News Release

SingTel announces first-in-the-world landmark deal with major US studios

Catch the largest volume of popular latest US TV hits on mio TV anytime on demand as early as 24 hrs after US broadcast

Singapore, 23 July 2008 – Singapore Telecommunications Limited (SingTel) today announced that it has signed a groundbreaking deal with three major studios – Disney-ABC International Television, Twentieth Century Fox and Warner Bros. International Television Distribution - that will make it possible for its mio TV service to screen over 50 top US series as early as 24 hours after their US premiere.

SingTel's mio TV will be the first IPTV (Internet Protocol Television) operator in the world to offer such a volume of top US series within a day of their US telecast on a subscription-based model, and this will provide the first exhibition of such licensed series in Singapore.

This service, called Season Pass, will launch this September and the availability of programming will follow the US TV calendar. mio TV will offer the latest seasons of popular American TV series debuting in US from September this year such as Grey's Anatomy, Lost, Criminal Minds, Prison Break, Bones, 24, Ugly Betty, Without a Trace, Terminator: The Sarah Connor Chronicles, Supernatural, Samantha Who? and many more.

"This agreement comes at a great time as we are celebrating mio TV's first anniversary. Our subscribers will now have more exciting channels and programmes to look forward to," said Mr Allen Lew, SingTel's CEO Singapore.

"Consumers are getting increasingly demanding. They want to get the latest TV hits ahead of anyone else and mio TV is filling this gap with this latest offering. We see this as the next big wave of content consumption in Singapore," he added.

"Singapore fans will be the first in Asia to get their must-watch shows like Lost and Grey's Anatomy so close to the US air date. At Disney-ABC we understand that consumers want convenience and flexibility to watch their favourite shows when and how they want. By partnering with a new media pioneer such as SingTel's mio TV, we keep viewers needs front-and-centre," said Mr Rob Gilby, Senior Vice President and Managing Director, Disney-ABC International Television (Asia Pacific).

Favourites-on-Demand

To whet subscribers' appetites, starting today mio TV is also announcing another exciting new offering called Favourites-on-Demand. This on-demand service allows customers to watch ten popular TV series between now and 31 October.

Available over three months at S$9.99 per month (including GST), Favourites-on-Demand will show all time favourites like Smallville, Nip/Tuck, Supernatural, The Bachelor, Cold Case and Without a Trace. Don't miss out on the exclusive Singapore TV premiere of Gossip Girl and other new series like Chuck, Pushing Daisies and Terminator: The Sarah Connor Chronicles, all on demand.

"mio TV's Favourites-On-Demand provides our customers with a convenient way to catch up with their favourite TV shows whenever they want, and as many times as they want to," said Mr Lew.

"We have chosen series across genres that are popular with TV viewers. The difference is that they enjoy unlimited on-demand viewing for a monthly subscription fee, instead of being forced into a fixed schedule through scheduled programming as with other TV platforms."

SingTel had 45,000 mio TV customers as at 30 June 2008.

(See section on Warner Bros. International Television for more information on Favourites-on-Demand)

When a publishing mogul hands the reigns of his fashion magazine over to his son Daniel, he hires Betty as his son's new assistant -because she's the only woman in NYC who Daniel won't sleep with. Press Release

MediaCorp spearheads mobile TV trial with M1, StarHub and SingTel TV programmes include the Beijing Olympics and Barclays Premier League

SINGAPORE, 25 July 2008 - The three local telecommunications service providers M1, SingTel and StarHub, together with the national broadcaster MediaCorp, will jointly conduct a consumer mobile TV trial using Digital Video Broadcasting - Handheld (DVB-H) technology next month.

The DVB-H platform delivers broadcast services to mobile devices, offering users superior picture quality and a marked improvement to their mobile TV experience.

Some 300 customers of the three telcos are expected to participate in this trial spanning over three months. Participation is by invitation only.

Trialists will be able to view six dedicated channels during the trial and enjoy a variety of television programmes.

There will be a wide range of quality programming across different genres. Sports fans will enjoy comprehensive coverage of the Beijing Olympics on TV Mobile, as well as all the action from Barclays Premier League on StarHub's Football Channel. Chinese viewers will be treated to Cantonese movies from Singapore's first Cantonese movie channel - SingTel mio TV's Mei Ah Movies Channel, as well as the simulcast of StarHub's TVBS News in August, and CTI in September. News maniacs can access the simulcast Channel News Asia for international news and CNBC for their financial updates. Trialists will also get to enjoy the quality documentaries from The History Channel by StarHub in October.

Selected programmes from Kids Central, MTV, Nickelodeon, Channel 8 and Channel U will also be shown on the two other composite channels.

"The convergence of broadcast media and telecommunications technologies is ably demonstrated on the DVB-H platform and this trial with our business and consumer partners will help us bridge the vital human factor. We hope to better understand consumer preferences and behaviour that will enable us to define realistic service standards for the exciting new world of mobile TV," said Neil Montefiore, Chief Executive Officer, M1.

"We are very pleased to be able to be involved in this project that heralds another step forward in entertainment on the go," said Mr Quek Peck Leng, Executive Vice President, Consumer Group, SingTel. "Our mio TV on Mobile service enables customers to conveniently access mio TV content wherever they are, and DVB-H will allow even more features. We are also very pleased that our content partner Mei Ah has been selected as one of the channels that will be used during the trial."

"Mobile TV is a relatively recent concept now that newer wireless technologies are able to deliver high quality transmissions. The DVB-H platform is one of the major platforms designed to optimise the delivery of broadcast content over mobile devices, and this trial is designed to gather feedback on user acceptance and interest in mobile TV viewing," Terry Clontz, CEO of StarHub said.

“MediaCorp pioneered DVB-H consumer trials in Singapore some 4 years ago. From our past experience, the availability of handsets is paramount to the service taking off. I am happy that our efforts to have all 3 Singapore telcos onboard the trial will offer better quality and wider choice of services to our customers and, at the same time, allow us to explore viable business models,” says Lucas Chow, CEO MediaCorp.

Participants of the trial will be using the Samsung P-960 handsets and the trial is also supported by technology partners, Alcatel-Lucent and Gemalto.

For more information on the mobile TV trial, please visit <http://mobiletvtrial.sg>.
