Incoming letter dated December 18, 2006

Dear Ms. Owens:

This is in response to your letters dated December 18, 2006 and January 17, 2007 concerning the shareholder proposal submitted to Dow Jones by John Jennings Crapo. Our response is attached to the enclosed photocopy of your correspondence. By doing this, we avoid having to recite or summarize the facts set forth in the correspondence. Copies of all of the correspondence also will be provided to the proponent.

In connection with this matter, your attention is directed to the enclosure, which sets forth a brief discussion of the Division's informal procedures regarding shareholder proposals.

Re: Exclusion of the Shareholder Proposal by John J. Crapo Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended – Rule 14a-8

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen:

This letter is to inform you that Dow Jones & Company, Inc. ("Dow Jones") intends to exclude from its proxy statement and form of proxy for its 2007 Annual Meeting of Stockholders (collectively, the "2007 Proxy Materials") a shareholder proposal and supporting statement (collectively, the "Proposal") submitted by John J. Crapo (the "Proponent").

Dow Jones received the Proposal, which exceeds 500 words, on April 21, 2006. Pursuant to Rule 14a-8(f), Dow Jones notified the Proponent in a letter sent via express mail on May 3, 2006 that his proposal and supporting statement are required to be no more than 500 words and that Dow Jones would exclude the Proposal from the 2007 Proxy Materials if he did not cure the deficiency in a re-submitted proposal postmarked as of a date no later than 14 calendar days after the date on which he received our notification letter. Dow Jones did not receive a re-submitted proposal from the Proponent.

Accordingly, pursuant to Rule 14a-8(j), enclosed are six (6) copies of this letter and the Proposal. Also, in accordance with Rule 14a-8(j), a copy of this letter and its attachments is being simultaneously mailed to the Proponent, informing him of Dow Jones' intention to exclude the Proposal from the 2007 Proxy Materials. As Dow Jones intends to mail its definitive 2007 Proxy Materials on or about March 16, 2007, in accordance with Rule 14a-8(j) this no-action request is being submitted not less than 80 days before Dow Jones files its 2007 Proxy Materials with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC").

Dow Jones hereby respectfully requests that the staff of the SEC Division of Corporation Finance (the "Staff") concur in our opinion that the Proposal may be properly excluded from Dow Jones' 2007 Proxy Materials due to the Proponent's failure to meet the eligibility requirement set forth in Rule 14a-8(d).

I would be happy to provide you with any additional information and answer any questions you may have regarding this subject. Should you disagree with the conclusions set forth in this letter, I respectfully request the opportunity to speak with you prior to the determination of the Staff's final position. Please do not hesitate to call me at 212-416-3889 if I may be of any further assistance.

Sincerely,

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen:

We inadvertently omitted from the no-action request that we mailed to you on December 18, 2006 (the "December 18, 2006 No-Action Request"): (a) the Notice of Deficiency that we express mailed to Mr. Crapo on May 3, 2006 in response to his April 21, 2006 proposal and (b) the tracking receipt. Accordingly, we enclose both in this envelope.

For convenience of review, we also have included the December 18, 2006 No-Action Request, which advises that we received Mr. Crapo's proposal on April 21st and express mailed him a response on May 3rd (within the Rule 14a-8(f) 14 day window).

We never received any form of further correspondence from Mr. Crapo regarding this matter.

 I explained I was slow to get up I needed to take some security precautions. I was called unexpectedly. I was told I couldn't come back there. I'd said if I had advance notice I could lock the bag a tampon strap bag. Other wise it could be stolen it could be emptied & sent & it empty it could be run off with less heavy contents - of the more choices I had the staler. I had another bag stolen with a gang around & no one objected

20 April 2006
to how I was treated

I thought of people's addresses being found & becoming victims of robbery
I'm hrieK

I had trouble finding the location of the stockholder meeting of April 19th I had to buy at New York City a map with street name on it it was hard & needed to find a public toilet in that process I shook & quivered & had chills I couldn't find a copy ~~store~~ store and a Post office

When I made my initial visit on Saturday I noticed dreadful troubles with local public transportation and which I had called to attention of company before before.

DIVISION OF CORPORATION FINANCE INFORMAL PROCEDURES REGARDING SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

The Division of Corporation Finance believes that its responsibility with respect to matters arising under Rule 14a-8 [17 CFR 240.14a-8], as with other matters under the proxy rules, is to aid those who must comply with the rule by offering informal advice and suggestions and to determine, initially, whether or not it may be appropriate in a particular matter to recommend enforcement action to the Commission. In connection with a shareholder proposal under Rule 14a-8, the Division's staff considers the information furnished to it by the Company in support of its intention to exclude the proposals from the Company's proxy materials, as well as any information furnished by the proponent or the proponent's representative.

Although Rule 14a-8(k) does not require any communications from shareholders to the Commission's staff, the staff will always consider information concerning alleged violations of the statutes administered by the Commission, including argument as to whether or not activities proposed to be taken would be violative of the statute or rule involved. The receipt by the staff of such information, however, should not be construed as changing the staff's informal procedures and proxy review into a formal or adversary procedure.

It is important to note that the staff's and Commission's no-action responses to Rule 14a-8(j) submissions reflect only informal views. The determinations reached in these no-action letters do not and cannot adjudicate the merits of a company's position with respect to the proposal. Only a court such as a U.S. District Court can decide whether a company is obligated to include shareholder proposals in its proxy materials. Accordingly a discretionary determination not to recommend or take Commission enforcement action, does not preclude a proponent, or any shareholder of a company, from pursuing any rights he or she may have against the company in court, should the management omit the proposal from the company's proxy material.

Division of Corporation Finance

Re: Dow Jones & Company, Inc.
Incoming letter dated December 18, 2006

The proposal requests an explanation, included in the proxy statement for the next annual meeting, of how a shareholder proposal shall be introduced.

There appears to be some basis for your view that Dow Jones may exclude the proposal under rule 14a-8(f). We note in particular that the proposal appears to exceed the 500-word limitation imposed by rule 14a-8(d). Accordingly, we will not recommend enforcement action to the Commission if Dow Jones omits the proposal from its proxy materials in reliance on rules 14a-8(d) and 14a-8(f).

Sincerely,

Tamara M. Brightwell
