obligations, duties and liabilities of the Credit Parties or the rights of Agent and Lenders relating to any unpaid portion of the Loans or any other Obligations, due or not due, liquidated, contingent or unliquidated or any transaction or event occurring prior to such termination, or any transaction or event, the performance of which is required after the Commitment Termination Date. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein or in any other Loan Document, all undertakings, agreements, covenants, warranties and representations of or binding upon the Credit Parties, and all rights of Agent and the other Secured Parties, all as contained in the Loan Documents, shall not terminate or expire, but rather shall survive any such termination or cancellation and shall continue in full force and effect until the Termination Date; provided, that the provisions of Section 11, the payment obligations under Sections 1.10 and 1.11, and the indemnities contained in the Loan Documents shall survive the Termination Date.

8. EVENTS OF DEFAULT; RIGHTS AND REMEDIES

8.1 Events of Default.

The occurrence of any one or more of the following events (regardless of the reason therefor) shall constitute an "Event of Default" hereunder:

(a) Borrower or any other Credit Party, as the case may be, (i) fails to make any payment of principal in respect of the Loans when due and payable, or (ii) fails to pay interest on any of the Loans or any of the other Obligations, or Fees or any expense reimbursable hereunder or under any other Loan Document within 2 days following Agent's demand for such reimbursement or payment of same;

(b) any representation or warranty made or deemed to be made by any Credit Party under this Agreement or any other Loan Document, or any information contained in any notice, document, report, Financial Statement or certificate delivered under this Agreement or any other Loan Document (other than Projections, which shall be subject to the condition that they have been prepared in good faith based on assumptions believed to be reasonable at the time made), shall prove to have been incorrect in any material respect as of the date when made, deemed made or delivered as the case may be;

(c) any Credit Party shall fail to perform or observe any term, covenant or agreement contained in Section 6 or any other negative covenant contained in any other Loan Document;

(d) any Credit Party shall fail to perform or observe any term, covenant or agreement (other than those set forth in Section 9.1(a), (b) and (c) above) contained in this Agreement or any Loan Document on its part to be performed or observed and such failure shall remain unremedied for thirty (30) days;

(e) any Credit Party fails to pay the principal of, or premium or interest on, any of its Indebtedness (excluding Indebtedness under this Agreement or in respect of Project Financings) which is outstanding in an aggregate principal amount exceeding Cdn. $50,000,000 ("Material Indebtedness") (or the equivalent amount in any other currency) when such amount becomes due and payable (whether by scheduled maturity, required prepayment, acceleration, demand or otherwise) or fails to perform or observe any term, covenant or agreement under any agreement entered into in respect of such Material Indebtedness, and such failure has resulted in (i) the acceleration of amounts outstanding to such lender and the taking of proceedings for enforcement or recovery of payment by such lender; or (ii) a waiver or amendment by such other lenders in consideration for (1) any compensation being paid to such other lenders for any such waiver or amendment, or (2) an increase in interest rates or other fees payable to such other lenders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, customary consent fees that are not material, in Agent's reasonably held opinion, paid to any lender whose security in whole or in part ranks in priority to or pari passu with the Liens in favour of the Agent or any increase in interest rates or other fees payable to any such lender that are not material (in Agent's reasonably held opinion) which results in such lender waiving its default will not constitute a cross default hereunder;

(f) any judgment or order for the payment of money in excess of Cdn. $10,000,000 (or the equivalent amount in any other currency) is rendered against any Credit Party and either (i) enforcement proceedings have been commenced by a creditor upon the judgment or order, or (ii) there is any period of ten (10) consecutive days during which a stay of enforcement of the judgment or order, by reason of a pending appeal or otherwise, is not in effect;

(g) any ERISA Affiliate fails to pay when due an amount or amounts aggregating in excess of U.S. $1,000,000 which it shall have become liable to pay under Section 4062, 4063 or 4064 of ERISA; or a notice of intent to terminate a Plan is filed under Title IV of ERISA by any ERISA Affiliate, any plan administrator or any combination of the foregoing if such termination would result in a Material Adverse Change; or the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation institutes proceedings under Title IV of ERISA to terminate, to impose liability (other than for premiums under Section 4007 of ERISA) in respect of, or to cause a trustee to be appointed to administer any Plan, if such action by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation would result in a Material Adverse Change; or there occurs a complete or partial withdrawal from, or a default, within the meaning of Section 4219(c)(5) of ERISA, with respect to one or more Multiemployer Plans which could cause one or more ERISA Affiliates to incur a current annual payment obligation in excess of U.S. $1,000,000;

(h) the institution of any steps by any Credit Party or any Governmental Authority to terminate or wind-up a Canadian Pension Plan (wholly or in part), except pursuant to Section 6.15 , if, as a result of such termination or wind-up, any Obligor may be required to make an additional contribution (at the time of such termination or wind-up or at any time thereafter) to such Canadian Pension Plan, or to incur an additional liability or obligation (at the time of such termination or wind-up or at any time thereafter) to such Canadian Pension Plan, equal to or in excess of $5,000,000 or the equivalent thereof in another currency;

(i) an Order or Notice or Proposal, is issued by the Superintendent of the Financial Services Commission of Ontario pursuant to any of Sections 87 or 89 of the PBA in respect of a Canadian Pension Plan that directly or indirectly requires the payment of, or directly or indirectly results in the obligation to pay, any monetary amount in respect of such Canadian Pension Plan, where such payment(s) or obligation(s) to pay (individually or in the aggregate) (i) exceeds $5,000,000, or (ii) could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Change; or any change is made to applicable Laws, regulations or any agreements, including without limitation the CCAA, BIA, PBA or PBR, the Pension Agreement or the Pension Regulation, and which relate to any amounts due, accruing due, past due or which may become due hereafter under any Canadian Pension Plan (including without limitation in respect of payments, contributions, going concern unfunded liabilities, solvency deficits or wind-up deficiencies), which could result in any security, deemed trust, Lien or charge arising, becoming enforceable or otherwise crystallizing in favour of any Person which is not subordinated and postponed in all respects to the repayment in full of the Obligations and to the Liens in favour of the Agent and the Lenders in the Collateral; or any other change is made in any Law or regulation which, in the sole discretion of the Agent and the Lenders, could reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect on the priority of the Liens created by the Loan Documents, on the enforcement rights and remedies of the Agent and the Lenders under the Loan Documents, on the Collateral or on the ability of the Borrower to repay the Obligations when due (whether or not there shall have occurred any of the events listed in Section 8.1(j)) below;

(j) any Credit Party (i) becomes insolvent or generally not able to pay its debts as they become due, (ii) admits in writing its inability to pay its debts generally or makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, (iii) institutes or has instituted against it any proceeding seeking (x) to adjudicate it a bankrupt or insolvent, (y) liquidation, winding-up, reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, protection, relief or composition of it or its debts under any law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or relief of debtors including any plan of compromise or arrangement or other corporate proceeding involving or affecting its creditors, or (z) the entry of an order for relief or the appointment of a receiver, trustee or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its properties and assets, and in the case of any such proceeding instituted against it (but not instituted by it), either the proceeding remains undismissed or unstayed for a period of 10 days, or any of the actions sought in such proceeding (including the entry of an order for relief against it or the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its properties and assets) occurs, or (iv) takes any corporate action to authorize any of the above actions;

(k) the audited annual Financial Statements of the Borrower are qualified in any material respect by the Borrower's independent auditors;

(l) any violation or non-compliance occurs with respect to any of the terms of the Sanction Order, the US Confirmation Order or the CBCA Order;

(m) any material provision of any Loan Document for any reason ceases to be valid, binding and enforceable in accordance with its terms (or any Credit Party shall challenge the enforceability of any Loan Document or shall assert in writing, or engage in any action or inaction based on any such assertion, that any provision of any of the Loan Documents has ceased to be or otherwise is not valid, binding and enforceable in accordance with its terms), or any Lien created under any Loan Document ceases to be a valid and perfected Lien having the priorities set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement (except as otherwise permitted herein or therein) in any of the Collateral purported to be covered thereby;

(n) any Fundamental Change occurs;

(o) any Credit Party to a Material Contract fails to perform, observe or comply in any material respect with any term, covenant or agreement contained in such Material Contract (other than under any of the agreements referred to in paragraph (c) of the definition "Material Contracts"); or any party to any Material Contract delivers a notice of termination or revocation (other than in accordance with its terms and not as a result of default) in respect of such Material Contract and such Material Contract is not replaced with a contract or other binding arrangement with one or more third parties within a reasonable period of time on terms no less favourable in the aggregate, to such Credit Party than the terms of the Material Contract so terminated or revoked;

(p) Cumulative Free Cash Flow, as at the end of any Fiscal Quarter and determined for the period from the Plan Implementation Date to such Fiscal Quarter, is less than negative $350,000,000;

(q) if any execution, sequestration, garnishment, claim or other process of any court, tribunal or other Person becomes enforceable against the Borrower for an amount in excess of $10,000,000 or if a distress or analogous process for an amount in excess of $2,500,000 becomes enforceable against or is levied upon the Collateral;

(r) any Credit Party or Credit Parties are required by a Governmental Entity to make expenditures or pay damages, fines, claims costs or expenses aggregating $10,000,000 at any time on a consolidated basis to remediate or in respect of, Environmental Liabilities, as the case may be; or

(s) the occurrence of a Material Adverse Change.

8.2 Remedies.

(a) If any Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, Agent may (and at the written request of the Requisite Lenders shall), without notice and if the Target Date has not yet occurred, suspend the Credit Facilities with respect to additional Revolving Credit Advances, whereupon any additional Revolving Credit Advances shall be made or extended in Agent's sole discretion (or in the sole discretion of the Requisite Lenders, if such suspension occurred) at their direction so long as such Event of Default is continuing. If any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, Agent may (and at the written request of Requisite Lenders shall), without notice except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and subject to applicable statutory law, increase the rate of interest applicable to the Loans to the Default Rate.

(b) If any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, Agent may (and at the written request of the Requisite Lenders shall), without notice: (i) terminate the Credit Facilities with respect to further Revolving Credit Advances; (ii) reduce the Commitments from time to time; (iii) declare all or any portion of the Obligations, including all or any portion of any Loan to be forthwith due and payable, all without presentment, demand, protest or further notice of any kind, all of which are expressly waived by Borrower and each other Credit Party; or (iv) exercise any rights and remedies provided to Agent under the Loan Documents or at law or equity, including all remedies provided under the PPSA and other applicable laws; provided, that upon the occurrence of an Event of Default specified in Section 8.1(j), the Commitments shall be immediately terminated and all of the Obligations, including the Loans, shall become immediately due and payable without declaration, notice or demand by any Person.

8.3 Waivers by Credit Parties.

Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement or by applicable law, each Credit Party waives: (a) presentment, demand and protest and notice of presentment, dishonor, notice of intent to accelerate, notice of acceleration, protest, default, non-payment, maturity, release, compromise, settlement, extension or renewal of any or all commercial paper, accounts, contract rights, documents of title, instruments, chattel paper and guarantees at any time held by Agent on which any Credit Party may in any way be liable, and hereby ratifies and confirms whatever Agent may do in this regard, (b) all rights to notice and a hearing prior to Agent's taking possession or control of, or to Agent's replevy, attachment or levy upon, the Collateral or any bond or security that might be required by any court prior to allowing Agent to exercise any of its remedies, and (c) the benefit of all valuation, appraisal, marshaling and exemption laws.

9. ASSIGNMENT AND PARTICIPATIONS; APPOINTMENT OF AGENT

9.1 Assignment and Participations.

(a) Subject to the terms of this Section 9.1, any Lender may make an assignment to any Person of, or sale of participations in, at any time or times, the Loan Documents, Loans, and any Commitment or any portion thereof or interest therein, including any Lender's rights, title, interests, remedies, powers or duties thereunder. Any assignment by a Lender shall: (i) require the consent of Agent and the execution of an assignment agreement (an "Assignment Agreement") substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 9.1(a) and otherwise in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to, and acknowledged by, Agent; (ii) be conditioned on such assignee Lender representing to the assigning Lender and Agent that it is purchasing the applicable Loans to be assigned to it for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to the distribution thereof; (iii) require that such assigning Lender assign a Pro Rata Share of its Commitments under the Loans; (iv) after giving effect to any such partial assignment, the assignee Lender shall have Commitments in an amount at least equal to ten million Dollars ($10,000,000) and the assigning Lender shall have retained Commitments in an amount at least equal to ten million Dollars ($10,000,000); and (v) include a payment to Agent of an assignment fee of three thousand, five hundred Dollars ($3,500). In the case of an assignment by a Lender under this Section 9.1, the assignee shall have, to the extent of such assignment, the same rights, benefits and obligations as all other Lenders hereunder; provided, that prior to the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing, if such assignee is a non-resident of Canada for purposes of Part XIII of the ITA in respect of any payment that may be made by a Credit Party under any Loan Document, such assignee shall not be entitled to any gross-up payment or indemnification pursuant to Section 1.10 from any Credit Party in respect of any Canadian withholding taxes (including interest and penalties in respect thereof) exigible on any such payment or other Taxes under Part XIII of the ITA. The assigning Lender shall be relieved of its obligations hereunder with respect to its Commitments or assigned portion thereof from and after the date of such assignment. Borrower hereby acknowledges and agrees that any assignment shall give rise to a direct obligation of Borrower to the assignee and that the assignee shall be considered to be a "Lender". In all instances, each Lender's liability to make Loans hereunder shall be several and not joint and shall be limited to such Lender's Pro Rata Share of the applicable Commitment.

(b) Any participation by a Lender of all or any part of its Commitments shall be made with the understanding that all amounts payable by Borrower hereunder shall be determined as if that Lender had not sold such participation, and that the holder of any such participation shall not be entitled to require such Lender to take or omit to take any action hereunder except actions directly affecting (i) any reduction in the principal amount of, or interest rate or Fees payable with respect to, any Loan in which such holder participates, (ii) any extension of the scheduled amortization of the principal amount of any Loan in which such holder participates or the final maturity date thereof, and (iii) any release of all or substantially all of the Collateral (other than in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the Security Documents or the other Loan Documents). Solely for purposes of Sections 1.9, 1.10 and 9.8, Borrower acknowledges and agrees that a participation shall give rise to a direct obligation of Borrower to the participant and the participant shall be considered to be a "Lender" except that, prior to an Event of Default, a participant that it is a non-resident of Canada in respect of any payment made by an Credit Party to such participant under the Loan Documents for the purposes of Part XIII or XIII.1 of the ITA shall not be entitled to any payment of any additional amount or indemnification pursuant to Section 1.10 from any Credit Party in respect of any Canadian withholding taxes (including interest and penalties in respect thereof) or other Taxes under Part XIII or XIII.1 of the ITA exigible on any such payment. Except as set forth in the preceding sentence neither Borrower nor any other Credit Party shall have any obligation or duty to any participant. Neither Agent nor any Lender (other than Lender selling a participation) shall have any duty to any participant and may continue to deal solely with Lender selling a participation as if no such sale had occurred.

(c) Except as expressly provided in this Section 9.1, no Lender shall, as between Borrower and that Lender, or Agent and that Lender, be relieved of any of its obligations hereunder as a result of any sale, assignment, transfer or negotiation of, or granting of participation in, all or any part of the Loans or other Obligations owed to such Lender.

(d) Each Credit Party executing this Agreement shall assist any Lender permitted to sell assignments or participations under this Section 9.1 as reasonably required to enable the assigning or selling Lender to effect any such assignment or participation, including the execution and delivery of any and all agreements, notes and other documents and instruments as shall be requested and the preparation of informational materials for, and the participation of management in meetings with, potential assignees or participants.

(e) A Lender may furnish any information concerning Credit Parties in the possession of such Lender from time to time to assignees and participants (including prospective assignees and participants) and to the other Secured Parties; provided, that such Lender shall obtain from such assignees or participants or such other Secured Parties confidentiality covenants substantially equivalent to those contained in Section 11.8.

(f) So long as no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, no Lender shall assign or sell participations in any portion of its Loans or Commitments to a potential Lender or participant, if, as of the date of the proposed assignment or sale, the assignee Lender or participant would be entitled to receive payments of additional amounts or increased costs as a result of capital adequacy or similar requirements under Section 1.11(a) or (b) in excess of the additional amounts or increased costs which the assignee or participating Lender is entitled to receive.

9.2 Appointment of Agent

Tricap is hereby appointed to act on behalf of all Secured Parties as Agent under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. The provisions of this Section 9.2 are solely for the benefit of Agent and the other Secured Parties and no Credit Party nor any other Person shall have any rights as a third party beneficiary of any of the provisions hereof. In performing its functions and duties under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, Agent shall act solely as an agent of the Secured Parties and does not assume, and shall not be deemed to have assumed, any obligation toward or relationship of agency or trust with or for any Credit Party or any other Person. Agent shall have no duties or responsibilities except for those expressly set forth in this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. The duties of Agent shall be mechanical and administrative in nature and Agent shall not have, or be deemed to have, by reason of this Agreement, any other Loan Document or otherwise a fiduciary relationship in respect of any other Secured Party. Except as expressly set forth in this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, Agent shall not have any duty to disclose, and shall not be liable for failure to disclose, any information relating to any Credit Party or any of their respective Subsidiaries that is communicated to or obtained by Tricap or any of its Affiliates in any capacity. Neither Agent nor any of its Affiliates nor any of their respective officers, directors, employees, agents or representatives shall be liable to any Secured Party for any action taken or omitted to be taken by it hereunder or under any other Loan Document, or in connection herewith or therewith, except for damages caused by its or their own gross negligence or willful misconduct.

If Agent shall request instructions from Requisite Lenders or all affected Lenders with respect to any act or action (including failure to act) in connection with this Agreement or any other Loan Document, then Agent shall be entitled to refrain from such act or taking such action unless and until Agent shall have received instructions from Requisite Lenders or all affected Lenders, as the case may be, and Agent shall not incur liability to any Person by reason of so refraining. Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action hereunder or under any other Loan Document (a) if such action would, in the opinion of Agent, be contrary to law or the terms of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, (b) if such action would, in the opinion of Agent, expose Agent to Environmental Liabilities or (c) if Agent shall not first be indemnified to its satisfaction against any and all liability and expense which may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action. Without limiting the foregoing, no Lender shall have any right of action whatsoever against Agent as a result of Agent acting or refraining from acting hereunder or under any other Loan Document in accordance with the instructions of Requisite Lenders or all affected Lenders, as applicable. Each Lender hereby authorizes Agent to enter into the Intercreditor Agreement, as Agent for all of Lenders.

For the purposes of holding any security granted by Borrower or any other Credit Party pursuant to the laws of the Province of Quebec to secure payment of any debenture issued by Borrower or any Credit Party, Agent is hereby appointed to act as the person holding the power of attorney (fondé de pouvoir) pursuant to article 2692 of the Civil Code of Quebec to act on behalf of each of the debentureholders, initially namely Tricap in its capacity as Agent for Lenders. Each Person who is or becomes a Lender and each assignee holder of any debenture issued by Borrower or any Credit Party shall be deemed to ratify the power of attorney (fondé de pouvoir) granted to Agent hereunder by its execution of an Assignment Agreement. Agent agrees to act in such capacity. Each party hereto agrees that, notwithstanding Section 32 of An Act respecting the special powers of legal persons (Quebec), Agent, as fondé de pouvoir, shall also be entitled to act as a debentureholder and to acquire and/or be the pledgee of any debentures or other titles of indebtedness to be issued under any deed of hypothec executed by or on behalf of Borrowers or any other Credit Party.

9.3 Agent's Reliance, Etc.

Neither Agent nor any of its Affiliates nor any of their respective directors, officers, agents or employees shall be liable for any action taken or omitted to be taken by it or them under or in connection with this Agreement or the other Loan Documents, except for damages caused by its or their own gross negligence or willful misconduct. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Agent: (a) may consult with legal counsel, independent public accountants and other experts selected by it and shall not be liable for any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in good faith in accordance with the advice of such counsel, accountants or experts; (b) makes no warranty or representation to any Lender and shall not be responsible to any Lender for any statements, warranties or representations made in or in connection with this Agreement or the other Loan Documents; (c) shall not have any duty to ascertain or to inquire as to the performance or observance of any of the terms, covenants or conditions of this Agreement or the other Loan Documents on the part of any Credit Party or to inspect the Collateral (including the books and records) of any Credit Party; (d) shall not be responsible to any Lender for the due execution, legality, validity, enforceability, genuineness, sufficiency or value of this Agreement or the other Loan Documents or any other instrument or document furnished pursuant hereto or thereto; and (e) shall incur no liability under or in respect of this Agreement or the other Loan Documents by acting upon any notice, consent, certificate or other instrument or writing (which may be by telecopy, telegram, cable or telex) believed by it to be genuine and signed or sent by the proper party or parties.

9.4 Tricap and Affiliates.

With respect to its Commitments hereunder, Tricap shall have the same rights and powers under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents as any other Lender and may exercise the same as though it were not Agent; and the term "Lender" or "Lenders" shall, unless otherwise expressly indicated, include Tricap in its individual capacity. Tricap and its Affiliates may lend money to, invest in, and generally engage in any kind of business with, any Credit Party, any of their Affiliates and any Person who may do business with or own securities of any Credit Party or any such Affiliate (including, without limitation, pursuant to the Standby Commitment), all as if Tricap were not Agent and without any duty to account therefor to Lenders. Tricap and its Affiliates may accept fees and other consideration from any Credit Party for services in connection with this Agreement or otherwise without having to account for the same to Lenders.

9.5 Lender Credit Decision.

Each Lender acknowledges that it has, independently and without reliance upon Agent or any other Lender and based on the Financial Statements referred to in Section 3.4 and such other documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own credit and financial analysis of the Credit Parties and its own decision to enter into this Agreement. Each Lender also acknowledges that it will, independently and without reliance upon Agent or any other Lender and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit decisions in taking or not taking action under this Agreement. Each Lender acknowledges the potential conflict of interest of each other Lender as a result of Lenders holding disproportionate interests in the Loans, and expressly consents to, and waives any claim based upon, such conflict of interest.

9.6 Indemnification.

Lenders agree to indemnify Agent (to the extent not reimbursed by Credit Parties and without limiting the obligations of any Credit Party hereunder), ratably according to their respective Pro Rata Shares, from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements of any kind or nature whatsoever that may be imposed on, incurred by, or asserted against Agent in any way relating to or arising out of this Agreement or any other Loan Document or any action taken or omitted to be taken by Agent in connection therewith; provided, that no Lender shall be liable for any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements resulting from Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct. Without limiting the foregoing, each Lender agrees to reimburse Agent promptly upon demand for its rate share of any out-of-pocket expenses (including reasonable legal fees) incurred by Agent in connection with the preparation, execution, delivery, administration, modification, amendment or enforcement (whether through negotiations, legal proceedings or otherwise) of, or legal advice in respect of rights or responsibilities under, this Agreement and each other Loan Document, to the extent that Agent is not reimbursed for such expenses by Credit Parties.

9.7 Successor Agent

Agent may resign at any time by giving not less than 30 days' prior written notice thereof to Lenders and Borrower. Upon any such resignation, the Requisite Lenders shall have the right to appoint a successor Agent. If no successor Agent shall have been so appointed by the Requisite Lenders and shall have accepted such appointment within 30 days after the resigning Agent's giving notice of resignation, then the resigning Agent may, on behalf of Lenders, appoint a successor Agent, which shall be a Lender, if a Lender is willing to accept such appointment, or otherwise shall be a commercial bank or financial institution or other entity whose business includes making commercial loans, in each case, organized under the laws of Canada or of any province thereof or named in Schedule III to the Bank Act (Canada) and has a combined capital and surplus of at least one hundred million Dollars ($100,000,000). If no successor Agent has been appointed pursuant to the foregoing, within 30 days after the date such notice of resignation was given by the resigning Agent, such resignation shall become effective and the Requisite Lenders shall thereafter perform all the duties of Agent hereunder until such time, if any, as the Requisite Lenders appoint a successor Agent as provided above. Any successor Agent appointed by Requisite Lenders hereunder shall be subject to the approval of Borrower, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed; provided, that such approval shall not be required if a Default or an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing. Upon the acceptance of any appointment as Agent hereunder by a successor Agent, such successor Agent shall succeed to and become vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and duties of the resigning Agent. Upon the earlier of the acceptance of any appointment as Agent hereunder by a successor Agent or the effective date of the resigning Agent's resignation, the resigning Agent shall be discharged from its duties and obligations under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, except that any indemnity rights or other rights in favour of such resigning Agent shall continue. After any resigning Agent's resignation hereunder, the provisions of this Section 9 shall inure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was acting as Agent under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents.

9.8 Setoff and Sharing of Payments

In addition to any rights now or hereafter granted under applicable law and not by way of limitation of any such rights, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, and subject to Section 9.9(f), each Lender is hereby authorized at any time or from time to time, without notice to any Credit Party or to any other Person other than Agent, any such notice being hereby expressly waived, to offset and to appropriate and to apply any and all balances held by it at any of its offices for the account of Borrower or any Credit Party (regardless of whether such balances are then due to Borrower or any Credit Party) and any other properties or assets at any time held or owing by that Lender or that holder to or for the credit or for the account of Borrower or any Credit Party against and on account of any of the Obligations that are not paid when due. Any Lender exercising a right of setoff or otherwise receiving any payment on account of the Obligations in excess of its Pro Rata Share thereof shall purchase for cash (and the other Lenders or holders shall sell) such participations in each such other Lender's or holder's Pro Rata Share of the Obligations as would be necessary to cause such Lender to share the amount so offset or otherwise received with each other Lender or holder in accordance with their respective Pro Rata Shares, (other than offset rights exercised by any Lender with respect to Section 1.9, 1.10 or 1.11). Borrower and each other Credit Party agrees, to the fullest extent permitted by law, that (a) any Lender may exercise its right to offset with respect to amounts in excess of its Pro Rata Share of the Obligations and may sell participations in such amounts so offset to other Lenders and holders and (b) any Lender so purchasing a participation in the Loans made or other Obligations held by other Lenders or holders may exercise all rights of offset, bankers' lien, counterclaim or similar rights with respect to such participation as fully as if such Lender or holder were a direct holder of the Loans and the other Obligations in the amount of such participation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if all or any portion of the offset amount or payment otherwise received is thereafter recovered from Lender that has exercised the right of offset, the purchase of participations by that Lender shall be rescinded and the purchase price restored without interest.

9.9 Loans; Payments; Non-Funding Lenders; Information; Actions in Concert.

(a) Loans; Payments.

(i) Not less than once during each calendar week or more frequently at Agent's election (each, a "Settlement Date"), Agent shall advise each Lender by telephone, or telecopy of the amount of such Lender's Pro Rata Share of principal, interest and Fees paid for the benefit of Lenders with respect to each applicable Loan. Provided that each Lender has funded all payments and Loans required to be made by it and purchased all participations required to be purchased by it under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents as of such Settlement Date, Agent shall pay to each Lender such Lender's Pro Rata Share of principal, interest and Fees paid by Borrower since the previous Settlement Date for the benefit of such Lender on the Loans held by it. To the extent that any Lender (a "Non Funding Lender") has failed to fund all such payments and Loans or failed to fund the purchase of all such participations, Agent shall be entitled to set off the funding short fall against that Non Funding Lender's Pro Rata Share of all payments received from Borrower. Such payments shall be made by wire transfer to such Lender's account (as specified by such Lender in Annex A or the applicable Assignment Agreement) not later than 2:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on the next Business Day following each Settlement Date.

(b) Availability of Lender's Pro Rata Share. Agent may assume that each Lender will make its Pro Rata Share of each Revolving Credit Advance available to Agent on each funding date. If such Pro Rata Share is not, in fact, paid to Agent by such Lender when due, Agent will be entitled to recover such amount on demand from such Lender without setoff, counterclaim or deduction of any kind. If any Lender fails to pay the amount of its Pro Rata Share forthwith upon Agent's demand, Agent shall promptly notify Borrower and Borrower shall immediately repay such amount to Agent. Nothing in this Section 9.9(b) or elsewhere in this Agreement or the other Loan Documents shall be deemed to require Agent to advance funds on behalf of any Lender or to relieve any Lender from its obligation to fulfill its Commitments hereunder or to prejudice any rights that Borrower may have against any Lender as a result of any default by such Lender hereunder. To the extent that Agent advances funds to Borrower on behalf of any Lender and is not reimbursed therefor on the same Business Day as such Revolving Credit Advance is made, Agent shall be entitled to retain for its account all interest accrued on such Revolving Credit Advance until reimbursed by the applicable Lender.

(c) Return of Payments.

(i) If Agent pays an amount to a Lender under this Agreement in the belief or expectation that a related payment has been or will be received by Agent from Borrower and such related payment is not received by Agent, then Agent will be entitled to recover such amount from such Lender on demand without setoff, counterclaim or deduction of any kind.

(ii) If Agent determines at any time that any amount received by Agent under this Agreement must be returned to Borrower or paid to any other Person pursuant to any Insolvency Law or otherwise, then, notwithstanding any other term or condition of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, Agent will not be required to distribute any portion thereof to any Lender. In addition, each Lender will repay to Agent on demand any portion of such amount that Agent has distributed to such Lender, together with interest at such rate, if any, as Agent is required to pay to Borrower or such other Person, without setoff, counterclaim or deduction of any kind.

(d) Non-Funding Lenders. The failure of any Non Funding Lender to make any Revolving Credit Advance or any payment required by it hereunder to be made by it on the date specified therefor shall not relieve any other Lender (each such other Lender, an "Other Lender") of its obligations to make such Revolving Credit Advance or other payment on such date, but neither any Other Lender nor Agent shall be responsible for the failure of any Non-Funding Lender to make a Revolving Credit Advance, or make any other payment required hereunder. Notwithstanding anything set forth herein to the contrary, a Non-Funding Lender shall not have any voting or consent rights under or with respect to any Loan Document or constitute a "Lender" (or be included in the calculation of "Requisite Lenders" hereunder) for any voting or consent rights under or with respect to any Loan Document. At Borrower's request, Agent or a Person acceptable to Agent shall have the right, with Agent's consent and in Agent's sole discretion (but shall have no obligation), to purchase from any Non-Funding Lender, and each Non-Funding Lender agrees that it shall, at Agent's request, sell and assign to Agent or such Person, all of the Commitments of that Non-Funding Lender for an amount equal to the principal balance of all Loans held by such Non-Funding Lender and all accrued interest and fees with respect thereto through the date of sale, such purchase and sale to be consummated pursuant to an executed Assignment Agreement.

(e) Dissemination of Information. Agent shall use reasonable efforts to provide Lenders with any notice of Default or Event of Default received by Agent from, or delivered by Agent to, any Credit Party, with notice of any Event of Default of which Agent has actually become aware and with notice of any action taken by Agent following any Event of Default; provided, that Agent shall not be liable to any Lender for any failure to do so, except to the extent that such failure is attribute to Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct. Lenders acknowledge that Borrower is required to provide Financial Statements and other reports in accordance with Section 4.1 hereto and agree that Agent shall have no duty to provide the same to Lenders.

(f) Actions in Concert. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, each Lender hereby agrees with Agent and each other Lender that no Lender shall take any action to protect or enforce its rights arising out of this Agreement (including exercising any rights of setoff) without first obtaining the prior written consent of Agent and Requisite Lenders, it being the intent of Lenders that any such action to protect or enforce rights under this Agreement shall be taken in concert and at the direction or with the consent of Agent or Requisite Lenders.

10. SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS

10.1 Successors and Assigns.

This Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be binding on and shall inure to the benefit of each Credit Party, Agent, Lenders and their respective successors and assigns (including, to the extent applicable in the case of any Credit Party, a debtor-in-possession on behalf of such Credit Party), except as otherwise provided herein or therein. No Credit Party may assign, transfer, hypothecate or otherwise convey its rights, benefits, obligations or duties hereunder or under any of the other Loan Documents without the prior express written consent of Agent and Lenders. Any such purported assignment, transfer, hypothecation or other conveyance by any Credit Party without the prior express written consent of Agent and Lenders shall be void. The terms and provisions of this Agreement are for the purpose of defining the relative rights and obligations of each Credit Party, Agent and other Secured Parties with respect to the transactions contemplated hereby and no Person (other than a participant in the Credit Facility being made available hereunder, as provided in Section 9.1) shall be a third party beneficiary of any of the terms and provisions of this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents.

11. MISCELLANEOUS

11.1 Complete Agreement; Modification of Agreement.

The Loan Documents constitute the complete agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter thereof and may not be modified, altered or amended except as set forth in Section 11.2. Any letter of interest, commitment letter, fee letter or confidentiality agreement, if any, between any Credit Party and Agent or any Lender or any of their respective Affiliates, predating this Agreement and relating to a financing of substantially similar form, purpose or effect shall be superseded by this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the provisions in the Tricap Commitment Letter shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and shall continue to be binding obligations of the parties.

11.2 Amendments and Waivers.

(a) Except for actions expressly permitted to be taken by Agent, no amendment, modification, termination or waiver of any provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, or any consent to any departure by any Credit Party therefrom, shall in any event be effective unless the same shall be in writing and signed by Agent, Borrower, and by Requisite Lenders or all affected Lenders, as applicable. Except as set forth in clause (b) below, all such amendments, modifications, terminations or waivers requiring the consent of any Lenders shall require the written consent of Requisite Lenders.

(b) No amendment, modification, termination or waiver shall, unless in writing and signed by Agent and each Lender directly affected thereby: (i) increase the principal amount of any Lender's Commitment (which action shall be deemed to directly affect all Lenders); (ii) reduce the principal of, rate of interest on or Fees payable with respect to any Loan of any affected Lender; (iii) extend any scheduled payment date (other than payment dates of mandatory prepayments under Section 1.2(b)) or final maturity date of the principal amount of any Loan of any affected Lender; (iv) waive, forgive, defer, extend or postpone any payment of interest or Fees as to any affected Lender; (v) except as otherwise permitted herein or in the other Loan Documents, release any Guarantee or release, or permit any Credit Party to sell or otherwise dispose of, any Collateral with a value exceeding five million Dollars ($5,000,000) in the aggregate (which action shall be deemed to directly affect all Lenders); (vi) change the percentage of the Commitments or of the aggregate unpaid principal amount of the Loans that shall be required for Lenders or any of them to take any action hereunder; and (vii) amend or waive this Section 11.2 or the definition of the term "Requisite Lenders" insofar as such definition affects the substance of this Section 11.2. Furthermore, no amendment, modification, termination or waiver affecting the rights or duties of Agent under this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall be effective unless in writing and signed by Agent, in addition to Lenders required hereinabove to take such action. Each amendment, modification, termination or waiver shall be effective only in the specific instance and for the specific purpose for which it was given. No amendment, modification, termination or waiver shall be required for Agent to take additional Collateral pursuant to any Loan Document. No notice to or demand on any Credit Party in any case shall entitle such Credit Party or any other Credit Party to any other or further notice or demand in similar or other circumstances.

(c) If, in connection with any proposed amendment, modification, waiver or termination (a "Proposed Change"):

(i) requiring the consent of all affected Lenders, the consent of Requisite Lenders is obtained, but the consent of other Lenders whose consent is required is not obtained (any such Lender whose consent is not obtained as described in this clause (i) and in clause (ii) below being referred to as "Non Consenting Lender"); and

(ii) requiring the consent of Requisite Lenders, the consent of Lenders holding fifty-one percent (51%) or more of the aggregate Commitments is obtained, but the consent of Requisite Lenders is not obtained, then, so long as Agent is not a Non Consenting Lender, at Borrower's request, Agent, or a Person reasonably acceptable to Agent, shall have the right, with Agent's consent and in Agent's sole discretion (but shall have no obligation), to purchase from such Non Consenting Lenders, and such Non Consenting Lenders agree that they shall, upon Agent's request, sell and assign to Agent or such Person, all of the Commitments of such Non Consenting Lenders for an amount equal to the principal balance of all Loans held by the Non Consenting Lenders and all accrued interest and Fees with respect thereto through the date of sale, such purchase and sale to be consummated pursuant to an executed Assignment Agreement.

(d) Upon the indefeasible payment in full in cash and performance of all of the Obligations (other than indemnification Obligations), termination of the Commitments and a release of all claims against Agent and Lenders, and so long as no suits, actions proceedings, or claims are pending or threatened against any Indemnified Person asserting any damages, losses or liabilities that are Indemnified Liabilities, Agent shall deliver to Borrower, financing change statements, mortgage releases and other documents or instruments necessary or appropriate to evidence the termination of the Liens securing payment of the Obligations.

11.3 Fees and Expenses.

Borrower shall reimburse (i) Agent for all reasonable fees, costs and expenses (including the reasonable fees and expenses of all of its legal counsel, advisors, consultants and auditors) and (ii) Agent (and, with respect to clauses (b), (c) and (d) below, all Lenders) for all reasonable fees, costs and expenses, including the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of legal counsel or other advisors (including environmental and management consultants and appraisers) incurred in connection with the negotiation, preparation and filing and/or recordation of the Loan Documents and incurred in connection with:

(a) any amendment, modification or waiver of, or consent with respect to, or termination of, any of the Loan Documents or advice in connection with the syndication and administration of the Loans made pursuant hereto or its rights hereunder or thereunder;

(b) any litigation, contest, dispute, suit, proceeding or action (whether instituted by Agent, any Lender, any Credit Party or any other Person and whether as a party, witness or otherwise) in any way relating to the Collateral, any of the Loan Documents or any other agreement to be executed or delivered in connection herewith or therewith, including any litigation, contest, dispute, suit, case, proceeding or action, and any appeal or review thereof, in connection with a case commenced by or against any or all of the Credit Parties or any other Person that may be obligated to Agent or any Lender by virtue of the Loan Documents, including any such litigation, contest, dispute, suit, proceeding or action arising in connection with any work-out or restructuring of the Loans during the pendency of one or more Events of Default; provided that in the case of reimbursement of counsel for Lenders other than Agent, such reimbursement shall be limited to one counsel for all such Lenders; provided, further, that no Person shall be entitled to reimbursement under this clause (b) in respect of any litigation, contest, dispute, suit, proceeding or action to the extent any of the foregoing results from such Person's gross negligence or willful misconduct;

(c) any attempt to enforce any remedies of Agent or any Lender against any or all of the Credit Parties or any other Person that may be obligated to Agent or any Lender by virtue of any of the Loan Documents, including any such attempt to enforce any such remedies in the course of any work-out or restructuring of the Loans during the pendency of one or more Events of Default; provided, that in the case of reimbursement of counsel for Lenders other than Agent, such reimbursement shall be limited to one counsel for all such Lenders;

(d) any work-out or restructuring of the Loans during the pendency of one or more Events of Default; and including, as to each of clauses (a) through (e) above, all reasonable legal counsels' and other professional and service providers' fees arising from such services and other advice, assistance or other representation, including those in connection with any appellate proceedings, and all expenses, costs, charges and other fees incurred by such legal counsel and others in any way or respect arising in connection with or relating to any of the events or actions described in this Section 11.3, all of which shall be payable, on demand, by Borrower to Agent. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such expenses, costs, charges and fees may include: reasonable fees, costs and expenses of accountants, environmental advisors, appraisers, investment bankers, management and other consultants and paralegals; court costs and expenses; photocopying and duplication expenses; court reporter fees, costs and expenses; long distance telephone charges; air express charges; telegram or telecopy charges; secretarial overtime charges; and reasonable expenses for travel, lodging and food paid or incurred in connection with the performance of such legal or other advisory services.

11.4 No Waiver.

Agent's or any Lender's failure, at any time or times, to require strict performance by the Credit Parties of any provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall not waive, affect or diminish any right of Agent or such Lender thereafter to demand strict compliance and performance herewith or therewith. Any suspension or waiver of an Event of Default shall not suspend, waive or affect any other Event of Default whether the same is prior or subsequent thereto and whether the same or of a different type. Subject to the provisions of Section 11.2, none of the undertakings, agreements, warranties, covenants and representations of any Credit Party contained in this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents and no Default or Event of Default by any Credit Party shall be deemed to have been suspended or waived by Agent or any Lender, unless such waiver or suspension is by an instrument in writing signed by an officer of or other authorized employee of Agent and the applicable required Lenders and directed to Borrower specifying such suspension or waiver.

11.5 Remedies.

Agent's and Lenders' rights and remedies under this Agreement shall be cumulative and nonexclusive of any other rights and remedies that Agent or any Lender may have under any other agreement, including the other Loan Documents, by operation of law or otherwise. Recourse to the Collateral shall not be required.

11.6 Severability.

Wherever possible, each provision of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be interpreted in such a manner as to be effective and valid under applicable law, but if any provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall be prohibited by or invalid under applicable law, such provision shall be ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition or invalidity, without invalidating the remainder of such provision or the remaining provisions of this Agreement or such other Loan Document.

11.7 Conflict of Terms.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents by specific reference to the applicable provisions of this Agreement, if any provision contained in this Agreement conflicts with any provision in any of the other Loan Documents, the provision contained in this Agreement shall govern and control.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 11.7(a), in the event of any conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement, the provisions of the Intercreditor Agreement shall govern.

11.8 Confidentiality.

Agent and each Lender agree to use commercially reasonable efforts (equivalent to the efforts Agent or such Lender applies to maintain the confidentiality of its own confidential information) to maintain as confidential all confidential information provided to them by the Credit Parties and designated as confidential, except that Agent and each Lender may disclose such information (a) to Persons employed or engaged by Agent or such Lender; (b) to any bona fide assignee or participant or potential assignee or participant that has agreed to comply with the covenant contained in this Section 11.8 (and any such bona fide assignee or participant or potential assignee or participant may disclose such information to Persons employed or engaged by them as described in clause (a) above); (c) as required or requested by any Governmental Authority or reasonably believed by Agent or such Lender to be compelled by any court order, subpoena or legal or administrative order or process; (d) as, on the advice of Agent's or such Lender's counsel, is required by law; (e) in connection with the exercise of any right or remedy under the Loan Documents or in connection with any Litigation to which Agent or such Lender is a party; or (f) that ceases to be confidential through no fault of Agent or any Lender.

11.9 Governing Law.

Except as otherwise expressly provided in any of the Loan Documents, in all respects, including all matters of construction, validity and performance, the Loan Documents and the obligations shall be governed by, and construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of the Province of Ontario applicable to contracts made and performed in that Province and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein. Each Credit Party hereby consents and agrees that the courts of the Province of Ontario shall have non-exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine any claims or disputes between the Credit Parties, Agent and Lenders pertaining to this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents or to any matter arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents. Nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed or operate to preclude Agent from bringing suit or taking other legal action in any other jurisdiction to realize on the collateral or any other security for the obligations, or to enforce a judgment or other court order. Each Credit Party expressly submits and consents in advance to such jurisdiction in any action or suit commenced in any such court, and each Credit Party hereby waives any objection that such Credit Party may have based upon lack of personal jurisdiction, improper venue or forum non conveniens and hereby consents to the granting of such legal or equitable relief as is deemed appropriate by such court.

11.10 Notices

Except as otherwise provided herein, whenever it is provided herein that any notice, demand, request, consent, approval, declaration or other communication shall or may be given to or served upon any of the parties by any other parties, or whenever any of the parties desires to give or serve upon any other parties any communication with respect to this Agreement, each such notice, demand, request, consent, approval, declaration or other communication shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been validly served, given or delivered (a) upon the earlier of actual receipt and 3 Business Days after deposit with Canada Post, registered mail, return receipt requested, with proper postage prepaid, (b) upon transmission, when sent by telecopy or other similar facsimile transmission (with such telecopy or facsimile promptly confirmed by delivery of a copy by personal delivery or with Canada Post as otherwise provided in this Section 11.10); (c) upon receipt, when sent by electronic mail (with such electronic mail promptly confirmed by delivery of a copy by personal delivery or Canada Post as otherwise provided in this Section 11.10 and such notice, demand, request, consent, approval, declaration or other communication shall be in "pdf" format and shall include the actual signature of the party sending such communication if that signature would be required or customary if the communication was delivered by telecopier; (d) 1 Business Day after deposit with a reputable courier for overnight delivery with all charges prepaid or (e) when delivered, if hand delivered by messenger, all of which shall be addressed to the party to be notified and sent to the address or facsimile number indicated on Annex B or to such other address (or facsimile number) as may be substituted by notice given as herein provided. The giving of any notice required hereunder may be waived in writing by the party entitled to receive such notice. Failure or delay in delivering copies of any notice, demand, request, consent, approval, declaration or other communication to any Person (other than Borrower or Agent) designated in Annex B to receive copies shall in no way adversely affect the effectiveness of such notice, demand, request, consent, approval, declaration or other communication.

11.11 Section Titles.

The Section titles and Table of Contents contained in this Agreement are and shall be without substantive meaning or content of any kind whatsoever and are not a part of the agreement between the parties hereto.

11.12 Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in any number of separate counterparts, each of which shall collectively and separately constitute one agreement.

11.13 Press Releases and Related Matters.

Each Credit Party agrees that neither it nor its Affiliates will in the future issue any press releases or other public disclosure using the name of Tricap or its affiliates or referring to this Agreement, the other Loan Documents without at least 2 Business Days' prior notice to Tricap and without the prior written consent of Tricap unless (and only to the extent that) such Credit Party or Affiliate is required to do so under law and then, in any event, such Credit Party or Affiliate will consult with Tricap before issuing such press release or other public disclosure. Each Credit Party consents to the publication by Agent of press release or advertising material relating to the financing transactions contemplated by this Agreement using its name, product photographs, logo or trademark. Agent shall provide a draft of any such press releases or advertising material to Borrower for review and comment prior to the publication thereof. Agent reserves the right to provide to industry trade organizations information necessary and customary for inclusion in league table measurements.

11.14 Reinstatement.

This Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and continue to be effective should any petition or other proceeding be filed by or against any Credit Party for liquidation or reorganization, should any Credit Party become insolvent or make an assignment for the benefit of any creditor or creditors or should an interim receiver, receiver, receiver and manger or trustee be appointed for all or any significant part of any Credit Party's assets, and shall continue to be effective or to be reinstated, as the case may be, if at any time payment and performance of the Obligations, or any part thereof, is, pursuant to applicable law, rescinded or reduced in amount, or must otherwise be restored or returned by any obligee of the Obligations, whether as a fraudulent preference reviewable transaction or otherwise, all as though such payment or performance had not been made. In the event that any payment, or any part thereof, is rescinded, reduced, restored or returned, the Obligations shall be reinstated and deemed reduced only by such amount paid and not so rescinded, reduced, restored or returned.

11.15 No Strict Construction.

The parties hereto have participated jointly in the negotiation and drafting of this Agreement. In the event an ambiguity or question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties hereto and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favouring or disfavouring any party by virtue of the authorship of any provisions of this Agreement.

11.16 Judgment Currency.

(a) If, for the purpose of obtaining or enforcing judgment against any Credit Party in any court in any jurisdiction, it becomes necessary to convert into any other currency (such other currency being hereinafter in this Section 11.16 referred to as the "Judgment Currency") an amount due under any Loan Document in any currency (the "Obligation Currency") other than the Judgment Currency, the conversion shall be made at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Business Day immediately preceding the date of actual payment of the amount due, in the case of any proceeding in the courts of the Province of Ontario or in the courts of any other jurisdiction that will give effect to such conversion being made on such date, or the date on which the judgment is given, in the case of any proceeding in the courts of any other jurisdiction (the applicable date as of which such conversion is made pursuant to this Section 11.16 being hereinafter in this Section 11.16 referred to as the "Judgment Conversion Date").

(b) If, in the case of any proceeding in the court of any jurisdiction referred to in Section 11.16(a), there is a change in the rate of exchange prevailing between the Judgment Conversion Date and the date of actual receipt for value of the amount due, the applicable Credit Party or Parties shall pay such additional amount (if any, but in any event not a lesser amount) as may be necessary to ensure that the amount actually received in the Judgment Currency, when converted at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of payment, will produce the amount of the Obligation Currency which could have been purchased with the amount of the Judgment Currency stipulated in the judgment or judicial order at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Judgment Conversion Date. Any amount due from any Credit Party under this Section 11.16(b) shall be due as a separate debt and shall not be affected by judgment being obtained for any other amounts due under or in respect of any of the Loan Documents.

(c) The term "rate of exchange" in this Section 11.16 means the rate of exchange at which Agent, on the relevant date at or about 12:00 noon (Toronto time), would be prepared to sell, in accordance with its normal course foreign currency exchange practices, the Obligation Currency against the Judgment Currency.

(d) Unless otherwise specified, all references to dollar amounts in this Agreement shall mean Canadian Dollars.

Assumptions and Fact Reliance

We have assumed:

(a) the genuineness of all signatures on all documents examined by us;

[and the Other Subsidiaries]

(b) the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals;

(c) the conformity to original documents of all documents submitted to us as copies, whether facsimile, electronic, photostatic, certified or otherwise;

(d) the accuracy, currency and completeness of the indices and filing systems maintained at the public offices and registries where we have searched or made enquiries or have caused searches or enquiries to be made and of the information and advice provided to us by appropriate government, regulatory and other like officials with respect to those matters referred to herein; and

(e) that each of the Documents has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by, and constitutes a valid and legally binding obligation of, each of the parties thereto other than the Loan Parties, enforceable against each of the parties thereto other than the Loan Parties in accordance with its terms; ~~and~~ • only relevant for foreign law opinions

(f) ~~that insofar as any obligation under any Document is to be performed in any jurisdiction outside the Provinces of Ontario or Québec its performance will not be illegal or unenforceable by virtue of the laws of that other jurisdiction.~~

We have relied upon a certificate of an officer of each General Partner in its own capacity and in its capacity as general partner of the applicable Limited Partnership and each Corporation, copies of which have been provided to you, with respect to the accuracy of the factual matters contained therein, which factual matters have not been independently investigated or verified by us.

and except for our opinion in paragraph 22,

The opinions expressed below are restricted to the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein, except for ~~(i)~~ paragraphs 1, 11, ~~13,~~13(ii), 14, 18, 19 and 20 that include the laws of the Province of Québec ~~and (ii) paragraphs 2, 4, 6, 7, 9, 13, 14, 15, 16, 21, 28 and 29 that include the laws of the Province of Alberta solely as they relate to the Alberta Corporations~~. Without limiting the generality of the immediately preceding sentence, we express no opinion with respect to the laws of any other jurisdiction to the extent that those laws may govern the validity, perfection, effect of perfection or non-perfection or enforcement of the security interests created by the PPSA Security Documents as a result of the application of Ontario~~, Alberta~~ or Québec conflict of laws rules including, without limitation, sections 5 to ~~8~~8.1 of the Personal Property Security Act (Ontario) (the "Ontario PPSA") ~~or Sections 5 to 8 of the Personal Property Security Act (Alberta) (the "Alberta PPSA")~~ and articles 3102 to 3106 of the Civil Code of Québec (the "Civil Code"). In addition, we express no opinion whether, pursuant to those conflict of laws rules, Ontario~~,~~ or Québec ~~or Alberta~~ laws would govern the validity, perfection, effect of perfection or non-perfection or enforcement of those security interests.

except for our opinion in paragraph 22,

Opinions

Based and relying upon the foregoing, and subject to the qualifications hereinafter expressed, we are of the opinion that, on the date hereof:

Existence and Qualification

1. The Borrower is registered under an Act respecting the legal publicity of sole proprietorships, partnerships and legal persons (Québec) (the "Publicity Act"), has not failed to file an annual declaration under the Publicity Act, has not failed to comply with a request made under Section 38 of the Publicity Act and is not in the process of dissolving under the Publicity Act.

2. Each Corporation ~~(other than CHT Steel and the Alberta Corporations), 6076483 and 6076475~~ is a corporation existing under the laws of Canada and has not been dissolved. ~~CHT Steel is a corporation existing under the laws of the Province of Ontario and has not been dissolved. Each Alberta Corporation is a corporation existing under the laws of the Province of Alberta and has not been dissolved.~~

3. Each Limited Partnership is a limited partnership formed under the Limited Partnerships Act (Ontario) and has not been dissolved.

Corporate Power and Capacity / Due Execution and Delivery

4. Each Loan Party has the power and capacity to carry on its business, as it is currently being conducted.

13. [Enforceability opinion for Documents of Other Subsidiaries]

12. Each Document to which a Limited Partnership is a party constitutes a valid and legally binding obligation of each such Limited Partnership and of each applicable General Partner in its capacity as general partner of the applicable Limited Partnership, enforceable against each of them in accordance with its terms.

14. Please add enforceability opinion re: Pension Agreement as per Section 2.1(k)(iv) of C.A.

Non Contravention

13. The execution and delivery by each Loan Party of each Document to which it is a party and the performance by each Loan Party of its obligations thereunder do not and will not contravene, breach or conflict with (i) any terms or provisions of its Limited Partnership Agreement, constating documents or by-laws, as applicable, or any unanimous shareholder agreement or unanimous shareholder declaration made in respect of it, (ii) any provisions of any statute, rule, law or regulation of the Province of Ontario, the Province of ~~Alberta (with respect to the Alberta Corporations only), the Province of~~ Québec (with respect to the Borrower only), or the laws of Canada applicable therein binding on or applicable to it, (iii) to the best of our knowledge, any judgment, order or decision of any court, tribunal or regulatory or governmental authority or any other authority to which it is subject, or (iv) the agreements listed in Schedule B to which it is a party.

The execution and delivery of the Amending Agreement by the Agent and the Term Agent does not require the execution and delivery of the Amending Agreement by any of the other parties to the Intercreditor Agreement.

14. No authorization, consent, permit or approval of, or other action by or filing, registration, qualification or recording with or notice to, any Governmental Entity having jurisdiction in the Provinces of Ontario, ~~Alberta~~ or Quebec is required in connection with the execution and delivery by each Loan Party of any Document to which it is a party and the performance by such Loan Party of its obligations thereunder, other than registrations of the Debentures at applicable land titles offices and the registration of the financing statements or applications for registrations as described in paragraphs 16, 17 and 20 below.

Security

15. Each PPSA Security Document:

(a) creates a valid security interest in favour of the Agent, for its benefit and for the benefit of the Lenders, in the collateral described therein that is personal property to which the Ontario

PPSA ~~or the Alberta PPSA, as applicable,~~ applies in which the Loan Party which is a party thereto now has rights, and

(b) is sufficient to create a valid security interest in favour of the Agent, for its benefit and for the benefit of the Lenders, in the collateral described therein that is personal property to which the Ontario PPSA ~~or the Alberta PPSA, as applicable,~~ applies in which the Loan Party which is a party thereto hereafter acquires rights when those rights are acquired by such Loan Party, in each case to secure the payment and performance of the obligations described therein as being secured thereby.

16. Registration has been made in all public offices provided for under the laws of the Province of Ontario ~~, the laws of the Province of Alberta~~ or the federal laws of Canada where such registration is necessary to preserve, protect or perfect the security interests created by each PPSA Security Document in favour of the Agent, for its benefit and for the benefit of the Lenders, in the collateral described therein that is personal property to which the Ontario PPSA ~~or the Alberta PPSA, as applicable,~~ applies of each Loan Party described in the applicable PPSA Security Document. The registration particulars for the financing statements filed in respect of the PPSA Security Documents are set out in Schedule C.

17. A financing statement has been registered on behalf of the Agent under the Ontario PPSA against each Other Subsidiary. The details of such registrations are set out in Schedule C. Except as provided in Schedule C, no renewal or amendment of each registration is required under the Ontario PPSA.

18. The Québec Security Document creates a valid conventional hypothec without delivery over the Charged Property (as defined in the Québec Security Document) to which the Civil Code applies in favour of the Agent acting as fondé de pouvoir for the benefit of the Bondholders (as defined in the Québec Security Document) to the extent of the sum of Cdn.~~$450,000,000~~ 450,000,000, with interest thereon at a rate of 25% per annum calculated from the date of execution thereof, to secure the payment and performance of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Québec Security Document).

19. The Agent, acting on its own behalf and also on behalf of the Lenders, is entitled to obtain payment of the Québec Bond with the benefit of the hypothec securing same, in accordance with the pledge and other provisions of the Québec Hypothec on Bonds.

20. We have tendered for registration an application for registration at the Register of Personal and Movable Real Rights (the "RDPRM") against the Borrower in respect of the Québec Security Document. The registration particulars for the application for registration of the Québec Security Document is set out in Schedule C. Upon confirmation of registration of the said application, registration will have been made in all public offices provided for under the laws of the Province of Québec or the federal laws of Canada where such registration is necessary in order for the hypothec created by the Québec Security Document to be rendered opposable to third parties.

21. All necessary corporate or limited partnership action (including action by the applicable General Partner and limited partners of each respective Limited Partnership), as applicable, has been taken by each Loan Party as issuer of the pledged shares (the "Pledged Shares") or the pledged limited partnership units, as applicable, contemplated by the applicable PPSA Security Document (collectively, the "Pledged Collateral") to authorize the pledge and transfer of the Pledged Collateral to the Agent or its nominee, (including the registration on the relevant transfer register ~~of such transfer~~) and any subsequent transfer of such Pledged Collateral by the Agent or its nominee in connection with any disposition of the Pledged Collateral by the Agent or its nominee.

Parties to discuss "opt-in" of partnership units as "securities" under STA

22. ~~Provided~~The security interest of the Agent ~~is acting in good faith and has no notice of any adverse claim affecting the Pledged Shares, the security interest of the Agent in the Pledged Shares~~in the Pledged ~~Securities~~ represented by share certificates (the "Certificated Pledged Securities") has been perfected by control and accordingly has priority over any other security interest ~~in the Pledged Shares perfected by registration or temporarily perfected under the Ontario PPSA, and the Agent has acquired its~~to which the PPSA applies in the Certificated Pledged Securities. If the Agent had no notice of any adverse claim at the time of obtaining control of the Certificated Pledged Securities, the Agent

Searches

25. ~~30.~~ We have conducted, or have caused to be conducted, the searches identified in Schedule D (the "Searches") for recordings, filings or registrations made in the applicable offices of public record, in each case as of the dates set forth in Schedule D. The Searches were conducted in respect of the current legal name and all former legal names of each Loan Party (including, in each case, English and French versions, if applicable) (and of its predecessors by amalgamation or arrangement) (except for the bankruptcy searches described in paragraph (c) of Schedule D, which were conducted only against the current name (including, in each case, English and French versions, if applicable) of each Loan Party). The only recordings, filings or registrations disclosed by the Searches are set forth in Schedule D.

Taxes

26. All payments of principal and interest made by a Loan Party pursuant to the Credit Agreement to a Lender who, for the purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "ITA") and any relevant tax treaty, is not resident or deemed to be resident in Canada, does not and is not deemed to use or hold the Term Loan in carrying on business in Canada, deals at arm's length with each Loan Party (and each partner of a Loan Party where such Loan Party is a partnership), and is not a non-resident insurer carrying on business in Canada and elsewhere, will not be subject to tax imposed under the ITA, including Part XIII of the ITA.

To be revised as per discussions between tax department

Qualifications

The opinions expressed above are subject to the following qualifications:

(a) The enforceability of each Document is subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, arrangement, winding-up, moratorium and other similar laws of general application limiting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally.

~~Personal Property Registry is not effective to perfect the security interest in serial numbered goods, if any. The opinion in paragraph 22 is subject to there being potential adverse claims~~ granted by statute or by a court that may have priority over the security interest granted to the Agent in the Certificated Pledged Securities, including statutory liens, deemed trusts in favour of the Crown or other protected groups, and ~~court-ordered~~ priming charges in ~~insolvency proceedings;~~

This qualification is unnecessary in light of existing language in paragraph 22

(s) The enforceability of the Documents is subject to the provisions of the Limitations Act, 2002 (Ontario) (the "Act") and the provisions of Book Eight of the Civil Code in respect of limitations and we express no opinion as to whether a court might find any provision in any of the Documents to be unenforceable as an attempt to vary, suspend or exclude ~~a~~the ultimate limitation period ~~under~~established by Section 15 of that Act or the Civil Code.

(t) Perfection of the Agent's security interest in the Pledged Shares by possession of the Pledged Shares continues only so long as the Agent or a person on its behalf other than any Loan Party or its agent continues to hold the Pledged Shares as collateral.

...u in light of STA

(u) There is some doubt about the power of the directors of the Corporations to irrevocably bind themselves to the approval of any future transfer of the Pledged Collateral by the Agent or its nominee.

(v) The opinion expressed in paragraph 26 is based on and/or subject to:

(i) the assumption that other than the Documents, there are no other agreements, understandings or matters which would affect the opinion set out in paragraph 26;

(ii) the current provisions of the ITA, and the current regulations thereunder, all specific proposed amendments thereto detailed in public statements issued by the Department of Finance (Canada) prior to the date hereof and our understanding of the administrative policies and assessing practices published in writing by the Canada Revenue Agency and publicly available prior to the date hereof;

(iii) the assumption that each of the Events of Default set out in Section 8 of the Credit Agreement, and the events giving rise to a requirement to make a Prepayment Offer, are commercially reasonable,

Attention Business Editors:
Stelco provides post-restructuring update

RECEIVED

HAMILTON, April 2 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. today provided an information update following the Company's emergence from its Court-supervised restructuring as of midnight at the end of March 31, 2006.

As the Company indicated earlier that day, it had satisfied the conditions to implementation of its restructuring plan under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and the reorganization of its corporate structure under the Canada Business Corporations Act. The transactions contemplated under these plans have been completed.

The new Stelco is positioned to establish itself as a viable and competitive steel producer for the long term. It has a new $600 million asset backed loan facility; a $375 million secured revolving term loan; a low interest loan of $150 million from the Province of Ontario; a plan in place to pay its pension plan deficiency, and $143,000,000 in new equity through the issuance of New Common Shares to Tricap Management Limited, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership, Appaloosa Management L.P., Mr. Rodney Mott (the Company's new president and chief executive officer), and other former creditors that elected to receive additional common share equity in lieu of a portion of the cash distributions which they otherwise would have received.

A new board of directors has assumed office. Its members, as announced on previous occasions, are Messrs. Courtney Pratt (Chairman), Dennis Belcher, Laurie Bennett, Steve Cohn, Pierre Dupuis, Peter Gordon, John Lacey, Cyrus Madon and Tony Molluso.

Upon the Company's emergence from the CCAA process and the assumption of office by the new board of directors, the resolution appointing Rodney Mott as Stelco's president and chief executive officer as of April 1, 2006 took immediate effect.

The board of directors has authorized a personal investment in the Company by Mr. Mott, who will purchase 1 million New Common Shares of the Company at a purchase price of $5.50 per share, for total proceeds of $5.5 million. The transaction is expected to be completed on Monday, April 3, 2006.

The board has also adopted an employee Stock Option Plan subject to necessary approvals. Like similar plans in other companies, it is designed to assist in the retention and motivation of key employees. The Plan is also intended to assist in the Company's pursuit of improved shareholder value and long-term financial performance.

2.61 million New Common Shares are reserved for issuance under the Stock Option Plan. The board has now allotted 1.94 million of those shares, including an allotment to Mr. Mott of stock options for the purchase of 1.04 million of those 1.94 million shares, at an exercise price of $5.50 per New Common Share. The options will vest over a four-year period in equal installments on a semi-annual basis beginning in September 2006.

A number of new securities issued in connection with Stelco's restructuring plan will be listed and commence trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange on Monday, April 3, 2006. The New Common Shares, carrying one vote per share, will trade under the stock symbol STE. The New Secured Floating Rate Notes, to be quoted and traded in U.S. funds, will trade under the stock symbol STE.NT.U. The New Warrants, each of which entitles the holder to purchase one New Common Share at a price of $11.00 on or after June 28, 2006 until March 31, 2013, will trade under the stock symbol STE.WT.

The securities and cash being distributed to Affected Creditors under the Restructuring Plan will be distributed on Monday, April 3, 2006. However, no securities or cash are being distributed to Affected Creditors who held the 9.5% convertible subordinated debentures due 2007 which the Court supervising Stelco's restructuring has ordered be held by the Monitor, in trust, pending resolution of the litigation over the entitlement to these distributions. Also, with respect to Affected Creditors who held Stelco's 8% debentures due 2006 or 10.4% debentures due 2009, $2,200,000 and $1,800,000 respectively of the cash payable to those Affected Creditors has been paid to the respective trustees of those debentures, in trust, in respect of the litigation over the entitlement to the distributions as between the Corporation's previous debentureholders.

After taking into account the issuance of securities under the Restructuring Plan and to Mr. Mott and other employees, Stelco will then have outstanding:

-- 27,100,000 New Common Shares;
-- 2,269,600 New Warrants; and
-- US$235,070,000 of New Secured Floating Rate Notes,

plus options to purchase 1.94 million of the Company's New Common Shares.

Interest on the New Secured Floating Rate Notes will be payable in semi-annual installments on March 31 and September 30 of each year and will float with the London Interbank Offering Rate. The interest rate applicable from March 31, 2006 to September 30, 2006 is 10.61%.

Copies of indentures in respect of the New Secured Floating Rate Notes and the New Warrants will be available at www.mccarthy.ca/en/ccaa/ today and will be posted on www.sedar.com early in the coming week.

SCHEDULE

Stelco provides post-restructuring update

HAMILTON, April 2 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. today provided an information update following the Company's emergence from its Court-supervised restructuring as of midnight at the end of March 31, 2006. As the Company indicated earlier that day, it had satisfied the conditions to implementation of its restructuring plan under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and the reorganization of its corporate structure under the Canada Business Corporations Act. The transactions contemplated under these plans have been completed.

The new Stelco is positioned to establish itself as a viable and competitive steel producer for the long term. It has a new $600 million asset backed loan facility; a $375 million secured revolving term loan; a low interest loan of $150 million from the Province of Ontario; a plan in place to pay its pension plan deficiency, and $143,000,000 in new equity through the issuance of New Common Shares to Tricap Management Limited, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership, Appaloosa Management L.P., Mr. Rodney Mott (the Company's new president and chief executive officer), and other former creditors that elected to receive additional common share equity in lieu of a portion of the cash distributions which they otherwise would have received.

A new board of directors has assumed office. Its members, as announced on previous occasions, are Messrs. Courtney Pratt (Chairman), Dennis Belcher, Laurie Bennett, Steve Cohn, Pierre Dupuis, Peter Gordon, John Lacey, Cyrus Madon and Tony Molluso. Upon the Company's emergence from the CCAA process and the assumption of office by the new board of directors, the resolution appointing Rodney Mott as Stelco's president and chief executive officer as of April 1, 2006 took immediate effect.

The board of directors has authorized a personal investment in the Company by Mr. Mott, who will purchase 1 million New Common Shares of the Company at a purchase price of $5.50 per share, for total proceeds of $5.5 million. The transaction is expected to be completed on Monday, April 3, 2006.

The board has also adopted an employee Stock Option Plan subject to necessary approvals. Like similar plans in other companies, it is designed to assist in the retention and motivation of key employees. The Plan is also intended to assist in the Company's pursuit of improved shareholder value and long-term financial performance. 2.61 million New Common Shares are reserved for issuance under the Stock Option Plan. The board has now allotted 1.94 million of those shares, including an allotment to Mr. Mott of stock options for the purchase of 1.04 million of those 1.94 million shares, at an exercise price of $5.50 per New Common Share. The options will vest over a four-year period in equal installments on a semi-annual basis beginning in September 2006.

A number of new securities issued in connection with Stelco's restructuring plan will be listed and commence trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange on Monday, April 3, 2006. The New Common Shares, carrying one vote per share, will trade under the stock symbol STE. The New Secured Floating Rate Notes, to be quoted and traded in U.S. funds, will trade under the stock symbol STE.NT.U. The New Warrants, each of which entitles the holder to purchase one New Common Share at a price of $11.00 on or after June 28, 2006 until March 31, 2013, will trade under the stock symbol STE.WT.

The securities and cash being distributed to Affected Creditors under the Restructuring Plan will be distributed on Monday, April 3, 2006. However, no securities or cash are being distributed to Affected Creditors who held the 9.5% convertible subordinated debentures due 2007 which the Court supervising Stelco's restructuring has ordered be held by the Monitor, in trust, pending resolution of the litigation over the entitlement to these distributions.

Also, with respect to Affected Creditors who held Stelco's 8% debentures due 2006 or 10.4% debentures due 2009, $2,200,000 and $1,800,000 respectively of the cash payable to those Affected Creditors has been paid to the respective trustees of those debentures, in trust, in respect of the litigation over the entitlement to the distributions as between the Corporation's previous debentureholders.

After taking into account the issuance of securities under the Restructuring Plan and to Mr. Mott and other employees, Stelco will then have outstanding:

-- 27,100,000 New Common Shares;
-- 2,269,600 New Warrants; and
-- US$235,070,000 of New Secured Floating Rate Notes,

plus options to purchase 1.94 million of the Company's New Common Shares.

Interest on the New Secured Floating Rate Notes will be payable in semi-annual installments on March 31 and September 30 of each year and will float with the London Interbank Offering Rate. The interest rate applicable from March 31, 2006 to September 30, 2006 is 10.61%. Copies of indentures in respect of the New Secured Floating Rate Notes and the New Warrants will be available at www.mccarthy.ca/en/ccaa/ today and will be posted on www.sedar.com early in the coming week.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis ("MD&A") is dated May 10, 2006 and is in respect of the consolidated financial statements of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the quarter ended March 31, 2006. The purpose of Stelco's MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial situation and future prospects, focusing on the Corporation's Integrated Steel segment. Stelco sold all of its Mini-mill and Manufactured Products segments by February 1, 2006 – see "Discontinued Operations" below for additional comments. The March 31, 2006 Consolidated Statement of Financial Position has been prepared on a fresh start basis (see Note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and, as such, is not comparable to prior periods. All other financial statements contained in the interim Consolidated Financial Statements are comparable. The Corporation prepares its interim consolidated financial statements (the "Consolidated Financial Statements") in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"). The following MD&A should be read in conjunction with the MD&A and annual audited Consolidated Financial Statements and the accompanying notes contained in the Corporation's 2005 Annual Report, and with the interim Consolidated Financial Statements contained in this report. Additional information about Stelco is available in the Corporation's 2005 Annual Information Form, which can be accessed from SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of May 10, 2006. Events occurring after that date could render the information covered herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

Forward-Looking Statements

This MD&A, including the documents incorporated by reference, contains forward-looking statements. Often, but not always, forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or state that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved. Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Examples of such statements include, but are not limited to factors relating to the future of the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including (1) Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs; (2) labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; (3) pension matters; (4) consolidation in the steel industry; (5) changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; (6) new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; (7) Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; (8) the volatility of selling prices for steel; (9) international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; (10) employee matters, including the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; (11) development of new products; and (12) planned capital expenditures; (13) currency fluctuations in the US dollar and its impact on steel pricing, and costs. Actual results and developments are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in this MD&A. Such forward-looking statements are based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of, steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update these forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Stelco Inc. operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. The Corporation is one of Canada's largest publicly traded steel companies. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which service customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction, and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties, which provide to the integrated steel plants approximately 90% of their iron ore requirements as feedstock in the steelmaking process.

CCAA PLAN, RELATED AGREEMENTS, AND NEW FINANCING

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the Consolidated Financial Statements.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation's Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. The final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRN's") in the U.S. dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian;
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000;
- Warrants for 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares, at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (see Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the CCAA Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006, that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016.

The key terms of the Pension Agreement are as follows:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
  Years 1 – 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006;
  Years 6 – 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount; and
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015, provided that any future benefit improvements required to be funded in accordance with the PBA will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

New Province Note

The Province has provided Stelco with an advance by way of the New Province Note in the amount of $150 million. The Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum and is repayable on December 31, 2015 (subject to an extension to March 31, 2016 in certain circumstances) and can be repaid in cash or Stelco common shares. The Note is subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before that date and provided there is no Event of Default under the Note. See Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Federal Government Grant

The Government of Canada announced on November 23, 2005, that it would provide a $30 million co-generation grant. The federal contribution represents approximately 60% of the initial cost of the Corporation's near-term cogeneration spending. Since the time of the commitment, there has been a change in Government. The Corporation has initiated a dialogue with the new government in order to reconfirm and secure the $30 million commitment. To date, the grant has not been reconfirmed.

Corporate Reorganization

On February 14, 2006, the Court approved a reorganization of the Predecessor pursuant to the CBCA Plan. As a result, specific assets and liabilities of the Predecessor's business were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships upon implementation of the CBCA Plan at the time of its emergence from the Court-supervised restructuring process.

The following business units of the Predecessor were established and the Predecessor transferred assets and liabilities to these business units which were formed as limited partnerships ("LPs"): Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership; Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership; two LPs related to energy assets (primarily a future business); two surplus land LPs; two coke production facility LPs; and an LP related to the Corporation's mining interests. Upon reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships.

DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

The Corporation completed the sale of AltaSteel Ltd., Norambar Inc., Stelwire, and Stelfil Ltée (collectively the "Non-Core Subsidiaries") during the first quarter of 2006 for gross proceeds of $107 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). A $40 million net pre-tax loss was recorded on the disposition of Stelco's shares in the Non-Core Subsidiaries. This loss is included in discontinued operations on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss). The net pre-tax loss is comprised of:

- $145 million settlement losses relating to the pension and other benefit plans of the Non-Core Subsidiaries; and
- $105 million gain on the sale of the shares of the Non-Core Subsidiaries.

AltaSteel Ltd.

The shares of AltaSteel Ltd. and its corresponding investment in both MOLY-COP Canada and GenAlta Recycling Inc. were sold to Moly Cop Steel Inc., an affiliate of Scaw International Sarl. The sale closed on January 31, 2006 for gross proceeds of $77 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). Stelco recorded a net pre-tax gain of $12 million comprised of a $36 million gain on the sale of Stelco's investment in AltaSteel Ltd., partially offset by a settlement loss of $24 million relating to the pension and other benefit plans of AltaSteel Ltd.

Norambar Inc., Stelwire, and Stelfil Ltée

Mittal Canada Inc. purchased the shares of Norambar Inc., Stelwire, and Stefil Ltée from Stelco on February 1, 2006 for a gross purchase price of $30 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). Stelco recorded a net pre-tax loss of $52 million comprised of a settlement loss of $121 million relating to the pension and other benefit plan of these subsidiaries, partially offset by a $69 million gain on the disposition of Stelco's investment.

 "Operating earnings (loss)" is a non-GAAP financial measure used by management to assess the performance of the Corporation. The Corporation's use of this measure may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. In accordance with Canadian GAAP, a reconciliation of Operating earnings (loss) to Net earnings (loss) is presented above.

All note references in this document are to the Corporation's March 31, 2006 Consolidated Financial Statements.

All information stated below excludes the discontinued operations of the Corporation. The continuing operations are the Integrated Steel segment, which comprise those business units that include and are primarily associated with the Hamilton and Lake Erie steel plants and their raw materials properties. The primary markets served by this segment are automotive, transportation, construction, manufacturing, pipe and tubular manufacturers, steel service centres, and steel fabricators.

OVERVIEW

Overall revenue per ton decreased by 14% in first quarter 2006 compared to first quarter 2005. This was due to the renewal of customer contracts for 2006 at lower prices than the previous year as well as lower spot market prices. Demand and pricing in the first quarter remained stable when compared to fourth quarter 2005 as steel service centre inventory levels remain at lower levels.

The planned fourth quarter 2005 Phase 2 upgrade to the Lake Erie hot strip mill extended longer than planned, negatively impacting the facility's overall production, the volume and mix of products shipped, and revenue from sales in the first quarter of 2006, as well as the fourth quarter of 2005.

Financial Information

Net Sales and Costs

Quarter ended March 31, 2006

Net sales for the quarter ended March 31, 2006 were 7% lower than the same quarter of 2005 mainly due to a 14% decrease in average revenue per ton, partly offset by an 7% increase in steel shipments. The first quarter decrease in revenue and average revenue per ton was primarily due to:

- renewal of customer contracts at lower prices and lower spot prices;
- the fourth quarter 2005 Lake Erie hot strip mill outage resulting in a lower value-added mix of sales mainly due to increased slab sales;
- the negative impact of the higher Canadian dollar; and
- the first quarter 2005 included selling price surcharges implemented to cover high raw material and energy costs.

Costs in first quarter 2006 were up 17% compared with the same quarter 2005 and average cost per ton was up 9% primarily due to:

- higher spending for repairs and maintenance, purchased services and supplies;
- higher natural gas, coal and ore, and zinc costs;
- the flow through of high-cost inventories produced in the previous quarter; and
- the impact of the fourth quarter 2005 Lake Erie hot strip mill upgrade, which resulted in high-cost outside conversion of slabs to hot roll coils.

The above cost increases were partially offset by:

- lower purchased coke and scrap costs;
- lower electricity costs, which were positively impacted by the provincial government rebate program;
- a lower value-added mix of sales; and
- reduced labour costs at Hamilton resulting from the continuing attrition of the workforce.

Reorganization Items

Reorganization items incurred in the first quarter of 2006 amounted to $21 million, of which $12 million related to professional fees (including fees to professionals representing other stakeholders) and $9 million for success fees that were triggered upon implementation of the CCAA Plan and emergence from CCAA and paid to a number of the Corporation's advisors. Comparatively, $21 million was incurred in the first quarter of 2005, which included professional fees of $10 million and a break fee of $11 million paid to Deutsche Bank. Professional fees will continue to be incurred into the second quarter of 2006 but are expected to be substantially lower than amounts incurred in previous quarters.

Financial Expense

Total financial expense of $15 million was incurred during the first quarter of 2006 as compared to $14 million in the same quarter of 2005. The difference relates predominantly to higher interim borrowings on the Corporation's short-term credit facility in 2006.

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

While the Corporation and its subsidiaries recognize future income tax assets where applicable, a future income tax asset valuation allowance of $20 million and $8 million was incurred in the first quarters of 2006 and 2005 respectively related to continuing operations.

Operational Information

Trade

Imports reached 54% of apparent domestic steel consumption in January, which is a record high. Domestic producers, including Stelco, continue to lose market share. Import permit data for first quarter 2006 indicates that steel imports from China increased almost 23% over the same period a year earlier.

On March 30, 2006, the Canadian Border Services Agency ("CBSA") completed the first phase of a sunset review of the August 1, 2001 ruling by the Canadian International Trade Tribunal ("CITT") that imports of hot rolled sheet from certain countries had injured the Canadian domestic industry. The CBSA ruled that the termination of the finding would likely result in a resumption of dumping by exporters from Brazil, China, Chinese Taipei, India, South Africa, and Ukraine. At the same time it ruled that dumping is unlikely to resume from Bulgaria, Macedonia, and Serbia and Montenegro. The CITT will now assess the likelihood of continued injury as a result of imports from the first set of countries and will convene a hearing starting June 19, 2006 in Ottawa. A ruling is expected before the end of July.

On March 8, 2006, the U.S. Department of Commerce ("DOC") issued its final determination in its 11th Administrative Review of Canadian shipments of Corrosion Resistant Steel Sheet (primarily galvanized) and assigned a 3.08% duty deposit rate to Stelco. That rate is higher than the 'de minimis' rates found in the 10th review and in the preliminary for the 11th review, reflecting a change in DOC methodology.

The U.S. International Trade Commission ("ITC") has begun a sunset review of the same Corrosion Resistant Steel Sheet ruling which covers certain other countries as well as Canada. The Corporation intends to participate in the review process in order to demonstrate that imports into the U.S. from Canada are not a continuing cause of injury to U.S. producers. The public hearing is scheduled for October 16, 2006 in Washington, D.C.

Health, Safety and Environment

Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP are both International Standards Organization ("ISO") 14001 registered. The compliance audits of Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP ISO 14001 systems were satisfactorily completed. This system provides the framework for the implementation, maintenance, and continuous improvement process for managing environmental aspects at both integrated plants.

It is anticipated the Hamilton Steel LP sinter plant will achieve reductions in its dioxin emissions in 2006. In the fourth quarter 2005, using new trial technology, dioxin emissions were reduced to levels below limits that apply after 2010. Permanent equipment is now being installed to implement this technology.

Equipment Upgrades

An outage of approximately 10 days, including commissioning, is scheduled for June, 2006 to install the sixth finishing stand at the Lake Erie Steel LP hot strip mill as the next stage of the Phase 2 upgrade. The sixth finishing stand is expected to be fully functional six weeks after the outage. The incremental drive conversion and the quick roll change are scheduled to be completed by the first half of 2007.

Facilities/Competitiveness

The cold rolled and coated products facilities at Hamilton Steel LP are registered to ISO/TS 16949. The Bar Product mills at Hamilton Steel LP, and the 2050 hot strip mill at Lake Erie Steel LP are scheduled to be registered to ISO/TS 16949 in the 2nd and 3rd quarters of 2006 respectively. ISO/TS 16949 is an international quality management system standard developed by the International Automotive Task Force and the Japan Automotive Manufacturers Association in conjunction with the international standards community. As internal suppliers to the finishing mills, the Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP blast furnace and steelmaking facilities are scheduled to be registered to ISO 9001 by the end of 2006. By meeting these standards, Stelco demonstrates its ability to consistently provide product that meets customer requirements, and enhance customer satisfaction through continual improvement of processes, products and services.

The Corporation's previously announced strategic capital spending plan is currently under review by the Corporation's new management.

Labour Matters

The Hamilton Steel LP labour contract with USW Local 1005 will expire on July 31, 2006. Negotiations are expected to commence mid-May with the objective of achieving a new contract prior to this expiration.

SUMMARY OF QUARTERLY RESULTS

The following table shows the Corporation's quarterly financial performance over the last eight quarters. The Corporation does not typically experience significant seasonal fluctuations in revenues.

Net Sales and Costs

Quarter 1, 2006 Compared to Quarter 4, 2005

Net sales for the first quarter of 2006 were 11% higher than fourth quarter 2005. Steel shipments were 10% higher than fourth quarter 2005, while revenue per ton was 1% higher. Fourth quarter 2005 revenue and shipments were negatively impacted by the Phase 2 upgrade of the Lake Erie hot strip mill.

Cost per ton in first quarter 2006 was down 1% compared with fourth quarter 2005 primarily due to:

- lower natural gas and purchased coke costs;
- lower electricity costs, which were positively impacted by the provincial government rebate program;
- lower repairs and maintenance and supplies spending; and
- increased production levels at Lake Erie and Hamilton.

The above cost decreases were partially offset by:

- a higher value-added mix of sales; and
- the flow through of high-cost inventories produced in the previous quarter.

RISK FACTORS

Pricing

Factors affecting volatility of selling prices include:

- the strength of the economy in the United States;
- the impact China may have globally as its economy grows and the relationship of its consumption of steel relative to its growth in steelmaking capacity;
- the impact of imports and threat of imports from Europe and Asia on North American selling prices;
- the U.S./Canadian dollar exchange rate;
- the cyclical nature of the steel industry;
- material substitution when steel prices are relatively high.

Due to price volatility, the Corporation cannot rely on high selling prices being sustainable in the longer term and believes it cannot compete effectively in the longer term unless it takes steps to lower its overall costs.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability, which includes improved productivity and a leaner management structure with fewer layers between the customer and the Corporation's senior management. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Labour Matters

The Corporation's workforce is predominantly unionized and is covered by various labour agreements. The Hamilton Steel collective bargaining agreement with USW Local 1005 will expire on July 31, 2006. There can be no assurance that labour difficulties at any of Stelco's business units will not result in a significant loss of production and revenue and have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, and results of operations at Stelco.

Pension Plans

Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement to provide for funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. See "Pension Plan Funding Arrangements" under "CCAA Plan, Related Agreements, and New Financing – Agreements" for further details. Despite the level of contributions required under the Pension Agreement, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses and benefit changes.

Environmental Compliance

The Corporation is subject to substantial and evolving environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control, and the generation, handling, storage, transportation, and disposal of toxic and hazardous substances. These laws and regulations vary depending on the location of the facility and can fall within federal, provincial, or municipal jurisdictions.

Stelco regularly reviews and audits the operating practices of each business to monitor compliance with the Corporation's health, safety and environmental policies and legal requirements. The Corporation believes that future costs relating to environmental compliance can be dealt with in a manner such that they will not have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position. There is always the possibility, however, that unforeseen changes, such as in the laws or enforcement policies of relevant government bodies, or the discovery of changed conditions on the Corporation's real property or its operations could result in an increase in the costs of environmental compliance that could result in a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

Stelco is heavily dependent upon the continuous operation of its plants and equipment. There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. Stelco maintains first party property and boiler and machinery breakdown insurance, both of which include business interruption coverage, to address some of these exposures to the extent of the limits of coverage and the terms of the individual insurance contracts.

Technology

The Corporation is subject to competition from new technological developments used by other steel producers.

Expenditures in 2006 are expected to include approximately $70 million related to the Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership hot strip mill upgrade.

Stelco must continue to improve both its product and process technologies in order to achieve a competitive cost structure and maintain its competitive position in the high value-added automotive market. In particular, failure to meet the automotive industry's ever-more demanding requirements for product quality and service, and failure to provide the new grades of advanced high-strength steels will seriously jeopardize Stelco's long-term participation in this market. There is no assurance that Stelco will be able to improve its product and process technologies or that improvements, once implemented, will meet the automotive market's quality and service requirements. Refer to "Forward-Looking Statements" on page 1.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers if it does not participate in the steel industry consolidation.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

The Corporation's operations require substantial amounts of raw materials and energy including coal, iron ore, coke, scrap, natural gas, electricity, and other inputs. The price and availability of such raw materials and inputs are subject to market forces where the Corporation does not have ownership interests and, in some cases, to government regulations and, accordingly, are subject to change. Increases in the price of natural gas, coal, scrap, and coke can have a significant negative impact on the Corporation's costs.

The Corporation produces approximately 85% of its annual coke requirements through its own coke ovens. However, it purchases 100% of its metallurgical coal requirements (raw material for the coke ovens) at market prices. Stelco has secured 100% of its 2006 metallurgical coal requirements under purchase contracts.

Through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its 2006 requirements at its cost of production.

The Corporation's financial performance is exposed to price volatility associated with the electricity commodity market. The Government of Ontario introduced competition to the electricity market on May 1, 2002, giving rise to uncertainty of prices since commodity prices are now determined based on hourly supply and demand requirements. Large industrial end-users such as Stelco have been provided with some relief through a rebate program called the "Rebate on OPG Non-Prescribed Assets". On February 9, 2006, the provincial government announced they have extended the rebate program to April 30, 2009. Stelco's strategic plan includes co-generation facilities that will minimize Stelco's short- and long-term exposure to energy price fluctuations.

Trade Regulations

A number of foreign steel producers have in the past exported large quantities of steel to North America, impairing Stelco's ability to sell its products and, accordingly, its profitability. This steel has often been sold at levels that are below cost or below home market price, a practice known as "dumping". Existing trade laws and regulations in Canada may be inadequate to prevent such trade practices. Some foreign steel producers are owned, controlled or subsidized by foreign governments. Decisions by these foreign producers to continue production at marginal facilities may be influenced to a greater degree by political and economic policy considerations than by prevailing market conditions and may further contribute to excess global capacity. Moreover, trade regulation in other countries, particularly in the United States, could materially adversely affect Stelco through the imposition of dumping duties which would reduce or effectively eliminate their access to certain steel markets.

Employees

Approximately 27% of Stelco's salaried workforce and 45% of the hourly workforce at Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership are eligible to retire under the current provisions of the defined pension benefit plans. A further 34% and 46% respectively of these groups could retire in the next five years under current eligibility provisions. Stelco is evaluating the necessary manpower requirements consistent with its succession plans and attrition rates.

Retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees, and the ability to attract and retain new employees where replacement is considered necessary, is essential to Stelco's continued operations.

Enterprise Resource Planning Systems

The implementation of a new order flow ERP system which was planned for second quarter 2006 was cancelled in May, 2006. Management is of the view that the cost/benefit analysis does not justify continuation of this project. This decision will be considered in the allocation of fair values to specific assets as part of the fresh start accounting. Existing systems remain available for these applications.

Currency Fluctuations

Stelco is a net purchaser of U.S. dollars. Accordingly, any strengthening of the Canadian dollar results in a benefit to Stelco for its net purchases of U.S. funds. However, more than offsetting the above is the negative effect on Stelco's domestic sales revenue due to the following reasons. Firstly, many of Stelco's domestic customers export their products into the U.S. Thus, a stronger Canadian dollar can cause those customers to be less competitive in the U.S. and the customers may resist price increases or request steel price reductions from Stelco. Secondly, U.S. exports of steel into Canada have historically forced domestic steel prices in Canadian dollars downward. Finally, the North American benchmark for spot market prices for certain products, such as hot rolled, are established and determined in U.S. dollars. A strong Canadian dollar results in lower benchmark prices in Canadian dollars for 2006.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation will be determined by a number of factors, including without limitation, market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund critical capital projects, pension issues, and labour negotiations or disputes.

With the recapitalization of the Corporation upon emergence from CCAA, interest will be serviced in accordance with the terms and conditions of the related debt obligations. While under CCAA protection, the previous debt obligations were stayed and therefore did not impact cash flow.

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

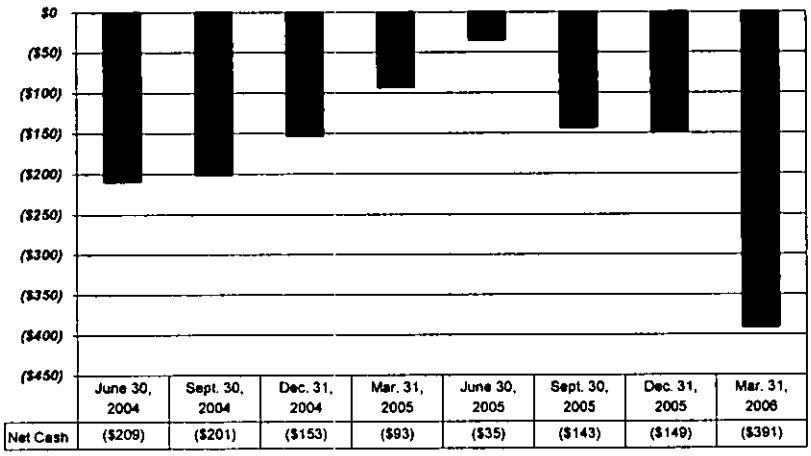
(b) Includes the $600 ABL facility and the $375 Secured Revolving Term Loan.



(c) Includes the $350 million credit facility and the $75 million DIP Credit Agreement.

(d) In accordance with Canadian GAAP, the borrowings of the Successor are classified predominately as long-term liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position, and borrowings of the Predecessor are classified as short-term liabilities. See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

* Represents the continuing operations (Integrated Steel segment) of the Predecessor.

The following graph reflects the quarterly net cash deficiency (cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash less lines of credit drawn down) of the Successor's and Predecessor's continuing operations over the previous eight quarters.

Net Cash Deficiency

	June 30, 2004	Sept. 30, 2004	Dec. 31, 2004	Mar. 31, 2005	June 30, 2005	Sept. 30, 2005	Dec. 31, 2005	Mar. 31, 2006
Net Cash	($209)	($201)	($153)	($93)	($35)	($143)	($149)	($391)

Effect of the CCAA Plan

The Corporation's net cash position decreased significantly during the first quarter of 2006. Net cash of $3 million was generated from operating activities during the first quarter of 2006 (outlined below). Borrowings of $245 million were required for the implementation of the CCAA Plan. The pension contribution of $382 million and the deferred financing fees of $13 million were significant cash outflows that were partially funded by $150 million of proceeds from the issue of the New Province Note.

The net cash flow and working capital analyses that follow exclude the cash flows associated with the implementation of the CCAA Plan and cash flows associated with discontinued operations. Only continuing operating activities that influence the Corporation's liquidity and capital resources during the first quarters of 2006 and 2005 are discussed.

Financing Arrangements

Stelco Inc.

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million Debtor-in-Possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL is additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral, but will not exceed $600 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with Tricap (a shareholder – see CCAA Plan, Related Agreements, and New Financing – Plan Sponsor Agreement) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

Net Cash Flow

Three months ended March 31 (in millions)	2006	2005	Favourable (Unfavourable)

Other – net	(1)	–	(1)
Change in net cash position	$ 3	$ 76	$ (73)

 Restated – see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Net cash of $3 million was generated during the three months ended March 31, 2006. Net proceeds of $107 million received primarily from the sale of the Non-Core Subsidiaries were primarily offset by capital expenditures ($49 million), operating results ($40 million), and debt repayments ($12 million). Overall $73 million more cash was required during the first quarter of 2006 as compared to the same quarter of 2005. Operating results deteriorated significantly ($157 million), and coupled with capital spending ($32 million), exceeded the $107 million of net proceeds received primarily from the sale of Non-Core Subsidiaries.

Working Capital

While a number of components fluctuated substantially, net working capital did not represent a significant use or source of cash during the first quarters of 2006 or 2005.

Quarter ended March 31, 2006

Three months ended March 31 (in millions)	2006	2005	Favourable (Unfavourable)
Cash provided by (used for)
Accounts receivable	$ (127)	$ (92)	$ (35)
Inventory	102	55	47
Accounts payable	9	(4)	13
Other	14	23	(9)
Total	$ (2)	$ (18)	$ 16

Those components of working capital that changed substantially are discussed below.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable required $127 million during the first quarter of 2006 and $92 million in the same quarter of 2005. The primary driver was stronger shipments in the latter half of each of the first quarters which resulted in more sales being billed to customers than was collected from lower sales in the latter half of each of the preceding fourth quarters.

Inventories

$102 million was sourced from inventories during the first quarter of 2006 primarily from the seasonal draw down of raw material inventories due to the closure of the shipping season. In addition, slab inventories that were temporarily built up during the outage at the Lake Erie hot strip mill, were converted into coils and sold during the quarter.

Cash provided during the first quarter of 2005 was $55 million. The most significant source of cash was from the seasonal draw down of raw materials while the shipping season was closed. Partially offsetting this was an increase in steel inventories mainly due to high input costs.

Other

During the first quarter of 2005, $23 million of cash was provided relating primarily due to an increase in income taxes payable as the Corporation had utilized a majority of its loss carry-forwards at that time and was taxable in some of its jurisdictions. The income tax liability exceeded the required tax installments, which were based on the previous year's estimated income tax liability.

Investing Activities

The Corporation closed the sales of the Non-Core Subsidiaries for gross proceeds of $107 million. Partially offsetting this cash flow were expenditures on capital projects ($49 million), primarily the Phase 2 expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill, and projects at the Corporation's mining-related interests.

Capital expenditures during the first quarter of 2005 were $17 million. Spending was largely targeted towards the Lake Erie Phase 2 hot strip mill upgrade, the enterprise resource planning systems, and projects at the Corporation's various mining interests.

Financing Activities

During the first quarter of 2006, $6 million received as partial payment related to the sale of the Hamilton plate mill assets was used to make a repayment against the debt associated with that facility.

Regularly scheduled repayments of long-term debt were $6 million in the first quarters of both 2006 and 2005.

Contractual Obligations

The following is a summary of the principal obligations of the Corporation at March 31, 2006:

(In millions)	Total	2006	2007–2008	2009–2010	>2010
Long-term debt [1]	$ 456	$ 11	$ 20	$ –	$ 425
Revolving term loans [2]	427	–	392	35	–
Capital leases	7	4	2	1	–
Operating leases	23	10	9	3	1
Purchase obligations and other commitments	577	252	156	110	59
Total	$ 1,490	$ 277	$ 579	$ 149	$ 485

(1) See Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.
(2) See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.

The implementation of the Plan had the effect of extending the maturity of $275 million of stayed liabilities to March 31, 2016, rather than being due immediately or subject to immediate acceleration, as they were exchanged for FRN's. The New Province Note, due December 31, 2015 (subject to a possible 3-month extension) governs the $150 million cash advance from the Province. Both of these liabilities are reflected at face value and categorized as long-term debt in the contractual obligations table above in the post-2010 period. Purchase obligations and other commitments are for coal, electricity, natural gas, oxygen, certain operating services and equipment, and information systems support services.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

Other than the operating leases included in the Contractual Obligations above, the Corporation had no off-balance sheet arrangements at either March 31, 2006 or 2005 or December 31, 2005.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to mitigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in the first quarters of 2006 or 2005, and accordingly no such financial instruments were outstanding at either March 31, 2006 or 2005.

Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B Common Shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on Plan implementation with no value being attributed to them (see Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

New Common Shares

Under the Plan and in accordance with the Plan Sponsor Agreement (see Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements), the Corporation issued 26,100,000 New Common Shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. The Affected Creditors received 6,364,000 New Common Shares as partial consideration for settlement of their Affected Claims. The Equity Sponsors received 19,736,000 New Common Shares in exchange for proceeds of $108.5 million.

On April 2, 2006, the Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 New Common Shares from Treasury for total consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Accounting Changes Effective in 2006

Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities

Upon emergence from CCAA at the end of the day on March 31, 2006, there was a substantial realignment of the equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation and the Corporation was required, under Canadian GAAP, to adopt "fresh start" reporting in accordance with CICA Handbook section 1625 – Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities. Under "fresh start" reporting, the Corporation is undertaking a comprehensive revaluation, based on the reorganization value as established and confirmed in the Plan, of its assets and liabilities by assigning a new fair value cost to all of the Corporation's assets and liabilities. Once the Corporation has completed this revaluation, the Statement of Financial Position will not be comparable to those previously reported (see Notes 3 and 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ASSUMPTIONS AND ESTIMATES

The Corporation's critical accounting assumptions and estimates are described in the MD&A of the 2005 Annual Report. The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP.

The preparation of these Consolidated Financial Statements requires the Corporation to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements. With the exception of the following, the Corporation has not made any significant changes in the Corporation's critical accounting assumptions and estimates from those disclosed in the MD&A of the 2005 Annual Report.

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 are reported at their estimated fair value, with the exception of future income taxes (see Note 10 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pensions and other post-employment benefits (see Note 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The determination of the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Successor has not been finalized as at the date of the preparation of this MD&A. Accordingly there can be no assurance of the estimates, assumptions, and values reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Successor as at March 31, 2006, will result in their final fair values (see Note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Intangible assets will be recognized at their fair value effective March 31, 2006, including those identified through the fresh start process but not previously recorded. This process is not complete at this time (see Note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets are currently under review as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets may have their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Segmented Information

The Corporation is currently reviewing its segmented reporting requirements in accordance with the guidance under CICA Handbook Section 1701 – Segment Disclosures, as a result of the Corporate Reorganization outlined in Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Previously, the Corporation's segments included the Integrated Steel segment, the Mini-mill segment and the Manufactured Products segment. Stelco sold all of its Mini-mill and Manufactured Products segments by February 1, 2006 – see "Discontinued Operations".

OUTLOOK

Entering second quarter 2006, management expects continued strength in all end markets, with customer inventories at or below target levels. Stelco's steel mill capacity is fully committed through the second quarter.

Stelco's new President and Chief Executive Officer, Rodney Mott, has appointed four new senior managers with backgrounds at U.S.-based International Steel Group and Nucor to head up certain key areas of Stelco's business.

The new senior managers are:

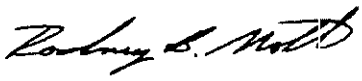
Bill McKenzie, Vice President, Stelco, and General Manager, Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership;

Jerome Nelson, Vice President, Sales and Marketing, Stelco;

Karen Smith, Vice President, Human Resources, Stelco; and

Gordon Spelich, Vice President, Purchasing and Logistics, Stelco.

The emphasis will be to lower costs and improve productivity in order to ensure long-term viability and a leaner and more effective management structure.



An outage of approximately 10 days, including commissioning, is scheduled for June 2006 to install the sixth finishing stand at the Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership hot strip mill as the next stage of the Phase 2 upgrade. The sixth finishing stand is expected to be fully functional six weeks after the outage.

The application of "fresh start accounting" will impact future financial results. All assets and liabilities of the Corporation have been revalued to their estimated fair value at the time of implementation of the CCAA Plan. Some of the impacts include amortization changes as a result of revaluing fixed assets, cost of sales increases as a result of the revaluation of inventories from the lower of cost and net realizable value to fair value (impact should be limited to the second quarter), and a decrease in pension and other post-employment benefits expense as previously unamortized actuarial losses and past service costs were eliminated from the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

Please refer to "Forward-Looking Statements" on page 1.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

1. BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Stelco Inc. operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. The Corporation is one of Canada's largest publicly traded steel companies. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada, which service customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction, and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties, which provide to the integrated steel plants approximately 90% of their iron ore requirements as feedstock in the steelmaking process.

2. THE PLAN AND RELATED AGREEMENTS

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants, and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation's Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

As discussed in Note 1 to the 2005 Consolidated Financial Statements, under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian;
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000;
- Warrants for 1,413,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares, at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 12) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

2. THE PLAN AND RELATED AGREEMENTS (continued)

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Notes 12, 14, and 16 for further details.

Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the Plan from the following sources:

- New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 11) up to $600 million
- New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 11) $375 million
- New Province Note (Note 12) $150 million
- Federal Government Grant (Note 13) $30 million

Corporate Reorganization

On February 14, 2006, the Court approved a reorganization of the Predecessor pursuant to the CBCA Plan. As a result, specific assets and liabilities of the Predecessor's business were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships upon implementation of the CBCA Plan at the time of its emergence from the Court-supervised restructuring process.

The following business units of the Predecessor were established and the Predecessor transferred assets and liabilities to these business units which were formed as limited partnerships ("LPs"): Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership; Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership; two LPs related to energy assets (primarily a future business); two surplus land LPs; two coke production facility LPs; and an LP related to the Corporation's mining interests.

3. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 2), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with CICA Handbook Section 1625 – "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation is undertaking a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value has been allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 – "Business Combinations". As the Corporation has only recently emerged from CCAA, it is not practicable to definitely allocate the enterprise value. Once this matter has been resolved, the Corporation will reassess its initial allocation (see Note 5). The effect may be to transfer an amount from property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangible assets, asset retirement obligations, and the Province Note. The amount, if any, is not presently determinable.

As defined in Note 2, references to the "Predecessor" in these consolidated financial statements refer to Stelco Inc. and its subsidiaries, partnerships, and joint ventures in periods prior to the end of the day on March 31, 2006. All references to the "Successor" in these consolidated financial statements refer to Stelco Inc. and its subsidiaries, partnerships, and joint ventures as at the end of the day on March 31, 2006, and thereafter.

The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 reflects the accounts of the Successor. While not comparable to the Successor, the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Predecessor as at March 31, 2005 and December 31, 2005 have also been presented. The Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) reflects the activities of the Predecessor. The Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows for the three months ended March 31, 2006 reflects the Successor and Predecessor activities along with comparative activity for the Predecessor in the corresponding period in 2005.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 – March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business. Further, allowed claims, which arose prior to and during the CCAA proceedings, were recorded as liabilities subject to compromise and presented separately on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These interim financial statements do not include all of the disclosure required for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual consolidated financial statements.

4. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

With the exception of the following, these unaudited interim consolidated financial statements have been consistently prepared using the same accounting policies as disclosed in Note 2 to the 2005 audited consolidated financial statements of Stelco:

a) Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 are reported at their estimated fair value (Note 5), with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes (Note 10) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits (Note 16.)

Intangible assets will be recognized at their fair value effective March 31, 2006, including those identified through the fresh start process but not previously recorded. This process is not complete at this time (see Note 5).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets are currently under review as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets may have their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

b) Segmented Information

The Corporation is currently reviewing its segmented reporting requirements in accordance with the guidance under CICA Handbook Section 1701 – Segment Disclosures, as a result of the Corporate Reorganization outlined in Note 2.

5. FRESH START REPORTING

As outlined in Note 3, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor have been reported at fair values, except for future income taxes, which are reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which are reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 (Note 4). As a result of the implementation of the Plan and the adoption of fresh start reporting, a revaluation adjustment of $781 million has been recorded as a reduction of shareholders' equity and the retained deficit of Stelco of $583 million as at March 31, 2006 has been eliminated.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor have been based on Management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The determination of the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor has not been finalized as at the date of preparing these interim consolidated financial statements. The Successor is continuing to finalize its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangible, asset retirement obligations, and the Province Note. Any adjustments will be made to the consolidated statement of financial position as at March 31, 2006. The determination of fair values involves certain estimates and assumptions, which are inherently subject to significant uncertainties and contingencies. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the estimates, assumptions, and values reflected in the consolidated statement of financial position of the Successor as at March 31, 2006 will result in their final fair values. At this time, the fair value adjustment is estimated to be an asset of $739 million and has currently been allocated to Property, plant, equipment, and intangible assets on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

The holders of Series A and B voting common shares received nil consideration.

(b) Issuance of shares for cash under the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 2).

(c) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the related facilities (Note 11).

(d) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants (Note 12).

(e) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.

(f) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement (Note 16).

(g) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.

(h) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused tax losses or other deductions are realized.

Included under the Fresh Start Adjustment caption are all tax adjustments required to transition the Predecessor's accounts to the Successor's accounts at March 31, 2006

6. REORGANIZATION ITEMS

Reorganization items relating to continuing operations represent post-filing revenues, expenses, gains and losses, and provisions for losses that can be directly associated with the reorganization and restructuring of the Applicants. The following table summarizes the reorganization items included in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss):

Three months ended March 31 (in millions)	2006	2005
	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)
Professional fees	$ 12	$ 10
Success fees (i)	9	–
Break fees (ii)	–	11
Total reorganization items	$ 21	$ 21

(i) Fees paid to various advisors of the Corporation when the Third Amended Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization was approved and implemented.

(ii) In March 2005, Stelco discontinued the capital raising process and decided to pursue a recapitalization of the Corporation. As a result, Deutsche Bank became entitled to a break fee of approximately $11 million.

The cash flow associated with reorganization and restructuring items is summarized as follows:

Three months ended March 31 (in millions)	2006	2005
	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)

9. DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS AND ASSETS HELD FOR SALE

All the businesses that comprised the Manufactured Products segment and Mini-mill segment were determined to be non-core upon the conclusion of the Corporation's strategic review in 2004 and have been subsequently sold.

All of these businesses have been presented as discontinued operations resulting in the retroactive restatement of the consolidated financial statements to isolate the earnings (loss) and cash flows associated with these businesses.

Mini-mill Segment

AltaSteel Ltd.

AltaSteel Ltd. ("AltaSteel") was a wholly owned subsidiary with its plant and head office located near Edmonton, Alberta. AltaSteel produced grinding rod, merchant quality and special quality bars, rebar, and ballstock. On December 1, 2005 the Corporation entered into a definitive purchase and sale agreement to sell the shares of AltaSteel, which included its 50% investment in both MOLY-COP Canada ("MOLY-COP") – see Manufactured Products Segment – and GenAlta Recycling Inc. ("Genalta") to Moly Cop Steel Inc., an affiliate of Scaw International Sarl. The Court approved this transaction on December 16, 2005. The transaction closed on January 31, 2006 for gross proceeds of $77 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). During the first quarter of 2006, Stelco recorded a net pre-tax gain of $12 million comprised of a $36 million gain on the sale of Stelco's investment in AltaSteel partially offset by a settlement loss of $24 million relating to the pension and other benefit plans of AltaSteel.

Norambar Inc.

Norambar Inc. ("Norambar") was a wholly owned subsidiary located in Contrecoeur, Quebec which manufactured billets, automotive leaf spring flat bars, rebar, merchant quality and special quality bars, and railway-related products. On November 23, 2005, the Corporation entered into a definitive purchase and sale agreement to sell the shares of Norambar to Mittal Canada Inc. as part of a sale that also included its investment in wholly owned subsidiary Férs et Métaux Recyclés Ltée ("Férs et Métaux") and the shares of Stelwire and Stelfil – see Manufactured Products Segment. The Court approved this transaction on December 12, 2005. The transaction closed on February 1, 2006 generating gross proceeds of $30 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). During the first quarter of 2006, Stelco recorded a net pre-tax loss of $37 million comprised of a settlement loss of $47 million relating to the pension and other benefit plans of Norambar partially offset by a $10 million gain on the sale of Stelco's investment in Norambar.

9. DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS AND ASSETS HELD FOR SALE (continued)

Manufactured Products Segment

Stelwire

Stelwire operated plants in both Hamilton and Burlington, Ontario, and, was a wholly owned subsidiary, which was one of North America's largest producers of steel wire and wire products. Stelwire was part of the previously mentioned sale to Mittal Canada Inc. that closed on February 1, 2006. During the first quarter of 2006, Stelco Inc. recorded a net loss of $11 million comprised of a settlement loss of $54 million relating to the pension and other benefit plans of Stelwire partially offset by a gain of $43 million on the sale of Stelco's investment.

Stelfil Ltée

Stelfil Ltée ("Stelfil") operated in Lachine, Quebec producing wire and wire products and was a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation. Stelfil was part of the previously mentioned sale to Mittal Canada Inc. that closed on February 1, 2006. Stelco Inc. recorded a net loss of $4 million during the first quarter of 2006 comprised of a settlement loss of $20 million relating to both the pension and other benefit plans of Stelfil partially offset by a $16 million gain on the sale of Stelco's investment.

Stelpipe

Stelpipe, a wholly owned subsidiary located in Welland, Ontario, manufactured a number of pipe and tubular products. On October 31, 2005 the Corporation sold substantially all of Stelpipe's assets to Lakeside Steel Corporation ("Lakeside Steel"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Romspen Investment Corporation. As part of the agreement, Stelco retained all of the pension and benefit obligations of Stelpipe's existing retirees. The final proceeds from the sale remain subject to review and finalization of working capital and assumed liabilities.

Welland Pipe

On March 7, 2003, the Corporation permanently closed its wholly owned subsidiary, Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), a manufacturer of large-diameter pipe located in Welland, Ontario. The primary assets of the company were two pipe mills, a spiral-weld and U and O pipe mill, which were sold during 2004 and 2005.

The property and plant of Welland Pipe were listed for sale in March 2005. In January 2006, the Corporation entered into a purchase and sale agreement, which is subject to a number of conditions. If all conditions are met, the sale is expected to close in the second quarter of 2006. The net book value of these assets is immaterial.

Camrose Pipe Company

Camrose Pipe Company was a partnership situated in Camrose, Alberta which manufactured small- and large-diameter pipe. The Corporation held a 40% interest in this partnership. The sale closed in the second quarter 2005.

MOLY-COP Canada

MOLY-COP Canada ("MOLY-COP") is located in Kamloops, British Columbia and produced forged grinding balls for the mining and mineral industry. AltaSteel, as a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation, had a 50% ownership interest in this partnership. All of the ballstock processed at this plant was acquired from AltaSteel. MOLY-COP was sold as part of the previously mentioned sale to Moly Cop Steel Inc. that closed on January 31, 2006.

Future Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

While the Corporation and its subsidiaries recognize future income tax assets where applicable, a future income tax asset valuation allowance of $483 million related to continuing operations was recorded as of March 31, 2006 ($289 million as of December 31, 2005) to reduce the consolidated net future income tax asset.

Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million Debtor-in-Possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and prior to each anniversary date, the facility can be renewed for a period of two years if the lendor and Stelco mutually agree. The ABL facility is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest in all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventory, but will not exceed $600 million. At March 31, 2006, borrowings under the facility are $392 million, letters of credit are $29 million, and the available amount remaining under the facility is approximately $179 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any non-use of funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants.

11. BANK AND OTHER SHORT-TERM INDEBTEDNESS AND REVOLVING TERM LOANS (continued)

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with Tricap (a shareholder – Note 2), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. As at March 31, 2006, there were borrowings of $35 million outstanding under this facility. Stelco intends to repay amounts borrowed under this facility within one year, therefore these borrowings have been reflected as a current liability on the Statement of Financial Position. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay 3% of the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

(a) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, Affected Creditors received FRN's equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL Facility and the Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 11) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL Facility and Secured Revolving Term Loan are repaid in full.

(b) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement, the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semiannually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants (see Note 14 for terms of the warrants). Upon the application of fresh start reporting, the Province Note will be adjusted to its fair value upon the completion of the comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities (Note 5). The fair value of the Province Note is currently estimated to be $57 million.

(c) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation. The loan is in default and secured against letters of credit associated with the sale of the plate mill assets. In addition, a $12 million claim was accepted through the claims process and was settled upon implementation of the CCAA Plan (see Note 2).

(d) These term loans were assumed by the purchaser upon completion of the sale of the Non-Core Subsidiaries during the first quarter of 2006 (Note 9).

13. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Capital Programs

The estimated cost to complete previously approved capital programs is $106 million. Of this amount $47 million relates to Phase 2 of the Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership hot strip mill upgrade. An additional $17 million pertains to projects at the Corporation's mining interests

Federal Government Grant

The Government of Canada announced on November 23, 2005 that it agreed to provide a $30 million co-generation grant, representing approximately 60% of the initial cost of the Corporation's near-term cogeneration spending. Since the time of the commitment, there has been a change in Government. The Corporation has initiated a dialogue with the new government in order to reconfirm and secure the $30 million commitment. To date, the grant has not been reconfirmed.

Contingencies

Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. during the course of the CCAA proceedings alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement ("AELLA") between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. The lawsuit is still at the pleadings stage. The Corporation intends to vigorously defend this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provisions in the consolidated financial statements.

Convertible Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B Common Shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on Plan implementation with no value being attributed to them (Note 2).

New Common Shares

Under the Plan and in accordance with the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 2), the Corporation issued 26,100,000 New Common Shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. The Affected Creditors received 6,364,000 New Common Shares as partial consideration for settlement of their Affected Claims (Note 2). The Equity Sponsors received 19,736,000 New Common Shares in exchange for proceeds of $108.5 million.

On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 New Common Shares from Treasury for cash consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000.

Warrants

Under the Plan, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. The warrants entitle the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00, and if exercised in full, would result in the holders owning approximately 8% of fully diluted equity. These warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at anytime after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. The Affected Creditors received 1,418,500 warrants with an estimated fair value of $2 million as partial consideration in exchange for their Affected Claims (Note 2). The Province received 851,100 warrants with an estimated fair value of $1 million as partial consideration for the province loan (Note 12).

15. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Key Employee Stock Option Plan ("KESOP")

The KESOP terminated on Plan Implementation. No options remain outstanding under this plan.

Deferred Share Unit Plan

The holders of all the deferred share units ("DSU's") were settled for nil consideration on Plan Implementation. While the DSU Plan continues to exist, there are currently no deferred share units outstanding.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The ISOP is intended to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other persons engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliates. The total number of stock options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at a strike price of $5.50 per share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in equal installments beginning in September 2006, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options mature 10 years after the Grant Date. All options granted under the ISOP may not be issued for less than the market price of the Corporation's Common Shares on the Grant Date.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

As a condition of the CCAA Plan, Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement, effective on March 31, 2006 containing the following key terms:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
  Years 1 – 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006;
  Years 6 – 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount; and
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015 provided that any future benefit improvements which will be required to be funded in accordance with the Pension Benefits Act and will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

17. EARNINGS (LOSS) PER COMMON SHARE

Interest on the convertible debentures is recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) as interest on long-term debt and debt subject to compromise. This amount, net of tax, is added back to net earnings (loss) from continuing operations and net earnings (loss) in order to calculate fully diluted earnings (loss) from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share. Fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share is calculated by applying the treasury stock method for the potential exercise of stock options, and assuming the dilutive effect of the conversion of all outstanding convertible debentures at the $4.50 per share conversion price applicable to these debentures.

Three months ended March 31 ($ in millions)	2006	2005

Options to purchase common shares not included in the above calculation*	4,986,012	3,851,351

* Exercise prices were greater than the average market price of the common shares during the periods.

During the three months ended March 31, 2006, a basic net loss from continuing operations and a basic net loss were incurred, therefore options and convertible debentures related information have not been used to calculate fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings per share as both are anti-dilutive.

18. SEGMENTED INFORMATION

Discontinued Operations

Due to the restructuring of the Corporation's business, the operations of the Mini-mill segment (AltaSteel, Norambar, Genalta, and Fers et Métaux) and the Manufactured Products segment (Stelwire, Stelpipe, Stelfil, Camrose Pipe, MOLY-COP, and Welland Pipe) were discontinued and have been sold in whole or in part. Information relating to these businesses is contained in Note 9 – Discontinued Operations and is not disclosed below due to the related retroactive restatement of the consolidated financial statements.

Continuing Operations

The continuing operations of the Corporation, the Integrated Steel Segment, operate primarily within the North American market, as a group of businesses producing and marketing a wide range of steel products. Businesses in this segment produce raw materials (iron ore) and manufacture and sell slabs, hot rolled, cold rolled, and coated sheet, and bar. Intersegment sales are recorded at market value.

The following provides segmented information pertaining to the Integrated Steel Segment where the information cannot otherwise be found directly in the consolidated financial statements:

MANAGEMENT PROXY CIRCULAR

GENERAL PROXY INFORMATION

This Management Proxy Circular ("Circular") is furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the management of Stelco Inc. (the "Corporation") for use at the Annual and Special Meeting of the Shareholders of the Corporation to be held on June 22, 2006 (the "Meeting") and at any adjournment thereof.

Solicitation will be primarily by mail but proxies may also be solicited by telephone, or personally by officers or employees of the Corporation. In addition, the Corporation will provide proxy materials to brokers, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries ("Intermediaries"), and request that such materials be properly forwarded to the beneficial owners of shares registered in the names of such Intermediaries. All solicitation costs will be borne by the Corporation.

Record Date

The Board of Directors of the Corporation has fixed the close of business on May 16, 2006 as the record date for the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to receive the Notice of Meeting (the "Shareholders"). Each Shareholder is entitled to one vote for each share held and shown as registered in such holder's name on the list of Shareholders prepared as of the close of business on the record date.

Beneficial Shareholders

For the purposes of the Circular, reference to "Shareholders" or "Registered Shareholders" means Shareholders who hold their shares directly and are registered as Shareholders of the Corporation and "Beneficial Shareholders" means beneficial owners of shares whose shares are registered in the name of an Intermediary such as an investment dealer or broker or trust company or depository. Beneficial Shareholders are sometimes referred to as non-registered shareholders in the marketplace.

Beneficial Shareholders can expect to receive either:

(i) a form of proxy from the Intermediary that is signed by the Intermediary (typically by a facsimile stamped signature), which sets forth the number of shares beneficially owned by the Beneficial Shareholder, but which is otherwise uncompleted. The Beneficial Shareholder may complete the proxy and deposit it with CIBC Mellon Trust Company ("CIBC Mellon") as described; or

(ii) a voting instruction form from the Intermediary's agent, requesting voting instructions which must be completed and signed, or otherwise dealt with, by the Beneficial Shareholder in accordance with the instructions on the voting instruction form.

The majority of Intermediaries delegate responsibility for obtaining voting instructions from Beneficial Shareholders to a service company called ADP Investor Communications ("ADP"). ADP typically mails a voting instruction form to Beneficial Shareholders requesting that the Beneficial Shareholders return the form to ADP. The ADP form also allows completion of the voting instruction form by telephone and by internet. ADP then tabulates the results of all instructions received from Beneficial Shareholders and provides appropriate instructions respecting the voting of shares to the Corporation's transfer agent, CIBC Mellon. A Beneficial Shareholder receiving a voting instruction form from ADP cannot use the form to vote the shares directly at the Meeting. The voting instruction form must be returned to ADP in advance of the Meeting in order to have the shares to which it relates voted.

Should a Beneficial Shareholder who receives either a proxy form or voting instruction form wish to attend and vote at the Meeting in person (or have another person attend and vote on behalf of the Beneficial Shareholder), the Beneficial Shareholder should strike out the names of the persons named in the proxy and insert their own name or another name in the blank space provided. In the case of a proxy form, the Beneficial Shareholder should deposit the form with CIBC Mellon. In the case of a voting instruction form, the Beneficial Shareholder should follow the directions on the form as to returning the form and as to meeting attendance.

Methods of Providing Voting Instructions

Registered Shareholders or Beneficial Shareholders are requested to provide voting instructions for the Meeting. Registered Shareholders and Beneficial Shareholders may provide their voting instructions in one of four ways: (i) by returning by mail or delivery the proxy form or the voting instruction form accompanying this Circular; (ii) by returning by fax the proxy form or the voting instruction form accompanying this Circular; (iii) by following the telephone voting procedures referred to in the materials delivered to the Registered Shareholders or Beneficial Shareholders; or (iv) by using internet voting procedures referred to in the materials delivered to the Registered Shareholders or Beneficial Shareholders. Shareholders wishing to appoint a person as a proxy other than the management representatives named on the proxy form or the voting instruction form will not be able to do so using telephone voting procedures.

Voting by Mail - Completed, signed, and dated proxy forms may be returned in the postage paid envelopes accompanying them or delivered to the Corporation's transfer agent, CIBC Mellon, at 200 Queens Quay East, Unit 6, Toronto, Ontario M5A 4K9. Registered Shareholders and Beneficial Shareholders who mail their proxies must ensure that their proxies are received by the Corporation's transfer agent by 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on Wednesday, June 21, 2006, (or 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the day preceding any adjournment of the Meeting date). Beneficial Shareholders who receive voting instruction forms may return them in the postage paid envelopes accompanying them or in accordance with the instructions contained in the voting instruction forms.

Voting by Fax - Completed, signed and dated proxy forms may be returned by fax to the Corporation's transfer agent at 416-368-2502. Registered Shareholders and Beneficial Shareholders who fax their proxies must ensure that their proxies are received by the Corporation's transfer agent by 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on Wednesday, June 21, 2006, (or 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the day preceding any adjournment of the Meeting date). Beneficial Shareholders who receive voting instruction forms may return them by fax in accordance with the instructions contained in the voting instruction forms.

Voting by Telephone - Registered Shareholders may vote by telephone using a touch-tone telephone and using the following toll-free number: 1-866-271-1207. Registered Shareholders may vote by telephone up to 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on Wednesday, June 21, 2006, (or 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the day preceding any adjournment of the Meeting date). Beneficial Shareholders should follow instructions for telephone voting conveyed to them by their Intermediaries or their service companies such as ADP. Shareholders will be asked to provide a 12- or 13-digit Control Number in order to verify their identity (see "Control Numbers" below for more details). Voting instructions are then conveyed by use of touch-tone selections over the telephone.

Voting by Internet - Registered Shareholders may vote by internet by accessing the following website: www.eproxyvoting.com/stelco. Registered Shareholders may vote by internet up to 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on Wednesday, June 21, 2006, (or 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the day preceding any adjournment of the Meeting date). Beneficial Shareholders should follow instructions for internet voting conveyed to them by their Intermediaries or their service companies such as ADP. Shareholders will be asked to provide a 12- or 13-digit Control Number in order to verify their identity (see "Control Numbers" below for more details). Voting instructions are then conveyed electronically over the internet.

Control Numbers - In order to vote by telephone or the internet, Shareholders will be required to enter a 12- or 13-digit Control Number. Registered Shareholders who have received a form of proxy will find a 13-digit Control Number printed below their pre-printed name and address on their proxy. Beneficial Shareholders will find written instructions from their Intermediaries or service companies on their form of proxy or voting instruction form which contain a 12-digit Control Number.

Appointment of Proxies

Shareholders will find a form of proxy accompanying this Circular. The persons named in the enclosed form of proxy are officers of the Corporation. A Shareholder has a right to appoint a person, who need not be a Shareholder of the Corporation, other than the management representative designated in the accompanying proxy, to attend and act on behalf of the Shareholder at the Meeting. To exercise this right, a Shareholder may either strike out the names of the persons designated in the proxy and insert such other person's name in the blank space provided or complete another appropriate form of proxy, and deliver the completed proxy as set out in the Notice of Meeting.

Revocation of Proxies

Unless otherwise specified in such forms, proxy forms and voting instruction forms which are undated are deemed to bear the date upon which they were sent to the Shareholder.

Proxies given by Shareholders may be revoked pursuant to subsection 148(4) of the Canada Business Corporations Act ("CBCA"), the corporate law under which the Corporation is organized, at any time prior to their use, by an instrument in writing executed by the Shareholder who has executed the proxy or proxies or by his or her attorney authorized in writing, as well as in any other manner permitted by law. If the instrument of revocation is deposited with the Chair on the date of the Meeting or any adjournment thereof, the instrument will not be effective with respect to any matter on which a vote may have already been cast pursuant to the proxy. Voting instructions conveyed by mail or by fax by a later-dated instrument in writing or by telephone or the internet will revoke any prior voting instructions. A Beneficial Shareholder who wishes to revoke previously given voting instructions must contact his or her Intermediary or related service company to determine whether arrangements may be made to revoke the previously conveyed voting instructions.

Voting of Proxies in favour of Management

Shares represented by properly executed proxies in favour of the management representatives named therein will be voted or withheld from voting in accordance with the instructions on the form of proxy on any ballot that may be called for. If no voting instructions are given, proxies will be voted (1) "FOR" the appointment of auditors; (2) "FOR" the special resolution authorizing the increase in the number of directors; (3) "FOR" the resolution confirming By-Law No. 29; and (4) "FOR" the resolution approving the Incentive Stock Option Plan.

Discretionary Authority and Related Matters

The enclosed form of proxy confers discretionary authority upon the persons named in the proxy with respect to voting on amendments to, or variations of, matters identified in the Notice of Meeting and on other matters that may properly come before the Meeting or any adjournment thereof. At the time of the printing of this Circular, the Corporation knows of no such amendment, variation, or other matter expected to come before the Meeting. If any other matter should properly come before the Meeting, the management representatives named in the enclosed form of proxy will vote on them in accordance with their best judgment.

Ownership of Common Shares

As of May 10, 2006, there were 27,100,000 outstanding Common Shares of the Corporation.

Principal Holders of Common Shares

To the knowledge of the directors and officers of the Corporation, the following table indicates the holding of shareholders who beneficially own, or exercise control or direction over, more than 10% of the outstanding Common Shares of the Corporation on May 10, 2006:

Shareholder	Number of Common Shares (includes direct or indirect ownership or control)	Percentage of Issued Common Shares
Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap")	9,928,243[1]	36.94%
Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership	5,030,781	18.56%
Appaloosa Management L.P.	5,002,849[2]	18.46%

(1) 6,174,014 Common Shares are beneficially owned by Brookfield Asset Management Inc. ("Brookfield"), but under the control and direction of Tricap Management Limited. Brookfield is a public company listed on the Toronto and New York Stock Exchanges. Brookfield's major shareholder is Partners Limited ("Partners") who, together with its shareholders, collectively own, directly or indirectly, exercise control or direction over, or have options or warrants to acquire, approximately 45 million Class A Limited Voting Shares of Brookfield, representing approximately 17% of the Class A Limited Voting Shares on a fully diluted basis, and 85,120 Class B Voting Shares of Brookfield, representing all of the Class B Limited Voting Shares. Messrs. Douglas and Madon, directors of the Corporation, are shareholders of Partners. Tricap is also an affiliate of 1685970 Ontario Inc., the lender with respect to the secured revolving term loan in the amount of $375 million entered into on March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan (as defined below). See management's discussion and analysis of financial conditions and results of operations dated May 10, 2006, a copy of which may be found on the Corporation's website at www.stelco.com or on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

(2) The Common Shares are held by Appaloosa Management L.P. through two of its funds, Appaloosa Investment L.P. I and Palomino Fund Ltd.

BUSINESS OF THE ANNUAL MEETING

Financial Statements

The Corporation's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2005, and the report of the auditors thereon, will be placed before the Shareholders at the Annual Meeting. These consolidated financial statements form part of the Corporation's Annual Report.

Introduction of Directors

The Sanction Order dated January 20, 2006 of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (the "Sanction Order"), sanctioning the Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement of the Corporation, Stelwire Ltd., Stelpipe Ltd., Welland Pipe Ltd. and CHT Steel Company Inc. (as amended, the "CCAA Plan") provides that, at as of the last moment of March 31, 2006, the term of office of the individuals who were Directors of the Corporation (the "Former Directors", forming the "Former Board") terminated and the individuals listed below (as such may be amended, the "New Board") were appointed to the Board of Directors, with the exception of Mr. Steve Douglas who was appointed to fill a vacancy. For purposes of this Circular, the terms "Board of Directors" and "Board" are generically used when neither the New Board nor the Former Board are being specifically referenced. Likewise, the term "director" is used when the reference is not specific to either a "New Director" or a "Former Director".

The Amended and Restated Plan Sponsor Agreement dated as of December 9, 2005 between the Corporation, Tricap, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership and Appaloosa Management L.P. required that 4 of the 9 members of the New Board would be those identified by Tricap to the Corporation, and 1 of the 9 members of the New Board would be the individual identified by Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership to the Corporation, 1 of the 9 members of the New Board would be the individual identified by Appaloosa Management L.P. to the Corporation and the remaining directors would be mutually satisfactory to the Corporation and Tricap, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership and Appaloosa Management L.P., whether chosen from a list of candidates developed through the Corporation's existing search process or otherwise.

The Sanction Order specifies that the new Directors (the "New Directors") are to hold office for an initial term expiring on the later of March 31, 2007 or the second annual meeting of the Corporation after March 31, 2006. However, the Sanction Order provides that if a vacancy arises in the meantime, a quorum of the Directors may fill the vacancy. Mr. Courtney Pratt is the only New Director who was a Former Director.

The following table sets out information with respect to the New Directors. Mr. Pratt has been a director of the Corporation since January 31, 2002. Each of the other New Directors has been a director of the Corporation since the last moment in time on March 31, 2006. The information as to Common Shares beneficially owned, directly or indirectly, or over which control or direction is exercised, not being within the knowledge of the Corporation, has been furnished by the respective nominees individually.

Cease Trade Orders and Bankruptcies

To the knowledge of the Corporation, in the last 10 years, none of the New Directors is or has been a director or executive officer of any company that, while that person was acting in that capacity, (a) was the subject of a cease trade order or similar order, or an order that denied the company access to any exemptions under securities legislation, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days, (b) was the subject of an event that resulted, after that person ceased to be a director or executive officer, in the company being the subject of a cease trade order or similar order or an order that denied the company access to an exemption under securities legislation, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days or (c) or within a year of that person ceasing to act in that capacity, became bankrupt, made a proposal under any legislation relating to bankruptcy or insolvency or was subject to or instituted any proceedings, arrangement or compromise with creditors or had a receiver, receiver manager or trustee appointed to hold its assets except for the following:

(i) Mr. Dennis Belcher was retained to act as director and Chairman of the Independent Committee of Slater Steel Inc., which filed for protection under the CCAA on June 2, 2003. Mr. Belcher was also a director of Consumers Packaging Inc. at the time it filed for protection under the CCAA on May 23, 2001. On January 20, 2003, various provincial securities commissions issued orders ceasing the trading of Consumers Packaging Inc.'s shares as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. The cease trade orders remain in effect. In addition, Mr. Belcher was a director of White Rose Crafts and Nursery Sales Ltd. immediately prior to its voluntary assignment into bankruptcy under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (the "BIA") on June 20, 2002. Mr. Belcher was a director of Richtree Inc. which was subject to a cease trade order in 2003 as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. On February 26, 2004, the cease trade order was lifted. This company filed for protection under the CCAA on October 18, 2004. The proceedings were converted to proposal proceedings under the BIA and restructuring proceedings were successfully completed on January 23, 2006. Finally, Mr. Belcher was a director of Foamex International Inc. which filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware in September 2005.

(ii) Mr. Steven Cohn was Chief Financial Officer of Physician Computer Network, Inc. ("PCN") at the time that it voluntarily filed a petition under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the US in December 1999. In March 2000, PCN's assets were acquired in accordance with a plan of reorganization filed by PCN in the Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings. Mr. Cohn was also Chief Restructuring Officer and Interim Chief Financial Officer of Kasper A.S.L., Ltd. at the time that it filed Chapter 11 protection in February 2002 with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in the Southern District of New York. Finally, Mr. Cohn was Chief Restructuring Officer of Donnkenny Apparel, Inc. at the time that it filed Chapter 11 protection in February 2005 with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in the Southern District of New York.

(iii) Mr. John Lacey was asked by a group of shareholders to lead a restructuring of The Loewen Group Inc. and was acting as Chairman of the Board of The Loewen Group Inc. when it filed a petition for creditor protection under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code and Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") in June 1999. In 2002, various provincial securities commissions issued orders ceasing the trading of The Loewen Group Inc.'s shares as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. The cease trade orders remain in effect. In January 2002, Loewen successfully emerged from Chapter 11 and CCAA proceedings as The Alderwoods Group Inc. where Mr. Lacey remains as Chairman of the Board.

(iv) Mr. Courtney Pratt was President and Chief Executive Officer and director of the Corporation on January 29, 2004, when the Corporation and certain related entities filed for protection under the CCAA and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, the Corporation made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. At the last moment in time on March 31, 2006, the Corporation implemented the CCAA Plan and emerged from CCAA protection.

Appointment of Auditors

The management proposes that the firm of KPMG LLP be appointed as auditors of the Corporation for the 2006 fiscal year. For information regarding fees paid to KPMG LLP see the section entitled "Audit Committee Information – External Auditor Service Fees" contained in the Annual Information Form of the Corporation dated March 24, 2006. A copy of the Annual Information Form may be found on the Corporation's website at www.stelco.ca or on the Canadian security administrator's System of Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval ("SEDAR") database at www.sedar.com.

Increase in Number of Directors

The Articles of the Corporation currently provide that the New Board consists of 9 Directors. It is proposed that this number be changed to 10, in order to add Mr. Rodney Mott, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation, to the New Board. In order to implement this change, it will be necessary to amend the Articles of the Corporation. At the Meeting, Shareholders will be asked to consider and, if deemed advisable, to approve the special resolution attached as Exhibit A to this Circular. This special resolution must be passed by not less than two-thirds of the votes cast thereon at the Meeting.

Upon approval of the Corporation's Shareholders and the receipt of the Certificate of Amendment for the Articles of Amendment described above, it is expected that the New Board will appoint Mr. Rodney Mott to the New Board at a subsequent meeting of the New Board. The following table sets forth information with respect to Mr. Mott.

Rodney B. Mott, Nominee Director; Mt. Pleasant, South Carolina, USA
President and Chief Executive Officer

Rodney Mott joined Stelco Inc. as President and Chief Executive Officer, effective April 1, 2006 to lead the Corporation after the completion of its restructuring process. Mr. Mott has over 30 years experience in the North American steel industry, with specific senior management experience in restructuring, labour relations, marketing, mergers and acquisitions, as well as plant expansion and construction. In his most recent position, Mr. Mott was President and Chief Executive Officer of International Steel Group. He has also held senior roles at United States Steel Corporation and Nucor Corporation.

New By-Law No. 29

On May 10, 2006, the New Directors repealed the Corporation's existing general by-law and passed a new general by-law No. 29. The new form of general by-law for which Shareholder approval is being sought is preferred to the older form of general by-law currently in use by the Corporation. The new general by-law does not replicate provisions in the CBCA so it is shorter than the old general by-law and will not require amendment upon changes being made to the CBCA. The new general by-law also provides more flexibility to the Corporation to adapt to new governance standards and other requirements without potential by-law related conflicts. A copy of the new general by-law is attached as Exhibit B to this Circular. The New Board must submit this new general by-law to the Meeting for confirmation. At the Meeting, Shareholders will be asked to consider and, if deemed advisable, approve the resolution attached as Exhibit C to this Circular. This resolution must be passed by a simple majority of the votes cast thereon at the Meeting.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Background and Principal Terms

Capitalized terms used in this section which are not otherwise defined have the meaning given to them in the Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "New Option Plan"), a copy of which is set out in Exhibit D to this Circular.

The Sanction Order declared that all options granted under the Corporation's Key Employee Stock Option Plan established in 1991 (the "1991 Option Plan") were of no force or effect effective on CCAA Plan implementation and that all such options were cancelled at such time.

Effective April 1, 2006, the New Board approved the New Option Plan, subject to regulatory approval. The New Option Plan was approved by the Toronto Stock Exchange, subject to majority Shareholder approval. The purpose of the New Option Plan is principally to attract and retain superior directors, officers and employees, to provide an incentive for such persons to put forth maximum effort for the continued success and growth of the Corporation, and in combination with these goals, to encourage their equity participation in the Corporation. The maximum number of Common Shares that may be reserved for the issuance of Options is 2,610,000 Common Shares, subject to adjustment as provided in the New Option Plan. As at May 10, 2006, there were 27,100,000 Common Shares issued and outstanding and, as a result, initially the number of Common Shares reserved for issuance under the New Option Plan if approved by the Corporation's Shareholders represents 9.63% of the Corporation's outstanding capital (based upon Common Shares outstanding as of May 10, 2006).

The number of Common Shares reserved for issuance to any one person pursuant to Options granted in accordance with the New Option Plan cannot exceed 5% of the outstanding Common Shares of the Corporation. The New Option Plan also contains the following limits with respect to Insiders, (i) the maximum number of Common Shares that may be reserved for issuance to Insiders pursuant to Options granted under the New Option Plan and any other share compensation arrangement is 10% of the number of Common Shares outstanding and (ii) the maximum number of Common Shares that may be issued to Insiders under the New Option Plan and any other share compensation arrangement within a one-year period is 10% of the number of Common Shares outstanding.

The Option Price of Common Shares subject to an Option will be determined by the New Board at the time of grant and will not be less than the Market Value per Common Share at the Grant Date, calculated as (i) where the Common Share is not listed on an Exchange, the fair market value of the Common Share on that day determined by the New Board in good faith; and (ii) where the Common Share is listed on an Exchange, the closing board lot sale price per share of Common Shares on the Exchange on the trading day immediately preceding the relevant date and if there was not a board lot sale on the Exchange on such date, the last board lot sale prior thereto.

The period during which any Option may be exercised is determined by the New Board at the time at which the Option is granted and cannot be later than 10 years from the Grant Date. The New Board may determine that an Option will be vested and exercisable in instalments and may accelerate the date upon which an instalment of an Option becomes vested and exercisable.

The foregoing description of the New Option Plan is qualified in its entirety by the terms and conditions of the plan, attached hereto as Exhibit D. Shareholders are encouraged to review this plan.

Grant of Stock Options

Subject to receipt of regulatory approval, Options have been granted to officers of the Corporation to purchase an aggregate of 1,944,000 Common Shares at a price of $5.50 per share. The Options were granted on April 1, 2006, which was before the Common Shares commenced trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Accordingly, the New Board determined the fair market value of a Common Share to be the $5.50 price paid for Common Shares issued pursuant to the CCAA Plan on March 31, 2006. The Options will vest over a four-year period in 8 equal instalments on a semi-annual basis beginning in September 30, 2006. The Options granted will expire if not exercised on or prior to March 31, 2016.

Shareholder Approval

At the Meeting, Shareholders will be asked to consider and, if deemed advisable, to pass an ordinary resolution in the form set out in Exhibit E to this Circular (the "Option Plan Resolution"). To be adopted, the resolution must be passed by a simple majority of the votes cast thereon by Shareholders at the Meeting. If the Option Plan Resolution is not passed by the requisite majority, the New Option Plan will not be adopted.

Subject to majority Shareholder approval of the Option Plan Resolution, the Toronto Stock Exchange has approved the New Option Plan and agreed to list the Common Shares issuable pursuant to the exercise of Options under the plan.

In accordance with the Section 613 of the Toronto Stock Exchange Company Manual, Insiders of the Corporation are entitled to vote on the resolution set out in Exhibit E.

If the proposed resolution is not approved by a simple majority of the votes cast at the Meeting, the Corporation will have to seek alternate methods for providing incentives to its current personnel and attracting new personnel. This may adversely affect the Corporation's ability to attract and retain new personnel as it continues to expand, whether by acquisition of other businesses or internal growth.

Proxies received in favour of management will be voted for the approval of the Option Plan Resolution unless a Shareholder has specified in the proxy that the Shareholder's Common Shares are to be voted against such resolution.

STATEMENT OF EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Composition and Mandate of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee

As of December 31, 2005, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee consisted of four Former Directors: Mr. William P. Cooper, Mr. Richard Drouin, Mr. Douglas W. Mahaffy and the Hon. Barbara J. McDougall. Since March 31, 2006, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee has consisted of Mr. Cyrus Madon (Chair), Mr. John Lacey and Mr. Pierre Dupuis.

The Committee is responsible for succession planning, considering and approving incentive programs for senior management, reviewing the compensation arrangements for the Chief Executive Officer, setting annual objectives for the Chief Executive Officer, reviewing management development programs for the Corporation and approving employment arrangements for executive officers. The Committee also reviews material regulatory disclosure with respect to executive compensation and related matters.

Report on Executive Compensation

Mr. Courtney Pratt was appointed President and Chief Executive Officer effective January 1, 2004. Mr. Pratt left this post on March 31, 2006 and was replaced by Mr. Rodney Mott. Mr. William Vaughan was appointed Senior Vice President – Finance on January 1, 2004 and Chief Financial Officer on April 27, 2004 and will retire effective May 20, 2006. Mr. Colin Osborne was appointed Chief Operating Officer and Executive Vice President – Strategy on January 12, 2004 until April 7, 2006, when he was appointed Vice President of Strategy and Business Development. As of December 31, 2005, each of these individuals was party to an employment contract, in the form of a letter of appointment, and was party to change of control agreements as described below.

In compensating Mr Pratt, the Committee agreed on certain basic salary terms at the time of his hiring and to agreed bonus terms which were consistent with the Former Board's wish to emerge from CCAA protection in as short a time as possible. The bonus terms required specified financial performance within certain time limits following exit from court protection under the CCAA. Those criteria were not able to be satisfied due to the date of exit from CCAA protection. No increases in basic salary were awarded to Mr. Pratt during his tenure as President and Chief Executive Officer as a result of a consultative process with him further to which Mr. Pratt and the Committee concluded any salary increases would not be made. Compensation arrangements agreed to with Mr. Pratt reflected the unusual circumstances at the time of his hiring.

In identifying a replacement for Mr Pratt, the Committee, led by Mr. Cooper, transitioned the decision making to the new Committee and the New Board who confirmed Mr. Mott's employment terms and arrangements on assuming responsibilities on April 1, 2006.

During the CCAA process, the Committee recommended to the Board and the Board accepted the recommendations of the Committee to suspend new awards under the 1991 Option Plan. The 1991 Option Plan and all options unused pursuant to the 1991 Option Plan terminated on implementation of the CCAA Plan. Mr. Pratt received an award of one million options on his appointment as President and Chief Executive Officer, which options terminated unexercised on implementation of the CCAA Plan.

In connection with the performance of the President and Chief Executive Officer, the Committee undertakes an annual review of performance taking into account objectives agreed between the Committee and the Chief Executive Officer annually. The Committee considers views of the Board in this review process. Mr. Pratt's objectives for 2005 included seeking an exit from protection under the CCAA at the earliest possible opportunity with sufficient capital to enable the Corporation to sustain itself in the competitive marketplace, developing and implementing capital expenditure programs consistent with the Corporation's four point strategic direction and strategy, and focusing on the appropriate implementation of processes and systems to underpin financial statement certification and internal control reporting.

The Corporation previously had share ownership guidelines for executive officers requiring them to purchase Common Shares at specified levels within prescribed time limits. These ownership guidelines were suspended during the pendency of the CCAA proceedings by the Former Board. Any shares held by Executive Officers upon CCAA Plan implementation were effectively cancelled pursuant to the terms of the CCAA Plan. No decision has been taken on executive ownership of shares at this time. Mr. Mott has purchased one million common shares as at April 1, 2006.

Mr. Mott's goals and objectives, as determined by the New Board, are as follows:

(i) develop and execute a turnaround plan which reduces costs, enhances the Hamilton and Lake Erie operations and assesses and modifies, as appropriate, the capital expenditure plan;

(ii) recruit a new senior management team; and

(iii) achieve a minimum stated amount of annual Free Cash Flow (defined as EBITDA from operations (adjusted so that pension expense will be deemed to equal cash funding of pension payments), less interest expense, less capital expenditures and other capitalized items).

Compensation Plans

Variable Cash Incentive Program

The Corporation has operated the Variable Cash Incentive Plan as a bonus plan for senior employees for the last several years. Under the Variable Cash Incentive Program, payment potential is based on management's views of an acceptable level of profitability, measured by operating income. This Program has been terminated but the Human Resources and Compensation Committee will consider alternative bonus arrangements.

Deferred Share Unit Plan

The Corporation established a Deferred Share Unit Plan ("DSU Plan") for Directors and designated executive officers. Executive Officers are entitled to participate in the DSU Plan as agreed annually between management and the Committee. The DSU Plan entitles holders to receive cash awards under certain circumstances based on the value of the Corporation's Series A common shares. These shares effectively expired worthless on CCAA Plan implementation. The Corporation made no payments on account of surrendered deferred share units during the CCAA proceedings. The Human Resources and Compensation Committee has determined to retain the DSU Plan.

Key Employee Stock Option Plan

Under the 1991 Option Plan, the Corporation could designate from time to time full-time employees of the Corporation or its subsidiaries as eligible employees for purposes of the 1991 Option Plan, and could grant to such eligible employees options to purchase common shares of the Corporation. The 1991 Option

Plan is of no further force and effect since implementation of the CCAA Plan. The Sanction Order declared that all options granted under the 1991 Option Plan were of no force or effect effective on CCAA Plan implementation and that all outstanding options were cancelled at such time.

If the resolution contained in Exhibit E passes at the Meeting, the New Option Plan will be effective. For a description of the New Option Plan, see "Business of the Annual Meeting – Incentive Stock Option Plan."

Compensation of Named Executives – Statutory Disclosure

The following tables, presented in accordance with applicable securities regulations, set forth for the periods indicated the compensation paid to the Chief Executive Officer as of December 31, 2005, the Chief Financial Officer as of December 31, 2005, and the individuals who were, as of December 31, 2005, the other three most highly compensated executive officers of the Corporation (which individuals are hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Named Executives").

(1) Mr. Courtney Pratt was appointed President and Chief Executive Officer effective January 1, 2004. Effective April 1, 2006, Mr. Rodney Mott replaced Mr. Courtney Pratt as President and Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Mott's current base salary is $500,000 and he has been granted 1,044,000 Options under the New Option Plan. Mr. Mott is entitled to bonuses in 2006 of between 50% and 200% of base salary depending on the achievement of Free Cash Flow targets in the third quarter and fourth quarter of 2006.

(2) Mr. William Vaughan was appointed Senior Vice President – Finance on January 1, 2004 and Chief Financial Officer on April 27, 2004. Mr. Vaughan will retire effective May 20, 2006.

(3) Bonus amounts are reported in the fiscal year in which they were earned and not in the year in which they were actually paid. They are paid in cash in the year following the fiscal year in which they are earned. See "Statement of Executive Compensation- Variable Cash Incentive Program".

(4) Perquisites and other personal benefits do not exceed the lesser of $50,000 and 10% of the total annual salary and bonus for any of the Named Executives.

(5) See "Statement of Executive Compensation- Key Employee Stock Option Plan". The Sanction Order declared that all options granted under the 1991 Option Plan were of no force or effect effective on CCAA Plan implementation and that all such options were cancelled at such time.

(6) Awarded as deferred share units. See "Deferred Share Unit Plan". Deferred share units are considered to be Restricted Share Units for the purposes of this table.

The Corporation operates defined benefit retirement plans for its salaried workforces. The plans were closed to employees who joined the Corporation after August 1, 1997.

As of December 31, 2005, the Named Executives, with the exception of Courtney Pratt, were members of a retirement plan for salaried employees. The annual basic lifetime benefit payable under the applicable pension plan, together with amounts payable under the Retirement Benefits Contracts hereinafter described, is shown on the table above based upon retirement at age 65. Retirement benefits are calculated using the average of the highest five years' remuneration.

The benefit formula is the sum of 1.00% of earnings up to the Canada Pension Plan Yearly Maximum Pensionable Earnings multiplied by the Available Service plus 1.85% of earnings in excess of the Canada Pension Plan Yearly Maximum Pensionable Earnings multiplied by the Available Service. If a member of a retirement plan for salaried employees retires prior to age 65, there is a pension bridge which replaces benefits under the Canada Pension Plan up to age 65. Pension and related benefits are calculated based on salary and bonus as referred to in the Summary Compensation Table beginning with bonuses earned in 1997 and paid in 1998. Retirement benefits in excess of the amount which can be paid pursuant to the Corporation's pension plan are paid as described below under "Retirement Benefits Contracts".

The credited service for the Named Executives as of December 31, 2005 was:

C. Osborne, 18.5 years; W. E. Vaughan, 37.7 years; J. E. DiCosimo, 33.6 years; T. E. Witter, 27.5 years.

Retirement Benefits Contracts

The Corporation has entered into Retirement Benefits Contracts with the Named Executives (except Mr. Courtney Pratt and Mr. Thomas E. Witter). Under the terms of the contracts, the Named Executives (except Mr. Courtney Pratt and Mr. Thomas E. Witter) undertook that they will not, for various periods after their retirement, engage in competitive activities without the consent in writing of the Corporation. Pursuant to the Retirement Benefits Contracts, the Corporation will pay to the Named Executives (except Mr. Courtney Pratt and Mr. Thomas E. Witter) following retirement the difference between the maximum pension benefit payable under the Corporation's retirement plan for salaried employees and the basic lifetime benefit amount as set out in the table above. Such obligations are secured through a funded trust.

Other Employment-Related Agreements

The Corporation has entered into agreements with Mr. Courtney Pratt, Mr. William Vaughan and Mr. Colin Osborne dealing specifically with termination in the event of a change in control of the Corporation. Under the terms of these agreements, the executive officer is entitled to compensation in the event of termination or constructive termination of employment following a change in legal or effective control of the Corporation unless termination occurs as a result of death, permanent disability, retirement, or termination for cause. The principal component of the compensation payable to such executive will be a lump sum amount equal to 2.5 times the executive's annual cash compensation. The compensation received under these agreements is in lieu of (and not in addition to) all other claims which the executive may have upon termination of his employment. Mr. Pratt left this post on March 31, 2006 and Mr. William Vaughan will retire effective May 20, 2006. Both Mr. Pratt and Mr. Vaughan received, or will receive, compensation pursuant to these agreements.

The Corporation has entered into letters of appointment with Mr. Courtney Pratt, Mr. William Vaughan and Mr. Colin Osborne confirming the terms of their employment and, among other things, confirming their entitlement to a fixed salary and related benefits, to be adjusted annually by the Corporation based on performance and other factors. These arrangements provide for on-going employment. The letters of appointment confirm their entitlement to notice in the event of termination without cause or compensation in lieu of such notice. Typically, such arrangements provide for compensation of 18 to 24 months salary in the event of termination without cause. In arriving at such contractual arrangements, the Corporation takes into account common law rights to notice or pay in lieu of notice on termination of employment. Mr. Osborne and Mr. Vaughan's letters of appointment, in connection with the Former Board's objective of returning the Corporation to profitability, include provision for a bonus, if after emerging from CCAA, Stelco achieved three successive financial quarters of positive net income (without regard to extraordinary items) at any time up to and including the second quarter of 2006. Due to financial performance and the date of CCAA Plan implementation, no bonuses will be paid pursuant to these employment provisions.

The Corporation entered into an agreement with Mr. Jack DiCosimo which, among other things, dealt with termination in the event of a change in control of the Corporation. Mr. DiCosimo left the employ of the Corporation in April 2006 and received compensation of 24 months salary, based on common law rights to notice.

Mr. Colin Osborne's base salary currently is $440,000 and Mr. Thomas Witter's base salary currently is $275,000. Mr. Rodney Mott, the new President and Chief Executive Officer, has a current base salary of $500,000 and he is entitled to bonuses in 2006 of between 50% and 200% of base salary depending on the achievement of Free Cash Flow targets in the third quarter and fourth quarter of 2006.

Compensation of Directors

Former Directors who were not employees of the Corporation ("Outside Directors") were entitled to be paid a base retainer of $25,000 in 2005. This retainer was determined by the Corporate Governance Committee and approved by the Former Board based on a review of general compensation levels for directors at Canadian corporations. Outside Directors who were members of a Committee of the Former Board, other than the Audit Committee or the Restructuring Committee, were paid $3,500 per annum for their services as members of such Committees. Outside Directors who acted as the chair of a Committee of the Former Board, other than the Audit Committee, were paid $5,000 per annum for their services, such payment being in addition to any amount to which they are entitled as a member of such Committee. Outside Directors were paid a fee of $1,500 for attendance at each meeting of the Former Board and any Committee of the Former Board of which they are a member and $750 for attendance at each briefing. The fee paid to the Chair of the Audit Committee was $7,500 and the fee paid to Outside Directors who acted as members of the Audit Committee was $5,000. The non-executive Chair of the Board was paid an all-inclusive fee of $200,000 per annum. The Chair and members of the Restructuring Committee were compensated on a per hour basis. Former Directors also received reimbursement for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with attending Board and Committee meetings.

Since March 31, 2006, the New Board has adopted a different compensation scheme pursuant to which New Directors receive a fixed annual fee of $75,000. The Chair of the New Board receives a fixed annual fee of $150,000 and the Chair of the Audit Committee receives a fixed annual fee of $85,000.

The compensation received during 2005 by each Former Director is set out below:

	Director Annual Retainer	Board and Committee Attendance Compensation	Committee Chair Annual Retainer	Committee Annual Retainer	Total Compensation in Cash
John E. Caldwell	$25,000	$204,750	$7,500	$12,000	$249,250

DIRECTORS' AND OFFICERS' LIABILITY INSURANCE

The Corporation provides liability insurance for its directors and officers. In 2005, the Corporation paid premiums of $3,294,742 for coverage extending from August 1, 2005 to August 1, 2006. The policy limits were $120 million. Such insurance was replaced on March 31, 2006 with a new policy with policy limits of $250 million which will be replaced on May 15, 2006 with a new policy with policy limits of $130 million. The premium for the new policy is $2,035,333 and is paid by the Corporation. The replacement insurance carries a deductible of $1,000,000 per securities claim and $500,000 per any other claim in the case of claims for which indemnification is provided by the Corporation.

STATEMENT OF CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRACTICES

Board Mandate

The Board retains plenary powers for functions not delegated to management. The Board, through its Corporate Governance Committee, annually reviews those matters that are considered to require specific Board or Committee approval. In general terms, the Board reviews and approves all significant matters in the nature of acquisitions, divestitures, capital expenditures as well as the Corporation's short-term and long-term business plans. The Board of Directors operates and functions pursuant to a Board charter. Key responsibilities include overseeing strategic planning, assessing the primary risks of the Corporation, selecting, monitoring and coaching for the Chief Executive Officer and monitoring the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control systems. The Board Charter is attached as Exhibit F.

Board Composition and Independence

The New Board is composed of 9 Directors. If the resolution attached in Exhibit A as described in the section entitled "Business of the Annual Meeting - Increase in Number of Directors" is passed at the Meeting, the number of directors on the New Board will increase from 9 to 10 directors.

In assessing whether a director is "independent", the New Board takes into account the provisions of Multilateral Instrument 52-110. Based on its assessments, the New Board has determined that 8 of the 9 New Directors of the Corporation are independent. The independent New Directors are Messrs. Dennis Belcher, Laurie Bennett, Steven Cohn, Steve Douglas, Pierre Dupuis, , John Lacey, Cyrus Madon and Tony Molluso. Mr. Courtney Pratt, the prior President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation, is the only New Director who is not independent within the meaning of Multilateral Instrument 52-110 by virtue of his employment as President and Chief Executive Officer within the last three years. Similarly, Mr. Mott will not be an independent director.

The independent Former Directors occasionally held in camera meetings at which non-independent Directors and members of management were not present. The Former Board met 63 times in 2005. At many of these meetings, the Former Board discussed issues without management present. The New Board plans to hold regular in camera meetings of the independent New Directors.

Board Meeting Attendance

In 2005, the Former Directors of the Corporation attended meetings of the Former Board as set out below:

Director	Board Meetings Attended	Committee Meetings Attended[1]
John E. Caldwell	59 of 63	35 of 37
William P. Cooper	62 of 63	20 of 21
Richard Drouin	63 of 63	31 of 32
Roland Keiper[2]	24 of 25	13 of 13
Gary J. Lukassen	61 of 63	31 of 33
Douglas W. Mahaffy	62 of 63	13 of 13
Barbara J. McDougall	46 of 63	10 of 11
Courtney Pratt	63 of 63	43 of 46
Michael Woollcombe[2]	25 of 25	13 of 13

(1) In respect of each Former Director, the number of Former Board Committee meetings attended is shown relative to the maximum number of Committee meetings that such Former Director was eligible to attend based on such Former Director's Committee membership and tenure as a director of the Corporation.

(2) Term began on February 18, 2005 and ended on August 31, 2005.

Committees of the Board

The Board discharges its responsibilities directly, on the advice and recommendations of its Committees. The Board has established five standing Committees and delegates certain of its responsibilities to each of the Committees. In this regard, each Committee is mandated to report to the Board and to carry out certain responsibilities. The Board approved charters that govern the Board and each Committee of the Board.

The five standing Committees of the New Board are: the Audit Committee, the Corporate Governance Committee, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee, the Pension Committee and the Health, Safety & Environment Committee. The Former Board had established an ad hoc Committee, the Board Restructuring Committee, which has now disbanded. A brief summary of each Committee's mandate follows.

Audit Committee

The principal functions of the Audit Committee, as set out in its written charter, are to monitor audit functions and the preparation of financial statements; review management's actions in relation to the preparation of financial statements and the maintenance of internal controls and the integrity of management information systems; review the Corporation's financial reporting in connection with the annual audit and the preparation of financial statements; discuss with management the Corporation's internal controls, including policies and procedures for risk management; review audit plans of the internal and external auditors; recommend external auditors and their fees; and meet with the internal and external auditors independently of management.

Until March 31, 2006, the Audit Committee was chaired by Mr. John E. Caldwell and the other members of the Committee were Mr. William P. Cooper and Mr. Gary J. Lukassen. The current chair is Mr. Laurie Bennett, CA and the other members are Mr. Dennis Belcher and Mr. Steven Cohn. All of the members of the Committee are independent. In 2005, the former Audit Committee met 12 times.

For additional information concerning the Audit Committee, including its charter, see the Annual Information Form of the Corporation dated March 24, 2006. A copy of the Annual Information Form may be found on the Corporation's website at www.stelco.com or on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

Corporate Governance Committee

The Corporate Governance Committee is responsible for proposing candidates for election to the Board and assessing the effectiveness of the Board as a whole.

The Amended and Restated Plan Sponsor Agreement dated as of December 9, 2005 between the Corporation, Tricap, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership and Appaloosa Management L.P. required that 4 of the 9 members of the New Board would be those identified by Tricap to the Corporation, and 1 of the 9 members of the New Board would be the individual identified by Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership to the Corporation, 1 of the 9 members of the New Board would be the individual identified by Appaloosa Management L.P. to the Corporation and the remaining directors would be mutually satisfactory to the Corporation and Tricap, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership and Appaloosa Management L.P., whether chosen from a list of candidates developed through the Corporation's existing search process or otherwise.

The Corporate Governance Committee is responsible for advising the Board of Directors on corporate governance matters and for monitoring the corporate governance systems of the Corporation. The mandate of the Committee includes reviewing and reporting to the Board from time to time on the size, composition, and profile of the Board and reviewing, at least annually, the relationship between management and the Board. The Committee oversees the orientation of new members of the Board. The Committee also reviews and recommends appropriate disclosure to the Board with respect to corporate governance matters including the corporate governance policies described in this Circular.

Until March 31, 2006, the Corporate Governance Committee was chaired by Mr. Richard Drouin and the other members of the Committee were Mr. John E. Caldwell and Mr. Douglas W. Mahaffy. The current chair is Mr. John Lacey and the other members are Mr. Pierre Dupuis and Mr. Cyrus Madon. All of the members of the Committee are independent. In 2005, the former Committee met 4 times.

Human Resources and Compensation Committee

The role of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee includes succession planning, considering and approving incentive programs for senior management, reviewing the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer, setting annual objectives for the Chief Executive Officer, reviewing management development programs for the Corporation, approving employment arrangements for executive officers and reviewing material regulatory disclosure with respect to executive compensation and related matters.

Until March 31, 2006, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee was chaired by Mr. William P. Cooper and the members of the Committee were Mr. Richard Drouin, Mr. Douglas Mahaffy and The Hon. Barbara J. McDougall. The current chair is Mr. Cyrus Madon and the other members are Mr. John Lacey and Mr. Pierre Dupuis. All of the members of the Committee are independent. In 2005, the former Committee met 8 times.

Pension Committee

The role of the Pension Committee includes determining that the necessary policies, practices, systems and personnel are in place with respect to administration of the Corporation's four main retirement plans, approving annual and interim pension reports to the Board of Directors, reviewing and approving key actuarial assumptions and funding policies, and reviewing the financial results of the investment of pension trust funds. The Pension Committee also reviewed audited financial statements relating to the pension trust funds and carries out other functions relating to oversight of pension plan administration and pension trust funds performance.

Until March 31, 2006, the Pension Committee was chaired by Mr. Gary J. Lukassen and the other members of the Committee were Mr. John E. Caldwell and The Hon. Barbara J. McDougall. The current chair is Mr. Steve Douglas and the other members are Mr. Dennis Belcher and Mr. Laurie Bennett. All of the members of the Committee are independent. In 2005, the former Committee met 2 times.

Health, Safety & Environmental Committee

The Health, Safety and Environment Committee oversees the practices, programs and systems followed by the Corporation with respect to health, safety and environmental matters. The Committee oversees policies, practices and procedures relating to compliance with legislation regulating occupational health and safety and the environment and reviews and appraises results achieved by such policies, practices and procedures. The Committee also oversees the ethical, social, political, financial and other issues implicit in the Corporation's policies, practices and procedures with respect to health, safety and the environment.

Until March 31, 2006, the Health, Safety and Environment Committee was chaired by Mr. William P. Cooper and the other members of the Committee were Mr. Richard Drouin, The Hon. Barbara J. McDougall and Mr. Douglas W. Mahaffy. The current chair is Mr. Pierre Dupuis and the other members are Mr. Steve Douglas and Mr. Tony Molluso. All of the members of the Committee are independent. In 2005, the former Committee met 1 time.

Board Restructuring Committee

The Board Restructuring Committee was formed in connection with the restructuring undertaken by the Corporation pursuant to the CCAA. The Committee oversaw relevant processes and activities during creditor protection and provided leadership to the Former Board in various areas including reviewing restructuring plans prepared by the Corporation and its advisors designed to improve the Corporation's competitiveness and attractiveness through eliminating unprofitable or non-core activities and businesses and reviewing and overseeing strategies and discussions with prospective lenders and investors in the context of the restructuring. The Committee was chaired by Mr. John E. Caldwell and included Mr. Richard Drouin and Mr. Gary J. Lukassen. Two retired Former Directors, Roland Keiper and Michael Woollcombe, served on the Committee during a portion of 2005. During 2005, the Committee met 19 times. The Committee was disbanded upon CCAA Plan implementation on March 31, 2006.

Position Descriptions

Chair of the Board

The Chair of the New Board, Mr. Courtney Pratt, is not an independent New Director. He has, as his primary responsibility, the obligation to see that the New Board discharges its responsibilities in an independent and effective manner to facilitate the responsibilities of the New Board under its mandate. He is also responsible for reviewing the agenda for each meeting of the New Board. The Board has developed written position descriptions for the Chair and for the chair of each Board Committee. The responsibilities of each Committee chair are set out in such Committee's written mandate.

Chief Executive Officer

The objectives of the Chief Executive Officer are determined annually by the Board of Directors. These objectives include fostering a corporate culture that promotes ethical practices, integrity, and a positive work climate enabling the Corporation to attract and retain a diverse group of quality employees. The Chief Executive Officer also develops and recommends to the Board annual business plans and budgets that support the Corporation's long-term strategy. Those strategies are developed by the Chief Executive Officer and the senior management team for discussion and approval by the Board. The Board and the Chief Executive Officer have developed a written position description for the Chief Executive Officer.

Orientation and Continuing Education

The Corporation has a Directors' Manual which is a comprehensive reference source for directors. The Manual is periodically updated and is reviewed with each new director. The Corporation's orientation program includes educating directors with respect to the steel industry through meetings with members of the senior management team and through facilities tours. Directors are also provided with written information with respect to their duties and responsibilities and each New Director meets with the Chief Executive Officer, the Chair of the New Board, and the Secretary to be familiarized with significant issues.

The continuing education portion of the program involves periodic presentations on specific topics related to the Corporation and its business and regular visits to plant sites and facilities.

Each director ultimately assumes responsibilities for keeping himself informed about the Corporation's businesses and relevant developments outside the Corporation which affect its businesses. Management assists directors by providing them with regular updates on relevant developments and other information which management considers of interest to the Board.

Ethical Business Conduct

The Corporation has a written code of ethics for directors, officers and employees. The code of ethics is accessible on the Corporation's website at www.stelco.ca. The Audit Committee of the Board oversees the code of ethics in accordance with its charter and receives reports from management on any instances of material non-compliance. The Board ensures that directors exercise independent judgement in considering transactions and agreements in respect of which a director or executive officer has a material interest. It does so by complying with its code of ethics, which provides that directors have an obligation to be entirely free of conflicting interests when they represent the Corporation in business dealings or are making recommendations, which could influence the Corporation's subsequent actions. In addition, the Corporation complies with the CBCA, which contains provisions with respect to disclosure of conflicts of interest.

Nomination of Directors

The Corporate Governance Committee serves as the nominating Committee and reviews credentials of nominees for re-election and recommends candidates for filling vacancies on the Board. The Corporate Governance Committee may engage the services of a search firm to assist in the identification of qualified candidates for election or appointment to the Board. The Corporation does not have a policy that requires directors to retire by a specific date.

The Sanction Order fixed the New Board and its term, as described in the section entitled "Business of the Annual Meeting – Introduction of Directors". The Amended and Restated Plan Sponsor Agreement dated as of December 9, 2005 between the Corporation, Tricap, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership and Appaloosa Management L.P. required that 4 of the 9 members of the New Board would be those identified by Tricap to the Corporation, and 1 of the 9 members of the New Board would be the individual identified by Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership to the Corporation, 1 of the 9 members of the New Board would be the individual identified by Appaloosa Management L.P. to the Corporation and the remaining directors would be mutually satisfactory to the Corporation and Tricap, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership and Appaloosa Management L.P., whether chosen from a list of candidates developed through the Corporation's existing search process or otherwise. The New Board will be addressing how to encourage an objective nomination process.

Board and Committee Assessments

The Corporate Governance Committee annually reviews Board effectiveness from the perspective of the Corporation and its Shareholders. The evaluation process includes the collection of information from directors and management which is followed by a thorough discussion of Board effectiveness by the directors. The Chair of the Board, who is also the Chair of the Corporate Governance Committee, provides input to the Chief Executive Officer. The Corporate Governance Committee recommends the appointment of Committee chairs and Committee members to the Board and, through this process, is able to exercise oversight with respect to Committee effectiveness. As part of the process of overseeing issues of effectiveness, the contribution of a director is reviewed in the event of a change of principal occupation or retirement whereupon the Board may reconfirm the continuing role of the director.

SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

Shareholders who wish to submit proposals for consideration at the 2007 annual meeting of Shareholders must deliver their proposals to the Corporation, at least ninety (90) days before the anniversary date of the accompanying Notice of Meeting. All Shareholder proposals must comply with the applicable requirements of the CBCA and Shareholders who wish to make such proposals are urged to seek legal advice to ensure their proposal complies with these requirements in full.

EXHIBIT A

AMENDMENT TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

BE IT RESOLVED AS A SPECIAL RESOLUTION THAT:

1. The articles of the Corporation be amended to increase the number of directors from 9 to 10.

2. Each officer of the Corporation is authorized, acting for, in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation, to execute and deliver articles of amendment and all such other documents or instruments, and to do or cause to be done all such other acts or things, as in the opinion of such officer may be necessary or desirable in order to fulfil the intent of the foregoing.

EXHIBIT B

GENERAL BY-LAWS

BY-LAW NO. 29

A by-law relating generally to the transaction of the business and affairs of

STELCO INC.

DIRECTORS

1. Calling of and notice of meetings. Meetings of the board will be held on such day and at such time and place as the chair of the board or the president of the Corporation or any two directors may determine. Notice of meetings of the board will be given to each director not less than 48 hours before the time when the meeting is to be held. Each newly elected board may without notice hold its first meeting for the purposes of organization and the appointment of officers immediately following the meeting of shareholders at which such board was elected.

2. Votes to govern. At all meetings of the board every question will be decided by a majority of the votes cast on the question; and in case of an equality of votes the chair of the meeting will be entitled to a second or casting vote.

3. Interest of directors and officers generally in contracts. No director or officer will be disqualified by his or her office from contracting with the Corporation nor will any contract or arrangement entered into by or on behalf of the Corporation with any director or officer or in which any director or officer is in any way interested be liable to be voided nor will any director or officer so contracting or being so interested be liable to account to the Corporation for any profit realized by any such contract or arrangement by reason of such director or officer holding that office or of the fiduciary relationship thereby established provided that, in each case, the director or officer has complied with the provisions of the Canada Business Corporations Act.

SHAREHOLDERS' MEETINGS

4. Quorum. At any meeting of shareholders a quorum will be 2 persons present in person or by means of a telephonic, electronic or other communication facility that permits all participants to communicate adequately with each other during the meeting and each entitled to vote at the meeting.

5. Meetings by telephonic or electronic means. A meeting of the shareholders may be held by means of a telephonic, electronic or other communication facility that permits all participants to communicate adequately with each other during the meeting.

6. Postponement or cancellation of meetings. A meeting of shareholders may be postponed or cancelled by the board at any time prior to the date of the meeting.

7. Procedures at meetings. The board may determine the procedures to be followed at any meeting of shareholders including, without limitation, the rules of order. Subject to the foregoing, the chair of a meeting may determine the procedures of the meeting in all respects.

INDEMNIFICATION

8. Indemnification of directors and officers. The Corporation will indemnify a director or officer of the Corporation, a former director or officer of the Corporation or another individual who acts or acted at the Corporation's request as a director or officer, or in a similar capacity, of another entity, and his or her heirs and legal representatives to the extent permitted by the Canada Business Corporations Act.

9. Indemnity of others. Except as otherwise required by the Canada Business Corporations Act and subject to paragraph 8, the Corporation may from time to time indemnify and save harmless any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of the Corporation) by reason of the fact that he or she is or was an employee or agent of the Corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as an employee, agent of or participant in another entity against expenses (including legal fees), judgments, fines and any amount actually and reasonably incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if he or she acted honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation or, as the case may be, to the best interests of the other entity for which he or she served at the Corporation's request and, with respect to any criminal or administrative action or proceeding that is enforced by a monetary penalty, had reasonable grounds for believing that his or her conduct was lawful. The termination of any action, suit or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement or conviction will not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation or other entity and, with respect to any criminal or administrative action or proceeding that is enforced by a monetary penalty, had no reasonable grounds for believing that his or her conduct was lawful.

10. Right of indemnity not exclusive. The provisions for indemnification contained in the by-laws of the Corporation will not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which any person seeking indemnification may be entitled under any agreement, vote of shareholders or directors or otherwise, both as to action in his or her official capacity and as to action in another capacity, and will continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and will inure to the benefit of that person's heirs and legal representatives.

11. No liability of directors or officers for certain matters. To the extent permitted by law, no director or officer for the time being of the Corporation will be liable for the acts, receipts, neglects or defaults of any other director or officer or employee or for joining in any receipt or act for conformity or for any loss, damage or expense happening to the Corporation through the insufficiency or deficiency of title to any property acquired by the Corporation or for or on behalf of the Corporation or for the insufficiency or deficiency of any security in or upon which any of the money of or belonging to the Corporation will be placed out or invested or for any loss or damage arising from the bankruptcy, insolvency or tortious act of any person, firm or body corporate with whom or which any money, securities or other assets belonging to the Corporation will be lodged or deposited or for any loss, conversion, misapplication or misappropriation of or any damage resulting from any dealings with any money, securities or other assets belonging to the Corporation or for any other loss, damage or misfortune whatever which may happen in the execution of the duties of his or her respective office or trust or in relation thereto unless the same will happen by or through his or her failure to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation and in connection therewith to exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. If any director or officer of the Corporation is employed by or performs services for the Corporation otherwise than as a director or officer or is a member of a firm or a shareholder, director or officer of a body corporate which is employed by or performs services for the Corporation, the fact that the person is a director or officer of the Corporation will not disentitle such director or officer or such firm or body corporate, as the case may be, from receiving proper remuneration for such services.

BANKING ARRANGEMENTS, CONTRACTS, ETC.

12. Banking arrangements. The banking business of the Corporation, or any part thereof, will be transacted with such banks, trust companies or other financial institutions as the board may designate, appoint or authorize from time to time and all such banking business, or any part thereof, will be transacted on the Corporation's behalf by one or more officers or other persons as the board may designate, direct or authorize from time to time.

13. Execution of instruments. Contracts, documents or instruments in writing requiring execution by the Corporation will be signed by hand by any two officers of the Corporation, unless otherwise specified by the Board (whether under the corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, or otherwise) and all contracts, documents or instruments in writing so signed will be binding upon the Corporation without any further authorization or formality. The board is authorized from time to time by resolution

1.01 to appoint any officer or any other person on behalf of the Corporation to sign by hand (whether under the corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, or otherwise) and deliver either contracts, documents or instruments in writing generally or to sign either by hand or by facsimile or mechanical signature or otherwise (whether under the corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, or otherwise) and deliver specific contracts, documents or instruments in writing, and

1.02 to delegate to any two officers of the Corporation the powers to designate, direct or authorize from time to time in writing one or more officers or other persons on the Corporation's behalf to sign either by hand or by facsimile or mechanical signature or otherwise (whether under the corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, or otherwise) and deliver contracts, documents or instruments in writing of such type and on such terms and conditions as such two officers see fit.

Contracts, documents or instruments in writing that are to be signed by hand may be signed electronically. The term "contracts, documents or instruments in writing" as used in this by-law includes without limitation deeds, mortgages, charges, conveyances, powers of attorney, transfers and assignments of property of all kinds (including specifically but without limitation transfers and assignments of shares, warrants, bonds, debentures or other securities), proxies for shares or other securities and all paper writings.

MISCELLANEOUS

14. Invalidity of any provisions of this by-law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this by-law will not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of this by-law.

15. Omissions and errors. The accidental omission to give any notice to any shareholder, director, officer or auditor or the non-receipt of any notice by any shareholder, director, officer or auditor or any error in any notice not affecting its substance will not invalidate any action taken at any meeting to which the notice related or otherwise founded on the notice.

INTERPRETATION

16. Interpretation. In this by-law and all other by-laws of the Corporation words importing the singular number only include the plural and vice versa; words importing any gender include all genders; words importing persons include individuals, corporations, limited and unlimited liability companies, general and limited partnerships, associations, trusts, unincorporated organizations, joint ventures and governmental authorities; "board" means the board of directors of the Corporation; "Canada Business Corporations Act" means Canada Business Corporations Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-44 as from time to time amended, re-enacted or replaced; terms that are not otherwise defined in this by-law have the meanings attributed to them in the Canada Business Corporations Act; and "meeting of shareholders" means an annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting of shareholders.

REPEAL

17. Repeal. By-law No. 28 of the Corporation is repealed as of the coming into force of this by-law provided that such repeal will not affect the previous operation of such by-law so repealed or affect the validity of any act done or right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired or incurred under or the validity of any contract or agreement made pursuant to such by-law prior to its repeal. All officers and persons acting under such by-law so repealed will continue to act as if appointed by the directors under the provisions of this by-law or the Canada Business Corporations Act until their successors are appointed.

MADE May 10, 2006

EXHIBIT C

BY-LAW RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. By-Law No. 29 of the Corporation, as enacted by the Board of Directors on May 10, 2006, is hereby confirmed as the general by-laws of the Corporation.

2. Each officer of the Corporation is authorized for and on behalf of the Corporation, to execute and deliver all documents or instruments, and to do or cause to be done all such other acts or things, as in the opinion of such officer may be necessary or desirable in order to fulfil the intent of the foregoing.

EXHIBIT D

OF STELCO INC.

1. Purpose of the Plan

The purpose of the Plan is to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other Persons or companies engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliate entities, to provide an incentive for such Persons to put forth maximum effort for the continued success and growth of the Corporation, and in combination with these goals, to encourage their equity participation in the Corporation.

2. Definitions

For the purposes of the Plan, the following terms have the respective meanings set forth below:

(a) "Board" means the board of directors of the Corporation;

(b) "Compensation Committee" means the Human Resources and Compensation Committee of the Board as the same may be constituted from time to time or such other committee constituted by the Board from time to time with a mandate that includes the administration of the Plan and, if none is so constituted, means the full Board;

(c) "Consultant" means a Person, other than an employee, executive officer, or director of the Corporation or of a Related Entity of the Corporation, that:

(i) is engaged to provide services to the Corporation or a Related Entity of the Corporation, other than services provided in relation to a "distribution" (as defined under applicable securities laws);

(ii) provides the services under a written contract with the Corporation or a Related Entity of the Corporation; and

(iii)spends or will spend a significant amount of time and attention on the affairs and business of the Corporation or a Related Entity of the Corporation, and includes, for an individual consultant, a company of which the individual consultant is an employee or shareholder, and a partnership of which the individual consultant is an employee or partner;

(d) "Control" by a Person over a second Person means the provision, directly or indirectly, of the principal direction or influence over the business and affairs of the second Person by virtue of

(i) ownership or direction of voting securities in the second Person,

(ii) a written agreement or indenture,

(iii)being or Controlling the general partner of a limited partnership, or

(iv)being a trustee of the second Person,

(e) "Corporation" means Stelco Inc. or its successor;

(f) "Disability" means a physical or mental incapacity of a nature which the Board determines prevents or would prevent the Optionee from satisfactorily performing the substantial and material duties of his or her position with the Corporation or its affiliate entities;

(g) "Eligible Person" means, from time to time, any director, executive officer or employee of the Corporation or of an Related Entity of the Corporation and any Consultant;

(h) "Exchange" means the principal stock exchange (as determined by the Board) upon which the Shares are listed;

(i) "Grant Date" has the meaning ascribed to that term in Section 5;

(j) "Insider" has the meaning ascribed to that term in the OSA and also includes associates and affiliates of the insider, but does not include directors or senior officers of a subsidiary or affiliate of the Corporation unless such director or senior officer:

(i) in the ordinary course receives or has access to information as material facts or material changes concerning the Corporation before the material facts or material changes are generally disclosed;

(ii) is a director or senior officer of a "major subsidiary" of the Corporation (where "major subsidiary" has the meaning ascribed to that term in National Instrument 55-101 – Exemptions from Certain Insider Reporting Requirements); or

(iii) is an insider of the Corporation in a capacity other than as a director or senior officer of the subsidiary or affiliate.

(k) "NI 45-106" means National Instrument 45-106 – Prospectus Exempt Distributions, as amended or replaced;

(l) "Market Value" of a Share means, on any given day:

(i) where the Share is not listed on an Exchange, the fair market value of a Share on that day determined by the Board in good faith; and

(ii) where the Share is listed on an Exchange, the closing board lot sale price per share of Shares on the Exchange on the trading day immediately preceding the relevant date and if there was not a board lot sale on the Exchange on such date, then the last board lot sale prior thereto; and, for greater certainty, with respect to any Option granted on or before the close of business on April 3, 2006, means $5.50 per Share.

(m) "Option" means an option granted pursuant to Section 5 to purchase a Share;

(n) "Option Period" has the meaning ascribed to that term in Section 6;

(o) "Option Price" means the price per Share at which Shares may be purchased under the Option, as determined by the Board pursuant to Section 5 hereof and as may be adjusted in accordance with Section 12;

(p) "Optionee" means an Eligible Person to whom an Option has been granted;

(q) "OSA" means the Securities Act, (Ontario), as amended;

(r) "Permitted Assign" has the meaning ascribed to that term in section 2.22 of NI 45-106;

(s) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, party, trust, fund, association and any other organized group of persons and the personal or other legal representative of a person to whom the context can apply according to law;

(t) "Plan" means the Incentive Stock Option Plan of the Corporation as set forth herein as the same may be amended and/or restated and/or replaced from time to time;

(u) "Related Entity" has the same meaning ascribed to that term in section 2.22 of NI 45-106;

(v) "Retirement" means retirement from active employment with the Corporation or a Related Entity at or after age 65 or at or after such earlier age and upon the completion of such years of service as the Board may specify;

(w) "Securities Regulators" has the meaning ascribed to that term in Section 13; and

(x) "Share" means, subject to Section 12, a common share without nominal or par value in the capital of the Corporation.

Unless otherwise indicated, all dollar amounts referred to in this Plan are in Canadian funds.

As used in this Plan, words importing the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter genders and words importing the singular shall include the plural and vice versa, unless the context otherwise requires.

Whenever the Board or, where applicable, the Compensation Committee is to exercise discretion in the administration of the terms and conditions of this Plan, the term "discretion" means the sole and absolute discretion of the Board or the Compensation Committee, as the case may be.

As used herein, the terms "Article", "Section" and "Subsection" mean and refer to the specified Article, Section and Subsection of this Plan, respectively.

3. Administration of the Plan

The Plan shall be administered by the Board with the assistance of the Compensation Committee.

The Compensation Committee shall, on at least an annual basis, make recommendations to the Board as to the grant of Options.

Subject to the limitations of the Plan, the Board shall have the authority: (i) to grant Options to Eligible Persons; (ii) to determine the terms, limitations, restrictions and conditions upon such grants; (iii) to interpret the Plan and to adopt, amend and rescind such administrative guidelines and other rules and regulations relating to the Plan as it shall from time to time deem advisable; and (iv) to make all other determinations and to take all other actions in connection with the implementation and administration of the Plan as it may deem necessary or advisable. The Board's guidelines, rules, regulations, interpretations and determinations shall be conclusive and binding upon the Corporation and all other Persons.

The Board may authorize one or more officers of the Corporation to execute and deliver and to receive documents on behalf of the Corporation.

4. Shares Subject to the Plan

The maximum aggregate number of Shares which may be issued under the Plan shall not exceed 2,610,000 Shares, subject to adjustment as provided in Section 12.

The total number of Shares that may be reserved for issuance to any one Person pursuant to Options shall not exceed 5% of the Shares of the Corporation outstanding on a non-diluted basis on the Grant Date of the Options. The number of Shares issuable to Insiders under this Plan, together with Shares issuable to Insiders under the Corporation's other share compensation arrangements, must not at any time exceed 10% of the issued and outstanding Shares. The number of Shares issued to Insiders within any one year period pursuant to this Plan, together with Shares issued to Insiders during that one year period under the Corporation's other share compensation arrangements, must not exceed 10% of the issued and outstanding Shares.

Options may be granted in respect of authorized and unissued Shares. Shares in respect of which Options have expired, were cancelled or otherwise terminated for any reason without having been exercised shall be available for subsequent Options under the Plan. No fractional Shares may be purchased or issued under the Plan.

5. Grants of Options

Subject to the provisions of the Plan, the Board shall, in its sole discretion and from time to time, determine those Eligible Persons to whom Options shall be granted and the date on which such Options are to be granted (the "Grant Date"). The Board shall also determine, in its sole discretion, in connection with each grant of Options:

(a) the number of Options to be granted;

(b) the Option Price applicable to each Option, but the Option Price shall not be less than the Market Value per Share on the Grant Date; and

(c) the other terms and conditions (which need not be identical and which, without limitation, may include non-competition provisions) of all Options covered by any grant.

6. Eligibility, Vesting and Terms of Options

Options may be granted to Eligible Persons only.

Subject to the adjustments provided for in Section 12, each Option shall entitle the Optionee to purchase one Share.

The option period (the "Option Period") of each Option commences on the Grant Date and expires on a date as determined by the Board in its sole discretion provided in no event shall the Option Period expire later than 4:30 p.m. (Toronto time) on the tenth anniversary of the Grant Date.

Subject to Section 8, an Option which is subject to vesting, may, once vested, be exercised (in each case to the nearest full Share) at any time during the Option Period.

The Board may determine when any Option shall become vested and exercisable and may determine that the Option shall be vested and exercisable in instalments. The Board has the discretion to accelerate the date upon which an instalment of an Option becomes vested and exercisable.

Options may be transferred by an Eligible Person to a Permitted Assign of the Eligible Person. Subject to the foregoing, an Option is personal to the Optionee and is non-assignable and non-transferrable and may only be exercised during the lifetime of an Optionee who is an individual by such Optionee personally. If any Eligible Person has transferred Options to a Person Controlled by that Eligible Person, such Options will terminate and be of no further force or effect if at any time such transferee ceases to be Controlled by the Eligible Person.

7. Option Agreement

Upon the grant of an Option, the Corporation and the Optionee shall enter into an option agreement, in a form set out in Appendix A or in such form as approved by the Board, subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan, which agreement shall set out the Optionee's agreement that the Options are subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Plan, the Grant Date, the name of the Optionee, the number of Options, the Option Price, the expiry date of the Option Period, vesting terms and such other terms and conditions as the Board may deem appropriate.

8. Retirement, Death or Disability of Optionee

Except as otherwise determined by the Board, if an individual Optionee dies or becomes Disabled while an employee, director or executive officer of the Corporation or a Related Entity or if the employment or term of office of an individual Optionee who is an employee, director or executive officer of the Corporation or a Related Entity terminates due to Retirement:

(a) the executor or administrator of the individual Optionee's estate or the Optionee, as the case may be, may exercise any Options of the Optionee to the extent that the Options were exercisable at the date of such death, Disability or Retirement, and such right to exercise such Options terminates:

(i) in the case of the individual's death or Disability, on the earlier of the date that is 180 days from the date of the individual Optionee's death or Disability and the date on which the Option Period of the particular Option expires; and

(ii) in the case of Retirement, the date on which the Option Period of the particular Option expires.

Any Options held by the Optionee that were not exercisable at the date of death, Disability or Retirement immediately expire and are cancelled on such date; and

(b) such Optionee shall cease to be an Eligible Person as of the date of the Optionee's death, Disability or Retirement, as the case may be.

9. Termination of Employment, Engagement or Directorship

Except as otherwise determined by the Board:

(a) in the event that an Optionee (other than a Consultant) ceases to be an Eligible Person for any reason other than death, Retirement or Disability, each of the Options held by the Optionee shall cease to be exercisable after the date of termination of employment or ceasing to be a director;

(b) where, in the case of an Eligible Person who is a Consultant, a Participant's consulting agreement or arrangement terminates by reason of: (i) termination by the Corporation or a Related Entity for any reason whatsoever other than for breach of the consulting agreement or arrangement (whether or not such termination is effected in compliance with any termination provisions contained in the Optionee's consulting agreement or arrangement); or (ii) voluntary termination by the Consultant; or (iii) the death or Disability of the Consultant (if an individual), then any Options held by the Optionee that are exercisable at the termination date, or at the date of the death or Disability of the Consultant, as the case may be, continue to be exercisable by the Optionee until the earlier of: (A) the date that is 30 days from the termination date, or from the date of the death or Disability of the Consultant, as the case may be; and (B) the date on which the Option Period of the particular Option expires. Any Options held by the Optionee that are not exercisable at the termination date, or at the date of the death or Disability of the Participant, as the case may be, immediately expire and are cancelled on such date.

(c) where, in the case of an Eligible Person who is a Consultant, an Optionee's consulting agreement or arrangement is terminated by the Corporation or a Related Entity for breach of the consulting agreement or arrangement (whether or not such termination is effected in compliance with any termination provisions contained in Optionee's consulting agreement or arrangement), then any Options held by the Optionee, whether or not such Options are exercisable at the termination date, immediately expire and are cancelled on the termination date at a time determined by the Board.

For the purposes of this Section 9, the termination date, in the case of an employee or executive officer, is determined to be the last day of active employment with the Corporation or its Related Entity, as the case may be, and specifically does not include any salary continuance or notice period provided from or to the Corporation (whether required at law or otherwise).

Unless the Board, in its discretion, otherwise determines, at any time and from time to time, Options are not affected by a change of employment or consulting arrangement within or among the Corporation or an Related Entity for so long as the Optionee continues to be an employee, executive officer, director or Consultant of the Corporation or an Related Entity.

The Plan shall not confer upon any Optionee any right with respect to a continuation of employment or engagement by, or directorship of, the Corporation or its Related Entity nor shall it interfere in any way with the right of the Corporation or its Related Entity to terminate any Optionee's employment, engagement or directorship at any time.

For greater certainty, except as otherwise determined by the Board an option that had not become vested at the time that the relevant event referred to in this Section 9 occurred shall not be or become exercisable and shall be cancelled.

10. Discretion to Permit Exercise

Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 8 and 9, the Board may, in its discretion, at any time prior to or following the events contemplated in such sections, permit the exercise of any or all Options held by the Optionee in the manner and on the terms authorized by the Board, provided that the Board will not, in any case, authorize the exercise of an Option beyond the expiration of the Option Period of the particular Option.

11. Exercise of Options

An Option may be exercised from time to time by delivery to the Corporation at its registered office of a written notice of exercise addressed to the Secretary of the Corporation specifying the number of Shares with respect to which the Option is being exercised, together with a certified cheque or bank draft for the aggregate of the Option Prices to be paid for the Shares to be purchased. Certificates for such Shares shall be issued and delivered to the Optionee within a reasonable time following the receipt of such notice and payment. If approved by the Board, an Option may be exercised by "cashless exercise" whereby the Optionee, in lieu of tendering the Option Price for the Shares, elects to receive an amount per Option equal to the difference between the Option Price of the Option and the price at which such securities dealer as designated by the Corporation is able to sell the underlying Shares in the capital markets, or otherwise, on the trading day that notice is given of the exercise of the Option, or in any other manner approved by the Board. The transfer cost incurred to issue the underlying Shares will be deducted from the net proceeds payable to the Optionee.

No less than 100 Options may be exercised at any one time, except where a smaller number of Options is or remains exercisable pursuant to a grant, in which case, such smaller number of Options must be exercised at one time.

12. Adjustment on Alteration of Share Capital

In the event of a subdivision, consolidation or reclassification of outstanding Shares or other capital adjustment, or the payment of a stock dividend thereon, the number of Shares reserved or authorized to be reserved under the Plan, the number of Shares receivable on the exercise of an Option and the Option Price therefor shall be increased or reduced proportionately and such other adjustments shall be made as may be deemed necessary or equitable by the Board in its sole discretion and such adjustment shall be binding for all purposes of the Plan.

If the Corporation amalgamates, consolidates with or merges with or into another body corporate, whether by way of amalgamation, statutory arrangement or otherwise (the right to do so being hereby expressly reserved), any Share receivable on the exercise of an Option shall be converted into the securities, property or cash which the Optionee would have received upon such amalgamation, consolidation or merger if the Optionee had exercised his or her Option immediately prior to the effective date of such amalgamation, consolidation or merger and the Option Price shall be adjusted as may be deemed necessary or equitable by the Board in its sole discretion and such adjustment shall be binding for all purposes of the Plan.

In the event of a change in the Corporation's currently authorized Shares which is limited to a change in the designation thereof, the shares resulting from any such change shall be deemed to be Shares within the meaning of the Plan.

In the event of any other change affecting the Shares, such adjustment, if any, shall be made as may be deemed necessary or equitable by the Board to properly reflect such event and such adjustment shall be binding for all purposes of the Plan.

No adjustment provided in this Section 12 shall require the Corporation to issue a fractional Share and the total adjustment with respect to each Option shall be limited accordingly.

If, at any time when an Option granted under the Plan remains unexercised, an offer to purchase all of the Shares of the Corporation is made by a third party, the Corporation shall use its best efforts to bring such offer to the attention of the Optionee as soon as practicable and the Board may, at its option, require the acceleration of the time for the exercise of the Options granted under the Plan and of the time for the fulfillment of any conditions or restrictions on such exercise.

Notwithstanding any other provision herein, if because of a proposed merger, amalgamation or other corporate arrangement or reorganization, the exchange or replacement of shares in the Corporation of those in another company is imminent, the Board may, as deemed necessary or equitable by the Board in its sole discretion, determine the manner in which all unexercised option rights granted under the Plan shall be treated including, for example, requiring the acceleration of the time for the exercise of such rights by the Optionee and of the time for the fulfillment of any conditions or restrictions on such exercise. All determinations of the Board under this paragraph shall be binding for all purposes of the Plan. If the Board elects to accelerate the vesting of any or all outstanding Options immediately prior to the completion of any such transaction, it may also determine that all such outstanding Options will be purchased by the Corporation or a Related Entity for an amount per Option equal to the "Transaction Price" (as defined below), less the applicable Option Price (except that where the Option Price exceeds the Transaction Price, the amount per Option for such Options shall be $0.01), as of the date such transaction is determined to have occurred or as of such other date prior to the transaction' closing date as the Board may determine. For purposes of this paragraph, "Transaction Price" means the fair market value of a Share based on the consideration payable in the applicable transaction as determined by the Board.

Except as expressly provided in this Section 12, neither the issue by the Corporation of shares of any class or securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of any class, nor the conversion or exchange of such shares or securities, affects, and no adjustment by reason thereof is to be made with respect to: (a) the number of Shares that may be acquired on the exercise of any outstanding Options; or (b) the Option Price of any outstanding Options.

13. Regulatory Approval

Notwithstanding any of the provisions contained in the Plan or any Option, the Corporation's obligation to grant Options and issue Shares and to issue and deliver certificates for such securities to an Optionee pursuant to the exercise of an Option shall be subject to:

(a) compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, rules, orders of governmental or regulatory authorities in Canada ("Securities Regulators") or elsewhere;

(b) compliance with the requirements of the Exchange; and

(c) receipt from the Optionee of such covenants, agreements, representations and undertakings, including as to future dealings in such Shares, as the Corporation determines to be necessary or advisable in order to safeguard against the violation of the securities laws of any jurisdiction.

The Corporation shall in no event be obligated to take any action in order to cause the issuance and delivery of such certificates to comply with any laws, regulations, rules, orders or requirements.

If any amendment, modification or termination to the provisions hereof or any Option made pursuant hereto are required by any Securities Regulators, a stock exchange or a market as a condition of approval to a distribution to the public of any Shares or to obtain a listing or quotation of any Shares, the Board is authorized to make such amendments and thereupon the terms of the Plan, any Options, including any option agreement made pursuant hereto, shall be deemed to be amended accordingly without the requiring the consent or agreement of any Optionee.

14. Miscellaneous

An Optionee entitled to Shares as a result of the exercise of an Option shall not be deemed for any purpose to be, or to have rights as, a shareholder of the Corporation unless and until such Option is exercised and Shares are issued therefor and then only from the date of the allotment and issuance to the Optionee of certificates representing such Shares. Except as otherwise determined by the Board, no adjustment shall be made for dividends or distributions or other rights where the record date is prior to the date such Shares are issued pursuant to the exercise of Options.

The Corporation may require an Optionee, as a condition of exercise of an Option, to pay or reimburse any taxes which are required to be withheld in connection with the exercise of such Option.

Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, Options previously granted under this Plan, whether or not then exercisable, are not affected by any change in the relationship between, or ownership of, the Option Price and a Related Entity. For greater certainty, all Options remain valid and exercisable in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Plan and are not affected by reason only that, at any time, a Related Entity ceases to be a Related Entity.

15. Effective Date, Amendment and Termination

The Plan is effective as of April 1, 2006.

The Board may, subject where required to Securities Regulators and/or Exchange approval, from time to time amend, suspend or terminate the Plan in whole or in part or amend, modify or terminate any outstanding Option, subject to the following:

(a) No action by the Board to terminate the Plan pursuant to this Section 13 shall affect any Options granted hereunder which became effective pursuant to the Plan prior to such action.

(b) The Optionee's consent to any amendment to an outstanding Option shall be required unless the Board determines that the action, when taken with any related action, would not materially and adversely affect the Optionee or is made pursuant to Section 13; and

(c) The Option Price of any outstanding Option granted to an Insider may not be reduced and the term of any Option granted to an Insider may not be extended unless shareholder approval is obtained in accordance with regulatory requirements.

OPTION PLAN RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The Incentive Stock Option Plan, a copy of which is attached to the management proxy circular of the Corporation dated May 10, 2006 is hereby approved.

2. Each officer of the Corporation is authorized, for and on behalf of the Corporation, to execute and deliver all documents or instruments, and to do or cause to be done all such other acts or things, as in the opinion of such officer may be necessary or desirable in order to fulfil the intent of the foregoing.

EXHIBIT F

BOARD OF DIRECTORS CHARTER

WHEREAS the board of Directors (the "Board") of Stelco Inc. (the "Corporation") has determined that it would be appropriate for the Board to adopt a written mandate describing its responsibilities and duties in relation to oversight of the business and affairs of the Corporation and Committees of the Board;

AND WHEREAS the Board is appointed by and represents the shareholders of the Corporation but is obligated to act in the best interests of the Corporation;

A. CONSTITUTION

1. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be independent of the Corporation as determined by the Board of Directors, in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations.

B. PROCEDURAL MATTERS

1. Members of the Board shall serve at the pleasure of the shareholders of the Corporation and the shareholders of the Corporation shall elect the Board annually.

2. The Board may appoint such Committees from time to time as it considers appropriate to act on behalf of the Board or make recommendations to the Board with respect to matters to be decided by the Board. If such Committees are intended as permanent Committees, they shall have a Charter which defines their responsibilities in relation to the Board and the extent of delegated powers to such Committees. Each of these Charters shall require the respective Committee to annually evaluate its effectiveness. The functions of the Board, subject to applicable laws, may be delegated to its Committees except where provided otherwise herein.

3. The Board shall choose one of its members to act as Chair.

4. Members of the Board shall be entitled to receive such remuneration for acting as members of the Board as may be determined from time to time by the Board on the recommendations of the Corporate Governance Committee of the Board.

5. The Board shall, from time to time, review its performance and mandate as part of an annual review of its effectiveness and the effectiveness of its Committees. The Board shall meet in camera on a regular basis for such purpose and related purposes.

6. The Board shall consider from time to time its resources including the adequacy of the information provided to it with respect to oversight of the management of the Corporation and shall confer with management with respect to its findings.

7. The functions referred to in sections C1(a), (c), (d), (e), (g), (j), 2 and 4(a) and (b) shall not be delegated.

C. FUNCTIONS

1. General Responsibilities

(a) The Board shall oversee the management of the Corporation. In doing so, the Board shall establish a productive working relationship with the Chief Executive Officer and other members of senior management.

(b) The officers of the Corporation, headed by the Chief Executive Officer, shall be responsible for general day to day management of the Corporation and for making recommendations to the Board with respect to long term strategic, financial, organization and related objectives.

(c) The roles and responsibilities of the Board are intended to primarily focus on the formulation of long term strategic, financial and organizational goals for the Corporation and on the monitoring of management performance. Without limitation, the Board shall (i) oversee a management-driven strategic planning process and approve the Corporation's strategic plan, (ii) assess the principal risks of the Corporation's business and ensure appropriate systems are in place to manage such risks, (iii) select, monitor and evaluate the Chief Executive Officer for the Corporation and oversee succession planning at the senior management level (including appointing, training and monitoring senior officers), (iv) adopt and oversee the communications policies of the Corporation and (v) monitor the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control and management information systems to safeguard corporate assets.

(d) The Board shall review and approve the Corporation's financial objectives, short and long-term business plans for the Corporation's businesses and monitor performance in accordance with such plans. The Board shall also approve without limitation to its statutory obligations and duties:

(i) significant capital allocations and expenditures;

(ii) transactions out of the ordinary course of business;

(iii) all matters that would be expected to have a major impact on shareholders, creditors or employees;

(iv) the appointment of any person to any position that would qualify such person as an officer of the Corporation;

(v) any amendments to the Corporation's pension plans, and

(vi) any proposed changes in compensation to be paid to members of the Board of Directors on the recommendation of the Corporate Governance Committee.

(e) The Board will oversee ethical behaviour and compliance with laws and regulations, which includes overseeing the choice of critical accounting principles.

(f) With respect to significant risks and opportunities affecting the Corporation, the Board may impose such limits on the business activity of the Corporation as may be in the interests of the Corporation and its shareholders.

(g) The Board shall annually consider the skills and competencies of the Board from the perspective of determining what additional skills and competencies would be helpful to the Board. The identification of specific candidates for consideration shall be the responsibility of the Corporate Governance Committee which shall be guided by the findings of the Board in relation to competencies and skills.

(h) The Board will adopt prudent financial standards with respect to the affairs of the Corporation and periodically will approve target levels of debt in relation to the Corporation's consolidated capitalization and other similar financial prudence standards.

(i) The Board shall perform such other functions as are prescribed by law, as are assigned to the Board in the Corporation's governing documents and as it may from time to time determine in accordance with the plenary powers of the Board.

(j) The Board shall receive the following reports: (i) periodic reports from its Committees following Committee meetings and, annually, a report from each Committee as to the work undertaken by the Committee and the Committee's recommendations, if any, for change with respect to its responsibilities and effectiveness; and (ii) an annual and interim report with respect to the Corporation's pension plans covering those matters specified in the Stelco Inc. Pension Plan Administration and Oversight Policy dated May 1999 as the same may be amended from time to time with Board approval.

2. Relationship with Committees

(a) The Board shall annually assess the charters of its Committees.

(b) The Board shall annually appoint a member of each Committee to act as Chair of the Committee on the advice of the Chair of the Board and Corporate Governance Committee.

3. Senior Management

(a) The Board will approve a position description for the Chief Executive Officer.

(b) The Board will review with the Human Resources and Compensation Committee the objectives set for the Chief Executive Officer and performance in relation to such objectives.

(c) The Board will, to the extent feasible, satisfy itself as to the integrity of the Chief Executive Officer and the other members of senior management and that the Chief Executive Officer and other members of senior management create a culture of integrity throughout the Corporation.

4. Financial Statements and Significant Disclosure Documents

(a) The Board will annually review and approve the Corporation's annual information form as well as its annual report and related financial statements and annual management discussion and analysis disclosure. In doing so, the Board will consider the quality and usefulness of the information from the perspective of its shareholders.

(b) The Board has responsibility for reviewing and approving for release interim financial statements and related disclosure.

(c) The Board will periodically review the means by which shareholders can communicate with the Corporation including the opportunity to do so at the annual meeting, communications interfaces through the Corporation's website and the adequacy of resources available within the Corporation to respond to shareholders through the office of the Corporate Secretary and otherwise.

(d) The Board will review and approve financial performance guidance prior to the public disclosure of such information.

D. RESOURCES, MEETINGS AND REPORTS

1. The Board shall have adequate resources to discharge its responsibilities. The Chair shall be empowered to engage advisers as may be appropriate from time to time to advise the Chair or the Board with respect to duties and responsibilities.

2. The Board shall meet not less than six times per year.

3. The meetings of the Board shall ordinarily include the Chief Executive Officer (if not a Director) and the Secretary and shall periodically include other senior officers as may be appropriate as determined by the Board and as may be desirable to enable the Board to become familiar with the Corporation's management team. The Board may meet in private at any time.

4. The Secretary shall keep minutes of its meetings in which shall be recorded all actions taken by the Board. Such minutes shall be made available to Board members at their request and all such minutes shall be approved by the Board for entry in the records of the Corporation.

5. Members of the Board shall have the right, for the purposes of discharging their respective powers and responsibilities, to inspect any relevant records of the Corporation and its subsidiaries.

6. Members of the Board, subject to approval of the Chair of the Corporate Governance Committee, may retain separate counsel to deal with issues relating to their responsibilities as member of the Board.

GENERAL BY-LAWS

BY-LAW NO. 29

A by-law relating generally to the transaction of the business
and affairs of

STELCO INC.

DIRECTORS

1. Calling of and notice of meetings. Meetings of the board will be held on such day and at such time and place as the chair of the board or the president of the Corporation or any two directors may determine. Notice of meetings of the board will be given to each director not less than 48 hours before the time when the meeting is to be held. Each newly elected board may without notice hold its first meeting for the purposes of organization and the appointment of officers immediately following the meeting of shareholders at which such board was elected.

2. Votes to govern. At all meetings of the board every question will be decided by a majority of the votes cast on the question; and in case of an equality of votes the chair of the meeting will be entitled to a second or casting vote.

3. Interest of directors and officers generally in contracts. No director or officer will be disqualified by his or her office from contracting with the Corporation nor will any contract or arrangement entered into by or on behalf of the Corporation with any director or officer or in which any director or officer is in any way interested be liable to be voided nor will any director or officer so contracting or being so interested be liable to account to the Corporation for any profit realized by any such contract or arrangement by reason of such director or officer holding that office or of the fiduciary relationship thereby established provided that, in each case, the director or officer has complied with the provisions of the Canada Business Corporations Act.

SHAREHOLDERS' MEETINGS

4. Quorum. At any meeting of shareholders a quorum will be 2 persons present in person or by means of a telephonic, electronic or other communication facility that permits all participants to communicate adequately with each other during the meeting and each entitled to vote at the meeting.

5. Meetings by telephonic or electronic means. A meeting of the shareholders may be held by means of a telephonic, electronic or other communication facility that permits all participants to communicate adequately with each other during the meeting.

6. Postponement or cancellation of meetings. A meeting of shareholders may be postponed or cancelled by the board at any time prior to the date of the meeting.

7. Procedures at meetings. The board may determine the procedures to be followed at any meeting of shareholders including, without limitation, the rules of order. Subject to the foregoing, the chair of a meeting may determine the procedures of the meeting in all respects.

INDEMNIFICATION

8. Indemnification of directors and officers. The Corporation will indemnify a director or officer of the Corporation, a former director or officer of the Corporation or another individual who acts or acted at the Corporation's request as a director or officer, or in a similar capacity, of another entity, and his or her heirs and legal representatives to the extent permitted by the Canada Business Corporations Act.

9. Indemnity of others. Except as otherwise required by the Canada Business Corporations Act and subject to paragraph 8, the Corporation may from time to time indemnify and save harmless any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of the Corporation) by reason of the fact that he or she is or was an employee or agent of the Corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as an employee, agent of or participant in another entity against expenses (including legal fees), judgments, fines and any amount actually and reasonably incurred by him or her in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if he or she acted honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation or, as the case may be, to the best interests of the other entity for which he or she served at the Corporation's request and, with respect to any criminal or administrative action or proceeding that is enforced by a monetary penalty, had reasonable grounds for believing that his or her conduct was lawful. The termination of any action, suit or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement or conviction will not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation or other entity and, with respect to any criminal or administrative action or proceeding that is enforced by a monetary penalty, had no reasonable grounds for believing that his or her conduct was lawful.

10. Right of indemnity not exclusive. The provisions for indemnification contained in the by-laws of the Corporation will not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which any person seeking indemnification may be entitled under any agreement, vote of shareholders or directors or otherwise, both as to action in his or her official capacity and as to action in another capacity, and will continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and will inure to the benefit of that person's heirs and legal representatives.

11. No liability of directors or officers for certain matters. To the extent permitted by law, no director or officer for the time being of the Corporation will be liable for the acts, receipts, neglects or defaults of any other director or officer or employee or for joining in any receipt or act for conformity or for any loss, damage or expense happening to the Corporation through the insufficiency or deficiency of title to any property acquired by the Corporation or for or on behalf of the Corporation or for the insufficiency or deficiency of any security in or upon which any of the money of or belonging to the Corporation will be placed out or invested or for any loss or damage arising from the bankruptcy, insolvency or tortious act of any person, firm or body corporate with whom or which any money, securities or other assets belonging to the Corporation will be lodged or deposited or for any loss, conversion, misapplication or misappropriation of or any damage resulting from any dealings with any money, securities or other assets belonging to the Corporation or for any other loss, damage or misfortune whatever which may happen in the execution of the duties of his or her respective office or trust or in relation thereto unless the same will happen by or through his or her failure to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation and in connection therewith to exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. If any director or officer of the Corporation is employed by or performs services for the Corporation otherwise than as a director or officer or is a member of a firm or a shareholder, director or officer of a body corporate which is employed by or performs services for the Corporation, the fact that the person is a director or officer of the Corporation will not disentitle such director or officer or such firm or body corporate, as the case may be, from receiving proper remuneration for such services.

BANKING ARRANGEMENTS, CONTRACTS, ETC.

12. Banking arrangements. The banking business of the Corporation, or any part thereof, will be transacted with such banks, trust companies or other financial institutions as the board may designate, appoint or authorize from time to time and all such banking business, or any part thereof, will be transacted on the Corporation's behalf by one or more officers or other persons as the board may designate, direct or authorize from time to time.

13. Execution of instruments. Contracts, documents or instruments in writing requiring execution by the Corporation will be signed by hand by any two officers of the Corporation, unless otherwise specified by the Board (whether under the corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, or otherwise) and all contracts, documents or instruments in writing so signed will be binding upon the Corporation without any further authorization or formality. The board is authorized from time to time by resolution

1.01 to appoint any officer or any other person on behalf of the Corporation to sign by hand (whether under the corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, or otherwise) and deliver either contracts, documents or instruments in writing generally or to sign either by hand or by facsimile or mechanical signature or otherwise (whether under the corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, or otherwise) and deliver specific contracts, documents or instruments in writing, and

1.02 to delegate to any two officers of the Corporation the powers to designate, direct or authorize from time to time in writing one or more officers or other persons on the Corporation's behalf to sign either by hand or by facsimile or mechanical signature or otherwise (whether under the corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, or otherwise) and deliver contracts, documents or instruments in writing of such type and on such terms and conditions as such two officers see fit.

Contracts, documents or instruments in writing that are to be signed by hand may be signed electronically. The term "contracts, documents or instruments in writing" as used in this by-law includes without limitation deeds, mortgages, charges, conveyances, powers of attorney, transfers and assignments of property of all kinds (including specifically but without limitation transfers and assignments of shares, warrants, bonds, debentures or other securities), proxies for shares or other securities and all paper writings.

MISCELLANEOUS

14. Invalidity of any provisions of this by-law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this by-law will not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of this by-law.

15. Omissions and errors. The accidental omission to give any notice to any shareholder, director, officer or auditor or the non-receipt of any notice by any shareholder, director, officer or auditor or any error in any notice not affecting its substance will not invalidate any action taken at any meeting to which the notice related or otherwise founded on the notice.

INTERPRETATION

16. Interpretation. In this by-law and all other by-laws of the Corporation words importing the singular number only include the plural and vice versa; words importing any gender include all genders; words importing persons include individuals, corporations, limited and unlimited liability companies, general and limited partnerships, associations, trusts, unincorporated organizations, joint ventures and governmental authorities; "board" means the board of directors of the Corporation; "Canada Business Corporations Act" means Canada Business Corporations Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-44 as from time to time amended, re-enacted or replaced; terms that are not otherwise defined in this by-law have the meanings attributed to them in the Canada Business Corporations Act; and "meeting of shareholders" means an annual meeting of shareholders or a special meeting of shareholders.

REPEAL

17. Repeal. By-law No. 28 of the Corporation is repealed as of the coming into force of this by-law provided that such repeal will not affect the previous operation of such by-law so repealed or affect the validity of any act done or right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired or incurred under or the validity of any contract or agreement made pursuant to such by-law prior to its repeal. All officers and persons acting under such by-law so repealed will continue to act as if appointed by the directors under the provisions of this by-law or the Canada Business Corporations Act until their successors are appointed.

Attention Business/Financial Editors:
Stelco reports results for first quarter 2006

HAMILTON, ON, May 11 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc.(TSX:STE) today reported a net loss of $122 million for the first quarter ended March 31, 2006, including the impacts of discontinued operations and reorganization costs. This compares to net earnings of $49 million in the first quarter of 2005, and a net loss of $120 million in the fourth quarter of 2005. The results reported today are related to Stelco prior to emerging from Court protection at the end of the day on March 31, 2006, and prior to implementing the Corporation's Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization. As such, the first quarter results are referred to as those of the "Predecessor" in the Consolidated Financial Statements. Any reference to Stelco after implementation of the CCAA Plan is referred to as the "Successor".

The results reported today include a $43 million after-tax loss on discontinued operations which represents the businesses of the Mini-mill and Manufactured Products segments, the sales of which were completed in the first quarter. As well, reorganization costs on a pre-tax basis in each of the first quarters of 2006 and 2005 amounted to $21 million compared to $29 million in the fourth quarter of 2005.

Net sales revenue in the first quarter of 2006 was $674 million compared to $728 million for the same period in 2005. This 7% decrease was mainly due to renewal of customer contracts at lower prices and lower spot market prices, a lower value-added mix as a result of the fourth quarter 2005 Lake Erie Steel's hot strip mill outage and the negative impact of the higher Canadian dollar.

Cost of sales for the first quarter of 2006 was $695 million compared to $593 million for the same quarter of 2005. This 17% increase was primarily due to higher spending for repairs and maintenance, purchased services and supplies; higher natural gas, coal, ore and zinc costs; the flow through of high cost inventories produced in the previous quarter; and the impact of the fourth quarter 2005 Lake Erie Steel's hot strip mill upgrade, which included the high cost of outside conversion of slabs to hot roll coils. These costs were partly offset by lower purchased coke, scrap and electricity costs; a lower value-added mix of sales, and reduced labour costs at Hamilton Steel, resulting from the continued attrition of the workforce.

Production in the first quarter of 2006 was 997,000 semi-finished net tons compared to 1,020,000 semi-finished net tons produced during the same period in 2005. Shipments during the first quarter of 2006 totaled 974,000 net tons compared to 907,000 net tons shipped during the first quarter of 2005, representing a 7% increase.

As of March 31, 2006, the net liquidity position of the "Predecessor" company was $250 million, consisting of $36 million of cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash, $396 million of available lines of credit, less $182 million of drawings on credit lines. This compares to net liquidity of $304 million for the same period of 2005, and $254 million for year-end 2005. The net liquidity position for the "Successor" company, as of March 31, 2006 was $555 million, consisting of $36 million of cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash, $946 million of available lines of credit, less $427 million of drawings on lines of credit.

The $305 million increase in net liquidity from the Predecessor company to the Successor company, is the result of the following events in connection with the implementation of the CCAA Plan.

- The replacements of the Predecessor's credit facilities ($425 million) with new lines of credit ($975 million) thereby increasing liquidity by $550 million.
- A $232 million reduction in liquidity arising from a payment of $382 million to the Corporation's four main pension plans, partially offset by proceeds of $150 million from the issue of a long-term note payable to the Province of Ontario; and

- A further $13 million reduction in liquidity due to the payments of fees related to the new credit facilities.

Net cash of $3 million was generated during the first quarter of 2006, compared to $76 million generated in the first quarter of 2005. During the first quarter proceeds of $107 million received from the sale of non-core subsidiaries were offset primarily by capital expenditures of $49 million, operations usage of $40 million and debt repayments of $12 million.

As previously announced, as of April 1, 2006, a new Board of Directors assumed office, and Rodney B. Mott was appointed President and Chief Executive Officer of the newly refinanced Stelco Inc.

The application of "fresh start accounting", on March 31, 2006, will impact future financial results. All assets and liabilities of the Corporation are being revalued to fair value at the time of implementation of the Plan of Arrangement. The Successor Statement of Financial Position is based on the Corporation's preliminary assessment of fair values. The Corporation expects to finalize the fair value allocation by June 30, 2006. As a result of these changes there will be impacts on future earnings including amortization changes as a result of revaluing fixed assets, cost of sales increases in the near term as a result of the revaluation of inventories from the lower of cost and net realizable value to fair value, and a decrease in pension and other post-employment benefits expense as previously unamortized actuarial losses and past service costs have been eliminated from the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

Commenting on the future, Rodney Mott, Stelco's President and Chief Executive Officer, said, "My focus is to return the newly refinanced Stelco to profitability. My initial emphasis will be on lowering our costs and improving our productivity to ensure Stelco's long-term viability and future success. Steps taken already include a focus on our primary business of making high-quality steel for our customers, and a move toward a more effective management structure."

At their meeting yesterday, Stelco's Board of Directors appointed Steve Douglas to the Board, replacing Peter Gordon who has resigned from the Stelco Board in order to focus on other Brookfield initiatives. Steve is Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Falconbridge Limited. He brings a strong background in both finance and the resource industry to the Board.

About Stelco

Stelco is one of Canada's largest publicly traded steel companies. It is focused on its two Ontario-based integrated steel businesses located in Hamilton and in Nanticoke. These operations produce high quality value-added hot rolled, cold rolled, coated sheet and bar products. This news release may contain forward-looking information with respect to the Corporation's business operations, financial performance and conditions. Actual results may differ from expected results for a variety of reasons including factors discussed in the Corporation's Management's Discussion and Analysis section of the Corporation's 2005 Annual Report. STELCO INC.
QUARTER 1, 2006
REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis ("MD&A") is dated May 10, 2006 and is in respect of the consolidated financial statements of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the quarter ended March 31, 2006. The purpose of Stelco's MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial situation and future prospects, focusing on the Corporation's Integrated Steel segment. Stelco sold all of its Mini-mill and Manufactured Products segments by February 1, 2006 - see "Discontinued Operations" below for additional comments. The March 31, 2006 Consolidated Statement of Financial Position has been prepared on a fresh start basis (see Note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and, as such, is not comparable to prior periods. All other financial statements contained in the interim Consolidated Financial Statements are comparable. The Corporation prepares its interim consolidated financial statements (the "Consolidated Financial Statements") in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"). The following MD&A should be read in conjunction with the MD&A and annual audited Consolidated Financial Statements and the accompanying notes contained in the Corporation's 2005 Annual Report, and with the interim Consolidated Financial Statements contained in this report. Additional information about Stelco is available in the Corporation's 2005 Annual Information Form, which can be accessed from SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of May 10, 2006. Events occurring after that date could render the information covered herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

Forward-Looking Statements

This MD&A, including the documents incorporated by reference, contains forward-looking statements. Often, but not always, forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or state that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved. Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Examples of such statements include, but are not limited to factors relating to the future of the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including (1) Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs; (2) labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; (3) pension matters; (4) consolidation in the steel industry; (5) changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; (6) new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; (7) Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; (8) the volatility of selling prices for steel; (9) international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; (10) employee matters, including the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; (11) development of new products; and (12) planned capital expenditures; (13) currency fluctuations in the US dollar and its impact on steel pricing, and costs. Actual results and developments are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in this MD&A. Such forward-looking statements are based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of, steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update these forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Stelco Inc. operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. The Corporation is one of Canada's largest publicly traded steel companies. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which service customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction, and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties, which provide to the integrated steel plants approximately 90% of their iron ore requirements as feedstock in the steelmaking process.

CCAA PLAN, RELATED AGREEMENTS, AND NEW FINANCING

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the Consolidated Financial Statements.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation's Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. The final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRN's") in the U.S. dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian;
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000;
- Warrants for 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares, at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (see Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the CCAA Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006, that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016.

The key terms of the Pension Agreement are as follows:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
  Years 1 - 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006;
  Years 6 - 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount; and
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015, provided that any future benefit improvements required to be funded in accordance with the PBA will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

New Province Note

The Province has provided Stelco with an advance by way of the New Province Note in the amount of $150 million. The Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum and is repayable on December 31, 2015 (subject to an extension to March 31, 2016 in certain circumstances) and can be repaid in cash or Stelco common shares. The Note is subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before that date and provided there is no Event of Default under the Note. See Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Federal Government Grant

The Government of Canada announced on November 23, 2005, that it would provide a $30 million co-generation grant. The federal contribution represents approximately 60% of the initial cost of the Corporation's near- term cogeneration spending. Since the time of the commitment, there has been a change in Government. The Corporation has initiated a dialogue with the new government in order to reconfirm and secure the $30 million commitment. To date, the grant has not been reconfirmed.

Corporate Reorganization

On February 14, 2006, the Court approved a reorganization of the Predecessor pursuant to the CBCA Plan. As a result, specific assets and liabilities of the Predecessor's business were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships upon implementation of the CBCA Plan at the time of its emergence from the Court-supervised restructuring process.

The following business units of the Predecessor were established and the Predecessor transferred assets and liabilities to these business units which were formed as limited partnerships ("LPs"): Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership; Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership; two LPs related to energy assets (primarily a future business); two surplus land LPs; two coke production facility LPs; and an LP related to the Corporation's mining interests. Upon reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships.

DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

The Corporation completed the sale of AltaSteel Ltd., Norambar Inc., Stelwire, and Stelfil Ltée (collectively the "Non-Core Subsidiaries") during the first quarter of 2006 for gross proceeds of $107 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). A $40 million net pre-tax loss was recorded on the disposition of Stelco's shares in the Non-Core Subsidiaries. This loss is included in discontinued operations on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss). The net pre-tax loss is comprised of:

- $145 million settlement losses relating to the pension and other benefit plans of the Non-Core Subsidiaries; and
- $105 million gain on the sale of the shares of the Non-Core Subsidiaries.

AltaSteel Ltd.

The shares of AltaSteel Ltd. and its corresponding investment in both MOLY-COP Canada and GenAlta Recycling Inc. were sold to Moly Cop Steel Inc., an affiliate of Scaw International Sarl. The sale closed on January 31, 2006 for gross proceeds of $77 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). Stelco recorded a net pre-tax gain of $12 million comprised of a $36 million gain on the sale of Stelco's investment in AltaSteel Ltd., partially offset by a settlement loss of $24 million relating to the pension and other benefit plans of AltaSteel Ltd.

Norambar Inc., Stelwire, and Stelfil Ltée

Mittal Canada Inc. purchased the shares of Norambar Inc., Stelwire, and Stefil Ltée from Stelco on February 1, 2006 for a gross purchase price of $30 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). Stelco recorded a net pre-tax loss of $52 million comprised of a settlement loss of $121 million relating to the pension and other benefit plan of these subsidiaries, partially offset by a $69 million gain on the disposition of Stelco's investment.

(xxx) "Operating earnings (loss)" is a non-GAAP financial measure used by management to assess the performance of the Corporation. The Corporation's use of this measure may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. In accordance with Canadian GAAP, a reconciliation of Operating earnings (loss) to Net earnings (loss) is presented above.

All note references in this document are to the Corporation's March 31, 2006 Consolidated Financial Statements.

All information stated below excludes the discontinued operations of the Corporation. The continuing operations are the Integrated Steel segment, which comprise those business units that include and are primarily associated with the Hamilton and Lake Erie steel plants and their raw materials properties. The primary markets served by this segment are automotive, transportation, construction, manufacturing, pipe and tubular manufacturers, steel service centres, and steel fabricators.

OVERVIEW

Overall revenue per ton decreased by 14% in first quarter 2006 compared to first quarter 2005. This was due to the renewal of customer contracts for 2006 at lower prices than the previous year as well as lower spot market prices. Demand and pricing in the first quarter remained stable when compared to fourth quarter 2005 as steel service centre inventory levels remain at lower levels.

The planned fourth quarter 2005 Phase 2 upgrade to the Lake Erie hot strip mill extended longer than planned, negatively impacting the facility's overall production, the volume and mix of products shipped, and revenue from sales in the first quarter of 2006, as well as the fourth quarter of 2005.

Financial Information

Quarter ended March 31, 2006

Net sales for the quarter ended March 31, 2006 were 7% lower than the same quarter of 2005 mainly due to a 14% decrease in average revenue per ton, partly offset by an 7% increase in steel shipments. The first quarter decrease in revenue and average revenue per ton was primarily due to:

- renewal of customer contracts at lower prices and lower spot prices;
- the fourth quarter 2005 Lake Erie hot strip mill outage resulting in a lower value-added mix of sales mainly due to increased slab sales;
- the negative impact of the higher Canadian dollar; and
- the first quarter 2005 included selling price surcharges implemented to cover high raw material and energy costs.

Costs in first quarter 2006 were up 17% compared with the same quarter 2005 and average cost per ton was up 9% primarily due to:

- higher spending for repairs and maintenance, purchased services and supplies;
- higher natural gas, coal and ore, and zinc costs;
- the flow through of high-cost inventories produced in the previous quarter; and
- the impact of the fourth quarter 2005 Lake Erie hot strip mill upgrade, which resulted in high-cost outside conversion of slabs to hot roll coils.

The above cost increases were partially offset by:

- lower purchased coke and scrap costs;
- lower electricity costs, which were positively impacted by the provincial government rebate program;
- a lower value-added mix of sales; and
- reduced labour costs at Hamilton resulting from the continuing attrition of the workforce.

Reorganization Items

Reorganization items incurred in the first quarter of 2006 amounted to $21 million, of which $12 million related to professional fees (including fees to professionals representing other stakeholders) and $9 million for success fees that were triggered upon implementation of the CCAA Plan and emergence from CCAA and paid to a number of the Corporation's advisors. Comparatively, $21 million was incurred in the first quarter of 2005, which included professional fees of $10 million and a break fee of $11 million paid to Deutsche Bank. Professional fees will continue to be incurred into the second quarter of 2006 but are expected to be substantially lower than amounts incurred in previous quarters.

Financial Expense

Total financial expense of $15 million was incurred during the first quarter of 2006 as compared to $14 million in the same quarter of 2005. The difference relates predominantly to higher interim borrowings on the Corporation's short-term credit facility in 2006.

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

While the Corporation and its subsidiaries recognize future income tax assets where applicable, a future income tax asset valuation allowance of $20 million and $8 million was incurred in the first quarters of 2006 and 2005 respectively related to continuing operations.

Operational Information

Trade

Imports reached 54% of apparent domestic steel consumption in January, which is a record high. Domestic producers, including Stelco, continue to lose market share. Import permit data for first quarter 2006 indicates that steel imports from China increased almost 23% over the same period a year earlier.

On March 30, 2006, the Canadian Border Services Agency ("CBSA") completed the first phase of a sunset review of the August 1, 2001 ruling by the Canadian International Trade Tribunal ("CITT") that imports of hot rolled sheet from certain countries had injured the Canadian domestic industry. The CBSA ruled that the termination of the finding would likely result in a resumption of dumping by exporters from Brazil, China, Chinese Taipei, India, South Africa, and Ukraine. At the same time it ruled that dumping is unlikely to resume from Bulgaria, Macedonia, and Serbia and Montenegro. The CITT will now assess the likelihood of continued injury as a result of imports from the first set of countries and will convene a hearing starting June 19, 2006 in Ottawa. A ruling is expected before the end of July.

On March 8, 2006, the U.S. Department of Commerce ("DOC") issued its final determination in its 11th Administrative Review of Canadian shipments of Corrosion Resistant Steel Sheet (primarily galvanized) and assigned a 3.08% duty deposit rate to Stelco. That rate is higher than the 'de minimis' rates found in the 10th review and in the preliminary for the 11th review, reflecting a change in DOC methodology.

The U.S. International Trade Commission ("ITC") has begun a sunset review of the same Corrosion Resistant Steel Sheet ruling which covers certain other countries as well as Canada. The Corporation intends to participate in the review process in order to demonstrate that imports into the U.S. from Canada are not a continuing cause of injury to U.S. producers. The public hearing is scheduled for October 16, 2006 in Washington, D.C.

Health, Safety and Environment

Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP are both International Standards Organization ("ISO") 14001 registered. The compliance audits of Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP ISO 14001 systems were satisfactorily completed. This system provides the framework for the implementation, maintenance, and continuous improvement process for managing environmental aspects at both integrated plants.

It is anticipated the Hamilton Steel LP sinter plant will achieve reductions in its dioxin emissions in 2006. In the fourth quarter 2005, using new trial technology, dioxin emissions were reduced to levels below limits that apply after 2010. Permanent equipment is now being installed to implement this technology.

Equipment Upgrades

An outage of approximately 10 days, including commissioning, is scheduled for June, 2006 to install the sixth finishing stand at the Lake Erie Steel LP hot strip mill as the next stage of the Phase 2 upgrade. The sixth finishing stand is expected to be fully functional six weeks after the outage. The incremental drive conversion and the quick roll change are scheduled to be completed by the first half of 2007.

Facilities/Competitiveness

The cold rolled and coated products facilities at Hamilton Steel LP are registered to ISO/TS 16949. The Bar Product mills at Hamilton Steel LP, and the 2050 hot strip mill at Lake Erie Steel LP are scheduled to be registered to ISO/TS 16949 in the 2nd and 3rd quarters of 2006 respectively. ISO/TS 16949 is an international quality management system standard developed by the International Automotive Task Force and the Japan Automotive Manufacturers Association in conjunction with the international standards community. As internal suppliers to the finishing mills, the Hamilton Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel LP blast furnace and steelmaking facilities are scheduled to be registered to ISO 9001 by the end of 2006. By meeting these standards, Stelco demonstrates its ability to consistently provide product that meets customer requirements, and enhance customer satisfaction through continual improvement of processes, products and services.

The Corporation's previously announced strategic capital spending plan is currently under review by the Corporation's new management.

Labour Matters

The Hamilton Steel LP labour contract with USW Local 1005 will expire on July 31, 2006. Negotiations are expected to commence mid-May with the objective of achieving a new contract prior to this expiration.

(xxx) Operating earnings (loss) is a non-GAAP financial measure. See Financial and Operational Summary on page 5 for a GAAP reconciliation.

\+ Earnings (loss) per common share is calculated using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the quarter.

Net Sales and Costs

Quarter 1, 2006 Compared to Quarter 4, 2005

Net sales for the first quarter of 2006 were 11% higher than fourth quarter 2005. Steel shipments were 10% higher than fourth quarter 2005, while revenue per ton was 1% higher. Fourth quarter 2005 revenue and shipments were negatively impacted by the Phase 2 upgrade of the Lake Erie hot strip mill.

Cost per ton in first quarter 2006 was down 1% compared with fourth quarter 2005 primarily due to:

- lower natural gas and purchased coke costs;
- lower electricity costs, which were positively impacted by the provincial government rebate program;
- lower repairs and maintenance and supplies spending; and
- increased production levels at Lake Erie and Hamilton.

The above cost decreases were partially offset by:

- a higher value-added mix of sales; and
- the flow through of high-cost inventories produced in the previous quarter.

RISK FACTORS

Pricing

Factors affecting volatility of selling prices include:

- the strength of the economy in the United States;
- the impact China may have globally as its economy grows and the relationship of its consumption of steel relative to its growth in steelmaking capacity;
- the impact of imports and threat of imports from Europe and Asia on North American selling prices;
- the U.S./Canadian dollar exchange rate;
- the cyclical nature of the steel industry;
- material substitution when steel prices are relatively high.

Due to price volatility, the Corporation cannot rely on high selling prices being sustainable in the longer term and believes it cannot compete effectively in the longer term unless it takes steps to lower its overall costs.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability, which includes improved productivity and a leaner management structure with fewer layers between the customer and the Corporation's senior management. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Labour Matters

The Corporation's workforce is predominantly unionized and is covered by various labour agreements. The Hamilton Steel collective bargaining agreement with USW Local 1005 will expire on July 31, 2006. There can be no assurance that labour difficulties at any of Stelco's business units will not result in a significant loss of production and revenue and have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, and results of operations at Stelco.

Pension Plans

Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement to provide for funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. See "Pension Plan Funding Arrangements" under "CCAA Plan, Related Agreements, and New Financing - Agreements" for further details. Despite the level of contributions required under the Pension Agreement, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses and benefit changes.

Environmental Compliance

The Corporation is subject to substantial and evolving environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control, and the generation, handling, storage, transportation, and disposal of toxic and hazardous substances. These laws and regulations vary depending on the location of the facility and can fall within federal, provincial, or municipal jurisdictions.

Stelco regularly reviews and audits the operating practices of each business to monitor compliance with the Corporation's health, safety and environmental policies and legal requirements. The Corporation believes that future costs relating to environmental compliance can be dealt with in a manner such that they will not have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position. There is always the possibility, however, that unforeseen changes, such as in the laws or enforcement policies of relevant government bodies, or the discovery of changed conditions on the Corporation's real property or its operations could result in an increase in the costs of environmental compliance that could result in a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

Stelco is heavily dependent upon the continuous operation of its plants and equipment. There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. Stelco maintains first party property and boiler and machinery breakdown insurance, both of which include business interruption coverage, to address some of these exposures to the extent of the limits of coverage and the terms of the individual insurance contracts.

Technology

The Corporation is subject to competition from new technological developments used by other steel producers.

Expenditures in 2006 are expected to include approximately $70 million related to the Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership hot strip mill upgrade.

Stelco must continue to improve both its product and process technologies in order to achieve a competitive cost structure and maintain its competitive position in the high value-added automotive market. In particular, failure to meet the automotive industry's ever-more demanding requirements for product quality and service, and failure to provide the new grades of advanced high-strength steels will seriously jeopardize Stelco's long-term participation in this market. There is no assurance that Stelco will be able to improve its product and process technologies or that improvements, once implemented, will meet the automotive market's quality and service requirements. Refer to "Forward-Looking Statements" on page 1.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers if it does not participate in the steel industry consolidation.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

The Corporation's operations require substantial amounts of raw materials and energy including coal, iron ore, coke, scrap, natural gas, electricity, and other inputs. The price and availability of such raw materials and inputs are subject to market forces where the Corporation does not have ownership interests and, in some cases, to government regulations and, accordingly, are subject to change. Increases in the price of natural gas, coal, scrap, and coke can have a significant negative impact on the Corporation's costs.

The Corporation produces approximately 85% of its annual coke requirements through its own coke ovens. However, it purchases 100% of its metallurgical coal requirements (raw material for the coke ovens) at market prices. Stelco has secured 100% of its 2006 metallurgical coal requirements under purchase contracts.

Through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its 2006 requirements at its cost of production.

The Corporation's financial performance is exposed to price volatility associated with the electricity commodity market. The Government of Ontario introduced competition to the electricity market on May 1, 2002, giving rise to uncertainty of prices since commodity prices are now determined based on hourly supply and demand requirements. Large industrial end-users such as Stelco have been provided with some relief through a rebate program called the "Rebate on OPG Non-Prescribed Assets". On February 9, 2006, the provincial government announced they have extended the rebate program to April 30, 2009. Stelco's strategic plan includes co-generation facilities that will minimize Stelco's short- and long-term exposure to energy price fluctuations.

Trade Regulations

A number of foreign steel producers have in the past exported large quantities of steel to North America, impairing Stelco's ability to sell its products and, accordingly, its profitability. This steel has often been sold at levels that are below cost or below home market price, a practice known as "dumping". Existing trade laws and regulations in Canada may be inadequate to prevent such trade practices. Some foreign steel producers are owned, controlled or subsidized by foreign governments. Decisions by these foreign producers to continue production at marginal facilities may be influenced to a greater degree by political and economic policy considerations than by prevailing market conditions and may further contribute to excess global capacity. Moreover, trade regulation in other countries, particularly in the United States, could materially adversely affect Stelco through the imposition of dumping duties which would reduce or effectively eliminate their access to certain steel markets.

Employees

Approximately 27% of Stelco's salaried workforce and 45% of the hourly workforce at Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership are eligible to retire under the current provisions of the defined pension benefit plans. A further 34% and 46% respectively of these groups could retire in the next five years under current eligibility provisions. Stelco is evaluating the necessary manpower requirements consistent with its succession plans and attrition rates.

Retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees, and the ability to attract and retain new employees where replacement is considered necessary, is essential to Stelco's continued operations.

Enterprise Resource Planning Systems

The implementation of a new order flow ERP system which was planned for second quarter 2006 was cancelled in May, 2006. Management is of the view that the cost/benefit analysis does not justify continuation of this project. This decision will be considered in the allocation of fair values to specific assets as part of the fresh start accounting. Existing systems remain available for these applications.

Currency Fluctuations

Stelco is a net purchaser of U.S. dollars. Accordingly, any strengthening of the Canadian dollar results in a benefit to Stelco for its net purchases of U.S. funds. However, more than offsetting the above is the negative effect on Stelco's domestic sales revenue due to the following reasons. Firstly, many of Stelco's domestic customers export their products into the U.S. Thus, a stronger Canadian dollar can cause those customers to be less competitive in the U.S. and the customers may resist price increases or request steel price reductions from Stelco. Secondly, U.S. exports of steel into Canada have historically forced domestic steel prices in Canadian dollars downward. Finally, the North American benchmark for spot market prices for certain products, such as hot rolled, are established and determined in U.S. dollars. A strong Canadian dollar results in lower benchmark prices in Canadian dollars for 2006.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation will be determined by a number of factors, including without limitation, market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund critical capital projects, pension issues, and labour negotiations or disputes.

With the recapitalization of the Corporation upon emergence from CCAA, interest will be serviced in accordance with the terms and conditions of the related debt obligations. While under CCAA protection, the previous debt obligations were stayed and therefore did not impact cash flow.

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

(in millions)	At March 31 2006 (Successor)	At March 31 2006 (Predecessor)	At March 31 2005(x) (Predecessor)	At December 31 2005 (Predecessor)

Lines of Credit drawn down(d)	(427)	(182)	(128)	(191)
Net liquidity	$ 555	$ 250	$ 304	$ 254

(a) After letters of credit usage, and subject to the availability under their agreements (described below).
(b) Includes the $600 ABL facility and the $375 Secured Revolving Term Loan.
(c) Includes the $350 million credit facility and the $75 million DIP Credit Agreement.
(d) In accordance with Canadian GAAP, the borrowings of the Successor are classified predominately as long-term liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position, and borrowings of the Predecessor are classified as short-term liabilities. See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.
(x) Represents the continuing operations (Integrated Steel segment) of the Predecessor.

The following reflects the quarterly net cash deficiency (cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash less lines of credit drawn down) of the Successor's and Predecessor's continuing operations over the previous eight quarters.

Net Cash Deficiency

	June 30, 2004	Sept. 30, 2004	Dec. 31, 2004	Mar. 31, 2005	June 30, 2005	Sept. 30, 2005	Dec. 31, 2005	Mar. 31, 2006
Net Cash	($209)	($201)	($153)	($93)	($35)	($143)	($149)	($391)

The Corporation's net cash position decreased significantly during the first quarter of 2006. Net cash of $3 million was generated from operating activities during the first quarter of 2006 (outlined below). Borrowings of $245 million were required for the implementation of the CCAA Plan. The pension contribution of $382 million and the deferred financing fees of $13 million were significant cash outflows that were partially funded by $150 million of proceeds from the issue of the New Province Note.

The net cash flow and working capital analyses that follow exclude the cash flows associated with the implementation of the CCAA Plan and cash flows associated with discontinued operations. Only continuing operating activities that influence the Corporation's liquidity and capital resources during the first quarters of 2006 and 2005 are discussed.

Financing Arrangements

Stelco Inc.

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million Debtor-in-Possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL is additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral, but will not exceed $600 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with Tricap (a shareholder - see CCAA Plan, Related Agreements, and New Financing - Plan Sponsor Agreement) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

Three months ended March 31 (in millions)	2006	2005(xx)	Favourable (Unfavourable)

Other - net	(1)	-	(1)
Change in net cash position	$ 3	$ 76	$ (73)

(xx) Restated - see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Net cash of $3 million was generated during the three months ended March 31, 2006. Net proceeds of $107 million received primarily from the sale of the Non-Core Subsidiaries were primarily offset by capital expenditures ($49 million), operating results ($40 million), and debt repayments ($12 million). Overall $73 million more cash was required during the first quarter of 2006 as compared to the same quarter of 2005. Operating results deteriorated significantly ($157 million), and coupled with capital spending ($32 million), exceeded the $107 million of net proceeds received primarily from the sale of Non-Core Subsidiaries.

Working Capital

While a number of components fluctuated substantially, net working capital did not represent a significant use or source of cash during the first quarters of 2006 or 2005.

Quarter ended March 31, 2006

Three months ended March 31 (in millions)	2006	2005	Favourable (Unfavourable)
Cash provided by (used for)
Accounts receivable	$ (127)	$ (92)	$ (35)
Inventory	102	55	47
Accounts payable	9	(4)	13
Other	14	23	(9)
Total	$ (2)	$ (18)	$ 16

Those components of working capital that changed substantially are discussed below.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable required $127 million during the first quarter of 2006 and $92 million in the same quarter of 2005. The primary driver was stronger shipments in the latter half of each of the first quarters which resulted in more sales being billed to customers than was collected from lower sales in the latter half of each of the preceding fourth quarters.

Inventories

$102 million was sourced from inventories during the first quarter of 2006 primarily from the seasonal draw down of raw material inventories due to the closure of the shipping season. In addition, slab inventories that were temporarily built up during the outage at the Lake Erie hot strip mill, were converted into coils and sold during the quarter.

Cash provided during the first quarter of 2005 was $55 million. The most significant source of cash was from the seasonal draw down of raw materials while the shipping season was closed. Partially offsetting this was an increase in steel inventories mainly due to high input costs.

Other

During the first quarter of 2005, $23 million of cash was provided relating primarily due to an increase in income taxes payable as the Corporation had utilized a majority of its loss carry-forwards at that time and was taxable in some of its jurisdictions. The income tax liability exceeded the required tax installments, which were based on the previous year's estimated income tax liability.

Investing Activities

The Corporation closed the sales of the Non-Core Subsidiaries for gross proceeds of $107 million. Partially offsetting this cash flow were expenditures on capital projects ($49 million), primarily the Phase 2 expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill, and projects at the Corporation's mining-related interests.

Capital expenditures during the first quarter of 2005 were $17 million. Spending was largely targeted towards the Lake Erie Phase 2 hot strip mill upgrade, the enterprise resource planning systems, and projects at the Corporation's various mining interests.

Financing Activities

During the first quarter of 2006, $6 million received as partial payment related to the sale of the Hamilton plate mill assets was used to make a repayment against the debt associated with that facility.

Regularly scheduled repayments of long-term debt were $6 million in the first quarters of both 2006 and 2005.

Contractual Obligations

The following is a summary of the principal obligations of the Corporation at March 31, 2006:

(in millions)	Total	2006	2007-2008	2009-2010	greater than 2010
Long-term debt(1)	$ 456	$ 11	$ 20	$ -	$ 425
Revolving term loans(2)	427	-	392	35	-
Capital leases	7	4	2	1	-
Operating leases	23	10	9	3	1
Purchase obligations and other commitments	577	252	156	110	59
Total	$ 1,490	$ 277	$ 579	$ 149	$ 485

(1) See Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.

(2) See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.

The implementation of the Plan had the effect of extending the maturity of $275 million of stayed liabilities to March 31, 2016, rather than being due immediately or subject to immediate acceleration, as they were exchanged for FRN's. The New Province Note, due December 31, 2015 (subject to a possible 3 month extension) governs the $150 million cash advance from the Province. Both of these liabilities are reflected at face value and categorized as long-term debt in the contractual obligations table above in the post-2010 period. Purchase obligations and other commitments are for coal, electricity, natural gas, oxygen, certain operating services and equipment, and information systems support services.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

Other than the operating leases included in the Contractual Obligations above, the Corporation had no off-balance sheet arrangements at either March 31, 2006 or 2005 or December 31, 2005.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to mitigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in the first quarters of 2006 or 2005, and accordingly no such financial instruments were outstanding at either March 31, 2006 or 2005.

Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B Common Shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on Plan implementation with no value being attributed to them (see Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

New Common Shares

Under the Plan and in accordance with the Plan Sponsor Agreement (see Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements), the Corporation issued 26,100,000 New Common Shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. The Affected Creditors received 6,364,000 New Common Shares as partial consideration for settlement of their Affected Claims. The Equity Sponsors received 19,736,000 New Common Shares in exchange for proceeds of $108.5 million.

On April 2, 2006, the Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 New Common Shares from Treasury for total consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Accounting Changes Effective in 2006

Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities

Upon emergence from CCAA at the end of the day on March 31, 2006, there was a substantial realignment of the equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation and the Corporation was required, under Canadian GAAP, to adopt "fresh start" reporting in accordance with CICA Handbook section 1625 - Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities. Under "fresh start" reporting, the Corporation is undertaking a comprehensive revaluation, based on the reorganization value as established and confirmed in the Plan, of its assets and liabilities by assigning a new fair value cost to all of the Corporation's assets and liabilities. Once the Corporation has completed this revaluation, the Statement of Financial Position will not be comparable to those previously reported (see Notes 3 and 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ASSUMPTIONS AND ESTIMATES

The Corporation's critical accounting assumptions and estimates are described in the MD&A of the 2005 Annual Report. The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP.

The preparation of these Consolidated Financial Statements requires the Corporation to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements. With the exception of the following, the Corporation has not made any significant changes in the Corporation's critical accounting assumptions and estimates from those disclosed in the MD&A of the 2005 Annual Report.

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 are reported at their estimated fair value, with the exception of future income taxes (see Note 10 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pensions and other post-employment benefits (see Note 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The determination of the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Successor has not been finalized as at the date of the preparation of this MD&A. Accordingly there can be no assurance of the estimates, assumptions, and values reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Successor as at March 31, 2006, will result in their final fair values (see Note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Intangible assets will be recognized at their fair value effective March 31, 2006, including those identified through the fresh start process but not previously recorded. This process is not complete at this time (see Note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets are currently under review as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets may have their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Segmented Information

The Corporation is currently reviewing its segmented reporting requirements in accordance with the guidance under CICA Handbook Section 1701 - Segment Disclosures, as a result of the Corporate Reorganization outlined in Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Previously, the Corporation's segments included the Integrated Steel segment, the Mini-mill segment and the Manufactured Products segment. Stelco sold all of its Mini-mill and Manufactured Products segments by February 1, 2006 - see "Discontinued Operations".

OUTLOOK

Entering second quarter 2006, management expects continued strength in all end markets, with customer inventories at or below target levels. Stelco's steel mill capacity is fully committed through the second quarter.

Stelco's new President and Chief Executive Officer, Rodney Mott, has appointed four new senior managers with backgrounds at U.S.-based International Steel Group and Nucor to head up certain key areas of Stelco's business.

The new senior managers are:

Bill McKenzie, Vice President, Stelco, and General Manager, Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership;
Jerome Nelson, Vice President, Sales and Marketing, Stelco;
Karen Smith, Vice President, Human Resources, Stelco; and
Gordon Spelich, Vice President, Purchasing and Logistics, Stelco.

The emphasis will be to lower costs and improve productivity in order to ensure long-term viability and a leaner and more effective management structure.

An outage of approximately 10 days, including commissioning, is scheduled for June 2006 to install the sixth finishing stand at the Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership hot strip mill as the next stage of the Phase 2 upgrade. The sixth finishing stand is expected to be fully functional six weeks after the outage.

The application of "fresh start accounting" will impact future financial results. All assets and liabilities of the Corporation have been revalued to their estimated fair value at the time of implementation of the CCAA Plan. Some of the impacts include amortization changes as a result of revaluing fixed assets, cost of sales increases as a result of the revaluation of inventories from the lower of cost and net realizable value to fair value (impact should be limited to the second quarter), and a decrease in pension and other post-employment benefits expense as previously unamortized actuarial losses and past service costs were eliminated from the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

Please refer to "Forward-Looking Statements" on page 1.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

1. BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Stelco Inc. operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. The Corporation is one of Canada's largest publicly traded steel companies. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada, which service customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction, and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties, which provide to the integrated steel plants approximately 90% of their iron ore requirements as feedstock in the steelmaking process.

2. THE PLAN AND RELATED AGREEMENTS

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants, and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation's Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

As discussed in Note 1 to the 2005 Consolidated Financial Statements, under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian;
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000;
- Warrants for 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares, at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 12) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Notes 12, 14, and 16 for further details.

Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the Plan from the following sources:

- New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 11) — up to $600 million
- New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 11) — $375 million
- New Province Note (Note 12) — $150 million
- Federal Government Grant (Note 13) — $30 million

Corporate Reorganization

On February 14, 2006, the Court approved a reorganization of the Predecessor pursuant to the CBCA Plan. As a result, specific assets and liabilities of the Predecessor's business were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships upon implementation of the CBCA Plan at the time of its emergence from the Court-supervised restructuring process.

The following business units of the Predecessor were established and the Predecessor transferred assets and liabilities to these business units which were formed as limited partnerships ("LPs"): Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership; Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership; two LPs related to energy assets (primarily a future business); two surplus land LPs; two coke production facility LPs; and an LP related to the Corporation's mining interests.

3. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 2), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with CICA Handbook Section 1625 - "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation is undertaking a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value has been allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 - "Business Combinations". As the Corporation has only recently emerged from CCAA, it is not practicable to definitely allocate the enterprise value. Once this matter has been resolved, the Corporation will reassess its initial allocation (see Note 5). The effect may be to transfer an amount from property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangible assets, asset retirement obligations, and the Province Note. The amount, if any, is not presently determinable.

As defined in Note 2, references to the "Predecessor" in these consolidated financial statements refer to Stelco Inc. and its subsidiaries, partnerships, and joint ventures in periods prior to the end of the day on March 31, 2006. All references to the "Successor" in these consolidated financial statements refer to Stelco Inc. and its subsidiaries, partnerships, and joint ventures as at the end of the day on March 31, 2006, and thereafter.

The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 reflects the accounts of the Successor. While not comparable to the Successor, the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Predecessor as at March 31, 2005 and December 31, 2005 have also been presented. The Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) reflects the activities of the Predecessor. The Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows for the three months ended March 31, 2006 reflects the Successor and Predecessor activities along with comparative activity for the Predecessor in the corresponding period in 2005.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 - March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business. Further, allowed claims, which arose prior to and during the CCAA proceedings, were recorded as liabilities subject to compromise and presented separately on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These interim financial statements do not include all of the disclosure required for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual consolidated financial statements.

4. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

With the exception of the following, these unaudited interim consolidated financial statements have been consistently prepared using the same accounting policies as disclosed in Note 2 to the 2005 audited consolidated financial statements of Stelco:

a) Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 are reported at their estimated fair value (Note 5), with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 - Income Taxes (Note 10) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 - Employee Future Benefits (Note 16.)

Intangible assets will be recognized at their fair value effective March 31, 2006, including those identified through the fresh start process but not previously recorded. This process is not complete at this time (see Note 5).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets are currently under review as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets may have their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

b) Segmented Information

The Corporation is currently reviewing its segmented reporting requirements in accordance with the guidance under CICA Handbook Section 1701 - Segment Disclosures, as a result of the Corporate Reorganization outlined in Note 2.

5. FRESH START REPORTING

As outlined in Note 3, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor have been reported at fair values, except for future income taxes, which are reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which are reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 (Note 4). As a result of the implementation of the Plan and the adoption of fresh start reporting, a revaluation adjustment of $781 million has been recorded as a reduction of shareholders' equity and the retained deficit of Stelco of $583 million as at March 31, 2006 has been eliminated.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor have been based on Management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The determination of the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor has not been finalized as at the date of preparing these interim consolidated financial statements. The Successor is continuing to finalize its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangible, asset retirement obligations, and the Province Note. Any adjustments will be made to the consolidated statement of financial position as at March 31, 2006. The determination of fair values involves certain estimates and assumptions, which are inherently subject to significant uncertainties and contingencies. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the estimates, assumptions, and values reflected in the consolidated statement of financial position of the Successor as at March 31, 2006 will result in their final fair values. At this time, the fair value adjustment is estimated to be an asset of $739 million and has currently been allocated to Property, plant, equipment, and intangible assets on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

(c) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the related facilities (Note 11).

(d) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants (Note 12).

(e) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.

(f) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement (Note 16).

(g) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.

(h) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused tax losses or other deductions are realized.

6. REORGANIZATION ITEMS

Reorganization items relating to continuing operations represent post-filing revenues, expenses, gains and losses, and provisions for losses that can be directly associated with the reorganization and restructuring of the Applicants. The following table summarizes the reorganization items included in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss):

Three months ended March 31 (in millions)	2006	2005
	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)
Professional fees	$ 12	$ 10
Success fees (i)	9	-
Break fees (ii)	-	11
Total reorganization items	$ 21	$ 21

(i) Fees paid to various advisors of the Corporation when the Third Amended Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization was approved and implemented.

(ii) In March 2005, Stelco discontinued the capital raising process and decided to pursue a recapitalization of the Corporation. As a result, Deutsche Bank became entitled to a break fee of approximately $11 million.

The cash flow associated with reorganization and restructuring items is summarized as follows:

Three months ended March 31 (in millions)	2006	2005
	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)
Professional fees	$ 13	$ 10
Success fees	9	-
Break fees	-	11
Total cash usage	$ 22	$ 21

7. RESTRICTED CASH

The Predecessor's restricted cash represented funds being held in trust with the Monitor pending direction from the Court for its use. The composition of these funds is derived as follows:

Proceeds from the sale of the shares of Norambar, Stelwire and Stelfil	30	-	-
Proceeds from the sale of the shares of AltaSteel	4	-	-
Total restricted cash	$ 34	$ 11	$ 17

During the first quarter of 2006, the Monitor received an additional $108 million on behalf of Stelco, primarily from the sale of AltaSteel ($77 million), and Norambar, Stelwire, and Stefil ($30 million). In March 2006, the Corporation obtained an order from the Court authorizing the Monitor to release approximately $91 million of restricted cash for general use on March 31, 2006. The Successor's remaining funds will be released in accordance with the terms of their respective purchase and sales agreements.

8. ASSET RETIREMENT OBLIGATIONS

Asset retirement obligations of continuing operations relate to the site restoration and reclamation of iron ore properties at the Corporation's mining interests in Wabush, Tilden, and Hibbing. The following table provides the pertinent information associated with these obligations:

(x) Reflects the estimated fair value assigned to this obligation under fresh start reporting (Note 5).

(xx) Reflects the estimated credit-adjusted risk-free interest rate of the Corporation, subject to finalization upon completion of the Corporation's comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities (Note 5).

9. DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS AND ASSETS HELD FOR SALE

All the businesses that comprised the Manufactured Products segment and Mini-mill segment were determined to be non-core upon the conclusion of the Corporation's strategic review in 2004 and have been subsequently sold.

All of these businesses have been presented as discontinued operations resulting in the retroactive restatement of the consolidated financial statements to isolate the earnings (loss) and cash flows associated with these businesses.

Mini-mill Segment

AltaSteel Ltd.

AltaSteel Ltd. ("AltaSteel") was a wholly owned subsidiary with its plant and head office located near Edmonton, Alberta. AltaSteel produced grinding rod, merchant quality and special quality bars, rebar, and ballstock. On December 1, 2005 the Corporation entered into a definitive purchase and sale agreement to sell the shares of AltaSteel, which included its 50% investment in both MOLY-COP Canada ("MOLY-COP") - see Manufactured Products Segment - and GenAlta Recycling Inc. ("Genalta") to Moly Cop Steel Inc., an affiliate of Scaw International Sarl. The Court approved this transaction on December 16, 2005. The transaction closed on January 31, 2006 for gross proceeds of $77 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). During the first quarter of 2006, Stelco recorded a net pre-tax gain of $12 million comprised of a $36 million gain on the sale of Stelco's investment in AltaSteel partially offset by a settlement loss of $24 million relating to the pension and other benefit plans of AltaSteel.

Norambar Inc.

Norambar Inc. ("Norambar") was a wholly owned subsidiary located in Contrecoeur, Quebec which manufactured billets, automotive leaf spring flat bars, rebar, merchant quality and special quality bars, and railway-related products. On November 23, 2005, the Corporation entered into a definitive purchase and sale agreement to sell the its investment in wholly owned subsidiary Férs et Métaux Recyclés Ltée ("Férs et Métaux") and the shares of Stelwire and Stelfil - see Manufactured Products Segment. The Court approved this transaction on December 12, 2005. The transaction closed on February 1, 2006 generating gross proceeds of $30 million (subject to final working capital adjustments). During the first quarter of 2006, Stelco recorded a net pre-tax loss of $37 million comprised of a settlement loss of $47 million relating to the pension and other benefit plans of Norambar partially offset by a $10 million gain on the sale of Stelco's investment in Norambar.

Financial Information

The following outlines the net sales, earnings (loss) before income taxes, and net earnings (loss) applicable to discontinued operations of the Mini-mill Segment:

Manufactured Products Segment

Stelwire

Stelwire operated plants in both Hamilton and Burlington, Ontario, and, was a wholly owned subsidiary, which was one of North America's largest producers of steel wire and wire products. Stelwire was part of the previously mentioned sale to Mittal Canada Inc. that closed on February 1, 2006. During the first quarter of 2006, Stelco Inc. recorded a net loss of $11 million comprised of a settlement loss of $54 million relating to the pension and other benefit plans of Stelwire partially offset by a gain of $43 million on the sale of Stelco's investment.

Stelfil Ltée

Stelfil Ltée ("Stelfil") operated in Lachine, Quebec producing wire and wire products and was a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation. Stelfil was part of the previously mentioned sale to Mittal Canada Inc. that closed on February 1, 2006. Stelco Inc. recorded a net loss of $4 million during the first quarter of 2006 comprised of a settlement loss of $20 million relating to both the pension and other benefit plans of Stelfil partially offset by a $16 million gain on the sale of Stelco's investment.

Stelpipe

Stelpipe, a wholly owned subsidiary located in Welland, Ontario, manufactured a number of pipe and tubular products. On October 31, 2005 the Corporation sold substantially all of Stelpipe's assets to Lakeside Steel Corporation ("Lakeside Steel"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Romspen Investment Corporation. As part of the agreement, Stelco retained all of the pension and benefit obligations of Stelpipe's existing retirees. The final proceeds from the sale remain subject to review and finalization of working capital and assumed liabilities.

Welland Pipe

On March 7, 2003, the Corporation permanently closed its wholly owned subsidiary, Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), a manufacturer of large-diameter pipe located in Welland, Ontario. The primary assets of the company were two pipe mills, a spiral-weld and U and O pipe mill, which were sold during 2004 and 2005.

The property and plant of Welland Pipe were listed for sale in March 2005. In January 2006, the Corporation entered into a purchase and sale agreement, which is subject to a number of conditions. If all conditions are met, the sale is expected to close in the second quarter of 2006. The net book value of these assets is immaterial.

Camrose Pipe Company

Camrose Pipe Company was a partnership situated in Camrose, Alberta which manufactured small- and large-diameter pipe. The Corporation held a 40% interest in this partnership. The sale closed in the second quarter 2005.

MOLY-COP Canada

MOLY-COP Canada ("MOLY-COP") is located in Kamloops, British Columbia and produced forged grinding balls for the mining and mineral industry. AltaSteel, as a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation, had a 50% ownership interest in this partnership. All of the ballstock processed at this plant was acquired from AltaSteel. MOLY-COP was sold as part of the previously mentioned sale to Moly Cop Steel Inc. that closed on January 31, 2006.

Future Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

While the Corporation and its subsidiaries recognize future income tax assets where applicable, a future income tax asset valuation allowance of $483 million related to continuing operations was recorded as of March 31, 2006 ($289 million as of December 31, 2005) to reduce the consolidated net future income tax asset.

Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million Debtor-in-Possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and prior to each anniversary date, the facility can be renewed for a period of two years if the lendor and Stelco mutually agree. The ABL facility is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest in all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventory, but will not exceed $600 million. At March 31, 2006, borrowings under the facility are $392 million, letters of credit are $29 million, and the available amount remaining under the facility is approximately $179 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any non-use of funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with Tricap (a shareholder - Note 2), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. As at March 31, 2006, there were borrowings of $35 million outstanding under this facility. Stelco intends to repay amounts borrowed under this facility within one year, therefore these borrowings have been reflected as a current liability on the Statement of Financial Position. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay 3% of the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

(a) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, Affected Creditors received FRN's equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL Facility and the Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 11) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL Facility and Secured Revolving Term Loan are repaid in full.

(b) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement, the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semiannually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants (see Note 14 for terms of the warrants). Upon the application of fresh start reporting, the Province Note will be adjusted to its fair value upon the completion of the comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities (Note 5). The fair value of the Province Note is currently estimated to be $57 million.

(c) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation. The loan is in default and secured against letters of credit associated with the sale of the plate mill assets. In addition, a $12 million claim was accepted through the claims process and was settled upon implementation of the CCAA Plan (see Note 2).

(d) These term loans were assumed by the purchaser upon completion of the sale of the Non-Core Subsidiaries during the first quarter of 2006 (Note 9).

13. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Capital Programs

The estimated cost to complete previously approved capital programs is $106 million. Of this amount $47 million relates to Phase 2 of the Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership hot strip mill upgrade. An additional $17 million pertains to projects at the Corporation's mining interests.

Federal Government Grant

The Government of Canada announced on November 23, 2005 that it agreed to provide a $30 million co-generation grant, representing approximately 60% of the initial cost of the Corporation's near-term cogeneration spending. Since the time of the commitment, there has been a change in Government. The Corporation has initiated a dialogue with the new government in order to reconfirm and secure the $30 million commitment. To date, the grant has not been reconfirmed.

Contingencies

Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. during the course of the CCAA proceedings alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement ("AELLA") between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. The lawsuit is still at the pleadings stage. The Corporation intends to vigorously defend this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provisions in the consolidated financial statements.

Convertible Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B Common Shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on Plan implementation with no value being attributed to them (Note 2).

New Common Shares

Under the Plan and in accordance with the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 2), the Corporation issued 26,100,000 New Common Shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. The Affected Creditors received 6,364,000 New Common Shares as partial consideration for settlement of their Affected Claims (Note 2). The Equity Sponsors received 19,736,000 New Common Shares in exchange for proceeds of $108.5 million.

On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 New Common Shares from Treasury for cash consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000.

Warrants

Under the Plan, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. The warrants entitle the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00, and if exercised in full, would result in the holders owning approximately 8% of fully diluted equity. These warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at anytime after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. The Affected Creditors received 1,418,500 warrants with an estimated fair value of $2 million as partial consideration in exchange for their Affected Claims (Note 2). The Province received 851,100 warrants with an estimated fair value of $1 million as partial consideration for the province loan (Note 12).

15. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Key Employee Stock Option Plan ("KESOP")

The KESOP terminated on Plan Implementation. No options remain outstanding under this plan.

Deferred Share Unit Plan

The holders of all the deferred share units ("DSU's") were settled for nil consideration on Plan Implementation. While the DSU Plan continues to exist, there are currently no deferred share units outstanding.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The ISOP is intended to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other persons engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliates. The total number of stock options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at a strike price of $5.50 per share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in equal installments beginning in September 2006, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options mature 10 years after the Grant Date. All options granted under the ISOP may not be issued for less than the market price of the Corporation's Common Shares on the Grant Date.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

As a condition of the CCAA Plan, Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement, effective on March 31, 2006 containing the following key terms:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
  Years 1 - 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006;
  Years 6 - 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount; and

- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015 provided that any future benefit improvements which will be required to be funded in accordance with the Pension Benefits Act and will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

Total accrued benefit liability	$ 907	$ 1,320	$ 894

All of the Corporation's other benefit plans are not fully funded.

17. EARNINGS (LOSS) PER COMMON SHARE

Interest on the convertible debentures is recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) as interest on long-term debt and debt subject to compromise. This amount, net of tax, is added back to net earnings (loss) from continuing operations and net earnings (loss) in order to calculate fully diluted earnings (loss) from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share. Fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share is calculated by applying the treasury stock method for the potential exercise of stock options, and assuming the dilutive effect of the conversion of all outstanding convertible debentures at the $4.50 per share conversion price applicable to these debentures.

Three months ended March 31 ($ in millions)	2006	2005
	(Predecessor)	Restated (Note 9) (Predecessor)
Basic net earnings (loss) from continuing operations	$ (79)	$ 41
Convertible debentures - interest expense net of tax	1	1
Fully diluted net earnings (loss) from continuing operations	$ (78)	$ 42
Basic net earnings (loss)	(122)	49
Convertible debentures - interest expense net of tax	1	1
Fully diluted net earnings (loss)	$ (121)	$ 50
Weighted average number of common shares outstanding - basic	102,249,198	102,249,199
Incremental number of common shares assumed to be issued on the exercise of stock options	-	281,250
Common shares issued on the assumed conversion of convertible	20,000,000	20,000,000
Weighted average number of common shares outstanding - fully diluted	122,249,198	122,530,449
Options to purchase common shares not included in the above calculation(x)	4,986,012	3,851,351

(x) Exercise prices were greater than the average market price of the common shares during the periods.

During the three months ended March 31, 2006, a basic net loss from continuing operations and a basic net loss were incurred, therefore options and convertible debentures related information have not been used to calculate fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings per share as both are anti-dilutive.

18. SEGMENTED INFORMATION

Discontinued Operations

Due to the restructuring of the Corporation's business, the operations of the Mini-mill segment (AltaSteel, Norambar, Genalta, and Fers et Métaux) and the Manufactured Products segment (Stelwire, Stelpipe, Stelfil, Camrose Pipe, MOLY-COP, and Welland Pipe) were discontinued and have been sold in whole or in part. Information relating to these businesses is contained in Note 9 - Discontinued Operations and is not disclosed below due to the related retroactive restatement of the consolidated financial statements.

Continuing Operations

The continuing operations of the Corporation, the Integrated Steel Segment, operate primarily within the North American market, as a group of businesses producing and marketing a wide range of steel products. Businesses in this segment produce raw materials (iron ore) and manufacture and sell slabs, hot rolled, cold rolled, and coated sheet, and bar. Intersegment sales are recorded at market value.

The following provides segmented information pertaining to the Integrated Steel Segment where the information cannot otherwise be found directly in the consolidated financial statements:

Attention Business Editors:
Stelco and Local 1005 conclude tentative collective agreement

HAMILTON, ON, June 15 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) announced today that it has concluded a tentative renewal collective agreement with Local 1005 United Steelworkers, which represents 2,400 hourly employees at the Company's Hamilton facilities, Hamilton Steel.

The proposed four-year agreement will succeed the current collective agreement, which expires on July 31, 2006. Details will not be disclosed until the agreement has been presented to and voted on by the Local membership.

Rodney B. Mott, Stelco President and Chief Executive Officer, stated that, "It has been a priority to indicate to Hamilton Steel's employees, customers, and shareholders our desire to ensure the long-term viability of Hamilton Steel Works and also recognize the need for competitive wages and proper benefits. The steelworkers are the foundation of any steel company and they should be better utilized to enhance productivity and profitability. This agreement reflects that belief and will enable Stelco and all of its employees to work together, to pursue growth, and to generate value as we move forward".

"I am very pleased with the positive and productive discussions between the Company and Local 1005 during the negotiation process. I believe the agreement is fair, reasonable and responsible to all concerned", added Bill McKenzie, Vice President Stelco, General Manager Hamilton Steel.

The Local 1005 bargaining committee is unanimously recommending that its members accept the proposed agreement during the upcoming ratification process.

Attention Business Editors:
Stelco provides update on 2006 forecasts and targets

Focus on workforce, volumes and cost expected to increase profitability and productivity

HAMILTON, ON, June 22 /CNW/ - Immediately following its Annual and Special Meeting of Shareholders being held at 10:30 a.m. Eastern Time today, Rodney B. Mott, President and Chief Executive Officer of Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) will be speaking to shareholders about the Company's current state of business, current priorities, and outlook for the business. In Mr. Mott's presentation, he will be providing new material information regarding a number of items, including estimated financial and production targets, cost cutting initiatives and EBITDA targets. Please be advised that these targets represent objectives being set by the Company, which it believes are achievable over time. Further updates will be provided as required. Following is a review of the items Mr. Mott will cover.

USW Local 1005 labour agreement: Stelco is pleased to announce today that on June 21, members of the United Steelworkers Local 1005 ratified a four-year labour agreement. The agreement was reached in advance of the July 31, 2006 expiry date of the existing labour contract.

Revenue growth: Through a combination of an increased volume target of 4.8 million tons per year, optimum product mix, and pricing, Stelco expects that the Company can achieve revenue exceeding $3 billion per year, an increase of 33% over 2005 actuals.

Workforce reduction plan: A workforce reduction plan has a target reduction of approximately 15% of the current employee base. This will be achieved through retirements, attrition, a salaried and hourly employee buyout plan and severance packages. Depending on participation, the estimated cost of this program is $25 million. The resulting annual savings are anticipated to be $45 million.

Productivity gains: The Company has set a productivity objective of 1,220 tons per employee, a 40% increase over current levels.

Other cost-reduction initiatives: Through a number of other initiatives, including production volumes, changes to salaried employees benefits plans, procurement strategies, energy management and elimination of contractors, Stelco has identified an estimated $65 million in cost savings per year.

Capital investment: The forecast for 2006 capital spending is $160 million, of which $54 million is expected to be spent in the second half of 2006. On a sustainable basis, the Company's annual capital investment program is expected to be $100 million.

EBITDA growth: Through a combination of increased volumes, savings from headcount reductions and other initiatives, assuming current market conditions going forward, the Company believes that EBITDA exceeding $400 million per year is achievable.

The targets announced today are expected to be achieved through a productive and engaged workforce, increased energy self-sufficiency, a reduced cost base, and reduced working capital.

Cogeneration: The Company also announces that it has been advised by the Government of Canada that it has cancelled its previously announced commitment to contribute $30 million to the cost of the Company's proposed near-term electricity cogeneration projects through the Partnership Fund.

While the Company expressed its disappointment with the Government's decision, it looks forward to continued dialogue to determine possible future funding mechanisms. Stelco remains committed to the use of cogeneration as a means of utilizing waste heat streams, enhancing competitiveness and improving environmental performance.

Resignation of Colin Osborne: Stelco announced today that Colin Osborne, Vice President, Strategy and Business Development and former Chief Operating Officer of Stelco, has elected to resign as an officer of Stelco effective July 1, 2006.

Colin has been a key part of the Stelco executive team. He joined the Company in 1987 and has held a number of executive positions in the areas of operations and strategy.

Webcast: The Annual and Special Meeting of Shareholders, and Rodney B. Mott's presentation to shareholders are accessible through a live webcast available through the Company's web site, www.stelco.com. Please choose 'Investor Centre' and select 'Webcasts.' The webcast will also be archived on the Company's Web site.

Caution Regarding Forward-Looking Information

This press release contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this press release or as of the date which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and its impact on steel pricing, and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.

Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of, steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this press release.

Note Regarding Non-GAAP Financial Measures

EBITDA is defined as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. EBITDA is not a recognized measure for financial statement presentation under Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). Non-GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies. EBITDA is not intended to represent cash flow from operations, as defined by Canadian GAAP, and it should not be considered as an alternative to net earnings, cash flow from operations, earnings before income taxes or any other measure of performance prescribed by GAAP. Stelco's EBITDA may also not be comparable to EBITDA used by other companies which may be calculated differently. Stelco considers forecast EBITDA to be a meaningful indicator for forecasted operating results and uses it as a measure to assess its forecasted operating performance. It is included because Stelco believes it can be useful in forecasting Stelco's ability to service debt, fund capital expenditures and expand its business.

The following table shows the reconciliation of "baseline" and "target" EBITDA in as used in this presentation to earnings before income taxes, which is a GAAP financial measure.

($ Millions)	Baseline	Target
EBITDA	210	410
Amortization	(187)	(195)

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (this "MD&A") is dated August 9, 2006 and is in respect of the interim unaudited consolidated financial statements (the "Consolidated Financial Statements") of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the quarter ended June 30, 2006. The purpose of Stelco's MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial condition and future prospects and to assist security holders and others to understand the Corporation and the key factors underlying its financial results. This MD&A should be read in conjunction with interim Consolidated Financial Statements and the accompanying notes, Stelco's interim report for the quarter ended March 31, 2006 and Stelco's 2005 annual report.

The Corporation prepares its interim Consolidated Financial Statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"). Additional information about Stelco is available in the Corporation's 2005 Annual Information Form, Annual MD&A and Financial Statements, which can be accessed from SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of August 9, 2006. Events occurring after that date could render the information contained herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel companies. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which service customers in the automotive, steel service centre, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its iron ore requirements, as feedstock in the steelmaking process. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation" refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting

Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") on January 29, 2004 and emerged from CCAA protection at the end of the day on March 31, 2006 upon the implementation of Stelco's third amended and restated plan of arrangement and reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"). Also on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement involving Stelco was implemented under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA Plan") pursuant to which Stelco's business was reorganized and specific assets and liabilities of Stelco were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Stelco's emergence from CCAA protection and the implementation of the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan is referred to in this MD&A as the "Reorganization". Further information regarding the Reorganization is set out in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

When used in this MD&A, the term "Predecessor" refers to Stelco and its related entities prior to the Reorganization and the term "Successor" refers to Stelco and its related entities following the Reorganization.

In connection with the Reorganization, Stelco adopted "fresh start" reporting on March 31, 2006 and, accordingly, is undertaking a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. Pending such finalization, there have been no changes to the initial estimated fair value adjustment reflected in Stelco's March 31, 2006 consolidated statement of financial position. See "Changes in Accounting Policy" in this MD&A and Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

As a result of the Reorganization and the continuing revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, selected comparative information in this MD&A regarding sales and shipments has been provided where such information is not affected by the Reorganization or the adoption of "fresh start" reporting.

OVERVIEW

The net loss for the second quarter of 2006 was $31 million. Included in this loss are $90 million of unusual items on a pre-tax basis ($62 million after tax). These unusual items include:

- a fresh start inventory revaluation included in Costs – $49 million;
- salaried employees severance and voluntary retirement incentive costs – $27 million; and
- an employee future benefit curtailment expense – $14 million.

In addition, there was a net future income tax recovery of $8 million due to the enactment of lower future federal income tax rates.

Net Sales

Quarter ended June 30, 2006 compared to quarter ended June 30, 2005

Net sales for the quarter ended June 30, 2006 were 6% higher than the same quarter of 2005 mainly due to a 15% increase in steel shipments, partially offset by an 8% decrease in average revenue per ton. Average revenue per ton in the second quarter of 2006 was lower primarily due to:

- higher pricing in the second quarter of 2005 in both spot and contract business;
- the negative impact of the higher Canadian dollar; and
- a shift in mix of sales mainly due to increased slab and hot roll sales.

Quarter ended June 30, 2006 compared to quarter ended March 31, 2006

Net sales for the quarter ended June 30, 2006 were 3% higher than the first quarter of 2006. Steel shipments remained relatively constant, while average revenue per ton was 4% higher. The second quarter increase in average revenue per ton was primarily due to:

- increased pricing predominantly in Stelco's spot price business; and
- a shift in mix from hot roll into higher priced cold rolled product.

Six months ended June 30, 2006 compared to six months ended June 30, 2005

Net sales for the first half of the year were 1% lower than the same period in 2005. Steel shipments were 11% higher, while average revenue per ton was down 11% compared to 2005. The six month decrease in average revenue per ton was primarily due to:

- higher pricing in the second quarter of 2005 in both spot and contract business;
- the negative impact of the higher Canadian dollar; and
- a shift in mix of sales mainly due to increased slab and hot roll sales.

Financial Expense and Foreign Exchange Gain

Total financial expense of $17 million was incurred in the second quarter of 2006. Included in financial expense for the second quarter of 2006 is approximately $1 million relating to borrowings under the secured revolving term loan (see Liquidity and Capital Resources – Financing Arrangements) which is held indirectly by a significant shareholder. The interest on related party borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable related party lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at June 30, 2006. The majority of related party interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at June 30, 2006.

The Corporation's long-term floating rate notes (see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) are denominated in US dollars ($235 million), resulting in a translation gain of $13 million in the second quarter of 2006, as the debt was translated at the exchange rate in effect on June 30, 2006.

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting as required by Canadian GAAP.

A net future income tax recovery of $8 million was recorded in the second quarter 2006 due to the enactment of lower future federal income tax rates.

(3) Non-GAAP Measures

The financial information contained in this MD&A is presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Reference is also made to "EBITDA" and "EBIT", which are non-Canadian GAAP measures. "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses and, in the case of the Predecessor, also before restructuring costs and asset write-downs. "EBIT" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes and other non-operating income and expenses. Information concerning EBITDA and EBIT has been included in this MD&A because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA and EBIT) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA and EBIT measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. A reconciliation to net earnings (loss), which is a Canadian GAAP measure, is presented above in the Financial and Operational Summary.

All note references in this document are to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

SUMMARY OF QUARTERLY RESULTS

The following table reflects the Corporation's quarterly financial performance over the last eight quarters. The Corporation does not typically experience significant seasonal fluctuations in revenues.

As a result of the Reorganization and the continuing revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation are dependent upon a number of factors, including without limitation market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund critical capital projects, pension issues and labour negotiations and disputes.

The Corporation has a significant requirement of working capital related primarily to inventories due to the lead time of acquiring raw materials, the quantities of raw materials that are required to produce semi-finished steel and the amount of time required to process this semi-finished steel into a finished product. This working capital requirement is characteristic of many companies within the steel industry.

With the recapitalization of the Corporation upon emergence from CCAA, interest will be serviced in accordance with the terms and conditions of the related debt obligations.

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

(2) Includes the amount available from the $600 ABL facility and the $375 secured revolving term loan.

(3) Includes the former $350 million credit facility and the former $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility.

(4) In accordance with Canadian GAAP, the borrowings of the Successor are classified predominantly as long-term liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. See Note 8 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Financing Arrangements

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Limited (a significant shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the property, plant and equipment of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

Liquidity Risks

Some of the provisions contained in the Corporation's financing arrangements provide for the escalation of lending rates in certain circumstances which, if triggered, could impact the liquidity of the Corporation depending upon the amount outstanding under the particular facility. These agreements also contain provisions (along with the Corporation's long-term debt agreements), which restrict the Corporation's ability to issue additional debt.

The Corporation has $235 million principal amount of US denominated floating rate notes outstanding. The amount to be repaid in Canadian dollars will be dependent upon the US exchange rate in effect upon the maturity of this obligation in 2016.

(1) Restated to disclose the activities of the Predecessor's continuing and discontinued operations separately.

(2) The six month period ended June 30, 2006 consists of two quarters which are not comparable.

Due to the non-comparable nature of the financial results between the Successor and Predecessor (see "Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting" in this MD&A), the following commentary pertains to the results of the Successor only.

For the three months ended June 30, 2006, the Successor required $27 million of cash. Operating activities generated $17 million, which was more than offset by $13 million required to finance working capital requirements and $41 million of capital expenditures.

Working capital requirements were primarily related to the following:

- $14 million for prepaid expenses – largely representing insurance policies typically renewed in the second quarter;
- $17 million for taxes payable – relating primarily to the final payments for 2005 income taxes and interim installments for 2006 income tax for certain subsidiaries.

These were partially offset by $26 million sourced from accrued accounts payable relating primarily to interest accrued on the floating rate notes and timing on payroll related items.

Capital expenditures of $41 million were incurred during the second quarter of 2006 relating primarily to the continued spending on Phase 2 hot strip mill upgrade at Lake Erie Steel and various projects at the Corporation's mining interests.

The Corporation relied on cash and short-term borrowings of $27 million to finance its operating and capital requirements during the second quarter of 2006. The Corporation's net liquidity of $449 million is considered sufficient to meet these short-term needs. A number of initiatives are being pursued by the Corporation with the expected result of improving operating cash flows to a level sufficient to exceed both operating and capital requirements on a sustainable basis and to reduce short-term borrowings.

While certain of the initiatives will initially result in further short-term borrowings, the expected future cash savings upon the conclusion of the initiatives will more than offset these costs. More specifically, the cash cost for the workforce reduction programs, which will predominantly be paid in the third quarter of 2006, is expected to be approximately $24 million. An additional $15 million cash payment will be made in the third quarter of 2006 to employees who participated in Stelco's voluntary termination programs (see "Risk Factors – Employees"). This amount is primarily related to pre-retirement entitlements and banked vacations, which have been previously accrued.

While the pension agreement with the Province of Ontario (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) has a prescribed funding obligation, pension plan enhancements, such as the recently negotiated hourly pension indexing, are excluded from this arrangement. Accordingly, the hourly pension indexing is subject to additional cash funding under the Pension Benefits Act totalling an estimated $121 million over the next eight years.

Federal Government Grant

The Government of Canada announced on November 23, 2005 that it would provide a $30 million co-generation grant. The federal contribution represented approximately 60% of the initial cost of the Corporation's near-term cogeneration spending. Since the time of the commitment, there was a change in Government. In June 2006, the Corporation was advised by the Government that it cancelled its previously announced commitment to contribute the $30 million grant.

Contractual Obligations

The following is a summary of the principal obligations of the Corporation at June 30, 2006:

(in millions)	Total	2006	2007–2008	2009–2010	>2010

(2) See Note 8 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.
(3) Principally related to mobile equipment.
(4) Principally related to coal purchases, information technology services, oxygen and power requirements.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

Other than operating leases referred to above, the Corporation had no off-balance sheet arrangements at June 30, 2006.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to mitigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in the second quarter of 2006 and, accordingly, no such financial instruments were outstanding at June 30, 2006.

Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B common shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on CCAA Plan implementation with no value being attributed to them.

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 common shares from treasury for total consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of common shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000. As at August 9, 2006, there remain 27,100,000 common shares outstanding.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issuable upon the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of the common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. These warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at anytime after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The total number of options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal installments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, of the common shares on the Grant Date. During the second quarter of 2006, 200,000 options were forfeited and 150,000 additional options were granted. The total options available under the ISOP at June 30, 2006 is 716,000. See Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Accounting Changes Effective in 2006

Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities

Upon emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, there was a substantial realignment of the equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation. The Corporation was required, under Canadian GAAP, to adopt "fresh start" reporting in accordance with CICA Handbook section 1625 – Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities. All of the assets and liabilities of the Corporation were revalued to their estimated fair value at the time of implementation of the CCAA Plan on March 31, 2006. At this time, the Corporation is continuing to finalize the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor. While it was anticipated that the results would be finalized in the second quarter 2006, several factors have contributed to the delay including complexities associated with the valuation of certain entities and changes in senior management responsible for review and approval of the final result. Accordingly, there have been no changes to the initial estimated fair value adjustment reflected in the March 31, 2006 consolidated statement of financial position.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ASSUMPTIONS AND ESTIMATES

The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP as disclosed in Note 3 thereto.

In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to make certain assumptions and estimates. Choosing one assumption or estimate from a range of possibilities can materially impact the amounts reported on the Statement of Earnings (Loss) or the Statement of Financial Position. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors reviews the significant assumptions and estimates throughout the year.

Management considers assumptions and estimates relating to the following matters to be the most critical:

- valuation of accounts receivable;
- carrying value of long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment);
- employee future benefits;
- income taxes;
- inventory valuation;
- environmental matters; and
- basis of valuation.

Unless indicated otherwise, all adjustments related to the items below are reflected in Costs in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

Valuation of Accounts Receivable

Stelco records an allowance for doubtful collection of accounts receivable based on the Corporation's best estimate of any potential uncollectible amounts. The best estimate considers past experience with the customer base and a review of current economic conditions and specific customer issues. While there is no significant exposure to individual customers, there is a significant exposure to the automotive industry. Although the Corporation and its Predecessor have not had significant bad debt expenses in prior periods, deteriorating economic conditions could result in financial difficulties in the customer base that could lead to bad debts.

Carrying Value of Long-Lived Assets

In accordance with Canadian GAAP appropriate for a going concern, property, plant and equipment is carried at cost less accumulated amortization. This carrying amount is reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The carrying value is considered recoverable if the sum of undiscounted cash flows from operations and cash flow from disposal of the property, plant and equipment exceeds the carrying amount. Future cash flows are dependent upon the assumptions used for revenues and costs to produce product. There is a high degree of uncertainty in estimating future cash flows, primarily as a result of the uncertainty regarding future prices for steel, operating costs and economic conditions. The application of different assumptions for steel prices, operating costs and economic conditions could result in a conclusion that we would not recover the carrying amount of our property, plant and equipment and other long-lived assets, which could result in a material charge to earnings.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation's operations participate in a number of employee future benefit arrangements (principally providing pension and health care benefits) in Canada and the United States. These benefits represent a substantial obligation and cost to the Corporation. As indicated in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, these plans are primarily of a defined benefits nature. As a result, complex actuarial and accounting rules are used to determine the expense to be recorded for the year and the accrued benefit obligation as at each measurement date, which generally corresponds to the year-end date, for the Corporation's principal defined benefit plans.

To arrive at the cost of employee future benefits to be recognized in the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to review and update various actuarial assumptions each year, based on a going concern concept. These assumptions include investment yields, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality rates and other factors. Management consults certain outside advisors, including actuaries, in determining these factors in order to ensure that the assumptions chosen are reasonable. The assumptions used to recalculate the June 30, 2006 obligations do not impact the second quarter 2006 expense but will impact future expenses.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the expected average remaining service life (EARSL) of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. The cost of employee future benefits in any year should not be unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

The following comments highlight the significant 2006 changes and trends within the Corporation's principal pension and other benefit plans.

Pension Benefits

The major assumptions include:

The discount rate enables the Corporation to calculate the present value of the benefit obligation as of the measurement date (December 31, subject to the remeasurements required as at March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006). The rate used is the current yield on high-quality fixed income investments whose term and cash flow are similar to the liabilities under the plan. A higher discount rate decreases the present value of the benefit obligation and increases pension expense.

The expected long-term rate of return on plan assets is determined by assessing historical and anticipated investment returns on the various categories of plan assets. Similar to the discount rate, lower expected returns result in increased expense.

Establishment of the expected average retirement age is based on a review of the actual experience of the pension plans. Lower retirement ages result in increasing the benefit obligation as well as pension expense.

The mortality rate allows the Corporation to define the duration for which benefits are expected to be paid. Mortality rates are based on actuarial tables that are updated periodically to reflect expected mortality trends in the general population. A lower mortality rate (higher life expectancy) lengthens the benefit payment stream resulting in a higher benefit obligation and pension expense.

Pension Plan Amendment and Curtailments

The Hamilton Steel USW Local 1005 union contract ratified in June 2006 includes certain pension benefit improvements. For accounting purposes, management has determined these changes are a plan amendment and accordingly the pension plan assets and liabilities have been remeasured to reflect the impact of these amendments. The participation in the salaried workforce reduction program has resulted in a significant reduction in estimated future years of service of the salaried workforce who are members of the defined benefit pension and post-employment plans. Management has determined this was a curtailment for accounting and accordingly the pension plan assets and liabilities have been remeasured. The curtailment has resulted in immediate recognition in the second quarter 2006 operating results.

As at June 30, 2006, management updated the following assumptions for three of the four principal pension plans, which were subject to remeasurement:

- discount rate – from 5.25% to 5.50%; and
- retirement age salaried employees – from 58 to 59.

The consolidated funded status deteriorated from a deficit of $416 million as at March 31, 2006 to a deficit of $618 million as at June 30, 2006, mainly as a result of the loss on pension plan assets, plan amendments and early retirements somewhat offset by the revised assumption for the discount rate for the three remeasured plans (Lake Erie salary, Hamilton and Corporate salary and Hamilton Steel bargaining unit). Under Canadian GAAP, the impact of changes to the above assumptions, benefit improvements, actual investment returns, and other changes are recognized over a number of years rather than in the year of occurrence. As a result, for accounting purposes, there is an accrued benefit liability of $431 million on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at June 30, 2006 reflecting the deficit of $618 million reduced by $100 million of unamortized net actuarial losses, and $87 million of unamortized past service costs.

Further details on pension plans are included in Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Other Benefits

The assumptions for other benefit plans are similar to pension plans, with the additional factor of health care cost trend rates. Changes in the health care cost trend rate have a significant effect on the accrued benefit obligation and recorded expense. As these plans are generally unfunded, changes to the assumptions do not materially impact cash outlays. Cash outlays are the actual amounts paid for other benefits.

As at June 30, 2006, management updated the following assumptions for other benefit plans for three of the four principal plans, which were subject to remeasurement:

- discount rate – from 5.25% to 5.75%; and
- retirement age salaried employees – from 58 to 59.

The consolidated funded status improved from a deficit of $1,320 million as at March 31, 2006 to a deficit of $1,194 million as at June 30, 2006, primarily due to these revised assumptions and plan amendments. Similar to the accounting rules for pension plans, the full impact of changes in assumptions is not recognized in the current year. Unamortized actuarial gains and past service costs of $107 million increased the liability recorded on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position to $1,301 million as at June 30, 2006 from $1,320 million as at March 31, 2006.

Further details on other benefit plans are included in Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Income Taxes

Application of Canadian GAAP concerning future income taxes requires projection of tax rates expected to be in effect in years in which tax benefits will be realized. Changes to the amount and timing of tax rates in future years can impact the amount of income tax expense or recovery recognized in an accounting period. The realization of future income tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future years to utilize income tax benefits and income tax loss carry-forwards. Deviations of future profitability from estimates would result in adjustments to the value of future income tax assets and liabilities that could have a significant effect on earnings. See Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting as required by Canadian GAAP.

Inventory Valuation

Valuation of inventories requires a number of estimates to be made, including inventory quality, condition and obsolescence. These determinations require management to exercise judgment. Inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Finished products are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Management must exercise judgment in determining the appropriateness of values used to determine replacement costs and not realizable values. Cyclical changes in selling prices and/or input costs can result in material adjustments being made to the carrying value of finished product inventory. As a result of the implementation of fresh start accounting on March 31, 2006, the inventory was revalued to fair value. This revaluation has had an impact on second quarter 2006 operating results and will continue to impact the results in the second half of 2006 as this inventory is sold.

Environmental

Stelco discloses environmental obligations when known and accrues the cost associated with the obligations when they are known and the costs can be reasonably estimated. Stelco owns a number of manufacturing sites that have been in existence for a significant period of time and as a result may have unknown environmental obligations.

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value, with the exception of future income taxes (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pensions and other post-employment benefits (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The determination of the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Successor has not been finalized as at the date of this MD&A. Accordingly there can be no assurance that the estimates, assumptions and values reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Successor as at March 31, 2006, will be the final fair values recognized (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets are currently under review as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets may have their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

RISK FACTORS

Stelco's business and future performance is subject to a number of risk factors including, among others, risks relating to the volatility of selling prices for steel, Stelco's energy and raw material costs, planned capital expenditures, currency fluctuations in the US dollar and environmental matters. The following discussion is an update to the section entitled "Risk Factors" in management's discussion and analysis included in Stelco's 2005 annual report and in Stelco's interim report for the quarter ended March 31, 2006.

Pricing

Due to price volatility, the Corporation cannot rely on high selling prices being sustainable in the longer term and believes it cannot compete effectively in the longer term unless it takes steps to lower its overall costs.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability, which includes improved productivity and a leaner management structure. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. In addition, the failure of planned outages to be completed as scheduled could have a material adverse effect on Stelco.

Pension Plans

Stelco and the Province of Ontario entered into a pension agreement that prescribes the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. Despite the level of contributions required under the pension agreement, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses and benefit changes.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers as a result of the steel industry consolidation.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

Wabush Mines has recently been experiencing production problems, which will negatively impact Stelco's cost of iron ore for the remainder of the year. Plans for Wabush are being reviewed to improve production and lower costs.

Employees

In June 2006, the Salaried Transition Assistance Program (STAP) was made available to active salaried employees who are defined benefit pension plan members. The STAP provided incentives for early retirement or resignation to eligible employees. Similarly, the Transition Assistance Program (TAP) was made available to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the new collective agreement negotiated in June 2006. The TAP provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees.

Stelco is evaluating its manpower requirements consistent with its succession plans and attrition rates. Retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees, and the ability to attract and retain new employees where replacement is considered necessary, are essential to Stelco's continued operations.

Labour Matters

Risks relating to possible labour difficulties and resultant loss of production and revenue have been mitigated by the agreement reached in June 2006 with USW Local 1005 to renew the 2002 Hamilton Steel collective agreement for a period expiring on July 31, 2010.

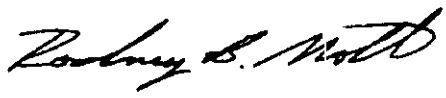
OUTLOOK

Entering the second half of 2006, management does not foresee any prevailing factors that will significantly change the steel market from the second quarter 2006. The North American automotive market is stable with U.S. light vehicle sales for 2006 projected to reach 16.5 – 16.8 million units. The heavy truck market is expected to stay strong through 2006.The pipe and tube markets are forecasted to remain strong and stable through year-end and steel service center's inventories are currently being managed. Production for the second half of 2006 is expected to be 2.1 million net tons of semi-finished steel with approximately 2 million net tons of shipments, including the impacts of scheduled outages.

The emphasis of the management team will be to develop a new culture within Stelco where all employees anticipate and embrace necessary change. This includes changes that focus on making steel and servicing customers, increase volume and grow revenues and lower costs and improve productivity in order to ensure profitability and long-term viability.

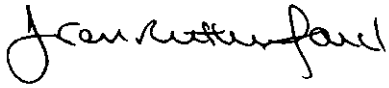
The application of "fresh start accounting" will continue to impact future financial results. All assets and liabilities of the Corporation are being revalued to their estimated fair value at the time of implementation of the CCAA Plan. Some of the impacts include amortization changes as a result of revaluing fixed assets, cost of sales increases as a result of the revaluation of inventories from the lower of cost and net realizable value to fair value, and a decrease in pension and other post-employment benefits expense as previously unamortized actuarial losses and past service costs were eliminated from the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. The revaluation has not yet been finalized.

Stelco's President and Chief Executive Officer, Rodney Mott, has recently added J. Kenneth Rutherford to Stelco's management team. Mr. Rutherford has assumed the responsibilities of Chief Financial Officer, replacing William E. Vaughan, who retired in May 2006.



Forward-Looking Statements

This MD&A contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this MD&A or as of the date which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and their impact on the Corporation's US dollar denominated long-term debt, steel pricing and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.



Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

1. BUSINESS DESCRIPTION AND CCAA HISTORY

Business Description

Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") is one of Canada's largest steel companies. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which service customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties, which provide to the integrated steel plants approximately 90% of their iron ore requirements as feedstock in the steelmaking process. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation", refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

CCAA History

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation's Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Discontinued Operations

As part of the CCAA, Stelco divested all of its manufactured products and mini-mill businesses. The impact on earnings for the three months ended March 31, 2006 was a net loss of $43 million (net of income tax of $2 million), for the three months ended June 30, 2005 was net earnings of $5 million (net of income tax of $2 million) and for the six months ended June 30, 2005 net earnings of $13 million (net of income tax of $6 million).

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian;
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000;
- Warrants for 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares, at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

1. BUSINESS DESCRIPTION AND CCAA HISTORY (continued)

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 9) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Notes 9, 11, and 13 for further details.

Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the Plan from the following sources:

• New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 8)	up to $600 million
• New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 8)	$375 million
• New Province Note (Note 9)	$150 million
• Federal Government Grant (Note 10)	$30 million

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with CICA Handbook Section 1625 – "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation is undertaking a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value has been allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 – "Business Combinations". As the Corporation has only recently emerged from CCAA, it is not practicable to definitely allocate the enterprise value. Once this matter has been resolved, the Corporation will reassess its initial allocation (see Note 4). The effect may be to transfer amounts between property, plant and equipment, inventories and intangible assets and future income taxes. The amount, if any, is not presently determinable.

The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 reflects the accounts of the Successor. While not comparable, the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) and the corresponding Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows reflects the activities of the Successor and Predecessor for the three months and six months ended June 30, 2006 and 2005.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 – March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business.

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These interim financial statements do not include all of the disclosure required for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual consolidated financial statements.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP, which require management to make assumptions and estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The significant policies are summarized below:

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value (Note 4), with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes (Note 7) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits (Note 13).

Intangible assets will be recognized at their fair value effective March 31, 2006, including those identified through the fresh start process but not previously recorded. This process is not complete at this time (see Note 4).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets are currently under review as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets may have their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Stelco Inc., its wholly owned subsidiaries and partnerships, and its proportionate share of the accounts of its joint ventures.

Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at quarter-end exchange rates. All other assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at the quarter-end exchange rate or at historic rates prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities incurred for transactions after March 31, 2006. Income and expense items, other than those related to assets and liabilities translated at historic rates, are generally translated at the rate in effect at the time the transaction occurs.

Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency translations are reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

The temporal method of translation of foreign currency is followed for foreign subsidiaries, all of which are considered to be financially and operationally integrated. Translation of foreign currencies for the foreign subsidiaries using the temporal method is consistent with the method described above.

Inventories

Inventories on hand at March 31, 2006 are recorded at estimated fair values on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Post March 31, 2006 inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Semi-finished product inventories are valued at actual cost. Finished product inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Property, Plant, and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment purchased prior to April 1, 2006 is recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the financial reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Property, plant, and equipment purchased after March 31, 2006 is carried at cost less accumulated amortization, and includes construction in progress. The Corporation expenses interest costs directly associated with capital projects. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method applied to the cost of the assets at rates based on their estimated useful life and beginning from the point when production commences except for the cost of blast furnace relines (see below) and at certain mining properties where amortization is calculated on a unit-of-production basis. The following annual amortization rates are in effect:

- Buildings 20 to 30 years
- Equipment 15 to 20 years
- Automotive and mobile equipment 5 to 10 years
- Raw material plants and properties 20 years

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Blast Furnace Relines

The Corporation's blast furnaces periodically require extensive relining. Costs incurred in the reline of a blast furnace that extend the useful life of the furnace are capitalized and amortized over their estimated useful life on a unit-of-production basis. Other repair and maintenance costs that may be incurred during the reline are expensed.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets of the Corporation are computer systems and applications. Intangible assets purchased prior to April 1, 2006 are recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Intangible assets purchased after March 31, 2006 are recorded at historical cost. Amortization is recorded on a straight-line basis over an estimated eight-year life beginning from March 31, 2006 or the purchase date if after March 31, 2006.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

An impairment loss would be recognized when the carrying value of a long-lived asset exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The impairment loss would be calculated as the amount by which the carrying value of the asset exceeds its fair value.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation, its wholly owned business units, wholly owned subsidiaries, and joint ventures maintain a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing pension, other retirement and post-employment benefits to most of its employees.

Pension plan assets are valued at market-related value and are used to calculate the expected rate of return on plan assets. Market-related value is the market value of pension plan assets averaged over a three-year period.

The cost of pension and other post-employment benefits (including medical benefits, dental care, life insurance and certain compensated absences) is charged to income annually. The cost is computed on an actuarial basis using the projected benefit method by estimating the usage, frequency and cost of services covered and management's best estimate of the long-term rate of return on plan assets, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality and other factors. These assumptions relate to factors that are of a long-term nature and, consequently, are subject to a degree of uncertainty. Actual trends and values may differ from those assumed at this time resulting in changes in the cost of pension and other post-employment benefits in future periods. The assumptions are reviewed and updated annually or more frequently where the level of benefits provided to employees changes. Past service costs (such as increased benefits provided under labour contract settlements) are amortized over the estimated average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the employees at the date of the amendment.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the EARSL of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. The cost of employee future benefits in any year should not be unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

Salaried employees hired after July 31, 1997 participate in the Corporation's "Opportunity" or similar programs, which include a flexible credit plan for benefits and a self-directed group RRSP. These employees do not participate in the defined benefit plans. These programs are accounted for as defined contribution plans. Costs of defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

The Corporation follows the liability method of accounting for future income taxes. Under the liability method, future income tax assets and liabilities are determined based on "temporary differences" (differences between the accounting basis and the tax basis of the assets and liabilities) and are measured using the currently enacted, or substantively enacted, tax rates and laws expected to apply when these differences reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded against any future income tax asset if it is more likely than not that the asset will not be realized. Income tax expense or benefit is the sum of the Corporation's provision for current income taxes and the differences between the opening and ending balances of the future income tax assets and liabilities. The effect of increases and decreases to future income tax assets and liabilities arising from changes in tax rates is recognized in income in the period the changes occur.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting.

Measurement Uncertainty

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the stated amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

4. FRESH START REPORTING

As outlined in Note 2, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor have been reported at fair values, except for future income taxes, which are reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which are reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor have been based on management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The determination of the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor has not been finalized as at the date of these interim consolidated financial statements. The Successor is continuing to finalize its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangibles and future income taxes. Any adjustments will be made to the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006. The determination of fair values involves certain estimates and assumptions, which are inherently subject to significant uncertainties and contingencies. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the estimates, assumptions and values reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Successor as at March 31, 2006 will result in their final fair values. At this time, the fair value adjustment is estimated to be an asset of $739 million and has currently been allocated to Property, plant, equipment and intangible assets on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

The following Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 was included in the first quarter 2006 report (Note 5). The adjustments to the Predecessor balances related to predecessor shareholders, affected creditors and equity sponsors and pensions and financing were finalized upon emergence from CCAA. As indicated above, the fresh start adjustments are under review and may be subject to further change.

4. FRESH START REPORTING (continued)

The following legend describes the adjustments made to the Predecessor accounts resulting from the implementation of the Plan and consummation of the various agreements:

(1) Implementation of the Plan as outlined in Note 1.

The following table reconciles the Predecessor's liabilities subject to compromise to those that were accepted claims under the Plan:

The holders of Series A and B voting common shares received nil consideration.

(2) Issuance of shares for cash under the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 1).

(3) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the related facilities (Note 8).

(4) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants (Note 9).

(5) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.

(6) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement.

(7) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.

(8) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused tax losses or other deductions are realized.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting.

Included under the Fresh Start Adjustment caption are all tax adjustments required to transition the Predecessor's accounts to the Successor's accounts at March 31, 2006.

5. RESTRICTED CASH

The Predecessor's restricted cash represented funds being held in trust with the monitor under the CCAA proceedings pending direction from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice for its use. The composition of these funds is derived as follows:

(in millions)	At June 30, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)

	$ 5	$ 34	$ 17

During the second quarter of 2006, the monitor released the proceeds held in trust pertaining to the sale of the shares of Norambar Inc., Stelwire Ltd., and Stelfil Ltée. in accordance with the related purchase and sale agreement. The remaining restricted cash will be released in the fourth quarter of 2006 as per the terms of the related purchase and sale agreement.

6. ASSET RETIREMENT OBLIGATIONS

Asset retirement obligations relate to the site restoration and reclamation of iron ore properties at the Corporation's mining interests in Wabush, Tilden and Hibbing. The following table provides the pertinent information associated with these obligations:

Future Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting.

Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and, prior to each anniversary date, the facility can be renewed for a period of two years if the lendor and Stelco mutually agree. The ABL facility is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest in all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventory and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any non-use of funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation – Note 1), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. Stelco intends to repay amounts borrowed under this facility within one year, therefore these borrowings have been reflected as a current liability on the Statement of Financial Position. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay 3% of the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

Included in financial expense for the second quarter of 2006 is approximately $1 million relating to borrowings under this agreement. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at June 30, 3006. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at June 30, 2006.

(1) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan (Note 8) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full.

(2) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 13), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants (see Note 11 for terms of the warrants). Upon the application of fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006, the Province Note was adjusted to its estimated fair value of $57 million (see Note 4) and will be accreted up to its face value over the term of the Note assuming an effective interest rate of 12%. During the second quarter of 2006 an accretion expense of $1 million was recorded in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

(3) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation. The loan is currently in default and the assets remaining in the subsidiary are not sufficient to satisfy this obligation.

(4) These term loans were assumed by the purchaser upon completion of the sale of the non-core subsidiaries during the first quarter of 2006.

(5) A $13 million gain was recorded during the second quarter of 2006 due to the revaluation of the notes using the June 30, 2006 U.S. dollar exchange rate.

(6) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

10. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Capital Programs and Other Commitments

Stelco has binding commitments for capital programs totalling $21 million. Of this amount, $17 million relates to Phase 2 of the Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership hot strip mill upgrade.

Pursuant to an outsourcing agreement, the Corporation has committed approximately $110 million up to and including year 2012.

Federal Government Grant

The Government of Canada announced on November 23, 2005, that it would provide a $30 million co-generation grant. The federal contribution represented approximately 60% of the initial cost of the Corporation's near-term cogeneration spending. Since the time of the commitment, there was a change in Government. In June 2006, the Corporation was advised by the Government that it cancelled its previously announced commitment to contribute the $30 million.

Contingencies

Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. during the course of the CCAA proceedings alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement ("AELLA") between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. The Corporation is vigorously defending this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provisions in the consolidated financial statements.

Total number of common shares	27,100,000	26,100,000
Total (in millions)	$149	$144

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 common shares from treasury for cash consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of common shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. The holders of liabilities subject to compromise received 1,418,500 warrants with an estimated fair value of $2 million as partial consideration in exchange for their claim accepted under CCAA. The Province received 851,100 warrants with an estimated fair value of $1 million as partial consideration for the province loan (Note 9). Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issuable under the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. These warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at any time after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013.

12. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The ISOP is intended to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other persons engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliates. The total number of stock options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal installments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, on the Grant Date. During the second quarter of 2006, 200,000 options were forfeited and 150,000 additional options were granted. The total options available under the ISOP at June 30, 2006 is 716,000.

Total compensation expense of $0.4 million has been included in costs for the second quarter of 2006.

The compensation expense for grants made under the ISOP was determined at the grant date using the fair value method by applying the Black-Scholes option-pricing model using the following assumptions:

Grant date	June 21, 2006	April 1, 2006
Expected volatility	40%	40%
Risk-free interest rate	4.33%	4.00%
Expected life	0 – 4 years	0 – 4 years
Expected dividends	Nil	Nil

The weighted average exercise price for options outstanding at June 30, 2006 is $6.47.

As a result of the emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Corporation was required to undertake a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities, which included a remeasurement of all of the Corporation's pension and other benefit plan obligations under CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits. The results of the remeasurement, as reported in the first quarter 2006, included the elimination of previously recorded unamortized net actuarial losses and unamortized past service costs. As a result, this had the effect of reducing the employee future benefit expense in the second quarter 2006 by $40 million.

In the second quarter 2006, there was:

- a contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005 which contained pension and benefit improvements, including an annual pension inclexing tied to a cost of living adjustment;
- announced reductions in the other benefit programs, which substantially impacted the active salary workforce (and salaried retirees);
- a Salaried Transition Assistance Program ("STAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement or resignation to employees who were members of the two principal salary defined benefit pension plans. The program closed on June 30, 2006;
- a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005. The program closed on July 14, 2006.

The STAP resulted in a severance expense of $19 million in the second quarter 2006 which, when combined with other terminations in the period of $8 million, resulted in a total cost of $27 million. The TAP will result in a severance cost of $5 million which will be recognized in the third quarter 2006.

These events had an impact on three of the Corporation's four principal pension and other benefit plans (the Hamilton Steel bargaining unit plans and the salary plans covering the Lake Erie Steel salary workforce and the combined Corporate and Hamilton Steel salary workforce). The Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit plans are not impacted by these changes as they are covered under a separate labour agreement.

As a result of the significant reduction of the salary workforce arising from the STAP program and the impact of certain reductions in the salary other benefit programs there was a net curtailment expense recognized in the second quarter 2006 of $14 million.

Two plan amendments (the Hamilton Steel bargaining unit pension indexing adjustment, net of a reduction in the salary early retirement pension benefit) resulted in net pension unamortized past service cost of $87 million. While this amount did not impact second quarter 2006 earnings, the amount will be amortized over the expected average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the active employees.

Other benefit plan amendments which primarily reflect an extensive reduction to the salary health care benefits resulted in an unamortized past service gain of $74 million. Similar to the pension impact noted above, this amount did not impact second quarter 2006 earnings and will be amortized over EARSL.

As a result of the significant plan amendments, there was a requirement to remeasure the affected plans described above. The remeasurement required a review and update of all significant assumptions underlying these plans, including the discount rate, retirement age, and expected long term rate of return on pension plan assets. The change in assumptions is tabled in this note. In the case of the pension plans the actual negative returns experienced since the last remeasurement in March 2006 compared to the expected rate of return exceeded the favourable impact of the 0.25% increase in the pension discount rate, resulting in a net pension unamortized actuarial loss of $67 million. The effect of employee reductions both prior to and including the TAP program for the Hamilton bargaining unit plan added an additional $39 million to the actuarial loss.

In the case of the other benefit plans, the increase in the discount rate by 0.5% resulted in an unamortized actuarial gain of $66 million. The effect of employee reductions, both prior to and including the STAP and TAP, resulted in an unamortized actuarial loss of $20 million.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

As a condition of the CCAA Plan, Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement, effective on March 31, 2006, which contains the following principal terms:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
  Years 1 – 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006; and
  Years 6 – 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount; and
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015 provided that any future benefit improvements which will be required to be funded in accordance with the Pension Benefits Act and will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

While the Pension Agreement with the Province has a prescribed funding obligation as outlined above, pension plan enhancements, such as the recently negotiated hourly pension indexing, are excluded from this arrangement. Accordingly, the hourly pension indexing is subject to additional cash funding under the Pension Benefits Act, totalling an estimated $121 million over the next eight years.

14. EARNINGS (LOSS) PER COMMON SHARE

Interest on the convertible debentures is recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) as interest on long-term debt and debt subject to compromise. This amount, net of tax, is added back to net earnings (loss) from continuing operations and net earnings (loss) in order to calculate fully diluted earnings (loss) from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share. Fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share is calculated by applying the treasury stock method for the potential exercise of stock options, and assuming the dilutive effect of the conversion of all outstanding convertible debentures at the $4.50 per share conversion price applicable to these debentures.

(1) Exercise prices were greater than the average market price of the common shares during the periods.

(2) The six month period ended June 30, 2006 consists of two quarters which are not comparable.

During the three months ended June 30, 2006 and March 31, 2006, a basic net loss from continuing operations and a basic net loss were incurred, therefore options warrants and convertible debentures related information have not been used to calculate fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings per share as both are anti-dilutive where applicable.

Attention Business/Financial Editors:
Stelco reports results for second quarter 2006

HAMILTON, ON, Aug. 10 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) today reported EBITDA of $19 million and a net loss of $31 million or $1.14 per share for the second quarter ended June 30, 2006. A number of unusual items during the quarter negatively impacted EBITDA by $49 million and net income by $54 million. These items relate primarily to adjustments resulting from the application of fresh start accounting, and workforce cost reduction initiatives, partially offset by a net favourable future income tax adjustment due to the enactment of lower federal corporate income tax rates.

As a result of the reorganization and the continuing revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, consolidated financial and other information reported in the second quarter of 2006 may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information reported in prior periods. The application of "fresh start accounting", on March 31, 2006, will continue to impact future results due to amortization changes as a result of revaluing of property, plant and equipment and cost of sales increases in the near term as the remainder of the revaluation of inventories from the lower of cost and net realizable value to fair value. The revaluation has not been finalized. Accordingly, only selective financial information on sales, production and shipments is commented on by way of comparison with prior periods.

Net sales revenue for the quarter ended June 30, 2006 was $698 million compared to $658 million for the same period in 2005. Increased revenues during the quarter were mainly due to a 15% increase in steel shipments. Partially offsetting this was an 8% decrease in average revenue per ton resulting from lower spot and contract pricing, the negative impact of the higher Canadian dollar, and a shift in mix towards lower valued added products. Production during the second quarter of 2006 increased to 1,108,000 semi-finished tons with shipments increasing to 971,000 net tons as compared to 1,054,000 semi-finished tons produced and 840,000 net tons shipped in the second quarter of 2005.

Net sales revenue for the quarter ended June 30, 2006 was $698 million compared to $674 million for the quarter ending March 31, 2006. While steel shipments remained relatively constant, there was a 4% increase in average revenue per ton. The increase in the average revenue per ton was primarily due to an increase in Stelco's spot pricing business and a shift in mix from hot roll into higher priced cold rolled products. Production during the second quarter of 2006 of 1,108,000 semi-finished tons increased from the 997,000 tons produced in the quarter ending March 31, 2006. Shipments were relatively constant with 971,000 net tons shipped in the second quarter and 974,000 net tons in the first quarter.

A number of positive events occurred during the second quarter of 2006 including:

- A new collective agreement was reached with USW Local 1005. This collective agreement has a term of four years and incorporates a new level of cooperation with management in seeking out efficiencies on the shop floor by leveraging the knowledge of those employees who make the steel and by empowering them to effect change. An incentive program has recently been introduced to promote and facilitate this change in thinking.
- The Corporation introduced a number of workforce cost reduction initiatives. While the net result of these initiatives will have a negative short-term impact on EBITDA, net earnings and operating cash flows, these initiatives will have a long-term benefit to the cost structure and is a major step towards our drive to return Stelco to a viable and profitable company.
- A number of other initiatives are being developed and implemented that will further reduce costs by reducing spending, increasing productivity or increasing production volumes.

Looking forward to the second half of 2006, the steel market is expected to remain strong. Production for the second half of 2006 is expected to be 2.1 million net tons of semi-finished steel with approximately 2 million net tons of shipments (including the impact of scheduled outages).

About Stelco

Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel companies. It is focused on its two Ontario-based integrated steel businesses located in Hamilton and in Nanticoke. These operations produce high quality value-added hot rolled, cold rolled, coated sheet and bar products. To learn more about Stelco and its businesses, please refer to our Web site at www.stelco.ca.

NON-GAAP MEASURES

This press release contains "Non-GAAP" measures such as "EBITDA". "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non operating income and expenses. Information concerning EBITDA has been included in this press release because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies.

CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

This press release contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this press release or as of the date which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and its impact on steel pricing, and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.

Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of, steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this press release.

STELCO INC.
QUARTER 2, 2006
REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (this "MD&A") is dated August 9, 2006 and is in respect of the interim unaudited consolidated financial statements (the "Consolidated Financial Statements") of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the quarter ended June 30, 2006. The purpose of Stelco's MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial condition and future prospects and to assist security holders and others to understand the Corporation and the key factors underlying its financial results. This MD&A should be read in conjunction with interim Consolidated Financial Statements and the accompanying notes, Stelco's interim report for the quarter ended March 31, 2006 and Stelco's 2005 annual report.

The Corporation prepares its interim Consolidated Financial Statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"). Additional information about Stelco is available in the Corporation's 2005 Annual Information Form, Annual MD&A and Financial Statements, which can be accessed from SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of August 9, 2006. Events occurring after that date could render the information contained herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel companies. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which service customers in the automotive, steel service centre, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its iron ore requirements, as feedstock in the steelmaking process. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation" refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting

Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") on January 29, 2004 and emerged from CCAA protection at the end of the day on March 31, 2006 upon the implementation of Stelco's third amended and restated plan of arrangement and reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"). Also on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement involving Stelco was implemented under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA Plan") pursuant to which Stelco's business was reorganized and specific assets and liabilities of Stelco were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Stelco's emergence from CCAA protection and the implementation of the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan is referred to in this MD&A as the "Reorganization". Further information regarding the Reorganization is set out in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

When used in this MD&A, the term "Predecessor" refers to Stelco and its related entities prior to the Reorganization and the term "Successor" refers to Stelco and its related entities following the Reorganization.

In connection with the Reorganization, Stelco adopted "fresh start" reporting on March 31, 2006 and, accordingly, is undertaking a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. Pending such finalization, there have been no changes to the initial estimated fair value adjustment reflected in Stelco's March 31, 2006 consolidated statement of financial position. See "Changes in Accounting Policy" in this MD&A and Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

As a result of the Reorganization and the continuing revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, selected comparative information in this MD&A regarding sales and shipments has been provided where such information is not affected by the Reorganization or the adoption of "fresh start" reporting.

OVERVIEW

The net loss for the second quarter of 2006 was $31 million. Included in this loss are $90 million of unusual items on a pre-tax basis ($62 million after tax). These unusual items include:

- a fresh start inventory revaluation included in Costs - $49 million;
- salaried employees severance and voluntary retirement incentive costs - $27 million; and
- an employee future benefit curtailment expense - $14 million.

In addition, there was a net future income tax recovery of $8 million due to the enactment of lower future federal income tax rates.

Quarter ended June 30, 2006 compared to quarter ended June 30, 2005

Net sales for the quarter ended June 30, 2006 were 6% higher than the same quarter of 2005 mainly due to a 15% increase in steel shipments, partially offset by an 8% decrease in average revenue per ton. Average revenue per ton in the second quarter of 2006 was lower primarily due to:

- higher pricing in the second quarter of 2005 in both spot and contract business;
- the negative impact of the higher Canadian dollar; and
- a shift in mix of sales mainly due to increased slab and hot roll sales.

Quarter ended June 30, 2006 compared to quarter ended March 31, 2006

Net sales for the quarter ended June 30, 2006 were 3% higher than the first quarter of 2006. Steel shipments remained relatively constant, while average revenue per ton was 4% higher. The second quarter increase in average revenue per ton was primarily due to:

- increased pricing predominantly in Stelco's spot price business; and
- a shift in mix from hot roll into higher priced cold rolled product.

Six months ended June 30, 2006 compared to six months ended June 30, 2005

Net sales for the first half of the year were 1% lower than the same period in 2005. Steel shipments were 11% higher, while average revenue per ton was down 11% compared to 2005. The six month decrease in average revenue per ton was primarily due to:

- higher pricing in the second quarter of 2005 in both spot and contract business;
- the negative impact of the higher Canadian dollar; and
- a shift in mix of sales mainly due to increased slab and hot roll sales.

Financial Expense and Foreign Exchange Gain

Total financial expense of $17 million was incurred in the second quarter of 2006. Included in financial expense for the second quarter of 2006 is approximately $1 million relating to borrowings under the secured revolving term loan (see Liquidity and Capital Resources - Financing Arrangements) which is held indirectly by a significant shareholder. The interest on related party borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable related party lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at June 30, 2006. The majority of related party interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at June 30, 2006.

The Corporation's long-term floating rate notes (see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) are denominated in US dollars ($235 million), resulting in a translation gain of $13 million in the second quarter of 2006, as the debt was translated at the exchange rate in effect on June 30, 2006.

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting as required by Canadian GAAP.

A net future income tax recovery of $8 million was recorded in the second quarter 2006 due to the enactment of lower future federal income tax rates.

(3) Non-GAAP Measures

The financial information contained in this MD&A is presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Reference is also made to "EBITDA" and "EBIT", which are non-Canadian GAAP measures. "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses and, in the case of the Predecessor, also before restructuring costs and asset write-downs. "EBIT" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes and other non-operating income and expenses. Information concerning EBITDA and EBIT has been included in this MD&A because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA and EBIT) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA and EBIT measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. A reconciliation to net earnings (loss), which is a Canadian GAAP measure, is presented above in the Financial and Operational Summary.

SUMMARY OF QUARTERLY RESULTS

The following table reflects the Corporation's quarterly financial performance over the last eight quarters. The Corporation does not typically experience significant seasonal fluctuations in revenues.

As a result of the Reorganization and the continuing revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation are dependent upon a number of factors, including without limitation market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund critical capital projects, pension issues and labour negotiations and disputes.

The Corporation has a significant requirement of working capital related primarily to inventories due to the lead time of acquiring raw materials, the quantities of raw materials that are required to produce semi-finished steel and the amount of time required to process this semi-finished steel into a finished product. This working capital requirement is characteristic of many companies within the steel industry.

With the recapitalization of the Corporation upon emergence from CCAA, interest will be serviced in accordance with the terms and conditions of the related debt obligations.

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

Financing Arrangements

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Fricap Management Limited (a significant shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the property, plant and equipment of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

Liquidity Risks

Some of the provisions contained in the Corporation's financing arrangements provide for the escalation of lending rates in certain circumstances which, if triggered, could impact the liquidity of the Corporation depending upon the amount outstanding under the particular facility. These agreements also contain provisions (along with the Corporation's long-term debt agreements), which restrict the Corporation's ability to issue additional debt.

The Corporation has $235 million principal amount of US denominated floating rate notes outstanding. The amount to be repaid in Canadian dollars will be dependent upon the US exchange rate in effect upon the maturity of this obligation in 2016.

(1) Restated to disclose the activities of the Predecessor's continuing and discontinued operations separately.
(2) The six month period ended June 30, 2006 consists of two quarters which are not comparable.

Due to the non-comparable nature of the financial results between the Successor and Predecessor (see "Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting" in this MD&A), the following commentary pertains to the results of the Successor only.

For the three months ended June 30, 2006, the Successor required $27 million of cash. Operating activities generated $17 million, which was more than offset by $13 million required to finance working capital requirements and $41 million of capital expenditures.

Working capital requirements were primarily related to the following:
- $14 million for prepaid expenses - largely representing insurance policies typically renewed in the second quarter;
- $17 million for taxes payable - relating primarily to the final payments for 2005 income taxes and interim installments for 2006 income tax for certain subsidiaries.

These were partially offset by $26 million sourced from accrued accounts payable relating primarily to interest accrued on the floating rate notes and timing on payroll related items.

The Corporation relied on cash and short-term borrowings of $27 million to finance its operating and capital requirements during the second quarter of 2006. The Corporation's net liquidity of $449 million is considered sufficient to meet these short-term needs. A number of initiatives are being pursued by the Corporation with the expected result of improving operating cash flows to a level sufficient to exceed both operating and capital requirements on a sustainable basis and to reduce short-term borrowings.

While certain of the initiatives will initially result in further short-term borrowings, the expected future cash savings upon the conclusion of the initiatives will more than offset these costs. More specifically, the cash cost for the workforce reduction programs, which will predominantly be paid in the third quarter of 2006, is expected to be approximately $24 million. An additional $15 million cash payment will be made in the third quarter of 2006 to employees who participated in Stelco's voluntary termination programs (see "Risk Factors - Employees"). This amount is primarily related to pre-retirement entitlements and banked vacations, which have been previously accrued.

While the pension agreement with the Province of Ontario (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) has a prescribed funding obligation, pension plan enhancements, such as the recently negotiated hourly pension indexing, are excluded from this arrangement. Accordingly, the hourly pension indexing is subject to additional cash funding under the Pension Benefits Act totalling an estimated $121 million over the next eight years.

The Government of Canada announced on November 23, 2005 that it would provide a $30 million co-generation grant. The federal contribution represented approximately 60% of the initial cost of the Corporation's near-term cogeneration spending. Since the time of the commitment, there was a change in Government. In June 2006, the Corporation was advised by the Government that it cancelled its previously announced commitment to contribute the $30 million grant.

Contractual Obligations

The following is a summary of the principal obligations of the Corporation at June 30, 2006:

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

Other than operating leases referred to above, the Corporation had no off-balance sheet arrangements at June 30, 2006.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to mitigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in the second quarter of 2006 and, accordingly, no such financial instruments were outstanding at June 30, 2006.

Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B common shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on CCAA Plan implementation with no value being attributed to them.

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 common shares from treasury for total consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of common shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000. As at August 9, 2006, there remain 27,100,000 common shares outstanding.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issuable upon the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of the common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. These warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at anytime after June 6, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The total number of options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal installments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, of the common shares on the Grant Date. During the second quarter of 2006, 200,000 options were forfeited and 150,000 additional options were granted. The total options available under the ISOP at June 30, 2006 is 716,000. See Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Accounting Changes Effective in 2006

Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities

Upon emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, there was a substantial realignment of the equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation. The Corporation was required, under Canadian GAAP, to adopt "fresh start" reporting in accordance with CICA Handbook section 1625 - Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities. All of the assets and liabilities of the Corporation were revalued to their estimated fair value at the time of implementation of the CCAA Plan on March 31, 2006. At this time, the Corporation is continuing to finalize the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor. While it was anticipated that the results would be finalized in the second quarter 2006, several factors have contributed to the delay including complexities associated with the valuation of certain entities and changes in senior management responsible for review and approval of the final result. Accordingly, there have been no changes to the initial estimated fair value adjustment reflected in the March 31, 2006 consolidated statement of financial position.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ASSUMPTIONS AND ESTIMATES

The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP as disclosed in Note 3 thereto.

In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to make certain assumptions and estimates. Choosing one assumption or estimate from a range of possibilities can materially impact the amounts reported on the Statement of Earnings (Loss) or the Statement of Financial Position. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors reviews the significant assumptions and estimates throughout the year.

Management considers assumptions and estimates relating to the following matters to be the most critical:

- valuation of accounts receivable;
- carrying value of long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment);
- employee future benefits;
- income taxes;
- inventory valuation;
- environmental matters; and
- basis of valuation.

Unless indicated otherwise, all adjustments related to the items below are reflected in Costs in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

Valuation of Accounts Receivable

Stelco records an allowance for doubtful collection of accounts receivable based on the Corporation's best estimate of any potential uncollectible amounts. The best estimate considers past experience with the customer base and a review of current economic conditions and specific customer issues. While there is no significant exposure to individual customers, there is a significant exposure to the automotive industry. Although the Corporation and its Predecessor have not had significant bad debt expenses in prior periods, deteriorating economic conditions could result in financial difficulties in the customer base that could lead to bad debts.

Carrying Value of Long-Lived Assets

In accordance with Canadian GAAP appropriate for a going concern, property, plant and equipment is carried at cost less accumulated amortization. This carrying amount is reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The carrying value is considered recoverable if the sum of undiscounted cash flows from operations and cash flow from disposal of the property, plant and equipment exceeds the carrying amount. Future cash flows are dependent upon the assumptions used for revenues and costs to produce product. There is a high degree of uncertainty in estimating future cash flows, primarily as a result of the uncertainty regarding future prices for steel, operating costs and economic conditions. The application of different assumptions for steel prices, operating costs and economic conditions could result in a conclusion that we would not recover the carrying amount of our property, plant and equipment and other long-lived assets, which could result in a material charge to earnings.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation's operations participate in a number of employee future benefit arrangements (principally providing pension and health care benefits) in Canada and the United States. These benefits represent a substantial obligation and cost to the Corporation. As indicated in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, these plans are primarily of a defined benefits nature. As a result, complex actuarial and accounting rules are used to determine the expense to be recorded for the year and the accrued benefit obligation as at each measurement date, which generally corresponds to the year-end date, for the Corporation's principal defined benefit plans.

To arrive at the cost of employee future benefits to be recognized in the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to review and update various actuarial assumptions each year, based on a going concern concept. These assumptions include investment yields, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality rates and other factors. Management consults certain outside advisors, including actuaries, in determining these factors in order to ensure that the assumptions chosen are reasonable. The assumptions used to recalculate the June 30, 2006 obligations do not impact the second quarter 2006 expense but will impact future expenses.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the expected average remaining service life (EARSL) of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. The cost of employee future benefits in any year should not be unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

The following comments highlight the significant 2006 changes and trends within the Corporation's principal pension and other benefit plans.

Pension Benefits

The major assumptions include:

The discount rate enables the Corporation to calculate the present value of the benefit obligation as of the measurement date (December 31, subject to the remeasurements required as at March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006). The rate used is the current yield on high-quality fixed income investments whose term and cash flow are similar to the liabilities under the plan. A higher discount rate decreases the present value of the benefit obligation and increases pension expense.

The expected long-term rate of return on plan assets is determined by assessing historical and anticipated investment returns on the various categories of plan assets. Similar to the discount rate, lower expected returns result in increased expense.

Establishment of the expected average retirement age is based on a review of the actual experience of the pension plans. Lower retirement ages result in increasing the benefit obligation as well as pension expense.

The mortality rate allows the Corporation to define the duration for which benefits are expected to be paid. Mortality rates are based on actuarial tables that are updated periodically to reflect expected mortality trends in the general population. A lower mortality rate (higher life expectancy) lengthens the benefit payment stream resulting in a higher benefit obligation and pension expense.

Pension Plan Amendment and Curtailments

The Hamilton Steel USW Local 1005 union contract ratified in June 2006 includes certain pension benefit improvements. For accounting purposes, management has determined these changes are a plan amendment and accordingly the pension plan assets and liabilities have been remeasured to reflect the impact of these amendments. The participation in the salaried workforce reduction program has resulted in a significant reduction in estimated future years of service of the salaried workforce who are members of the defined benefit pension and post-employment plans. Management has determined this was a curtailment for accounting and accordingly the pension plan assets and liabilities have been remeasured. The curtailment has resulted in immediate recognition in the second quarter 2006 operating results.

As at June 30, 2006, management updated the following assumptions for three of the four principal pension plans, which were subject to remeasurement:

- discount rate - from 5.25% to 5.50%; and
- retirement age salaried employees - from 58 to 59.

The consolidated funded status deteriorated from a deficit of $416 million as at March 31, 2006 to a deficit of $618 million as at June 30, 2006, mainly as a result of the loss on pension plan assets, plan amendments and early retirements somewhat offset by the revised assumption for the discount rate for the three remeasured plans (Lake Erie salary, Hamilton and corporate salary and Hamilton Steel bargaining unit). Under Canadian GAAP, the impact of changes to the above assumptions, benefit improvements, actual investment returns, and other changes are recognized over a number of years rather than in the year of occurrence. As a result, for accounting purposes, there is an accrued benefit liability of $431 million on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at June 30, 2006 reflecting the deficit of $618 million reduced by $100 million of unamortized net actuarial losses, and $87 million of unamortized past service costs.

Further details on pension plans are included in Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Other Benefits

The assumptions for other benefit plans are similar to pension plans, with the additional factor of health care cost trend rates. Changes in the health care cost trend rate have a significant effect on the accrued benefit obligation and recorded expense. As these plans are generally unfunded, changes to the assumptions do not materially impact cash outlays. Cash outlays are the actual amounts paid for other benefits.

As at June 30, 2006, management updated the following assumptions for other benefit plans for three of the four principal plans, which were subject to remeasurement:

- discount rate - from 5.25% to 5.75%; and
- retirement age salaried employees - from 58 to 59.

The consolidated funded status improved from a deficit of $1,320 million as at March 31, 2006 to a deficit of $1,194 million as at June 30, 2006, primarily due to these revised assumptions and plan amendments. Similar to the accounting rules for pension plans, the full impact of changes in assumptions is not recognized in the current year. Unamortized actuarial gains and past service costs of $107 million increased the liability recorded on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position to $1,301 million as at June 30, 2006 from $1,320 million as at March 31, 2006.

Further details on other benefit plans are included in Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Income Taxes

Application of Canadian GAAP concerning future income taxes requires projection of tax rates expected to be in effect in years in which tax benefits will be realized. Changes to the amount and timing of tax rates in future years can impact the amount of income tax expense or recovery recognized in an accounting period. The realization of future income tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future years to utilize income tax benefits and income tax loss carry-forwards. Deviations of future profitability from estimates would result in adjustments to the value of future income tax assets and liabilities that could have a significant effect on earnings. See Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting as required by Canadian GAAP.

Inventory Valuation

Valuation of inventories requires a number of estimates to be made, including inventory quality, condition and obsolescence. These determinations require management to exercise judgment. Inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Finished products are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Management must exercise judgment in determining the appropriateness of values used to determine replacement costs and not realizable values. Cyclical changes in selling prices and/or input costs can result in material adjustments being made to the carrying value of finished product inventory. As a result of the implementation of fresh start accounting on March 31, 2006, the inventory was revalued to fair value. This revaluation has had an impact on second quarter 2006 operating results and will continue to impact the results in the second half of 2006 as this inventory is sold.

Environmental

Stelco discloses environmental obligations when known and accrues the cost associated with the obligations when they are known and the costs can be reasonably estimated. Stelco owns a number of manufacturing sites that have been in existence for a significant period of time and as a result may have unknown environmental obligations.

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value, with the exception of future income taxes (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pensions and other post-employment benefits (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The determination of the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Successor has not been finalized as at the date of this MD&A. Accordingly there can be no assurance that the estimates, assumptions and values reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Successor as at March 31, 2006, will be the final fair values recognized (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets are currently under review as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets may have their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

RISK FACTORS

Stelco's business and future performance is subject to a number of risk factors including, among others, risks relating to the volatility of selling prices for steel, Stelco's energy and raw material costs, planned capital expenditures, currency fluctuations in the US dollar and environmental matters. The following discussion is an update to the section entitled "Risk Factors" in management's discussion and analysis included in Stelco's 2005 annual report and in Stelco's interim report for the quarter ended March 31, 2006.

Pricing

Due to price volatility, the Corporation cannot rely on high selling prices being sustainable in the longer term and believes it cannot compete effectively in the longer term unless it takes steps to lower its overall costs.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability, which includes improved productivity and a leaner management structure. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. In addition, the failure of planned outages to be completed as scheduled could have a material adverse effect on Stelco.

Pension Plans

Stelco and the Province of Ontario entered into a pension agreement that prescribes the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. Despite the level of contributions required under the pension agreement, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses and benefit changes.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers as a result of the steel industry consolidation.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

Wabush Mines has recently been experiencing production problems, which will negatively impact Stelco's cost of iron ore for the remainder of the year. Plans for Wabush are being reviewed to improve production and lower costs.

Employees

In June 2006, the Salaried Transition Assistance Program (STAP) was made available to active salaried employees who are defined benefit pension plan members. The STAP provided incentives for early retirement or resignation to eligible employees. Similarly, the Transition Assistance Program (TAP) was made available to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the new collective agreement negotiated in June 2006. The TAP provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees.

Stelco is evaluating its manpower requirements consistent with its succession plans and attrition rates. Retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees, and the ability to attract and retain new employees where replacement is considered necessary, are essential to Stelco's continued operations.

Labour Matters

Risks relating to possible labour difficulties and resultant loss of production and revenue have been mitigated by the agreement reached in June 2006 with USW Local 1005 to renew the 2002 Hamilton Steel collective agreement for a period expiring on July 31, 2010.

OUTLOOK

Entering the second half of 2006, management does not foresee any prevailing factors that will significantly change the steel market from the second quarter 2006. The North American automotive market is stable with U.S. light vehicle sales for 2006 projected to reach 16.5 - 16.8 million units. The heavy truck market is expected to stay strong through 2006.The pipe and tube markets are forecasted to remain strong and stable through year-end and steel service center's inventories are currently being managed. Production for the second half of 2006 is expected to be 2.1 million net tons of semi-finished steel with approximately 2 million net tons of shipments, including the impacts of scheduled outages.

The emphasis of the management team will be to develop a new culture within Stelco where all employees anticipate and embrace necessary change. This includes changes that focus on making steel and servicing customers, increase volume and grow revenues and lower costs and improve productivity in order to ensure profitability and long-term viability.

The application of "fresh start accounting" will continue to impact future financial results. All assets and liabilities of the Corporation are being revalued to their estimated fair value at the time of implementation of the CCAA Plan. Some of the impacts include amortization changes as a result of revaluing fixed assets, cost of sales increases as a result of the revaluation of inventories from the lower of cost and net realizable value to fair value, and a decrease in pension and other post-employment benefits expense as previously unamortized actuarial losses and past service costs were eliminated from the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. The revaluation has not yet been finalized.

Stelco's President and Chief Executive Officer, Rodney Mott, has recently added J. Kenneth Rutherford to Stelco's management team. Mr. Rutherford has assumed the responsibilities of Chief Financial Officer, replacing William E. Vaughan, who retired in May 2006.

Forward-Looking Statements

This MD&A contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this MD&A or as of the date which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and their impact on the Corporation's US dollar denominated long-term debt, steel pricing and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.

Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

1. BUSINESS DESCRIPTION AND CCAA HISTORY

Business Description

Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") is one of Canada's largest steel companies. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which service customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties, which provide to the integrated steel plants approximately 90% of their iron ore requirements as feedstock in the steelmaking process. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation", refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

CCAA History

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation's Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Discontinued Operations

As part of the CCAA, Stelco divested all of its manufactured products and mini-mill businesses. The impact on earnings for the three months ended March 31, 2006 was a net loss of $43 million (net of income tax of $2 million), for the three months ended June 30, 2005 was net earnings of $5 million (net of income tax of $2 million) and for the six months ended June 30, 2005 net earnings of $13 million (net of income tax of $6 million).

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian;
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000;
- Warrants for 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares, at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 9) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Notes 9, 11, and 13 for further details.

Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the Plan from the following sources:

- New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 8)	up to $600 million
- New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 8)	$375 million
- New Province Note (Note 9)	$150 million
- Federal Government Grant (Note 10)	$30 million

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with CICA Handbook Section 1625 - "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation is undertaking a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value has been allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 - "Business Combinations". As the Corporation has only recently emerged from CCAA, it is not practicable to definitely allocate the enterprise value. Once this matter has been resolved, the Corporation will reassess its initial allocation (see Note 4). The effect may be to transfer amounts between property, plant and equipment, inventories and intangible assets and future income taxes. The amount, if any, is not presently determinable.

The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 reflects the accounts of the Successor. While not comparable, the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) and the corresponding Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows reflects the activities of the Successor and Predecessor for the three months and six months ended June 30, 2006 and 2005.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 - March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business.

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These interim financial statements do not include all of the disclosure required for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual consolidated financial statements.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP, which require management to make assumptions and estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The significant policies are summarized below:

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value (Note 4), with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 - Income Taxes (Note 7) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 - Employee Future Benefits (Note 13).

Intangible assets will be recognized at their fair value effective March 31, 2006, including those identified through the fresh start process but not previously recorded. This process is not complete at this time (see Note 4).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets are currently under review as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets may have their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Stelco Inc., its wholly owned subsidiaries and partnerships, and its proportionate share of the accounts of its joint ventures.

Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at quarter-end exchange rates. All other assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at the quarter-end exchange rate or at historic rates prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities incurred for transactions after March 31, 2006. Income and expense items, other than those related to assets and liabilities translated at historic rates, are generally translated at the rate in effect at the time the transaction occurs.

Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency translations are reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

The temporal method of translation of foreign currency is followed for foreign subsidiaries, all of which are considered to be financially and operationally integrated. Translation of foreign currencies for the foreign subsidiaries using the temporal method is consistent with the method described above.

Inventories

Inventories on hand at March 31, 2006 are recorded at estimated fair values on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Post March 31, 2006 inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Semi-finished product inventories are valued at actual cost. Finished product inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Property, Plant, and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment purchased prior to April 1, 2006 is recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the financial reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Property, plant, and equipment purchased after March 31, 2006 is carried at cost less accumulated amortization, and includes construction in progress. The Corporation expenses interest costs directly associated with capital projects. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method applied to the cost of the assets at rates based on their estimated useful life and beginning from the point when production commences except for the cost of blast furnace relines (see below) and at certain mining properties where amortization is calculated on a unit-of-production basis. The following annual amortization rates are in effect:

- Buildings	20 to 30 years
- Equipment	15 to 20 years
- Automotive and mobile equipment	5 to 10 years
- Raw material plants and properties	20 years

Blast Furnace Relines

The Corporation's blast furnaces periodically require extensive relining. Costs incurred in the reline of a blast furnace that extend the useful life of the furnace are capitalized and amortized over their estimated useful life on a unit-of-production basis. Other repair and maintenance costs that may be incurred during the reline are expensed.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets of the Corporation are computer systems and applications. Intangible assets purchased prior to April 1, 2006 are recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Intangible assets purchased after March 31, 2006 are recorded at historical cost. Amortization is recorded on a straight-line basis over an estimated eight-year life beginning from March 31, 2006 or the purchase date if after March 31, 2006.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

An impairment loss would be recognized when the carrying value of a long-lived asset exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The impairment loss would be calculated as the amount by which the carrying value of the asset exceeds its fair value.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation, its wholly owned business units, wholly owned subsidiaries, and joint ventures maintain a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing pension, other retirement and post-employment benefits to most of its employees.

Pension plan assets are valued at market-related value and are used to calculate the expected rate of return on plan assets. Market-related value is the market value of pension plan assets averaged over a three-year period.

The cost of pension and other post-employment benefits (including medical benefits, dental care, life insurance and certain compensated absences) is charged to income annually. The cost is computed on an actuarial basis using the projected benefit method by estimating the usage, frequency and cost of services covered and management's best estimate of the long-term rate of return on plan assets, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality and other factors. These assumptions relate to factors that are of a long-term nature and, consequently, are subject to a degree of uncertainty. Actual trends and values may differ from those assumed at this time resulting in changes in the cost of pension and other post-employment benefits in future periods. The assumptions are reviewed and updated annually or more frequently where the level of benefits provided to employees changes. Past service costs (such as increased benefits provided under labour contract settlements) are amortized over the estimated average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the employees at the date of the amendment.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the EARSL of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. The cost of employee future benefits in any year should not be unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

Salaried employees hired after July 31, 1997 participate in the Corporation's "Opportunity" or similar programs, which include a flexible credit plan for benefits and a self-directed group RRSP. These employees do not participate in the defined benefit plans. These programs are accounted for as defined contribution plans. Costs of defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

The Corporation follows the liability method of accounting for future income taxes. Under the liability method, future income tax assets and liabilities are determined based on "temporary differences" (differences between the accounting basis and the tax basis of the assets and liabilities) and are measured using the currently enacted, or substantively enacted, tax rates and laws expected to apply when these differences reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded against any future income tax asset if it is more likely than not that the asset will not be realized. Income tax expense or benefit is the sum of the Corporation's provision for current income taxes and the differences between the opening and ending balances of the future income tax assets and liabilities. The effect of increases and decreases to future income tax assets and liabilities arising from changes in tax rates is recognized in income in the period the changes occur.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting.

Measurement Uncertainty

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the stated amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

4. FRESH START REPORTING

As outlined in Note 2, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor have been reported at fair values, except for future income taxes, which are reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which are reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor have been based on management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The determination of the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor has not been finalized as at the date of these interim consolidated financial statements. The Successor is continuing to finalize its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangibles and future income taxes. Any adjustments will be made to the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006. The determination of fair values involves certain estimates and assumptions, which are inherently subject to significant uncertainties and contingencies. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the estimates, assumptions and values reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Successor as at March 31, 2006 will result in their final fair values. At this time, the fair value adjustment is estimated to be an asset of $739 million and has currently been allocated to Property, plant, equipment and intangible assets on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position.

The following Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 was included in the first quarter 2006 report (Note 5). The adjustments to the Predecessor balances related to predecessor shareholders, affected creditors and equity sponsors and pensions and financing were finalized upon emergence from CCAA. As indicated above, the fresh start adjustments are under review and may be subject to further change.

The following legend describes the adjustments made to the Predecessor accounts resulting from the implementation of the Plan and consummation of the various agreements:

(1) Implementation of the Plan as outlined in Note 1.

The following table reconciles the Predecessor's liabilities subject to compromise to those that were accepted claims under the Plan:

(2) Issuance of shares for cash under the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 1).
(3) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the related facilities (Note 8).
(4) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants (Note 9).
(5) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.
(6) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement.
(7) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.
(8) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused tax losses or other deductions are realized.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting.

Included under the Fresh Start Adjustment caption are all tax adjustments required to transition the Predecessor's accounts to the Successor's accounts at March 31, 2006

5. RESTRICTED CASH

The Predecessor's restricted cash represented funds being held in trust with the monitor under the CCAA proceedings pending direction from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice for its use. The composition of these funds is derived as follows:

(in millions)	At June 30, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)

	$ 5	$ 34	$ 17

During the second quarter of 2006, the monitor released the proceeds held in trust pertaining to the sale of the shares of Norambar Inc., Stelwire Ltd., and Stelfil Ltèe. in accordance with the related purchase and sale agreement. The remaining restricted cash will be released in the fourth quarter of 2006 as per the terms of the related purchase and sale agreement.

6. ASSET RETIREMENT OBLIGATIONS

Asset retirement obligations relate to the site restoration and reclamation of iron ore properties at the Corporation's mining interests in Wabush, Tilden and Hibbing. The following table provides the pertinent information associated with these obligations:

Future Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. To the extent that these future tax assets are subsequently recognized the benefits will not flow through the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) but will be treated as an amendment to fresh start accounting.

Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and, prior to each anniversary date, the facility can be renewed for a period of two years if the lendor and Stelco mutually agree. The ABL facility is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest in all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventory and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any non-use of funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation - Note 1), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. Stelco intends to repay amounts borrowed under this facility within one year, therefore these borrowings have been reflected as a current liability on the Statement of Financial Position. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay 3% of the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

Included in financial expense for the second quarter of 2006 is approximately $1 million relating to borrowings under this agreement. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at June 30, 3006. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at June 30, 2006.

(1) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan (Note 8) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full.

(2) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 13), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants (see Note 11 for terms of the warrants). Upon the application of fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006, the Province Note was adjusted to its estimated fair value of $57 million (see Note 4) and will be accreted up to its face value over the term of the Note assuming an effective interest rate of 12%. During the second quarter of 2006 an accretion expense of $1 million was recorded in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

(3) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation. The loan is currently in default and the assets remaining in the subsidiary are not sufficient to satisfy this obligation.

(4) These term loans were assumed by the purchaser upon completion of the sale of the non-core subsidiaries during the first quarter of 2006.

(5) A $13 million gain was recorded during the second quarter of 2006 due to the revaluation of the notes using the June 30, 2006 U.S. dollar exchange rate.

(6) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

10. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Capital Programs and Other Commitments

Stelco has binding commitments for capital programs totalling $21 million. Of this amount, $17 million relates to Phase 2 of the Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership hot strip mill upgrade.

Pursuant to an outsourcing agreement, the Corporation has committed approximately $110 million up to and including year 2012.

Federal Government Grant

The Government of Canada announced on November 23, 2005, that it would provide a $30 million co-generation grant. The federal contribution represented approximately 60% of the initial cost of the Corporation's near-term cogeneration spending. Since the time of the commitment, there was a change in Government. In June 2006, the Corporation was advised by the Government that it cancelled its previously announced commitment to contribute the $30 million.

Contingencies

Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. during the course of the CCAA proceedings alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement ("AELLA") between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. The Corporation is vigorously defending this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provisions in the consolidated financial statements.

	At June 30, 2006	At March 31, 2006
	(Successor)	(Successor)
Total number of common shares	27,100,000	26,100,000
Total (in millions)	$ 149	$ 144

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 common shares from treasury for cash consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of common shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. The holders of liabilities subject to compromise received 1,418,500 warrants with an estimated fair value of $2 million as partial consideration in exchange for their claim accepted under CCAA. The Province received 851,100 warrants with an estimated fair value of $1 million as partial consideration for the province loan (Note 9). Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issuable under the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. These warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at any time after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013.

12. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The ISOP is intended to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other persons engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliates. The total number of stock options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal installments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, on the Grant Date. During the second quarter of 2006, 200,000 options were forfeited and 150,000 additional options were granted. The total options available under the ISOP at June 30, 2006 is 716,000.

Total compensation expense of $0.4 million has been included in costs for the second quarter of 2006.

The compensation expense for grants made under the ISOP was determined at the grant date using the fair value method by applying the Black-Scholes option-pricing model using the following assumptions:

Grant date	June 21, 2006	April 1, 2006
Expected volatility	40%	40%
Risk-free interest rate	4.33%	4.00%
Expected life	0 - 4 years	0 - 4 years
Expected dividends	Nil	Nil

The weighted average exercise price for options outstanding at June 30, 2006 is $6.47.

As a result of the emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Corporation was required to undertake a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities, which included a remeasurement of all of the Corporation's pension and other benefit plan obligations under CICA Handbook Section 3461 - Employee Future Benefits. The results of the remeasurement, as reported in the first quarter 2006, included the elimination of previously recorded unamortized net actuarial losses and unamortized past service costs. As a result, this had the effect of reducing the employee future benefit expense in the second quarter 2006 by $40 million.

In the second quarter 2006, there was:

- a contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005 which contained pension and benefit improvements, including an annual pension indexing tied to a cost of living adjustment;
- announced reductions in the other benefit programs, which substantially impacted the active salary workforce (and salaried retirees);
- a Salaried Transition Assistance Program ("STAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement or resignation to employees who were members of the two principal salary defined benefit pension plans. The program closed on June 30, 2006;

- a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005. The program closed on July 14, 2006.

The STAP resulted in a severance expense of $19 million in the second quarter 2006 which, when combined with other terminations in the period of $8 million, resulted in a total cost of $27 million. The TAP will result in a severance cost of $5 million which will be recognized in the third quarter 2006.

These events had an impact on three of the Corporation's four principal pension and other benefit plans (the Hamilton Steel bargaining unit plans and the salary plans covering the Lake Erie Steel salary workforce and the combined Corporate and Hamilton Steel salary workforce). The Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit plans are not impacted by these changes as they are covered under a separate labour agreement.

As a result of the significant reduction of the salary workforce arising from the STAP program and the impact of certain reductions in the salary other benefit programs there was a net curtailment expense recognized in the second quarter 2006 of $14 million.

Two plan amendments (the Hamilton Steel bargaining unit pension indexing adjustment, net of a reduction in the salary early retirement pension benefit) resulted in net pension unamortized past service cost of $87 million. While this amount did not impact second quarter 2006 earnings, the amount will be amortized over the expected average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the active employees.

Other benefit plan amendments which primarily reflect an extensive reduction to the salary health care benefits resulted in an unamortized past service gain of $74 million. Similar to the pension impact noted above, this amount did not impact second quarter 2006 earnings and will be amortized over EARSL.

As a result of the significant plan amendments, there was a requirement to remeasure the affected plans described above. The remeasurement required a review and update of all significant assumptions underlying these plans, including the discount rate, retirement age, and expected long term rate of return on pension plan assets. The change in assumptions is tabled in this note. In the case of the pension plans the actual negative returns experienced since the last remeasurement in March 2006 compared to the expected rate of return exceeded the favourable impact of the 0.25% increase in the pension discount rate, resulting in a net pension unamortized actuarial loss of $67 million. The effect of employee reductions both prior to and including the TAP program for the Hamilton bargaining unit plan added an additional $39 million to the actuarial loss.

In the case of the other benefit plans, the increase in the discount rate by 0.5% resulted in an unamortized actuarial gain of $66 million. The effect of employee reductions, both prior to and including the STAP and TAP, resulted in an unamortized actuarial loss of $20 million.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

As a condition of the CCAA Plan, Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement, effective on March 31, 2006, which contains the following principal terms:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
  Years 1 - 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006; and
  Years 6 - 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount; and
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015 provided that any future benefit improvements which will be required to be funded in accordance with the Pension Benefits Act and will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

While the Pension Agreement with the Province has a prescribed funding obligation as outlined above, pension plan enhancements, such as the recently negotiated hourly pension indexing, are excluded from this arrangement. Accordingly, the hourly pension indexing is subject to additional cash funding under the Pension Benefits Act, totalling an estimated $121 million over the next eight years.

Interest on the convertible debentures is recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) as interest on long-term debt and debt subject to compromise. This amount, net of tax, is added back to net earnings (loss) from continuing operations and net earnings (loss) in order to calculate fully diluted earnings (loss) from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share. Fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share is calculated by applying the treasury stock method for the potential exercise of stock options, and assuming the dilutive effect of the conversion of all outstanding convertible debentures at the $4.50 per share conversion price applicable to these debentures.

(1) Exercise prices were greater than the average market price of the common shares during the periods.
(2) The six month period ended June 30, 2006 consists of two quarters which are not comparable.

During the three months ended June 30, 2006 and March 31, 2006, a basic net loss from continuing operations and a basic net loss were incurred, therefore options warrants and convertible debentures related information have not been used to calculate fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings per share as both are anti-dilutive where applicable.

15. SEGMENTED INFORMATION

Due to the vertical integration of the Corporation and the similarity in products produced and sold at Stelco's integrated steel mills and their interrelationship, there is only one identifiable reportable segment consistent with the way Stelco manages its business.

The following provides segmented information where the information cannot otherwise be found directly in the consolidated financial statements:

Attention Business Editors:
Stelco announces agreement to sell surplus land to the Hamilton Port Authority

HAMILTON, ON, Aug. 29 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) announced today that Hamilton Land Limited Partnership and Stelco Inc. have entered into an agreement to sell a parcel of non-core, surplus land to the Hamilton Port Authority. The agreement provides that the Hamilton Port Authority will purchase the land, consisting of approximately 103 acres and a building contained on the land, for total cash proceeds of $17.5 million. Completion of the purchase is expected to take place by the end of 2006 and is subject to a number of conditions. The net proceeds from the purchase will be used to reduce the outstanding indebtedness of Stelco under its secured revolving term loan facility.

About Stelco

Stelco is one of Canada's longest-established steel companies. It is focused on its two Ontario-based integrated steel businesses located in Hamilton and in Nanticoke. These operations produce high quality value-added hot rolled, cold rolled, coated sheet and bar products. This news release may contain forward-looking information with respect to the Corporation's business operations, financial performance and conditions. Actual results may differ from expected results for a variety of reasons including factors discussed in the Corporation's Management's Discussion and Analysis section of the Corporation's 2005 Annual Report. MESSAGE TO SHAREHOLDERS

We are pleased to report improving financial results for Stelco Inc. for the third quarter 2006. Implementation of cost saving initiatives in the second and third quarters are beginning to show positive results leading to a third quarter EBITDA* of $64 million and earnings before income tax of $13 million. Before the unusual item relating to "fresh start" reporting EBITDA* would have increased to $75 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006.

The focus since exiting from the CCAA process on March 31, 2006 has been on a number of key areas:

- Implementation of productivity improvement initiatives resulted in the reduction of the labour force. Through this initiative voluntary programs were offered to both hourly and salary employees providing for their early retirement from the corporation. A total of 280 hourly and 282 salary employees elected to participate in these plans. The labour force has been reduced from 4,954 on March 31, 2006 to 4,363 on September 30, 2006, largely due to these voluntary retirement programs. The labour force reduction will result in annualized wage savings of approximately $44 million and has not negatively affected productivity or the quality of our products or services.
- Reducing production costs by improving work flow in both plants, and through the implementation of a strategic purchasing program to reduce the cost of raw materials, energy, supplies and third party services.
- Optimizing capital expenditures by selecting those projects that have a short pay back or that offer the Corporation a unique position in the market.

As we enter the fourth quarter, demand for steel in the North American market has softened. When coupled with our two previously announced planned outages in the fourth quarter, a negative impact on fourth quarter results is likely. The Corporation is closely monitoring market conditions and will adjust production levels as required. However, Stelco will endeavour to pursue the initiatives listed above and believes that this will lead to increased volumes, revenue growth, lower costs and improved productivity in order to ensure long term viability and profitability.

We would like to thank our employees, suppliers and customers for their continued support during this period of transition.

Rodney B. Mott
President and Chief Executive Officer

C. Pratt
Chairman of the Board

* Please refer to the note regarding Non-GAAP financial measures in "Financial and Operational Summary" in the accompanying management discussion and analysis.
As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (this "MD&A") is in respect of the interim unaudited consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes (the "Consolidated Financial Statements") of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the quarter ended September 30, 2006. The purpose of Stelco's MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial condition and future prospects and to assist security holders and others to understand the Corporation and the key factors underlying its financial results. This discussion of the Corporation's business may include forward-looking information that is subject to risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially. This MD&A should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements, the interim reports for the quarters ended March 31 and June 30, 2006, the 2005 Annual Report and the 2005 Annual Information Form.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of November 9, 2006. Events occurring after that date could render the information contained herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Established in 1910, Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service centre, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its business through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures.

(1) Restated to disclose the activities of the Predecessor's continuing and discontinued operations separately. See "Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting".

(2) The six-month period ended September 30, 2006 is not comparable with three months ended March 31, 2006 and has therefore been reported separately.

(3) Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The financial information contained in this MD&A and in the accompanying message to shareholders is presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Reference is also made to "EBITDA", which is a non-Canadian GAAP measure. "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses such as workforce reduction costs, foreign exchange gains and losses on long-term debt and gains and losses on the sale of assets and, in the case of the Predecessor, also before restructuring costs and asset write-downs. Information concerning EBITDA has been included in this MD&A because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the operating performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. A reconciliation to net earnings (loss), which is a Canadian GAAP measure, is presented above in the Financial and Operational Summary.

All note references in this document are to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting

Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") on January 29, 2004. The Corporation emerged from CCAA protection at the end of the day on March 31, 2006 upon the implementation of Stelco's third amended and restated plan of arrangement and reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"). Also on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement involving Stelco was implemented under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA Plan") pursuant to which Stelco's business was reorganized and specific assets and liabilities of Stelco were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Stelco's emergence from CCAA protection and the implementation of the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan is referred to in this MD&A as the "Reorganization". Further information regarding the Reorganization is set out in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

When used in this MD&A, the term "Predecessor" refers to Stelco and its related entities prior to the Reorganization and the term "Successor" refers to Stelco and its related entities following the Reorganization.

In connection with the Reorganization, Stelco adopted "fresh start" reporting on March 31, 2006 and, accordingly, has completed a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. See "Changes in Accounting Policy" in this MD&A and Notes 2 and 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, selected comparative information in this MD&A regarding sales and shipments has been provided where such information was not affected by the Reorganization or the adoption of "fresh start" reporting.

FINANCIAL AND OPERATING RESULTS

Overview

Earnings before income tax for the three months ended September 30, 2006 were $13 million, compared to a loss before income tax of $55 million for the second quarter of 2006. Deducted from pre-tax earnings for the third quarter of 2006 are unusual items totalling $17 million. Of this amount, $11 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation and $6 million relates to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs. The pre-tax loss for the second quarter ended June 30, 2006 includes unusual items totalling $90 million. Of this amount, $49 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation, $27 million largely related to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs and $14 million related to an employee future benefit curtailment expense.

Net Sales and Costs

Quarter ended September 30, 2006 compared to quarter ended June 30, 2006

Net sales for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 were 5% lower than the second quarter of 2006 due to a decline in shipments primarily resulting from higher levels of inventory at our customers, particularly steel service centres, and reduced consumption by the automotive sector. The average revenue per ton was unchanged as a lower priced product mix offset higher spot prices.

Costs in the third quarter were lower by 12% primarily due to a 5% decline in shipments and a 7% decrease in the average cost per ton. The decline in the average cost per ton is largely attributed to the flow through of the balance of the fresh start inventory adjustment which was significantly less than the amount recorded in the second quarter. The average cost per ton in the quarter was further impacted by lower cost inventories produced in the second quarter, a lower value product mix, the impact of the staff reduction initiatives and a drop in natural gas pricing partly offset by operating inefficiencies (largely at the Hamilton blast furnace and Lake Erie steelmaking), payments for productivity and profitability improvements and increases in the cost of zinc and reagents.

Amortization

Amortization expense for the third quarter ended September 30, 2006 is $4 million lower than the second quarter of 2006, primarily due to the impact of the finalization of "fresh start" reporting on the values of plant, equipment and intangible assets as of March 31, 2006 and an extension of their useful lives. (see "Critical Accounting Assumptions and Estimates – Basis of Valuation").

Employee Future Benefits

In the third quarter of 2006, a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP") provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees, which when combined with other termination expenses, resulted in a workforce reduction cost of $6 million.

In the second quarter of 2006, a total of $41 million in workforce reduction costs were expensed. The Salaried Transition Assistance Program ("STAP") resulted in a voluntary retirement incentive cost of $19 million, other terminations resulted in severances costs of $8 million and, a net curtailment expense of $14 million relating to pensions and employees future benefits was recognized because of the significant reduction of the salary workforce (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Financial Expense and Foreign Exchange Gains and Losses

Interest expense totaled $19 million for the third quarter of 2006, compared to interest expense of $17 million for the second quarter of 2006. The difference is due to an increase in both the interest rates and average levels of borrowing. Included in interest expense for the third quarter of 2006 is approximately $1 million relating to borrowings under the Secured Revolving Term Loan (see "Liquidity and Capital Resources – Financing Arrangements") which is held indirectly by a significant shareholder ($1 million in the second quarter of 2006).

The Corporation's Floating Rate Notes (see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) are denominated in US dollars. A $1 million foreign exchange loss recorded in the third quarter of 2006 due to the revaluation of the notes using the September 30, 2006 US dollar exchange rate of $1.1177, compares to a $13 million foreign exchange gain recorded in the second quarter of 2006, when the US dollar exchange rate was $1.1162 ($1.1699 upon issue).

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The finalization of the fresh start reporting increased tax expense recorded for the three months ended September 30, 2006 by approximately $36 million comprised of an increase in the valuation allowance of $28 million and the income tax rate reduction adjustment of $8 million.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Other Financial Comparisons

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, comparative information in this MD&A from Successor periods to Predecessor periods and for periods combining Successor and Predecessor information has been limited to sales and shipments.

Quarter ended September 30, 2006 compared to quarter ended September 30, 2005

Net sales for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 were 18% higher than the same quarter of 2005 mainly due to a 13% increase in shipments and a 4% increase in average revenue per ton. The average revenue per ton was higher primarily due to the strength of the market in the third quarter of 2006 relative to the same quarter of 2005 reflected in the pricing of spot business partly offset by lower contract pricing, a shift in mix to lower revenue products and a higher Canadian dollar in 2006 compared to 2005.

Nine months ended September 30, 2006 compared to nine months ended September 30, 2005

Net sales for the first nine months of the year were 4% higher than the same period in 2005. Steel shipments were 12% higher due to the strength of demand in the market, while average revenue per ton was down 7%. A shift in mix to lower revenue products and a stronger Canadian dollar contributed to the lower average revenue per ton.

SUMMARY OF QUARTERLY RESULTS

The following table reflects the Corporation's quarterly financial performance over the last eight quarters. The Corporation does not typically experience significant seasonal fluctuations in revenues.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under fresh start reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation are dependent upon a number of factors, including, without limitation, market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund critical capital projects, pension issues and labour negotiations and disputes.

The Corporation has a significant requirement of working capital related primarily to inventories due to the lead time of acquiring raw materials, the quantities of raw materials that are required to produce semi-finished steel and the amount of time required to process this semi-finished steel into a finished product. This working capital requirement is characteristic of many companies within the steel industry.

With the recapitalization of the Corporation upon emergence from CCAA, interest is being serviced in accordance with the terms and conditions of the related debt obligations.

(1) Restated to disclose the activities of the Predecessor's continuing and discontinued operations separately.

(2) The six month period ended September 30, 2006 is not comparable with three months ended March 31,2006 and has therefore been reported separately.

Due to the non-comparable nature of the financial results between the Successor and the Predecessor (see "Reorganization and Adoption of "fresh start" reporting" in this MD&A), the following commentary pertains to the results of the Successor only.

Cash provided by (used for) operating activities

Cash from continuing operations before changes in operating elements of working capital was $58 million for six months ended September 30, 2006 and was largely attributable to a lower net loss in the third quarter of 2006.

Cash used for the operating elements of working capital in the six months ended September 30, 2006 of $23 million was the result of higher inventory after excluding "fresh start" adjustments, an increase in prepaid expenses, a decrease in accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and lower taxes payable offset partly by lower accounts receivables. Prepaid expense increased principally due to vendor deposits and prepaid insurance. Lower activity levels during the third quarter resulted in decreased accounts payable and accrued liabilities. Taxes payable declined primarily due to the final payments for 2005 and interim instalments for 2006 income tax for certain subsidiaries. Lower accounts receivable reflected decreased sales activity and improved collection.

Cash provided by (used for) investment activities

Capital spending amounted to $21 million during the third quarter of 2006. For the six months ended September 30, 2006 capital spending totalled $62 million. Spending during these periods was focused primarily on the completion of the Phase II hot strip mill upgrade at Lake Erie Steel and at the Corporation's mining interests. Partially offsetting these cash requirements were $13 million of final proceeds received from the sale of non-core assets.

Cash provided by (used for) financing activities

The Corporation reduced borrowings by $11 million during the third quarter of 2006. In addition, $12 million of long-term debt was repaid relating primarily to a regularly scheduled debt repayment at one of the Corporation's wholly owned subsidiaries. For the six months ended September 30, 2006, the previously mentioned debt repayment was partially offset by $5 million of cash provided by the issuance of common shares.

Liquidity

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

(3) Includes the former $350 million credit facility and the former $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility.

(4) In accordance with Canadian GAAP, the borrowings of the Successor are classified predominantly as long-term liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. See Note 8 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Financing Arrangements

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. At September 30, 2006 the available amount of the ABL was $461 million and the amount drawn on this facility was $390 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Limited (a significant shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The amount drawn on this facility at September 30, 2006 was $35 million. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the property, plant and equipment of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full. For further details see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. For further details see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Liquidity Risks

In addition to those risks discussed below under risk factors, some of the provisions contained in the Corporation's financing arrangements provide for the escalation of lending rates in certain circumstances which, if triggered, could impact the liquidity of the Corporation depending upon the amount outstanding under the particular facility. These agreements also contain provisions (along with the Corporation's long-term debt agreements), which restrict the Corporation's ability to issue additional debt.

Since September 30, 2006, there has been a decrease in the liquidity of the Corporation as a result of declining sales and its effect on the underlying collateral. As of October 31, 2006 the net liquidity of the Corporation declined to $350 million.

Contractual Obligations

The following is a summary of the principal obligations of the Corporation at September 30, 2006:

(in millions)	Total	2006	2007–2008	2009–2010	>2010
Long-term debt [1]	$ 436	$ 3	$ 20	$ –	$ 413

(1) See Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.
(2) See Note 8 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.
(3) Principally related to mobile equipment.
(4) Principally related to coal purchases, raw material transportation services, information technology services, oxygen and power requirements.

Capital Resources

The cash position, cash flow from operations and available credit facilities are expected to enable the corporation to satisfy its anticipated operating and capital cash requirements which includes the fourth quarter 2006 outages at the Hamilton Steel blast furnace and the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

Other than the operating leases referred to above, the Corporation does not engage in off balance sheet accounting to structure any of its financial arrangements and had no off-balance sheet arrangements at September 30, 2006.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to mitigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in the third quarter of 2006 and therefore no such financial instruments were outstanding at September 30, 2006.

OUTSTANDING SHARE DATA

Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B common shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on the implementation of the CCAA Plan with no value being attributed to them.

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for total consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of common shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000. As a result of the exercise of warrants in the third quarter of 2006, referred to below, there were 27,103,921 common shares outstanding at September 30, 2006.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issueable upon the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of the common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. The warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at any time after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information. A total of 3,921 warrants were exercised in the third quarter of 2006.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The total number of options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal instalments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, of the common shares on the Grant Date. During the second quarter of 2006, 200,000 options were forfeited and 150,000 additional options were granted at an exercise price of $17.75. During the third quarter of 2006 no options were exercised, granted or forfeited. See Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Accounting Changes Effective in 2006

Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities

Upon emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, there was a substantial realignment of the equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation. The Corporation was required, under Canadian GAAP, to adopt "fresh start" reporting in accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook section 1625 – Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities. The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes (Note 7) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The Corporation finalized the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor in the third quarter of 2006. Accordingly, changes to the initial estimated fair value adjustment have been reflected in the March 31, 2006 Consolidated Statement of Financial Position (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Accounting Changes Effective in 2007

Financial Instruments

During 2005, the CICA issued three new Handbook Sections: Section 3855, "Financial Instruments – Recognition and Measurement", Section 3865, "Hedges" and Section 1530, "Comprehensive Income". These standards provide guidance on the recognition, measurement and classification of financial assets and financial liabilities. The standards also establish new accounting requirements for hedges. These standards also provide guidance for reporting items in other comprehensive income, which will be included on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as a separate component of shareholders' equity. These accounting standards are to be applied no later than the fiscal years beginning on or after October 1, 2006. The Corporation is currently evaluating the potential impact of these new standards on our Consolidated Financial Statements for 2007.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ASSUMPTIONS AND ESTIMATES

The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP as disclosed in Note 3 thereto.

In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to make certain assumptions and estimates. Choosing one assumption or estimate from a range of possibilities can materially impact the amounts reported on the Statement of Earnings (Loss) or the Statement of Financial Position. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors reviews the significant assumptions and estimates.

Management considers assumptions and estimates relating to the following matters to be the most critical:

- valuation of accounts receivable;
- carrying value of long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment);
- employee future benefits;
- income taxes;
- inventory valuation;
- environmental matters; and
- basis of valuation.

Unless indicated otherwise, all adjustments related to the items below are reflected in Costs in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

Valuation of Accounts Receivable

Stelco records an allowance for doubtful collection of accounts receivable based on the Corporation's best estimate of any potential uncollectible amounts. The best estimate considers past experience with the customer base and a review of current economic conditions and specific customer issues. While there is no significant exposure to individual customers, there is a significant exposure to the automotive industry. Although the Corporation and its Predecessor have not had significant bad debt expenses in prior periods, deteriorating economic conditions could result in financial difficulties in the customer base that could lead to bad debts.

Carrying Value of Long-Lived Assets

In accordance with Canadian GAAP appropriate for a going concern, property, plant and equipment is carried at cost less accumulated amortization. This carrying amount is reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The carrying value is considered recoverable if the sum of undiscounted cash flows from operations and cash flow from disposal of the property, plant and equipment exceeds the carrying amount. Future cash flows are dependent upon the assumptions used for revenues and costs to produce product. There is a high degree of uncertainty in estimating future cash flows, primarily as a result of the uncertainty regarding future prices for steel, operating costs and economic conditions. The application of different assumptions for steel prices, operating costs and economic conditions could result in a conclusion that the Corporation would not recover the carrying amount of our property, plant and equipment and other long-lived assets, which could result in a material charge to earnings.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation participates in a number of employee future benefit arrangements (principally providing pension and health care benefits) in Canada and the United States. These benefits represent a substantial obligation and cost to the Corporation. As indicated in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, these plans are primarily of a defined benefits nature. As a result, complex actuarial and accounting rules are used to determine the expense to be recorded for the year and the accrued benefit obligation as at each measurement date, which generally corresponds to the year-end date, for the Corporation's principal defined benefit plans.

To arrive at the cost of employee future benefits to be recognized in the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to review and update various actuarial assumptions each year, based on a going concern concept. These assumptions include investment yields, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality rates and other factors. Management consults certain outside advisors, including actuaries, in determining these factors in order to ensure that the assumptions chosen are reasonable.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the expected average remaining service life (EARSL) of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. Under Canadian GAAP the cost of employee future benefits in any year is not unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

The following comments highlight the significant 2006 assumptions, changes and trends within the Corporation's principal pension and other benefit plans.

Pension Benefits

The major assumptions include:

The discount rate enables the Corporation to calculate the present value of the benefit obligation as of the measurement date (December 31, subject to the remeasurements required as at March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006). The rate used is the current yield on high-quality fixed income investments whose term and cash flow are similar to the liabilities under the plan. A higher discount rate decreases the present value of the benefit obligation and increases pension expense.

The expected long-term rate of return on plan assets is determined by assessing historical and anticipated investment returns on the various categories of plan assets. Lower expected returns result in an increased expense.

Establishment of the expected average retirement age is based on a review of the actual experience of the pension plans. Lower retirement ages result in increasing the benefit obligation as well as the pension expense.

The mortality rate allows the Corporation to estimate the duration for which benefits are expected to be paid. Mortality rates are based on actuarial tables that are updated periodically to reflect expected mortality trends in the general population. A lower mortality rate (higher life expectancy) lengthens the benefit payment stream resulting in a higher benefit obligation and pension expense.

Pension Plan Amendment and Curtailments

The Hamilton Steel USW Local 1005 union contract ratified in June 2006 includes certain pension benefit improvements. For accounting purposes, management determined that these changes were a plan amendment and accordingly the pension plan assets and liabilities were remeasured to reflect the impact of these amendments. The participation in the salaried workforce reduction program resulted in a significant reduction in estimated future years of service of the salaried workforce who were members of the defined benefit pension and post-employment plans. Management determined that this was a curtailment for accounting and accordingly the pension plan assets and liabilities were remeasured. The curtailment resulted in immediate recognition in the second quarter 2006 operating results.

As at June 30, 2006, management updated the following assumptions for three of the four principal pension plans, which were subject to remeasurement:

- discount rate – from 5.25% to 5.50%; and
- retirement age salaried employees – from 58 to 59.

The consolidated funded status deteriorated from a deficit of $416 million as at March 31, 2006 to a deficit of $618 million as at June 30, 2006, mainly as a result of the loss on pension plan assets, plan amendments and early retirements somewhat offset by the revised assumption for the discount rate for the three remeasured plans (Lake Erie salary, Hamilton and Corporate salary and Hamilton Steel bargaining unit). Under Canadian GAAP, the impact of changes to the above assumptions, benefit improvements, actual investment returns, and other changes are recognized over a number of years rather than in the year of occurrence. As a result, for accounting purposes, there was an accrued benefit liability of $431 million on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at June 30, 2006 reflecting the deficit of $618 million reduced by $100 million of unamortized net actuarial losses, and $87 million of unamortized past service costs.

Further details on pension plans are included in Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Other Benefits

The assumptions for other benefit plans are similar to pension plans, with the additional factor of health care cost trend rates. Changes in the health care cost trend rate have a significant effect on the accrued benefit obligation and recorded expense. As these plans are generally unfunded, changes to the assumptions do not materially impact cash outlays. Cash outlays are the actual amounts paid for other benefits.

As at June 30, 2006, management updated the following assumptions for other benefit plans for three of the four principal plans, which were subject to remeasurement:

- discount rate – from 5.25% to 5.75%; and
- retirement age salaried employees – from 58 to 59.

The consolidated funded status improved from a deficit of $1,320 million as at March 31, 2006 to a deficit of $1,194 million as at June 30, 2006, primarily due to these revised assumptions and plan amendments. Similar to the accounting rules for pension plans, the full impact of changes in assumptions is not recognized in the current year. Unamortized actuarial gains and past service costs of $107 million increased the liability recorded on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position to $1,301 million as at June 30, 2006 from $1,320 million as at March 31, 2006.

Further details on other benefit plans are included in Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Income Taxes

Application of Canadian GAAP concerning future income taxes requires projection of tax rates expected to be in effect in years in which tax benefits will be realized. Changes to the amount and timing of tax rates in future years can impact the amount of income tax expense or recovery recognized in an accounting period. The realization of future income tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future years to utilize income tax benefits and income tax loss carry-forwards. Deviations of future profitability from estimates would result in adjustments to the value of future income tax assets that could have a significant effect on earnings. See Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Inventory Valuation

Valuation of inventories requires a number of estimates to be made, including inventory quality, condition and obsolescence. These determinations require management to exercise judgment. Inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Finished products are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Management must exercise judgment in determining the appropriateness of values used to determine replacement costs and net realizable values. Cyclical changes in selling prices and/or input costs can result in material adjustments being made to the carrying value of finished product inventory. As a result of the implementation of fresh start accounting on March 31, 2006, the inventory was revalued to fair value. This revaluation has had an impact on the operating results for both the second and third quarters of 2006.

Environmental

Stelco discloses environmental obligations when known and accrues the cost associated with the obligations when they are known and the costs can be reasonably estimated. Stelco owns a number of manufacturing sites that have been in existence for a significant period of time and as a result may have unknown environmental obligations.

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value, with the exception of future income taxes (see Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pensions and other post-employment benefits (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The determination of the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Successor was finalized in the third quarter 2006 (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets have been reviewed as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets have had their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

RISK FACTORS

Stelco's business and future performance is subject to a number of risk factors including, among others liquidity risks, as referred to under Liquidity and Capital Resources, risks relating to the volatility of the demand and selling prices for steel, Stelco's energy and raw material costs, planned capital expenditures, currency fluctuations in the US dollar and environmental matters. The following discussion is an update to the section entitled "Risk Factors" in management's discussion and analysis included in Stelco's 2005 annual report and in Stelco's interim report for the quarters ended March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006.

Demand and Pricing

The steel industry is cyclical in nature. The demand and pricing for North American steel fluctuates based on many factors including the strength of the economies in North America, particularly the automotive sector, exchange rates and the influence of steel sourced from offshore. The Corporation cannot rely on high selling prices being sustainable in the long term and believes it must take steps to lower its overall costs to compete effectively.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability, which includes improved productivity and a leaner organizational structure. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. In addition, the failure of planned outages to be completed as scheduled could have a material adverse effect on Stelco.

Pension Plans

Stelco and the Province of Ontario entered into a pension agreement that prescribes the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. Despite the level of contributions required under the pension agreement, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses and benefit changes.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers as a result of the steel industry consolidation.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

Wabush Mines has been experiencing production problems, particularly earlier in the year, which have and will continue to negatively impact Stelco's cost of iron ore in 2006. Plans for Wabush are being implemented to improve production and lower costs.

Employees

In June 2006, the Salaried Transition Assistance Program (STAP) was made available to active salaried employees who were defined benefit pension plan members. The STAP provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees. Similarly, the Transition Assistance Program (TAP), which provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees, was made available to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the new collective agreement negotiated in June 2006. In the third quarter of 2006 the TAP was also offered to Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees.

Stelco continues to evaluate its manpower requirements consistent with its succession plans and attrition rates. Retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees, and the ability to attract and retain new employees where replacement is considered necessary, are essential to Stelco's continued operations.

Labour Matters

Risks relating to possible labour difficulties and resultant loss of production and revenue have been mitigated by the agreement reached in June 2006 with USW Local 1005 to renew the 2002 Hamilton Steel collective agreement for a period expiring on July 31, 2010.

OUTLOOK

Demand for steel in the North American market softened towards the end of the third quarter due to reduced consumption by the automotive sector combined with high steel inventory levels at our customers, particularly at the steel service centres. It is expected that the reduced demand will continue through the fourth quarter and into the first quarter of 2007. As a result of the lower demand, certain major steel producers in North America, including Stelco, have elected to reduce production levels in order to better match demand and supply. In addition to reduced demand, the North American market continues to support a significant level of imports which may lead to lower selling prices and lower market share for domestic producers.

The Corporation is taking advantage of the current market slowdown in the fourth quarter in order to complete a reline and upgrade to the blast furnace at the Hamilton plant, necessary to increase the life of the furnace and to improve throughput. In addition, the Corporation will substantially complete the Phase II expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill, which is expected to increase throughput by 20% over current levels. The Corporation is continuing to monitor market conditions and will adjust production levels as required.

While changing market dynamics associated with the softening in North American steel demand make it difficult for the Corporation to predict revenue, shipments, liquidity, and EDITDA for the fourth quarter of 2006, the Corporation anticipates that it will not achieve its previously announced revenue, shipments, production and EDITDA estimates relating to the second half of 2006. If current market conditions continue, Stelco will face further reductions in liquidity in the fourth quarter. The Corporation is continuing to build new customer relationships, negotiate contracts with existing customers, and lower overall operating costs through the productivity initiatives noted in the MD&A and by negotiating better terms with suppliers.

Forward-Looking Statements

This MD&A and the accompanying message to shareholders contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this MD&A or as of the date on which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and their impact on the Corporation's US dollar denominated long-term debt, steel pricing and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.

Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

1. BUSINESS DESCRIPTION AND CCAA HISTORY

Business Description

Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties. Through these ownership interests and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation" refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

CCAA History

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation's Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Discontinued Operations

As part of the CCAA, Stelco divested all of its manufactured products and mini-mill businesses. The impact on earnings for the three months ended March 31, 2006 was a net loss of $43 million (net of income tax of $2 million), for the three months ended September 30, 2005 was net loss of $24 million (net of income tax recoveries of $4 million) and for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 net loss of $11 million (net of income tax recoveries of $3 million).

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian;
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000; and
- Warrants exercisable for an aggregate of 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

1. BUSINESS DESCRIPTION AND CCAA HISTORY (continued)

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 9) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Notes 9, 11, and 13 for further details.

CCAA Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the CCAA Plan from the following sources:

• New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 8)	up to $600 million
• New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 8)	$375 million
• New Province Note (Note 9)	$150 million
• Federal Government (cancelled in June 2006)	$30 million

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook Section 1625 – "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation undertook a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value has been allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 – "Business Combinations". The Corporation has finalized its initial allocation resulting in the transfer of amounts between property, plant and equipment, inventories and intangible assets and future income taxes (see Note 4).

The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 reflects the accounts of the Successor. While not comparable, the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) and the corresponding Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows reflects the activities of the Successor and Predecessor for the three months and nine months ended September 30, 2006 and 2005.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 – March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business.

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These interim financial statements do not include all of the disclosure required for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual consolidated financial statements.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP, which require management to make assumptions and estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The significant policies are summarized below:

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value (Note 4), with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes (Note 7) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits (Note 13).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets have been reviewed as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets have had their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Stelco Inc., its wholly owned subsidiaries and partnerships, and its proportionate share of the accounts of its joint ventures.

Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at quarter-end exchange rates. All other assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at the quarter-end exchange rate or at historic rates prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities incurred for transactions after March 31, 2006. Income and expense items, other than those related to assets and liabilities translated at historic rates, are generally translated at the rate in effect at the time the transaction occurs.

Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency translations are reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

The temporal method of translation of foreign currency is followed for foreign subsidiaries, all of which are considered to be financially and operationally integrated. Translation of foreign currencies for the foreign subsidiaries using the temporal method is consistent with the method described above.

Inventories

The recorded cost of inventories on hand at March 31, 2006 was based on the estimated fair values on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Inventories of raw materials and supplies on hand post March 31, 2006 are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Semi-finished product inventories are valued at actual cost. Finished product inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Property, Plant, and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment, including construction in progress, purchased prior to April 1, 2006 has been recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the financial reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Property, plant, and equipment purchased after March 31, 2006 is carried at cost less accumulated amortization, and includes construction in progress. The Corporation expenses interest costs directly associated with capital projects. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method applied to the cost of the assets at rates based on their estimated useful life and beginning from the point when production commences except for the cost of blast furnace relines (see below) and at certain mining properties where amortization is calculated on a unit-of-production basis. The following annual amortization rates, which have been updated to reflect the final results of fresh start accounting, are in effect:

- Buildings 10 to 25 years
- Equipment 5 to 20 years
- Automotive and mobile equipment 5 to 10 years
- Raw material plants and properties 7 to 30 years

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Blast Furnace Relines

The Corporation's blast furnaces periodically require extensive relining. Costs incurred in the reline of a blast furnace that extend the useful life of the furnace are capitalized and amortized over their estimated useful life on a unit-of-production basis. Other repair and maintenance costs that may be incurred during the reline are expensed.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets of the Corporation are computer systems and applications. Intangible assets purchased prior to April 1, 2006 are recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Intangible assets purchased after March 31, 2006 are recorded at historical cost. Amortization is recorded on a straight-line basis over an estimated eight-year life beginning from March 31, 2006 or the purchase date, if after March 31, 2006. See further comments under Income Taxes.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

An impairment loss would be recognized when the carrying value of a long-lived asset exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The impairment loss would be calculated as the amount by which the carrying value of the asset exceeds its fair value.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation, its wholly owned business units, wholly owned subsidiaries, and joint ventures maintain a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing pension, other retirement and post-employment benefits to most of its employees.

Pension plan assets are valued at market-related value and are used to calculate the expected rate of return on plan assets. Market-related value is the market value of pension plan assets averaged over a three-year period.

The cost of pension and other post-employment benefits (including medical benefits, dental care, life insurance and certain compensated absences) is charged to income annually. The cost is computed on an actuarial basis using the projected benefit method by estimating the usage, frequency and cost of services covered and management's best estimate of the long-term rate of return on plan assets, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality and other factors. These assumptions relate to factors that are of a long-term nature and, consequently, are subject to a degree of uncertainty. Actual trends and values may differ from those assumed at this time resulting in changes in the cost of pension and other post-employment benefits in future periods. The assumptions are reviewed and updated annually or more frequently where the level of benefits provided to employees changes. Past service costs (such as increased benefits provided under labour contract settlements) are amortized over the estimated average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the employees at the date of the amendment.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the EARSL of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived there from. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. Under Canadian GAAP the cost of employee future benefits in any year is not unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

Salaried employees hired after July 31, 1997 participate in the Corporation's "Opportunity" or similar programs, which include a flexible credit plan for benefits and a self-directed group RRSP. These employees do not participate in the defined benefit plans. These programs are accounted for as defined contribution plans. Costs of defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Income Taxes

The Corporation follows the liability method of accounting for future income taxes. Under the liability method, future income tax assets and liabilities are determined based on "temporary differences" (differences between the accounting basis and the tax basis of the assets and liabilities) and are measured using the currently enacted, or substantively enacted, tax rates and laws expected to apply when these differences reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded against any future income tax asset if it is more likely than not that the asset will not be realized. Income tax expense or benefit is the sum of the Corporation's provision for current income taxes and the differences between the opening and ending balances of the future income tax assets and liabilities. The effect of increases and decreases to future income tax assets and liabilities arising from changes in tax rates is recognized in income in the period the changes occur.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Measurement Uncertainty

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the stated amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

4. FRESH START REPORTING

As outlined in Note 2, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor were reported at estimated fair values, except for future income taxes, which were reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which were reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor were based on management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The Successor has finalized its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangibles and future income taxes, and reflected adjustments in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006. The adjustments to the Predecessor balances related to predecessor shareholders, affected creditors and equity sponsors and pensions and financing were finalized upon emergence from CCAA.

4. FRESH START REPORTING (continued)

The following legend describes the adjustments made to the Predecessor accounts resulting from the implementation of the Plan and consummation of the various agreements:

(1) Implementation of the Plan as outlined in Note 1.

The following table reconciles the Predecessor's liabilities subject to compromise to those that were accepted claims under the Plan:

(in millions)	At March 31, 2006	At March 31, 2005	At December 31, 2005

The holders of Series A and B voting common shares received nil consideration.

(2) Issuance of shares for cash under the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 1).

(3) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the related credit facilities (Note 8).

(4) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants (Note 9).

(5) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.

(6) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement.

(7) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.

(8) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused tax losses or other deductions are realized.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Included under the Fresh Start Adjustment captions are all tax adjustments required to transition the Predecessor's accounts to the Successor's accounts at March 31, 2006.

5. RESTRICTED CASH

The Predecessor's restricted cash represented funds being held in trust with the Monitor under the CCAA proceedings pending direction from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice for its use. The composition of these funds is derived as follows:

(In millions)	At September 30, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005

	$ 5	$ 34	$ 17

During the second quarter of 2006, the Monitor released the proceeds held in trust pertaining to the sale of the shares of Norambar Inc., Stelwire Ltd., and Stelfil Ltée in accordance with the related purchase and sale agreement. The remaining restricted cash was released in October 2006 in accordance with the terms of the purchase and sale agreement related to the sale of the shares of AltaSteel Ltd.

6. ASSET RETIREMENT OBLIGATIONS

Asset retirement obligations relate to the site restoration and reclamation of iron ore properties at the Corporation's mining interests in Wabush, Tilden and Hibbing. The following table provides the pertinent information associated with these obligations:

Future Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective statement of financial position date.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and, prior to each March 31 anniversary date, the facility can be extended for a period of two years if the lender and Stelco mutually agree. The ABL facility is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest in all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventory and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any non-use of funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants. At September 30, 2006, the available amount of the ABL was $461 million and the amount drawn on this facility was $390 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation – Note 1), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. Stelco intends to repay amounts borrowed under this facility within one year, therefore these borrowings have been reflected as a current liability on the Statement of Financial Position. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of CCAA Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay 3% of the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

Included in financial expense for the third quarter of 2006 is approximately $1 million relating to borrowings under this agreement ($1 million in second quarter of 2006). The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at September 30, 3006. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at September 30, 2006. At September 30, 2006 there was $35 million outstanding under this loan.

(1) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. Interest on the FRN'S in the third quarter of 2006 totalled $7 million ($7 million in the second quarter of 2006) and is included in financial expense. Interest has been calculated under the cash payment option consistent with the semi-annual payment made in September 2006. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan (Note 8) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full.

(2) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 13), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. Interest accrued on the Province Note in the third quarter 2006 totalled $0.8 million ($0.4 million in the second quarter 2006) and is included in financial expense. The semi-annual interest payment due in September 2006 was paid in cash. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants (see Note 11 for terms of the warrants). Upon the application of fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006, the Province Note was adjusted to its estimated fair value of $57 million (see Note 4) and will be accreted up to its face value over the term of the Note assuming an effective interest rate of 12%. During the third quarter of 2006 an accretion expense of $1 million was recorded in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) ($2 million in the six month period ended September 30, 2006).

(3) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation. The loan is currently in default and the assets remaining in the subsidiary are not sufficient to satisfy this obligation.

(4) These term loans were assumed by the purchaser upon completion of the sale of the non-core subsidiaries during the first quarter of 2006.

(5) There was a $1 million loss recorded in the third quarter of 2006 due to the revaluation of the FRN's using the September 30, 2006 US dollar exchange rate, compared to a $13 million gain recorded in the second quarter of 2006.

(6) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

10. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Capital Programs and Other Commitments

Stelco has binding commitments for capital programs totalling $28 million. Of this amount, $23 million relates to Phase II of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill upgrade.

Pursuant to an outsourcing agreement, the Corporation has committed approximately $130 million up to and including year 2012.

Contingencies

Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. during the course of the CCAA proceedings alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. The Corporation is vigorously defending this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provisions in the consolidated financial statements.

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for cash consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of common shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000. As a result of the exercise of warrants in the third quarter 2006, referred to below, there are 27,103,921 common shares outstanding at September 30, 2006.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. The holders of liabilities subject to compromise received 1,418,500 warrants with an estimated fair value of $2 million as partial consideration in exchange for their claim accepted under CCAA. The Province received 851,100 warrants with an estimated fair value of $1 million as partial consideration for the province loan (Note 9). Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issuable under the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. The warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at any time after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. A total of 3,921 warrants were exercised in the third quarter of 2006.

12. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The ISOP is intended to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other persons engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliates. The total number of stock options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal installments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, on the Grant Date. During the third quarter of 2006, no options were exercised, forfeited or granted (200,000 options forfeited and 150,000 additional options granted during the second quarter 2006 at an exercise price of $17.75). The total options available under the ISOP at September 30, 2006 are 716,000.

Total compensation expense of $0.4 million has been included in costs for the third quarter of 2006 ($0.4 million in second quarter 2006).

The compensation expense for grants made under the ISOP was determined at the grant date using the fair value method by applying the Black-Scholes option-pricing model using the following assumptions:

Grant date	June 21, 2006	April 1, 2006
Expected volatility	40%	40%
Risk-free interest rate	4.33%	4.00%
Expected life	0 – 4 years	0 – 4 years
Expected dividends	Nil	Nil

The weighted average exercise price for options outstanding at September 30, 2006 is $6.47.

(2) The six-month period ended September 30, 2006 is not comparable with three months ended March 31, 2006 and has therefore been reported separately.

Substantially all of the Corporation's pension benefit plans are not fully funded.

13. EMPLOYEE FUTURE BENEFITS (continued)

As a result of the emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Corporation was required to undertake a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities, which included a remeasurement of all of the Corporation's pension and other benefit plan obligations under CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits. The results of the remeasurement, as reported in the first quarter 2006, included the elimination of previously recorded unamortized net actuarial losses and unamortized past service costs.

In the second quarter 2006, there was:

- a contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005 which contained pension and benefit improvements, including an annual pension indexing tied to a cost of living adjustment;
- announced reductions in the other benefit programs, which substantially impacted the active salary workforce (and salaried retirees);
- a Salaried Transition Assistance Program ("STAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement or resignation to employees who were members of the two principal salary defined benefit pension plans. The program closed on June 30, 2006;
- a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005. The program closed on July 14, 2006.

The STAP resulted in a severance expense of $19 million in the second quarter 2006 which, when combined with other terminations in the period of $8 million, resulted in a total cost of $27 million. The TAP resulted in a voluntary retirement incentive cost of $6 million which was recognized in the third quarter 2006.

These events had an impact on three of the Corporation's four principal pension and other benefit plans (the Hamilton Steel bargaining unit plans and the salary plans covering the Lake Erie Steel salary workforce and the combined Corporate and Hamilton Steel salary workforce). The Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit plans are not impacted by these changes as they are covered under a separate labour agreement.

As a result of the significant reduction of the salary workforce arising from the STAP program and the impact of certain reductions in the salary other benefit programs there was a net curtailment expense recognized in the second quarter 2006 of $14 million.

Two plan amendments (the Hamilton Steel bargaining unit pension indexing adjustment, net of a reduction in the salary early retirement pension benefit) resulted in net pension unamortized past service cost of $87 million. While this amount did not impact second quarter 2006 earnings, the amount will be amortized over the expected average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the active employees. The amortization resulted in an increase in pension expense of $4 million in the third quarter 2006.

Other benefit plan amendments which primarily reflect an extensive reduction to the salary health care benefits resulted in an unamortized past service gain of $74 million. Similar to the pension impact noted above, this amount did not impact second quarter 2006 earnings and will be amortized over EARSL. Amortization of this gain resulted in a reduction in other benefit plan expense of $3 million in the third quarter 2006.

As a result of the significant plan amendments, there was a requirement to remeasure the affected plans described above as at June 30, 2006. The remeasurement required a review and update of all significant assumptions underlying these plans, including the discount rate, retirement age, and expected long term rate of return on pension plan assets. The change in assumptions is tabled in this note. In the case of the pension plans the actual negative returns experienced since the last remeasurement in March 2006 compared to the expected rate of return exceeded the favourable impact of the 0.25% increase in the pension discount rate, resulting in a net pension unamortized actuarial loss of $67 million. The effect of employee reductions both prior to and including the TAP program for the Hamilton bargaining unit plan added an additional $39 million to the actuarial loss.

In the case of the other benefit plans, the increase in the discount rate by 0.5% resulted in an unamortized actuarial gain of $66 million. The effect of employee reductions, both prior to and including the STAP and TAP, resulted in an unamortized actuarial loss of $20 million.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

As a condition of the CCAA Plan, Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement, effective on March 31, 2006, which contains the following principal terms:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
  Years 1 – 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006; and
  Years 6 – 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount; and
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015 provided that any future benefit improvements which will be required to be funded in accordance with the Pension Benefits Act and will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

While the Pension Agreement with the Province has a prescribed funding obligation as outlined above, pension plan enhancements, such as the recently negotiated hourly pension indexing, are excluded from this arrangement. Accordingly, the hourly pension indexing is subject to additional cash funding under the Pension Benefits Act, totalling an estimated $121 million over the next eight years.

14. ASSETS HELD FOR SALE

In August 2006 the Corporation entered into an agreement to sell a parcel of non-core, surplus land in Hamilton and a building located on the property for cash proceeds of $17.5 million. Completion of the sale is subject to a number of conditions. The book value of these assets under the fresh start revaluation, which is equal to the expected net proceeds, has been classified as assets held for sale, as at September 30, 2006.

15. EARNINGS (LOSS) PER COMMON SHARE

Interest on the convertible debentures is recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) as interest on long-term debt and debt subject to compromise. This amount, net of tax, is added back to net earnings (loss) from continuing operations and net earnings (loss) in order to calculate fully diluted earnings (loss) from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share. Fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share is calculated by applying the treasury stock method for the potential exercise of stock options, and assuming the dilutive effect of the conversion of all outstanding convertible debentures at the $4.50 per share conversion price applicable to those debentures.

(2) The six-month period ended September 30, 2006 is not comparable with three months ended March 31, 2006 and has therefore been reported separately.

During the three months and six months ended September 30, 2006 a basic net loss from continuing operations and a basic net loss was incurred, therefore options and warrants related information have not been used to calculate fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings per share as both are anti-dilutive where applicable.

Attention Business/Financial Editors:
Stelco reports results for third quarter 2006

HAMILTON, ON, Nov. 9 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) today reported EBITDA of $64 million and earnings before tax of $13 million for the third quarter ended September 30, 2006, representing an improvement in operating performance over the second quarter of 2006. Deducted from EBITDA and earnings before tax are unusual items of $11 million and $17 million respectively. Of these unusual items $11 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation and $6 million related to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs. After deducting a tax provision of $38 million, which was largely attributable to non-cash adjustments from "fresh start" reporting, the net loss for the quarter was $25 million.

Net sales revenue for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 was $660 million compared to $698 million for the quarter ending June 30, 2006. The decrease in net sales was due to a 5% decline in shipments resulting primarily from reduced demand from the automotive sector and steel service centres. Average revenue per ton was unchanged as higher spot prices offset a lower priced product mix. Costs for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 were $596 million compared to $679 million for the quarter ending June 30, 2006. Costs in the third quarter were lower by 12% primarily due to the 5% decline in shipments and a 7% decrease in the average cost per ton. The decline in the average cost per ton is largely attributed to the flow through of the balance of the "fresh start" inventory adjustment of $11 million for the third quarter, which was significantly less than the amount recorded in the second quarter of $49 million.

As a result of the reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, consolidated financial and other information reported in the third quarter of 2006 may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information reported in prior periods. Accordingly, only selective financial information on sales and shipments are commented on by way of comparison with periods prior to the reorganization on March 31, 2006.

Net sales revenue for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 was $660 million compared to $559 million for the same period in 2005. The increase in revenue was due to a 13% increase in shipments and a 4% increase in average revenue per ton. The average revenue per ton was higher primarily due to the strength of the market in the third quarter of 2006 relative to the same quarter of 2005 reflected in the pricing of spot business.

Looking forward, demand for steel in the North American market has softened. It is expected that the reduced demand will continue through the fourth quarter and into the first quarter of 2007. As a result of the lower demand, certain major steel producers in North America, including Stelco, have elected to reduce production levels in order to better match supply with demand. In addition, Stelco will take advantage of the current market slowdown in order to complete two previously announced planned outages on its Hamilton blast furnace and Lake Erie hot strip mill. The North American market continues to support a significant level of imports, which may lead to lower selling prices and lower market share for domestic producers. The Corporation is continuing to monitor market conditions and will adjust production levels as required.

Changing market dynamics associated with the softening in North American steel demand make it difficult for the Corporation to predict revenue, shipments, liquidity, and EDITDA for the fourth quarter of 2006. The Corporation does not anticipate that it will achieve its previously announced revenue, shipments, production and EDITDA estimates relating to the second half of 2006. The Corporation is continuing to build new customer relationships, negotiate contracts with existing customers, and lower overall operating costs through productivity initiatives and by negotiating better terms with suppliers.

About Stelco

Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel companies. It is focused on its two Ontario-based integrated steel businesses located in Hamilton and in Lanticoke. These operations produce high-quality value-added hot rolled, cold rolled, coated sheet and bar products. To learn more about Stelco and its businesses, please refer to our Web site at www.stelco.ca.

NON-GAAP MEASURES

This press release contains "Non-GAAP" measures such as "EBITDA". "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non operating income and expenses. Information concerning EBITDA has been included in this press release because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies.

The following table shows the reconciliation of EDITDA, as used in this media release, to earnings before income tax, which is a GAAP financial measure:

EBITDA	$ 64
Amortization	25
Workforce reduction costs	6
Foreign exchange loss on long-term debt	1
Interest expense	19
Earnings before income tax	$ 13

STELCO INC.
QUARTER 3, 2006
REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

Message to Shareholders

We are pleased to report improving financial results for Stelco Inc. for the third quarter 2006. Implementation of cost saving initiatives in the second and third quarters are beginning to show positive results leading to a third quarter EBITDA(x) of $64 million and earnings before income tax of $13 million. Before the unusual item relating to "fresh start" reporting EBITDA(x) would have increased to $75 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006.

The focus since exiting from the CCAA process on March 31, 2006 has been on a number of key areas:

- Implementation of productivity improvement initiatives resulted in the reduction of the labour force. Through this initiative voluntary programs were offered to both hourly and salary employees providing for their early retirement from the corporation. A total of 280 hourly and 282 salary employees elected to participate in these plans. The labour force has been reduced from 4,954 on March 31, 2006 to 4,363 on September 30, 2006, largely due to these voluntary retirement programs. The labour force reduction will result in annualized wage savings of approximately $44 million and has not negatively affected productivity or the quality of our products or services.
- Reducing production costs by improving work flow in both plants, and through the implementation of a strategic purchasing program to reduce the cost of raw materials, energy, supplies and third party services.
- Optimizing capital expenditures by selecting those projects that have a short pay back or that offer the Corporation a unique position in the market.

As we enter the fourth quarter, demand for steel in the North American market has softened. When coupled with our two previously announced planned outages in the fourth quarter, a negative impact on fourth quarter results is likely. The Corporation is closely monitoring market conditions and will adjust production levels as required. However, Stelco will endeavour to pursue the initiatives listed above and believes that this will lead to increased volumes, revenue growth, lower costs and improved productivity in order to ensure long term viability and profitability.

We would like to thank our employees, suppliers and customers for their continued support during this period of transition.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (this "MD&A") is in respect of the interim unaudited consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes (the "Consolidated Financial Statements") of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the quarter ended September 30, 2006. The purpose of Stelco's MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial condition and future prospects and to assist security holders and others to understand the Corporation and the key factors underlying its financial results. This discussion of the Corporation's business may include forward-looking information that is subject to risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially. This MD&A should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements, the interim reports for the quarters ended March 31 and June 30, 2006, the 2005 Annual Report and the 2005 Annual Information Form.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of November 9, 2006. Events occurring after that date could render the information contained herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Established in 1910, Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service centre, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its business through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures.

(3) Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The financial information contained in this MD&A and in the accompanying message to shareholders is presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Reference is also made to "EBITDA", which is a non-Canadian GAAP measure. "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses such as workforce reduction costs, foreign exchange gains and losses on long-term debt and gains and losses on the sale of assets and, in the case of the Predecessor, also before restructuring costs and asset write-downs. Information concerning EBITDA has been included in this MD&A because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the operating performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-

Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. A reconciliation to net earnings (loss), which is a Canadian GAAP measure, is presented above in the Financial and Operational Summary.

Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting

Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") on January 29, 2004. The Corporation emerged from CCAA protection at the end of the day on March 31, 2006 upon the implementation of Stelco's third amended and restated plan of arrangement and reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"). Also on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement involving Stelco was implemented under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA Plan") pursuant to which Stelco's business was reorganized and specific assets and liabilities of Stelco were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Stelco's emergence from CCAA protection and the implementation of the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan is referred to in this MD&A as the "Reorganization". Further information regarding the Reorganization is set out in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

When used in this MD&A, the term "Predecessor" refers to Stelco and its related entities prior to the Reorganization and the term "Successor" refers to Stelco and its related entities following the Reorganization.

In connection with the Reorganization, Stelco adopted "fresh start" reporting on March 31, 2006 and, accordingly, has completed a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. See "Changes in Accounting Policy" in this MD&A and Notes 2 and 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, selected comparative information in this MD&A regarding sales and shipments has been provided where such information was not affected by the Reorganization or the adoption of "fresh start" reporting.

FINANCIAL AND OPERATING RESULTS

Overview

Earnings before income tax for the three months ended September 30, 2006 were $13 million, compared to a loss before income tax of $55 million for the second quarter of 2006. Deducted from pre-tax earnings for the third quarter of 2006 are unusual items totalling $17 million. Of this amount, $11 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation and $6 million relates to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs. The pre-tax loss for the second quarter ended June 30, 2006 includes unusual items totalling $90 million. Of this amount, $49 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation, $27 million largely related to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs and $14 million related to an employee future benefit curtailment expense.

Net Sales and Costs

Quarter ended September 30, 2006 compared to quarter ended June 30, 2006

Net sales for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 were 5% lower than the second quarter of 2006 due to a decline in shipments primarily resulting from higher levels of inventory at our customers, particularly steel service centres, and reduced consumption by the automotive sector. The average revenue per ton was unchanged as a lower priced product mix offset higher spot prices.

Costs in the third quarter were lower by 12% primarily due to a 5% decline in shipments and a 7% decrease in the average cost per ton. The decline in the average cost per ton is largely attributed to the flow through of the balance of the fresh start inventory adjustment which was significantly less than the amount recorded in the second quarter. The average cost per ton in the quarter was further impacted by lower cost inventories produced in the second quarter, a lower value product mix, the impact of the staff reduction initiatives and a drop in natural gas pricing partly offset by operating inefficiencies (largely at the Hamilton blast furnace and Lake Erie steelmaking), payments for productivity and profitability improvements and increases in the cost of zinc and reagents.

Amortization

Amortization expense for the third quarter ended September 30, 2006 is $4 million lower than the second quarter of 2006, primarily due to the impact of the finalization of "fresh start" reporting on the values of plant, equipment and intangible assets as of March 31, 2006 and an extension of their useful lives. (see "Critical Accounting Assumptions and Estimates - Basis of Valuation").

Employee Future Benefits

In the third quarter of 2006, a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP") provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees, which when combined with other termination expenses, resulted in a workforce reduction cost of $6 million.

In the second quarter of 2006, a total of $41 million in workforce reduction costs were expensed. The Salaried Transition Assistance Program ("STAP") resulted in a voluntary retirement incentive cost of $19 million, other terminations resulted in severances costs of $8 million and, a net curtailment expense of $14 million relating to pensions and employees future benefits was recognized because of the significant reduction of the salary workforce (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Financial Expense and Foreign Exchange Gains and Losses

Interest expense totaled $19 million for the third quarter of 2006, compared to interest expense of $17 million for the second quarter of 2006. The difference is due to an increase in both the interest rates and average levels of borrowing. Included in interest expense for the third quarter of 2006 is approximately $1 million relating to borrowings under the Secured Revolving Term Loan (see "Liquidity and Capital Resources - Financing Arrangements") which is held indirectly by a significant shareholder ($1 million in the second quarter of 2006).

The Corporation's Floating Rate Notes (see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) are denominated in US dollars. A $1 million foreign exchange loss recorded in the third quarter of 2006 due to the revaluation of the notes using the September 30, 2006 US dollar exchange rate of $1.1177, compares to a $13 million foreign exchange gain recorded in the second quarter of 2006, when the US dollar exchange rate was $1.1162 ($1.1699 upon issue).

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The finalization of the fresh start reporting increased tax expense recorded for the three months ended September 30, 2006 by approximately $36 million comprised of an increase in the valuation allowance of $28 million and the income tax rate reduction adjustment of $8 million.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Other Financial Comparisons

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, comparative information in this MD&A from Successor periods to Predecessor periods and for periods combining Successor and Predecessor information has been limited to sales and shipments.

Quarter ended September 30, 2006 compared to quarter ended September 30, 2005

Net sales for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 were 18% higher than the same quarter of 2005 mainly due to a 13% increase in shipments and a 4% increase in average revenue per ton. The average revenue per ton was higher primarily due to the strength of the market in the third quarter of 2006 relative to the same quarter of 2005 reflected in the pricing of spot business partly offset by lower contract pricing, a shift in mix to lower revenue products and a higher Canadian dollar in 2006 compared to 2005.

Nine months ended September 30, 2006 compared to nine months ended September 30, 2005

Net sales for the first nine months of the year were 4% higher than the same period in 2005. Steel shipments were 12% higher due to the strength of demand in the market, while average revenue per ton was down 7%. A shift in mix to lower revenue products and a stronger Canadian dollar contributed to the lower average revenue per ton.

SUMMARY OF QUARTERLY RESULTS

The following table reflects the Corporation's quarterly financial performance over the last eight quarters. The Corporation does not typically experience significant seasonal fluctuations in revenues.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under fresh start reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation are dependent upon a number of factors, including, without limitation, market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund critical capital projects, pension issues and labour negotiations and disputes.

The Corporation has a significant requirement of working capital related primarily to inventories due to the lead time of acquiring raw materials, the quantities of raw materials that are required to produce semi-finished steel and the amount of time required to process this semi-finished steel into a finished product. This working capital requirement is characteristic of many companies within the steel industry.

With the recapitalization of the Corporation upon emergence from CCAA, interest is being serviced in accordance with the terms and conditions of the related debt obligations.

Due to the non-comparable nature of the financial results between the Successor and the Predecessor (see "Reorganization and Adoption of "fresh start" reporting" in this MD&A), the following commentary pertains to the results of the Successor only.

Cash provided by (used for) operating activities

Cash from continuing operations before changes in operating elements of working capital was $58 million for six months ended September 30, 2006 and was largely attributable to a lower net loss in the third quarter of 2006.

Cash used for the operating elements of working capital in the six months ended September 30, 2006 of $23 million was the result of higher inventory after excluding "fresh start" adjustments, an increase in prepaid expenses, a decrease in accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and lower taxes payable offset partly by lower accounts receivables. Prepaid expense increased principally due to vendor deposits and prepaid insurance. Lower activity levels during the third quarter resulted in decreased accounts payable and accrued liabilities. Taxes payable declined primarily due to the final payments for 2005 and interim instalments for 2006 income tax for certain subsidiaries. Lower accounts receivable reflected decreased sales activity and improved collection.

Cash provided by (used for) investment activities

Capital spending amounted to $21 million during the third quarter of 006. For the six months ended September 30, 2006 capital spending totalled 62 million. Spending during these periods was focused primarily on the completion of the Phase II hot strip mill upgrade at Lake Erie Steel and at the Corporation's mining interests. Partially offsetting these cash requirements were $13 million of final proceeds received from the sale of non-core assets.

Cash provided by (used for) financing activities

The Corporation reduced borrowings by $11 million during the third quarter of 2006. In addition, $12 million of long-term debt was repaid relating primarily to a regularly scheduled debt repayment at one of the Corporation's wholly owned subsidiaries. For the six months ended September 30, 2006, the previously mentioned debt repayment was partially offset by $5 million of cash provided by the issuance of common shares.

Liquidity

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

Financing Arrangements

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a ong-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. At September 30, 2006 the available amount of the ABL was $461 million and the amount drawn on this facility was $390 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Limited (a significant shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The amount drawn on this facility at September 30, 2006 was $35 million. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the property, plant and equipment of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full. For further details see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. For further details see Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Liquidity Risks

In addition to those risks discussed below under risk factors, some of the provisions contained in the Corporation's financing arrangements provide for the escalation of lending rates in certain circumstances which, if triggered, could impact the liquidity of the Corporation depending upon the amount outstanding under the particular facility. These agreements also contain provisions (along with the Corporation's long-term debt agreements), which restrict the Corporation's ability to issue additional debt.

Since September 30, 2006, there has been a decrease in the liquidity of the Corporation as a result of declining sales and its effect on the underlying collateral. As of October 31, 2006 the net liquidity of the Corporation declined to $350 million.

Contractual Obligations

The following is a summary of the principal obligations of the Corporation at September 30, 2006:

Capital Resources

The cash position, cash flow from operations and available credit facilities are expected to enable the corporation to satisfy its anticipated operating and capital cash requirements which includes the fourth quarter 2006 outages at the Hamilton Steel blast furnace and the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

Other than the operating leases referred to above, the Corporation does not engage in off balance sheet accounting to structure any of its financial arrangements and had no off-balance sheet arrangements at September 30, 2006.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to litigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in the third quarter of 2006 and therefore no such financial instruments were outstanding at September 30, 2006.

Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B common shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on the implementation of the CCAA Plan with no value being attributed to them.

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for total consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of common shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000. As a result of the exercise of warrants in the third quarter of 2006, referred to below, there were 27,103,921 common shares outstanding at September 30, 2006.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issueable upon the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of the common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. The warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at any time after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information. A total of 3,921 warrants were exercised in the third quarter of 2006.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The total number of options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal instalments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, of the common shares on the Grant Date. During the second quarter of 2006, 200,000 options were forfeited and 150,000 additional options were granted at an exercise price of $17.75. During the third quarter of 2006 no options were exercised, granted or forfeited. See Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Accounting Changes Effective in 2006

Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities

Upon emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, there was a substantial realignment of the equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation. The Corporation was required, under Canadian GAAP, to adopt "fresh start" reporting in accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook section 1625 - Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities. The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 - Income Taxes (Note 7) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 - Employee Future Benefits (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The Corporation finalized the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor in the third quarter of 2006. Accordingly, changes to the initial estimated fair value adjustment have been reflected in the March 31, 2006 Consolidated Statement of Financial Position (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Accounting Changes Effective in 2007

Financial Instruments

During 2005, the CICA issued three new Handbook Sections: Section 3855, "Financial Instruments - Recognition and Measurement", Section 3865, "Hedges" and Section 1530, "Comprehensive Income". These standards provide guidance on the recognition, measurement and classification of financial assets and financial liabilities. The standards also establish new accounting requirements for hedges. These standards also provide guidance for reporting items in other comprehensive income, which will be included on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as a separate component of shareholders' equity. These accounting standards are to be applied no later than the fiscal years beginning on or after October 1, 2006. The Corporation is currently evaluating the potential impact of these new standards on our Consolidated Financial Statements for 2007.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ASSUMPTIONS AND ESTIMATES

The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP as disclosed in Note 3 thereto.

In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to make certain assumptions and estimates. Choosing one assumption or estimate from a range of possibilities can materially impact the amounts reported on the Statement of Earnings (Loss) or the Statement of Financial Position. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors reviews the significant assumptions and estimates.

Management considers assumptions and estimates relating to the following matters to be the most critical:

- valuation of accounts receivable;
- carrying value of long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment);
- employee future benefits;
- income taxes;
- inventory valuation;
- environmental matters; and
- basis of valuation.

Unless indicated otherwise, all adjustments related to the items below are reflected in Costs in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

Valuation of Accounts Receivable

Stelco records an allowance for doubtful collection of accounts receivable based on the Corporation's best estimate of any potential uncollectible amounts. The best estimate considers past experience with the customer base and a review of current economic conditions and specific customer issues. While there is no significant exposure to individual customers, there is a significant exposure to the automotive industry. Although the Corporation and its Predecessor have not had significant bad debt expenses in prior periods, deteriorating economic conditions could result in financial difficulties in the customer base that could lead to bad debts.

Carrying Value of Long-Lived Assets

In accordance with Canadian GAAP appropriate for a going concern, property, plant and equipment is carried at cost less accumulated amortization. This carrying amount is reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The carrying value is considered recoverable if the sum of undiscounted cash flows from operations and cash flow from disposal of the property, plant and equipment exceeds the carrying amount. Future cash flows are dependent upon the assumptions used for revenues and costs to produce product. There is a high degree of uncertainty in estimating future cash flows, primarily as a result of the uncertainty regarding future prices for steel, operating costs and economic conditions. The application of different assumptions for steel prices, operating costs and economic conditions could result in a conclusion that the Corporation would not recover the carrying amount of our property, plant and equipment and other long-lived assets, which could result in a material charge to earnings.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation participates in a number of employee future benefit arrangements (principally providing pension and health care benefits) in Canada and the United States. These benefits represent a substantial obligation and cost to the Corporation. As indicated in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, these plans are primarily of a defined benefits nature. As a result, complex actuarial and accounting rules are used to determine the expense to be recorded for the year and the accrued benefit obligation as at each measurement date, which generally corresponds to the year-end date, for the Corporation's principal defined benefit plans.

To arrive at the cost of employee future benefits to be recognized in the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to review and update various actuarial assumptions each year, based on a going concern concept. These assumptions include investment yields, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality rates and other factors. Management consults certain outside advisors, including actuaries, in determining these factors in order to ensure that the assumptions chosen are reasonable.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the expected average remaining service life (EARSL) of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. Under Canadian GAAP the cost of employee future benefits in any year is not unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

The following comments highlight the significant 2006 assumptions, changes and trends within the Corporation's principal pension and other benefit plans.

Pension Benefits

The major assumptions include:

The discount rate enables the Corporation to calculate the present value of the benefit obligation as of the measurement date (December 31, subject to the remeasurements required as at March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006). The rate used is the current yield on high-quality fixed income investments whose term and cash flow are similar to the liabilities under the plan. A higher discount rate decreases the present value of the benefit obligation and increases pension expense.

The expected long-term rate of return on plan assets is determined by assessing historical and anticipated investment returns on the various categories of plan assets. Lower expected returns result in an increased expense.

Establishment of the expected average retirement age is based on a review of the actual experience of the pension plans. Lower retirement ages result in increasing the benefit obligation as well as the pension expense.

The mortality rate allows the Corporation to estimate the duration for which benefits are expected to be paid. Mortality rates are based on actuarial tables that are updated periodically to reflect expected mortality trends in the general population. A lower mortality rate (higher life expectancy) lengthens the benefit payment stream resulting in a higher benefit obligation and pension expense.

Pension Plan Amendment and Curtailments

The Hamilton Steel USW Local 1005 union contract ratified in June 2006 includes certain pension benefit improvements. For accounting purposes, management determined that these changes were a plan amendment and accordingly the pension plan assets and liabilities were remeasured to reflect the impact of these amendments. The participation in the salaried workforce reduction program resulted in a significant reduction in estimated future years of service of the salaried workforce who were members of the defined benefit pension and post-employment plans. Management determined that this was a curtailment for accounting and accordingly the pension plan assets and liabilities were remeasured. The curtailment resulted in immediate recognition in the second quarter 2006 operating results.

As at June 30, 2006, management updated the following assumptions for three of the four principal pension plans, which were subject to remeasurement:

- discount rate - from 5.25% to 5.50%; and
- retirement age salaried employees - from 58 to 59.

The consolidated funded status deteriorated from a deficit of $416 million as at March 31, 2006 to a deficit of $618 million as at June 30, 2006, mainly as a result of the loss on pension plan assets, plan amendments and early retirements somewhat offset by the revised assumption for the discount rate for the three remeasured plans (Lake Erie salary, Hamilton and Corporate salary and Hamilton Steel bargaining unit). Under Canadian GAAP, the impact of changes to the above assumptions, benefit improvements, actual investment returns, and other changes are recognized over a number of years rather than in the year of occurrence. As a result, for accounting purposes, there was an accrued benefit liability of $431 million on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at June 30, 2006 reflecting the deficit of $618 million reduced by $100 million of unamortized net actuarial losses, and $87 million of unamortized past service costs.

Further details on pension plans are included in Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Other Benefits

The assumptions for other benefit plans are similar to pension plans, with the additional factor of health care cost trend rates. Changes in the health care cost trend rate have a significant effect on the accrued benefit obligation and recorded expense. As these plans are generally unfunded, changes to the assumptions do not materially impact cash outlays. Cash outlays are the actual amounts paid for other benefits.

As at June 30, 2006, management updated the following assumptions for other benefit plans for three of the four principal plans, which were subject to remeasurement:

- discount rate - from 5.25% to 5.75%; and
- retirement age salaried employees - from 58 to 59.

The consolidated funded status improved from a deficit of $1,320 million as at March 31, 2006 to a deficit of $1,194 million as at June 30, 2006, primarily due to these revised assumptions and plan amendments. Similar to the accounting rules for pension plans, the full impact of changes in assumptions is not recognized in the current year. Unamortized actuarial gains and past service costs of $107 million increased the liability recorded on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position to $1,301 million as at June 30, 2006 from $1,320 million as at March 31, 2006.

Further details on other benefit plans are included in Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Income Taxes

Application of Canadian GAAP concerning future income taxes requires projection of tax rates expected to be in effect in years in which tax benefits will be realized. Changes to the amount and timing of tax rates in future years can impact the amount of income tax expense or recovery recognized in an accounting period. The realization of future income tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future years to utilize income tax benefits and income tax loss carry-forwards. Deviations of future profitability from estimates would result in adjustments to the value of future income tax assets that could have a significant effect on earnings. See Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Inventory Valuation

Valuation of inventories requires a number of estimates to be made, including inventory quality, condition and obsolescence. These determinations require management to exercise judgment. Inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Finished products are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Management must exercise judgment in determining the appropriateness of values used to determine replacement costs and net realizable values. Cyclical changes in selling prices and/or input costs can result in material adjustments being made to the carrying value of finished product inventory. As a result of the implementation of fresh start accounting on March 31, 2006, the inventory was revalued to fair value. This revaluation has had an impact on the operating results for both the second and third quarters of 2006.

Environmental

Stelco discloses environmental obligations when known and accrues the cost associated with the obligations when they are known and the costs can be reasonably estimated. Stelco owns a number of manufacturing sites that have been in existence for a significant period of time and as a result may have unknown environmental obligations.

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value, with the exception of future income taxes (see Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pensions and other post-employment benefits (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The determination of the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Successor was finalized in the third quarter 2006 (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets have been reviewed as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets have had their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

RISK FACTORS

Stelco's business and future performance is subject to a number of risk factors including, among others liquidity risks, as referred to under Liquidity and Capital Resources, risks relating to the volatility of the demand and selling prices for steel, Stelco's energy and raw material costs, planned capital expenditures, currency fluctuations in the US dollar and environmental matters. The following discussion is an update to the section entitled "Risk Factors" in management's discussion and analysis included in Stelco's 2005 annual report and in Stelco's interim report for the quarters ended March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006.

Demand and Pricing

The steel industry is cyclical in nature. The demand and pricing for North American steel fluctuates based on many factors including the strength of the economies in North America, particularly the automotive sector, exchange rates and the influence of steel sourced from offshore. The Corporation cannot rely on high selling prices being sustainable in the long term and believes it must take steps to lower its overall costs to compete effectively.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability, which includes improved productivity and a leaner organizational structure. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. In addition, the failure of planned outages to be completed as scheduled could have a material adverse effect on Stelco.

Pension Plans

Stelco and the Province of Ontario entered into a pension agreement that prescribes the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. Despite the level of contributions required under the pension agreement, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses and benefit changes.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers as a result of the steel industry consolidation.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

Wabush Mines has been experiencing production problems, particularly earlier in the year, which have and will continue to negatively impact Stelco's cost of iron ore in 2006. Plans for Wabush are being implemented to improve production and lower costs.

Employees

In June 2006, the Salaried Transition Assistance Program (STAP) was made available to active salaried employees who were defined benefit pension plan members. The STAP provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees. Similarly, the Transition Assistance Program (TAP), which provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees, was made available to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the new collective agreement negotiated in June 2006. In the third quarter of 2006 the TAP was also offered to Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees.

Stelco continues to evaluate its manpower requirements consistent with its succession plans and attrition rates. Retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees, and the ability to attract and retain new employees where replacement is considered necessary, are essential to Stelco's continued operations.

Labour Matters

Risks relating to possible labour difficulties and resultant loss of production and revenue have been mitigated by the agreement reached in June 2006 with USW Local 1005 to renew the 2002 Hamilton Steel collective agreement for a period expiring on July 31, 2010.

OUTLOOK

Demand for steel in the North American market softened towards the end of the third quarter due to reduced consumption by the automotive sector combined with high steel inventory levels at our customers, particularly at the steel service centres. It is expected that the reduced demand will continue through the fourth quarter and into the first quarter of 2007. As a result of the lower demand, certain major steel producers in North America, including Stelco, have elected to reduce production levels in order to better match demand and supply. In addition to reduced demand, the North American market continues to support a significant level of imports which may lead to lower selling prices and lower market share for domestic producers.

The Corporation is taking advantage of the current market slowdown in the fourth quarter in order to complete a reline and upgrade to the blast furnace at the Hamilton plant, necessary to increase the life of the furnace and to improve throughput. In addition, the Corporation will substantially complete the Phase II expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill, which is expected to increase throughput by 20% over current levels. The Corporation is continuing to monitor market conditions and will adjust production levels as required.

While changing market dynamics associated with the softening in North American steel demand make it difficult for the Corporation to predict revenue, shipments, liquidity, and EDITDA for the fourth quarter of 2006, the Corporation anticipates that it will not achieve its previously announced revenue, shipments, production and EDITDA estimates relating to the second half of 2006. If current market conditions continue, Stelco will face further reductions in liquidity in the fourth quarter. The Corporation is continuing to build new customer relationships, negotiate contracts with existing customers, and lower overall operating costs through the productivity initiatives noted in the MD&A and by negotiating better terms with suppliers.

This MD&A and the accompanying message to shareholders contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this MD&A or as of the date on which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and their impact on the Corporation's US dollar denominated long-term debt, steel pricing and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.

Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

1. BUSINESS DESCRIPTION AND CCAA HISTORY

Business Description

Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties. Through these ownership interests and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation" refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

CCAA History

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation's Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Discontinued Operations

As part of the CCAA, Stelco divested all of its manufactured products and mini-mill businesses. The impact on earnings for the three months ended March 31, 2006 was a net loss of $43 million (net of income tax of $2 million), for the three months ended September 30, 2005 was net loss of $24 million (net of income tax recoveries of $4 million) and for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 net loss of $11 million (net of income tax recoveries of $3 million).

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian;
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000; and
- Warrants exercisable for an aggregate of 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 9) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Notes 9, 11, and 13 for further details.

CCAA Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the CCAA Plan from the following sources:

- New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 8)	up to $600 million
- New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 8)	$375 million
- New Province Note (Note 9)	$150 million
- Federal Government (cancelled in June 2006)	$30 million

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook Section 1625 - "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation undertook a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value has been allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 - "Business Combinations". The Corporation has finalized its initial allocation resulting in the transfer of amounts between property, plant and equipment, inventories and intangible assets and future income taxes (see Note 4).

The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 reflects the accounts of the Successor. While not comparable, the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) and the corresponding Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows reflects the activities of the Successor and Predecessor for the three months and nine months ended September 30, 2006 and 2005.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 - March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business.

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These interim financial statements do not include all of the disclosure required for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual consolidated financial statements.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP, which require management to make assumptions and estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The significant policies are summarized below:

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value (Note 4), with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 - Income Taxes (Note 7) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 - Employee Future Benefits (Note 13).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets have been reviewed as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets have had their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Stelco Inc., its wholly owned subsidiaries and partnerships, and its proportionate share of the accounts of its joint ventures.

Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at quarter-end exchange rates. All other assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at the quarter-end exchange rate or at historic rates prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities incurred for transactions after March 31, 2006. Income and expense items, other than those related to assets and liabilities translated at historic rates, are generally translated at the rate in effect at the time the transaction occurs.

Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency translations are reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

The temporal method of translation of foreign currency is followed for foreign subsidiaries, all of which are considered to be financially and operationally integrated. Translation of foreign currencies for the foreign subsidiaries using the temporal method is consistent with the method described above.

Inventories

The recorded cost of inventories on hand at March 31, 2006 was based on the estimated fair values on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Inventories of raw materials and supplies on hand post March 31, 2006 are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Semi-finished product inventories are valued at actual cost. Finished product inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Property, Plant, and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment, including construction in progress, purchased prior to April 1, 2006 has been recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the financial reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Property, plant, and equipment purchased after March 31, 2006 is carried at cost less accumulated amortization, and includes construction in progress. The Corporation expenses interest costs directly associated with capital projects. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method applied to the cost of the assets at rates based on their estimated useful life and beginning from the point when production commences except for the cost of blast furnace relines (see below) and at certain mining properties where amortization is calculated on a unit-of-production basis. The following annual amortization rates, which have been updated to reflect the final results of fresh start accounting, are in effect:

- Buildings	10 to 25 years
- Equipment	5 to 20 years
- Automotive and mobile equipment	5 to 10 years
- Raw material plants and properties	7 to 30 years

Blast Furnace Relines

The Corporation's blast furnaces periodically require extensive relining. Costs incurred in the reline of a blast furnace that extend the useful life of the furnace are capitalized and amortized over their estimated useful life on a unit-of-production basis. Other repair and maintenance costs that may be incurred during the reline are expensed.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets of the Corporation are computer systems and applications. Intangible assets purchased prior to April 1, 2006 are recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Intangible assets purchased after March 31, 2006 are recorded at historical cost. Amortization is recorded on a straight-line basis over an estimated eight-year life beginning from March 31, 2006 or the purchase date, if after March 31, 2006. See further comments under Income Taxes.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

An impairment loss would be recognized when the carrying value of a long-lived asset exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The impairment loss would be calculated as the amount by which the carrying value of the asset exceeds its fair value.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation, its wholly owned business units, wholly owned subsidiaries, and joint ventures maintain a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing pension, other retirement and post-employment benefits to most of its employees.

Pension plan assets are valued at market-related value and are used to calculate the expected rate of return on plan assets. Market-related value is the market value of pension plan assets averaged over a three-year period.

The cost of pension and other post-employment benefits (including medical benefits, dental care, life insurance and certain compensated absences) is charged to income annually. The cost is computed on an actuarial basis using the projected benefit method by estimating the usage, frequency and cost of services covered and management's best estimate of the long-term rate of return on plan assets, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality and other factors. These assumptions relate to factors that are of a long-term nature and, consequently, are subject to a degree of uncertainty. Actual trends and values may differ from those assumed at this time resulting in changes in the cost of pension and other post-employment benefits in future periods. The assumptions are reviewed and updated annually or more frequently where the level of benefits provided to employees changes. Past service costs (such as increased benefits provided under labour contract settlements) are amortized over the estimated average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the employees at the date of the amendment.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the EARSL of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived there from. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. Under Canadian GAAP the cost of employee future benefits in any year is not unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

Salaried employees hired after July 31, 1997 participate in the Corporation's "Opportunity" or similar programs, which include a flexible credit plan for benefits and a self-directed group RRSP. These employees do not participate in the defined benefit plans. These programs are accounted for as defined contribution plans. Costs of defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

The Corporation follows the liability method of accounting for future income taxes. Under the liability method, future income tax assets and liabilities are determined based on "temporary differences" (differences between the accounting basis and the tax basis of the assets and liabilities) and are measured using the currently enacted, or substantively enacted, tax rates and laws expected to apply when these differences reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded against any future income tax asset if it is more likely than not that the asset will not be realized. Income tax expense or benefit is the sum of the Corporation's provision for current income taxes and the differences between the opening and ending balances of the future income tax assets and liabilities. The effect of increases and decreases to future income tax assets and liabilities arising from changes in tax rates is recognized in income in the period the changes occur.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Measurement Uncertainty

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the stated amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

4. FRESH START REPORTING

As outlined in Note 2, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor were reported at estimated fair values, except for future income taxes, which were reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which were reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor were based on management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The Successor has finalized its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangibles and future income taxes, and reflected adjustments in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006. The adjustments to the Predecessor balances related to predecessor shareholders, affected creditors and equity sponsors and pensions and financing were finalized upon emergence from CCAA.

The following legend describes the adjustments made to the Predecessor accounts resulting from the implementation of the Plan and consummation of the various agreements:

(1) Implementation of the Plan as outlined in Note 1.

The following table reconciles the Predecessor's liabilities subject to compromise to those that were accepted claims under the Plan:

(in millions)	At March 31, 2006	At March 31, 2005	At December 31, 2005

The holders of Series A and B voting common shares received nil consideration.

(2) Issuance of shares for cash under the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 1).

(3) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the related credit facilities (Note 8).

(4) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants (Note 9).

(5) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.

(6) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement.

(7) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.

(8) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused tax losses or other deductions are realized.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Included under the Fresh Start Adjustment captions are all tax adjustments required to transition the Predecessor's accounts to the Successor's accounts at March 31, 2006.

5. RESTRICTED CASH

The Predecessor's restricted cash represented funds being held in trust with the Monitor under the CCAA proceedings pending direction from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice for its use. The composition of these funds is derived as follows:

(in millions)	At September 30, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)
Proceeds relating to the sale of Welland Pipe Ltd., CHT Steel Inc., and Stelpipe Ltd. assets	$ -	$ -	$ 17

Proceeds from the sale of the shares of AltaSteel Ltd.	5	4	-
	$ 5	$ 34	$ 17

During the second quarter of 2006, the Monitor released the proceeds held in trust pertaining to the sale of the shares of Norambar Inc., Stelwire Ltd., and Stelfil Ltèe in accordance with the related purchase and sale agreement. The remaining restricted cash was released in October 2006 in accordance with the terms of the purchase and sale agreement related to the sale of the shares of AltaSteel Ltd.

6. ASSET RETIREMENT OBLIGATIONS

Asset retirement obligations relate to the site restoration and reclamation of iron ore properties at the Corporation's mining interests in Wabush, Tilden and Hibbing. The following table provides the pertinent information associated with these obligations:

(in millions)	At September 30, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005

(2) Reflects the estimated credit-adjusted interest rate of the Corporation.

7. COMPONENTS OF CONSOLIDATED INCOME TAXES

The income tax expense (recovery) differs from the amount calculated by applying Canadian income tax rates (federal and provincial) to the earnings (loss) before income taxes from continuing operations, as follows:

(in millions)	Three months ended September 30, 2006	Six months ended September 30, 2006
	(Successor)	(Successor)
Income (loss) before income taxes from continuing operations	$ 13	$ (42)

Effect of future income tax rate reduction	8	-
Future income tax expense	$ 33	$ 7

(1) Resulted in a reduction of intangible assets on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position by $11 million.

The finalization of the fresh start reporting increased tax expense recorded for the three months ended September 30, 2006 by approximately $36 million comprised of an increase in the valuation allowance of $28 million and the income tax rate reduction adjustment of $8 million.

Components of future income tax assets and liabilities are summarized as follows:

Future Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective statement of financial position date.

The Corporation had certain future tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future tax assets were recognized in the third quarter of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and, prior to each March 31 anniversary date, the facility can be extended for a period of two years if the lender and Stelco mutually agree. The ABL facility is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest in all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventory and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any non-use of funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants. At September 30, 2006, the available amount of the ABL was $461 million and the amount drawn on this facility was $390 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation - Note 1), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. Stelco intends to repay amounts borrowed under this facility within one year, therefore these borrowings have been reflected as a current liability on the Statement of Financial Position. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of CCAA Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay 3% of the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

Included in financial expense for the third quarter of 2006 is approximately $1 million relating to borrowings under this agreement ($1 million in second quarter of 2006). The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at September 30, 3006. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at September 30, 2006. At September 30, 2006 there was $35 million outstanding under this loan.

(1) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. Interest on the FRN'S in the third quarter of 2006 totalled $7 million ($7 million in the second quarter of 2006) and is included in financial expense. Interest has been calculated under the cash payment option consistent with the semi-annual payment made in September 2006. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan (Note 8) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full.

(2) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 13), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. Interest accrued on the Province Note in the third quarter 2006 totalled $0.8 million ($0.4 million in the second quarter 2006) and is included in financial expense. The semi-annual interest payment due in September 2006 was paid in cash. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants (see Note 11 for terms of the warrants). Upon the application of fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006, the Province Note was adjusted to its estimated fair value of $57 million (see Note 4) and will be accreted up to its face value over the term of the Note assuming an effective interest rate of 12%. During the third quarter of 2006 an accretion expense of $1 million was recorded in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) ($2 million in the six month period ended September 30, 2006).

(3) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation. The loan is currently in default and the assets remaining in the subsidiary are not sufficient to satisfy this obligation.

(4) These term loans were assumed by the purchaser upon completion of the sale of the non-core subsidiaries during the first quarter of 2006.

(5) There was a $1 million loss recorded in the third quarter of 2006 due to the revaluation of the FRN's using the September 30, 2006 US dollar exchange rate, compared to a $13 million gain recorded in the second quarter of 2006.

(6) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

10. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Capital Programs and Other Commitments

Stelco has binding commitments for capital programs totalling $28 million. Of this amount, $23 million relates to Phase II of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill upgrade.

Pursuant to an outsourcing agreement, the Corporation has committed approximately $130 million up to and including year 2012.

Contingencies

Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. during the course of the CCAA proceedings alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. The Corporation is vigorously defending this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provisions in the consolidated financial statements.

	(Successor)	(Successor)
Total number of common shares	27,103,921	26,100,000
Total (in millions)	$ 149	$ 144

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for cash consideration of $5.5 million, bringing the total number of common shares outstanding as of that date to 27,100,000. As a result of the exercise of warrants in the third quarter 2006, referred to below, there are 27,103,921 common shares outstanding at September 30, 2006.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. The holders of liabilities subject to compromise received 1,418,500 warrants with an estimated fair value of $2 million as partial consideration in exchange for their claim accepted under CCAA. The Province received 851,100 warrants with an estimated fair value of $1 million as partial consideration for the province loan (Note 9). Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issuable under the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. The warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at any time after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. A total of 3,921 warrants were exercised in the third quarter of 2006.

12. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The ISOP is intended to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other persons engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliates. The total number of stock options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal installments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, on the Grant Date. During the third quarter of 2006, no options were exercised, forfeited or granted (200,000 options forfeited and 150,000 additional options granted during the second quarter 2006 at an exercise price of $17.75). The total options available under the ISOP at September 30, 2006 are 716,000.

Total compensation expense of $0.4 million has been included in costs for the third quarter of 2006 ($0.4 million in second quarter 2006).

The compensation expense for grants made under the ISOP was determined at the grant date using the fair value method by applying the Black-Scholes option-pricing model using the following assumptions:

Grant date	June 21, 2006	April 1, 2006
Expected volatility	40%	40%
Risk-free interest rate	4.33%	4.00%
Expected life	0-4 years	0-4 years
Expected dividends	Nil	Nil

The weighted average exercise price for options outstanding at September 30, 2006 is $6.47.

(2) The six-month period ended September 30, 2006 is not comparable with three months ended March 31, 2006 and has therefore been reported separately.

Substantially all of the Corporation's pension benefit plans are not fully funded.

As a result of the emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Corporation was required to undertake a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities, which included a remeasurement of all of the Corporation's pension and other benefit plan obligations under CICA Handbook Section 3461 - Employee Future Benefits. The results of the remeasurement, as reported in the first quarter 2006, included the elimination of previously recorded unamortized net actuarial losses and unamortized past service costs.

In the second quarter 2006, there was:

- a contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005 which contained pension and benefit improvements, including an annual pension indexing tied to a cost of living adjustment;
- announced reductions in the other benefit programs, which substantially impacted the active salary workforce (and salaried retirees);
- a Salaried Transition Assistance Program ("STAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement or resignation to employees who were members of the two principal salary defined benefit pension plans. The program closed on June 30, 2006;
- a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005. The program closed on July 14, 2006.

The STAP resulted in a severance expense of $19 million in the second quarter 2006 which, when combined with other terminations in the period of $8 million, resulted in a total cost of $27 million. The TAP resulted in a voluntary retirement incentive cost of $6 million which was recognized in the third quarter 2006.

These events had an impact on three of the Corporation's four principal pension and other benefit plans (the Hamilton Steel bargaining unit plans and the salary plans covering the Lake Erie Steel salary workforce and the combined Corporate and Hamilton Steel salary workforce). The Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit plans are not impacted by these changes as they are covered under a separate labour agreement.

As a result of the significant reduction of the salary workforce arising from the STAP program and the impact of certain reductions in the salary other benefit programs there was a net curtailment expense recognized in the second quarter 2006 of $14 million.

Two plan amendments (the Hamilton Steel bargaining unit pension indexing adjustment, net of a reduction in the salary early retirement pension benefit) resulted in net pension unamortized past service cost of $87 million. While this amount did not impact second quarter 2006 earnings, the amount will be amortized over the expected average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the active employees. The amortization resulted in an increase in pension expense of $4 million in the third quarter 2006.

Other benefit plan amendments which primarily reflect an extensive reduction to the salary health care benefits resulted in an unamortized past service gain of $74 million. Similar to the pension impact noted above, this amount did not impact second quarter 2006 earnings and will be amortized over EARSL. Amortization of this gain resulted in a reduction in other benefit plan expense of $3 million in the third quarter 2006.

As a result of the significant plan amendments, there was a requirement to remeasure the affected plans described above as at June 30, 2006. The remeasurement required a review and update of all significant assumptions underlying these plans, including the discount rate, retirement age, and expected long term rate of return on pension plan assets. The change in assumptions is tabled in this note. In the case of the pension plans the actual negative returns experienced since the last remeasurement in March 2006 compared to the expected rate of return exceeded the favourable impact of the 0.25% increase in the pension discount rate, resulting in a net pension unamortized actuarial loss of $67 million. The effect of employee reductions both prior to and including the TAP program for the Hamilton bargaining unit plan added an additional $39 million to the actuarial loss.

In the case of the other benefit plans, the increase in the discount rate by 0.5% resulted in an unamortized actuarial gain of $66 million. The effect of employee reductions, both prior to and including the STAP and TAP, resulted in an unamortized actuarial loss of $20 million.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

As a condition of the CCAA Plan, Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement, effective on March 31, 2006, which contains the following principal terms:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
  - Years 1 - 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006; and
  - Years 6 - 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount; and
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015 provided that any future benefit improvements which will be required to be funded in accordance with the Pension Benefits Act and will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

While the Pension Agreement with the Province has a prescribed funding obligation as outlined above, pension plan enhancements, such as the recently negotiated hourly pension indexing, are excluded from this arrangement. Accordingly, the hourly pension indexing is subject to additional cash funding under the Pension Benefits Act, totalling an estimated $121 million over the next eight years.

14. ASSETS HELD FOR SALE

In August 2006 the Corporation entered into an agreement to sell a parcel of non-core, surplus land in Hamilton and a building located on the property for cash proceeds of $17.5 million. Completion of the sale is subject to a number of conditions. The book value of these assets under the fresh start revaluation, which is equal to the expected net proceeds, has been classified as assets held for sale, as at September 30, 2006.

15. EARNINGS (LOSS) PER COMMON SHARE

Interest on the convertible debentures is recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) as interest on long-term debt and debt subject to compromise. This amount, net of tax, is added back to net earnings (loss) from continuing operations and net earnings (loss) in order to calculate fully diluted earnings (loss) from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share. Fully diluted earnings (loss) per common share is calculated by applying the treasury stock method for the potential exercise of stock options, and assuming the dilutive effect of the conversion of all outstanding convertible debentures at the $4.50 per share conversion price applicable to those debentures.

Lake Erie Steel - ISO/TS16949 certification

HAMILTON, ON, Dec. 14 /CNW/ - Lake Erie Steel, a subsidiary of Stelco Inc. (TSX: STE), today announced that it has been awarded ISO/TS 16949:2002 Quality Management System certification for the manufacture of Hot Rolled Steel Coils.

ISO/TS16949 is an international quality management system standard developed by the International Automotive Task Force (IATF) in conjunction with the international standards community. By meeting this standard, Lake Erie Steel demonstrates its ability to consistently provide product that meets customer requirements, and enhances customer satisfaction through continual improvement of our processes, products and services.

Peter Knocke, Vice President and General Manager, said, "Achieving certification to this internationally recognized standard illustrates Lake Erie Steel's ongoing commitment to provide automotive customers with high quality steel products. It is also a testament to the talent and dedication of Lake Erie Steel employees, who have again risen to the challenge of continually improving quality standards."

Attention Business/Financial Editors:
Stelco Completes its Operational Improvement Program

Resulting Fourth Quarter loss will be $120-140 million

HAMILTON, ON, Feb. 7 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) today announced that it has completed the major components of the operational restructuring that it commenced upon exiting from the CCAA process. This operational restructuring had three key components:

- Productivity improvement initiatives and reduction in the labour force.

- Reducing production costs through workflow improvement.

- Optimizing capital projects.

In order to complete this program, it was necessary to close certain production facilities for a period of time during the fourth quarter. These shutdowns coincided with a softening in demand for steel. The net result of these initiatives is that Stelco expects to report a loss before income taxes in the range of $120 million to $140 million for the fourth quarter ending December 31, 2006.

The closure of production facilities enabled the company to successfully complete several strategic capital projects, including:

- the reline and upgrade of the blast furnace at the Hamilton plant to significantly increase throughput and to extend the interval for the next furnace reline to 2018; and

- the Phase II expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill, which is expected to increase throughput by 20% over previous levels.

With these two major projects now complete, Stelco does not anticipate any further significant mill outages in 2007.

As mentioned above, fourth quarter results were also adversely impacted by lower demand in the automotive and steel service centre sectors, which contributed to a reduction in spot prices for steel and shipments during the quarter. In addition, higher costs were incurred due to increases in the cost of energy and certain raw materials.

Mr. Rodney Mott, President and CEO stated that, "The economic outlook for 2007 appears positive and the demand for steel has improved markedly." Shipment and semi-finished steel production in January improved significantly over the respective monthly averages for the fourth quarter. January shipments were 309,000 tons and semi-finished steel production was 380,000 tons, which compares to fourth quarter monthly averages of 225,000 tons and 204,000 tons respectively. Spot prices have also improved for January as compared to the fourth quarter. Mr. Mott added that, "With these steps of our operational restructuring program now complete we have significantly enhanced our efficiency, reduced operating costs, and are poised to compete effectively in this improving economic environment."

The Corporation expects to release its annual results in early March 2007.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (this "MD&A") is dated March 7, 2007 and is in respect of the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes (collectively the "Consolidated Financial Statements") of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the nine month period ended December 31, 2006. The purpose of this MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial condition and future prospects and to assist security holders and others to understand the Corporation and the key factors underlying its financial results. This MD&A includes forward-looking information that is subject to risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially (see "Forward-Looking Statements"). This MD&A should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements. Additional information about Stelco will be available upon filing of the Corporation's 2006 Annual Information Form, which will be accessible from SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of March 7, 2007. Events occurring after that date could render the information contained herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

Business Description

Established in 1910, Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service centre, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its business through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures.

All information stated below excludes the discontinued operations of the Corporation. The continuing operations of the Corporation are in the Integrated Steel segment, which consist of those business units that include and are primarily associated with the Stelco Hamilton and Stelco Lake Erie Integrated Steel plants and Stelco's raw materials properties.

Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting

Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") on January 29, 2004. The Corporation emerged from CCAA protection at the end of the day on March 31, 2006 upon the implementation of Stelco's third amended and restated plan of arrangement and reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"). Also on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement involving Stelco was implemented under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA Plan") pursuant to which Stelco's business was reorganized and specific assets and liabilities of Stelco were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Stelco's emergence from CCAA protection and the implementation of the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan is referred to in this MD&A as the "Reorganization". Further information regarding the Reorganization is set out in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

When used in this MD&A, the term "Predecessor" refers to Stelco and its related entities prior to the Reorganization and the term "Successor" refers to Stelco and its related entities following the Reorganization.

In connection with the Reorganization, Stelco adopted "fresh start" reporting on March 31, 2006 and, accordingly, has completed a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. See "Changes in Accounting Policy" in this MD&A and Notes 2 and 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, selected comparative information in this MD&A regarding sales and shipments has been provided where such information was not affected by the Reorganization or the adoption of "fresh start" reporting.

Financial and Operating Results

Overview

The focus since exiting from the CCAA process on March 31, 2006 has been on an operational restructuring including the following initiatives:

- Implementation of productivity improvement initiatives which resulted in the reduction of the labour force. Through these initiatives voluntary programs were offered to both hourly and salary employees providing for their early retirement from the Corporation. A total of 280 hourly and 282 salary employees elected to participate in these plans. This action combined with normal attrition has reduced the workforce from 4,954 on March 31, 2006 to 4,243 on December 31, 2006. With an additional 192 employees whose last day worked was in January 2007, the total work force has been reduced to 4,051 as of January 31, 2007 which is expected to provide an annualized wage savings of approximately $65 million. This reduction has not negatively affected productivity or the quality of products or services.
- Implementation of a new business model focused on utilizing a de-centralized approach to simplify the management of the business and eliminate wasted efforts and redundant processes. Benefits are expected to be realized in scheduling, purchasing, information systems and operations.
- Reducing operating costs, improving product flow and reducing inventories by simplifying material handling, reducing product offerings and minimizing outside processing programs.
- A significant reduction in work-in-process and finished goods inventories which offset working capital requirements from the seasonal increase in raw material volumes.
- Optimizing capital by only selecting projects that are required to sustain operations or provide a pay back within a relatively short period of time. Stelco's annual capital plan was reduced from a projected $250 million to $150 million for 2006.
- Reducing general overhead and administrative costs by redefining requirements and focusing on improving processes.

The major components of the operational restructuring are now complete and are expected to lead to increased volumes, revenue growth, lower costs and improved productivity.

As part of the foregoing restructuring initiatives, the Corporation successfully completed several strategic projects and initiatives during the fourth quarter including:

- A reline and upgrade of the blast furnace at the Hamilton Steel plant, which is expected to increase throughput and extend the interval for the next furnace reline to 2018.
- The phase two upgrade of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill, which is expected to increase throughput by 20%.

As a result of completing these strategic projects, costs during the fourth quarter of 2006 and inventory valuations were adversely affected as it was necessary to close certain production facilities for a period of time. In addition, higher costs were incurred due to increases in the cost of energy and certain raw materials. As well, lower demand in the automotive sector and high inventory levels at steel service centres resulted in a reduction of shipments and spot prices during the quarter. As a result, an EBITDA loss of $82 million and a loss before income taxes of $145 million were recorded for the fourth quarter of 2006.

For the nine months ended December 31, 2006, Stelco recorded an EBITDA of $1 million and a loss before income taxes of $187 million. Deducted from EDITDA are unusual items of $60 million and deducted from loss before income taxes are unusual items of $110 million. Of these unusual items $60 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation, $36 million related to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs and severances, and $14 million related to employee future benefit curtailment expense.

Net Sales and Costs

Quarter ended December 31, 2006 compared to quarter ended September 30, 2006

Loss before income tax for the three months ended December 31, 2006 was $145 million, compared to earnings before income tax of $13 million for the third quarter of 2006. Deducted from pre-tax earnings for the fourth quarter of 2006 are severance costs totalling $3 million. The pretax earnings for the third quarter ended September 30, 2006 included unusual costs totalling $17 million. Of this amount, $11 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation and $6 million largely related to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs.

Net sales of $472 million for the fourth quarter of 2006 were 28% lower than the third quarter of 2006. Steel shipments of 673,000 tons for the fourth quarter were 27% lower than the third quarter due to a slowdown of orders from the Corporation's major automotive and steel service centre customers. The average revenue per ton decreased by 3% to $701 per ton, primarily due to lower spot prices partly offset by a higher priced product mix.

Costs in the fourth quarter were lower by 7% primarily due to the decline in shipments. However average cost per ton of $823 in the fourth quarter increased by 27% over the third quarter due to higher costs related to lower production levels, a higher value product mix, increased raw material costs including those for zinc, natural gas, and coal, increased repairs and maintenance, and lower yield and operating efficiencies, partly offset by decreased labour spending and the flow through of the balance of the "fresh start" inventory adjustment in the third quarter.

Amortization

Amortization expense for the fourth quarter of 2006 was $31 million compared to $25 million in the third quarter of 2006. The $6 million increase was partly attributable to a lower than normal third quarter amortization expense ($2 million) in connection with the finalization of "fresh start" reporting. In addition, amortization related to the phase two upgrade at the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill and the Hamilton Steel blast furnace reline and upgrade contributed an additional $4 million to amortization expense in the fourth quarter.

Employee Future Benefits

During the fourth quarter of 2006, workforce severance expenses of $3 million were incurred.

In the third quarter of 2006, a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP") provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees, which when combined with other termination expenses, resulted in a workforce reduction cost of $6 million.

Financial Expense and Foreign Exchange Gains and Losses

The Corporation's Floating Rate Notes (see Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) are denominated in US dollars. An $11 million foreign exchange loss was recorded in the fourth quarter of 2006 due to the revaluation of the notes using the December 31, 2006 US dollar exchange rate of $1.1654 (US dollar exchange rate was 1.1177 as at September 30, 2006). A $1 million foreign exchange loss was recorded in the third quarter of 2006.

Interest expense totaled $18 million for the fourth quarter of 2006, compared to interest expense of $19 million for the third quarter of 2006. Included in interest expense for the fourth quarter of 2006 is approximately $3 million relating to borrowings under the secured revolving term loan (see "Liquidity and Capital Resources – Financing Agreements") which is held indirectly by a significant shareholder ($1 million in the third quarter of 2006).

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the third and fourth quarters of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets (See Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Other Financial Comparisons

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, comparative information in this MD&A from Successor periods to Predecessor periods and for periods combining Successor and Predecessor information has been limited to sales and shipments.

Quarter ended December 31, 2006 compared to quarter ended December 31, 2005

Net sales for the quarter ended December 31, 2006 were 22% lower than the same quarter of 2005 mainly due to a 24% decrease in shipments. Average revenue per ton increased 2% primarily due to a shift in mix to higher revenue products and higher spot pricing partly offset by lower contract pricing.

Net sales for the year were 2% lower than the same period in 2005. Steel shipments were 3% higher while average revenue per ton was down 4% largely due to lower contract pricing.

(3) Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The financial information contained in this MD&A is presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Reference is also made to "EBITDA", which is a non-Canadian GAAP measure. "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses such as workforce reduction costs, foreign exchange gains and losses on long-term debt and gains and losses on the sale of assets and, in the case of the Predecessor, also before restructuring costs and asset write-downs. Information concerning EBITDA has been included in this MD&A because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the operating performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. A reconciliation to net earnings (loss), which is a Canadian GAAP measure, is presented above in the Financial and Operational Summary.

All note references in this document are to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Operational Information

Trade

Imports accounted for approximately 52% of apparent domestic steel consumption in 2006 compared to 51% in 2005.

The Canadian International Trade Tribunal ruled in August 2006 to maintain the original 2001 hot rolled steel sheet dumping finding against Brazil, China, Chinese Taipei, South Africa and Ukraine and to continue a subsidy finding against India, confirming that the foregoing countries had injured Canadian steel producers by selling dumped and subsidized hot rolled sheet into Canada. The current ruling will apply until 2011.

In its Sunset Review of a dumping order applicable to certain corrosion resistant steels, the US International Trade Commission announced its decision in December 2006 to terminate the dumping orders against Canada, and other countries retroactive to December 2005.

Health, Safety and Environment

Health and safety performance has improved with lost time accident frequency decreasing from 2.2 per 200,000 hours worked in 2005 to 1.8 in 2006.

There are no outstanding environmental charges and both Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel are Integrated Standards Organization ("ISO") 14000 registered. This system provides the framework for the implementation, maintenance, and continuous improvement process for managing environmental aspects at both integrated plants.

At Hamilton Steel, a Benzene Emission Reduction program is in progress. The phase installed in 2006 is expected to reduce benzene emissions by approximately 80% when commissioned in early 2007. In addition a permanent urea addition system was installed at the Sinter Plant. The addition of urea to the Sinter Plant feed has been shown to reduce the Dioxin/Furan emissions to below the limit required in the Sinter Plant's Certificate of Approval for the year 2010 and beyond.

Equipment Upgrades

The phase two of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill was completed in November 2006 and included the installation of the sixth finishing stand and quick roll change capability.

The reline and upgrade to the blast furnace at Hamilton Steel was completed in December 2006 and included the return of a second tap hole and a reline of the hearth wall. The benefits of the spending include reduced cast house emissions, increased quality and production and decreased hot metal costs. The next major repair to this furnace is now expected to occur in 2018.

Facilities/Competitiveness

The Corporation is focused on a strategy to fully leverage Stelco's existing assets to compliment the optimization of capital and implemented productivity improvement initiatives.

The phase two upgrade of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill included the installation of new higher horsepower rougher motors, quick roll change and the sixth finishing stand which keeps the hot roll capability on the leading edge and improves throughput by 20% over current levels. The Hamilton Steel 56" mill will continue to operate for at least the near term to service specific market segments.

The reline and upgrade to the blast furnace at the Hamilton Steel plant has increased the life of the furnace and improved throughput.

Currently, two pickle lines operate at Hamilton Steel to supply the cold rolling and coating operations. In addition, approximately 440,000 tons per year of Hamilton Steel's requirements are pickled externally. The Corporation is reviewing its options with respect to the future utilization of these lines.

The bar product and cold roll and coated facilities at Hamilton Steel, as well as the 2050 hot strip mill at Lake Erie Steel, are registered to ISO/TS 16949:2002. ISO/TS 16949:2002 is an international quality management system standard developed by the International Automotive Task Force and the Japan Automotive Manufacturers Association in conjunction with the international standards community. The hot strip mill at Hamilton Steel is registered to the ISO 9001:2000 standard. As internal suppliers to the finishing mills, the Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel blast furnace and steelmaking facilities are compliant to ISO 9001. By meeting and maintaining these standards, Stelco demonstrates its ability to consistently provide product that meets customer requirements, and enhance customer satisfaction through continual improvement of processes, products and services.

The compliance audits of Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel's ISO 14001 systems were satisfactorily completed during 2006.

Labour Matters

The Lake Erie labour contract with Local 8782 of the United Steelworkers ("USW") came into effect January 1, 2006 and will expire July 31, 2009. The Hamilton labour contract with USW Local 1005 came into effect August 1, 2006 and will expire on July 31, 2010.

In June 2006, the Salaried Transition Assistance Program (STAP) was made available to active salaried employees who were defined benefit pension plan members. The STAP provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees. Similarly, the Transition Assistance Program (TAP), which provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees, was made available to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the new collective agreement negotiated in June 2006. In the third quarter of 2006 the TAP was also offered to Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees. A total of 562 employees elected to participate in these plans.

A key component of engaging and focusing employees was introduced during 2006 in the form of variable compensation tied to productivity and profitability. As part of the new agreement with USW Local 1005 at Hamilton Steel, a Productivity Payment Plan (PPP) was introduced that pays hourly workers additional remuneration contingent upon reaching certain productivity levels. Salaried employees at Hamilton Steel who are directly involved with production activities are also eligible for PPP. A profit sharing program was also introduced that pays all Hamilton employees, salaried employees at Lake Erie and Corporate salaried employees if certain earnings thresholds are achieved on a quarterly basis.

Summary of Quarterly Results

The following table reflects the Corporation's quarterly financial performance over the last eight quarters. Although the Corporation does not typically experience significant seasonal fluctuations in revenues, the Corporation can experience significant fluctuations in revenues based on external events such as customer inventory levels, automotive demand and imports.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under fresh start reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation are dependent upon a number of factors including, without limitation, market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund necessary capital projects, pension requirements and labour negotiations and disputes.

The Corporation has a significant requirement for working capital related primarily to inventories due to the lead time of acquiring raw materials, the quantities of raw materials that are required to produce semi-finished steel and the amount of time required to process semi-finished steel into finished products. This working capital requirement is characteristic of many companies within the steel industry.

With the recapitalization of the Corporation upon emergence from CCAA, interest is being serviced in accordance with the terms and conditions of the related debt obligations.

(2) For further information see Note 2 and 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Due to the non-comparable nature of the financial results between the Successor and the Predecessor (see "Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting" in this MD&A), the following commentary pertains to the results of the Successor only.

Cash provided by (used for) operating activities

The negative cash flow from operating activities before working capital changes for the quarter and nine months ended December 31, 2006 was primarily attributable to the net loss incurred during the fourth quarter of 2006 (see "Financial and Operating Results") and the prescribed pension funding requirements which improved the pension funded position.

Positive cash flow from reductions in working capital in both the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 more than offset the negative cash flows from operations before working capital changes incurred during these periods. The primary factor in the fourth quarter of 2006 was a significant reduction in accounts receivable ($134 million) resulting from reduced shipments. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006 the reduction in accounts receivable ($194 million), mainly due to reduced shipments, was partially offset by a reduction in taxes payable ($16 million) and a net increase in inventory ($13 million).

Cash provided by (used for) investment activities

Capital expenditures of $39 million for the fourth quarter of 2006 and $101 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 were partially offset by proceeds on the disposition of assets of $18 million and $31 million respectively.

Capital expenditures for both of these periods related primarily to the Lake Erie Steel phase two hot strip mill upgrade, various projects at the Corporation's mining properties, and the relining of a portion of the blast furnace at Hamilton Steel in the fourth quarter of 2006.

The disposition of assets in 2006 (see Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) resulted in third quarter proceeds of $10 million related to the finalization of the sale of non-core subsidiaries and plate mill assets and $3 million related to the sale of surplus land and buildings in Welland. In the fourth quarter, proceeds of approximately $18 million were received regarding a sale of surplus land and buildings in Hamilton.

Cash provided by (used for) financing activities

The Corporation reduced revolving term loans during the fourth quarter of 2006 and nine months ended December 31, 2006 by $42 million and $44 million respectively. In addition, $12 million of long-term debt was repaid relating primarily to a regularly scheduled debt repayment at one of the Corporation's wholly owned subsidiaries during the third quarter of 2006. Partially offsetting these cash outflows were proceeds from the issuance of common shares during the second quarter of 2006 of approximately $5 million.

Liquidity

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

(In millions)	At December 31 2006	At March 31 2006	At December 31 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)
Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash	–	36	42
Available lines of credit [1]	603[2]	859[2]	403 [3]
Lines of credit drawn down [4]	(383)	(427)	(191)
Net liquidity	220	468	254

(1) After letters of credit usage, and subject to the availability under their governing agreements.

(2) Includes the amount available from the $600 ABL facility and the $375 secured revolving term loan. See "Financing Arrangements" below.

(3) Includes the former $350 million credit facility and the former $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility.

(4) In accordance with Canadian GAAP, the borrowings of the Successor are classified predominantly as long-term liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. See Note 10 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

During the nine months ending December 31, 2006, positive cash flow resulted from a significant reduction in accounts receivable. This resulted in a low balance in accounts receivable at December 31, 2006. The available line of credit under the current ABL facility was reduced by both the decrease in the accounts receivable collateral and inventory collateral, which has a cap tied to the accounts receivable balance. This was largely the reason that the available lines of credit decreased from $859 million at March 31, 2006 to the $603 million at December 31, 2006.

Since December 31, 2006, there has been an increase in the liquidity of the Corporation as a result of increasing sales and its affect on the underlying collateral. As of February 28, 2007 the net liquidity of the Corporation increased to $271 million.

Financing Arrangements

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. At December 31, 2006 the available amount of the ABL facility was $228 million and the amount drawn on the ABL facility was $168 million.

The Corporation is currently engaged in an effort to revise certain terms of the ABL facility. It is anticipated that such revisions will result in the ABL facility being extended to March 31, 2012 and availability under the facility being increased.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Limited (a significant shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The amount drawn on this facility at December 31, 2006 was $215 million. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the property, plant and equipment of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full. For further details see Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. For further details see Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Capital Resources

The anticipated future cash flow from operations and available credit facilities are expected to enable the Corporation to satisfy its anticipated operating and capital cash requirements.

Contractual Obligations

The following is a summary of the principal obligations of the Corporation at December 31, 2006:

(In millions)	Total	2007	2008–2009	2010–2011	>2011

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

Other than the operating leases referred to above, the Corporation does not engage in off balance sheet accounting to structure any of its financial arrangements and had no off-balance sheet arrangements at December 31, 2006.

Financial Instruments

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to mitigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in 2006 and therefore no such financial instruments were outstanding at December 31, 2006.

Related Party Transactions

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years.

Included in financial expense for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 is approximately $5 million relating to borrowings under this agreement. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at December 31, 2006. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at December 31, 2006. At December 31, 2006 there was $215 million outstanding under this loan.

On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for cash consideration of $5.5 million.

Outstanding Share Data

Common Shares

(in millions, except share numbers)	At December 31, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005

Total number of shares	27,123,908	26,100,000	102,249,198
Total Capital Stock	$149	$144	$781

Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B common shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on the implementation of the CCAA Plan with no value being attributed to them.

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, Stelco's Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for total consideration of $5.5 million. As a result of the exercise of warrants and stock options in the nine months ended December 31, 2006, referred to below, there were 27,123,908 common shares outstanding at December 31, 2006. There were 27,123,919 common shares outstanding at February 28, 2007.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issuable upon the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of the common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. The warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at any time after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information. A total of 5,158 warrants were exercised in the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The total number of options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were initially issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share on April 1, 2006. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal instalments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, of the common shares on the Grant Date. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, 18,750 options were exercised to purchase common shares at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share, an additional 150,000 options were granted at an exercise price of $17.75 and 300,000 options were forfeited at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. See Note 17 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Controls and Procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures are designed to provide reasonable assurance that relevant information is collected and reported to senior management, including the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") and the Chief Financial Officer ("CFO"), to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

At December 31, 2006, as required under the rules of Canadian Security Administrators National Instrument 52-109, the Corporation's management, including the CEO and the CFO, have evaluated the effectiveness of the corporation's disclosure controls and procedures and have concluded they are effective.

Management's annual report on internal control over financial reporting

Internal control over financial reporting is designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

The Corporation's management, including the CEO and the CFO, is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting for the Corporation. All systems of internal control have inherent limitations; therefore, even those systems that are determined to be effective can provide only reasonable assurance with respect to the preparation and presentation of financial statements.

At December 31, 2006, as required under the rules of Canadian Security Administrators National Instrument 52-109, the Corporation's management, including the CEO and the CFO, has assessed the design effectiveness of the Corporation's system of internal control over financial reporting. Based on this assessment, management has concluded that the design of internal control over financial reporting is effective.

Changes in internal control over financial reporting

There have been no changes in the Corporation's internal control over financial reporting in 2006 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, its internal control over financial reporting.

Changes in Accounting Policy

Accounting Changes Effective in 2006

Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities

Upon emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, there was a substantial realignment of the equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation. The Corporation was required, under Canadian GAAP, to adopt "fresh start" reporting in accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook section 1625 – Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities. The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits (see Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The Corporation finalized the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor in the third quarter of 2006. Accordingly, changes to the initial estimated fair value adjustment have been reflected in the March 31, 2006 Consolidated Statement of Financial Position (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Accounting Changes Effective in 2007

Financial Instruments

During 2005, the CICA issued three new Handbook Sections: Section 3855, "Financial Instruments – Recognition and Measurement", Section 3865, "Hedges" and Section 1530, "Comprehensive Income". These standards provide guidance on the recognition, measurement and classification of financial assets and financial liabilities. The standards also establish new accounting requirements for hedges. These standards also provide guidance for reporting items in other comprehensive income, which will be included on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as a separate component of shareholders' equity. These accounting standards are to be applied no later than the fiscal years beginning on or after October 1, 2006. The Corporation is evaluating the potential impact of these new standards on its Consolidated Financial Statements for 2007.

Critical Accounting Assumptions and Estimates

The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP.

In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to make certain assumptions and estimates. Choosing one assumption or estimate from a range of possibilities can materially impact the amounts reported on the Statement of Earnings (Loss) or the Statement of Financial Position. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors reviews the significant assumptions and estimates.

Management considers assumptions and estimates relating to the following matters to be the most critical:

- going concern
- valuation of accounts receivable;
- carrying value of long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment);
- employee future benefits;
- income taxes;
- inventory valuation;
- environmental matters; and
- basis of valuation.

Unless indicated otherwise, all adjustments related to the items below are reflected in Costs in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

Going Concern

The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These Consolidated Financial Statements do not reflect any adjustments that would be necessary if the "going concern" assumption was not appropriate. The Corporation is dependent upon a strong North American steel market and improving financial results. The outcome of these matters is not determinable at this time.

Valuation of Accounts Receivable

Stelco records an allowance for doubtful collection of accounts receivable based on the Corporation's best estimate of any potential uncollectible amounts. The best estimate considers past experience with the customer base and a review of current economic conditions and specific customer issues.

Carrying Value of Long-Lived Assets

The carrying amount of property, plant and equipment is reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The carrying value is considered recoverable if the sum of undiscounted cash flows from operations and cash flow from disposal of the property, plant and equipment exceeds the carrying amount. Future cash flows are dependent upon the assumptions used for revenues and costs to produce product. There is a high degree of uncertainty in estimating future cash flows, primarily as a result of the uncertainty regarding future prices for steel, operating costs and economic conditions. The application of different assumptions for steel prices, operating costs and economic conditions could result in a conclusion that the Corporation would not recover the carrying amount of our property, plant and equipment and other long-lived assets, which could result in a material charge to earnings.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation participates in a number of employee future benefit arrangements (principally providing pension and health care benefits) in Canada and the United States. These benefits represent a substantial obligation and cost to the Corporation. As indicated in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, these plans are primarily of a defined benefits nature. As a result, complex actuarial and accounting rules are used to determine the expense to be recorded for the year and the accrued benefit obligation as at each measurement date, which generally corresponds to the year-end date, for the Corporation's principal defined benefit plans.

To arrive at the cost of employee future benefits to be recognized in the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to review and update various actuarial assumptions each year, based on a going concern concept. These assumptions include investment yields, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality rates and other factors. Management consults certain outside advisors, including actuaries, in determining these factors in order to ensure that the assumptions chosen are reasonable.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the expected average remaining service life (EARSL) of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets and only for the amount that exceeds the 10% threshold. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. Under Canadian GAAP, the cost of employee future benefits in any year is not unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

The following comments summarize the significant 2006 assumptions, changes and trends within the Corporation's principal pension and other benefit plans.

The major assumptions include:

The discount rate enables the Corporation to calculate the present value of the benefit obligation as at the measurement date (December 31, subject to the remeasurements required as at March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006). The rate used is the current yield on high-quality fixed income investments whose term and cash flow are similar to the liabilities under the plan.

The expected long-term rate of return on plan assets is determined by assessing historical and anticipated investment returns on the various categories of plan assets.

Establishment of the expected average retirement age is based on a review of the actual experience of the pension plans.

The mortality rate allows the Corporation to estimate the duration for which benefits are expected to be paid. Mortality rates are based on actuarial tables that are updated periodically to reflect expected mortality trends in the general population.

Health care cost trend rates are established based partly on recent past trends and partly on future outlook for each of the major categories of benefits covered by the plans.

CCAA Emergence

As a result of the emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Corporation was required to undertake a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities, which included a remeasurement of all of the Corporation's pension and other benefit plan obligations under CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits. The results of the remeasurement, as reported in the first quarter 2006, included the elimination of previously recorded unamortized net actuarial losses and unamortized past service costs.

Pursuant to the pension agreement between the Corporation and the Province of Ontario, a one time contribution of $382 million was made to the four main pension plans on March 31, 2006.

At March 31, 2006, after remeasurement and the one time pension contribution, the pension plans had an unfunded liability of $417 million and the other benefit plans had an unfunded liability of $1,318 million on a GAAP basis. At March 31, 2006 liabilities equal to the unfunded positions were recognized on the Corporation's balance sheet. The March 31, 2006 remeasurement was based on a discount rate of 5.25% (December 31, 2005 – 5.00%). Other assumptions were unchanged from December 31, 2005.

Year-end Funded Position and Changes

Pensions

At December 31, 2006, the pension plans had an unfunded liability of $460 million compared to $417 million at March 31, 2006.

Significant non-routine factors contributing to this change are:

- plan amendments (increase in obligation of $48 million), which reflects the impact of retiree cost-of-living adjustments pursuant to the Hamilton Steel collective agreement concluded in June 2006, partially offset by the impact of changes to the salaried pension plans. The impact of plan amendments includes the effect of changing the early retirement assumption for salaried employees no longer eligible for unreduced retirement prior to age 60 from age 58 to age 59 and a reduction in the assumed compensation increase rate from 4% to 3% per annum pursuant to a change in the definition of covered compensation under the salaried pension plans.

- actuarial losses (increase in obligation of $134 million) which includes the effect of the change in discount rate to 5.10% at December 31, 2006 from 5.25% at March 31, 2006 ($86 million) and the impact of early retirement programs ($38 million).

- actual return on pension fund assets (decreasing unfunded status by $283 million) was higher than expected by $119 million.

Not affecting the funded status was a settlement related to the wind-up of the Welland Pipe bargaining unit pension plan which reduced obligations and plan assets by $30 million.

As a result of the deferred recognition of the cost of plan amendments and experience gains or losses, as described above, there was an accrued benefit liability of $403 million on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at December 31, 2006, reflecting the deficit of $460 million reduced by $15 million of unamortized net actuarial losses and $44 million of unamortized past service costs, partially offset by a valuation allowance of $2 million.

Further details on pension benefit plans are included in Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Other Benefits

At December 31, 2006 the other benefit plans had an unfunded liability of $1,229 million, reduced from $1,318 million at March 31, 2006.

Significant non-routine factors contributing to this change are:

- plan amendments (reduction in obligation of $65 million) largely related to the reduction of benefits for salaried employees (and retirees),
- actuarial gains (reduction in obligation of $39 million) largely related to a change in assumed future drug claim costs related to a change in plan administrator, and
- a plan curtailment cost (increase in obligation of $6 million) reflecting work force reduction initiatives and program changes.

The discount rate adopted at December 31, 2006 was 5.20% compared to 5.25% at March 31, 2006.

As a result of the deferred recognition of the cost of plan amendments and experience gains or losses, as described above, there was an accrued benefit liability of $1,312 million on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at December 31, 2006, reflecting the deficit of $1,229 million increased by $26 million of unamortized net actuarial gains and $57 million of unamortized past service gains.

Further details on other benefit plans are included in Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Income Taxes

Application of Canadian GAAP concerning future income taxes requires projection of tax rates expected to be in effect in years in which tax benefits will be realized. Changes to the amount and timing of tax rates in future years can impact the amount of income tax expense or recovery recognized in an accounting period. The realization of future income tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future years to utilize income tax benefits and income tax loss carry-forwards. Deviations of future profitability from estimates would result in adjustments to the value of future income tax assets that could have a significant effect on earnings. See Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Inventory Valuation

Valuation of inventories requires a number of estimates to be made, including inventory quality, condition and obsolescence. These determinations require management to exercise judgment. Inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Finished products and work in process are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Management must exercise judgment in determining the appropriateness of values used to determine replacement costs and net realizable values. Cyclical changes in selling prices and/or input costs and changes in production levels can result in material adjustments being made to the carrying value of finished product inventory.

As a result of the implementation of fresh start accounting on March 31, 2006, the inventory was revalued to fair value. This revaluation impacted the operating results for both the second and third quarters of 2006.

Environmental

Stelco discloses material environmental obligations when known and accrues the cost associated with the obligations when they are known and the costs can be reasonably estimated. Stelco owns a number of manufacturing sites that have been in existence for a significant period of time and as a result may have unknown environmental obligations.

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value, with the exception of future income taxes (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pensions and other post-employment benefits (see Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The determination of the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Successor was finalized in the third quarter of 2006 (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets have been reviewed as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets have had their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Risk Factors

Demand and Pricing

The steel industry is cyclical in nature. The demand and pricing for North American steel fluctuates based on many factors including the strength of the economies in North America, particularly the automotive sector, exchange rates and the influence of steel sourced from offshore. The Corporation cannot rely on selling prices being sustainable in the long term and believes it must take steps to lower its overall costs to compete effectively.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability including productivity initiatives and the implementation of a simplified organizational structure. Stelco has identified specific cost reduction initiatives, including managed attrition and improvement in maintenance planning which is expected to reduce repairs and maintenance costs, increase throughput and reduce electrical and mechanical delays. These cost reduction initiatives, along with strategic capital spending, are essential to achieving long-term viability. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Liquidity Risks

Some of the provisions contained in the Corporation's financing arrangements provide for the escalation of lending rates in certain circumstances which, if triggered, could impact the liquidity of the Corporation depending upon the amount outstanding under the particular facility. These agreements also contain provisions (along with the Corporation's long-term debt agreements) which restrict the Corporation's ability to issue additional debt.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

The Corporation's operations require substantial amounts of raw materials and energy, including coal, iron ore, coke, scrap, natural gas, electricity and other inputs. The price and availability of such raw materials and inputs are subject to market forces where the Corporation does not have ownership interests and, in some cases, to government regulations and, accordingly, are subject to change.

The Corporation produces approximately 85% of its annual coke requirements through its own coke ovens. However, it purchases 100% of its metallurgical coal requirements (raw material for the coke ovens) at market prices. Stelco has secured 100% of its 2007 metallurgical coal requirements under purchase contracts.

Through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its 2007 iron ore requirements at its cost of production.

The Corporation's financial performance is exposed to price volatility associated with the electricity commodity market. The Government of Ontario introduced competition to the electricity market on May 1, 2002, giving rise to uncertainty of prices since commodity prices are now determined based on hourly supply and demand requirements. Large industrial end-users such as Stelco have been provided with some relief through a rebate program called the "Rebate on OPG Non-Prescribed Assets". On February 9, 2006, the provincial government announced that they have extended the rebate program to April 30, 2009. Stelco plans to install a small co-generation facility at Hamilton Steel. Other co-generation facilities that may minimize Stelco's long-term exposure to energy price fluctuations are also under review.

Wabush Mines experienced production problems in 2006, particularly earlier in the year, which negatively impacted Stelco's cost of iron ore in 2006. Plans for Wabush were implemented to improve production and lower costs.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers as a result of the steel industry consolidation.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. In addition, the failure of planned outages to be completed as scheduled could have a material adverse effect on Stelco. Stelco maintains first party property and boiler and machinery breakdown insurance, both of which include business interruption coverage, to address some of these exposures to the extent of the limits of coverage and the terms of the individual insurance contracts.

Concentration of Credit Risk

There is a significant exposure of credit risk to the automotive industry as revenues are sourced from either direct or indirect sales to this segment. Although the Corporation and its Predecessor have not had significant bad debt expenses in prior periods, deteriorating economic conditions could result in financial difficulties in the customer base that could lead to bad debts.

Environmental Compliance

The Corporation is subject to substantial and evolving environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control, and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic and hazardous substances. These laws and regulations vary depending on the location of the facility and can fall within federal, provincial or municipal jurisdictions.

In meeting its overall environmental goals and government-imposed standards in 2006, the Corporation incurred operating costs of $62 million ($71 million in 2005) and spent $10 million on capital improvements ($3 million in 2005). Stelco Hamilton has a benzene emissions reduction program underway, with spending of approximately $0.6 million in 2006 ($4 million in 2005) and estimated additional costs of $4 million over the next two years.

Stelco regularly reviews and audits the operating practices of each business to monitor compliance with the Corporation's health and safety and environmental policies and legal requirements. The Corporation believes that future costs relating to environmental compliance can be dealt with in a manner such that they will not have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position. There is always the possibility, however, that unforeseen changes, such as in the laws enforcement policies of relevant government bodies, or the discovery of changed conditions on the Corporation's real property or its operations, could result in an increase in the costs of environmental compliance that could result in a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position.

Trade Regulations

A number of foreign steel producers have in the past exported large quantities of steel to North America, impairing the Corporation's ability to sell products and, accordingly, profitability. This steel has often been sold at levels that are below cost or below home market price, a practice known as "dumping". Existing trade laws and regulations in Canada may be inadequate to prevent such trade practices. Some foreign steel producers are owned, controlled or subsidized by foreign governments. Decisions by these foreign producers to continue production at marginal facilities may be influenced to a greater degree by political and economic policy considerations than by prevailing market conditions and may further contribute to excess global capacity. The North American market continues to support a significant level of imports, a condition which may lead to lower selling prices.

Moreover, trade regulation in other countries, particularly in the United States, could materially adversely affect the Corporation through the imposition of dumping duties which would reduce or effectively eliminate access to certain steel markets.

Employees

In June 2006, the Salaried Transition Assistance Program (STAP) was made available to active salaried employees who were defined benefit pension plan members. The STAP provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees. Similarly, the Transition Assistance Program (TAP), which provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees, was made available to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the new collective agreement negotiated in June 2006. In the third quarter of 2006, the TAP was also offered to Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees.

Stelco continues to evaluate its manpower requirements consistent with its succession plans and attrition rates. Retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees, and the ability to attract and retain new employees where replacement is considered necessary, are essential to Stelco's continued operations.

Pension Plans

Stelco and the Province of Ontario entered into a pension agreement that prescribes the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The objective of the agreement is that the plans be fully funded on a solvency basis by December 31, 2015.

The aggregate solvency deficiency under Stelco's four main pension plans as at December 31, 2006 was $1.0 billion (December 31, 2005 – $1.5 billion). The main factors contributing to the decrease in the estimated solvency deficiency over the one-year period are the one-time initial contribution of $0.4 billion made by the Company upon emergence from CCAA pursuant to the agreement with the Province of Ontario and favourable investment experience in relation to plan assets in 2006. Despite the level of contributions required under the pension agreement, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses due to changes in the level of discount rates, unfavourable pension fund investment returns, mortality experience and other factors. However, contributions required pursuant to the Pension Agreement up to December 31, 2015 do not change as a result of such actuarial losses.

Technology

The Corporation is subject to competition from new technological developments used by other steel producers. Limited liquidity and cash conservation measures over the last several years have caused the Corporation to reduce spending for capital and non-essential maintenance. However, over the last five years the Corporation has made capital expenditures on several projects to maintain and enhance its technological ability including the following:

- Stelco Lake Erie hot strip mill upgrades;

- Stelco Hamilton "E" blast furnace improvements, steelmaking improved vessel life, bar mill surface inspection system, roll shop grinder refurbishment, batch anneal control system, Z-Line surface inspection system; and
- ERP systems implementation for Stelco's maintenance, procurement, human resources, and finance functions.

Expenditures in 2007 are expected to include the completion of the final elements of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill upgrade, caster upgrades, enhanced hot strip surface inspection and galvanizing coating weight control.

Stelco's current strategic plan requires continual improvement in both its product and process technologies in order to maintain its competitive position in the high value-added automotive market. In particular, failure to meet the automotive industry's ever more demanding requirements for product quality and service, and failure to provide the new grades of advanced high-strength steels, will seriously jeopardize Stelco's long-term participation in this market. Similarly, for Stelco to attain a competitive cost structure will require the ongoing selective implementation of new process technologies throughout its integrated steelmaking processes. There is no assurance that Stelco will be able to improve its product and process technologies in accordance with its strategic plan or that the improvements, once implemented, will meet the automotive market's quality and service requirements.

Currency Fluctuations

Stelco is a net purchaser of U.S. dollars. Accordingly, any strengthening of the Canadian dollar results in a benefit to Stelco for its net purchases of U.S. funds. However, more than offsetting the above is the negative effect on Stelco's domestic sales revenue as many of Stelco's domestic customers export their products into the U.S. Thus, a stronger Canadian dollar can cause those customers to be less competitive in the U.S. and the customers may resist price increases or request steel price reductions from Stelco. Also, U.S. exports of steel into Canada have historically forced domestic steel prices in Canadian dollars downward. In addition, the North American benchmark for spot market prices for certain products, such as hot rolled, are established and determined in U.S. dollars.

Labour Matters

Risks relating to possible labour difficulties and resultant loss of production and revenue have been mitigated by the agreement reached in June 2006 with USW Local 1005 to renew the Hamilton Steel collective agreement for a period expiring on July 31, 2010 and by the agreement effective January 2006 with USW Local 8782 which will expire July 31, 2009.

[a] The $90 million convertible debenture is included in debt subject to compromise for 2004 as filing for CCAA protection was an event of default. A non-cash restructuring expense of $15 million was recorded in January 2004 to reflect these debentures at the anticipated claim amount of $90 million. These debentures were previously accreted up to face value over its term to maturity.

Outlook

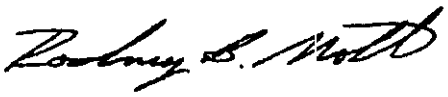
Fourth quarter results were adversely impacted by the curtailment of operations due to the reline and upgrade of the blast furnace at the Hamilton plant, the phase two expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill and efforts to better match supply and demand. The reline and upgrade of the blast furnace at the Hamilton plant will increase throughput and is expected to extend the interval for the next furnace reline to 2018. The phase II expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill is expected to increase throughput by 20%. Looking ahead, the Corporation does not anticipate any further significant mill outages in 2007.

Fourth quarter results were also adversely impacted by reduced shipments due to reduced consumption by the automotive sector combined with high steel inventory levels at steel service centres. Shipments are expected to be significantly stronger in the first quarter of 2007 as demand from the automotive and steel service sectors have strengthened from the fourth quarter of 2006.

With respect to pricing, the fourth quarter was negatively impacted by a reduction in spot prices largely due to the high steel levels at the steel service centre customers. The levels of inventory at the steel service centres are declining, suggesting that future spot pricing increases are possible. Annual contracts have largely been completed successfully for 2007 at pricing levels similar to 2006.

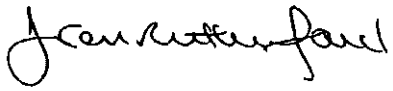
As no significant mill outages are anticipated in 2007, production costs should improve substantially compared to fourth quarter of 2006. The Corporation may sustain some input cost increases in 2007 in the area of raw material and energy as well as a carry over of high cost finished good and work-in-process inventory from 2006. However, the lower cost raw material inventory at year end will carry over into 2007 cost of sales. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its 2007 requirements at its costs of production. As well, the reduction in Stelco's labour force and other productivity improvements initiated in 2006 are expected to also reduce costs moving forward.

As the Corporation has now completed the major components of its operational restructuring, it believes that this will lead to increased volumes, revenue growth, lower costs and improved productivity in order to ensure long term viability and productivity.



Forward-Looking Statements

This MD&A and the accompanying message to shareholders contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this MD&A or as of the date on which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and their impact on the Corporation's US dollar denominated long-term debt, steel pricing and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.



Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (this "MD&A") is dated March 7, 2007 and is in respect of the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes (collectively the "Consolidated Financial Statements") of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the nine month period ended December 31, 2006. The purpose of this MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial condition and future prospects and to assist security holders and others to understand the Corporation and the key factors underlying its financial results. This MD&A includes forward-looking information that is subject to risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially (see "Forward-Looking Statements"). This MD&A should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements. Additional information about Stelco will be available upon filing of the Corporation's 2006 Annual Information Form, which will be accessible from SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of March 7, 2007. Events occurring after that date could render the information contained herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

Business Description

Established in 1910, Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service centre, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its business through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures.

All information stated below excludes the discontinued operations of the Corporation. The continuing operations of the Corporation are in the Integrated Steel segment, which consist of those business units that include and are primarily associated with the Stelco Hamilton and Stelco Lake Erie Integrated Steel plants and Stelco's raw materials properties.

Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting

Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") on January 29, 2004. The Corporation emerged from CCAA protection at the end of the day on March 31, 2006 upon the implementation of Stelco's third amended and restated plan of arrangement and reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"). Also on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement involving Stelco was implemented under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA Plan") pursuant to which Stelco's business was reorganized and specific assets and liabilities of Stelco were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Stelco's emergence from CCAA protection and the implementation of the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan is referred to in this MD&A as the "Reorganization". Further information regarding the Reorganization is set out in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

When used in this MD&A, the term "Predecessor" refers to Stelco and its related entities prior to the Reorganization and the term "Successor" refers to Stelco and its related entities following the Reorganization.

In connection with the Reorganization, Stelco adopted "fresh start" reporting on March 31, 2006 and, accordingly, has completed a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. See "Changes in Accounting Policy" in this MD&A and Notes 2 and 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, selected comparative information in this MD&A regarding sales and shipments has been provided where such information was not affected by the Reorganization or the adoption of "fresh start" reporting.

Financial and Operating Results

Overview

The focus since exiting from the CCAA process on March 31, 2006 has been on an operational restructuring including the following initiatives:

- Implementation of productivity improvement initiatives which resulted in the reduction of the labour force. Through these initiatives voluntary programs were offered to both hourly and salary employees providing for their early retirement from the Corporation. A total of 280 hourly and 282 salary employees elected to participate in these plans. This action combined with normal attrition has reduced the workforce from 4,954 on March 31, 2006 to 4,243 on December 31, 2006. With an additional 192 employees whose last day worked was in January 2007, the total work force has been reduced to 4,051 as of January 31, 2007 which is expected to provide an annualized wage savings of approximately $65 million. This reduction has not negatively affected productivity or the quality of products or services.
- Implementation of a new business model focused on utilizing a de-centralized approach to simplify the management of the business and eliminate wasted efforts and redundant processes. Benefits are expected to be realized in scheduling, purchasing, information systems and operations.
- Reducing operating costs, improving product flow and reducing inventories by simplifying material handling, reducing product offerings and minimizing outside processing programs.
- A significant reduction in work-in-process and finished goods inventories which offset working capital requirements from the seasonal increase in raw material volumes.
- Optimizing capital by only selecting projects that are required to sustain operations or provide a pay back within a relatively short period of time. Stelco's annual capital plan was reduced from a projected $250 million to $150 million for 2006.
- Reducing general overhead and administrative costs by redefining requirements and focusing on improving processes.

The major components of the operational restructuring are now complete and are expected to lead to increased volumes, revenue growth, lower costs and improved productivity.

As part of the foregoing restructuring initiatives, the Corporation successfully completed several strategic projects and initiatives during the fourth quarter including:

- A reline and upgrade of the blast furnace at the Hamilton Steel plant, which is expected to increase throughput and extend the interval for the next furnace reline to 2018.
- The phase two upgrade of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill, which is expected to increase throughput by 20%.

As a result of completing these strategic projects, costs during the fourth quarter of 2006 and inventory valuations were adversely affected as it was necessary to close certain production facilities for a period of time. In addition, higher costs were incurred due to increases in the cost of energy and certain raw materials. As well, lower demand in the automotive sector and high inventory levels at steel service centres resulted in a reduction of shipments and spot prices during the quarter. As a result, an EBITDA loss of $82 million and a loss before income taxes of $145 million were recorded for the fourth quarter of 2006.

For the nine months ended December 31, 2006, Stelco recorded an EBITDA of $1 million and a loss before income taxes of $187 million. Deducted from EDITDA are unusual items of $60 million and deducted from loss before income taxes are unusual items of $110 million. Of these unusual items $60 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation, $36 million related to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs and severances, and $14 million related to employee future benefit curtailment expense.

Net Sales and Costs

Quarter ended December 31, 2006 compared to quarter ended September 30, 2006

Loss before income tax for the three months ended December 31, 2006 was $145 million, compared to earnings before income tax of $13 million for the third quarter of 2006. Deducted from pre-tax earnings for the fourth quarter of 2006 are severance costs totalling $3 million. The pretax earnings for the third quarter ended September 30, 2006 included unusual costs totalling $17 million. Of this amount, $11 million arose from a "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation and $6 million largely related to employee voluntary retirement incentive costs.

Net sales of $472 million for the fourth quarter of 2006 were 28% lower than the third quarter of 2006. Steel shipments of 673,000 tons for the fourth quarter were 27% lower than the third quarter due to a slowdown of orders from the Corporation's major automotive and steel service centre customers. The average revenue per ton decreased by 3% to $701 per ton, primarily due to lower spot prices partly offset by a higher priced product mix.

Costs in the fourth quarter were lower by 7% primarily due to the decline in shipments. However average cost per ton of $823 in the fourth quarter increased by 27% over the third quarter due to higher costs related to lower production levels, a higher value product mix, increased raw material costs including those for zinc, natural gas, and coal, increased repairs and maintenance, and lower yield and operating efficiencies, partly offset by decreased labour spending and the flow through of the balance of the "fresh start" inventory adjustment in the third quarter.

Amortization

Amortization expense for the fourth quarter of 2006 was $31 million compared to $25 million in the third quarter of 2006. The $6 million increase was partly attributable to a lower than normal third quarter amortization expense ($2 million) in connection with the finalization of "fresh start" reporting. In addition, amortization related to the phase two upgrade at the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill and the Hamilton Steel blast furnace reline and upgrade contributed an additional $4 million to amortization expense in the fourth quarter.

Employee Future Benefits

During the fourth quarter of 2006, workforce severance expenses of $3 million were incurred.

In the third quarter of 2006, a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP") provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees, which when combined with other termination expenses, resulted in a workforce reduction cost of $6 million.

Financial Expense and Foreign Exchange Gains and Losses

The Corporation's Floating Rate Notes (see Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) are denominated in US dollars. An $11 million foreign exchange loss was recorded in the fourth quarter of 2006 due to the revaluation of the notes using the December 31, 2006 US dollar exchange rate of $1.1654 (US dollar exchange rate was 1.1177 as at September 30, 2006). A $1 million foreign exchange loss was recorded in the third quarter of 2006.

Interest expense totaled $18 million for the fourth quarter of 2006, compared to interest expense of $19 million for the third quarter of 2006. Included in interest expense for the fourth quarter of 2006 is approximately $3 million relating to borrowings under the secured revolving term loan (see "Liquidity and Capital Resources – Financing Agreements") which is held indirectly by a significant shareholder ($1 million in the third quarter of 2006).

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the third and fourth quarters of 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets (See Note 13 to the Consclidated Financial Statements).

Other Financial Comparisons

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor. Accordingly, comparative information in this MD&A from Successor periods to Predecessor periods and for periods combining Successor and Predecessor information has been limited to sales and shipments.

Quarter ended December 31, 2006 compared to quarter ended December 31, 2005

Net sales for the quarter ended December 31, 2006 were 22% lower than the same quarter of 2005 mainly due to a 24% decrease in shipments. Average revenue per ton increased 2% primarily due to a shift in mix to higher revenue products and higher spot pricing partly offset by lower contract pricing.

Net sales for the year were 2% lower than the same period in 2005. Steel shipments were 3% higher while average revenue per ton was down 4% largely due to lower contract pricing.

(2) The nine-month period ended December 31, 2006 is not comparable with three months ended March 31, 2006 and has therefore been reported separately.

(3) Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The financial information contained in this MD&A is presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Reference is also made to "EBITDA", which is a non-Canadian GAAP measure. "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses such as workforce reduction costs, foreign exchange gains and losses on long-term debt and gains and losses on the sale of assets and, in the case of the Predecessor, also before restructuring costs and asset write-downs. Information concerning EBITDA has been included in this MD&A because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the operating performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. A reconciliation to net earnings (loss), which is a Canadian GAAP measure, is presented above in the Financial and Operational Summary.

All note references in this document are to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Operational Information

Trade

Imports accounted for approximately 52% of apparent domestic steel consumption in 2006 compared to 51% in 2005.

The Canadian International Trade Tribunal ruled in August 2006 to maintain the original 2001 hot rolled steel sheet dumping finding against Brazil, China, Chinese Taipei, South Africa and Ukraine and to continue a subsidy finding against India, confirming that the foregoing countries had injured Canadian steel producers by selling dumped and subsidized hot rolled sheet into Canada. The current ruling will apply until 2011.

In its Sunset Review of a dumping order applicable to certain corrosion resistant steels, the US International Trade Commission announced its decision in December 2006 to terminate the dumping orders against Canada, and other countries retroactive to December 2005.

Health, Safety and Environment

Health and safety performance has improved with lost time accident frequency decreasing from 2.2 per 200,000 hours worked in 2005 to 1.8 in 2006.

There are no outstanding environmental charges and both Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel are Integrated Standards Organization ("ISO") 14000 registered. This system provides the framework for the implementation, maintenance, and continuous improvement process for managing environmental aspects at both integrated plants.

At Hamilton Steel, a Benzene Emission Reduction program is in progress. The phase installed in 2006 is expected to reduce benzene emissions by approximately 80% when commissioned in early 2007. In addition a permanent urea addition system was installed at the Sinter Plant. The addition of urea to the Sinter Plant feed has been shown to reduce the Dioxin/Furan emissions to below the limit required in the Sinter Plant's Certificate of Approval for the year 2010 and beyond.

Equipment Upgrades

The phase two of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill was completed in November 2006 and included the installation of the sixth finishing stand and quick roll change capability.

The reline and upgrade to the blast furnace at Hamilton Steel was completed in December 2006 and included the return of a second tap hole and a reline of the hearth wall. The benefits of the spending include reduced cast house emissions, increased quality and production and decreased hot metal costs. The next major repair to this furnace is now expected to occur in 2018.

Facilities/Competitiveness

The Corporation is focused on a strategy to fully leverage Stelco's existing assets to compliment the optimization of capital and implemented productivity improvement initiatives.

The phase two upgrade of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill included the installation of new higher horsepower rougher motors, quick roll change and the sixth finishing stand which keeps the hot roll capability on the leading edge and improves throughput by 20% over current levels. The Hamilton Steel 56" mill will continue to operate for at least the near term to service specific market segments.

The reline and upgrade to the blast furnace at the Hamilton Steel plant has increased the life of the furnace and improved throughput.

Currently, two pickle lines operate at Hamilton Steel to supply the cold rolling and coating operations. In addition, approximately 440,000 tons per year of Hamilton Steel's requirements are pickled externally. The Corporation is reviewing its options with respect to the future utilization of these lines.

The bar product and cold roll and coated facilities at Hamilton Steel, as well as the 2050 hot strip mill at Lake Erie Steel, are registered to ISO/TS 16949:2002. ISO/TS 16949:2002 is an international quality management system standard developed by the International Automotive Task Force and the Japan Automotive Manufacturers Association in conjunction with the international standards community. The hot strip mill at Hamilton Steel is registered to the ISO 9001:2000 standard. As internal suppliers to the finishing mills, the Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel blast furnace and steelmaking facilities are compliant to ISO 9001. By meeting and maintaining these standards, Stelco demonstrates its ability to consistently provide product that meets customer requirements, and enhance customer satisfaction through continual improvement of processes, products and services.

The compliance audits of Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel's ISO 14001 systems were satisfactorily completed during 2006.

Labour Matters

The Lake Erie labour contract with Local 8782 of the United Steelworkers ("USW") came into effect January 1, 2006 and will expire July 31, 2009. The Hamilton labour contract with USW Local 1005 came into effect August 1, 2006 and will expire on July 31, 2010.

In June 2006, the Salaried Transition Assistance Program (STAP) was made available to active salaried employees who were defined benefit pension plan members. The STAP provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees. Similarly, the Transition Assistance Program (TAP), which provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees, was made available to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the new collective agreement negotiated in June 2006. In the third quarter of 2006 the TAP was also offered to Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees. A total of 562 employees elected to participate in these plans.

A key component of engaging and focusing employees was introduced during 2006 in the form of variable compensation tied to productivity and profitability. As part of the new agreement with USW Local 1005 at Hamilton Steel, a Productivity Payment Plan (PPP) was introduced that pays hourly workers additional remuneration contingent upon reaching certain productivity levels. Salaried employees at Hamilton Steel who are directly involved with production activities are also eligible for PPP. A profit sharing program was also introduced that pays all Hamilton employees, salaried employees at Lake Erie and Corporate salaried employees if certain earnings thresholds are achieved on a quarterly basis.

Summary of Quarterly Results

The following table reflects the Corporation's quarterly financial performance over the last eight quarters. Although the Corporation does not typically experience significant seasonal fluctuations in revenues, the Corporation can experience significant fluctuations in revenues based on external events such as customer inventory levels, automotive demand and imports.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under fresh start reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation are dependent upon a number of factors including, without limitation, market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund necessary capital projects, pension requirements and labour negotiations and disputes.

The Corporation has a significant requirement for working capital related primarily to inventories due to the lead time of acquiring raw materials, the quantities of raw materials that are required to produce semi-finished steel and the amount of time required to process semi-finished steel into finished products. This working capital requirement is characteristic of many companies within the steel industry.

With the recapitalization of the Corporation upon emergence from CCAA, interest is being serviced in accordance with the terms and conditions of the related debt obligations.

(2) For further information see Note 2 and 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Due to the non-comparable nature of the financial results between the Successor and the Predecessor (see "Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting" in this MD&A), the following commentary pertains to the results of the Successor only.

Cash provided by (used for) operating activities

The negative cash flow from operating activities before working capital changes for the quarter and nine months ended December 31, 2006 was primarily attributable to the net loss incurred during the fourth quarter of 2006 (see "Financial and Operating Results") and the prescribed pension funding requirements which improved the pension funded position.

Positive cash flow from reductions in working capital in both the three and nine months ended December 31, 2006 more than offset the negative cash flows from operations before working capital changes incurred during these periods. The primary factor in the fourth quarter of 2006 was a significant reduction in accounts receivable ($134 million) resulting from reduced shipments. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006 the reduction in accounts receivable ($194 million), mainly due to reduced shipments, was partially offset by a reduction in taxes payable ($16 million) and a net increase in inventory ($13 million).

Cash provided by (used for) investment activities

Capital expenditures of $39 million for the fourth quarter of 2006 and $101 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 were partially offset by proceeds on the disposition of assets of $18 million and $31 million respectively.

Capital expenditures for both of these periods related primarily to the Lake Erie Steel phase two hot strip mill upgrade, various projects at the Corporation's mining properties, and the relining of a portion of the blast furnace at Hamilton Steel in the fourth quarter of 2006.

The disposition of assets in 2006 (see Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) resulted in third quarter proceeds of $10 million related to the finalization of the sale of non-core subsidiaries and plate mill assets and $3 million related to the sale of surplus land and buildings in Welland. In the fourth quarter, proceeds of approximately $18 million were received regarding a sale of surplus land and buildings in Hamilton.

Cash provided by (used for) financing activities

The Corporation reduced revolving term loans during the fourth quarter of 2006 and nine months ended December 31, 2006 by $42 million and $44 million respectively. In addition, $12 million of long-term debt was repaid relating primarily to a regularly scheduled debt repayment at one of the Corporation's wholly owned subsidiaries during the third quarter of 2006. Partially offsetting these cash outflows were proceeds from the issuance of common shares during the second quarter of 2006 of approximately $5 million.

Liquidity

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

(in millions)	At December 31 2006	At March 31 2006	At December 31 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)
Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash	—	36	42

Lines of credit drawn down [4]	(383)	(427)	(191)
Net liquidity	220	468	254

(1) After letters of credit usage, and subject to the availability under their governing agreements.

(2) Includes the amount available from the $600 ABL facility and the $375 secured revolving term loan. See "Financing Arrangements" below.

(3) Includes the former $350 million credit facility and the former $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility.

(4) In accordance with Canadian GAAP, the borrowings of the Successor are classified predominantly as long-term liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. See Note 10 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

During the nine months ending December 31, 2006, positive cash flow resulted from a significant reduction in accounts receivable. This resulted in a low balance in accounts receivable at December 31, 2006. The available line of credit under the current ABL facility was reduced by both the decrease in the accounts receivable collateral and inventory collateral, which has a cap tied to the accounts receivable balance. This was largely the reason that the available lines of credit decreased from $859 million at March 31, 2006 to the $603 million at December 31, 2006.

Since December 31, 2006, there has been an increase in the liquidity of the Corporation as a result of increasing sales and its affect on the underlying collateral. As of February 28, 2007 the net liquidity of the Corporation increased to $271 million.

Financing Arrangements

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US base rate + 0.5% or LIBOR + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. At December 31, 2006 the available amount of the ABL facility was $228 million and the amount drawn on the ABL facility was $168 million.

The Corporation is currently engaged in an effort to revise certain terms of the ABL facility. It is anticipated that such revisions will result in the ABL facility being extended to March 31, 2012 and availability under the facility being increased.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Limited (a significant shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The amount drawn on this facility at December 31, 2006 was $215 million. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the property, plant and equipment of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full. For further details see Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. For further details see Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Capital Resources

The anticipated future cash flow from operations and available credit facilities are expected to enable the Corporation to satisfy its anticipated operating and capital cash requirements.

Contractual Obligations

The following is a summary of the principal obligations of the Corporation at December 31, 2006:

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

Other than the operating leases referred to above, the Corporation does not engage in off balance sheet accounting to structure any of its financial arrangements and had no off-balance sheet arrangements at December 31, 2006.

Financial Instruments

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to mitigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in 2006 and therefore no such financial instruments were outstanding at December 31, 2006.

Related Party Transactions

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years.

Included in financial expense for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 is approximately $5 million relating to borrowings under this agreement. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at December 31, 2006. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at December 31, 2006. At December 31, 2006 there was $215 million outstanding under this loan.

On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for cash consideration of $5.5 million.

Series A and B Common Shares

The Series A and B common shares of the Predecessor were delisted from the Toronto Stock Exchange as at the close of trading on March 10, 2006. These shares were eliminated on the implementation of the CCAA Plan with no value being attributed to them.

New Common Shares

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, Stelco's Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for total consideration of $5.5 million. As a result of the exercise of warrants and stock options in the nine months ended December 31, 2006, referred to below, there were 27,123,908 common shares outstanding at December 31, 2006. There were 27,123,919 common shares outstanding at February 28, 2007.

Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The total number of common shares issuable upon the exercise of all outstanding warrants represents approximately 7% of the common shares outstanding upon the exercise of warrants on a diluted basis. The warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable at any time after June 26, 2006 up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. See Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information. A total of 5,158 warrants were exercised in the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

Effective April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The total number of options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were initially issued at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share on April 1, 2006. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal instalments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, of the common shares on the Grant Date. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, 18,750 options were exercised to purchase common shares at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share, an additional 150,000 options were granted at an exercise price of $17.75 and 300,000 options were forfeited at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. See Note 17 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Controls and Procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures are designed to provide reasonable assurance that relevant information is collected and reported to senior management, including the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") and the Chief Financial Officer ("CFO"), to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

At December 31, 2006, as required under the rules of Canadian Security Administrators National Instrument 52-109, the Corporation's management, including the CEO and the CFO, have evaluated the effectiveness of the corporation's disclosure controls and procedures and have concluded they are effective.

Management's annual report on internal control over financial reporting

Internal control over financial reporting is designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

The Corporation's management, including the CEO and the CFO, is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting for the Corporation. All systems of internal control have inherent limitations; therefore, even those systems that are determined to be effective can provide only reasonable assurance with respect to the preparation and presentation of financial statements.

At December 31, 2006, as required under the rules of Canadian Security Administrators National Instrument 52-109, the Corporation's management, including the CEO and the CFO, has assessed the design effectiveness of the Corporation's system of internal control over financial reporting. Based on this assessment, management has concluded that the design of internal control over financial reporting is effective.

Changes in internal control over financial reporting

There have been no changes in the Corporation's internal control over financial reporting in 2006 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, its internal control over financial reporting.

Changes in Accounting Policy

Accounting Changes Effective in 2006

Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities

Upon emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, there was a substantial realignment of the equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation. The Corporation was required, under Canadian GAAP, to adopt "fresh start" reporting in accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook section 1625 – Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities. The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits (see Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The Corporation finalized the fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor in the third quarter of 2006. Accordingly, changes to the initial estimated fair value adjustment have been reflected in the March 31, 2006 Consolidated Statement of Financial Position (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

Accounting Changes Effective in 2007

Financial Instruments

During 2005, the CICA issued three new Handbook Sections: Section 3855, "Financial Instruments – Recognition and Measurement", Section 3865, "Hedges" and Section 1530, "Comprehensive Income". These standards provide guidance on the recognition, measurement and classification of financial assets and financial liabilities. The standards also establish new accounting requirements for hedges. These standards also provide guidance for reporting items in other comprehensive income, which will be included on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as a separate component of shareholders' equity. These accounting standards are to be applied no later than the fiscal years beginning on or after October 1, 2006. The Corporation is evaluating the potential impact of these new standards on its Consolidated Financial Statements for 2007.

Critical Accounting Assumptions and Estimates

The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP.

In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to make certain assumptions and estimates. Choosing one assumption or estimate from a range of possibilities can materially impact the amounts reported on the Statement of Earnings (Loss) or the Statement of Financial Position. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors reviews the significant assumptions and estimates.

Management considers assumptions and estimates relating to the following matters to be the most critical:

- going concern
- valuation of accounts receivable;
- carrying value of long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment);
- employee future benefits;
- income taxes;
- inventory valuation;
- environmental matters; and
- basis of valuation.

Unless indicated otherwise, all adjustments related to the items below are reflected in Costs in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

Going Concern

The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These Consolidated Financial Statements do not reflect any adjustments that would be necessary if the "going concern" assumption was not appropriate. The Corporation is dependent upon a strong North American steel market and improving financial results. The outcome of these matters is not determinable at this time.

Valuation of Accounts Receivable

Stelco records an allowance for doubtful collection of accounts receivable based on the Corporation's best estimate of any potential uncollectible amounts. The best estimate considers past experience with the customer base and a review of current economic conditions and specific customer issues.

Carrying Value of Long-Lived Assets

The carrying amount of property, plant and equipment is reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. The carrying value is considered recoverable if the sum of undiscounted cash flows from operations and cash flow from disposal of the property, plant and equipment exceeds the carrying amount. Future cash flows are dependent upon the assumptions used for revenues and costs to produce product. There is a high degree of uncertainty in estimating future cash flows, primarily as a result of the uncertainty regarding future prices for steel, operating costs and economic conditions. The application of different assumptions for steel prices, operating costs and economic conditions could result in a conclusion that the Corporation would not recover the carrying amount of our property, plant and equipment and other long-lived assets, which could result in a material charge to earnings.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation participates in a number of employee future benefit arrangements (principally providing pension and health care benefits) in Canada and the United States. These benefits represent a substantial obligation and cost to the Corporation. As indicated in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, these plans are primarily of a defined benefits nature. As a result, complex actuarial and accounting rules are used to determine the expense to be recorded for the year and the accrued benefit obligation as at each measurement date, which generally corresponds to the year-end date, for the Corporation's principal defined benefit plans.

To arrive at the cost of employee future benefits to be recognized in the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to review and update various actuarial assumptions each year, based on a going concern concept. These assumptions include investment yields, discount rates, salary escalation, health care cost trends, retirement age, mortality rates and other factors. Management consults certain outside advisors, including actuaries, in determining these factors in order to ensure that the assumptions chosen are reasonable.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the expected average remaining service life (EARSL) of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets and only for the amount that exceeds the 10% threshold. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. Under Canadian GAAP, the cost of employee future benefits in any year is not unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

The following comments summarize the significant 2006 assumptions, changes and trends within the Corporation's principal pension and other benefit plans.

The major assumptions include:

The discount rate enables the Corporation to calculate the present value of the benefit obligation as at the measurement date (December 31, subject to the remeasurements required as at March 31, 2006 and June 30, 2006). The rate used is the current yield on high-quality fixed income investments whose term and cash flow are similar to the liabilities under the plan.

The expected long-term rate of return on plan assets is determined by assessing historical and anticipated investment returns on the various categories of plan assets.

Establishment of the expected average retirement age is based on a review of the actual experience of the pension plans.

The mortality rate allows the Corporation to estimate the duration for which benefits are expected to be paid. Mortality rates are based on actuarial tables that are updated periodically to reflect expected mortality trends in the general population.

Health care cost trend rates are established based partly on recent past trends and partly on future outlook for each of the major categories of benefits covered by the plans.

CCAA Emergence

As a result of the emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Corporation was required to undertake a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities, which included a remeasurement of all of the Corporation's pension and other benefit plan obligations under CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits. The results of the remeasurement, as reported in the first quarter 2006, included the elimination of previously recorded unamortized net actuarial losses and unamortized past service costs.

Pursuant to the pension agreement between the Corporation and the Province of Ontario, a one time contribution of $382 million was made to the four main pension plans on March 31, 2006.

At March 31, 2006, after remeasurement and the one time pension contribution, the pension plans had an unfunded liability of $417 million and the other benefit plans had an unfunded liability of $1,318 million on a GAAP basis. At March 31, 2006 liabilities equal to the unfunded positions were recognized on the Corporation's balance sheet. The March 31, 2006 remeasurement was based on a discount rate of 5.25% (December 31, 2005 – 5.00%). Other assumptions were unchanged from December 31, 2005.

Year-end Funded Position and Changes

Pensions

At December 31, 2006, the pension plans had an unfunded liability of $460 million compared to $417 million at March 31, 2006.

Significant non-routine factors contributing to this change are:

- plan amendments (increase in obligation of $48 million), which reflects the impact of retiree cost-of-living adjustments pursuant to the Hamilton Steel collective agreement concluded in June 2006, partially offset by the impact of changes to the salaried pension plans. The impact of plan amendments includes the effect of changing the early retirement assumption for salaried employees no longer eligible for unreduced retirement prior to age 60 from age 58 to age 59 and a reduction in the assumed compensation increase rate from 4% to 3% per annum pursuant to a change in the definition of covered compensation under the salaried pension plans.

- actuarial losses (increase in obligation of $134 million) which includes the effect of the change in discount rate to 5.10% at December 31, 2006 from 5.25% at March 31, 2006 ($86 million) and the impact of early retirement programs ($38 million).

- actual return on pension fund assets (decreasing unfunded status by $283 million) was higher than expected by $119 million.

Not affecting the funded status was a settlement related to the wind-up of the Welland Pipe bargaining unit pension plan which reduced obligations and plan assets by $30 million.

As a result of the deferred recognition of the cost of plan amendments and experience gains or losses, as described above, there was an accrued benefit liability of $403 million on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at December 31, 2006, reflecting the deficit of $460 million reduced by $15 million of unamortized net actuarial losses and $44 million of unamortized past service costs, partially offset by a valuation allowance of $2 million.

Further details on pension benefit plans are included in Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Other Benefits

At December 31, 2006 the other benefit plans had an unfunded liability of $1,229 million, reduced from $1,318 million at March 31, 2006.

Significant non-routine factors contributing to this change are:

- plan amendments (reduction in obligation of $65 million) largely related to the reduction of benefits for salaried employees (and retirees),
- actuarial gains (reduction in obligation of $39 million) largely related to a change in assumed future drug claim costs related to a change in plan administrator, and
- a plan curtailment cost (increase in obligation of $6 million) reflecting work force reduction initiatives and program changes.

The discount rate adopted at December 31, 2006 was 5.20% compared to 5.25% at March 31, 2006.

As a result of the deferred recognition of the cost of plan amendments and experience gains or losses, as described above, there was an accrued benefit liability of $1,312 million on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at December 31, 2006, reflecting the deficit of $1,229 million increased by $26 million of unamortized net actuarial gains and $57 million of unamortized past service gains.

Further details on other benefit plans are included in Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Income Taxes

Application of Canadian GAAP concerning future income taxes requires projection of tax rates expected to be in effect in years in which tax benefits will be realized. Changes to the amount and timing of tax rates in future years can impact the amount of income tax expense or recovery recognized in an accounting period. The realization of future income tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future years to utilize income tax benefits and income tax loss carry-forwards. Deviations of future profitability from estimates would result in adjustments to the value of future income tax assets that could have a significant effect on earnings. See Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Inventory Valuation

Valuation of inventories requires a number of estimates to be made, including inventory quality, condition and obsolescence. These determinations require management to exercise judgment. Inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost. Finished products and work in process are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Management must exercise judgment in determining the appropriateness of values used to determine replacement costs and net realizable values. Cyclical changes in selling prices and/or input costs and changes in production levels can result in material adjustments being made to the carrying value of finished product inventory.

As a result of the implementation of fresh start accounting on March 31, 2006, the inventory was revalued to fair value. This revaluation impacted the operating results for both the second and third quarters of 2006.

Environmental

Stelco discloses material environmental obligations when known and accrues the cost associated with the obligations when they are known and the costs can be reasonably estimated. Stelco owns a number of manufacturing sites that have been in existence for a significant period of time and as a result may have unknown environmental obligations.

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were reported at their estimated fair value, with the exception of future income taxes (see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) and pensions and other post-employment benefits (see Note 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). The determination of the fair value of the assets and liabilities of the Successor was finalized in the third quarter of 2006 (see Note 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets have been reviewed as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets have had their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Risk Factors

Demand and Pricing

The steel industry is cyclical in nature. The demand and pricing for North American steel fluctuates based on many factors including the strength of the economies in North America, particularly the automotive sector, exchange rates and the influence of steel sourced from offshore. The Corporation cannot rely on selling prices being sustainable in the long term and believes it must take steps to lower its overall costs to compete effectively.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability including productivity initiatives and the implementation of a simplified organizational structure. Stelco has identified specific cost reduction initiatives, including managed attrition and improvement in maintenance planning which is expected to reduce repairs and maintenance costs, increase throughput and reduce electrical and mechanical delays. These cost reduction initiatives, along with strategic capital spending, are essential to achieving long-term viability. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Liquidity Risks

Some of the provisions contained in the Corporation's financing arrangements provide for the escalation of lending rates in certain circumstances which, if triggered, could impact the liquidity of the Corporation depending upon the amount outstanding under the particular facility. These agreements also contain provisions (along with the Corporation's long-term debt agreements) which restrict the Corporation's ability to issue additional debt.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

The Corporation's operations require substantial amounts of raw materials and energy, including coal, iron ore, coke, scrap, natural gas, electricity and other inputs. The price and availability of such raw materials and inputs are subject to market forces where the Corporation does not have ownership interests and, in some cases, to government regulations and, accordingly, are subject to change.

The Corporation produces approximately 85% of its annual coke requirements through its own coke ovens. However, it purchases 100% of its metallurgical coal requirements (raw material for the coke ovens) at market prices. Stelco has secured 100% of its 2007 metallurgical coal requirements under purchase contracts.

Through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its 2007 iron ore requirements at its cost of production.

The Corporation's financial performance is exposed to price volatility associated with the electricity commodity market. The Government of Ontario introduced competition to the electricity market on May 1, 2002, giving rise to uncertainty of prices since commodity prices are now determined based on hourly supply and demand requirements. Large industrial end-users such as Stelco have been provided with some relief through a rebate program called the "Rebate on OPG Non-Prescribed Assets". On February 9, 2006, the provincial government announced that they have extended the rebate program to April 30, 2009. Stelco plans to install a small co-generation facility at Hamilton Steel. Other co-generation facilities that may minimize Stelco's long-term exposure to energy price fluctuations are also under review.

Wabush Mines experienced production problems in 2006, particularly earlier in the year, which negatively impacted Stelco's cost of iron ore in 2006. Plans for Wabush were implemented to improve production and lower costs.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers as a result of the steel industry consolidation.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. In addition, the failure of planned outages to be completed as scheduled could have a material adverse effect on Stelco. Stelco maintains first party property and boiler and machinery breakdown insurance, both of which include business interruption coverage, to address some of these exposures to the extent of the limits of coverage and the terms of the individual insurance contracts.

Concentration of Credit Risk

There is a significant exposure of credit risk to the automotive industry as revenues are sourced from either direct or indirect sales to this segment. Although the Corporation and its Predecessor have not had significant bad debt expenses in prior periods, deteriorating economic conditions could result in financial difficulties in the customer base that could lead to bad debts.

Environmental Compliance

The Corporation is subject to substantial and evolving environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control, and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic and hazardous substances. These laws and regulations vary depending on the location of the facility and can fall within federal, provincial or municipal jurisdictions.

In meeting its overall environmental goals and government-imposed standards in 2006, the Corporation incurred operating costs of $62 million ($71 million in 2005) and spent $10 million on capital improvements ($3 million in 2005). Stelco Hamilton has a benzene emissions reduction program underway, with spending of approximately $0.6 million in 2006 ($4 million in 2005) and estimated additional costs of $4 million over the next two years.

Stelco regularly reviews and audits the operating practices of each business to monitor compliance with the Corporation's health and safety and environmental policies and legal requirements. The Corporation believes that future costs relating to environmental compliance can be dealt with in a manner such that they will not have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position. There is always the possibility, however, that unforeseen changes, such as in the laws enforcement policies of relevant government bodies, or the discovery of changed conditions on the Corporation's real property or its operations, could result in an increase in the costs of environmental compliance that could result in a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position.

Trade Regulations

A number of foreign steel producers have in the past exported large quantities of steel to North America, impairing the Corporation's ability to sell products and, accordingly, profitability. This steel has often been sold at levels that are below cost or below home market price, a practice known as "dumping". Existing trade laws and regulations in Canada may be inadequate to prevent such trade practices. Some foreign steel producers are owned, controlled or subsidized by foreign governments. Decisions by these foreign producers to continue production at marginal facilities may be influenced to a greater degree by political and economic policy considerations than by prevailing market conditions and may further contribute to excess global capacity. The North American market continues to support a significant level of imports, a condition which may lead to lower selling prices.

Moreover, trade regulation in other countries, particularly in the United States, could materially adversely affect the Corporation through the imposition of dumping duties which would reduce or effectively eliminate access to certain steel markets.

Employees

In June 2006, the Salaried Transition Assistance Program (STAP) was made available to active salaried employees who were defined benefit pension plan members. The STAP provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees. Similarly, the Transition Assistance Program (TAP), which provided incentives for early retirement to eligible employees, was made available to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the new collective agreement negotiated in June 2006. In the third quarter of 2006, the TAP was also offered to Lake Erie Steel bargaining unit employees.

Stelco continues to evaluate its manpower requirements consistent with its succession plans and attrition rates. Retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees, and the ability to attract and retain new employees where replacement is considered necessary, are essential to Stelco's continued operations.

Pension Plans

Stelco and the Province of Ontario entered into a pension agreement that prescribes the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The objective of the agreement is that the plans be fully funded on a solvency basis by December 31, 2015.

The aggregate solvency deficiency under Stelco's four main pension plans as at December 31, 2006 was $1.0 billion (December 31, 2005 – $1.5 billion). The main factors contributing to the decrease in the estimated solvency deficiency over the one-year period are the one-time initial contribution of $0.4 billion made by the Company upon emergence from CCAA pursuant to the agreement with the Province of Ontario and favourable investment experience in relation to plan assets in 2006. Despite the level of contributions required under the pension agreement, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses due to changes in the level of discount rates, unfavourable pension fund investment returns, mortality experience and other factors. However, contributions required pursuant to the Pension Agreement up to December 31, 2015 do not change as a result of such actuarial losses.

Technology

The Corporation is subject to competition from new technological developments used by other steel producers. Limited liquidity and cash conservation measures over the last several years have caused the Corporation to reduce spending for capital and non-essential maintenance. However, over the last five years the Corporation has made capital expenditures on several projects to maintain and enhance its technological ability including the following:

- Stelco Lake Erie hot strip mill upgrades;
- Stelco Hamilton "E" blast furnace improvements, steelmaking improved vessel life, bar mill surface inspection system, roll shop grinder refurbishment, batch anneal control system, Z-Line surface inspection system; and
- ERP systems implementation for Stelco's maintenance, procurement, human resources, and finance functions.

Expenditures in 2007 are expected to include the completion of the final elements of the Lake Erie Steel hot strip mill upgrade, caster upgrades, enhanced hot strip surface inspection and galvanizing coating weight control.

Stelco's current strategic plan requires continual improvement in both its product and process technologies in order to maintain its competitive position in the high value-added automotive market. In particular, failure to meet the automotive industry's ever more demanding requirements for product quality and service, and failure to provide the new grades of advanced high-strength steels, will seriously jeopardize Stelco's long-term participation in this market. Similarly, for Stelco to attain a competitive cost structure will require the ongoing selective implementation of new process technologies throughout its integrated steelmaking processes. There is no assurance that Stelco will be able to improve its product and process technologies in accordance with its strategic plan or that the improvements, once implemented, will meet the automotive market's quality and service requirements.

Currency Fluctuations

Stelco is a net purchaser of U.S. dollars. Accordingly, any strengthening of the Canadian dollar results in a benefit to Stelco for its net purchases of U.S. funds. However, more than offsetting the above is the negative effect on Stelco's domestic sales revenue as many of Stelco's domestic customers export their products into the U.S. Thus, a stronger Canadian dollar can cause those customers to be less competitive in the U.S. and the customers may resist price increases or request steel price reductions from Stelco. Also, U.S. exports of steel into Canada have historically forced domestic steel prices in Canadian dollars downward. In addition, the North American benchmark for spot market prices for certain products, such as hot rolled, are established and determined in U.S. dollars.

Labour Matters

Risks relating to possible labour difficulties and resultant loss of production and revenue have been mitigated by the agreement reached in June 2006 with USW Local 1005 to renew the Hamilton Steel collective agreement for a period expiring on July 31, 2010 and by the agreement effective January 2006 with USW Local 8782 which will expire July 31, 2009.

[a] The $90 million convertible debenture is included in debt subject to compromise for 2004 as filing for CCAA protection was an event of default. A non-cash restructuring expense of $15 million was recorded in January 2004 to reflect these debentures at the anticipated claim amount of $90 million. These debentures were previously accreted up to face value over its term to maturity.

Outlook

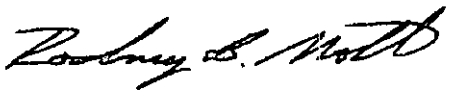
Fourth quarter results were adversely impacted by the curtailment of operations due to the reline and upgrade of the blast furnace at the Hamilton plant, the phase two expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill and efforts to better match supply and demand. The reline and upgrade of the blast furnace at the Hamilton plant will increase throughput and is expected to extend the interval for the next furnace reline to 2018. The phase II expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill is expected to increase throughput by 20%. Looking ahead, the Corporation does not anticipate any further significant mill outages in 2007.

Fourth quarter results were also adversely impacted by reduced shipments due to reduced consumption by the automotive sector combined with high steel inventory levels at steel service centres. Shipments are expected to be significantly stronger in the first quarter of 2007 as demand from the automotive and steel service sectors have strengthened from the fourth quarter of 2006.

With respect to pricing, the fourth quarter was negatively impacted by a reduction in spot prices largely due to the high steel levels at the steel service centre customers. The levels of inventory at the steel service centres are declining, suggesting that future spot pricing increases are possible. Annual contracts have largely been completed successfully for 2007 at pricing levels similar to 2006.

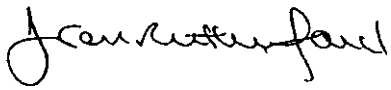
As no significant mill outages are anticipated in 2007, production costs should improve substantially compared to fourth quarter of 2006. The Corporation may sustain some input cost increases in 2007 in the area of raw material and energy as well as a carry over of high cost finished good and work-in-process inventory from 2006. However, the lower cost raw material inventory at year end will carry over into 2007 cost of sales. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its 2007 requirements at its costs of production. As well, the reduction in Stelco's labour force and other productivity improvements initiated in 2006 are expected to also reduce costs moving forward.

As the Corporation has now completed the major components of its operational restructuring, it believes that this will lead to increased volumes, revenue growth, lower costs and improved productivity in order to ensure long term viability and productivity.



Forward-Looking Statements

This MD&A and the accompanying message to shareholders contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this MD&A or as of the date on which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and their impact on the Corporation's US dollar denominated long-term debt, steel pricing and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.



Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

Additional Financial Information

Additional information concerning Stelco will be available upon filing of the Corporation's 2006 Annual Information Form, which will be accessible on the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval at www.sedar.com, and at Stelco's Web site www.stelco.ca.

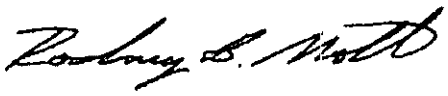
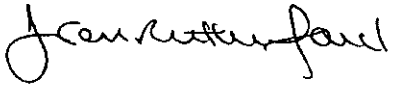
Management's Statement of Responsibility



Management of Stelco is responsible for the preparation of the accompanying consolidated financial statements and related information contained in this Annual Report. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. Where alternative accounting methods exist, management has chosen methods which management believes to be appropriate in the circumstances. Where estimates or judgments have been required, management has determined such amounts on a reasonable basis in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

In meeting its reporting responsibility, management has established and followed policies and procedures and systems of internal control designed to (i) provide reasonable assurance that assets were safeguarded from loss or unauthorized use and (ii) produce reliable financial information. Management, with participation of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, have evaluated the effectiveness of the Corporation's disclosure controls and procedures as defined in the Canadian Securities Administrators National Instrument 52-109 as at December 31, 2006 and has concluded that such disclosure controls and procedures are effective. These internal control systems were periodically tested and evaluated by the internal auditors and management took any action necessary to respond appropriately to their recommendations. Management recognizes the limits inherent in all systems of internal control but believes that Stelco has established effective and responsive systems of internal control through the careful selection of employees, the division of responsibilities, and the application of formal policies and procedures.



The Board of Directors oversees management's preparation of the consolidated financial statements and ultimately approves the consolidated financial statements and related disclosure based on a recommendation from the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. As a basis for recommending approval of the consolidated financial statements to the Board of Directors, the Audit Committee, among other things, reviews with management the Corporation's internal controls over financial reporting and the accounting policies and procedures employed by the Corporation for financial reporting purposes and, as well, meets independently with internal and external auditors to consider the results of their audits.

Stelco's management believes that the systems of internal control, review procedures, and established policies provide reasonable assurance that the financial information is relevant, reliable and accurate.

The Audit Committee recommended the appointment of the Corporation's external auditors, KPMG LLP, to examine the consolidated financial statements of the Corporation in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada. The external auditors' report as to the fairness of presentation of these consolidated financial statements and their conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles is included in this Annual Report.

Auditors' Report

To the shareholders of Stelco Inc.

We have audited the consolidated statements of financial position of Stelco Inc. as at December 31, 2006, March 31, 2006 and December 31, 2005 and the consolidated statements of earnings (loss), retained deficit, and cash flows for the nine months ended December 31, 2006, three months ended March 31, 2006 and the year ended December 31, 2005. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Corporation as at December 31, 2006, March 31, 2006 and December 31, 2005 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the nine months ended December 31, 2006, three months ended March 31, 2006 and the year ended December 31, 2005 in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Note 1. Business Description and CCAA History

Business Description

Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties. Through these ownership interests and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation" refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

CCAA History

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships ("LP's"). Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Discontinued Operations

As part of the CCAA, Stelco divested all of its manufactured products and mini-mill businesses. The impact on earnings for the three months ended March 31, 2006 was a net loss of $43 million (net of income tax of $2 million), and for the year ended December 31, 2005, net loss of $64 million (net of income tax recoveries of $5 million).

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian ($235 million US);
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco valued at $5.50 per share (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000; and
- Warrants exercisable for an aggregate of 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B Voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 11) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Notes 11, 12, and 15 for further details.

CCAA Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the CCAA Plan from the following sources:

• New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 10)	up to $600 million
• New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 10)	$375 million
• New Province Note (Note 11)	$150 million
• Federal Government (cancelled in June 2006)	$30 million

Note 2. Basis Of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP. As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook Section 1625 – "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation undertook a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value has been allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 – "Business Combinations". The Corporation finalized its allocation in the third quarter of 2006 resulting in the transfer of amounts between property, plant and equipment, inventories and intangible assets and future income taxes effective as of March 31, 2006 (see Note 4).

The Consolidated Statements of Financial Position as at December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006 reflect the accounts of the Successor. The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at December 31, 2005 reflects the accounts of the Predecessor. While not comparable, the Corporation has presented both the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) and the corresponding Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows to reflect the activities of the Successor for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and the Predecessor for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and the twelve months ended December 31, 2005.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 – March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business. Allowed claims arising under the CCAA proceedings were recorded as liabilities subject to compromise and presented separately on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. While in CCAA payments were not made on liabilities subject to compromise, including long-term debt. Interest on debt obligations continued to be recognized under Canadian GAAP consistent with Canadian legal requirements. Interest was not a Reorganization item. While the Corporation and certain of its subsidiaries were in CCAA the Predecessor's consolidated financial statements continued to be prepared using the going concern concept, which assumed that the Corporation would be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business.

The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These consolidated financial statements do not reflect any adjustments that would be necessary if the going concern assumption was not appropriate. The Corporation is dependent upon a strong North American steel market and improving financial results. The outcome of these matters is not determinable at this time.

Management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. Management believes that the estimates are reasonable, however, actual results could differ from these estimates.

Note 3. Summary of significant accounting policies

The significant policies are summarized below:

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were subject to a comprehensive revaluation (see Note 2 – Basis of Presentation) and reported at their estimated fair value (Note 4), with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes (Note 13) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits (Note 12).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets was reviewed as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets had their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Stelco Inc., its wholly owned subsidiaries and partnerships, and its proportionate share of the accounts of its joint ventures (principally mining ventures).

Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at period-end exchange rates. All other assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at the March 31, 2006 exchange rate or at historic rates prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities incurred for transactions after March 31, 2006. Income and expense items, other than those related to assets and liabilities translated at historic rates, are generally translated at the rate in effect at the time the transaction occurs.

Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency translations are reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

Revenue Recognition

Net sales revenue is recognized when the risks of ownership have been transferred to the customer and reasonable assurance exists regarding the measurement of the sales consideration, provided that ultimate collection is reasonably assured. Generally, the risks of ownership are transferred when title passes at the time of shipment and sales consideration is recognized to the extent it is fixed or determinable.

Inventories

Inventories at March 31, 2006 are valued at the estimated fair values pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. At December 31, 2006 inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost; finished products and work in process inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Property, Plant, and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment, including construction in progress, at March 31, 2006 are valued at the estimated fair value pursuant to the financial reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Property, plant, and equipment purchased after March 31, 2006 is carried at cost less accumulated amortization, and includes construction in progress. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method applied to the cost of the assets at rates based on their estimated useful life and beginning from the point when production commences except for the cost of blast furnace relines (see below) and at the Corporation's mining properties where amortization is calculated on a unit-of-production basis. The following annual amortization rates are in effect:

- Buildings 10 to 25 years
- Equipment 5 to 20 years
- Automotive and mobile equipment 5 to 10 years

Blast Furnace Relines

The Corporation's blast furnaces periodically require extensive relining. Costs incurred in the reline of a blast furnace that extend the useful life of the furnace are capitalized and amortized over their estimated useful life on a unit-of-production basis. Other repair and maintenance costs that may be incurred during the reline are expensed.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets of the Corporation relate to computer systems and applications. Intangible assets purchased prior to April 1, 2006 are recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Intangible assets purchased after March 31, 2006 are recorded at cost. Amortization is recorded on a straight-line basis over an estimated remaining useful life of eight years beginning from March 31, 2006 or the purchase date, if after March 31, 2006.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

An impairment loss would be recognized when the carrying value of a long-lived asset exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The impairment loss would be calculated as the amount by which the carrying value of the asset exceeds its fair value.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation maintains a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing pension, other retirement and post-employment benefits to most of its employees.

The cost of pension and other post-employment benefits (including medical benefits, dental care, life insurance and certain compensated absences) is charged to income annually. The pension cost is computed on an actuarial basis using the projected benefit method by using management's best estimate of the long-term rate of return on plan assets, discount rates, salary escalation, retirement age, mortality and other factors. Pension plan assets are valued at market value and are used to calculate the expected rate of return on plan assets. For periods prior to March 31, 2006 the market related asset value was used to calculate the expected return on plan assets.

The assumptions for other post-employment benefit plans are similar to pension plans, with the additional factor of health care trend rates, which involves estimates of the usage, frequency and cost of services covered.

The assumptions, referred to above, relate to factors that are of a long-term nature and, consequently, are subject to a degree of uncertainty. Management consults certain outside advisors, including actuaries, in determining these factors in order to ensure that the assumptions chosen are reasonable. Actual trends and values may differ from those assumed resulting in changes in the cost of pension and other post-employment benefits in future periods. The assumptions are reviewed and updated annually or more frequently where material changes are made to the plans.

Past service costs (such as increased benefits provided under labour contract settlements) are amortized over the estimated average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the employees at the date of the amendment.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the EARSL of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets and only for the amount that exceeds the 10% threshold. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. Under Canadian GAAP the cost of employee future benefits in any year is not unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

Salaried employees hired after July 31, 1997 participate in the Corporation's "Opportunity" or similar programs, which include a flexible credit plan for benefits and a self-directed group RRSP. These employees do not participate in the defined benefit plans. These programs are accounted for as defined contribution plans. Costs of defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

The Corporation follows the asset and liability method of accounting for future income taxes. Under the asset and liability method, future income tax assets and liabilities are determined based on "temporary differences" (differences between the accounting basis and the tax basis of the assets and liabilities) and are measured using the currently enacted, or substantively enacted, tax rates and laws expected to apply when these differences reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded against any future income tax asset if it is more likely than not that the asset will not be realized. Income tax expense or benefit is the sum of the Corporation's provision for current income taxes and the differences between the opening and ending balances of the future income tax assets and liabilities. The effect of increases and decreases to future income tax assets and liabilities arising from changes in tax rates is recognized in income in the period the changes occur.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes.

Measurement Uncertainty

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the stated amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 4. Fresh Start Reporting

As outlined in Note 2, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor were reported at estimated fair values, except for future income taxes, which were reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which were reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor were based on management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The Successor finalized its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangibles and future income taxes, in the third quarter 2006 and reflected adjustments in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006. The adjustments to the Predecessor balances related to predecessor shareholders, affected creditors and equity sponsors and pensions and financing were finalized upon emergence from CCAA.

Note 4. Fresh Start Reporting

The following legend describes the adjustments made to the Predecessor accounts resulting from the implementation of the Plan and consummation of the various agreements:

(1) Implementation of the Plan as outlined in Note 1.

The following table reconciles the Predecessor's liabilities subject to compromise to those that were accepted claims under the Plan:

(in millions)	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005
	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)
Liabilities subject to compromise
Accepted claims	$ 547	$ 546

New Common Shares	36
New Warrants	2
Total consideration	$ 421
Excess of claims over distribution	219
Convertible debenture conversion option	23
Total adjustment to retained deficit	$ 242

The holders of Series A and B voting common shares received nil consideration.

(2) Issuance of shares for cash under the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 1).

(3) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the related credit facilities (Note 10 and 11).

(4) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants (Note 11).

(5) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.

(6) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement.

(7) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.

(8) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future income tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused income tax losses or other deductions are realized.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the nine month period ending December 31, 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Included under the Fresh Start Adjustment captions are all income tax adjustments required to transition the Predecessor's accounts to the Successor's accounts at March 31, 2006.

Note 5. Restricted Cash

Restricted cash represented funds being held in trust with the Monitor under the CCAA proceedings pending direction from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice for its use.

During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, the Monitor released the proceeds held in trust pertaining to the sale of non-core assets.

Note 6. Inventories

Total inventories	$ 693	$ 740	$ 783

Note 7. Asset Sales

As part of the Corporation's overall effort to restructure operations, simplify processes and rationalize non-core resources, during the CCAA period, a number of assets were sold.

The Hamilton plate mill assets, which had been idled in 2003, were sold in 2005 for gross proceeds of $25 million. The carrying value of these assets was nil, therefore a pre-tax gain of $20 million (net of $5 million of fees) was recorded during 2005. The gross proceeds were secured by irrevocable letters of credit which were drawn down in tandem with the progress made on dismantling the equipment. The project was completed in the second quarter of 2006 when the final payment of $5 million was received.

While in CCAA, the Corporation determined that all of the businesses in the Mini-mill and Manufactured Products segments were non-core and were to be sold. Accordingly, these businesses were presented in the consolidated financial statements of the Predecessor as assets held for sale and discontinued operations to isolate the earnings (loss) and cash flows associated with these businesses. The proceeds received from these asset sales were held in trust with the Monitor and included in restricted cash, pending authorization from the Court to release the funds for general use (Note 5). After emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Successor received additional proceeds of $5 million in connection with the finalization of certain of the above sales.

In 2006, the Corporation sold the property and plant in Welland Pipe Ltd. for net proceeds of $3 million and a parcel of non-core, surplus land in Hamilton and a building located on the property for cash proceeds of $18 million. The book value of these assets under the fresh start revaluation was equal to the net proceeds and accordingly there was no gain or loss recognized on these sales.

The amount of the final purchase price relating to the 2005 sale of substantially all of the assets of Stelpipe Ltd. is subject to a dispute with the purchaser relating to adjustments for assumed liabilities and working capital amounts. The dispute is expected to be submitted to an arbitration process.

Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and, prior to each March 31 anniversary date, the facility can be extended for a period of two years if the lender and Stelco mutually agree. The ABL facility is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest in all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventory and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any non-use of funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants. At December 31, 2006, the available amount of the ABL was $228 million and the amount drawn on this facility was $168 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation – Note 1), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full on March 31, 2013. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of CCAA Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay a 3% fee on the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

Included in financial expense for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 is approximately $5 million relating to borrowings under this agreement. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at December 31, 2006. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at December 31, 2006. At December 31, 2006 there was $215 million outstanding under this loan.

Repayments of long-term debt over the next five years amount to $13 million in 2007, and $7 million in 2008.

(1) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. Interest on the FRN's for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 totalled $22 million and is included in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss). Interest has been calculated under the cash payment option consistent with the semi-annual payment made in September 2006. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan (Note 10) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full.

There was a $1 million gain recorded for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 due to the revaluation of the FRN's using the December 31, 2006 US dollar exchange rate.

(2) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 12), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. Interest accrued on the Province Note for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 totalled $1 million and is included in financial expense. The semi-annual interest payment due in September 2006 was paid in cash. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants (see Note 15 for terms of the warrants). Upon the application of fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006, the Province Note was adjusted to its estimated fair value of $57 million (see Note 4) and will be accreted up to its face value over the term of the Note assuming an effective interest rate of 12%. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006 an accretion expense of $4 million was recorded in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

(3) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

(4) Liabilities subject to compromise.

Long term debt subject to compromise included unsecured debentures totaling $365 million and computer system financing in the amount of $47 million. All of the debt was in default.

Note 12. Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation, maintains a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing benefits to most of its employees.

Defined contribution plans

Total expense and cash payments for the Corporation's defined contribution pension plans were $2 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and $1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2006 ($2 million in 2005.)

Defined benefit plans

The defined benefit plans provide pension, other retirement, and post-employment benefits to salaried employees hired previous to August 1, 1997, and to most hourly rated employees. Employees do not contribute to the plans that are maintained by the Corporation.

Defined pension benefits for salaried employees are calculated based on an average of their highest five years earnings. Pensions payable from these plans are not indexed for inflation. Pension benefits for hourly rated employees are based on years of service multiplied by dollar factors in accordance with collective agreements in order to determine the monthly pension payment amount. Cost-of-living adjustments are provided for bargaining unit retirees in accordance with the collective agreements.

Other benefit plans provide health care benefits including dental, hearing, vision, prescription drugs, and hospital care to retirees, their spouses and dependants, and to the retirees' surviving spouses, and life insurance coverage on the retiree. In addition, other benefit plans provide compensated absence benefits in the form of vacation to be taken immediately before retirement if certain service requirements are met.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

As a condition of the CCAA Plan, Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement, effective on March 31, 2006 which contains the following principal terms:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
    - Years 1 -- 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006; and
    - Years 6 -- 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount;
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015 provided that any future benefit improvements will be required to be funded in accordance with the Pension Benefits Act and will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above; and
- The Pension Agreement covers the period until December 31, 2015 but will end earlier in the event that all four pension plans become fully funded on the solvency basis.

While the Pension Agreement with the Province has a prescribed funding obligation, as outlined above, pension plan enhancements, such as the recently negotiated hourly pension indexing, are excluded from this arrangement. Accordingly the hourly pension indexing is subject to additional cash funding under the Pension Benefits Act, totaling an estimated $121 million over the next eight years.

Cash payments to benefit plans

Total cash payments to employee future benefits plans, including cash contributed by the Corporation to funded pension plans, cash payments directly to employees for unfunded benefit plans other than pensions, and cash contributed to its defined contribution pension plans, was $552 million in 2006 ($176 million in 2005). The contributions for 2006 include:

	Nine months ended December 31, 2006	At March 31, 2006	Three months ended March 31, 2006	Twelve months ended December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)
Pensions [1]	$ 54	$ 382	$ 24	$ 116
Other benefits [2]	80	–	12	60
Total	$ 134	$ 382	$ 36	$ 176

(1) Includes prescribed pension funding payments of $32.5 million in the nine months ended December 31, 2006, compared to $65 million required in 2007.

(2) Includes payments related to severances and early retirement incentives totalling $29 million, in the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

Funding for the Corporation's defined benefit pension plans are expected to be approximately $95 million in 2007. The Corporation currently expects that payments in 2007 for other benefit plans to be approximately $58 million.

Estimated average remaining service life

The estimated average remaining service life ("EARSL") of active employees covered by the defined benefit pension plans for 2006 ranges from 7 to 14 years (2005 ranged from 6 to 14 years). The estimated average remaining service life of active employees covered by the defined benefit plans providing other benefits ranges from 9 to 15 years in 2006 (2005 ranged from 8 to 14 years). EARSL is the period over which past service costs, and actuarial gains and losses in excess of the corridor, are amortized (Note 3).

Accrued benefit obligation and plan assets

Information about the Corporation's defined benefit plans, in aggregate, is as follows:

(1) The opening balance of the accrued benefit obligation and plan assets for the Successor for the nine month period ended December 31, 2006 does not agree to the closing balances of the Predecessor at March 31, 2006 due to "fresh start" adjustments.

The accrued pension benefit obligation of the Predecessor at March 31, 2006 was reduced by $116 million, principally related to actuarial gains, while plan assets increased by $378 million, primarily due to a $382 million contribution required upon emergence from CCAA. Unamortized net actuarial losses and past service costs of the Predecessor, totalling $1,008 million were also eliminated.

The accrued benefit obligation of the Predecessor, for other benefit plans at March 31, 2006, decreased $53 million due to actuarial gains and foreign exchange adjustments. Unamortized net actuarial losses net of unamortized past service costs of $464 million were also eliminated.

The accrued benefit asset (liability) is reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as follows:

(b) Pension benefit plans: Loss recognized in the period of nil minus actuarial loss on accrued benefit obligation in the period of $134 million equals deferral of actuarial loss of $134 million.

Other benefit plans: Gain recognized in the period of nil minus actuarial gain on accrued benefit obligation in the period of $39 million equals deferral of actuarial gain of $39 million.

(c) Pension benefit plans: Amortization of past service costs for the period of $5 million minus actual plan amendments in the period of $48 million equals deferral of past service costs of $43 million.

Other benefit plans: Amortization of past service gains for the period of $5 million less actual plan amendments in the period of $65 million equals deferral of prior period past service gains of $60 million.

Measurement and valuation

The measurement date for the Corporation's principal employee future benefit plans is December 31. As a result of the emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Corporation was required to undertake a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities, which included a remeasurement of all of the Corporation's pension and other benefit plan obligations under CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits. The results of the remeasurement, as reported in the first quarter 2006, included the elimination of previously recorded unamortized net actuarial losses and unamortized past service costs.

Plan Amendments

The plans were amended in 2006 (post CCAA emergence), as follows:

- a contract settlement reached in June 2006 with USW Local 1005 which contained benefit improvements, and an annual pension indexing tied to a cost of living adjustment for the term of the agreement;
- A change in early retirement eligibility under the principal salaried pension plans was announced and reflected in second quarter 2006. Employees who do not attain 30 years of service by December 31, 2007 will no longer be eligible for an unreduced early retirement pension prior to age 60;
- The principal salaried pension plans were amended to provide that future pensionable earnings for plan purposes will be base salary only (previously, all cash compensation was included). This change was reflected as of December 31, 2006;
- announced reductions in the other benefit programs, which substantially impacted the active salary workforce (and salaried retirees).

The pension plan amendments resulted in net past service costs of $48 million of which $5 million was recognized in 2006.

The other benefit plan amendments resulted in past service gain of $65 million of which $5 million was recognized in 2006.

The past service costs include the impact of changing the assumed retirement age from 58 to 59 for those salaried employees affected by the early retirement amendment and the impact of a change in the assumed rate of future compensation increase to 3% from 4% per annum.

Employment Reductions

Workforce reduction programs were undertaken post CCAA emergence, including:

- a Salaried Transition Assistance Program ("STAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement or resignation to employees who were members of the two principal salary defined benefit pension plans. The program closed on June 30, 2006;
- a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005. The program closed on July 14, 2006.

As a result of the significant reduction of the salary workforce arising from the STAP program and the impact of certain reductions in the salary other benefit programs there was a net curtailment expense recognized in the second quarter 2006 of $14 million.

Other severance costs totaling $11 million in the nine month period ended December 31, 2006 consists of $8 million incurred in the second quarter 2006 and $3 million in the fourth quarter 2006.

The voluntary retirement incentive cost of $25 million incurred in the nine month period ended December 31, 2006 consists of a severance expense of $19 million in the second quarter 2006 related to the STAP and $6 million recognized in the third quarter 2006 related to the TAP.

Significant assumptions

Benefit obligations and the related effects on operations are calculated using actuarial models. In 2006, the following critical assumptions – the discount rate, the retirement age, mortality, expected return on pension fund assets, and healthcare cost trends – were important elements affecting plan cost and asset/liability measurement. Management evaluates these assumptions at least annually.

The significant actuarial assumptions adopted are as follows (weighted average):

Accrued benefit obligation as of:

	At December 31, 2006		At March 31, 2006		At December 31, 2005
	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)
Discount rate	5.10%	5.20%	5.25%	5.25%	5.00%	5.00%
Expected long-term rate of return on plan assets	7.25%	8.50%	7.00%	8.50%	7.00%	8.50%
Estimated rate of compensation increase	3.00%	3.00%	4.00%	4.00%	4.00%	4.00%
Retirement age – salaried employees [1]	59	59	58	58	58	58

(1) Assumed retirement age of 59 applies to individuals affected by the early retirement amendment. Age 58 remains in effect for other employees.

Benefit costs for periods ended:

Predecessor	Three months ended March 31, 2006		Twelve months ended December 31, 2005
	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans
Discount rate	5.00%	5.00%	5.75%	5.96%
Expected long-term rate of return on plan assets	7.00%	8.50%	7.50%	8.50%
Estimated rate of compensation increase	4.00%	4.00%	4.00%	4.00%
Retirement age – salaried employees	58	58	58	58

(1) Assumed retirement age of 59 applies to individuals affected by the early retirement amendment. Age 58 remains in effect for other employees.

Successor	Nine months ended December 31, 2006 [1]
	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans
Discount rate	5.25%	5.25%
Expected long-term rate of return on plan assets	7.00%	8.50%
Estimated rate of compensation increase	4.00%	4.00%
Retirement age – salaried employees	58	58

(1) Three plans were subject to remeasurement at June 30, 2006 for which discount rates of 5.50% (pensions) / 5.75% (other benefits plans) were used as well as the retirement age for salaried employees changed to 59.

Assumed health care cost trend rates at December 31:

	2006	2005
Initial health care cost trend rate	7.40%	8.10%
Cost trend rate declines to	4.50%	4.50%
Year that the rate reaches the rate it is assumed to remain at	2014	2014

The assumption for future drug costs for retirees over age 65 was reduced by 12% relative to prior assumptions to reflect expected savings as a result of a change in plan administrator and related improvements in claim adjudication processes and coordination with government programs, resulting in a $39 million reduction in the accrued benefit obligation at December 31, 2006.

Sensitivity Analysis

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported for the health care plans (included in Other benefit plans). A one-percentage-point change in the assumed health care cost trend rates for the plans would have the following effects for 2006:

(In millions) increase (decrease)	One percentage point increase	One percentage point decrease
Total of service and interest cost	$ 9	$ (7)
Accrued benefit obligation	$ 193	$ (151)

Note 13. Components of Consolidated Income Taxes

Future Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective statement of financial position date.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. In accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes, the benefit recognized in respect of the pre-fresh start tax assets has been applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets. During the nine months ended December, 2006, $16 million has been applied to intangible assets (Note 9).

Income Tax Reconciliation

The income tax expense (recovery) differs from the amount calculated by applying current Canadian income tax rates (federal and provincial) to the loss before income taxes from continuing operations, as follows:

(in millions)	Nine months ended December 31, 2006	Three months ended March 31, 2006	Twelve months ended December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)

Income tax expense (recovery) computed using statutory income tax rates (2006 – 43%)	(80)	(37)	(17)
Manufacturing and processing credit	17	8	4
Net income tax expense (recovery) – (34%)	(63)	(29)	(13)

Other	–	20	17
Total future income tax liabilities	324	402	208
Net future income tax asset (liability)	$ (61)	$ (69)	$ (58)

(1) The pre fresh start future income tax assets represent those tax assets that were not recognized at March 31, 2006, having been offset with a valuation allowance.

(2) The change in the pre fresh start valuation allowance consists of the impact of a federal income tax rate reduction ($38 million) and the realization of pre fresh start future income tax assets ($16 million) recorded as a reduction of intangible assets.

The future income tax asset (liability) is reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as follows:

(in millions)	At December 31, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)

(1) Reflects the estimated fair value assigned to this obligation under fresh start reporting (Note 4).

A former participant in Wabush funded its estimated share of mine closure costs at the time of exit from the joint venture. These funds ($6 million at December 31 and March 31 2006; $4 million at December 31, 2005) are reflected in other non-current assets on the Statement of Financial Position.

Note 15. Capital Stock, Warrants and Dividends

(a) Authorized Shares

The Corporation is authorized to issue an unlimited number of preferred shares, issuable in series, an unlimited number of common shares and an unlimited number of redeemable shares. There are no preferred shares or redeemable shares outstanding.

(b) Common Shares

	At December 31, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)
Total number of Predecessor common shares (series A and B)	–	–	102,249,198
Total number of new common shares	27,123,908	26,100,000	–
Total (in millions)	$149	$144	$781

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for cash consideration of $5.5 million. As a result of the exercise of warrants, referred to below, and stock options (Note 17) during the nine months ended December 31, 2006, there are 27,123,908 common shares outstanding at December 31, 2006.

(c) Dividends

Under the terms of the Corporation's lending agreements no dividends can be declared or paid until certain conditions have been met.

(d) Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. The holders of liabilities subject to compromise received 1,418,500 warrants with an estimated fair value of $2 million as partial consideration in exchange for their claim accepted under CCAA. The Province received 851,100 warrants with an estimated fair value of $1 million as partial consideration for the province loan (Note 11). Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. A total of 5,158 warrants were exercised in the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

Note 16. Earnings (loss) per common share

During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, the three months ended March 31, 2006, and the twelve months ended December 31, 2005 a basic net loss from continuing operations and a basic net loss was incurred, therefore options and warrants related information have not been used to calculate fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings per share as both are anti-dilutive where applicable.

Note 17. Stock-based compensation

Incentive Stock Option Plan

On April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The ISOP is intended to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other persons engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliates. The total number of stock options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were initially issued on April 1, 2006 at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal installments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, on the Grant Date. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, 18,750 options were exercised for treasury stock at $5.50 per common share, an additional 150,000 options were granted at an exercise price of $17.75 and 300,000 options were forfeited at an exercise price of $5.50. The total options available under the ISOP at December 31, 2006 are 816,000.

Total compensation expense of $1 million has been included in costs for the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

The compensation expense for grants made under the ISOP was determined at the grant date using the fair value method by applying the Black-Scholes option-pricing model using the following assumptions:

Grant date	June 21, 2006	April 1, 2006
Expected volatility	40%	40%
Risk-free interest rate	4.33%	4.00%
Expected life	0 – 4 years	0 – 4 years
Expected dividends	Nil	Nil

The weighted average exercise price for options outstanding at December 31, 2006 is $6.54.

Note 18. Reorganization Items

Reorganization items relate to payments made in connection with various professional advisor fees and certain financing break fees associated with the reorganization and restructuring of the Corporation on March 31, 2006.

(in millions)	Three months ended March 31, 2006	Twelve months ended December 31, 2005
Professional fees	$ 12	$ 53
Break fees [(ii)]	–	22
Success fees [(i)]	9	–
Financing fees [(iii)]	–	1
Total reorganization items	$ 21	$ 76

(i) Fees paid to various advisors of the Corporation when the Third Amended Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization was approved and implemented.

(ii) In March 2005, Stelco discontinued the capital raising process and decided to pursue a recapitalization of the Corporation and as a result, Deutsche Bank became entitled to a break fee of approximately $11 million. In December 2005, Tricap became entitled to break fees totalling approximately $11 million as a result of the significant changes that were made to the Plan.

(iii) Related to fees incurred for the DIP facility and the write-off of deferred fees associated with the convertible debentures.

Note 19. Proportionately Consolidated Joint Ventures

The Corporation's joint ventures are an integral part of operations and exist to provide raw materials and certain manufacturing, finishing, and sales functions.

The following is a summary of the Corporation's proportionate share of the financial position, operating results, and cash flows of the joint ventures.

Note 20. Commitments and Contingencies

Capital Programs and Other Commitments

Stelco has binding commitments for capital programs totaling $41 million. Of this amount, $30 million relates to capital projects at the Corporation's various mining interests.

Pursuant to an outsourcing agreement, the Corporation has committed approximately $125 million up to and including year 2012.

Operating leases

Future minimum rental payments required under operating leases have initial or remaining lease terms in excess of one year at December 31, 2006 are:

(in millions)
2007	$	9
2008		6
2009		5
20010		4
2011		3
Subsequent to 2011		-
Total operating leases	$	27

Contingencies

On June 28, 2005, Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. On May 31, 2006, the Corporation served its statement of defense. Examinations for discovery are ongoing. The Corporation is vigorously defending this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provisions in the consolidated financial statements.

Note 22. Financial Instruments

Interest rate risk

The Corporation did not enter into any interest rate swap agreements during the nine months ended December 31, 2006. As at December 31, 2006 there were no interest rate swap agreements in place.

Foreign exchange risk

No foreign exchange contracts were entered into in the nine months ended December, 2006. Accordingly, none were outstanding as at December 31, 2006.

Concentration of credit risk

A significant portion of the Corporation's revenues are sourced from either direct or indirect sales to the automotive industry, although the Corporation does not have significant exposure to any individual customer within this sector. The Corporation reviews its customers' credit histories before extending credit and conducts regular reviews of its existing customers' credit performances.

Fair values

The estimated fair value of the Corporation's long-term debt, including the portion due within one year is $363 million. The carrying value of other financial instruments approximates fair value due to the short maturities or the terms and conditions attached to these instruments.

Note 23. Segmented Information

The following provides segmented information by geographic area. Sales are allocated to the country in which the third party customer receives the product:

Note 24. Comparative Figures

As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. Accordingly, the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Successor are not comparable to Predecessor (see Note 1).

Board of Directors

The Stelco Board of Directors currently consists of nine members including one full-time employee of the Company. The Board met 15 times during 2006, six of which meetings occurred after April 1, 2006, and met several more times informally for briefing sessions in the first three months of 2006.

Regrettably, Mr. D. Anthony (Tony) Molluso, a former director of Stelco, passed away earlier this year. Mr. Molluso made a valued contribution to Stelco's Board of Directors and will be missed by his colleagues and friends at Stelco.

Board Committees

The Board has five committees: an Audit Committee, a Corporate Governance Committee, a Health, Safety and Environment Committee, a Human Resources and Compensation Committee, and a Pension Committee.

Audit Committee

The Committee oversees the financial affairs of the Corporation, including the control environment within which effective financial reporting occurs. The Committee reviews all financial disclosure documents and the public disclosure of such information. It reviews and makes recommendations related to the appropriateness of the Corporation's accounting principles and practices. The Committee is also responsible for the assessment and appointment of an independent auditor. The complete Audit Committee Charter is published in the 2005 Annual Information Form. The Committee met five times during 2006.

Members:
Laurie Bennett, Chair
Dennis Belcher
Steven Cohn

Corporate Governance Committee

The Committee reviews, makes recommendations and provides oversight on material issues, policies, practices, and external developments affecting the effectiveness and the performance of the Board of Directors. The Committee provides oversight on Board effectiveness in context of corporate objectives, management performance, and the expectations of key stakeholders. Among its chief responsibilities is to review, recommend and modify policies with respect to the composition, compensation, education and performance guidelines of the Board of Directors. The Committee met four times in 2006.

Members:
John Lacey, Chair
Pierre Dupuis
Cyrus Madon

Health, Safety and Environment (HS&E) Committee

The Committee oversees the practices, programs and systems followed by the Corporation with respect to health, safety and environmental matters. This oversight empowers the Committee to satisfy itself that the Corporation is compliant with applicable HS&E legislation in the jurisdictions in which it conducts business. Furthermore, the Committee is accountable for reporting and making recommendations to the Board on any material issue – ethical, social, political, financial – that could affect the Corporation's stewardship and reputation on HS&E issues. The Committee met four times in 2006.

Members:
Pierre Dupuis, Chair
Steve Douglas

Human Resources and Compensation Committee

The Committee is responsible for developing, maintaining and modifying policies and practices that support and provide oversight to succession planning and compensation for senior management, including the chief executive officer. The areas of oversight responsibility include senior executive recruitment, development and retention. Under its charter, the Committee is empowered to make recommendations to the Board of Directors for policies aimed at strengthening the Corporation's human resources and compensation practices. The Committee met five times during 2006.

Members:
Cyrus Madon, Chair
Pierre Dupuis
John Lacey

Pension Committee

The Committee is accountable to the Board of Directors for ensuring that the necessary policies, practices, systems and personnel are in place within the Corporation (or through duly appointed agents) to carry out the effective administration of the Corporation's Retirement and Pension Plans. The Committee has the authority to delegate responsibilities and appoint members to a pension advisory committee of management representatives for the purpose of operationalizing actions and decisions compliant with Committee recommendations approved by the Board of Directors. The Committee met three times during 2006.

Management's Statement of Responsibility

Management of Stelco is responsible for the preparation of the accompanying consolidated financial statements and related information contained in this Annual Report. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. Where alternative accounting methods exist, management has chosen methods which management believes to be appropriate in the circumstances. Where estimates or judgments have been required, management has determined such amounts on a reasonable basis in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

In meeting its reporting responsibility, management has established and followed policies and procedures and systems of internal control designed to (i) provide reasonable assurance that assets were safeguarded from loss or unauthorized use and (ii) produce reliable financial information. Management, with participation of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, have evaluated the effectiveness of the Corporation's disclosure controls and procedures as defined in the Canadian Securities Administrators National Instrument 52-109 as at December 31, 2006 and has concluded that such disclosure controls and procedures are effective. These internal control systems were periodically tested and evaluated by the internal auditors and management took any action necessary to respond appropriately to their recommendations. Management recognizes the limits inherent in all systems of internal control but believes that Stelco has established effective and responsive systems of internal control through the careful selection of employees, the division of responsibilities, and the application of formal policies and procedures.

The Board of Directors oversees management's preparation of the consolidated financial statements and ultimately approves the consolidated financial statements and related disclosure based on a recommendation from the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. As a basis for recommending approval of the consolidated financial statements to the Board of Directors, the Audit Committee, among other things, reviews with management the Corporation's internal controls over financial reporting and the accounting policies and procedures employed by the Corporation for financial reporting purposes and, as well, meets independently with internal and external auditors to consider the results of their audits.

Stelco's management believes that the systems of internal control, review procedures, and established policies provide reasonable assurance that the financial information is relevant, reliable and accurate.

The Audit Committee recommended the appointment of the Corporation's external auditors, KPMG LLP, to examine the consolidated financial statements of the Corporation in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada. The external auditors' report as to the fairness of presentation of these consolidated financial statements and their conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles is included in this Annual Report.

Auditors' Report

To the shareholders of Stelco Inc.

We have audited the consolidated statements of financial position of Stelco Inc. as at December 31, 2006, March 31, 2006 and December 31, 2005 and the consolidated statements of earnings (loss), retained deficit, and cash flows for the nine months ended December 31, 2006, three months ended March 31, 2006 and the year ended December 31, 2005. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Corporation as at December 31, 2006, March 31, 2006 and December 31, 2005 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the nine months ended December 31, 2006, three months ended March 31, 2006 and the year ended December 31, 2005 in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Note 1. Business Description and CCAA History

Business Description

Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties. Through these ownership interests and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation" refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

CCAA History

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships ("LP's"). Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Discontinued Operations

As part of the CCAA, Stelco divested all of its manufactured products and mini-mill businesses. The impact on earnings for the three months ended March 31, 2006 was a net loss of $43 million (net of income tax of $2 million), and for the year ended December 31, 2005, net loss of $64 million (net of income tax recoveries of $5 million).

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian ($235 million US);
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco valued at $5.50 per share (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000; and
- Warrants exercisable for an aggregate of 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B Voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 11) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Notes 11, 12, and 15 for further details.

CCAA Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the CCAA Plan from the following sources:

• New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 10)	up to $600 million
• New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 10)	$375 million
• New Province Note (Note 11)	$150 million
• Federal Government (cancelled in June 2006)	$30 million

Note 2. Basis Of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP. As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook Section 1625 – "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation undertook a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value has been allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 – "Business Combinations". The Corporation finalized its allocation in the third quarter of 2006 resulting in the transfer of amounts between property, plant and equipment, inventories and intangible assets and future income taxes effective as of March 31, 2006 (see Note 4).

The Consolidated Statements of Financial Position as at December 31, 2006 and March 31, 2006 reflect the accounts of the Successor. The Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at December 31, 2005 reflects the accounts of the Predecessor. While not comparable, the Corporation has presented both the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) and the corresponding Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows to reflect the activities of the Successor for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and the Predecessor for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and the twelve months ended December 31, 2005.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 – March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business. Allowed claims arising under the CCAA proceedings were recorded as liabilities subject to compromise and presented separately on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. While in CCAA payments were not made on liabilities subject to compromise, including long-term debt. Interest on debt obligations continued to be recognized under Canadian GAAP consistent with Canadian legal requirements. Interest was not a Reorganization item. While the Corporation and certain of its subsidiaries were in CCAA the Predecessor's consolidated financial statements continued to be prepared using the going concern concept, which assumed that the Corporation would be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business.

The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These consolidated financial statements do not reflect any adjustments that would be necessary if the going concern assumption was not appropriate. The Corporation is dependent upon a strong North American steel market and improving financial results. The outcome of these matters is not determinable at this time.

Management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. Management believes that the estimates are reasonable, however, actual results could differ from these estimates.

Note 3. Summary of significant accounting policies

The significant policies are summarized below:

Basis of Valuation

The Corporation's assets and liabilities on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006 were subject to a comprehensive revaluation (see Note 2 – Basis of Presentation) and reported at their estimated fair value (Note 4), with the exception of future income taxes, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes (Note 13) and pension and other post-employment benefits, which have been reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits (Note 12).

The useful lives of the Corporation's plant, equipment and intangible assets was reviewed as part of fresh start reporting. Certain of these assets had their useful life adjusted upon completion of this process.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Stelco Inc., its wholly owned subsidiaries and partnerships, and its proportionate share of the accounts of its joint ventures (principally mining ventures).

Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at period-end exchange rates. All other assets and liabilities originating in foreign currencies are translated at the March 31, 2006 exchange rate or at historic rates prevailing when the assets were acquired or the liabilities incurred for transactions after March 31, 2006. Income and expense items, other than those related to assets and liabilities translated at historic rates, are generally translated at the rate in effect at the time the transaction occurs.

Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency translations are reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

Revenue Recognition

Net sales revenue is recognized when the risks of ownership have been transferred to the customer and reasonable assurance exists regarding the measurement of the sales consideration, provided that ultimate collection is reasonably assured. Generally, the risks of ownership are transferred when title passes at the time of shipment and sales consideration is recognized to the extent it is fixed or determinable.

Inventories

Inventories at March 31, 2006 are valued at the estimated fair values pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. At December 31, 2006 inventories of raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and replacement cost; finished products and work in process inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Property, Plant, and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment, including construction in progress, at March 31, 2006 are valued at the estimated fair value pursuant to the financial reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Property, plant, and equipment purchased after March 31, 2006 is carried at cost less accumulated amortization, and includes construction in progress. Amortization is provided using the straight-line method applied to the cost of the assets at rates based on their estimated useful life and beginning from the point when production commences except for the cost of blast furnace relines (see below) and at the Corporation's mining properties where amortization is calculated on a unit-of-production basis. The following annual amortization rates are in effect:

- Buildings 10 to 25 years
- Equipment 5 to 20 years
- Automotive and mobile equipment 5 to 10 years

Blast Furnace Relines

The Corporation's blast furnaces periodically require extensive relining. Costs incurred in the reline of a blast furnace that extend the useful life of the furnace are capitalized and amortized over their estimated useful life on a unit-of-production basis. Other repair and maintenance costs that may be incurred during the reline are expensed.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets of the Corporation relate to computer systems and applications. Intangible assets purchased prior to April 1, 2006 are recorded at the estimated fair value on March 31, 2006 pursuant to the reorganization implemented by the Corporation on that date. Intangible assets purchased after March 31, 2006 are recorded at cost. Amortization is recorded on a straight-line basis over an estimated remaining useful life of eight years beginning from March 31, 2006 or the purchase date, if after March 31, 2006.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

An impairment loss would be recognized when the carrying value of a long-lived asset exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The impairment loss would be calculated as the amount by which the carrying value of the asset exceeds its fair value.

Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation maintains a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing pension, other retirement and post-employment benefits to most of its employees.

The cost of pension and other post-employment benefits (including medical benefits, dental care, life insurance and certain compensated absences) is charged to income annually. The pension cost is computed on an actuarial basis using the projected benefit method by using management's best estimate of the long-term rate of return on plan assets, discount rates, salary escalation, retirement age, mortality and other factors. Pension plan assets are valued at market value and are used to calculate the expected rate of return on plan assets. For periods prior to March 31, 2006 the market related asset value was used to calculate the expected return on plan assets.

The assumptions for other post-employment benefit plans are similar to pension plans, with the additional factor of health care trend rates, which involves estimates of the usage, frequency and cost of services covered.

The assumptions, referred to above, relate to factors that are of a long-term nature and, consequently, are subject to a degree of uncertainty. Management consults certain outside advisors, including actuaries, in determining these factors in order to ensure that the assumptions chosen are reasonable. Actual trends and values may differ from those assumed resulting in changes in the cost of pension and other post-employment benefits in future periods. The assumptions are reviewed and updated annually or more frequently where material changes are made to the plans.

Past service costs (such as increased benefits provided under labour contract settlements) are amortized over the estimated average remaining service life ("EARSL") of the employees at the date of the amendment.

The Corporation has elected under Canadian GAAP to use the corridor method to amortize actuarial gains and losses (arising from changes in actuarial assumptions and experience gains and losses) over the EARSL of active employees. Under the corridor method, amortization is recorded only if the accumulated net actuarial gains or losses exceed 10% of the greater of the accrued benefit obligation and the value of the plan assets and only for the amount that exceeds the 10% threshold. These amortizations reflect the concept, as stated in Canadian GAAP, that the cost of employee future benefits should be recorded based on long-term assumptions to be consistent with the nature of the economic benefits derived therefrom. Short-term actuarial gains and losses may occur which differ from the long-term nature of the assumptions used under Canadian GAAP. Under Canadian GAAP the cost of employee future benefits in any year is not unduly impacted by such short-term changes in market returns, discount rates or in the level of benefits provided. Continued trends in these factors will be reflected by changes in assumptions if these trends persist, and would affect future costs.

Salaried employees hired after July 31, 1997 participate in the Corporation's "Opportunity" or similar programs, which include a flexible credit plan for benefits and a self-directed group RRSP. These employees do not participate in the defined benefit plans. These programs are accounted for as defined contribution plans. Costs of defined contribution plans are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

The Corporation follows the asset and liability method of accounting for future income taxes. Under the asset and liability method, future income tax assets and liabilities are determined based on "temporary differences" (differences between the accounting basis and the tax basis of the assets and liabilities) and are measured using the currently enacted, or substantively enacted, tax rates and laws expected to apply when these differences reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded against any future income tax asset if it is more likely than not that the asset will not be realized. Income tax expense or benefit is the sum of the Corporation's provision for current income taxes and the differences between the opening and ending balances of the future income tax assets and liabilities. The effect of increases and decreases to future income tax assets and liabilities arising from changes in tax rates is recognized in income in the period the changes occur.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes.

Measurement Uncertainty

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the stated amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 4. Fresh Start Reporting

As outlined in Note 2, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor were reported at estimated fair values, except for future income taxes, which were reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which were reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor were based on management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The Successor finalized its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangibles and future income taxes, in the third quarter 2006 and reflected adjustments in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006. The adjustments to the Predecessor balances related to predecessor shareholders, affected creditors and equity sponsors and pensions and financing were finalized upon emergence from CCAA.

Note 4. Fresh Start Reporting

The following legend describes the adjustments made to the Predecessor accounts resulting from the implementation of the Plan and consummation of the various agreements:

(1) Implementation of the Plan as outlined in Note 1.

The following table reconciles the Predecessor's liabilities subject to compromise to those that were accepted claims under the Plan:

(in millions)	At March 31, 2006 (Predecessor)	At December 31, 2005 (Predecessor)
Liabilities subject to compromise
Accepted claims	$ 547	$ 546
Post-filing interest	83	73
Unfiled claims	10	11
Total liabilities subject to compromise	$ 640	$ 630
Settlement
Cash	$ 108
Floating Rate Notes	275
New Common Shares	36
New Warrants	2
Total consideration	$ 421
Excess of claims over distribution	219
Convertible debenture conversion option	23
Total adjustment to retained deficit	$ 242

The holders of Series A and B voting common shares received nil consideration.

(2) Issuance of shares for cash under the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 1).

(3) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the related credit facilities (Note 10 and 11).

(4) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants (Note 11).

(5) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.

(6) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement.

(7) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.

(8) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future income tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused income tax losses or other deductions are realized.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the nine month period ending December 31, 2006 and were applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets.

Included under the Fresh Start Adjustment captions are all income tax adjustments required to transition the Predecessor's accounts to the Successor's accounts at March 31, 2006.

Note 5. Restricted Cash

Restricted cash represented funds being held in trust with the Monitor under the CCAA proceedings pending direction from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice for its use.

During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, the Monitor released the proceeds held in trust pertaining to the sale of non-core assets.

Note 6. Inventories

(In millions)	At December 31, 2006	At March 31, 2006	At December 31, 2005

Finished and work-in-process	251	349	477
Total inventories	$ 693	$ 740	$ 783

Note 7. Asset Sales

As part of the Corporation's overall effort to restructure operations, simplify processes and rationalize non-core resources, during the CCAA period, a number of assets were sold.

The Hamilton plate mill assets, which had been idled in 2003, were sold in 2005 for gross proceeds of $25 million. The carrying value of these assets was nil, therefore a pre-tax gain of $20 million (net of $5 million of fees) was recorded during 2005. The gross proceeds were secured by irrevocable letters of credit which were drawn down in tandem with the progress made on dismantling the equipment. The project was completed in the second quarter of 2006 when the final payment of $5 million was received.

While in CCAA, the Corporation determined that all of the businesses in the Mini-mill and Manufactured Products segments were non-core and were to be sold. Accordingly, these businesses were presented in the consolidated financial statements of the Predecessor as assets held for sale and discontinued operations to isolate the earnings (loss) and cash flows associated with these businesses. The proceeds received from these asset sales were held in trust with the Monitor and included in restricted cash, pending authorization from the Court to release the funds for general use (Note 5). After emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Successor received additional proceeds of $5 million in connection with the finalization of certain of the above sales.

In 2006, the Corporation sold the property and plant in Welland Pipe Ltd. for net proceeds of $3 million and a parcel of non-core, surplus land in Hamilton and a building located on the property for cash proceeds of $18 million. The book value of these assets under the fresh start revaluation was equal to the net proceeds and accordingly there was no gain or loss recognized on these sales.

The amount of the final purchase price relating to the 2005 sale of substantially all of the assets of Stelpipe Ltd. is subject to a dispute with the purchaser relating to adjustments for assumed liabilities and working capital amounts. The dispute is expected to be submitted to an arbitration process.

(1) Bank and other short-term indebtedness consisted of amounts drawn under the Corporation's $350 million revolving operating credit facility.

Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 31, 2006, the $75 million debtor-in-possession short-term credit facility and the $350 million short-term credit facility were replaced by a long-term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility"). The ABL facility bears interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility is available until March 31, 2008 and, prior to each March 31 anniversary date, the facility can be extended for a period of two years if the lender and Stelco mutually agree. The ABL facility is secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL facility is additionally secured by a second priority security interest in all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to $300 million, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventory and reserves, but will not exceed $600 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any non-use of funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants. At December 31, 2006, the available amount of the ABL was $228 million and the amount drawn on this facility was $168 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation – Note 1), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full on March 31, 2013. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of CCAA Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay a 3% fee on the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

Included in financial expense for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 is approximately $5 million relating to borrowings under this agreement. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at December 31, 2006. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at December 31, 2006. At December 31, 2006 there was $215 million outstanding under this loan.

Long-term debt	$ 342	$ 346	$ 20

Repayments of long-term debt over the next five years amount to $13 million in 2007, and $7 million in 2008.

(1) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. Interest on the FRN's for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 totalled $22 million and is included in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss). Interest has been calculated under the cash payment option consistent with the semi-annual payment made in September 2006. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan (Note 10) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full.

There was a $1 million gain recorded for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 due to the revaluation of the FRN's using the December 31, 2006 US dollar exchange rate.

(2) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 12), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. Interest accrued on the Province Note for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 totalled $1 million and is included in financial expense. The semi-annual interest payment due in September 2006 was paid in cash. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants (see Note 15 for terms of the warrants). Upon the application of fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006, the Province Note was adjusted to its estimated fair value of $57 million (see Note 4) and will be accreted up to its face value over the term of the Note assuming an effective interest rate of 12%. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006 an accretion expense of $4 million was recorded in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss).

(3) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

(4) Liabilities subject to compromise.

Long term debt subject to compromise included unsecured debentures totaling $365 million and computer system financing in the amount of $47 million. All of the debt was in default.

Note 12. Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation, maintains a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing benefits to most of its employees.

Defined contribution plans

Total expense and cash payments for the Corporation's defined contribution pension plans were $2 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and $1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2006 ($2 million in 2005.)

Defined benefit plans

The defined benefit plans provide pension, other retirement, and post-employment benefits to salaried employees hired previous to August 1, 1997, and to most hourly rated employees. Employees do not contribute to the plans that are maintained by the Corporation.

Defined pension benefits for salaried employees are calculated based on an average of their highest five years earnings. Pensions payable from these plans are not indexed for inflation. Pension benefits for hourly rated employees are based on years of service multiplied by dollar factors in accordance with collective agreements in order to determine the monthly pension payment amount. Cost-of-living adjustments are provided for bargaining unit retirees in accordance with the collective agreements.

Other benefit plans provide health care benefits including dental, hearing, vision, prescription drugs, and hospital care to retirees, their spouses and dependants, and to the retirees' surviving spouses, and life insurance coverage on the retiree. In addition, other benefit plans provide compensated absence benefits in the form of vacation to be taken immediately before retirement if certain service requirements are met.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

As a condition of the CCAA Plan, Stelco and the Province entered into the Pension Agreement, effective on March 31, 2006 which contains the following principal terms:

- Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006;
- Stelco will fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:
    - Years 1 -- 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006; and
    - Years 6 -- 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly;
- Stelco will make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in the Stelco four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount;
- Stelco will not be required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015 provided that any future benefit improvements will be required to be funded in accordance with the Pension Benefits Act and will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above; and
- The Pension Agreement covers the period until December 31, 2015 but will end earlier in the event that all four pension plans become fully funded on the solvency basis.

While the Pension Agreement with the Province has a prescribed funding obligation, as outlined above, pension plan enhancements, such as the recently negotiated hourly pension indexing, are excluded from this arrangement. Accordingly the hourly pension indexing is subject to additional cash funding under the Pension Benefits Act, totaling an estimated $121 million over the next eight years.

Cash payments to benefit plans

Total cash payments to employee future benefits plans, including cash contributed by the Corporation to funded pension plans, cash payments directly to employees for unfunded benefit plans other than pensions, and cash contributed to its defined contribution pension plans, was $552 million in 2006 ($176 million in 2005). The contributions for 2006 include:

	Nine months ended December 31, 2006	At March 31, 2006	Three months ended March 31, 2006	Twelve months ended December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)
Pensions [1]	$ 54	$ 382	$ 24	$ 116
Other benefits [2]	80	–	12	60
Total	$ 134	$ 382	$ 36	$ 176

(1) Includes prescribed pension funding payments of $32.5 million in the nine months ended December 31, 2006, compared to $65 million required in 2007.

(2) Includes payments related to severances and early retirement incentives totalling $29 million, in the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

Funding for the Corporation's defined benefit pension plans are expected to be approximately $95 million in 2007. The Corporation currently expects that payments in 2007 for other benefit plans to be approximately $58 million.

Estimated average remaining service life

The estimated average remaining service life ("EARSL") of active employees covered by the defined benefit pension plans for 2006 ranges from 7 to 14 years (2005 ranged from 6 to 14 years). The estimated average remaining service life of active employees covered by the defined benefit plans providing other benefits ranges from 9 to 15 years in 2006 (2005 ranged from 8 to 14 years). EARSL is the period over which past service costs, and actuarial gains and losses in excess of the corridor, are amortized (Note 3).

Accrued benefit obligation and plan assets

(1) The opening balance of the accrued benefit obligation and plan assets for the Successor for the nine month period ended December 31, 2006 does not agree to the closing balances of the Predecessor at March 31, 2006 due to "fresh start" adjustments.

The accrued pension benefit obligation of the Predecessor at March 31, 2006 was reduced by $116 million, principally related to actuarial gains, while plan assets increased by $378 million, primarily due to a $382 million contribution required upon emergence from CCAA. Unamortized net actuarial losses and past service costs of the Predecessor, totalling $1,008 million were also eliminated.

The accrued benefit obligation of the Predecessor, for other benefit plans at March 31, 2006, decreased $53 million due to actuarial gains and foreign exchange adjustments. Unamortized net actuarial losses net of unamortized past service costs of $464 million were also eliminated.

The accrued benefit asset (liability) is reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as follows:

Other benefit plans: Gain recognized in the period of nil minus actuarial gain on accrued benefit obligation in the period of $39 million equals deferral of actuarial gain of $39 million.

(c) Pension benefit plans: Amortization of past service costs for the period of $5 million minus actual plan amendments in the period of $48 million equals deferral of past service costs of $43 million.

Other benefit plans: Amortization of past service gains for the period of $5 million less actual plan amendments in the period of $65 million equals deferral of prior period past service gains of $60 million.

Measurement and valuation

The measurement date for the Corporation's principal employee future benefit plans is December 31. As a result of the emergence from CCAA on March 31, 2006, the Corporation was required to undertake a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities, which included a remeasurement of all of the Corporation's pension and other benefit plan obligations under CICA Handbook Section 3461 – Employee Future Benefits. The results of the remeasurement, as reported in the first quarter 2006, included the elimination of previously recorded unamortized net actuarial losses and unamortized past service costs.

Plan Amendments

The plans were amended in 2006 (post CCAA emergence), as follows:

- a contract settlement reached in June 2006 with USW Local 1005 which contained benefit improvements, and an annual pension indexing tied to a cost of living adjustment for the term of the agreement;
- A change in early retirement eligibility under the principal salaried pension plans was announced and reflected in second quarter 2006. Employees who do not attain 30 years of service by December 31, 2007 will no longer be eligible for an unreduced early retirement pension prior to age 60;
- The principal salaried pension plans were amended to provide that future pensionable earnings for plan purposes will be base salary only (previously, all cash compensation was included). This change was reflected as of December 31, 2006;
- announced reductions in the other benefit programs, which substantially impacted the active salary workforce (and salaried retirees).

The pension plan amendments resulted in net past service costs of $48 million of which $5 million was recognized in 2006.

The other benefit plan amendments resulted in past service gain of $65 million of which $5 million was recognized in 2006.

The past service costs include the impact of changing the assumed retirement age from 58 to 59 for those salaried employees affected by the early retirement amendment and the impact of a change in the assumed rate of future compensation increase to 3% from 4% per annum.

Employment Reductions

Workforce reduction programs were undertaken post CCAA emergence, including:

- a Salaried Transition Assistance Program ("STAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement or resignation to employees who were members of the two principal salary defined benefit pension plans. The program closed on June 30, 2006;
- a Transition Assistance Program ("TAP"), which provided incentives for early retirement to Hamilton Steel bargaining unit employees as part of the contract settlement reached with USW Local 1005. The program closed on July 14, 2006.

As a result of the significant reduction of the salary workforce arising from the STAP program and the impact of certain reductions in the salary other benefit programs there was a net curtailment expense recognized in the second quarter 2006 of $14 million.

Other severance costs totaling $11 million in the nine month period ended December 31, 2006 consists of $8 million incurred in the second quarter 2006 and $3 million in the fourth quarter 2006.

The voluntary retirement incentive cost of $25 million incurred in the nine month period ended December 31, 2006 consists of a severance expense of $19 million in the second quarter 2006 related to the STAP and $6 million recognized in the third quarter 2006 related to the TAP.

Significant assumptions

Benefit obligations and the related effects on operations are calculated using actuarial models. In 2006, the following critical assumptions – the discount rate, the retirement age, mortality, expected return on pension fund assets, and healthcare cost trends – were important elements affecting plan cost and asset/liability measurement. Management evaluates these assumptions at least annually.

The significant actuarial assumptions adopted are as follows (weighted average):

Accrued benefit obligation as of:

	At December 31, 2006		At March 31, 2006		At December 31, 2005
	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)
Discount rate	5.10%	5.20%	5.25%	5.25%	5.00%	5.00%
Expected long-term rate of return on plan assets	7.25%	8.50%	7.00%	8.50%	7.00%	8.50%
Estimated rate of compensation increase	3.00%	3.00%	4.00%	4.00%	4.00%	4.00%
Retirement age – salaried employees [1]	59	59	58	58	58	58

(1) Assumed retirement age of 59 applies to individuals affected by the early retirement amendment. Age 58 remains in effect for other employees.

Benefit costs for periods ended:

Predecessor	Three months ended March 31, 2006		Twelve months ended December 31, 2005
	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans
Discount rate	5.00%	5.00%	5.75%	5.96%
Expected long-term rate of return on plan assets	7.00%	8.50%	7.50%	8.50%
Estimated rate of compensation increase	4.00%	4.00%	4.00%	4.00%
Retirement age – salaried employees	58	58	58	58

(1) Assumed retirement age of 59 applies to individuals affected by the early retirement amendment. Age 58 remains in effect for other employees.

Successor	Nine months ended December 31, 2006 [1]
	Pension benefit plans	Other benefit plans
Discount rate	5.25%	5.25%
Expected long-term rate of return on plan assets	7.00%	8.50%
Estimated rate of compensation increase	4.00%	4.00%
Retirement age – salaried employees	58	58

(1) Three plans were subject to remeasurement at June 30, 2006 for which discount rates of 5.50% (pensions) / 5.75% (other benefits plans) were used as well as the retirement age for salaried employees changed to 59.

Assumed health care cost trend rates at December 31:

	2006	2005
Initial health care cost trend rate	7.40%	8.10%
Cost trend rate declines to	4.50%	4.50%
Year that the rate reaches the rate it is assumed to remain at	2014	2014

The assumption for future drug costs for retirees over age 65 was reduced by 12% relative to prior assumptions to reflect expected savings as a result of a change in plan administrator and related improvements in claim adjudication processes and coordination with government programs, resulting in a $39 million reduction in the accrued benefit obligation at December 31, 2006.

Sensitivity Analysis

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported for the health care plans (included in Other benefit plans). A one-percentage-point change in the assumed health care cost trend rates for the plans would have the following effects for 2006:

(in millions) increase (decrease)	One percentage point increase	One percentage point decrease
Total of service and interest cost	$ 9	$ (7)
Accrued benefit obligation	$ 193	$ (151)

Note 13. Components of Consolidated Income Taxes

Future Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective statement of financial position date.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. In accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes, the benefit recognized in respect of the pre-fresh start tax assets has been applied to reduce unamortized intangible assets. During the nine months ended December, 2006, $16 million has been applied to intangible assets (Note 9).

Income Tax Reconciliation

The income tax expense (recovery) differs from the amount calculated by applying current Canadian income tax rates (federal and provincial) to the loss before income taxes from continuing operations, as follows:

(in millions)	Nine months ended December 31, 2006	Three months ended March 31, 2006	Twelve months ended December 31, 2005
	(Successor)	(Predecessor)	(Predecessor)

Total future income tax liabilities	324	402	208
Net future income tax asset (liability)	$ (61)	$ (69)	$ (58)

(1) The pre fresh start future income tax assets represent those tax assets that were not recognized at March 31, 2006, having been offset with a valuation allowance.

(2) The change in the pre fresh start valuation allowance consists of the impact of a federal income tax rate reduction ($38 million) and the realization of pre fresh start future income tax assets ($16 million) recorded as a reduction of intangible assets.

The future income tax asset (liability) is reflected in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as follows:

A former participant in Wabush funded its estimated share of mine closure costs at the time of exit from the joint venture. These funds ($6 million at December 31 and March 31 2006; $4 million at December 31, 2005) are reflected in other non-current assets on the Statement of Financial Position.

Note 15. Capital Stock, Warrants and Dividends

(a) Authorized Shares

The Corporation is authorized to issue an unlimited number of preferred shares, issuable in series, an unlimited number of common shares and an unlimited number of redeemable shares. There are no preferred shares or redeemable shares outstanding.

(b) Common Shares

Total (in millions)	$149	$144	$781

The Corporation issued 26,100,000 new common shares upon emergence from CCAA with a value of $5.50 per share. On April 2, 2006, the President and Chief Executive Officer purchased 1,000,000 newly issued common shares for cash consideration of $5.5 million. As a result of the exercise of warrants, referred to below, and stock options (Note 17) during the nine months ended December 31, 2006, there are 27,123,908 common shares outstanding at December 31, 2006.

(c) Dividends

Under the terms of the Corporation's lending agreements no dividends can be declared or paid until certain conditions have been met.

(d) Warrants

Upon emergence from CCAA, the Corporation issued a total of 2,269,600 warrants. The holders of liabilities subject to compromise received 1,418,500 warrants with an estimated fair value of $2 million as partial consideration in exchange for their claim accepted under CCAA. The Province received 851,100 warrants with an estimated fair value of $1 million as partial consideration for the province loan (Note 11). Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one common share at an exercise price of $11.00. The warrants have a term of seven years and are exercisable up to their expiration on March 31, 2013. A total of 5,158 warrants were exercised in the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

Note 16. Earnings (loss) per common share

During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, the three months ended March 31, 2006, and the twelve months ended December 31, 2005 a basic net loss from continuing operations and a basic net loss was incurred, therefore options and warrants related information have not been used to calculate fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings per share as both are anti-dilutive where applicable.

Note 17. Stock-based compensation

Incentive Stock Option Plan

On April 1, 2006, the Board of Directors approved an Incentive Stock Option Plan (the "ISOP"). The ISOP is intended to attract and retain superior directors, officers, advisors, employees and other persons engaged to provide ongoing services to the Corporation or its affiliates. The total number of stock options available under the ISOP is 2,610,000, of which 1,944,000 were initially issued on April 1, 2006 at an exercise price of $5.50 per common share. The options vest semi-annually over a four-year period from the date of the grant (the "Grant Date") in eight equal installments, subject to acceleration under certain circumstances. The options expire 10 years after the Grant Date. In accordance with the provisions of the ISOP, the exercise price of options granted thereunder is required to be the market value, as defined in the ISOP, on the Grant Date. During the nine months ended December 31, 2006, 18,750 options were exercised for treasury stock at $5.50 per common share, an additional 150,000 options were granted at an exercise price of $17.75 and 300,000 options were forfeited at an exercise price of $5.50. The total options available under the ISOP at December 31, 2006 are 816,000.

Total compensation expense of $1 million has been included in costs for the nine months ended December 31, 2006.

The compensation expense for grants made under the ISOP was determined at the grant date using the fair value method by applying the Black-Scholes option-pricing model using the following assumptions:

Grant date	June 21, 2006	April 1, 2006
Expected volatility	40%	40%
Risk-free interest rate	4.33%	4.00%
Expected life	0 – 4 years	0 – 4 years
Expected dividends	Nil	Nil

The weighted average exercise price for options outstanding at December 31, 2006 is $6.54.

Note 18. Reorganization Items

Reorganization items relate to payments made in connection with various professional advisor fees and certain financing break fees associated with the reorganization and restructuring of the Corporation on March 31, 2006.

(in millions)	Three months ended March 31, 2006	Twelve months ended December 31, 2005
Professional fees	$ 12	$ 53
Break fees [ii]	–	22
Success fees [i]	9	–
Financing fees [iii]	–	1
Total reorganization items	$ 21	$ 76

(i) Fees paid to various advisors of the Corporation when the Third Amended Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization was approved and implemented.

(ii) In March 2005, Stelco discontinued the capital raising process and decided to pursue a recapitalization of the Corporation and as a result, Deutsche Bank became entitled to a break fee of approximately $11 million. In December 2005, Tricap became entitled to break fees totalling approximately $11 million as a result of the significant changes that were made to the Plan.

(iii) Related to fees incurred for the DIP facility and the write-off of deferred fees associated with the convertible debentures.

Note 19. Proportionately Consolidated Joint Ventures

The Corporation's joint ventures are an integral part of operations and exist to provide raw materials and certain manufacturing, finishing, and sales functions.

The following is a summary of the Corporation's proportionate share of the financial position, operating results, and cash flows of the joint ventures.

Note 20. Commitments and Contingencies

Capital Programs and Other Commitments

Stelco has binding commitments for capital programs totaling $41 million. Of this amount, $30 million relates to capital projects at the Corporation's various mining interests.

Pursuant to an outsourcing agreement, the Corporation has committed approximately $125 million up to and including year 2012.

Operating leases

Future minimum rental payments required under operating leases have initial or remaining lease terms in excess of one year at December 31, 2006 are:

(in millions)
2007	$	9
2008		6
2009		5
20010		4
2011		3
Subsequent to 2011		-
Total operating leases	$	27

Contingencies

On June 28, 2005, Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. On May 31, 2006, the Corporation served its statement of defense. Examinations for discovery are ongoing. The Corporation is vigorously defending this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provisions in the consolidated financial statements.

Note 22. Financial Instruments

Interest rate risk

The Corporation did not enter into any interest rate swap agreements during the nine months ended December 31, 2006. As at December 31, 2006 there were no interest rate swap agreements in place.

Foreign exchange risk

No foreign exchange contracts were entered into in the nine months ended December, 2006. Accordingly, none were outstanding as at December 31, 2006.

Concentration of credit risk

A significant portion of the Corporation's revenues are sourced from either direct or indirect sales to the automotive industry, although the Corporation does not have significant exposure to any individual customer within this sector. The Corporation reviews its customers' credit histories before extending credit and conducts regular reviews of its existing customers' credit performances.

Fair values

The estimated fair value of the Corporation's long-term debt, including the portion due within one year is $363 million. The carrying value of other financial instruments approximates fair value due to the short maturities or the terms and conditions attached to these instruments.

Note 23. Segmented Information

The following provides segmented information by geographic area. Sales are allocated to the country in which the third party customer receives the product:

Attention Business/Financial Editors:
Stelco Reports Results for 2006

RECEIVED

HAMILTON, ON, March 7 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) reported a fourth quarter loss before income taxes of $145 million compared with $103 million for the fourth quarter of 2005. For the nine month period since exiting from CCAA the company reported a loss before income taxes of $187 million, which includes unusual items relating to fresh start accounting and the operational restructuring totalling $110 million. Net sales for the nine month period ending December 31, 2006 were $1.83 billion on shipments of 2,562,000 tons.

During the fourth quarter, production facilities were closed for a period of time to enable the company to complete several strategic capital projects, including:

- The reline and upgrade of the blast furnace at the Hamilton plant to increase throughput and to extend the interval for the next furnace reline to 2018; and

- The phase two expansion of the Lake Erie hot strip mill, which is expected to increase throughput by 20% over previous levels.

As a result of these upgrades and lower demand, production for the quarter fell to 611,000 tons, representing a decline of 33% over the third quarter.

With these two major projects now complete, Stelco does not anticipate any further significant mill outages in 2007.

Fourth quarter results were also negatively impacted by lower demand in the automotive and steel service centre sectors, which contributed to a reduction in spot prices for steel and lower shipments during the quarter. In addition, Stelco experienced higher input costs during the fourth quarter.

Since exiting from CCAA on March 31, 2006, Stelco has made significant progress in its operational restructuring program, which comprises four key components:

- The work force was reduced from 4,954 on March 31, 2006 to 4,051 in January 2007 through voluntary programs and attrition. Based on this reduction in the number of employees, labour costs are estimated to be $65 million lower on an annualized basis.

- Production and administrative costs were reduced through workflow improvement and a de-centralized approach to managing the business. Compensation incentives were implemented or modified across the organization.

- Capital expenditures have been optimized through increasing the return on investment threshold and enhancing the project management of major capital projects.

- Working capital requirements have been reduced through better management of semi-finished and finished inventories, lower sales levels and improved processes for the management and collection of accounts receivable.

Mr. Rodney Mott, President and CEO, stated that, "Our goals upon exiting CCAA were to quickly implement change in the culture and direction of Stelco. I am pleased with the progress we have made and compliment our employees for their willingness to accept the ongoing changes. We have more work to do to optimize our performance but the biggest hurdles are behind us, and our long-term competitive position is substantially improved. We have a positive outlook for 2007 and have positioned our operations to respond quickly to increased demand for steel in first quarter."

Shipments and semi-finished steel production during the first two months of 2007 have improved significantly over the respective monthly averages for the fourth quarter. For January and February, average monthly shipments were 293,000 tons and average monthly semi-finished steel production was 354,000 tons, which compares to fourth quarter monthly averages of 225,000 tons and 204,000 tons respectively. Spot prices have continued to improve in January and February compared to the end of the fourth quarter and further increases are anticipated.

Attention Business Editors:
Stelco Announces Improvements to its $600 Million Revolving Credit Facility

HAMILTON, ON, March 23 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) announced today that it has completed certain amendments to its current $600 million asset based revolving credit facility. These amendments include extending the term of the facility to 2012, increasing the availability under the facility and providing the opportunity to lower the overall financing costs of the Corporation in the future. This facility is being provided by a banking syndicate led by CIT Business Credit Canada Inc. and GE Capital Markets, Inc., and includes Bank of America, N.A., Canada Branch, GMAC Commercial Finance Corporation - Canada, LaSalle Business Credit, UBS AG Canada Branch and Wells Fargo Financial Corporation Canada.

Mr. Rodney Mott, President and CEO, stated that, "These amendments to our loan arrangements are very positive for Stelco as they provide a longer term debt structure and they will likely lead to lower financing costs in the future. We appreciate the full cooperation of our lenders in working with the company to complete these new arrangements."

AMENDED AND RESTATED EXIT FACILITY CREDIT AGREEMENT

This AMENDED AND RESTATED EXIT FACILITY CREDIT AGREEMENT dated March 23, 2007 among CIT BUSINESS CREDIT CANADA INC. as administrative agent, funding agent and co-lead arranger (in such capacities, the "Administrative Agent"), CIT BUSINESS CREDIT CANADA INC., GE CANADA FINANCE HOLDING COMPANY and any other party which is or may become a lender from time to time pursuant to this Agreement as lenders (the "Lenders"), CIT BUSINESS CREDIT CANADA INC. and GE CANADA FINANCE HOLDING COMPANY as co-collateral agents in the performance of certain functions and duties (the "Co-Collateral Agents"), GE CANADA FINANCE HOLDING COMPANY, as syndication agent, GE CAPITAL MARKETS, INC. as co-lead arranger (the "Syndication Agent") and STELCO INC., as borrower (the "Borrower").

RECITALS:

(a) On January 29, 2004 (the "Filing Date"), the Borrower, Stelwire Ltd., Stelpipe Ltd., Welland Pipe Ltd. and CHT Steel Company Inc. (collectively, the "Applicants") were granted relief under a proceeding (the "CCAA Proceeding") commenced under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (Canada) ("CCAA") pursuant to the order of Mr. Justice Farley (as the same was further amended and extended from time to time, collectively, the "Initial CCAA Order") of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (Commercial List) sitting in Toronto, Ontario (the "Canadian Court"), and Ernst & Young Inc. was appointed the monitor (the "Monitor") of the Applicants pursuant to the Initial CCAA Order;

(b) On the Filing Date, the Monitor was granted relief in an ancillary case under Section 304 of Title 11 of the US Bankruptcy Code (the "304 Proceeding") in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, Southern Division (the "US Bankruptcy Court") by way of a preliminary injunction issued by order dated the Filing Date (as the same was further amended and extended from time to time, collectively, the "Section 304 Order");

(c) During the course of the CCAA Proceeding and the 304 Proceeding, certain of the Lenders (or predecessors thereto) continued to make accommodations available to the Borrower pursuant to the Financing Agreement and the DIP Credit Agreement;

(d) Concurrently with the emergence of the Borrower and the other Applicants from the CCAA Proceeding and the 304 Proceeding all obligations under the Financing Agreement (and all other Senior Secured Facility Documents) and under the DIP Credit Agreement (and all other DIP Facility Documents) were repaid in full (and all CCAA Charges (as defined in the Initial CCAA Order) and other Liens related thereto were released and discharged) from an advance made under the senior secured revolving credit facility in the principal amount of up to Six Hundred Million Canadian Dollars (Cdn.$600,000,000) established by the Administrative Agent and certain of the Lenders (or predecessors thereto) in favour of the Borrower under an exit facility credit agreement dated March 31, 2006 (the "Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement");

(e) Certain amendments were made to the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement effective August 1, 2006 and November 30, 2006;

(f) The parties hereto wish to amend and restate the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement on the terms and conditions hereof; and

(g) Each of the Agent, the Lenders and the Borrower acknowledges and agrees that immediately upon this Agreement becoming effective, the Accommodations outstanding under the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement owing by the Borrower shall continue to be outstanding under this Agreement as outstanding Accommodations owing by the Borrower and governed by the provisions of this Agreement, without any novation whatsoever.

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the mutual agreements herein contained and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged), the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1
DEFINITIONS AND INTERPRETATIONS Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

Section 1.1 Definitions. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

Capitalized terms used in this Agreement shall have the following respective meanings:

"304 Proceeding" has the meaning ascribed to it in the recitals to this Agreement.

"ABL Priority Collateral" means, with respect to any Person, all present and future:

(a) Accounts, Inventory (including any and all returned or repossessed merchandise or other goods which by sale resulted in Accounts) and Other Collateral of the Person;

(b) books, records, ledger cards, files, correspondence, invoices, documents, papers, electronically recorded data, computer programs, tapes, disks and related software (owned by the Person or in which the Person has an interest, including any and all access codes in respect thereof) that at any time evidence or contain information relating to any Accounts, Inventory, Other Collateral or Policies (as defined below) of the Person or are otherwise necessary in the collection thereof or realization thereupon;

(c) guarantees, letters of credit, letters of guarantee, encumbrances on real or personal property, leases and other agreements and property of any other Person that at any time in any way secure or relate to any Accounts, Inventory, Other Collateral or Policies of the Person, or are acquired for the purpose of securing any item thereof, but only to the extent that such item(s) relate to ABL Priority Collateral and excluding any portion thereof that relates to Term Priority Collateral;

(d) chattel paper, instruments and Documents of Title at any time evidencing or to the extent pertaining to any Accounts, Inventory, Other Collateral or Policies of the Person and all rights of the Person thereunder;

(e) policies and certificates of insurance pertaining to the items covered by clauses (a) through (d) above, including business interruption insurance relating to the Person's business and credit/receivables insurance, all policies issued by the Export Development Corporation and any other export insurer to the extent relating to the items covered by clauses (a) through (d) above, together with any and all schedules and endorsements thereto from time to time and any and all monies and other sums payable to or receivable by the Person from time to time under any of the foregoing, together with any and all present and future rights and benefits of the Person under and in connection with any of the foregoing and all agreements, permissions, approvals and consents from time to time granted to the Person under any or in connection with any of the foregoing, and all covenants, terms, conditions, representations and warranties made or expressed therein or implied by law in relation thereto, and all rights granted to the Person under any of the foregoing to make claims, enforce performance, sue for and collect amounts owing, give consents or approvals, make selections, exercise options, participate in arbitration or other legal proceedings and/or give notices and declare defaults thereunder (collectively, the "Policies"); and

(f) proceeds of (a) to (e) above and all claims of the Person against third parties for loss of, damage to, or destruction of, and payments due or to become due under leases, rentals and hires of, any or all of (a) to (e) above and proceeds payable under, or unearned premiums with respect to the Policies.

"ABL Secured Parties" means the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders.

"ABL Term Priority Collateral Adjusted Capped Amount" means, subject to as hereinafter provided, from and after the effective date of reduction to the interest rates under Section 2.02(1)(b) of the First Supplemental Indenture, being no earlier than March 31, 2008, an amount equal to $500,000,000 less (i) the committed principal amount (or the Equivalent Cdn. $ Amount at the relevant time of determination) of any Refinancing of the Term Credit Agreement in effect on the Closing Date, entered into after the Effective Date in accordance with the terms of the Loan Documents, and (ii) from time to time an amount representing the pro rata reduction to any reduction in the Commitment in accordance with Section 1.3(3) (without giving effect in such calculation for purposes of this definition to any cancellation of the Incremental Revolving Loans Commitment in respect of which any Incremental Revolving Loans Notice has not been given), calculated by deducting from the then applicable ABL Term Priority Collateral Adjusted Capped Amount an amount equal to the then applicable ABL Term Priority Collateral Adjusted Capped Amount multiplied by the percentage by which such Commitment has been so reduced; provided that (x) the ABL Term Priority Collateral Adjusted Capped Amount shall not be less than $150,000,000 and shall not exceed $300,000,000, (y) the ABL Term Priority Collateral Adjusted Capped Amount shall be equal to $300,000,000 at all times while the committed principal amount of the Term Credit Agreement (or any Refinancing thereof) exceeds $350,000,000 (or the Equivalent US $ Amount thereof) and (z) no reduction to the ABL Term Priority Collateral Capped Amount or ABL Term Priority Collateral Adjusted Capped Amount, shall be made if a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result therefrom on the effective date of any Refinancing of such Term Credit Agreement entered into from time to time or at the time of any reduction in Commitment from time to time after the Effective Date.

"ABL Term Priority Collateral Capped Amount" has the meaning ascribed thereto in the Intercreditor Agreement.

"Accommodation" means: (i) any advance made by way of a Canadian Prime Rate Loan, a US Base Rate Loan or a LIBOR Rate Loan at the request of the Borrower or which is deemed to be made by the Administrative Agent or a Lender hereunder; (ii) the creation and purchase of Bankers Acceptances' or the purchase of completed Drafts on the occasion of any Drawing; (iii) the issue of any Letter of Credit; and (iv) any advance or extension of credit under any Sundry Credit Facility.

"Accommodation Agreement" means the accommodation agreement dated as of January 29, 2004 among the parties to the Financing Agreement and Stelwire Ltd. and Stelpipe Ltd., as the same was further amended, supplemented, modified, restated, replaced or amended and restated.

(d) Whenever the Borrower requests the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, to make a Revolving Loan pursuant to Section 1.2 and Section 1.6, it shall give the Administrative Agent notice in writing in the form of Exhibit "D" (a "Borrowing Notice") or irrevocable telephonic notice confirmed promptly in writing in the form of Exhibit "D" (but prior to any advance), specifying (A) the amount to be borrowed, (B) the requested borrowing date (which shall be a Business Day and shall be prior to the Maturity Date, and if applicable, any Early Termination Date, or prior to any effective termination date of this Agreement, all as further set forth herein), (C) specify whether the requested Revolving Loan shall be by way of a Canadian Prime Rate Loan, Bankers' Acceptance, BA Equivalent Loan, a US Base Rate Loan or a LIBOR Rate Loan in accordance with the provisions set forth herein and (D) in the case of Bankers Acceptances and LIBOR Rate Loans, the initial maturity date and the initial LIBOR Interest Period, respectively. The Administrative Agent shall pay Accommodations to the disbursement accounts of the Borrower.

(e) Each Revolving Loan shall initially be the type of loan specified in the applicable Borrowing Notice and shall bear interest at the rate applicable to that type of loan until (i) in the case of a LIBOR Rate Loan, the end of the initial LIBOR Interest Period specified in the Borrowing Notice, (ii) in the case of a Canadian Prime Rate Loan or US Base Rate Loan, the date on which the loan is repaid in full or is changed to another type of loan pursuant to Section 1.2(f), or (iii) in the case of any loan, it is converted to another type of Accommodation pursuant to Section 1.2(f).

(f) The Borrower may elect to (i) change any loan to another type of loan in accordance with Section 1.2(g) or convert a loan to another type of Accommodation upon the number of days notice specified in Section 1.2(c), (y) in the case of a Canadian Prime Rate Loan or US Base Rate Loan, as of any Business Day, and (z) in the case of a LIBOR Rate Loan, as of the last day of the LIBOR Interest Period applicable to the LIBOR Rate Loan and in a principal amount equal to its equivalent currency amount (as determined by the Administrative Agent as of the date of the Accommodation notice in accordance with the relevant definitions of Equivalent Cdn$ Amount and Equivalent US$ Amount), or (ii) continue any LIBOR Rate Loan for a further LIBOR Interest Period beginning on the last day of the then current LIBOR Interest Period in accordance with Section 1.2(g). No LIBOR Rate Loan may be continued as such upon (i) Availability being less than $100,000,000, (ii) Line Availability being less than $25,000,000 or (iii) the occurrence and continuance of a Default or an Event of Default under this Agreement, but shall be automatically converted to a US Base Rate Loan on the last day of the LIBOR Interest Period during which any such event occurred.

(g) Each election to change from one type of loan to another type of loan or to continue a LIBOR Rate Loan for a further LIBOR Interest Period shall be made on the number of days prior notice specified in Section 1.2(c), given, in each case, not later than 10:30 a.m. (Toronto time) by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent. Each such notice (an "Election Notice") shall be given substantially in the form of Exhibit "E" and shall be irrevocable and binding upon the Borrower. If the Borrower fails to deliver an Election Notice to the Agent for any LIBOR Rate Advance as provided in this Section 1.2(g) the LIBOR Rate Advance shall be converted (as of the last day of the applicable LIBOR Interest Period) to and be outstanding as a US Base Rate Loan. The Borrower shall not select a LIBOR Interest Period which conflicts with the definition of LIBOR Interest Period.

(h) The Administrative Agent shall on any Settlement Date, and upon notice given by the Administrative Agent no later than 12:00 P.M. Toronto time, request each Lender to make, and notwithstanding the occurrence and continuance of a Default or an Event of Default, each Lender hereby agrees to make, a Revolving Loan in an amount equal to such Lender's Revolving Credit Commitment percentage (calculated with respect to the aggregate Revolving Credit Commitments then outstanding) of the aggregate amount of the Revolving Loans made by the Administrative Agent from the preceding Settlement Date to the date of such notice. Each Lender's obligation to make the Revolving Loans and to make the settlements pursuant to this Section 1.2 shall not be affected by any circumstance, including, without limitation, (i) any set-off, counterclaim, recoupment, defence or other right which any such Lender or the Borrower may have against the Administrative Agent, the Borrower, any Lender or any other Person for any reason whatsoever; (ii) any adverse change in the condition (financial or otherwise) of the Borrower; or (iii) any other circumstance, happening or event whatsoever, whether or not similar to any of the foregoing. Without limiting the liability and obligation of each Lender to make such advances, the Borrower authorizes the Administrative Agent to charge the Borrower's Revolving Loan Account to the extent amounts received from the Lenders are not sufficient to repay in full the amount of any such deficiency.

(i) Unless demand is earlier made pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement, the Borrower shall repay, and there shall become due and payable, the Obligations and all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, on the earlier of the Early Termination Date and the Maturity Date.

Section 1.3 Mandatory and Voluntary Prepayments.

(1) Immediately upon receipt by the Borrower of any Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds either directly or in accordance with Section 5.6 in respect of any Disposition or loss, destruction or condemnation, as the case may be, of any ABL Priority Collateral or Term Priority Collateral, the Borrower shall prepay outstanding Accommodations (together with all interest, fees and other amounts owing with respect thereto) in an amount equal to all such proceeds as specified in accordance with Section 5.6. For greater certainty, any amounts so prepaid in accordance with this Section 1.3(1) may be reborrowed and shall not reduce the Commitment (and each Lender's Commitment on a pro rata basis).

(2) If, on any day, the Accommodations outstanding under the Revolving Line of Credit exceed the lesser of (i) the Initial Revolving Credit Amount or the Initial Revolving Credit Amount plus the amount of each Incremental Tranche, as applicable, and (ii) the Borrowing Base (based on the most recently delivered Borrowing Base Certificate and the Equivalent Cdn. $ Amount of the Accommodations outstanding in US Dollars on that day), the Borrower shall on that day (iii) prepay Revolving Loans, or (iv) pay such amount to the Administrative Agent and irrevocably authorize and direct the Administrative Agent to apply such payment to LIBOR Rate Loans or as a repayment of the Borrower's reimbursement obligation in respect of any BA Instruments or issuances of Letter so Credit on the next maturity date; such that the Accommodations outstanding, after giving effect to the payment, do not exceed the lesser of (i) the Initial Revolving Credit Amount or the Initial Revolving Credit Amount plus the amount of each Incremental Tranche, as applicable, and (ii) the Borrowing Base.

(3) If the Borrower has, upon five (5) Business Days' notice, delivered a notice to the Administrative Agent stating the proposed date and aggregate principal amount of any prepayment of Accommodations outstanding or reduction of the Lenders' Commitment, it shall, on that date, pay to the Lenders the amount of the proposed prepayment or the amount, if any, by which the Accommodations outstanding under the Revolving Line of Credit exceed the proposed reduced Commitment, as the case may be. For greater certainty, any such reduction of the Lenders' Commitment after the Effective Date shall be deemed to be an automatic permanent cancellation of any remaining amount of the Lenders' Incremental Revolving Loans Commitment in respect of which an Incremental Revolving Loans Notice has not been issued effective on the proposed date of reduction of the Lenders' Commitments set forth in the notice delivered by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent, and the reduction of such Lenders' Commitments as requested by the Borrower shall apply solely to a reduction of the Lenders' Initial Revolving Loans Commitments and any Lenders' Incremental Revolving Loans Commitments in respect of which an Incremental

Revolving Loans Notice has been given. Each partial prepayment or reduction shall be in an aggregate principal amount of Cdn. $1,000,000 or an integral multiple of such amount in the case of Accommodations denominated in Canadian Dollars, and in an aggregate principal amount of US$1,000,000 or in an integral multiple of such amount in the case of Accommodations denominated in US Dollars. The Borrower shall prepay (i) a LIBOR Rate Loan only on the last day of the LIBOR Interest Period applicable to it, and (ii) the amount of any Drawing only on the maturity date for the relevant BA Instrument.

(4) Nothing in this Section 1.3 shall be construed to constitute the Administrative Agent's or any Lender's consent to any transaction that is not permitted by other provisions of this Agreement or the other Loan Documents.

Section 1.4 Use of Proceeds.

The Borrower shall utilize the proceeds of the Revolving Loans for (i) funding the ordinary course working capital requirements of the Borrower (and the making of any intercompany advances to any of the respective Credit Parties for the same purpose), (ii) Capital Expenditures and Maintenance Capital Expenditures of the Borrower (and the making of any intercompany advances to any of the respective Credit Parties for the same purpose), and (iii) making Investments as permitted under Section 6.2.

Section 1.5 Interest and Applicable Margins.

(1) Interest. The Borrower shall pay interest on the unpaid principal amount of each Revolving Loan from the date of the loan until the principal amount of the Revolving Loan is repaid in full, at the following rates per annum:

(a) if and so long as the loan is a Canadian Prime Rate Loan, at a rate per annum equal at all times to the sum of the Canadian Prime Rate in effect from time to time plus the Applicable Canadian Prime Rate Margin;

(b) if and so long as the loan is a US Base Rate Loan, at a rate per annum equal at all times to the US Base Rate in effect from time to time plus the Applicable US Base Rate Margin; and

(c) if and so long as the loan is a LIBOR Rate Loan, at a rate per annum equal at all times during each LIBOR Interest Period for such LIBOR Rate Loan to the sum of the LIBOR Rate for such LIBOR Interest Period plus the Applicable LIBOR Rate Margin.

(2) Payment of Interest.

(a) Interest on Canadian Prime Rate Loans and US Base Rate Loans shall be calculated and payable in arrears (i) on the first Business Day of each month, and (ii) when the loan becomes due and payable in full, is repaid, or is converted to another type of advance or Accommodation. Interest on LIBOR Rate Loans shall be calculated and payable (iii) on the ninetieth day, if any, of the LIBOR Interest Period, and (iv) on the last day of the LIBOR Interest Period.

(b) The Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders shall be entitled to charge the Borrower's Revolving Loan Account for any and all Canadian and United States dollar fees, costs and expenses incurred by the Administrative Agent and permitted to be charged by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders under this Agreement at the rate provided for herein for Canadian Prime Rate Loans, US Base Rate Loans and LIBOR Rate Loans, as the case may be, when due until all such Obligations have been indefeasibly paid in full.

(3) Applicable Margins. So long as any Obligations remain outstanding, the Applicable Margins are as follows:

Pricing Level	Average Daily Line Availability for the previous month	Applicable Cdn Prime Rate Margin/Applicable US Base Rate Margin	Applicable Drawing Fee/Applicable Letter of Credit Fee	Applicable LIBOR Rate Margin
I	≥$450	0.00%	1.25%	1.25%
II	≥$300 and <$450	0.00%	1.50%	1.50%
III	≥$150 and <$300	0.25%	2.00%	2.00%
IV	<$150	0.50%	2.25%	2.25%

(4) Extension to Next Business Day. If any payment on any Revolving Loan becomes due and payable on a day other than a Business Day, the maturity thereof will be extended to the next succeeding Business Day and, with respect to payments of principal, interest thereon shall be payable at the then applicable rate during such extension.

(5) Calculation of Rates. All computations of Fees and interest in this Agreement and any other Loan Document calculated on a per annum basis shall be made by the Administrative Agent on the basis of a calendar year of 360 days (if based on the LIBOR Rate) or 365 or 366 days (if based on the Canadian Prime Rate or the US Base Rate), in each case for the actual number of days occurring in the period for which such interest and Fees are payable. Each determination by the Administrative Agent of an interest rate and Fees hereunder shall be final, binding and conclusive on the Borrower, absent manifest error.

(6) Default Rate of Interest. Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Applicable Margins, otherwise applicable, shall be increased by two percentage points (2%) each ("Default Rate of Interest"). Interest and fees on all Obligations at the Default Rate of Interest shall accrue from the initial date of such Event of Default until that Event of Default is cured or waived and shall be payable upon demand.

(7) Limitation on Interest. If any provision of this Agreement or of any of the other Loan Documents would obligate any Credit Party to make any payment of interest with respect to the Obligations or other amount payable to any Lender in an amount or calculated at a rate which would be prohibited by law or would result in a receipt by that Lender of "interest" with respect to the Obligations at a "criminal rate" (as such terms are construed under the Criminal Code (Canada)) then, notwithstanding such provision, such amount or rates shall be deemed to have been adjusted with retroactive effect to the maximum amount or rate of interest, as the case may be, as would not be so prohibited by law or so result in a receipt by that Lender of interest with respect to the Obligations at a criminal rate, such adjustment to be effected, to the extent necessary, as follows: (i) first, by reducing the amount or rates of interest required to be paid to the affected Lender under this Section 1.5; and (ii) thereafter, by reducing any charges, fees, commissions, expenses, premiums and other amounts required to be paid to the affected Lender which would constitute "interest" with respect to the Obligations for purposes of Section 347 of the Criminal Code (Canada). Notwithstanding the foregoing, and after giving effect to all adjustments contemplated thereby, if any Lender shall have received an amount in excess of the maximum permitted by that section of the Criminal Code (Canada), then the Borrower shall be entitled, by notice in writing to the affected Lender, to obtain reimbursement from that Lender in an amount equal to such excess, and pending such reimbursement, such amount shall be deemed to be an amount payable by that Lender to Borrower. Any amount or rate of interest on the Obligations referred to in this Section 1.5(7) shall be determined in accordance with generally accepted actuarial practices and principles as an effective annual rate of interest over the term that the Loan remains outstanding on the assumption that any charges, fees, commissions, expenses, premiums and other amounts that fall within the meaning of "interest" (as defined in the Criminal Code (Canada)) shall, if they relate to a specific period of time, be pro-rated over that period of time and otherwise be pro-rated over the period from the Closing Date to the Termination Date and, in the event of a dispute, a certificate of a Fellow of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries appointed by the Administrative Agent shall be conclusive for the purposes of such determination.

(8) Interest Act* (Canada). For purposes of the Interest Act (Canada), (i) the annual rates of interest or fees to which the rates of interest or fees provided in this Agreement and the other Loan Documents (and stated herein or therein, as applicable, to be computed on the basis of a calendar year of 360, 365 or 366 days, as applicable), are equivalent are the rates so determined multiplied by the actual number of days in the applicable calendar year and divided by 360, 365 or 366, as applicable, (ii) the principal of deemed reinvestment of interest shall not apply to any interest calculation under this Agreement; and (iii) the rates of interest stipulated in this Agreement are intended to be nominal rates and not effective rates or yields.

Section 1.6 Bankers' Acceptances.

(1) Each Lender severally agrees, on the terms and conditions of this Agreement and from time to time on any Business Day prior to the Maturity Date (i) in the case of a Lender which is willing and able to accept Drafts, to create acceptances ("Bankers' Acceptances") by accepting Drafts and to purchase such Bankers' Acceptances in accordance with Section 1.6(6), and (ii) in the case of a Lender which is unwilling or unable to accept Drafts, to purchase completed Drafts (which have not and will not be accepted by the Lender or any other Lender) in accordance Section 1.6(6).

(2) Each Drawing shall be in a minimum Face Amount of $1,000,000 and in an integral multiple of $100,000, and shall consist of the creation and purchase of Bankers' Acceptances or the purchase of Drafts on the same day, in each case for the Drawing Price, effected or arranged by the Lenders in accordance with this Section 1.6 and their respective Lender's Commitment.

(3) If the Administrative Agent determines that the Bankers' Acceptances to be created and purchased or Drafts to be purchased on any Drawing (upon a conversion or otherwise) will not be created and purchased rateably by the Lenders in accordance with Section 1.6(6) and this Section 1.6(3), then the requested Face Amount of Bankers' Acceptances and Drafts shall be reduced to such lesser amount as the Administrative Agent determines will permit rateable sharing and the amount by which the requested Face Amount shall have been so reduced shall be converted or continued, as the case may be, as a Canadian Prime Rate Loan to be made contemporaneously with the Drawing.

(4) Each Draft presented by the Borrower shall (i) be in a minimum amount of $1,000,000 and in an integral multiple of $100,000, (ii) be dated the date of the Drawing, and (iii) mature and be payable by the Borrower (in common with all other Drafts presented in connection with such Drawing) on a Business Day which occurs approximately 30, 60, 90 or 180 days at the election of the Borrower after the Drawing Date and on or prior to the Maturity Date.

(5) Each Drawing shall be made on notice (a "Drawing Notice") given by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent not later than 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) on two (2) Business Days' notice. Each Drawing Notice shall be in substantially the form of Exhibit "F" shall be irrevocable and binding on the Borrower and shall specify (i) the Drawing Date, (ii) the aggregate Face Amount of Drafts to be accepted and purchased (or purchased, as the case may be), and (iii) the contract maturity date for the Drafts.

(6) Not later than 2:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on an applicable Drawing Date, each Lender shall complete one or more Drafts in accordance with the Drawing Notice and either (i) accept the Drafts and purchase the Bankers' Acceptances so created for the Drawing Price, or (ii) purchase (or arrange to have purchased) the Drafts for the Drawing Price. In each case, upon receipt of the Drawing Price and upon fulfilment of the applicable conditions set forth in Article 2, the Administrative Agent shall make funds available to the Borrower in accordance with Section 1.2.

(7) The Borrower shall, at the request of the Lender, issue one or more non-interest bearing promissory notes (each a "BA Equivalent Note") payable on the date of maturity of any unaccepted Draft which the Lender has purchased or has arranged to have purchased in accordance with Section 1.6(6), in such form as the Lender may specify and in a principal amount equal to the Face Amount of, and in exchange for, any such unaccepted Drafts.

(8) Bankers' Acceptances purchased by the Lender may be held by it for its own account until the contract maturity date or sold by it at any time prior to that date in any relevant Canadian market in such Person's sole discretion.

(9) To enable the Lenders to create Bankers' Acceptances or complete Drafts in the manner specified in this Section 1.6, the Borrower shall supply each Lender with such number of Drafts as it may reasonably request, duly endorsed and executed on behalf of the Borrower. Each Lender will exercise such care in the custody and safekeeping of Drafts as it would exercise in the custody and safekeeping of similar property owned by it and will, upon request by the Borrower, promptly advise the Borrower of the number and designations, if any, of uncompleted Drafts held by it for the Borrower. The signature of any officer of the Borrower on a Draft may be mechanically reproduced and BA Instruments bearing facsimile signature shall be binding upon the Borrower as if they had been manually signed. Even if the individuals whose manual or facsimile signature appears on any BA Instrument no longer hold office at the date of signature, at the date of its acceptance by the Lender or at any time after such date, any BA Instrument so signed shall be valid and binding upon the Borrower.

(10) Upon the maturity of a BA Instrument, the Borrower may (i) elect to issue a replacement BA Instrument by giving a Drawing Notice in accordance with Section 1.6(5), (ii) elect to have all or a portion of the Face Amount of the BA Instrument converted to an advance by giving a Borrowing Notice in accordance with Section 1.2, or (iii) pay, on or before 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) on the maturity date for the BA Instrument, an amount in Canadian Dollars equal to the Face Amount of the BA Instrument (notwithstanding that the Lender may be the holder of it at maturity). Any such payment shall satisfy the Borrower's obligations under the BA Instrument to which it relates and the relevant Lender shall then be solely responsible for the payment of the BA Instrument.

(11) If the Borrower fails to pay any BA Instrument when due or issue a replacement BA Instrument in the Face Amount of such BA Instrument pursuant to Section 1.6(10), the unpaid amount due and payable shall be converted to a Canadian Prime Rate Loan made by the Lenders and shall bear interest calculated and payable as provided in Section 1.5. This conversion shall occur as of the due date and without any necessity for the Borrower to give a Borrowing Notice. In addition, upon Availability being less than $100,000,000 or Line Availability being less than $25,000,000, or upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, any and all maturing BA Instruments shall be deemed to have been and shall be converted on their maturity date into a Canadian Prime Rate Loan in an amount equal to the face amount of such BA Instruments. A payment of and issue of BA Instruments on the same date having the same aggregate Face Amount and where the proceeds of such issue are intended to be used for such payment under this Section 1.6 shall be deemed not to constitute a repayment of any advance or a new advance of funds.

(12) If, by reason of circumstances affecting the money market generally, there is no market for Bankers' Acceptances (i) the right of the Borrower to request a Drawing shall be suspended until the circumstances causing a suspension no longer exist, and (ii) any Drawing Notice which is outstanding shall be deemed to be a Borrowing Notice requesting a borrowing comprised of Canadian Prime Rate Loans.

(13) The Administrative Agent shall promptly notify the Borrower of the suspension of the Borrower's right to request a Drawing and of the termination of any suspension.

Section 1.7 Letters of Credit

In order to assist the Borrower in establishing or opening Letters of Credit with an Issuing Bank, the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, has agreed at the request of the Borrower to join in the applications for such Letters of Credit in order to lend the Administrative Agent's credit to the Borrower, subject to the following terms and conditions set forth below:

(1) Subject to the Revolving Line of Credit, the Initial Revolving Credit Amount, the Incremental Revolving Credit Amount, Line Availability, Availability and the Letter of Credit Sub-Line, the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders, shall assist the Borrower in obtaining Letter(s) of Credit provided that (i) no Default or Event of Default exists hereunder or would result from the issuance of such Letter of Credit, (ii) such Letter(s) of Credit shall not have an expiration date subsequent to any applicable Maturity Date, and (iii) the term, form and purpose of each Letter of Credit and all documentation in connection therewith, and any amendments, modifications or extensions thereof, shall be acceptable to the Administrative Agent;

(2) The Administrative Agent shall have the right, without notice to the Borrower, to charge the Borrower's Revolving Loan Account with the amount of all indebtedness, liability or obligation of any kind incurred by the Administrative Agent and/or the Lenders under each Letter of Credit at the earlier of (a) payment by the Administrative Agent under such Letter of Credit, or (b) upon the occurrence of an Event of Default which is continuing. Any amount charged to the Borrower's Revolving Loan Account shall be deemed a Revolving Loan hereunder and shall incur interest at a rate based upon the Canadian Prime Rate or US Base Rate, as applicable;

(3) The Borrower hereby indemnifies the Administrative Agent and the Lenders and their respective officers, directors, agents, representatives, advisors and employees and holds each of them harmless from and against any and all damages, penalties, charges, costs, expenses, losses, claims, actions, proceedings, obligations, demands or liabilities incurred by any of them arising from any transactions or occurrences relating to Letters of Credit established or opened for the Borrower's account, the collateral relating thereto, any drafts or acceptances thereunder, and all obligations thereunder, including, without limitation, any such loss, claim, damages, penalties, costs, expenses, actions, proceedings, obligations, demands or liabilities due to any errors, omissions, negligence, misconduct or action taken by any Issuing Bank, other than for any such loss, claim or liability arising out of the gross negligence or wilful misconduct by any of them; and

(4) The Borrower agrees that, absent gross negligence or wilful misconduct, any action taken by the Administrative Agent or the Lenders, if taken in good faith, or any action taken by any Issuing Bank, under or in connection with any Letters of Credit, shall be binding on the Borrower and shall not result in any liability whatsoever of the Administrative Agent or the Lenders to the Borrower.

(5) Without limiting the foregoing, the Borrower's obligations with respect to Letters of Credit under this Section 1.7 and the Administrative Agent's right to charge the Revolving Loan Account under Section 1.7(2), shall be absolute, unconditional and irrevocable under any and all circumstances whatsoever and irrespective of (i) any lack of validity or enforceability of any Letter of Credit or this Agreement, or any term or provision therein or herein, (ii) any draft or other document presented under a Letter of Credit proving to be forged, fraudulent or invalid in any respect or any statement therein being untrue or inaccurate in any respect, (iii) payment by the Issuing Bank under a Letter of Credit against presentation of a draft or other document that does not comply with the terms of such Letter of Credit, or (iv) any other event or circumstance whatsoever, whether or not similar to any of the foregoing, that might, but for the provisions of this Section 1.7(5), constitute a legal or equitable discharge of, or provide a right of set-off against, the Borrower's obligations hereunder. Neither the Administrative Agent, the Lenders nor the Issuing Bank, nor any of their Affiliates, shall have any liability or responsibility by reason of or in connection with the issuance or transfer of any Letter of Credit or any payment or failure to make any payment thereunder (irrespective of any of the circumstances referred to in the preceding sentence), or any error, omission, interruption, loss or delay in transmission or delivery of any draft, notice or other communication under or relating to any Letter of Credit (including any document required to make a drawing thereunder), any error in interpretation of technical terms or any consequence arising from causes beyond the control of the Issuing Bank; provided that the foregoing provisions of this subsection (5) shall not be construed to excuse the Issuing Bank from liability to the Borrower to the extent of any direct damages (as opposed to consequential damages, claims in respect of which are hereby waived by the Borrower to the extent permitted by applicable Law) suffered by the Borrower that are caused by the Issuing Bank's failure to exercise care when determining whether drafts and other documents presented under a Letter of Credit comply with the terms thereof. The parties hereto expressly agree that, in the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on the part of the Issuing Bank (as finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction), the Issuing Bank shall be deemed to have exercised care in each such determination. In furtherance of the foregoing and without limiting the generality thereof, the parties agree that, with respect to documents presented which appear on their face to be in substantial compliance with the terms of a Letter of Credit, the Issuing Bank may, in its sole discretion, either accept and make payment upon such documents without responsibility for further investigation, regardless of any notice or information to the contrary, or refuse to accept and make payment upon such documents if such documents are not in strict compliance with the terms of such Letter of Credit.

Section 1.8 Circumstances Requiring Prime Rate Pricing.

(1) If, at any time during the term of this Agreement, a Lender acting in good faith determines (which determination shall be final, conclusive and binding upon the Borrower) that:

(a) adequate and fair means do not exist for ascertaining the rate of interest on a LIBOR Rate Loan;

(b) the LIBOR Rate does not accurately reflect the effective cost to the Lender of making, funding or maintaining a LIBOR Rate Loan and the costs to the Lender are increased or the income receivable by the Lender is reduced in respect of a LIBOR Rate Loan;

(c) the making, funding or maintaining of a LIBOR Rate Loan or a portion thereof by the Lender has become impracticable by reason of circumstances which materially and adversely affect the London interbank market; or

(d) deposits of US Dollars are not available to the Lender in the London interbank market in sufficient amounts in the ordinary course of business for the applicable Lender to make, fund or maintain a LIBOR Rate Loan during the LIBOR Interest Rate Period;

the Lender shall promptly notify the Borrower and the Administrative Agent setting forth the basis of that determination and the Borrower hereby instructs the Lender with notification to the Administrative Agent to repay the affected LIBOR Rate Loan with the proceeds of a US Base Rate Loan in the amount of the LIBOR Rate Loan, to be drawn down on the date of such repayment. The Lender shall not be required to make any further LIBOR Rate Loan available under this Agreement so long as any of the circumstances referred to in this Section 1.8(1) continue.

(2) If (i) by reason of circumstances affecting financial markets generally, deposits of US Dollars are unavailable to the Lenders in Canada, (ii) adequate and fair means do not exist for ascertaining the applicable interest rate on the basis provided in the definition of LIBOR Rate or US Base Rate, as the case may be, (iii) the making or continuation of any US Dollar loans has been made impracticable or unlawful (y) by the occurrence of a contingency (other than a mere increase in rates payable by the Lender to fund the Revolving Loans) and which materially adversely affects the funding of the Revolving Loans at any interest rate computed on the basis of the LIBOR Rate or the US Base Rate, as the case may be, or (z) by reason of a change since the date of this Agreement in any applicable law, order, treaty or official direction, or in the interpretation thereof by any Governmental Entity (whether or not having the force of law but, if not having the force of law, one with which a responsible Canadian chartered bank would comply) affecting financial markets or institutions generally and which results in the LIBOR Rate or the US Base Rate, as the case may be, no longer representing the effective cost to the Lenders of deposits in the market, then:

(a) the right of the Borrower to select any affected type of Revolving Loan shall be suspended until the circumstances causing the suspension no longer exist and the Administrative Agent so notifies the Borrower;

(b) if any affected Revolving Loan is not yet outstanding, any applicable Accommodation notice shall be cancelled and the requested loan shall not be made;

(c) if a LIBOR Rate Loan is already outstanding at any time when the right of the Borrower to select LIBOR Rate Loans is suspended, it and all other LIBOR Rate Loans in the same borrowing shall become US Base Rate Loans on the last day of the then current LIBOR Interest Period (or on such earlier date as may be required to comply with any applicable law, rule, regulation, judgment or order) or, if the Borrower does not have the right to select US Base Rate Loans at such time, the LIBOR Rate Loan shall become a Canadian Prime Rate Loan on the last day of the then current LIBOR Interest Period applicable to it (or on such earlier date as may be required to comply with any applicable law, rule, regulation, judgment or order) in a principal amount equal to the Equivalent Cdn. $ Amount of the LIBOR Rate Loan determined on the date on which the loan becomes denominated in Canadian Dollars; and

(d) if any US Dollar loan is already outstanding at any time when the right of the Borrower to select US Dollar loans is suspended, it and all other US Dollar Loans included in the same borrowing shall become Canadian Prime Rate Loans (i) in the case of a LIBOR Rate Loan, on the last day of the then current LIBOR Interest Period (or on such earlier date as may be required to comply with any applicable law, rule or regulation), and (ii) in the case of a US Base Rate Loan, immediately, in a principal amount equal, in each case, to the Equivalent Cdn. $ Amount of the related US Dollar loan determined on the date on which the loan becomes denominated in Canadian Dollars.

Section 1.9 Fees.

(1) The Borrower shall pay to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, as applicable, the various fees set forth in the Fee Letter and in accordance with the terms thereof.

(2) In consideration of the execution and delivery of this Agreement and effecting the amendments to the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement as contemplated hereby, the Borrower shall pay to the Administrative Agent, for the rateable benefit of the Lenders, on the Effective Date, an amendment fee equal to 0.20% of the Lenders' aggregate Commitments hereunder (including for greater certainty, the Incremental Revolving Loans Commitment (whether or not any Incremental Revolving Loans Notice has been delivered by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent hereunder)).

(3) As additional compensation for the Lenders, the Borrower shall pay to the Administrative Agent, for the rateable benefit of the Lenders, in arrears, on the first Business Day of each month prior to the Maturity Date, and on the Early Termination Date, a Fee for the Borrower's non-use of funds available under the Revolving Line of Credit (the "Standby Fee") in an amount equal to the Applicable Unused Facility Fee Margin per annum, calculated on the basis of a 365-day or 366-day year, as applicable, for actual days elapsed and on the average amount of the unused daily closing balance of the Revolving Line of Credit during the month for which such Fee is due.

(4) In consideration of the Administrative Agent's assistance with the issuance of Letters of Credit, the Borrower shall pay the Administrative Agent:

(a) on behalf of the Lenders, the Applicable Letter of Credit Fee;

(b) a fronting fee equal to the greater of Cdn$500 per annum (payable upon the issuance of each such Letter of Credit) and 0.25% per annum payable monthly, in arrears, on the face amount of each Letter of Credit issued and outstanding, which shall be retained by the Issuing Bank; and

(c) customary drawing and administration fees charged by each Issuing Bank.

(5) Each Fee payable hereunder shall be deemed to be fully-earned and payable when due, and any amount so paid shall be non-refundable.

(6) The Borrower shall pay to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders upon request all Out-of-Pocket Expenses (including all reasonable legal, environmental, appraisal and valuation and other consultant costs and fees) incurred in connection with the transactions contemplated in this Agreement.

(7) The Borrower shall pay to the Administrative Agent the Administrative Agent's standard charges, fees, costs and expenses for the personnel used by the Administrative Agent for conducting its field examinations and audits and for protecting, safeguarding, preserving or disposing of all or any part of the Collateral and enforcing any of its rights hereunder or under any other Loan Document (which fees shall be in addition to any fee set forth in the Fee Letter) and any Out-of Pocket Expenses) as incurred by the Administrative Agent.

Section 1.10 Payments.

The Borrower hereby authorizes the Administrative Agent to charge the Revolving Loan Account with the amount of all payments due hereunder (including Out-of-Pocket Expenses) as such payments become due. The Borrower confirms that any charges which the Administrative Agent may so make to the Revolving Loan Account as herein provided will be made as an Accommodation to the Borrower.

Section 1.11 Application and Allocation of Payments.

So long as no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, all payments shall be applied as follows: first, to Fees and reimbursable expenses of the Agents and the Lenders then due and payable pursuant to any of the Loan Documents; second, to interest then due and payable on the Revolving Loans; and third, to the principal balance of the Revolving Loans until the same has become paid in full. All payments applied to the Revolving Loans shall be applied rateably to the portion thereof held by each Lender as determined by its Pro Rata Share. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement or any other Loan Document to the contrary, as to any other payment and as to all payments made when an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Borrower hereby irrevocably waives the right to direct the application of any and all payments received from or on behalf of the Borrower, and all parties hereby irrevocably agree that the Administrative Agent shall have the continuing exclusive right to apply any and all such payments to the Obligations as the Administrative Agent may deem advisable notwithstanding any previous entry made by the Administrative Agent in the Revolving Loan Account or any other books and records (it being acknowledged by all parties that Obligations in respect of Bank Products shall not be applied before or concurrently with Obligations in respect of Revolving Loans).

Section 1.12 Revolving Loan Account and Accounting.

(1) The Administrative Agent shall maintain a Revolving Loan Account on its books in which the Borrower will be charged with all loans and advances made by the Administrative Agent and the Lenders to it or for its account, and with any other Obligations, including, without limitation, any and all costs, expenses and reasonable counsel fees which the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or the Lenders may incur on the Lenders' behalf in connection with the exercise by or for the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or the Lenders of any of the rights or powers herein conferred or in any other Loan Document upon the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or the Lenders, or in the prosecution or defence of any action or proceeding to enforce or protect any rights of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or the Lenders in connection with this Agreement, the other Loan Documents or the Collateral, or any Obligations owing by the Borrower. The Borrower will be credited with all amounts received by the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and/or the Lenders from the Borrower or from others for the Borrower's account, including, without limitation, as above set forth, all amounts received by the Administrative Agent in payment of Accounts, and such amounts will be applied to payment of the Obligations as set forth herein. In no event shall prior recourse to any Accounts or other security granted to or by the Borrower be a prerequisite to the Administrative Agent's right to demand payment of any Obligation. Further, it is understood that the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and/or the Lenders shall have no obligation whatsoever to perform in any respect any of the Borrower's contracts or obligations relating to the Accounts.

(2) After the end of each month, the Administrative Agent shall promptly send the Borrower a statement showing the accounting for the charges, loans, advances and other transactions occurring between the Administrative Agent (on behalf of the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders) and the Borrower during that month. The monthly statements shall constitute an account stated between the Borrower and the Administrative Agent and shall be deemed correct and binding on the Borrower unless the Administrative Agent receives a written statement of the exceptions within thirty (30) days of the receipt of the monthly statement by the Borrower.

Section 1.13 Sundry Credit Facilities.

(1) The Borrower may from time to time, by written notice to the Administrative Agent, request (and the Administrative Agent shall use its best efforts to do so upon receipt of such request, provided that such efforts shall not require the Administrative Agent to incur additional liabilities, obligations or costs to effect such arrangements, other than as contemplated under Section 1.13(3) with respect to the granting of an indemnity in favour of the financial institution providing the Sundry Credit Facilities) that the Administrative Agent arrange for a financial institution to provide Sundry Credit Facilities to the Borrower. The aggregate outstanding amount in respect of all Sundry Credit Facilities shall not exceed at any time the Sundry Credit Facility Limit. Upon the establishment of any Sundry Credit Facility, the amount of the Sundry Credit Facility Limit shall be deemed to be outstanding and to constitute and form part of the Obligations in the same manner as all other Obligations of the Borrower under this Agreement, and be secured by the Loan Documents and availability under CIT's Commitment shall be reduced by such amount. The parties acknowledge as of the date hereof such Sundry Credit Facilities have been established pursuant to the TD Banking Services Agreement.

(2) Any obligation of the Administrative Agent to arrange for a financial institution to establish any Sundry Credit Facility shall terminate upon (i) Availability being less than $100,000,000, (ii) Line Availability being less than $25,000,000, or (iii) the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, or (iii) five (5) Business Days prior written notice by the Administrative Agent to the Borrower. For greater certainty, in the event of such termination of any such obligation, availability under CIT's Commitment shall thereafter be increased by the amount by which it was formerly reduced pursuant to Section 1.13(1) as a result of the establishment of the Sundry Credit Facilities.

(3) In connection with the establishment of the Sundry Credit Facilities, CIT as lender shall, if required by the financial institution(s) providing the Sundry Credit Facilities, provide such financial institution(s) with an indemnity (the "Sundry Credit Facility Indemnity") which shall be in form and substance satisfactory to CIT and such financial institution(s) for all indebtedness, liabilities, obligations, damages or other claims that such financial institution(s) may suffer or incur in connection with or arising out of the provision of the Sundry Credit Facilities, up to a maximum aggregate amount not exceeding the Sundry Credit Facility Limit (the "Indemnity Amount"). Without duplication to the reduction of availability under CIT's aggregate Commitment as contemplated in Section 1.13(1), the Indemnity Amount shall be deemed to constitute and form part of CIT's Commitment and to be outstanding and to constitute and form part of the Obligations in the same manner as all other Obligations of the Borrower under this Agreement, and CIT's obligations thereunder shall be secured by the Loan Documents.

Section 1.14 Blocked Accounts.

The Borrower shall continue to maintain and cause each of the other Blocked Account Credit Parties which maintains a deposit account to maintain, in its name and at its expense, the Blocked Accounts. The Borrower shall cause to be deposited and cause the Restricted Subsidiaries (as applicable) to cause to be deposited into such Blocked Accounts: (i) all proceeds of Collateral received by the Borrower or such Restricted Subsidiary, (ii), all amounts payable to the Borrower or any Canadian Credit Party from credit card issuers and credit card processors, and (iii) all amounts on deposit in deposit accounts used by the Borrower or any Canadian Credit Party at each of its locations. At any time upon (i) Line Availability being less than $75,000,000, or (ii) the occurrence of an Event of Default, the Administrative Agent may provide a Block Notice (as defined in, and pursuant to, a Blocked Account Agreement) or similar notice and upon the issuance of such notice, the depository banks at which the Blocked Accounts are maintained shall transfer all funds received or deposited into the Blocked Accounts to the Depository Accounts. For greater certainty, any such Block Notice or similar notice once issued shall only be withdrawn at the sole option and sole discretion of the Co-Collateral Agents. The Borrower hereby confirms and agrees that all amounts deposited in such Blocked Accounts and any other funds received and collected by the Administrative Agent, whether as proceeds of Inventory or Other Collateral or otherwise, shall be the property of the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders.

Section 1.15 Indemnity.

(1) The Borrower shall indemnify and hold harmless each Agent and each of the Lenders and their respective Affiliates, and each such Person's respective officers, directors, employees, attorneys, agents and representatives (each, an "Indemnified Person"), from and against any and all suits, actions, proceedings, demands, obligations, claims, damages, losses, disbursements, liabilities, penalties, costs and expenses (including, but not limited to (i) all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by each Agent and the Lenders, including the reasonable fees, charges and disbursements of counsel for each Agent and the Lenders in connection with the syndication of the credit facility provided for herein and the preparation and administration of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents), (ii) all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by each Agent and the Lenders, including the reasonable fees, charges and disbursements of counsel for each Agent and the Lenders in connection with any amendments, modifications or waivers of the provisions of this Agreement or of any of the other Loan Documents (whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby shall be consummated), and (iii) all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by each Agent or any Lender, including the reasonable fees, charges and disbursements of any counsel for each Agent or any Lender in connection with the enforcement or protection of their rights in connection with this Agreement, including its rights under this Section, or in connection with the Accommodations made hereunder, including all such out-of-pocket expenses incurred during any workout, restructuring or other similar negotiations in respect of such Accommodations and the reasonable fees of any financial advisors to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, or any successor or replacement financial advisors) of any kind that may be incurred by or asserted against any such Indemnified Person (including, without limitation, any payments made by the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or any Lender pursuant to any indemnity provided by any such Person) in connection with or arising out of the transactions contemplated under this Agreement, the other Loan Documents, or any commitment relating thereto, any other related financing documentation, including without limitation (a) the Depository Account, the Blocked Accounts, any depository account or any other Bank Account and/or any and all agreements executed in connection with the foregoing; (b) the issuance of any Letters of Credit; (c) the establishment of any Sundry Credit Facilities and any indemnity (including, the Sundry Credit Facility Indemnity) issued by the Administrative Agent or any Lender in connection with the Sundry Credit Facilities; and (d) disputes or Environmental Liabilities or any related investigation, litigation or proceeding (collectively, "Indemnified Liabilities"); provided, that the Borrower shall not be liable for any indemnification to any Indemnified Person to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction has determined, by a final and non-appealable judgment, that any such suit, action, proceeding, claim, damage, loss, liability or expense results directly from such Indemnified Person's gross negligence or wilful misconduct. Under no circumstances shall any Indemnified Person be responsible or liable to any other party to any loan document, any successor, assignee or third party beneficiary of such person or any other person asserting claims derivatively through such party, for indirect, punitive, exemplary or consequential damages which may be alleged in connection with the transactions contemplated under this Agreement, any other Loan Documents, or any commitment relating thereto, the documents related thereto, or any other financing, irrespective of whether or not such transactions are so consummated.

(2) The Borrower shall pay to each Lender on demand any amounts required to compensate the Lender for any loss suffered or incurred by it as a result of (i) any payment being made in respect of a BA Instrument, Letter of Credit or Accommodation, other than on the maturity or expiration or on the last day of an LIBOR Interest Period applicable to it, (ii) the failure of the Borrower to give any notice in the manner and at the times required by this Agreement, (iii) the failure of the Borrower to effect an Accommodation in the manner and at the time specified in any Accommodation Notice, or (iv) the failure of the Borrower to make a payment or a mandatory repayment in the manner and at the time specified in this Agreement. A certificate as to the amount of any loss submitted in good faith by the Lender to the Borrower shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes, absent manifest error.

(3) The Borrower acknowledges that neither its obligation to indemnify nor any actual indemnification by it of the Lender, the Administrative Agent or any other Indemnified Person in respect of such Person's losses for legal fees and expenses shall in any way affect the confidentiality or privilege relating to any information communicated by such Person to its counsel.

Section 1.16 Taxes.

(1) Subject to Section 1.16(6), all payments to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders by the Borrower under any of the Loan Documents shall be made free and clear of and without deduction or withholding for any and all present and future taxes, duties, levies, interest, assessments, imposts, deductions, charges or withholdings and all related liabilities (but excluding taxes imposed on or measured by the net income or capital of the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender) (all such included taxes, duties, levies, imposts, interest, assessments, deductions, charges, withholdings and liabilities being referred to as "Withholding Taxes"), unless such Withholding Taxes are required by applicable law to be deducted or withheld. If the Borrower shall be required by applicable law to deduct or withhold any such Withholding Taxes from or in respect of any amount payable under any of the Loan Documents (i) the amount payable shall be increased (and for greater certainty, in the case of interest, the amount of interest shall be increased) as may be necessary so that after making all required deductions or withholdings (including deductions or withholdings applicable to any additional amounts paid under this Section 1.16(1)), the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders receive an amount equal to the amount they would have received if no such deduction or withholding had been made, (ii) the Borrower shall make such deductions or withholdings, and (iii) the Borrower shall immediately pay the full amount deducted or withheld to the relevant Governmental Entity in accordance with applicable law.

(2) Subject to Section 1.16(6), the Borrower also agrees to immediately pay any present or future stamp or documentary taxes or any other excise or property taxes, charges, financial institutions duties, debits taxes or similar levies (all such taxes, charges, duties and levies being referred to as "Other Taxes") which arise from any payment made by the Borrower under any of the Loan Documents or from the execution, delivery or registration of, or otherwise with respect to, any of the Loan Documents.

(3) Subject to Section 1.16(6), the Borrower shall also indemnify the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders on an after tax basis (taking into account any taxes on the net income of the entity so indemnified) for the full amount of Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes (including, without limitation, any Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes imposed by any jurisdiction on amounts payable by the Borrower under this Section 1.16) paid by the Administrative Agent or the relevant Co-Collateral Agent or Lender and any liability (including penalties, interest and expenses) arising from or with respect to such Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes, whether or not they were correctly or legally asserted. Payment under this indemnification shall be made within 30 days from the date the Administrative Agent or the relevant Co-Collateral Agent or Lender, as the case may be, make written demand for it. A certificate as to the amount of such Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes submitted to the Borrower by the Administrative Agent or the relevant Co-Collateral Agent or Lender shall be conclusive evidence, absent manifest error, of the amount due from the Borrower to the Administrative Agent or the relevant Co-Collateral Agent or Lender, as the case may be.

(4) The Borrower shall furnish to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders the original or a certified copy of a receipt evidencing payment of Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes made by the Borrower within 30 days after the date of any payment of such Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes.

(5) If, following the imposition of any Withholding Taxes or Other Taxes on any payment by the Borrower to any Lender in respect of which the Borrower is required to make an additional payment pursuant to this Section 1.16, any Lender receives or is granted a credit against or remission for or deduction from or in respect of any taxes paid by it or shall obtain any other relief which, in such Lender's opinion, is both reasonably identifiable and quantifiable by it without involving it in an unacceptable administrative burden (any of the foregoing being a "saving"), such Lender will reimburse the Borrower with such amount as such Lender shall have concluded, in its absolute discretion but in good faith, to be the amount or value of the relevant saving. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with the right of any Lender to arrange its affairs in whatever manner it thinks fit and, in particular, no Lender shall be under any obligation to claim relief for tax purposes on its corporate profits or otherwise, or to claim such relief in priority to any other claims, relief, credits or deductions available to it or to disclose details of its affairs. The relevant Lender will notify the Borrower promptly of the receipt by such Lender of any such saving and of such Lender's opinion as to the amount or value thereof, and any reimbursement to be made by such Lender will be made promptly on the date of receipt of such saving by such Lender or, if later, on the last date on which the applicable taxation authority would be able in accordance with applicable Law to reclaim or reduce such saving.

(6) Each Lender shall promptly notify the Borrower in writing if it ceases to be a Canadian Resident Lender and, subject to Section 1.17, the Borrower shall not be required to pay any additional amounts or indemnify the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or the Lenders pursuant to this Section 1.16 in respect of deductions or withholdings on account of any applicable Canadian withholding tax under Part XIII of the ITA or other Taxes to any Person who is not a Canadian Resident Lender; provided that this Section 1.16(6) shall not apply in respect of any deductions or withholdings which become exigible as a result of an assignment by a Canadian Resident Lender to a Foreign Lender of some or all of its Commitments or Accommodations hereunder at any time after the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default.

(7) GE Canada Finance Holding Company represents and warrants to the Borrower that as of the Effective Date it is a Canadian Resident Lender.

Section 1.17 Capital Adequacy; Increased Costs; Illegality.

If, with respect to any Lender, (i) any change in any law, rule, regulation, judgment or order of general application, or any change in the interpretation or application of such law, rule, regulation, judgment or order, occurring or becoming effective after this date, or (ii) compliance by any Lender with any direction, request or requirement (whether or not having the force of law) of any Governmental Entity made or becoming effective after the date, has the effect of causing any loss to such Lender or reducing such Lender's rate of return by (w) increasing the cost to the Lender of performing its obligations under this Agreement or in respect of any Accommodations outstanding (including the costs of maintaining any capital, reserve or special deposit requirements but other than a reduction resulting from a higher rate or from a change in the calculation of income or capital tax relating to its income or capital in general), (x) requiring such Lender to maintain or allocate any capital or additional capital or affecting its allocation of capital in respect of its obligations under this Agreement or in respect of any Accommodations outstanding, (y) reducing any amount payable to it under this Agreement or in respect of any Accommodations outstanding by any material amount, (z) causing such Lender to make any payment or to forego any return on, or calculated by reference to, any amount received or receivable by it under this Agreement or in respect of any Accommodations outstanding, then such Lender may give notice to the Borrower specifying the nature of the event giving rise to the loss and the Borrower may either, (i) on demand, pay such amounts as the Lender specifies is necessary to compensate it for any such loss, or (ii) provided no loss has yet been suffered by the Lender or the Borrower has paid the compensating amount to the Lender, repay the Accommodations outstanding, together with all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, and all other Obligations then outstanding and terminate the Lender's Commitments. A certificate as to the amount of any such loss submitted in good faith by the Lender to the Borrower shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes, absent manifest error.

ARTICLE 2
CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

Section 2.1 Conditions to the Initial Accommodation.

Subject to the terms of this Agreement, the obligation of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders to make the initial Accommodation hereunder is subject to the following conditions to be fulfilled or performed at or prior to the Effective Date, which conditions are for the exclusive benefit of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders and may be waived in whole or in part by the Administrative Agent and all of the Lenders in their sole discretion:

(1) Absence of Default. Each of the Credit Parties shall be in full compliance with each of the covenants to be performed by it in each Loan Document to which it is a party, and no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred or will occur upon the Administrative Agent and the Lenders making the initial Accommodation to the Borrower hereunder.

(2) Security Interests. The Administrative Agent and all Lenders shall be satisfied that the Administrative Agent (for the benefit of itself, the Co-Collateral Agents and the other Lenders) has a valid and perfected Lien over the Collateral of the Credit Parties and the Excluded Subsidiaries with the priorities as established by the Intercreditor Agreement, subject to Permitted Encumbrances, and for greater certainty the Administrative Agent shall have received such documents duly executed by each Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiary and other Persons as the Administrative Agent may request in order to perfect, publish and record its Lien over the Collateral, and shall have received acknowledgements, estoppels, waivers, subordinations, postponements, discharges, priority agreements and inter-creditor and non-disturbance agreements (to the extent not previously delivered and to the extent they continue to be enforceable and can be relied upon by all Lenders) from those Persons having filed such financing statements (or other instruments or documents) without adequately limiting the description of the scope of their collateral acknowledging that their Liens do not cover the Collateral (unless their Liens constitute Permitted Encumbrances), including, without limitation, the Intercreditor Agreement, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders.

(3) Loan Documents. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received duly executed originals of each of the other Loan Documents duly executed by all Persons party thereto, including without limitation (i) an acknowledgement and confirmation of security from the Borrower, (ii) acknowledgements and confirmations of guarantee and security from all other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries, and (iii) amending agreements to the debenture pledge agreements delivered on the Closing Date to reflect references to this Agreement, in each case in form and substance satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents.

(4) Representations and Warranties. Each of the representations and warranties made by the Credit Parties in or pursuant to this Agreement and any other Loan Document shall be true and correct on and as of such date as if made on and as of such date, except for those representations and warranties which speak to a specific date which shall be true and correct as of such specific date. With respect to any such representations and warranties that do not relate solely to the Effective Date or any other specific earlier date, the Borrower may supplement each such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule herein or in any other Loan Document, with respect to any matter hereafter arising that would have been required to be set forth as an exception to such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule or that is necessary to correct any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby; provided that no such supplement to any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule shall amend, supplement or otherwise modify any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule, or be or be deemed a waiver of any Default or Event of Default resulting from the matters disclosed therein, except as consented to by the Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders in writing.

(5) Insurance. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received satisfactory evidence that the insurance policies required to be maintained by the Credit Parties by this Agreement are in full force and effect, together with appropriate evidence showing the Administrative Agent as loss payee, and showing the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders as additional insured where appropriate in each case, as their interests appear.

(6) Approvals. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received satisfactory evidence that the Credit Parties have obtained all required consents, approvals and waivers of all Persons, including, without limitation, all requisite Governmental Entities, to the execution, delivery and performance by the Credit Parties of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. All of the lenders under the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement shall have received all necessary approvals for the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by such Persons and all of such Persons shall have become "Lenders" hereunder.

(7) Constating Documents, Share Register and Resolutions. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received for the Borrower and each other Credit Party reasonably requested by them, (i) such Person's constating documents and, if a party thereto or bound thereby, each shareholders or partnership agreement, together with all amendments thereto, and (other than in respect of the Borrower) such Person's share or partnership register; if any, and (ii) resolutions of such Person's board of directors and/or partners or shareholders, approving and authorizing the execution, delivery and performance of the Loan Documents to which such Person is a party and the transactions to be consummated in connection therewith, each certified as of the Effective Date by an officer of such Person as being in full force and effect without any modification or amendment.

(8) Incumbency Certificates. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received for the Borrower and each other Credit Party reasonably requested by them, signature and incumbency certificates of the officers of each such Person executing any of the Loan Documents, certified as of the Effective Date by an officer of such Person as being true, accurate, correct and complete.

(9) Officer's Certificates. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received duly executed originals of a certificate of an authorized signing officer of the Borrower and each other Credit Party reasonably requested by them, dated the Effective Date, in respect of customary corporate matters and confirming and providing evidence that as at the Effective Date the Borrower shall have not less than $125,000,000 of Line Availability.

(10) Status. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received for the Borrower and each other Credit Party reasonably requested by them, such Person's certificates of status, compliance and/or good standing (as applicable) evidencing such Person's qualification to conduct business in each jurisdiction where its ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business requires such qualification, each dated a recent date prior to the Effective Date and certified by the applicable authorized Governmental Entity.

(11) Opinions of Counsel. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received duly executed originals of opinions of counsel to the Credit Parties in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders and their respective counsel.

(12) Projections. The Co-Collateral Agents shall have received and reviewed and be satisfied with the form and content of the Projections for Fiscal Years 2007, 2008 and 2009 (with 2007 being on a monthly basis and 2008 and 2009 being on an annual basis).

(13) Fees. The Borrower shall have paid the Fees required to be paid on the Closing Date (including those listed in Section 1.9(1), and shall have reimbursed the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders for all Out-of-Pocket Expenses as of the Closing Date.

(14) Other Documents. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received such other certificates, documents and agreements respecting the Collateral and/or any Credit Party as the Administrative Agent and the Lenders may, in their sole discretion, request, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and each Lender.

Upon the execution of this Agreement and the making of the initial Accommodation hereunder, all of the above conditions precedent shall have been deemed satisfied except as the Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall otherwise agree in writing.

Section 2.2 Further Conditions to Each Extension of Credit.

Subject to the terms of this Agreement, the obligation of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders to make any Accommodation on any date (including, without limitation, the initial Accommodation) is subject to the following conditions to be fulfilled or performed, which conditions are for the exclusive benefit of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders and may be waived in whole or in part by the Administrative Agent and all of the Lenders in their sole discretion:

(1) Absence of Default. Each of the Credit Parties shall be in full compliance with each of the covenants to be performed by it in each Loan Document to which it is a party, and no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing on such date or after giving effect to the Accommodation requested to be made on such date.

(2) Security Interests. The Administrative Agent and all Lenders shall be satisfied that the Administrative Agent (for the benefit of itself and the other Lenders) has a valid and perfected Lien on the Collateral of the Credit Parties and the Excluded Subsidiaries with the priorities as established by the Intercreditor Agreement subject to Permitted Encumbrances, and for greater certainty the Administrative Agent shall have received such documents duly executed by each Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiary and such other Persons as the Administrative Agent may request in order to perfect, publish and record its Lien on the Collateral, and shall have received acknowledgements, estoppels, waivers, subordinations, postponements, discharges, priority agreements and inter-creditor and non-disturbance agreements (to the extent not previously delivered) from those Persons having filed such financing statements (or other instruments or documents) without adequately limiting the description of the scope of their collateral acknowledging that their Liens do not cover the Collateral (unless their Liens constitute Permitted Encumbrances), all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and all Lenders.

(3) Borrowing Notice. The Administrative Agent shall have received from the Borrower a duly executed Borrowing Notice in the form of Exhibit "D".

(4) No Violation of Law, etc. The Accommodation will not violate any applicable Law, order or judgment.

(5) Representations and Warranties. Each of the representations and warranties made by the Credit Parties in or pursuant to this Agreement and any other Loan Document shall be true and correct on and as of such date, as if made on and as of such date except for those representations and warranties which speak to a specific date which shall be true and correct as of such date. With respect to any such representations and warranties that do not relate solely to the Effective Date or any other specific earlier date, the Borrower may supplement each such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule herein or in any other Loan Document, with respect to any matter hereafter arising that would have been required to be set forth as an exception to such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule or that is necessary to correct any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby; provided that no such supplement to any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule shall amend, supplement or otherwise modify any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule, or be or be deemed a waiver of any Default or Event of Default resulting from the matters disclosed therein, except as consented to by the Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders in writing.

(6) Other Documents. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall have received such other certificates, documents and agreements respecting the Collateral and/or any Credit Party as the Administrative Agent and the Lenders may, in their sole discretion, request, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent and each of the Co-Collateral Agents.

(7) Fees. The Borrower shall have paid the Fees required to be paid by it prior the making of such Accommodation and shall have reimbursed the Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders for all Out-of-Pocket Expenses incurred by them prior to the making of such Accommodation.

The request and acceptance by the Borrower of the proceeds of any Accommodation shall be deemed to constitute, as of the date thereof, (i) a representation and warranty by each Credit Party that the conditions in this Section 2.2 have been satisfied, and (ii) a reaffirmation by each Credit Party of the granting and continuance of the Administrative Agent's Liens on behalf of the Lenders pursuant to the other Loan Documents.

ARTICLE 3
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

To induce the Administrative Agent and the Lenders to enter into this Agreement and to make Accommodations available to the Borrower, the Borrower hereby makes the following representations and warranties to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders with respect to all Credit Parties (and, where applicable, each Excluded Subsidiary), all of which shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the Borrower acknowledges that the Administrative Agent and the Lenders are relying on such representations and warranties in entering into this Agreement and making such Accommodations hereunder:

Section 3.1 Corporate Existence; Compliance with Law.

Each Credit Party (a) is a corporation or a limited partnership, as the case may be, in each case, duly incorporated or formed, and, duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its respective jurisdiction of organization; (b) is duly qualified to conduct business and is in good standing in each other jurisdiction where its ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business requires such qualification; (c) has the requisite power and authority and the legal right to own, and pledge, mortgage or otherwise encumber and operate its properties, to lease the property it operates under lease and to conduct its business as now, heretofore and proposed to be conducted; (d) has all material licenses, permits, consents or approvals from or by, and has made all material filings with, and has given all material notices to, all Governmental Entities having jurisdiction, to the extent required for such ownership, operation and conduct; (e) is in compliance in all material respects with its constating documents and bylaws; and (f) is in compliance with all applicable provisions of law in all material respects except with respect to Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits as set forth in Section 3.15. There are no unanimous shareholders, shareholders or other agreements in existence in respect of the Shares of any of the Restricted Subsidiaries and the Excluded Subsidiaries, including any such agreements which would restrict the pledge of the Shares of such entities by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders, other than (x) the sole shareholder declarations by the Borrower with respect to Commercial Distribution Services, Inc., CHT Steel Company Inc., Stelcam Holdings Inc., Stelco USA, Inc., Welland Pipe Ltd., Stelco Holding Company, Ontario Coal Company and Ontario Eveleth Company, copies of which have been delivered to the Lenders and their counsel (collectively, the "Restricted Subsidiary USDs") to the effect that the Borrower will have all the rights, powers, duties and liabilities of the directors of such Restricted Subsidiary or Excluded Subsidiary, as the case may be, as of the effective date of each such respective Restricted Subsidiary USD, and (y) the Limited Partnership Agreements. At the time of its involuntary winding up on February 2, 2007, Camrose Tubes Limited had no assets or liabilities. Each of CHT Steel Company Inc., Welland Pipe Ltd., Stelpipe Ltd. and Stelcam Holdings Inc. irrevocably transferred all their assets and liabilities to the Borrower on December 30, 2006 and each of 6076483 Canada Inc. and 6076475 Canada Inc. irrevocably transferred all their assets and liabilities to the Borrower on December 31, 2005.

Section 3.2 Corporate Name, Executive Offices, Collateral Locations. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

As of the Effective Date, the corporate name or limited partnership name, as the case may be, (in each case, as it appears in its constating documents and other official filings in the jurisdiction of each Credit Party's existence, incorporation, formation or organization, as applicable) and trade name of each Credit Party, the jurisdiction of incorporation or formation of each Credit Party, the current location of each Credit Party's chief executive office, registered office according to its constating documents, principal place of business, Books and Records and the locations at which any Collateral is located are set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found..

Section 3.3 Corporate Power, Authorization, Enforceable Obligations. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

The execution, delivery and performance by each Credit Party of the Loan Documents to which such Credit Party is a party and the creation of all Liens provided for therein: (a) are within such Person's power; (b) have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate or other action; (c) do not and will not contravene any provision of such Person's constating documents; (d) do not and will not violate any law or regulation, or any order, decree, judgment, injunction, writ, decision, ruling or award of any court or Governmental Entity; (e) except as set out in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., do not and will not conflict with or result in the breach or termination of, constitute a default under or accelerate or permit the acceleration of any performance required by, any indenture, mortgage, deed of trust, lease, agreement or other instrument to which such Person is a party or by which such Person or any of its property is bound; (f) do not and will not result in the creation or imposition of any Lien upon any of the property of such Person other than those in favour of the Administrative Agent, on behalf of itself and the other Lenders, pursuant to the Loan Documents; and (g) do not and will not require the authorization, consent or, the giving of notice to, the filing of or registration with, or approval of any Governmental Entity or any other Person, including, without limitation, any order, permit, waiver, exemption, authorization and approval of any Governmental Entity having jurisdiction over the operation by any Credit Party of the Collateral, all of which will have been duly obtained, made or complied with prior to the Closing Date, with respect to the Loan Documents executed and delivered in connection with the execution and delivery of the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement and prior to the Effective Date, with respect to the Loan Documents executed and delivered in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, as applicable, except as set out in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.. Each of the Loan Documents shall be duly executed and delivered by each Credit Party that is a party thereto and each such Loan Document shall constitute a legal, valid and binding obligation of such Credit Party enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, as such enforceability may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and by principles of equity.

Section 3.4 Financial Statements and Projections.

(1) Financial Statements. Except for the Projections, all Financial Statements concerning the Credit Parties that have been delivered to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders have been prepared in accordance with GAAP consistently applied throughout the periods covered and present fairly in all material respects the financial position of the Persons covered thereby as at the dates thereof and the results of their operations and cash flows for the periods then ended. All written reports, inventory listings and certificates of any kind made or given to any Agent or Lender pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement or any other Loan Document are true, complete and accurate in all material respects in respect of the subject matter relating thereto.

(2) Projections. All Projections delivered to the Administrative Agent have been prepared by the Borrower in light of the past operations of the Credit Parties' businesses and future payments of then known contingent liabilities. The Projections are based upon estimates and assumptions stated therein, all of which the Borrower believes at the time of delivery to be reasonable and fair in light of current conditions and current facts then known to the Borrower as of such delivery date and reflect the Borrower's good faith and reasonable estimates of the future financial performance of the Borrower and of the other information projected therein for the period set forth therein. The Projections have been delivered to the Co-Lead Arrangers and the Administrative Agent.

Section 3.5 Ownership of Property; Liens. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

(1) Each Credit Party has good, valid and marketable title to, and legal and beneficial ownership of, all of its properties and assets (which for the purposes of this Section 3.5(1) does not include any Real Estate). None of the properties and assets of any Credit Party is subject to any Liens, other than Permitted Encumbrances. Each Credit Party has received all deeds, assignments, waivers, consents, nondisturbance and attornment or similar agreements, bills of sale and other documents, and has duly effected all recordings, filings and other actions necessary to establish, protect and perfect such Credit Party's right, title and interest in and to its properties and assets, including all assignment or transfer documents that would reflect the allocation of Intellectual Property assets pursuant to the CBCA Plan of Arrangement. All filings, registrations and recordals necessary under applicable law to create, preserve, protect and perfect the security interest and other Liens of the Administrative Agent in and on the Collateral which constitutes personal property or assets of a Credit Party have been made (including all security notices or grants of security interest intended for recordal with the Canadian Intellectual Property Office, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, U.S. Copyright Office or any other Intellectual Property registry), with the exception of such security notices or grants relating to Patents and Trademarks listed on Schedule 3.4 and in respect of which no security notice filing had otherwise been made prior to the Effective Date, which notices or grants shall be filed for recordal purposes as soon as reasonably practicable following the Effective Date and in any event, no later than April 30, 2007, and such security interest and other Liens are subject to no other Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances.

(2) The Real Estate listed in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. constitutes all of the real property locations owned, leased or subleased by any Credit Party as of the Effective Date. Each Credit Party owns good and marketable fee simple title to all of its owned Real Estate and valid and marketable leasehold interests in all of its leased Real Estate free and clear of all Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances, provided that any sublease may be dependent on the continuance of the applicable head lease, all as described on Schedule Error! Reference source not found.. Copies of all such leases have been made available to the Administrative Agent. Schedule Error! Reference source not found. also describes any purchase options, rights of first refusal or other similar contractual rights pertaining to any Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage. All material permits required to have been issued or appropriate to enable the Real Estate to be lawfully occupied and used for all of the purposes for which it is currently occupied and used have been lawfully issued and are in full force and effect. Each Credit Party has received all deeds, assignments, waivers, consents, nondisturbance and attornment or similar agreements, bills of sale and other documents, and has duly effected all recordings, filings and other actions necessary to establish, protect and perfect such Credit Party's right, title and interest in and to all such Real Estate and other properties and assets which are subject to a Mortgage. All filings, registrations and recordings necessary under applicable law to create, preserve, protect and perfect the security interest and other Liens of the Administrative Agent in and on the Credit Parties' Real Estate have been made, and such security interest and other Liens are subject to no other Liens other than Permitted Encumbrances.

(3) No Person has any written or oral agreement, option, understanding or commitment, or any right or privilege capable of becoming such, for the purchase from any Credit Party of any Collateral (excluding Inventory sold in the ordinary course of business), except as expressly permitted in connection with a Disposition in accordance with Section 6.8, and except as otherwise set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. (or Schedule Error! Reference source not found. in the case of any Shares).

Section 3.6 Accounts and Inventory.

Each Trade Account Receivable is based on an actual and bona fide sale and delivery of Inventory or rendition of services by a Credit Party to its customers in the ordinary course of its business. The calculation of the Borrowing Base as set forth in the most recently delivered Borrowing Base Certificate was determined strictly in accordance with, and not in contravention of, the criteria set forth in the definitions of "Eligible Accounts Receivable" and "Eligible Inventory".

Section 3.7 Labour Matters. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

As of the Effective Date, no strikes or other material labour disputes against any Credit Party are pending. Payment made to employees of each Credit Party comply with each federal, provincial, and local law or foreign law applicable to such matters. Hours worked by employees of each Credit Party comply in all material respects with each federal, provincial, and local law or foreign law applicable to such matters. All payments due from any Credit Party for employee health and welfare insurance have been paid or accrued as a liability on the books of such Credit Party, each Credit Party has withheld all employee withholdings to be withheld by it and such withholdings have been timely paid to the respective Governmental Entities, and each Credit Party has made all employer contributions to be made by it pursuant to applicable law on account of the Canada Pension Plan maintained by the Government of Canada, employment insurance and employee income taxes. As of the Effective Date, except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., no Credit Party is a party to or bound by any Collective Agreement. As of the Effective Date, except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., there is no organizing activity involving any Credit Party pending or threatened by any labour union or group of employees. As of the Effective Date, except as set forth in Schedule 3.7, there are no representation proceedings pending or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened with any labour relations board, and no labour organization or group of employees of any Credit Party has made a pending demand for recognition. There are no complaints or charges against any Credit Party pending or threatened to be filed with any Governmental Entity or arbitrator based on, arising out of, in connection with, or otherwise relating to the employment or termination of employment by any Credit Party of any individual, that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 3.8 Ventures, Subsidiaries and Affiliates; Outstanding Shares and Indebtedness. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

(1) As of the Effective Date, no Credit Party has any Subsidiaries is engaged in any joint venture, partnership or similar arrangement with any other Person, or is a Person set forth in subsection "(a)" of the definition of "Affiliate" of any other Person, except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found..

(2) The authorized capital of each of the Restricted Subsidiaries (other than the Limited Partnerships) and, to the best of the knowledge of the Borrower each of the Excluded Subsidiaries, the number and type of Shares issued by it, together with the holder of such Shares and the percentage of such Shares held by each such holder, is set forth on Schedule Error! Reference source not found.. All of such issued Shares of such Restricted Subsidiaries and Excluded Subsidiaries are certificated and have been delivered to the Administrative Agent (duly endorsed for transfer). All of such Shares of such Restricted Subsidiaries and, to the best of the knowledge of the Borrower, the Excluded Subsidiaries have been duly issued and are outstanding as fully paid and non-assessable, and the persons so listed on Schedule Error! Reference source not found. as the owners of such Shares are the registered and beneficial owner thereof with a good title thereto, free and clear of all Liens, other than Liens permitted pursuant to subsections (d), (e) and (f) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances", and other than those restrictions on transfer, if any contained in the constating documents of such Restricted Subsidiaries and Excluded Subsidiaries.

(3) The limited partnership interests of each of the Limited Partnerships are divided into the number of units as specified in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., and Schedule Error! Reference source not found. also specifies the number of units issued by each such Limited Partnership, the holder of such units and the percentage of such units held by each such holder. All of such issued units are certificated and have been delivered to the Administrative Agent (duly endorsed for transfer). All of such units have been validly issued in accordance with each respective Limited Partnership Agreement, and the persons so listed on Schedule Error! Reference source not found. as the holders of such units are the registered and beneficial owners thereof with a good title thereto, free and clear of all Liens, other than Liens permitted pursuant to subsections (d), (e) and (f) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances", and other than those restrictions on transfer, if any, contained in the Limited Partnership Agreements.

(4) There are no outstanding rights to purchase, options, warrants or similar rights or agreements pursuant to which any Credit Party may be required to issue, sell, repurchase or redeem any of its Shares or other equity securities or any Shares or other equity securities of any Subsidiary except in respect of any agreements to purchase in favour of, or stock option plan(s) for, directors, officers and/or employees of the Credit Parties to purchase New Common Shares of the Borrower, and except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found..

(5) Other than in respect of Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Loan Documents, the Term Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents or Indebtedness as permitted by Section 6.2(d) or under the Supply and Services Agreements or the Slabco Tolling Agreement, Schedule Error! Reference source not found. describes all outstanding Guaranteed Indebtedness of each Credit Party as of the Effective Date and all Indebtedness of each Credit Party as of the Effective Date for (i) borrowed money, (ii) all reimbursement and other obligations with respect to letter of credit, bankers' acceptances and surety bonds, whether or not matured, (iii) all obligations evidenced by notes, bonds, debentures or similar instruments, (iv) other than in respect of indebtedness created under Purchase Money Mortgages permitted under the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances", all indebtedness created or arising under any conditional sale or other title retention agreement with respect to property acquired by such Credit Party (even though the rights and remedies of the seller or lender under such agreement in the event of default are limited to repossession or sale of such property), (v) all obligations under speculative commodity purchase or option agreements or other commodity price hedging arrangements, in each case whether contingent or matured, (vi) Shares in the capital of such Person which are redeemable or retractable at the option of the holder, or which by their terms or by contract are required to be redeemed or retracted, and (vii) all obligations under any foreign exchange contract, currency swap agreement, interest rate swap, cap or collar agreement or other similar agreement or arrangement designed to alter the risks arising from fluctuations in currency values or interest rates, in each case whether contingent or matured.

(6) The Excluded Subsidiaries do not carry on any business nor do they have any property or assets, Indebtedness or Guaranteed Indebtedness, other than Guaranteed Indebtedness in respect of Obligations of the Borrower under the Loan Documents, the Term Credit Documents and the Secured Notes Credit Documents and other than as set forth in the balance sheets of such Excluded

Subsidiaries dated as of December 31, 2006 and as provided to the Co-Collateral Agents prior to the Closing Date.

(7) No director, officer or employee of any Credit Party has any debts or liabilities owing to any Credit Party other than loans in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices for travel and entertainment expenses, relocation costs and similar purposes up to a maximum of $1,000,000 in the aggregate.

Section 3.9 Government Regulation.

No Credit Party is subject to regulation under Canadian federal, provincial, local or foreign statutory Law that restricts or limits its ability to incur Indebtedness or Guaranteed Indebtedness or to perform its obligations hereunder. The making of the Revolving Line of Credit available to the Borrower by the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, the incurrence of the Obligations, the application of the proceeds thereof and repayment thereof will not violate any provision of any such Law or any rule, regulation or order issued by or policy of any securities regulatory authority or securities exchange.

Section 3.10 Taxes. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

(1) All returns, reports and statements, including information returns, in respect of Taxes required by any Governmental Entity to be filed by any Credit Party have been filed with the appropriate Governmental Entity and all Charges have been paid prior to the date on which any fine, penalty, interest or late charge may be added thereto for non-payment thereof (or any such fine, penalty, interest, late charge or loss has been paid), excluding Charges or other amounts being contested in accordance with Section 5.2(2).

(2) Schedule Error! Reference source not found. sets forth in respect of the Credit Parties that do not file returns in respect of Taxes under the IRC, as of the Closing Date (i) those taxation years that have not yet been assessed by the CRA or the applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities, (ii) the taxation years that are currently being audited by the CRA or applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities, (iii) any assessments or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened assessments in connection with such audit, otherwise currently outstanding, and (iv) the most recent taxation year that an audit by the CRA or the applicable provincial, local or foreign Governmental Entities has been completed.

(3) Schedule 3.10 sets forth in respect of the Credit Parties that do file returns in respect of Taxes under the IRC, as of the Closing Date (i) to any Credit Party's knowledge, those taxation years that have not yet been assessed by the applicable local or foreign Governmental Entities, (ii) to any Credit Party's knowledge, the taxation years that are currently being audited by the applicable local and foreign Governmental Entities, (iii) to any Credit Party's knowledge, any assessments or, threatened assessments in connection with such audit, otherwise currently outstanding, and (iv) to any Credit Party's knowledge, the most recent taxation year that an audit by the applicable local or foreign Governmental Entities has been completed.

(4) Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., no Credit Party has executed or filed with the CRA or any other domestic or foreign Governmental Entity any agreement or other document extending, or having the effect of extending, the period for assessment or collection of any Charges. Except for Permitted Encumbrances, none of the Credit Parties nor any of their respective predecessors are liable for any Charges (a) under any agreement (including any tax sharing agreements), or (b) to each Credit Party's knowledge, as a transferee.

Section 3.11 Pension and Benefit Plans.

(1) Canadian Pension and Benefits Plans. Schedule Error! Reference source not found. lists all pension and benefit plans applicable to the Credit Parties for its Canadian employees or former Canadian employees, including all Canadian Benefit Plans and Canadian Pension Plans (other than, for greater certainty, plans maintained by the Government of Canada or any government of a Province of Canada to which any Credit Party is obligated to contribute by statute) currently maintained by any Credit Party. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., the Canadian Pension Plans are duly registered under the ITA and all other applicable Laws which require registration and no event has occurred which is reasonably likely to cause the loss of such registered status. All material obligations of the Borrower and any other participating Credit Party (including fiduciary, contribution, funding, investment and administration obligations) required to be performed in connection with the Canadian Benefit Plans, the Canadian Pension Plans and the funding agreements therefor under the terms thereof and applicable statutory and regulatory requirements, have been performed in a timely and proper fashion. There have been no improper withdrawals or applications of the assets of the Canadian Pension Plans or the Canadian Benefit Plans. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., there are no material outstanding disputes concerning the assets or liabilities of the Canadian Pension Plans or the Canadian Benefit Plans. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., no events have occurred which could give rise to a partial or total wind-up of any Canadian Pension Plan. The Borrower has delivered to the Administrative Agent copies of the most recent actuarial valuation reports filed with the Financial Services Commission of Ontario in respect of each of the registered Canadian Pension Plans, as well as the most recent valuation reports prepared in connection with the non-registered

Canadian Pension Plans. There is no non-registered Canadian Pension Plan in respect of which an event has occurred that could require immediate or accelerated funding in respect of unfunded liabilities or other deficit amounts. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

(2) ERISA. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

(a) Schedule Error! Reference source not found. lists all ERISA Affiliates. Copies of all US Pension Plans, including Title IV Plans, Multiemployer Plans, ESOPs and Welfare Plans, including all Retiree Welfare Plans, together with a copy of the latest IRS/DOL 5500-series form for each such Plan (other than Multiemployer Plans) and the most recent actuarial report for each Title IV Plan, have been made available to the Administrative Agent. Except with respect to Multiemployer Plans, each Qualified Plan has been determined by the IRS to qualify under Section 401 of the IRC, the trusts created thereunder have been determined to be exempt from tax under the provisions of Section 501 of the IRC, and nothing has occurred that is reasonably likely to cause the loss of such qualification or tax-exempt status. Each Plan is in compliance, in all material respects, with the applicable provisions of ERISA and the IRC, including the timely filing of all reports required under the IRC or ERISA, including the statement required by 29 CFR Section 2520.104-23. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., neither any Credit Party nor ERISA Affiliate has failed to make any contribution or pay any amount due as required by either Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 of ERISA or the terms of any such Plan to which those sections apply. Neither any Credit Party nor ERISA Affiliate has engaged in a "prohibited transaction," as defined in Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the IRC, in connection with any Plan, that would subject any Credit Party to a material tax on prohibited transactions imposed by Section 502(i) of ERISA or Section 4975 of the IRC. To the knowledge of the Borrower, the most recent actuarial report for each Title IV Plan fairly presents the financial condition and the results of each such plan in accordance with US GAAP. Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., no ERISA Affiliate provides health or welfare benefits for any retired or former United States employee or is obligated to provide health or welfare benefits to any active United States employee following such employee's retirement or other termination of service.

(b) Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.: (i) no Title IV Plan has any Unfunded US Pension Liability; (ii) no ERISA Event or event described in Section 4062(e), Section 4063 or Section 4064 of ERISA with respect to any Title IV Plan has occurred or is reasonably expected to occur; (iii) there are no pending, or to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened claims (other than claims for benefits in the normal course), sanctions, actions or lawsuits, asserted or instituted against any Plan or any Person as fiduciary or sponsor of any Plan that is not a Multiemployer Plan, and there are no pending or to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened, claims sanctions, actions or lawsuits involving any Multiemployer Plans relating to any Credit Party or any ERISA Affiliate; (iv) no Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate has incurred any liability as a result of a complete or partial withdrawal from a Multiemployer Plan and, if such a withdrawal were to occur within one year after the date of this Agreement, the total liabilities of such Persons under all such Multiemployer Plans would not exceed US$6,400,000 and would be payable in a lump sum or in instalment payments with additional interest in accordance with the provisions of Section 4219(c) of ERISA; (v) within the last five years no Title IV Plan of any Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate has been terminated, no notice of intent to terminate any Title IV Plan has been filed and no amendment has been adopted to treat a Title IV Plan as terminated whether or not in a "standard termination" as that term is used in Section 4041(b)(1) of ERISA, nor has any Title IV Plan of any Credit Party or any ERISA Affiliate (determined at any time within the last five years) with Unfunded Pension Liabilities been transferred outside of the "controlled group" (within the meaning of Section 4001(a)(14) of ERISA) of any Credit Party or ERISA Affiliate (determined at such time); (vi) except in the case of any ESOP, Shares of all Credit Parties and their ERISA Affiliates make up, in the aggregate, no more than 10% of the fair market value of the assets of any Plan measured on the basis of fair market value as of the latest valuation date of any Plan; (vii) no liability under any Title IV Plan has been satisfied with the purchase of a contract from an insurance company that is not rated AAA by the Standard & Poor's Corporation or an equivalent rating by another nationally recognized rating agency, and (viii) no ERISA Affiliate has received notice from any Multiemployer Plan that it is in reorganization or is insolvent, that increased contributions may be required to avoid a reduction in plan benefits or the imposition of any excise tax, or that such a plan intends to terminate or has terminated, or is subject to any proceeding brought by the PBGC.

Section 3.12 No Litigation. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

No action, claim, lawsuit, demand, investigation or proceeding is now pending or, to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened against any Credit Party, before any Governmental Entity or before any arbitrator or panel of arbitrators (collectively, "Litigation"), (a) that challenges any Credit Party's right or power to enter into or perform any of its obligations under the Loan Documents to which it is a party, or the validity or enforceability of any Loan Document or any action taken thereunder or (b) that could be reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. Except as set forth on Schedule Error! Reference source not found., as of the Effective Date, there is no Litigation pending or, to any Credit Party's knowledge, threatened, that seeks damages in excess of $500,000 or injunctive relief against, or alleges criminal misconduct of, any Credit Party, or that could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 3.13 Brokers.

No broker or finder brought about the obtaining, making or closing of the Revolving Loan, and no Credit Party has any obligation to any Person in respect of any finder's or brokerage fees in connection therewith.

Section 3.14 Intellectual Property. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

Each Credit Party owns or has rights to use all General Intangibles necessary and material to continue to conduct its business as now or heretofore conducted by it or proposed to be conducted by it, and each active Canadian and American Patent, Design, Trademark, registered Copyright and License of the Credit Parties is listed, if registered or application for registration has been made, together with application or registration numbers, as applicable, in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.. No decision or judgment has been rendered by any Governmental Entity which would limit, cancel or question the validity of, or any Credit Party's rights in, any General Intangibles in any material respect. No action or proceeding is pending, or, to the knowledge of any Credit Party, threatened, seeking to limit, cancel or question the validity of any General Intangibles or any Credit Party's ownership interest therein, which, if adversely determined, would result in a Material Adverse Effect. To the best of the knowledge of the Borrower, each Credit Party conducts its business and affairs without infringement of or interference with any Intellectual Property of any other Person in any material respect. No Credit Party is aware of any infringement claim made in writing by any other Person with respect to any Intellectual Property.

Section 3.15 Environmental Matters.

(1) The Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage is free of contamination from any Hazardous Material except for such contamination that would not result in Environmental Liabilities that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. No Credit Party has caused or suffered to occur any Release of Hazardous Materials on, at, in, under, above, to, from any of its Real Estate which is subject to a Mortgage that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. The Credit Parties are and have been in compliance with all Environmental Laws, except for such non-compliance that would not result in Environmental Liabilities which could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. The Credit Parties have obtained, and are in compliance with, all Environmental Permits required by Environmental Laws for the operations of their respective businesses as presently conducted or as proposed to be conducted, except where the failure to so obtain or comply with such Environmental Permits would not result in Environmental Liabilities that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect; and all such Environmental Permits are valid, uncontested and in good standing. No Credit Party is involved in operations or knows of any facts, circumstances or conditions, including any Releases of Hazardous Materials, that are likely to result in any Environmental Liabilities of such Credit Party which could be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect; and no Credit Party has permitted any current or former tenant or occupant of the Real Estate to engage in any such operations. There is no Litigation arising under or related to any Environmental Laws, Environmental Permits or Hazardous Material that seeks damages, penalties, fines, costs or expenses that could be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect or injunctive relief against, or that alleges criminal misconduct by, any Credit Party. No notice has been received by any Credit Party requesting information under any Environmental Law or identifying it as a potentially responsible party under any Environmental Law that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect and to the knowledge of the Credit Parties, there are no facts, circumstances or conditions that may result in any Credit Party being identified as a potentially responsible party under any Environmental Law that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect. The Credit Parties have made available to the Administrative Agent copies of all existing environmental reports, reviews and audits and all written information pertaining to actual or potential Environmental Liabilities (including the most recent Industrial Hygiene, Safety, Environmental, Risk Management and Asset Integrity Report of each Credit Party), in each case, in the possession of the Credit Parties and relating to any Credit Party and its properties and assets, requested by the Administrative Agent.

(2) Each Credit Party hereby acknowledges and agrees that neither the Administrative Agent nor any Co-Collateral Agent or Lender is now, or has ever been, in control of any of the Real Estate or any Credit Party's affairs.

Section 3.16 Insurance. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

Schedule Error! Reference source not found. lists all insurance policies of any nature maintained, as of the Effective Date, for covered losses by each Credit Party. Each of the Credit Parties has insurance in place, issued by responsible insurers, as is appropriate to the business of each Credit Party and its property and assets, in such amounts and against such risks as are customarily carried and insured against by owners of comparable businesses and assets, all in compliance with the provisions of this Agreement. All such policies of insurance are in full force and effect and the Borrower is not in default, as to the payments of premiums or otherwise, under the terms of any such policy.

Section 3.17 Deposit, Disbursement and Securities Accounts. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

Schedule Error! Reference source not found. lists all banks, Securities Intermediaries and other financial institutions at which any Credit Party maintains a Bank Account, securities account, futures account or other account, and such schedule correctly identifies the name, address and telephone number of each depository, securities intermediary or futures intermediary, the name in which the account is held, a description of the purpose of the account, the complete account number therefore and if such account is subject to a minimum balance requirement, the amount of such requirement. There are no blocked accounts, lock boxes, control agreements or similar arrangements relating to any of such accounts, other than those contemplated by this Agreement. No Credit Party maintains any securities account or futures account. All cash of all Credit Parties in deposit accounts maintained by such Credit Parties is or are subject to a Blocked Account Agreement.

Section 3.18 Customer and Trade Relations.

There exists no actual termination or revocation of any contract with (or, as of the Effective Date, any material adverse modification or change in the business relationship of any Credit Party with), any supplier material to its operations or any customer or group of customers whose purchases during the preceding 12 months caused them to be ranked among the ten largest customers of the Borrower and the other Credit Parties taken as a whole, where the contract so terminated or revoked with such supplier or customer has not been replaced with a contract or other arrangements with one or more third parties in a reasonable period of time which, in the aggregate, are not materially adverse to the Credit Parties than the terms of the contract so terminated or revoked.

Section 3.19 Material Contracts. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

Schedule Error! Reference source not found. contains a list of all Material Contracts. Each of the Credit Parties is in compliance in all material respects with all Material Contracts to which it is a party and no Credit Party, or to the best of the Borrower's knowledge, any other party to any Material Contract has defaulted under any Material Contract. No event has occurred which, with the giving of notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a default under, or in respect of, any Material Contract. There is no dispute regarding any Material Contract which could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 3.20 Compliance with Industry Standards.

Each of the Credit Parties keeps adequate Books and Records with respect to its business activities in which proper entries, reflecting all financial transactions, are made in accordance with GAAP and on a basis consistent with its Financial Statements. Each of the Credit Parties maintains all of its Books and Records, in accordance with applicable Laws and the standards established by any Governmental Entity having authority over the Credit Party and its property and assets, and all of such Books and Records are true, complete and accurate in all material respects.

Section 3.21 Possession of Collateral. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

Each Credit Party has possession and control of all the property and assets owned by such Credit Party, other than property and assets which are being processed, repaired, transported or shipped in the ordinary course of business. Except as disclosed in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. (briefly describing any consignment arrangements to which any Credit Party is party by agreement, counterparty and location), none of the Credit Parties consign any of its assets or property to any other Person.

Section 3.22 Bonding; Licenses. Schedule Error! Reference source not found.

Except as set forth on Schedule Error! Reference source not found., as of the Effective Date, no Credit Party is a party to or bound by any surety bond agreement or bonding requirement with respect to services or products sold by it or any trademark, patent or industrial design license agreement pursuant to which the Credit Party is a licensee with respect to services or products sold by it.

Section 3.23 Material Documents.

The Borrower has delivered to the Administrative Agent complete and correct copies of the Term Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents and the Pension Agreement and all schedules, exhibits, amendments, supplements, modifications, assignments and all other documents delivered pursuant thereto or in connection therewith.

Section 3.24 Material Adverse Effect.

No Credit Party has incurred any obligations, contingent or non-contingent liabilities, liabilities for Charges, long-term leases or unusual forward or long-term commitments that, alone or in the aggregate, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, and no contract, lease or other agreement or instrument has been entered into by any Credit Party or has become binding upon any Collateral and no Law or regulation applicable to any Credit Party has been adopted that has had or could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. Since December 31, 2006, no event has occurred, that alone or together with other events, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 3.25 No Default.

No Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing.

Section 3.26 Full Disclosure.

No information contained in this Agreement, any of the other Loan Documents, any Financial Statements or other written reports from time to time delivered hereunder or thereunder or any written statement furnished by or on behalf of any Credit Party to the Administrative Agent, Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender pursuant to the terms of this Agreement contains or will contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omits or will omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances under which they were made.

ARTICLE 4
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND INFORMATION

Section 4.1 Reports and Notices.

The Borrower agrees that from and after the Effective Date and until the Termination Date, it shall deliver to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and each Lender, as required, the following financial statements, notices and documents, all in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and all Lenders, as applicable:

(1) Borrowing Base and Related Certificates.

(a) Within six (6) Business Days of each month end, the Borrower shall deliver the following reports with respect to the Borrowing Base Parties:

(i) a Borrowing Base Certificate;

(ii) a monthly Accounts aging summary by invoice date and by each Borrowing Base Party. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request a detailed listing of the Accounts aging;

(iii) a detailed monthly accounts payable aging and "unaudited accounts payable" detail;

(iv) a calculation of the Trade Accounts Receivable which would not meet the criteria of an Eligible Account Receivable;

(v) a daily summary of Accounts for each of the Borrowing Base Parties. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request detailed backup documentation, including, but not limited to, a copy of the internally generated month end sales journal and invoice register, cash receipts and collections journal, credit memo journal and the debit memo journal;

(vi) an aged listing of the ten largest Accounts and accounts payable for the applicable month;

(vii) a reconciliation of the cash receipts journal to the Blocked Accounts prepared by each of the Borrowing Base Parties;

(b) In addition to Section 4.1(1)(a) above, within 6 Business Days of the 15th of each month, the Borrower shall deliver the following reports as at the previous month end with respect to the Borrowing Base Parties:

(i) a reconciliation of Accounts aging and accounts payable to the respective trial balances, each Borrowing Base Parties' general ledger and to the month end financial statements;

(ii) a monthly Inventory "Cost Complex: Control Ledger" for each Borrowing Base Party;

(iii) an Inventory summary by account ("Report 22");

(iv) a copy of the Inventory Sales Cards by division;

(v) a reconciliation of the monthly Inventory cost control ledger to the trial balance by division, each of the Borrowing Base Parties' general ledger and to the month end financial statements of each Borrowing Base Party; and

(vi) a calculation of the Inventory which would not meet the criteria of Eligible Inventory;

(c) In addition to Sections 4.1(1)(a) and (b) above, the Borrower shall deliver the following reports with respect to the Borrowing Base Parties within six (6) Business Days of the 15th of each month if Availability is greater than or equal to $100,000,000 and there is no Event of Default which is continuing:

(i) a Borrowing Base Certificate; and

(ii) a daily summary of Accounts for each of the Borrowing Base Parties. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request detailed backup documentation, including, but not limited to, a copy of the internally generated month end sales journal and invoice register, cash receipts and collections journals, credit memo journal and the debit memo journal if deemed necessary by the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents; and

(iii) an Account aging summary by invoice date and for each Borrowing Base Party. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request a detailed listing of the Accounts aging;

(d) in addition to Sections 4.1(1)(a), (b) and (c) above, if Availability is less than $100,000,000 or there is an Event of Default which is continuing the following reports listed in subsections (i) through (iv) below with respect to the Borrowing Base Parties are to be provided weekly:

(i) a Borrowing Base Certificate together with such supporting documentation including updated sales listings, adjusted accounts receivable balances, Inventory balances and a reconciliation of cash receipts (including ineligibles);

(ii) a daily summary of Accounts for each Borrowing Base Party. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request detailed backup documentation, including, but not limited to, a copy of the internally generated month end sales journal and invoice register, cash receipts and collections journals, credit memo journal and the debit memo journal if deemed necessary by the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents;

(iii) an Account aging summary by invoice date and for each Borrowing Base Party. Notwithstanding the above, each of the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents reserve the right to request a detailed listing of the Accounts aging; and

(iv) notwithstanding Section 4.1(1)(b) above, such reports referred to therein are to be delivered within 10 days of each month end.

(2) Monthly Financial Statements. The Borrower shall, within 30 days of each month end, provide to the Administrative Agent internally prepared Financial Statements for such month in month-to-date and Fiscal Year-to-date format together with an officer's certificate in the form of Exhibit "C".

(3) Quarterly Financial Statements. The Borrower shall, within 45 days of the end of the first three (3) Fiscal Quarters of each Fiscal Year, provide to the Administrative Agent unaudited quarterly Financial Statements for such quarter, together with an officer's certificate in the form of Exhibit "C".

(4) Annual Financial Statements. The Borrower shall, within 90 days after the end of each financial year, provide to the Administrative Agent audited annual Financial Statements and an operating plan for the subsequent year, such annual Financial Statements and such operating plan as approved by the Borrower's board of directors (and such operating plan to be acceptable to the Administrative Agent, with such operating plan deemed to be so acceptable unless written notice of non-acceptability setting out particulars thereof is delivered to the Borrower by the Administrative Agent within thirty (30) days of receipt of such operating plan) together with an officer's certificate in the form of Exhibit "C".

(5) Other Credit Documents and Notices. The Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders (i) as and when due, all notices, reports, statements, documents, certificates and other information required to be delivered by any Person pursuant to the Term Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents, the Pension Agreement and the Secured Notes Credit Documents, (ii) copies of any amendments entered into in respect of any of the Term Credit Documents, Province Credit Documents, the Pension Agreement or the Secured Notes Credit Documents, and (i) copies of all documents entered into in respect of any Refinancing of the Term Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents or the Secured Notes Credit Documents.

(6) Pension and Benefit Matters. The Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent and each Lender copies of:

(a) as promptly as possible but in any event no later than August 31 of each year, a special valuation report (the "Hamilton Hourly Plan Report") of the Hamilton Hourly Plan's independent actuary detailing the computation of the solvency deficiency of the Hamilton Hourly Plan as of August 1 of such year which relates to the Hamilton Hourly Plan Memorandum of Understanding, which report shall be prepared in accordance with the PBA (except where provided otherwise in this Section 4.1(6)). For greater certainty, the Hamilton Hourly Plan Report as at August 1 of each year shall include (1) the solvency deficiency shown in the actuarial cost certificate in respect of the amendment resulting from the Hamilton Hourly Plan Memorandum of Understanding in the particular year; and (2) the remaining solvency deficiency (which shall be determined in accordance with the PBA except where provided otherwise in this Section 4.1(6)) as it relates to the previous amendments resulting from the Hamilton Hourly Plan Memorandum of Understanding and will be based upon the participant data used for purposes of the annual valuation report prepared for filing pursuant to the PBA as at the preceding December 31, will reflect the Hamilton Hourly Plan pension fund investment return up to the effective date of the Hamilton Hourly Plan Report, and will reflect the discount rate applicable at the effective date of the Hamilton Hourly Plan Report;

(b) from time to time in respect of the relevant year but in any event no later than March 31 and September 30 of each year, the latest estimate (the "Hamilton Hourly Plan Estimate") of the said solvency deficiency in respect of the Hamilton Hourly Plan prepared by the Hamilton Hourly Plan's independent actuary as of August 1 of each year;

(c) as promptly as possible but in any event no later than September 30 of the year following which the annual valuation report relates, the annual valuation report as at December 31 of each year in respect of the Hamilton Hourly Plan that is prepared for filing pursuant to the PBA; and

(d) all material correspondence with and filings to the Financial Services Commission of Ontario or the Superintendent of Financial Services (Ontario) in relation to any Canadian Pension Plan, at the same time such correspondence or filing is delivered or made, as the case may be. For greater certainty, upon the filing of each Form 7 under the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) furnished to the trustee of each registered Canadian Pension Plan, if such Form 7 contains any information which is different from the information contained in the Form 7 most recently delivered to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, the Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent in sufficient copies for distribution to each Lender, an officer's certificate of the Borrower confirming that the Form 7 attached to such officer's certificate accords with the corresponding valuation reports on such plans prepared by the Borrower's actuary and confirming that all contributions indicated in such form have been made when due.

(7) Notices of Dispositions and Liens. The Borrower shall forthwith provide notice to the Co-Collateral Agents of (i) any Dispositions of Term Priority Collateral made in accordance with Section 6.8, concurrently with the consummation of such transaction, and (ii) any Liens (other than Permitted Encumbrances) and Prior Claims over any of the Collateral received by any Credit Party that are registered, preserved, perfected or become effective or enforceable after the date hereof.

(8) Notices from MOL, MOE and/or MAG. The Borrower shall forthwith provide the Administrative Agent and each Lender with copies of (i) any notices or other documents required to be delivered under applicable Law by any Credit Party to the MOL, MOE or MAG or any other Government Entity under the jurisdiction of the MOL, MOE or MAG, as the case may be, in respect of any material non-compliance by a Credit Party of any such applicable Law, or (ii) any material notices or other documents received by any Credit Party from the MOL, MOE or MAG pursuant to which the MOL, MOE or MAG, as the case may be, purports or informs such Credit Party of their intention to exercise any of their powers under applicable laws including their intention to obtain warrants or commence compliance or enforcement proceedings against any such Credit Party or the Collateral.

(9) Default. The Borrower shall forthwith provide notice to the Administrative Agent of the occurrence of any Default, Event of Default or the existence of any event, circumstance or condition that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

(10) TD Banking Services Agreement. The Borrower shall forthwith provide the Administrative Agent with a copy of any notice given or received by it pursuant to the TD Banking Services Agreement which has not been provided by TD directly to the Administrative Agent.

(11) Bank Products. Concurrently with the delivery of any Borrowing Base Certificate hereunder, the Bank Product Market Value Amount of the Credit Parties, together with such supporting documentation to evidence such calculation as the Co-Collateral Agents may reasonably request.

(12) Other Information. Upon the request of the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender, the Borrower agrees to provide such other information, reports, notices or documents as may reasonably be requested by such Person including, without limitation, (i) copies of agreements with, or purchase orders from, the Credit Parties' customers, copies of invoices to customers, proof of shipment or delivery, access to its computers, electronic media and software programs associated therewith (including any access codes, electronic records, contracts and signatures) and such other documentation and information relating to Accounts and Other Collateral as the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents may reasonably require, provided that such access does not constitute a violation of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (Canada) or any similar provincial privacy legislation in effect from time to time, (ii) notice as promptly as practicably possible of any threatened or actual seizures or detentions of any Collateral of any Credit Party by any Person, copies of any Material Contracts, Canadian Pension Plans, Canadian Benefit Plans, leases and collective agreements, and (iii) such other information, reports, notices or documents respecting the Credit Parties' business, financial condition or prospects as any such Person may from time to time reasonably request.

The Borrower shall deliver any financial statement, notice or document delivered to the Administrative Agent and/or the Co-Collateral Agents pursuant to this Section 4.1 contemporaneously to each of the Lenders to the extent not otherwise delivered to such Lenders.

ARTICLE 5
AFFIRMATIVE COVENANTS

The Borrower agrees as to all Credit Parties that from and after the date hereof and until the Termination Date:

Section 5.1 Maintenance of Existence and Conduct of Business.

(1) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to: (i) subject to Section 6.1, do or cause to be done all things necessary to preserve and keep in full force and effect its corporate, limited partnership or other existence and its rights and franchises except with the prior consent of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders; (ii) subject to Section 6.1, continue to conduct their respective Businesses substantially as now conducted as of the date hereof or as contemplated by the CBCA Plan of Arrangement except with the prior consent of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders; and (iii) at all times maintain, preserve and protect all Collateral used or useful in the conduct of its Business and keep the same in good repair, working order and condition in all material respects (taking into consideration ordinary wear and tear) and from time to time make, or cause to be made, all necessary or appropriate repairs, replacements and improvements thereto consistent with industry practices.

(2) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, obtain and maintain all material authorizations and consents of and approvals from and give all material notices and make all material filings and registrations with, and take any other material action in respect of, any Government Entity or any other Person, including (without giving effect to any materiality standard in the case of subsection (i) below) any order, permit, waiver, exemption, authorization and approval of any Governmental Entity, advisable or required in connection with (i) the execution, delivery and performance by such Credit Party of the Loan Documents to which it is a party and the creation of all Liens provided for therein, and (ii) the operation of its business and its property and assets, and the ownership or lease, as the case may be, of such property and assets.

(3) Forthwith upon the repayment in full of all Project Financing obligations owing by Lake Erie Slab Company Inc. ("Slabco") to Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi (Canada) or any of its Affiliates, the Borrower shall either (i) cause Slabco to be wound-up into Lake Erie Steel GP, Lake Erie Steel LP or any other Credit Party, or (ii) cause Slabco to execute and deliver such guarantee and security and other Loan Documents in the forms delivered by the other Credit Parties as of the Closing Date (or as amended, restated or modified thereafter), together with such other instruments, certificates and opinions as are necessary in the opinion of the Administrative Agent to satisfy the conditions precedent set forth in Sections 2.1(2), (3), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10), (11) and (14) as if Slabco had been a Restricted Subsidiary as of the Closing Date.

Section 5.2 Payment of Charges.

(1) Subject to Section 5.2(2), the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to pay and discharge or cause to be paid and discharged promptly all Charges payable by it, including (i) Charges imposed upon it, its income and profits, or any of its property (real, personal or mixed) and all Charges with respect to Tax, social security and employee matters, (ii) lawful claims for labour, materials, supplies and services or otherwise, (iii) all storage or rental charges payable to warehousemen or bailees, and (iv) all service or repair charges payable to servicers or repairers.

(2) Each Credit Party may in good faith contest, by appropriate proceedings, the validity or amount of any Charges, Taxes or claims described in Section 5.2(1); provided, that (i) adequate reserves with respect to such contest are maintained on the books of such Credit Party, in accordance with GAAP; (ii) no Lien shall be imposed to secure payment of such Charges (other than as permitted by subsections (b) and (e) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances") that is superior to any of the Liens securing the Obligations and such contest is maintained and prosecuted continuously and with diligence and operates to suspend collection or enforcement of such Charges; (iii) none of the Collateral becomes subject to forfeiture or loss as a result of such contest; (iv) such Credit Party shall promptly pay or discharge such contested Charges, Taxes or claims, as applicable, and all additional charges, interest, penalties and expenses, if any, and shall deliver to the Administrative Agent evidence reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent of such compliance, payment or discharge, if such contest is terminated or discontinued adversely to such Credit Party or the conditions set forth in this Section 5.2(2) are no longer met; and (v) the Administrative Agent has not advised the Borrower in writing that the Administrative Agent reasonably believes that non-payment or non-discharge thereof could have or result in a Material Adverse Effect.

(3) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Lien shall be filed or claimed thereunder (a) for Taxes due any Governmental Entity, or (b) which in the Administrative Agent's opinion might create a valid obligation having priority over the Administrative Agent's and the Lenders' security over the Collateral, the Borrower shall immediately pay and cause each Restricted Subsidiary to pay such Charge and remove the Lien of record at the request of the Co-Collateral Agents. If the Borrower or the applicable Restricted Subsidiary fails to do so promptly, then at the Administrative Agent's election, the Administrative Agent may (i) create an Availability Reserve in such amount as it may deem appropriate in its sole business judgment, or (ii) upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, imminent risk of seizure or garnishment, filing of any priority Lien, claim, forfeiture, or sale of the Collateral, pay such Charges on the Borrower's or the applicable Restricted Subsidiary's behalf, and the amount thereof shall be an Obligation secured by the Loan Documents and due on demand.

Section 5.3 Books and Records.

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to keep adequate Books and Records with respect to its business activities in which proper entries, reflecting all financial transactions, are made in accordance with GAAP and on a basis consistent with its Financial Statements. Each Credit Party shall maintain all of its Books and Records in accordance with applicable Laws and the standards established by any Governmental Entity having authority over the Credit Party and its property and assets.

Section 5.4 Accounts.

(1) Until the Administrative Agent has advised the Borrower to the contrary upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries, at their expense, shall enforce, collect and receive all amounts owing on the Accounts in the ordinary course of their business and provided Line Availability is not less than $75,000,000, any proceeds they so receive may be utilized by the Borrower and the Restricted Subsidiaries in the ordinary course of their business. Upon the request of the Administration Agent, the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to deliver any requested Chattel Paper or Instrument to the Administrative Agent (in each case, accompanied by instruments of transfer executed in blank), and shall, if requested by the Administrative Agent, mark any Chattel Paper or Instrument that has not been delivered to the Administrative Agent with the following legend: "This writing and the obligations evidenced or secured hereby are subject to the security interest of CIT Business Credit Canada Inc. as Administrative Agent, for the benefit of the Lenders."

(2) The Borrower agrees to notify the Administrative Agent, and cause the Restricted Subsidiaries to notify the Administrative Agent: (a) of any matters adversely affecting the value, enforceability or collectability of any material Account and of all customer disputes, offsets, defences, counterclaims, returns, rejections and all reclaimed or repossessed merchandise or goods, and of any adverse effect in the value of its Inventory, in its reports provided to the Administrative Agent hereunder, in such detail and format as the Administrative Agent may reasonably require from time to time, and (b) promptly of any such matters which are material, as a whole, to the Accounts and/or the Inventory. The Borrower agrees to continue to follow its existing procedures regarding the issuance of credit memoranda and will provide duplicates to the Administrative Agent upon its request after the occurrence of an Event of Default upon accepting returns or granting allowances, and cause the Restricted Subsidiaries to do so.

Section 5.5 Insurance.

(1) The Borrower covenants and agrees to maintain comprehensive/umbrella, property and casualty insurance and business interruption insurance on its and the other Credit Parties' assets and business under such policies of insurance, with such insurance companies, in such reasonable amounts and covering such insurable risks as are at all times reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent. All policies covering the assets are, subject to the rights of any holders of Permitted Encumbrances holding claims senior to the Administrative Agent, to be made payable to the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, in case of loss, under a standard non-contributory "mortgagee", "lender" or "secured party" clause and are to contain such other provisions as the Administrative Agent may require to fully protect the Administrative Agent's and the Lenders' interest in the Collateral and to any payments to be made under such policies. Copies of the policies are to be delivered to the Administrative Agent, with the loss payable endorsement in the Administrative Agent's favour, on behalf of the Lenders, and shall provide for the insurance broker endeavouring to provide not less than thirty (30) days prior written notice to the Administrative Agent of any amendment, renewal, non-renewal, expiration, termination or cancellation. At the Borrower's request, or if the Borrower fails to maintain such insurance, the Administrative Agent on the Lenders' behalf may arrange for such insurance, but at the Borrower's expense and without any responsibility on the Administrative Agent's part for: (i) obtaining the insurance; (ii) the solvency of the insurance companies; (iii) the adequacy of the coverage; or (iv) the collection of claims. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default which is continuing, the Administrative Agent shall, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement and the rights of any holders of Permitted Encumbrances holding claims senior to the Administrative Agent, have the sole right, and at its option, in the name of the Administrative Agent or the Borrower, to file claims under any insurance policies, to receive, receipt and give acquittance for any payments that may be payable thereunder, and to execute any and all endorsements, receipts, releases, assignments, reassignments or other documents that may be necessary to effect the collection, compromise or settlement of any claims under any such insurance policies.

(2) The insurance acquired by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders may, but need not, protect the Credit Parties' interest in the Collateral, and therefore such insurance may not pay claims which the Borrower may have with respect to the Collateral or pay any claim which may be made against the Borrower in connection with the Collateral. In the event the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchases, obtains or acquires insurance covering all or any portion of the Collateral, the Borrower covenants and agrees to be responsible for all of the applicable costs of such insurance, including premiums, interest (at the applicable interest rate for Revolving Loans), fees and any other charges with respect thereto, until the effective date of the cancellation or the expiration of such insurance. The Administrative Agent may charge all of such premiums, fees, costs, interest and other charges to the Revolving Loan Account. The Borrower hereby acknowledges that the costs of the premiums of any insurance acquired by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders may exceed the costs of insurance which the Borrower may be able to purchase on its own. In the event that the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchases such insurance, the Administrative Agent will notify the Borrower of said purchase within thirty (30) days of the date of such purchase. If, within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such notice, the Borrower provides the Administrative Agent with proof that the Borrower had the insurance coverage required by this Agreement (in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent) as of the date on which the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders purchased insurance and the Borrower continued at all times to have such insurance, then the Administrative Agent agrees to cancel the insurance purchased by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders and credit the Revolving Loan Account with the amount of all costs, interest and other charges associated with any insurance purchased by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders, including with any amounts previously charged to the Revolving Loan Account.

Section 5.6 Application of Proceeds of Collateral.

(1) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, after receipt by such Person of Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds in respect of any Disposition (other than the sale of Inventory in the ordinary course of business) or loss, destruction or condemnation, as the case may be, of any ABL Priority Collateral (1) forthwith apply such proceeds upon receipt thereof to the prepayment of outstanding Accommodations (together with all interest, fees and other amounts owing with respect thereto) in accordance with Section 1.3, and (2) forthwith thereafter deposit the amount of any excess Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds, as the case may be, into a Blocked Account.

(2) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, after receipt by such Person of (i) Asset Sales Proceeds in respect of Dispositions of Term Priority Collateral as permitted by Section 6.8 or (ii) Insurance Proceeds in respect of any loss, destruction or condemnation, as the case may be, of any Term Priority Collateral of (or held on behalf of) the Borrower, any Steel Entity or any Coke Entity in an aggregate amount not to exceed $50,000,000 for all such Persons from the Effective Date until the Maturity Date, (1) prepay outstanding accommodations (together with all interest, fees and other amounts owing with respect thereto) under the Term Credit Agreement or the Exchange Notes, as the case may be, in an amount equal to such proceeds, or, in the case of such Insurance Proceeds only, reinvest such proceeds in the respective business to which they relate within eighteen (18) months of receipt of such proceeds, (2) with respect to any excess Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds, as the case may be, not so applied in accordance with subsection (1) above but subject to Sections 4.1(2) and 4.1(3) of the Intercreditor Agreement, forthwith apply such proceeds to the prepayment of outstanding Accommodations (together with all interest, fees and other amounts owing with respect thereto) in accordance with Section 1.3, and (3) forthwith thereafter deposit the amount of any such excess Asset Sale Proceeds or Insurance Proceeds into a Blocked Account. For greater certainty, the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents shall be required with respect to any use or application by the Term Agent or any Credit Party of Insurance Proceeds in respect of Term Priority Collateral of (or held on behalf of) the Borrower, any Steel Entity or any Coke Entity in excess of an aggregate amount of $50,000,000.

(3) For greater certainty and for purposes of Section 5.6(2)(1) above, if such Insurance Proceeds of the Borrower, any Steel Entity or any Coke Entity in an aggregate amount not to exceed $50,000,000 in the aggregate for all such Persons is committed to be reinvested within 18 months of such Insurance Proceeds being so received (or such longer period not in excess of 24 months to the extent such period in excess of 18 months is reasonably required to determine the most commercially effective method to reinvest such proceeds and the Borrower is pursuing such determination with commercially reasonable diligence), then such Insurance Proceeds, for the purpose of determining compliance with Section 5.6(2)(1) as of any date, shall be deemed to be so reinvested.

Section 5.7 Compliance with Laws Generally; Compliance with Pension Obligations.

(1) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to comply in all material respects with all applicable Laws and decrees, and agreements, licences, authorizations and permits material to the operation of the business of such Credit Party (excluding Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits, and with respect to Environmental Laws and Environmental Permits, in accordance with Section 5.9(a)).

(2) The Borrower shall, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties to make, or cause to be made, all contributions or other payments required to be made to the Canadian Pension Plans under applicable Laws (including without limitation the Stelco Pension Regulation) and the Pension Agreement and to all Canadian Benefit Plans in accordance with the terms thereof when due. If any Credit Party fails to make any such contribution or other payment when due, the Administrative Agent may, subject to the ITA, the Pension Agreement and applicable Law, make such contribution or payment on the Credit Party's behalf (without any obligation whatsoever to do so); provided, that any Event of Default resulting from a Credit Party's failure to make such a contribution or other payment shall not be cured by Administrative Agent's payment thereof. If the Administrative Agent makes a contribution or payment on a Credit Party's behalf, the Obligations of the Borrower hereunder shall be automatically increased by the amount of such contribution or payment, shall be due upon demand by the Administrative Agent and shall bear interest, calculated daily at the per annum rate of the sum of the then applicable Canadian Prime Rate plus the Applicable Canadian Prime Rate Margin plus the Default Rate of Interest, until paid.

Section 5.8 Intellectual Property.

(1) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to conduct its business and affairs without knowing, intentional or wilful infringement of any Intellectual Property of any other Person which a Governmental Entity has previously determined to be valid and enforceable, and shall not and shall cause each other Credit Party not to (i) enter into any agreements not in the ordinary course of its business and not inconsistent with past practices which prohibit, restrict or limit in any way the granting of Liens to the Administrative Agent in Intellectual Property hereafter owned or acquired by any Credit Party if such Intellectual Property is necessary and material to the conduct of such Credit Party's business, or (ii) file, either itself or through any agent, employee, licensee or designee, an application for the registration of any Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright with any Canadian Intellectual Property Office or the United States Patent and Trademark Office or the United States Copyright Office or any similar office or agency in respect of any Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright which is necessary and material to the operation of its business without giving the Co-Collateral Agents concurrent written notice thereof. Upon request of the Co-Collateral Agents, the Borrower shall and shall cause each such other Credit Party to execute and deliver any and all intellectual property security agreements as they may reasonably request to evidence the Lien in favour of the Administrative Agent on such Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright, and the intangible property of such Credit Party relating thereto or represented thereby.

(2) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to take all actions consistent with past practices and which are necessary or reasonably requested by the Co-Collateral Agents to maintain and pursue each application, to obtain the relevant registration and to maintain the registration of each of such of its Designs, Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights (now or hereafter existing), including the filing of applications for renewal, affidavits or declarations of use, affidavits of non-contestability and opposition and interference and cancellation proceedings, unless the relevant Credit Party shall determine, acting reasonably, that such Design, Patent, Trademark or Copyright is not necessary and material to the conduct of its business.

(3) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to notify the Administrative Agent immediately if it knows or has reason to know that any application or registration relating to any Intellectual Property (now or hereafter existing) that is necessary and material to the conduct of its business may become abandoned or of any adverse determination or development (including the institution of, or any such determination or development in, any proceeding in any Canadian Intellectual Property Office, the United States Patent and Trademark Office or the United States Copyright Office or any court) regarding its ownership of such Intellectual Property, its rights to register the same, or to keep and maintain the same.

(4) In the event that any material Intellectual Property is infringed upon or misappropriated by a third party, the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to notify the Administrative Agent promptly after it learns thereof. The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to, unless it shall reasonably determine that such Intellectual Property is in no way necessary and material to the conduct of its business, promptly sue for infringement or misappropriation and to recover any and all damages for such infringement, misappropriation or dilution and shall take such other actions as the Administrative Agent shall reasonably deem appropriate under the circumstances to protect such Intellectual Property.

Section 5.9 Environmental Matters.

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party and each Person within its control to: (a) conduct its operations and keep and maintain its Real Estate in compliance with all of its environmental compliance, monitoring, remediation and other policies in effect as of the Closing Date and otherwise implement any and all investigation, remediation, removal and response actions that are necessary in order to remain in compliance with such policies, (b) notify the Administrative Agent promptly after such Credit Party becomes aware of any violation of Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits or any Release on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any Real Estate that is reasonably likely to result in any Environmental Liabilities in excess of $5,000,000, and (c) promptly forward to the Administrative Agent a copy of any order, notice, request for information or any communication or report received by such Credit Party in connection with any such violation or Release whether or not any Governmental Entity has taken or threatened any action in connection with any such violation, Release or other matter. If the Administrative Agent at any time has a reasonable basis to believe that there may be a violation of any Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits by any Credit Party or any Environmental Liability arising thereunder, or a Release of Hazardous Materials on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any of its Real Estate, that, in each case, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, then each Credit Party shall, upon the Administrative Agent's written request (i) cause the performance of such environmental audits including subsurface sampling of soil and groundwater, and preparation of such environmental reports, at the Borrower's sole cost and expense, as the Administrative Agent may from time to time reasonably request, which shall be conducted by reputable environmental consulting firms reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent and shall be in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent, and (ii) permit the Administrative Agent or its representatives to have access during regular business hours and upon reasonable notice (or, after the occurrence of an Event of Default, at any time) to all Real Estate for the purpose of conducting such environmental audits and testing as the Administrative Agent deems reasonably appropriate, including subsurface sampling of soil and groundwater. The Borrower shall reimburse the Administrative Agent for the costs of such audits and tests and the same will constitute a part of the Obligations secured hereunder.

Section 5.10 Real Estate Matters.

(1) After the Closing Date, no real property or warehouse space shall be leased by any Credit Party which is not so leased on the Closing Date to store Collateral with a fair market value in excess of $10,000,000 in the aggregate for all such Collateral (provided that the Eligible Inventory component thereof shall not have a fair market value in excess of $5,000,000 in the aggregate) without the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents. The Borrower shall and shall cause the applicable Credit Parties to use their commercially reasonable best efforts to obtain consent and estoppel certificates from Nelson Steel (a division of Samuel Manu-Tech Inc.), Baycoat and Steelcare in forms acceptable to the Co-Collateral Agents.

(2) The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to timely and fully pay and perform its material obligations under all leases and other agreements with respect to each leased location or location where any Collateral is or may be located. To the extent otherwise permitted hereunder, if any Credit Party proposes to acquire a fee ownership interest in Real Estate after the Closing Date, it shall first provide to the Administrative Agent environmental audits, and, if requested by the Co-Collateral Agents, a mortgage or deed of trust granting the Administrative Agent a Lien on such Real Estate, together with title opinions or a mortgage title insurance commitment, all in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents, and, if required by the Co-Collateral Agents, supplemental casualty insurance and flood insurance, and such other documents, instruments or agreements reasonably requested by the Co-Collateral Agents, in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents and consistent with the requirements contained herein with respect to fee simple Real Estate.

Section 5.11 Right of Inspection and Access to Management and Audits.

The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Credit Party to, during normal business hours, upon one (1) Business Day's prior notice: (i) provide the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents and any of their respective officers, employees, agents and appraisers access to the properties, facilities (including the computer systems of each Credit Party used to store, log, track, monitor and record any and all Collateral), personnel and accountants of each Credit Party and to the Collateral, and (ii) permit the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents and any of their respective officers, employees, agents and appraisers, to inspect, audit and make extracts from any Credit Party's Books and Records. The Borrower also, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing, consents (and shall cause each Restricted Subsidiary to do so) to the Administrative Agent contacting any and all third parties the Administrative Agent may reasonably require from time to time, including, without limitation, CRA for purposes of verifying the state of the Collateral and the Borrower's and each Canadian Restricted Subsidiary's tax position and agrees to execute and deliver a CRA business consent form in respect thereof (which may only be used by the Administrative Agent following the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing). If an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, or if access is necessary to preserve or protect the Collateral, as determined by the Co-Collateral Agents, each such Credit Party shall provide such access to the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents at all times and without advance notice. The Credit Parties shall reimburse such Agents for any out of pocket expenses incurred by such Agents, as well as for the reasonable fees and expenses of any advisers or consultants retained by such Agents, in connection with any such access, inspection, audits, reviews and evaluations conducted pursuant to this Section 5.11.

Section 5.12 Appraisals.

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to permit the Co-Collateral Agents from time to time to conduct, at the sole cost and expense of such Credit Party, (i) annual Inventory appraisals, (ii) field examinations of the Collateral three (3) times per Fiscal Year, (iii) quarterly Inventory appraisals at any time that Availability is less than $100,000,000; (iv) annual appraisals of other assets (including, without limitation, Shares, Real Estate subject to a Mortgage and Equipment) of such Credit Party, and (v) any such appraisals and field examinations listed above at any time upon the occurrence of an Event of Default.

Section 5.13 Supplemental Disclosure.

From time to time as may be reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent, the Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Parties to supplement each representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule herein or in any other Loan Document, with respect to any matter hereafter arising that, if existing or occurring at the date of this Agreement, would have been required to be set forth as an exception to such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule or that is necessary to correct any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby; provided that (a) no such supplement to any such representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule shall amend, supplement or otherwise modify any representation or warranty and/or any applicable Schedule, or be or be deemed a waiver of any Default or Event of Default resulting from the matters disclosed therein, except as consented to by the Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders in writing, and (b) no supplement shall be required or permitted as to representations and warranties that relate solely to the Effective Date or any other specific earlier date.

Section 5.14 Further Assurances.

The Borrower shall and shall cause each other Credit Party to, at such Credit Party's sole cost and expense and upon request of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents or the Lenders, duly execute and deliver, or cause to be duly executed and delivered, to it such further instruments and do and cause to be done such further acts as may be necessary or proper in the reasonable opinion of the Person making such request to carry out more effectively the provisions and purposes of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, including, without limitation, the perfection, publication and other registration of the Administrative Agent's Liens on the Collateral of the Credit Parties (whether or not as a result of the implementation of the STA). The Administrative Agent is hereby authorized by the Borrower to file (including pursuant to the applicable terms of the PPSA) from time to time any financing statements, continuations or amendments covering the Collateral whether or not the Borrower's signature appears thereon. The Borrower hereby consents to and ratifies any and all execution and/or filing of financing statements on or prior to the Effective Date by the Administrative Agent.

ARTICLE 6
NEGATIVE COVENANTS

The Borrower agrees as to all Credit Parties (and, where applicable, all Excluded Subsidiaries) that from and after the date hereof until the Termination Date, without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Required Lenders, or such other consent requirements as expressly set forth in this Article 6, which consent may be given at the sole option and discretion of the Administrative Agent and such Required Lenders or such other Persons and which all Credit Parties (and, where applicable, all Excluded Subsidiaries) agree may be arbitrarily or unreasonably withheld or delayed, that:

Section 6.1 Mergers, Subsidiaries, Etc.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and each of the Excluded Subsidiaries not to, directly or indirectly, by operation of law or otherwise, (a) form or acquire any Subsidiary, or (b) amalgamate, merge or consolidate with, acquire all or substantially all of the property or assets or Shares of, or otherwise combine with or acquire, any other Person, except, provided that no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or would result therefrom, (i) any Restricted Subsidiary which is created or formed, as the case may be, and existing under the laws of a state of the United States of America may consolidate with or amalgamate or merge with, or convey, transfer or lease all or substantially all of its assets in a single transaction or series of transactions to any other Restricted Subsidiary which is created or formed, as the case may be, and existing under the laws of a state of the United States of America, and (ii) any Excluded Subsidiary may liquidate, wind-up or dissolve into or otherwise amalgamate, consolidate with, or transfer all or substantially all of its property and assets to, one or more Credit Parties or one or more Excluded Subsidiaries.

Section 6.2 Investments.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, directly or indirectly make or permit to exist any Investment in, or make, accrue or permit to exist loans or advances of money to, any Person, through the direct or indirect lending of money, holding of securities or otherwise, except (a) (i) each Credit Party may maintain its existing Investments in its Subsidiaries and Affiliates as of the Closing Date, (ii) Hamilton Steel LP may make Investments in Baycoat Limited, Z-Line Company and D.C. Chrome Limited, and (iii) Lake Erie Steel LP may make Investments in Slabco, in each case in subsections (ii) and (iii) above, in accordance with the applicable joint venture agreement, shareholders agreement or advances agreement; (b) subject to Section 6.4, each Credit Party may extend trade credit in the ordinary course of business; (c) the Borrower may make Investments consisting of the purchase of any equity Shares of any Subsidiary that do not result in the occurrence of a Fundamental Change provided such Shares are certificated (and duly endorsed in blank for transfer) and are forthwith delivered to the Administrative Agent after issuance to be held as security for the Obligations pursuant to the applicable security and pledge agreement; and (d) each Credit Party may make Investments consisting of unsecured intercompany loans and advances to any other Credit Party or to any Excluded Subsidiary consistent with past practices for (i) the extension of trade credit, (ii) payments in respect of OPEB and Canadian Pension Plans required to be made by Welland Pipe Ltd. and Stelpipe Ltd., (iii) payments made in the ordinary course of business to Chisholm Coal Company in respect of environmental remediation costs incurred by it, (iv) payments made in the ordinary course of business in respect of employees obligations incurred by Chisholm Coal Company, Stelco USA Inc., Stelco Coal Company and Kanawha Coal Company, and (v) payments made in the ordinary course of business in respect of purchases of steel and coke, coal and ore, scrap metal and for steel processing services, provided that, in each of the foregoing cases for (a) to (d) above: (A) each Credit Party and Excluded Subsidiary shall record all intercompany transactions on its Books and Records in a manner reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent; and (B) no Default or Event of Default has occurred or would occur after giving effect to any such proposed intercompany loan or other Investment. For greater certainty, no payments shall be made for the purposes of subsection (d)(ii) above by any of the Steel Entities to or on behalf of Welland Pipe Ltd. or Stelpipe Ltd., as the case may be.

Section 6.3 Indebtedness.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Indebtedness, except (without duplication) (i) the Revolving Loans and the other Obligations, (ii) Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Term Credit Agreement or the Exchange Notes in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $375,000,000 (plus any Term Credit Capitalized Interest Payments), (iii) Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Secured Floating Rate Notes issued pursuant to the Secured Notes Trust Indenture in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed the US Dollar equivalent of $275,000,000 as of the Closing Date, (plus any Secured Notes Capitalized Interest Payments), (iv) Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Province Note in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $150,000,000, (v) Indebtedness incurred pursuant to the TD Banking Services Agreement in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $5,000,000, (vi) Indebtedness permitted to be created, incurred or assumed in respect of any other Permitted Encumbrances, (vii) provided no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result therefrom, Indebtedness in respect of foreign exchange contracts and non-speculative commodity options permitted pursuant to Section 6.18, (viii) Indebtedness permitted pursuant to Section 6.2(d), (ix) Indebtedness under the Supply and Services Agreements, and (x) any Refinancing to the Indebtedness described in Section 6.3(1)(ii), (iii) or (iv) without giving effect to any increases in the maximum principal amounts of such Indebtedness beyond those permitted on the Closing Date and where such Refinancing is consented to by the Co-Collateral Agents in accordance with Section 6.16(2).

(2) Subject to Section 6.3(3) below, the Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to:

(a) make any payments or prepayments in respect of Indebtedness permitted under Section 6.3(1)(ii), (iii), (iv) or (v) or under Guaranteed Indebtedness expressly permitted under Section 6.6, including, without limitation, on account of principal, interest, fees, expenses and other amounts, except:

(i) provided no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result therefrom which has not been waived in accordance with the terms hereof, (x) payments of principal by the Borrower under the Term Credit Agreement and under the TD Banking Services Agreement, (y) regularly scheduled payments by the Borrower of interest (including, for greater certainty, Capitalized Interest Payments), fees, gross-up, indemnification and reasonable expense reimbursement under and in accordance with the provisions of each of the Term Credit Agreement, the Secured Floating Rate Notes, the Province Note and the TD Banking Services Agreement (but, for greater certainty, Capitalized Interest Payments are also permitted while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing), and (z) payments in respect Guaranteed Indebtedness expressly provided under Sections 6.6(a), (b) and (f); and

(ii) during the continuance of a Default or Event of Default which has occurred and is continuing (including, without limitation, after the commencement of any Enforcement Action or any Insolvency Proceeding which is continuing), (x) payments of principal by the Borrower under the Term Credit Agreement or any outstanding Exchange Notes, and (y) regularly scheduled payments by the Borrower of interest, fees, indemnification, gross-up and reasonable expense reimbursement under and in accordance with the Term Credit Agreement or any outstanding Exchange Notes, as applicable, and in each such case for (x) and (y) above, only to the extent that (1) each of (A) Availability and (B) projected Availability on a rolling 13-week-basis (based on consolidated cash flow projections prepared by the Borrower for such rolling 13 week period in form and content satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents acting reasonably) are in excess of $100,000,000 (and, in such cases, only to the extent that Availability would remain in excess of $100,000,000 after the making of any such payments), and (2) the Lenders have not suspended the Revolving Line of Credit, terminated their Commitments hereunder or otherwise so reduced such Commitments, in each case, in their sole discretion; or

(b) directly or indirectly, voluntarily purchase, redeem, defease, prepay or offer to prepay any principal of, premium, if any, interest, fees, expenses or other amounts payable in respect of any Indebtedness, other than the Obligations, Indebtedness between the Credit Parties and otherwise as expressly permitted under subsection (a) above.

For greater certainty, (x) the Borrower may make regularly scheduled Term Credit Capitalized Interest Payments at any time, including while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing, and (y) proceeds of Dispositions of property and assets effected in compliance with Section 6.8 may be applied to payments of principal outstanding under the Term Credit Agreement in accordance with Section 5.6 and the Intercreditor Agreement at any time, including while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 6.3(2) above, from and after the date (if any) on which the agent on behalf of the lenders under the Term Credit Agreement shall have provided to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent the Intercreditor Consent, the Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to:

(a) make any payments or prepayments in respect of Indebtedness permitted under Section 6.3(1)(ii), (iii), (iv) or (v) or under Guaranteed Indebtedness expressly permitted under Section 6.6, including, without limitation, on account of principal, interest, fees, expenses and other amounts, except:

(i) provided no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result therefrom which has not been waived in accordance with the terms hereof, (w) payments of principal by the Borrower under the Term Credit Agreement, provided that any prepayments of principal by the Borrower thereunder shall be subject to the following additional restrictions: (A) Availability shall be greater than $125,000,000 both before and immediately after giving effect to the prepayment; and (B) if Availability would be less than $200,000,000 at the time of or immediately after giving effect to the prepayment, the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents shall be required; (x) payments of principal by the Borrower under the TD Banking Services Agreement; (y) regularly scheduled payments by the Borrower of interest (including, for greater certainty, Capitalized Interest Payments), fees, gross-up, indemnification and reasonable expense reimbursement under and in accordance with the provisions of each of the Term Credit Agreement, the Secured Floating Rate Notes, the Province Note and the TD Banking Services Agreement (but, for greater certainty, Capitalized Interest Payments are also permitted while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing); and (z) payments in respect Guaranteed

Indebtedness expressly provided under Section 6.6(a), (b) and (f); and

(ii) during the continuance of a Default or Event of Default which has occurred and is continuing (including, without limitation, after the commencement of any Enforcement Action or any Insolvency Proceeding which is continuing), regularly scheduled payments by the Borrower of interest, fees, indemnification, gross-up and reasonable expense reimbursement under and in accordance with the Term Credit Agreement or any outstanding Exchange Notes, as applicable, and in each such case, only to the extent that (1) each of (A) Availability and (B) projected Availability on a rolling 13-week-basis (based on consolidated cash flow projections prepared by the Borrower for such rolling 13 week period in form and content satisfactory to the Co-Collateral Agents acting reasonably) are in excess of $125,000,000 (and, in such cases, only to the extent that Availability would remain in excess of $125,000,000 after the making of any such payments), and (2) the Lenders have not suspended the Revolving Line of Credit, terminated their Commitments hereunder or otherwise so reduced such Commitments, in each case, in their sole discretion; or

(b) directly or indirectly, voluntarily purchase, redeem, defease, prepay or offer to prepay any principal of, premium, if any, interest, fees, expenses or other amounts payable in respect of any Indebtedness, other than the Obligations, Indebtedness between the Credit Parties and otherwise as expressly permitted under subsection (a) above.

For greater certainty, (x) the Borrower may make regularly scheduled Term Credit Capitalized Interest Payments at any time, including while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing, (y) proceeds of Dispositions of property and assets effected in compliance with Section 6.8 may be applied to payments of principal outstanding under the Term Credit Agreement in accordance with Section 5.6 and the Intercreditor Agreement at any time, including while a Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing, and (z) this Section 6.3(3) shall not be effective unless and until the Intercreditor Consent has been provided to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent, but once this Section 6.3(3) becomes effective, Section 6.3(2) shall thereafter be of no further force and effect.

(4) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into any commitment letter, term sheet or similar binding or non-binding arrangement or agreement in respect of the provision of debtor-in-possession or similar financing to the Borrower and/or the Credit Parties with any Person other than the Administrative Agent and the Lenders.

Section 6.4 Employee and Affiliate Transactions.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into or be a party to any purchases of goods and/or services with any Affiliate of such Credit Party or any other non-arm's length Person except (i) the Supply and Services Agreements, the Lake Erie Coke Lease, the Hamilton Coke Lease and the Slabco Tolling Agreement, and (ii) other transactions in the ordinary course of such Credit Party's Business, in each case in (i) and (ii) above, upon fair and reasonable terms that are no less favourable to such Credit Party than would be obtained in a comparable transaction with a Person who is dealing at arms-length with such Credit Party.

(2) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into any lending or borrowing transaction with any employees of any Credit Party, except loans to its employees in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices for travel and entertainment expenses, relocation costs and similar purposes up to a maximum of $1,000,000 in the aggregate at any one time outstanding.

Section 6.5 Capital Structure and Business.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (a) make any changes in any of its business objectives, purposes or operations that could reasonably be expected to adversely affect the repayment of any of the Obligations or could reasonably be expected to have or result in a Material Adverse Effect, (b) make any change in its capital structure, including the issuance, sale, exchange, abandonment, redemption, repurchase, release or other disposition of any Shares, warrants or other securities convertible into Shares or any revision of the terms of its outstanding Shares, other than(i) changes to the equity capital structure of the Borrower and issuances of New Common Shares and other equity securities of the Borrower, provided such changes and issuances do not result in the occurrence of a Fundamental Change, (ii) Dispositions of Shares permitted under Section 6.8(1)(f); (iii) the issuance of Exchange Notes, (iv) Secured Notes Capitalized Interest Payments, and (v) issuances of equity Shares permitted by Section 6.2(c) or (c) enter into any agreement, term sheet or commitment letter to do anything prohibited in subsections (a) and (b).

(2) No Credit Party shall engage in any business other than the Businesses currently engaged in by it or as contemplated by the CBCA Plan of Arrangement.

Section 6.6 Guaranteed Indebtedness.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, create, incur or assume any Guaranteed Indebtedness except (a) by endorsement of instruments or items of payment for deposit to the account of any Credit Party in the ordinary course of business, (b) for Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred for the benefit of any other Credit Party if the primary obligation is expressly permitted by this Agreement (including, for greater certainty, under the Supply and Services Agreements and the Slabco Tolling Agreement), (c) the guarantees by the Restricted Subsidiaries of the Obligations and of the obligations of the Borrower under the Term Credit Agreement, the Exchange Notes and the Secured Floating Rate Notes, (d) the guarantees by the General Partners (other than HLE Mining GP, HMLTN Energy GP and Lake Erie Energy GP) and the Limited Partnerships (other than HLE Mining LP, HMLTN Energy LP and Lake Erie Energy LP) and, provided such Subsidiary is also a Restricted Subsidiary for purposes of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, any other Subsidiary who is required under the Province Note to become a guarantor of the obligations of the Borrower under the Province Note, (e) Guaranteed Indebtedness incurred in respect of obtaining the consents listed in Schedule Error! Reference source not found., and (f) indemnities in favour of their directors, officers, employees and consultants in the ordinary course of business.

Section 6.7 Liens.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, create, incur, assume or permit to exist any Lien on or with respect to any of its properties or assets (whether now owned or hereafter acquired) except Permitted Encumbrances. The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, become a party to any agreement, note, indenture or instrument, or take any other action, that would prohibit the creation of a Lien on any of its properties or other assets in favour of the Administrative Agent or the Lenders as additional collateral for the Obligations, except as expressly permitted by Section 5.8(1)(i).

(2) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to, consent to or bring any application or motion for any Lien or other charge to be granted by a Governmental Entity (by court order or otherwise) over the Collateral or any part thereof in priority to or pari passu with the Liens created by the Loan Documents.

(3) The Borrower shall cause The Stelco Plate Company Ltd. not to (i) create, incur, assume or permit to exist any Lien on or with respect to any of its property or assets except those in favour of CIBC on the Closing Date, (ii) create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Indebtedness, except Indebtedness in favour of CIBC on the Closing Date, and (iii) conduct or operate any business.

(4) For greater certainty, the Borrower shall not and shall cause the applicable Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to create, incur, assume or permit to exit any Lien on or with respect to the Excluded Real Estate, other than Permitted Encumbrances (other than Liens referred to in subsection (d) of the definition of "Permitted Encumbrances").

Section 6.8 Sale of Shares and Assets.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and Excluded Subsidiaries not to Dispose of any of their respective property or assets other than (but subject to the last paragraph of this Section 6.8):

(a) Dispositions of Inventory of the Borrowing Base Parties in the ordinary course of business;

(b) Dispositions of any property or assets (other than Shares, Inventory of any Borrowing Base Party out of the ordinary course of business and Accounts of any Borrowing Base Party) of any of the Restricted Subsidiaries (other than any of the Steel Entities) or any of the Excluded Subsidiaries;

(c) in addition to subsection (a) above and subsection (e) below, Dispositions of any property or assets (other than Shares, Inventory out of the ordinary course of business and Accounts) of Hamilton Steel LP and Hamilton Steel GP in an aggregate amount not to exceed $5,000,000 in any Fiscal Year;

(d) in addition to subsection (a) above and subsection (e) below, Dispositions of any property or assets (other than Shares, Inventory out of the ordinary course of business and Accounts) of Lake Erie Steel LP and Lake Erie Steel GP in an aggregate amount not to exceed $5,000,000 in any Fiscal Year;

(e) Dispositions of any property or assets (other than Shares and Inventory out of the ordinary course of business) which have become worn-out, unserviceable, obsolete, unsuitable or unnecessary in the conduct of the respective businesses of the Borrower or any of the Steel Entities in an aggregate amount not to exceed $10,000,000 for all such Persons combined in any Fiscal Year; and

(f) Dispositions of any Shares of any Credit Party, provided such Disposition does not result in the occurrence of a Fundamental Change;

In the event that a Disposition is effected pursuant to a transaction permitted under this Section 6.8, and no Default or Event of Default exists or would result therefrom, the relevant Credit Party that owns the Collateral that is the subject of such Disposition shall, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement, be released from the Liens constituted by the Loan Documents (as to such Collateral), and, where applicable, any guarantee; provided however, that the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents shall be required in respect of the release of any such Liens and/or guarantees provided by any Borrowing Base Party, other than the release of any such Liens on Collateral Disposed of pursuant to this Section 6.8(1)(a), which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. The Administrative Agent shall deliver (and the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders hereby authorize the Administrative Agent to deliver), at the Borrower's expense, such waivers, consents, and other instruments to the applicable Credit Party as the Credit Party may reasonably require in order to evidence such releases.

(2) For greater certainty, Section 6.8 does not restrict or limit the ability of the Credit Parties or the Excluded Subsidiaries to effect transactions in accordance with Section 6.1.

Section 6.9 ERISA.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and any ERISA Affiliate not to, cause or permit to occur an event that could result in the imposition of a Lien under Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 or 4068 of ERISA.

(2) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and any ERISA Affiliate not to, cause or permit to occur an ERISA Event to the extent such ERISA Event could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 6.10 Hazardous Materials.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, cause or permit a Release of any Hazardous Material on, at, in, under, above, to, from or about any of the Real Estate where such Release would (a) violate in any respect, or form the basis for any Environmental Liabilities under, any Environmental Laws or Environmental Permits, and (b) otherwise adversely impact the value or marketability of any of the Collateral, other than such Releases that could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 6.11 Sale-Leasebacks.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, engage in any sale-leaseback, synthetic lease, securitization or similar transaction involving any of its assets.

Section 6.12 Accounts.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Party not to, (i) compromise, adjust or extend the time for payment of any Accounts or grant any discounts, allowances or credits thereon in each case other than in the normal course of business, (ii) fail to fulfill and perform any and all warranty obligations to its customers which could impact the recoverability of any Account, or (iii) (x) redate any invoice or (y) make sales or provide services on extended dating, (in the case of this subsection (y) only, beyond that customary in the respective Businesses).

Section 6.13 Payments and Restricted Payments.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, make any Restricted Payment, except (a) intercompany loans and advances between the Credit Parties to the extent permitted by Section 6.2, (b) dividends and distributions by Subsidiaries paid to the Borrower or to another Credit Party,(c) payments permitted under Section 6.3(2) as they relate solely to the Secured Floating Rate Notes and the Province Note, (d) payments permitted under Section 6.4; (e) the payment of reasonable and customary fees and reimbursement of expenses payable to employees, officers, and directors of such Credit Party; (f) the payment of management fees (or other fees of a similar nature), provided the terms and conditions of such fees otherwise comply with Section 6.4(1) hereof; and (g) payments contemplated by the Supply and Services Agreements, the Lake Erie Coke Lease, the Hamilton Coke Lease and the Slabco Tolling Agreement; provided that and for so long as, in each case, no Default or Event of Default has occurred which is continuing or would result after giving effect to such Restricted Payment.

Section 6.14 Change of Corporate Name or Location; Change of Fiscal Year.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties and the Excluded Subsidiaries not to, (a) change its name, (b) change its chief executive office, registered office pursuant to its constating documents, principal place of business, corporate offices, the location of its records, including Books and Records, concerning the Collateral or, other than in compliance with Section 5.10(1), warehouses or locations at which Collateral is held, stored or located, (c) change the type of entity that it is, (d) change its organization identification number, if any, issued by its jurisdiction of organization or (e) change its jurisdiction of formation or organization without, in each case above except for subsection (c) (which shall require the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and each of the Lenders), at least 30 days' prior written notice to the Co-Collateral Agents and after the written acknowledgement of the Co-Collateral Agents that any reasonable action requested by the Co-Collateral Agents in connection therewith, including, without limitation, the obtaining of any landlord waiver and anything else necessary or desirable to continue the perfection (in order to protect the priority) of any Liens in favour of the Administrative Agent, on behalf of Lenders, in any Collateral, has been completed or taken, and provided that any such new location shall be in Canada for any Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary which is existing under the laws of Canada or any province thereof, or any State acceptable to the Co-Collateral Agents for any Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary which is existing under the laws or any State of the United States of America. Without limiting the foregoing, no Credit Party or Excluded Subsidiary shall change its name, identity or corporate or limited partnership structure in any manner that might make any financing, financing change, or continuation statement or other applicable perfection filing made in connection herewith materially misleading within the meaning of the PPSA or any other applicable law except upon 30 days' prior written notice to the Co-Collateral Agents and after the written acknowledgement of the Co-Collateral Agents that any reasonable action requested by the Co-Collateral Agents in connection therewith, including to continue the perfection of any Liens in favour of the Administrative Agent, on behalf of Lenders, in any Collateral, has been completed or taken. No Credit Party shall change its Fiscal Year.

Section 6.15 No Impairment of Intercompany Transfers.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, directly or indirectly enter into or become bound by any agreement, instrument, indenture or other obligation (other than this Agreement, the other Loan Documents, the Term Credit Documents and the Secured Notes Credit Documents) that could directly or indirectly restrict, prohibit or require the consent of any Person with respect to the payment of dividends or distributions or the making or repayment of intercompany loans by a Subsidiary of any Credit Party to any Credit Party or between Credit Parties.

Section 6.16 Changes to Material Contracts and Pension and Benefit Plans.

(1) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, change or amend the terms of any Material Contract, Supply and Services Agreement, Limited Partnership Agreement, Restricted Subsidiary USD or the TD Banking Services Agreement in any manner adverse to any Credit Party, the Administrative Agent or the Lenders.

(2) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, enter into any Refinancing in respect of the Term Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents or the Province Credit Documents in effect on the Closing Date except with the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents, and shall not change or amend the terms of (A) the Term Credit Documents except as permitted by and in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement (it being understood and agreed by the Borrower that, for greater certainty and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, for the purposes of this Agreement, Section 6.1(1) of the Intercreditor Agreement shall be interpreted as applying (and shall apply) to any Refinancings of the Term Credit Documents with reference to the Term Credit Documents in effect on the Closing Date); provided that, except with the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents, (i) the maturity date for the obligations owing under the Term Credit Documents shall not be earlier than the Maturity Date, (ii) the Term Credit Documents may not contain mandatory repayments and prepayments of principal, other than the mandatory repayments and prepayments under the Term Credit Documents permitted by Section 5.6 of this Agreement, and such additional mandatory repayments and prepayments which are not in an aggregate, in excess of one (1) percent of the aggregate principal amount then outstanding for each year the obligations owing under the Term Credit Documents are outstanding, (iii) no Term Credit Documents may contain any additional representations, warranties, covenants and events of default than those contained in the Term Credit Documents in effect on the Closing Date, and (iv) notwithstanding subsection (iii), each representation, warranty, covenant and event of default contained in the Term Credit Documents in effect on the Closing Date or in any Refinancing thereof may not be changed or amended to be made more onerous, unless it is not made more onerous than the corresponding provision in this Agreement and the other Loan Documents then in effect, and (B) the Secured Notes Credit Documents (including by way of entering into any Supplemental Indenture (as defined in the Platform Trust Indenture)) or the Province Credit Documents in effect in the Closing Date, except (x) pursuant to Sections 11.01(b), (e) and (h) of the Platform Trust Indenture, (y) in order to correct technical, clerical or mechanical errors or ambiguities in accordance with Section 11.01(i) of the Platform Trust Indenture, and (z) otherwise with the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents. Without limiting the discretion of the Co-Collateral Agents to provide or withhold consent to any Refinancing of the Term Credit Documents, the Borrower acknowledges that it would be reasonable for the Co-Collateral Agents to withhold any such consent to any Refinancing if the terms of such Refinancing of the Term Credit Documents do not include the Intercreditor Consent. The Borrower shall not exercise any right of Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance pursuant to, and as such terms are defined in the Secured Notes Credit Documents. The Borrower shall not post any security as contemplated by Section 4.01(d) of the Supplemental Indenture, and the Borrower shall not pay to or deposit with either of the Secured Notes Trustees, any amounts as contemplated by Section 5.03 (to the extent such payment or deposit would result in the violation of Section 6.3 hereof or any provision of the Intercreditor Agreement) or Section 12.11(1)(a)(ii) of the Platform Trust Indenture. The Borrower shall not appoint or allow any Person other than itself or the Secured Notes Trustees to be the Paying Agent pursuant to, and as such term is defined in the Secured Notes Credit Documents.

(3) The Borrower shall not increase the amount of the D&O Trust and upon termination of such trust the Borrower shall ensure that all amounts therein shall be returned to the Borrower.

(4) The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (i) make any amendment to any Canadian Pension Plan, or the Pension Agreement (including, without limitation, by changing the benefits under any Canadian Pension Plan) in a manner which (y) increases the quantum of contributions or other funding to be made thereunder, or; (z) increases or could result in an increase in the amount of any solvency deficiency or going concern unfunded liability thereunder; in each case, in an aggregate amount in excess of $5,000,000 or which, in the sole discretion of the Co-Collateral Agents, compromises the priority of the security granted in favour of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders, (ii) terminate (in whole or in part) in violation of Section 9.1(i) any Canadian Pension Plan or (iii) fail to maintain the currency of any contribution obligation in respect of any Canadian Pension Plan in accordance with the Pension Agreement, the Stelco Pension Regulation, the PBR or other applicable Law. The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, establish any new pension plan (whether a defined benefit pension plan or otherwise) without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders.

(5) Except for purposes of permitting commuted value transfers under Section 42 of the PBA in circumstances other than a partial plan wind-up, the Borrower shall not and shall cause each other Credit Party not to make any contribution or other payment to the Canadian Pension Plans in excess of the minimum amount thereof required to be made under the Pension Agreement, the Stelco Pension Regulation and the PBR.

(6) Except as set forth in Schedule Error! Reference source not found. the Borrower shall not and shall cause each other Credit Party not to cause or permit any ERISA Affiliate to, cause or permit to occur an event that could result in the imposition of a Lien under Section 412 of the IRC or Section 302 or 4068 of ERISA which could, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to exceed US$1,000,000 in liability to any Credit Party or cause or permit to occur an ERISA Event to the extent such ERISA Event could, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to result in any liability to any Credit Party in an amount which would exceed US$1,000,000.

Section 6.17 Compliance with Loan Documents.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Applicants not to, take or omit to take any action that could, in the sole opinion of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, adversely affect any of the rights or interests of the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender under this Agreement or any other Loan Document, including with respect to the Collateral.

Section 6.18 No Speculative Transactions.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, engage in any transaction involving speculative commodity options, futures contracts, interest rate swaps, caps or collars or similar transactions, except for non-speculative commodity options, future contracts or similar transactions on an unsecured basis or pursuant to Bank Products, in either case, solely to hedge in the ordinary course of business against fluctuations in the values of commodities, foreign currencies or interest receivable or payable by it.

Section 6.19 Deposit and Disbursements Accounts.

The Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, (i) own or maintain a Bank Account, a securities account or a futures account, or (ii) enter into a blocked account agreement, lock box agreement, control agreement or similar arrangement in respect of any Bank Account, securities account or futures account, without the prior written consent of the Co-Collateral Agents.

Section 6.20 Excluded Subsidiaries

The Borrower shall not permit any Excluded Subsidiary to conduct any business, acquire any property or assets or otherwise become liable for any obligation except as set forth in Section 3.8(6) and except for nominal amounts as may be required to liquidate, wind-up or dissolve such Excluded Subsidiary in accordance with Section 6.1.

ARTICLE 7
FINANCIAL COVENANTS

Section 7.1 Maximum Maintenance Capital Expenditures.

Other than in respect of Strategic Capital Expenditures, the Borrower shall not, and shall cause each of the other Credit Parties not to, incur Capital Expenditures or Maintenance Capital Expenditures, as the case may be, in any Fiscal Year (calculated on a cumulative and consolidated basis) in amounts greater than 125% of the amount of Capital Expenditures or Maintenance Capital Expenditures, as the case may be, set forth in the annual operating business plan for such Fiscal Year provided to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders pursuant to Section 4.1(4).

ARTICLE 8
TERM

Section 8.1 Term and Termination.

(1) Unless demand is earlier made pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement, the Borrower shall repay, and there shall become due and payable, the Obligations and all accrued and unpaid interest thereon and all other amounts payable with respect thereto, on the earlier of the Early Termination Date and the Maturity Date.

(2) The Borrower may terminate this Agreement at any time upon five (5) days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent. All Obligations shall become due and payable as of any termination hereunder or under Article 9 hereof and, pending a final accounting, the Administrative Agent may withhold any balances in the Borrower's account (unless supplied with an indemnity satisfactory to the Administrative Agent) to cover all of the Obligations, whether absolute or contingent, including, but not limited to, cash reserves for any contingent Obligations, including, without limitation, an amount of one hundred and five percent (105%) of the face amount of any Bankers' Acceptances, any outstanding Letters of Credit with an expiry date on or after the effective date of termination of this Agreement and the Sundry Credit Facility Indemnity. All of the Administrative Agent's and the Lenders' rights, liens and security interests shall continue after any termination until all Obligations have been indefeasibly paid and satisfied in full.

Section 8.2 Survival of Obligations Upon Termination of Financing Arrangements.

Except as otherwise expressly provided for in the Loan Documents, no termination or cancellation (regardless of cause or procedure) of any financing arrangement under this Agreement shall in any way affect or impair the obligations, duties and liabilities of the Credit Parties or the rights of any Agent or any Lender relating to any unpaid portion of the Revolving Loans or any other Obligations, due or not due, liquidated, contingent or unliquidated, or any transaction or event occurring prior to such termination, or any transaction or event, the performance of which is required after the Maturity Date. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein or in any other Loan Document, all undertakings, agreements, covenants, warranties and representations of or binding upon the Credit Parties, and all rights of the Agents and the Lenders, all as contained in the Loan Documents, shall not terminate or expire, but rather shall survive any such termination or cancellation and shall continue in full force and effect until the Termination Date; provided, that the provisions of Article 12, and the obligations under Section 1.15, Section 1.16, Section 1.17, Section 10.1(2), Section 10.1(7), Section 11.2(9), Section 11.3(6) and any other indemnities contained herein or in the other Loan Documents shall survive the Termination Date.

ARTICLE 9
EVENTS OF DEFAULT; RIGHTS AND REMEDIES

Section 9.1 Events of Default.

The Administrative Agent may, or if directed by the Required Lenders shall, terminate this Agreement immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following "Events of Default":

(a) the Borrower or any other Credit Party, as the case may be, (i) fails to make any payment of any principal amount of the Accommodations when due and payable, or (ii) fails to pay interest or any of the Accommodations or any other Obligations (other than principal), fails to pay any Fees or fails to reimburse the Administrative Agent, Co-Collateral Agents or Lenders for any expense reimbursable hereunder or under any other Loan Document within 2 days following the Administrative Agent's demand for such reimbursement or payment of same;

(b) any representation or warranty made or deemed to be made by any Credit Party under this Agreement or any other Loan Document, or any information contained in any notice, document, report, Financial Statement or certificate delivered under this Agreement or any other Loan Document (other than Projections, which shall be subject to the condition that they have been prepared in good faith based on assumptions believed to be reasonable at the time made), shall prove to have been incorrect in any material respect as of the date when made, deemed made or delivered as the case may be;

(c) any Credit Party shall fail to perform or observe any term, covenant or agreement contained in Article 6 or Article 7 or (except as set forth below in any other subsection of this Section 9.1) any other negative covenant contained in any other Loan Document;

(d) any Credit Party shall fail to perform or observe any term, covenant or agreement (other than those referenced in Section 9.1(a), (b) and (c) above or below in any other subsection of this Section 9.1) contained in this Agreement or any Loan Document on its part to be performed or observed and such failure shall remain unremedied for ten (10) days;

(e) any Credit Party fails to pay the principal of, or premium or interest on, any of its Indebtedness (excluding Indebtedness under this Agreement) which is outstanding in an aggregate principal amount exceeding Cdn. $30,000,000 (or the equivalent amount in any other currency) when such amount becomes due and payable (whether by scheduled maturity, required prepayment, acceleration, demand or otherwise) and such failure continues after the applicable grace period, if any, specified in the agreement or instrument relating to the Indebtedness; or any other event occurs or condition exists and continues after the applicable grace period, if any, specified in any agreement or instrument relating to any such Indebtedness, if its effect is to accelerate, or permit the acceleration of the Indebtedness; or any such Indebtedness shall be declared to be due and payable prior to its stated maturity;

(f) without limiting the generality of Section 9.1(e), any Credit Party fails to pay the principal of, or premium or interest on, any of its Indebtedness under the Term Credit Documents, the Secured Notes Credit Documents, the Province Credit Documents or the Bank Products when any such amount becomes due and payable (whether by scheduled maturity, required prepayment, acceleration, demand or otherwise) and such failure continues after the applicable grace period, if any, specified in the agreement or instrument relating to such Indebtedness; or any other event occurs or condition exists and continues after the applicable grace period, if any, specified in any agreement or instrument relating to any such Indebtedness, if its effect is to accelerate, or permit the acceleration of the Indebtedness; or any such Indebtedness shall be declared to be due and payable prior to its stated maturity;

(g) any judgment or order for the payment of money in excess of Cdn. $10,000,000 (or the equivalent amount in any other currency) is rendered against any Credit Party and either (i) enforcement proceedings have been commenced by a creditor upon the judgment or order, or (ii) there is any period of ten (10) consecutive days during which a stay of enforcement of the judgment or order, by reason of a pending appeal or otherwise, is not in effect;

(h) any ERISA Affiliate fails to pay when due an amount or amounts aggregating in excess of US$1,000,000 which it shall have become liable to pay under Section 4062, 4063 or 4064 of ERISA except as provided in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.; there occurs a complete or partial withdrawal from, or a default, within the meaning of Section 4219(c)(5) of ERISA, with respect to one or more Multiemployer Plans which could cause one or more ERISA Affiliates to incur a current annual payment obligation in excess of US$1,000,000 except as provided in Schedule Error! Reference source not found.; or a notice of intent to terminate a Plan is filed under Title IV of ERISA by any ERISA Affiliate, any plan administrator or any combination of the foregoing if such termination would result in a Material Adverse Effect; or the PBGC institutes proceedings under Title IV of ERISA to terminate, to impose liability (other than for premiums under Section 4007 of ERISA) in respect of, or to cause a trustee to be appointed to administer any Plan, if such action by the PBGC would result in a Material Adverse Effect;

(i) the institution of any steps by any Credit Party or any applicable Governmental Entity to terminate or wind-up a Canadian Pension Plan (wholly or in part) if, as a result of such termination or wind-up, any Credit Party may be required to make an additional contribution (at the time of such termination or wind-up or at any time thereafter) to such

Canadian Pension Plan, or to incur any wind-up deficiency (at the time of such termination or wind-up or at any time thereafter) to such Canadian Pension Plan, equal to or in excess of $5,000,000 or the equivalent thereof in another currency for such Canadian Pension Plan and all Canadian Pension Plans so previously terminated or wound-up after the date hereof; the institution of any steps by any Governmental Entity to make any changes to benefits under any Canadian Benefit Plan or Canadian Pension Plan which either (i) increases the quantum of contributions or other funding required under such plan, or (ii) increases or could result in an increase in the amount of any solvency deficiency or going concern unfunded liability under such plan; in each case, in an aggregate amount in excess of $5,000,000 or which, in the sole discretion of the Co-Collateral Agents, compromises the priority of the security of the Agents and the Lenders in the Collateral;

(j) any Credit Party or Governmental Entity shall fail to perform, observe or comply in any material respect with any term, covenant or agreement contained in, or any termination or revocation by any Person other than the Administrative Agent of, or any acceleration of any amounts owing pursuant to, the Pension Agreement, the Stelco Pension Regulation or the other Laws addressing the condition precedent set forth in Section 2.1(19) of the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement, or any change in the Laws addressing the conditions precedent set forth in Section 2.1(19) of the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement;

(k) an Order or Notice of Proposal is issued by the Superintendent of Financial Services (Ontario) pursuant to any of Sections 87 to 89 of the PBA in respect of a Canadian Pension Plan that directly or indirectly requires the payment of, or directly or indirectly results in the obligation to pay, any monetary amount in respect of such Canadian Pension Plan, where such payment(s) or obligation(s) to pay (individually or in the aggregate) (i) exceeds $5,000,000, or (ii) could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect; or any change is made to applicable Laws, regulations or any agreements, including without limitation the CCAA, BIA, PBA, the Stelco Pension Regulation, the PBR or the Pension Agreement and which relate to any amounts due, accruing due, past due or which may become due hereafter under any Canadian Pension Plan (including without limitation in respect of payments, contributions, going concern unfunded liabilities, solvency deficiencies or wind-up deficiencies), which could result in any Pension Deemed Trust or other Lien arising, becoming enforceable or otherwise crystallizing in favour of any Person which is not subordinated and postponed in all respects to the repayment in full of the Obligations and to the Liens in favour of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders in the Collateral; or any other change is made in any Law or regulation which, in the sole discretion of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, could reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect on the priority of the Liens created by the Loan Documents, on the enforcement rights and remedies of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders under the Loan Documents, on the Collateral or on the ability of the Borrower to repay the Obligations when due (whether or not there shall have occurred any of the events listed in Section 9.1(m)) below;

(l) there is a Fundamental Change;

(m) any Credit Party (i) becomes insolvent or generally not able to pay its debts as they become due, (ii) admits in writing its inability to pay its debts generally or makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, (iii) institutes or has instituted against it any proceeding seeking (x) to adjudicate it a bankrupt or insolvent, (y) liquidation, winding-up, reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, protection, relief or composition of it or its debts under any law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or relief of debtors including any plan of compromise or arrangement or other corporate proceeding involving or affecting its creditors, or (z) the entry of an order for relief or the appointment of a receiver, trustee or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its properties and assets, and in the case of any such proceeding instituted against it (but not instituted by it), either the proceeding remains undismissed or unstayed for a period of 10 days, or any of the actions sought in such proceeding (including the entry of an order for relief against it or the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its properties and assets) occurs, or (iv) takes any corporate action to authorize any of the above actions;

(n) the audited annual Financial Statements of the Borrower are qualified in any material respect by the Borrower's independent auditors;

(o) any material provision of any Loan Document for any reason ceases to be valid, binding and enforceable in accordance with its terms (or any Credit Party or other Person party to a Loan Document shall challenge the enforceability of any Loan Document or shall assert in writing, or engage in any action or inaction based on any such assertion, that any provision of any of the Loan Documents has ceased to be or otherwise is not valid, binding and enforceable in accordance with its terms), or any Lien created under any Loan Document ceases to be a valid and perfected Lien having the priorities set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement (except as otherwise permitted herein or therein) in any of the Collateral purported to be covered thereby;

(p) Availability falls below $45,000,000 for any reason whatsoever;

(q) any Credit Party to a Material Contract fails to perform, observe or comply in any material respect with any term, covenant or agreement contained in such Material Contract; or any party to any Material Contract delivers a notice of termination or revocation (other than in accordance with its terms and not as a result of default) in respect of such Material Contract and such Material Contract is not replaced with a contract or other binding arrangement with one or more third parties within a reasonable period of time on terms no less favourable in the aggregate, to such Credit Party than the terms of the Material Contract so terminated or revoked;

(r) any failure by any Credit Party or any other Person party to the Blocked Account arrangements to perform, observe or comply with any term, covenant or agreement contained in the Blocked Account arrangements contemplated in the Loan Documents, which the Co-Collateral Agents in their sole discretion deem to be materially adverse to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders;

(s) if any execution, sequestration, garnishment, claim or other process of any court, tribunal or other Person becomes enforceable against the Borrower for an amount in excess of $10,000,000 or if a distress or analogous process for an amount in excess of $2,500,000 becomes enforceable against or is levied upon the Collateral;

(t) any Credit Party or Credit Parties are required by a Governmental Entity to make expenditures or pay damages, fines, claims costs or expenses aggregating $10,000,000 at any time on a consolidated basis to remediate or in respect of, Environmental Liabilities, as the case may be;

(u) without limiting the generality of any of the foregoing provisions of this Section 9.1, any Credit Party or any other Person party to the Intercreditor Agreement or Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be, shall fail to perform, observe or comply with any term, covenant or agreement contained in the Intercreditor Agreement or Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be, which the Co-Collateral Agents in their sole discretion deem to be materially adverse to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders; or

(v) the occurrence of a Material Adverse Effect.

Section 9.2 Remedies.

(1) If any Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Administrative Agent may (and at the written request of the Required Lenders shall), without notice, suspend the Revolving Line of Credit with respect to additional Revolving Loans, whereupon any additional Revolving Loans shall be made or incurred in the Administrative Agent's sole discretion (or in the sole discretion of the Required Lenders if such suspension occurred at their direction) so long as such Default or Event of Default is continuing. If any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Administrative Agent may (and at the written request of the Required Lenders shall), without notice except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and subject to applicable law, increase the rates of interest applicable to the Revolving Loans to the Default Rate of Interest.

(2) If any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Administrative Agent may (and at the written request of the Required Lenders shall), without notice: (i) terminate the Revolving Line of Credit with respect to further Revolving Loans; (ii) reduce the Commitments from time to time; (iii) declare all or any portion of the applicable Obligations, including all or any portion of Revolving Loan to be forthwith due and payable, all without presentment, demand, protest or further notice of any kind, all of which are expressly waived by the Borrower and each other Credit Party; and/or (iv) exercise all rights and remedies allowed under the applicable Loan Documents other than the Real Estate Security (and with the consent of the Co-Collateral Agents, exercise all rights and remedies allowed under the Real Estate Security), applicable Laws of Canada and of the United States and any province or state thereof, including but not limited to the PPSA and other applicable Laws; provided, however, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default specified in Section 9.1(m), the Revolving Line of Credit shall be immediately terminated and all of the Obligations shall become immediately due and payable without declaration, notice or demand by any Person.

Section 9.3 Waivers by Credit Parties.

Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement or by applicable Law, the Borrower on behalf of itself and each of the other Credit Parties waives: (a) presentment, demand and protest and notice of presentment, dishonour, notice of intent to accelerate, notice of acceleration, protest, default, non-payment, maturity, release, compromise, settlement, extension or renewal of any or all commercial paper, accounts, contract rights, documents, instruments, chattel paper and guarantees at any time held by the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender on which any Credit Party may in any way be liable, and hereby ratifies and confirms whatever the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender may lawfully do in this regard, (b) all rights to notice and a hearing prior to the Administrative Agent's taking possession or control of, or to Administrative Agent's reply, attachment or levy upon, the Collateral or any bond or security that might be required by any court prior to allowing the Administrative Agent to exercise any of its remedies, and (c) the benefit of all valuation, appraisal, marshalling and exemption laws. The Borrower on behalf of itself and each of the other Credit Parties acknowledges that in the event such Credit Party fails to perform, observe or discharge any of its obligations or liabilities under this Agreement or any other Loan Document, any remedy of law may prove to be inadequate relief to the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender; therefore, such Credit Party agrees, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or by other applicable Law, that such Persons shall be entitled to temporary and permanent injunctive relief in any such case without the necessity of proving actual damages.

ARTICLE 10
AGREEMENT AMONG THE LENDERS

Section 10.1 Agreement among the Lenders

(1) The Administrative Agent, for the account of the Lenders, shall disburse all loans and advances to the Borrower and shall handle all collections of Collateral and repayment of Obligations. It is understood that for purposes of advances to the Borrower and for purposes of this Section 10.1, the Administrative Agent is using the funds of the Administrative Agent.

(2) Unless the Administrative Agent shall have been notified in writing by any Lender prior to any advance to the Borrower that such Lender will not make the amount which would constitute its share of the borrowing on such date available to the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent may assume that such Lender shall make such amount available to the Administrative Agent on a Settlement Date, and the Administrative Agent may, in reliance upon such assumption, make available to the Borrower a corresponding amount. A certificate of the Administrative Agent submitted to any Lender with respect to any amount owing under this Section 10.1 shall be conclusive, absent manifest error. If such Lender's share of such borrowing is not in fact made available to the Administrative Agent by such Lender on the Settlement Date, the Administrative Agent shall be entitled to recover such amount with interest thereon at the rate per annum applicable to Revolving Loans hereunder, on demand, from the Borrower without prejudice to any rights which the Administrative Agent may have against such Lender hereunder. Nothing contained in this shall relieve any Lender which has failed to make available its rateable portion of any borrowing hereunder from its obligation to do so in accordance with the terms hereof. Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to obligate the Administrative Agent to make available to the Borrower the full amount of a requested advance when the Administrative Agent has any notice (written or otherwise) that any of the Lenders will not advance its rateable portion thereof.

(3) On the Settlement Date, the Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall each remit to the other, in immediately available funds, all amounts necessary so as to ensure that, as of the Settlement Date, the Lenders shall have their Pro Rata Share of all outstanding Obligations.

(4) The Administrative Agent shall forward to each Lender, at the end of each month, a copy of the account statement rendered by the Administrative Agent to the Borrower.

(5) The Administrative Agent shall, after receipt of any interest and fees earned under this Agreement, promptly remit to the Lenders their Pro Rata Share of any (i) fees they are entitled to receive, and (ii) interest computed at the rate and as provided for in this Agreement on all outstanding amounts advanced by the Lenders on each Settlement Date, prior to adjustment, that are subsequent to the last remittance by the Administrative Agent to the Lenders of such interest amounts.

(6) The Borrower hereby acknowledges that each Lender is solely responsible for its portion of the Line of Credit and that neither the Administrative Agent nor any Lender shall be responsible for, nor assume any obligations for the failure of any Lender to make available its portion of the Line of Credit. Further, should any Lender refuse to make available its portion of the Line of Credit, then the other Lenders may, but without obligation to do so, increase, unilaterally, its portion of the Line of Credit in which event the Borrower is so obligated to the other Lenders.

(7) In the event that the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents, the Lenders or any one of them is sued or threatened with suit by the Borrower or any one of them, or by any receiver, trustee, creditor or any committee of creditors on account of any preference, voidable transfer or lender liability issue, alleged to have occurred or been received as a result of, or during the transactions contemplated under this Agreement, then in such event any money paid in satisfaction or compromise of such suit, action, claim or demand and any expenses, costs and legal fees paid or incurred in connection therewith, whether by the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents, the Lenders or any one of them, shall be shared proportionately by the Lenders provided such suit, action, claim or demand does not result directly from the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents, a Lender or any combination of the foregoing, in which case the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents, the Lender or any combination of the foregoing shall be solely responsible for the satisfaction or compromise of such suit, action, claim or demand and payment of such expenses, costs and fees. In addition, any costs, expenses, fees or disbursements incurred by outside agencies or attorneys retained by the Administrative Agent or the Co-Collateral Agents, to effect collection or enforcement of any rights in the Collateral, including enforcing, preserving or maintaining rights under this Agreement shall be shared proportionately between and among the Lenders to the extent not reimbursed by the Borrower or from the proceeds of Collateral.

(8) Each of the Lenders agrees with each other Lender that any money or assets of the Borrower held or received by such Lender in connection with this Agreement, how or when received, shall be applied to the reduction of the Obligations (to the extent permitted hereunder) after (x) the occurrence of an Event of Default, and (y) the election by the Required Lenders to accelerate the Obligations. In addition, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Borrower authorizes, and the Lenders shall have the right, without notice, upon any amount becoming due and payable hereunder, to set off and apply any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, provisional or final) at any time held and other obligations at any time owing by such Lender or an affiliate of such Lender to or for the credit or the account of the Borrower against any of and all of the obligations of the Borrower now or hereafter existing under the Loan Documents held by such Lender, irrespective of whether or not such Lender shall have made any demand under the Loan Documents and although such obligations may be unmatured. The rights of each Lender under this Section are in addition to other rights and remedies (including other rights of set off) which such Lender may have.

ARTICLE 11
ASSIGNMENTS; AGENCY; AMENDMENTS

Section 11.1 Assignments.

(1) The Borrower acknowledges that, subject to the terms hereof, the Administrative Agent and the Lenders may sell and assign all or any portion of their respective Commitments for the loans and extensions of credit made and to be made to the Borrower hereunder.

(2) The Borrower authorizes the Administrative Agent and each other Lender to disclose to any such purchasing lender (each, a "Transferee") and any prospective Transferee any and all information in such Lender's possession concerning the Borrower and its Affiliates which has been delivered to such Lender by or on behalf of the Borrower pursuant to this Agreement or which has been delivered to such Lender by or on behalf of the Borrower in connection with such Lender's credit evaluation of the Borrower and its Affiliates prior to entering into this Agreement, provided that such Transferee agrees to hold such information in confidence in the ordinary course of its business in accordance with Section 13.12 hereof.

(3) Subject to Section 11.1(4), the Lenders shall have the right at any time to assign to one or more assignees all or a portion of its rights and obligations under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents (including, without limitation, its obligations under the Revolving Loans) with the consent of the Administrative Agent, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Upon execution of an Assignment and Transfer Agreement (a) the assignee thereunder shall be a party hereto and, to the extent that rights and obligations hereunder have been assigned to it pursuant to such assignment, have the rights and obligations of a Lender hereunder, and (b) a Lender shall, to the extent that its rights and obligations hereunder have been assigned by it pursuant to such assignment, relinquish its rights and be released from its obligations under this Agreement. The Borrower shall, if necessary, execute and cause each Credit Party to execute any documents reasonably required to effectuate the assignments. It shall be a condition of any assignment by any Lenders hereunder that (i) the amount being assigned shall, provided no Event of Default has occurred which is continuing, not be less than the lesser of (x) $25,000,000, or (y) the entire interest of such Lender hereunder (and if an Event of Default has occurred which is continuing, there shall be no such limit), (ii) such assignment shall be of a pro-rata portion of all of such assigning Lender's rights and obligations hereunder and under the other Loan Documents, (iii) the parties to such assignment shall execute and deliver to the Administrative Agent an Assignment and Transfer Agreement, and (iv) any assigning Lender hereunder shall pay the Administrative Agent an assignment fee of five thousand dollars ($5,000) as a condition to any assignment hereunder.

(4) No Lender may assign all or a portion of its right and obligations under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents prior to the occurrence of an Event of Default that is continuing without the prior written consent of the Borrower, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each of the Lenders shall have the right to assign to one or more of its branches or Affiliates which is a Canadian Resident Lender all or a portion of its rights and obligations under this Agreement (including, without limitation, its obligations under the Revolving Loans) without the consent of the Administrative Agent or the Borrower or paying any assignment fees provided such assignment complies with all other provisions of this Section 11.1.

Section 11.2 Agency.

(1) Each Lender hereby irrevocably designates and appoints the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, under this Agreement and any Loan Documents and irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Lenders, to take such action on its behalf under the provisions of this Agreement and all Loan Documents and to exercise such powers and perform such duties as are expressly delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms of this Agreement and all Loan Documents together with such other powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary elsewhere in this Agreement, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duties or responsibilities, except those expressly set forth herein, or any fiduciary relationship with any Lender or any other Agent and no implied covenants, functions, responsibilities, duties, obligations or liabilities shall be read into this Agreement and the Loan Documents or otherwise exist against the Administrative Agent.

(2) Each of the Co-Collateral Agents, the Lenders and the Borrower confirms the appointment and designation of the Administrative Agent (or any successor thereto) as the person holding the power of attorney ("fondé de pouvoir") within the meaning of Article 2692 of the Civil Code of Québec for the purpose of the hypothecary security under the deed of hypothec to be granted by the Borrower under the laws of the Province of Quebec and, in such capacity, the Administrative Agent, shall hold the hypothecs granted under the laws of the Province of Quebec as such fondé de pouvoir in the exercise of the rights conferred thereunder. The execution by the Administrative Agent, as such fondé de pouvoir, prior to the date hereof of any deed creating or evidencing any such hypothec is hereby ratified and confirmed. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 32 of the Act respecting the special power of legal persons (Quebec), the Administrative Agent may acquire and be the holder of any of the bonds (or similar instruments) secured by such hypothecs. Each assignee Lender that becomes party to this Agreement by either becoming a party to this Agreement directly or by executing an Assignment and Transfer Agreement shall be deemed to have ratified and confirmed the appointment of the Administrative Agent as fondé de pouvoir.

(3) The Administrative Agent may execute any of its duties under this Agreement and all Loan Documents by or through agents or attorneys-in-fact and shall be entitled to the advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties.

(4) Notwithstanding the terms of any security agreements, the Liens on the Collateral granted by the Credit Parties to the Administrative Agent on behalf of itself, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders pursuant to any Loan Documents shall be held by the Administrative Agent for the rateable benefit of itself, the Co-Collateral Agents and all Lenders and any proceeds from any realization of any such Liens (after deducting all reasonable costs and expenses of every kind incurred or incidental to the care or safekeeping of any of the Collateral or in any way relating to the Collateral or the rights of the Administrative Agent, on its own behalf and on behalf of the Lenders, or the Lenders, hereunder, including reasonable legal fees and disbursements on a solicitor and his own client basis and the costs of any receiver or consultant of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders engaged), shall be applied first in accordance with the second sentence of Section 1.11 (other than in respect of Bank Products) (whether such Liens are held in the name of the Administrative Agent or in the name of any one or more of the Lenders and without regard to any priority to which the Lender may otherwise be entitled under applicable law), and thereafter in respect of Obligations owing under Bank Products. Each of the Lenders acknowledges that the obligations of the Borrower under the Bank Products are secured by the Liens granted under the security documents delivered by the Credit Parties, pari passu with the obligations of the Borrower under this Agreement; provided that all decisions regarding the administration and enforcement of such security documents shall be made by the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders under this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof, and any Lender (or Affiliate of a Lender) which is also a counterparty under a Bank Product shall, in its capacity as a counterparty under a Bank Product, have no voting rights under this Agreement and no other right whatsoever to participate in the administration or enforcement of such security documents. If any Lender obtains any payment (whether voluntary, involuntary or through the exercise of any right of set-off) on account of Accommodations made by it, in excess of its rateable share of payments obtained by all the Lenders, the Lender shall account to and pay over to the other Lenders their rateable share.

(5) Neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, or attorneys-in-fact shall be (i) liable to any Lender or any other Agent for any action lawfully taken or omitted to be taken by it or such person under or in connection with this Agreement and all Loan Documents (except for its or such person's own gross negligence or wilful misconduct), or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the Lenders or any other Agent for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by any Credit Party or any officer thereof contained in this Agreement and all Loan Documents or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with, this Agreement and all Loan Documents or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Agreement and all Loan Documents or for any failure of any Credit Party to perform their obligations hereunder or thereunder. The Administrative Agent shall not be under any obligation to any Lender or any other Agent to ascertain or to inquire as to the observance or performance of any of the agreements contained in, or conditions of, this Agreement and all Loan Documents or to inspect the properties, books or records of any Credit Party.

(6) The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to rely, and shall be fully protected in relying, upon any note, writing, resolution, notice, consent, certificate, affidavit, letter, cablegram, telegram, e-mail, telecopy, telex or teletype message, statement, order or other document or conversation reasonably believed by it to be genuine and correct and to have been signed, sent or made by the proper person or persons and upon advice and statements of legal counsel (including, without limitation, counsel to the Borrower), independent accountants and other experts selected by the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action under this Agreement and all Loan Documents unless it shall first receive such advice or concurrence of the Lenders, or the Required Lenders, as the case may be, as it deems appropriate or it shall first be indemnified to its satisfaction by the Lenders against any and all liability and expense which may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action. The Administrative Agent shall in all cases be fully protected in acting, or in refraining from acting, under this Agreement and all Loan Documents in accordance with a request of the Lenders, or the Required Lenders, as the case may be, and such request and any action taken or failure to act pursuant thereto shall be binding upon all the Lenders.

(7) The Administrative Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Default or Event of Default hereunder unless the Administrative Agent has actual knowledge of or has received written notice from a Lender or the Borrower describing such Default or Event of Default. In the event that the Administrative Agent has actual knowledge of or receives such a notice, the Administrative Agent shall promptly give notice thereof to the Lenders. The Administrative Agent shall take such action with respect to such Default or Event of Default as shall be reasonably directed by the Lenders, or Required Lenders, as the case may be; provided that unless and until the Administrative Agent shall have received such direction, the Administrative Agent may, in the interim (but shall not be obligated to) take such action, or refrain from taking such action, with respect to such Default or Event of Default as it shall deem advisable and in the best interests of the Lenders. In the event the Administrative Agent at the request of the Required Lenders or otherwise, continues to make Revolving Loans and advances under this Agreement upon the occurrence of a Default or Event of Default, any such Revolving Loans and advances may be in such amounts and on such additional terms and conditions as the Required Lenders may deem appropriate.

(8) Each Lender and other Agent expressly acknowledges that neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents or attorneys-in-fact has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by the Administrative Agent hereinafter taken, including any review of the affairs of the Credit Parties shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by the Administrative Agent to any Lender or other Agent. Each Lender represents to the Administrative Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Lender and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of and investigation into the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Credit Parties and made its own decision to enter into this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. Each Lender also represents and covenants that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Lender and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other condition or creditworthiness of the Credit Parties. The Administrative Agent, however, upon request, shall provide the Lenders with copies of all financial statements, projections and business plans which come into the possession of the Administrative Agent or any of its officers, employees, agents or attorneys-in-fact.

(9) Each Lender agrees to indemnify the Administrative Agent in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed by the Borrower and without limiting the obligation of the Borrower to do so), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements (including, without limitation, all out-of-pocket expenses) of any kind whatsoever (including negligence but not the gross negligence on the part of the Administrative Agent) which may at any time be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against the Administrative Agent in any way relating to or arising out of this Agreement, the Loan Documents, or any ancillary documents or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or the transactions contemplated hereby or any action taken or omitted by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with any of the foregoing; provided that no Lender shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements resulting solely from the Administrative Agent's gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

(10) The Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents will use their reasonable business judgment in handling the collection of the Accounts, enforcement of its and their rights hereunder and realization upon the Collateral but shall not be liable to the Lenders or any other Agent, except for the Administrative Agent's or Co-Collateral Agents' gross negligence, for any action taken or omitted to be taken in good faith or on the written advice of counsel. Each Lender expressly releases the Administrative Agent and the Co-Collateral Agents from any and all liability and responsibility (express or implied), for any loss, depreciation of or delay in collecting or failing to realize on any Collateral, the Obligations or any guarantees therefor and for any mistake, omission or error in judgment in passing upon or accepting any Collateral or in making (or in failing to make) examinations or audits or for granting indulgences or extensions to the Borrower in accordance and consistent with the terms and provisions of this Agreement, any account debtor or any guarantor, other than resulting from the Administrative Agent's or Co-Collateral Agents' gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

(11) The Administrative Agent may make loans to, and generally engage in any kind of business with the Borrower as though the Administrative Agent were not the Administrative Agent hereunder. With respect to its loans made or renewed by it or loan obligations hereunder as Lender, the Administrative Agent shall have the same rights and powers, duties and liabilities under this Agreement as any Lender and may exercise the same as though it was not the Administrative Agent and the terms "Lender" and "Lenders" shall include the Administrative Agent in its individual capacity.

(12) The Administrative Agent may resign as the agent to the Lenders upon 30 days' notice to the Lenders and such resignation shall be effective upon the appointment of a successor Administrative Agent. If the Administrative Agent shall resign as agent to the Lenders then the Lenders shall appoint a successor agent for the Lenders whereupon such successor agent shall succeed to the rights, powers and duties of the Administrative Agent and the term "Administrative Agent" shall mean such successor agent effective upon its appointment, and the former Administrative Agent's rights, powers and duties as agent to the Lenders shall be terminated, without any other or further act or deed on the part of such former agent or any of the parties to this Agreement. After any retiring agent's resignation hereunder as the agent to the Lenders the provisions of this Agreement shall enure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was the agent to the Lenders.

Section 11.3 Amendments.

(1) Subject to the remainder of this Section 11.3, no amendment or waiver of any provision of any of the Loan Documents, other than the Fee Letter, nor consent to any departure by the Borrower or any other Person from such provisions, is effective unless in writing and approved by the Required Lenders. In addition to requiring the prior written approval of the Required Lenders, the Administrative Agent shall not, without the prior written approval of the Co-Collateral Agents:

(a) amend this Agreement to alter, amend or waive:

(A) the definitions of Collateral, Restricted Subsidiaries or ABL Term Priority Collateral Adjusted Capped Amount;

(B) the events that trigger activation of the Blocked Accounts or the transfer of all funds received or deposited in to the Blocked Accounts to the depository accounts;

(C) Availability or Line Availability thresholds, other than as referred to in Section 11.3(3);

(D) eligibility of any Collateral, any advance rate of any basis of reserves which, in any such case is favourable to the Borrower;

(E) appraisal or audit frequency; or

(b) waive, amend or forbear with respect to any Defaults or Events of Default, other than as referred to in Section 11.3(3); or

(c) consent to:

(i) any "Permitted Encumbrances" under the definition;

(ii) the terms of any orders applicable to the Borrower; or

(iii) other than as expressly contemplated by Section 11.3(8), any reduction in the amount of the ABL Term Priority Collateral Capped Amount.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, the Administrative Agent will not, without the prior written approval of all Lenders:

(a) amend this Agreement to:

(i) increase the Line of Credit;

(ii) reduce the interest rates;

(iii) reduce or waive:

(A) any Fees in which the Lenders share hereunder;

(B) the repayment of any Obligations due the Lenders hereunder;

(iv) extend the maturity of the Obligations created hereunder;

(v) alter or amend the definition of "Required Lenders" or "Super Majority Lenders";

(vi) alter, amend or waive:

(A) Section 1.2(a);

(B) this Section 11.3 or any provision hereof expressly providing for "all of" or "each of" the Lenders; or

(b) except as otherwise permitted in this Agreement, release any guarantee or Collateral in excess of $500,000 during any year.

Subject to the provisions of Section 2.1 and Section 2.2 and this Section 11.3, in all other respects the Administrative Agent is authorized by each of the Lenders to take such actions or fail to take such actions under this Agreement if the Administrative Agent, in its reasonable discretion, deems such to be advisable and in the best interest of the Lenders. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, subject to this Section 11.3(2) and Section 11.3(3) and any direction of the Required Lenders, the Co-Collateral Agents are authorized to take such actions or fail to take such actions in connection with (a) the exercise of (i) any and all rights and remedies under this Agreement (including but not limited to the exercise of rights and remedies under Section 9.2), and (ii) the discretion of the Co-Collateral Agents in determining compliance with the eligibility requirements of Eligible Accounts Receivable and/or Eligible Inventory and establishing Availability Reserves, (b) the release of Collateral not to exceed $500,000 in the aggregate during any Fiscal Year, and/or (c) curing any ambiguity, defect or inconsistency in the terms of this Agreement; provided that the Co-Collateral Agents, in their reasonable discretion, deems such to be advisable and in the best interests of the Lenders. In the event this Agreement is terminated pursuant to the terms hereof, the Administrative Agent will cease making any loans or advances upon the effective date of termination except for any loans or advances which the Co-Collateral Agents deem, in their sole discretion, are reasonably required to maintain, protect or realize upon the Collateral.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, the Administrative Agent will not, without the prior written approval of the Super Majority Lenders:

(a) amend this Agreement to alter, amend or waive the definitions of Availability, Line Availability, Borrowing Base, Eligible Accounts Receivable or Eligible Inventory; or

(b) waive, amend or forbear with respect to any Defaults or Events of Default under Section 9.1(p); or

(c) consent to increase the advance percentages against Eligible Accounts Receivable or Eligible Inventory or alter or amend the Administrative Agent's criteria for determining compliance with such definitions of Eligible Accounts Receivable and/or Eligible Inventory if the effect thereof is to increase Availability.

(4) In the event that any Lender's consent is required pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement and any Lender declines to give its consent but the requested consent is given by the other Lenders, it is hereby mutually agreed that the Administrative Agent and/or any other Lender or Lenders (including any third party which, with the consent of the Administrative Agent, may become a Lender hereunder) shall have the right (but not the obligation) to purchase such Lender's share of the Revolving Line of Credit for the full amount thereof together with accrued interest thereon to the date of such purchase. In the event that more than one Lender desires to so purchase such dissenting Lender's share of the Revolving Line of Credit, each such Lender shall have the right to purchase an amount of such Lender's share of the Revolving Line of Credit based on its Pro Rata Share.

(5) If either Co-Collateral Agent proposes an adjustment or revision to Availability Reserves or Eligible Accounts Receivable or Eligible Inventory or exercising a right or makes any other proposal regarding a determination or action which may be made by the Co-Collateral Agents pursuant to this Agreement, and the Co-Collateral Agents collectively cannot agree on such adjustment, revision or action, the final determination shall be made by the individual Co-Collateral Agent asserting the more conservative credit judgment, such credit judgment to be exercised in good faith.

(6) If the Administrative Agent is required at any time to return to the Borrower or to a trustee, receiver, liquidator, custodian or other similar official any portion of the payments made by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent as result of a bankruptcy or similar proceeding with respect to the Borrower, any guarantor or any other Person, then each Lender shall, on demand of the Administrative Agent, forthwith return to the Administrative Agent its rateable share of any such payments made to such Lender by the Administrative Agent, together with its rateable share of interest and/or penalties, if any, payable by the Lenders.

(7) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, the Administrative Agent may, with the prior written approval of the Co-Collateral Agents, enter into any amendment or waiver of the Intercreditor Agreement, or enter into any new Intercreditor Agreement or acknowledgement contemplated by Section 8.13(1) of the Intercreditor Agreement.

(8) Subject to Section 11.3(7), the Administrative Agent acknowledges and agrees (and each of the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders consents to the Administrative Agent taking such action) to execute and deliver such documents as may be reasonably requested by the Borrower to give effect to the Administrative Agent, the Co-Collateral Agents and the Lenders agreeing to adjust the ABL Term Priority Collateral Capped Amount to the ABL Term Priority Collateral Adjusted Capped Amount upon satisfaction of the conditions set forth in such definition necessary to effect such adjustment.

ARTICLE 12
SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS

Section 12.1 Successors and Assigns.

This Agreement, the other Loan Documents, and all Liens created hereby or pursuant to any other Loan Documents shall be binding upon each Credit Party and their respective successors, assigns, transferees and endorsees and any trustee or successor in interest of any Credit Party in a proceeding under any Insolvency Law. This Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be binding upon, and inure to the benefit of, each Agent and each Lender, and their respective successors, assigns, transferees and endorsees. No Credit Party may assign, transfer, hypothecate or otherwise convey its rights, benefits, obligations or duties hereunder or under any of the other Loan Documents without the prior express written consent of the Administrative Agent and all Lenders. Any such purported assignment, transfer, hypothecation or other conveyance by any Credit Party without the prior express written consent of the Administrative Agent and all Lenders shall be void. The terms and provisions of this Agreement are for the purpose of defining the relative rights and obligations of each Credit Party, each Agent and each Lender with respect to the transactions contemplated hereby and no Person shall be a third party beneficiary of any of the terms and provisions of this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents, except under and as specified in any applicable indemnification clauses contained in such Loan Documents.

ARTICLE 13
MISCELLANEOUS

Section 13.1 Complete Agreement; Modification of Agreement.

The Loan Documents constitute the complete agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter thereof and, except as set forth in Section 11.3, may not be modified, altered or amended except in writing signed by the Borrower (and/or the other applicable Credit Party or Credit Parties, as the case may be) on the one hand, and by the Administrative Agent with the prior written consent of the Required Lenders, on the other hand (drafts and copies of any such modification, alteration or amendment to be provided by the Administrative Agent to all Lenders concurrently as provided to the Borrower or such other Credit Party or Credit Parties, as the case may be). Any letter of interest, commitment letter, or confidentiality agreement, if any, between any Credit Party and the Agents or any Lender or any of their respective Affiliates, predating this Agreement, other than the Fee Letter, and relating to a financing of substantially similar form, purpose or effect shall be superseded by this Agreement.

Section 13.2 Gender and Number.

Any reference in the Loan Documents to gender includes all genders and words importing the singular number only include the plural and vice versa.

Section 13.3 Headings, etc.

The provision of a Table of Contents, the division of this Agreement into Articles and Sections and the insertion of headings are for convenient reference only and are not to affect the interpretation of this Agreement.

Section 13.4 Currency.

All references in the Loan Documents to dollars, unless otherwise specifically indicated, are expressed in Canadian currency.

Section 13.5 Certain Phrases, etc.

In any Loan Document (i) (y) the words "including" and "includes" mean "including (or includes) without limitation" and (z) the phrase "the aggregate of", "the total of", "the sum of", or a phrase of similar meaning means "the aggregate (or total or sum), without duplication, of", and (ii) in the computation of periods of time from a specified date to a later specified date, unless otherwise expressly stated, the word "from" means "from and including" and the words "to" and "until" each mean "to but excluding".

Section 13.6 Accounting Terms.

All accounting terms not specifically defined in this Agreement shall be interpreted in accordance with GAAP.

Section 13.7 Incorporation of Schedules.

The schedules attached to this Agreement shall, for all purposes of this Agreement, form an integral part of it.

Section 13.8 No Waiver.

The Administrative Agent's, any Co-Collateral Agent's or any Lender's failure, at any time or times, to require strict performance by the Credit Parties of any provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall not waive, affect or diminish any right of the Administrative Agent, such Co-Collateral Agent or such Lender thereafter to demand strict compliance and performance herewith or therewith. Any suspension or waiver of an Event of Default shall not suspend, waive or affect any other Event of Default whether the same is prior or subsequent thereto and whether the same or of a different type. None of the undertakings, agreements, warranties, covenants and representations of any Credit Party contained in this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents and no Default or Event of Default by any Credit Party shall be deemed to have been suspended or waived by the Administrative Agent, any Co-Collateral Agent or any Lender, unless such waiver or suspension is by an instrument in writing signed by an officer of or other authorized employee of the Administrative Agent, the applicable Co-Collateral Agent and the applicable required Lenders, and directed to the Borrower specifying such suspension or waiver.

Section 13.9 Remedies.

The Administrative Agent's, Co-Collateral Agent's and the Lenders' rights and remedies under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be cumulative and non-exclusive of any other rights and remedies that the Administrative Agent, Co-Collateral Agent or any other Lender may have under any other agreement, including the other Loan Documents, by operation of law or otherwise. For clarification, it is the intention of the parties hereto that all transfers of any account balances pursuant to the cash management systems and the Administrative Agent's agreements with the Credit Parties and/or the Credit Parties' banks or financial institutions contemplated by the cash management systems and any action that may be taken by the Administrative Agent to better perfect or protect its interest in the Collateral (including the priority of such interest) shall not be considered enforcement of the Administrative Agent's Liens. Recourse to the Collateral shall not be required.

Section 13.10 Severability.

Wherever possible, each provision of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be interpreted in such a manner as to be effective and valid under applicable law, but if any provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall be prohibited by or invalid under applicable law, such provision shall be ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition or invalidity without invalidating the remainder of such provision or the remaining provisions of this Agreement or such other Loan Document.

Section 13.11 Conflict of Terms; Priority.

(1) If any provision contained in this Agreement conflicts with any provision in any of the other Loan Documents (other than the Intercreditor Agreement or the Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be), the provision contained in this Agreement shall govern and control. If any provision in this Agreement conflicts with any provision of the Intercreditor Agreement or the Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be, the provision contained in the Intercreditor Agreement or the Province Intercreditor Agreement, as the case may be, shall govern and control.

(2) Any reference herein or in any of the other Loan Documents to a Permitted Encumbrance is not intended to subordinate or postpone, and shall not be interpreted as subordinating or postponing, or as any agreement to subordinate or postpone, any Lien created by any of the Loan Documents to any Permitted Encumbrance.

Section 13.12 Confidentiality.

Each of the Agents and each of the Lenders agree to maintain the confidentiality of any Information provided by any Credit Party to them, in the ordinary course of their business, provided that the foregoing confidentiality provision shall terminate five (5) years after the termination date of this Agreement, and provided further that any such Agents or Lenders may disclose such Information (i) to each of their Affiliates, directors, officers, employees, agents and advisors, including accountants, legal counsel and other advisors (it being understood that the Persons to whom such disclosure is made will be informed of the confidential nature of such Information and instructed to keep such Information confidential), (ii) to the extent required by any regulatory authority or other Governmental Entity, court orders, applicable laws or regulations or by any subpoena or similar legal process, (iii) to any other party to this Agreement, (iv) in connection with the exercise of any remedies under any Loan Document or any suit, action or proceeding relating to any Loan Document or the enforcement of rights thereunder, (v) subject to an agreement containing provisions substantially the same as those of this Section, to (x) any actual or prospective assignee of or participant in any of its rights or obligations under this Agreement, or (y) any actual or prospective counterparty (or its advisors) to any swap or derivative transaction relating to the Borrower and its obligations, (vi) with the consent of the Borrower, or (vii) to the extent such Information (x) becomes publicly available other than as a result of a breach of this Section, or (y) becomes available to any Agent or any Lender on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the Borrower. For the purposes of this Section, "Information" means all information received from the Borrower or any Credit Party relating to the Borrower, any of its Subsidiaries, or their respective business, other than any such information that is available to any Agent or any Lender on a non-confidential basis prior to disclosure by the Borrower; provided that, in the case of information received from the Borrower after the date hereof, such information is clearly identified as confidential in writing at the time of delivery. Any Person required to maintain the confidentiality of Information as provided in this Section shall be considered to have complied with its obligation to do so if such Person has exercised the same degree of care to maintain the confidentiality of such Information as such Person would accord to its own confidential information.

Section 13.13 Governing Law.

The validity, interpretation and enforcement of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be governed by the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

Section 13.14 Notices.

(1) Except as otherwise herein provided, any notice or other communication required hereunder shall be in writing (provided that, any electronic communications from the Borrower with respect to any request, transmission, document, electronic signature, electronic mail or facsimile transmission shall be deemed binding on the Borrower for purposes of this Agreement, provided further that any such transmission shall not relieve the Borrower from any other obligation hereunder to communicate further in writing) , and shall be deemed to have been validly served, given or delivered when hand delivered or sent by facsimile, or three (3) days after deposit in the mail, with proper first class postage prepaid and addressed to the party to be notified or to such other address as any party hereto may designate for itself by like notice, as follows:

provided, however, that the failure of the Administrative Agent to provide the Borrower's counsel with a copy of such notice shall not invalidate any notice given to the Borrower and shall not give the Borrower any rights, claims or defences due to the failure of the Administrative Agent to provide such additional notice.

Section 13.15 Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in any number of separate counterparts (including counterparts by facsimile), each of which shall collectively and separately constitute one agreement.

Section 13.16 Press Releases and Related Matters.

The Borrower acknowledges and agrees on behalf of itself and the other Credit Parties that neither they nor their Affiliates will in the future issue any press releases or other public disclosure using the name of any Agent or any Lender or any of their Affiliates or referring to this Agreement or the other Loan Documents without reasonable prior notice to such Persons and without the prior written consent of such Persons unless (and only to the extent that) such Credit Party or Affiliate is required to do so under law and then, in any event, such Credit Party or Affiliate will consult with such Persons before issuing such press release or other public disclosure. Each Credit Party consents to the publication by the Administrative Agent of a tombstone or similar advertising material relating to the financing transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The Administrative Agent shall provide a draft of any such tombstone or similar advertising material to Borrower for review and comment prior to the publication thereof. The Administrative Agent reserves the right to provide to industry trade organizations information necessary and customary for inclusion in league table measurements.

Section 13.17 Reinstatement.

This Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and continue to be effective should any assignment or petition be filed (or similar proceeding be instituted) by or against any Credit Party for liquidation or reorganization, should any Credit Party become insolvent or make an assignment for the benefit of any creditor or creditors or should a receiver, interim receiver, receiver and manager or trustee be appointed for all or any significant part of any Credit Party's assets, and shall continue to be effective or to be reinstated, as the case may be, if at any time payment and performance of the Obligations, or any part thereof, is, pursuant to applicable law, rescinded or reduced in amount, or must otherwise be restored or returned by any obligee of the Obligations, whether as a "voidable preference," "fraudulent conveyance," or otherwise, all as though such payment or performance had not been made. In the event that any payment, or any part thereof, is rescinded, reduced, restored or returned, the Obligations shall be reinstated and deemed reduced only by such amount paid and not so rescinded, reduced, restored or returned.

Section 13.18 Right of Set-off.

Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, each Lender is authorized at any time and from time to time, to the fullest extent permitted by law (including general principles of common-law), to set off and apply any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, provisional or final) at any time held and other indebtedness at any time owing by it to or for the credit or the account of any Credit Party against any and all of the obligations of any Credit Party under any of the Loan Documents, irrespective of whether or not the Lender has made demand under any of the Loan Documents and although such obligations may be unmatured or contingent. If an obligation is unascertained, the Lender may, in good faith, estimate the obligation and exercise its right of set-off in respect of the estimate, subject to providing the Borrower with an accounting when the obligation is finally determined. Each Lender shall promptly notify the Borrower after any set off and application is made by it, provided that the failure to give notice shall not affect the validity of the set off and application. The rights of the Lenders under this Section 13.18 are in addition to any other rights and remedies (including all other rights of set-off) which the Lenders may have.

Section 13.19 Advice of Counsel.

Each of the parties represents to each other party hereto that it has discussed all the provisions of this Agreement with its counsel.

Section 13.20 No Strict Construction.

The parties hereto have participated jointly in the negotiation and drafting of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. In the event an ambiguity or question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement or such other Loan Document, as the case may be, shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties hereto and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favouring or disfavouring any party by virtue of the authorship of any provisions of this Agreement or such other Loan Document, as the case may be.

Section 13.21 Judgment Currency.

(1) If, for the purpose of obtaining or enforcing judgment against any Credit Party in any court in any jurisdiction, it becomes necessary to convert into any other currency (such other currency being hereinafter in this Section 13.21 referred to as the "Judgment Currency") an amount due under any Loan Document in any currency (the "Obligation Currency") other than the Judgment Currency, the conversion shall be made at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Business Day immediately preceding (i) the date of actual payment of the amount due, in the case of any proceeding in the courts of any jurisdiction that will give effect to such conversion being made on such date, or (ii) the date on which the judgment is given, in the case of any proceeding in the courts of any other jurisdiction (the applicable date as of which such conversion is made pursuant to this Section 13.21 being hereinafter in this Section 13.21 referred to as the "Judgment Conversion Date").

(2) If, in the case of any proceeding in the court of any jurisdiction referred to in Section 13.21(1), there is a change in the rate of exchange prevailing between the Judgment Conversion Date and the date of actual receipt for value of the amount due, the applicable Credit Party shall pay such additional amount (if any, but in any event not a lesser amount) as may be necessary to ensure that the amount actually received in the Judgment Currency, when converted at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of payment, will produce the amount of the Obligation Currency which could have been purchased with the amount of the Judgment Currency stipulated in the judgment or judicial order at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Judgment Conversion Date. Any amount due from a Credit Party under Section 13.21(2) shall be due as a separate debt and shall not be affected by judgment being obtained for any other amounts due under or in respect of any of the Loan Documents.

(3) The term "rate of exchange" in this Section 13.21 means the rate of exchange at which the CIBC would, on the relevant date at or about 12:00 noon (Toronto time), be prepared to sell the Obligation Currency against the Judgment Currency.

Section 13.22 Time of the Essence.

Time shall in all respects be of the essence of this Agreement.

Section 13.23 Amended and Restated Agreement.

(1) This Agreement, effective as of the Effective Date, is an amendment and restatement of the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement, it being acknowledged and agreed that as of the Effective Date, all obligations outstanding under or in connection with the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement and any of the other Loan Documents (such obligations, collectively, the "Original Obligations") constitute obligations under this Agreement. This Agreement is in no way intended to constitute a novation of the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement or the Original Obligations. From and after the Effective Date, any reference to the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement in any of the other Loan Documents executed or issued by and/or delivered to any one or more parties hereto or thereto pursuant to or in connection therewith shall be deemed to be a reference to this Agreement, and the provisions of this Agreement shall prevail in the event of any conflict or inconsistency between such provisions and those of the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement.

(2) Without limiting the generality of Section 13.23(1), the parties agree that:

(a) all Original Obligations outstanding as at the Effective Date shall, as of the Effective Date, be deemed to be obligations outstanding hereunder and subject to the terms of this Agreement, and

(b) each of the other Loan Documents (other than the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement) is hereby ratified and confirmed in all respects and shall continue in full force and effect (except to the extent expressly superseded and replaced by another Loan Document), unamended, except that (A) any references therein to the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement shall be deemed to refer to this Agreement, and (B) any security granted or guarantee given pursuant to or in connection with the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents (collectively, the "Original Security") shall continue to secure or guarantee, as applicable, the obligations of the Borrower arising pursuant to or in connection with this Agreement (including all such obligations arising initially pursuant to or in connection with the Original Exit Facility Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be effective, executed, accepted and delivered at Toronto, Ontario by their proper and duly authorized officers as of the date first set forth above.

FORM OF ASSIGNMENT AND TRANSFER AGREEMENT

Dated: _____, 200___

Reference is made to the amended and restated exit facility credit agreement dated as of _____, 200__ (as further amended, supplemented or restated from time to time, the "Exit Facility Credit Agreement"), among Stelco Inc., a corporation (the "Company"), the Lenders named therein, and CIT Business Credit Canada Inc., as Administrative Agent (the "Administrative Agent"). Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings assigned to such terms in the Exit Facility Credit Agreement. This Assignment and Transfer Agreement, between _____ (herein the "Assignor", as further defined and set forth on Schedule 1 hereto and made a part hereof) and _____ (herein the "Assignee", as further defined and set forth on Schedule 1 hereto and made a part hereof) is dated as of Effective Date (as set forth on Schedule 1 hereto and made a part hereof).

1. The Assignor hereby irrevocably sells and assigns to the Assignee without recourse to the Assignor, and the Assignee hereby irrevocably purchases and assumes from the Assignor without recourse to the Assignor, as of the Effective Date, an undivided interest (the "Assigned Interest") in and to all the Assignor's rights and obligations under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement as specified in Schedule 1 hereto and all right, title and interest of the Assignor in and to the Loan Documents relating thereto.

2. The Assignor (i) makes no representation or warranty and assumes no responsibility with respect to any statements, warranties or representations made in or in connection with the Exit Facility Credit Agreement or any other instrument, document or agreement executed in conjunction therewith (collectively the "Ancillary Documents") or the execution, legality, validity, enforceability, genuineness, sufficiency or value of the Exit Facility Credit Agreement, any Collateral thereunder or any of the Ancillary Documents furnished pursuant thereto, other than that it is the legal and beneficial owner of the interest being assigned by it hereunder and that such interest is free and clear of any adverse claim and (ii) makes no representation or warranty and assumes no responsibility with respect to the financial condition of the Company or any guarantor or the performance or observance by the Company or any guarantor of any of its respective obligations under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement or any of the Ancillary Documents furnished pursuant thereto.

3. The Assignee (i) represents and warrants that it is legally authorized to enter into this Assignment and Transfer Agreement; (ii) confirms that it has received a copy of each of the Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement (each as defined in the Exit Facility Credit Agreement), the Exit Facility Credit Agreement, together with the copies of the most recent financial statements of the Company, and such other documents and information as it has deemed appropriate to make its own credit analysis; (iii) agrees that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent, the Assignor or any other Lender and based on such documents and information as it shall deem appropriate at the time, continue to make its own credit decisions in taking or not taking action under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement; (iv) appoints and authorizes the Administrative Agent to take such action as agent on its behalf and to exercise such powers under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement as are delegated to the Administrative Agent by the terms thereof, together with such powers as are reasonably incidental thereto; (v) agrees that it will be bound by the provisions of the Exit Facility Credit Agreement and will perform in accordance with its terms all the obligations which by the terms of the Exit Facility Credit Agreement are required to be performed by it as Lender; (vi) confirms that it has reviewed each of the Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement, confirms that the Assigned Interest is subject to each of the Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement and agrees that the Administrative Agent can bind the Assignee and its Assigned Interest to the provisions under and pursuant to each of the Intercreditor Agreement and the Province Intercreditor Agreement; [and (vii) represents and warrants that it is not a non-resident of Canada for purposes of Part XIII of the Income Tax Act (Canada)/is a Canadian partnership within the meaning of Section 102 of the ITA /is an authorized foreign bank deemed to be resident in Canada for purposes of the ITA in respect of all amounts paid or credited to it under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement [if the Assignee is organized under the laws of a jurisdiction outside Canada] the Assignee has delivered to the Administrative Agent a certificate as to the Assignee's exemption from Canadian withholding taxes with respect to all payments to be made to the Assignee under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement] [NTD: "(vii)" above only to be inserted if assignment occurs at a time when no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing]

4. Following the execution of this Assignment and Transfer Agreement, [such agreement will be delivered to the Administrative Agent for acceptance by it, effective as of the Effective Date, and] a copy of this Assignment and Transfer Agreement shall thereafter forthwith be delivered to the Company [and the Administrative Agent]. [Note: modify sentence accordingly depending on whether or not consent of Administrative Agent is required under Section 11.1 of the Exit Facility Credit Agreement.]

5. From and after the Effective Date, the Administrative Agent shall make all payments in respect of the assigned interest (including payments of principal, interest, fees and other amounts) to the Assignee, whether such amounts have accrued prior to the Effective Date or accrue subsequent to the Effective Date. The Assignor and Assignee shall make all appropriate adjustments in payments for periods prior to the Effective Date made by the Administrative Agent or with respect to the making of this assignment directly between themselves.

6. From and after the Effective Date, (i) the Assignee shall be a party to the Exit Facility Credit Agreement and, to the extent provided in this Assignment and Transfer Agreement, have the rights and obligations of a Lender thereunder, and (ii) the Assignor shall, to the extent provided in this Assignment and Transfer Agreement, relinquish its rights and be released from its obligations under the Exit Facility Credit Agreement.

7. This Assignment and Transfer Agreement may be executed in counterparts (including counterparts by facsimile) and all such counterparts shall constitute one and the same instrument.

8. This Assignment and Transfer Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Province of Ontario and the laws of Canada applicable therein.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Assignment and Acceptance to be executed by their respective duly authorized officers.

ANNUAL INFORMATION FORM

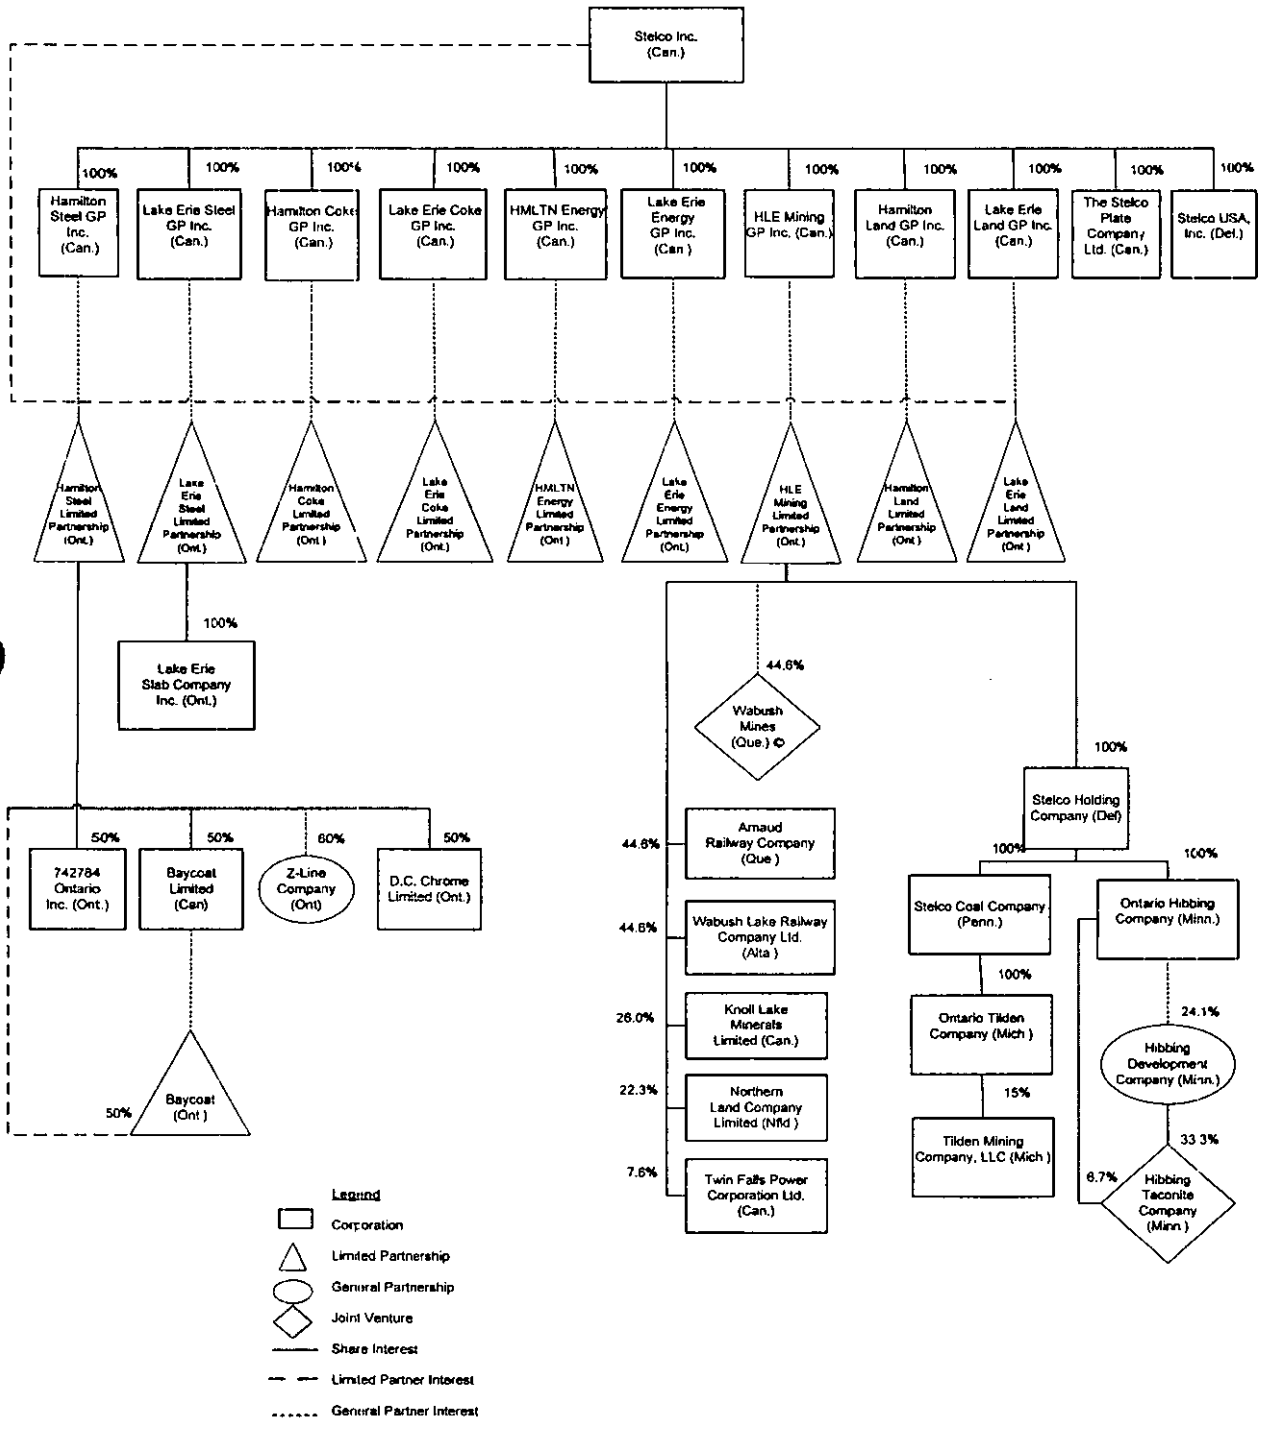
This annual information form (this "Annual Information Form") of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco") contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this Annual Information Form. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar, steel pricing and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.



Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension and other benefit contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this Annual Information Form.

1. CORPORATE STRUCTURE

Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") is a corporation amalgamated and existing under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA"). Its registered and principal office is located at 386 Wilcox Street, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada L8N 3T1. Stelco came into existence as The Steel Company of Canada, Limited in 1910. The Corporation was continued under the CBCA by certificate of continuance dated June 27, 1980.

In connection with the emergence of Stelco from protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act on March 31, 2006 (see "General Development of the Business – CCAA Filing"), on March 31, 2006 Stelco filed articles of reorganization under the CBCA. Pursuant to the articles of reorganization, each former Series A and B voting common share of Stelco was exchanged for 0.000001 of a new redeemable share. The redeemable shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration. The articles of reorganization also changed the authorized share capital of the Corporation to consist of an unlimited number of preferred shares, issuable in series, an unlimited number of common shares and an unlimited number of redeemable shares (see "Description of Capital Structure"), changed the number of directors of the Corporation to nine and provided that directors of the Corporation will be elected from time to time by "cumulative" voting. Also on March 31, 2006, articles of arrangement were filed under the CBCA. The articles of arrangement and the attached plan of arrangement provided for the reorganization of Stelco's business, with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships, with the general partner of each limited partnership being a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco. On June 23, 2006, articles of amendment were filed under the CBCA to increase the number of directors of the Corporation to 10 directors.

The structure of Stelco and its principal subsidiaries and affiliated entities is set forth in the chart below. In this Annual Information Form, the terms "Stelco" and the "Corporation" include the subsidiaries and affiliated entities of Stelco Inc., where appropriate.

2. GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE BUSINESS

2.1 CCAA Filing

In early 2004, after a thorough financial and strategic review, Stelco concluded that it faced a serious viability issue. The Corporation had incurred significant operating and cash losses in 2003 and believed that it would have exhausted available sources of liquidity before the end of 2004 if it did not obtain legal protection and other benefits provided by a Court-supervised restructuring process. Accordingly, on January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings.

2.2 Disposition of Non-Core Assets and Subsidiaries

Non-Core Assets Sold

As part of the Corporation's overall effort to restructure operations, simplify processes and rationalize non-core resources as part of its CCAA restructuring, a number of assets idled prior to or during CCAA were sold, including:

(i) CHT Steel – The Corporation announced the closure of CHT Steel, a wholly owned subsidiary located in Richmond Hill, Ontario, in the first quarter of 2004. CHT Steel processed plate sourced from the Stelco Hamilton plate mill. The property, plant and equipment were sold in several transactions during 2004 for net proceeds of $4 million.

(ii) Stelpipe 16" Pipe Mill – Stelpipe's 16" pipe mill assets, which had been idled since 1998, were sold during the fourth quarter of 2004 for net proceeds of $1 million.

(iii) Stelco Hamilton Plate Mill – The plate mill equipment of The Stelco Plate Company Ltd. was idled during the fourth quarter of 2003 and sold during the second quarter of 2005 for net proceeds of $23 million.

(iv) Stelco Hamilton Tin Mill – Stelco's tin mill assets were idled in 1995. Certain of these assets were sold for net proceeds of $1 million during the fourth quarter of 2005.

(v) Stelpipe Assets – Stelpipe is a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco that manufactured a number of pipe and tubular products. The Corporation sold substantially all of Stelpipe's assets to Lakeside Steel Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of Romspen Investment Corporation in the fourth quarter of 2005. The amount of the final purchase price is subject to a dispute with the purchaser relating to assumed liabilities and working capital amounts. The dispute is expected to be submitted to an arbitration process.

(vi) Stelco Hamilton Rod Mill – Stelco's No. 2 rod mill was closed in the third quarter of 2004. The property plant and equipment were sold in the fourth quarter of 2006 for net proceeds of $18 million.

Non-Core Subsidiaries Sold

All the businesses that comprised Stelco's manufactured products and mini-mill segments were determined to be non-core businesses upon the conclusion of a strategic review completed in 2004 and were sold during various transactions while Stelco was under CCAA protection.

(i) Welland Pipe – The operations of this wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco, which manufactured large-diameter pipe products, were permanently closed in the first quarter of 2003. The principal assets of Welland Pipe were two pipe mills, a spiral weld and U and O pipe mill. These mills were sold in separate transactions during 2004 and 2005 for net proceeds of $10 million.

(ii) Camrose Pipe Company Partnership – Camrose Pipe Company Partnership was a partnership which manufactured small and large diameter pipe. The Corporation held a 40% interest in this partnership. The Corporation sold its interest in this partnership to Canadian National Steel Corporation in the second quarter of 2005 for net proceeds of $22 million.

(iii) AltaSteel Ltd. – AltaSteel Ltd. was a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco that produced grinding rod, merchant quality and special quality bars, and ballstock. The Corporation sold the shares of AltaSteel, which included its 50% investment in both MOLY-COP Canada and GenAlta Recycling Inc., to Moly Cop Steel Inc., an affiliate of Scaw International Sarl., in the first quarter of 2006 for net proceeds of $78 million.

(iv) Norambar Inc. – Norambar Inc. was a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco that manufactured billets, automotive leaf spring, flat bars, rebar, merchant quality and special quality bars, and railway related products.

Stelwire Ltd. – Stelwire was a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco that was one of North America's largest producers of steel wire and wire products.

Stelfil Ltée – Stelfil Ltée was a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco that produced wire and wire products.

The Corporation sold the shares of these subsidiaries to Mittal Canada Inc. during the first quarter of 2006 for net proceeds of $31 million.

Effective December 30, 2006, Stelpipe, Welland, CHT Steel and Stelcam Holdings Inc., the latter of which formerly held the Corporation's interest in Camrose Pipe Company Partnership, were wound up into Stelco Inc.

2.3 Emergence from CCAA

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Applicants implemented the Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Ontario Superior Court of Justice on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the CBCA that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Stelco's business was reorganized, with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships, with the general partner of each limited partnership being a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco.

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised under the CCAA Plan

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. The final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

(i) new secured floating rate notes ("FRN's") in the aggregate principal amount of US$235 million;

(ii) 6,364,000 new common shares of Stelco ("Common Shares"), 1,100,000 of which were prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 of which were prorated based on amounts elected through a share election process;

(iii) cash of $108,548,000; and

(iv) warrants ("Warrants") to purchase an aggregate of 1,418,500 Common Shares at an exercise price of $11.00 per Common Share for a term of seven years.

As part of the CCAA reorganization, each former Series A and B voting common share of Stelco was exchanged for 0.000001 of a new redeemable share of the Corporation. The redeemable shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Plan Sponsor Agreement

Upon implementation of the CCAA Plan, Common Shares were issued to the Affected Creditors and to Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa" and, together with Tricap and Sunrise, the "Plan Sponsors"). The Plan Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a plan sponsor agreement between the Corporation and the Plan Sponsors. Pursuant to the plan sponsor agreement, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase an aggregate of 19,736,000 Common Shares at a price of $5.50 per Common Share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the CCAA Plan.

Pension Plan Funding Arrangements

On March 31, 2006, the Corporation, the Province of Ontario and the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario, together with certain of the newly formed limited partnerships, entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") that sets out funding requirements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016.

The key terms of the Pension Agreement are as follows:

(i) Stelco was obligated to make an initial up-front payment of $400 million to its four main pension plans less any contributions to the plans already made in 2006. As a result, Stelco made a $382 million payment to the plans on March 31, 2006.

(ii) Stelco is required to fund its four main pension plans in the following amounts in the years subsequent to December 31, 2005:

Years 1 – 5: $65 million per year ($32.5 million in 2006), payable monthly, commencing July 1, 2006; and

Years 6 – 10: $70 million per year, payable monthly.

(iii) Stelco is required to make additional pension plan payments to fund any solvency deficiency in Stelco's four main pension plans if Stelco generates free cash flow in excess of certain minimum thresholds as set out in the Pension Agreement, subject to Stelco having more than a minimum liquidity amount.

(iv) Stelco is not required to make any adjustments to its pension funding based on annual actuarial valuations up to December 31, 2015, provided that any future benefit improvements required to be funded in accordance with the PBA will be in addition to the funding payments outlined above.

Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement, the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Note") and Warrants to purchase 851,100 Common Shares. The Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015 (subject to an extension to March 31, 2016 in certain circumstances) in cash or, at the option of Stelco, by the delivery of an equivalent value in Common Shares. The Note is subject to a 75 per cent discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date of the Note and provided there is no event of default under the Note. The Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at the option of Stelco, by delivering Common Shares.

Corporate Reorganization

On February 14, 2006, the Ontario Superior Court of Justice approved the reorganization of Stelco's business pursuant to the CBCA Plan. On March 31, 2006, the CBCA Plan was implemented and Stelco's business was reorganized, with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into nine separate limited partnerships: Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership, Hamilton Coke Limited Partnership, Hamilton Land Limited Partnership, HLE Mining Limited Partnership, HMLTN Energy Limited Partnership, Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership, Lake Erie Coke Limited Partnership, Lake Erie Land Limited Partnership and Lake Erie Energy Limited Partnership. Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships, with the general partner of each limited partnership being a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco.

Change in Management Team

Upon emergence from CCAA, the board of directors of Stelco appointed Rodney Mott as President and Chief Executive Officer of Stelco. Courtney Pratt, Stelco's former President and Chief Executive Officer, was appointed as Chairman of Stelco.

Mr. Mott is a North American steel industry veteran with over 30 years of experience in the business. Prior to joining Stelco, Mr. Mott was President and Chief Executive Officer of International Steel Group Inc. until its sale to Mittal Steel Company in April 2005. He has also held senior roles in United States Steel Corporation, Nucor Corporation, Lone Star Steel Company and Pechiney Rolled Products, LLC.

Upon assuming office, Mr. Mott appointed a number of officers with backgrounds at International Steel Group Inc. and Nucor Corporation to head up certain key areas of Stelco's business including:

Bill McKenzie, who was appointed as Vice President, as well as General Manager of Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership;
Jerome Nelson, who was appointed Vice President, Sales and Marketing; Karen Smith, who was appointed Vice President, Human Resources; and Gordon Spelich, who was appointed Vice President, Business Development and Strategic Planning.

In addition, a number of other appointments were made to the management team during 2006, including:

Ken Rutherford, who was appointed Chief Financial Officer;
Peter Knocke, who was appointed Vice President, as well as General Manager of Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership;
Mike McQuade, who was appointed Vice President, Finance;
Gary Seichter, who was appointed Vice President, Corporate Controller; and Chad Hutchison, who was appointed General Counsel and Corporate Secretary.

Labour Contracts

The Lake Erie Steel labour contract with Local 8782 of the United Steelworkers ("USW") expired on July 31, 2004. The bargaining unit employees continued to work after the labour contract expired. A new labour contract was ratified on January 18, 2006 and will continue in effect until July 31, 2009.

The Hamilton Steel labour contract with USW Local 1005 was set to expire on July 31, 2006, but was renewed on June 16, 2006. The new contract took effect August 1, 2006 and will expire on July 31, 2010.

Operational Restructuring

Stelco's focus since emerging from CCAA protection on March 31, 2006 has been on an operational restructuring which includes the following initiatives:

(i) Implementation of productivity improvement initiatives which resulted in the reduction of the labour force. Through these initiatives voluntary programs were offered to both hourly and salary employees providing for their early retirement from the Corporation. A total of 280 hourly and 282 salary employees elected to participate in these plans. This action combined with normal attrition has reduced the workforce from 4,954 on March 31, 2006 to 4,243 on December 31, 2006. With an additional 192 employees whose last day worked was in January 2007, the total work force has been reduced to 4,051 as of January 31, 2007, which reduction is expected to provide an annualized wage savings of approximately $65 million. This reduction has not negatively affected productivity or the quality of products or services.

(ii) Implementation of a new business model focused on utilizing a de-centralized approach to simplify the management of the business and eliminate wasted efforts and redundant processes. Benefits are expected to be realized in scheduling, purchasing, information systems and operations.

(iii) Reducing operating costs, improving product flow and reducing inventories by simplifying material handling, reducing product offerings and minimizing outside processing programs.

(iv) A significant reduction in work-in-process and finished goods inventories which offset working capital requirements from the seasonal increase in raw material volumes.

(v) Optimizing capital by only selecting projects that are required to sustain operations or provide a pay back within a relatively short period of time. Stelco's annual capital plan was reduced from a projected $250 million to $150 million for 2006.

(vi) Reducing general overhead and administrative costs by redefining requirements and focusing on improving processes.

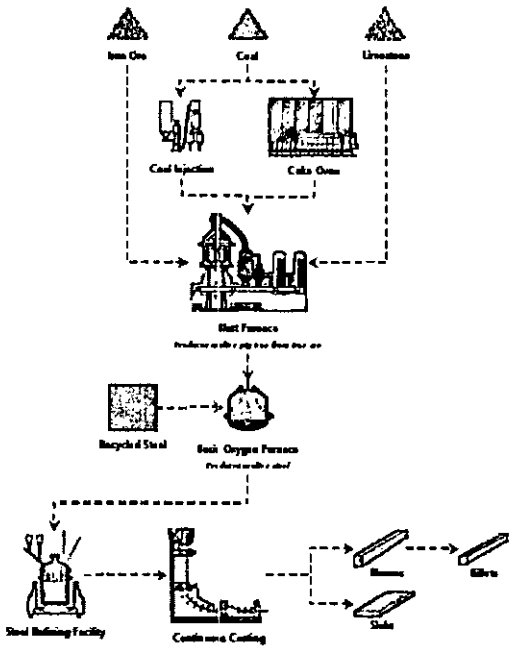
The major components of the operational restructuring are now complete and are expected to lead to increased volumes, revenue growth, lower costs and improved productivity.

3. DESCRIPTION OF THE BUSINESS

3.1 Integrated Steelmaking Facilities

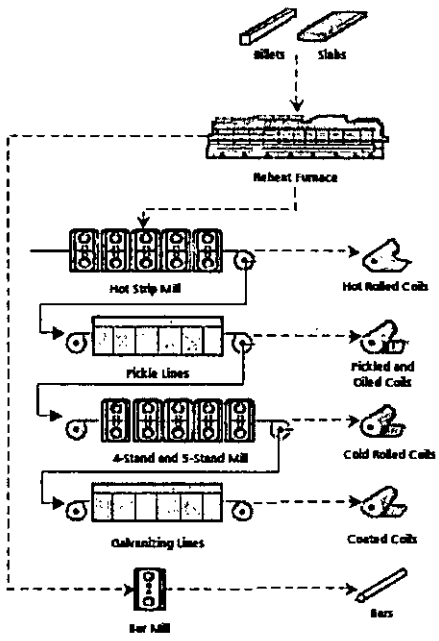
Stelco has two integrated steelmaking facilities – a facility in Hamilton, Ontario and one in Nanticoke, Ontario. In 2006, Stelco's integrated steelmaking facilities produced approximately 3,630,000 tons of semi-finished steel.

Coal/coke and iron ore are two basic raw materials required for the production of steel. Metallurgical coal is supplied to Stelco from outside suppliers, mainly located in West Virginia and Pennsylvania in the United States and British Columbia in Canada. Coke is manufactured in coke ovens from metallurgical coal. The Corporation manufactures approximately 85% of its coke requirements through coke ovens at each of its integrated steelmaking facilities. Approximately 90% of the Corporation's total iron ore requirements are secured by its ownership interest in mining properties (see "– Iron Ore Interests" below). The balance of the Corporation's coke and iron ore requirements are purchased on the open market. The Corporation operations also require a substantial amount of other raw materials and energy, including scrap, limestone, air, natural gas and electricity, which are sourced from market participants through both contracts and spot purchases and is subject to availability and prices fluctuations (see "- Risks Factors" below).



Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership

Hamilton Steel Limited Partnership ("Hamilton Steel LP"), the interests in which are directly and indirectly wholly owned by Stelco, owns and operates an integrated steelmaking facility in Hamilton, Ontario ("Hamilton Steel"). Its operations are situated on approximately 900 acres, including harbour facilities. Its location on Lake Ontario provides favourable access to raw material sources in Canada and the United States via water-borne transportation. In addition, its location provides ready access via water, rail and highway transportation to steel-consuming markets in Canada and the United States. Approximately 2,800 people were employed at this location as at December 31, 2006. The hourly employees are unionized and are represented by USW Local 1005. The labour contract with USW Local 1005 was set to expire on July 31, 2006, but was renewed on June 16, 2006. The new contract took effect August 1, 2006 and will expire on July 31, 2010.



Hamilton Steel has six principal areas of operations: (i) cokemaking operations, (ii) ironmaking operations (iii) steelmaking and casting operations, (iv) bloom and billet and bar mill operations, (v) hot strip rolling and pickling operations, and (vi) cold rolling and coating operations. A chart illustrating the manufacturing process at Hamilton Steel is set out below.

Hamilton Manufacturing Process

Part 1

Part 2

Slabs

Facilities used at Hamilton Steel in the production of semi-finished steel include an 83-oven coke oven battery, a pulverized coal injection facility, a blast furnace, a sinter plant, a three-vessel basic oxygen furnace shop and a ladle metallurgy/continuous casting complex with one slab caster and one combination slab/bloom caster. Annual semi-finished steelmaking capacity is 2.6 million tons.

Steel slabs and blooms produced are used at Hamilton Steel in the production of sheet and bar products. In addition, slabs are shipped to Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership's facilities for hot rolling or can be sold to third parties.

Hot Rolled

Slabs for flat rolled products are hot-processed through a 56-inch coilbox-equipped hot strip mill with annual capacity of 1.5 million tons or are shipped to Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership's facilities for conversion through its 80-inch hot strip mill. A significant portion of hot rolled sheet output is further processed at the cold rolling and coating facilities at Hamilton Steel.

Principal markets for hot rolled sheet are the automotive sector, pipe and tubular products manufacturers and steel service centres.

Cold Rolled and Coated

Hamilton Steel has a four-stand cold reduction mill with an annual capacity of 1.5 million tons. Other facilities include two pickling lines, a batch annealing facility, two temper mills and two hot-dipped galvanizing lines. Hamilton Steel also provides management and operating services to the Z-Line Company, a hot-dipped galvanizing/galvannealing joint venture (see "Steel Processing – Z-Line Company" below).

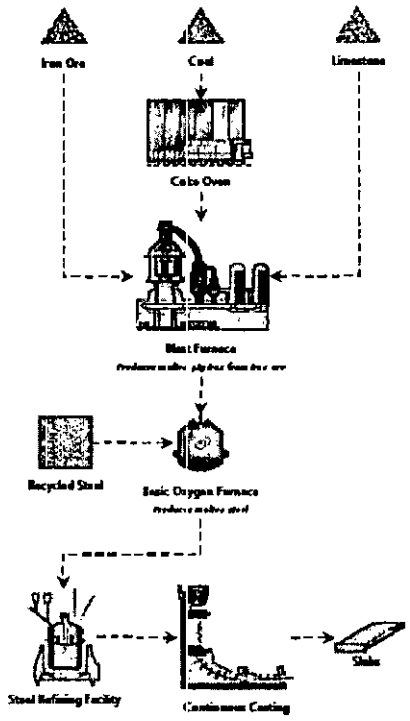
Hamilton Steel is a supplier of cold rolled and coated sheet products to the North American market. Coated sheet products include galvanized and prepainted sheet. Prepainted sheet is produced at Baycoat Limited Partnership (see "Steel Processing – Baycoat Limited Partnership" below).

Principal markets for cold rolled and coated products in North America are the automotive, construction, appliance and steel service centre sectors.

Bar

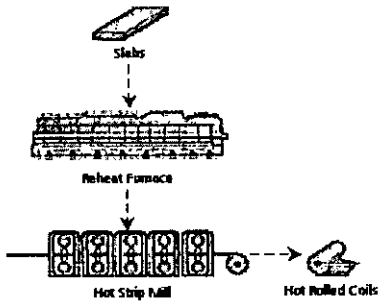
Cast blooms for bar products are hot-processed through a bloom and billet mill to produce billets, which are then processed through a bar mill. The annual capacity of the mill is 450,000 tons.

The principal market for bar products in North America is the automotive sector.



Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership

Lake Erie Steel Limited Partnership ("Lake Erie Steel LP"), the interests in which are directly and indirectly wholly owned by Stelco, owns and operates an integrated steelmaking facility in Nanticoke, Ontario ("Lake Erie Steel") which was commissioned in stages from 1980 to 1983. It is situated on 6,600 acres on the north shore of Lake Erie, approximately 65 kilometres from Hamilton, in a predominantly rural location. Included in this acreage is a 2,500-acre industrial park and a woodlot preserve which forms a buffer zone on the north side of this facility. Its location provides favourable access to raw material sources via water-borne transportation. Its location also provides ready access via highway transportation to steel-consuming markets in Canada and the United States. At December 31, 2006 Lake Erie Steel employed approximately 1,300 people. The hourly employees are unionized and are represented by USW Local 8782. A new labour contract with USW Local 8782 was ratified on January 18, 2006 and will continue in effect until July 31, 2009.



Lake Erie Steel has four principal areas of operations: (i) cokemaking operations, (ii) ironmaking operations (iii) steelmaking and casting operations, and (iv) hot strip rolling operations. A chart illustrating the manufacturing process at Lake Erie Steel is set out below.

Lake Erie Manufacturing Process

Part 1

Part 2

Slabs

Primary production facilities at Lake Erie Steel include a 45-oven coke oven battery, a blast furnace, a two-vessel basic oxygen furnace shop, a vacuum degasser, a ladle trim station and a twin-strand slab caster. Annual semi-finished steelmaking capability is 2.6 million tons, all in the form of slabs.

Hot Rolled

Slabs sourced from both Lake Erie Steel and Hamilton Steel for flat rolled products are rolled on a coilbox-equipped, 80-inch hot strip mill. A number of upgrades have been installed over the past few years aimed at improving the quality and capacity of the mill, including the addition of a fourth reheat furnace, the installation of a more powerful rougher motor and the addition of a sixth finishing stand. These upgrades are expected to increase the annual capacity of this mill by this mill by 700,000 tons to an annual capacity of 3.7 million tons.

Lake Erie Steel is focused on the production and sale of high-quality hot rolled sheet. Principal markets for hot rolled sheet products in North America are the automotive sector, steel service centres and pipe and tubular products manufacturers.

3.2 Steel Processing

Z-Line Company

Hamilton Steel LP owns 60% of the Z-Line Company, a partnership which owns and operates a galvanizing line located within Hamilton Steel's facilities. The Z-line, which has an annual capacity of 430,000 tons, is a toll coating facility that zinc coats cold rolled sheets for Hamilton Steel for a wide variety of demanding applications, primarily automotive. The remainder of the interest in Z-Line Company is owned by Metal One Canada Corporation.

Baycoat Limited Partnership

Hamilton Steel LP owns 50% of Baycoat Limited Partnership ("Baycoat"). Baycoat applies a variety of paint finishes to flat rolled steel coils at its facility in Hamilton, Ontario. Baycoat currently operates three coil-coating lines each equipped to coat cold rolled or galvanized substrates with a variety of exterior and interior paint systems. Upon commissioning of a recently upgraded line, Baycoat intends to close a less efficient line and operate only with two lines. Annual capacity of these two lines is expected to be approximately 280,000 tons. Baycoat's customers are its owners, Hamilton Steel LP and Dofasco Inc. The primary market for these products are the construction, manufacturing and other sectors. At December 31, 2006, Baycoat employed approximately 200 hourly and salaried personnel.

D.C. Chrome Limited

Hamilton Steel LP owns 50% of D.C. Chrome Limited ("D.C. Chrome"). The remaining interest in D.C. Chrome is owned by The Court Group of Companies Limited.

D.C. Chrome operates a plant in Stoney Creek, Ontario which textures and chromium plates work rolls used in the cold rolling of steel at Hamilton Steel as well as for other customers and the grinding and chroming of steel shafts used in manlifts. Approximately 30 people were employed by D.C. Chrome at December 31, 2006.

Stelco USA, Inc.

Stelco USA, Inc. ("Stelco USA"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Stelco, is located in Troy, Michigan. Stelco USA purchases the products of Stelco's businesses for the purposes of further processing and warehousing in the United States prior to shipment to the final customer.

3.3 Iron Ore Interests

Stelco secures approximately 90% of its iron ore requirements for its integrated steelmaking facilities through its ownership interest in the following mines and related supply agreements.

Tilden Mine

Through its indirect ownership interest in Tilden Mining Company, LLC, Stelco owns a 15% interest in the Tilden mine which is located on the Marquette Iron Range in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, approximately five miles south of Ishpeming, Michigan. The Tilden mine has been in operation since 1974 and has an annual plant capacity of 7.8 million tons. Stelco's other partner is Cleveland-Cliffs Inc. ("Cleveland-Cliffs"), which manages the mine. Each partner takes its share of production pro rata in accordance with its ownership interest. Provisions in the partnership agreement allow additional or reduced production to be delivered to partners under certain circumstances. Cleveland-Cliffs owns all of the ore reserves at the Tilden mine and leases them to the Tilden Mining Company, LLC. As at December 31, 2006 approximately 700 people were employed at the Tilden mine. All bargaining unit employees are represented by the United Steelworkers of America.

Railroads link the Tilden mine with Lake Michigan at the loading port of Escanaba, Michigan and with the Lake Superior loading port of Marquette, Michigan.

Hibbing Mine

Through its indirect ownership interest in Hibbing Taconite Company, Stelco owns a 14.7% interest in the Hibbing mine which is located in the centre of Minnesota's Mesabi Iron Range, approximately ten miles north of Hibbing, Minnesota and five miles west of Chisholm, Minnesota. The Hibbing mine has been in operation since 1976 and has an annual plant capacity of 8.2 million tons. Stelco's other partners are Cleveland-Cliffs (23%) and Mittal Steel USA (62.3%). Cleveland-Cliffs manages the mine. Each partner takes its share of production pro rata in accordance with its ownership interest. Provisions in the joint venture agreement allow additional or reduced production to be delivered to partners under certain circumstances. From the Mesabi Range, Hibbing pellets are transported by rail to a ship-loading port at Superior, Wisconsin. At December 31, 2006, there were approximately 700 employees at the Hibbing mine. All bargaining unit employees are represented by the United Steelworkers of America.

Wabush Mines

Stelco owns an indirect 44.6% interest in the Wabush mine and concentrator which are located in Wabush, Labrador, Canada, and a pellet plant which is located in Pointe Noire, Quebec, Canada. The Wabush mine has been in operation since 1965 and has an annual plant capacity of 6 million tons. Cleveland-Cliffs manages the mine. Cleveland-Cliffs has a 26.8% interest and Dofasco Inc. has a 28.6% interest in the mine. As at December 31, 2006, approximately 800 people were employed. All bargaining unit employees are represented by the United Steelworkers of America.

At the Wabush mine, concentrates are shipped by rail to Pointe Noire where they are pelletized for shipment via vessel to Canada, the United States and other international destinations or shipped as concentrates for sinter feed to Europe.

Mine Facilities

Each of the foregoing mines has crushing, concentrating and pelletizing facilities. The facilities at each site are in satisfactory condition, requiring routine capital and maintenance expenditures on an ongoing basis.

The Tilden, Hibbing and Wabush mines are all open pit mines. Additional pit development is underway at each mine in accordance with long-range mine plans. Drilling programs are conducted periodically for the purpose of refining guidance related to ongoing operations.

Geologic models are developed for all mines to define the major ore and waste rock types. Computerized block models are then constructed that include all relevant geologic and metallurgical data. These are used to generate grade and tonnage estimates, followed by detailed mine designs.

Each of the mines has a legal responsibility for site restoration and reclamation of the iron ore properties upon the conclusion of its useful life. A mine's useful life is generally measured by its depletion rate relative to its remaining economical iron ore reserves. The period over which these obligations are expected to be settled ranges from 2013 – 2050.

3.4 Research, Technology and Product Development

Research and Development

Stelco spent $3.6 million on scientific research and experimental development activities in 2006. Research activities are focussed on new product development and continuous improvement of existing products to increase productivity and product quality and reduce manufacturing cost. New product development of several advanced automotive grades of sheet steel was undertaken with a patent application being filed for one of the new advanced high strength steels. Automotive product developments were focused on dual phase and stretch-flangeable steel for both hot rolled and zinc coated product applications. Stelco also worked to develop more robust product and processing practices for hot rolled impact critical grades for linepipe including a new grade of X80 linepipe steel. Technology development was also focused on investigating potential alternative surface treatment systems for customers requiring products compliant with the European Union's Restriction of Hazardous Substance (RoHS) legislation.

Stelco continues to support the McMaster University Steel Research Centre and was instrumental in the establishment and ongoing funding of the Stelco/NSERC Chair in Steel Product Applications. The McMaster University research program on coated steel processes and products, under the direction of Dr. J. R. McDermid, supplements Stelco's own research in this area. An integral part of this initiative is a multi-purpose coating simulator supporting specialized research on galvanizing and galvannealing of Advanced High Strength Steels required by the automotive industry.

Stelco is a major supplier of hot rolled bar in coil and straights for the manufacture of helical springs. The continuing growth of our high strength micro-alloyed grade, StelRMM, as a material solution in the production of lighter weight coil springs has provided Stelco with a competitive advantage in the automotive suspension spring steel market.

Stelco has implemented a new fuel injection technology at its Lake Erie Steel Blast Furnace which has resulted in savings and improved productivity.

New Products

Stelco's Cold Rolled & Coated Division continued to support commercialization of recently launched products including a new grade of dent-resistant bake-hardenable steel for automotive applications.

Stelco's Bar Division is continuing their development work on the design of new micro-alloyed spring steel grades to satisfy more stringent automotive requirements. This new generation of micro-alloyed spring grade will provide enhanced corrosion resistance while continuing to incorporate higher operating stresses in the design of suspension components.

Products and Processes Under Development

To meet automotive industry demands for advanced high strength steel, Stelco is developing sheet grades and hot-form die-quench steels. Stelco is also developing stretch-flangeable hot rolled for wheel and frame applications and developing more robust product and process practices for hot rolled impact critical grades for linepipe.

Stelco is a major supplier of hot rolled bar in coil form for the manufacture of helical springs. Development of new processing techniques for hot rolled bar in coil form is underway to provide improved surface quality and microstructures for cold drawn automotive helical coil spring rounds. In addition, Stelco is commissioning the hot eye surface inspection technology in both its Hamilton bloom and bar mills.

At Stelco Hamilton's BOF, progress continues with the development and demonstration of Techint's Goodfellow EFSOP™ system for use in BOF steelmaking to improve energy efficiency and decrease greenhouse gas emissions.

3.5 Economic Dependence

A substantial portion of Stelco's business is reliant upon the automotive sector through direct sales into this sector or through indirect sales to the steel service centres that service this market sector.

The following table sets out direct steel shipments from Stelco's steel-producing businesses and a percentage breakdown by principal markets:

Shipments By Market Sector

	2006	2005
Consolidated Steel Shipments (thousand tons)	3,536	3,445
Automotive [1]	38%	38%
Steel Service Centres	14	20
Pipe & Tubular Products	16	11
Construction, Manufacturing, Other	32	31
Total	100%	100%

(1) Excludes the portion of service centres shipments destined for automotive.

3.6 Competitive Conditions

The following table sets out Stelco's total consolidated sales and a percentage breakdown by major product group over the past two years:

Sales By Product Type

	2006	2005
Consolidated Net Sales ($ in millions)	$ 2,504	$ 2,553
Hot Rolled Sheet	48%	45%
Cold Rolled Sheet	9	11
Coated Sheet	28	28
Bars	8	9
Other [1]	7	7
Total	100%	100%

(1) Includes semi-finished steel sales related to slab, billets, and other materials

Approximately 89% of Stelco's sales are domestic, with domestic competition coming primarily from Dofasco Inc., Algoma Steel Inc. and Mittal Canada Inc.

The Canadian steel market also attracts a significant amount of material from U.S. and other global steel producers. Approximately 52% of overall Canadian steel market demand in 2006 was sourced from producers outside of Canada. Mittal Steel USA Inc., United States Steel Corporation, Nucor Corporation, AK Steel Corporation, Severstal N.A. Inc., and Republic Engineered Products are the main U.S. competitors.

3.7 Environmental, Health and Safety and Human Resource Policies

Environment

The Corporation's group of businesses is subject to substantial and evolving environmental laws and regulations concerning, among other things, emissions to the air, discharges to water or land, noise control, and the handling, storage, transportation, treatment, and disposal of toxic, hazardous and non-hazardous substances. These laws and regulations can involve federal, provincial, and municipal levels of government.

Stelco's commitment is to being an environmentally responsible company. Our ISO 14001 registered environmental management system establishes and reviews environmental objectives and targets to: reduce air, water and waste pollution by means of practices, operating procedures and programs; comply with environmental legal requirements and our other environmental requirements; prevent pollution in a cost effective manner; and improve continually.

Stelco regularly reviews and audits the operating practices of each business to monitor compliance with the Corporation's health and safety and environmental policies and legal requirements. The Corporation believes that future costs relating to environmental compliance can be dealt with in a manner such that they will not have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position. There is always the possibility, however, that unforeseen changes, such as in the law enforcement policies of relevant government bodies, or the discovery of changed conditions on the Corporation's real property or its operations, could result in an increase in the costs of environmental compliance that could result in a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position.

In meeting its overall environmental goals and government-imposed standards in 2006, the Corporation incurred operating costs of $62 million ($71 million in 2005) and spent $10 million on capital improvements ($3 million in 2005). Hamilton Steel has a benzene emissions reduction program underway, with spending of approximately $1 million in 2006 ($4 million in 2005) and estimated additional costs of $4 million over the next two years.

Health and Safety

The Corporation complies with a variety of health and safety legislation administered by provincial authorities in Ontario where its facilities are located. The Corporation does not believe that it is faced with any requirements in respect of health and safety or industrial hygiene that will have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position.

The health and safety of Stelco's employees are top priorities at Stelco. Stelco is committed to continued responsibility and excellence in the health and safety of its employees and in protecting and enhancing the environments of the communities where it has operating facilities.

The Corporation maintains an internal health, safety, asset integrity, and risk audit system, which is carried out at the corporate level, to determine compliance with legal requirements and Stelco's corporate policies in these areas.

Human Resources – Discrimination and Harassment Policy

The Corporation believes that the human rights of all employees must be protected so as to ensure that every person is treated with dignity and respect.

It is the Corporation's position that no individual should suffer from or be exposed to discrimination or harassment at work, based upon that person's race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, creed, sex, handicap, age, record of criminal offences, family, marital or employment status. Harassment is a course of conduct or comment that offends or abuses a person on any of the grounds stated above, where such behaviour is known or ought reasonably to be known to be offensive and unwelcome.

In order to ensure the consistent application of this policy, it is both the right and the responsibility of any employee who believes that he or she has been subjected to harassment to immediately report such concerns to the designated representative. All allegations are fully investigated in a confidential manner. The results of any investigation are made known to affected employees.

Any employee who, as a result of a full investigation is determined to be in violation of the Corporation's discrimination and harassment policy may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge from employment.

3.8 Foreign Operations

The Corporation has owned minority interests in iron ore producing properties in the United States for many years. These properties are an important source of raw materials for the Corporation's integrated steelmaking units. Although these properties and the operations associated with them are located in a foreign country, the Corporation believes that there are no material risks associated with them by virtue of that fact.

3.9 Risk Factors

Stelco's business is subject to a number of risk factors and uncertainties which may materially and adversely affect its business and prospects, including those listed below.

Demand and Pricing

The steel industry is cyclical in nature. The demand and pricing for North American steel fluctuates based on many factors, including the strength of the economies in North America, particularly the automotive sector, exchange rates and the influence of steel sourced from offshore. The Corporation cannot rely on selling prices being sustainable in the long term and believes it must take steps to lower its overall costs to compete effectively.

Costs

Stelco is continuing with its efforts to lower costs in order to ensure its long-term viability including productivity initiatives and the implementation of a simplified organizational structure. Stelco has identified specific cost reduction initiatives, including managed attrition and improvement in maintenance planning which is expected to reduce repairs and maintenance costs, increase throughput and reduce electrical and mechanical delays. These cost reduction initiatives, along with strategic capital spending, are essential to achieving long-term viability. There can be no assurance that cost reduction initiatives will be sufficient to sustain long-term viability.

Liquidity Risks

Some of the provisions contained in the Corporation's financing arrangements provide for the escalation of lending rates in certain circumstances which, if triggered, could impact the liquidity of the Corporation depending upon the amount outstanding under the particular facility. These agreements also contain provisions (along with the Corporation's long-term debt agreements) which restrict the Corporation's ability to issue additional debt.

Supply and Pricing of Raw Material and Energy

The Corporation's operations require substantial amounts of raw materials and energy, including coal, iron ore, coke, scrap, natural gas, electricity and other inputs. The price and availability of such raw materials and inputs are subject to market forces where the Corporation does not have ownership interests and, in some cases, to government regulations and, accordingly, are subject to change.

Steel Industry Consolidation

Stelco could face risks related to cost competitiveness and access to large customers as a result of the steel industry consolidation.

Unplanned Repairs or Equipment Outages

There can be no assurance that unplanned downtime at any of Stelco's facilities will not have a material adverse effect on Stelco. In addition, the failure of planned outages to be completed as scheduled could have a material adverse effect on Stelco.

Concentration of Credit Risk

There is a significant exposure of credit risk to the automotive industry as revenues are sourced from either direct or indirect sales to this segment. Although the Corporation has not had significant bad debt expenses in prior periods, deteriorating economic conditions could result in financial difficulties in the customer base that could lead to bad debts.

Environmental Compliance

The Corporation is subject to substantial and evolving environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control, and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic and hazardous substances. The Corporation believes that future costs relating to environmental compliance can be dealt with in a manner such that they will not have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position. There is always the possibility, however, that unforeseen changes, such as in enforcement policies of relevant government bodies, or the discovery of changed conditions on the Corporation's real property or its operations, could result in an increase in the costs of environmental compliance that could result in a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial position.

Trade Regulations

A number of foreign steel producers have in the past exported large quantities of steel to North America, impairing the Corporation's ability to sell products and, accordingly, profitability. This steel has often been sold at levels that are below cost or below home market price, a practice known as "dumping". Existing trade laws and regulations in Canada may be inadequate to prevent such trade practices. Some foreign steel producers are owned, controlled or subsidized by foreign governments. Decisions by these foreign producers to continue production at marginal facilities may be influenced to a greater degree by political and economic policy considerations than by prevailing market conditions and may further contribute to excess global capacity. The North American market continues to support a significant level of imports, a condition which may lead to lower selling prices.

Moreover, trade regulation in other countries, particularly in the United States, could materially adversely affect the Corporation through the imposition of dumping duties which would reduce or effectively eliminate access to certain steel markets.

Employees

Stelco's business requires highly specialized skills and knowledge across all of its operations and support functions. While Stelco is undertaking training activities and programs to ensure its employees have the requisite expertise and selectivity hiring both new graduates and qualified professionals, the inability of Stelco to attract and retain new employees with the requisite skills and knowledge could adversely affect the continuation of the Corporation's operations.

Pension Plans

The aggregate solvency deficiency under Stelco's four main pension plans as at December 31, 2006 was $1.0 billion (December 31, 2005 – $1.5 billion). Despite the level of contributions required under the pension agreement with the Province of Ontario, the solvency deficiency could grow as a result of future actuarial losses due to changes in the level of discount rates, unfavourable pension fund investment returns, mortality experience and other factors. However, contributions required pursuant to the Pension Agreement up to December 31, 2015 do not change as a result of any such actuarial losses.

Technology

The Corporation is subject to competition from new technological developments used by other steel producers. Stelco's current strategic plan requires continual improvement in both its product and process technologies in order to maintain its competitive position in the high value-added automotive market. In particular, failure to meet the automotive industry's ever more demanding requirements for product quality and service, and failure to provide the new grades of advanced high-strength steels, will seriously jeopardize Stelco's long-term participation in this market. Similarly, for Stelco to attain a competitive cost structure will require the ongoing selective implementation of new process technologies throughout its integrated steelmaking processes. There is no assurance that Stelco will be able to improve its product and process technologies in accordance with its strategic plan or that the improvements, once implemented, will meet the automotive market's quality and service requirements.

Currency Fluctuations

Stelco is a net purchaser of U.S. dollars. Accordingly, any strengthening of the Canadian dollar results in a benefit to Stelco for its net purchases of U.S. funds. However, more than offsetting the above is the negative effect on Stelco's domestic sales revenue as many of Stelco's domestic customers export their products into the U.S. Thus, a stronger Canadian dollar can cause those customers to be less competitive in the U.S. and the customers may resist price increases or request steel price reductions from Stelco. Also, U.S. exports of steel into Canada have historically forced domestic steel prices in Canadian dollars downward. In addition, the North American benchmark for spot market prices for certain products, such as hot rolled, are established and determined in U.S. dollars.

4. DIVIDENDS

Under the terms of the Corporation's lending agreements, no dividends can be declared or paid until certain conditions have been met. The Corporation does not anticipate that dividends will be paid on its Common Shares in the foreseeable future.

5. DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STRUCTURE

The Corporation is authorized to issue an unlimited number of preferred shares, issuable in series ("Preferred Shares"), an unlimited number of common shares (being the Common Shares) and an unlimited number of redeemable shares ("Redeemable Shares"). As at December 31, 2006, there were 27,123,908 Common Shares, and no Preferred Shares or Redeemable Shares, outstanding. In addition, as at December 31, 2006, there were Warrants to purchase an aggregate of 2,264,442 Common Shares, and options to purchase an aggregate of 1,794,000 Common Shares, outstanding.

Preferred Shares

The Preferred Shares are issuable in series. The directors of the Corporation are authorized, before the issue thereof, to fix the number of shares in, and determine the designation, rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the shares of, each series of Preferred Shares. The Preferred Shares are entitled to priority over the Common Shares and all other shares ranking junior to the Preferred Shares with respect to the payment of dividends and the distribution of assets of the Corporation in the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or other distribution of assets of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding up its affairs. The holders of Preferred Shares are not entitled to receive notice of or to attend any meeting of the shareholders of the Corporation and are not entitled to vote at any such meeting.

Common Shares

Holders of Common Shares are entitled to receive dividends if, as and when declared by the directors of the Corporation out of the assets of the Corporation properly applicable to the payment of dividends in such amounts and payable in such manner as the directors determine. Subject to the rights of the holders of any other class of shares of the Corporation entitled to receive dividends in priority to or concurrently with the holders of Common Shares, the directors may declare dividends on the Common Shares to the exclusion of any other class of shares of the Corporation.

In the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or other distribution of assets of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding up its affairs, holders of Common Shares are, subject to the rights of the holders of any other class of shares of the Corporation entitled to receive assets of the Corporation upon such a distribution in priority to or concurrently with the holders of the Common Shares, entitled to participate in the distribution.

Holders of Common Shares are entitled to receive notice of and to attend all annual and special meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation and to one vote in respect of each Common Share held at all such meetings.

Redeemable Shares

The Redeemable Shares were issued to holders of former Series A and B voting common shares of the Corporation and immediately redeemed as part of the reorganization effected under the CCAA Plan. See "General Development of the Business – Emergence from CCAA". Holders of Redeemable Shares are not entitled to receive notice of or to attend any meeting of the shareholders of the Corporation and are not entitled to vote at any such meeting.

Warrants

As at December 31, 2006, there were 2,264,442 Warrants outstanding. Each Warrant entitles the holder thereof to purchase one Common Share at an exercise price of $11.00. The Warrants expire on March 31, 2013.

Floating Rate Notes

As at December 31, 2006, the Corporation had floating rate notes ("FRN's") in the aggregate principal amount of US$235 million outstanding. The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate is calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the Corporation's asset based loan facility and the secured revolving term loan in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the asset based loan facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full.

6. MARKET FOR SECURITIES

Common Shares

The Common Shares are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX") under the symbol "STE". The following table sets forth the price range per Common Share and trading volume of the Common Shares on a monthly basis for the period from March 31, 2006, the date of issue of the Common Shares, to December 31, 2006.

2006	High $	Low $	Volume #

7. DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

The following table sets forth, for each of the directors and executive officers of the Corporation, the individual's name, municipality of residence, position with the Corporation, principal occupation during the five preceding years and, in the case of directors of the Corporation, the period during which the individual has served as a director of the Corporation.

Name and Municipality Of Residence	Position Held	Principal Occupation	Director Since
Courtney Pratt Mississauga, Ontario	Chairman and Director	Chairman of the Corporation since April 2006. From January 2004 to March 2006, Mr. Pratt was President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation. From April 2001 to December 2003, Mr. Pratt was President and Chief Executive Officer of Toronto Hydro Corporation.	2002
Dennis Belcher [(1)(2)] Oakville, Ontario	Director	Prior to retiring in 2002, Mr. Belcher was Executive Vice President, Credit and Risk Management of The Bank of Nova Scotia.	2006
Laurie Bennett [(1)(2)] Mississauga, Ontario	Director	Prior to retiring in 2004, Mr. Bennett was an audit partner of Ernst & Young LLP, Chartered Accountants.	2006
Steven J. Cohn [(1)] Livingston, New Jersey	Director	Business consultant, and Managing Director, Alvarez & Marsal, LLC, a professional services consulting firm.	2006
Steve Douglas [(2)(3)] Mississauga, Ontario	Director	Managing Partner, Brookfield Asset Management Inc., an asset management company. From June 2005 to September 2006, Mr. Douglas was Executive Vice-President and Chief Financial Officer of Falconbridge Limited, a mining company. From November 2003 to the time of its merger with Falconbridge Limited in June 2005, Mr. Douglas was Executive Vice-President and Chief Financial Officer of Noranda Inc., a mining company. Prior to joining Noranda Inc., Mr. Douglas was Executive Vice-President and Chief Financial Officer of Brookfield Properties Corporation, a commercial real estate company.	2006
Pierre Dupuis [(3)(4)(5)] Sutton, Quebec	Director	Prior to retiring in 2005, Mr. Dupuis was Chief Operating Officer of Dorel Industries Inc., a global consumer products company. Mr. Dupuis currently serves as a director of Norbord Inc. and a trustee of Great Lakes Hydro Income Fund.	2006

Directors are elected at each annual meeting of shareholders and serve until the next annual meeting or until their successors are elected or appointed.

As of the date hereof, the directors and executive officers of the Corporation as a group beneficially own, directly or indirectly, or exercise control or direction over, approximately 1,033,500 Common Shares, representing approximately 3.8 per cent of the outstanding Common Shares.

To the knowledge of the Corporation, in the last 10 years, none of the directors or executive officers of the Corporation is or has been a director or executive officer of any company that, while that person was acting in that capacity, (a) was the subject of a cease trade order or similar order, or an order that denied the company access to any exemptions under securities legislation, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days, (b) was the subject of an event that resulted, after that person ceased to be a director or executive officer, in the company being the subject of a cease trade order or similar order or an order that denied the company access to an exemption under securities legislation, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days, or (c) or within a year of that person ceasing to act in that capacity, became bankrupt, made a proposal under any legislation relating to bankruptcy or insolvency or was subject to or instituted any proceedings, arrangement or compromise with creditors or had a receiver, receiver manager or trustee appointed to hold its assets, except for the following:

(i) Mr. Belcher was retained to act as director and Chairman of the Independent Committee of Slater Steel Inc., which filed for protection under the CCAA on June 2, 2003. Mr. Belcher was also a director of Consumers Packaging Inc. at the time it filed for protection under the CCAA on May 23, 2001. On January 20, 2003, various provincial securities commissions issued orders ceasing the trading of Consumers Packaging Inc.'s shares as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. The cease trade orders remain in effect. In addition, Mr. Belcher was requested to act as a director of White Rose Crafts and Nursery Sales Ltd. prior to its voluntary assignment into bankruptcy under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act

(the "BIA") on June 20, 2002. Mr. Belcher was a director of Richtree Inc. which was subject to a cease trade order in 2003 as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. On February 26, 2004, the cease trade order was lifted. This company filed for protection under the CCAA on October 18, 2004. The proceedings were converted to proposal proceedings under the BIA and restructuring proceedings were successfully completed on January 23, 2006. Finally, Mr. Belcher was a director of Foamex International Inc. which filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware in September 2005.

(ii) Mr. Cohn was Chief Financial Officer of Physician Computer Network, Inc. ("PCN") at the time that it voluntarily filed a petition under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States in December 1999. In March 2000, PCN's assets were acquired in accordance with a plan of reorganization filed by PCN in the Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings. Mr. Cohn was also Chief Restructuring Officer and Interim Chief Financial Officer of Kasper A.S.L., Ltd. at the time that it filed Chapter 11 protection in February 2002 with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in the Southern District of New York. Finally, Mr. Cohn was Chief Restructuring Officer of Donnkenny Apparel, Inc. at the time that it filed Chapter 11 protection in February 2005 with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in the Southern District of New York.

(iii) Mr. Lacey was asked by a group of shareholders to lead a restructuring of The Loewen Group Inc. and was acting as Chairman of the Board of The Loewen Group Inc. when it filed a petition for creditor protection under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code and the CCAA in June 1999. In 2002, various provincial securities commissions issued orders ceasing the trading of The Loewen Group Inc.'s shares as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. The cease trade orders remain in effect. In January 2002, Loewen successfully emerged from Chapter 11 and CCAA proceedings as The Alderwoods Group Inc. where Mr. Lacey was formerly the Chairman of the Board.

(iv) Mr. Pratt was President and Chief Executive Officer and director of the Corporation on January 29, 2004, when the Corporation and certain related entities filed for protection under the CCAA and obtained an order from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, the Corporation made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. At the last moment in time on March 31, 2006, the Corporation implemented the CCAA Plan and emerged from CCAA protection.

8. AUDIT COMMITTEE

The full text of the Audit Committee charter is included in Appendix A to this Annual Information Form.

8.1 Composition of the Audit Committee

The Audit Committee consists of three members, being Messrs. Belcher, Bennett (Chair) and Cohn, all of whom are independent and financially literate. The Corporation has adopted the definition of "independence" as set out in Section 1.4 of Multilateral Instrument 52-110 - Audit Committees. The relevant education and experience of each Audit Committee member is outlined below:

Dennis Belcher – Mr. Belcher is an Associate of the Institute of Bankers (UK) and a graduate of the Stonier School of Banking (Rutgers University and the American Bankers Association). Prior to his retirement in 2002, Mr. Belcher was Executive Vice President, Credit and Risk Management of The Bank of Nova Scotia. Mr. Belcher has also served as Chairman of the Senior Credit Committees for Corporate, Commercial, Investment, Retail and International Lending of The Bank of Nova Scotia. Mr. Belcher has served on the audit committees of several other companies.

Laurie Bennett – Mr. Bennett is a Chartered Accountant. Prior to his retirement in 2004, Mr. Bennett was an audit partner of Ernst & Young LLP, Chartered Accountants. He has managed the audits of a number of large Canadian companies, including Noranda Inc., TorStar Corporation., AGCO Corporation (Massey Ferguson) and Sprint Canada Inc., with a particular focus on the manufacturing sector, among others.

Steven J. Cohn – Mr. Cohn has a Masters degree (MBA) in accounting and finance and is a certified public accountant in the State of New York. Mr. Cohn was formerly the Chief Financial Officer of each of Physician Computer Network, Inc. and Kasper A.S.L. Ltd., both public companies, as well as of several privately held corporations.

8.2 External Auditor Service Fees

The following fees include all fees billed by KPMG LLP, the auditors of the Corporation, for services rendered to the Corporation during the periods indicated.

Year ended December 31	2006	2005
Audit Fees	$ 2,497,575	$ 2,653,834
Audit Related Fees (accounting consultations and pension audits)	119,000	393,178
Corporate Tax Compliance and Advisory Fees	214,700	272,200
All Other Fees	-	-
	$ 2,831,275	$ 3,319,212

9. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

On June 28, 2005, Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. On May 31, 2006, the Corporation served its statement of defense. Examinations for discovery are ongoing. The Corporation is vigorously defending this action. The result and value of the GWC claim is not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provision for the claim in the consolidated financial statements of the Corporation.

While the Corporation is involved in various other legal proceedings, there are no other proceedings that involve a claim for damages in an amount, exclusive of interest and costs, that exceeds 10 per cent of the current assets of the Corporation.

10. INTERESTS OF MANAGEMENT AND OTHERS IN MATERIAL TRANSACTIONS

The only material interests, direct or indirect, of any director or executive officer of the Corporation or any person or company that beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, or who exercises control or direction over more than 10 per cent of the Common Shares, or of any associate or affiliate of any of the foregoing persons or companies, in transactions within the three most recently completed financial years of the Corporation or during the current financial year of the Corporation that have materially affected or are expected to materially affect the Corporation are as follows:

(i) Pursuant to the plan sponsor agreement dated December 9, 2005, as amended (the "Plan Sponsor Agreement") between Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise"), Appaloosa Management L.P. ("Appaloosa" and, together with Tricap and Sunrise, the "Plan Sponsors") and the Corporation entered into in connection with the Corporation's CCAA proceedings, on March 31, 2006, Tricap, Sunrise and Appaloosa purchased 9,318,000 Common Shares, 4,959,000 Common Shares and 4,959,000 Common Shares, respectively, at a price of $5.50 per Common Share. The proceeds from the purchase of the foregoing Common Shares were used by the Corporation as part of the payment to "Affected Creditors" under the CCAA Plan. A copy of the Plan Sponsor Agreement has been filed publicly and can be viewed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. Tricap, Sunrise and Appaloosa also received Common Shares and Warrants, as well as FRN's, as creditors of the Corporation under the CCAA Plan. According to publicly filed documents, (i) at November 14, 2006 Tricap beneficially owned or exercised control or direction over 9,928,243 Common Shares and Warrants to purchase 128,774 Common Shares (ii) at April 4, 2006 Sunrise beneficially owned or exercised control or direction over 5,030,781 Common Shares and Warrants to purchase 92,565 Common Shares, and (iii) at April 4, 2006, Appaloosa beneficially owned or exercised control or direction over 5,002,849 Common Shares and Warrants to purchase 56,548 Common Shares.

The Plan Sponsor Agreement also provided that, at the effective time of the Corporation's emergence under the CCAA, four of the directors of the Corporation would be those identified by Tricap, one of the directors of the Corporation would be an individual identified by Sunrise and one of the directors of the Corporation would be an individual identified by Appaloosa, with the remaining directors of the Corporation being mutually satisfactory to the Plan Sponsors. Currently, the foregoing director nominees are Messrs. Douglas, Lacey, Madon and Pannell, in the case of Tricap, Mr. Bennett, in the case of Sunrise, and Mr. Cohn, in the case of Appaloosa.

(ii) On March 31, 2006, the Corporation entered into a credit agreement (the "Term Credit Agreement") with 1685970 Ontario Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap. Pursuant to the Term Credit Agreement, the Corporation was provided with a revolving term credit facility of up to $375 million. A copy of the Term Credit Agreement has been filed publicly and can be viewed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the provisions of the Term Credit Agreement, yielding approximately 11 per cent as at December 31, 2006. The Term Credit Agreement also requires the payment of certain fees to 1685970 Ontario Inc., including an annual fee equal to three per cent of the original amount of the commitment under the revolving term credit facility. As at December 31, 2006 there was $215 million outstanding under this loan.

In addition to the foregoing, on April 2, 2006, Rodney Mott, the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation, purchased 1,000,000 Common Shares for cash consideration of $5.5 million. Mr. Mott was also granted options to purchase a further 1,044,000 Common Shares at a price of $5.50 per Common Share for a term of 10 years.

11. TRANSFER AGENTS AND REGISTRARS

The transfer agent and registrar for the Common Shares and the trustee for the Warrants is CIBC Mellon Trust Company at its principal office in Toronto, Ontario. The trustees for the FRN's are BNY Trust Company of Canada and The Bank of New York at their principal offices in Toronto, Ontario and New York, New York, respectively.

12. MATERIAL CONTRACTS

Other than contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business, the only contracts material to Stelco that were entered into within Stelco's most recently completed financial year, or that were entered into on or after January 1, 2002 and are still in effect, are as follows:

(i) the third amended and restated plan of arrangement and reorganization dated December 9, 2005 pursuant to the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act and the Canada Business Corporations Act involving the Corporation and certain of its subsidiaries;

(ii) the plan sponsor agreement dated December 9, 2005, as amended, between Tricap Management Limited, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership, Appaloosa Management L.P. and the Corporation (being the Plan Sponsor Agreement);

(iii) the plan of arrangement dated February 10, 2006 pursuant to the Canada Business Corporations Act involving certain subsidiaries of the Corporation;

(iv) the exit facility credit agreement dated March 31, 2006 between, among others, CIT Business Credit Canada Inc., GE Canada Finance Holding Company and the Corporation;

(v) the amended and restated exit facility credit agreement dated March 23, 2007 between, among others, CIT Business Credit Canada Inc., GE Canada Finance Holding Company and the Corporation;

(vi) the credit agreement dated March 31, 2006 between the Corporation and 1685970 Ontario Inc. (being the Term Credit Agreement);

(vii) the trust indenture dated March 31, 2006 between the Corporation, BNY Trust Company of Canada and The Bank of New York;

(viii) the first supplemental indenture dated March 31, 2006 between the Corporation, BNY Trust Company of Canada and The Bank of New York;

(ix) the intercreditor agreement dated March 31, 2006 between, among others, CIT Business Credit Canada Inc., 1685970 Ontario Inc., BNY Trust Company of Canada, The Bank of New York;

(x) the province note loan agreement dated March 31, 2006 between the Corporation and Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario;

(xi) the pension agreement dated March 31, 2006 between, among others, the Corporation, the Superintendent of Financial Services and Her Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario;

(xii) the province intercreditor acknowledgement dated March 31, 2006 signed by Majesty the Queen in Right of the Province of Ontario; and (xiii) the warrant indenture dated March 31, 2006 between the Corporation and CIBC Mellon Trust Company.

A copy of each of the foregoing documents has been filed publicly and can be viewed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

13. INTERESTS OF SIGNIFICANT EXPERTS

The only person or company that has prepared or certified a statement, report or valuation described or included in a filing, or referred to in a filing, made by the Corporation under National Instrument 51-102, Continuous Disclosure Obligations, of the Canadian Securities Administrators during, or relating to, the financial year of the Corporation ended December 31, 2006 is KPMG LLP, Chartered Accountants, the auditors of the Corporation. KPMG LLP is independent with respect to the Corporation within the meaning of the Rules of Professional Conduct of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario.

14. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Additional information concerning the Corporation can be found on SEDAR at www.sedar.com or by contacting the Corporation at 386 Wilcox Street, Hamilton, Ontario L8L 8K5.

Additional information including directors' and officers' remuneration and indebtedness, options to purchase securities, principal holders of the Corporation's securities and securities authorized for issuance under equity compensation plans, if applicable, is contained in the Corporation's management information circular in respect of the Corporation's most recent annual meeting of shareholders that involved the election of directors. Additional financial information is provided in the audited consolidated financial statements of the Corporation for the year ended December 31, 2006, including the notes thereto, and in management's discussion and analysis for the year ended December 31, 2006.

APPENDIX A

STELCO INC.

AUDIT COMMITTEE CHARTER

WHEREAS By-law No. 28 of the Corporation permits the Board of Directors (the "Board") to appoint an Audit Committee (the "Committee"), with such designations as the Board shall determine, and delegate to such Committee any of the powers of the Board except those powers which pertain to matters which may not be delegated pursuant to the Canada Business Corporations Act;

AND WHEREAS such By-law requires that a majority of members of such Committee shall be resident Canadians;

AND WHEREAS, the Committee's primary function is to oversee the effectiveness of the financial affairs of the Corporation including the control environment within which financial statements and reporting occurs;

A. Constitution

1. Each member of the Audit Committee shall be independent of the Corporation as determined by the Board of Directors, in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations.
2. The Committee shall consist of not fewer than three and not more than five Directors and a majority of Committee members shall constitute a quorum.
3. All members of the Committee shall be financially literate. A member is financially literate if the member has the ability to read and understand a set of financial statements that present a breadth and level of complexity of accounting issues that are generally comparable to the breadth and complexity of the issues that can reasonably be expected to be raised by the financial statements of the Corporation.

B. Procedural Matters

1. Members of the Committee shall be appointed by the Board and shall serve at the pleasure of the Board.
2. Where a vacancy occurs at any time in the membership of the Committee, it may be filled by the Board, which shall fill any vacancy if the membership of the Committee is less than three Independent Directors.
3. The Board shall appoint a Chair for the Committee.
4. If the Chair of the Committee is not present at any meeting of the Committee, one of the other members of the Committee who is present at the meeting shall be chosen by the Committee to preside at the meeting.
5. The Secretary of the Corporation shall serve as a secretary of the Committee.
6. The Chair of the Committee or the Chair of the Board of Directors or any member of the Committee may call a meeting of the Committee. The Committee shall meet at such times during each year as it deems appropriate.
7. The Committee will ordinarily meet in camera at the end of each of its formal meetings.
8. Notice of the time and place of every meeting shall be given in writing (including by way of written facsimile or e-mail communication) to each member of the Committee and the Chair of the Board at least 48 hours prior to the time fixed for such meeting; provided, however, that a member may in any manner waive a notice of a meeting.
9. The Committee shall review its performance and its mandate as part of an annual review of Committee matters made to the Board and propose or recommend changes with respect to Committee activity as may be appropriate.

10. Members of the Committee shall be entitled to receive such remuneration for acting as members of the Committee as the Board may determine from time to time.

C. Functions

1. The Committee shall:

(a) Review all interim unaudited and annual audited financial statements, together with accompanying notes, management discussion and analysis disclosure (MD&A) including press releases.

(b) Review all financial disclosure including financial statements (whether stand alone or included in any prospectus or other offering document, Annual Information Form or similar document which is filed with securities regulators in Canada or outside of Canada), management's discussion and analysis and annual and interim earnings press releases before the Corporation publicly discloses this information.

(c) Review financial performance guidance and other material financial forward-looking information prior to consideration by the Board of Directors of such guidance and the public disclosure of such information; review early warning financial guidance prior to the public disclosure of such information; provided that the Audit Committee may delegate such responsibility to the Chair of the Audit Committee.

(d) Make recommendations to the Board for approval with respect to the interim unaudited and annual audited financial statements, in each case having reviewed:

(i) relevant financial and operating performance;

(ii) the appropriateness of the Corporation's significant accounting principles and practices, including acceptable alternatives, and the appropriateness of any significant changes in accounting principles and practices.

(iii) the existence and substance of significant accruals, estimates, or accounting judgements, and the level of conservatism.

(iv) unusual or extraordinary items, transactions with related parties, off-balance sheet liabilities and the adequacy of related disclosure.

(v) asset and liability carrying values.

(vi) income tax status and related reserves.

(vii) qualifications contained in related letters of representation.

(e) Review on a periodic basis:

(i) assurances of compliance with covenants in trust deeds or loan agreements.

(ii) material business risks, uncertainties, commitments, and contingent liabilities relating to the businesses of the Corporation.

(iii) the capital structure of the Corporation, including levels of indebtedness, structure of debt financings, credit availability and related matters.

(f) Review the Corporation's Annual Information Form and make a recommendation for approval thereof to the Board.

(g) Directly oversee the work of the external auditor including:

(i) the selection and recommendation to the Board of the appointment of the auditing firm retained to conduct the annual audit of the Corporation's annual financial statements, review of the Corporation's interim financial statements (and related notes and management's discussion and analysis in each case) and attest services.

(ii) quality of service.

(iii) resolution of disagreements between management and the external auditor regarding financial reporting.

(iv) assessing the independence of appointed auditing firm.

(v) reviewing of the external audit plan comprising a fee estimate, objectives, scope, materiality, timing, locations to be visited, areas of audit risk, and co-ordination with Internal Audit.

(vi) reviewing of audit reports and reviews and findings, including corresponding management responses.

(vii) approving and recommending to the Board the audit fee and any other compensation paid to the auditors.

(viii) pre-approving all audit, non-audit, tax and other services provided by the external auditor to the Corporation or its subsidiary entities and the fees charged for such services and establishing from time to time pre-approval policies as may be appropriate for such purposes. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the external auditor shall be prohibited from providing appraisal or valuation services, fairness opinions, actuarial services, legal services, internal audit outsourcing services, management functions or human resources, bookkeeping or other services relating to the accounting records or financial statements of the Corporation or financial information systems designed in implementation.

(ix) undertaking private discussions with the external auditor regarding the quality of financial personnel, the level of co-operation received, unresolved material differences of opinion or disputes, and the effectiveness of internal controls and procedures.

(x) ensuring direct reporting of the external auditor to the Committee.

(h) Oversee the internal audit function including:

(i) approving the annual audit plan including risk assessment, activities selected for assessment and testing control systems for financial reporting, budgets, resources (both personnel and technological) and organizational reporting structure.

(ii) reviewing audit progress, findings, recommendations, responses, and follow up actions.

(iii) undertaking private discussions with senior internal audit staff as to internal audit independence, co-operation received from management, interaction with external audit, and any unresolved material disagreements with management.

(iv) annual approval of internal audit mandate.

(v) overseeing succession with respect to the leadership of the internal audit function within the Corporation.

(i) Review the effectiveness of control and control systems established by management and utilized by the Corporation in connection with financial reporting, safeguarding of assets and mitigation of business risks including reports prepared by the internal auditor and such other persons as the Committee may consider appropriate.

(j) Review incidents of fraud, illegal acts and conflicts of interest.

(k) Review documents filed with securities commissions, including the Corporation's annual information form and annual report.

(l) Review material asset valuation issues.

E. Chair of the Committee

The responsibilities of the Chair of the Audit Committee shall be to:

(a) provide leadership to the Committee with respect to its functions as described in this Charter and as otherwise may be appropriate, including overseeing the logistics of the operations of the Committee;

(b) chairs meetings of the Committee, unless not present;

(c) ensures that the Committee meets on a regular basis and at least four times per year;

(d) reviews in advance the agenda and supporting material for Committee meetings;

(e) in consultation with the Chair of the Board and the Committee members, establishes a calendar for holding meetings of the Committee;

(f) report to the Board on a timely basis with respect to Committee activity as soon as reasonably possible after each Committee meeting;

(g) ensures that the Committee receives adequate and regular updates from the management on all issues relating to audits, financial statements, MD&A, annual and interim earnings, press releases, procedures for disclosure of financial information and disclosure controls;

(h) meets separately as required with the external auditors to ensure that the Committee has the information required to perform its role of oversight in line with its mandate;

(i) pre-approves non-audit services not prohibited by law to be performed by external auditors in conformity with the terms of any authorization delegated to him by the Committee; and

(j) reports annually to the Board on the role of the Committee and the effectiveness of the Committee in contributing to the objectives and responsibilities of the Board as a whole.

Form 52-109F1 – Certification of Annual Filings

I, J. Kenneth Rutherford, Chief Financial Officer of Stelco Inc., certify that:

1. I have reviewed the annual filings (as this term is defined in Multilateral Instrument 52-109 Certification of Disclosure in Issuers' Annual and Interim Filings) of Stelco Inc., (the issuer) for the period ending December 31, 2006;

2. Based on my knowledge, the annual filings do not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances under which it was made, with respect to the period covered by the annual filings;

3. Based on my knowledge, the annual financial statements together with the other financial information included in the annual filings fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the issuer, as of the date and for the periods presented in the annual filings;

4. The issuer's other certifying officers and I are responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting for the issuer, and we have:

   (a) designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused them to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance that material information relating to the issuer, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which the annual filings are being prepared;

   (b) designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused it to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with the issuer's GAAP; and

   (c) evaluated the effectiveness of the issuer's disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by the annual filings and have caused the issuer to disclose in the annual MD&A our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by the annual filings based on such evaluation;

5. I have caused the issuer to disclose in the annual MD&A any change in the issuer's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the issuer's most recent interim period that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the issuer's internal control over financial reporting.

1. I have reviewed the annual filings (as this term is defined in Multilateral Instrument 52-109 Certification of Disclosure in Issuers' Annual and Interim Filings) of Stelco Inc., (the issuer) for the period ending December 31, 2006;

2. Based on my knowledge, the annual filings do not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances under which it was made, with respect to the period covered by the annual filings;

3. Based on my knowledge, the annual financial statements together with the other financial information included in the annual filings fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the issuer, as of the date and for the periods presented in the annual filings;

4. The issuer's other certifying officers and I are responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting for the issuer, and we have:

   (a) designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused them to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance that material information relating to the issuer, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which the annual filings are being prepared;

   (b) designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused it to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with the issuer's GAAP; and

   (c) evaluated the effectiveness of the issuer's disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by the annual filings and have caused the issuer to disclose in the annual MD&A our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by the annual filings based on such evaluation;

5. I have caused the issuer to disclose in the annual MD&A any change in the issuer's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the issuer's most recent interim period that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the issuer's internal control over financial reporting.

Stelco Announces Transfer of Hot Strip Processing to Lake Erie Mill

Mill Achieves Record Production Following Successful Expansion

HAMILTON, ON, April 5 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) announced today the transfer of all hot strip processing to its Lake Erie mill following that mill's successful capacity expansion completed during the fourth quarter of 2006. The performance of the mill, which has been undergoing an extensive $270 million modernization project, has continued to improve, with record production of over 280,000 tons being achieved for March 2007. The substantial completion of the modernization program has increased the annual capacity of the Lake Erie hot strip mill to 3.7 million tons from 3.0 million tons. Rodney Mott, Stelco's President and Chief Executive Officer, remarked "The employees at Lake Erie Steel are commended for their success in both completing this extensive project and ramping up production at an accelerated rate".

The expanded Lake Erie Steel capacity will allow Stelco to take the next step in its strategy to become a low cost producer by shutting down the 56" hot strip mill at its Hamilton Steel operations. The Hamilton hot strip mill, which has operated since the 1940's, has served the market well through the years but has become a high cost operation with limited support from the marketplace. The shifting of orders to the modernized Lake Erie hot strip mill is expected to improve Stelco's overall efficiency, improve product quality and lower operating costs.

The implementation of this initiative will reduce the work force at Hamilton Steel by more than 300 positions. This will occur through the reduction and displacement of employees working directly at the Hamilton hot strip mill, as well as the elimination of certain support services in maintenance, shops, and coil processing. The company is planning to achieve this reduction through a combination of retirements, layoffs and severance. Mr. Mott stated "The Hamilton employees continue to work hard to improve productivity and reduce costs, but it is impossible to be competitive with obsolete equipment. The decision to reduce rolling operations at Hamilton and to optimize Lake Erie is our best choice for ensuring Stelco's long term success".

Attention Business Editors:
Stelco Inc. - Proposed term loan refinancing

HAMILTON, ON, April 9 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX: STE) announced today that it has entered into a commitment letter with GE Corporate Lending Canada relating to a proposed refinancing of Stelco's existing revolving term loan. The proposed refinancing would replace Stelco's existing revolving term loan with a fully drawn facility in a US dollar amount equivalent to $275 million having a term of six years. The new facility would have a significantly lower interest rate and fees compared to Stelco's existing revolving term loan. The completion of the refinancing is subject to a number of conditions which must be satisfied no later than May 11, 2007. In relation to this refinancing, Stelco has entered into an agreement with its lender for the existing revolving term facility to defer payment of the annual fee otherwise payable thereunder on March 31, 2007 until May 11, 2007. Under the agreement, if the existing revolving term credit facility is repaid by May 11, 2007, the deferred fee will be waived.

"This financing, in addition to our recently enhanced asset based loan facility, provides a favourable long term debt structure for Stelco and is expected to reduce our financing costs", said Rodney Mott, President and Chief Executive Officer.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (this "MD&A") is in respect of the interim unaudited consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes (the "Consolidated Financial Statements") of Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") for the quarter ended March 31, 2007. The purpose of Stelco's MD&A is to provide commentary on the Corporation's financial condition and future prospects and to assist security holders and others to understand the Corporation and the key factors underlying its financial results. This discussion of the Corporation's business may include forward-looking information that is subject to risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially. This MD&A should be read in conjunction with the MD&A and annual audited consolidated financial statements and the accompanying notes contained in the Corporation's 2006 Annual Report, and with the interim Consolidated Financial Statements contained in this report. Additional information about Stelco is available in the Corporation's 2006 Annual Information Form, which can be accessed from SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

This document has been reviewed by the Audit Committee of Stelco's Board of Directors and contains information current as of April 30, 2007. Events occurring after that date could render the information contained herein inaccurate or misleading in a material respect.

Business Description

Established in 1910, Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service centre, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, through its ownership interests in iron ore mining properties and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its business through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures.

Financial and Operating Results

Overview

The following operational restructuring and strategic initiatives were initiated in 2006:

- Implementation of productivity improvement initiatives which resulted in the reduction of the labour force.
- Reducing operating costs and improving product flow
- Optimizing capital spending
- Reducing work-in-process and finished goods inventories
- Reducing general overhead and administrative costs

As a result of the operational restructuring and strategic initiatives initiated in 2006, improvements to the cost structure at Stelco are being realized. Significant strategic capital spending occurred at both the Lake Erie hot strip mill and the Hamilton blast furnace resulting in greater production in these areas during the first quarter of 2007 allowing for greater fixed cost absorption. As well, yield improvements and reduced manpower in quarter 1, 2007 helped lower costs.

Overall costs decreased to $646 per ton, an improvement of $177 per ton over fourth quarter of 2006. This reduction was largely due to the resumption of full operations at both Hamilton Steel and Lake Erie Steel which had closed certain production facilities for a period of time in fourth quarter of 2006, in part in order to complete several strategic projects. Other cost factors, including the benefits of the operational restructuring and strategic initiatives, are noted in further detail below in the comparison of the first quarter of 2007 to the fourth quarter of 2006. As the fourth quarter of 2006 was significantly and adversely impacted by the curtailment of operations, additional comparative information between first quarter of 2007 and third quarter of 2006 is provided, (see "Other Financial Comparisons").

Total revenue increased from $472 million in the fourth quarter of 2006 to $609 million in the first quarter of 2007 largely due to a 37% increase in shipments. Shipments increased to 922,000 tons in the first quarter of 2007 from 673,000 tons in the fourth quarter of 2006. Partly offsetting this was a decrease in the average revenue per ton by $40 from $701 in the fourth quarter of 2006. The decrease in the average revenue per ton was partly due to a lower priced product mix, reflecting a continued weakness in the automotive sector. In addition, average pricing decreased in the first quarter of 2007 due to continued pricing pressures largely in the steel service sector.

As a result, first quarter of 2007 EBITDA (see Financial and Operational Summary) was $13 million representing an improvement of $95 million from the fourth quarter of 2006. Hamilton Steel continued to incur significant losses during the first quarter, offsetting the profitability of Lake Erie Steel and HLE Mining.

The phase two upgrade of the Lake Erie Steel strip mill was substantially completed in the fourth quarter of 2006, resulting in a significant milestone being reached in the first quarter where a monthly production record of over 280,000 tons was set in March 2007. The performance of the mill, which has undergone an extensive $270 million modernization project has continued to improve and has increased the annual capacity of the Lake Erie hot strip mill to 3.7 million tons from 3.0 million tons. The Corporation will start to transfer all hot strip processing to the Lake Erie mill beginning in second quarter of 2007.

The expanded Lake Erie Steel capacity will allow Stelco to take the next step in its strategy to become a low cost producer by shutting down the 56" hot strip mill at its Hamilton Steel operations. The Hamilton hot strip mill, which has operated since the 1940's, has served the market well through the years but has become a high cost operation with limited support from the marketplace. The shifting of orders to the modernized Lake Erie hot strip mill is expected to improve Stelco's overall efficiency, improve product quality and lower operating costs. The implementation of this initiative will reduce the work force at Hamilton Steel by more than 300 positions, through a combination of retirements, layoffs and severances.

On the financing front, the Corporation amended and extended its $600 million asset based revolving credit facility on March 23, 2007. These amendments include extending the term of the facility to 2012, increasing the availability under the facility and providing the opportunity to lower the overall financing costs of the Corporation in the future. In addition, on April 9, 2007 the Corporation entered into a commitment letter with GE Corporate Lending Canada relating to a proposed refinancing of Stelco's existing revolving term loan with a fully drawn U.S. dollar facility in an amount equivalent to $275 million Canadian having a term of six years. The new facility would have both a significantly lower interest rate and lower fees compared to Stelco's existing revolving term loan. The completion of the refinancing is subject to a number of conditions which must be satisfied no later than May 11, 2007.

These financing initiatives will provide a more favourable long term debt structure, which is expected to reduce financing costs (see Financing Arrangements).

Net Sales and Costs

Quarter 1, 2007 compared to Quarter 4, 2006

Loss before income tax for the three months ended March 31, 2007 was $35 million, compared to a loss of $145 million for the fourth quarter, 2006. The pre tax loss for the fourth quarter ended December 31, 2006 included severance costs totalling $3 million.

Net sales increased substantially during the first quarter primarily due to a 37% increase in shipments from the abnormally low levels experienced in the fourth quarter. The average revenue per ton decreased by 6% to $661 per ton due to a lower priced product mix and lower spot prices. The Corporation has announced a number of price increases on many of its products that will be effective during the second quarter of 2007.

Total costs were higher in the first quarter as compared to the fourth quarter of 2006 resulting primarily from increased shipments. Average cost per ton during the first quarter of 2007 was significantly lower, largely due to the increased levels of production of the mills allowing for a greater absorption of fixed costs. Average cost per ton also decreased in the first quarter due to reduced spending on repairs and maintenance, which was substantially lower as much of the work typically occurring in the first quarter was performed during the extensive outages in the fourth quarter. As well, lower cost product mix, reduced manpower, increased yields, and reduced pension costs contributed to lower average cost per ton. Partially offsetting these cost reductions were increased input costs relating to scrap and natural gas.

Amortization

Amortization expense for the first quarter ended March 31, 2007 was comparable with the fourth quarter of 2006, as no major assets additions or disposals occurred during the quarter.

Interest Expense and Foreign Exchange Gains and Losses

Interest expense totaled $19 million for the first quarter of 2007, compared to interest expense of $18 million for the fourth quarter of 2006. The difference was primarily due to an increase in borrowings, particularly from the more expensive Secured Revolving Term Loan. Included in interest expense for the first quarter of 2007 was approximately $6 million relating to borrowings under the Secured Revolving Term Loan (see "Liquidity and Capital Resources – Financing Arrangements"), which is held indirectly by a significant shareholder.

The Corporation's Floating Rate Notes (see Note 10 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) are denominated in US dollars. A $3 million foreign exchange gain was recorded in the first quarter of 2007 due to the revaluation of the notes using the March 31, 2007 US dollar exchange rate of $1.1546 (US dollar exchange rate was $1.1654 as at December 31, 2006). An $11 million foreign exchange loss was recorded in the fourth quarter of 2006.

Income Tax Expense

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective balance sheet date.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in 2006 and applied to eliminate the fresh start balance of unamortized intangible assets. Additional recognition of these future income tax assets occurred in the first quarter of 2007 and was applied to contributed surplus.

Other Financial Comparisons

Quarter 1, 2007 compared to Quarter 3, 2006

As the fourth quarter of 2006 was significantly and adversely impacted by the curtailment of operations, the following revenue and cost comparative information between the first quarter of 2007 and the third quarter of 2006 is provided.

Net sales during the first quarter of 2007 were $51 million lower than in the third quarter of 2006 substantially driven by lower selling prices across virtually all of the Corporation's product lines.

Total costs and costs per ton during the first quarter of 2007 and third quarter of 2006 were essentially unchanged. Included in costs during the third quarter was $11 million relating to "fresh start" reporting inventory revaluation. Input costs, such as natural gas, scrap, coal and zinc were higher in the first quarter. Partially offsetting higher input costs were higher levels of production which improved fixed costs absorption. As well, reduced manpower and lower pension costs were realized in the first quarter, 2007.

Quarter 1, 2007 compared to Quarter 1, 2006

As a result of the Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under 'fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the predecessor. Accordingly, selected comparative information in this MD&A from Successor periods to Predecessor periods has been limited to sales and shipments.

Net sales of $609 million in the first quarter ended March 31, 2007 were 10% lower than the first quarter of 2006 primarily due to a 52,000 ton reduction in shipments and lower average revenue per ton. Shipments were lower as demand in the automotive sector was considerably weaker, but was partially offset by stronger demand from the steel service centre sector. Weaker pricing primarily in the Corporation's hot rolled and cold rolled product lines resulted in lower average revenue per ton.

(1) Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The financial information contained in this MD&A is presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Reference is also made to "EBITDA", which is a non-Canadian GAAP measure. "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses such as workforce reduction costs, foreign exchange gains and losses on long-term debt and in the case of the Predecessor, also before restructuring costs. Information concerning EBITDA has been included in this MD&A because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the operating performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. A reconciliation to net loss, which is a Canadian GAAP measure, is presented above in the Financial and Operational Summary.

All note references in this document are to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Reorganization and Adoption of "Fresh Start" Reporting

Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA") on January 29, 2004. The Corporation emerged from CCAA protection at the end of the day on March 31, 2006 upon the implementation of Stelco's third amended and restated plan of arrangement and reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"). Also on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement involving Stelco was implemented under the Canada Business Corporations Act (the "CBCA Plan") pursuant to which Stelco's business was reorganized and specific assets and liabilities of Stelco were transferred into nine separate limited partnerships. Stelco's emergence from CCAA protection and the implementation of the CCAA Plan and the CBCA Plan is referred to in this MD&A as the "Reorganization". Further information regarding the Reorganization is set out in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

When used in this MD&A, the term "Predecessor" refers to Stelco and its related entities prior to the Reorganization and the term "Successor" refers to Stelco and its related entities following the Reorganization.

In connection with the Reorganization, Stelco adopted "fresh start" reporting on March 31, 2006 and, accordingly, completed a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. See Notes 2 and 4 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

As a result of the Reorganization and the revaluation of Stelco's assets and liabilities under "fresh start" reporting, certain consolidated financial and other information regarding the Successor may not be comparable with consolidated financial and other information regarding the Predecessor.

Summary of Quarterly Results

The following table reflects the Corporation's quarterly financial performance over the last eight quarters. Although the Corporation does not typically experience significant seasonal fluctuations in revenues the Corporation can experience significant fluctuations in revenues based on external events such as customer inventory levels, automotive demand and imports.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The liquidity and capital resources of the Corporation are dependent upon a number of factors, including, without limitation, market and economic conditions and the impact of these conditions on the price of steel products, raw material costs, the ability to fund necessary capital projects, pension requirements and labour negotiations and disputes.

The Corporation has a significant requirement for working capital related primarily to inventories due to the lead time of acquiring raw materials, the quantities of raw materials that are required to produce semi-finished steel and the amount of time required to process this semi-finished steel into a finished product. This working capital requirement is characteristic of many companies within the steel industry.

Cash Flow Summary

(In millions) Three months ended March 31	2007 (Successor)	2006 (Predecessor)
Cash provided by (used for):
Continuing operations adjusted for items not affecting cash	$ (31)	$ (41)
Changes in operating elements of working capital	(47)	(2)
Operating activities	(78)	(43)
Investment activities	(9)	58
Financing activities	95	(21)
Net change in cash position	$ 8	$ (6)

Due to the non-comparable nature of the financial results between the Successor and the Predecessor (see "Reorganization and Adoption of "fresh start" reporting" in this MD&A), the following commentary pertains to the results of the Successor only.

Cash provided by (used for) operating activities

Total cash flow usage for operating activities for the first quarter of 2007 was $78 million. Negative cash flow from operating activities excluding working capital was driven primarily by the net loss of $39 million adjusted for items not affecting cash, (see Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows for further information). In addition negative cash flows of $47 million were incurred for changes in working capital. The primary factor was a significant increase in accounts receivable ($93 million) resulting from significantly higher shipments. Partially offsetting this was an overall net decrease in inventories ($36 million) relating primarily to a reduction in raw materials offset partly by an increase in work in process and finished goods.

Cash provided by (used for) investment activities

Capital expenditures were $9 million during the first quarter of 2007 related primarily to various projects at the Corporation's mining properties, as well as spending on the Lake Erie Steel phase two hot strip mill upgrade which was substantially completed in the fourth quarter of 2006.

Cash provided by (used for) financing activities

The Corporation increased borrowings during the first quarter of 2007 by $105 million. In addition, $7 million of long-term debt was repaid relating to a regularly scheduled debt repayment at one of the Corporation's wholly owned subsidiaries. Financing fees of $3 million were prepaid in connection with the amendment and extension of the asset based loan facility and the proposed refinancing of the secured revolving term loan.

Liquidity

The Corporation's liquidity and capital resources position is summarized as follows:

(In millions)	At March 31 2007	At December 31 2006	At March 31 2006
	(Successor)	(Successor)	(Successor)
Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash	$ 8	$ –	$ 36
Available lines of credit [1]	786[2]	603[2]	859[2]
Lines of credit drawn down	(488)	(383)	(427)
Net liquidity	$ 306	$ 220	$ 468

(1) After letters of credit usage, and subject to the availability under their governing agreements.

(2) Includes the amount available from the $600 ABL facility and the $375 secured revolving term loan. See "Financing Arrangements" below.

The improvement of $183 million in available lines of credit was primarily due to increases in underlying collateral (principally accounts receivable), and amendments to the ABL, which increased the line availability.

If the proposed refinancing of the secured revolving term loan (see Financing Arrangements below) had been in effect on March 31, 2007, the available lines of credit and net liquidity would have been reduced by $100 million due to a lower available amount.

Financing Arrangements

Stelco Inc.

Asset Based Loan Facility

On March 23, 2007, the Corporation completed certain amendments to its existing $600 million Asset Based Loan Facility ("ABL Facility"). These amendments included extending the term of the facility from March 31, 2008 to March 31, 2012, increasing availability under the facility and potentially lowering overall financing costs. The amended ABL facility bears interest that varies depending on the level of availability at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 1.25% to 2.25%, prime rate + 0.0% to 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.0% to 0.5% or LIBOR + 1.25% to 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility continues to be secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL also continues to be additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to a maximum amount of $300 million, which is subject to adjustment under certain circumstances, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral, but will not exceed $600 million. At March 31, 2007, the available amount of the ABL was $411 million and the amount drawn on the ABL facility was $288 million.

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Limited (a significant shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The amount drawn on this facility at March 31, 2007 was $200 million. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full at the end of the seventh year. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, and a first priority security interest in the property, plant and equipment of Stelco except project financings. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in the subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco.

On April 9, 2007, the Corporation entered into a commitment letter with GE Corporate Lending Canada relating to a proposed refinancing of the secured revolving term loan. The proposed refinancing would replace the Corporation's existing revolving term loan with a fully drawn US dollar facility in an amount equivalent to $275 million Canadian, having a term of six years. The new facility would have a significantly lower interest rate and fees compared to the Corporation's existing revolving term loan. The completion of the refinancing is subject to a number of conditions which must be satisfied no later than May 11, 2007. In relation to this refinancing, Stelco has entered into an agreement with its lender for the existing revolving term facility to defer payment of the $11 million annual fee otherwise payable thereunder on March 31, 2007 until May 11, 2007. Under the agreement, if the existing revolving term loan facility is repaid by May 11, 2007, the deferred fee will be waived.

Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. Interest on the FRN's for the three months ended March 31, 2007 totalled $8 million and has been calculated under the cash payment option consistent with the semi-annual payment made in March 2007. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full. For further details see Note 10 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. For further details see Note 10 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Liquidity Risks

In addition to those risks discussed below under "Risk Factors", some of the provisions contained in the Corporation's financing arrangements provide for the escalation of lending rates in certain circumstances which, if triggered, could impact the liquidity of the Corporation depending upon the amount outstanding under the particular facility. These agreements also contain provisions (along with the Corporation's long-term debt agreements), which restrict the Corporation's ability to issue additional debt.

Capital Resources

The cash position, cash flow from operations and available, as well as proposed, credit facilities are expected to enable the Corporation to satisfy its anticipated operating and capital cash requirements.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

Other than operating leases, the Corporation does not engage in off-balance sheet accounting to structure any of its financial arrangements and had no off-balance sheet arrangements at March 31, 2007.

Financial Instruments

As part of the implementation of CICA Handbook Section 3855, a full evaluation of the Corporation's financial derivatives was undertaken (see discussion under "Changes in Accounting Policy").

The Corporation did not utilize any third party financial instruments to mitigate interest rate or foreign exchange risk in the first quarter of 2007 and therefore no such financial instruments were outstanding at March 31, 2007.

Related Party Transactions

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation) in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The Corporation has entered into a commitment letter to potentially replace this facility (see Financing Arrangements).

Included in financial expense for the three months ended March 31, 2007 is approximately $6 million relating to borrowings under this agreement. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at March 31, 2007. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at March 31, 2007. At March 31, 2007 there was $200 million outstanding under this loan.

In connection with this facility the Corporation accrued an annual fee of $11 million, the payment of which has been deferred until May 11, 2007. If the existing revolving term credit facility is repaid by May 11, 2007, the deferred fee will be waived.

As a result of the exercise of 77 warrants in the first quarter of 2007, there were 27,123,985 common shares outstanding at March 31, 2007. At March 31, 2007 there were 2,264,365 warrants outstanding.

Incentive Stock Option Plan

During the three months ended March 31, 2007, no options were exercised or forfeited. An additional 150,000 options were granted at an exercise price of $22.40 per common share. At March 31, 2007 there were 1,925,250 stock options outstanding. See Note 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Changes in Accounting Policy

Financial Instruments

Effective January 1, 2007, the Corporation adopted the new recommendations of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) Handbook Section 1530, Comprehensive Income, Section 3251, Equity, Section 3855, Financial Instruments – Recognition and Measurement, Section 3861, Financial Instruments – Disclosure and Presentation, and Section 3865, Hedges. The adoption of these standards has been applied retroactively, without restatement of prior period amounts. These standards provide guidance on the recognition, measurement and classification of financial assets and financial liabilities. These standards also provide guidance for reporting items in other comprehensive income, which will be included on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as a separate component of shareholders' equity. The adoption of these standards did not have any significant impact on the financial reporting in the first quarter of 2007 (see Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information).

Inventories

In March 2007, the CICA approved Handbook Section 3031, Inventories, which replaces the existing Section 3030, Inventories. This standard is effective for interim and annual financial statements relating to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2008, with earlier application encouraged. The standard provides more guidance on the measurement and disclosure requirements for inventories. The Corporation is evaluating the impact of the new standard.

Critical Accounting Assumptions and Estimates

In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is required to make certain assumptions and estimates. Choosing one assumption or estimate from a range of possibilities can materially impact the amounts reported on the Statement of Earnings (Loss) or the Statement of Financial Position. Management reviews accounting assumptions and estimates regularly in light of past experience and current conditions or changes in Canadian GAAP, and utilizes outside consultants as necessary to arrive at appropriate assumptions and estimates to be used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors reviews these significant assumptions and estimates.

Management considers assumptions and estimates relating to the following matters to be the most critical:

- going concern
- valuation of accounts receivable;
- carrying value of long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment);
- employee future benefits;
- income taxes;
- inventory valuation;
- environmental matters; and
- basis of valuation.

The Corporation's Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP. The Corporation has not made any significant changes to the critical accounting assumptions and estimates as described in the MD&A contained in the 2006 Annual Report.

Risk Factors

Stelco's business and future performance is subject to a number of risk factors as noted under "Risk Factors" in management's discussion and analysis included in Stelco's 2006 Annual Report, including, demand and pricing for steel, cost competitiveness, liquidity, supply and pricing of energy and raw material costs, steel industry consolidation, unplanned repairs or equipment outages, concentration of credit risk, environmental compliance, trade regulations, employees, pension plans, technology, currency fluctuations and labour matters. The Corporation has not identified any significant changes to the risk factors noted above.

Outlook

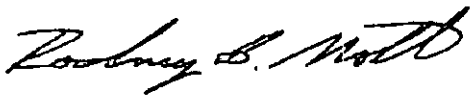
Steel shipments increased substantially in the first quarter of 2007, as the fourth quarter of 2006 was significantly and adversely impacted by reduced consumption in the automotive and steel service centre sectors. Pricing remained under pressure particularly in the spot market.

Inventory adjustments by the Corporation's automotive and steel service centre customers are expected to be largely completed during the second quarter, resulting in a return to a higher level of shipments to those markets. Shipments to the pipe and tube market are expected to remain relatively strong in the near term.

The Corporation has announced a number of price increases on many of its products that will take effect throughout the second quarter on its spot market business. Low import offerings, as well as scheduled production outages at key competitors in the second quarter are factors that may result in steady demand and some opportunity for spot price increases.

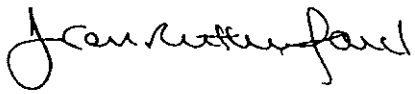
The Corporation will continue to adjust its course of action as required in order to transition Hamilton Steel operations into a lower cost facility. The announced closure of the 56" hot strip mill is an important step in this direction. Further review of the Hamilton facilities and cost structure is underway.

The Corporation continues to build new customer relationships and is committed to lowering overall costs.



Forward-Looking Statements

This MD&A contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this MD&A or as of the date on which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and their impact on the Corporation's US dollar denominated long-term debt, steel pricing and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.



Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this MD&A.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (unaudited)

Note 1. Business Description and CCAA History

Business Description

Stelco Inc. ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") is one of Canada's largest steel producers. The Corporation operates two integrated steel plants in Ontario, Canada which produce a variety of steel products for customers in the automotive, steel service center, appliance, energy, construction and pipe and tube industries within North America. In addition, Stelco has ownership interests in three iron ore properties. Through these ownership interests and related supply agreements, Stelco has secured approximately 90% of its requirements for iron ore. Stelco operates its businesses through partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures. Where applicable, "Stelco" and the "Corporation" refer to Stelco Inc. and its partnerships, subsidiaries and joint ventures collectively.

CCAA History

On January 29, 2004, Stelco and certain related entities filed for protection under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act ("CCAA") and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, Stelco made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code (the "U.S. Proceedings"). The Canadian proceedings included Stelco and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Stelpipe Ltd. ("Stelpipe"), CHT Steel Company Inc. ("CHT Steel"), Welland Pipe Ltd. ("Welland Pipe"), and Stelwire Ltd. ("Stelwire"), which were collectively referred to as the "Applicants". The U.S. Proceedings included Stelco, Stelpipe, and Stelwire. The Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures were not included in the proceedings. For the periods prior to emergence from CCAA, collectively, the Applicants and the Corporation's other subsidiaries and joint ventures are referred to as the "Predecessor" in the consolidated financial statements and notes.

At the end of the day on March 31, 2006, the Predecessor implemented its Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement and Reorganization (the "CCAA Plan"), as approved by the Court on January 20, 2006, and emerged from CCAA protection. For the purpose of these Consolidated Financial Statements the Corporation is referred to as the "Successor" in respect of the period after implementation of the CCAA Plan. Also, on March 31, 2006, a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporation Act ("the CBCA") that involved the Corporation (the "CBCA Plan") was implemented. In accordance with the CBCA Plan, the Predecessor's business was reorganized with specific assets and liabilities being transferred into separate limited partnerships ("LP's"). Upon implementation of this reorganization, Stelco became the parent company and limited partner of these limited partnerships. Further information on the CCAA Plan and CBCA Plan is outlined below.

Discontinued Operations

As part of the CCAA, Stelco divested all of its manufactured products and mini-mill businesses. The impact on earnings for the three months ended March 31, 2006 was a net loss of $43 million (net of income tax of $2 million).

Treatment of Stakeholders Compromised Under the CCAA Plan

Holders of Affected Claims

Under the CCAA Plan, the claims of the unsecured creditors (the "Affected Creditors") were not satisfied in full by the consideration distributed under the CCAA Plan. At March 31, 2006, the final accepted Affected Creditor claims of $547 million were settled in exchange for the following:

- New Secured Floating Rate Notes ("FRNs") in the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian ($235 million US);
- 6,364,000 newly issued common shares (the "New Common Shares") of Stelco valued at $5.50 per share (1,100,000 prorated among all Affected Creditors and 5,264,000 prorated based on amounts elected through the share election process);
- Cash of $108,548,000; and
- Warrants exercisable for an aggregate of 1,418,500 New Common Shares (the "New Warrants") with an exercise price of $11.00 per New Common Share and a seven-year term.

Holders of Series A and B Voting Common Shares

The Series A and B voting common shares previously outstanding were exchanged into new redeemable shares at a ratio of 0.000001 for each such share. Such shares were then redeemed and cancelled on March 31, 2006 for nil consideration.

Agreements

Plan Sponsor Agreement

The New Common Shares of the restructured Stelco were divided among three groups under the CCAA Plan: the Affected Creditors (as referred to above), the Province of Ontario (the "Province") and Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap"), Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management LP ("Appaloosa") (collectively the "Equity Sponsors"). The Province obtained its equity interest as part of the financing provided to Stelco (Note 10) wherein it received warrants to purchase 851,100 New Common Shares. The Equity Sponsors acquired their equity interests for cash pursuant to a Plan Sponsor Agreement ("the PSA") between the Corporation and the Equity Sponsors.

Pursuant to the PSA, the Equity Sponsors agreed to purchase 19,736,000 New Common Shares of Stelco at a price of $5.50 per share for proceeds of $108,548,000. These funds were used for the cash distribution to Affected Creditors under the Plan as referred to above.

Pension Plan Funding Agreement

Stelco and the Province along with the Superintendent of Financial Services of Ontario and certain of the newly formed LPs entered into a pension funding agreement (the "Pension Agreement") on March 31, 2006 that outlines the funding arrangements with respect to Stelco's four main pension plans. The purpose of the Pension Agreement is to transition the four main plans from the Section 5.1 election of Regulation 909 of the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario) (the "PBA"), which had exempted the four main plans from funding of the solvency deficiencies under the plans in exchange for higher pension benefit guarantee fund payments, to the general regulatory requirements of the PBA by no later than January 1, 2016. See Note 10 for further details.

CCAA Plan Financing

New financing was raised under the CCAA Plan from the following sources:

• New ABL Facility (asset based loan) (Note 9)	up to $600 million
• New Secured Revolving Term Loan (Note 9)	$375 million
• New Province Note (Note 10)	$150 million
• Federal Government (cancelled in June 2006)	$30 million

Note 2. Basis Of Presentation

Interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies and methods used in the most recent annual financial statements as described on pages 32 to 34 of the corporation's 2006 Annual Report, except for the policy described in Note 3 below, which was changed effective January 1, 2007. The financial statements and notes presented in this interim report should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual financial statements.

The consolidated financial statements of the Successor and Predecessor companies are expressed in Canadian dollars and are prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP. As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. In accordance with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook Section 1625 – "Comprehensive Revaluation of Assets and Liabilities", the Corporation undertook a comprehensive revaluation of its assets and liabilities. As required by CICA Handbook Section 1625, the enterprise value was allocated based upon management's best estimate of the relative fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the Corporation in accordance with the guidance in CICA Handbook Section 1581 – "Business Combinations". The Corporation finalized its allocation in the third quarter of 2006 resulting in the transfer of amounts between property, plant and equipment, inventories and intangible assets and future income taxes effective as of March 31, 2006 (see Note 4).

The Consolidated Statements of Financial Position as at March 31, 2007 and December 31, 2006 reflect the accounts of the Successor. While not comparable, the Corporation has presented both the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss) and the corresponding Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows to reflect the activities of the Successor for the three months ended March 31, 2007 and the Predecessor for the three months ended March 31, 2006.

While the Predecessor was under creditor protection (January 29, 2004 – March 31, 2006), the Predecessor applied the guidance in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code" (SOP 90-7), where it did not conflict with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("Canadian GAAP"), in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements. As a result, the Predecessor made adjustments to isolate assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses related to the reorganization and restructuring activities so as to distinguish these events and transactions from those associated with the ongoing operation of the business. Allowed claims arising under the CCAA proceedings were recorded as liabilities subject to compromise and presented separately on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. While in CCAA payments were not made on liabilities subject to compromise, including long-term debt. Interest on debt obligations continued to be recognized under Canadian GAAP consistent with Canadian legal requirements. Interest was not a Reorganization item. While the Corporation and certain of its subsidiaries were in CCAA the Predecessor's consolidated financial statements continued to be prepared using the going concern concept, which assumed that the Corporation would be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business.

The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared using the going concern concept which assumes that the Corporation will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. These consolidated financial statements do not reflect any adjustments that would be necessary if the going concern assumption was not appropriate. The Corporation is dependent upon a strong North American steel market and improving financial results. The outcome of these matters is not determinable at this time.

Management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. Management believes that the estimates are reasonable, however, actual results could differ from these estimates.

Note 3. Changes in Accounting Standards

These unaudited interim Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared using the same accounting policies as disclosed in Note 3 to the 2006 audited Consolidated Financial Statements of Stelco except as noted below.

Financial Instruments

Effective January 1, 2007, the Corporation adopted the new recommendations of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) Handbook Section 1530, Comprehensive Income, Section 3251, Equity, Section 3855, Financial Instruments – Recognition and Measurement, Section 3861, Financial Instruments – Disclosure and Presentation, and Section 3865, Hedges. The adoption of these standards has been applied retroactively, without restatement of prior period amounts.

Section 1530, Comprehensive Income, and Section 3251, Equity, introduce requirements for the reporting and presentation of comprehensive income, which is defined as the change in equity from transactions and other events and circumstances from non-owner sources. Comprehensive income comprises net income and other comprehensive income, which represents revenues, expenses, gains and losses which in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles are not reflected in net income. For the three month period ended March 31, 2007, there were no items to be reported within other comprehensive income, and there was no balance of accumulated other comprehensive income at January 1, 2007 or March 31, 2007. The adoption of these standards had no impact on deficit at January 1, 2007.

Section 3855, Financial Instruments – Recognition and Measurement, establishes standards for recognizing and measuring financial assets, financial liabilities and non-financial derivatives.

Under the standard, financial assets and liabilities must be classified into one of five categories: held-for-trading, held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, available-for-sale, and other financial liabilities. Financial instruments classified as held-for-trading are measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognized in net income. Available-for-sale financial instruments are measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income until derecognized or impaired at which time the amounts are recorded in net income. Financial instruments classified as held-to-maturity, loans and receivables or other financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost, using the effective interest rate method.

As a result of the adoption of these new standards, the Corporation has implemented the following classifications:

Held-for-trading financial assets – cash and cash-equivalents;

Held-to-maturity investments – certain other assets;

Loans and receivables – accounts receivable; and

Other financial liabilities – accounts payable, certain accrued liabilities, revolving term loans, and long-term debt.

The Corporation did not have available-for-sale financial instruments at January 1, 2007 or during the three month period ended March 31, 2007. For cash and cash-equivalents, certain other assets, accounts receivable, accounts payable and certain accrued liabilities amortized cost approximates cost.

Except as noted below with respect to financing fees and transaction costs, the implementation of these classifications and their related accounting treatment under Section 3855, had no impact on the Consolidated Financial Statements.

In accordance with Section 3855, management has elected to account for transaction costs, which represent costs paid to advisors in connection with the Corporation's long term debt agreements, as part of the carrying value of the related liability. Financing fees and transaction costs relating to revolving facilities (Note 9), that were previously included in Other assets, have been reclassified to intangible assets effective January 1, 2007 and will continue to be amortized over the expected life of the related revolving facility (Note 8). As a result of these changes, at January 1, 2007, Other Assets decreased by $10 million and Intangible Assets increased by $10 million.

Under Section 3855, derivatives embedded within a host contract that require separation from the host contract are required to be measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognized in net income. The Corporation has identified and recognized an embedded derivative relating to the call option in the Corporation's Floating Rate Notes. As an embedded derivative, the call option is required to be measured at its fair value. Management has determined the fair value at January 1, 2007 and March 31, 2007 to be insignificant.

Section 3865, Hedges, establishes standards for the use of hedge accounting. The Corporation had no hedges at January 1, 2007 or during the three month period ended March 31, 2007, and there was no impact on the Consolidated Financial Statements as a result of adopting this standard.

Section 3861, Financial Instruments – Disclosure and Presentation, established standards for presentation of financial instruments and non-financial derivatives, and identifies information that should be disclosed about them, including information about factors that effect the amount, timing and certainty of future cash flows relating to financial instruments.

Inventories

In March 2007, the CICA approved Handbook Section 3031, Inventories, which replaces the existing Section 3030, Inventories. This standard is effective for interim and annual financial statements relating to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2008, with earlier application encouraged. The standard provides more guidance on the measurement and disclosure requirements for inventories. The Corporation is evaluating the impact of the new standard.

Note 4. Fresh Start Reporting

As outlined in Note 2, Stelco adopted fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006. As a result, all assets and liabilities of the Successor were reported at estimated fair values, except for future income taxes, which were reported in accordance with the requirements of CICA Handbook Section 3465, and pension and other post-employment benefits, which were reported in accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3461.

The fair values of the assets and liabilities of the Successor were based on management's best estimates as of March 31, 2006. The Successor finalized its valuation of assets and liabilities, primarily property, plant and equipment, inventories, intangibles and future income taxes, in the third quarter 2006 and reflected adjustments in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2006. The adjustments to the Predecessor balances related to Predecessor shareholders, affected creditors and equity sponsors and pensions and financing were finalized upon emergence from CCAA.

Note 4. Fresh Start Reporting

The following legend describes the adjustments made to the Predecessor accounts resulting from the implementation of the CCAA Plan and consummation of the various agreements:

(1) Implementation of the Plan as outlined in Note 1.

The following table reconciles the Predecessor's liabilities subject to compromise to those that were accepted claims under the Plan:

(in millions)	At March 31, 2006 (Predecessor)
Liabilities subject to compromise
Accepted claims	$ 547
Post-filing interest	83
Unfiled claims	10
Total liabilities subject to compromise	$ 640
Settlement
Cash	$ 108
Floating Rate Notes	275
New Common Shares	36
New Warrants	2
Total consideration	$ 421
Excess of claims over distribution	219
Convertible debenture conversion option	23
Total adjustment to retained deficit	$ 242

The holders of Series A and B voting common shares received nil consideration.

(2) Issuance of shares for cash under the Plan Sponsor Agreement (Note 1).

(3) Payment of financing fees on implementation of the Plan, which were deferred and amortized over the term of the related credit facilities.

(4) Receipt of cash under the Province Agreement in exchange for a note payable and issuance of warrants.

(5) Repayment of borrowings under the Predecessor's line of credit and increase in revolving term loans in order to make pension funding payment.

(6) Initial pension funding made under the Province Agreement.

(7) Comprehensive revaluation of assets and liabilities and elimination of the deficit.

(8) Future income taxes have been adjusted to reflect the tax effects of differences between the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities and their estimated tax bases and the benefits of any unused tax losses and other deductions to the extent that these amounts are more likely than not to be realized. The resulting future income tax amounts have been measured based on the rates substantively enacted that are expected to apply when the temporary differences reverse or the unused income tax losses or other deductions are realized.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date. A portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the nine month period ending December 31, 2006 and were applied to eliminate the unamortized intangible assets that were recorded at March 31, 2006. Recognition of these future income tax assets in periods after 2006 will be applied to contributed surplus.

Included under the Fresh Start Adjustment captions are all income tax adjustments required to transition the Predecessor's accounts to the Successor's accounts at March 31, 2006.

Note 5. Restricted Cash

Restricted cash represented funds held in trust with the Monitor under the CCAA proceedings pending direction from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice for its use.

In 2006, the Monitor released the proceeds held in trust pertaining to the sale of non-core assets.

Note 6. Inventories

(in millions)	At March 31, 2007	At December 31, 2006
	(Successor)	(Successor)
Raw materials and supplies	$ 345	$ 442
Finished and work-in-process	312	251
Total inventories	$ 657	$ 693

Note 7. Asset Sales

While in CCAA, the Corporation determined that all of the businesses in the Mini-mill and Manufacturered Products segments were non-core and were to be sold. Accordingly, these businesses were presented in the consolidated financial statements of the Predecessor as assets held for sale and discontinued operations to isolate the earnings (loss) and cash flows associated with these businesses. The proceeds received from these asset sales were held in trust with the Monitor and included in restricted cash, pending authorization from the court to release the funds for general use (Note 5).

The amount of the final purchase price relating to the 2005 sale of substantially all of the assets of Stelpipe Ltd. is subject to a dispute with the purchaser relating to adjustments for assumed liabilities and working capital amounts. The dispute is under review.

Note 8. Intangible Assets

Net intangible assets of $24 million at March 31, 2007 are principally comprised of $9 million of unamortized financing and legal fees related to the Corporation's ABL facility and secured revolving term loan, previously classified as Other assets (Note 3) and $14 million of additional financing fees incurred in the first quarter, 2007 (including an $11 million deferred payment on the secured revolving term loan, subject to waiver (Note 9)).

Note 9. Revolving Term Loans

Asset Based Loan Facility

The long term asset based loan facility (the "ABL facility") entered into on March 31, 2006 bore interest at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 2.25%, prime rate + 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.5% or London Inter-Bank Overnight Rate ("LIBOR") + 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility was available until March 31, 2008 and, prior to each March 31 anniversary date, the facility could be extended for a period of two years if the lender and Stelco mutually agreed.

On March 23, 2007, the Corporation completed certain amendments to its existing $600 million ABL facility. These amendments included extending the term of the facility from March 31, 2008 to March 31, 2012. The amended ABL facility bears interest that varies depending on line availability at the Canadian bankers' acceptance rate + 1.25% to 2.25%, prime rate + 0.0% to 0.5%, the US Base rate + 0.0% to 0.5% or LIBOR + 1.25% to 2.25%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The ABL facility continues to be secured by a first priority security interest in the eligible inventory and accounts receivable of Stelco. The ABL also continues to be additionally secured by a second priority security interest on all other property and assets of the Corporation, limited to a maximum amount of $300 million, which is subject to adjustment under certain circumstances, and a fourth priority security interest for the balance. The available amount of the ABL facility is dependent upon the value of the underlying collateral, but will not exceed $600 million. The ABL facility incurs an annual fee of 0.375% of any unused funds available under the facility. The facility is subject to certain restrictive covenants. At March 31, 2007 the available amount of the ABL was $411 million and the amount drawn on the ABL facility was $288 million ($168 million at December 31, 2006).

Secured Revolving Term Loan

On March 31, 2006, as part of the CCAA Plan, the Corporation entered into a secured revolving term loan facility with a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management Ltd. (a shareholder of the Corporation – Note 1), in the amount of $375 million for a term of seven years. The facility is revolving for three years, after which time the facility will cease to revolve and any amount outstanding on that date will be repayable in full on March 31, 2013. The secured revolving term loan currently bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 6.75% until March 31, 2009 after which the loan bears interest at bankers' acceptance rate plus 7.25%. The secured revolving term loan is secured by a second priority interest on the working capital assets of Stelco, except project financings, and a first priority security interest in the fixed assets of Stelco. The secured revolving term loan is also secured by all the tangible and non-tangible assets of certain subsidiaries of Stelco and a pledge of and security interest in all of the outstanding shares of interests in certain subsidiaries, partnerships and joint ventures of Stelco. Under this facility, Stelco is required to pay an annual fee of 3% of the aggregate commitment of $375 million on each anniversary date of CCAA Plan implementation. In addition, the facility requires the Company to pay a 3% fee on the outstanding credit facility in place at March 31, 2009, if it intends to extend the facility.

On April 9, 2007 the Corporation entered into a commitment letter with GE Corporate Lending Canada relating to a proposed refinancing of the secured revolving term loan. The proposed refinancing would replace the Corporation's existing revolving term loan with a fully drawn US dollar facility in an amount equivalent to $275 million Canadian having a term of six years. The completion of the refinancing is subject to a number of conditions which must be satisfied no later than May 11, 2007. In relation to this refinancing, on March 30, 2007, Stelco entered into an agreement with its lender for the existing revolving term facility to defer payment of the $11 million annual fee otherwise payable on March 31, 2007 until May 11, 2007. Under the agreement, if the existing revolving term loan facility is repaid by May 11, 2007, the deferred fee will be waived.

Included in financial expense for the three months ended March 31, 2007 is approximately $6 million relating to borrowings under this agreement. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the applicable lending agreement, yielding approximately 11% as at March 31, 2007. The majority of interest is paid prior to the end of each month, therefore a nominal amount is outstanding at March 31, 2007. At March 31, 2007 there was $200 million outstanding under this loan ($215 million at December 31, 2006).

Long-term debt	$ 333	$ 342

(1) Floating Rate Notes

As part of the consideration in settlement of the affected claims of the Predecessor, affected creditors received floating rate notes ("FRN's") equal to the US dollar equivalent of $275 million Canadian dollars ($235 million US dollars). The FRN's mature on March 31, 2016. Interest on the FRN's is payable semi-annually. At Stelco's option, the FRN's will bear an interest rate of LIBOR plus 5.50% if paid in cash and LIBOR plus 8.50% if paid in new FRN's or if interest payments are deferred and accrued in accordance with the terms of the FRN's. Interest on the FRN's for the three months ended March 31, 2007 totalled $8 million and is included in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings (Loss). Interest has been calculated under the cash payment option consistent with the semi-annual payment made in March 2007. For periods after March 31, 2008, the interest rate will be calculated in the same manner as noted above, with the exception that under certain conditions, the interest rate will be subject to a reduction of 0.50%. For periods after March 31, 2011, interest is payable in cash only. The FRN's are callable at 110% of face value until March 31, 2008; then callable at 105% of face value until March 31, 2009; then at 102.5% of face value until March 31, 2010; and at par thereafter, in each case payable in cash. The FRN's are secured by a security interest in the assets of Stelco, subordinated and postponed to the security granted to the ABL facility and the secured revolving term loan (Note 9) in all respects including rights to payment and enforcement until both the ABL facility and secured revolving term loan are repaid in full.

There was a $3 million gain recorded for the three months ended March 31, 2007 due to the revaluation of the FRN's using the March 31, 2007 US dollar exchange rate.

(2) Province Note

In accordance with the Pension Agreement (see Note 1), the Province of Ontario provided Stelco with $150 million on March 31, 2006 in exchange for a note payable (the "Province Note") and warrants to purchase 851,100 common shares of Stelco. The Province Note is unsecured and is repayable on December 31, 2015, at Stelco's option, in cash or by delivering an equivalent value in Stelco common shares. The Province Note is also subject to a 75% discount if the solvency deficiencies in Stelco's four main pension plans are eliminated on or before the maturity date. At this time, there is no assurance that the Corporation will receive the 75% discount. The Province Note bears an interest rate of 1% per annum, payable semi-annually in cash or, at Stelco's option, by delivering Stelco common shares. Interest accrued on the Province Note for the three months ended March 31, 2007 totalled less than $1 million and is included in financial expense. The semi-annual interest payment due in March 2007 was paid in cash. At March 31, 2006, the $150 million was allocated between the Province Note and the fair value of the warrants. Upon the application of fresh start reporting on March 31, 2006, the Province Note was adjusted to its estimated fair value of $57 million (see Note 4) and will be accreted up to its face value over the term of the Note assuming an effective interest rate of 12%. During the three months ended March 31, 2007 an accretion expense of $1 million was recorded in interest on long-term debt on the Consolidated Statement of Loss.

(3) The term loan is an obligation of a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

Note 11. Employee Future Benefits

The Corporation, maintains a number of defined benefit and defined contribution plans providing benefits to most of its employees.

The Corporation recognized in Costs the following net benefit cost for employee future benefits:

	Three months ended March 31
(In millions)	2007	2006
	(Successor)	(Predecessor)
Defined contribution plans	$ 1	$ 1
Defined benefit plans	(1)	36
Total pension plans	–	37
Total other post-employment benefit plans	16	27
Total net benefit cost	$ 16	$ 64

Note 12. Income Taxes

Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that realization is considered more likely than not. The assessment as to the future realization of future income tax assets, including loss carry-forwards, is conducted on a company-by-company basis for the Stelco group of businesses. Realization of future income tax assets is dependent upon the availability of sufficient taxable income within the carry-forward periods. The assessment of realization is based upon the weight of evidence at the respective statement of financial position date.

The Corporation's effective income tax rate for the first quarter of 2007 is lower than its statutory manufacturing and processing rate of 34% primarily due to an increase in the valuation allowance of $16 million.

The Corporation had certain future income tax assets which existed at March 31, 2006 but were not recognized on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position at that date on the implementation of fresh start accounting. In accordance with CICA Handbook Section 3465 – Income Taxes, a portion of these future income tax assets were recognized in the nine months ended December 31, 2006 and applied to eliminate the unamortized intangible assets that were recorded at March 31, 2006. Additional recognition of these future income tax assets in the three months ended March 31, 2007 of $3 million was applied to contributed surplus.

Note 13. Capital Stock and Warrants

(a) Authorized Shares

The Corporation is authorized to issue an unlimited number of preferred shares, issuable in series, an unlimited number of common shares and an unlimited number of redeemable shares. There are no preferred shares or redeemable shares outstanding.

(b) Common Shares

	At March 31, 2007	At December 31, 2006
	(Successor)	(Successor)
Total number of common shares	27,123,985	27,123,908
Total (in millions)	$ 149	$ 149

As a result of the exercise of warrants in the three months ended March 31, 2007, referred to below, there were 27,123,985 common shares outstanding at March 31, 2007.

(c) Warrants

A total of 77 warrants were exercised in the three months ended March 31, 2007 leaving a balance of 2,264,365. outstanding at March 31, 2007.

Note 14. Contributed Surplus

	(Successor)
Balance - beginning of year	1
Realization of income tax assets not recognized on implementation of fresh start accounting (Note 12)	3
Stock option expense (Note 16)	1
Balance – March 31	5

Note 15. Loss per Common Share

During the three months ended March 31, 2007 and the three months ended March 31, 2006, a basic net loss from continuing operations and a basic net loss were incurred, therefore options and warrants related information have not been used to calculate fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations and fully diluted earnings per share as both are anti-dilutive where applicable.

Note 16. Stock-Based Compensation

Incentive Stock Option Plan ("ISOP")

During the three months ended March 31, 2007, no options were exercised or forfeited. An additional 150,000 options were granted at an exercise price of $22.40 per common share. The total options available under the ISOP at March 31, 2007 are 666,000.

Total compensation expense of $1 million has been included in costs for the three months ended March 31, 2007.

The compensation expense for grants made under the ISOP was determined at the grant date using the fair value method by applying the Black-Scholes option-pricing model using the following assumptions:

Grant date	March 7, 2007	June 21, 2006	April 1, 2006
Expected volatility	40%	40%	40%
Risk-free interest rate	4.00%	4.33%	4.00%
Expected life	0 – 4 years	0 – 4 years	0 – 4 years
Expected dividends	Nil	Nil	Nil

The weighted average exercise price for the 1,925,250 options outstanding at March 31, 2007 is $7.77.

Note 17. Reorganization Items

Reorganization items relate to payments made in connection with various professional advisor fees and certain success fees associated with the reorganization and restructuring of the Corporation on March 31, 2006. In the three months ended March 31, 2006 the Corporation recognized $21 million of reorganization items comprised of $12 million in professional fees and $9 million in success fees.

Note 18. Contingencies

On June 28, 2005, Georgian Windpower Corporation ("GWC") commenced a lawsuit against Stelco Inc. alleging, among other things, breach of contract by Stelco in connection with Stelco's termination in April 2005 of a Memorandum of Understanding and Agreement to Enter into a Land Lease Agreement between Stelco and GWC. GWC has claimed damages of $350 million. On May 31, 2006, the Corporation served its statement of defense. Examinations for discovery are ongoing. The Corporation is vigorously defending this action. The result and value of the GWC claim are not determinable at this time and consequently the Corporation has not recorded any provision for the claim in the consolidated financial statements of the Corporation.

Note 19. Segmented Information

The following provides segmented information by geographic area. Sales are allocated to the country in which the third party customer receives the product:

Canada	$ 1,348	$ 1,368
United States	373	375
Total	$ 1,721	$ 1,743

Note 20. Comparative Figures

As a result of a substantial realignment of equity and non-equity interests in the Corporation (Note 4), "fresh start" reporting was adopted on March 31, 2006. Accordingly, the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Successor are not comparable to Predecessor (see Note 1).

Note 21. Subsequent Events

With the substantial completion of the hot strip mill modernization program at Lake Erie resulting in expanded capacity, the Corporation announced in April 2007, that the 56" hot strip mill at its Hamilton Steel operations would be closed in May 2007 due to its high cost of operations and limited support from the marketplace. The implementation of this initiative is anticipated to reduce the Hamilton Steel workforce by more than 300 positions through a combination of retirements, layoffs and severances which will result in workforce reduction costs in subsequent quarters. The workforce reduction costs have not yet been determined as they will be largely dependent upon union contract provisions, which are currently under review. It is not anticipated that there will be any significant impairment charge related to the carrying value of plant and equipment at the Hamilton hot strip mill.

Attention Business/Financial Editors:
Stelco reports first quarter results

RECEIVED

HAMILTON, ON, April 30 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX:STE) ("Stelco" or the "Corporation") today reported EBITDA(x) of $13 million and a loss before income tax of $35 million for the first quarter ended March 31, 2007, a substantial improvement over the negative $82 million EBITDA(x) and $145 million loss before income tax reported in the fourth quarter 2006.

First Quarter Highlights

- Lake Erie Steel achieved a record monthly production during the quarter following its successful expansion.

- Shipments increased to 922,000 tons and semi-finished steel production increased to 1,100,000 tons.

- Net sales revenue for the quarter ended March 31, 2007 was $609 million compared to $472 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2006.

- The Corporation's capital structure has been enhanced - the Corporation's asset based revolving credit facility was amended on enhanced terms and maturity extended to 2012, and subsequent to the quarter end a commitment letter was entered into to replace the existing revolving term loan credit facility on more favourable terms.

Operations

Hamilton Steel continued to incur significant losses during the first quarter, offsetting the profitability of Lake Erie Steel and HLE Mining. As previously disclosed, the 56" hot strip mill at Hamilton Steel, which has operated since 1937, will be closed in May 2007 due to its high cost of production and limited support from the marketplace. The 56" mill closure is expected to reduce employment levels by 350 people at Hamilton, and is a significant step toward transforming Hamilton Steel to become a profitable steel manufacturer. The expanded capacity at Lake Erie Steel, in combination with the reduction in fixed costs at Hamilton Steel, is expected to improve Stelco's overall efficiency, product quality, and operating costs.

Commenting on the results, Stelco's President and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Rodney Mott stated, "We have positioned Stelco to react quickly to the changing marketplace. Our ramp up in production and shipments following our Lake Erie expansion and Hamilton blast furnace upgrade has been outstanding."

Financing

The Corporation amended and extended its $600 million asset based revolving credit facility on March 23, 2007. These amendments include extending the term of the facility from 2008 to 2012, increasing the availability under the facility, and providing an overall reduction in financing costs. In addition, on April 9, 2007, the Corporation entered into a commitment letter with GE Corporate Lending Canada relating to a proposed refinancing of Stelco's existing revolving term loan with a fully drawn U.S. dollar facility in an amount equivalent to $275 million Canadian, having a term of six years. The new facility would have significantly lower interest rate and fees compared to Stelco's existing revolving term loan. The completion of the refinancing is subject to a number of conditions which must be satisfied no later than May 11, 2007. These financing initiatives will provide a more favourable long-term debt structure, which is expected to reduce financing costs. Stelco will continue to pursue initiatives to enhance its capital structure.

Outlook

Commenting on the second quarter, Mr. Mott said, "With our continued strong production and shipping performance and the apparent strength of the market, we expect improved operating results for the second quarter. High shipping levels are expected throughout the quarter and previously announced price increases will be realized.

"Our Lake Erie Steel operation is now positioned as one of the industry's most competitive, and will enable us to expand our market position. We will continue to pursue initiatives to make Hamilton Steel a profitable operation, and a further review of its facilities and cost structure is underway," commented Mr. Mott.

Stelco's financial and operational summary (unaudited), as well as its consolidated statements of financial position and cash flow summary (unaudited), are attached. These materials should be reviewed in conjunction with the Corporation's unaudited interim financial statements, including the notes thereto, and the related management's discussion and analysis, a copy of which can be viewed on the Corporation's Web site at www.stelco.ca or on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

Conference call

The Corporation will conduct a conference call on first quarter results on Tuesday, May 1 at 11:00 am EDT. The webcast will be available on Stelco's Web site at www.stelco.ca. Please choose "Investor Centre" and select "Webcasts". Please log in at least 15 minutes prior to the call.

About Stelco

Stelco is one of Canada's largest steel companies. It is focused on its two Ontario-based integrated steel businesses located in Hamilton and in Nanticoke. These operations produce high quality value-added hot rolled, cold rolled, coated sheet and bar products. To learn more about Stelco and its businesses, please refer to our Web site at www.stelco.ca.

CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

This press release contains "forward-looking information" that is based on Stelco's expectations, estimates and projections as of the date of this press release or as of the date which such information is identified to be given. This forward-looking information includes, among other things, factors relating to the business, financial position, operations and prospects of Stelco, including: Stelco's strategies and plans to reduce costs and the anticipated outcome of such strategies and plans; anticipated productivity levels and profitability; labour matters related to Stelco's predominantly unionized workforce; pension matters; consolidation in the steel industry; Stelco's energy and raw material costs and the availability of such materials; the volatility of selling prices for steel; international trade matters, including increases in steel imports into Canada; employee matters, including staffing levels, the retention of the skills and knowledge of Stelco's employees and the ability to attract and retain new employees; changes to environmental laws and regulations concerned with, among other things, emissions into the air, discharges to water or land, noise control and the generation, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of toxic substances; new technological developments and Stelco's ability to make capital expenditures to maintain and enhance its technological ability; development of new products; planned capital expenditures; and currency fluctuations in the US dollar and their impact on the Corporation's US dollar denominated long-term debt steel pricing, and costs. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words and phrases such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "budget", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or states that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved.

Forward-looking information involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Stelco to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Actual results, performance and achievements are likely to differ, and may differ materially, from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information contained herein. Such forward-looking information is based on a number of assumptions which may prove to be incorrect, including, but not limited to: exchange rates, energy and other anticipated and unanticipated costs; pension contributions and expenses; the supply and demand for, deliveries of, and the level and volatility of prices of, steel and raw materials; the continued availability of financing on appropriate terms; market competition; the impact on Stelco of various environmental regulations and initiatives; and Stelco's ongoing relations with its employees and staffing levels. While Stelco anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause Stelco's views to change, Stelco specifically disclaims any obligation to update this forward-looking information. This forward-looking information should not be relied upon as representing Stelco's views as of any date subsequent to the date of this press release.

(1) Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The financial information contained in this press release is presented in accordance with Canadian GAAP. Reference is also made to "EBITDA", which is a non-Canadian GAAP measure. "EBITDA" refers to operating earnings (losses) before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses such as workforce reduction costs, foreign exchange gains and losses on long-term debt. Information concerning EBITDA has been included in this press release because management considers it to be, and uses it as, a meaningful indicator for assessing the operating performance of the Corporation. EBITDA does not represent cash generated from operations as defined by Canadian GAAP and it is not necessarily indicative of cash available to fund cash needs. Non-Canadian GAAP earnings measures (such as EBITDA) do not have any standardized meaning and therefore the Corporation's use of EBITDA measures may not be comparable to measures used by other companies. A reconciliation to net loss, which is a Canadian GAAP measure, is presented above in the Financial and Operational Summary.

Stelco completes refinancing US$270 million term loan

HAMILTON, ON, May 9 /CNW/ - Stelco Inc. (TSX: STE) announced today that has completed a US$270 million (Cdn$297 million at closing) funded term loan refinancing with GE Corporate Lending Canada, which was arranged by GE Capital Markets, Inc. Significant market interest for the term loan allowed Stelco to increase the amount of the facility from the US dollar equivalent of Cdn$275 million, as previously announced on April 9, 2007, to US$270 million. The new facility refinances Stelco's Cdn$375 million revolving term loan with a more traditional facility that has significantly lower interest rates and fees. The new facility has a six year term and bears interest at a floating rate equal to a US base rate + 1 % or LIBOR + 3.5%, depending on the nature of the loan instrument incurred. The new term loan is secured by a first priority interest in the fixed assets of Stelco and a second priority interest on the working capital assets. The term loan includes typical covenants, as well as a financial covenant based on achieving a minimum EBITDA threshold for Stelco's Lake Erie Steel business. Subject to certain conditions, the new term loan is prepayable, in part or in whole, at any time without penalty. Stelco paid an underwriting fee in connection with the refinancing.

As previously announced, by completing this refinancing prior to May 11, 2007, Stelco was not required to pay the $11.25 million annual fee otherwise payable under the refinanced facility.

"We are very pleased with the confidence that our lenders have shown in Stelco. The completion of the second phase of our debt refinancing positions us well for the future and we will continue to pursue opportunities to enhance our capital structure," said Rodney Mott, President and Chief Executive Officer.

MANAGEMENT PROXY CIRCULAR

GENERAL PROXY INFORMATION

This management proxy circular (this "Circular") is furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the management of Stelco Inc. (the "Corporation") for use at the annual and special meeting of the shareholders of the Corporation to be held at 10:30 a.m., Toronto time, on Wednesday, June 6, 2007 (the "Meeting") and at any adjournment thereof.

Solicitation will be primarily by mail but proxies may also be solicited by telephone, or personally by officers or employees of the Corporation. In addition, the Corporation will provide proxy materials to brokers, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries ("Intermediaries"), and request that such materials be properly forwarded to the beneficial owners of shares registered in the names of such Intermediaries. All solicitation costs will be borne by the Corporation.

Record Date

The board of directors of the Corporation has fixed the close of business on Monday, May 7, 2007 as the record date for the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to receive notice of the Meeting (the "Shareholders"). Each Shareholder is entitled to one vote for each common share of the Corporation held and shown as registered in such holder's name on the list of Shareholders prepared as of the close of business on the record date.

Beneficial Shareholders

For the purposes of the Circular, reference to "Shareholders" or "Registered Shareholders" means Shareholders who hold their shares directly and are registered as Shareholders of the Corporation and "Beneficial Shareholders" means beneficial owners of shares whose shares are registered in the name of an Intermediary such as an investment dealer or broker or trust company or depository. Beneficial Shareholders are sometimes referred to as non-registered shareholders in the marketplace.

Beneficial Shareholders can expect to receive either:

(i) a form of proxy from the Intermediary that is signed by the Intermediary (typically by a facsimile stamped signature) and which sets forth the number of shares beneficially owned by the Beneficial Shareholder, but which is otherwise uncompleted. The Beneficial Shareholder may complete the form of proxy and deposit it with CIBC Mellon Trust Company ("CIBC Mellon") as described; or

(ii) a voting instruction form from the Intermediary's agent, requesting voting instructions which must be completed and signed, or otherwise dealt with, by the Beneficial Shareholder in accordance with the instructions on the voting instruction form.

The majority of Intermediaries delegate responsibility for obtaining voting instructions from Beneficial Shareholders to a service company called Broadridge Investor Communications ("Broadridge") (formerly ADP Investor Communications). Broadridge typically mails a voting instruction form to Beneficial Shareholders requesting that the Beneficial Shareholders return the form to Broadridge. The Broadridge form also allows completion of the voting instruction form by telephone and by internet. Broadridge then tabulates the results of all instructions received from Beneficial Shareholders and provides appropriate instructions respecting the voting of shares to the Corporation's transfer agent, CIBC Mellon. A Beneficial Shareholder receiving a voting instruction form from Broadridge cannot use the form to vote the shares directly at the Meeting. The voting instruction form must be returned to Broadridge in advance of the Meeting in order to have the shares to which it relates voted.

Methods of Providing Voting Instructions

Registered Shareholders or Beneficial Shareholders are requested to provide voting instructions for the Meeting. Registered Shareholders and Beneficial Shareholders may provide their voting instructions in one of four ways: (i) by returning by mail or delivery the proxy form or the voting instruction form accompanying this Circular; (ii) by returning by fax the proxy form or the voting instruction form accompanying this Circular; (iii) by following the telephone voting procedures referred to in the materials delivered to the Registered Shareholders or the Beneficial Shareholders; or (iv) by using internet voting procedures referred to in the materials delivered to the Registered Shareholders or the Beneficial Shareholders. Shareholders wishing to appoint a person as a proxy other than the management representatives named on the proxy form or the voting instruction form will not be able to do so using telephone voting procedures.

Voting by Mail - Completed, signed and dated proxy forms may be returned in the postage paid envelopes accompanying them or delivered by mail to the Corporation's transfer agent, CIBC Mellon, at P.O. Box 721, Agincourt, Ontario M1S 0A1 or in person to CIBC Mellon at the Banking Hall, 320 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario M5H 4A6. Registered Shareholders and Beneficial Shareholders who mail or deliver their proxies must ensure that their proxies are received by the Corporation's transfer agent by 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on Tuesday, June 5, 2007 (or 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the business day preceding any adjournment of the Meeting date). Beneficial Shareholders who receive voting instruction forms may return them in the postage paid envelopes accompanying them or in accordance with the instructions contained in the voting instruction forms.

Voting by Fax - Completed, signed and dated proxy forms may be returned by fax to the Corporation's transfer agent at 416-368-2502. Registered Shareholders and Beneficial Shareholders who fax their proxies must ensure that their proxies are received by the Corporation's transfer agent by 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on Tuesday, June 5, 2007 (or 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the business day preceding any adjournment of the Meeting date). Beneficial Shareholders who receive voting instruction forms may return them by fax in accordance with the instructions contained in the voting instruction forms.

Voting by Telephone - Registered Shareholders may vote by telephone using a touch-tone telephone and using the following toll-free number: 1-866-271-1207. Registered Shareholders may vote by telephone up to 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on Tuesday, June 5, 2007 (or 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the business day preceding any adjournment of the Meeting date). Beneficial Shareholders should follow instructions for telephone voting conveyed to them by their Intermediaries or their service companies such as Broadridge. Shareholders will be asked to provide a 12- or 13-digit Control Number in order to verify their identity (see "Control Numbers" below for more details). Voting instructions are then conveyed by use of touch-tone selections over the telephone.

Voting by Internet - Registered Shareholders may vote by internet by accessing the following website: www.eproxyvoting.com/stelco. Registered Shareholders may vote by internet up to 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on Tuesday, June 5, 2007 (or 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the business day preceding any adjournment of the Meeting date). Beneficial Shareholders should follow instructions for internet voting conveyed to them by their Intermediaries or their service companies such as Broadridge. Shareholders will be asked to provide a 12- or 13-digit Control Number in order to verify their identity (see "Control Numbers" below for more details). Voting instructions are then conveyed electronically over the internet.

Control Numbers - In order to vote by telephone or the internet, Shareholders will be required to enter a 12- or 13-digit Control Number. Registered Shareholders who have received a form of proxy will find a 13-digit Control Number printed below their pre-printed name and address on their proxy. Beneficial Shareholders will find written instructions from their Intermediaries or service companies on their form of proxy or voting instruction form which contain a 12-digit Control Number.

Appointment of Proxies

Shareholders will find a form of proxy accompanying this Circular. The persons named in the enclosed form of proxy are officers of the Corporation. A Shareholder has a right to appoint a person, who need not be a Shareholder of the Corporation, other than the management representative designated in the accompanying proxy, to attend and act on behalf of the Shareholder at the Meeting. To exercise this right, a Shareholder may either strike out the names of the persons designated in the proxy and insert such other person's name in the blank space provided or complete another appropriate form of proxy, and deliver the completed proxy as set out in the Notice of Meeting.

Revocation of Proxies

Unless otherwise specified in such forms, proxy forms and voting instruction forms which are undated are deemed to bear the date upon which they were sent to the Shareholder.

Proxies given by Shareholders may be revoked pursuant to subsection 148(4) of the Canada Business Corporations Act, the corporate law under which the Corporation is organized, at any time prior to their use, by an instrument in writing executed by the Shareholder who has executed the proxy or proxies or by his or her attorney authorized in writing, as well as in any other manner permitted by law. If the instrument of revocation is deposited with the Chair on the date of the Meeting or any adjournment thereof, the instrument will not be effective with respect to any matter on which a vote may have already been cast pursuant to the proxy. Voting instructions conveyed by mail or by fax by a later-dated instrument in writing or by telephone or the internet will revoke prior voting instructions. A Beneficial Shareholder who wishes to revoke previously given voting instructions must contact his or her Intermediary or related service company to determine whether arrangements may be made to revoke the previously conveyed voting instructions.

Voting of Proxies in Favour of Management

Shares represented by properly executed proxies in favour of the management representatives named therein will be voted or withheld from voting in accordance with the instructions on the form of proxy on any ballot that may be called for. If no voting instructions are given, proxies will be voted (i) "FOR" the election of the directors, (ii) "FOR" the appointment of auditors, and (iii) "FOR" the resolution approving certain amendments to the Corporation's incentive stock option plan.

Discretionary Authority and Related Matters

The enclosed form of proxy confers discretionary authority upon the persons named in the proxy with respect to voting on amendments to, or variations of, matters identified in the Notice of Meeting and on other matters that may properly come before the Meeting or any adjournment thereof. At the time of the printing of this Circular, the Corporation knows of no such amendment, variation, or other matter expected to come before the Meeting. If any other matter should properly come before the Meeting, the management representatives named in the enclosed form of proxy will vote on them in accordance with their best judgment.

Common Shares Outstanding and Principal Holders Thereof

As at May 7, 2007, 27,124,181 common shares of the Corporation ("Common Shares") were outstanding. Each Common Share entitles the holder thereof to one vote at all meetings of the shareholders of the Corporation.

The articles of the Corporation provide that directors of the Corporation are to be elected by cumulative voting, in the manner described below under "Business of the Meeting – Election of Directors".

To the knowledge of the directors and executive officers of the Corporation, the only persons or companies that beneficially own, directly or indirectly, or control or direct, Common Shares carrying 10 per cent or more of the voting rights attaching to the Common Shares, are as follows:

Shareholder	Number of Common Shares Held (includes direct or indirect ownership or control)	Percentage of Common Shares Outstanding
Tricap Management Limited	9,928,243[1]	36.6%
Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership	5,030,781	18.5%
Appaloosa Management L.P.	5,002,849[2]	18.4%

(1) Of the 9,928,243 Common Shares controlled by Tricap Management Limited ("Tricap Management"), (i) 6,174,014 Common Shares are beneficially owned by Brookfield Asset Management Inc. ("Brookfield"), but are under the control and direction of Tricap Management, and 11,931 Common Shares are beneficially owned by Mr. John Lacey, but are under the control and direction of Tricap Management. Brookfield is a public company the shares of which are listed on the Toronto and New York Stock Exchanges. Messrs. Steve Douglas, John Lacey, Cyrus Madon and Derek Pannell, directors of the Corporation, are directors and/or officers of Brookfield and/or certain of its affiliates and related entities.

(2) The Common Shares are held by Appaloosa Management L.P. through two of its funds, Appaloosa Investment L.P. I and Palomino Fund Ltd.

In connection with the proceedings involving the Corporation under the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act (the "CCAA"), which proceedings concluded on March 31, 2006, the Corporation entered into a plan sponsor agreement dated December 9, 2005, as amended (the "Plan Sponsor Agreement"), with Tricap Management, Sunrise Partners Limited Partnership ("Sunrise") and Appaloosa Management L.P. ("Appaloosa" and, together with Tricap Management and Sunrise, the "Plan Sponsors"). The Plan Sponsor Agreement provided, among other things, that at the effective time of the Corporation's emergence under the CCAA, four of the directors of the Corporation would be those identified by Tricap Management, one of the directors of the Corporation would be an individual identified by Sunrise and one of the directors of the Corporation would be an individual identified by Appaloosa, with the remaining directors of the Corporation being mutually satisfactory to the Plan Sponsors. Currently, the foregoing director nominees are Messrs. Douglas, Lacey, Madon and Pannell, in the case of Tricap Management, Mr. Bennett, in the case of Sunrise, and Mr. Cohn, in the case of Appaloosa. See "Interest of Management and Others in Material Transactions" below. For additional information regarding the CCAA proceedings involving the Corporation, please refer to a copy of the annual information form dated March 30, 2007 of the Corporation, a copy of which can be can be viewed on the Canadian security administrator's System of Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval ("SEDAR") database at www.sedar.com.

SECURITIES AUTHORIZED FOR ISSUE UNDER EQUITY COMPENSATION PLANS

The Corporation has an incentive stock option plan (the "Option Plan"), a copy of which has been filed publicly and can be viewed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. The purpose of the Option Plan is principally to enable the Corporation to attract and retain superior directors, officers and employees, to provide an incentive for such persons to put forth maximum effort for the continued success and growth of the Corporation, and in combination with these goals, to encourage their equity participation in the Corporation. The maximum aggregate number of Common Shares that may be issued upon the exercise of options granted under the Option Plan ("Options") is 2,610,000 Common Shares, subject to adjustment as provided in the Option Plan.

The total number of Common Shares that may be reserved for issue to any one person pursuant to Options cannot exceed 5% of the number of outstanding Common Shares. In addition, the Option Plan also contains the following limits with respect to Insiders, as defined in the Option Plan: (i) the number of Common Shares that may be issued to Insiders pursuant to Options and all other share compensation arrangements of the Corporation in the aggregate must not exceed 10% of the number of outstanding Common Shares; and (ii) the number of Common Shares that may be issued to Insiders under the Option Plan and all other share compensation arrangements of the Corporation within a one-year period in the aggregate must not exceed 10% of the number of Common Shares outstanding.

The Option Plan provides that the price at which a Common Share may be purchased under an Option is determined by the board of directors of the Corporation at the time of grant and may not be less than the Market Value per Common Share at the date of grant, calculated as (i) where the Common Share is not listed on a stock exchange, the fair market value of the Common Share on that day determined by the board of directors of the Corporation in good faith, and (ii) where the Common Share is listed on a stock exchange, the closing board lot sale price per share of Common Shares on the stock exchange on the trading day immediately preceding the date of grant and, if there was not a board lot sale on the stock exchange on such date, then the last board lot sale prior thereto.

The period during which any Option may be exercised is determined by the board of directors of the Corporation at the time of the grant of the Option and cannot be later than 10 years from the date of grant of such Option. The board of directors of the Corporation may determine that an Option will be vested and exercisable in instalments and may accelerate the date upon which an instalment of an Option becomes vested and exercisable.

The Option Plan provides that, except as otherwise determined by the Board, if a participant's employment or directorship ceases for any reason other than the participant's death, disability or retirement, both unvested and vested Options held by the participant will expire as of the date of termination. If a participant retires, unvested Options will expire, and vested Options will be exercisable until the expiry date of the Option. If a participant dies or becomes disabled, unvested Options will expire, and vested Options will be exercisable until the earlier of the expiry date of the Option and 180 days after the participant's death or disability.

The following table sets out, as at December 31, 2006, the number of securities issuable upon the exercise of outstanding Options, the weighted average exercise price of such outstanding Options and the number of securities remaining available for future issue under the Option Plan. Other than the Option Plan, the Corporation does not have any compensation plans under which equity securities of the Corporation ore authorized for issue.

Plan Category	Number of securities issuable upon exercise of outstanding options, warrants and rights	Weighted-average exercised price of outstanding options, warrants and rights	Number of securities remaining available for future issue under equity compensation plans

INTERESTS OF MANAGEMENT AND OTHERS IN MATERIAL TRANSACTIONS

The only material interests, direct or indirect, of any director or executive officer of the Corporation, any person or company that beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, or who exercises control or direction over more than 10 per cent of the Common Shares or any director or executive officer of any such person or company, any proposed director of the Corporation or any associate or affiliate of any of the foregoing persons or companies, in any transaction since the commencement of the Corporation's most recently completed financial year or in any proposed transaction which have materially affected or are expected to materially affect the Corporation are as follows:

(i) Pursuant to the Plan Sponsor Agreement, on March 31, 2006, Tricap Management, Sunrise and Appaloosa purchased 9,818,000 Common Shares, 4,959,000 Common Shares and 4,959,000 Common Shares, respectively, at a price of $5.50 per Common Share. The proceeds from the purchase of the foregoing Common Shares were used by the Corporation as part of the payment to "Affected Creditors" under the Third Amended and Restated Plan of Arrangement of the Corporation, Stelwire Ltd., Stelpipe Ltd., Welland Pipe Ltd. and CHT Steel Company Inc. (as amended, the "CCAA Plan"). A copy of the Plan Sponsor Agreement has been filed publicly and can be viewed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. Tricap Management, Sunrise and Appaloosa also received Common Shares and warrants, as well as secured floating rate notes ("FRN's"), as creditors of the Corporation under the CCAA Plan. According to publicly filed documents, (i) at May 2, 2007 Tricap Management beneficially owned or exercised control or direction over 9,928,243 Common Shares and Warrants to purchase 128,774 Common Shares (ii) at April 4, 2006 Sunrise beneficially owned or exercised control or direction over 5,030,781 Common Shares and Warrants to purchase 92,565 Common Shares, and (iii) at April 4, 2006, Appaloosa beneficially owned or exercised control or direction over 5,002,849 Common Shares and Warrants to purchase 56,548 Common Shares. The addresses of Tricap Management, Sunrise and Appaloosa are Suite 300, 181 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2T3, Two American Lane, Greenwich, Connecticut, U.S.A. 06836-2571 and 26 Main Street, Chatham, New Jersey, U.S.A. 07928, respectively.

(ii) The Plan Sponsor Agreement also provided that, at the effective time of the Corporation's emergence under the CCAA, four of the directors of the Corporation would be those identified by Tricap Management, one of the directors of the Corporation would be an individual identified by Sunrise and one of the directors of the Corporation would be an individual identified by Appaloosa, with the remaining directors of the Corporation being mutually satisfactory to the Plan Sponsors. Currently, the foregoing director nominees are Messrs. Douglas, Lacey, Madon and Pannell, in the case of Tricap Management, Mr. Bennett, in the case of Sunrise, and Mr. Cohn, in the case of Appaloosa.

(iii) On March 31, 2006, the Corporation entered into a credit agreement (the "Term Credit Agreement") with 1685970 Ontario Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Tricap Management. Pursuant to the Term Credit Agreement, the Corporation was provided with a revolving term credit facility of up to $375 million (the "Term Loan"). A copy of the Term Credit Agreement has been filed publicly and can be viewed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. As at December 31, 2006 there was $215 million outstanding under the Term Loan. The interest on borrowings is calculated in accordance with the provisions of the Term Credit Agreement, yielding approximately 11 per cent as at December 31, 2006. The Term Credit Agreement also requires the payment of certain fees to 1685970 Ontario Inc., including an annual fee equal to three per cent of the original amount of the commitment under the Term Loan.

The Corporation has entered into a commitment letter with GE Corporate Lending Canada relating to a proposed refinancing of the Term Loan. The proposed refinancing would replace the Term Loan with a fully drawn facility in a US dollar amount equivalent to $275 million having a term of six years. The new facility would have a lower interest rate and lower fees compared to the Term Loan. The completion of the refinancing is subject to a number of conditions which must be satisfied no later than May 11, 2007. In relation to this refinancing, Stelco has entered into an agreement with 1685970 Ontario Inc. to defer payment of the annual fee otherwise payable pursuant to the Term Credit Agreement on March 31, 2007 until May 11, 2007. Under the agreement, if the existing revolving term credit facility is repaid by May 11, 2007, the deferred fee will be waived.

In addition to the foregoing, on April 2, 2006, Mr. Rodney Mott, the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation, purchased 1,000,000 Common Shares for cash consideration of $5.5 million. Mr. Mott was also granted options to purchase a further 1,044,000 Common Shares at a price of $5.50 per Common Share for a term of 10 years.

BUSINESS OF THE MEETING

Financial Statements

The Corporation's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006, and the report of the auditors thereon, will be placed before the Shareholders at the Meeting. These consolidated financial statements form part of the Corporation's 2006 annual report, a copy of which can be viewed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

Election of Directors

The number of directors to be elected at the Meeting is ten. Directors of the Corporation are elected annually and, unless re-elected, retire from office at the end of the next annual meeting of shareholders.

The articles of the Corporation provide that directors of the Corporation are to be elected by cumulative voting, with each holder of Common Shares (i) having the right to cast a number of votes equal to the number of votes attached to the Common Shares held by such holder multiplied by the number of directors to be elected and (ii) being entitled to cast all such votes in favour of a single candidate for election as a director or to distribute such votes among the candidates for election as directors in any manner such holder thinks fit. The articles of the Corporation further provide that if a holder of Common Shares has voted for more than one candidate without specifying the distribution of its votes among the candidates, the holder will be deemed to have distributed its votes equally among the candidates for whom it voted.

If a Shareholder withholds his or her vote from one or more candidates, but does not vote for any other candidates, the votes will be distributed equally among the other candidates for whom the Shareholder does not withhold his or her vote. Unless the Shareholder specifies that the proxy be withheld from voting on the election of all or any of the directors, and, if applicable, specifies how he or she wishes to distribute the votes among the candidates, the persons named in the enclosed form of proxy intend to vote for the election as directors of the Corporation the nominees whose names are set forth below, and to distribute the votes equally among such nominees. Management does not contemplate that any of the nominees will be unable to serve as a director, but if that should occur for any reason prior to the Meeting, the persons named in the enclosed form of proxy reserve the right to vote for another nominee in their discretion.

The following table sets forth, for each nominee for election as a director of the Corporation, the individual's name, province or state and country of residence, principal occupation during the five preceding years, the period during which the individual has served as a director of the Corporation and the number of Common Shares beneficially owned, directly or indirectly, or over which control or direction is exercised by the individual. The information as to Common Shares beneficially owned, directly or indirectly, or over which control or direction is exercised, not being within the knowledge of the Corporation, has been furnished by the respective nominees individually. All nominees for election as directors of the Corporation are currently directors of the Corporation.

Cease Trade Orders and Bankruptcies

To the knowledge of the Corporation, in the last 10 years, none of the proposed directors is or has been a director or executive officer of any company that, while that person was acting in that capacity, (a) was the subject of a cease trade order or similar order, or an order that denied the company access to any exemptions under securities legislation, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days, (b) was the subject of an event that resulted, after that person ceased to be a director or executive officer, in the company being the subject of a cease trade order or similar order or an order that denied the company access to an exemption under securities legislation, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days or (c) or within a year of that person ceasing to act in that capacity, became bankrupt, made a proposal under any legislation relating to bankruptcy or insolvency or was subject to or instituted any proceedings, arrangement or compromise with creditors or had a receiver, receiver manager or trustee appointed to hold its assets except for the following:

(i) Mr. Dennis Belcher was retained to act as director and Chairman of the Independent Committee of Slater Steel Inc., which filed for protection under the CCAA on June 2, 2003. Mr. Belcher was also a director of Consumers Packaging Inc. at the time it filed for protection under the CCAA on May 23, 2001. On January 20, 2003, various provincial securities commissions issued orders ceasing the trading of Consumers Packaging Inc.'s shares as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. The cease trade orders remain in effect. In addition, Mr. Belcher was a director of White Rose Crafts and Nursery Sales Ltd. immediately prior to its voluntary assignment into bankruptcy under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (the "BIA") on June 20, 2002. Mr. Belcher was a director of Richtree Inc. which was subject to a cease trade order in 2003 as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. On February 26, 2004, the cease trade order was lifted. This company filed for protection under the CCAA on October 18, 2004. The proceedings were converted to proposal proceedings under the BIA and restructuring proceedings were successfully completed on January 23, 2006. Finally, Mr. Belcher was a director of Foamex International Inc. which filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware in September 2005.

(ii) Mr. Steven Cohn was Chief Financial Officer of Physician Computer Network, Inc. ("PCN") at the time that it voluntarily filed a petition under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the US in December 1999. In March 2000, PCN's assets were acquired in accordance with a plan of reorganization filed by PCN in the Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings. Mr. Cohn was also Chief Restructuring Officer and Interim Chief Financial Officer of Kasper A.S.L., Ltd. at the time that it filed Chapter 11 protection in February 2002 with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in the Southern District of New York. Finally, Mr. Cohn was Chief Restructuring Officer of Donnkenny Apparel, Inc. at the time that it filed Chapter 11 protection in February 2005 with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in the Southern District of New York.

(iii) Mr. John Lacey was asked by a group of shareholders to lead a restructuring of The Loewen Group Inc. and was acting as Chairman of the Board of The Loewen Group Inc. when it filed a petition for creditor protection under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code and the CCAA in June 1999. In 2002, various provincial securities commissions issued orders ceasing the trading of The Loewen Group Inc.'s shares as a result of a failure to file financial statements within the prescribed filing periods. The cease trade orders remain in effect. In January 2002, Loewen successfully emerged from Chapter 11 and CCAA proceedings as The Alderwoods Group Inc. where Mr. Lacey remains as Chairman of the Board.

(iv) Mr. Courtney Pratt was President and Chief Executive Officer and director of the Corporation on January 29, 2004, when the Corporation and certain related entities filed for protection under the CCAA and obtained an order (the "Initial Order") from the Ontario Superior Court of Justice granting it creditor protection. On the same date, the Corporation made a concurrent petition for recognition of the Initial Order and ancillary relief under Section 304 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. At the last moment in time on March 31, 2006, the Corporation implemented the CCAA Plan and emerged from CCAA protection.

Appointment of Auditors

The auditors of the Corporation are KPMG LLP, Chartered Accountants. It is proposed that KPMG LLP be appointed as auditors of the Corporation for the ensuing financial year of the Corporation. For information regarding fees paid to KPMG LLP, please refer to the section entitled "Audit Committee – External Auditor Service Fees" contained in the annual information form dated March 30, 2007 of the Corporation, a copy of which has been filed publicly and can be viewed on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

Amendments to the Option Plan

The board of directors of the Corporation has approved certain amendments to the Option Plan relating to (i) the expiry of Options where such expiry occurs during a Black-Out Period (as defined below), and (ii) procedures for amending the Option Plan (together the "Proposed Amendments"). Pursuant to the rules of the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX"), the Proposed Amendments are required to be approved by the shareholders of the Corporation. The form of the Proposed Amendments has been conditionally approved by the TSX, subject to the approval of the Proposed Amendments by the Shareholders at the Meeting.

The following is a summary of the Proposed Amendments:

(i) The Corporation has imposed a policy pursuant to which insiders of the Corporation and restricted employees are required to limit their trading activity to trading windows fixed from time to time by the Corporation's Disclosure Committee. These trading windows generally are open for the 30 calendar days following the second business day after issue of quarterly or annual financial information. The periods of time outside of such trading windows are referred to as "Black-Out Periods". Given that Black-Out Periods generally apply throughout the year, subject only to the foregoing trading windows, such Black-Out Periods may operate to prevent the exercise of vested before the expiry date of such Options. Accordingly, it is proposed that the Option Plan be amended to provide that, in the event that the expiry date of any vested Option falls on, or within ten trading days immediately following, a Black-Out Period or other trading restriction imposed by the Corporation, the expiry date of such a vested Option will be the tenth trading day immediately following the Black-Out Period.

(ii) The amending provisions set out in the Option Plan provide that the board of directors of the Corporation is able to amend, suspend or terminate the Option Plan, and to the extent any such amendment, suspension or termination adversely affects any Options previously granted under the Option Plan to a participant, the consent of that participant is required. It was implicit under the Option Plan that the board of directors of the Corporation could effect these amendments without shareholder approval. However, the TSX now requires that the Option Plan explicitly provide that shareholder approval is not required to implement any amendments, save and except for amendments related to (i) the maximum number of Common Shares reserved for issuance under the Option Plan (and under any other share compensation arrangements of the Corporation); (ii) a reduction in the exercise price for Options held by insiders; (iii) an extension to the term of Options held by insiders; and (iv) an increase in the 10% limits on grants to insiders set out in the Option Plan. In other words, other than these four prescribed items, any other amendment to the Option Plan can be made by the board of directors of the Corporation without shareholder approval. Such amendments may for example include, without limitation, amendments related to (a) the vesting provisions of the Option Plan or any Option granted under the Option Plan, (b) the early termination provisions of the Option Plan or any Option granted under the Option Plan, (c) the addition of any form of financial assistance by the Corporation for the acquisition by all or certain categories of participants, and the subsequent amendment of any such provision which is more favourable to such participants, (d) the addition or modification of a cashless exercise feature, payable in cash or Shares, which provides for a full deduction of the number of underlying Shares from the Option Plan reserve, (e) the suspension or termination of the Option Plan, or (f) any other amendment, whether fundamental or otherwise, not requiring shareholder approval under applicable law (including, without limitation, the rules, regulations and policies of the TSX). It is proposed that the Option Plan be amended to comply with the foregoing TSX requirement.

At the Meeting, Shareholders will be asked to consider and, if deemed advisable, to pass a resolution in the form set out in Exhibit A to this Circular (the "Option Plan Resolution"). To be adopted, the Option Plan Resolution must be passed by a simple majority of the votes cast thereon by Shareholders at the Meeting. If the Option Plan Resolution is not passed by the requisite majority, the Proposed Amendments will not be adopted.

In accordance with the Section 613 of the Toronto Stock Exchange Company Manual, insiders of the Corporation are entitled to vote on the Option Plan Resolution.

Proxies received in favour of management will be voted for the approval of the Option Plan Resolution unless a Shareholder has specified in the proxy that the Shareholder's Common Shares are to be voted against such resolution.

Retirement Benefit Plans

As at December 31, 2006, each of William Vaughan and Thomas Witter (but none of the other Named Executives) was a member of a retirement plan for salaried employees. The annual basic lifetime benefit payable under the applicable pension plan, together with amounts payable under the retirement benefits contracts hereinafter described, is shown on the table below based upon retirement at age 65. Retirement benefits are calculated using the average of the highest five years' remuneration.

The Corporation operates defined benefit retirement plans for its salaried workforces. The plans were closed to employees who joined the Corporation after August 1, 1997.

The benefit formula is the sum of 1.00% of earnings up to the Canada Pension Plan Yearly Maximum Pensionable Earnings multiplied by the Available Service plus 1.85% of earnings in excess of the Canada Pension Plan Yearly Maximum Pensionable Earnings multiplied by the Available Service. If a member of a retirement plan for salaried employees retires prior to age 65, there is a pension bridge which replaces benefits under the Canada Pension Plan up to age 65. Pension and related benefits are calculated based on salary and bonus.

The credited service for William Vaughan and Thomas Witter as of December 31, 2006 was 38.7 years and 28.5 years, respectively.

Termination of Employment, Change in Responsibilities and Employment Contracts

The Corporation has entered into letters of appointment with the Named Executives who are currently executive officers of the Corporation confirming the terms of their employment and, among other things, confirming their entitlement to a fixed salary and related benefits, to be adjusted annually by the Corporation based on performance and other factors. The letters of appointment also provide that the Named Executives are participants in the executive bonus plan and the executive severance plan of the Corporation, each of which is described below.

Executive Bonus Plan

The Corporation has adopted an executive bonus plan (the "Bonus Plan") in which each of the Named Executives as well as certain other executive officers of the Corporation who are currently officers of the Corporation (collectively "applicable executives") participate. Pursuant to the Bonus Plan, in respect of the financial year ended December 31, 2006, applicable executives who were serving as executive officers of the Corporation at year-end were paid a cash bonus equal to 35 per cent of their annual salary for 2006 calculated on a pro rata basis based on the period in 2006 during which they were employed by the Corporation. In respect of the financial year ended December 31, 2007, the Bonus Plan provides that applicable executives are entitled to receive a cash bonus calculated on the basis of one per cent of the particular applicable executive's annual salary for 2007 for each $2 million of EBITDA of the Corporation in excess of $200 million of EBITDA, up to a maximum of 100 per cent of the applicable executive's annual salary, provided, in the case of applicable executives who commenced employment with the Corporation in April 2006, the cash bonus is calculated on the basis of one per cent of the particular applicable executive's annual salary for 2007 for each $1 million of EBITDA of the Corporation in excess of $200 million of EBITDA, up to a maximum of 200 per cent of the applicable executive's annual salary. "EBITDA" means operating earnings before interest, income taxes, amortization and other non-operating income and expenses. EBITDA, which is a "non-GAAP" financial measure, is reported by the Corporation in its interim and annual management discussion and analysis.

Executive Severance Plan

The Corporation has adopted an executive severance plan (the "Severance Plan") in which each of the Named Executives as well as certain other executive officers of the Corporation who are currently officers of the Corporation (collectively "applicable executives") participate. Pursuant to the Severance Plan, in the case of a "qualifying termination" of an applicable executive, the applicable executive is entitled to a lump sum severance payment equal to (i) where the applicable executive has less than one year of service, one year's current base salary of the applicable executive plus any bonus earned by the applicable executive, (ii) where the applicable executive has between one year but less than three years of service, one and one-half times the aggregate of the current base salary of the applicable executive and the average annual bonus earned by the applicable executive preceding termination, and (iii) where the applicable executive has three years or more of service, two times the aggregate of the current base salary of the applicable executive and the average bonus earned by the applicable executive in the three years immediately preceding termination, together, in each case, with a payment for any accrued and unused vacation. If a qualifying termination occurs within 12 months of an Acquisition of Control transaction (as defined in the Severance Plan), the applicable executive is also entitled to an additional severance payment equal to the aggregate of six month's current salary of the applicable executive one-half of the average bonus earned by the applicable executive in the current year and the two years immediately preceding termination, with the bonus for the current year being calculated for such purpose on an annualized basis. In the case of a qualifying termination of an applicable executive, the Corporation will continue to provide benefits to the applicable executive for the applicable period corresponding to his or her severance entitlement under the Severance Plan and will make available certain outplacement services. In the case of a "limited qualifying termination" in certain circumstances, the Corporation will continue to pay the applicable executive's salary for a period of six months. For the purpose of the Severance Plan, a "qualifying termination" is an involuntary dismissal without cause or a constructive dismissal of the applicable executive, or an involuntary dismissal without cause or constructive dismissal of the applicable executive within 12 months of an Acquisition of Control transaction and a "limited qualifying termination" means the withdrawal from, or loss of, the applicable executive's employment with the Corporation due to disability or death.

The Severance Plan requires compliance with certain covenants by the applicable executive, including non-competition and non-solicitation covenants applicable during the applicable executive's employment by the Corporation and for a period of 12 months thereafter, as well as confidentiality covenants relating to certain information regarding the Corporation and its business.

Arrangements Relating to Former Named Executives

The Corporation had entered into agreements with Courtney Pratt, William Vaughan and Colin Osborne dealing specifically with termination in the event of a change in control of the Corporation (collectively the "Termination Agreements"). Under the terms of the Termination Agreements, the executive officer was entitled to compensation in the event of termination or constructive termination of employment following a change in legal or effective control of the Corporation unless termination occurred as a result of death, permanent disability, retirement, or termination for cause. The principal component of the compensation payable to such executive was a lump sum amount equal to 2.5 times the executive's annual cash compensation. The compensation payable under these agreements was in lieu of (and not in addition to) all other claims which the executive may have upon termination of his employment.

The Corporation had also entered into a retirement benefits contracts with William Vaughan and Colin Osborne. Under the terms of the contracts, each of Mr. Vaughan and Mr. Osborne undertook that he would not, for a period after his retirement, engage in competitive activities without the consent in writing of the Corporation. Pursuant to his contract, the Corporation paid Mr. Vaughan following his retirement in 2006 the difference between the maximum pension benefit payable under the Corporation's retirement plan for salaried employees and the basic lifetime benefit amount as set out in the table set out above under "Retirement Benefit Plans".

Courtney Pratt left his post of President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation on March 31, 2006. His annual salary at the time was $810,000 and Mr. Pratt received a payment of 2.5 times this amount pursuant to his Termination Agreement.

William Vaughan left his post as Senior Vice President Finance and Chief Financial Officer on May 20, 2006. His annual salary at the time was $315,000. Mr. Vaughan's Termination Agreement provided for a bonus calculation of $100,625 in respect of the fiscal period immediately after his departure and he received a payment of 2.5 times the total of his annual salary and this bonus amount. Mr. Vaughan was also in receipt of a pro-rated bonus calculation in respect of the fiscal period up to his departure in the amount of $45,937. Mr. Vaughan was a member of the defined benefit pension plan of the Corporation and, under the terms of that plan, was eligible to retire May 31, 2006. Under the provisions of his Termination Agreement, Mr. Vaughan had the right to retire at any point during the 2.5 year period after May 31, 2006. He elected to retire effective March 31, 2007 and receives payments under the pension plan referred to above under "Retirement Benefit Plans".

Colin Osborne resigned as Vice President, Strategy and Business Development of the Corporation effective June 30, 2006. Prior to April 7, 2006, Mr. Osborne was Chief Operating Officer and Executive Vice President, Strategy of the Corporation. His annual salary at the time of his departure was $440,000. Mr. Osborne's Termination Agreement provided for a bonus calculation of $140,000 in respect of the fiscal period immediately following June 30, 2006 and he received a payment of 2.5 times the total of his annual salary and this bonus amount. Mr. Osborne was also in receipt of a pro-rated bonus calculation in respect of the fiscal period up to his departure in the amount of $77,000. Mr. Osborne was a member of the defined benefit pension plan of the Corporation but was not eligible to retire at June 30, 2006. In accordance with the retirement income provision of his Termination Agreement, Mr. Osborne received the commuted value of his pension of $424,427 as well as an addition value payment of $822,759. Upon his departure, the options granted to Mr. Osborne pursuant to the Option Plan were cancelled.

Thomas Witter left his post as Director- Marketing of the Corporation on November 13, 2006. Prior to April 1, 2006, Mr. Witter was Chief Commercial Officer of the Corporation. His annual salary at the time of his departure $275,000 and he received a severance payment of two times this amount. Mr. Witter also received a payment of $281,250 in lieu of the options granted to him pursuant to the Option Plan, which were cancelled upon his departure. Mr. Witter was a member of the defined benefit pension plan and elected to retire effective December 31, 2007. He receives payments under the pension plan referred to above under "Retirement Benefit Plans".

Bruce Futterer resigned as Vice President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary of the Corporation effective November 30, 2006. His annual salary at the time of his departure was $225,000 and he received a payment of 1.5 times this amount. Mr. Futterer also received a pro-rated bonus payment for the fiscal period up to November 30, 2006 in the amount of $103,125. He further received a bonus payment for the eighteen month period immediately following November 30, 2006 of $168,750. In addition, Mr. Futterer received a payment of $187,500 in lieu of the options granted to him pursuant to the Option Plan, which were cancelled upon his departure.

Composition and Mandate of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee

Since March 31, 2006, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee has consisted of Mr. Cyrus Madon (Chair), Mr. John Lacey and Mr. Pierre Dupuis. Previously, the Committee consisted of Mr. William P. Cooper, Mr. Richard Drouin, Mr. Douglas W. Mahaffy and The Hon. Barbara J. McDougall.

The Committee is responsible for succession planning, considering and approving incentive programs for senior management, reviewing the compensation arrangements for the Chief Executive Officer, setting annual objectives for the Chief Executive Officer, reviewing management development programs for the Corporation and approving employment arrangements for executive officers. The Committee also reviews material regulatory disclosure with respect to executive compensation and related matters.

Report on Executive Compensation

Mr. Courtney Pratt was appointed President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation effective January 1, 2004. On March 31, 2006, Mr. Pratt left this post and was replaced by Mr. Rodney Mott.

In compensating Mr. Pratt, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee agreed on certain basic salary terms at the time of his hiring and agreed to bonus terms which were consistent with the wishes of the Corporation's former directors that the Corporation emerge from CCAA protection in as short a time as possible. The bonus terms required specified financial performance within certain time limits following exit from court protection under the CCAA. Those criteria were not able to be satisfied due to the date of exit from CCAA protection. No increases in basic salary were awarded to Mr. Pratt during his tenure as President and Chief Executive Officer as a result of a consultative process with him further to which Mr. Pratt and the Human Resources and Compensation Committee concluded any salary increases would not be made. Compensation arrangements agreed to with Mr. Pratt reflected the unusual circumstances at the time of his hiring.

In identifying a replacement for Mr. Pratt, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee, then led by Mr. Cooper, transitioned the decision making to the new members of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee and the board of directors of the Corporation who confirmed Mr. Mott's employment terms and arrangements on assuming responsibilities on April 1, 2006.

In connection with the performance of the President and Chief Executive Officer, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee undertakes an annual review of performance taking into account objectives agreed between the Human Resources and Compensation Committee and the Chief Executive Officer annually. The Human Resources and Compensation Committee considers views of the board of directors of the Corporation in this review process. Mr. Mott's goals and objectives for 2006 included:

(a) the development and execution of a turnaround plan to reduce costs, enhance the Hamilton and Lake Erie operations and assess and modify, as appropriate, the capital expenditure plan;

(b) the recruitment of a new senior management team; and

(c) the achievement a minimum stated amount of annual Free Cash Flow (defined as EBITDA from operations (adjusted so that pension expense will be deemed to equal cash funding of pension payments), less interest expense, less capital expenditures and other capitalized items).

In compensating Mr. Mott, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee agreed upon a base annual salary of $500,000 for 2006, to be reviewed annually in future years, and bonus terms originally based upon the amount of Free Cash Flow achieved by the Corporation. The bonus terms for Mr. Mott, as well as for the other executive officers who participate in the Bonus Plan, were subsequently revised by the Human Resources and Compensation Committee to be based upon the Corporation's EBITDA. This revision was considered appropriate as it aligns bonus payments to EBITDA, a financial measure publicly reported by the Corporation. Bonuses for Mr. Mott are payable pursuant to the Bonus Plan. In accordance with the Bonus Plan, Mr. Mott was paid a cash bonus equal to 35 per cent of his annual salary for 2006 calculated on a pro rata basis based on the period in 2006 during which he was employed by the Corporation. Bonus payments in respect of future years are payable based upon the Corporation's achievement of EBITDA in excess of a base amount. See "Termination of Employment, Change in Responsibilities and Employment Contracts – Executive Bonus Plan".

The Corporation previously had share ownership guidelines for executive officers requiring them to purchase shares of the Corporation at specified levels within prescribed time limits. These ownership guidelines were suspended during the pendency of the CCAA proceedings by the former board of directors of the Corporation. Any shares held by executive officers upon the implementation of the CCAA Plan were effectively cancelled pursuant to the terms of the CCAA Plan. No decision has been taken on executive ownership of Common Shares at this time. Mr. Mott purchased one million Common Shares on April 1, 2006.

During the CCAA process, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee recommended to the board of directors of the Corporation, and the board of directors accepted the recommendation of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee, to suspend awards of options under the Corporation's former 1991 Option Plan. The 1991 Option Plan and all options unused pursuant to the 1991 Option Plan terminated on implementation of the CCAA Plan. Mr. Pratt received an award of one million options on his appointment as President and Chief Executive Officer, which options terminated unexercised on implementation of the CCAA Plan. Upon implementation of the CCAA Plan, Mr. Mott was granted Options to purchase 1,044,000 Common Shares pursuant to the Corporation's new Option Plan.

Consistent with the goal of achieving a successful turnaround of the Corporation, the approach of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee in determining compensation of executive officers has been to emphasize compensation which is aligned with corporate performance, both through the Bonus Plan, pursuant to which cash bonuses are payable to senior officers upon the Corporation's achievement of EBITDA in excess of a base amount, and Options granted pursuant to the Option Plan. See "Termination of Employment, Change in Responsibilities and Employment Contracts – Executive Bonus Plan". Currently, Options granted to executive officers (including Mr. Mott) to purchase an aggregate of 1,925,250 Common Shares are outstanding under the Option Plan, and Options to purchase a further 666,000 Common Shares are available for grant under the Option Plan.

In determining base salaries of executive officers, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee reviews industry compensation data to ensure that the Corporation offers competitive base salary levels. With respect to other key terms of employment, the approach of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee has been to adopt standardized terms applicable to the Chief Executive Officer and all other executive officers of the Corporation. This has been achieved through the adoption of the Bonus Plan and the Severance Plan, the terms of which apply to all Named Executives and certain other executive officers of the Corporation. See "Termination of Employment, Change in Responsibilities and Employment Contracts – Executive Bonus Plan" and " – Executive Severance Plan".

Compensation of Directors

Since March 31, 2006, the board of directors of the Corporation has adopted a compensation scheme pursuant to which directors of the Corporation, other than the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation, receive a fixed annual fee of $75,000. The Chair of the Corporation's board of directors receives a fixed annual fee of $150,000 and the Chair of the Audit Committee receives a fixed annual fee of $85,000.

The compensation received during 2006 by each director of the Corporation is set out below:

DIRECTORS' AND OFFICERS' LIABILITY INSURANCE

The Corporation provides liability insurance for its directors and officers. The current policy has been in place since April 1, 2007 and has policy limits of $130 million. The annual premium for the policy is $1,580,350 and is paid by the Corporation. The insurance carries a deductible of $1,000,000 per securities claim and $500,000 per any other claim in the case of claims for which indemnification is provided by the Corporation. During 2006, the Corporation purchased a "run off" liability insurance for its former directors and officers prior to the Corporation's emergence from CCAA proceedings. The run off policy, which is in effect until to March 31, 2012, has a limit of $120 million and carries a deductible of $1,000,000 per securities claim and $500,000 per any other claim in the case of claims for which indemnification is provided by the Corporation. The cost of the run off policy was $6,684,000.

STATEMENT OF CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRACTICES

Board Mandate

The board of directors of the Corporation (the "Board") retains plenary powers for functions not delegated to management. The Board, through its Corporate Governance Committee, annually reviews those matters that are considered to require specific Board or Committee approval. In general terms, the Board reviews and approves all significant matters in the nature of acquisitions, divestitures, capital expenditures as well as the Corporation's short-term and long-term business plans. The Board operates and functions pursuant to a Board charter. Key responsibilities include overseeing strategic planning, assessing the primary risks of the Corporation, selecting, monitoring and coaching for the Chief Executive Officer and monitoring the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control systems. The Board charter is attached as Exhibit B.

Board Composition and Independence

The Board is composed of 10 directors.

In assessing whether a director is "independent", the Board takes into account the independence provisions of Multilateral Instrument 52-110, Audit Committees. Based on its assessments, the Board has determined that 8 of the 10 directors of the Corporation are independent. The independent directors are Messrs. Dennis Belcher, Laurie Bennett, Steven Cohn, Steve Douglas, Pierre Dupuis, John Lacey, Cyrus Madon and Derek G. Pannell. Mr. Courtney Pratt, the former President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation, and Mr. Mott, the current President and Chief Executive Officer are the only directors who are not independent within the meaning of Multilateral Instrument 52-110 by virtue of their employment as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation within the last three years.

The following table sets out information regarding directors of the Corporation who are currently directors of other reporting issuers (or the equivalent).

Committees of the Board

The Board discharges its responsibilities directly, on the advice and recommendations of its Committees. The Board has established five standing Committees and delegates certain of its responsibilities to each of the Committees. In this regard, each Committee is mandated to report to the Board and to carry out certain responsibilities. The Board approved charters that govern the Board and each Committee of the Board.

The five standing Committees of the Board are: the Audit Committee, the Corporate Governance Committee, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee, the Pension Committee and the Health, Safety & Environment Committee. A brief summary of each Committee's mandate follows.

Audit Committee

The principal functions of the Audit Committee, as set out in its written charter, are to monitor audit functions and the preparation of financial statements; review management's actions in relation to the preparation of financial statements and the maintenance of internal controls and the integrity of management information systems; review the Corporation's financial reporting in connection with the annual audit and the preparation of financial statements; discuss with management the Corporation's internal controls, including policies and procedures for risk management; review audit plans of the internal and external auditors; recommend external auditors and their fees; and meet with the internal and external auditors independently of management.

Since March 31, 2006, the chair of the Audit Committee has been Mr. Laurie Bennett and the other members have been Mr. Dennis Belcher and Mr. Steven Cohn. All of the members of the Committee are independent. Previously, the Audit Committee consisted of Mr. John Caldwell, Mr. William P. Cooper and Mr. Douglas W. Mahaffy. In 2006, the Audit Committee met five times.

For additional information concerning the Audit Committee, including its charter, see the Annual Information Form of the Corporation dated March 30, 2007. A copy of the Annual Information Form may be found on the Corporation's website at www.stelco.ca or on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

Corporate Governance Committee

The Corporate Governance Committee is responsible for advising the Board of Directors on corporate governance matters and for monitoring the corporate governance systems of the Corporation. The mandate of the Corporate Governance Committee includes reviewing and reporting to the Board from time to time on the size, composition, and profile of the Board and reviewing, at least annually, the relationship between management and the Board. The Corporate Governance Committee oversees the orientation of new members of the Board. The Corporate Governance Committee also reviews and recommends appropriate disclosure to the Board with respect to corporate governance matters including the corporate governance policies described in this Circular.

The Corporate Governance Committee is also responsible for proposing candidates for election to the Board and assessing the effectiveness of the Board as a whole.

Since March 31, 2006, the chair of the Corporate Governance Committee has been Mr. John Lacey and the other members have been Mr. Pierre Dupuis and Mr. Cyrus Madon. All of the members of the Corporate Governance Committee are independent. Previously, the Corporate Governance Committee consisted of Mr. Richard Drouin, Mr. John E. Caldwell and Mr. Douglas W. Mahaffy. In 2006, the Committee met four times.

Human Resources and Compensation Committee

The role of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee includes succession planning, considering and approving incentive programs for senior management, reviewing the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer, setting annual objectives for the Chief Executive Officer, reviewing management development programs for the Corporation, approving employment arrangements for executive officers and reviewing material regulatory disclosure with respect to executive compensation and related matters.

Since March 31, 2006, the chair of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee has been Mr. Cyrus Madon and the other members have been Mr. John Lacey and Mr. Pierre Dupuis. All of the members of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee are independent. Previously, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee consisted of Mr. William P. Cooper, Mr. Richard Drouin, Mr. Douglas W. Mahaffy and The Hon. Barbara J. McDougall. In 2006, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee met five times.

Pension Committee

The role of the Pension Committee includes determining that the necessary policies, practices, systems and personnel are in place with respect to administration of the Corporation's four main retirement plans, approving annual and interim pension reports to the Board of Directors, reviewing and approving key actuarial assumptions and funding policies, and reviewing the financial results of the investment of pension trust funds. The Pension Committee also reviews audited financial statements relating to the pension trust funds and carries out other functions relating to oversight of pension plan administration and pension trust funds performance.

Since March 31, 2006, the chair of the Pension Committee has been Mr. Steve Douglas and the other members have been Mr. Dennis Belcher and Mr. Laurie Bennett. Previously, the Pension Committee consisted of Mr. Gary J. Lukassen, Mr. John E. Caldwell and The Hon. Barbara J. McDougall. All of the members of the Pension Committee are independent. In 2006, the Pension Committee met three times.

Health, Safety and Environment Committee

The Health, Safety and Environment Committee oversees the practices, programs and systems followed by the Corporation with respect to health, safety and environmental matters. The Health, Safety and Environment Committee oversees policies, practices and procedures relating to compliance with legislation regulating occupational health and safety and the environment and reviews and appraises results achieved by such policies, practices and procedures. The Health, Safety and Environment Committee also oversees the ethical, social, political, financial and other issues implicit in the Corporation's policies, practices and procedures with respect to health, safety and the environment.

Since March 31, 2006, the chair of the Health, Safety and Environment Committee has been Mr. Pierre Dupuis and the other members have been Mr. Steve Douglas and, since March 5, 2007, Mr. Derek G. Pannell. Prior to the appointment Mr. Pannell, Mr. Tony Molluso was a member of the Health, Safety and Environment Committee. Previously, the Health, Safety and Environment Committee consisted of Mr. William P. Cooper, Mr. Richard Drouin, The Hon. Barbara J. McDougall and Mr. Douglas W. Mahaffy. All of the members of the Health, Safety and Environment Committee are independent. In 2006, the Health, Safety and Environment Committee met three times.

Position Descriptions

Chair of the Board

The Chair of the Board, Mr. Courtney Pratt, is not an independent director by virtue of his employment as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation within the last three years. He has, as his primary responsibility, the obligation to see that the Board discharges its responsibilities in an independent and effective manner to facilitate the responsibilities of the Board under its mandate. He is also responsible for reviewing the agenda for each meeting of the Board. The Board has developed written position descriptions for the Chair and for the chair of each Board Committee. The responsibilities of each Committee chair are set out in such Committee's written mandate. In order to ensure appropriate participation and leadership by independent directors, the Board regularly conducts portions of its meetings in camera without members of management present to facilitate open and candid discussion among independent directors.

Chief Executive Officer

The objectives of the Chief Executive Officer are determined annually by the Board. These objectives include fostering a corporate culture that promotes ethical practices, integrity, and a positive work climate enabling the Corporation to attract and retain a diverse group of quality employees. The Chief Executive Officer also develops and recommends to the Board annual business plans and budgets that support the Corporation's long-term strategy. Those strategies are developed by the Chief Executive Officer and the senior management team for discussion and approval by the Board. The Board and the Chief Executive Officer have developed a written position description for the Chief Executive Officer.

Orientation and Continuing Education

The Corporation has a Directors' Manual which is a comprehensive reference source for directors. The Manual is periodically updated and is reviewed with each new director. The Corporation's orientation program includes educating directors with respect to the steel industry through meetings with members of the senior management team and through facilities tours. Directors are also provided with written information with respect to their duties and responsibilities and each director meets with the Chief Executive Officer, the Chair of the Board, and the Secretary to be familiarized with significant issues.

The continuing education portion of the program involves periodic presentations on specific topics related to the Corporation and its business and regular visits to plant sites and facilities.

Each director ultimately assumes responsibilities for keeping himself informed about the Corporation's businesses and relevant developments outside the Corporation which affect its businesses. Management assists directors by providing them with regular updates on relevant developments and other information which management considers of interest to the Board.

Ethical Business Conduct

The Corporation has a written code of ethics for directors, officers and employees. The code of ethics is accessible on the Corporation's website at www.stelco.ca. The Audit Committee of the Board oversees the code of ethics in accordance with its charter and receives reports from management on any instances of material non-compliance. The Board ensures that directors exercise independent judgement in considering transactions and agreements in respect of which a director or executive officer has a material interest. It does so by complying with its code of ethics, which provides that directors have an obligation to be entirely free of conflicting interests when they represent the Corporation in business dealings or are making recommendations, which could influence the Corporation's subsequent actions. In addition, the Corporation complies with the Canada Business Corporations Act, which contains provisions with respect to disclosure of conflicts of interest.

Nomination of Directors

The Corporate Governance Committee serves as the nominating Committee and reviews credentials of nominees for re-election and recommends candidates for filling vacancies on the Board. The Corporate Governance Committee may engage the services of a search firm to assist in the identification of qualified candidates for election or appointment to the Board. The Corporation does not have a policy that requires directors to retire by a specific date.

Board and Committee Assessments

The Corporate Governance Committee is charged with an annual review of Board effectiveness from the perspective of the Corporation and its shareholders. The evaluation process includes the collection of information from directors and management which is followed by a thorough discussion of Board effectiveness by the directors. The Chair of the Board provides input to the Chief Executive Officer. The Corporate Governance Committee is required to recommend the appointment of Committee chairs and Committee members to the Board and, through this process, is able to exercise oversight with respect to Committee effectiveness. As part of the process of overseeing issues of effectiveness, the contribution of a director is reviewed in the event of a change of principal occupation or retirement whereupon the Board may reconfirm the continuing role of the director.

SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

Shareholders who wish to submit proposals for consideration at the 2008 annual meeting of shareholders must deliver their proposals to the Corporation, at least 90 days before the anniversary date of the accompanying Notice of Meeting. All shareholder proposals must comply with the applicable requirements of the Canada Business Corporations Act and shareholders who wish to make such proposals are urged to seek legal advice to ensure their proposal complies with these requirements in full.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Copies of the annual information form of the Corporation, the consolidated financial statements of the Corporation, management's discussion and analysis of financial conditions and this Circular are available without charge upon request to the Secretary of the Corporation.

Additional information relating to the Corporation can be found on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. Financial information of the Corporation is provided in the Corporation's consolidated financial statements and management's discussion and analysis for the most recently completed financial year of the Corporation.

EXHIBIT A

OPTION PLAN RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The amendment to the Option Plan providing for the addition of the following paragraph at the end of section 11 of the Option Plan be and is hereby approved, ratified and confirmed:

> "Notwithstanding anything contained herein or in any option agreement, if the date on which an Option expires pursuant to an option agreement occurs during, or within 10 trading days after the last day of, a Black Out Period or other trading restriction imposed by the Corporation, the expiry date of the Option Period for the Option will be the tenth trading day immediately following the Black-Out Period or other trading restriction imposed by the Corporation."

Furthermore, the amendment to the Option Plan providing for the addition of the following definition to section 2 of the Plan in alphabetical order be and is hereby approved, ratified and confirmed:

> "(a) "Black Out Period" means any period during which a policy of the Corporation prevents an Insider from trading in the Shares;"

2. The amendment to the Option Plan providing for the deletion of the words contained in section 15 of the Option Plan and the replacement of such words with the following, be and is hereby approved, ratified and confirmed:

> "The Plan is effective as of April 1, 2006.
> The Board reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to amend, suspend or terminate the Plan or any portion thereof at any time, in accordance with applicable legislation, without obtaining the approval of shareholders. Any amendment to any provision of the Plan will be subject to any required regulatory or shareholder approval. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Corporation will be required to obtain the approval of the shareholders of the Corporation for any amendment related to:
> (a) the maximum number of Shares reserved for issuance under the Plan (and under any other share compensation arrangements of the Corporation);
> (b) a reduction in the exercise price for Options held by Insiders;
> (c) an extension to the term of Options held by Insiders; and
> (d) the increase in the 10% limits on grants to Insiders set out in Section 4 and any shareholder approval required in respect of an amendment to increase such limits shall exclude the votes attaching to the Shares, if any, held by Participants who are Insiders.
> The Optionee's consent to any amendment to an outstanding Option shall be required unless the Board determines that the action, when taken with any related action, would not materially and adversely affect the Optionee or is made pursuant to Section 13."

3. Each officer of the Corporation is authorized for and on behalf of the Corporation, to execute and deliver all documents or instruments, and to do or cause to be done all such other acts or things, as in the opinion of such officer may be necessary or desirable in order to fulfil the intent of the foregoing.

EXHIBIT B

BOARD OF DIRECTORS CHARTER

WHEREAS the board of Directors (the "Board") of Stelco Inc. (the "Corporation") has determined that it would be appropriate for the Board to adopt a written mandate describing its responsibilities and duties in relation to oversight of the business and affairs of the Corporation and Committees of the Board;

AND WHEREAS the Board is appointed by and represents the shareholders of the Corporation but is obligated to act in the best interests of the Corporation;

A. CONSTITUTION

1. A majority of the Board of Directors shall be independent of the Corporation as determined by the Board of Directors, in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations.

B. PROCEDURAL MATTERS

1. Members of the Board shall serve at the pleasure of the shareholders of the Corporation and the shareholders of the Corporation shall elect the Board annually.
2. The Board may appoint such Committees from time to time as it considers appropriate to act on behalf of the Board or make recommendations to the Board with respect to matters to be decided by the Board. If such Committees are intended as permanent Committees, they shall have a Charter which defines their responsibilities in relation to the Board and the extent of delegated powers to such Committees. Each of these Charters shall require the respective Committee to annually evaluate its effectiveness. The functions of the Board, subject to applicable laws, may be delegated to its Committees except where provided otherwise herein.
3. The Board shall choose one of its members to act as Chair.
4. Members of the Board shall be entitled to receive such remuneration for acting as members of the Board as may be determined from time to time by the Board on the recommendations of the Corporate Governance Committee of the Board.
5. The Board shall, from time to time, review its performance and mandate as part of an annual review of its effectiveness and the effectiveness of its Committees. The Board shall meet in camera on a regular basis for such purpose and related purposes.
6. The Board shall consider from time to time its resources including the adequacy of the information provided to it with respect to oversight of the management of the Corporation and shall confer with management with respect to its findings.
7. The functions referred to in sections C1(a), (c), (d), (e), (g), (j), 2 and 4(a) and (b) shall not be delegated.

C. FUNCTIONS

1. General Responsibilities
   (a) The Board shall oversee the management of the Corporation. In doing so, the Board shall establish a productive working relationship with the Chief Executive Officer and other members of senior management.
   (b) The officers of the Corporation, headed by the Chief Executive Officer, shall be responsible for general day to day management of the Corporation and for making recommendations to the Board with respect to long term strategic, financial, organization and related objectives.
   (c) The roles and responsibilities of the Board are intended to primarily focus on the formulation of long term strategic, financial and organizational goals for the Corporation and on the monitoring of management performance. Without limitation, the Board shall (i) oversee a management-driven strategic planning process and approve the Corporation's strategic plan, (ii) assess the principal risks of the Corporation's business and ensure appropriate systems are in place to manage such risks, (iii) select, monitor and evaluate the Chief Executive Officer for the Corporation and oversee succession planning at the senior management level (including appointing, training and monitoring senior officers), (iv) adopt and oversee the communications policies of the Corporation and (v) monitor the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control and management information systems to safeguard corporate assets.

(d) The Board shall review and approve the Corporation's financial objectives, short and long-term business plans for the Corporation's businesses and monitor performance in accordance with such plans. The Board shall also approve without limitation to its statutory obligations and duties:

(i) significant capital allocations and expenditures;

(ii) transactions out of the ordinary course of business;

(iii) all matters that would be expected to have a major impact on shareholders, creditors or employees;

(iv) the appointment of any person to any position that would qualify such person as an officer of the Corporation;

(v) any amendments to the Corporation's pension plans, and

(vi) any proposed changes in compensation to be paid to members of the Board of Directors on the recommendation of the Corporate Governance Committee.

(e) The Board will oversee ethical behaviour and compliance with laws and regulations, which includes overseeing the choice of critical accounting principles.

(f) With respect to significant risks and opportunities affecting the Corporation, the Board may impose such limits on the business activity of the Corporation as may be in the interests of the Corporation and its shareholders.

(g) The Board shall annually consider the skills and competencies of the Board from the perspective of determining what additional skills and competencies would be helpful to the Board. The identification of specific candidates for consideration shall be the responsibility of the Corporate Governance Committee which shall be guided by the findings of the Board in relation to competencies and skills.

(h) The Board will adopt prudent financial standards with respect to the affairs of the Corporation and periodically will approve target levels of debt in relation to the Corporation's consolidated capitalization and other similar financial prudence standards.

(i) The Board shall perform such other functions as are prescribed by law, as are assigned to the Board in the Corporation's governing documents and as it may from time to time determine in accordance with the plenary powers of the Board.

(j) The Board shall receive the following reports: (i) periodic reports from its Committees following Committee meetings and, annually, a report from each Committee as to the work undertaken by the Committee and the Committee's recommendations, if any, for change with respect to its responsibilities and effectiveness; and (ii) an annual and interim report with respect to the Corporation's pension plans covering those matters specified in the Stelco Inc. Pension Plan Administration and Oversight Policy dated May 1999 as the same may be amended from time to time with Board approval.

2. Relationship with Committees

(a) The Board shall annually assess the charters of its Committees.

(b) The Board shall annually appoint a member of each Committee to act as Chair of the Committee on the advice of the Chair of the Board and Corporate Governance Committee.

3. Senior Management

   (a) The Board will approve a position description for the Chief Executive Officer.

   (b) The Board will review with the Human Resources and Compensation Committee the objectives set for the Chief Executive Officer and performance in relation to such objectives.

   (c) The Board will, to the extent feasible, satisfy itself as to the integrity of the Chief Executive Officer and the other members of senior management and that the Chief Executive Officer and other members of senior management create a culture of integrity throughout the Corporation.

4. Financial Statements and Significant Disclosure Documents

   (a) The Board will annually review and approve the Corporation's annual information form as well as its annual report and related financial statements and annual management discussion and analysis disclosure. In doing so, the Board will consider the quality and usefulness of the information from the perspective of its shareholders.

   (b) The Board has responsibility for reviewing and approving for release interim financial statements and related disclosure.

   (c) The Board will periodically review the means by which shareholders can communicate with the Corporation including the opportunity to do so at the annual meeting, communications interfaces through the Corporation's website and the adequacy of resources available within the Corporation to respond to shareholders through the office of the Corporate Secretary and otherwise.

   (d) The Board will review and approve financial performance guidance prior to the public disclosure of such information.

D. RESOURCES, MEETINGS AND REPORTS

1. The Board shall have adequate resources to discharge its responsibilities. The Chair shall be empowered to engage advisers as may be appropriate from time to time to advise the Chair or the Board with respect to duties and responsibilities.

2. The Board shall meet not less than six times per year.

3. The meetings of the Board shall ordinarily include the Chief Executive Officer (if not a Director) and the Secretary and shall periodically include other senior officers as may be appropriate as determined by the Board and as may be desirable to enable the Board to become familiar with the Corporation's management team. The Board may meet in private at any time.

4. The Secretary shall keep minutes of its meetings in which shall be recorded all actions taken by the Board. Such minutes shall be made available to Board members at their request and all such minutes shall be approved by the Board for entry in the records of the Corporation.

5. Members of the Board shall have the right, for the purposes of discharging their respective powers and responsibilities, to inspect any relevant records of the Corporation and its subsidiaries.

6. Members of the Board, subject to approval of the Chair of the Corporate Governance Committee, may retain separate counsel to deal with issues relating to their responsibilities as member of the Board.

PROXY NOTES

1. The articles of the corporation provide for cumulative voting in respect of the election of the directors. At the Meeting each Shareholder has the right to cast the number of votes for the election of directors equal to the number of common shares held by him or her multiplied by 10, being the number of directors to be elected. Each Shareholder may cast all such votes in favour of one candidate or distribute the votes among candidates in any manner. If a Shareholder votes for more than one candidate without specifying the distribution of the votes among the candidates, the votes will be distributed equally among the candidates voted for by that holder. If a Shareholder withholds his or her vote from one or more candidates, but does not vote for any other candidates, the votes will be distributed equally among the other candidates for whom the Shareholder does not withhold his or her vote.

2. If the Shareholder is a corporation, its corporate seal must be affixed or it must be signed by an officer or attorney thereof duly authorized.

3. This form of proxy must be dated and the signature hereon should be exactly the same as the name in which the shares are registered. If this proxy is not dated it will be deemed to bear the date on which it is mailed by the Corporation.

4. Persons signing as executors, administrators, trustees, etc., should so indicate and give their full title as such.

5. This instrument of proxy will not be valid and not be acted upon or voted unless it is completed as outlined herein and delivered in the return envelope provided or otherwise mailed to CIBC Mellon Trust Company, P.O. Box 721, Agincourt, Ontario M1S 0A1 or delivered in person to CIBC Mellon Trust Company, Banking Hall, 320 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario M5H 4A6.

VOTING OPTIONS

In order to expedite your vote, you may use a touch-tone telephone or the Internet.

By Telephone: To vote by telephone, call toll free 1-866-271-1207. You will be prompted to provide your 13-digit control number printed below your pre-printed name and address. The telephone or internet voting service is not available on the day of the meeting and you may not appoint a person as proxyholder other than the management nominees named in the accompanying Proxy when voting by telephone.

By Internet: To vote via the Internet, go to www.eproxyvoting.com/stelco and follow the instructions on the website.

By Mail or Fax: Complete and return the proxy in the return envelope provided or by facsimile to 416-368-2502. This proxy must be signed and dated by the Shareholder or the Shareholder's attorney authorized in writing.

This proxy will not be valid and not be acted upon or voted unless it is completed as outlined herein and submitted via one of the aforementioned options by 4:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on Tuesday, June 5, 2007 or, in the case of any adjournment of the Meeting, by no later than 4:00 p.m., Toronto time, on the business day preceding the adjourned Meeting.
