news release

1 September 2008

St.George raises $1 billion to complete 40% of 2009 term funding

St.George Bank today announced it has finalised an issue of $1 billion of Residential Mortgage-Backed Securities (RMBS) under its Crusade securitisation program, Crusade Trust No.1 of 2008. The Group has now completed 40% or $4.6 billion of its estimated $11-$12 billion term wholesale funding requirements for 2009.

Managing Director & CEO, Paul Fegan said; "St.George continues to have access to a diversified range of funding markets and we have made strong inroads on our 2009 funding targets. Given this advanced position, we do not see the need to raise any substantial new term funding in the near future."

"We were one of the first of the Australian banks to complete funding for the 2008 financial year, and currently have a large proportion of next year's requirements already locked away. Since 1 October 2007, St.George has raised a total $12.6 billion of committed term funding."

"In addition, we continue to see strong growth in retail deposit balances with growth of 18.9% annualised for the ten months ended 31 July 2008. This growth is exceeding growth in retail lending, providing a significant funding offset. In July alone, retail deposits grew by over $3 billion."

"St.George remains in a very strong position and is on track to meet its EPS growth target of 8-10%* for the 2008 financial year. This will place St.George at the top end of earnings for all Australian banks," Mr Fegan said.

In this issue, Residential Mortgage-Backed Securities with a value of A$1,051 million will be issued, backed by a revolving mortgage pool. A senior class A tranche of $1 billion has been privately placed and, accordingly, pricing is not disclosed. The pricing is competitive with comparable sources of funding available to Australian banks. A subordinated class B tranche of $51.3 million will be retained by St.George.

It is expected that the senior class A tranche will be rated AAA by Standard and Poor's. Securities issued will be denominated only in Australian dollars and will be backed by Australian residential mortgage loans originated by St.George.

Since 31 March 2008, St.George has raised $5.3 billion of term funding, excluding securitisation, with an average weighted maturity of 29 months.

Overall, the Group's credit quality remains very good, reflecting the high quality of the Bank's residential and business lending portfolios and its prudent credit culture and policies. The Loan to Valuation ratio (LVR) for the total mortgage portfolio is less than 40% and 95% of commercial loans are secured.

St.George is rated A+ by Standard & Poor's (CreditWatch Positive), Aa2 by Moody's Investors Service (Under Review - Direction Uncertain) and A+ by Fitch Ratings (RatingWatch Positive).

St.George reduces standard variable interest rates by 0.30% pa

St.George Bank today announced that it was lowering its standard variable home loan interest rates by 0.30% pa to 9.37% pa, effective 29 September 2008. This is an additional 0.05% pa to the 0.25% pa reduction announced by the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) on 2 September 2008. The new reduced rate will be applicable for new and existing customers.

Les Matheson, Group Executive Retail Bank, said; "I am extremely pleased to be able to provide our customers with a reduction in their home loan interest rate, above and beyond the RBA cut announced today."

"We are very mindful of the impact of rate rises on our customers and have upheld our commitment that if funding costs were to reduce, we would then look to adjust our rates."

"In order to provide customers with a larger reduction in their interest rate, we have decided to wait a few weeks for the RBA decision to fully flow through to our overall funding costs. This allows us to offer the additional bonus of 0.05% pa above the RBA decision, which we know will be appreciated by our customers," Les said.

This 0.30% pa rate reduction equates to a saving of approximately $55 per month in repayments on an average size loan of $250,000 over a 30 year loan term.

In addition, on Monday St.George announced it was cutting its 1 – 5 year fixed interest rates by up to 0.76% pa, or 1.06% pa including special Advantage Package discounts, effective Wednesday 3 September. These changes include the introduction of a 2 Year Fixed Rate of 8.29% pa for eligible Advantage Package customers, the lowest amongst major banks. The changes give customers the opportunity to lock into some of the most competitive rates currently in the market.

St.George has also decreased rates on deposit products, with most savings and investment products decreasing by 0.25% pa.

ST.GEORGE AND WESTPAC AGREE REVISED TERMS

REGISTRY OF CORPORATIONS
CORPORATE FILINGS

2008 OCT 21 A 6:42

RECEIVED

- St.George Board confirms unanimous recommendation of Westpac offer in the absence of a superior proposal
- No change in merger exchange ratio which remains at 1.31 Westpac shares for each St.George share held
- St.George shareholders to receive a final dividend and a special dividend totalling up to $1.25 per St.George share, an increase of $0.28 per St.George share
- Independent Expert, Grant Samuel, confirms the Westpac proposal is 'fair and reasonable and in the best interests of St.George shareholders'
- Break fee of $100 million payable by St.George in specified circumstances
- Acceleration of integration and transition planning
- Westpac remains committed to the proposed operating model including maintaining the St.George and Westpac branch networks

Westpac and St.George today announced a revised merger proposal involving a higher dividend for St.George shareholders and a package of measures to increase the certainty of completion of the transaction and accelerate merger benefits. The St.George Board confirmed its unanimous support for the merger.

St.George Chairman, John Curtis welcomed today's announcement.

"The St.George Board believes that the merger of St.George and Westpac, on the terms proposed, is a very positive outcome for St.George shareholders. The Independent Expert has informed St. George that the merger proposal is fair and reasonable and in the best interests of St.George shareholders," Mr Curtis said.

"Our Board unanimously recommends that shareholders vote in favour of the merger, in the absence of a superior proposal.

"The revised merger terms recognise the contribution of St.George to the strength of the combined organisation. Westpac will continue to have a AA rating with a strong capital base and broad-based funding to support future growth," Mr Curtis said.

Westpac Chairman, Ted Evans, said that the merger would deliver positive outcomes for both Westpac and St.George.

"In light of volatile and challenging market conditions, we have been pleased by the continuing strength of both the Westpac and St.George businesses since announcement of the merger proposal," Mr Evans said.

"Today we have agreed a number of measures to enhance the certainty of a successful outcome, including accelerating integration and transition planning.

"This will ensure that we realise merger benefits more quickly and work closely together to optimise customer retention," Mr Evans said.

St.George FY08 Final Dividend and Special Dividend

In addition to the St.George 2008 final dividend, St.George shareholders will now receive an additional fully franked special dividend (at the same time as the 2008 final dividend is paid). The amount and other details concerning the special dividend will be announced when the St.George annual results are released and the 2008 final dividend is announced on 29 October 2008.

Westpac has agreed to the payment of the special dividend by St.George on the basis that the aggregate amount of the special dividend and the final dividend does not exceed $1.25 per St.George share.

This is an increase of $0.28 per St.George share in total potential dividends payable to St.George shareholders, which equates to a total potential additional dividend payment to St.George shareholders of approximately $160 million.

There has been no change to the merger exchange ratio, which remains at 1.31 Westpac shares for each St.George share irrespective of the amount of the dividend paid by St.George.

Westpac confirms the transaction is expected to be EPS accretive within three years of the merger.

Independent Expert

The Independent Expert, Grant Samuel, has reviewed the merger proposal and has concluded that it is fair and reasonable, and in the best interests of St.George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal emerging. The proposed special dividend reinforces this conclusion.

The Independent Expert's report will be released to the market with the scheme documentation after the regulatory review process is complete. Grant Samuel has confirmed that although its report is currently in the final stages of preparation for submission to the Australian Securities & Investments Commission during the coming week, they have completed their analysis and formed their conclusions.

Amendments to Merger Implementation Agreement

To reflect the revisions to the terms of the merger proposal, St.George and Westpac have agreed to amend certain terms of the Merger Implementation Agreement (MIA) dated 26 May 2008. A copy of the amended and restated MIA is attached.

The amendments include a package of enhancements intended to increase the certainty of completion of the transaction and bring forward realisation of merger benefits, including:

- Enhanced co-operation between Westpac and St.George in relation to integration planning, with a view to accelerating the process of integrating the two banks, bringing forward the realisation of merger benefits and minimising integration risk, including jointly developing strategies to maximise customer retention; and
- A break fee of $100 million payable by St.George to Westpac in certain specified circumstances, including a change in the St.George Board's unanimous recommendation of the merger proposal.

The amended MIA also sets out the terms of arrangement in respect of the SAINTS and St.George employee options.

Next steps

It is intended that the scheme book will be lodged with ASIC shortly and is expected to be released to the market on 30 September 2008 and dispatched to St.George shareholders in mid October. The scheme meeting is expected to be held on 13 November 2008.

Full details of the Independent Expert's report will be published in the scheme book. The ACCC has announced that it will not oppose the merger. The transaction also requires approval from the Federal Treasurer.

Mr Curtis and Mr Evans said the merger will provide the opportunity for both St.George and Westpac to grow stronger together, benefiting shareholders and customers.

Ends.

Subject to this Agreement, nothing in this clause 7 requires either party to act at the direction of the other. The business of each party and its Related Bodies Corporate will continue to operate independently of the other until the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme. The parties agree that nothing in this Agreement shall constitute the relationship of a partnership or a joint venture between the parties.

7.6 Integration planning

- (a) After the First Court Date the role of the Implementation Committee will be expanded to act as a forum for consultation and planning for the transition of the ownership of St. George and its businesses to Westpac and the smooth implementation of Westpac's plans for those businesses following the implementation of the Share Scheme.

As part of this process, St. George and Westpac agree to jointly develop a strategy to minimise the risk of customer attrition occurring as a result of the Transaction.

8. Meetings and Court Approvals

8.1 Court refuses to make orders

- (a) If the Court refuses to make an order under sub-section 411(1) of the Corporations Act to convene a Scheme Meeting or to make an order to approve a Scheme under sub-section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act, St. George must appeal the Court's decision to the fullest extent possible except where:

 - (iii) the St. George Directors have withdrawn their recommendation in relation to the Scheme pursuant to clause 9.
- (b) The costs of any appeal shall be borne equally by the parties unless the St. George Board in good faith determines that, in its view, it is not in St. George's best interests to bring the appeal having regard to (without limitation) the costs and prospects of success. In this event, if Westpac still requires that an appeal should be brought, Westpac must bear all of the costs thereof.

then, in either case, St. George shall provide to Westpac and its Representatives, for such period and at such times as Westpac reasonably requires, access to the Share Register, SAINTS Register or Award Option Register (as applicable) for the purpose of investigating whether Share Splitting may have occurred or may have caused or materially contributed to the Headcount Test not having been satisfied.

- (b) St. George must, and must procure that its Representatives and Share Registry, co-operate with and provide Westpac and its Representatives with all such assistance as they reasonably require in connection with their investigations under clause 8.2(a).

However, the parties acknowledge that, in practice, it may be difficult to determine the extent to which Share Splitting has occurred.
- (d) If, following the investigations under this clause 8.2, both parties consider that Share Splitting may have caused or materially contributed to the Headcount Test not having been satisfied then St. George must:
 - (i) seek Court approval of the relevant Scheme under subsection 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act, notwithstanding that the Headcount Test has not been satisfied; and

The Share Scheme Participants are deemed to have warranted to St.George, in its own right and for the benefit of Westpac, that:

- (a) all their St.George Shares (including any rights and entitlements attaching to those shares) which are transferred to Westpac under this Share Scheme will, at the date of the transfer of them to Westpac, be fully paid and free from all mortgages, charges, liens, encumbrances and interests of third parties of any kind, whether legal or otherwise, and restrictions on transfer of any kind; and
- (b) they have full power and capacity to sell and to transfer their St.George Shares together with any rights attaching to such shares.

4.6 Beneficial entitlement by Westpac

Westpac shall be beneficially entitled to the Scheme Shares transferred to it under this Share Scheme pending registration by St.George of Westpac in the St.George Share Register as the holder of the Scheme Shares.

- (d) acknowledges and agrees that in exercising the powers referred to in clause 4.7(a), Westpac and any officer or agent nominated by Westpac under clause 4.7(a) may act in the best interests of Westpac as the intended registered holder of the Scheme Shares.

5. Share Scheme Consideration

5.1 Provision of Share Scheme Consideration

Subject to clause 5.2, on the Implementation Date, Westpac will issue to each Share Scheme Participant 1.31 New Westpac Shares as Share Scheme Consideration for the transfer to Westpac of each Scheme Share.

- (a) Westpac will be under no obligation to issue any New Westpac Shares to any Ineligible Foreign Shareholder as Share Scheme Consideration, and instead Westpac will issue the New Westpac Shares to which that Ineligible Foreign Shareholder would otherwise have become entitled (Sale Shares) to a nominee agent appointed by Westpac with the prior approval of St.George, acting reasonably (the Sale Nominee).
- (b) Westpac must procure that on, or as soon as reasonably practicable and in any event not more than 20 Business Days after, the Implementation Date, the Sale Nominee:
 - (i) sells on the ASX all Sale Shares it holds; and
 - (ii) pays the net proceeds received after deducting any applicable brokerage, stamp duty and other taxes and charges to that Ineligible Foreign Shareholder.

 - (iii) in the event that an Ineligible Foreign Shareholder does not have a Registered Address or the Sale Nominee believes an Ineligible Foreign Shareholder is not known at its Registered Address, and no account has been notified in accordance with sub-paragraph (ii) or a deposit into such an account is rejected or refunded, the Sale Nominee may credit the amount payable to that Ineligible Foreign Shareholder to a separate bank account of St.George to be held until the Ineligible Foreign Shareholder claims the amount or the amount is dealt with in accordance with unclaimed money legislation. St.George must hold the amount on trust, but any benefit accruing from the amount will be to the benefit of St.George. An amount credited to the account is to be treated as having been paid to the Ineligible Foreign Shareholder. St.George must maintain records of the amounts paid, the people who are entitled to the amounts and any transfers of the amounts.

- (d) Payment by the Sale Nominee to an Ineligible Foreign Shareholder in accordance with this clause 5.2 satisfies in full the Ineligible Foreign Shareholder's right to Share Scheme Consideration.
- (e) Each Ineligible Foreign Shareholder appoints St.George as its agent to receive on its behalf any financial services guide or other notices which may be given by the Sale Nominee appointed by Westpac to that Ineligible Foreign Shareholder.

5.3 Fractional Entitlements

If the number of Scheme Shares held by a Share Scheme Participant is such that an entitlement of that Share Scheme Participant to New Westpac Shares is not a whole number then:

In the case of Scheme Shares held in joint names, holding statements for New Westpac Shares must be issued in the names of the joint holders and sent to the holder whose name appears first in the St.George Share Register on the Scheme Record Date.

5.5 Status of New Westpac Shares

Upon issue:

- (b) St.George will not accept for registration or recognise for any purpose any transmission application or transfer in respect of St.George Shares received after the Scheme Record Date, except a transfer to Westpac pursuant to this Share Scheme and any subsequent transfer by Westpac.
- (c) For the purpose of determining entitlements to the Share Scheme Consideration, St.George will, until the Share Scheme Consideration has been provided, maintain the St.George Share Register in accordance with the provisions of this clause 6 and the St.George Share Register in this form will solely determine entitlements to the Share Scheme Consideration.
- (d) St.George must procure that, on or before 9.00am on the Business Day following the Scheme Record Date, details of the names, registered addresses and holdings of St.George Shares of every Share Scheme Participant as shown in the St.George Share Register at the Scheme Record Date are available to Westpac in such form as Westpac may reasonably require.
- (e) As from the Scheme Record Date (and other than for Westpac, or its successors in title), all share certificates and holding statements for the St.George Shares will cease to have effect as documents of title, and each entry on the St.George Share

Register at that date will cease to have any effect other than as evidence of entitlement to the Share Scheme Consideration.

7. Quotation of St.George Shares

On a date after the Implementation Date to be determined by Westpac, St.George will apply for termination of the official quotation on the ASX of St.George Shares and will apply to have itself removed from the official list of the ASX.

8.2 St.George and all Share Scheme Participants bound

This Share Scheme binds St.George and all Share Scheme Participants and, to the extent of any inconsistency and to the extent permitted by law, overrides the St.George Constitution.

- (d) acknowledges and agrees that in exercising the powers referred to in clause 4.7(a), Westpac and any officer or agent nominated by Westpac under clause 4.7(a) may act in the best interests of Westpac as the intended registered holder of the Scheme SAINTS.

- (a) Before 11.00am on the Implementation Date, St.George must procure Westpac to deposit an amount equal to the aggregate amount of SAINTS Scheme Consideration payable to all SAINTS Scheme Participants in cleared funds in a trust account operated by the Trustee, such amount to be held on trust for those SAINTS Scheme Participants, except that any interest (less bank fees and other charges) on the amount deposited by Westpac in respect of the SAINTS Scheme Consideration shall be for the account of Westpac;
- (b) On the Implementation Date, subject to St.George having complied with paragraph (a), the Trustee must pay from the trust account referred to in paragraph (a) to each SAINTS Scheme Participant such amount of cash as is due to that SAINTS Scheme Participant as SAINTS Scheme Consideration in respect of all that SAINTS Scheme Participant's Scheme SAINTS.
- (c) Unless paragraph (d) applies, the amount referred to in paragraph (b) may be paid by the Trustee doing any of the following at its election:
 - (i) sending the amount to the SAINTS Scheme Participant's Registered Address by cheque in Australian currency drawn out of the trust account established in accordance with paragraph (a); or
 - (ii) depositing or procuring the St.George Share Registry to deposit the amount into an account with any Australian ADI (as defined in the Corporations Act) notified to St.George by an appropriate authority from the SAINTS Scheme Participants.

- (d) In the event that:
- (i) a SAINTS Scheme Participant does not have a Registered Address; or
 - (ii) the Trustee believes that a SAINTS Scheme Participant is not known at the SAINTS Holder's Registered Address, and no account has been notified to St.George in accordance with paragraph (c)(ii), or a deposit into such an account is rejected or refunded, the Trustee may credit the amount payable to the relevant SAINTS Scheme Participant to a separate bank account of St.George to be held until the SAINTS Scheme Participant claims the amount or the amount is dealt with in accordance with unclaimed money legislation. St.George must hold the amount on trust, but any benefit accruing from the amount will be to the benefit of St.George. An amount credited to this account is to be treated as having been paid to the SAINTS Scheme Participant when credited to the account. St.George must maintain records of the amounts paid, the people who are entitled to the amounts and any transfers of the amounts.

- (e) To the extent that there is a surplus in the amount held by the Trustee in the trust accounts established under this clause 5.1, that surplus may be paid by the Trustee to Westpac following the satisfaction of the Trustee's obligations under this clause 5.1.

5.2 Joint Holders

In the case of SAINTS held in joint names, any SAINTS Scheme Consideration shall be payable to and be forwarded to the holder whose name appears first in the SAINTS Register as at the Scheme Record Date.

6. Stub Dividend

6.1 Stub Dividend

If the Implementation Date occurs after 20 November 2008, then St.George must procure that its Directors declare a dividend, in an amount calculated in accordance with clause 6.2, as may be adjusted in accordance with clause 6.3, which will:

- (a) have the Scheme Record Date as the record date; and
- (b) be payable on the Implementation Date to each SAINTS Scheme Participant, (the Stub Dividend).

6.2 Calculation of Stub Dividend

- (a) The amount of any Stub Dividend will be calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Stub Dividend} = (\text{Dividend Rate} \times \text{Face Vale} \times N) / 365$$

Face Value is $100;

N is the number of days from (and including) 20 November 2008 until (but not including) the Implementation Date; and

Dividend Rate expressed as a percentage per annum is calculated in accordance with the following formula:

where:

Market Rate means the Bank Bill Swap Rate for 90 day bills applying on 20 November 2008 expressed as a percentage per annum;

Bank Bill Swap Rate means the rate, expressed as a percentage per annum, calculated as the average mid rate for bills of a term of 90 days which average rate is displayed on the Reuters page designated BBSW (or any page which replaces that page) on 20 November 2008, or if there is a manifest error in the calculation of that average rate or that average rate is not displayed by 10.30am on that date, the rate specified in good faith by St. George at or around that time on that date having regard, to the extent possible, to:

- (i) the rate otherwise bid and offered for bills of that term or for funds of that tenor displayed on that page BBSW (or any page which replaces that page) at that time on the date; and
- (ii) if bid and offer rates for bills of that term are not otherwise available, the rates otherwise bid and offered for funds of that tenor at or around that time;

Margin is 1.35%; and

T means the Australian corporate tax rate applicable on the allotment date of the SAINTS, being 0.30.

- (b) All calculations of Stub Dividends will be rounded to four decimal places. For the purposes of making any Stub Dividend payment in respect of a SAINTS Scheme Participant's total holding of SAINTS, any fraction of a cent will be disregarded.

6.3 Franking adjustment

- (a) If, on the Implementation Date, the Australian corporate tax rate applicable to the franking account of St. George from which the Stub Dividend will be franked (TI) differs from the Australian corporate tax rate on the allotment date of the SAINTS (T), the Stub Dividend will be adjusted in accordance with the following formula (rounded to the nearest four decimal places):

$$\frac{\text{Stub Dividend} \times (1 - TI)}{(1 - T)}$$

where:

Stub Dividend is the amount calculated under clause 6.2;

TI is the Australian corporate tax rate applicable to the franking account of St.George from which the Stub Dividend will be franked, expressed as a decimal; and

T means 0.30.

- (b) If the Stub Dividend is not franked to 100% under Part 3-6 of the Tax Act (or any provisions that revise or replace that part), the Stub Dividend will be adjusted in accordance with the following formula:

$$\frac{D}{1 - (TI \times (1 - F))}$$

where:

D is the Stub Dividend calculated under paragraph (a), or clause 6.2 where there has been no application of paragraph (a);

TI has the same meaning as in paragraph (a); and

F is the franking percentage (within the meaning of Part 3-6 of the Tax Act or any part that replaces or revises that part) of the Stub Dividend, expressed as a decimal to four decimal places.

6.4 Payment of Stub Dividend

- (a) If a Stub Dividend is payable, St.George must on the Implementation Date pay each SAINTS Scheme Participant such amount of cash as is due to that SAINTS Scheme Participant as a Stub Dividend in respect of all the SAINTS held by the SAINTS Scheme Participant on the Scheme Record Date.
- (b) Unless paragraph (c) applies, the amount referred to in paragraph (a) may be paid by St.George doing any of the following at its election:
- (i) sending the amount to the SAINTS Scheme Participant's Registered Address by cheque in Australian currency; or
 - (ii) depositing or procuring the St.George Share Registry to deposit the amount into an account with any Australian ADI (as defined in the Corporations Act) notified to St.George by an appropriate authority from the SAINTS Scheme Participants.
- (c) In the event that:
- (i) a SAINTS Scheme Participant does not have a Registered Address; or
 - (ii) St.George believes that a SAINTS Scheme Participant is not known at the SAINTS Holder's Registered Address, and no account has been notified to St.George in accordance with paragraph (b)(ii), or a deposit into such an account is rejected or refunded, St.George may credit the amount payable to the relevant SAINTS Scheme Participant to a separate bank account of St.George to be held until the SAINTS Scheme Participant claims the amount of the amount is dealt with in accordance with unclaimed money legislation. St.George must hold the amount on trust, but any benefit accruing from the amount will be to the benefit of St.George. An amount credited to this account is to be treated as having been paid to the SAINTS Scheme Participant when credited to the account. St.George must maintain records of the amounts paid, the people who are entitled to the amounts and any transfers of the amounts.

- (d) To the extent that there is a surplus in the amount held by St.George in the trust account, that surplus may be paid by St.George to Westpac following the satisfaction of St.George's obligations under this clause 6.4.
- (e) In the case of SAINTS held in joint names, any Stub Dividend shall be payable to and be forwarded to the holder whose name appears first in the SAINTS Register as at the Scheme Record Date.

6.5 Withholding obligations

Despite anything else in this clause 6, St.George will be entitled to deduct from any Stub Dividend payable to a SAINTS Scheme Participant the amount of any withholding or other tax, duty or levy required by law to be deducted in respect of such amount. If any such deduction has been made and the amount of the deduction accounted for by St.George to the relevant revenue authority and the balance of the amount payable has been paid to the SAINTS Scheme Participant concerned, then the full amount payable to such SAINTS Scheme Participant shall be deemed to have been duly paid and satisfied by St.George. St.George will pay the full amount required to be deducted to the relevant revenue authority within the time allowed for such payment.

6.6 Future dividends

Following transfer of the Scheme SAINTS to Westpac, the SAINTS will be governed by their terms of issue except that "N" in clause 2.1 of the terms of issue will be the number of days from (and including) the Implementation Date (as defined in this SAINTS Scheme) until (but not including) the relevant Dividend Payment Date (as defined in the terms of issue).

7. Dealings in SAINTS

7.1 Dealings

For the purpose of establishing who are SAINTS Scheme Participants, dealings in SAINTS will only be recognised if:

- (a) in the case of dealings of the type to be effected using CHES, the transferee is registered in the SAINTS Register as the holder of the relevant SAINTS on or before the Scheme Record Date; and
- (b) in all other cases, registrable transmission applications or transfers in respect of those dealings are received on or before the Scheme Record Date at the place where the SAINTS Register is kept.

7.2 SAINTS Register

- (a) St.George must register registrable transmission applications or transfers of SAINTS received in accordance with clause 7.1(b) by the Scheme Record Date.
- (b) St.George will not accept for registration or recognise for any purpose any transmission application or transfer in respect of SAINTS received after the Scheme Record Date, except a transfer to Westpac pursuant to this SAINTS Scheme and any subsequent transfer by Westpac.
- (c) For the purpose of determining entitlements to the SAINTS Scheme Consideration, St.George will, until the SAINTS Scheme Consideration has been provided, maintain the SAINTS Register in accordance with the provisions of this clause 7 and the SAINTS Register in this form will solely determine entitlements to the SAINTS Scheme Consideration and any Stub Dividend.
- (d) St.George must procure that, on or before 9.00am on the Business Day following the Scheme Record Date, details of the names, registered addresses and holdings of SAINTS of every SAINTS Scheme Participant as shown in the SAINTS Register at the Scheme Record Date are available to Westpac in such form as Westpac may reasonably require.
- (e) As from the Scheme Record Date (and other than for Westpac, or its successors in title), all share certificates and holding statements for the SAINTS will cease to have effect as documents of title, and each entry on the SAINTS Register at that date will cease to have any effect other than as evidence of entitlement to the SAINTS Scheme Consideration and any Stub Dividend.

8. Quotation of SAINTS

On a date after the Implementation Date to be determined by Westpac, St.George will apply for termination of the official quotation on the ASX of SAINTS.

9. General

Dear Securityholder

How the proposed merger between St. George and Westpac affects you

I am writing to advise you of important information relating to your investment in one or more of the St. George securities: SPS, CPS, CPS II and SAINTS.

On 29 September 2008, St. George released a scheme booklet containing full details of the proposed merger with Westpac Banking Corporation. The St. George Board has unanimously recommended to St. George ordinary shareholders that they vote in favour of the proposed merger, in the absence of a superior proposal.

SAINTS holders

If you hold SAINTS, you should have received a copy of the scheme booklet which sets out information relating to a proposal for Westpac to acquire all SAINTS on issue by way of a scheme of arrangement between St. George and SAINTS holders.

As detailed in the scheme booklet, if the proposed merger and the SAINTS scheme are implemented, you will receive, on the scheme implementation date (1 December 2008), the SAINTS scheme consideration being $100 per SAINTS that you hold on the scheme record date (24 November 2008), and any accrued but unpaid dividend for the period up to but excluding the scheme implementation date. You should read the scheme booklet for full details of the proposal in relation to your SAINTS.

SPS, CPS and CPS II holders

If the proposed merger is approved by St. George ordinary shareholders and the Court, it is intended that St. George will redeem each SPS, CPS and CPS II on issue. If SPS, CPS and CPS II are redeemed, you will receive the face value of $100 per SPS, CPS or CPS II that you hold on the date of redemption (the exchange date), and any accrued but unpaid dividend for the period up to but excluding the exchange date, in accordance with the relevant terms of issue.

If the St. George ordinary shareholders vote in favour of the proposed merger on 13 November 2008 and Court approval is obtained, it is expected that an exchange date will be determined as soon as practicable thereafter and a notice will be sent to you advising of the exchange date.

Westpac has advised St. George that it is considering various options, including the issue of a new Westpac hybrid instrument in which SPS, CPS, CPS II and SAINTS holders can reinvest the redemption proceeds of their SPS, CPS or CPS II or the scheme proceeds of their SAINTS. If Westpac decides to proceed with a new Westpac hybrid, further details will be sent to you after the proposed merger becomes effective. Any offer by Westpac of a new hybrid instrument will be made under a prospectus issued at the time of the offer.

Further information about the proposed merger and the scheme booklet is available at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au or you can contact the Shareholder Information Line on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia).

Yours sincerely,

How to complete this Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form

1 Your address

This is your address as it appears on St. George Bank Limited's Share Register. If this information is incorrect, please mark the box at the top of the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form and make the correction on the form. Securityholders sponsored by a broker (in which case your reference number overleaf will commence with an 'x') should advise your broker of any changes. Please note, you cannot change ownership of your securities using this form.

2 Appointment of a proxy

If you wish to appoint the Chairman of the Meetings as your proxy, mark the appropriate box. If the individual or body corporate you wish to appoint as your proxy is someone other than the Chairman of the Meetings, please write the full name of that individual or body corporate in the space provided. If you leave this section blank, or your named proxy does not attend the Meetings, the Chairman of the Meetings will be your proxy. A proxy does not need to be a securityholder of St. George Bank Limited. Do not write the name of the registered securityholder in the space provided.

3 Votes on items of business

You may direct your proxy how to vote by placing a mark in one of the three boxes opposite each item of business. All your securities will be voted in accordance with such a direction unless you indicate only a portion of voting rights are to be voted on any item. If you do not mark any of the boxes on a given item, your proxy may vote as he or she chooses. The Chairman of the Meetings intends to vote undirected proxies in favour of each item of business at the Meetings. If you mark more than one box for an item, your vote on that item will be invalid.

4 Appointment of a second proxy

You are entitled to appoint two proxies to attend the Meetings and vote on a poll. If you wish to appoint a second proxy, an additional Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form may be obtained by telephoning Computershare (see contact details on the front of your Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form) or you may copy this form.

To appoint a second proxy you must:

- on each Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form, state the percentage of your voting rights or number of securities applicable to that form. If you do not specify the percentage or number of votes that each proxy may exercise, each proxy may only exercise half your votes. Fractions of votes will be disregarded; and
- return both forms together in the same envelope.

5 Signing instructions

You must sign this form as follows in the spaces provided:

Individual: where the holding is in one name, the holder must sign.

Joint holding: where the holding is in more than one name, all of the securityholders should sign.

Otherwise this form must be signed by a director jointly with either another director or a company secretary. Please indicate the office held by signing in the appropriate place.

If a representative of a body corporate appointed as proxy is to attend the Meetings, the appropriate "Certificate of Appointment of Corporate Representative" is required to be produced prior to admission. A form of this certificate can be obtained from Computershare (see the contact details on the front of your Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form) or at www.computershare.com.au.

Agenda

St. George Bank and the economy

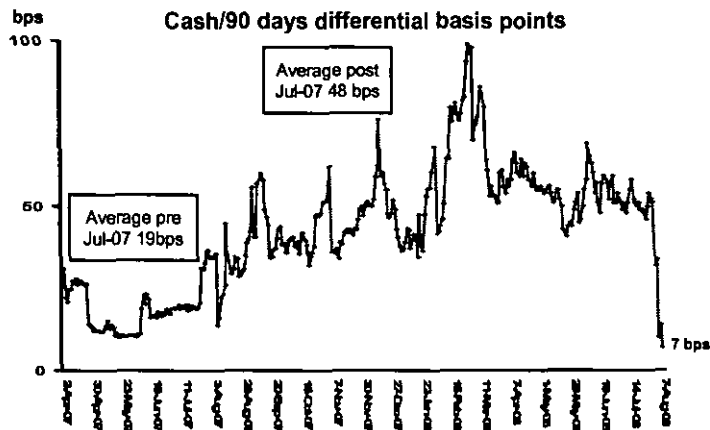

Progress to date

Funding, credit quality and capital

Business priorities, proposed merger and management targets

Funding – cash to 90 days differential

Cash/90 days differential is a source of increased funding costs for all banks

Funding

Total funding by source as at 31 Jul-08[^]

	$bn	%
Retail	55.3	42
Short term wholesale	35.5	27
Term wholesale	20.6	16
Securitisation	16.4	13
Subordinated debt	2.4	2
Preference shares	0.7	0
Total	130.9	100

St.George maintains diversified funding sources

- 13% of funding from securitisation has reduced St.George's immediate demand for committed term wholesale funding
- AA versus A+ rating* is most relevant for term wholesale funding and subordinated debt
- Excluding securitisation St.George's proportion of term wholesale funding is 16%, which is lower than our peers
- Loan to retail deposits ratio is 174%

Notwithstanding our successful funding program to date, access to markets and pricing remains challenging for all borrowers due to the expected volatility and potential worsening of markets

[^]Includes bank bill funding. *Aa2 Moodys Excluding on sold securitised assets and bank bill assets

Funding – maintaining competitiveness

Average rate on interest bearing liabilities

Looking forward

- If funding benefit to AA versus A+ persists for next four years and assuming:
 - an additional 30bps for term and 10bps for short term wholesale; and
 - St.George replaces all existing funding
- Then St.George's funding costs would be 10-12bps over the majors

St.George's total cost of funds is currently similar to the major banks

Based on the most recent half year profit announcements

Funding – the efficiency offset

WBC	43.1
ANZ	44.4
NAB	47.0
CBA	48.4

- St.George's expense to income ratio is 40.5% for the 10 months to Jul-08
- A 1% expense to income advantage over the major banks allows St.George to absorb additional funding costs of $89m or 6-8bps without impacting competitiveness
- St.George's current expense to income advantage over the average of the majors is >3%

St.George's current efficiency advantage of >3% is equivalent to approximately 20bps of additional funding costs

*Expense to incomes are based on the most recent half year profit announcements

Funding – maintaining an appropriate term

Dear Shareholder

St.George and Westpac Agree to Special Dividend and Revised Merger Terms

I am writing to update you about an important and positive development in relation to the proposed merger between St.George and Westpac Banking Corporation.

Last week, on 8 September, St.George and Westpac announced a revised merger proposal, including agreement to the payment of a special dividend to St.George shareholders.

This dividend will be paid in addition to the 2008 final dividend. This recognises the loyalty of St.George shareholders to the Bank in the context of the merger proposal. It is proposed to be paid in conjunction with a package of measures designed to increase the likelihood of completion of the merger transaction and accelerate the benefits of the merger.

Westpac has agreed to this special fully franked dividend payment on the basis that the total of the final dividend plus the special dividend does not exceed $1.25 per St.George share.

This represents an increase of up to $0.28 per share in total potential dividends payable to you and will be paid at the same time as the final dividend in December 2008.

The amount and other details concerning the special dividend will be announced when the St.George annual results are released and the 2008 final dividend is announced on 29 October 2008.

Under the revised merger proposal, St.George shareholders will still receive 1.31 Westpac shares for each St.George share they own, as well as the final dividend and special dividend.

Your Board always considered this to be a compelling proposal. Our initial opinion has now been supported by the Independent Expert, Grant Samuel, who considers that the proposed merger is fair and reasonable and has therefore concluded that in its opinion, the proposed merger is in the best interests of St.George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal. A summary of the Independent Expert's report will be included in the scheme documentation and I encourage you to read it.

Revised Merger Terms

The revised merger terms also include:

- A package of measures designed to increase the likelihood of the merger proceeding and ensure we realise the benefits of the merger for all shareholders more quickly; and
- A break fee of $100 million, payable by St.George in specified circumstances, including a change in the St.George Board's unanimous recommendation of the merger proposal.

Steps will now be taken to minimise integration risk, including a jointly developed strategy to maximise customer retention.

The St.George Board believes the revised merger proposal is a very positive outcome for St.George shareholders and the Board unanimously recommends shareholders vote in favour of the merger, in the absence of a superior proposal.

The revised terms recognise the strength St.George brings to the combined group and to that end, Westpac remains committed to maintaining the St.George branch and ATM networks and its customer-focused culture.

As previously outlined, the St.George brands, including BankSA and Asgard, will be retained and a corporate presence will also be retained in Kogarah.

Together, Westpac and St.George will have a AA credit rating, with a strong capital base and broad-based funding to support future growth.

Next Steps and Key Dates

As a shareholder, you do not need to do anything at this time.

Under the merger timetable, a scheme booklet including full details of the merger proposal, a summary of the Independent Expert's report and instructions on how to vote, is expected to be dispatched to St.George shareholders in mid October.

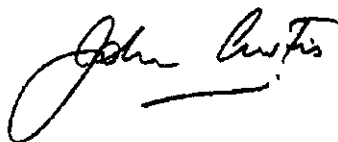

The scheme meeting is expected to be held on 13 November 2008. Details of the meeting, including the time and venue, will be included in the scheme booklet.

You may be aware the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) has announced it will not oppose the merger. The merger also requires approval from the Federal Treasurer.

Further information about the proposed merger is available at stgeorge.com.au or you can contact the Shareholder Information Line on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia).

On behalf of the Board, I would again like to thank shareholders who have contacted us to provide their feedback on the proposed merger. Your continued support and feedback on this significant transaction is important and very much appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

John Curtis
Chairman

Media Release

29 September 2008

St.George/Westpac merger – Scheme Booklet released

St.George Bank Limited today released the Scheme Booklet for the proposed merger with Westpac Banking Corporation. In the Scheme Booklet the St.George Board unanimously recommends that its shareholders vote in favour of the merger proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

St.George Chairman, John Curtis, said: "For St.George shareholders, the merger proposal provides an opportunity to receive an attractive upfront premium and also participate in the value which can be created in a larger and stronger financial services company particularly in uncertain economic times.

"The proposed merger is expected to generate significant benefits for shareholders, customers and employees – including through revenue opportunities, cost synergies and lower funding costs," Mr Curtis said.

Westpac Chairman, Ted Evans, said both the St.George and Westpac Boards support the merger proposal.

"In bringing the two organisations together we are seeking to preserve the best of both, and thereby create a large, more diverse company with opportunities for growth. We expect this transaction to deliver value for shareholders and create an even stronger financial institution," Mr Evans said.

The release of the Scheme Booklet follows the Federal Court of Australia today making orders for the convening of a meeting of St.George shareholders to vote on the scheme of arrangement to give effect to the proposed merger. The Scheme Booklet has been registered with the Australian Securities & Investments Commission (ASIC). It is also available on the St.George merger proposal website: www.stgeorgemrger.com.au.

The Scheme Booklet is expected to be mailed to St.George shareholders by Monday 13 October 2008.

The Board of St.George unanimously recommends that St.George shareholders vote in favour of the merger proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

In addition, the independent expert, Grant Samuel, considers that the merger proposal is "fair" and "reasonable", and has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the merger proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

The reasons for the St.George directors' recommendation are set out in the Scheme Booklet. Also contained in the Scheme Booklet is a summary of the independent expert's report. St.George shareholders are advised to read the Scheme Booklet thoroughly before deciding whether or not to vote in favour of the merger proposal.

St.George has also released a Scheme Booklet Supplement which contains additional information regarding the merger proposal, including the independent expert's report. The Scheme Booklet Supplement is available on the St.George merger proposal website: www.stgeorgemerger.com.au.

If this information is incorrect, please mark the box at the top of the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form and make the correction on the form. Securityholders sponsored by a broker (in which case your reference number overleaf will commence with an 'X') should advise your broker of any changes. Please note, you cannot change ownership of your securities using this form.

2 Appointment of a proxy

If you wish to appoint the Chairman of the Meetings as your proxy, mark the appropriate box. If the individual or body corporate you wish to appoint as your proxy is someone other than the Chairman of the Meetings, please write the full name of that individual or body corporate in the space provided. If you leave this section blank, or your named proxy does not attend the Meetings, the Chairman of the Meetings will be your proxy. A proxy does not need to be a securityholder of St. George Bank Limited. Do not write the name of the registered securityholder in the space provided.

3 Votes on items of business

You may direct your proxy how to vote by placing a mark in one of the three boxes opposite each item of business. All your securities will be voted in accordance with such a direction unless you indicate only a portion of voting rights are to be voted on any item. If you do not mark any of the boxes on a given item, your proxy may vote as he or she chooses. The Chairman of the Meetings intends to vote undirected proxies in favour of each item of business at the Meetings. If you mark more than one box for an item, your vote on that item will be invalid.

4 Appointment of a second proxy

You are entitled to appoint two proxies to attend the Meetings and vote on a poll. If you wish to appoint a second proxy, an additional Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form may be obtained by telephoning Computershare (see contact details on the front of your Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form) or you may copy this form.

To appoint a second proxy you must:

- on each Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form, state the percentage of your voting rights or number of securities applicable to that form. If you do not specify the percentage or number of votes that each proxy may exercise, each proxy may only exercise half your votes. Fractions of votes will be disregarded; and
- return both forms together in the same envelope.

5 Signing instructions

You must sign this form as follows in the spaces provided:

Individual: where the holding is in one name, the holder must sign.

Joint holding: where the holding is in more than one name, all of the securityholders should sign.

Dear St.George Shareholder,

Further to my recent letter to you outlining the revised terms of the merger proposal between St.George and Westpac Banking Corporation, I enclose a Scheme Booklet containing further details of the proposal.

As a St.George shareholder you have the opportunity to vote on this proposal. Your Board has concluded that this merger proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders and unanimously recommends you vote in favour of the merger proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal. In addition, the Independent Expert, Grant Samuel, considers that the merger proposal is "fair" and "reasonable", and has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the merger proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

The enclosed Scheme Booklet contains information on how to vote, details of the shareholder meetings, what you will receive under the merger proposal, any tax implications and the risks associated with the merger proposal. It provides you with information to consider before voting on the merger proposal. You should read the Scheme Booklet thoroughly before deciding whether or not to vote in favour of the merger proposal.

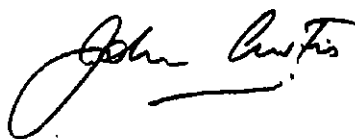

You can vote on the merger proposal in person by attending the shareholder meetings, or by completing and returning the enclosed proxy form in accordance with the instructions on that form, or by submitting your proxy appointment online at www.stgeorgemerger.com.au.

Important dates:

Deadline for receipt of Proxy Forms	12:00 pm (Sydney time) Tuesday, 11 November 2008
Shareholder meetings: Share Scheme Meeting followed by Extraordinary General Meeting	10:00 am (Sydney time) Thursday, 13 November 2008 Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney

Overview of this Scheme Booklet

What is this Scheme Booklet for?

This booklet contains information about the proposed merger of St.George and Westpac by way of a scheme of arrangement (referred to in this Scheme Booklet as the Merger Proposal).

It provides holders of St.George Bank Limited ordinary shares (St.George Shareholders) with information to consider before voting on the Merger Proposal at the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008.

This booklet also provides:

- SAINTS Holders with information to consider before voting on the SAINTS Scheme at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008 after the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting (see Section 10 of this Scheme Booklet for details); and
- Award Option Holders with information to consider before voting on the Option Scheme at the Option Scheme Meeting to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008 after the SAINTS Scheme Meeting (see Section 11 of this Scheme Booklet for details).

Why should St.George Shareholders vote?

If you are a St.George Shareholder, you will have a say in whether the Merger Proposal is implemented.

Is the Merger Proposal in the best interests of St.George Shareholders?

The St.George Directors unanimously recommend that St.George Shareholders vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

The Independent Expert has concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

However, you are not obliged to follow the recommendation of the St.George Directors or the conclusions of the Independent Expert. There are certain factors that may lead you to vote against the Merger Proposal. Some of these factors are outlined in the Section headed "Why you may consider voting against the Merger Proposal" on page 20

Questions?

St.George Security Holders who have questions in relation to the Merger Proposal, SAINTS Scheme or Option Scheme can visit St.George's website for the Merger Proposal (www.stgeorgemerger.com.au), or contact the St.George InfoLine on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday. ASIC and ASX

This Scheme Booklet contains the explanatory statement for each Scheme for the purposes of section 412(1) of the Corporations Act. ASIC has been given the opportunity to comment on this Scheme Booklet in accordance with section 411(2)(b) of the Corporations Act. Neither ASIC nor any of its officers take any responsibility for the contents of this Scheme Booklet.

ASIC has been requested to provide a statement, in accordance with section 411(7)(b) of the Corporations Act, that ASIC has no objection to the Schemes. If ASIC provides that statement, it will be produced to the Court at the time of the Court hearing to approve the Schemes.

A copy of this Scheme Booklet has been provided to ASX. Neither ASX nor any of its officers takes any responsibility for the contents of this Scheme Booklet.

Forward looking statements

Certain statements in this Scheme Booklet relate to the future. The forward looking statements in this Scheme Booklet are not based on historical facts, but rather reflect the current expectations of St. George or, in relation to the Westpac Information, Westpac, concerning future results and events. These statements generally may be identified by the use of forward looking words or phrases such as 'believe', 'aim', 'expect', 'anticipate', 'intend', 'foresee', 'likely', 'should', 'plan', 'may', 'estimate', 'potential', or other similar words and phrases. Similarly, statements that describe St. George's or Westpac's objectives, plans, goals or expectations are or may be forward looking statements.

These forward looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties, assumptions and other important factors that could cause the actual results, performance or achievements of St. George, Westpac or the Merged Group to be materially different from future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such statements. Such forward looking statements are based on numerous assumptions regarding present and future business strategies and the environment in which St. George, Westpac and the Merged Group will operate in the future. Certain important factors that could cause actual results, performance or achievements to differ materially from those in the forward looking statements include, among others, the actions of competitors, activities by governmental authorities such as changes in tax or regulation and general economic conditions. These factors are not necessarily all of the important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed in any forward looking statements. Other unknown factors could also have a material adverse effect on future results of St. George, Westpac or the Merged Group. Forward looking statements should, therefore, be construed in light of such risk factors and undue reliance should not be placed on forward looking statements.

St. George Security Holders should note that the historical financial performance of St. George and Westpac is no assurance of future financial performance of St. George, Westpac and/or the Merged Group (whether or not the Merger Proposal proceeds).

Other than as required by law, neither St. George nor Westpac nor any of the directors of those companies nor any other person gives any representation, assurance or guarantee that the occurrence of the events expressed or implied in any forward looking statements in this Scheme Booklet will actually occur.

The forward looking statements in this Scheme Booklet reflect views held only at the date of this Scheme Booklet. Subject to any continuing obligations under law or the Listing Rules, St. George, Westpac and their respective directors disclaim any obligation or undertaking to disseminate after the date of this Scheme Booklet any updates or revisions to any forward looking statements to reflect any change in expectations in relation to those statements or any change in events, conditions or circumstances on which any such statement is based.

A number of figures, amounts, percentages, estimates, calculations of value and fractions in this Scheme Booklet, including, but not limited to, those in respect of the consideration under each Scheme (Figures), are subject to the effect of rounding. Accordingly, the actual calculation of these Figures may differ from the Figures set out in this Scheme Booklet. In particular, all entitlements to New Westpac Shares will be rounded up or down to the nearest whole number of New Westpac Shares (with any fractional entitlement of 0.5 or more being rounded up) in order to avoid fractions of New Westpac Shares.

This Scheme Booklet, the Merger Proposal, the SAINTS Scheme and the Option Scheme do not, either individually or in combination, constitute an offer to sell to St. George Security Holders or a solicitation of an offer to purchase from St. George Security Holders any securities in St. George or Westpac in any jurisdiction where such an offer or solicitation would be illegal. In particular, St. George Shareholders who are Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders (which, as at the date of this Scheme Booklet, are expected to comprise those St. George Shareholders with registered addresses in jurisdictions outside Australia and its external territories, New Zealand, the UK, the US, Hong Kong and Singapore) will not be issued with New Westpac Shares but will receive a cash payment. Letter from the Chairman of St.George

Dear St.George Security Holder,

Merger proposal

On 26 May 2008, St.George entered into an agreement with Westpac, under which your Board agreed to recommend that St.George shareholders vote in favour of a proposal for St.George to merge with Westpac (Merger Proposal).

Your Board believes that the union of St.George and Westpac will create an even stronger bank. Westpac's vision is that the merger will create Australia's leading financial services company.

The merger will be implemented by:

- a scheme of arrangement under which Westpac would issue to St.George shareholders 1.31 Westpac shares for each St.George share held (Share Scheme); and
- an amendment to the St.George constitution to remove the individual 10% shareholding limit and therefore enable implementation of the Share Scheme (Constitution Amendment).

Directors' recommendation

Your Board unanimously recommends that you vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, subject to no superior proposal emerging, as we believe it is in the best interests of St.George shareholders. Each director who holds St.George shares, or on whose behalf St.George shares are held, at the time of the share scheme meeting or extraordinary general meeting intends to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

This recommendation to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal is based on the following important points:

- the upfront premium value offered to St.George shareholders;
- the findings of the Independent Expert who considers that the Merger Proposal is "fair" and "reasonable" and who has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal;
- the proposed business operating model which is expected to enhance value for shareholders in the merged group; and
- the recognition that as shareholders of the merged group, St.George shareholders will have the opportunity to benefit from the enhanced value of the merged group.

In considering the value of the offer, the Board has considered the value of the Westpac shares offered relative to the potential value of St.George shares in the absence of the Merger Proposal. As at 9 May 2008¹, the offer of 1.31 Westpac shares represented a 28.5% premium to the closing price of St.George shares and a 24.1% premium to the one month VWAP. The Board believes the value of the offer continues to represent an attractive premium taking into account the likely share price of St.George as at the date of this Scheme Booklet in the absence of the Merger Proposal².

In a share-exchange transaction, where an overwhelming majority of our shareholders are expected to retain shares in the merged group, the operating model for the combined business is critical as opposed to an all cash transaction. Under the Merger Proposal, Westpac has advised that the St.George brands, distribution network and distinctive customer service culture will be retained and incorporated in the combined business. Your Board is of the opinion that this approach is likely to enhance the customer experience across the merged group and therefore increase shareholder value.

For St.George shareholders, the Merger Proposal provides an opportunity to receive an upfront premium and also participate in the value which can be created in a larger and stronger financial services company, with existing St.George shareholders expected by Westpac to have ownership of approximately 28% of the merged group. The proposed merger is expected to generate significant benefits for shareholders, customers and employees including through revenue opportunities, cost synergies and lower funding costs. However, like all large transactions, there are integration risks which will need to be managed and the integration risks associated with the Merger Proposal are set out in more detail in this Scheme Booklet.

1 The last trading day prior to the announcement of the Merger Proposal. The above premia are based on share prices of Westpac and St.George adjusted for their respective interim dividends.

2 The Independent Expert believes that, in the absence of the Merger Proposal (or any takeover speculation), St.George shares probably would have fallen by at least as much as Westpac shares (but not necessarily for the same reasons) and would currently be trading at less than $25.00.

It is expected the cash earnings and dividends received on 1.31 new Westpac shares for the 2008/2009 financial year will be greater than the expected cash earnings and dividends which would have been earned or paid (as applicable) on each St.George share on a stand alone basis for the 2008/2009 financial year.

St.George shareholders will have the opportunity to vote on the Merger Proposal at the share scheme meeting and extraordinary general meeting to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008.

Independent Expert's conclusion

The Independent Expert considers that the Merger Proposal is "fair" and "reasonable" and has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal. You should note, however, that the Independent Expert has stated that any conclusions and value judgments need to be considered in light of uncertain and volatile markets. The summary of the Independent Expert's report is included in Section 8 of this booklet and I encourage you to read it.

Dividends

St.George shareholders will receive the final dividend for the 2008 financial year. As announced on 8 September 2008, St.George shareholders will also receive a fully franked special dividend. The amounts of the final dividend and special dividend will be announced when St.George releases its annual results on 29 October 2008, but the aggregate amount will not exceed $1.25 per St.George share.

SAINTS Scheme and Option Scheme

In addition to the Merger Proposal, your Board has agreed to propose a separate scheme of arrangement involving SAINTS holders (SAINTS Scheme) and a separate scheme of arrangement involving award option holders (other than excluded award option holders) (Option Scheme). Further details on the SAINTS Scheme and the Option Scheme are set out in Section 10 and Section 11 respectively.

If you are a SAINTS holder or an award option holder, your Board unanimously recommends that you vote in favour of the SAINTS Scheme and Option Scheme (as the case may be), subject to no superior proposal emerging.

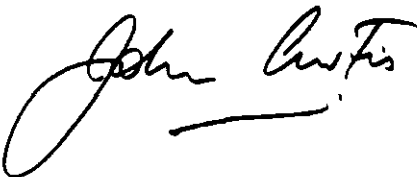

Further information

Please read this Scheme Booklet carefully as it contains important information in relation to the Merger Proposal, the SAINTS Scheme and the Option Scheme and will assist you in making an informed decision. It is important that you cast your vote, either by:

- attending the meeting(s); or
- completing and returning the proxy form(s) which accompany this Scheme Booklet in respect of the meeting(s) in accordance with the instructions on those form(s).

If you have any questions in relation to any part of the Merger Proposal, the SAINTS Scheme or the Option Scheme, please contact the St.George InfoLine on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday, or visit the following website: www.stgeorgemerge.com.au.

Yours faithfully,

John Curtis
Chairman
St.George Bank Limited

Letter from the Chairman of Westpac

29 September 2008

Dear St. George Security Holder,

Proposed merger of St. George Bank Limited and Westpac Banking Corporation

As you are aware, on 26 May 2008, St. George Bank Limited and Westpac Banking Corporation entered into an agreement relating to a proposed merger of the two companies.

Importantly, the boards of both St. George and Westpac support the Merger Proposal and we encourage you to participate in this decision by reading this Scheme Booklet and voting.

In bringing together the two organisations, we are seeking to preserve the best of both, and thereby create a larger, more diverse company with improved opportunities for growth. St. George and Westpac are each strong businesses, with iconic brands and complementary cultures.

The Merger Proposal is a genuine merger, and this will be reflected in:

- retaining the distinctive St. George and Westpac brands;
- maintaining the respective distribution networks of the two banks, including preserving and seeking to enhance existing customer relationships and branches;
- creating a new Westpac Board with three members from the present St. George Board, including your Chairman, John Curtis, as Deputy Chairman of Westpac;
- creating a strong management team that draws from both businesses, recognising the distinct strengths of both; and
- bringing the St. George shareholders and award option holders onto the expanded Westpac share register.

This approach is expected to allow the St. George and Westpac brands, people and customer service culture to grow and flourish.

I believe the agreed exchange ratio strikes an appropriate balance between providing immediate value for St. George shareholders and allowing both St. George and Westpac shareholders to share in the benefits of combining the two organisations. Based on its assessment of the value range for St. George and the value of the consideration under the Merger Proposal, the Independent Expert considers that the Merger Proposal is "fair" and "reasonable" and has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St. George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal. You should note, however, that the Independent Expert has stated that any conclusions and value judgments need to be considered in light of uncertain and volatile markets. The exchange ratio of 1.31 Westpac shares for each St. George share represents a premium of 28.5%, based on the closing prices of St. George and Westpac shares on 9 May 2008 (being the last trading day before announcement of the Merger Proposal)¹.

Westpac has a long and proud history. We are Australia's first bank and first company. Westpac has a strong track record of profits and dividends, resulting in the creation of value for our shareholders. The consistency of our performance reflects the quality of our franchise and our sound risk management disciplines.

In merging with St. George, we expect to deliver value for all shareholders and create Australia's leading financial institution. We aim to achieve this by ultimately creating a better business for our combined customers by increasing product choice and offering more access and convenience for customers.

Your vote is important. I encourage you to read this important document in its entirety and to vote on the Merger Proposal, SAINTS Scheme and/or Option Scheme (as may be applicable to you) by either attending the meeting(s) to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008 or by completing the relevant proxy forms enclosed with this Scheme Booklet and returning them as instructed.

The Merger Proposal is a wonderful opportunity for both St. George and Westpac, and is strongly endorsed by the Westpac Board. We look forward to welcoming St. George shareholders and award option holders as shareholders of Westpac, and to share in the combined strengths of the new organisation.

Yours faithfully,

Ted Evans AC
Chairman
Westpac Banking Corporation

What you will receive under the Merger Proposal

Share Scheme Consideration

If the Merger Proposal is approved and implemented:

- each of the St.George Shares will be transferred to Westpac; and
- each Share Scheme Participant (other than Ineligible Foreign St.George Shareholders) will receive the Share Scheme Consideration of 1.31 New Westpac Shares¹ for each St.George Share that is held on the Scheme Record Date.

The Scheme Record Date is expected to be 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Monday 24 November 2008.

Ineligible Foreign St.George Shareholders (i.e. St.George Shareholders whose address as shown in the Share Register on the Scheme Record Date is outside of Australia and its external territories, New Zealand, the UK, the US, Hong Kong and Singapore) will not receive New Westpac Shares, but will instead receive a cash payment. See Section 1.7 for further details.

Implied value of the Share Scheme Consideration

The table below illustrates the implied value of the Share Scheme Consideration as assessed by the Independent Expert. The actual value of the Share Scheme Consideration at implementation of the Share Scheme will depend on the price of Westpac Shares at that time.

Westpac Share price (Independent Expert's range)	Implied value of Share Scheme Consideration per St.George Share

Timing for provision of the Share Scheme Consideration

The Share Scheme Consideration will be issued to Share Scheme Participants on the Implementation Date, which is currently expected to be Monday 1 December 2008, with holding statements to be despatched within five Business Days after that date. Please refer to Section 1.6 for further details.

Why you should vote in favour of the Merger Proposal

- 1. Your Directors unanimously recommend that you vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal
- 2. St.George Shareholders have been offered a substantial upfront premium
- 3. The proposed operating model, which retains and incorporates St.George's distribution networks, brands and culture, and the strong combined management team available to the Merged Group, are expected to enhance value for St.George Shareholders
- 4. The offer of New Westpac Shares as consideration provides an attractive opportunity for St.George Shareholders to participate in the potential value that could be created in the Merged Group
- 5. The 2009 cash earnings and cash dividends for every 1.31 New Westpac Shares (received as consideration) are expected to be higher than the expected 2009 cash earnings and cash dividends for each St.George Share¹ you currently hold
- 6. Based on its assessment of the value range for St.George and the value of the consideration under the Merger Proposal, the Independent Expert considers that the Merger Proposal is "fair" and "reasonable" and has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal
- 7. Westpac's expected 'AA' Credit Rating, post merger, will provide funding advantages for the Merged Group relative to St.George on a stand alone basis
- 8. St.George Shareholders who are Australian residents for taxation purposes should generally be able to choose to obtain CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief on any capital gains
- 9. Three current St.George Directors will be appointed to the board of Westpac
- 10. If the Merger Proposal is not implemented, in the absence of another proposal emerging, the St.George Share price is likely to fall

¹ Assuming the New Westpac Shares are retained by the St.George Shareholder and, in relation to dividends, excluding the Special Dividend. Does not apply to Ineligible Foreign St.George Shareholders.

1. Your Directors unanimously recommend that you vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal

The St.George Directors have concluded that the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal. In forming this view, the Directors compared the Merger Proposal, including its disadvantages and risks (as outlined in the Section headed "Why you may consider voting against the Merger Proposal" on page 20), to the stand alone position of St.George (see also the Section headed "Other relevant considerations for St.George Shareholders" on page 23).

Each St.George Director who holds St.George Shares, or on whose behalf St.George Shares are held at the time of the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting, intends to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

2. St.George Shareholders have been offered a substantial upfront premium

The key terms of the Merger Proposal were announced on 13 May 2008. As at 9 May 2008 (the last day of trading in St.George Shares and Westpac Shares prior to 13 May 2008), the value of the Share Scheme Consideration (1.31 Westpac Shares for each St.George Share) was $33.10 per St.George Share (based on the closing price of Westpac Shares on 9 May 2008 of $25.27¹).

This represents a 28.5% premium to the closing price of St.George Shares on 9 May 2008 of $25.77.² The Share Scheme Consideration also represents a premium to the one month and three month VWAPs of St.George up to and including 9 May 2008 based on the comparable Westpac VWAPs as shown below.

Notes:

- (1) Spot premium calculated as at 9 May 2008. Both share prices adjusted for the respective interim dividends.
- (2) One month VWAP premium calculated based on the volume weighted average prices of St.George Shares and Westpac Shares for the one month period up to and including 9 May 2008 of $24.90 and $23.59 respectively. Both share prices adjusted for the respective interim dividends.
- (3) Three month VWAP premium calculated based on the volume weighted average prices of St.George Shares and Westpac Shares for the three month period up to and including 9 May 2008 of $24.23 and $22.89 respectively. Both share prices adjusted for the respective interim dividends.

The implied value of the Share Scheme Consideration is dependent on the trading price of Westpac Shares after the Merger Proposal is implemented. In line with the banking sector as a whole, the Westpac Share price has fallen since 9 May 2008, which has had the effect of decreasing the implied value of the Share Scheme Consideration.

The Independent Expert's view is that, while it is not possible to know with certainty what St.George's share price would have been in the absence of the Merger Proposal, having regard to the movements in each of the listed banks and St.George's position, it probably would have fallen by at least as much as Westpac's share price (but not necessarily for the same reasons). To this extent, the effective percentage premium being paid by Westpac is still as much as it was at the time of the announcement.

The Board believes the value of the offer continues to represent an attractive premium having regard to the likely price of St.George Shares as at the date of this Scheme Booklet in the absence of the Merger Proposal³.

As at 26 September 2008, the last day of trading in Westpac Shares prior to the date of this Scheme Booklet, the closing price of Westpac Shares was $23.98 (implying a Share Scheme Consideration value of $31.41 per St.George Share) and the closing price of St.George Shares was $31.50. Further implied values based on the historical trading price of Westpac Shares are set out below.

	Westpac Share price	Implied value of Scheme Consideration based on 1.31 Westpac Shares
Closing price on 9 May 2008, adjusted for interim dividend	$25.27	$33.10
One month VWAP to 9 May 2008 adjusted for interim dividend	$23.59	$30.91
Three month VWAP to 9 May 2008 adjusted for interim dividend	$22.89	$29.98
Closing price on 26 September 2008	$23.98	$31.41
One month VWAP to 26 September 2008	$23.50	$30.79
Three month VWAP to 26 September 2008	$21.88	$28.66

3. The proposed operating model, which retains and incorporates St.George's distribution networks, brands and culture, and the strong combined management team available to the Merged Group, are expected to enhance value for St.George Shareholders

Westpac has stated that:

- its proposed operating model aims to preserve existing customer relationships across both St.George and Westpac in order to minimise customer attrition and maximise the value of the Merged Group (see Section 4.3(b)(i));
- it is focussed on retaining customer relationships by enhancing, over time, the customer experience through an increase in product choice and greater access and convenience for customers (see Section 4.3(b)(iv));
- the St.George brands, including BankSA and Asgard, and the St.George/BankSA branch and ATM networks, will be retained within the Merged Group (see Section 4.2(a));
- there will be no net reduction in branch or ATM numbers of St.George and Westpac (see Section 4.2(a)); and
- it intends to continue to have a corporate presence in Kogarah (see Section 4.6(d)).

Both St.George and Westpac have strong management teams. Mrs Gail Kelly is the Managing Director and CEO of Westpac Banking Corporation and will be the chief executive of the Merged Group. Gail Kelly's previous leadership as Managing Director and CEO at St.George will bring to the Merged Group a deep understanding and detailed knowledge of St.George's culture, customers and operations. Westpac intends that the combined management team for the Merged Group will be chosen from both St.George and Westpac, recognising the distinct strengths of both.

4. The offer of New Westpac Shares as consideration provides an opportunity for St. George Shareholders to participate in the potential value that could be created in the Merged Group

If the Merger Proposal is completed, St. George Shareholders will hold shares in the Merged Group representing approximately 28% of the total shares in Westpac post the merger (see Section 4.6(a)).

Westpac has stated that:

- it expects the Merger Proposal to present benefits to the Merged Group's shareholders through revenue opportunities, cost synergies and other benefits (see Section 4.3(b));
- it expects the key revenue opportunities of the Merged Group are a broader distribution base, sharing best practice in products and services and an expanded capability in wealth, insurance and institutional banking (see Section 4.3(b)(i)); and
- in respect of cost synergies, it expects pre-tax savings as a result of the Merger Proposal to be approximately 20–25% of St. George's total operating expenses (excluding interest expense and loan impairment charges) by the third year after the Implementation Date - these cost savings will be sourced from the Merged Group and generated primarily through aligning product processing operations and investment in technology, synergies from combining various support functions, procurement and potential service contract savings, and the combination of head offices of St. George and Westpac (see Section 4.3(b)(ii)).

Westpac also states that it expects shareholders will have the opportunity to benefit from the enhanced positioning and scale of the Merged Group, which will be Australia's leading financial services company. Specifically, as set out in Section 4.3(a), the Merged Group will be:

- Australia's largest branch network with almost 1,200 branches;
- Australia's second largest ATM network with more than 2,700 ATMs;
- Australia's largest provider of home lending;
- Australia's largest provider of wealth platforms by funds under administration;
- Australia's second largest business banking lender; and
- Australia's second largest bank by assets.

5. The 2009 cash earnings and cash dividends for every 1.31 New Westpac Shares (received as consideration) is expected to be higher than the expected 2009 cash earnings and cash dividends for each St.George Share¹ you currently hold

If the merger of St.George and Westpac is implemented, it is expected that the 2009 cash earnings for², and cash dividends paid on every 1.31 New Westpac Shares (which you would receive for each St.George Share you currently hold) would be greater than the expected 2009 cash earnings for, and cash dividends which would have been paid on, each St.George Share you currently hold.

This expectation is based on, and is subject to, various matters such as:

- Westpac's advice to St.George relating to:
 - Westpac's expected cash earnings outcome for the year to 30 September 2009 on a stand alone basis;
 - Westpac's expected cost synergies as discussed in Section 4.3(b)(ii); and
 - Westpac's expected dividend outcome for the year to 30 September 2009;
- St.George's expected cash earnings outcome for the year to 30 September 2009 on a stand alone basis; and
- the Share Scheme Consideration of 1.31 New Westpac Shares for each St.George Share.

A number of factors will influence the earnings of, and therefore the dividends payable by, the Merged Group in future years including:

- the future performance of the Merged Group including the impacts of:
 - economic conditions; and
 - changes in financial market conditions;
- the amount and timing of cost savings and revenue enhancements realised;
- the extent of customer attrition as a consequence of the implementation of the Merger Proposal;
- the amount and timing of integration costs, the degree to which these costs are capitalised and the rate at which they are amortised; and
- further developments and transactions by the Merged Group.

A number of the factors which may influence the future earnings of, and therefore the dividends payable by, St.George on a stand alone basis are discussed in the section headed "Other relevant considerations for St.George Shareholders" on pages 23 to 24.

St.George Shareholders should note that the level of future dividend income and franking on New Westpac Shares will ultimately depend upon the Merged Group's future earnings (which are influenced by various factors as described above), tax position and dividend policy. Accordingly, no assurance can be given as to the timing, extent and payment of dividends or the extent to which dividends will be franked.

The dividend expectation described above in respect of the St.George Shares excludes the Special Dividend which St.George Shareholders will receive along with the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend. In the context of the Merger Proposal, the Special Dividend is proposed to be paid in conjunction with a package of measures designed to increase the certainty of completion of the transaction and accelerate merger benefits. Further details concerning the Special Dividend are set out in Section 1.13(b).

² Cash earnings is net profit available to equity holders of the relevant entity, adjusted for material items to ensure they appropriately reflect profits normally available for ordinary shareholders. The adjustments are likely to be similar to those previously made by St.George (see Section 2.4(e)) and Westpac (see Section 3.11(c)) with further adjustments to exclude the impact of integration costs and the amortisation charges relating to certain intangible assets recognised as part of the acquisition accounting for the merger. Cash earnings per share in respect of an entity is calculated as cash earnings divided by the basic weighted average number of shares in the entity.

6. Based on its assessment of the value range for St.George and the value of the consideration under the Merger Proposal, the Independent Expert considers that the Merger Proposal is “fair” and “reasonable” and has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal

The Independent Expert has concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

The Independent Expert has estimated the full underlying value of St.George, including a control premium, to be in the range of $30.62 to $35.02 per St.George Share (after adjusting for the incremental dividend)¹. The value was estimated having regard to both discounted cash flow analysis and multiples of net profit after tax.

The Independent Expert has assessed a current value for the consideration under the Merger Proposal of $30.13 to $33.40 based on an estimated market value of Westpac Shares of $23.00 to $25.50.

While the bottom end of the value of the consideration is slightly below the bottom end of the value range for St.George, it is the range for the value of the consideration and not an individual price that is the relevant consideration. There is a very substantial degree of overlap and over 85% of the value range for the consideration falls within the St.George valuation range. Accordingly, the Independent Expert considers the Merger Proposal is “fair” and therefore “reasonable”. You should note, however, that the Independent Expert has stated that any conclusions and value judgments need to be considered in light of uncertain and volatile markets.

A summary of the Independent Expert’s Report is contained in Section 8. You are encouraged to read this summary. A copy of the complete Independent Expert’s Report is contained in the Scheme Booklet Supplement, which may be obtained by contacting the St.George Infoline on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday. A copy of the Scheme Booklet Supplement can be requested online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au. In addition, an electronic version of the Scheme Booklet Supplement will also be available for downloading and viewing from that website.

7. Westpac’s expected ‘AA’ Credit Rating, post merger, will provide funding advantages for the Merged Group relative to St.George on a stand alone basis

The current dislocation in the global credit markets has reduced access to term wholesale funding and increased the cost of term wholesale funding for all banks, including St.George and Westpac. It is not possible to determine when global credit market conditions will improve.

As set out in Section 4.7(c), post the merger, Westpac is expected to have a ‘AA’ Credit Rating. This higher credit rating should provide the Merged Group with improved access to term wholesale funding and a lower cost of term wholesale funding than St.George could achieve stand alone.

¹ The Independent Expert has adjusted the full underlying value to take into account an assumed incremental dividend of $0.28 per St.George Share (based on the difference between the maximum St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend set out in the Merger Implementation Agreement of $0.97 and the maximum aggregate of the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend set out in the Merger Implementation Agreement of $1.25). An assumption as to the amount of the incremental dividend has been made because, as noted in Section 1.13(b), the amount of the Special Dividend will not be known until it is announced on 29 October 2008, when the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend is announced.

8. St.George Shareholders who are Australian residents for taxation purposes should generally be able to choose to obtain CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief on any capital gains

Greenwoods & Freehills Pty Limited as tax adviser to St.George has advised St.George that Share Scheme Participants who would otherwise make a capital gain in respect of their St.George Shares, should generally be eligible to choose to obtain CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief.

The ATO has been requested to confirm this. Details of the ATO's decision will be placed on the website www.stgeorgemerger.com.au when it becomes available.

CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief enables St.George Shareholders who are Australian residents for taxation purposes to defer any CGT liability they would otherwise incur on disposal of their St.George Shares until the time they dispose of the New Westpac Shares they receive under the Share Scheme.

For further details on the Australian tax implications of the Share Scheme, please refer to Section 9.

9. Three current St.George Directors will be appointed to the board of Westpac

Three current St.George Directors will be appointed to the board of Westpac, including St.George's current Chairman, John Curtis, who will be appointed Deputy Chairman.

This is broadly in proportion to the anticipated aggregated shareholding of St.George Shareholders in Westpac post the merger (being approximately 28%) (see Section 4.6(a)).

The Westpac Board is chaired by Mr Ted Evans, and includes Mrs Gail Kelly as Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director, and the other five current Westpac Directors as Non-executive Directors.

10. If the Merger Proposal is not implemented, in the absence of another proposal emerging, the St.George Share price is likely to fall

It is difficult to predict the St.George Share price movement in the absence of the Merger Proposal or speculation regarding an alternative proposal.

St.George expects that, in the absence of the Merger Proposal or speculation regarding an alternative proposal, the St.George Share price is likely to trade at levels below the price at which it has traded since the Merger Proposal was announced on 13 May 2008 (although this is difficult to predict with any degree of certainty).

The Independent Expert believes that in the absence of the Merger Proposal or any takeover speculation, St.George Shares "would currently be trading at less than $25.00".

Why you may consider voting against the Merger Proposal

The St. George Directors are of the opinion that the benefits of the Merger Proposal outweigh its disadvantages and unanimously recommend that St. George Shareholders vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

However, you are not obliged to follow the recommendation of the St. George Directors or the conclusions of the Independent Expert. Some factors that may lead you to vote against the Merger Proposal are outlined below.

You should also read the Section headed "Other relevant considerations for St. George Shareholders" on page 23 and all of Section 5, which sets out a number of potential risks that should be considered when assessing whether to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal.

- 1. The Merged Group will be exposed to a number of integration risks
- 2. Potential share price volatility may affect the value of New Westpac Shares
- 3. Westpac is exposed to some risks which do not impact St. George on a stand alone basis
- 4. There is a possibility that a superior proposal emerges in the future whether prior to the Share Scheme Meeting or if the Share Scheme does not proceed
- 5. There is a fixed share consideration ratio for St. George Shareholders

1. The Merged Group will be exposed to a number of integration risks

In addition to the risks within each of St. George and Westpac's businesses on a stand alone basis, there are significant integration risks associated with the integration of two organisations the size of St. George and Westpac.

The success of the Merger Proposal and, in particular, the ability to realise the synergy value outlined in Section 4.3(b)(ii) will be dependent on the successful implementation of the proposed operating model. This will involve, among other things, St. George and Westpac being integrated effectively, without material disruption to the businesses and in a timely manner. Any material disruption to the business during the integration period is likely to increase the level of customer attrition across the business and potentially lead to heightened pressure by competitors seeking to take advantage of such a disruption, which will impact upon the future growth and profitability of the Merged Group¹.

Areas of particular integration risk identified by Westpac in Section 5.4 include:

- difficulties or unexpected costs relating to the integration of information technology platforms, financial and accounting systems and management systems of the two organisations;
- difficulties or unexpected costs in realising synergies from the consolidation of head office and back office functions;
- higher than expected levels of customer attrition arising as a result of the Merger Proposal;
- unexpected losses of key personnel during or following the integration of the two businesses;
- possible conflict in the culture of the two organisations and decrease in employee morale caused by uncertainty arising from the transaction; and
- potential damage to the reputation of brands due to actions from competitors, media and lobby groups in relation to the Merger Proposal.

In addition, Westpac has stated that it is currently implementing the changes to its organisational structure in relation to the Business Financial Services, Consumer Financial Services and Business Technology Solutions and Services divisions (which were announced by Westpac in July 2008). As stated in Westpac's announcement, to facilitate the end-to-end redesign of Westpac's products and processes from a customer perspective, all consumer and business product development, management and operations will be brought together in a new division called Product and Operations. These changes align Westpac's structure with the proposed operating model for the Merged Group and their continued implementation will be appropriately sequenced with the merger as part of an overall transformation plan. These changes are significant, both in scale and investment requirements, and are likely to continue to be implemented at the same time as integrating St. George's businesses to form the Merged Group. Accordingly, there may be some diversion of frontline personnel as well as senior management and this may lead to lower sales productivity and additional customer attrition, potentially impacting the financial performance of the Merged Group.

Realisation of these risks could impact upon the future profitability and prospects of the Merged Group which may result in the future value of Westpac Shares being lower than as at the date of this Scheme Booklet.

¹ The Independent Expert considers that the risks associated with Merger Proposal are reflected in the Westpac Share price and that if the Merger Proposal was assumed to be successfully implemented and the synergies fully realised there would be a case for a materially higher Westpac Share price than the value assessed by the Independent Expert.

2. Potential share price volatility may affect the value of New Westpac Shares

Westpac has stated that it will issue up to 745 million New Westpac Shares under the Share Scheme and Option Scheme. This will be equivalent to approximately 28% of the total shares in Westpac post the merger (see Section 4.6(a)). If the Share Scheme is implemented and a significant number of St.George Shareholders sell their New Westpac Shares, there may be some volatility in the Westpac Share price in the short-term.

Volatility in share markets or sentiment towards the financial services sector and general exposure as an ASX listed entity may mean that the future value of Westpac Shares could be lower than as at the date of this Scheme Booklet.

3. Westpac is exposed to some risks which do not impact St.George on a stand alone basis

As set out in Section 5.3, in addition to the risk factors common to both St.George and Westpac, there are some risks to which only Westpac's businesses are currently exposed. Accordingly, they are risks to which the Merged Group will be exposed.

If the Merger Proposal is implemented, St.George Shareholders (other than Ineligible Foreign St.George Shareholders) will become exposed to these risks via the acquisition of an investment in the Merged Group. However, it is possible that the degree to which the Merged Group will be exposed to a particular risk is greater than, or less than, the degree to which Westpac is currently exposed on a stand alone basis.

The risks identified by Westpac in Section 5.3 include exposure to New Zealand's economic, regulatory, political and tax environment (noting that in FY2007, approximately 18% of Westpac's revenue was generated in New Zealand).

4. There is a possibility that a superior proposal emerges in the future whether prior to the Share Scheme Meeting or if the Share Scheme does not proceed

There has been only one bidder for St.George. It is not clear whether in different and more stable market conditions, a more competitive bidding process may have taken place leading to a higher offer from Westpac or another party.

It is possible that a superior proposal for St.George, which is more attractive for St.George Shareholders than the Share Scheme, may materialise in the future.

However, the St.George Board is not aware of any superior proposal and notes that, since the announcement of the signing of the Merger Implementation Agreement on 26 May 2008, there has been ample opportunity for an alternative proposal to emerge.

The Independent Expert believes that while there is a possibility of a superior proposal being put forward by an alternative party, the likelihood is relatively low.

5. There is a fixed share consideration ratio for St.George Shareholders

The consideration that you will receive under the Share Scheme is fixed at 1.31 New Westpac Shares per St.George Share.

This ratio will not change even if the value of Westpac Shares decreases or the value of St.George Shares increases, or vice versa, prior to the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme. The value of New Westpac Shares received on the Implementation Date will vary over time.

Other relevant considerations for St.George Shareholders

Prospects of St.George on a stand alone basis

Section 2 of this Scheme Booklet describes the business and historical performance of St.George on a stand alone basis. St.George has been consistently one of the top 20 Australian companies by market capitalisation for the last 10 years.

St.George's business has been focussed on Australian customers and markets, with operations in Retail, Corporate & Business Banking and Wealth Management. It has achieved strong financial results with a market leading cost to income ratio. This has been supported by excellence in customer satisfaction, brand and employee recognition. In the last decade, its expansion into Wealth Management and Corporate & Business Banking has provided a solid base for further growth.

If the Merger Proposal is not implemented (and in the absence of a superior proposal), St.George will continue to operate under the current market conditions on a stand alone basis. While it is not possible to predict future market conditions, in deciding whether to vote in favour of or against the Merger Proposal, St.George Shareholders should have regard to the prospects of St.George on a stand alone basis (i.e. if the Merger Proposal is not approved and implemented).

In that respect, the following comments about the impact of the current market conditions should be taken into account.

- The financial services sector has experienced a range of pressures, including increased cost of funding and some restrictions on access to offshore debt markets for all banks.
- In addition, the softening growth across the broader Australian economy and general economic conditions have started to impact the rate of credit growth across all sectors and there has been some increase in credit default rates.
- In this environment St.George is expected to continue to benefit from its historically lower cost to income ratio relative to the major banks and its domestically based operations.
- However, these difficult market conditions are expected to continue for some indeterminate time into the future. While these conditions exist, the rate of growth of earnings for St.George and other banks is likely to reduce, compared to that experienced over the past five years. This, along with a possible increase in capital requirements (see further below), could result in lower or no growth in earnings per share for St.George.¹

In particular, on a stand alone basis, St.George's growth in earnings may be impacted by the following.

- While St.George has experienced strong credit growth across a number of business lines, this rate of growth is likely to slow given current economic and market conditions.
- In the current market environment, it is the intention of the St.George Board to increase its Tier 1 capital ratio to closer to 7% by 31 March 2009, which is above St.George's regulatory minimum of 6.25%. In these circumstances, St.George may seek to increase capital by reducing the ordinary dividends paid and/or undertaking further capital raisings. St.George has entered into a conditional underwriting agreement for the amount of the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend, which will only operate if the Merger Proposal does not proceed. St.George would also need to consult with APRA concerning the total aggregate amount of the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend if the merger does not proceed.
- The likely slowdown in the rate of profit growth and possible increase in St.George's capital base in the near future mentioned above would also impact profits available for distribution, which correspondingly may cause the dividend payout to be reduced in the near term.

- St.George is currently rated 'A+' by Standard & Poor's. This is a relatively strong credit rating which has enabled St.George to successfully access term wholesale funding markets in Australia and offshore over a number of years. However, the severe deterioration in credit markets globally has led to an additional increase in the cost of term wholesale funding for St.George relative to the major banks because of its lower credit rating and reduced access to those markets. In addition, while securitisation has been an important source of wholesale funding for the bank, as a result of the global credit crisis and recent market volatility, access to securitisation markets is severely limited. If global credit markets were subject to further deterioration for a prolonged period of time, as a Standard & Poor's 'A+' rated bank, St.George would continue to be disadvantaged relative to the position of Westpac which is rated 'AA' by Standard & Poor's.¹
 - In terms of access to funding, it should be noted that St.George's term wholesale funding for the 2008 financial year was 100% completed by June 2008, and it has already raised $4.6 billion representing 40% of its expected requirements for the 2009 financial year, although no assurance can be given as to access to available markets and the cost of such funding in the future.
 - On 12 May 2008, the rating by Moody's Investors Service (Moody's) of St.George was placed on review - direction uncertain - following the announcement by Westpac that it was in merger discussions with St.George. Moody's has indicated that if the Merger Proposal does not proceed, or is not completed within the envisaged timeframe, there would be potential for downward pressure on St.George's bank financial strength rating, subject to some qualifications. If that rating were to be downgraded, there would also be potential for downward pressure on St.George's deposit and debt ratings. See Section 2.7 for a full description of Moody's Investors Service's assessment.²
 - As a result of the general economic conditions, bad and doubtful debts could increase, particularly if there was a material decline in the value of residential and/or commercial property.

¹ The credit rating references are based on information publicly released by Standard & Poor's and Moody's Investors Service (Rating Agencies), as applicable. The Rating Agencies have not consented to the use of these credit rating references in this Scheme Booklet. The credit ratings are not recommendations by the Rating Agencies to buy, sell or hold St. George or Westpac debt or equity securities or for St. George Security Holders to vote in favour of or against the Share Scheme, SAINTS Scheme or Option Scheme. Each of the Rating Agencies may revise or withdraw their credit rating of St. George and/or Westpac at any time.

Frequently asked questions

This Section answers some frequently asked questions about the Merger Proposal. It is not intended to address all relevant issues for St.George Shareholders. This Section should be read together with all other parts of this Scheme Booklet.

Questions about the Merger Proposal

1. What is the Merger Proposal?

The proposal is for St.George to merge with Westpac by way of:

- the acquisition by Westpac of all of the St.George Shares via the Share Scheme in exchange for the issue to St.George Shareholders of 1.31 New Westpac Shares for each St.George Share held on the Scheme Record Date; and
- the Constitution Amendment to remove the individual 10% shareholding limit to enable implementation of the Share Scheme.

2. What are the reasons to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal?

The St.George Directors are of the opinion that the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders for the following reasons.

- Your Directors unanimously recommend that you vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.
- St.George Shareholders have been offered a substantial upfront premium.
- The proposed operating model, which retains and incorporates St.George's distribution networks, brands and culture, and the strong combined management team available to the Merged Group, are expected to enhance value for St.George Shareholders.
- The offer of New Westpac Shares as consideration provides an attractive opportunity for St.George Shareholders to participate in the potential value that could be created in the Merged Group.
- The 2009 cash earnings and cash dividends for every 1.31 New Westpac Shares (received as consideration) are expected to be higher than the expected 2009 cash earnings and cash dividends for each St.George Share¹ you currently hold.
- Based on its assessment of the value range for St.George and the value of the consideration under the Merger Proposal, the Independent Expert considers that the Merger Proposal is "fair" and "reasonable" and has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.
- Westpac's expected 'AA' Credit Rating, post merger, will provide funding advantages for the Merged Group relative to St.George on a stand alone basis.
- St.George Shareholders who are Australian residents for taxation purposes should generally be able to choose to obtain CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief on any capital gains.
- Three current St.George Directors will be appointed to the board of Westpac.
- If the Merger Proposal is not implemented, in the absence of another proposal emerging, the St.George Share price is likely to fall.

Please refer to the Section headed "Why you should vote in favour of the Merger Proposal" on page 13 for further details.

3. What are the reasons why St.George Shareholders might vote against the Merger Proposal?

Some factors that may lead a St.George Shareholder to vote against the Merger Proposal include the following:

- The Merged Group will be exposed to a number of integration risks, and Westpac is exposed to some risks which do not impact St.George on a stand alone basis.
- There is a fixed share consideration ratio for St.George Shareholders.

Please refer to the Section headed "Why you may consider voting against the Merger Proposal" on page 20 for further details.

4. What are the risks associated with the Merger Proposal?

For St.George Shareholders who are to receive New Westpac Shares under the Share Scheme, the risks associated with the Merger Proposal include, but are not limited to risk factors:

- that are common to the existing businesses of St.George and Westpac, and which will therefore be risks to which the Merged Group will be exposed (e.g. risks relating to the Australian and general economy, credit risk, dislocation in global capital markets (debt and equity), liquidity risk, and regulatory and tax);
- that are specific to Westpac's existing businesses, and which will therefore be risks to which the Merged Group will be exposed (e.g. New Zealand's economic, regulatory, political and tax environment);
- arising in relation to the implementation of the Merger Proposal itself (e.g. integration risk and changes to the Westpac organisational structure); and
- that relate to the trading price of Westpac Shares.

Please refer to Section 5 for further details.

5. What do the St.George Directors recommend in respect of the Merger Proposal?

The Directors have unanimously recommended that St.George Shareholders vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal. Additionally, each St.George Director who holds St.George Shares, or on whose behalf St.George Shares are held at the time of the Share Scheme Meeting and the Extraordinary General Meeting, intends to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

Please refer to Section 1.2 for further details.

Questions about the Merged Group

6. How will the Merged Group differ from St.George?

The Merged Group will be a significantly larger financial services organisation than St.George with an enhanced distribution network, strong capital position and broad based funding. Post the merger, Westpac is expected to have a 'AA' Credit Rating, resulting in improved access to funding and achievement of a lower cost of funding than St.George could achieve stand alone.

Section 5 sets out the risk factors that could adversely affect the Merged Group's business.

7. What will be the pro forma ownership of the Merged Group if the Merger Proposal proceeds?

If the Share Scheme is approved and implemented, the former St.George Shareholders who are Share Scheme Participants will hold approximately 28% of the Westpac Shares then on issue (see Section 4.6(a)).

8. What will be the strategy of the Merged Group?

The Merged Group's vision is to become the leading financial services company in Australia and New Zealand.

Underlying this vision is a customer focussed strategy whereby the Merged Group will seek to create a culture in which customers are at the centre of everything it does. This includes designing products, developing its distribution footprint and organising service around the needs of customers.

The strategy will be supported by a combined operating model which consists of four customer facing divisions with common support and corporate functions. Refer to Section 4.2 for a description of the proposed operating model for the Merged Group.

9. Who will be the directors of Westpac?

Each of the current Westpac Directors will remain on the Westpac Board following the implementation of the Merger Proposal, with Mr Ted Evans remaining as Chairman. Westpac will appoint three current St.George Directors to join the Westpac Board on the implementation of the Merger Proposal, including Mr John Curtis, the current Chairman of St.George, who will become the Deputy Chairman of Westpac. The number of St.George Directors on the Westpac Board will be broadly in proportion to the anticipated aggregated shareholding of St.George Shareholders in Westpac post merger (being approximately 28%) (see Section 4.6(a)).

Questions about the Share Scheme

10. What is the Share Scheme?

The Share Scheme is a scheme of arrangement between St. George and St. George Shareholders that will, if implemented, result in the acquisition of all of the St. George Shares by Westpac.

The Share Scheme is subject to a number of Conditions Precedent which are summarised in Section 7.2. In broad terms, the Conditions Precedent are:

- the receipt of approvals by St. George Shareholders, the Court and other regulatory bodies (including approval from the Federal Treasurer under the Financial Sector (Shareholdings) Act and Banking Act);
- there being no Court orders or statutory restraints preventing implementation of the Share Scheme;
- the New Westpac Shares being approved for official quotation by ASX;
- there being no occurrence of a St. George Prescribed Occurrence, Westpac Prescribed Occurrence, St. George Material Adverse Change or Westpac Material Adverse Change (each as defined in the Merger Implementation Agreement); and
- the representations and warranties given by St. George and Westpac in the Merger Implementation Agreement being true and correct.

11. What is the Independent Expert's conclusion on the Share Scheme?

Based on its assessment of the value range for St. George and the value of the consideration under the Merger Proposal, the Independent Expert, Grant Samuel, considers that the Merger Proposal is "fair" and "reasonable" and has therefore concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St. George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal. You should note, however, that the Independent Expert has stated that any conclusions and value judgments need to be considered in light of uncertain and volatile markets.

A summary of the Independent Expert's Report is set out in Section 8. St. George Shareholders are encouraged to read that summary in its entirety, including the assumptions, qualifications and disclaimers on which the Independent Expert's conclusions are based. The complete Independent Expert's Report contains more detailed information on the Independent Expert's conclusions. A copy of the complete Independent Expert's Report is contained in the Scheme Booklet Supplement.

Questions about the Share Scheme Consideration

12. What is the Share Scheme Consideration?

On the Implementation Date, Share Scheme Participants (other than those who are Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders) will be issued 1.31 New Westpac Shares for each St. George Share held on the Scheme Record Date as Share Scheme Consideration.

Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders should refer to Section 1.7 for details of the consideration they will receive.

Please refer to the Section headed "What you will receive under the Merger Proposal" on page 12 for further details.

13. When will I receive the Share Scheme Consideration?

If the Share Scheme becomes Effective, New Westpac Shares will be issued to Share Scheme Participants on the Implementation Date. The Implementation Date is currently expected to be Monday 1 December 2008.

Please refer to Section 1.6 for further details.

Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders should refer to Section 1.7 for details about the timing and form of payment of the consideration they will receive.

14. How will I be notified of my new holdings in Westpac?

Statements confirming the issue of New Westpac Shares are expected to be despatched as soon as practicable on and from the Implementation Date. The Implementation Date is currently expected to be Monday 1 December 2008.

Please refer to Section 1.6 for further details.

15. When can I start trading my New Westpac Shares?

New Westpac Shares are expected to trade on a deferred settlement basis at the commencement of trading on Tuesday 18 November 2008. It is the responsibility of each New Westpac Shareholder to confirm their holding before trading in New Westpac Shares to avoid the risk of selling shares that they do not own. Normal trading of New Westpac Shares is expected to commence on Tuesday 2 December 2008, the Trading Day after the expected Implementation Date.

Please refer to Section 1.6 for further details.

Questions about dividends

16. Will I receive the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and/or Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend?

The St.George Board expects to declare a fully franked final dividend in relation to FY2008 (St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend) at the same time as the announcement of St.George's full year results on Wednesday 29 October 2008.

St.George Shareholders will receive the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend provided they are registered as St.George Shareholders on the record date for that dividend (expected to be Monday 24 November 2008, the same day as the Scheme Record Date). The amount of the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend will be consistent with St.George's usual dividend payout ratio, but will not be more than $0.97 per St.George Share.

It is anticipated that the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend will be paid on Thursday 18 December 2008. The St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend will be paid irrespective of the outcome of the Merger Proposal.

However, the Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend will not be payable on the New Westpac Shares issued to St.George Shareholders under the Share Scheme.

17. What is the Special Dividend?

In addition to the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend, St.George Shareholders will also receive a fully franked special dividend (Special Dividend).

In the context of the Merger Proposal, the Special Dividend is proposed to be paid in conjunction with a package of measures designed to increase the certainty of completion of the transaction and accelerate merger benefits.

The Special Dividend will be paid at the same time as the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend. The amount of the Special Dividend will be announced on 29 October 2008 when the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend is announced. The aggregate amount of the Special Dividend and the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend will not exceed $1.25 per St.George Share.

Please refer to Section 1.13(b) for further details.

18. Will the St.George dividend reinvestment plan operate in respect of the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend?

If the Merger Proposal is approved and implemented, the St.George dividend reinvestment plan will be terminated and therefore will not operate in respect of the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend. In that case, the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend will be paid in the form of cash only.

Please refer to the Section headed "Meeting details and how to vote on the Merger Proposal" on page 10 for further details.

22. How do I vote if I am not able to attend the Share Scheme Meeting?

An Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form in respect of the Share Scheme Meeting is included with this Scheme Booklet. St. George Shareholders who are unable to attend the Share Scheme Meeting and who wish to appoint a proxy to attend and vote at the Share Scheme Meeting on their behalf should complete the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form (which covers both the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting) and return it to the St. George Registry in accordance with the instructions on the form so that it is received by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008.

Alternatively, St. George Shareholders can submit their proxy appointment(s) online at www.stgeorgemerger.com.au, by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008.

Questions about the Constitution Amendment

25. What is the Constitution Amendment?

The Constitution Amendment is a proposed amendment to the St. George Constitution to remove the limit on the amount of issued share capital in St. George that any one shareholder (together with their associates) can hold. As Westpac intends to acquire 100% of the issued share capital of St. George, this limit needs to be removed in order for the Share Scheme to be implemented.

St. George has convened the Extraordinary General Meeting to consider and, if thought fit, approve the Constitution Amendment.

The resolution to be considered at the Extraordinary General Meeting is set out in full in the Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting included as Annexure D.

Please refer to Section 1.11 for further details.

26. What do the St. George Directors recommend in respect of the Constitution Amendment?

The St. George Directors unanimously recommend that St. George Shareholders vote in favour of the Constitution Amendment at the Extraordinary General Meeting. Additionally, each St. George Director who holds St. George Shares, or on whose behalf St. George Shares are held at the time of the Extraordinary General Meeting, intends to vote in favour of the Constitution Amendment.

Questions about the Extraordinary General Meeting

27. When and where will the Extraordinary General Meeting be held?

The Extraordinary General Meeting is being held on Thursday 13 November 2008 at Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney. It is scheduled to start at the later of 10.30am (Sydney time) and the conclusion or adjournment of the Share Scheme Meeting.

Please refer to the Section headed "Meeting details and how to vote on the Merger Proposal" on page 10 for further details.

28. What will happen if the Share Scheme does not become Effective?

The Constitution Amendment is conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective. If the Constitution Amendment is approved by the requisite majority of St. George Shareholders, but the Share Scheme does not become Effective, the Constitution Amendment will not be made and the St. George Constitution will not change.

29. What voting majority is required to approve the Constitution Amendment?

The Constitution Amendment must be approved by at least 75% of the total number of votes cast at the Extraordinary General Meeting by St. George Shareholders entitled to vote on the resolution.

Voting at the Extraordinary General Meeting will be by poll.

Please refer to Section 1.11 for further details.

30. Who is entitled to vote at the Extraordinary General Meeting?

Other questions

34. What happens after the Share Scheme Meeting and the Extraordinary General Meeting?

If the Share Scheme and Constitution Amendment are approved by the relevant majorities of St. George Shareholders, St. George will make applications to the Court to approve the Share Scheme.

Section 6 contains further details of the implementation steps and approvals required, as well as a number of other conditions that must be satisfied (or waived), before the Share Scheme can be implemented and the Constitution Amendment can take effect.

35. What are the tax implications of the Merger Proposal?

Section 9 contains a discussion of the main Australian tax implications of the Merger Proposal, the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend for St. George Shareholders.

This Scheme Booklet should not be relied upon as the sole basis for any investment decisions in relation to St. George Shares, Westpac Shares or any other securities, and independent financial, legal, tax and other professional advice should be sought before making any such investment decision.

36. What happens if a superior proposal emerges?

In those circumstances, the St. George Directors will carefully reconsider the Merger Proposal and advise you of their recommendation.

37. Can I sell my St. George Shares now?

St. George Shareholders may sell their St. George Shares on market at any time before close of trading on ASX on the Effective Date which is expected to be Monday 17 November 2008. St. George Shares are expected to be suspended from trading on ASX from close of trading on that date.

38. What are the consequences if the Merger Proposal does not proceed?

If the Merger Proposal does not proceed:

- St. George Shareholders will continue to hold St. George Shares; and
- the St. George Constitution will not be amended.

The St. George Board has confidence in St. George's future as an independent entity and its ability to maintain sound earnings growth, having regard to the current economic and market conditions.

It is difficult to predict the St. George Share price movement in the absence of the Merger Proposal or speculation regarding an alternative proposal. However, in this circumstance it is likely that the St. George Share price would fall.

The Independent Expert believes that in the absence of the Merger Proposal or any takeover speculation, St. George Shares "would currently be trading at less than $25.00".

In the current market environment, it is the intention of the St. George Board to increase St. George's Tier 1 capital ratio to closer to 7% by 31 March 2009, which is above St. George's regulatory minimum of 6.25%. In these circumstances, St. George may seek to increase capital by reducing the ordinary dividends paid and/or undertaking further capital raisings.

Please refer to Sections 1.4 and 1.13 for further details on the consequences if the Merger Proposal does not proceed.

Please also refer to the Section headed "Other relevant considerations for St. George Shareholders" on page 23.

39. What is the form enclosed with this Scheme Booklet?

Enclosed with this Scheme Booklet is an Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form in respect of the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting. You must complete the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form if you wish to appoint a proxy to vote on your behalf at the Share Scheme Meeting and the Extraordinary General Meeting.

You must return your Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form to the St. George Registry in accordance with the instructions on the form so that it is received by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008.

Alternatively, St. George Shareholders can submit their proxy appointment(s) online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au, by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008.

Please refer to the Section headed "Meeting details and how to vote on the Merger Proposal" on page 10 for further details.

40. When will St.George's and Westpac's FY2008 results be released?

St.George's FY2008 results are expected to be released on Wednesday 29 October 2008 and Westpac's FY2008 results are expected to be released on Thursday 30 October 2008.

Following the release of these results by St.George and Westpac, the St.George Board will request the Independent Expert to review the results and, if the Independent Expert is able to do so, confirm that the results do not change the Independent Expert's opinion that the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal. The outcome of this review will be announced to ASX and released on its website www.asx.com.au and also placed on the website www.stgeorgemerge.com.au in advance of the Share Scheme Meeting.

Alternatively, they may contact their financial, legal, tax or other professional adviser.

SAINTS Holders

43. What will happen to any SAINTS that I hold?

It is proposed that Westpac will acquire all of the SAINTS for $100 cash per SAINTS, pursuant to a separate scheme of arrangement between St.George and SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders). SAINTS Holders will also be paid a Stub Dividend under the SAINTS Scheme.

The SAINTS Scheme requires approval by SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) and the Court, and is subject to the Share Scheme becoming Effective.

Further information about the SAINTS Scheme is set out in Section 10. SAINTS Holders should have regard to that Section and to each of the other sections of this Scheme Booklet that are referred to therein.

Award Option Holders

44. What will happen to any Award Options that I hold?

It is proposed that all Award Options (other than those held by Excluded Award Option Holders¹) will be cancelled in exchange for the issue or transfer of 1.31 Westpac Shares per Award Option, pursuant to a separate scheme of arrangement between St.George and those Award Option Holders. Some of these Westpac Shares will be subject to disposal restrictions and will be held under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.

The Option Scheme requires approval by Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) and the Court, and is subject to the Share Scheme becoming Effective.

Further information about the Option Scheme is set out in Section 11. Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) should have regard to that Section and to each of the other sections of this Scheme Booklet that are referred to therein.

SPS, CPS and CPS II holders

45. What will happen to any SPS, CPS and CPS II securities that I hold?

Westpac has stated that it intends that, if the Share Scheme becomes Effective, St.George will redeem all of the SPS, CPS and CPS II. See Section 4.6(f). Holders of SPS, CPS and CPS II will be separately sent information about the redemption process for these securities.

1.1 Background

On 13 May 2008, St. George and Westpac announced the terms of a proposed merger of the two companies with a vision to create Australia's leading financial services company. The announcement was made after the two companies had signed an agreement containing the key terms of the merger.

On 26 May 2008, St. George and Westpac announced that a two week due diligence review had been successfully completed and that they had entered into the Merger Implementation Agreement. The Merger Implementation Agreement was revised on 8 September 2008 to reflect the following key matters: immediate commencement of integration planning, the terms of the SAINTS Scheme and Option Scheme, the circumstances in which St. George would be required to pay Westpac a break fee of $100 million (plus GST, if applicable), an updated transaction timetable and Westpac's agreement to the payment by St. George of a Special Dividend.

The key terms of the Merger Proposal are set out in this Scheme Booklet and involve:

- the acquisition by Westpac of all of the St. George Shares via the Share Scheme in exchange for the issue to Share Scheme Participants of 1.31 New Westpac Shares for each St. George Share held on the Scheme Record Date; and
- the Constitution Amendment to remove the individual 10% shareholding limit to enable implementation of the Share Scheme.

This Scheme Booklet contains important information that you should consider in deciding whether or not to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal at the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting. The St. George Directors encourage you to read this Scheme Booklet in its entirety and recommend that you vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

1.2 The Directors unanimously recommend the Merger Proposal

The St. George Directors are of the opinion that the Merger Proposal (comprising the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment) is in the best interests of St. George Shareholders and unanimously recommend that St. George Shareholders vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal. As of the date of this Scheme Booklet, no other proposal for St. George has emerged.

Each St. George Director who holds St. George Shares, or on whose behalf St. George Shares are held at the time of the Share Scheme Meeting and the Extraordinary General Meeting, intends to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, in the absence of a superior proposal.

In making their recommendation and determining how to vote on the Merger Proposal, the St. George Directors have considered the following:

- the reasons for St. George Shareholders to vote in favour of the Merger Proposal, as set out in the Section headed "Why you should vote in favour of the Merger Proposal" on page 13;
- the reasons St. George Shareholders may consider voting against the Merger Proposal, as set out in the Section headed "Why you may consider voting against the Merger Proposal" on page 20;
- other issues that St. George Shareholders should consider as set out in the Section headed "Other relevant considerations for St. George Shareholders" on page 23;
- the risks associated with the Merger Proposal, as set out in Section 5; and
- the report of the Independent Expert (which has concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St. George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal - please refer to Section 1.3 for further details), a summary of which is set out in Section 8.

The St. George Directors encourage St. George Shareholders to do the following before making any decision in relation to the Merger Proposal:

- read this Scheme Booklet in its entirety (and - if you require a copy of the complete Independent Expert's Report, the Investigating Accountant's Report and the Merger Implementation Agreement - the Scheme Booklet Supplement);
- have regard to your investment objectives, financial situation, tax position or particular needs; and
- obtain independent financial, legal, tax and other professional advice before making any decision on the Merger Proposal.

The interests of St. George Directors in the Merger Proposal are disclosed in Section 12.

1.3 Independent Expert

St. George commissioned the Independent Expert, Grant Samuel, to prepare a report on the Share Scheme to determine whether it is in the best interests of St. George Shareholders.

The Independent Expert, Grant Samuel, has concluded that, in its opinion, the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St. George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

The Independent Expert has:

- estimated the full underlying value of St. George, including a control premium to be in the range $30.62 to $35.02 per St. George Share (after adjusting for the incremental dividend);¹ and

¹ The Independent Expert has adjusted the full underlying value to take into account an assumed incremental dividend of $0.28 per St. George Share (based on the difference between the maximum St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend set out in the Merger Implementation Agreement of $0.97 per St. George Share and the maximum aggregate of the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend set out in the Merger Implementation Agreement of $1.25 per St. George Share). An assumption as to the amount of the incremental dividend has been made because, as noted in Section 1.13(b), the amount of the Special Dividend will not be known until it is announced on 29 October 2008, when the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend is announced.

- assessed a current value for the Share Scheme Consideration of $30.13 to $33.40 per St.George Share based on an estimated market value of Westpac Shares of $23.00 to $25.50.

While the bottom end of the value of the consideration is slightly below the bottom end of the value range for St.George, it is the range for the value of the consideration and not an individual price that is the relevant consideration. There is a very substantial degree of overlap and over 85% of the value range for the consideration falls within the St.George valuation range. Accordingly, the Independent Expert considers the Merger Proposal is "fair" and therefore "reasonable". You should note, however, that the Independent Expert has stated that any conclusions and value judgments need to be considered in light of uncertain and volatile markets.

A summary of the Independent Expert's Report is set out in Section 8. St.George Shareholders are encouraged to read this summary in its entirety, including the assumptions, qualifications and disclaimers on which the Independent Expert's conclusions are based.

The complete Independent Expert's Report contains more detailed information on the Independent Expert's conclusions. A copy of the complete Independent Expert's Report is contained in the Scheme Booklet Supplement, which may be obtained by contacting the St.George InfoLine on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday, or by submitting a request online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au. In addition, an electronic version of the Scheme Booklet and Scheme Booklet Supplement will be available for viewing and downloading online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au.

1.4 If the Merger Proposal does not proceed

If the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment are not approved by the requisite majorities of St.George Shareholders, or if the Share Scheme is not approved by the Court, the Merger Proposal will not proceed and:

- St.George Shareholders will continue to hold St.George Shares;
- the Constitution Amendment will not take effect and the St.George Constitution will not change; and
- St.George will continue to operate as an independent entity listed on ASX.

The St.George Board has confidence in St.George's future as an independent entity and its ability to maintain sound earnings, in the current economic circumstances, and balance sheet growth moving forward.

In the current market environment, it is the intention of the St.George Board to increase St.George's Tier 1 capital ratio to closer to 7% by 31 March 2009, which is above St.George's regulatory minimum of 6.25%. In these circumstances, St.George may seek to increase capital by reducing the ordinary dividends paid and/or undertaking further capital raisings.

It is difficult to predict how the St.George Share price will move if the Merger Proposal does not proceed. The Independent Expert believes that in the absence of the Merger Proposal or any takeover speculation, St.George Shares "would currently be trading at less than $25.00".

Despite the confidence of the St.George Board in the future of St.George as an independent entity, it nonetheless believes that the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St.George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

1.5 Merger Implementation Agreement

The key terms of the Merger Implementation Agreement are summarised in Section 7. A full copy of the Merger Implementation Agreement is contained in the Scheme Booklet Supplement, which may be obtained by contacting the St.George Infoline on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday, or by submitting a request online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au. In addition, an electronic version of the Scheme Booklet and Scheme Booklet Supplement will be available for viewing and downloading online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au.

Section 7 summarises the key matters provided for in the Merger Implementation Agreement. These include the following matters:

(a) Conditions Precedent

The Share Scheme is subject to a number of Conditions Precedent. Please refer to Section 7.2 for further details.

(b) Exclusivity provisions

St.George has agreed to 'no-shop, no-talk' restrictions in the Merger Implementation Agreement. These restrictions prevent St.George from soliciting a Competing Transaction and from negotiating with any potential alternative bidders. These restrictions do not apply if the St.George Directors determine that an unsolicited Competing Transaction is superior to the Share Scheme. Please refer to Section 7.4 for further details.

(c) Break fee

St.George has agreed to pay Westpac a break fee of $100 million (plus GST, if applicable) if at any time after 8 September 2008 and before the Sunset Date (currently 31 December 2008) any of a prescribed list of events occurs and Westpac does not proceed to acquire 100% of the St.George Shares by the Sunset Date. Please refer to Section 7.5 for further details.

(d) Termination

Each of St.George and Westpac has termination rights under the Merger Implementation Agreement in certain circumstances, including if the Share Scheme does not become Effective by the Sunset Date (currently 31 December 2008). If a termination right is exercised, the Merger Proposal will not proceed. Please refer to Section 7.6 for further details.

1.6 Share Scheme Consideration

If the Merger Proposal is approved by the requisite majorities of St. George Shareholders and the Share Scheme becomes Effective, Share Scheme Participants (other than Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders) will receive 1.31 New Westpac Shares as Share Scheme Consideration for each St. George Share that is held on the Scheme Record Date. The Scheme Record Date is currently expected to be Monday 24 November 2008.

Any fractional entitlement to a part of a New Westpac Share which is:

- 0.5 or greater will be rounded up to the nearest whole number of Westpac Shares; and
- less than 0.5 will be rounded down to the nearest whole number of Westpac Shares.

If either St. George or Westpac reasonably believes that a Share Scheme Participant has been a party to the splitting or division of a shareholding in an attempt to obtain an advantage by reference to the rounding provided for in the calculation of each Share Scheme Participant's entitlement to New Westpac Shares, then St. George and Westpac reserve the right to round the entitlement of such holdings so as to provide only the number of New Westpac Shares that would have been received but for the splitting or division.

The New Westpac Shares will be issued to Share Scheme Participants (other than Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders) on the Implementation Date. New Westpac Shares are currently expected to trade on a deferred settlement basis from the commencement of trading on Tuesday 18 November 2008.

It is the responsibility of each St. George Shareholder who becomes a New Westpac Shareholder to confirm their holding before trading in New Westpac Shares to avoid the risk of selling shares they do not own. New Westpac Shareholders who sell New Westpac Shares before they receive their holding statement do so at their own risk. St. George, Westpac and the Westpac Registry disclaim all liability (to the maximum extent permitted by law) to persons who trade New Westpac Shares before receiving their holding statements, whether on the basis of confirmation of the allocation provided by Westpac or the Westpac Registry.

Holding statements, or confirmation for CHES holdings, detailing the issue of New Westpac Shares are expected to be despatched by Westpac to New Westpac Shareholders within five Business Days after the Implementation Date. The Implementation Date is currently expected to be Monday 1 December 2008.

Trading on ASX of New Westpac Shares on a normal settlement basis is expected to commence on Tuesday 2 December 2008.

Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders will receive the net cash proceeds of sale of the number of New Westpac Shares as Share Scheme Consideration they would otherwise have been entitled to receive. Please refer to Section 1.7 for further information.

1.7 Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders

A Share Scheme Participant whose address shown on the Share Register on the Scheme Record Date is a place outside of Australia and its external territories, New Zealand, the UK, the US, Hong Kong and Singapore will be an Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholder for the purposes of the Share Scheme.

Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders will not be issued with New Westpac Shares under the Share Scheme. Instead, the New Westpac Shares that would otherwise have been issued to them under the Share Scheme will be issued to the Sale Nominee on the Implementation Date.

Westpac must procure that on, or as soon as reasonably practicable after, and in any event, not more than 20 Business Days after, the Implementation Date, the Sale Nominee:

- sells those New Westpac Shares on ASX; and
- pays the net sale proceeds received, after deducting any applicable brokerage, stamp duty and other taxes, to the Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders (Net Scheme Proceeds).

St. George, Westpac and the Sale Nominee give no assurances as to the price that will be achieved for the sale of New Westpac Shares as described above. The Net Scheme Proceeds that Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders receive may be more or less than the current market value of Westpac Shares as at the date of this Scheme Booklet.

Full details of this process are contained in clause 5.2 of the Share Scheme (which is set out in Annexure A.1).

1.8 Share Scheme Meeting

On 29 September 2008, the Court made an order that the Share Scheme Meeting be convened. The Court order does not constitute an endorsement of, or any other expression of opinion on, the Share Scheme or this Scheme Booklet.

The purpose of the Share Scheme Meeting is for St. George Shareholders (other than Excluded Shareholders) to consider whether to approve the Share Scheme. St. George Shareholders (other than Excluded Shareholders) who are registered on the Share Register at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008 are entitled to vote at the Share Scheme Meeting.

Further details on how to vote are provided in the Section headed "Meeting details and how to vote on the Merger Proposal" on page 10 and in the Notice of Share Scheme Meeting included as Annexure C.1.

1.9 Approval of the Share Scheme

The Share Scheme will only become Effective if:

- it is approved by the requisite majorities of St. George Shareholders at the Share Scheme Meeting to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008;
- the Constitution Amendment is approved by the requisite majority of St. George Shareholders at the Extraordinary General Meeting to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008; and
- it is approved by the Court on the Court Approval Date (expected to be Monday 17 November 2008).

Approval by the requisite majorities of St. George Shareholders requires the Share Scheme resolution to be passed at the Share Scheme Meeting by:

- a majority in number (more than 50%) of St. George Shareholders (other than Excluded Shareholders) present and voting at the Share Scheme Meeting (in person, by attorney, by proxy or, in the case of corporations, by corporate representative); and
- at least 75% of the total number of votes cast on the resolution at the Share Scheme Meeting by St. George Shareholders (other than Excluded Shareholders) entitled to vote on the resolution.

1.10 Tax consequences of the Merger Proposal for Australian resident St. George Shareholders

A general guide to the potential Australian tax consequences of the Merger Proposal for certain St. George Shareholders is set out in Section 9. This guide is expressed in general terms and is not intended to provide tax advice in respect of the particular circumstances of any St. George Shareholder. St. George Shareholders should seek their own tax advice.

1.11 Constitution Amendment

The St. George Constitution currently limits the amount of issued share capital in St. George that any one shareholder (together with their associates) can hold at one time to 10%.

It is proposed that upon implementation of the Merger Proposal, Westpac will own 100% of the St. George Shares. Accordingly, this restriction must be removed to enable the Share Scheme to be implemented. St. George has convened the Extraordinary General Meeting to amend the St. George Constitution to remove this limit.

The only business of the Extraordinary General Meeting is to consider, and if thought fit, to approve the Constitution Amendment. The resolution to be considered at the Extraordinary General Meeting is set out in full in the Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting included as Annexure D.

St. George Shareholders who are registered on the Share Register at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008 may vote at the Extraordinary General Meeting in person, by attorney, by proxy or, in the case of corporations, by corporate representative.

The Constitution Amendment must be approved by at least 75% of the total number of votes cast on the resolution at the Extraordinary General Meeting by St. George Shareholders entitled to vote.

The Constitution Amendment will only be made if the Share Scheme becomes Effective.

The St. George Directors unanimously recommend that St. George Shareholders vote in favour of the Constitution Amendment at the Extraordinary General Meeting. In making this recommendation, the St. George Directors note that the Constitution Amendment is necessary before the Share Scheme can proceed and repeat their recommendation that you should vote in favour of the Share Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal (see Section 1.2). Additionally, each St. George Director who holds St. George Shares, or on whose behalf St. George Shares are held at the time of the Extraordinary General Meeting, intends to vote in favour of the Constitution Amendment.

1.12 Announcement of financial results

St. George expects to announce its full year results to 30 September 2008 on 29 October 2008. Westpac has advised that it expects to announce its full year results to 30 September 2008 on 30 October 2008.

These results will be available from ASX or on its website at www.asx.com.au. In addition, St. George's results will be available on its website at www.stgeorge.com.au. Westpac's results will be available on its website at www.westpac.com.au.

Following the release of these results by St. George and Westpac, the St. George Board will request the Independent Expert to review the results and, if the Independent Expert is able to do so, confirm that the results do not change the Independent Expert's opinion that the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St. George Shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal. The outcome of this review will be announced to ASX and released on its website www.asx.com.au and also placed on the website www.stgeorgemerge.com.au in advance of the Share Scheme Meeting.

1.13 Dividends on St. George Shares and Westpac Shares

(a) St. George Shares - St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend

St. George anticipates that it will declare a fully franked final dividend for St. George Shareholders for the financial year ending 30 September 2008 (St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend). That dividend is expected to be announced at the same time as St. George releases its annual financial results, which is scheduled to occur on Wednesday 29 October 2008.

The amount of the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend is anticipated to be in accordance with St. George's usual dividend payout ratio. As has been agreed with Westpac in the Merger Implementation Agreement, the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend will not exceed $0.97 per St. George Share, and the aggregate of the interim dividend and the final dividend for FY2008 will not exceed 85% of St. George's cash profits for FY2008.

The record date for the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend is proposed to be the same day as the Scheme Record Date. It is anticipated that the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend will be paid on Thursday 18 December 2008.

The payment of the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend is not conditional upon implementation of the Share Scheme. This means that the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend will be paid to St. George Shareholders in the usual course, irrespective of the outcome of the Merger Proposal.

If the Share Scheme becomes Effective, the St. George dividend reinvestment plan will be terminated and therefore will not operate in respect of the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend. Therefore, the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend would be paid in the form of cash only, by:

- making deposits into each St. George Shareholder's nominated bank account with the St. George Registry as at the Scheme Record Date; or
- where there is no nominated bank account, mailing cheques for the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend to the St. George Shareholder's address as it appears on the Share Register as at the Scheme Record Date.

If the Merger Proposal is not implemented, St. George will need to raise additional capital contemporaneously with payment of the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend. Accordingly, St. George has entered into a conditional underwriting agreement in respect of the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend, which will only operate if the Merger Proposal does not proceed.

(b) St. George Shares - Special Dividend

In addition to the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend, St. George Shareholders will also receive a fully franked special dividend (Special Dividend). The Special Dividend will be paid at the same time as the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend. The amount of, and other details concerning, the Special Dividend will be announced on 29 October 2008 when the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend is announced.

In the context of the Merger Proposal, the Special Dividend is proposed to be paid in conjunction with a package of measures designed to increase the certainty of completion of the transaction and accelerate merger benefits. Westpac has agreed to the payment of the Special Dividend by St. George on the basis that the aggregate amount of the Special Dividend and the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend will not exceed $1.25 per St. George Share.

If the Merger Proposal is not implemented, St. George will need to raise additional capital contemporaneously with payment of the Special Dividend. Accordingly, St. George has entered into a conditional underwriting agreement in respect of the Special Dividend and the St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend, which will only operate if the Merger Proposal does not proceed.

(c) Westpac Shares - Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend

Westpac anticipates that it will declare a final dividend for the current financial year ending 30 September 2008 (Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend). That dividend is expected to be announced at the same time as Westpac releases its annual financial results, which is scheduled to occur on 30 October 2008.

The amount of the Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend is anticipated to be in accordance with Westpac's usual dividend payout ratio. As has been agreed with St. George in the Merger Implementation Agreement, the Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend will not exceed $0.74 per Westpac Share and the aggregate of the interim dividend and the final dividend for FY2008 will not exceed 80% of Westpac's cash earnings for the 2008 financial year.

The New Westpac Shares issued as Share Scheme Consideration to St. George Shareholders will rank equally with all other Westpac Shares from the date of issue. However, they will not carry an entitlement to the Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend. St. George Shareholders should therefore note that the implementation of Merger Proposal will not entitle them to the Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend.

See Section 4.7(d) for a discussion of Westpac's dividend policy if the Share Scheme is implemented.

1.14 Existing St. George Shareholder instructions to St. George

Except for a St. George Shareholder's tax file number and any elections made in relation to participation in any dividend reinvestment plan or annual reports, all binding instructions or notifications between a St. George Shareholder and St. George relating to St. George Shares or a St. George Shareholder's status as a St. George Shareholder (including, without limitation, any email addresses, instructions relating to communications from St. George, whether dividends are to be paid by cheque or into a specific bank account, notices of meeting or other communications from St. George) (together the Shareholder Instructions) will, from the Implementation Date be deemed (except to the extent determined otherwise by Westpac in its sole discretion or as otherwise provided below), by reason of the Share Scheme, to be a similarly binding instruction or notification to and accepted by Westpac in respect of the New Westpac Shares issued to Share Scheme Participants until that instruction or notification is revoked or amended in writing addressed to Westpac at its share registry.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, where any New Westpac Shares are issued to a Share Scheme Participant who, immediately prior to the Implementation Date, is an existing holder of Westpac Shares, the shareholder instructions with respect to those existing Westpac Shares will be deemed to also apply to the New Westpac Shares.

1.15 Deemed warranty by Share Scheme Participants

The attention of St. George Shareholders is drawn to the warranties that Share Scheme Participants will be deemed to have given, if the Share Scheme takes effect, in clause 4.5 of the Share Scheme. The Share Scheme is set out in full in Annexure A.1.

In summary, clause 4.5 of the Share Scheme provides that, if the Share Scheme becomes Effective, each Share Scheme Participant is deemed to have warranted to St. George and Westpac that:

- as at the Implementation Date, all of their St. George Shares will be free from all mortgages, charges, liens, encumbrances and interests of third parties and there are otherwise no restrictions preventing the transfer of the St. George Shares to Westpac; and
- they have full power and capacity to transfer their St. George Shares.

1.16 Arrangements for SAINTS Holders

In addition to the Merger Proposal, St. George is proposing a SAINTS Scheme, which will be a separate scheme of arrangement between St. George and SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders). If the SAINTS Scheme is approved and implemented, Westpac will acquire all of the SAINTS for $100 cash per SAINTS held on the Scheme Record Date. Please refer to Section 10 for further information about the SAINTS Scheme.

The SAINTS Scheme is conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective. However, the Share Scheme is not conditional on the SAINTS Scheme becoming Effective. Therefore, the SAINTS Scheme does not need to be approved by SAINTS Holders for the Merger Proposal to proceed. The Merger Proposal will proceed so long as the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment are approved by the St. George Shareholders, and the Share Scheme is thereafter approved by the Court. If this occurs, St. George will be delisted from ASX and become a wholly owned subsidiary of Westpac.

If the Merger Proposal proceeds, but the SAINTS Scheme does not, it is Westpac's intention to compulsorily acquire all of the SAINTS in accordance with Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act (see Section 4.6(f)).

1.17 Arrangements for Option Holders

(a) Background

St. George operates a number of employee incentive plans as part of its remuneration strategy for executives and employees. These include the Executive Performance Share Plan and Executive Option Plan. The other plans are described in Section 1.18.

Under the Executive Performance Share Plan, St. George has granted to certain executives options with a zero exercise price (otherwise known as "Awards") to acquire St. George Shares on a 1:1 basis, subject to satisfaction of any performance and tenure hurdles prescribed by the St. George Board (Award Options). As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, there are 632,627 Award Options on issue and 100 Award Option Holders.

Under the Executive Option Plan, St. George has granted to certain executives options to acquire St. George Shares on a 1:1 basis upon payment of a prescribed exercise price and subject to the satisfaction of any performance and tenure hurdles prescribed by the St. George Board (Executive Options). As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, there are 1,087,489 Executive Options on issue and nine Executive Option Holders. The Executive Options were granted on various dates during a period commencing on 1 October 2003 and ending on 2 June 2008 and have exercise prices ranging from $20.40 to $37.18.

The Executive Option Holders are: Paul Fegan (Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer); Greg Bartlett (Group Executive, Institutional & Business Banking); Michael Cameron (Chief Financial Officer and Group Executive, Finance, Risk & Strategy); Rob Chapman (Managing Director, BankSA); Les Matheson (Group Executive, Retail Banking); Geoff Lloyd (Group Executive, Wealth Management and CEO, Asgard Wealth Solutions); Greg Targett (Chief Risk Officer); Brett Wright (Group Executive, Human Resources); and one former employee of St. George.

(b) Option Scheme for Award Options

St. George is proposing the Option Scheme, which is a scheme of arrangement between St. George and holders of the Award Options (other than persons who have signed a Deed of Cancellation – see Section 1.17(c)). If the Option Scheme is approved and implemented, those Award Options will be cancelled in exchange for the issue or transfer by Westpac to the holders of those Award Options of 1.31 Westpac Shares for each Award Option held. The Westpac Shares will be issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan where the Award Options are unvested as at the Scheme Record Date, and will be subject to disposal restrictions but performance hurdles (if any) will no longer apply. The Westpac Shares will be ordinary unrestricted Westpac Shares where the Award Options are vested and remain unexercised as at the Scheme Record Date. Please refer to Section 11 for further information about the Option Scheme.

The Option Scheme is conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective. However, the Share Scheme is not conditional on the Option Scheme becoming Effective. Therefore, the Option Scheme does not need to be approved by Award Option Holders for the Merger Proposal to proceed. The Merger Proposal will proceed so long as the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment are approved by the St. George Shareholders, and the Share Scheme is thereafter approved by the Court. If this occurs, St. George will be delisted from ASX and become a wholly owned subsidiary of Westpac.

(c) Deeds of Cancellation for Executive Option Holders

Each of the individuals referred to in Section 1.17(a) as holding Executive Options has entered into a separate Option and Award Cancellation Deed with St. George and Westpac under which all of the Award Options and Executive Options held by that person will be cancelled on the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme (Deed of Cancellation). The key terms of each Deed of Cancellation are summarised in Section 12.7.

(d) Agreed proposals

The Option Scheme and Deeds of Cancellation together represent the proposal agreed between St. George and Westpac in relation to the Options, as contemplated by the Merger Implementation Agreement.

1.18 Participants in Employee Reward Plan and Employee Share Purchase Plan, and Non-executive Directors' Share Purchase Plan

The Employee Reward Plan is operated as a $1,000 tax exempt plan. St. George Shares issued under this plan are subject to disposal restrictions being the earlier of three years from the date of acquisition or termination of employment with the St. George Group.

Under the Employee Share Purchase Plan, participants can elect to enter into a salary sacrifice arrangement under which they forego salary or short term incentive payments in return for being provided with an equivalent value of St. George Shares subject to disposal restrictions.

Under the Non-executive Directors' Share Purchase Plan, non-executive directors may forego fees in return for being provided with an equivalent value of St. George Shares, subject to disposal restrictions.

St. George Shares held under the Employee Reward Plan, Employee Share Purchase Plan and Non-executive Directors' Share Purchase Plan will participate in the Share Scheme in the same manner as St. George Shares held by other Share Scheme Participants, and may be voted at the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting (provided that participants in those plans are registered on the Share Register at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008).

Any holding locks to which such St. George Shares are subject will be released prior to the Implementation Date (subject to the Share Scheme becoming Effective) to enable the St. George Shares to participate in the Share Scheme.

See Sections 12.8 and 12.9 for further details, including a summary of the tax consequences of the Merger Proposal for participants in those plans.

2.1 Business overview

(a) Overview of St.George

St.George is Australia's fifth largest bank in terms of lending assets and one of the top 20 publicly listed companies in Australia, with a market capitalisation of approximately $17.8 billion as at 26 September 2008 and over 9,000 employees.

St.George's operations span various aspects of the financial industry including retail banking, institutional and business banking, and wealth management. As at 31 March 2008, St.George had total assets of $136.3 billion and shareholders' equity of $6.9 billion.

St.George has a national presence in Australia with a significant proportion of operations and customers in New South Wales and South Australia. St.George has approximately 400 branches and also distributes its products through third parties such as mortgage brokers and financial planners.

St.George has consistently achieved strong shareholder returns across a number of metrics such as profit growth, earnings per share, return on equity and consistently increasing dividend payout. St.George's strong performance is reflected through:

- a track record of superior credit quality;
- positive customer service ratings – at June 2008, the St.George customer satisfaction score was 77.2%, 7.7% above the average of the major banks¹;
- industry leading expense to income ratio (cash basis)² of 40.5% at July 2008; and
- product management and product innovation capabilities that have led to a number of industry awards including bank-issued credit card of the Year (Money Magazine 2008) and Best Hybrid Integrated Platform in 2006 and 2007 for AdviserNETgain (Investment Trends).

St.George was also ranked among the top 10 global financial service companies in terms of average share price index growth over the last five years to 2007. This survey of the financial services industry, prepared by Oliver Wyman, a management consulting firm, compared St.George to other companies with a market capitalisation above US$10 billion during 2007.

St.George has been consistently one of the top 20 Australian companies in terms of market capitalisation for the last 10 years.

St.George's business has been focussed on Australian customers and markets, with operations in Retail, Corporate & Business Banking and Wealth Management.

St.George competes as a Standard & Poor's 'A+' rated bank in a domestic economy dominated by four major Australian banks, which are all rated 'AA' by Standard & Poor's.³

1 Roy Morgan Research, 3 months to June 2008, Australians aged 14+.

2 Expense to income ratio is calculated as operating expenses divided by net operating income before operating expenses and impairment charges. For the purpose of this calculation, the impact of significant items and volatility arising from the fair value recognition of hedging and non-trading derivatives is excluded.

3 The credit rating references are based on information publicly released by Standard & Poor's. Standard & Poor's has not consented to the use of these credit rating references in this Scheme Booklet. The credit ratings are not recommendations by Standard & Poor's to buy, sell or hold any bank's debt or equity securities or for St.George Security Holders to vote in favour of or against the Share Scheme, SAINTS Scheme or Option Scheme. Standard & Poor's may revise or withdraw their credit rating of any bank at any time.

(c) Management discussion and analysis of historical financial performance

Overview

Full year ended 30 September 2007 compared to full year ended 30 September 2006

Net profit attributable to equity holders for the full year ended 30 September 2007 was $1,190 million, an increase of $122 million, or 11%, compared to the prior year.

St.George's result was driven by net operating income growth of 9% and tight cost control with operating expenses increasing by 4%.

Net interest income increased by $180 million or 9%, driven by a 14% increase in loans and bank acceptances of customers and a 30% increase in deposits, with growth from increased lending volumes partly offset by a 10 basis point decline in net interest margin.¹

Non-interest income growth of $98 million or 10% benefited from an 11% increase in product fees and commissions, a 17% increase in managed funds fees and a 47% increase in trading income. The 2006 financial year includes a $41 million pre-tax gain from the sale and lease back of St.George's head office building.

Expenses increased $49 million or 4%, largely driven by a 4% average wage increase effective 1 October 2006 and increased staff numbers. The 2006 financial year includes $54 million of one off expenses primarily relating to intangible assets impairment, loss from discontinued operations and restructure costs.

Loan impairment charges of $178 million increased by $34 million, or 24%, following strong loan growth combined with modest deterioration in the credit quality of the unsecured consumer loan portfolio and a lower level of commercial loan recoveries compared to last year.

Net profit attributable to equity holders for the half year ended 31 March 2008 was $529 million, a decrease of $56 million, or 10%, compared to the prior comparable period.

St.George's result was primarily impacted by a $117 million income tax expense recognised during the half year on its longstanding dispute with the ATO on the deductibility of interest paid on its subordinated debentures issued as part of St.George's Depository Capital Securities.

Net interest income growth of 11% was the result of a 15% increase in loans and bank acceptances of customers and a 28% increase in deposits, with growth from increased lending volumes partly offset by a 15 basis point decline in net interest margin. Key drivers in the margin decline were increased competition and the purchase of additional liquid securities which increase average assets but do not significantly change net interest income.

Non-interest income increased by 8% due to a $77 million gain from the Visa IPO that was partially offset by a $55 million reduction in trading income from St.George's mortgage insurance investment portfolio due to unfavourable investment markets.

Expense growth of 11% reflected the establishment of a $43 million restructuring provision for staff redundancies to allow for planned restructuring activities.

Impairment charges of $118 million increased by $25 million or 27%, reflecting both high asset growth and a specific provision charge taken on a single margin lending loan.

(d) Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities exist in relation to actual and potential claims and proceedings. An assessment of the St.George Group's likely loss has been made and specific provisions have been raised where appropriate.

(e) Cash earnings

Cash earnings adjusts net profit attributable to equity holders to provide a better indication of St.George's underlying performance. The following table provides a historical reconciliation from net profit attributable to equity holders of St.George to cash earnings.

¹ Net interest margin is calculated as net interest income divided by average interest earning assets.

Notes:

- (1) Earnings per share is cash earnings divided by the basic weighted average number of ordinary shares. Consistent with St.George's historical definition of cash earnings per ordinary share, cash earnings is the profit available to equity holders, excluding the impact of significant items and volatility arising from the fair value recognition of hedging and non-trading derivatives, but after preference dividends. Ratios for the half years have not been annualised.
- (2) Earnings to average ordinary equity is calculated as cash earnings divided by average ordinary equity. Cash earnings is the profit available to equity holders, excluding the impact of significant items and volatility arising from the fair value recognition of hedging and non-trading derivatives, but after preference dividends. Average ordinary equity excludes preference shares. Ratios for the half years have been annualised for comparability.
- (3) Expense to income ratio is calculated as operating expenses divided by net operating income before operating expenses and loan impairment charges, excluding the impact of significant items and volatility arising from the fair value recognition of hedging and non-trading derivatives.

2.5 Release of trading update

On 12 August 2008, St.George released to the market an update on the St.George Group's operational and financial performance for the 10 months to 31 July 2008. The key aspects of the update are as follows:

- the St.George Group's unaudited net profit after tax on a cash earnings basis for the 10 months to 31 July 2008 was $1,073 million;¹
- solid annualised growth was achieved in residential receivables, middle market receivables and customer deposits of 10.0%, 30.1% and 18.9% respectively for the 10 months to 31 July 2008;
- managed funds balances fell during the 10 months to 31 July 2008 by 15.6%, primarily due to the negative and volatile performance of equity markets;
- credit quality remains sound and the St.George Group continues to have no exposure to US or domestic sub-prime lending, CDOs or hedge funds;
- with reference to previously announced credit exposures, the Octaviar Ltd (formerly MFS) $25 million exposure is now fully provisioned, and the Centro and Allco exposures continue to perform and no specific provision is required. The Centro exposure is fully secured and the Allco exposure has reduced to $37 million from $60 million as a result of asset sales and limit reductions;
- the St.George Group continued to improve its efficiency with the expense to income ratio decreasing to 40.5% for the 10 months to 31 July 2008; and
- the St.George Group has completed 100% of its FY2008 term wholesale funding requirements and has already raised approximately 27% of the estimated term wholesale funding requirements for FY2009.

2.6 Material changes in financial position since 30 September 2007

The last annual financial statements presented to St.George Shareholders in general meeting and sent to St.George Shareholders were the audited financial statements for the year ended 30 September 2007 as lodged with ASX on 31 October 2007. So far as is known by the St.George Directors, the only material changes to the financial position of St.George since 30 September 2007 are as follows:

- the St.George financial statements for the half year ended 31 March 2008 (set out in this Section 2 and lodged with ASX on 6 May 2008); and
- the matters disclosed in Section 2.5.

2.7 Update on ratings and capital management

On 12 May 2008, the rating by Moody's Investors Service (Moody's) of St.George was placed on review - direction uncertain, following the announcement by Westpac that it was in merger discussions with St.George.¹ According to Moody's, St.George's deposit and debt ratings depend on its bank financial strength rating (BFSR), which measures the bank's stand alone credit profile. Moody's indicated on 11 June 2008 that if the Merger Proposal does not proceed or is not completed within the envisaged timeframe, the review of St.George's BFSR would be concluded. There would be potential for downward pressure on St.George's BFSR if ongoing dislocations in credit markets restrict the ability of St.George to term out its wholesale funding, or short term debt relative to liquid assets remains high. Further pressure would be added if risk-adjusted profit or capital ratios deteriorate (adjusting for the implementation of Basel II risk weightings). If the BFSR were to be downgraded, there would also be potential for downward pressure on St.George's deposit and debt ratings, in line with the application of Moody's Joint Default Analysis. The current 'Aa2' rating would only be maintained if Moody's concluded that systemic support for St.George had increased as a result of recent dislocations in credit markets. Moody's stated that Australia is considered a high support country and St.George is viewed as having very high systemic importance, being a super-regional bank with the fifth largest market share and a strong presence in Australia's most populous state, New South Wales.

Current expectations are that there will not be a material impact on the capital requirements for St.George under Basel II relative to Basel I. St.George will transition to a standardised approach from 1 January 2009. St.George will continue to work with APRA toward obtaining full accreditation under the Basel II advanced model during 2009. However, there can be no assurance as to when APRA may approve the transition to Basel II advanced status, what prudential requirements APRA may require upon such transition, or what the capital impact of moving to the advanced model will be. As a result, St.George may experience an increase or decrease in its capital requirements. Any increase in capital requirements may require the raising of additional capital. In addition, its business mix and rate of growth of commercial lending would most likely require St.George to continue to increase its capital base.

2.8 Continuous disclosure

St.George is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations under the Corporations Act and Listing Rules. St.George has an obligation (subject to limited exceptions) to notify ASX immediately upon becoming aware of any information which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of St.George Shares. Copies of documents filed with ASX may be obtained from ASX's website at www.asx.com.au.

In addition, St.George is also required to lodge various documents with ASIC. Copies of documents lodged with ASIC in relation to St.George may be obtained from, or inspected at, an ASIC office.

Information about Westpac

In accordance with the responsibility statement on page 2, Westpac has been solely responsible for preparing the information in this Section 3.

3.1 Overview of Westpac

Westpac is one of Australia and New Zealand's leading financial institutions with a long and proud history. Established in 1817, Westpac is Australia's first and oldest bank and its first and oldest company. From this banking heritage, Westpac has grown to now provide a broad range of banking and financial services in retail, business and institutional banking and has built a strong position in wealth management and wealth protection services.

Westpac has a broad network across Australia, New Zealand and the near Pacific region with over 1,000 branches, as well as offices in some of the key financial centres around the world.

Today, Westpac is one of the top four Australian banks and a top 10 Australian listed company by market capitalisation, which stood at $45.4 billion as at 26 September 2008. With around 29,000 employees, Westpac supports over seven million customers with loans of almost $300 billion and deposits of around $220 billion as at 31 March 2008.

In terms of financial performance, Westpac has a strong track record. Over the last 10 years, Westpac has delivered an annual average compound increase of 11% in cash earnings and maintained a return on equity¹ of around 20% per annum. This performance has been reflected in returns to shareholders, with dividends increasing by approximately 13% compound per annum over the last 10 years.

Consistent with this performance, total shareholder returns, including dividends and share price movements, have averaged 13% per annum over the last 10 years.

The strength of Westpac's franchise and strong capital position is reflected in Westpac's investment grade credit rating, which was recently reaffirmed as 'AA' by Standard & Poor's and 'Aa1' by Moody's Investors Service.

A key element in Westpac's vision and strategy is to be a global leader in governance and sustainability. This is reflected in how Westpac does business including its lending practices, its supplier arrangements, how it interacts with its employees and how it serves its customers. Westpac's success in this objective has been recognised in a range of external assessments, including from 2002 to 2007 being rated the most or equally the most sustainable bank globally in the Dow Jones Sustainability World Index.²

In addition to its sustainability credentials, Westpac supports the communities in which it operates including:

- actively encouraging employee involvement in the community – over 80% of Westpac employees have participated in volunteering or fundraising in the last year;
- collaborating with key community partners, which includes over 35 years of support to the Westpac Life Saver Rescue Helicopter services in New South Wales; and
- helping community groups to improve their capacity to deliver services and support. This includes Westpac's longstanding support to communities in the Cape York region.

3.2 History and ownership

Westpac began trading on 8 April 1817 as the Bank of New South Wales. Its business gradually expanded, following the fortunes of the economy including the banking crises of the 1840s and the 1890s and the gold rush of the mid 1800s. Through that period, the bank expanded its network across Australia and, in 1861, into New Zealand. In the 1900s, the bank successfully navigated the Great Depression and two World Wars, while gradually expanding its operations both organically and through acquisitions.

In 1982, the Bank of New South Wales changed its name to Westpac Banking Corporation following its merger with the Commercial Bank of Australia.

In recent decades, Westpac continued to expand, with three regional bank mergers in the 1990s, one in each of Victoria, Western Australia and New Zealand. Over the last six years, Westpac has further repositioned its portfolio of businesses, through a number of successful acquisitions and divestments including:

- in 2002, Westpac sold Australian Guarantee Corporation (AGC), its lower growth consumer finance business;
- in 2002, Westpac acquired Rothschild Australia Asset Management, BT Financial Group and Hastings Funds Management, businesses operating in the high growth funds management industry. These acquisitions added substantially to Westpac's existing wealth management operations;

1 Return on equity is calculated as cash earnings divided by average ordinary equity. Average ordinary equity equals average total equity less average minority interests.

2 The Dow Jones Sustainability World Index is a global index that tracks the financial returns of the leading companies in terms of economic, environmental and social performance worldwide.

- in 2007, Westpac divested 40% of its shareholding in BT Investment Management, BT Financial Group's investment management business, reducing its shareholding to 60%, to improve alignment of stakeholder interests; and
- in 2008, Westpac expanded its consumer lending business through the acquisition of the franchise distribution business of RAMS Home Loans (RAMS). This provided Westpac with a further distribution channel to grow its retail bank, via an innovative and flexible franchise model.

Westpac has a broad shareholding base of over 370,000 shareholders. Approximately 99% of Westpac Shareholders are domiciled in Australia or New Zealand. Details in relation to Westpac's capital structure and substantial holders are set out in Section 3.11(a).

Westpac is listed on ASX and is also listed on the New Zealand Stock Exchange, and lists American Depositary Receipts on the New York Stock Exchange.

3.3 Vision and strategy

Westpac's vision is to be the leading financial services company in Australia and New Zealand. In defining leadership, Westpac has four strategic goals:

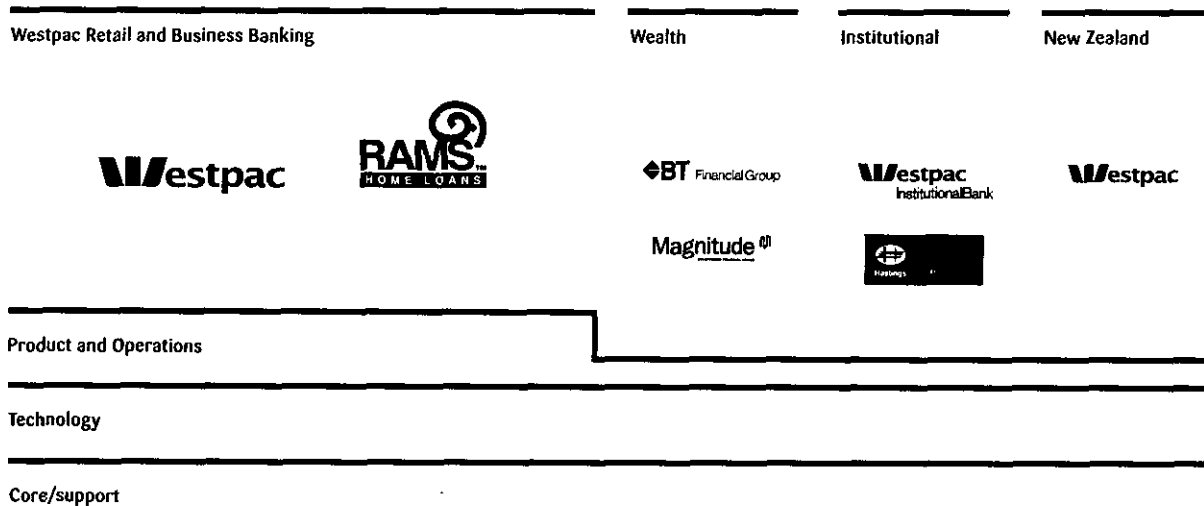

- to be the most recommended financial services company by consumers, businesses and institutions;
- to be the financial services company that most meets its customers' needs;
- to have the most skilled and engaged employees who are passionate about delighting customers; and
- to be a global leader in sustainability.

To achieve this vision, Westpac seeks to:

- create a culture where customers are at the centre of everything it does. This includes designing products, developing its distribution footprint and organising service around the needs of its customers;
- realign its branches so that they better meet the needs of their local communities and its employees have the authority and skills to effectively meet customers' specific needs;
- support its businesses with strong systems so they can deliver for customers;
- maintain its standing as a leading employer in policies and practices while having the right people in the right roles;
- enhance its sustainability processes and behaviours, further building its social leadership through local community engagement; and
- focus on its core markets of Australia, New Zealand and the near Pacific.

3.4 Westpac's organisational structure

On 17 July 2008, Westpac announced changes to its organisational structure which are designed to further enhance its customer focussed strategy. Westpac now has four key customer facing divisions with common support and corporate functions.

- (a) Westpac Retail and Business Banking (WRBB) is responsible for sales, marketing and customer service for all consumers, small to medium enterprises and commercial customers within Australia.

Activities are conducted via a nationwide network of approximately 820 branches, RAMS franchise outlets, Home Finance Managers, specialised consumer relationship managers, call centres, automatic teller machines (ATMs) and internet banking services. For business customers, sales and servicing activities are conducted by specialised relationship managers with the support of Cash Flow, Financial Markets and Wealth specialists via the branch network, business banking centres, internet and telephone channels.

WRBB is also responsible for the management of Westpac's third party retail and business distribution relationships.

The division distributes a broad range of financial products, including savings and cheque accounts, at call and term deposits, credit cards, personal and housing loans, and business specific working capital, transactional, cash flow and trade finance facilities.

WRBB manages around four and a half million customers through its nationwide distribution network.

- (b) BT Financial Group (BTFG) is Westpac's wealth management business in Australia. BTFG manufactures and distributes financial products, designed to help customers accumulate, manage and protect their wealth. These products include retail investments, personal and business superannuation, life and general insurance and portfolio administration (Wrap and master trust platforms). BTFG also provides financial planning advice and private banking services.

As at 31 March 2008, BTFG and its subsidiary BT Investment Management Limited (BTIM) had over $35 billion in funds under management (FUM), across retail, institutional and wholesale markets. BTFG also managed $42 billion in funds under administration (FUA). This comprised Wrap ($35 billion), corporate super ($6 billion) and other ($2 billion). BT's Wrap and master trust platforms were the fastest growing platforms over the past 12 months.¹

In December 2007, Westpac partially floated its investment management business, BTIM, to improve alignment of stakeholder interests. Westpac retains a 60% holding in BTIM while BTIM manages the funds for many of the Westpac Group's investment products, in addition to its own and unrelated parties' investment products.

- (c) Westpac Institutional Bank (WIB) serves the financial needs of corporate, institutional and government customers either based in, or with interests in, Australia and New Zealand. This is achieved through dedicated industry teams supported by specialists with expertise in financial markets, transactional banking and debt capital markets. WIB provides access to global markets across a broad range of products through its debt markets, foreign exchange and commodities businesses. WIB's equities business provides margin lending, structured products, managed portfolios and online broking services to retail and high net worth customers. In addition, WIB's Hastings Funds Management manufactures alternative investment products in areas such as infrastructure and property. WIB also supports customers through branches and subsidiaries located in Australia, New Zealand, New York, London and across Asia.

Westpac's Pacific Banking operations, which provide a full range of deposit, loan, transaction account and international trade facilities to personal and business customers in the near Pacific, also report through WIB.

- (d) Westpac New Zealand is one of New Zealand's largest banking organisations. It provides a full range of retail banking, wealth management and business banking products and services to 1.1 million New Zealand based customers. Westpac New Zealand has approximately 5,000 employees, 200 branches (including agency sites) and 490 ATMs throughout New Zealand. As at 31 March 2008, it had total assets of NZ$46 billion.

These customer facing businesses are supported by the Product and Operations division which comprises all consumer and business product development, management and operations, and the Technology division which is responsible for developing and maintaining reliable and flexible technology capabilities and technology strategies. Westpac also has a number of other enterprise level functions and shared services, which include Group Treasury.

1 BTFG's Wrap and master trust platforms gained the largest dollar net flows over the 12 month period to 31 March 2008 according to Plan for Life.

The following charts show Westpac's summary key segmental information relating to profit before income tax expense, total assets and total liabilities, based on the historical structure as it existed at 31 March 2008. The new structure announced on 17 July 2008 is explained in Section 3.4, and will be reflected in Westpac's segment reporting for FY2009.

The basis of segment reporting reflects the management of the business within the Westpac Group, rather than the legal structure of the Westpac Group. The business segment results have been presented on a management reporting basis and consequently, internal charges and transfer pricing adjustments have been reflected in the performance of each business segment. Inter segment pricing is determined on an arm's length basis.

The business segments are defined by the customers they service and the services they provide:

Business Financial Services (BFS) is responsible for sales, servicing and product development for small to medium enterprise customers within Australia;

Consumer Financial Services (CFS) is responsible for sales, servicing and product development for consumer customers in Australia. Westpac's new Retail and Business Banking division now combines the sales, service and distribution elements of BFS and CFS in a single, customer facing business;

BT Financial Group Australia designs, manufactures and services financial products that enable customers to achieve their financial goals through the accumulation, management and protection of personal wealth;

Institutional Banking services corporate, institutional and government customers by providing relationship management, transactional banking services, access to global markets and domestic equity markets. The segment is also responsible for product manufacturing and distribution of its products into the business and wealth segments;

New Zealand Banking provides banking and wealth management services to consumer and retail business customers in New Zealand; and

Other includes the results of Business Technology Solutions and Services, Group Treasury, Pacific Banking and Head Office functions. The majority of the direct operating expenses of Other are recharged back to the business segments.

(c) Management discussion and analysis of historical financial performance

(i) Overview

Full year ended 30 September 2007 compared to full year ended 30 September 2006

Net profit attributable to equity holders for the full year ended 30 September 2007 was $3,451 million, an increase of $380 million or 12% compared to the prior year.

Westpac's result was driven by net operating income growth of 10%.

Net interest income increased $671 million or 12% following a 16% increase in loans and a 19% increase in deposits, with growth from increased volumes partly offset by a 10 basis point decline in net interest margin.

Non-interest income growth of $285 million or 8% benefited from a 4% increase in fees and commissions, a 16% increase in wealth management and insurance income and a 26% increase in trading income. This was partially offset by a reduction in other income, which included the profit from the sale of the sub custody business in the 2006 financial year.

Expenses increased $248 million or 6% in 2007, largely driven by a 10% rise in employee expenses following the recruitment of additional customer serving employees, cost of processing increased volumes and performance related incentive payments.

Impairment charges of $482 million increased $107 million or 29% following strong loan growth combined with modest deterioration in credit quality consistent with the operating environment and tighter monetary policy.

Net profit attributable to equity holders for the half year ended 31 March 2008 was $2,202 million, an increase of $561 million or 34% compared to the prior comparable period.

Westpac's result was driven by net operating income growth of 18%.

Net interest income growth was the result of a 16% increase in loans and a 24% increase in deposits, with growth from increased volume partially offset by a 20 basis point decline in net interest margin. A key driver in the margin decline was the purchase of additional liquid securities which increase average assets but do not significantly change net interest income.

Non-interest income increased 28% due to growth in fees and commission, an increased contribution from trading income and the benefit of non-recurring gains before income tax from the BTIM Initial Public Offering (IPO) ($141 million) and the Visa IPO ($295 million).

Expense growth of 10% reflected increased employees and increased property expenses as Westpac continued to invest in the front line.

Impairment charges of $433 million increased by $201 million or 87%, reflecting both high asset growth and the impacts of a deterioration in the credit environment in both Australia and New Zealand. Institutional impairment charges were up $146 million as a result of increased provisions for a small number of single name exposures.

Notes:

- (1) Westpac has entered into various tax effective financing transactions that derive income that is subject to a reduced rate of income tax. The impact of this is reflected in lower income tax expense and interest income. In order to provide improved comparability, this income is presented on a tax equivalent basis using the applicable tax rate of the geography in which the transaction is booked.
- (2) Average interest earning assets are the average balance of assets held by the Westpac Group that generate interest income. Where possible, daily balances are used to calculate the average balance for the period.
- (3) Ratios for half year have been annualised for comparability.

Full year ended 30 September 2007 compared to full year ended 30 September 2006

Adjusted net interest income increased $661 million or 11%. The key driver for the growth in net interest income for the year ended 30 September 2007 was the 17% increase in average interest earning assets partially offset by a 10 basis point decrease in margins.

Net interest margin for the year ended 30 September 2007 reduced by 10 basis points to 2.19%. The margin decline was driven by competition in Australian and New Zealand consumer and business markets and growing lower margin institutional assets faster than higher margin consumer and business loans.

Adjusted net interest income increased $365 million or 12%. The key driver for the growth was the 23% increase in average interest earning assets partially offset by a 20 basis point decrease in margins.

Net interest margin for the six months ended 31 March 2008 was 20 basis points lower falling to 2.05%. The drivers of this decline include higher wholesale funding costs, increases in liquid securities in the half, and the impacts of growing relatively lower margin institutional assets faster than consumer and business assets.

Non-interest income

	Sep 07	Sep 06	Mar 08	Mar 07
Fees and commissions	1,832	1,766	966	905
Trading income	660	525	388	260
Wealth management and insurance income	1,259	1,084	443	629
Other income	109	200	527	26
Total non-interest income	3,860	3,575	2,324	1,820

Full year ended 30 September 2007 compared to full year ended 30 September 2006

Non-interest income was $3,860 million in the year ended 30 September 2007, an increase of $285 million or 8%. This was driven by increases across fees and commissions, trading and wealth management income, partially offset by a reduction in other income.

Trading income increased as increased sales and risk management activity was stimulated by higher market volatility. Wealth management and insurance income increased following growth in FUA of 14% and FUM of 6%.

Other income decreased by $91 million or 46%. The prior year result included the proceeds from the sale of the sub custody business ($94 million) which was the primary driver of the decline in total other income.

Non-interest income was up $504 million or 28%, reflecting increases in fees and commissions, increased trading income, a reduction in wealth management and insurance income due to policy holder tax recoveries. Other income increased by $501 million primarily due to the one off gains of the BTIM IPO and the Visa IPO.

Operating expenses

	Sep 07	Sep 06	Mar 08	Mar 07
Salaries and other staff expenses	(2,557)	(2,324)	(1,403)	(1,223)
Equipment and occupancy expenses	(628)	(614)	(336)	(309)
Other expenses	(1,358)	(1,357)	(713)	(697)
Total operating expenses	(4,543)	(4,295)	(2,452)	(2,229)

Full year ended 30 September 2007 compared to full year ended 30 September 2006

The $248 million increase in operating expenses for the year ended 30 September 2007 was primarily the result of higher personnel costs. Salaries and other employee expenses increased by $233 million or 10% compared to 2006. This was driven by increased employee numbers, fixed salary increases of 4% and other market related pay increases. For the full year ended 30 September 2007, with revenues growing faster than expenses, Westpac's expense to income ratio improved by 190 basis points to 44.7% compared to the prior period.

The $223 million increase in operating expenses for the half year ended 31 March 2008 was primarily the result of a higher number of employees and equipment costs.

Salaries and other employee expenses increased by $180 million or 15% compared to the half year ended 31 March 2007. This was driven by increased employee numbers, fixed salary increases of 4% and other market related pay increases. There were also additional costs (including additional full time equivalent (FTE)) of $8 million as a result of the acquisition of the RAMS franchise distribution business.

Equipment and occupancy expenses increased by $27 million or 9% compared to the prior corresponding period due to an increase in operating lease rentals and increased depreciation largely relating to the fit-out of Westpac Place and new retail and business banking sites. Westpac's expense to income ratio improved by 310 basis points to 42.3%.

(d) Contingent liabilities

See Section 12.11 on material Westpac litigation matters.

3.8 Material changes in financial position since 30 September 2007

The last annual financial statements presented to Westpac Shareholders in general meeting and made available to Westpac Shareholders were the audited financial statements for the year ended 30 September 2007 as lodged with ASX on 8 November 2007. So far as is known by the Westpac Directors, the only material changes to the financial position of Westpac since 30 September 2007 are as follows:

- the Westpac financial statements for the half year ended 31 March 2008 (set out in this Section 3 and lodged with ASX on 1 May 2008); and
- the market update released by Westpac to ASX on 8 August 2008.

3.9 Westpac market update

On 8 August 2008, Westpac provided an update to the market to discuss the progress on its strategy journey, how it was well positioned in the current environment, and its outlook for the 2008 financial year. Key points raised at the update included:

- Westpac is progressing well in implementing its strategic agenda;
- financial system credit growth in Australia is slowing but Westpac has gained market share over calendar year 2008;
- in the Institutional Bank, no new large impaired assets emerged over the four months to July 2008;
- Westpac has limited valuation risks in its securities portfolios;
- the Westpac Group is strongly capitalised with a pro forma 31 March 2008 Tier 1 capital ratio of 7.7% (which incorporates hybrid equity issuance and a deduction for interest rate risk in the banking book);
- FY2008 term funding requirements have been completed and pre-funding for FY2009 has commenced; and
- Westpac is on track to deliver 6% to 8% cash earnings growth in FY2008.

3.10 Capital management, funding and credit rating

(a) Capital management policy

As a highly rated authorised deposit taking institution, Westpac's capital management strategy seeks to ensure that the enterprise is strongly capitalised relative to the risks in its portfolio. Ensuring that Westpac's balance sheet structure is prudent and flexible has led to the following long term operating principles:

- Westpac seeks to manage capital within target ranges with the lower limits taking account of regulatory requirements and ratings agency guidance;
- Westpac's target ranges are intended to be consistent with a 'AA' senior debt rating;
- Westpac actively manages the deployment of capital within the legal entities that make up the Westpac Group to ensure capital ratios are within ranges and other requirements are met; and
- Westpac seeks to maximise total shareholder return (TSR¹) over the longer term through share price appreciation and via increasing fully franked dividends. The increase in dividends should be supported by increased earnings.

Westpac was among the first banks in the world to be accredited to use advanced measurement methods permitted by the Basel II framework and has been operating in accordance with the new framework since 1 January 2008.

Westpac reviews its target capital ranges each year. For the foreseeable future and in light of market conditions, Westpac will seek to maintain conservative levels of capital.

Basel II
Total capital ratio	%	10.1
Tier 1 capital ratio	%	7.4
Adjusted common equity to risk weighted assets	%	6.0
Risk weighted assets	$m	186,963

The above ratios do not include the recent issue of Westpac SPS or Westpac's recent accreditation to use internal models to measure regulatory capital required to be held against interest rate risk in the banking book (IRRBB).

The Westpac SPS issue qualifies as Non-Innovative Residual Tier 1 Capital under APRA's regulatory capital requirements. The issue of Westpac SPS raised an additional $1.019 billion (net of costs) in Tier 1 capital, which added approximately 55 basis points to Westpac's Tier 1 capital ratio.

Westpac has been accredited to use IRRBB from 1 July 2008. The new capital requirement is volatile but is expected to reduce the bank's Tier 1 ratio, on initial adoption by approximately 25 basis points.

(b) Funding

As at 30 June 2008, approximately 52% of Westpac's funding was provided by customer deposits and 48% by wholesale funding from the global capital markets.

The objectives of Westpac's wholesale funding strategy are to:

- raise efficiently priced funds within Westpac Board limits and prudent liquidity limits, and funding capacity ahead of balance sheet needs; and
- maintain and enhance a wholesale funding franchise that enables the Westpac Group to have broad and diverse funding sources.

In light of the dislocation in global capital markets, Westpac has improved its funding resilience and flexibility by:

- increasing the amount of liquid assets held (to approximately $30 billion as at 8 August 2008) to improve flexibility in accessing markets. Additional liquidity allows Westpac to be more selective in the timing of its funding activities;
- raising term funding ahead of funding requirements. In the financial year to 8 August 2008, Westpac has raised around $32 billion in term wholesale funding, at an average term of 2.9 years, and has completed Westpac's term funding task for the 2008 financial year; and
- further developing the strength of Westpac's funding franchise by more frequent and comprehensive market communication and by raising funds in markets that have not been accessed by Westpac for some time, for example, Switzerland and Japan.

In the 2009 financial year, Westpac's stand alone term funding requirement (including both portfolio growth and maturing facilities) is expected to be approximately $20 billion.

(c) Credit rating

Westpac Banking Corporation is rated by a range of ratings agencies, including Standard & Poor's, Moody's Investors Service and Fitch Ratings. Following the announcement of the Merger Proposal, each of the rating agencies reaffirmed Westpac's current rating. In reaffirming the rating, Standard & Poor's and Moody's Investors Service maintained a stable outlook while Fitch Ratings affirmed Westpac's rating but applied a positive outlook to the rating.

As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, these credit ratings were as follows:

	Short term issuer credit rating	Long term issuer credit rating
Standard & Poor's	'A-1+'	'AA' (outlook stable)
Moody's Investors Service	'P-1'	'Aa1' (outlook stable)
Fitch Ratings	'F1+'	'AA-' (rating watch positive)

Note:

The above credit rating references are based on information publicly released by Standard & Poor's, Moody's Investors Service and Fitch Ratings (Rating Agencies), as applicable. The Rating Agencies have not consented to the use of these credit rating references in this Scheme Booklet. The above credit ratings are not recommendations by the Rating Agencies to buy, sell or hold Westpac debt or equity securities or for St. George Security Holders to vote in favour of or against the Share Scheme, SAINTS Scheme or Option Scheme. Each of the Rating Agencies may revise or withdraw their credit rating at any time.

When setting its dividend, Westpac considers both cash earnings and the requirement to retain sufficient capital to fund business growth. Cash earnings adjusts net profit attributable to equity holders of Westpac Banking Corporation for material items to ensure they appropriately reflect profit normally available for ordinary shareholders.

The table below provides a reconciliation from net profit attributable to equity holders of Westpac to cash earnings.

1. Treasury shares

Under AIFRS, shares in Westpac Banking Corporation held by the Westpac Group in the managed funds and life business are deemed to be treasury shares and earnings from these shares are reversed as these are not permitted to be recognised as income. In deriving cash earnings, these earnings are included to ensure there is no asymmetrical impact on Westpac's profit because the treasury shares support policyholder liabilities and equity derivative transactions which are revalued in deriving income.

2. TPS revaluation

Cash earnings adjustments for economic hedges, including associated tax effects impacting the foreign currency translation reserve, relating to hybrid instruments classified as minority interests. The hybrid instrument itself is not fair valued; however, the hedge is and therefore there is a mismatch in timing of income recognition in the statutory results. This mismatch is added back in deriving cash earnings as it does not affect Westpac's profits over time.

3. Unrealised NZ Retail earnings hedges

The unrealised profit/loss on the revaluation of hedges on future New Zealand earnings impacting non-interest income is reversed in deriving cash earnings in the current period as they may potentially create a material timing difference on reported earnings but do not affect profit available to shareholders.

4. Ineffective hedges

The net gain/loss on ineffective hedges is reversed in deriving cash earnings in the current period because the gain or loss arising from the fair value movement in these hedges reverses over time and does not affect profits available to shareholders. Cash earnings for the years ending 30 September 2007 and 2006 and the half year ending 31 March 2007 have not been restated.

5. Significant items

Cash earnings also adjusts for significant items due to their size and non-recurring nature. In the six months ended 31 March 2008, this included adjustments for the gain associated with the initial public offering (IPO) of BT Investment Management Limited and the gain associated with the IPO of Visa Inc. In the year ended 30 September 2006, this included adjustments for the gain on sale of the sub custody business and a deferred tax write off. There were no adjustments to cash earnings for significant items in the year ended 30 September 2007 or the six months ended 31 March 2007.

(d) Summary of Westpac's franking position

Westpac's ability to continue to fully frank dividends remains strong. Westpac's adjusted franking account balance was $423 million as at 31 March 2008 (30 September 2007: $274 million), after allowing for the impact of Westpac's 2008 interim dividend.

(e) Summary of the Westpac Constitution

The rights attaching to Westpac Shares are set out in the Westpac Constitution and are regulated by the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules and the general law. Set out below is a summary of the principal rights and liabilities attaching to Westpac Shares. The summary is not exhaustive nor is it a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities attaching to the Westpac Shares. A copy of the Westpac Constitution is available for inspection on the Westpac website at www.westpac.com.au and for St. George Shareholders and Award Option Holders who are not able to access the internet, a copy will be provided free of charge on request. Requests prior to the Effective Date can be made by contacting Westpac's "Shareholder Information Line" on 1800 609 723 (within Australia) or +61 2 8280 7712 (outside Australia).

(i) Profits and dividends

Holders of Westpac Shares are entitled to receive such dividends on those shares as may be declared by Westpac Directors from time to time. Dividends that are paid, but not claimed, may be invested by Westpac Directors for the benefit of Westpac until required to be dealt with in accordance with any law relating to unclaimed monies.

Dividends are only payable out of net profits. Subject to the Corporations Act and the Westpac Constitution, the Westpac Directors may determine that a dividend is payable, fix the amount and the time for payment and authorise payment to each Westpac Shareholder entitled to that dividend.

Westpac Directors may, before paying any dividend, set aside out of profits such sums as they think proper as reserves, to be applied, at their discretion, for any purpose for which Westpac's profits may be properly applied. Westpac Directors may carry forward profits remaining as they consider ought not to be distributed as dividends, without transferring those profits to a reserve.

The following restrictions apply to Westpac's ability to declare and/or pay dividends:

- if the payment of the dividend would breach or cause a breach by Westpac of applicable capital adequacy or other supervisory requirements of APRA. Currently, one such requirement is that a dividend should not be paid without APRA's prior consent if payment of that dividend, after taking into account all other dividends (if any) paid on Westpac Shares and payments on more senior capital instruments, in the financial year to which they relate, would cause the aggregate of such dividend payments to exceed Westpac's after-tax earnings for the financial year, as reflected in the relevant audited consolidated financial statements;

- if, under the Banking Act, Westpac is directed by APRA not to pay a dividend; or
 - if the declaration or payment of the dividend would result in Westpac becoming insolvent.

A summary of dividend payments on Westpac Shares is set out in Section 3.11(c).

(ii) Voting rights

Holders of Westpac Shares have, at general meetings (including special general meetings) one vote on a show of hands and, upon a poll, one vote for each fully paid Westpac Share held by them. The Westpac Directors may determine that at any general meeting, a holder is entitled to a "direct vote", including a vote delivered to Westpac by post, fax or other electronic means approved by the Westpac Directors. The Westpac Directors may specify the form, method and timing of giving a direct vote for it to be valid.

(iii) Voting and re-election of Westpac Directors

Under the Westpac Constitution, at each annual general meeting (AGM) one third of Westpac Directors (or if their number is not a multiple of three, the number nearest to one third) and any other Westpac Director who has held office for three years or more since the Westpac Director's last election, must retire from office. In determining the number of Westpac Directors to retire, no account is to be taken of a Westpac Director who holds office in order to fill a casual vacancy or the Westpac Managing Director. A retiring Westpac Director holds office until the conclusion of the meeting at which that Westpac Director retires but is eligible for re-election at the meeting.

Under the Listing Rules, no executive or non-executive director of a listed entity, apart from the Westpac Managing Director, may continue to hold office, without offering himself or herself for re-election, past the third AGM following their appointment or three years, whichever is longer.

Under Westpac Board policy, the maximum tenure of Westpac Directors (other than the chairman) is three consecutive terms or nine years, whichever is longer, from the date of first election by Westpac Shareholders. The maximum tenure of the chairman is no more than four terms of three years or 12 years (inclusive of any terms as a Westpac Director prior to being elected as chairman), from date of first election by Westpac Shareholders.

(iv) Minimum number of Westpac Directors

Currently, the Corporations Act prescribes three as a minimum number of directors and APRA governance standards specify five as the minimum number of directors for APRA regulated entities. Under the Westpac Constitution, the minimum number of Westpac Directors is what is prescribed by law and the maximum number is 15. Westpac's current number of directors is above these prescribed minimums. Details of Westpac's current directors are set out in Section 3.5.

(v) Convening general meetings

Under the Westpac Constitution, Westpac Directors may convene and arrange to hold a general meeting of the company whenever they think fit and must do so if required under the Corporations Act and Listing Rules. Under the Corporations Act, Westpac Directors must call and arrange to hold a general meeting of the Company if requested to do so by Westpac Shareholders who hold at least 5% of the votes that may be cast at the general meeting or 100 shareholders entitled to vote at that meeting. Westpac Shareholders who hold at least 5% of the votes that may be cast at the general meeting may also call and arrange to hold a general meeting of Westpac at their own expense.

At least 28 days' notice must be given of a meeting of Westpac Shareholders. Written notice must be given to all Westpac Shareholders entitled to attend and vote at the meeting. All Westpac Shareholders are entitled to attend and, subject to the Westpac Constitution and the Corporations Act, to vote at Westpac general meetings. Holders of Westpac SPS are entitled to attend Westpac general meetings but are only entitled to vote in accordance with their terms of issue.

(vi) Variation of rights attaching to Westpac Shares

Under the Corporations Act, unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of a class of shares, the terms of issue of a class of shares in Westpac can only be varied or cancelled in any way by a special resolution of Westpac and with either the written consent of Westpac shareholders holding at least 75% of the votes in that class of shares or with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of that class of shares.

(vii) Winding up

Subject to the preferential entitlement (if any) of holders of preference shares on issue at the relevant time, holders of Westpac Shares are entitled to share equally in any surplus assets if Westpac is wound up.

(viii) Preference shares

Shares with preferential treatment relating, among other things, to dividends, voting and repayment of share capital, can be issued by Westpac Directors from time to time subject to the Corporations Act and the Westpac Constitution.

If Westpac wished to issue shares with preferential rights relating to such matters as dividends, voting and repayment of share capital which were not currently permitted under the Westpac Constitution, it would be necessary to obtain the approval by special resolution of Westpac Shareholders at a general meeting.

On 30 July 2008, Westpac issued 10,362,670 Westpac SPS at an issue price of $100 each. Each Westpac SPS consists of a preference share issued by Westpac (Westpac Preference Share) which is stapled to a perpetual, unsecured, non-cumulative subordinated note issued by Westpac's New York branch (Westpac Note). The terms of Westpac SPS are summarised in Section 3.11(f).

(f) Summary of terms of Westpac SPS

The Westpac Preference Share terms and Westpac Note terms are set out in the Westpac Stapled Preferred Securities Prospectus dated 26 June 2008 (Westpac SPS Prospectus) and are regulated by the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules and the general law. Set out below is a summary of the principal rights and liabilities attaching to Westpac SPS. The summary is not exhaustive nor is it a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities attaching to the Westpac SPS.

(i) Distributions and Dividends

Westpac SPS offers holders preferred, non-cumulative, floating rate distributions payable quarterly in arrears. The distribution rate is calculated each quarter as the sum of the applicable 90 day bank bill rate per annum plus a margin of 2.4% per annum, together multiplied by (1- the Australian corporate tax rate). Distributions are expected to be fully franked and to the extent not fully franked, will be grossed up for any shortfall in franking. Distributions will not be payable if:

- Westpac Directors determine (in their absolute discretion) not to pay the distribution;
- the amount of the distribution exceeds Westpac's distributable profits (unless APRA otherwise approves); or
- APRA objects to the payment of the distribution.

If a distribution is not paid within 20 Business Days of a distribution payment date, a dividend and capital stopper will apply to restrict Westpac from paying dividends or distributions or returning capital on certain of its other securities including Westpac Shares.

While the Westpac Notes and Westpac Preference Shares are stapled, distributions are payable in respect of the Westpac Notes only. Upon the occurrence of certain events, the relevant Westpac Notes and Westpac Preference Shares will unstaple, the relevant Westpac Notes will be transferred to Westpac or a relevant member of the Westpac Group and dividends will then only be payable on the Westpac Preference Shares (calculated on the same basis as distributions on the Westpac Notes), if the Westpac Preference Shares remain on issue following the unstapling. These events include a date Westpac selects in its absolute discretion, the appointment by APRA of a statutory manager to Westpac, the date the Westpac Preference Shares are converted or redeemed, distributions on the Westpac Notes not having been paid within 20 Business Days of a distribution payment date, and certain events of default.

(ii) Mandatory conversion, transfer or redemption

On 26 September 2013, it is expected that the Westpac SPS will be either:

- converted into Westpac Shares, provided that certain conversion conditions are satisfied, such that holders will receive approximately $101 worth of Westpac Shares per Westpac SPS (calculated based on the average of the daily volume weighted average price of Westpac Shares on ASX for the 20 Trading Days preceding, but not including, the conversion date); or
- transferred to a party nominated by Westpac for $100 cash per Westpac SPS at the election of Westpac, provided Westpac has given holders a transfer notice between 30 and 50 Business Days prior to that date.

If Westpac has not issued a transfer notice and certain of the conversion conditions are not satisfied, then Westpac SPS may, subject to APRA's prior written approval, be redeemed for cash at $100 per Westpac SPS.

If Westpac SPS are not converted, transferred or redeemed on 26 September 2013, then they will remain on issue and may be converted, transferred or redeemed at the next distribution payment date, subject to the relevant conversion conditions being satisfied at that time.

Westpac SPS are also subject to early conversion, transfer or redemption at Westpac's election (and subject to APRA's approval) in the event that certain regulatory, tax or acquisition events occur in respect of Westpac.

(iii) Voting rights

Westpac Preference Shareholders have no right to vote at any general meeting of Westpac except in the following circumstances:

- on a proposal:
 - to reduce the share capital of Westpac;
 - that affects rights attached to Westpac Preference Shares;
 - to wind up Westpac; or
 - for the disposal of the whole of the property, business and undertaking of Westpac;

- on a resolution to approve the terms of a share buy back agreement, other than a buy back agreement relating to Westpac Preference Shares;
 - during a period during which a dividend (or part of a dividend) in respect of the Westpac Preference Shares is in arrears; and
 - during the winding up of Westpac.

When entitled to vote at a general meeting of Westpac in respect of the matters listed above, Westpac Preference Shareholders are entitled:

- on a show of hands, to exercise one vote; and
- on a poll, to one vote for each Westpac Preference Share.

(iv) Winding up

Westpac Preference Shares and Westpac Notes rank for payment in a winding up of Westpac ahead of Westpac Shares and equally with certain other Westpac capital securities, but are subordinated to claims of Westpac deposit holders and other senior creditors.

(g) Summary of Westpac's dividend reinvestment plan

Westpac has a dividend reinvestment plan (DRP) in place, under which holders of Westpac Shares may elect to reinvest all or part of their dividends in additional Westpac Shares. Participation in the DRP is optional; however, a participant's rights under the DRP are not transferable. Westpac Shareholders in countries other than Australia and New Zealand are not eligible to participate.

Westpac Shareholders may elect one of the following two levels of participation in the DRP:

- full participation – a Westpac Shareholder may elect to participate in the DRP in respect of all Westpac Shares registered in the name of that holder; or
- partial participation – a Westpac Shareholder may nominate a specific number of Westpac Shares, less than the Westpac Shareholder's total holding.

Westpac Shareholders may vary their participation, or withdraw from the DRP at any time, subject to adequate notice being given.

Westpac Shares issued or transferred under the DRP rank equally with existing Westpac Shares from the date of issue or transfer.

(h) Summary of Westpac's employee equity plans

(i) Executive and senior management equity plans

Westpac options, share rights and restricted Westpac Shares are granted to selected executives and senior managers under the following employee equity plans.

(A) Westpac Reward Plan (WRP)

The WRP is a performance option plan approved by Westpac Shareholders at Westpac's 2006 AGM. Its purpose is to provide Westpac with an enhanced mechanism for driving superior long term performance among its most senior management (group executives and general managers) in Australia, New Zealand and Singapore.

WRP performance options have an exercise price set at the time of invitation based on the prevailing market price of Westpac Shares, and an expiry date 10 years after grant and for options allocated from 1 September 2008, an expiry date 10 years from the commencement of the performance period. Performance options vest subject to meeting set performance hurdles.

Total shareholder return (TSR) is the basis for the performance hurdles of the WRP. Westpac's TSR is measured relative to a peer group of the largest 13 financial sector companies by market capitalisation on ASX at a set date prior to the invitation. At each test date, an external consultant measures Westpac's TSR performance relative to the top 10 (by market capitalisation at the time of grant) remaining companies in the peer group, and these results are reviewed and approved by the Westpac Board or its delegate to determine vesting outcomes.

The vesting framework focuses on longer term performance. Initial performance testing occurs after three years, with retesting at years four and five. Performance options vest only if the TSR ranking is at or above median, scaling up to full vesting if the TSR ranking is at or above the 75th percentile.

Performance options may lapse where an executive leaves the Westpac Group due to resignation or dismissal before vesting occurs. Unexercised performance options (whether vested or unvested) may lapse where an executive acts fraudulently or dishonestly or is in material breach of their obligations under the WRP or to Westpac. Any performance options remaining unvested at the final test date lapse immediately.

(B) Westpac Performance Plan (WPP)

The WPP was introduced in 2002 and its focus has been on providing Westpac key employees with a long term financial incentive to deliver sustained shareholder value.

(i) Performance securities (performance options and performance share rights)

The performance hurdled long term incentive component of the WPP was replaced by the WRP from 2007. Existing grants of performance securities under the WPP continue to run their course.

TSR is the basis for the performance hurdled long term incentive component of the WPP:

- 50% of the long term incentive award is assessed against a TSR ranking group of the top 10 of the largest 13 Australian banking and financial sector companies by market capitalisation at the time of grant (excluding Westpac); and
- the other 50% assesses TSR performance against a ranking group of the 50 largest companies on ASX by market capitalisation at the time of grant (excluding Westpac, property trusts, specified resource companies, and the first ranking group).

For grants of performance securities prior to December 2005, TSR performance is measured against the 50 largest companies on ASX by market capitalisation at the time of grant (excluding Westpac, property trusts, and specified resource companies). These grants continue to run their course.

Performance options have a vesting period of between three and five years. Performance share rights have a vesting period of either two to four years, or three to five years. At each test date, relative TSR for the grant is assessed and the participant may elect to take the vested component of the award, or resubmit the full award to be retested at a subsequent test date. Where the participant chooses to vest any of the securities granted, any securities that do not vest at that time are forgone.

Full vesting of performance securities occurs when relative TSR is at (or exceeds) the 75th percentile of the ranking group, scaling down to 50% vesting on a straight line basis for median performance. Below median performance, no vesting occurs.

(ii) Unhurdled securities (options and share rights without performance hurdles)

Unhurdled securities are also granted under the WPP to key employees in Westpac's offshore locations excluding the US. Vesting for these unhurdled securities is based on service, and no performance hurdles are attached.

Previously, unhurdled options were also offered in the US; however, this has been discontinued due to changed local regulatory requirements. Current awards to key US based employees are made under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan described below. Existing unhurdled option awards to US based employees continue to run their course.

(C) Chief Executive securities arrangements

Gail Kelly participates in the CEO Performance Plan and the CEO Restricted Share Plan (CEO RSP).

CEO Performance Plan

Gail Kelly's long term incentive (LTI) remuneration is granted under the CEO Performance Plan and consists of:

- performance options which have an exercise price set at the time of grant based on the prevailing market price of Westpac Shares; and
- performance share rights which have a nil exercise price.

Both have an expiry date 10 years after grant.

Under the CEO Performance Plan, performance hurdles must be met before any vesting of the performance options or performance share rights can occur. Performance is measured based on Westpac's TSR between the grant date and the performance test date compared to TSRs for a peer group of 10 listed Australian financial services companies determined at the grant date, including the largest retail banks and other ASX listed financial services companies with which Westpac competes.

Initial performance testing occurs at the third anniversary of grant, with subsequent performance testing possible at the fourth and fifth anniversary of grant. Performance options and performance share rights vest only if Westpac's TSR ranking is at or above the median of the peer group at a performance test date. Vesting increases at subsequent test dates only if the TSR ranking has improved. Full vesting occurs if relative TSR is at or exceeds the 75th percentile of the ranking group and scales down on a straight line basis to 50% vesting for median performance.

At Westpac's 2007 AGM, Westpac Shareholders approved awards to Gail Kelly under the CEO Performance Plan to the value of $2,500,000 to be granted in each of February 2008 and December 2008.

CEO Restricted Share Plan

Under the CEO RSP, Westpac Shares may be allocated to Gail Kelly at no cost to her with vesting subject to remaining employed with Westpac for a set period. The CEO RSP is used both for Gail Kelly's sign on arrangements as well as for the deferral of a portion of her future short term incentive (STI) payments.

Westpac Shares under the CEO RSP are held in Gail Kelly's name and are subject to restrictions until satisfaction of the vesting conditions. Westpac Shares held in the CEO RSP rank equally with Westpac Shares for dividends and voting rights, and the shares may be held in the CEO RSP for up to 10 years from the date they are granted.

At Westpac's 2007 AGM, Westpac Shareholders approved the following awards to Gail Kelly under the CEO RSP:

- Westpac Shares to the value of $4,900,000 to vest 12 months after the date of grant; and
- Westpac Shares to the value of $2,100,000 to vest on 1 December 2009.

Up to 40% of each of Gail Kelly's 2008 and 2009 STI payments are to be received as Westpac Shares, half restricted for 12 months and half for two years from the date they are granted.

(D) Westpac Restricted Share Plan

The Westpac Restricted Share Plan provides an instrument for attracting and retaining employees. The key features of this plan are summarised as follows:

- Westpac Shares may be allocated to eligible employees at no cost, with vesting subject to remaining employed with Westpac for a period determined by the Westpac Board;
- Westpac Shares are held in the name of the employee and rank equally with Westpac Shares for dividends and voting rights;
- Westpac Shares may be held in the plan for up to 10 years from the date they are granted and for Westpac Shares allocated from 1 September 2008, held for up to 10 years from the commencement of the vesting period. Westpac Shares granted in relation to the Option Scheme and Deeds of Cancellation are an exception to this rule, and will be released from the Westpac Restricted Share Plan upon the expiry of the applicable vesting period;
- Westpac Shares must generally be held in the plan for the full vesting period applying to the relevant Westpac Shares. While in the plan, Westpac Shares may not be transferred or otherwise dealt with. In general, at any time after the applicable vesting period expires, holders may request Westpac Shares to be released from the plan, except where they have already been released; and
- persons who hold Westpac Shares in the plan will be eligible to receive dividends. Australian based employees may also participate in the Westpac dividend reinvestment plan.

(ii) Closed executive and senior management equity plans

The General Management Share Option Plan (GMSOP) and Senior Officers' Share Purchase Scheme (SOSPS) were closed to new offers in 2002. Under these plans, executives and senior management received options to acquire Westpac Shares at an exercise price set at the time of invitation based on the prevailing market price of Westpac Shares.

(iii) Employee share plans

(A) Deferral Share Plan (DSP)

Under the DSP, eligible Australian based employees have the opportunity to pre-elect to receive any prospective short term incentive bonus as Westpac Shares. Participants pay a calculated average of the market price, including acquisition costs, at the time Westpac Shares are purchased on market on their behalf by an independent plan company. The Westpac Shares must generally remain in the plan for 12 months, but can remain for up to 10 years. Shares in the DSP are held in the name of the employee and rank equally with Westpac Shares for dividends and voting rights.

Australian based Westpac non-executive directors and the CEO may also elect to receive a percentage of their fees/salary in Westpac Shares under the DSP.

(B) Employee Share Plan (ESP)

Under the ESP, eligible Australian based employees may receive up to $1,000 of Westpac Shares per year at no cost to them. The size of the award depends on the increase in the Westpac Share price over a 12 month measurement period aligned to Westpac's financial year and is subject to the discretion of the Westpac Board.

In recent years, Westpac Shares for the ESP have been newly issued. Shares in the ESP are held in the name of the employee, rank equally with Westpac Shares for dividends and voting rights and must generally remain in the ESP for three years unless the holder leaves Westpac.

Profile of the Merged Group

In accordance with the responsibility statement on page 2 of this Scheme Booklet, Westpac has sole responsibility for preparing information contained in this Section 4, subject to St.George taking sole responsibility for the information that it has provided to Westpac for the purposes of preparing information on the Merged Group as specified in the definition of St.George Information.

It is important that you consider the risk factors that could affect the Merged Group as explained in Section 5, as well as the potential benefits of the merger, outlined in this Section 4.

4.1 Rationale for the Merger Proposal

The proposed combination of St.George and Westpac is a compelling proposition for shareholders and customers. Westpac anticipates that:

- the Merger Proposal is expected to be cash earnings per share accretive for Westpac Shareholders by year three after the implementation of the Merger Proposal;

- the Merged Group will have iconic brands from the St.George and Westpac businesses. These distinctive brands will be retained and strengthened within the Merged Group;
- the combined 10 million customers will continue to be serviced by their existing banking brand. These customers will have access to enhanced banking services, in terms of a larger banking network (e.g. more ATMs) and a larger range of financial products and services;
- the Merged Group will have the largest branch network nationally, with no plans to make a net reduction in the combined St.George and Westpac branch network or ATM numbers. The Merged Group will aim to significantly strengthen its capability in distribution, using best practice from each business; and
- post the merger, Westpac is expected to have a 'AA' Credit Rating¹, which enables the Merged Group to be well positioned in the current environment.

4.2 Description of the Merged Group's businesses

Westpac intends to merge the St.George and Westpac businesses in a way that will continue the choice that the two organisations provide to customers today. To achieve this, Westpac intends to run the two businesses under a combined operating model which is illustrated below:

St.George and Westpac customers

St.George Sales, Service and Distribution

Westpac Retail and Business Banking

Wealth

Institutional

New Zealand

Product and Operations

Technology

Core/support

¹ Following the announcement on 12 May 2008 and 13 May 2008 of the proposed merger, Standard & Poor's, Moody's Investors Service and Fitch Ratings reaffirmed Westpac's credit ratings and Westpac expects the credit ratings to be reaffirmed following completion of the merger.

The proposed model has the following key features:

(a) Retail and Business Banking - St. George and Westpac

The St. George and Westpac Retail and Business Banking distribution businesses, each with their distinctive brands will be retained and operated separately from each other, thereby preserving existing customer preferences and minimising disruption to services provided. In particular, St. George's brands, including BankSA and Asgard, and the St. George/Bank SA branch and ATM networks, will be retained within the Merged Group.

This multi brand strategy will be supported by two separate St. George and Westpac distribution businesses, which will each have their own Group Executive reporting directly to the Westpac CEO.

The Merged Group will operate the largest branch network and the second largest ATM network across Australia. The Merged Group will offer its customers greater convenience and access to their money through more than 2,700 ATMs across Australia, the use of which will incur no additional ATM fees for St. George and Westpac customers.

There will be no net reduction in the ATM or branch numbers of St. George and Westpac.

(b) Wealth Management

St. George and Westpac both currently operate strong wealth management divisions covering investment, superannuation, insurance, margin lending, securities broking, financial planning and administration platforms. It is important to note that margin lending and securities broking will form part of the Merged Group's equities business which will be part of the Institutional Bank. The combination of St. George and Westpac will result in the Merged Group becoming the largest administrator of superannuation and investments in Australia measured by funds under administration.

The Wealth Management division will support St. George and Westpac customers in growing and protecting their wealth to enable them to achieve their financial goals.

(c) Institutional Bank

Westpac is one of the leading providers of wholesale banking services in Australia and New Zealand.

The merged institutional banking business will expand on its product manufacturing and distribution expertise to leverage the combined client base and distribution capability. The Institutional Bank will continue to manufacture and distribute products to the Merged Group's Retail and Business Banking and Wealth Management divisions, in addition to its own institutional clients.

The combination of St. George and Westpac will further enhance the Institutional Bank's position as being a leading provider of wholesale banking products and services.

(d) New Zealand

Westpac intends to continue to operate its New Zealand business as it does today.

(e) Product and Operations - Retail and Business Banking

The two separate St. George and Westpac distribution businesses will be supported by a single combined product and operations function.

Product and Operations will aim to streamline processes to better service customers, deliver best in breed products and will take best practices from both organisations and share them across the combined group.

This function will provide product and operations capability to support both Retail and Business Banking distribution businesses, aligning St. George and Westpac capabilities wherever possible, and delivering efficiencies over time.

(f) Technology and support functions

The multiple distribution businesses will be supported by a single combined technology function and a single combined core/support function. These functions will provide technology services and corporate head office services to support all of the distribution businesses, again, aligning St. George and Westpac capabilities wherever possible, to deliver merger cost synergies over time.

4.3 Benefits of the Merger Proposal

(a) Overview

Shareholders and other stakeholders in the Merged Group will have the opportunity to benefit from the enhanced positioning and scale of the Merged Group, which will be:

- Australia's largest branch network with almost 1,200 branches;
- Australia's second largest ATM network with more than 2,700 ATMs;
- Australia's largest provider of home lending;
- Australia's largest provider of wealth platforms by funds under administration;
- Australia's second largest business banking lender; and
- Australia's second largest bank by assets.

(b) Benefits for shareholders

The Merger Proposal is expected to present benefits to the Merged Group's shareholders through revenue opportunities, cost synergies and other benefits. Details are set out below:

(i) Revenue opportunities

The Merged Group is expected to generate new sales by offering a broader range of products and services to customers. The key revenue opportunities of the Merged Group are expected to be:

- a broader distribution base;
- the sharing of best practice in products and services (e.g. St. George's middle market model and Westpac's Super for Life); and
- benefits from an expanded capability in wealth, insurance and institutional banking.

Prior mergers in the banking sector have focussed on attaining cost synergies and resulted in loss of market share. Westpac's proposed operating model aims to preserve existing customer relationships across both St. George and Westpac in order to minimise customer attrition and maximise the value of the Merged Group. Westpac has assumed revenue attrition will be minimised through:

- retaining distinctive St. George and Westpac distribution for consumer and business banking with separate management and dedicated Group Executives. These executives will report directly to the Westpac CEO;
- no net reduction in branch and ATM numbers; and
- further investment in brand, infrastructure and capability to banking customers.

Westpac believes that these measures should ensure the experience by St. George and Westpac customers will be enhanced after the Merger Proposal proceeds.

(ii) Cost synergies

Westpac expects pre-tax savings as a result of the Merger Proposal to be approximately 20% to 25% of St. George's total operating expenses (excluding interest expense and loan impairment charges) by the third year after the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme.

These cost savings will be sourced from the Merged Group and generated primarily through:

- aligning product processing operations and investment in technology;
- synergies from combining various support functions;
- procurement and potential service contract savings; and
- the combination of head offices of St. George and Westpac.

(iii) Other benefits

The Merger Proposal is expected to result in a number of other benefits including:

- post the merger, Westpac is expected to have a 'AA' Credit Rating, resulting in improved access to funding and achievement of a lower cost of funding for the Merged Group;
- the potential for capital management flexibilities resulting from the larger Westpac balance sheet;
- the combined experience, skills and talent of St. George's and Westpac's employees;
- access to a large retail deposit base, which will assist in managing funding asset growth;
- access to advanced risk management systems infrastructure and capability across the spectrum of wealth management, and personal, business and institutional banking; and
- broadening the reach of Westpac's community programs through the Merged Group's regional and customer relationships.

(iv) Benefits for customers

The Merger Proposal will result in a number of benefits to customers including:

- access to a larger ATM network, with more than 2,700 ATMs, the use of which will incur no additional fees for St. George and Westpac customers;
- access to a greater range of products and services – for example, St. George customers will have access to:
 - BT's wealth products;
 - Westpac's Altitude Reward Credit Card; and
 - Westpac Institutional Bank's extensive range of institutional banking solutions.

Westpac is focussed on retaining customer relationships by enhancing, over time, the customer experience through an increase in product choice and greater access and convenience for customers.

(v) Benefits for employees

The Merged Group's objective is to be an attractive and rewarding place to work and to maintain a high level of employee engagement and commitment. The Merged Group will also have in place strategies to encourage the retention of staff with key skills, knowledge and experience.

The Merged Group, by virtue of its scale and breadth, will be able to provide expanded career and development opportunities for both St.George and Westpac employees. The Merged Group will have significant operations in Australia and New Zealand. As a result, employees may have the opportunity to develop their careers in different geographic regions and to broaden their experience across a wide variety of areas within the financial and wealth management services industry.

The prospect of these career opportunities is expected to enable the Merged Group to attract and retain some of the best talent from financial services and other sectors within Australia.

4.4 Integration costs

In order to achieve the synergies referred to in Section 4.3, it is anticipated that the Merged Group will incur approximately $700 million¹ in one off integration costs. These costs are expected to be incurred in the first two years after the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme. These costs include:

- systems integration costs;
- corporate head office and back office integration costs; and
- other transaction costs including stamp duty, communication and documentary costs and advisers' fees.

4.5 Valuation uncertainties

St.George Security Holders should note that the above estimations of the benefits and costs of the Merger Proposal have been reached by Westpac based on the information on St.George operations available from public sources and the information that Westpac obtained from St.George in the course of the due diligence that Westpac carried out on St.George prior to the signing of the Merger Implementation Agreement. For that reason, these estimates are indicative only.

Westpac has completed an initial investigation and analysis on the likely cost savings and synergies that will arise through the merger of St.George with its existing business. The estimated impact of the cost savings, synergies and restructuring costs is based on Westpac's industry knowledge, previous integration experience, and benchmarking of information on St.George that is either available in the public domain or that Westpac obtained from St.George in the course of due diligence that Westpac carried out on St.George prior to the signing of the Merger Implementation Agreement. The final assessment of the estimated level of cost savings and synergies which may be achieved will be determined through an operational review which will be performed upon implementation of the Merger Proposal.

The reported experience from other recent mergers of financial services companies emphasises that the actual results of integration of the businesses of St.George and Westpac may vary from expected results.

4.6 Westpac's intentions in relation to the St.George businesses

This Section 4.6 sets out the particulars of Westpac's intentions, if the Merger Proposal is implemented, in relation to:

- the continuation of the businesses of St.George;
- any major changes to be made to the businesses of St.George, including any redeployment of the fixed assets of St.George; and
- the future employment of the present employees of St.George.

The statements of intention contained in this Section 4.6 are based on information concerning St.George and its businesses that is known to Westpac at the date of this Scheme Booklet either from publicly available sources or which Westpac obtained from St.George in the course of the due diligence that Westpac carried out on St.George prior to the signing of the Merger Implementation Agreement. It is important to recognise that the statements set out in this Section 4.6 are statements of Westpac's current intentions only which may change as new information becomes available or circumstances change.

(a) Ownership of Merged Group

Under the Share Scheme and Option Scheme, Westpac will issue up to 745 million New Westpac Shares. If this occurs, the existing holders of St.George Shares and Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) will hold approximately 28% of Westpac's total issued share capital and the existing holders of Westpac Shares will hold approximately 72% of Westpac's total issued share capital.

¹ Of the $700 million, $50 million will be included as an adjustment to the purchase consideration and consequently to goodwill.

(b) Board of directors of Westpac

Each of the current Westpac Directors will remain on the Westpac Board following the implementation of the Merger Proposal. Westpac will appoint three current St. George Directors to join the Westpac Board on the implementation of the Merger Proposal, including Mr John Curtis, the current Chairman of St. George, who will become the Deputy Chairman of Westpac.

(c) Implementation and integration process

It is the intention of Westpac that the integration of the businesses of St. George and Westpac will occur as soon as possible following the implementation of the Share Scheme. An Implementation Committee containing an equal number of representatives of St. George and Westpac has been established to oversee implementation of the Merger Proposal.

The integration process will be led by an experienced team comprised of both St. George and Westpac employees. This team will be responsible for implementing the integration and accountable for achieving the integration objectives. St. George and Westpac will, as appropriate, draw on external sources with proven skills and experience in undertaking large scale integration projects to assist.

Upon the implementation of the Share Scheme, St. George will become a subsidiary of Westpac, with the St. George assets and liabilities remaining intact. Ultimately, Westpac intends to transfer all, or substantially all, of the assets and liabilities (including customer deposits and wholesale debt) of St. George to Westpac, subject to regulatory approvals and documentation. The transfer of the assets and liabilities of St. George is currently expected to broadly take place at the one time, effectively maintaining the St. George assets and liabilities in the ownership of St. George until that transfer. The transfer and its timing will depend upon a number of factors including regulatory approvals.

The transfer will be effected pursuant to appropriate legislation or by other means, which may include Westpac making application to the court for an order under section 413 of the Corporations Act. The court has discretion whether or not to make this order.

Except as set out in this Scheme Booklet, Westpac has not identified any material changes that will be made to the businesses of St. George, including any redeployment of the fixed assets of St. George, if the Merger Proposal is implemented.

(d) Corporate head office

The head offices of St. George and Westpac will be combined with a view to removing duplicated activities and costs, extracting synergies and over time operating a combined head office.

The Merged Group's head office will be located in the Sydney CBD. Westpac intends for the Merged Group to continue to have a corporate presence in Kogarah.

(e) Employees of Merged Group

The Merged Group's employment requirements will be reviewed in the light of the operating model which is proposed to be adopted for the Merged Group's businesses. The proposed operating model will maintain separate sales, service and distribution businesses for each of the St. George and Westpac retail and business banking businesses. The Merged Group will seek to maintain customers' choices and relationships with their bankers, as well as to ensure minimal disruption to customer facing employees, including their terms and conditions.

However, in other areas it is recognised that there will be duplication in some activities and functions, which will result in some reduction in employee numbers. This reduction should be achieved in part by natural turnover. Positions within the Merged Group will be selected on a merit basis from St. George and Westpac and, where possible, employees will be reassigned and retrained.

In the event of redundancies, Westpac will recognise and comply with the severance and redundancy terms of all relevant employment contracts and industrial agreements or awards.

Commitment to employees will remain a high priority for St. George and Westpac, and further details of the integration process will be shared with employees as they become available.

(f) Delisting of St. George

Westpac intends to procure the removal of St. George from the official list of ASX, and the cessation of quotation of all St. George securities on ASX, and to acquire or procure the acquisition or redemption by St. George of all other St. George securities and, in particular:

- (i) if the Share Scheme becomes Effective, on a date which is after the Effective Date, St. George will serve an Exchange Notice¹ in respect of all the SPS, CPS and CPS II nominating redemption as the exchange mechanism and a date or dates to be agreed by St. George and Westpac as the Exchange Date;²
- (ii) following the implementation of the Share Scheme, Westpac intends to acquire, in accordance with the compulsory acquisition provisions in Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act or by some other means determined by Westpac, all Borrower Shares and Depositor Shares; and
- (iii) if either the SAINTS Scheme or the Option Scheme does not become Effective but the Share Scheme does become Effective, then, following the implementation of the Share Scheme, Westpac intends to acquire all SAINTS or all Award Options or both (as the case may be), in accordance with the compulsory acquisition provisions in Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act.

4.7 Capital management, funding and credit rating(a) Capital management

The total regulatory capital ratio of Westpac at 31 March 2008 was 10.1% and the Tier 1 capital ratio was 7.4% (in each case, reporting under Basel II). The total regulatory capital ratio of St. George at 31 March 2008 was 10.1% and the Tier 1 capital ratio was 7.0% (in each case, reporting under Basel I).³ Each entity's capital ratios were above the bottom end of their target ranges and all ratios were above regulatory minima. Each entity satisfied minimum internal and prudential capital requirements in their insurance and funds management subsidiary companies.

Until the end of the Transitional Period, the Merged Group's policy will seek to ensure that St. George's (stand alone), Westpac's (stand alone) and the Merged Group's capital ratios exceed minimum internal and prudential capital requirements. The Merged Group's initial target capital ranges will be consistent with the target ranges of the merging entities.

The target capital ratios for the Merged Group will be reviewed during the Transitional Period in the context of the revised business mix of the Merged Group, and any changes in prudential requirements (including Basel II transition) and discussions with ratings agencies will be predicated on maintaining Westpac's 'AA' Credit Rating.

(b) Funding

Section 3.10(b) provides an outline of Westpac's stand alone funding strategy and profile. Westpac is not expecting its ability to access wholesale funding to be materially affected by the Merger Proposal. Some costs savings however are expected as the cost of wholesale term funding for the Merged Group is expected to be generally less than St. George's current cost of wholesale term funding.

The wholesale term funding task for the Merged Group for the 2009 financial year is expected to be comfortably achievable and is estimated to be around $30 billion.

The funding profile for the Merged Group is not expected to differ materially from Westpac's existing funding profile. Westpac expects to continue to raise wholesale term funding for the Merged Group in a manner that is consistent with Westpac's current diversified funding profile.

(c) Credit rating

The credit ratings assigned to Westpac Banking Corporation as at the date of this Scheme Booklet are set out in Section 3.10(c). Westpac's credit ratings are not expected to be impacted by the merger. Post the merger, Westpac is expected to maintain its 'AA' Credit Rating.

(d) Dividend policy

Westpac maintains a dividend policy that seeks to sustainably increase the fully franked dividends per share paid to ordinary shareholders. Fully franked dividends per share are determined by reference to cash earnings per share and the requirement to retain sufficient capital to fund business growth. Westpac's payout ratio has averaged 70% of cash earnings per share over the last two years. If the Share Scheme is implemented, Westpac intends to continue to adopt a similar dividend policy.

While Westpac intends to be able to maintain its current dividend policy, its ability to do so will depend upon factors including its profitability, the availability of franking credits, and its funding requirements which in turn may be affected by trading and general economic conditions. Accordingly, no assurance can be given as to the timing, extent and payment of dividends or the extent to which dividends will be franked.

1 As defined in the respective terms of issue of the SPS, CPS and CPS II.

2 As defined in the respective terms of issue of the SPS, CPS and CPS II.

3 The total regulatory capital ratio of St. George at 31 July 2008 was 10.3% and the Tier 1 capital ratio was 6.7% (in each case reporting under Basel I).

4.8 Prospects of the Merged Group

The Merger Proposal is expected to be cash earnings per share accretive for Westpac Shareholders by year three after implementation of the Merger Proposal. This includes the benefits from operating cost savings, wholesale funding cost savings and the capital consequences from achieving Basel II advanced status for the Merged Group, and an allowance for revenue attrition and revenue opportunities highlighted in previous sections of the Scheme Booklet.

Furthermore, certain risks (for example, integration risks) may impact on possible future earnings, synergies and the earnings per share position of Westpac. These risks are outlined in more detail in Section 5.

The definition of cash earnings for the Merged Group is likely to be net profit attributable to equity holders of the parent entity adjusted for material items to ensure they appropriately reflect profit normally available for ordinary shareholders. The adjustments are likely to be similar to those previously made by Westpac (see Section 3.11(c)) with further adjustments to exclude the impact of integration costs and the amortisation charges relating to certain intangible assets recognised as part of the acquisition accounting for the merger.

4.9 Merged Group pro forma financial information

(a) Overview

The Merged Group's unaudited consolidated pro forma summary financial information is set out in Sections 4.9(c) and 4.9(d) and includes the following:

- an unaudited pro forma combined summary historical income statement for St. George and Westpac for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 (Merged Group unaudited pro forma summary income statement); and
- an unaudited pro forma combined summary historical balance sheet for St. George and Westpac as at 31 March 2008 (Merged Group unaudited pro forma summary balance sheet).

The unaudited pro forma summary financial information in this Section is based on Westpac's and St. George's respective audited financial statements for the year ended 30 September 2007 and Westpac's and St. George's respective reviewed half yearly financial statements for the six months ended 31 March 2007 and 31 March 2008.

The financial information contained in this Section 4.9 has been prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles of the Australian equivalents to International Financial Reporting Standards (AIFRS), although it is presented in an abbreviated form insofar as it does not include all of the disclosures, statements or comparative information as required by the Australian Accounting Standards applicable to annual financial reports prepared in accordance with the Corporations Act.

The unaudited pro forma summary financial information in this Section is presented for illustrative purposes only. If the Merger Proposal had occurred in the past, the Merged Group's financial position and operating results would likely have been different from that presented in the pro forma financial information in this Section 4.9.

The unaudited pro forma summary financial information of the Merged Group has been compiled using the following assumptions:

- (i) the potential future operating cost and wholesale funding synergies, and allowance for revenue attrition and revenue opportunities have not been included in the unaudited pro forma summary financial statements. Refer to Section 4.3 for discussion of possible future synergies;
- (ii) the unaudited pro forma summary financial statements of the Merged Group do not reflect integration costs. Refer to Section 4.4 for a discussion of expected integration costs; and
- (iii) transaction costs incurred by Westpac, which relate to acquisition of St. George shares, will be treated as part of the cost of the investment in St. George. Transaction costs incurred by St. George will be expensed as a significant item, as incurred. No adjustment has been made for the St. George costs as they are not expected to be material to the unaudited pro forma summary income statement.

PricewaterhouseCoopers Securities Ltd, the Investigating Accountant, has prepared a report in relation to the St. George Historical Financial Information in Sections 2.4(a) to (d), the Westpac Historical Financial Information in Section 3.7 and the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information in Sections 4.9(b) to (d) (each as defined in the Investigating Accountant's Report). A copy of the Investigating Accountant's Report is contained in the Scheme Booklet Supplement.

(b) Key assumptions and basis of preparation

The accounting policies of the Merged Group used to prepare the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information (as defined in the Investigating Accountant's Report) are based on the accounting policies of Westpac contained in its audited financial statements for the year ended 30 September 2007 unless otherwise noted. Westpac's audited financial statements are contained in Westpac's 2007 Annual Report that can be accessed on its website at www.westpac.com.au/investorcentre.

Following a review of accounting policies as disclosed in St.George's audited financial statements for the year ended 30 September 2007 contained in St.George's 2007 Annual Report that can be accessed on its website at www.stgeorge.com.au, the accounting policies of St.George and Westpac are not considered to be materially different. Therefore, at this time, no adjustments have been made to the pro forma financial statements to align accounting policies. Certain adjustments have been made to align St.George's balance sheet classifications with those of Westpac; these adjustments do not impact the Merged Group unaudited pro forma summary income statement.

The unaudited pro forma summary financial information of the Merged Group is based on AIFRS and has been compiled according to the following transaction assumptions, in addition to the assumptions set out in Section 4.9(a):

- (i) the Merger Proposal takes place via the Share Scheme, under which 1.31 Westpac Shares are issued for each St.George Share on issue. This equates to a total consideration of $17.9 billion, including transaction costs;
- (ii) no adjustments have been made for possible changes in capital structure in the unaudited pro forma summary financial statements of the Merged Group. It is expected that existing St.George hybrid capital instruments will (other than the SAINTS, which are subject to the SAINTS Scheme as discussed in Section 10) be redeemed and may be replaced by new Westpac hybrid instruments. Differences in the classification and pricing of any replacement instruments are not expected to be material to the unaudited pro forma summary financial statements;

- (iii) revenue, expense, asset and liability items relating to transactions between St.George and Westpac have not been adjusted, as they are considered not to be material;
- (iv) adjustments have been made for the 2008 interim dividends announced in May 2008 and paid in July 2008 by St.George and Westpac out of retained profits as at 31 March 2008, net of cash reinvested through the respective dividend reinvestment plans. No adjustments have been made in respect of the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend, the Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend or the Special Dividend;
- (v) no adjustments have been made for the significant items identified in Sections 2.4 and 3.7; and
- (vi) no adjustments have been made to the reported value of St.George's assets and liabilities to reflect the impact of acquisition accounting, as for the purposes of the unaudited pro forma summary financial information the book value as reported in St.George's reviewed half yearly financial statements for the six months ended 31 March 2008 is assumed to approximate their fair value at the date of acquisition. All consideration in excess of St.George's existing identifiable net assets at book value has at this stage been allocated to goodwill. It is likely that separately identifiable intangibles will be subsequently identified and this will have the effect of reducing goodwill arising on the Merger Proposal. If any separately identifiable intangibles are considered to have finite lives, net profit after tax will decrease as a result of the requirement to amortise these intangibles over their estimated useful life.

(c) Merged Group unaudited pro forma summary historical income statement

(i) Basis of preparation

This section outlines the unaudited pro forma summary income statement of the Merged Group. It is based on AIFRS as if the Share Scheme was implemented on 1 April 2007 and incorporates the summary income statements of St.George and Westpac for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008.

The unaudited pro forma summary income statement of the Merged Group is calculated by aggregating the separate line items of St.George and Westpac - no adjustments have been identified.

- To reclassify $8,030 million of certificates of deposit from St.George's financial assets designated at fair value to due from other financial institutions to align with Westpac's balance sheet classification.
- To reclassify $19,774 million from St.George's bank acceptances of customers to loans to align with Westpac's balance sheet classification.

4.10 Financial forecasts

The Westpac Directors and St.George Directors have carefully considered whether they have a reasonable basis to produce reliable and meaningful forecast information for the Merged Group and have concluded that they do not have a reasonable basis to provide forecast financial information that is sufficiently meaningful and reliable for St.George Security Holders.

The Merged Group's performance in any period will reflect a number of factors that cannot be predicted with a high level of confidence and are outside its control. These factors include future economic conditions in Australia, New Zealand and the other countries in which the Merged Group will conduct its businesses; the current volatile state of the global financial markets impacting on the banking sector, including the volatility in pricing and volumes of wholesale funding and securitisation; the level of defaults in the Merged Group's loan portfolios; the level of investment returns impacting the wealth management and margin lending business; potential for increased earnings volatility under AIFRS accounting standards; and uncertainties in the regulatory environment.

All of the above factors might have significant impacts on assumptions relating to the Merged Group revenue, cost and impairment drivers which are subject to significant volatility and uncertainty. For these reasons, the risk that St.George Security Holders may be misled by such information outweighs the potential value of that information to St.George Security Holders.

For further discussion on the risk factors impacting the Merged Group, refer to Section 5.

- 7 To adjust for Westpac's payment of transaction costs of $50 million out of cash and balances with central banks. These transaction costs are part of the purchase consideration for the business combination.
- 8 To adjust the purchase consideration for the value of Westpac Shares issued as a result of the business combination. The value is calculated as the estimated number of New Westpac Shares of 745 million, multiplied by the estimated Westpac Share price of $23.98 at the acquisition date. The estimated share price is based on Westpac's closing share price on 26 September 2008.
- 9 To adjust for the elimination of St.George's equity balances of $6,513 million against intangible assets at the date of acquisition. These equity balances comprise share capital of $5,632 million, reserves of $259 million and retained profits of $622 million.

As disclosed in the basis of preparation in Section 4.9(b)(vi), the consideration in excess of St.George's existing net assets at book value of $11,402 million has been allocated to goodwill.

Risks associated with the Merger Proposal

5.1 Introduction

If the Share Scheme is implemented, St. George Shareholders (other than Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders) will receive Westpac Shares as Share Scheme Consideration.

The value of the Share Scheme Consideration to St. George Shareholders will depend on the price of Westpac Shares and the future dividends paid on them following implementation of the Merger Proposal. There are many risk factors that could adversely affect the Merged Group's business, financial performance, results of operations, cash flows and prospects which will consequently affect the price of Westpac Shares and the future dividends paid on them. These include risk factors:

- that are common to the existing businesses of St. George and Westpac, and which will therefore be risks to which the Merged Group will be exposed (refer to Section 5.2);
- that are specific to Westpac's existing businesses, and which will therefore be risks to which the Merged Group will be exposed (refer to Section 5.3);
- arising in relation to the implementation of the Merger Proposal itself, such as integration risk (refer to Section 5.4); and
- that relate to the trading price of Westpac Shares (refer to Section 5.5).

Although the Merged Group will have in place a number of strategies to minimise the exposure to, and mitigate the effects of, some of the risks outlined in this Section, there can be no assurance that such arrangements will protect the Merged Group fully from such risks. Also, certain risks will remain outside of the control of the Merged Group.

The risks identified in this Section are not exhaustive and do not take into account your investment objectives, financial situation, tax position or particular needs. They are risks which are known to St. George and Westpac as at the date of this Scheme Booklet. No assurances or guarantees of the future performance of, profitability of, or payment of dividends by, St. George or Westpac are given.

5.2 Risk factors common to St. George and Westpac

Given that St. George and Westpac both operate in the financial services industry, there are a number of risk factors which are common to their respective operations. Accordingly, there will be risks to which the Merged Group will be exposed. This Section 5.2 identifies the key risk factors common to St. George and Westpac, and describes how they could affect the Merged Group.

St. George Shareholders should note that they are currently exposed to these types of risks via their holding of St. George Shares. If the Share Scheme is implemented, St. George Shareholders (other than Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders) will continue to be exposed to these types of risks via the acquisition of New Westpac Shares (being an investment in the Merged Group). However, it is possible that the degree to which the Merged Group will be exposed to a particular risk is greater than, or less than, the degree to which each of St. George and Westpac is currently exposed on a respective stand alone basis.

(a) Risks relating to the Australian and general economy

The financial performance of the Merged Group and the price or value of Westpac Shares could be affected by changes in economic conditions in Australia, New Zealand and other countries in which the Merged Group may operate. St. George currently conducts most of its business in Australia and Westpac currently conducts most of its business in Australia and New Zealand (see Section 5.3(a) in respect of New Zealand).

Each of St. George's and Westpac's revenue and earnings is dependent on the level of financial services their respective customers require. In particular, levels of borrowing are heavily dependent on customer and investor confidence, the state of the economy, the home lending market and prevailing market interest rates from time to time.

In relation to the Australian business, the Merged Group's performance will be influenced by the level and cyclical nature of business and home lending activity in Australia and by growth in the Chinese and Southeast Asian economies by which the Australian economy is heavily influenced.

Changes in the following economic and other factors in the countries that the Merged Group operates in will be particularly important to the Merged Group:

- inflation and interest rates;
- employment levels and labour costs;
- economic growth, unemployment levels and consumer confidence;
- economic conditions which may affect the creditworthiness of lending customers;
- property markets;
- government, fiscal, monetary and regulatory policy;
- fluctuations in both debt and equity capital markets, which will affect the access to, and cost of, funding for the Merged Group's operations;
- relative changes in exchange rates; and
- stability of Australian and international political systems, economies and financial markets.

(b) Credit risk

Credit risk is each of Westpac's and St. George's most significant risk and arises primarily from their respective lending activities. Credit risk is the potential for loss arising from a debtor or counterparty failing to meet their financial contractual obligations to the lender. Each of St. George and Westpac holds collective and individually assessed provisions for impairment charges. If these provisions prove inadequate, then this could have a material adverse effect on the Merged Group's results of operations and financial performance.

(c) Dislocation in global capital markets (debt and equity)

Financial institutions are subject to changing conditions in global capital markets. Recently, global capital markets have been impacted by the deterioration in the sub-prime mortgage market in the US.

The current dislocation in global capital markets presents challenges for St. George and Westpac and for other financial institutions that rely on regular access to the capital markets to fund their operations. As at 30 June 2008:

- approximately 52% of Westpac's funding was provided by customer deposits and 48% by wholesale funding from the global capital markets; and
- approximately 43% of St. George's funding was provided by retail deposits and 57% by wholesale funding from the global capital markets.

These challenges created by the current global capital markets dislocation include:

- higher wholesale funding costs;
- reduced availability of funding; and
- significant market volatility.

Through the normal course of its institutional business, each of St. George and Westpac has credit exposure to counterparties who may be impacted by the disruptions to the global credit markets, either through losses associated with the US sub-prime mortgage market or the reduced availability of funding.

The duration and extent of dislocation in global capital markets are unknown and continuation of these conditions could adversely affect the Merged Group's financial performance or financial condition.

Westpac's funding strategy is discussed in Section 3.10(b). Section 4.7(b) describes the expected funding profile of the Merged Group.

(d) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the potential inability to meet payment obligations. This could potentially arise as a result of mismatched cash flows generated by the Merged Group's business.

(e) Operational risks

As financial services organisations, St. George and Westpac are each exposed to a variety of operational risks, including those resulting from process error, fraud, system failure, security and physical protection, customer services, employees' skills and performance, and product development and maintenance. Operational risks can directly impact an entity's reputation and result in financial losses which could adversely affect its financial performance or financial condition.

(f) Market movements

Each of St. George and Westpac is exposed to market risk as a consequence of its trading activities in financial markets, its exposure to funds management businesses and through the asset and liability management of its overall financial position. In the financial markets trading businesses, each of St. George and Westpac is exposed to losses arising from adverse movements in levels and volatility of interest rates, foreign exchange rates and issuer specific risk, and equity and commodity prices. If the Merged Group were to suffer substantial losses due to any such market volatility, it would adversely affect the results of operations and financial condition.

(g) Competition

Each of St. George and Westpac competes, and the Merged Group will compete, both domestically and internationally, with retail and commercial banks, asset managers, non-bank mortgage brokers, private banking firms, investment banking firms, brokerage firms, and other financial service providers. In addition, the trend towards consolidation in the global financial services industry is creating competitors with broader ranges of product and service offerings, increased access to capital, and greater efficiency and pricing power.

In recent years, competition has also increased as large insurance and banking industry participants have sought to establish themselves in markets that are perceived to offer higher growth potential, and as local institutions have become more sophisticated and competitive and have sought alliances, mergers or strategic relationships. The intensity of competition faced by Westpac's and St. George's various businesses could adversely affect the results of the Merged Group's operations.

(h) Regulatory and tax

The Merged Group's businesses and earnings could be affected by the legal, regulatory, fiscal or other policies adopted by various regulatory authorities of the Australian government, New Zealand government, other foreign governments and international agencies. The nature and impact of future changes in such policies are not predictable and will be beyond the Merged Group's control. Changes in regulations or regulatory policy could adversely affect one or more of the Merged Group's businesses and could require the incurring of substantial costs to comply.

Any significant change in taxation law could have an adverse effect on the results of the Merged Group's operations.

(i) Reputation risk

Various issues may give rise to reputational risk and cause harm to the Merged Group's business and prospects. These issues include appropriately dealing with potential conflicts of interests, legal and regulatory requirements, ethical issues, money laundering laws, trade sanctions legislation, privacy laws, information security policies, sales and trading practices and conduct by companies in which each of St. George and Westpac holds strategic investments. Failure to address these issues appropriately could give rise to additional legal risk, subject the Merged Group to regulatory enforcement actions, fines and penalties or harm the Merged Group's reputation among its customers and investors in the marketplace.

(j) General insurance business risks

The Merged Group will be exposed to risks in the general insurance business. These risks could include, but are not limited to, risk from competition, personnel risk, brands, systems risk, capital and funding requirements, credit rating changes, third party risk, investment income, catastrophes, war, terrorism, pandemics, climate change, escalation in insurance liabilities, premium or reinsurance rates, insurance agents and brokers, litigation and changes in government policy and regulation.

(k) Legal proceedings and contingent liabilities

In the course of its operations, the Merged Group may be involved in disputes and litigation. Any material or costly dispute or litigation could adversely affect the value of the assets or future financial performance of the Merged Group.

The material disputes to which members of the Westpac Group are currently a party are discussed in Section 12.11. Where provisions have been made in Westpac's financial statements in relation to these disputes and these provisions prove inadequate, then this could have a material adverse effect on the Merged Group's financial performance and position.

Other than the Depositary Capital Securities matter referred to in Section 2.4(c), no member of the St. George Group is currently a party to any material dispute.

5.3 Risks specifically related to Westpac

In addition to the risks common to both St. George and Westpac (including those key risks identified in Section 5.2), there are risks to which only Westpac's businesses are currently exposed. Accordingly, they will be risks to which the Merged Group will be exposed. This Section 5.3 identifies the key risk factors specific to Westpac, and describes how they could affect the Merged Group.

St. George Shareholders should note that they are not currently exposed to these types of risks. If the Share Scheme is implemented, St. George Shareholders (other than Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders) will become exposed to these types of risks via the acquisition of an investment in the Merged Group (i.e. the acquisition of New Westpac Shares). However, it is possible that the degree to which the Merged Group will be exposed to a particular risk, including credit risk, is greater than, or less than, the degree to which Westpac is currently exposed on a stand alone basis.

(a) New Zealand's economic, regulatory, political and tax environment

In FY2007, approximately 18% of Westpac's revenue was generated in New Zealand. Consequently, Westpac's performance is influenced by the level and cyclical nature of business and home lending activity there. These factors are, in turn, impacted by both domestic and international economic and political events.

A weaker New Zealand economy would be likely to affect the Merged Group's financial condition and results of operations.

The Merged Group's businesses and earnings will also be affected by the legal, regulatory, fiscal, tax or other policies adopted by the various regulatory authorities of the New Zealand government. The nature and impact of future changes in such policies are not predictable and are beyond Westpac's control. Changes in regulatory policy could adversely affect one or more of Westpac's businesses, and therefore the Merged Group's businesses and could require the incurring of expenditure on substantial compliance costs.

(b) Underwriting

Westpac underwrites the syndication of loan facilities, and the issuance of debt securities and listed or unlisted equity securities. Westpac may also guarantee placement and pricing. The Merged Group will be exposed to increased risk if it fails to syndicate or sell down its risk to other market participants.

(c) Franchise risk

Poor performance by one or more franchisees or licensees or the termination of one or more franchise agreements may cause a loss in revenue and cause harm to one of the Westpac Group's existing brand names including RAMS, BT or Westpac.

5.4 Risks relating to the implementation of the Merger Proposal

The financial performance of the Merged Group and the price or value of Westpac Shares may also be affected by risks that specifically relate to, or arise as a result of, the Merger Proposal in the event that it is implemented.

(a) Integration risks

There are risks associated with the integration of two organisations of the size of St. George and Westpac.

The success of the Merger Proposal and, in particular, the ability to realise the synergies outlined in Section 4.3(b), will be dependent, among other things, on St. George and Westpac being integrated effectively, without material disruption to the businesses and in a timely manner.

There is a risk that the Merged Group's future profitability and prospects could be adversely affected if integration is not completed successfully.

Although Westpac has already commenced integration planning and is clearly committed to the timely completion of this integration, there remains a risk that unforeseen issues or difficulties may arise that may result in integration benefits and/or synergies for the Merged Group being delayed, or being achieved only in part, or not at all, or at the costs estimated in this Scheme Booklet. Areas of particular risk include:

- difficulties or unexpected costs relating to the integration of information technology platforms, financial and accounting systems and management systems of the two organisations;
- difficulties or unexpected costs in realising synergies from the consolidation of head office and back office functions;
- higher than expected levels of customer attrition arising as a result of the Merger Proposal;
- unexpected losses of key personnel during or following the integration of the two businesses;
- possible conflict in the culture of the two organisations and decrease in employee morale caused by uncertainty arising from the merger; and
- potential damage to the reputation of brands due to actions from competitors, media and lobby groups in relation to the Merger Proposal.

The Transitional Period involves particular risk because there are inevitable delays before the businesses of St. George and Westpac can be fully integrated. In order to address these risks, Westpac is developing a coherent strategy for integrating people, processes, technologies and risk management frameworks in the Transitional Period.

The process of integrating the two organisations may require senior management to devote significant time to this, which may decrease the time they have to manage the Merged Group's businesses. Westpac has appointed Brad Cooper as Group Chief Transformation Officer to act as a dedicated executive overseeing the integration process to help mitigate this risk.

(b) Changes to the Westpac organisational structure

In July 2008, Westpac announced changes to its organisational structure in relation to the Business Financial Services, Consumer Financial Services and Business Technology Solutions and Services divisions. These changes align Westpac's structure with the proposed operating model for the Merged Group and their continued implementation will be appropriately sequenced with the merger as part of an overall transformation plan. These changes are significant, both in scale and investment requirements, and are likely to continue to be implemented at the same time as integrating St. George's businesses to form the Merged Group. Accordingly, there may be some diversion of frontline personnel as well as senior management and this may lead to lower sales productivity and additional customer attrition, potentially impacting the financial performance of the Merged Group.

(c) Credit rating risk

The potential for a credit rating downgrade could be driven by the occurrence of one or more of the other risks identified within this Section 5 or by other events. A credit rating downgrade could result in an increase in the cost of wholesale funding and capital, loss of business and reduction in the Merged Group's ability to raise wholesale funding and capital.

(d) Concentration risk

The lending books of each of St. George and Westpac have exposures to a range of clients, assets, industries and geographies which when combined as part of the Merged Group could result in additional concentration risk.

(e) Due diligence

Before executing the Merger Implementation Agreement, St. George and Westpac undertook due diligence on information about each other provided for the purpose of negotiating the Merger Proposal. Such investigations were carried out in a short timeframe of approximately two weeks. Neither party was required to warrant the accuracy or completeness of this information or that the information was all the information that a person would require or expect to find in order to consider or evaluate the Merger Proposal.

Whilst St. George and Westpac decided to proceed with the Merger Proposal following that due diligence exercise, there is a risk that not all material information was provided. After implementation of the Merger Proposal, the Merged Group will be subject to any unknown liabilities of either St. George or Westpac which may have an adverse effect on the Merged Group's performance and financial condition.

Additionally, there is a risk that the information provided may have changed due to changes in the economy or underlying customers' economic position.

5.5 Risk factors relating to the trading price of Westpac Shares

The market value of the New Westpac Shares which are issued under the Share Scheme will depend on the trading price of those shares. There is no guarantee that the market price of Westpac Shares will increase in the future, nor that the market price in the future will be the same as the current trading prices of Westpac Shares. The market price of Westpac Shares may fall due to the factors described in this Section 5 and other factors, some of which are beyond Westpac's control, including, but not limited to:

- operating results that vary from expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- changes in expectations as to Westpac's future financial performance, including financial estimates by securities analysts and investors;
- changes in market valuations of other banks or financial services institutions;
- the announcement of acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures or capital commitments by Westpac or its competitors; and
- future issues of Westpac debt or equity securities.

In addition, financial markets in general have historically experienced volatility that has been unrelated to the operating performance of particular companies. These broad market and industry fluctuations may have a materially adverse effect on the market price of Westpac Shares, regardless of Westpac's actual operating performance.

Implementation of the Merger Proposal

6.1 Merger Implementation Agreement

On 26 May 2008, St. George and Westpac entered into a Merger Implementation Agreement under which St. George agreed to propose the Share Scheme at a meeting of St. George Shareholders. The Merger Implementation Agreement was revised on 8 September 2008 to reflect the following key matters: immediate commencement of integration planning, the terms of the SAINTS Scheme and Option Scheme, the circumstances in which St. George would be required to pay Westpac a break fee of $100 million (plus GST, if applicable), an updated transaction timetable and Westpac's agreement to the payment by St. George of a Special Dividend.

A summary of the Merger Implementation Agreement is set out in Section 7 and a full copy is available in the Scheme Booklet Supplement, which may be obtained by contacting the St. George InfoLine on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday, or by submitting a request online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au. In addition, an electronic version of the Scheme Booklet and Scheme Booklet Supplement will be available for viewing and downloading online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au.

6.2 Deed Poll

On 10 September 2008, Westpac executed the Deed Poll. Under the Deed Poll, Westpac agreed, subject to the Share Scheme becoming Effective, to provide each Share Scheme Participant with the Share Scheme Consideration to which it is entitled under the Share Scheme.

A copy of the Deed Poll is attached as Annexure B.

6.3 Overview of implementation steps

The key steps to implement the Merger Proposal are set out below.

- (a) St. George Shareholders will vote on whether to approve the Share Scheme at the Share Scheme Meeting.
- (b) St. George Shareholders will vote on whether to approve the Constitution Amendment at the Extraordinary General Meeting.
- (c) If the requisite majorities of the St. George Shareholders approve the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment, and all Conditions Precedent to the Share Scheme (other than approval by the Court) have been satisfied or waived, St. George will apply to the Court to approve the Share Scheme at the Second Court Hearing.

- (d) If the Court approves the Share Scheme, St. George will lodge with ASIC a copy of the Court orders approving the Share Scheme. The date on which this occurs will be the Effective Date for the Share Scheme and will be:
 - (i) the last day on which trading in St. George Shares on ASX can occur; and
 - (ii) the date on which the Constitution Amendment takes effect.
- (e) On the Implementation Date, Westpac will acquire all existing St. George Shares and will provide the Share Scheme Consideration.
- (f) On a date after the Implementation Date as determined by Westpac, St. George will apply for termination of the official quotation of St. George Shares on ASX, and to have itself removed from the official list of ASX.

These steps are described in further detail below. The expected dates for the key steps are set out on pages 4 and 5 of this Scheme Booklet (but those dates are subject to possible change).

St. George and Westpac each have rights and obligations in connection with the implementation of the Share Scheme under the Merger Implementation Agreement. The Merger Implementation Agreement also includes the Conditions Precedent, termination rights, exclusivity arrangements and various other matters. The key terms of the Merger Implementation Agreement are summarised in Section 7.

6.4 Share Scheme Meeting

In accordance with orders of the Court dated 29 September 2008, St. George Shareholders (other than Excluded Shareholders) will be asked to vote in favour of the Share Scheme at the Share Scheme Meeting.

The Notice of Share Scheme Meeting, which includes details of the time and place of the Scheme Meeting, is set out in Annexure C.1.

At the Share Scheme Meeting, the St. George Shareholders will be asked to consider and, if thought fit, pass resolutions approving the Share Scheme. The required approval thresholds are set out in Section 1.9.

Voting at the Share Scheme Meeting will be by poll.

6.5 Extraordinary General Meeting

St. George Shareholders will be asked to vote in favour of the Constitution Amendment at the Extraordinary General Meeting. The Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting, which includes details of the time and place of the Extraordinary General Meeting, is set out in Annexure D.

6.6 Court approval at Second Court Hearing

If the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment are approved by the requisite majorities of St. George Shareholders, and all other Conditions Precedent to the Share Scheme (other than approval by the Court) have been satisfied or waived, then St. George will apply to the Court for orders approving the Share Scheme at the Second Court Hearing.

Each St. George Shareholder has the right to appear at the Second Court Hearing in respect of the Share Scheme.

6.7 Effective Date (last date of trading of St. George Shares on ASX)

If the Court approves the Share Scheme, St. George will lodge with ASIC an office copy of the Court order approving the Share Scheme. The Share Scheme will become Effective on the date that lodgement occurs. This date is the Effective Date for the Share Scheme.

Upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective, St. George will give notice of those events to ASX. St. George will apply to ASX for St. George Shares to be suspended from official quotation on ASX from close of trading on the Effective Date.

On a date after the Implementation Date as determined by Westpac, St. George will apply for termination of the official quotation of St. George Shares on ASX and to have itself removed from the official list of ASX.

6.8 Scheme Record Date

The Scheme Record Date for the Share Scheme if it becomes Effective is the date which is five Business Days after the Effective Date for the Share Scheme.

As at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on the Scheme Record Date, only those persons registered as holders of St. George Shares (other than Excluded Shareholders) will be entitled to receive the Share Scheme Consideration under the Share Scheme. These people are known as Share Scheme Participants.

6.9 Determination of persons entitled to Share Scheme Consideration

(a) Dealings in St. George Shares on or prior to the Scheme Record Date

For the purposes of establishing who are Share Scheme Participants, dealings in St. George Shares will be recognised by St. George provided that:

- (i) in the case of dealings of the type to be effected on CHESS, the transferee is registered as the holder of the relevant St. George Shares on or before the Scheme Record Date; or

- (ii) in all other cases, registrable transfers or transmission applications in respect of those dealings are received at the place where the Share Register is kept on or before the Scheme Record Date (in which case St. George must register such transfers on or before the Scheme Record Date).

St. George will not accept for registration, or recognise for the purpose of establishing who are Share Scheme Participants, any transmission application or transfer in respect of St. George Shares received after these times.

(b) Dealings in St. George Shares after the Scheme Record Date

As at the Scheme Record Date (and other than for Westpac following the Implementation Date):

- (i) all statements of holding in respect of St. George Shares cease to have effect as documents of title in respect of such St. George Shares; and
- (ii) each entry on the Share Register at that date will cease to have any effect other than as evidence of entitlement to the Share Scheme Consideration.

6.10 Implementation Date

The Implementation Date is the date which is five Business Days after the Scheme Record Date. On the Implementation Date, Westpac will acquire all existing St. George Shares and will issue the New Westpac Shares which constitute the Share Scheme Consideration to the Share Scheme Participants or, in the case of Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders, the Sale Nominee.

Holding statements and confirmations of CHESS holdings for New Westpac Shares are expected to be despatched to Share Scheme Participants (other than Ineligible Foreign St. George Shareholders) within five Business Days after the Implementation Date.

In the case of St. George Shares held in joint names, the Share Scheme Consideration will be issued to, and registered in the name of, the joint holders, and the holding statements will be sent to the holder whose name appears first on the Share Register as at the Scheme Record Date.

Once the relevant Scheme Consideration has been provided, the St. George Shares will be transferred to Westpac without any need for further actions by the Share Scheme Participants.

6.11 Commencement of trading of New Westpac Shares

Westpac will seek confirmation from ASX that, as from the first Trading Day after the Effective Date (or such other date as ASX requires), the New Westpac Shares issued as Share Scheme Consideration will be quoted on ASX. New Westpac Shares are currently expected to trade on a deferred settlement basis at the commencement of trading on the first Trading Day following the Effective Date.

It is the responsibility of each New Westpac Shareholder to confirm their holding before trading in New Westpac Shares to avoid the risk of selling shares that they do not own. New Westpac Shareholders who sell New Westpac Shares before they receive their holding statement or confirm their uncertificated holdings of New Westpac Shares do so at their own risk. St. George, Westpac and the Westpac Registry disclaim all liability (to the maximum extent permitted by law) to persons who trade New Westpac Shares before receiving their holding statements, whether on the basis of confirmation of the allocation provided by Westpac or the Westpac Registry.

Normal trading of New Westpac Shares is expected to commence on the first Trading Day after the Implementation Date.

Key terms of the Merger Implementation Agreement

7.1 Overview

St. George and Westpac entered into the Merger Implementation Agreement on 26 May 2008. The Merger Implementation Agreement sets out each party's rights and obligations in connection with the implementation of the Merger Proposal. This Section 7 outlines certain key terms of the Merger Implementation Agreement. The Merger Implementation Agreement was revised on 8 September 2008 to reflect the following key matters: immediate commencement of integration planning, the terms of the SAINTS Scheme and Option Scheme, the circumstances in which St. George would be required to pay Westpac a break fee of $100 million (plus GST, if applicable), an updated transaction timetable and Westpac's agreement to the payment by St. George of a Special Dividend.

A full copy of the Merger Implementation Agreement is contained in the Scheme Booklet Supplement which may be obtained by contacting the St. George Infoline on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday, or by submitting a request online at www.stgeorgemerger.com.au. In addition, an electronic version of the Scheme Booklet and Scheme Booklet Supplement will be available for viewing and downloading online at www.stgeorgemerger.com.au.

7.2 Conditions Precedent

The Share Scheme can only be implemented if the Conditions Precedent are satisfied or waived. In summary, the Conditions Precedent will be satisfied if:

- (a) the St. George Shareholders approve the Share Scheme at the Share Scheme Meeting by the requisite majorities;
 - (b) the St. George Shareholders approve the Constitution Amendment at the Extraordinary General Meeting by the requisite majority;
 - (c) the Court approves the Share Scheme;
 - (d) the specified regulatory approvals in respect of the Merger Proposal are received, being:
 - (i) ACCC Approval;
 - (ii) all necessary approvals and confirmations under the Banking Act, the Financial Sector (Shareholdings) Act and the Insurance Acquisitions and Takeovers Act; and
 - (iii) all ASIC and ASX approvals which St. George and Westpac agree are necessary to implement the Share Scheme.
- See Section 12.10 for the status of these approvals;
- (e) there is no temporary restraining order, preliminary or permanent injunction or other order issued by any court of competent jurisdiction or other statutory legal restraint or prohibition preventing the implementation of the Share Scheme;

- (f) the New Westpac Shares are approved for official quotation by ASX so that:
 - (i) on the Trading Day immediately following the Effective Date of the Share Scheme, the New Westpac Shares will commence trading on a deferred settlement basis; and
 - (ii) on the Trading Day immediately following the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme, the New Westpac Shares will commence trading on a normal settlement basis;
- (g) neither a St. George Prescribed Occurrence nor a Westpac Prescribed Occurrence (each as defined in the Merger Implementation Agreement) occurs;
- (h) neither a St. George Material Adverse Change nor a Westpac Material Adverse Change (as defined in the Merger Implementation Agreement) occurs; and
- (i) the representations and warranties given by both St. George and Westpac in the Merger Implementation Agreement are true and correct in all respects.

Full details of the Conditions Precedent, the ability of St. George and Westpac to rely on the various Conditions Precedent and the provisions relating to the satisfaction or waiver of the Conditions Precedent are set out in clause 3 of the Merger Implementation Agreement.

As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, neither Westpac nor St. George is aware of any reason why the Conditions Precedent will not be satisfied by 8.00am (Sydney time) on the Court Approval Date.

7.3 Implementation Committee

A committee comprising St. George and Westpac representatives acts as a forum for consultation and planning between the parties in relation to the implementation of the Merger Proposal. Following the day on which the Court orders that the Share Scheme Meeting be convened (such orders having been made on 29 September 2008), the role of the Implementation Committee is to be expanded to act as a forum for consultation and planning for the transition and ownership of St. George and its businesses to Westpac and the smooth implementation of Westpac's plans for those businesses following implementation of the Merger Proposal.

In addition, after 8 September 2008, St. George and Westpac are obligated to co-operate with each other to progress integration planning with the objective of bringing forward the realisation of the merger benefits as soon as reasonably possible after the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme. As part of this process, St. George and Westpac have agreed to jointly develop a strategy to minimise the risk of customer attrition occurring as a result of the Merger Proposal.

7.4 Exclusivity provisions

St. George has agreed to certain exclusivity restrictions that restrict it from encouraging, or engaging with, the proponent of a Competing Transaction. These restrictions apply throughout the period from the date the Merger Implementation Agreement was first entered into (being 26 May 2008) to the earliest of its termination, the Effective Date of the Share Scheme and the Sunset Date.

(a) No shop

St. George must ensure that neither it nor any of its officers, employees, related bodies corporate or advisers directly or indirectly solicit or encourage any Competing Transaction.

This restriction does not prevent St. George from making normal presentations to, or responding to enquiries from, brokers, portfolio investors and analysts in the ordinary course in relation to the Merger Proposal or its business generally.

(b) No talk

St. George must ensure that neither it nor any of its officers, employees, related bodies corporate or advisers participates or continues in negotiations or discussions with any other person in relation to a Competing Transaction. This restriction applies even if the Competing Transaction was not directly or indirectly solicited or encouraged by St. George.

(c) No due diligence

St. George must not encourage or allow any other person to undertake a due diligence investigation on it, nor give that person access to any non-public information.

(d) Obligation to notify Westpac

St. George must immediately notify Westpac if any person attempts to engage with it in any activity that would cause it to breach the restrictions set out above. As soon as reasonably practicable after it has received such an approach, St. George must let Westpac know:

- (i) the identity of the person who made that approach; and
- (ii) the details of the expression of interest and/or proposal or proposed Competing Transaction.

(e) Exceptions to these exclusivity provisions

If St. George receives a bona fide Competing Transaction that it has not solicited or encouraged, it is free to engage with the proponent of that Competing Transaction, and does not need to notify Westpac of the existence of the Competing Transaction, so long as the St. George Board has determined in good faith, after having obtained written advice from its legal advisers and, if appropriate, its financial advisers, that:

- (i) the Competing Transaction is (or would be, if proposed) a superior proposal to the Scheme; and
- (ii) failing to respond to this Competing Transaction (or notifying Westpac of its existence (as the case may be)) would be likely to constitute a breach of the St. George Directors' fiduciary or statutory duties.

7.5 Break fee

St. George has agreed to pay a break fee of $100 million (plus GST, if applicable) to Westpac if at any time after 8 September 2008 and before the Sunset Date any of the following occurs and Westpac does not proceed to acquire 100% of the St. George Shares by the Sunset Date:

- (a) a Competing Transaction offering superior consideration (having regard to price, timing and conditionality) to the Share Scheme Consideration is announced or open for acceptance and whether before or within 12 months after the Sunset Date:
 - (i) the bidder proposing that Competing Transaction acquires a relevant interest in more than 50% of the St. George Shares; and
 - (ii) that Competing Transaction is free, or becomes free, from any defeating conditions;
- (b) a person other than Westpac acquires, or agrees to acquire, the whole or a substantial part of St. George's assets, business or property, where an agreement in relation to that acquisition is entered into prior to the Sunset Date;
- (c) one or more St. George Directors fails to make, or withdraws, a recommendation that the St. George Shareholders vote in favour of the Merger Proposal;
- (d) one or more St. George Directors supports a proposal or offer made by a person other than Westpac to acquire the St. George Shares or the whole or a substantial part of St. George's assets, business or property; or
- (e) Westpac terminates the Merger Implementation Agreement due to a material breach by St. George.

Payment of the break fee by St. George is not required, or is refundable, to the extent that such reimbursement would be unlawful.

7.6 Termination

Either St. George or Westpac may terminate the Merger Implementation Agreement in any of the following circumstances:

- (a) the other party is in breach of a material term of the Merger Implementation Agreement;
- (b) the Court fails to make the orders to convene the Share Scheme Meeting;
- (c) a court or other government agency has taken action (or has refused to take action (as the case may be)) with the consequence that the Share Scheme is permanently restrained or prohibited, and that action (or refusal to take action) is final and cannot be appealed;
- (d) a Condition Precedent is not satisfied and the parties cannot resolve the failure to satisfy that Condition Precedent after consultation with each other; or
- (e) the Share Scheme has not become Effective on or before the Sunset Date.

Westpac may terminate the Merger Implementation Agreement if the St. George Board (or a majority of St. George Directors):

- (a) withdraw their recommendation that St. George Shareholders vote in favour of the Share Scheme; or
- (b) make a public statement indicating that they no longer support the Share Scheme or that they support a Competing Transaction.

St. George may terminate the Merger Implementation Agreement if the St. George Board has determined in good faith and acting reasonably, after having received written advice from its legal and, if appropriate, its financial advisers, that:

- (a) the St. George Directors are, by virtue of their statutory or fiduciary duties:
 - (i) no longer able to recommend to St. George Shareholders that the Share Scheme be approved; or
 - (ii) no longer consider the Share Scheme to be in the best interests of St. George Shareholders and accordingly are required to withdraw such recommendation; or
- (b) a Competing Transaction constitutes a superior proposal to the Share Scheme.

In certain circumstances, as set out in Section 7.5, St. George may be liable to pay a break fee following termination of the Merger Implementation Agreement.

7.7 Representations and warranties

Each of St. George and Westpac has given representations and warranties to the other that are considered to be normal for an agreement of this kind.

7.8 Stamp duty

St. George does not expect that any stamp duty will be payable on the transfer of the St. George Shares to Westpac. However, if stamp duty is payable in connection with the Scheme, Westpac has an obligation to pay that stamp duty.

7.9 Sunset Date

St. George and Westpac have committed to implement the Share Scheme by the Sunset Date, being 31 December 2008 or as otherwise agreed by St. George and Westpac in writing. Either party may terminate the Merger Implementation Agreement if the Share Scheme has not become Effective by the Sunset Date.

Dear Directors

Westpac Proposal

1 Introduction

On 13 May 2008, St.George Bank Limited ("St.George") and Westpac Banking Corporation ("Westpac") announced that they had agreed the key commercial terms for a proposed merger of the two companies (the "Westpac Proposal"). The Westpac Proposal was confirmed on 26 May 2008 following a two week exclusivity period during which St.George and Westpac undertook reciprocal due diligence and negotiated a Merger Implementation Agreement reflecting the key commercial terms of the Westpac Proposal.

Under the Westpac Proposal, holders of St.George ordinary shares ("St.George shareholders") will receive 1.31 Westpac shares for each St.George share held. In addition, St.George shareholders will be entitled to receive a final dividend capped at 97 cents per share in relation to the year ending 30 September 2008. On 8 September 2008, St.George announced that Westpac had agreed to the payment of a final and special dividend for the year ending 30 September 2008 of up to $1.25 per St.George share (including the previous final dividend capped at 97 cents per share).

The Westpac Proposal is to be implemented by way of a scheme of arrangement under Section 411 of the Corporations Act 2001 ("Corporations Act") between St.George and its ordinary shareholders (the "Share Scheme"). If the Share Scheme becomes effective, Westpac will offer to acquire the non-cumulative, redeemable and convertible preference shares known as SAINTS for a cash consideration of $100 per SAINTS (representing the face value of each SAINTS) by way of a scheme of arrangement (the "SAINTS Scheme") and all St.George award options (other than those held by excluded award optionholders) will be cancelled in exchange for the issue or transfer of 1.31 Westpac shares for each award option by way of a scheme of arrangement (the "Option Scheme").

The directors of St.George have engaged Grant Samuel & Associates Pty Limited ("Grant Samuel") to prepare an independent expert's report setting out whether, in its opinion, the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders. Grant Samuel has also been requested to give its opinion as to whether the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of SAINTS holders and in the best interests of award optionholders. This letter contains a summary of Grant Samuel's opinion and main conclusions and will accompany the Scheme Booklet to be sent to St.George securityholders. The full independent expert's report from which this summary has been extracted is included in the Scheme Booklet Supplement which will be available from St.George on request or from its website.

2 Summary of Opinion

In Grant Samuel's opinion, the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

The last 15 months have seen the greatest upheaval in global financial markets in decades. Equities markets have fallen sharply with massive write offs by the global banking sector. Credit markets are in turmoil with pricing having undergone dramatic shifts and liquidity in some sectors non existent. There is little sign of real stability returning in the near future. While the Australian banking sector is in much better shape, there are signs of emerging problems from a softening economy and flow on effects from the contraction in offshore credit markets. These difficult conditions are expected to continue for some time.

Accordingly, it is extremely difficult to make even short term estimates of key value drivers such as underlying levels of asset growth, funding costs and net interest margins with any degree of reliability. Adding further uncertainty are the challenges all Australian banks face in accessing sufficient wholesale funding to replace maturing lines of wholesale funding as well as meeting asset growth requirements. In addition, the share prices and market ratings of banks (both in Australia and globally) have plummeted over the last nine months and remain volatile. Any conclusions and value judgements need to be considered in this light.

Grant Samuel has estimated the full underlying value of St.George, including a control premium, to be in the range of $30.62-35.02 per share (after adjusting for the incremental dividend). The value was estimated having regard to both discounted cash flow ("DCF") analysis and multiples of net profit after tax. There are a number of features of the valuation that should be noted:

- it reflects the highly attractive attributes of St.George including the strategic market share in New South Wales, the quality franchise and strong customer relationships, the scope for growth (in new regions and in commercial), the sound credit quality and the outstanding wealth platform;
- the value includes synergy benefits on the basis that in a competitive process, acquirers would pay away most of the common synergies;
- any concerns about the volume or cost of wholesale funding for St.George do not apply in assessing a "control" value as potential acquirers should be able to eliminate the incremental funding costs and be better positioned to achieve the volume of funding required;
- the implied overall price earnings multiples (12.4-14.2 times broker consensus 2009 cash net profit after tax) are not at the top end of historical benchmarks but this reflects the fact that the outlook today is far less positive than it was when many of the earlier transactions occurred. This is consistent with the fact that the four major Australian banks are currently trading at price earnings multiples well below historical norms;
- the DCF analysis generally assumes modest system credit growth over the next two years and flat equities markets before returning to more normal levels; and
- values towards the upper end of the range reflect the value if market conditions turn out to be less challenging than currently anticipated.

For the purposes of this report, Grant Samuel has assessed a current value for the consideration under the Westpac Proposal of $30.13-33.40 based on an estimated market value of Westpac shares of $23.00-25.50. This range compares to a closing Westpac share price on 15 September 2008 of $23.15 and a volume weighted average price ("VWAP") for the preceding month of $23.29.

While the bottom end of the value of the consideration is slightly below the bottom end of the value range for St.George, it is the range for the value of the consideration and not an individual price that is the relevant consideration. There is a very substantial degree of overlap and over 85% of the value range for the consideration falls within the St.George valuation range. Accordingly, the Westpac Proposal is "fair" and therefore "reasonable".

In any event, given the uncertainties attached to the valuation of St.George, the volatility of bank share prices (including Westpac) and the fact that the consideration is entirely scrip (rather than cash), Grant Samuel believes that analysis of relative value provides insights as to the fairness of the value proposition for St.George shareholders that are at least as relevant and reliable as absolute values.

GRANT SAMUEL

In this context, at the time the Westpac Proposal was announced, the market value of the consideration:

- fell within the underlying value range; and
- represented a premium over the pre announcement St.George share price of approximately 24-28%. The quantum of the control premium at the time of the announcement of the Westpac Proposal, of more than $3.5 billion, suggests that Westpac is effectively paying away the vast majority of quantified synergies to St.George shareholders (although there are a number of other anticipated revenue enhancements that should create substantial value over time if successfully executed).

Westpac's share price fell sharply in the weeks after the announcement, eliminating the apparent premium. It has since recovered but is still below pre announcement levels. However, the whole banking sector has fallen significantly since 13 May 2008. Westpac has not announced any specific negative news and its share price decline has been less than NAB's and ANZ's but greater than CBA's. St.George would not have been immune from this downwards rerating of the sector. While it is not possible to know with certainty what St.George's share price would now be in the absence of the Westpac Proposal, it is Grant Samuel's view that, having regard to the movements in each of the listed banks and St.George's position, it probably would have fallen by at least as much as Westpac (but not necessarily for the same reasons). To this extent, the effective percentage premium being paid by Westpac is still as much as it was at the time of the announcement.

This relativity is also important going forward. If economic conditions deteriorate or bank shares are rerated down and Westpac's shares fall, the exchange ratio would remain fair (assuming there were no Westpac specific events) as both the likely stand alone trading price of St.George shares and the full underlying value range would move down in a similar fashion.

Other important factors which St.George shareholders should take into account include the following:

- the primary alternative to the Westpac Proposal is for St.George to remain as an independent listed bank (the "stand alone" option). While superficially appealing, there is a high likelihood of the St.George share price remaining at levels well below the value provided through the Westpac Proposal over the medium term. In the absence of the Westpac Proposal (or any takeover speculation), Grant Samuel believes St.George would currently be trading at less than $25.00.

Wholesale credit markets are currently very challenging with windows of opportunity but also periods of unavailability and capacity limits. If they remain difficult, the flow through of incremental funding costs will impact St.George's earnings growth relative to the major banks. In a worst case, St.George may face funding constraints that impact its ability to grow assets.

In addition, in the absence of the Westpac Proposal, there is a prospect that St.George will need to raise Tier 1 capital within the next 12 months, most likely through an equity raising. This could also be expected to have a negative impact on the share price;

- while there is a possibility of a superior proposal being put forward by an alternative party, the likelihood is relatively low;
- St.George shareholders benefit from an uplift in attributable earnings per share (and, to a lesser extent, dividends per share). It would take some years of consistently higher growth by a stand alone St.George to catch up with the attributable earnings shareholders receive through the Westpac Proposal. In any event, there are arguments as to why the merged group might achieve comparable earnings growth to a stand alone St.George (e.g. emerging synergy benefits);
- the Westpac Proposal provides risk mitigation for St.George shareholders:

GRANT SAMUEL

- increased diversification of asset exposures; and
- a higher credit rating and stronger balance sheet which provides enhanced capacity to manage through any continuation of the current difficulties in wholesale funding markets and, even more so, if there is any further deterioration; and
- the merged group will have a strong strategic position as the clear market leader in both banking and wealth management in Australia with a domestic retail focus that will appeal to investors. Its earnings growth prospects should be underpinned by the potential merger integration benefits that are expected to emerge over the next 2-5 years. St.George shareholders will have a 28% share of the merged group which gives a significant exposure to these upsides (while also having been paid for them through the premium).

As a scrip transaction, St.George shareholders will also retain their exposure (in fact an increased exposure as a result of the premium) to any general recovery in banking markets.

There are risks and disadvantages that should not be taken lightly. Shareholders will be exposed to Westpac specific risks (e.g. greater exposure to the New Zealand market). There are very substantial execution risks in the integration of the two businesses (notwithstanding the proposed business model of preserving St.George's customer facing activities as an independent business unit). However, in Grant Samuel's opinion, these do not outweigh the benefits.

3 Key Conclusions

- The current volatile market conditions mean there is a greater than usual level of uncertainty attached to any value judgement

The last 15 months have seen the greatest upheaval in global financial markets in decades. Equities markets have fallen sharply with massive write offs by the banking sector, particularly in the United States and Europe. Credit markets are in turmoil. Liquidity in some sectors is non-existent even for good quality credits. Even where markets are open, pricing has undergone dramatic shifts. There is little sign of real stability returning in the near future. While the Australian banking sector is in much better shape than most others, there are signs of emerging problems from a softening economy and flow on effects from the contraction in offshore credit markets. These difficult conditions are expected to continue for some time.

These conditions have created substantial uncertainty around key value drivers for banking and wealth management businesses:

- the continuing global credit crisis is having a massive impact on bank funding costs in the short to medium (and possibly long) term. Investors are placing much more emphasis on pricing for risk, pushing up the credit margin paid by banks by a significant amount (particularly for longer term debt or for lower rated banks). However, these margins have been volatile and it is difficult to predict where they will settle, although it is reasonably clear that funding margins will not fall back to the levels seen before the global credit crisis. In addition, as a lower rated bank (A+/Aa2) compared to the major banks, St.George faces an additional credit margin on wholesale funding which has also blown out since August 2007 and remains volatile with little sign of where it is likely to settle over the medium term. These factors make it very difficult to forecast net interest margins;
- growth rates for housing, personal and business lending have been declining simultaneously, a situation not seen since the introduction of the GST in June 2000. Credit growth has been growing at well in excess of nominal GDP for over 20 years as more of the population has taken on ever increasing amounts of debt (in particular, to finance higher housing prices). As the economy slows, housing prices decline and the population starts to "deleverage", credit growth rates are likely to continue to fall but the extent of that decline is very difficult to predict as is the length of the slowdown period. Despite the Reserve Bank of Australia ("RBA") cutting the official cash rate by 25 basis points on 2 September 2008, the timing and magnitude of any recovery is uncertain, particularly given the need to balance high inflation against a stalling economy;

GRANT SAMUEL

- equities markets, which impact net inflows and funds management fees earned by St.George's wealth management business, have been volatile. Global and Australian equities markets have fallen considerably in the last 12 months and their recovery and the return of investor confidence will take time; and
- volatile equities markets are also resulting in rapid changes in the value parameters (e.g. earnings multiples) that investors apply to banks and financial institutions.

As a result of these uncertainties:

- the valuation analysis should be treated with some caution. The combined effects mean that it is extremely difficult to make long term or even short term forecasts or value judgements with a high degree of precision. Relatively small changes in key assumptions could lead to material movements in value; and
 - the ranges adopted for both the value of St.George and the value of the consideration are relatively wide.
- St.George has been valued in the range $17.5-20.0 billion, equivalent to $30.62-35.02 per share (after adjusting for the incremental dividend)

St.George has been valued in the range $17.5-20.0 billion which corresponds to a value of $30.62-35.02 per share (after adjusting for the incremental dividend). The valuation represents the estimated full underlying value of St.George assuming 100% of the company was available to be acquired and includes a premium for control. The value exceeds the price at which, based on current market conditions, Grant Samuel would expect St.George shares to trade on the Australian Stock Exchange ("ASX") in the absence of a takeover offer.

The value for St.George is the aggregate of the estimated market value of St.George's business operations and other assets and non trading liabilities. The valuation is summarised below:

St.George - Valuation Summary ($ millions)
	Full Report Section Reference	Valuation Range
		Low	High
Banking	9.4	15,400	17,600
Wealth Management	9.5	2,100	2,400
Value of business operations		17,500	20,000
Other assets and liabilities	9.6	26	35
Value of equity		17,526	20,035
Fully diluted shares on issue (millions) ¹		567	567
Value per share ($)		30.90	35.30
Incremental dividend per share ($)	9.7	(0.28)	(0.28)
Value per share adjusted for incremental dividend ($)		30.62	35.02

The valuation is before taking into account the final dividend for St.George shareholders for the year ending 30 September 2008 (which has been capped at 97 cents per share). Westpac's share price is also cum its final dividend which is capped at 74 cents (reflecting the exchange ratio of 1.31). The increase in the St.George dividend to up to $1.25 provides St.George shareholders with additional value of at least 28 cents per share (depending on the extent to which the final dividend is less than 97 cents per share). Grant Samuel has made an adjustment to take into account the incremental dividend of 28 cents per share. This treatment enables comparison on an equal basis with the value of the consideration.

The banking and wealth management business operations were valued using two primary methodologies:

- DCF analysis and
- multiples of earnings, in particular, price earnings multiples. Multiples of earnings before net interest and tax ("EBIT") were also considered in valuing St.George's wealth management business.

The value ranges selected are judgements derived through an iterative process. The objective is to determine a value that is both consistent with the market evidence as to multiples and fits with the output of the DCF analysis in terms of the various scenarios and their likelihood. Multiples of net tangible assets ("NTA") and percentages of funds under management, administration and advice ("FUMA") were also considered, but were given much less emphasis.

The overall earnings multiples and NTA multiples implied by the valuation of St.George are summarised below:

GRANT SAMUEL

The implied multiples compared to Australian listed banks are shown below:

Source: Grant Samuel analysis

Grant Samuel believes these multiples are appropriate for St.George's banking business having regard to the following:

Positive Factors

- the strategic value of St.George's market share, particularly in New South Wales where it has approximately 14.7% of the residential loans market. It represents a unique opportunity to change market positioning;
- differentiated growth options from the major banks as a result of interstate expansion and its focus on high growth middle market business lending;
- higher customer satisfaction ratings than the major banks. There is particular opportunity in retail banking to increase the number of products per customer (which is well below the level of the major banks);
- historical strength on cost control and its lower, market leading cost to income ratio;
- lower risk portfolio than the major banks. St.George has no exposure to the high risk structured credit products and its assets are well secured, with an average loan to valuation ratio on residential loans of less than 40%. In contrast to the major banks, St.George also has little corporate or institutional exposure. Any significant potential specific exposures not already provided for (such as Allco and Centro) are, at worst, likely to be one off events rather than portfolio wide and immaterial to the overall valuation; and
- domestic focus with no offshore exposure.

Negative Factors

- the impact of current market conditions such as slowing credit growth, increased costs of funding and the impact of a deteriorating economy on impaired assets and debt write offs will affect the short to medium term earnings growth prospects for all banks and St.George will not be immune from this. This is reflected in the sharp decline in the price earnings multiples of all Australian banks since November 2007 to the point where they are now lower than at any time in the last 10 years. Most of the comparable transactions occurred in much more favourable circumstances and, accordingly, lower multiples are now appropriate;
- compared to the major banks, St.George has a proportionately larger exposure to the slower growing New South Wales market which could impact lending growth if relative weakness in the New South Wales economy continues;
- St.George is potentially more vulnerable than the major banks to a property cycle downturn with over 50% of its commercial loan book exposed to the property industry; and

GRANT SAMUEL

- it has a relatively weak capital position compared to the major banks which may be considered to be a disadvantage given the current environment.

Other Factors

- the extent of synergy benefits potentially available to an acquirer. Compared to other earlier transactions, St.George has a number of specific but offsetting factors:
 - St.George's A+ credit rating compared to the AA ratings of the major banks results in a higher cost for wholesale funding. Following the widening of single A versus double A credit spreads, which was not a major factor in any of the earlier transactions, there is now a greater degree of funding margin savings; and
 - a lower scope to save operating costs because of St.George's existing high levels of efficiency and the likely need to adopt a business model that limits cost efficiencies (but minimises customer attrition).

Wealth Management Business

The historical multiples implied by the valuation of St.George's wealth management business are compared to the core comparable transactions in the charts below:

Source: Grant Samuel analysis

In Grant Samuel's opinion, the implied multiples for St.George's wealth management business are reasonable relative to the market evidence.

Despite the short term negative outlook for St.George's wealth management business because of weak equities markets, it has a number of positive attributes that warrant multiples towards the top end of the range implied by the core comparable transactions:

- it is a major participant in the Australian managed funds industry with a significant market share. As at 31 July 2008, the business had FUMA of $42 billion, the fifth largest in force retail managed funds book in Australia, and has been within the top four in retail annual net flows (excluding cash) over the last two years;
- it is a vertically integrated wealth management business, with activities across funds management, asset administration and distribution. The integrated nature of the business provides an element of "captive" business;
- Asgard is a highly successful wealth management platform. It has a high level of functionality and a strong client servicing capability relative to its peers. Strong growth in the Asgard platform is expected to continue, especially through opportunities to expand the badged platform product;
- the potential for significant growth from non funds businesses, in particular insurance. (St.George has recently announced a strategic alliance with AIG Life); and

GRANT SAMUEL

- St.George's wealth management business has a strong domestic brand which provides a valuable point of differentiation especially in the higher margin retail wealth management sector.

In short, St.George's wealth management business would be strategically attractive to a number of acquirers. In particular, Asgard represents a key strategic asset in the platforms market and would provide a significant increase in market share (if not domestic market leadership in funds administration) as well as potential growth opportunities for an acquirer.

The consideration as a percentage of FUMA multiples implied by the valuation of St.George's wealth management business are high (at 5.0-5.7%) compared to the core transactions. Grant Samuel considers this high percentage to be reasonable given the business's significant non funds activities (in particular, insurance).

- The DCF valuation of St.George's businesses was based on assessment of a variety of scenarios

The DCF methodology involves discounting cash flows to a net present value ("NPV") using a discount rate which reflects the risk associated with the cash flow stream. This methodology is able to explicitly capture the potential for the changing dynamics of the banking and wealth management sectors.

Grant Samuel has prepared a high level dividend discount ("DDM") analysis of St.George's banking business and a high level DCF analysis of St.George's wealth management business. These analyses have been used to estimate stand alone values for St.George's banking and wealth management businesses. In addition, an allowance has been made for the estimated NPV of synergies available to acquirers of St.George.

The components of the DCF valuations are summarised below:

Discounted Cash Flow - Valuation Summary ($ billions)
	Full Report Section Reference	Value Range
		Low	High

The DDM for St.George's banking business calculates future distributable post tax profits adjusted for the bank's earnings retention requirements for capital adequacy purposes. The DDM uses the St.George Strategic Plan (through to the year ending 30 September 2011) as a starting point for constructing a model. The model was extended for a further seven years and a terminal value is calculated as at 30 September 2018. The model incorporates year by year assumptions for the years ending 30 September 2009 to 2011, and is based on long term assumptions and trends for the remaining periods. Separate growth rate assumptions are made for St.George's housing lending, other personal lending and business lending portfolios, banking net interest income is based on projected net interest margins, while banking non interest income is based on a projected percentage of net interest income. Operating costs have been separated into fixed and variable components, with the fixed element projected to grow at 5% per year.

The DCF model for St.George's wealth management business was constructed on the same basis as the DDM. Inflows and outflows of funds are separately modelled for Asgard and Advance and investment returns are projected at a fixed percentage of equity market returns based on historical experience. Margins are applied to average FUMA balances to derive managed funds fee income and other income (primarily from the insurance and directshares businesses) (after the Strategic Plan period) is assumed to grow at a fixed rate per year. The earnings from the insurance business incorporate the impact of the recently announced accelerated insurance growth strategy (through the strategic alliance with AIG Life). Operating costs have been separated into fixed and variable components, with the fixed element projected to grow at 5% per year. Maintenance capital expenditure is assumed to grow at inflation and an allowance has been made for a major overhaul of the information technology system during the term of the cash flows and in calculating the terminal value.

While St.George has considered a number of scenarios in its Strategic Plan, it has not developed a detailed, integrated and flexible model for either its banking business or its wealth management business. As a result, Grant Samuel's model is necessarily a high level analysis based on summarised data and intended to demonstrate the effect on value of variances in several key revenue and cost drivers. Banking and wealth management businesses are inherently complex, with performance depending on a large number of variables such as volume growth and net interest margins (for banking) and recovery of, and levels of returns from, equities markets (for wealth management). In addition, various simplifying assumptions have been applied to create the models and it is not possible to fully capture the possible effects of changes in one assumption on all other variables.

Grant Samuel adopted assumptions for the scenarios to reflect its judgement on certain matters. The assumptions adopted by Grant Samuel and the associated calculations of future performance in the financial models are not, and are not necessarily consistent with, the assumptions and forecasts made by St.George. The scenarios allow an assessment of the impact on value of various key assumptions relating to asset growth, margins, operating costs and other factors. It should be recognised that the scenarios focus on assumptions regarding key value drivers, rather than detailed "bottom up" parameters. The scenarios do not represent Grant Samuel's forecasts of the future financial performance of St.George's businesses. Grant Samuel gives no undertaking and makes no warranty regarding the future financial performance of St.George and its businesses. Such future performance is subject to fundamental uncertainty. Rather, the scenarios have been developed purely to allow assessment of the impact on calculated NPVs of alternative assumptions regarding the future financial performance of St.George's businesses.

While the outcomes need to be treated with some caution, the analysis does provide some insight into value.

The following scenarios were developed:

- Banking:
 - Scenario A represents as closely as possible a "base case" and reflects a continued slowing of the economy but with a "soft" landing during the 2010 financial year and a subsequent recovery, slowing asset growth (but continued market share gains), funding available but at a higher cost and pressure on credit quality;
 - Scenario B differs from Scenario A in that it assumes that the economic environment improves and credit markets stabilise and recover in the short term. Asset growth is strong, funding constraints are removed and credit quality improves;
 - Scenario C represents a situation where there is a sharper and longer decline in the economy and dislocation in credit markets intensifies. If this scenario eventuated, all banks would need to reassess their strategies and respond accordingly. The cost of credit increases, asset growth is weak, credit quality deteriorates and the cost base is reduced to take account of these changed circumstances; and
 - Scenario D represents the case where access to funding is constrained to a greater extent for a longer period of time than contemplated under Scenario A. Impairment provisions are higher, improvement in funding markets is slower and net interest margins are lower than under Scenario A; and

- Wealth Management:
 - Scenario A again represents a "base case" and assumes mildly volatile equities markets in the short term with a corresponding negative impact on inflows. Equities markets are flat in the 2009 financial year, followed by a growth spike in the 2010 financial year before reverting to long term average growth;
 - Scenario B differs from Scenario A in that it assumes that equities markets recover quickly and in the short term, investor confidence is restored and growth in inflows rebounds strongly in the 2009 and 2010 financial years; and
 - Scenario C represents a situation where markets continue to fall in the short term (albeit at less severe levels than that experienced in the 2008 financial year) and volatility persists, reducing the level of inflows.

The key assumptions underlying each scenario are set out in Appendix B to this letter.

Other parameters used in the DDM and DCF analyses include:

St.George - Other Valuation Parameters
	Discount Rates		Terminal Growth Rate
	Low Value Case	High Value Case
Banking	12.0%	11.0%	5%
Wealth Management	13.5%	12.5%	7%

The DDM and DCF outcomes compared to Grant Samuel's value range for St.George's banking and wealth management businesses are summarised below:

The range of NPVs produced by the scenarios is significantly wider than the value range placed on St.George's banking and wealth management businesses on a stand alone basis. The outcomes of all of the scenarios were considered in determining its stand alone value range for St.George's banking and wealth management businesses. However, it should be noted that:

- Grant Samuel's value range for St.George's banking business lies towards the upper portion of values produced by the DDM analysis, spanning the values produced by Scenarios A and D. In Grant Samuel's view it is extremely unlikely that the economy and credit markets will improve significantly in the short term as envisaged in Scenario B. Most analysts are expecting the economy to reach a "soft landing" over the next 12-18 months before a recovery commences. There is also no indication that the volatility in, and widening of, margins in credit markets will subside in the short term. In the event of Scenario C, the NPV impact on an acquirer would be less than for a stand alone St.George (as they would not face the same level of incremental costs or constraints); and
- Grant Samuel's value range for St.George's wealth management business lies marginally within the lower portion of values produced by the DCF analysis and within the values produced by Scenario A. The assumption of an immediate rebound in equities markets in Scenario B is considered to be optimistic. Despite the recent fall in oil prices from record highs and the RBA cutting the cash rate by 25 basis points in September 2008, general market conditions still indicate depressed growth for the near future. In Grant Samuel's view, the downside reflected in Scenario C is relatively more likely, based on the economic outlook and historical experience. In the nine Australian bear markets since 1960, the time taken to reach the market low from the high has been between one and two years, suggesting the current downturn could persist into 2010. With recovery, the same data suggests the time to reach the new market high following the low is generally between three and four years, implying it could take until 2013 for the market to return to the peak of 2007.

Grant Samuel believes that the values produced by the DDM and the DCF generally support a broad range of values for St.George's banking and wealth management businesses on a stand alone basis of $13.4-15.3 billion and $1.8-2.0 billion respectively.

The DDM and DCF analyses provide an indication of the stand alone value for the core banking and wealth management businesses but do not capture any potential cost reductions or synergies that may be available to an acquirer of the businesses (and therefore generate a premium for control). The nature and extent of such benefits vary from party to party and depend on the operating model adopted by the acquirer. The history of Australian regional bank and building society acquisitions by larger banks indicates cost savings broadly in the range of 20-40% of the target company's cost base. In the case of St George, the available operating cost savings are likely to be at the lower end of this range, reflecting the fact that the business already operates at a cost to income ratio superior to that of the major Australian banks.

Grant Samuel has estimated an indicative value of $2.3-2.7 billion for the potential synergy benefits that may be available to acquirers of St.George. This value has been based on a DCF analysis. Westpac's announced synergies have been used as a basis for a number of the components as a proxy for generic synergies available to acquirers generally. The main features of this analysis are:

- pre tax cost savings of 22.5% of St.George's cost base for the three years ending 30 September 2011. This represents the mid point of the 20-25% range provided by Westpac. These cost savings are assumed to be achieved progressively over the three year period (so that 100% is achieved in the year ending 30 September 2011);
- funding synergies of $130 million by the year ending 30 September 2011. This is consistent with brokers' estimates of this saving at approximately 20 basis points for term wholesale funding or $120-140 million per annum by 2011. Funding synergies are assumed to be achieved progressively over the three year period as St.George's wholesale term funding matures;
- revenue attrition of 2.5% of St.George's revenue base in each year; and
- implementation costs of $700 million associated with achieving these synergies are assumed to be incurred equally in the years ending 30 September 2009 and 2010.

The calculated future cash flows have been discounted to an NPV using a blended banking/wealth management discount rate and a blended terminal growth rate. The value attributed to cost savings of $2.3-2.7 billion is 80% of the result obtained from the DCF analysis of $2.8-3.4 billion, reflecting the execution risk associated with achieving the operating synergies and the fact that acquirers do not generally "pay away" 100% of operating synergies to the target shareholders. It should also be noted that there are additional synergies (e.g. revenue benefits) not included in the NPV analysis.

The operational synergies reflect synergies attributable to the banking business and the wealth management businesses. No information has been made public on the cost savings expected in each business. Approximately 13-15% or $300-400 million of the value of the operational synergies has been allocated to the wealth management business. This is slightly above the contribution of the wealth management business to the overall stand alone value of St.George (at approximately 12%) but this is considered reasonable given the relatively higher level of cost savings that would be expected to be generated from this business. This leaves $2.0-2.3 billion attributable to the banking business.

- The consideration under the Westpac Proposal has an estimated current value of $30.13-33.40 based on a value range for Westpac shares of $23.00-25.50

Grant Samuel has attributed a current value to the consideration of $30.13-33.40 per share based on a value range for Westpac shares of $23.00-25.50. No adjustment has been made for the final dividend as the relative dividends to be paid by St.George and Westpac have caps that match the exchange ratio (i.e. neither group of shareholders are better or worse off).

In the present climate, it is not possible to assess a value range for Westpac shares with a high level of reliability. It is possible that the Westpac share price could move outside this range between the date of this report and the implementation of the Westpac Proposal (currently expected to be 1 December 2008).

It is normal practice to use the current market price as the starting point for estimating the value of an offer, particularly for large companies such as Westpac that enjoy high levels of market liquidity and are closely followed by a wide range of analysts and other commentators.

However, there are two questions to be addressed:

- is there any reason why the market price is not a true reflection of the fair market value of Westpac shares? For example, there could be:
 - important information about the business which would affect the share price but is not in the public domain;
 - mispricing by the market; and/or
 - abnormal trading activity in the company's shares; and
- will the proposed transaction, if implemented, have a material impact on the company's financial metrics, growth prospects, risk profile or other factors that would be likely to result in a change in the share price?

In considering these questions, Grant Samuel:

- analysed the recent trading in Westpac shares;
- analysed the earnings and other multiples implied by the Westpac share price compared to its domestic and international peers;
- reviewed broker analyst research on Westpac and its peers; and
- analysed the impact of the Westpac Proposal on Westpac's key financial metrics.

Grant Samuel has concluded that there is no evidence that Westpac is materially mispriced relative to its peers. The acquisition of St.George would have a major impact on Westpac but the market would appear to be reasonably well (but not fully) informed about the implications of the transaction.

Nevertheless there is probably more upside than downside, from the price as at 15 September 2008 of $23.15:

- the relatively low multiples and relatively high dividend yields by historical standards provide a significant degree of (but not complete) downside protection. The four major banks have fundamentally strong and secure franchises that will allow them to bounce back when the economy does turn back up;

GRANT SAMUEL

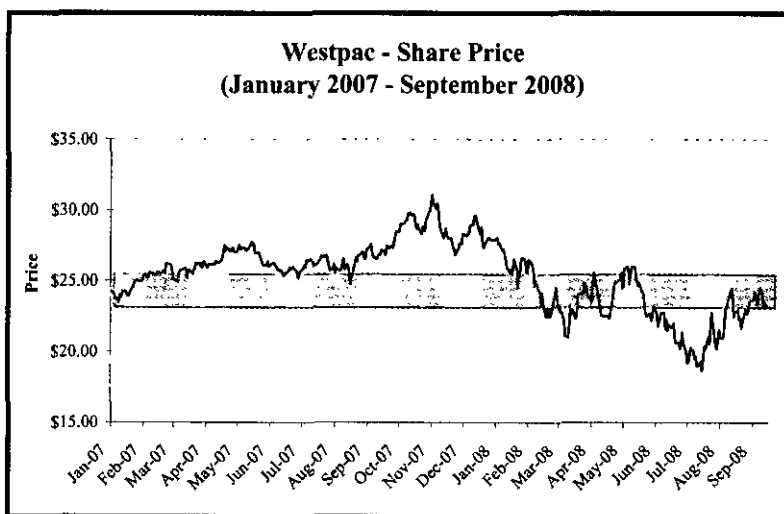

- there is also an argument that Westpac should be rated more highly than its peers given its relative strength and positioning. Westpac is currently trading on a 2009 price earnings multiple which is towards the top end of the range of price earnings multiples of its peers but not at the top end. If Westpac was rated at the same multiple as CBA, it would be trading at just under $25;
- broker's DCF valuations and their estimates of 12 month price targets for Westpac are slightly above current share trading prices;
- the quantum of some synergies (such as funding and revenue opportunities as well as "soft" synergies) may not be fully appreciated; and
- there is often a positive share price reaction as transactions get closer to being consummated.

Accordingly, Grant Samuel's judgement is that a Westpac share price of $23.00-25.50 is a reasonable estimate. At this price, Westpac is trading at the following multiples:

Westpac – Implied Multiples at $23.00-25.50
Period	Broker consensus cash net profit after tax ($ millions)	Price earnings multiple at
		$23.00	$25.50
Year ending 30 September 2008	3,754	11.6	12.9
Year ending 30 September 2009	3,880	11.1	12.3
Year ending 30 September 2010	3,953	10.2	11.3

The multiples are based on earnings before any impact of the acquisition of St.George.

The range relative to recent history is show below:

Source: IRESS

The value of the consideration will vary with movements in the Westpac share price. Accordingly, until the Westpac Proposal is implemented, St George shareholders are exposed to:

- changes in overall equity market conditions; and
- specific events that could impact the Westpac share price.

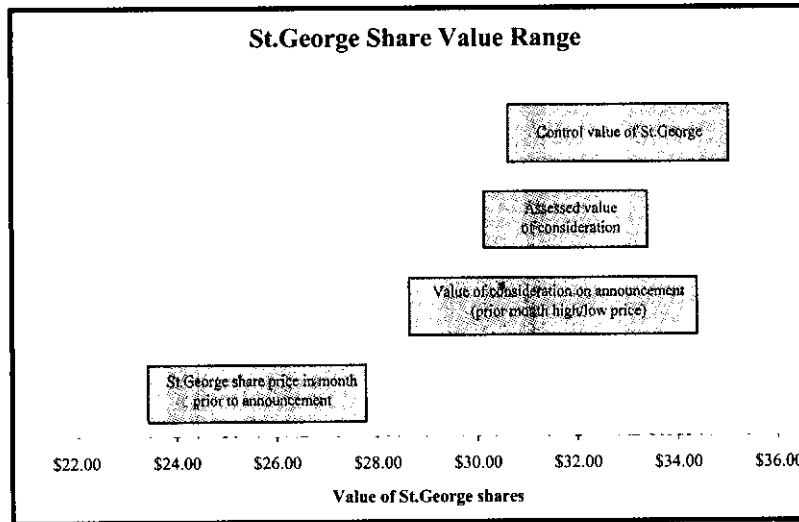

GRANT SAMUEL

The Westpac share price could move beyond the $23.00-25.50 range as economic or other events unfold. The actual value received could therefore ultimately exceed, or be less than, $30.13-33.40 per St.George share. Depending on the circumstances, significant (and sustained) movements in Westpac's share price could change the overall evaluation of the Westpac Proposal.

■ The Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders

The relationship between the value of St.George and the Westpac Proposal is shown graphically below:

While the bottom end of the value of the consideration is slightly below the bottom end of the value range for St.George, it is the range for the value of the consideration and not an individual price that is the relevant consideration. There is a very substantial degree of overlap and over 85% of the value range for the consideration falls within the St.George valuation range. Accordingly, the Westpac Proposal is "fair" and therefore "reasonable".

However, the valuation analysis needs to be treated with caution:

- in the current circumstances it is not possible to estimate values with a high degree of confidence. There are very substantial uncertainties attached to any medium to long term projections of key value drivers;
- earnings multiples from previous bank acquisitions provide some guidance but the current situation and outlook is very different. Adjustments to the benchmarks to compensate for these differences are difficult to assess with any precision;
- the Westpac share price (along with the share prices of all banks) has been extremely volatile both prior to, and after, the announcement of the Westpac Proposal. This makes it difficult to determine a reliable value for the consideration offered under the Westpac Proposal; and
- in periods of uncertainty such as the present, share market prices tend to be governed by market sentiment and are subject to rapid changes in sentiment (generally on the downside). There can often be a disconnect between market prices and "fundamental" value. It is quite possible that Westpac shares are trading at a discount to fundamental value (e.g. one assessed using a DCF analysis similar to that used to value St.George), particularly if a reasonably benign outlook was assumed (e.g. similar to Scenario A in the DDM analysis for St.George).

GRANT SAMUEL

In any event, as the Westpac Proposal is entirely scrip based (rather than cash) analysis of relative values is likely to provide insights as to the fairness of the value proposition that are at least as relevant and reliable as absolute values.

In this context, at the time of announcement of the Westpac Proposal:

- the value of the consideration of approximately $31-33 (based on Westpac share prices up to one month prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal) fell into the valuation range of $30.62 to $35.02 (albeit in the lower half). Based on the low and high share prices for the preceding month, the range for the consideration was $28.64 to $34.39; and
- the exchange ratio under the Westpac Proposal represented a premium over the pre announcement St.George share price of approximately 24-28% depending on the period measured:

Westpac Proposal – Implied Premiums at Announcement⁵
Date/Period	St.George Price/VWAP	Westpac Price/VWAP	Value of Consideration	Premium
Closing price on 9 May 2008 ⁶	$25.77	$25.27	$33.10	28.5%
1 week VWAP to 9 May 2008	$25.74	$24.78	$32.46	26.1%
1 month VWAP to 9 May 2008	$24.94	$23.63	$30.96	24.1%
3 month VWAP to 9 May 2008	$24.36	$23.00	$30.13	23.7%

Source: IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

On a daily basis, the premium was relatively consistent over the three months preceding the announcement.

There are reasons why a moderate premium might be appropriate for St.George:

- the synergies that are expected to be achieved will be lower than those achieved in other transactions because of the operating model being adopted (i.e. there will be no branch closures). Other acquirers would almost certainly follow a similar model to protect the value of the St.George business (and the goodwill being paid);
- the industry (and particularly Westpac) has a greater awareness of customer attrition issues (from the acquisitions of Challenge Bank Limited (“Challenge Bank”) and Bank of Melbourne Limited (“Bank of Melbourne”)) and bidders are likely to be conservative in their assessment of these issues;
- as banks have grown in market value over time and become more efficient, the cost savings as a proportion of value decline; and
- St.George’s share price has from time to time reflected takeover expectations.

On the other hand:

- St.George is a very strategic asset that represents a unique opportunity for the acquirer to consolidate its market position. There are no comparable alternative opportunities;
- Westpac should be able to achieve greater funding synergies (that have not been achieved in other comparable transactions) given its higher credit rating and the current funding cost differentials;

⁵ The VWAPs have been adjusted to remove the value of St.George’s and Westpac’s interim dividends of 88 cents per share and 70 cents per share respectively. The VWAPs have also been adjusted to remove the impact of unusual trades (e.g. 2.6 million Westpac shares that traded at 1 cent each on 24 April 2008) as these trades distort the calculated VWAPs.

⁶ Last day of trading prior to the suspension of shares pending the announcement of the Westpac Proposal.

GRANT SAMUEL

- St.George's pre announcement share price may have been affected by concerns about funding constraints impacting growth. These concerns should not impact an acquirer; and
- there is no evidence of takeover speculation affecting St.George's pre announcement share price.

The quantum of the premium is more than $3.5 billion, suggesting that Westpac is effectively paying away the vast majority of quantified synergies to St.George shareholders (although there are a number of other anticipated revenue enhancements that should create substantial value over time if successfully executed). Having regard to all of these factors, Grant Samuel believes that the premium is appropriate. In other words, St.George shareholders receive a reasonable "share of the pie".

The subsequent decline in the Westpac share price has substantially reduced the value of the consideration and the apparent premium. However, the decline is not Westpac specific. Westpac has not announced any negative news about its own business. There has been a downwards rerating of the whole banking sector since 13 May 2008 and banking shares have fallen across the board. The extent of Westpac's decline has been less than NAB's and ANZ's but greater than CBA's.

The following observations are relevant to St.George shareholders:

- the effective percentage premium is maintained to the extent that over the same period St.George's share price would have fallen by as much as Westpac's in the absence of the Westpac Proposal. Grant Samuel's view is that this is likely to have been the case (but not necessarily for the same reasons as the prices would have been driven by different events and facts). This relativity is also important going forward. If economic conditions deteriorate or bank shares are rerated down and Westpac's shares fall, the exchange ratio would remain fair (assuming there were no Westpac specific events) as both the likely stand alone trading price of St.George shares and the full underlying value range would move down in a similar fashion;
 - the decline in share prices reduces the absolute quantum of the premium but not to a major extent and certainly not to the point where it would not represent a full premium;
 - shareholders retain their full exposure to any recovery in bank share prices or banking markets through credit system growth or economic growth. Even if this recovery is sooner or stronger than anticipated (e.g. Scenario B in the DDM/DCF valuations), St.George shareholders will benefit through their holding in the merged group. In fact, their leverage to any such recovery is enhanced as a result of the premium being paid; and
 - the merged group will have a strong strategic position as the clear market leader in both banking and wealth management in Australia with a domestic retail focus that will appeal to investors. Its earnings growth prospects should be underpinned by the potential merger integration benefits that are expected to emerge over the next 2-5 years. St.George shareholders will have a 28% share of the merged group which gives a significant exposure to these upsides (while also having been paid for them through the premium).
- There are other advantages and benefits for St.George shareholders under the Westpac Proposal

Under the Westpac Proposal, there will be an uplift in attributable cash earnings per share for St.George shareholders. Based on broker consensus forecasts for the year ending 30 September 2008 (which do not reflect any of the costs associated with, or synergies expected from, the Westpac Proposal), the uplift is in the order of 8% (from $2.36 to $2.55 per St.George share). Broker consensus forecasts for the years ending 30 September 2009 and 2010 (including these synergies) indicate an uplift in attributable cash earnings per share for St.George shareholders of 11.7% and 19.5% respectively. St.George shareholders are also likely to enjoy a slight uplift in dividends per share.

In addition, it is expected that the merged group will retain Westpac's current AA/Aa1 credit rating. This will reduce the vulnerability of the bank in what are clearly uncertain times. Similarly, the higher proportion of funding from customer deposits will also reduce risk. These factors relate not just to the cost of funds but also to the ability to secure funding at all. While wholesale credit market conditions appear to have not deteriorated in the last 2-3 months, they are still vulnerable to rapid adverse change. There can be no confidence that conditions will improve further in the short term or remain stable over the medium term.

- There are disadvantages and risks that are not inconsequential, however in Grant Samuel's opinion, they are not significant enough to change the conclusion

The two main disadvantages and risks arising from the Westpac Proposal are exposure to Westpac specific risks and risks associated with the effective integration of St.George into Westpac.

If the Westpac Proposal is implemented, St.George shareholders will be exposed to different risks. These risks include the different nature and scope of Westpac's operations (in particular its significant operations in institutional banking), its exposure to the New Zealand market (where Westpac generates approximately 15-20% of its after tax profit), large specific bad debts, legacy information technology systems on which Westpac expects to make significant investment over the next three to five years, third party relationships with franchisees (RAMS) and BT Investment Management Limited and contingent liability risks. These are the unavoidable risks in any business combination but Westpac is subject to the disclosure requirements of the ASX and St.George undertook a two week due diligence (admittedly relatively high level) investigation of Westpac and concluded that there was nothing that came to its attention that was likely to have a material impact on Westpac's share price.

The acquisition of St.George is a very substantial transaction for Westpac, increasing total assets by 34% and shareholders' funds by 40%. The merged group will be Australia's leading provider of residential loans and will have the largest wealth management platform in Australia. It will be critical that St.George is integrated effectively into Westpac. In particular, the integration of the information technology systems of St.George and Westpac is complex and risky, and will require significant investment of time and resources. St.George is a very substantial business and will represent a significant proportion of the merged group's operations. The scale of the integration task is much larger than in any of the other recent bank transactions. The integration could also be impacted by loss of key personnel and by differences in the culture of St.George and Westpac.

Cost savings need to be realised without destroying the St.George (customer facing) business and its distinct culture. This will be a demanding and delicate task. The history of bank acquisitions over the past 15 years does not provide a high level of confidence that this can be achieved. In particular, the Westpac acquisitions of Challenge Bank and Bank of Melbourne resulted in very substantial losses of customers and goodwill. However, there are grounds for believing the Westpac Proposal may be more successful:

- Westpac is adopting a different model, leaving St.George to operate largely as a separate business (for retail and business banking) under its own brand and with no net reduction in branches or ATMs. This should minimise customer alienation; and
- the Westpac CEO was previously the CEO of St.George (until August 2007) and therefore has an in depth understanding of the business and its culture. Indeed, she has been introducing many of St.George's approaches and philosophies into Westpac since her appointment.

Nevertheless, a substantive risk remains. The two brand strategy is being attempted on a scale much larger than it has been in any other banking transaction. In addition, it is clear that, for many customers, the attraction of St.George is its smaller size and independence from the major banks and the positioning of St.George under the Westpac umbrella will have to be carefully managed. Further, the CEO is only one person. In reality, the day-to-day responsibilities of integration and future management will lie with the broader senior executive team.

These risks are reflected in the Westpac share price. If the Westpac Proposal was assumed to be successfully implemented and the synergies fully realised there would be a case for a materially higher Westpac share price than $23.00-25.50.

GRANT SAMUEL

■ An alternative superior offer is relatively unlikely

Grant Samuel believes that an alternative superior offer is relatively unlikely. In view of the challenges facing the global banking industry, the most likely source of interest in St.George is the four major Australian trading banks, not least because of the attractions of the incremental market share and because they have the greatest capacity to generate synergies. Both ANZ and NAB have previously held strategic stakes in St.George.

However, CBA is likely to face very significant hurdles in gaining approval from the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission and has indicated that it has no interest in acquiring St.George. Both NAB and ANZ have effectively ruled out major acquisitions following their announcements of increased provisions for the year ending 30 September 2008. At their current price earnings multiples, both would face significant earnings per share dilution issues in acquiring St.George.

Nevertheless, it is still possible not least because counter bidders are likely to want to wait to see the scheme documentation disclosures. The Scheme Meeting is scheduled to be held on 13 November 2008 and it is open for any party to put forward a proposal prior to that date. There are no structural impediments to any party wishing to do so. The revised Merger Implementation Agreement now contains provision for the payment of a $100 million break fee by St.George if any of the directors of St.George change their recommendation or if a counter proposal is successful. This would not be a significant impediment to a counter proposal (it represents only approximately 0.5% of the value of St.George). While the Merger Implementation Agreement also contains no-shop and no-talk provisions, these do not prevent St.George from considering any superior proposals that may emerge. In addition, there is ample time available to put a proposal together prior to the meeting.

■ A stand alone strategy is likely to deliver less value over the medium term

It is open to St.George shareholders to vote against the Westpac Proposal and pursue a "stand alone" strategy, continuing to operate as an independent banking and wealth management company.

One basis for this view might be that "now is not the time to sell". Bank share prices have fallen dramatically over the past nine months (back to 2006 for the better performing banks and to much earlier levels in other cases) and price earnings multiples for banks are at lows not seen in over ten years. The outlook appears to be particularly gloomy with expectations of low asset growth, declining margins, falling confidence, increasing borrower stress and weaker equities markets. It might also be argued that in better times there might be greater interest from other banks in acquiring St.George (i.e. a more competitive process).

While there is some merit in these arguments:

- the St.George share price is likely to fall substantially from current levels if the Westpac Proposal does not proceed. The DCF analysis calculated a "stand alone" value of $26.84-30.54 per St.George share which represents the following multiples:

St.George – Implied Multiples at $26.84-30.54
Period	Broker consensus cash net profit after tax ($ millions)	Price earnings multiple at
		$26.84	$30.54
Year ending 30 September 2008	1,312	11.6	13.2
Year ending 30 September 2009	1,408	10.8	12.3
Year ending 30 September 2010	1,500	10.1	11.6

However, Grant Samuel would expect St.George shares to trade at a discount to this DCF value in the absence of the Westpac Proposal. The value range was largely premised on Scenario A in the DDM analysis with no particular funding constraints relative to the major banks because an acquirer would be able to overcome them.

GRANT SAMUEL

As a purely stand alone business St.George would be more likely to face some degree of funding constraint on the downside and a lower trading price would be appropriate. Prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal, St.George shares were trading at a price of approximately $25-26 (adjusted for the interim dividend) and the market has declined subsequently. In the absence of any takeover speculation, Grant Samuel believes that St.George shares would be trading at less than $25.00; and

- shareholders are exchanging all of their shares for equity in an expanded Westpac. The essential issue is therefore one of relative value rather than whether or not a higher absolute price could be achieved at some future date. Westpac's share price performance is also likely to reflect the same drivers. A transaction at some future date may therefore not necessarily result in a better exchange ratio.

The considerations boil down to the trade off between the control premium (received up front through the advantageous exchange ratio) and the relative growth profile of the two businesses – a stand alone St.George and a merged Westpac/St.George.

One way of analysing the position is to compare the earnings growth differential between the two and the time frame that would be required for stand alone earnings per share to catch up with the position under the Westpac Proposal. Based on broker consensus forecasts of cash earnings per share for the year ending 30 September 2008 it would take approximately five years for stand alone earnings to catch up with the attributable earnings from the merged group even if they grow at a 2% per annum higher growth rate (three years at 3-4% higher).

While there are reasons why St.George might grow at a higher rate than the merged group (e.g. the potential in new regional markets where it is starting from a low base and its developing "middle market" corporate lending business), there are countervailing forces:

- as a stand alone entity St.George will face an increasing funding cost disadvantage to the major banks (as older wholesale funding matures) if the difficult wholesale funding environment continues for the next 1-2 years;
- growth would require continuing equity issues; and
- increasing reinsurance costs and weaker commercial property markets may also impact earnings growth.

In addition:

- to the extent the St.George business is a higher growth business it will also contribute to higher growth in the merged Westpac/St.George (compared to a stand alone Westpac); and
- broker consensus forecasts of earnings for the year ending 30 September 2008 do not include any synergy benefits. As these emerge over the next 2-5 years, they should make a material contribution to the earnings growth of the merged group.

On balance, Grant Samuel believes it would take well over five years for stand alone earnings to catch up. A stand alone strategy also entails higher risks for shareholders:

- less diversification of assets; and
 - greater vulnerability to any further deterioration in wholesale funding markets.
- In Grant Samuel's opinion, the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George's SAINTS holders

Under the Westpac Proposal, SAINTS holders will receive $100 cash for each SAINTS held. SAINTS holders will also receive the quarterly fully franked dividend of $1.52 per SAINTS for the period from 20 August 2008 to 20 November 2008 (to be paid on 20 November 2008) and any stub dividend that accrues between 20 November 2008 and implementation of the Westpac Proposal.

GRANT SAMUEL

The exchange is at face value which is equivalent to underlying value and is therefore fair to SAINTS holders. As it is fair it is also reasonable. The proposed consideration represents a premium of 5.0-5.6% to the trading price of the SAINTS prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal. In addition:

- the exchange for face value is in accordance with the terms of the SAINTS (albeit earlier than the terms of the SAINTS contemplated);
 - the Westpac Proposal provides the opportunity for security holders to cash out of what would otherwise be a perpetual security (with exchange at St.George's option only) at above the price that they would be able to obtain through selling their SAINTS on market and reinvest the funds at current risk margins (which are higher than they were when the margin for the SAINTS was set in August 2004);
 - while some SAINTS holders may realise a capital gain as a result of the Westpac Proposal, they will have received a cash payment from which any capital gains tax can be paid; and
 - if the SAINTS Scheme is not approved and the SAINTS are compulsorily acquired by Westpac, there is no guarantee that the consideration offered would be at or above face value and the consideration would certainly be received at a later point in time than if the SAINTS Scheme is approved.
- In Grant Samuel's opinion, the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George's award optionholders

Under the Westpac Proposal, award options (other than those held by excluded award optionholders) will be cancelled in exchange for the issue or transfer of 1.31 Westpac shares for each award option. Westpac shares issued or transferred in relation to unvested award options will be issued or transferred to the Westpac Restricted Share Plan and will be subject to a vesting period (but not subject to any performance hurdles). Westpac shares issued or transferred in relation to vested award options will not be subject to any restrictions. St.George shares acquired from the exercise of vested award options that are subject to a disposal restriction will participate in the Westpac Proposal in the same manner as other St.George shareholders and there will be no disposal restrictions on the Westpac shares received.

The Westpac Proposal results in award optionholders having the same number of Westpac shares that they would have had if they had exercised (or been able to exercise) their award options today and participated in the Westpac Proposal. In other words, award optionholders are being treated the same way as St.George shareholders and the same analysis and conclusions that apply to St.George shareholders also apply to award optionholders. As Grant Samuel has concluded that the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders it is therefore also in the best interests of award optionholders. In addition:

- the terms of the award options and the Westpac shares that will be issued or transferred under the Westpac Proposal are largely identical. The only exceptions to this are beneficial to award optionholders in that award options subject to performance hurdles will have these performance hurdles waived and St.George shares acquired on the exercise of award options that remain under a disposal restriction will have no disposal restrictions on the Westpac shares received (other than as set out in any employee share trading policy or applicable laws that may apply to executives from time to time);
- while there are some adverse tax implications for award optionholders with unvested award options or vested award options that have not been exercised to acquire St.George shares on implementation in that they will not have received any cash payment yet they will have to pay income tax or capital gains tax on the Westpac shares issued or transferred to them, in Grant Samuel's opinion, this disadvantage does not outweigh the advantages of the Westpac Proposal for award optionholders; and

- if the Option Scheme is not approved and the award options are compulsorily acquired by Westpac, the consideration that would be paid must be in the form of cash (rather than Westpac shares) and there is no guarantee that the consideration offered would be equivalent to or greater than the consideration offered under the Westpac Proposal. The consideration would also be received at a later point in time than if the Option Scheme is approved.

4 Other Matters

This letter is general financial product advice only and has been prepared without taking into account the objectives, financial situation or needs of individual securityholders in St.George. Because of that, before acting in relation to their investment, securityholders should consider the appropriateness of the advice having regard to their own objectives, financial situation or needs. Securityholders should read the Scheme Booklet issued by St.George in relation to the Westpac Proposal.

Voting for or against the Westpac Proposal is a matter for individual securityholders, based on their own views as to value, their expectations about future market conditions and their particular circumstances including risk profile, liquidity preference, investment strategy, portfolio structure and tax position. Securityholders who are in doubt as to the action they should take in relation to the Westpac Proposal should consult their own professional adviser.

Similarly, it is a matter for individual securityholders as to whether to buy, hold or sell Westpac shares received under the Westpac Proposal (or, if the Westpac Proposal does not proceed, whether to buy, hold or sell St.George securities). This is an investment decision independent of a decision on whether to vote for or against the Westpac Proposal upon which Grant Samuel does not offer an opinion. Securityholders should consult their own professional adviser in this regard.

Grant Samuel has prepared a Financial Services Guide as required by the Corporations Act, 2001. The Financial Services Guide is included as Appendix A to this letter.

This letter is a summary of Grant Samuel's opinion. The full report from which this summary has been extracted is included in the Scheme Booklet Supplement and should be read in conjunction with this summary.

Tax summary

9.1 General

This outline contains a general overview of the Australian income tax and Goods and Services Tax (GST) implications of the Share Scheme for Share Scheme Participants. It deals with Share Scheme Participants who are Australian residents for Australian taxation purposes (but not temporary residents) and who hold their St.George Shares on capital account (and will hold their New Westpac Shares on capital account).

The outline does not address the tax treatment for Share Scheme Participants who:

- (a) hold their St.George Shares on revenue account or will hold their New Westpac Shares on revenue account, such as banks and share traders; or
- (b) are non-residents of Australia for Australian taxation purposes (including Ineligible Foreign St.George Shareholders and non-resident shareholders who currently hold St.George Shares or will hold New Westpac Shares through a permanent establishment in Australia).

Participants in a St.George employee share plan should refer to Sections 11, 12.7, 12.8 and 12.9.

This outline also addresses the St.George Share FY2008 Final Dividend (Final Dividend) and the Special Dividend.

The information contained in this outline is of a general nature only. It does not constitute tax advice and should not be relied upon as such. All Share Scheme Participants should seek independent professional advice on the consequences of participating in the Share Scheme, based on their particular circumstances.

St.George has requested a class ruling from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) confirming the tax implications of the Share Scheme for Share Scheme Participants. A link to the class ruling will be posted on the website: www.stgeorgemerger.com.au.

9.2 Australian tax consequences of participating in the Share Scheme

(a) Exchange of St.George Shares

Share Scheme Participants who participate in the Share Scheme will receive consideration in the form of 1.31 New Westpac Shares for each St.George Share that is held on the Scheme Record Date.

The transfer of St.George Shares to Westpac will be a CGT event for Share Scheme Participants, who will:

- (i) make a capital gain if the capital proceeds received for their St.George Shares are greater than the cost base of their St.George Shares (subject to CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief - see Section 9.2(b)); or
- (ii) make a capital loss if the capital proceeds received for their St.George Shares are less than the reduced cost base of their St.George Shares.

The capital proceeds from the transfer of St.George Shares to Westpac will be the market value of the New Westpac Shares a Share Scheme Participant receives. The market value of the New Westpac Shares should be worked out on the Implementation Date. Further information as to how the market value should be calculated will be provided at www.stgeorgemerger.com.au. The Final Dividend and the Special Dividend should not form part of the capital proceeds (the ATO has been requested to confirm this in the class ruling).

The cost base and reduced cost base of the St.George Shares will generally include their original cost of acquisition, plus incidental costs incurred in relation to their acquisition or disposal.

(b) CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief chosen

(i) Availability

Greenwoods & Freehills Pty Limited as tax adviser to St.George has advised St.George that Share Scheme Participants to whom this outline applies (see Section 9.1) and who would otherwise make a capital gain in respect of their St.George Shares should be eligible to choose to obtain CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief. The ATO has been requested to confirm this in the class ruling.

(ii) How to choose CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief

Share Scheme Participants will generally need to choose CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief before lodging their income tax return for the income year in which the CGT event happens. For Share Scheme Participants who are individuals, this is expected to be for the income year ending 30 June 2009.

Choosing CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief in the case of an individual can simply be evidenced by excluding the relevant capital gain, in respect of which rollover relief is chosen, from the Share Scheme Participant's tax return. It would be prudent to keep a record of the choice.

(iii) Effect

If a Share Scheme Participant chooses to obtain CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief, the capital gain that would otherwise be realised is disregarded.

The first element of the cost base of the New Westpac Shares received under the Share Scheme will be equal to the cost base of the Share Scheme Participant's St.George Shares reasonably attributable to the New Westpac Shares. The first element of the reduced cost base is calculated in the same manner.

For the purpose of determining whether the CGT discount is available on a subsequent disposal of the New Westpac Shares, a Share Scheme Participant will be taken to have acquired the New Westpac Shares at the same time that the St.George Shares were originally acquired.

Example

Andrew has 1,000 St. George Shares with a total cost base and reduced cost base of $19,650 ($19.65 per St. George Share). Andrew acquired his St. George Shares on 1 January 2005.

Under the Share Scheme, Andrew receives 1,310 New Westpac Shares. Andrew is eligible for CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief, and makes the appropriate choice.

To determine the first element of each New Westpac Share, Andrew must reasonably attribute the cost base of his St. George Shares to the New Westpac Shares (the same occurs in determining the first element of the reduced cost base). As the total cost base of the New Westpac Shares is $19,650, the first element of the cost base and reduced cost base of each New Westpac Share acquired by Andrew will be $15 (being $19,650 divided by 1,310 New Westpac Shares). For CGT discount purposes, the date of acquisition of each New Westpac Share will be 1 January 2005.

(c) CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief not chosen or not available

(i) Capital gain/capital loss

If CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief is not chosen or is not available, then any capital gain that arises is not disregarded (see Section 9.2(a) as to the calculation of the capital gain/capital loss).

Individuals, complying superannuation entities or trustees that have held their St. George Shares for at least 12 months prior to the Implementation Date (being the date of disposal) should be entitled to discount the amount of the capital gain (after the application of any current year or carry forward capital losses). The amount of this discount is 50% for individuals and trustees and 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % for complying superannuation entities. This is referred to as the CGT discount. The CGT discount is not available for companies that are not trustees (subject to limited exceptions for life insurance companies). Share Scheme Participants that are trustees should seek specific tax advice regarding the tax consequences of distributions to beneficiaries attributable to discount capital gains.

A capital loss that arises as a result of participating in the Share Scheme may be used to offset capital gains derived in the same or subsequent years of income, but cannot be offset against ordinary income.

(ii) Cost base of New Westpac Shares

The first element of the cost base of the New Westpac Shares will be equal to the market value of the St. George Shares transferred to Westpac that is reasonably attributable to the New Westpac Shares. The market value of the St. George Shares should be worked out on the Implementation Date. Further information as to how the market value should be calculated will be provided on the website: www.stgeorgemerger.com.au.

The first element of the reduced cost base of the New Westpac Shares is calculated in the same manner.

(iii) Date of acquisition of New Westpac Shares

The time of acquisition for CGT purposes of the New Westpac Shares will be the Implementation Date.

9.3 Final Dividend

The Final Dividend should be a fully franked dividend.

Subject to the "holding period" rules (see below), a Share Scheme Participant must include in their assessable income the Final Dividend and the accompanying franking credits. Share Scheme Participants should be entitled to a tax offset equal to the amount of the franking credits. Individuals and complying superannuation entities should be entitled to a tax refund if a tax offset for a franked distribution exceeds their tax liabilities. Special rules apply to shareholders that are companies.

To qualify for franking credits and the tax offset, the holding period rules must be satisfied, whereby the St. George Shares must be held at risk for at least 45 clear days (not including the date of acquisition or date of disposal) and free of any related payment obligations. The Share Scheme should not cause the related payment rules to apply to the Final Dividend (the ATO has been asked to confirm this in the class ruling).

An exemption from the holding period rules (but not the related payment obligation rule) will be available for a Share Scheme Participant who is an individual and whose total franking credit entitlement is $5,000 or less (aggregating all dividends) for the 2009 income year.

9.4 Special Dividend

The Special Dividend should be a fully franked dividend.

Subject to the "holding period" rules (see Section 9.3), a Share Scheme Participant must also include in their assessable income the Special Dividend and the accompanying franking credits. Share Scheme Participants should be entitled to a tax offset equal to the amount of the franking credits. Individuals and complying superannuation entities should be entitled to a tax refund if a tax offset for a franked distribution exceeds their tax liabilities. Special rules apply to shareholders that are companies.

The Share Scheme should not cause the related payment rules to apply to the Special Dividend (the ATO has been asked to confirm this in the class ruling).

An exemption from the holding period rules (but not the related payment rule) will be available for a Share Scheme Participant who is an individual and whose total franking credit entitlement is $5,000 or less (aggregating all dividends) for the 2009 income year.

9.5 GST

No GST should generally be payable in respect of the exchange of St. George Shares or the acquisition of New Westpac Shares.

There may be an indirect GST cost in relation to GST charged on supplies related to the Share Scheme (e.g. legal and other adviser fees paid to obtain advice on whether to participate in the Share Scheme).

9.6 Tax file numbers

It is not compulsory for Share Scheme Participants to notify Westpac of their Australian tax file number (TFN) (or Australian Business Number (ABN) if the New Westpac Shares are held in the course of carrying on an enterprise).

However, if a TFN or ABN notification (or exemption) is not provided to Westpac, tax at the top marginal rate plus the Medicare levy (currently 46.5%) will be deducted from the unfranked component of dividends paid by Westpac. However, shareholders should be entitled to claim an income tax credit/refund (as applicable) in their income tax return in respect of the tax withheld.

Information for SAINTS Holders

10.1 Overview

This Section 10 contains information for SAINTS Holders to consider in connection with the SAINTS Scheme, the key aspects of which are summarised as follows:

- (a) the SAINTS Scheme is a scheme of arrangement between St.George and SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) which, if implemented, will result in the acquisition by Westpac of all the SAINTS;
- (b) the SAINTS Scheme requires approval by SAINTS Holders and the Court, and is conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective and upon all approvals, consents, modifications or waivers of a governmental agency (including APRA) which are reasonably necessary to implement the SAINTS Scheme being obtained;
- (c) the meeting of SAINTS Holders to vote on the SAINTS Scheme will be held on Thursday 13 November 2008 at Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney;
- (d) if the SAINTS Scheme becomes Effective:
 - (i) SAINTS Scheme Participants will receive, for each of their SAINTS, the SAINTS Scheme Consideration, being $100 cash from Westpac; and
 - (ii) SAINTS Scheme Participants will also receive the Stub Dividend in respect of each of their SAINTS, being a fully franked dividend from St.George representing the accrued dividend on SAINTS from (and including) the SAINTS Dividend payment date on Thursday 20 November 2008 until (but not including) the Implementation Date (expected to be Monday 1 December 2008);

- (e) your Directors unanimously recommend that SAINTS Holders vote in favour of the SAINTS Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal; and
- (f) the Independent Expert has concluded that, in its opinion, the SAINTS Scheme is in the best interests of SAINTS Holders.

The SAINTS Scheme represents the proposal agreed between St.George and Westpac in relation to the SAINTS, as contemplated by the Merger Implementation Agreement.

Irrespective of the outcome of the Merger Proposal and the SAINTS Scheme, persons who are SAINTS Holders on Wednesday 5 November 2008 will receive the quarterly dividend of $1.5244 per SAINTS, which was declared by St.George on Friday 29 August 2008. That dividend will be paid on Thursday 20 November 2008 and will be fully franked.

In addition to this Section 10, SAINTS Holders should have regard to the following Sections: Section 2 "Information about St.George"; Section 7 "Key terms of the Merger Implementation Agreement"; Section 8 "Summary of the Independent Expert's Report"; Section 12 "Additional information"; Section 13 "Glossary"; Annexure A.2 "SAINTS Scheme of Arrangement"; Annexure B "Deed Poll"; Annexure C.2 "Notice of SAINTS Scheme Meeting"; and any other Section referred to in this Section 10.

Any variation to the timetable set out above will be announced to ASX and published on the following website: www.stgeorgemerger.com.au.

10.3 What you will receive under the SAINTS Scheme

(a) SAINTS Scheme Consideration

If the SAINTS Scheme is approved by the requisite majorities of SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) and becomes Effective, SAINTS Scheme Participants will receive the SAINTS Scheme Consideration, being a $100 cash payment from Westpac for each SAINTS that is held on the Scheme Record Date (currently expected to be 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Monday 24 November 2008).

(b) Stub Dividend

If the SAINTS Scheme is approved by the requisite majorities of SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) and becomes Effective, SAINTS Scheme Participants will also receive from St. George a Stub Dividend (see below) for each SAINTS that is held on the Scheme Record Date (currently expected to be 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Monday 24 November 2008).

The Stub Dividend is a fully franked dividend to be paid by St. George to represent the dividend that would accrue on each SAINTS in the period:

- (i) from and including the SAINTS Dividend payment date of 20 November 2008; and
- (ii) up to but excluding the Implementation Date.

The calculation and payment of the Stub Dividend will be made in accordance with, and subject to, provisions which are substantially the same as clause 2 of the SAINTS terms of issue. These provisions are set out in the SAINTS Scheme – please see Annexure A.2. On the basis of an expected Implementation Date of Monday 1 December 2008, the Stub Dividend for each SAINTS would be calculated as the 90 day bank bill swap rate on 20 November 2008 plus the margin of 1.35% per annum multiplied by 0.7 (being 1 minus the tax rate of 30%), multiplied by $100 (the face value of a SAINTS), multiplied by the fraction 11/365 (where 11 is the number of days in the period for the Stub Dividend from and including 20 November 2008 until (but not including) 1 December 2008).

10.4 Payment of SAINTS Scheme Consideration and Stub Dividend

If the SAINTS Scheme becomes Effective, the SAINTS Scheme Consideration and Stub Dividend will be paid to the relevant SAINTS Scheme Participants on the Implementation Date by:

- (a) making deposits into each SAINTS Scheme Participant's nominated bank account registered with the St. George Registry as at the Scheme Record Date; or
- (b) where there is no nominated bank account, mailing cheques to the SAINTS Scheme Participant's address as it appears on the SAINTS Register.

SAINTS Holders who have not previously notified the St. George Registry of their nominated bank account, or who would like to change an existing nominated bank account, should contact the St. George InfoLine on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday, prior to the Scheme Record Date.

If a SAINTS Scheme Participant's whereabouts are unknown as at the Scheme Record Date, the SAINTS Scheme Consideration and Stub Dividend will be paid into a separate bank account and held until claimed or applied under laws dealing with unclaimed monies.

10.5 Reasons for SAINTS Holders to vote in favour of the SAINTS Scheme

- (a) The Directors unanimously recommend that SAINTS Holders vote in favour of the SAINTS Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal
 - The St. George Directors have concluded that, in the absence of a superior proposal, the SAINTS Scheme is in the best interests of SAINTS Holders.
- (b) The Independent Expert has concluded that, in its opinion, the SAINTS Scheme is in the best interests of SAINTS Holders

(c) $100 cash consideration per SAINTS is higher than recent trading prices

- If the SAINTS Scheme is implemented, Westpac will acquire all of your SAINTS for $100 cash per SAINTS (which is equal to the face value per SAINTS).
- This is higher than the prices at which SAINTS have traded recently:
 - the SAINTS closing price on 9 May 2008¹ was $94.95;
 - the maximum trading price of SAINTS in the one month up to, and including, 9 May 2008 was $97.50; and
 - the SAINTS closing price on 26 September 2008² was $99.00.

(d) The issue margin of SAINTS is significantly below recent comparable issue margins

- SAINTS were issued on 13 August 2004 with an issue margin of 1.35% per annum above the bank bill swap rate (BBSW).
- This is lower than the annual issue margin above BBSW paid on issues of similar securities by other financial services companies in the past three months:
 - 3.20% per annum for Suncorp CPS; and
 - 2.40% per annum for Westpac SPS.
- Accordingly, SAINTS Holders will have an opportunity to receive an attractive price for their SAINTS and may be able to reinvest the proceeds into a similar security with a higher issue margin.

(e) If the Share Scheme becomes Effective but the SAINTS Scheme does not, your SAINTS will be compulsorily acquired

- Westpac has indicated that, if the Share Scheme becomes Effective but the SAINTS Scheme does not become Effective, it intends to compulsorily acquire all of the SAINTS in accordance with Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act (see Section 4.6(f)).
- Generally speaking, under Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act, a person is entitled to compulsorily acquire all of the shares and securities convertible into shares in a company where the person has at least 90% of the ordinary shares in the company and those ordinary shares represent at least 90% by value of all the securities in the company that are either shares or convertible into shares. Upon implementation of the Share Scheme, Westpac will obtain such entitlement.

- Westpac has not indicated when it would exercise those rights, but under Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act it will have six months after the implementation of the Share Scheme within which to commence the compulsory acquisition process, and that process will take a statutory minimum of one month. Accordingly, it is possible that if SAINTS are compulsorily acquired, SAINTS Holders could be paid more than seven months later than they would if their SAINTS were acquired under the SAINTS Scheme.
- The cash amount that would be paid to SAINTS Holders upon compulsory acquisition is uncertain but would represent fair value.
- SAINTS Holders are entitled to object to the compulsory acquisition. If SAINTS Holders who in aggregate hold more than 10% of the SAINTS to be compulsorily acquired object to the compulsory acquisition, then Westpac would need to seek court approval of the compulsory acquisition. The court must approve the acquisition if the consideration offered represents fair value for the SAINTS.

10.6 Reasons why SAINTS Holders may consider voting against the SAINTS Scheme

- It is possible that a superior proposal for St. George or the SAINTS, which is more attractive for SAINTS Holders than the SAINTS Scheme, may materialise in the future. The implementation of the SAINTS Scheme would mean that SAINTS Holders would not obtain the benefit of any superior proposal.
- However, the St. George Board is not aware of any superior proposal and notes that since the announcement of the signing of the Merger Implementation Agreement on 26 May 2008, there has been ample opportunity for an alternative proposal to emerge. St. George Shareholders should also note that the St. George Board is subject to certain exclusivity restrictions that restrict it from encouraging, or engaging with, any person putting forward an alternative proposal, unless it is a superior proposal (see Section 7.4).

¹ This was the last Trading Day on ASX in SAINTS prior to the announcement of the Merger Proposal on 13 May 2008.
² This was the last Trading Day on ASX in SAINTS prior to the date of this Scheme Booklet.

10.7 SAINTS Scheme Meeting details and how to vote

On 29 September 2008, the Court made an order that the SAINTS Scheme Meeting be convened. The Court order does not constitute an endorsement of, or any other expression of opinion on, the SAINTS Scheme or this Scheme Booklet.

The SAINTS Scheme Meeting will be held at Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney on Thursday 13 November 2008. It is scheduled to start at the later of 11.00am (Sydney time) and the conclusion or adjournment of the Extraordinary General Meeting.

The business of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting is to consider and, if thought fit, pass a resolution to approve, the SAINTS Scheme. The SAINTS Scheme must be approved by:

- a majority in number (more than 50%) of SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) present and voting at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting (in person, by attorney, by proxy or, in the case of corporations, by corporate representative); and
- at least 75% of the total number of votes cast on the resolution by SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) entitled to vote on the resolution.

Voting at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting will be by poll.

SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) who are registered on the SAINTS Register at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008 may vote at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting in person, by attorney, by proxy or, in the case of corporations, by corporate representative.

The SAINTS Scheme will only become Effective if the Share Scheme becomes Effective.

A Proxy Form in respect of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting is included with this Scheme Booklet. SAINTS Holders who are unable to attend the SAINTS Scheme Meeting and who wish to appoint a proxy to attend and vote at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting on their behalf should complete the SAINTS Holders Proxy Form and return it to the St. George Registry in accordance with the instructions on the form so that it is received by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008. Alternatively, SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) can submit their proxy appointment(s) online at www.stgeorgemerger.com.au, by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008.

Voting is not compulsory. However, the St. George Directors unanimously recommend that, in the absence of a superior proposal, each SAINTS Holder vote in favour of the SAINTS Scheme.

The results of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting will be available shortly after the conclusion of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting and will be provided to ASX as soon as practicable and released on its website: www.asx.com.au. The results will also be posted on the following website: www.stgeorgemerger.com.au.

Please refer to the Notice of SAINTS Scheme Meeting in Annexure C.2 for further details.

10.8 Relationship with the Share Scheme

In summary, the SAINTS Scheme will only become Effective if:

- it is agreed to by the requisite majorities of SAINTS Holders at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008;
- all approvals, consents, modifications or waivers of a governmental agency which are reasonably necessary to implement the SAINTS Scheme are obtained;
- it is approved by the Court on the Court Approval Date (expected to be Monday 17 November 2008); and
- the Share Scheme becomes Effective.

If any of these events do not occur, the SAINTS Scheme will not proceed and SAINTS Holders will continue to hold SAINTS.

However, as the Share Scheme is not conditional on the SAINTS Scheme becoming Effective, the Share Scheme can proceed even if the SAINTS Scheme does not proceed. If this occurs then, as set out in Section 4.6(f), it is Westpac's intention to compulsorily acquire the SAINTS under Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act.

The cash amount that would be paid to SAINTS Holders upon compulsory acquisition is uncertain but would represent fair value. However, SAINTS Holders will receive that cash amount later than they would if the SAINTS Scheme became Effective.

10.9 Announcement of financial results and dividends

Please refer to Section 1.12 for information about when St. George and Westpac expect to announce their full year results to 30 September 2008.

Following the release of these results, the St. George Board will request the Independent Expert to review the results and, if the Independent Expert is able to do so, confirm that the results do not change the Independent Expert's opinion that the SAINTS Scheme is in the best interests of SAINTS Holders. The outcome of this review will be announced to ASX and released on its website www.asx.com.au and also placed on the website www.stgeorgemerger.com.au in advance of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting.

10.10 Implementation of the SAINTS Scheme

(a) Deed Poll

On 10 September 2008, Westpac executed the Deed Poll. Under the Deed Poll, Westpac agreed, subject to the SAINTS Scheme becoming Effective, to provide each SAINTS Scheme Participant with the SAINTS Scheme Consideration to which it is entitled under the SAINTS Scheme.

A copy of the Deed Poll is attached as Annexure B.

(b) Overview of implementation steps

The key steps to implement the SAINTS Scheme are set out below.

- (i) SAINTS Holders will vote on whether to approve the SAINTS Scheme at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting.
- (ii) If
 - (A) St. George Shareholders approve the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment;
 - (B) SAINTS Holders approve the SAINTS Scheme; and
 - (C) the other conditions precedent to the Share Scheme and the SAINTS Scheme (other than approval by the Court and the Share Scheme becoming Effective) are satisfied or waived,then St. George will apply to the Court to approve the SAINTS Scheme at the Second Court Hearing.
- (iii) If the Court approves the Share Scheme and the SAINTS Scheme, St. George will lodge with ASIC a copy of the Court orders approving the Share Scheme and the SAINTS Scheme. This date will be the Effective Date for the SAINTS Scheme and will be the last day on which trading in SAINTS on ASX can occur.

- (iv) On the Implementation Date, provided that the SAINTS Scheme has become Effective:
 - (A) Westpac will acquire all existing SAINTS and will provide the SAINTS Scheme Consideration to SAINTS Scheme Participants; and
 - (B) St. George will pay the Stub Dividend to SAINTS Scheme Participants.
- (v) On a date after the Implementation Date as determined by Westpac, St. George will apply for termination of the official quotation of the SAINTS on ASX.

These steps are described in further detail below. The expected dates for the key steps are set out in Section 10.2 (but those dates are subject to possible change).

(c) SAINTS Scheme Meeting

In accordance with orders of the Court dated 29 September 2008, SAINTS Holders (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) will be asked to vote in favour of the SAINTS Scheme at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting.

The Notice of SAINTS Scheme Meeting, which includes:

- details of the time and place of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting; and
- the resolution which SAINTS Holders will be asked to consider and, if thought fit, to approve the SAINTS Scheme, is set out in Annexure C.2. The requisite voting majorities are set out in Section 10.7.

Voting at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting will be by poll.

(d) Court approval at Second Court Hearing

If the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment are approved by the requisite majorities of St. George Shareholders, and all other Conditions Precedent to the Share Scheme (other than approval by the Court) have been satisfied or waived, then St. George will apply to the Court for orders approving the Share Scheme at the Second Court Hearing.

Given that the SAINTS Scheme is conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective, St. George will only make the equivalent application to the Court in respect of the SAINTS Scheme if:

- St. George Shareholders approve the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment;
- SAINTS Holders approve the SAINTS Scheme; and
- the other conditions precedent to the Share Scheme and the SAINTS Scheme (other than approval by the Court and the Share Scheme becoming Effective) are satisfied or waived,

Each SAINTS Holder has the right to appear at the Second Court Hearing in respect of the SAINTS Scheme.

(e) Effective Date (last date of trading of SAINTS on ASX)

If the Court approves the Share Scheme and the SAINTS Scheme, St. George will lodge with ASIC an office copy of the Court order approving those Schemes. Those Schemes will become Effective on the date that lodgement occurs. This date is the Effective Date for those Schemes.

Upon the Share Scheme and the SAINTS Scheme becoming Effective, St. George will give notice of those events to ASX. St. George will apply to ASX for St. George Shares and SAINTS to be suspended from official quotation on ASX from close of trading on the Effective Date.

On a date after the Implementation Date as determined by Westpac, St. George will apply for termination of the official quotation of St. George Shares and SAINTS on ASX, and to have itself removed from the official list of ASX.

(f) Scheme Record Date

The Scheme Record Date for the SAINTS Scheme if it becomes Effective is the date which is five Business Days after the Effective Date for the SAINTS Scheme. This is currently expected to be Monday 24 November 2008.

As at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on the Scheme Record Date, only:

- those persons registered as holders of SAINTS (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) will be entitled to receive the SAINTS Scheme Consideration under the SAINTS Scheme; and
- all persons registered as holders of SAINTS will be entitled to receive the Stub Dividend under the SAINTS Scheme.

(g) Determination of SAINTS Scheme Participants

(i) Dealings in SAINTS on or prior to the Scheme Record Date

For the purposes of establishing who are SAINTS Scheme Participants, dealings in SAINTS will be recognised by St. George provided that:

- (A) in the case of dealings of the type to be effected on CHESS, the transferee is registered as the holder of the relevant SAINTS on or before the Scheme Record Date; or
- (B) in all other cases, registrable transfers or transmission applications in respect of those dealings are received at the place where the SAINTS Register is kept on or before the Scheme Record Date (in which case St. George must register such transfers and applications on or before the Scheme Record Date).

St. George will not accept for registration, or recognise for the purpose of establishing who are SAINTS Scheme Participants, any transfer or transmission application in respect of SAINTS received after these times.

(ii) Dealings in SAINTS after the Scheme Record Date As at the Scheme Record Date (and other than for Westpac following the Implementation Date):

- (A) all statements of holding in respect of SAINTS cease to have effect as documents of title in respect of such SAINTS; and
- (B) each entry on the SAINTS Register at that date will cease to have any effect other than as evidence of entitlement to the SAINTS Scheme Consideration and Stub Dividend.

(h) Implementation Date

The Implementation Date is the date which is five Business Days after the Scheme Record Date. If the SAINTS Scheme becomes Effective, then on the Implementation Date Westpac will acquire all existing SAINTS and will pay the SAINTS Scheme Consideration to the SAINTS Scheme Participants, and St. George will pay the Stub Dividend to the SAINTS Scheme Participants.

In the case of SAINTS held in joint names, the SAINTS Scheme Consideration and Stub Dividend will be paid to the person whose name first appears on the SAINTS Register as at the Scheme Record Date.

Once the SAINTS Scheme Consideration has been provided, the SAINTS will be transferred to Westpac without any need for further action by any SAINTS Scheme Participant.

10.11 Tax implications - SAINTS Scheme

(a) Overview

This outline contains a general overview of the Australian income tax and GST implications of the SAINTS Scheme for SAINTS Holders who are Australian residents for Australian taxation purposes (but not temporary residents) and who hold their SAINTS on capital account.

The outline does not address the tax treatment for SAINTS Holders who:

- (i) hold their SAINTS on revenue account, such as banks and share traders; or
- (ii) are non-residents of Australia for Australian taxation purposes (including non-resident shareholders who currently hold their SAINTS through a permanent establishment in Australia).

The information contained in this outline is of a general nature only. It does not constitute tax advice and should not be relied upon as such. All SAINTS Holders should contact their financial, legal, tax or other professional adviser on the consequences of participating in the SAINTS Scheme, based on their particular circumstances.

SAINTS Scheme Participants (other than Excluded SAINTS Holders) will receive the SAINTS Scheme Consideration (being equal to $100, the face value of the SAINTS) for each SAINTS that is held on the Scheme Record Date. SAINTS Holders will also receive their quarterly fully franked dividend to be paid by St. George on 20 November 2008 to persons registered as SAINTS Holders as at 5 November 2008 (SAINTS Dividend). If the Implementation Date of the SAINTS Scheme occurs after 20 November 2008, then SAINTS Scheme Participants will also receive a Stub Dividend.

(b) Australian tax consequences of participating in the SAINTS Scheme

The transfer of SAINTS to Westpac will be a CGT event for SAINTS Holders, who will:

- (i) make a capital gain if the capital proceeds received for their SAINTS are greater than the cost base of their SAINTS; or
- (ii) make a capital loss if the capital proceeds received for their SAINTS are less than the reduced cost base of their SAINTS.

The capital proceeds should generally be equal to $100 for each SAINTS transferred. If St. George pays a Stub Dividend to SAINTS Holders, then this may also form part of the capital proceeds. Importantly, if the Stub Dividend does form part of the capital proceeds, then any capital gain arising should be reduced under the CGT anti overlap rule by the Stub Dividend as it will also be included in a SAINTS Holder's assessable income as a dividend (see sub-section (c) below). There will be no reduction in capital proceeds in respect of a Stub Dividend if a SAINTS Holder makes a capital loss.

The cost base and reduced cost base of the SAINTS will generally include their original cost of acquisition, plus incidental costs incurred in relation to their acquisition or disposal.

Individuals, complying superannuation entities or trustees that have held their SAINTS for at least 12 months prior to the Implementation Date of the SAINTS Scheme (being the date of disposal) should be entitled to discount the amount of the capital gain (after the application of any current year or carry forward capital losses). The amount of this discount is 50% for individuals and trustees and 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % for complying superannuation entities. The CGT discount is not available for companies that are not trustees (subject to limited exceptions for life insurance companies). SAINTS Holders that are trustees should seek specific tax advice regarding the tax consequences of distributions to beneficiaries attributable to discount capital gains.

A capital loss that arises as a result of participating in the SAINTS Scheme may be used to offset capital gains derived in the same or subsequent years of income, but cannot be offset against ordinary income.

SAINTS Holders who do not hold their SAINTS on capital account should seek independent professional advice on the consequences of participating in the SAINTS Scheme.

(c) SAINTS Dividend and Stub Dividend

Subject to the "holding period" rules (see below), a SAINTS Holder must include in their assessable income the SAINTS Dividend and Stub Dividend received in respect of the SAINTS and the accompanying franking credits. SAINTS Holders should be entitled to a tax offset equal to the amount of the franking credits. Individuals and complying superannuation entities should be entitled to a tax refund if a tax offset for a franked distribution exceeds their tax liabilities. Special rules apply to shareholders that are companies.

To qualify for franking credits and the tax offset, the holding period rules must be satisfied, whereby the SAINTS must be held at risk for at least 45 clear days (not including the date of acquisition or date of disposal) and free of any related payment obligations. Examples of risk reduction arrangements which materially diminish the risks of loss or opportunities for gain include sale options or hedging arrangements, and an example of a related payment would be a dividend swap arrangement.

An exemption from the holding period rules (but not the related payment obligation rule) will be available for a SAINTS Holder who is an individual and whose total franking credit entitlement is $5,000 or less (aggregating all dividends) for the 2009 income year.

(d) GST

No GST should generally be payable in respect of the SAINTS Scheme. There may be an indirect GST cost in relation to GST charged on supplies related to the SAINTS Scheme (e.g. legal and other adviser fees paid to obtain advice on whether to participate in the SAINTS Scheme).

10.12 Deemed warranty

Your attention is drawn to the warranties that SAINTS Scheme Participants will be deemed to have given, if the SAINTS Scheme takes effect, in clause 4.5 of the SAINTS Scheme. The SAINTS Scheme is set out in full in Annexure A.2.

In summary, clause 4.5 of the SAINTS Scheme provides that, if the SAINTS Scheme becomes Effective, each SAINTS Scheme Participant is deemed to have warranted to St.George and Westpac that:

- (a) as at the Implementation Date, all of their SAINTS will be free from all mortgages, charges, liens, encumbrances and interests of third parties and there are otherwise no restrictions preventing the transfer of the SAINTS to Westpac; and
- (b) the SAINTS Scheme Participant has full power and capacity to transfer their SAINTS.

Information for Award Option Holders

11.1 Overview

This Section 11 contains information for Award Option Holders to consider in connection with the Option Scheme, the key aspects of which are as follows:

- (a) the Option Scheme is a scheme of arrangement between St. George and Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders for which there are separate arrangements as disclosed in Section 1.17(c)) which, if implemented, will result in the cancellation by St. George of all the Award Options held by those Award Option Holders;
- (b) the Option Scheme requires approval by Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) and the Court, and is conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective;
- (c) the meeting of Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) to vote on the Option Scheme will be held on Thursday 13 November 2008 at Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney;
- (d) if the Option Scheme becomes Effective, each Award Option (other than those held by Excluded Award Option Holders) will be cancelled in exchange for the issue or transfer by Westpac of 1.31 Westpac Shares for each Award held on the Scheme Record Date, with some of those Westpac Shares to be subject to disposal restrictions and held under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan;
- (e) the Directors unanimously recommend that Award Option Holders vote in favour of the Option Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal; and
- (f) the Independent Expert has concluded that, in its opinion, the Option Scheme is in the best interests of Award Option Holders.

The Option Scheme, together with the Deeds of Cancellation, represent the proposal agreed between St. George and Westpac in relation to the Options, as contemplated by the Merger Implementation Agreement.

In addition to this Section 11, Award Option Holders should have regard to the following sections of this Scheme Booklet: "Why you should vote in favour of the Merger Proposal"; "Why you may consider voting against the Merger Proposal"; "Other relevant considerations for St. George Shareholders"; Section 2 "Information about St. George"; Section 3 "Information about Westpac"; Section 4 "Profile of the Merged Group"; Section 5 "Risks associated with the Merger Proposal"; Section 7 "Key terms of the Merger Implementation Agreement"; Section 8 "Summary of the Independent Expert's Report"; Section 12 "Additional information"; Section 13 "Glossary"; Annexure A.3 "Option Scheme of Arrangement"; Annexure B "Deed Poll"; Annexure C.3 "Notice of Option Scheme Meeting"; and any other section of this Scheme Booklet referred to in this Section 11.

Any variation to the timetable set out above will be announced to ASX and published on the website www.stgeorgemerger.com.au.

11.3 What you will receive under the Option Scheme

If the Option Scheme is approved by the requisite majorities of Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) and becomes Effective:

- all of the Award Options held by Option Scheme Participants will be cancelled on the Implementation Date of the Option Scheme; and
- in consideration for that cancellation, Westpac will on the Implementation Date of the Option Scheme issue or transfer 1.31 Westpac Shares to each Option Scheme Participant for each Award Option held on the Scheme Record Date, subject where applicable, to disposal restrictions under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan (Option Scheme Consideration).

Any fractional entitlement to a part of a Westpac Share in respect of a tranche of Award Options which is:

- 0.5 or greater will be rounded up to the nearest whole number of Westpac Shares in respect of that tranche; and
- less than 0.5 will be rounded down to the nearest whole number of Westpac Shares in respect of that tranche.

Unvested Award Options

Where the Award Options are unvested immediately prior to the Scheme Record Date, the Westpac Shares will be issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan (the terms of which are summarised in Section 11.4). Those Westpac Shares will not be subject to any performance hurdles (including where the Award Options were previously subject to performance hurdles), but will be subject to a vesting period during which the Westpac Shares must remain held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan and cannot be sold and will be subject to forfeiture in certain circumstances. The vesting period with respect to each award of Westpac Shares will replicate the tenure hurdles that applied to the Award Options which they replaced under the Option Scheme. For example, if a person's Award Options would have vested on 30 September 2010, the vesting period for the replacement Westpac Shares will similarly end on 30 September 2010. The tenure hurdles applicable to each tranche of Award Options is set out in Schedule 1 of Annexure A.3.

Any additional disposal restrictions that a participant may have elected to apply after shares have been acquired from the exercise of Award Options will be disregarded as a result of the merger.

Vested Award Options

Where the Award Options are vested and remain unexercised immediately prior to the Scheme Record Date, holders will still receive Westpac Shares which are unrestricted, and issued or transferred outside the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.

In determining whether Award Options can vest prior to the Scheme Record Date, the Award Options will remain subject to satisfaction of any performance conditions that apply in respect of the period ending 30 September 2008.

Ceasing employment before the Implementation Date

If an Award Option Holder has ceased employment with the St. George Group before the Implementation Date, and subject to the Share Scheme becoming Effective:

- if the date on which the Award Option Holder ceases employment (Cessation Date) is on or before 30 September 2008, any unvested Award Options on the Implementation Date will be cancelled on that date and the Award Option Holder will not be entitled to receive any Westpac Shares in respect of those Award Options; and
- if the Cessation Date is after 30 September 2008, the Award Option Holder will receive unrestricted Westpac Shares as described above in respect of unvested Award Options which have a first prescribed exercise date of 30 September 2009 or which are subject to retesting on 30 September 2009; however, those Westpac Shares will not be issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan. Unvested Award Options with a first prescribed exercise date after 30 September 2009 will be cancelled on the Implementation Date and the Award Option Holder will not be entitled to receive any Westpac Shares in respect of those Award Options.

Exercising vested Award Options before the Scheme Record Date

The Option Scheme does not prevent an Award Option Holder from exercising any Award Options, where they are exercisable, provided that the notice of exercise is received no later than two business days before the Scheme Record Date of the Share Scheme. Any St. George Shares which are issued as a result of such exercise will be transferred to Westpac under the Share Scheme, and therefore the holder of those St. George Shares at the Scheme Record Date will receive Westpac Shares in exchange for those St. George Shares and will be entitled to receive the St. George 2008 Final Dividend and the Special Dividend.

Deemed warranty

Under the Option Scheme, Award Option Holders warrant that all their Award Options will, at the date of cancellation of those Award Options, be free from all mortgages, charges, liens, encumbrances and interests of third parties of any kind, whether legal or otherwise, and restrictions on transfer of any kind and that they have full power and capacity to deal with their Award Options together with any rights attaching to such Award Options.

When you will receive Option Scheme Consideration

Westpac Shares provided as Option Scheme Consideration will be issued or transferred to Option Scheme Participants on the Implementation Date, which is currently expected to be Monday 1 December 2008. Where Westpac Shares are issued or transferred, those Westpac Shares are currently expected to trade on a deferred settlement basis from the commencement of trading on Tuesday 18 November 2008. Any Westpac Shares granted under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan, whether issued or transferred, will be restricted until the vesting period applicable to them has passed. Westpac reserves the right to determine whether it will issue or transfer the Westpac Shares to be provided as Option Scheme Consideration.

Westpac Shares issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan cannot be traded until the applicable vesting period has expired. See Section 11.4 for more information.

It is the responsibility of each Award Option Holder who becomes a New Westpac Shareholder and whose Westpac Shares are not held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan to confirm their holding before trading in New Westpac Shares to avoid the risk of selling shares they do not own.

New Westpac Shareholders who sell New Westpac Shares before they receive their holding statement do so at their own risk. St. George, Westpac and the Westpac Registry disclaim all liability (to the maximum extent permitted by law) to persons who trade New Westpac Shares before receiving their holding statements, whether on the basis of confirmation of the allocation provided by Westpac or the Westpac Registry.

All holding statements and confirmations of CHES holdings for Westpac Shares received in relation to the Option Scheme are expected to be despatched within five Business Days after the Implementation Date.

Trading on ASX of New Westpac Shares on a normal settlement basis is expected to commence on Tuesday 2 December 2008.

11.4 Summary of Westpac Restricted Share Plan for Award Option Holders

The Westpac Restricted Share Plan is an equity plan designed to retain and reward employees whose performance is key to Westpac's future success.

This Section summarises key aspects of the Westpac Restricted Share Plan Rules as they will apply to Award Option Holders who receive Westpac Shares under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan in relation to the Option Scheme. Award Option Holders can obtain a copy of the Westpac Restricted Share Plan Rules by contacting the St. George InfoLine on 1800 804 457 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4024 (outside Australia) between 9.00am and 5.00pm (Sydney time), Monday to Friday.

(a) When will Westpac Shares be allocated under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan?

Westpac Shares will be issued or transferred to Award Option Holders under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan on the Implementation Date in respect of any unvested Award Options they hold on the Scheme Record Date. Where the Award Options are vested immediately prior to the Scheme Record Date, the Award Option Holder will still receive Westpac Shares but those Westpac Shares will be unrestricted and issued or transferred outside the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.

(b) What is the vesting period for Westpac Shares allocated under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan?

Westpac Shares issued under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will be restricted for a defined period (vesting period) after which they will be released from the Westpac Restricted Share Plan provided the relevant Award Option Holder has remained in Westpac employment and provided those Westpac Shares have not been forfeited (see Section 11.4(h)). Once the Westpac Shares are released, they can continue to be held, or sold, by the holder.

The vesting period for each award of Westpac Shares under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will replicate the tenure hurdles that applied to the Award Options they replaced under the Option Scheme. For example, if an Award Option Holder's Award Options would have vested on 30 September 2010, the vesting period for the replacement award of Westpac Shares will end on 30 September 2010.

The vesting period that applies to each award of Westpac Shares under the Option Scheme is the period ending on the relevant "Prescribed Exercise Date" set out in Schedule 1 of Annexure A.3.

(c) Will performance hurdles apply to Westpac Shares granted under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan?

No, there are no performance hurdles applicable to any Westpac Shares held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.

(d) Will an Award Option Holder receive dividends on Westpac Shares allocated under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan?

Westpac Shares awarded under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan rank equally with unrestricted Westpac ordinary shares for dividends throughout the applicable vesting period (other than the Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend). So when dividends are paid, Westpac Shares in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will receive them in the same way as unrestricted Westpac ordinary shares. Westpac Shares in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan also rank equally with other Westpac ordinary shares for voting rights.

(e) How will the Westpac Restricted Share Plan work in relation to Award Options?

The number of Westpac Shares an Award Option Holder will receive under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will depend on the number of unvested Award Options they hold on the Scheme Record Date.

The Westpac Shares will be registered in the name of the Award Option Holder and must generally be held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan for the full vesting period.

The Westpac Shares vest at the end of the vesting period, provided the Award Option Holder has remained continuously employed by the Westpac Group during the entire vesting period and provided the Westpac Shares have not been forfeited as set out in Section 11.4(h).

If an Award Option Holder leaves St. George prior to the Implementation Date, that person will not receive any Westpac Shares under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan, rather the person will receive unrestricted Westpac Shares on the basis set out under the sub-heading "Ceasing employment before the Implementation Date". Refer to Section 11.3 for more information.

Special rules govern the treatment of Westpac Shares held under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan if an Award Option Holder leaves the Westpac Group before the end of the applicable vesting period. These rules are explained in Section 11.4(f).

While in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan, Westpac Shares may not be transferred or otherwise dealt with. In addition, a holder may not grant any security interest over the shares, or otherwise deal in the shares or any interest in the shares. A holder also may not enter into any hedging transaction in relation to any unvested Westpac Shares awarded under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.

Vested Westpac Shares will be released from the Westpac Restricted Share Plan once the applicable vesting period expires. Those unrestricted Westpac Shares can continue to be held, or sold, as the holder wishes.

As Westpac Shareholders, persons who hold Westpac Shares in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will be eligible to receive dividends. Australian based employees may also participate in the Westpac Dividend Reinvestment Plan.

Where Westpac Shares are forfeited, persons who hold Westpac Shares in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will not be required to repay or return any dividends paid or received as shares under the Westpac Dividend Reinvestment Plan in relation to those Westpac Shares prior to their forfeiture.

While a person remains the holder of Westpac Shares (including those held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan), the person will be entitled to receive all shareholder communications and to attend and vote on any matters at all general meetings.

(f) Special rules on cessation of employment or change of control

The Westpac Restricted Share Plan contains special rules dealing with the treatment of Westpac Shares held in the plan in the event that the holder ceases to be employed within the Westpac Group, or the Westpac Board reasonably believes that there may be a change in control of Westpac.

The following table summarises the treatment of any Westpac Shares which Award Option Holders will receive in relation to the Option Scheme under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan if the Award Option Holder ceases to be employed within the Westpac Group during the vesting period applicable to the Westpac Shares of that Award Option Holder.

Circumstance	Treatment
— Death	All unvested shares become vested shares.
— Total and permanent disablement
— Retirement
— Change of control
— Retrenchment	All unvested shares become vested shares unless the Westpac Board determines the employee has engaged in misconduct, the employee has acted fraudulently or dishonestly or the employee is in material breach of their obligations to the Westpac Group.
— Award Option Holder's employer ceases to be a Westpac Group company	All unvested shares become vested shares unless the Westpac Board determines otherwise.
— Resignation	All unvested shares are forfeited unless the Westpac Board determines otherwise.
— Dismissal and any circumstances other than above	All unvested shares are forfeited unless the Westpac Board determines otherwise.

In the circumstances above, all vested shares will be released from the Westpac Restricted Share Plan (unless forfeited as set out in Section 11.4(h)).

Change in control

Under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan Rules, the Westpac Board is required to make a determination if it reasonably believes that any publicly announced proposal (excluding a proposal for a dual listed company structure) may lead to a change in control of Westpac.

A change in control is defined in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan Rules as occurring when a person's voting power is more than (or will become more than) 35% in relation to Westpac (excluding any voting power held by virtue of acceptances under an off-market takeover bid unless or until that bid is or becomes unconditional).

If the Westpac Board determines that a proposal may lead to a change in control, unvested Westpac Shares held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will become vested shares. Vested shares will then be released from the Westpac Restricted Share Plan and they can be held or sold, as the holder wishes.

(g) Restrictions on dealing with shares

The Westpac Shares allocated to Award Option Holders under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will be subject to certain conditions. The effect of these conditions is that, while the Westpac Shares remain in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan, the holder will be unable to transfer or dispose of the Westpac Shares and the Westpac Shares will be subject to potential forfeiture in certain circumstances (as set out in Section 11.4(h) below).

The conditions will come to an end once the applicable vesting period has expired, at which point the vested Westpac Shares will be released from the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.

(h) Forfeiture of shares

Westpac Shares will be subject to forfeiture while held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan:

- in certain circumstances where the Award Option Holder leaves the Westpac Group before the vesting period relating to those Westpac Shares has expired (see Section 11.4(f));
- where the Award Option Holder is deemed by the Westpac Board, or its delegate, to have acted fraudulently or dishonestly or in material breach of the Award Option Holder's obligations to the Westpac Group; and
- where the Option Scheme Participant enters into any hedging transaction, whether directly or indirectly, in relation to any unvested Westpac Shares.

In the event that any or all of an Award Option Holder's Westpac Shares are forfeited, the Award Option Holder will lose any right to those shares. Forfeited Westpac Shares will be transferred to the Westpac Restricted Share Plan trustee, for which the Award Option Holder will receive total consideration of $1.

(i) When will the Westpac Shares be allocated?

The Westpac Shares will be allocated to each Option Scheme Participant on the Implementation Date, after which a holding statement will be sent to them detailing their Westpac Restricted Share Plan holding.

That holding statement will include confirmation of the Australian tax value of shares granted, calculated with reference to the grant date. For further information on taxation, please refer to the taxation summary in Section 11.12.

(j) Tax consequences

A general summary of the tax consequences of the Option Scheme is provided in Section 11.12. The information in the tax summary is of a general nature only. It does not constitute tax advice and should not be relied upon as such. Award Option Holders should seek independent professional advice based on their own particular circumstances.

(k) What will happen to dividends paid on Westpac Shares?

If Westpac pays dividends on Westpac Shares held under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan, the holder can receive those dividends by cheque, or the holder can apply to have future dividends credited directly into their bank account.

Alternatively, the holder can elect to participate in the Westpac Dividend Reinvestment Plan, to have all or part of the holder's dividends reinvested in shares. Shares received under the Westpac Dividend Reinvestment Plan will not be held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan, and the holder can hold them or sell them whenever the holder wishes after they are allocated.

Information about electing direct credit or participating in the Westpac Dividend Reinvestment Plan will be provided with holding statements after the Westpac Shares are allocated to Option Scheme Participants on the Implementation Date.

(l) Insider trading

Maintaining high ethical standards within Westpac is one of Westpac's core values. In accordance with Westpac's employment policies, if an employee is in possession of price-sensitive information about Westpac that is not generally available to the market, the employee cannot sell any vested shares.

The employee must continue to hold the shares until such time as the employee is no longer in possession of any non-public price-sensitive information and the employee is otherwise able to comply with Westpac's Insider Trading Policy. Westpac's Insider Trading Policy will be made available to Option Scheme Participants on the Implementation Date.

(m) Privacy

The Westpac Group will hold personal information about employees in connection with their employment and for purposes related or incidental to that employment. In general, the Westpac Group does not disclose personal information to external parties without an employee's consent, unless required to do so by law.

(n) Awards under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan may not be hedged

Award Option Holders may not enter into any hedging transaction, whether directly or indirectly, in relation to any unvested shares held under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan. Failure to comply with this condition will render the shares subject to forfeiture.

(o) General

Participation in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan does not create any contractual or other right to receive any other benefits. Nothing in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan rules:

- confers on any person the right to become or continue as an employee of the Westpac Group;
- confers on any person the right to become or remain an employee or to participate in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan;
- affects any right which the Westpac Group may have to terminate the employment of any employee;
- may be used to increase damages in any action brought against the Westpac Group in respect of any such termination; or
- confers any responsibility or liability on the Westpac Group or their respective directors, officers, employees, representatives or agents in respect of an Award Option Holder's taxation liabilities.

The Westpac Restricted Share Plan is discretionary in nature, and the Westpac Board may amend, cancel, suspend or terminate the Westpac Restricted Share Plan at any time.

11.5 Reasons for Award Option Holders to vote in favour of the Option Scheme

(a) Your Directors unanimously recommend that Award Option Holders vote in favour of the Option Scheme, in the absence of a superior proposal

- The St. George Directors have concluded that, in the absence of a superior proposal, the Option Scheme is in the best interests of Award Option Holders.

(b) You will receive Westpac Shares free of any future performance hurdles

- Vesting of the Westpac Shares is not subject to the satisfaction of any performance hurdles. This means that performance hurdles (if any) that applied to your Awards Options after 30 September 2008 will no longer apply upon implementation of the Option Scheme.

(c) You will receive dividends and voting rights on Westpac Shares you hold

- Irrespective of whether the Westpac Shares are subject to a vesting period under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan, you will be entitled to receive any dividends declared on those Westpac Shares (other than the Westpac FY2008 Final Dividend) and to vote in respect of those Westpac Shares while you are a holder of those Westpac Shares.

(d) The Independent Expert has concluded that, in its opinion, the Option Scheme is in the best interests of Award Option Holders

- The Independent Expert has concluded that the Option Scheme results in Award Option Holders having the same number of Westpac Shares that they would have had if they had exercised (or been able to exercise) their Award Options today and participated in the Share Scheme. In other words, Award Option Holders are being treated the same way as St. George Shareholders and the same analysis and conclusions that apply to St. George Shareholders also apply to Award Option Holders. As the Independent Expert has concluded that the Merger Proposal is in the best interests of St. George Shareholders, it is therefore also in the best interests of Award Option Holders.
- A summary of the Independent Expert's Report is set out in Section 8. Award Option Holders are encouraged to read this summary in its entirety, including the assumptions, qualifications and disclaimers on which the Independent Expert's conclusions are based. The complete Independent Expert's Report contains more detailed information on the Independent Expert's conclusions. A copy of the complete Independent Expert's Report is contained in the Scheme Booklet Supplement.

(e) You will share in the potential benefits of the Merged Group as a Westpac Shareholder

- The reasons to vote in favour of the Share Scheme, insofar as they relate to the potential benefits of holding Westpac Shares, are also applicable to Award Option Holders as they will receive Westpac Shares if the Option Scheme is implemented (see the Section headed 'Why you should vote in favour of the Merger Proposal' on page 13).

(f) If the Share Scheme becomes Effective but the Option Scheme does not, your Award Options will be compulsorily acquired

- Westpac has indicated that, if the Share Scheme becomes Effective but the Option Scheme does not become Effective, it intends to compulsorily acquire all of the Award Options in accordance with Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act (see Section 4.6(f)).
- Generally speaking, under Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act, a person is entitled to compulsorily acquire all of the shares and securities convertible into shares in a company where the person has at least 90% of the ordinary shares in the company and those ordinary shares represent at least 90% by value of all the securities in the company that are either shares or convertible into shares. Upon implementation of the Share Scheme, Westpac will obtain such entitlement.
- Westpac has not indicated when it would exercise that entitlement, but under Part 6A.2 it will have six months after implementation of the Share Scheme within which to commence the compulsory acquisition process, and that process will take a statutory minimum of one month. Accordingly, it is possible that if Award Options are compulsorily acquired, Award Option Holders could receive consideration more than seven months later than they would if their Award Options were cancelled under the Option Scheme.
- The consideration that would be paid under compulsory acquisition must be in the form of cash, whereas under the Option Scheme it will be in the form of Westpac Shares which may be subject to disposal restrictions under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.
- Award Option Holders are entitled to object to the compulsory acquisition. If Award Option Holders who in aggregate hold more than 10% of the Award Options to be compulsorily acquired object to the compulsory acquisition, then Westpac would need to seek court approval of the compulsory acquisition. The court must approve the acquisition if the consideration offered represents fair value for the Award Options.

11.6 Reasons why Award Option Holders may consider voting against the Option Scheme

(a) Fixed share consideration ratio for Award Option Holders

- The consideration that Award Option Holders will receive under the Option Scheme is fixed at 1.31 Westpac Shares per Award Option.
- This ratio will not change even if the value of Westpac Shares decreases or the value of St. George Shares increases, or vice versa, prior to the Implementation Date. The value of Westpac Shares received upon the Implementation Date will vary from time to time.

(b) Potential share price volatility

- Under the Share Scheme and Option Scheme, Westpac will issue up to 745 million New Westpac Shares. This is equivalent to approximately 28% of the total shares in Westpac post merger (see Section 4.6(a)). If a significant number of St. George Shareholders or Award Option Holders sell the Westpac Shares they received under the Share Scheme or Option Scheme, there may be some short term volatility in the Westpac Share price.
 - Volatility in share markets or sentiment to the financial services sector and general exposure as an ASX listed entity may mean that the future value of Westpac Shares could be lower than it is at the date of this Scheme Booklet.
- ### (c) Possibility of a superior proposal emerging
- It is possible that a superior proposal for St. George, which is more attractive for Award Option Holders than the Option Scheme, may materialise in the future. The implementation of the Option Scheme would mean that Award Option Holders would not be able to benefit from any superior proposal.
 - However, the St. George Board is not aware of any superior proposal and notes that, since the announcement of the signing of the Merger Implementation Agreement on 26 May 2008, there has been ample opportunity for an alternative proposal to emerge.
 - The Independent Expert believes that while there is a possibility of a superior proposal being put forward by an alternative party, the likelihood is relatively low.

(d) Tax consequences

- Implementation of the Option Scheme may trigger taxation implications for Award Option Holders earlier than what would otherwise have been the case. Award Option Holders should read the taxation considerations outlined in Section 11.12 and seek professional taxation advice with respect to their individual tax situations.

(e) Other considerations

- The reasons why St. George Shareholders may consider voting against the Merger Proposal, insofar as they relate to the holding of Westpac Shares, are also applicable to Award Option Holders as they will receive Westpac Shares if the Option Scheme is implemented (see the Section headed "Why you may consider voting against the Merger Proposal" on page 20).

11.7 Option Scheme Meeting details and how to vote

On 29 September 2008, the Court made an order that the Option Scheme Meeting be convened. The Court order does not constitute an endorsement of, or any other expression of opinion on, the Option Scheme or this Scheme Booklet.

The Option Scheme Meeting will be held at Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney on Thursday 13 November 2008. It is scheduled to start at the later of 11.30am (Sydney time) and the conclusion or adjournment of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting.

The business of the Option Scheme Meeting is to consider and, if thought fit, to approve, the Option Scheme. The Option Scheme must be approved by:

- a majority in number (more than 50%) of Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) present and voting at the Option Scheme Meeting (in person, by attorney or by proxy); and
- Award Option Holders whose Award Options amount to at least 75% of the total value of Award Options held by Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) present and voting at the Option Scheme Meeting. For this purpose, each Award Option is deemed to be of equal "value" to the other Award Options, given that the Option Scheme Consideration is the same for each Award Option.

The Option Scheme will only become Effective if the Share Scheme becomes Effective.

Voting at the Option Scheme Meeting will be by poll.

Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) who are registered on the Award Option Register at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008 may vote at the Option Scheme Meeting in person, by attorney or by proxy.

How to vote in person

Award Option Holders who are entitled to vote and wish to do so in person should attend the Option Scheme Meeting.

Those Award Option Holders voting in person should bring their meeting registration forms to facilitate admission to the meeting. The meeting registration form for the Option Scheme Meeting is the Award Option Holders Proxy Form included with this Scheme Booklet. Persons who are attending as an attorney should bring the original power of attorney or a certified copy, unless St. George has already noted it.

How to vote by proxy

An Award Option Holders Proxy Form in respect of the Option Scheme Meeting is included with this Scheme Booklet. Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) who are unable to attend the Option Scheme Meeting and who wish to appoint a proxy to attend and vote at the Option Scheme Meeting on their behalf should complete the Award Option Holders Proxy Form and return it to the St. George Registry in accordance with the instructions on the form so that it is received by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008. Alternatively, Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) can submit their proxy appointment(s) online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au, by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008.

Voting is not compulsory. However, the St. George Directors unanimously recommend that, in the absence of a superior proposal, each Award Option Holder vote in favour of the Option Scheme.

The results of the Option Scheme Meeting will be available shortly after the conclusion of the Option Scheme Meeting and will be provided to ASX as soon as practicable and released on its website www.asx.com.au. The results will also be posted on the following website: www.stgeorgemerge.com.au.

Please refer to the Notice of Option Scheme Meeting in Annexure C.3 for further details.

11.8 Relationship with the Share Scheme

The Option Scheme will only become Effective if:

- it is agreed to by the requisite majorities of Award Option Holders at the Option Scheme Meeting to be held on Thursday 13 November 2008;
- it is approved by the Court on the Court Approval Date (expected to be Monday 17 November 2008); and
- the Share Scheme becomes Effective.

If any of these events do not occur, the Option Scheme will not proceed and Award Option Holders will continue to hold Award Options.

However, as the Share Scheme is not conditional on the Option Scheme becoming Effective, the Share Scheme can proceed even if the Option Scheme does not proceed. If this occurs, then as set out in Section 4.6(f), it is Westpac's intention to compulsorily acquire the Award Options under Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act.

11.9 Risks

If the Share Scheme becomes Effective and the Option Scheme is implemented, Award Option Holders will receive Westpac Shares as Option Scheme Consideration.

The value of the Option Scheme Consideration to Award Option Holders will depend on the price of Westpac Shares and the future dividends paid on them following implementation of the Option Scheme. There are many risk factors that could adversely affect the Merged Group's business, financial performance, results of operations, cash flows and prospects which will consequently affect the price of Westpac Shares and the future dividends paid on them. These are set out in Section 5 and Award Option Holders should have regard to them.

The Option Scheme is conditional on the Share Scheme. If the Share Scheme is not approved, the Option Scheme will not proceed.

11.10 Announcement of financial results and dividends

Please refer to Section 1.12 for information about when St. George and Westpac expect to announce their full year results to 30 September 2008.

Following the release of these results, the St. George Board will request the Independent Expert to review the results and, if the Independent Expert is able to do so, confirm that the results do not change the Independent Expert's opinion that the Option Scheme is in the best interests of Award Option Holders. The outcome of this review will be announced to ASX and released on its website www.asx.com.au and also placed on the website www.stgeorgemerge.com.au in advance of the Option Scheme Meeting.

11.11 Implementation of the Option Scheme

(a) Deed Poll

On 10 September 2008, Westpac executed the Deed Poll. Under the Deed Poll, Westpac agreed, among other things, that subject to the Option Scheme becoming Effective, it would provide each Option Scheme Participant with the Option Scheme Consideration to which it is entitled under the Option Scheme.

A copy of the Deed Poll is attached as Annexure B.

(b) Overview of implementation steps

The key steps to implement the Option Scheme are set out below.

- (i) Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) will vote on whether to approve the Option Scheme at the Option Scheme Meeting.
- (ii) If
 - (A) St.George Shareholders approve the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment;
 - (B) the other Conditions Precedent to the Share Scheme (other than approval by the Court) are satisfied or waived; and
 - (C) Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) approve the Option Scheme, then St.George will apply to the Court to approve the Option Scheme at the Second Court Hearing.

- (iii) If the Court approves the Share Scheme and Option Scheme, St.George will lodge with ASIC a copy of the Court orders approving the Share Scheme and Option Scheme. This date will be the Effective Date for the Option Scheme.
- (iv) On the Implementation Date, provided that the Option Scheme has become Effective:
 - (A) St.George will cancel all existing Award Options held by Option Scheme Participants; and
 - (B) Westpac will provide the Option Scheme Consideration to Option Scheme Participants.

These steps are described in further detail below. The expected dates for the key steps are set out in Section 11.2 (but those dates are subject to possible change).

(c) Option Scheme Meeting

In accordance with orders of the Court dated 29 September 2008, St.George has convened the Option Scheme Meeting.

The Notice of Option Scheme Meeting, which includes details of the time and place of the Option Scheme Meeting, is set out in Annexure C.3.

At the Option Scheme Meeting, the Award Option Holders will be asked to consider and, if thought fit, pass a resolution approving the Option Scheme. The required approval thresholds are set out in Section 11.7.

Voting at the Option Scheme Meeting will be by poll.

(d) Court approval at Second Court Hearing

If the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment are approved by the requisite majorities of St.George Shareholders, and all other Conditions Precedent to the Share Scheme (other than approval by the Court) have been satisfied or waived, then St.George will apply to the Court for orders approving the Share Scheme at the Second Court Hearing.

Given that the Option Scheme is conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective, St.George will only make equivalent applications to the Court in respect of the Option Scheme if:

- (i) St.George Shareholders approve the Share Scheme and the Constitution Amendment;
- (ii) the other Conditions Precedent to the Share Scheme (other than approval by the Court) are satisfied or waived; and
- (iii) Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) approve the Option Scheme.

Each Award Option Holder (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) has the right to appear at the Second Court Hearing in respect of the Option Scheme.

(e) Effective Date

If the Court approves the Share Scheme and the Option Scheme, St.George will lodge with ASIC an office copy of the Court order approving those Schemes. Those Schemes will become Effective on the date that lodgement occurs. This date is the Effective Date for those Schemes.

Award Option Holders may exercise vested Award Options after the Effective Date provided that the notice of exercise is received no later than two Business Days before the Scheme Record Date of the Share Scheme. Any St.George Shares which are issued as a result of such exercise will be transferred to Westpac under the Share Scheme, and therefore the holder of those St.George Shares at the Scheme Record Date will receive New Westpac Shares in exchange for those St.George Shares.

(f) Scheme Record Date

The Scheme Record Date for the Option Scheme is the date which is five Business Days after the Effective Date for the Option Scheme. This is currently expected to be Monday 24 November 2008.

As at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on the Scheme Record Date, only those persons registered as holders of Award Options (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) will be entitled to receive the Option Scheme Consideration under the Option Scheme. These people are known as Option Scheme Participants.

(g) Implementation Date

The Implementation Date is the date which is five Business Days after the Scheme Record Date. On the Implementation Date, St.George will cancel all existing Award Options and Westpac will issue or transfer the Westpac Shares which constitute the Option Scheme Consideration to the Option Scheme Participants.

Holding statements and confirmations of CHESS holdings for Westpac Shares are expected to be despatched to Option Scheme Participants within five Business Days after the Implementation Date.

Once the Option Scheme Consideration has been provided, the Award Options will be cancelled, without any need for further actions by any Option Scheme Participant.

(h) Commencement of trading of New Westpac Shares

Westpac will seek confirmation from ASX that, as from the first Trading Day after the Effective Date (or such other date as ASX requires), New Westpac Shares issued as Option Scheme Consideration will be quoted on ASX. Westpac Shares issued or transferred as Option Scheme Consideration are currently expected to trade on a deferred settlement basis at the commencement of trading on the first Trading Day following the Effective Date (i.e. trading is expected to commence on Tuesday 18 November 2008). Any Westpac Shares granted under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan, whether issued or transferred, will be restricted until the vesting period applicable to them has passed. Westpac reserves the right to determine whether it will issue or transfer the Westpac Shares to be provided as Option Scheme Consideration.

Westpac Shares issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan cannot be traded until the applicable vesting period has expired. See Section 11.4 for more information.

It is the responsibility of each Award Option Holder who becomes a New Westpac Shareholder and whose New Westpac Shares are not held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan to confirm their holding before trading in New Westpac Shares to avoid the risk of selling shares that they do not own. Award Option Holders cannot transfer New Westpac Shares held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan (until the vesting period ends). New Westpac Shareholders who sell New Westpac Shares before they receive their holding statement or confirm their uncertificated holdings of New Westpac Shares do so at their own risk. St. George, Westpac and the Westpac Registry disclaim all liability (to the maximum extent permitted by law) to persons who trade New Westpac Shares before receiving their holding statements, whether on the basis of confirmation of the allocation provided by Westpac or the Westpac Registry.

Trading on ASX of New Westpac Shares on a normal settlement basis is expected to commence on Tuesday 2 December 2008.

11.12 Tax implications of the Option Scheme

(a) Overview

The information below is of a general nature only and assumes that all Award Option Holders are employees of St. George at the Implementation Date and are residents (but not temporary residents) of Australia for tax purposes for the duration of the time that they participate in the Executive Performance Share Plan (EPSP).

The information contained in this outline is of a general nature only. It does not constitute tax advice and should not be relied upon as such. All Award Option Holders should seek independent professional advice based on their particular circumstances.

The information below is for individuals who participate in the EPSP. Under the EPSP, participants are provided with Award Options. An Award Option is a right to acquire a share for nil exercise price subject to any performance conditions prescribed by the Board being satisfied. A participant can choose to have St. George Shares issued on exercise of Award Options subject to disposal restrictions of nil, four or 10 years (LTI or MTI) or three, four or 10 years from the date the original Award Option was granted.

The tax treatment outlined below is on the basis that Award Option Holders vote to accept the Option Scheme.

The tax implications where an Award Option Holder has exercised Award Options to acquire St. George Shares that remain under a disposal restriction as at the Effective Date are outlined in Section 12.9.

In this Section, references to a section 139E election mean that the Award Option Holder has elected under section 139E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (Cth) to pay tax for the year of income in which they received the Award Options. This is commonly referred to as "paying tax upfront".

(b) Executive Performance Share Plan (EPSP)

The tax implications for participants in the EPSP will depend on:

- whether a section 139E election has been made by the Award Option Holder in respect of the Award Options granted under the EPSP; and
- whether the Award Options are vested and have been exercised to acquire St. George Shares prior to the Implementation Date.

(i) Unvested Award Options

Unvested Award Options will be cancelled and replaced with Westpac Restricted Shares on the Implementation Date (Cancellation Date).

Where a participant did not make a section 139E election in respect of Award Options

Where a participant did not make a section 139E election, they will be required to include the value of the replacement Westpac Restricted Shares as assessable income in their 2009 tax return. This value should be calculated at the Cancellation Date and will be taxed as ordinary income at the individual's marginal rate of tax.

A further capital gain or loss will arise for the individual based on the change in the value of the Westpac Restricted Shares between the Cancellation Date and the date they are disposed of by the individual. Only 50% of the capital gain, after offsetting any capital losses, is subject to tax if the Westpac Restricted Shares have been held for more than 12 months prior to their disposal.

Where a participant in the EPSP made a section 139E election in respect of Award Options

Where a participant in the EPSP made a section 139E election in respect of the Award Options, a capital gain should arise at the Cancellation Date. The capital gain should be equal to the difference between the value of the Westpac Restricted Shares received by the participant and the cost base of the Award Options.

The first element of the cost base of an Award Option should be equal to the assessable income included in the participant's tax return in the year of grant of the Award Option (this should be equal to the market value of the St. George Share at the date of grant). Only 50% of the capital gain, after offsetting any capital losses, is subject to tax if the Award Options have been held for more than 12 months prior to the Cancellation Date.

Implications where replacement Westpac restricted shares decline in value, or are forfeited, after Cancellation Date

Any decrease in the share price of the replacement Westpac Restricted Shares, or forfeiture of the Westpac Restricted Shares, results in a capital loss arising for participants at the date of disposal or forfeiture. There is no carry back that would enable this loss to be used to offset any assessable income that may have arisen at the Cancellation Date. A participant is not entitled to a refund of any tax paid at the Cancellation Date where the Westpac Restricted Shares are subsequently forfeited.

(ii) Vested Award Options not exercised to acquire St. George Shares

Where a participant in the EPSP has vested Award Options and does not exercise them to acquire St. George Shares prior to the Scheme Record Date, they will be subject to tax in the same manner as outlined above in respect of unvested Award Options.

11.13 Copy of Award Option Register

Under sections 170 and 173 of the Corporations Act, any Award Option Holder has a right to inspect, and to ask for a copy of, the Award Option Register which contains details of the name and address of Award Option Holders and other details regarding the terms of the Award Options. A copy of the Award Option Register will be given to any Award Option Holder upon request and payment of the prescribed fee under the Corporations Act.

11.14 Obtaining further information

As set out in Section 4.6(f), Westpac intends to compulsorily acquire the Borrower Shares and Depositor Shares after the implementation of the Share Scheme. Holders of these shares will be advised separately what will happen to their shareholdings.

Other than as set out above, as at the date of this Scheme Booklet, Westpac did not have a Relevant Interest in any other marketable securities of St. George.

(b) Westpac's voting power in St. George

As at 26 September 2008, Westpac's voting power in St. George was 0.91%.

Westpac's only associates in respect of St. George are Westpac's subsidiaries. If, as at the time for determining eligibility to vote at the Share Scheme Meeting or SAINTS Scheme Meeting (as applicable), Westpac or a Westpac subsidiary holds St. George Shares or SAINTS, then:

- to the extent that entity has no beneficial interest in those securities, it will be entitled to vote on the Share Scheme or SAINTS Scheme (as applicable); and
- to the extent that entity has a beneficial interest in those securities, it will not be entitled to vote on the Share Scheme or SAINTS Scheme (as applicable).

(c) Dealings in St. George Shares, SAINTS and Options

Neither Westpac nor any associate of Westpac has provided, or agreed to provide, consideration for any St. George Shares, SAINTS or Options under a purchase or agreement during the four months ending on the day immediately before the date of this Scheme Booklet other than the consideration provided or agreed to be provided by Westpac to Executive Option Holders in respect of the cancellation of their Executive Options and Award Options under the Deeds of Cancellation as described in Sections 1.17(c) and 12.7 and the consideration provided in respect of on-market acquisitions of St. George Shares or SAINTS by:

- Westpac and its related bodies corporate acting as responsible entities, trustees or managers of managed investment schemes, superannuation trusts or private portfolio management accounts for investors;
- Westpac as a result of its offering of structured products as part of its institutional banking business; and
- Westpac Life and BT Life as part of their statutory fund investment portfolio.

A total of 2,648,344 St. George Shares were acquired by these entities in this period at prices per St. George Share in the range of $25.06 to $35.69.

A total of 646 SAINTS were acquired by these entities in this period at price per SAINTS in the range of $95.50 to $97.10.

12.6 Benefits and agreements

(a) Benefits in connection with retirement from office

The St. George Board terminated its retirement benefits scheme for non-executive directors, effective from 30 September 2003, following the approval of St. George Shareholders at the 2003 Annual General Meeting. Non-executive directors appointed after 30 September 2003 are not entitled to retirement benefits. Payment of retirement benefits for Directors in office at 30 September 2003 will not exceed the amount accrued in respect of that Director as at 30 September 2003 (being as set out below in respect of the current non-executive directors who have an accrued entitlement).

Name	Retirement benefit entitlement*
John Curtis (Chairman)	$340,000
Paul Isherwood	$342,000
Linda Nicholls	$145,000
Graham Reaney	$367,000

* As disclosed in St. George's 2003 Annual Report.

Other than as described above, or in Sections 4.6(b) or 12.7 or elsewhere in this Section 12.6, there is no payment or other benefit that is proposed to be made or given to any director, secretary or executive officer of St. George (or any of its Related Bodies Corporate) as compensation for the loss of, or as consideration for or in connection with his or her retirement from, office in St. George or any of its Related Bodies Corporate.

(b) No collateral benefits offered by Westpac in last four months

Other than as described in Sections 4.6(b) or 12.7 or elsewhere in this Section 12.6, during the period of four months before the date of this Scheme Booklet, none of Westpac, a Westpac Director or any associate of Westpac gave, or offered to give or agreed to give, a benefit to another person which was likely to induce the other person or an associate of the other person to:

- (i) vote in favour of a Scheme; or
- (ii) dispose of any St. George Shares, SAINTS or Options, which benefit was not offered to all of the relevant St. George Security Holders.

(c) Agreements or arrangements connected with or conditional on the Schemes

Other than as described in Sections 4.6(b) or 12.7 or elsewhere in this Section 12.6, there are no agreements or arrangements made between any St. George Director and another person in connection with, or conditional on, the outcome of a Scheme other than in their capacity as a St. George Security Holder.

Westpac has indemnified each member of the St. George Group and their Representatives (St. George Indemnified Parties) from and against all claims, actions, proceedings, liabilities, obligations, damages, losses, harm, charges, costs, expenses, duties and other outgoings of whatever nature and however arising which any of the St. George Indemnified Parties may suffer or incur by reason of:

- any breach of any of the warranties given by Westpac in clause 13.2 of the Merger Implementation Agreement;
- the inclusion or disclosure of any information referred to in clause 22.1(b) of the Merger Implementation Agreement in accordance with clause 22.1(a) of the Merger Implementation Agreement; and
- the performance of any obligation, the provision of any assistance or information or the undertaking of any obligation or act required or undertaken under clause 22.1 of the Merger Implementation Agreement.

St. George has indemnified each member of the Westpac Group and their Representatives (Westpac Indemnified Parties) from and against all claims, actions, proceedings, liabilities, obligations, damages, losses, harm, charges, costs, expenses, duties and other outgoings of whatever nature and however arising which any of the Westpac Indemnified Parties may suffer or incur by reason of:

- any breach of any of the warranties given by St. George in clause 13.1 of the Merger Implementation Agreement;
- the inclusion or disclosure of any information referred to in clause 22.2(b) of the Merger Implementation Agreement in accordance with clause 22.2(a) of the Merger Implementation Agreement; and

- the performance of any obligation, the provision of any assistance or information or the undertaking of any obligation or act required or undertaken under clause 22.2 of the Merger Implementation Agreement.

As contemplated by clause 15.2(d) of the Merger Implementation Agreement, St. George intends to purchase "run-off" insurance cover under its directors' and officers' liability policy for each person who is or was a director or officer of St. George and each of its subsidiaries prior to the Effective Date of the Share Scheme. From that date, the insurance cover will enable claims relating to "Wrongful Acts" (as defined in the policy) occurring prior to the Effective Date to be notified to insurers under the current directors' and officers' insurance policy during an extended period of seven years from the Effective Date.

(d) Interests of St. George Directors in Westpac contracts

Certain St. George Directors are directors of companies outside of the St. George Group. Some of those companies have banking and other arrangements with Westpac which have been entered into on arm's length terms and are in the ordinary course of business. In addition, certain St. George Directors and/or their respective families have personal banking and other arrangements with Westpac from time to time.

Other than as described above or elsewhere in this Section 12.6, no St. George Director has any interest in any contract entered into by Westpac.

12.7 Deeds of Cancellation

As noted in Section 1.17(c), each of the nine individuals (comprising eight current executives and one former executive) referred to in Section 1.17(a) as holding Executive Options has entered into a Deed of Cancellation.

Under each Deed of Cancellation:

- (a) all of the Award Options and Executive Options held by that executive on the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme will be cancelled on that date; and
- (b) in consideration for that cancellation, Westpac will on the Implementation Date of the Share Scheme issue or transfer to the executive:
 - (i) in respect of the Award Options held on the Implementation Date - 1.31 Westpac Shares multiplied by the number of Award Options; and
 - (ii) in respect of the Executive Options held on the Implementation Date - 1.31 Westpac Shares multiplied by the number of Executive Options multiplied by a "valuation percentage" (see below).

The "valuation percentage", to be calculated as at the Scheme Record Date of the Option Scheme (Valuation Date) by either Ernst & Young or Lonergan & Edwards (as provided in each Deed of Cancellation), will reflect the value of each Executive Option. It will be calculated using a binomial model for valuing options, using the following valuation inputs: (i) the exercise price; (ii) the Valuation

Date; (iii) the VWAP of St. George Shares for the five Trading Days prior to the Valuation Date; (iv) an assumption that the Executive Option will be exercised midway during the possible exercise period; (v) a risk free rate of interest being a zero coupon government bond rate with a maturity midway through the possible exercise period; (vi) an assumed volatility of the underlying St. George Share of between 25% and 30%; (vii) an annual dividend yield assumption based on the actual St. George Share FY2008 Final Dividend, followed by dividends at a yield equal to the risk free rate for the expected life thereafter; and (viii) ignoring any performance hurdles.

Each Deed of Cancellation is subject to the Share Scheme becoming Effective. St. George has obtained a conditional ASX waiver of Listing Rule 6.23.2 (which would require St. George Shareholder approval for the cancellation of the Award Options and Executive Options) (see Section 12.12(b)). A Deed of Cancellation will automatically terminate on the earlier of: (i) 31 March 2009 (or such later date as the holder, Westpac and St. George may agree) if the Share Scheme is not Effective on that date; and (ii) the date of termination of the Merger Implementation Agreement.

The Westpac Shares issued or transferred under each Deed of Cancellation will be issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan (the terms of which are summarised in Section 11.4) in respect of Award Options and Executive Options which are unvested as at the Scheme Record Date. Those Westpac Shares will not be subject to any performance hurdles, but will be subject to a vesting period during which the Westpac Shares must remain held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan and cannot be sold and will be subject to forfeiture in certain circumstances. The vesting period with respect to each award of Westpac Shares issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan will replicate the tenure hurdles that applied to the Award Options and/or Executive Options which they replaced. For example, if an executive's Award Options would have vested on 30 September 2010, the vesting period for the replacement Westpac Shares will similarly end on 30 September 2010.

Where the Award Options and Executive Options are vested but remain unexercised prior to the Scheme Record Date, the executives will still receive Westpac Shares but those shares will be unrestricted and issued or transferred outside the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.

If an executive ceases employment with the St. George Group before the Implementation Date, and subject to the Share Scheme becoming Effective:

- (a) if the date on which the executive ceases employment (Cessation Date) is on or before 30 September 2008, any unvested Executive Options and Award Options on the Implementation Date will be cancelled on that date and the executive will not be entitled to receive any Westpac Shares in respect of those Executive Options and Award Options; or

- (b) if the Cessation Date is after 30 September 2008, the executive will receive Westpac Shares as described above in respect of unvested Executive Options and Award Options which have a first prescribed exercise date of 30 September 2009 or which are subject to retesting on 30 September 2009; however, those Westpac Shares will not be issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan. Unvested Executive Options and Award Options with a first prescribed exercise date after 30 September 2009 will be cancelled on the Implementation Date and the executive will not be entitled to receive any Westpac Shares in respect of those Executive Options and Award Options.

In respect of the one former executive, his unvested Executive Options and Award Options will be subject to satisfaction of any performance conditions for the period ending 30 September 2008 and if his Executive Options and Award Options do not vest on 30 September 2008, they will be cancelled on the Implementation Date and he will not be entitled to receive any Westpac Shares in respect of those Executive Options and Award Options. Where his Award Options vest on 30 September 2008, he will receive Westpac Shares but those Westpac Shares will be unrestricted, and issued or transferred outside the Westpac Restricted Share Plan.

Each Deed of Cancellation does not prevent the executive from exercising any Award Options or Executive Options, where they are exercisable, provided that the notice of exercise is received no later than two business days before the Scheme Record Date of the Share Scheme. Any St. George Shares which are issued as a result of such exercise will be transferred to Westpac under the Share Scheme, and therefore the holder of those St. George Shares will receive New Westpac Shares in exchange for those St. George Shares if the Share Scheme is implemented.

12.8 Implications for employee share plan participants

The information below is for individuals who participate in the following St. George employee share and option plans:

- Employee Reward Plan (Reward Plan) - this plan is operated as a $1,000 tax exempt plan. St. George Shares issued under this plan are subject to disposal restrictions, being the earlier of three years from the date of acquisition or termination of employment with the St. George Group. References in this Section to shares granted under the Reward Plan refer to shares that have been granted under the Reward Plan and which are subject to the disposal restrictions at the Effective Date; and
- Employee Share Purchase Plan and Non-executive Directors' Share Purchase Plan (Sacrifice Plans) - participants can elect to enter into a salary sacrifice arrangement under which they forego salary, short term incentives or director's fees in return for being provided with an equivalent value of St. George Shares subject to disposal restrictions.

Sections 12.8 and 12.9 also address the implications if a participant has acquired St. George Shares by exercising vested Award Options or vested Executive Options and those St. George Shares are subject to a disposal restriction at the Implementation Date. Section 11.12 deals with the implications for any Award Options that have not been exercised to acquire St. George Shares at the Implementation Date.

The implications of the Share Scheme for participants who have exercised Executive Options or Award Options to acquire St. George Shares that are not subject to any disposal restrictions immediately prior to the Implementation Date are outlined at Section 9.2.

(a) Employee Reward Plan (Reward Plan)

St. George Shares granted to employees under the Reward Plan are subject to disposal restrictions that prevent participants from disposing of the St. George Shares until the earlier of three years from the date they were acquired or cessation of employment with the St. George Group.

If the Share Scheme becomes Effective, the shares held by the participant under the Reward Plan will take part in the Share Scheme in the same manner as St. George Shares held by other Share Scheme Participants. Participants in the Reward Plan will not be subject to any disposal restrictions in respect of the New Westpac Shares issued to them (except insofar as any employee share trading policy or applicable laws may apply to individual participants from time to time).

Participants in the Reward Plan who hold St. George Shares may attend and vote at the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting in respect of their St. George Shares (provided those participants are registered on the Share Register at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008).

(b) Employee Share Purchase Plan and Non-executive Directors' Share Purchase Plan (Sacrifice Plans)

Participants in the Sacrifice Plans can elect that St. George Shares acquired under the Sacrifice Plans are subject to disposal restrictions that prevent the holder from disposing of the shares for a period of up to 10 years or cessation of employment with the St. George Group.

If the Share Scheme becomes Effective, the shares held by participants under the Sacrifice Plans will take part in the Share Scheme in the same manner as St. George Shares held by other Share Scheme Participants. Participants in the Sacrifice Plans will not be subject to any disposal restrictions in respect of the New Westpac Shares issued to them (except insofar as any employee share trading policy or applicable laws may apply to individual participants from time to time). Participants in the Sacrifice Plans who hold St. George Shares may attend and vote at the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting in respect of their St. George Shares (provided those participants are registered on the Share Register at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008).

(c) St. George Shares acquired from the exercise of vested Award Options or vested Executive Options

Participants in the EPSP and EOP may have elected for St. George Shares acquired as a result of the exercise of vested Award Options or vested Executive Options to remain under a disposal restriction for a period of up to 10 years from the date of the original grant of the Award Options or Executive Options.

St. George Shares held by participants that remain under a disposal restriction will participate in the Share Scheme in the same manner as shares held by other Share Scheme Participants. There will be no disposal restrictions on Westpac Shares received by participants under the Share Scheme (except insofar as any employee share trading policy or applicable laws may apply to individual participants from time to time).

Participants in the EPSP and EOP who hold St. George Shares acquired by exercising vested Award Options or vested Executive Options will be entitled to vote in respect of the St. George Shares at the Share Scheme Meeting and Extraordinary General Meeting (provided those participants are registered on the Share Register at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008).

12.9 Tax consequences for employee share plan participants

The information below is of a general nature only and assumes that all employee share and option plan participants are employees of St. George at the Implementation Date and are residents (but not temporary residents) of Australia for tax purposes for the duration of the time that they participate in the St. George employee share and option plans.

The information contained in this outline is of a general nature only. It does not constitute tax advice and should not be relied upon as such. All St. George employees who hold shares or options should seek independent professional advice based on their particular circumstances.

In this Section 12.9, references to a section 139E election mean that the employee has elected under section 139E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (Cth) to pay tax for the year of income in which they received the shares or options. This is commonly referred to as "paying tax upfront".

(a) Employee Reward Plan (Reward Plan)

Participants who were granted shares under the Reward Plan can make a section 139E election for each tax year in which St. George Shares are issued to them. When this election is made, the first $1,000 of St. George Shares acquired each tax year under the Reward Plan is exempt from income tax.

(i) Where a participant made a section 139E election
Participants in the Reward Plan will participate in the Share Scheme in the same manner as other Share Scheme Participants. The Share Scheme will result in the replacement of the St. George Shares held by participants with Westpac Shares. The Westpac Shares will not be subject to any disposal restrictions.

The participant should be able to utilise any CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief that may be available for other Share Scheme Participants (refer to Section 9.2).

Where, for any reason, the CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief does not apply, participants will make a capital gain or capital loss based on the difference between the market value of the replacement Westpac Shares and the cost base of the St. George Shares. The market value of the replacement Westpac Shares should be worked out on the Implementation Date.

The cost base of the St. George Shares should be equal to their market value at the date they were originally acquired by the participant.

Participants in the Reward Plan should be entitled to a 50% discount on the amount of any capital gain arising in respect of the St. George Shares, after offsetting any capital losses, if they have been held for at least 12 months prior to the Implementation Date.

(ii) Where a participant has not made a section 139E election

Where a participant in the Reward Plan has not made a section 139E election, they will be required to include the market value of the New Westpac Shares as assessable income at the earliest of:

- the disposal of the New Westpac Shares;
- termination of employment with the St. George Group and Westpac Group; or
- 10 years from the date the original St. George Shares were acquired.

(b) Employee Share Purchase Plan and Non-executive Director Plan (Sacrifice Plans)

(i) Where a participant has not made a section 139E election

Where a participant in a Sacrifice Plan has not made a section 139E election, they will be required to include the market value of the New Westpac Shares as assessable income at the earliest of:

- the disposal of the New Westpac Shares;
- termination of employment (including directorships) with the St. George Group and Westpac Group; or
- 10 years from the date the original St. George Shares were acquired.

(ii) Where a participant has made a section 139E election

The Share Scheme will result in the replacement of the St. George Shares held by participants with New Westpac Shares. The New Westpac Shares will not be subject to any disposal restrictions.

The participant should be able to utilise any CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief that may be available for other Share Scheme Participants (refer to Section 9.2).

Where, for any reason, the CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief does not apply, participants in the relevant Sacrifice Plan will make a capital gain or capital loss based on the difference between the market value of the New Westpac Shares and the cost base of the St. George Shares. The market value of the New Westpac Shares should be worked out on the Implementation Date.

The cost base of the St. George Shares should be equal to their market value at the date they were originally acquired by the participants (i.e. the amount included as assessable income in the year of grant).

Participants should be entitled to a 50% discount on the amount of any capital gain arising in respect of the St. George Shares, after offsetting any capital losses, provided they have been held for at least 12 months prior to the Implementation Date.

(c) St. George Shares acquired from the exercise of vested Award Options or Executive Options

Participants in the EPSP or EOP who held vested Award Options or Executive Options that they have exercised and converted into St. George Shares subject to a disposal restriction immediately prior to the Implementation Date will participate in the Share Scheme in the same manner as other Share Scheme Participants. The Westpac Shares received by participants will not be subject to any disposal restrictions (except insofar as any employee share trading policy or applicable laws may apply to participants from time to time).

(i) Where a participant did not make a section 139E election in respect of the Award Options or Executive Options

The participant should not be subject to tax until the earlier of disposal of the Westpac Shares, termination of employment with the St. George Group and Westpac Group, or 10 years from the grant of the original Award Option or Executive Option.

(ii) Where a participant made a section 139E election in respect of the Award Options or Executive Options

The participant should be able to utilise any CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief that may be available for other Share Scheme Participants (refer to Section 9.2).

Where, for any reason, the CGT scrip for scrip rollover relief does not apply, the Option Scheme will result in the participant making a capital gain or capital loss based on the difference between the market value of the Westpac Shares and the cost base of the St. George Shares.

The market value of the Westpac Shares should be calculated on the Implementation Date.

The cost base of the St. George Shares acquired by exercising Award Options will be equal to the assessable income included in the participant's tax return in the year of grant of the Award Option (this should be equal to the market value of the St. George Shares at the date of grant). The cost base of St. George Shares acquired by exercising Executive Options will be equal to the sum of the market value of the Executive Options included as assessable income by the participant in their tax return for the year in which the section 139E election was made in respect of the Executive Options, and the exercise price of the Executive Option.

Only 50% of the amount of any capital gain arising in respect of the St. George Shares, after offsetting any capital losses, should be subject to tax if the St. George Shares have been held for at least 12 months. The 12 month holding period commences from the date the Award Option or Executive Option is exercised and converted into a St. George Share.

12.10 Status of regulatory approvals

Implementation of the Share Scheme is conditional upon the receipt of approval or confirmation from certain regulatory bodies, as set out below.

(a) ACCC

The Condition Precedent relating to the receipt of ACCC Approval has been satisfied. On 13 August 2008, ACCC announced its decision not to oppose the proposed acquisition of St. George by Westpac.

(b) Financial Sector (Shareholdings) Act

On 1 August 2008, Westpac lodged an application with the Federal Treasurer under section 13 of the Financial Sector (Shareholdings) Act for approval to hold an interest of up to 100% in St. George. All information requested by the Federal Treasurer and APRA in relation to the application has been provided. As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, this approval has not been received.

(c) Insurance Acquisitions and Takeovers Act

On 16 September 2008, Westpac wrote to APRA requesting confirmation that approval will not be required under the Insurance Acquisitions and Takeovers Act in respect of the Share Scheme. As at the date of the Scheme Booklet, this confirmation has not been received.

(d) Banking Act

On 15 August 2008, St. George lodged an application with the Federal Treasurer for consent under section 63 of the Banking Act to the Share Scheme. All information requested by the Federal Treasurer and APRA in relation to the application has been provided. As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, this consent has not been received.

12.11 Material Westpac litigation

As at the date of this Scheme Booklet, Westpac or a Related Body Corporate of Westpac is a party to the following material legal proceedings.

(a) Bell Group of companies

Westpac is one of 20 defendant banks named in proceedings concerning the Bell Group of companies. The proceedings have been brought by the liquidators of several Bell Group companies and seek to challenge the defendant banks' entitlement to receive the proceeds of realisation of Bell Group assets in the early 1990s. The trial concluded in September 2006 and Westpac is awaiting judgement. It is not possible to estimate the potential impact; however, Westpac believes it has good prospects of success.

(b) New Zealand Commerce Commission

The New Zealand Commerce Commission's (Commerce Commission) proceedings against Westpac New Zealand Limited and The Warehouse Financial Services Limited (members of the Westpac Group) are ongoing. Visa International, Cards NZ Limited, MasterCard International and all New Zealand issuers of Visa and MasterCard credit cards are also defendants. The proceedings allege that the setting of interchange rates and rules (relating to honour all cards, no surcharge, access and no discrimination) amount to price fixing or alternatively have the effect of substantially lessening competition in the New Zealand market in breach of the Commerce Act 1986 (NZ). The proceedings seek to declare the conduct illegal and impose unspecified monetary penalties.

In addition, similar proceedings issued by a number of New Zealand retailers against the same defendants are also ongoing. These proceedings also seek to declare the conduct illegal and an enquiry into damages. Damages awarded, if any, would be in addition to any penalties imposed under the Commerce Act 1986 (NZ) in the event the Commerce Commission is successful in the proceedings described above. Westpac is considering its position in relation to both proceedings and at this stage does not consider it necessary to raise a provision in relation to this matter.

(c) New Zealand Inland Revenue Department

The New Zealand Inland Revenue Department (NZIRD) has reviewed a number of structured finance transactions undertaken in New Zealand. Following the review, the NZIRD issued amended assessments for the 1999 to 2005 tax years in relation to nine transactions undertaken between 1999 and 2002. The overall primary tax in dispute is approximately NZ$586 million (A$507 million). With interest (net of tax), this increases to approximately NZ$850 million (A$736 million) (calculated to 31 March 2008).

Proceedings disputing the amended assessments with respect to the 1999 to 2002 tax years have commenced and proceedings disputing the amended assessments for the 2003 to 2005 tax years will be commenced shortly. Westpac is confident that the tax treatment applied in all cases is correct. A ruling was sought from the NZIRD on an early transaction in 1999. Following extensive review by the NZIRD, the ruling was issued in 2001. The principles underlying that ruling are applicable to, and have been followed in, all other transactions.

12.12 ASIC and ASX relief

(a) ASIC

On sale disclosure relief

Section 707(3) of the Corporations Act provides that an offer of securities for sale within 12 months after their issue needs disclosure to investors under Part 6D of the Corporations Act if:

- the securities were issued without disclosure to investors under Part 6D of the Corporations Act; and
- either:

It applies where a scrip bidder appoints a nominee to sell shares and remit the proceeds to foreign holders under section 619(3) of the Corporations Act.

ASIC Class Order CO 06/267 varies ASIC Class Order CO 04/653 by extending the relief set out in that instrument to schemes of arrangements. Option Scheme - prescribed disclosure requirements
Pursuant to Regulation 5.1.01(1) of the Corporations Regulations, ASIC has allowed St.George to not include in this Scheme Booklet the list of Award Option Holders and other matters that would otherwise be required by paragraphs 8201(a), 8201(b), 8201(c), 8201(d), 8201(e), 8203(a) and 8203(b) of Part 2 of Schedule 8 to the Corporations Regulations.

(b) ASX

St.George has received from ASX a waiver of Listing Rule 6.23.2 to permit the cancellation of Options for consideration (as proposed under the Option Scheme and Deeds of Cancellation as disclosed in this Scheme Booklet) without obtaining the approval of St.George Shareholders. St.George has also received from ASX a waiver of Listing Rule 6.23.4 to permit St.George to amend the terms of the Executive Performance Share Plan (pursuant to which Award Options are granted) and Executive Option Plan (pursuant to which Executive Options are granted) without obtaining the approval of St.George Shareholders. The amendments, which have already been made, clarify when Options lapse and were made to ensure that Award Options granted in October 2007 will be included in the Option Scheme, and therefore be treated equally to Award Options granted before October 2007.

with in accordance with unclaimed money legislation. St. George must hold the amount on trust, but any benefit accruing from the amount will be to the benefit of St. George. An amount credited to the account is to be treated as having been paid to the Ineligible Foreign Shareholder. St. George must maintain records of the amounts paid, the people who are entitled to the amounts and any transfers of the amounts.

- (d) Payment by the Sale Nominee to an Ineligible Foreign Shareholder in accordance with this clause 5.2 satisfies in full the Ineligible Foreign Shareholder's right to Share Scheme Consideration.

- (c) must take all other actions in the capacity of a registered holder of Scheme SAINTS as Westpac reasonably directs; and
- (d) acknowledges and agrees that in exercising the powers referred to in clause 4.7(a), Westpac and any officer or agent nominated by Westpac under clause 4.7(a) may act in the best interests of Westpac as the intended registered holder of the Scheme SAINTS.

- (a) Before 11.00am on the Implementation Date, St.George must procure Westpac to deposit an amount equal to the aggregate amount of SAINTS Scheme Consideration payable to all SAINTS Scheme Participants in cleared funds in a trust account operated by the Trustee, such amount to be held on trust for those SAINTS Scheme Participants, except that any interest (less bank fees and other charges) on the amount deposited by Westpac in respect of the SAINTS Scheme Consideration shall be for the account of Westpac.
- (b) On the Implementation Date, subject to St.George having complied with paragraph (a), the Trustee must pay from the trust account referred to in paragraph (a) to each SAINTS Scheme Participant such amount of cash as is due to that SAINTS Scheme Participant as SAINTS Scheme Consideration in respect of all that SAINTS Scheme Participant's Scheme SAINTS.

- (c) Unless paragraph (d) applies, the amount referred to in paragraph (b) may be paid by the Trustee doing any of the following at its election:
- (i) sending the amount to the SAINTS Scheme Participant's Registered Address by cheque in Australian currency drawn out of the trust account established in accordance with paragraph (a); or
 - (ii) depositing or procuring the St. George Share Registry to deposit the amount into an account with any Australian ADI (as defined in the Corporations Act) notified to St. George by an appropriate authority from the SAINTS Scheme Participants.

- (d) In the event that:
- (i) a SAINTS Scheme Participant does not have a Registered Address; or
 - (ii) the Trustee believes that a SAINTS Scheme Participant is not known at the SAINTS Holder's Registered Address, and no account has been notified to St. George in accordance with paragraph (c)(ii), or a deposit into such an account is rejected or refunded, the Trustee may credit the amount payable to the relevant SAINTS Scheme Participant to a separate bank account of St. George to be held until the SAINTS Scheme Participant claims the amount or the amount is dealt with in accordance with unclaimed money legislation. St. George must hold the amount on trust, but any benefit accruing from the amount will be to the benefit of St. George. An amount credited to this account is to be treated as having been paid to the SAINTS Scheme Participant when credited to the account. St. George must maintain records of the amounts paid, the people who are entitled to the amounts and any transfers of the amounts.

- (e) To the extent that there is a surplus in the amount held by the Trustee in the trust accounts established under this clause 5.1, that surplus may be paid by the Trustee to Westpac following the satisfaction of the Trustee's obligations under this clause 5.1.

5.2 Joint Holders

In the case of SAINTS held in joint names, any SAINTS Scheme Consideration shall be payable to and be forwarded to the holder whose name appears first in the SAINTS Register as at the Scheme Record Date.

6. Stub Dividend

6.1 Stub Dividend

If the Implementation Date occurs after 20 November 2008, then St. George must procure that its Directors declare a dividend, in an amount calculated in accordance with clause 6.2, as may be adjusted in accordance with clause 6.3, which will:

- (a) have the Scheme Record Date as the record date; and
 - (b) be payable on the Implementation Date to each SAINTS Scheme Participant,
- (the Stub Dividend).

6.2 Calculation of Stub Dividend

- (a) The amount of any Stub Dividend will be calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Stub Dividend} = (\text{Dividend Rate} \times \text{Face Value} \times N) / 365$$

where:

Face Value is $100;

N is the number of days from (and including) 20 November 2008 until (but not including) the Implementation Date; and

Dividend Rate expressed as a percentage per annum is calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$(\text{Market Rate} + \text{Margin}) \times (1 - T)$$

where:

Market Rate means the Bank Bill Swap Rate for 90 day bills applying on 20 November 2008 expressed as a percentage per annum;

Bank Bill Swap Rate means the rate, expressed as a percentage per annum, calculated as the average mid rate for bills of a term of 90 days which average rate is displayed on the Reuters page designated BBSW (or any page which replaces that page) on 20 November 2008, or if there is a manifest error in the calculation of that average rate or that average rate is not displayed by 10.30am on that date, the rate specified in good faith by St. George at or around that time on that date having regard, to the extent possible, to:

- (i) the rate otherwise bid and offered for bills of that term or for funds of that tenor displayed on that page BBSW (or any page which replaces that page) at that time on the date; and
- (ii) if bid and offer rates for bills of that term are not otherwise available, the rates otherwise bid and offered for funds of that tenor at or around that time;

Margin is 1.35% per annum; and

T means the Australian corporate tax rate applicable on the allotment date of the SAINTS, being 0.30.

- (b) All calculations of Stub Dividends will be rounded to four decimal places. For the purposes of making any Stub Dividend payment in respect of a SAINTS Scheme Participant's total holding of SAINTS, any fraction of a cent will be disregarded.

6.3 Franking adjustment

- (a) If, on the Implementation Date, the Australian corporate tax rate applicable to the franking account of St.George from which the Stub Dividend will be franked (T_i) differs from the Australian corporate tax rate on the allotment date of the SAINTS (T), the Stub Dividend will be adjusted in accordance with the following formula (rounded to the nearest four decimal places):

$$\text{Stub Dividend} \times \frac{(1 - T_i)}{(1 - T)}$$

where:

Stub Dividend is the amount calculated under clause 6.2;

T_i is the Australian corporate tax rate applicable to the franking account of St.George from which the Stub Dividend will be franked, expressed as a decimal; and

T means 0.30.

- (b) If the Stub Dividend is not franked to 100% under Part 3-6 of the Tax Act (or any provisions that revise or replace that part), the Stub Dividend will be adjusted in accordance with the following formula:

$$\frac{D}{1 - (T_i \times (1 - F))}$$

where:

D is the Stub Dividend calculated under paragraph (a), or clause 6.2 where there has been no application of paragraph (a);

T_i has the same meaning as in paragraph (a); and

F is the franking percentage (within the meaning of Part 3-6 of the Tax Act or any part that replaces or revises that part) of the Stub Dividend, expressed as a decimal to four decimal places.

6.4 Payment of Stub Dividend

- (a) If a Stub Dividend is payable, St.George must on the Implementation Date pay each SAINTS Scheme Participant such amount of cash as is due to that SAINTS Scheme Participant as a Stub Dividend in respect of all the SAINTS held by the SAINTS Scheme Participant on the Scheme Record Date.
- (b) Unless paragraph (c) applies, the amount referred to in paragraph (a) may be paid by St.George doing any of the following at its election:
- (i) sending the amount to the SAINTS Scheme Participant's Registered Address by cheque in Australian currency; or
 - (ii) depositing or procuring the St.George Share Registry to deposit the amount into an account with any Australian ADI (as defined in the Corporations Act) notified to St.George by an appropriate authority from the SAINTS Scheme Participants.

- (c) In the event that:

- (i) a SAINTS Scheme Participant does not have a Registered Address; or
- (ii) St.George believes that a SAINTS Scheme Participant is not known at the SAINTS Holder's Registered Address, and no account has been notified to St.George in accordance with paragraph (b)(ii), or a deposit into such an account is rejected or refunded, St.George may credit the amount payable to the relevant SAINTS Scheme Participant to a separate bank account of St.George to be held until the SAINTS Scheme Participant claims the amount or the amount is dealt with in accordance with unclaimed money legislation. St.George must hold the amount on trust, but any benefit accruing from the amount will be to the benefit of St.George. An amount credited to this account is to be treated as having been paid to the SAINTS Scheme Participant when credited to the account. St.George must maintain records of the amounts paid, the people who are entitled to the amounts and any transfers of the amounts.

- (d) To the extent that there is a surplus in the amount held by St.George in the trust account, that surplus may be paid by St.George to Westpac following the satisfaction of St.George's obligations under this clause 6.4.
- (e) In the case of SAINTS held in joint names, any Stub Dividend shall be payable to and be forwarded to the holder whose name appears first in the SAINTS Register as at the Scheme Record Date.

6.5 Withholding obligations

Despite anything else in this clause 6, St.George will be entitled to deduct from any Stub Dividend payable to a SAINTS Scheme Participant the amount of any withholding or other tax, duty or levy required by law to be deducted in respect of such amount. If any such deduction has been made and the amount of the deduction accounted for by St.George to the relevant revenue authority and the balance of the amount payable has been paid to the SAINTS Scheme Participant concerned, then the full amount payable to such SAINTS Scheme Participant shall be deemed to have been duly paid and satisfied by St.George. St.George will pay the full amount required to be deducted to the relevant revenue authority within the time allowed for such payment.

6.6 Future dividends

Following transfer of the Scheme SAINTS to Westpac, the SAINTS will be governed by their terms of issue except that "N" in clause 2.1 of the terms of issue will be the number of days from (and including) the Implementation Date (as defined in this SAINTS Scheme) until (but not including) the relevant Dividend Payment Date (as defined in the terms of issue).

7. Dealings in SAINTS

7.1 Dealings

For the purpose of establishing who are SAINTS Scheme Participants, dealings in SAINTS will only be recognised if:

- (a) in the case of dealings of the type to be effected using CHES, the transferee is registered in the SAINTS Register as the holder of the relevant SAINTS on or before the Scheme Record Date; and
- (b) in all other cases, registrable transmission applications or transfers in respect of those dealings are received on or before the Scheme Record Date at the place where the SAINTS Register is kept.

7.2 SAINTS Register

- (a) St. George must register registrable transmission applications or transfers of SAINTS received in accordance with clause 7.1(b) by the Scheme Record Date.
- (b) St. George will not accept for registration or recognise for any purpose any transmission application or transfer in respect of SAINTS received after the Scheme Record Date, except a transfer to Westpac pursuant to this SAINTS Scheme and any subsequent transfer by Westpac.
- (c) For the purpose of determining entitlements to the SAINTS Scheme Consideration, St. George will, until the SAINTS Scheme Consideration has been provided, maintain the SAINTS Register in accordance with the provisions of this clause 7 and the SAINTS Register in this form will solely determine entitlements to the SAINTS Scheme Consideration and any Stub Dividend.
- (d) St. George must procure that, on or before 9.00am on the Business Day following the Scheme Record Date, details of the names, registered addresses and holdings of SAINTS of every SAINTS Scheme Participant as shown in the SAINTS Register at the Scheme Record Date are available to Westpac in such form as Westpac may reasonably require.
- (e) As from the Scheme Record Date (and other than for Westpac, or its successors in title), all share certificates and holding statements for the SAINTS will cease to have effect as documents of title, and each entry on the SAINTS Register at that date will cease to have any effect other than as evidence of entitlement to the SAINTS Scheme Consideration and any Stub Dividend.

("St.George Shareholders")

Notice is given that, by an order of the Court made on 29 September 2008 pursuant to section 411(1) of the Corporations Act, a meeting of St.George Shareholders (other than Excluded Shareholders)¹ will be held in Sydney at Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney on Thursday 13 November 2008 starting at 10.00am (Sydney time).

Purpose of the meeting

The purpose of the meeting is to consider and, if thought fit, to agree to a scheme of arrangement proposed to be made between St.George and the St.George Shareholders (other than Excluded Shareholders).

A copy of the Share Scheme and a copy of the explanatory statement required by section 412 of the Corporations Act in relation to the Share Scheme are contained in the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part.

Resolution

The meeting will be asked to consider and, if thought fit, to pass the following resolution:

"That, pursuant to and in accordance with section 411 of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), the scheme of arrangement proposed between St.George Bank Limited and the holders of its fully paid ordinary shares (other than Excluded Shareholders), as contained in and more particularly described in the Scheme Booklet of which the notice convening this meeting forms part, is approved and the Board of Directors of St.George Bank Limited is authorised to agree to such alterations or conditions as are thought fit by the Court and, subject to approval of the scheme of arrangement by the Court, to implement the scheme of arrangement with any such alterations or conditions."

In accordance with section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act, the Share Scheme (with or without modification) is subject to the approval of the Court. If the resolution set out in this notice is approved by the requisite majorities, and the other Conditions Precedent to the Share Scheme (other than approved by the Court) are satisfied or waived by the time required under the Share Scheme, St.George intends to apply to the Court for the necessary orders to give effect to the Share Scheme.

By order of the Board

Dated 29 September 2008

¹ An "Excluded Shareholder" is a St.George Shareholder who is Westpac or a Related Body Corporate of Westpac. However, such a St.George Shareholder will not be an Excluded Shareholder if that St.George Shareholder has no beneficial interest in any St.George Shares held. Where such a St.George Shareholder has a beneficial interest in some, but not all, of the St.George Shares held, that person will be an Excluded Shareholder, but only in respect of those St.George Shares in which a beneficial interest is held.

Explanatory notes

Terms used in this Notice of Share Scheme Meeting (including in these explanatory notes) have the same meaning as set out in the glossary contained in Section 13 of the Scheme Booklet of which this Notice of Share Scheme Meeting forms part.

This Notice of Share Scheme Meeting should be read in conjunction with the entire Scheme Booklet of which it forms part. The Scheme Booklet contains important information to assist you in determining how to vote on the resolution.

Entitlement to vote

Pursuant to section 411 of the Corporations Act and all other enabling powers, the Court has determined that the time for determining eligibility to vote at the Share Scheme Meeting is 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008. Only those St.George Shareholders (other than Excluded Shareholders) entered on the Share Register at that time will be entitled to attend and vote at the Share Scheme Meeting.

Voting

Voting will be by poll. If you are a St.George Shareholder entitled to attend and vote at the Share Scheme Meeting, you may vote by:

- attending the meeting and voting in person or, in the case of corporations, by corporate representative;
- appointing an attorney to attend and vote on your behalf; or
- appointing one or two proxies to attend and vote on your behalf, using the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form accompanying the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part.

St.George Shareholders or their representatives who plan to attend the Share Scheme Meeting are asked to arrive at the venue at approximately 9.30am (Sydney time) (that is, 30 minutes prior to the time designated for the start of the Share Scheme Meeting), so that their shareholding may be checked against the Share Register, their power of attorney or appointment as corporate representative can be verified (as the case may be) and their attendance noted.

Jointly held securities

If the St.George Shares are jointly held, only one of the joint shareholders is entitled to vote. If more than one shareholder votes in respect of jointly held St.George Shares, only the vote of the shareholder whose name appears first on the Share Register will be counted.

Voting in person

To vote in person at the Share Scheme Meeting, you must attend the Share Scheme Meeting.

An eligible St.George Shareholder who wishes to attend and vote at the Share Scheme Meeting in person will be admitted to the Share Scheme Meeting and given a voting card on disclosure at the point of entry to the Share Scheme Meeting of their name and address.

Voting by corporate representative

In order to vote in person at the Share Scheme Meeting, an eligible St.George Shareholder that is a corporation may appoint an individual to act as its representative. The appointment must comply with the requirements of section 250D of the Corporations Act, meaning that St.George will require a Certificate of Appointment of Corporate Representative executed in accordance with the Corporations Act. A copy of such a Certificate may be obtained from the St.George Registry. The Certificate should be lodged with the St.George Registry before the Share Scheme Meeting or at the registration desk on the day of the meeting. The Certificate will be retained by St.George.

If a Certificate is completed by an individual or a corporation under power of attorney, the power of attorney under which the Certificate is signed, or a certified copy of that power of attorney, must accompany the completed Certificate unless the power of attorney has previously been noted by St.George.

Voting by attorney

An eligible St.George Shareholder is entitled to appoint an attorney to attend the Share Scheme Meeting on the shareholder's behalf. An attorney need not be a member of St.George. Each attorney will have the right to vote on the poll and also to speak at the Share Scheme Meeting.

The power of attorney appointing the attorney in respect of the Share Scheme Meeting must be duly executed and specify the name of the applicable St.George Shareholder, the company (that is, St.George) and the attorney, and also specify the meetings at which the appointment may be used. The appointment may be a standing one.

The power of attorney, or a certified copy of the power of attorney, should be lodged with the St.George Registry before the Share Scheme Meeting or at the registration desk on the day of the meeting.

An attorney will be admitted to the Share Scheme Meeting and given a voting card on providing at the point of entry of the Share Scheme Meeting written evidence of their appointment, their name and address and the identity of their appointor.

The appointment of an attorney will not preclude any eligible St.George Shareholder from attending the Share Scheme Meeting in person and voting at the Share Scheme Meeting.

Voting by proxy

An eligible St. George Shareholder is entitled to appoint one or two proxies. A proxy need not be a member of St. George. Each proxy will have the right to vote on a poll and also to speak at the Share Scheme Meeting.

To appoint a proxy, the St. George Shareholder should complete, sign and deliver the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form accompanying this Scheme Booklet. If a St. George Shareholder wishes to appoint two proxies, a separate Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form should be used for each. A request should be made to the St. George Registry for an additional Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form. Replacement Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Forms can also be requested from the St. George Registry.

Where two proxies are appointed, each proxy should be appointed to represent a specified proportion of the St. George Shareholder's voting rights. If the proxy appointments do not specify the proportion of the St. George Shareholder's voting rights that each proxy may exercise, each proxy may exercise half of the St. George Shareholder's votes.

St. George Shareholders should consider how they wish the proxy to vote. That is, whether the St. George Shareholder wishes the proxy to vote 'For' or 'Against', or abstain from voting on, the resolution, or whether to leave the decision to the appointed proxy after discussion at the Share Scheme Meeting.

The chairman and the other St. George Directors intend to vote all valid undirected proxies which they receive in favour of the resolution.

If a proxy is not directed how to vote on an item of business, the proxy may vote, or abstain from voting, as that person thinks fit. If a proxy is instructed to abstain from voting on an item of business, that person is directed not to vote on the St. George Shareholder's behalf on a show of hands or on a poll, and the shares the subject of the proxy appointment will not be counted in computing the required majority.

Eligible St. George Shareholders who return their Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Forms but do not nominate the identity of their proxy will be taken to have appointed the chairman of the meeting as their proxy to vote on their behalf. If an Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form is returned but the nominated proxy does not attend the meeting, the chairman of the meeting will act in place of the nominated proxy and vote in accordance with the directions on the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form. Proxy appointments in favour of the chairman of the Share Scheme Meeting, the company secretary of St. George, or any St. George Director which do not contain a direction will be used to support the resolution to approve the Share Scheme.

A proxy will be admitted to the Share Scheme Meeting and given a voting card on providing at the point of entry to the Share Scheme Meeting written evidence of their name and address.

The appointment of a proxy will not preclude any eligible St. George Shareholder from attending in person, revoking a proxy and voting at the Share Scheme Meeting.

The instrument appointing a proxy is required to be in writing under the hand of the appointor or of that person's attorney and, if the appointor is a corporation, in accordance with the Corporations Act or under the hand of an authorised officer or attorney. Where two or more persons are registered as a member, each person must sign the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form.

If an Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form is completed by an individual or a corporation under power of attorney:

- the power of attorney under which the form is signed, or a certified copy of that power of attorney, must accompany the completed Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form; and
- the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form may only be lodged in person or by post, unless the power of attorney has previously been noted by the St. George Registry, in which case the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form can also be lodged by fax.

Completed Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Forms can be returned using the return addressed envelope provided with the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part. A Proxy Form must be received in person, by post or by facsimile at the St. George Registry in accordance with the directions on the back of the enclosed Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008. An Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form received after this time will be invalid.

Online submission of proxy appointment(s)

Alternatively, St. George Shareholders can submit their proxy appointment(s) online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au.

To use this Online Proxy Facility, you will need your Securityholder Reference Number (SRN) or Holder Identification Number (HIN) and postcode, as shown on your Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form. You will be taken to have signed the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form if you lodge it in accordance with the instructions on the website. If you wish to use this facility, you must lodge your Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form through the facility by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008. A proxy appointment cannot be submitted electronically by a person acting on behalf of a St. George Shareholder under a power of attorney or similar authority. The Online Proxy Facility may not be suitable for some St. George Shareholders who wish to appoint two proxies with different voting directions. Please read the instructions for the Online Proxy Facility carefully before you lodge your proxy using this facility.

If a proxy is instructed to abstain from voting on an item of business, that person is directed not to vote on the SAINTS Holder's behalf on a show of hands or on a poll, and the shares the subject of the proxy appointment will not be counted in computing the required majority.

Eligible SAINTS Holders who return their SAINTS Holders Proxy Forms but do not nominate the identity of their proxy will be taken to have appointed the chairman of the meeting as their proxy to vote on their behalf. If a SAINTS Holders Proxy Form is returned but the nominated proxy does not attend the meeting, the chairman of the meeting will act in place of the nominated proxy and vote in accordance with the directions on the SAINTS Holders Proxy Form. Proxy appointments in favour of the chairman of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting, the company secretary of St.George, or any St.George Director which do not contain a direction will be used to support the resolution to approve the SAINTS Scheme.

A proxy will be admitted to the SAINTS Scheme Meeting and given a voting card on providing at the point of entry to the SAINTS Scheme Meeting written evidence of their name and address.

The appointment of a proxy will not preclude any eligible SAINTS Holder from attending in person, revoking a proxy and voting at the SAINTS Scheme Meeting.

The instrument appointing a proxy is required to be in writing under the hand of the appointor or of that person's attorney and, if the appointor is a corporation, in accordance with the Corporations Act or under the hand of an authorised officer or attorney. Where two or more persons are registered as a member, each person must sign the SAINTS Holders Proxy Form.

If a SAINTS Holders Proxy Form is completed by an individual or a corporation under power of attorney:

- the power of attorney under which the form is signed, or a certified copy of that power of attorney, must accompany the completed SAINTS Holders Proxy Form; and
- the SAINTS Holders Proxy Form may only be lodged in person or by post, unless the power of attorney has previously been noted by the St.George Registry, in which case the SAINTS Holders Proxy Form can also be lodged by fax.

Completed SAINTS Holders Proxy Forms can be returned using the return addressed envelope provided with the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part. A SAINTS Holders Proxy Form must be received in person, by post or by facsimile at the St.George Registry in accordance with the directions on the back of the enclosed Proxy Form by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on 11 November 2008. A SAINTS Holders Proxy Form received after this time will be invalid.

Notice of Court ordered meeting of Award Option Holders

Notice is given that, by an order of the Court made on 29 September 2008 pursuant to section 411(1) of the Corporations Act, a meeting of Award Option Holders will be held in Sydney at Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney on Thursday 13 November 2008. The meeting will start at the later of 11.30am (Sydney time) and the conclusion or adjournment of the SAINTS Scheme Meeting to be held on the same day.

Purpose of the meeting

The purpose of the meeting is to consider and, if thought fit, to agree to a scheme of arrangement proposed to be made between St. George and the Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders).

A copy of the Option Scheme and a copy of the explanatory statement required by section 412 of the Corporations Act in relation to the Option Scheme are contained in the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part.

Resolution

The meeting will be asked to consider and, if thought fit, to pass the following resolution:

"That, pursuant to and in accordance with section 411 of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), the scheme of arrangement proposed between St. George Bank Limited and the holders of Award Options (other than Excluded Award Option Holders), as contained in and more particularly described in the Scheme Booklet of which the notice convening this meeting forms part, is approved and the Board of Directors of St. George Bank Limited is authorised to agree to such alterations or conditions as are thought fit by the Court and, subject to approval of the scheme of arrangement by the Court, to implement the scheme of arrangement with any such alterations or conditions."

Court approval

In accordance with section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act, the Option Scheme (with or without modification) is subject to the approval of the Court. If the resolution set out in this notice is approved by the requisite majority, and the Share Scheme and Constitution Amendment are approved by St. George Shareholders, and all other conditions precedent to the Share Scheme (other than approval by the Court) have been satisfied or waived, St. George intends to apply to the Court for the necessary orders to give effect to the Option Scheme.

By order of the Board

Dated 29 September 2008

Explanatory notes

Terms used in this Notice of Option Scheme Meeting (including in these explanatory notes) have the same meaning as set out in the glossary contained in Section 13 of the Scheme Booklet of which this Notice of Option Scheme Meeting forms part.

This Notice of Option Scheme Meeting should be read in conjunction with the entire Scheme Booklet of which it forms part. The Scheme Booklet contains important information to assist you in determining how to vote on the resolution.

Entitlement to vote

Pursuant to section 411 of the Corporations Act and all other enabling powers, the Court has determined that the time for determining eligibility to vote at the Option Scheme Meeting is 7.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008. Only those Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders) entered on the Award Option Register at that time will be entitled to attend and vote at the Option Scheme Meeting.

Voting

Voting will be by poll. If you are an Award Option Holder entitled to attend and vote at the Option Scheme Meeting, you may vote by:

- attending the meeting and voting in person;
- appointing an attorney to attend and vote on your behalf; or
- appointing one or two proxies to attend and vote on your behalf, using the Award Option Holders Proxy Form accompanying the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part.

Award Option Holders or their representatives who plan to attend the Option Scheme Meeting and who are not attending either the Share Scheme Meeting, Extraordinary General Meeting or SAINTS Scheme Meeting are asked to arrive at the venue at approximately 11.00am (Sydney time) (that is, 30 minutes prior to earliest time designated for the start of the Option Scheme Meeting), so that their Award Option holding may be checked against the Award Option Register, their power of attorney can be verified and their attendance noted.

Voting in person

To vote in person at the Option Scheme Meeting, you must attend the Option Scheme Meeting.

An eligible Award Option Holder who wishes to attend vote at the Option Scheme Meeting in person will be admitted to the Option Scheme Meeting and given a voting card on disclosure at the point of entry to the Option Scheme Meeting of their name and address.

Voting by attorney

An eligible Award Option Holder is entitled to appoint an attorney to attend the Option Scheme Meeting on the option holder's behalf. An attorney need not be a member of St. George. Each attorney will have the right to vote on the poll and also to speak at the Option Scheme Meeting.

The power of attorney appointing the attorney in respect of the Option Scheme Meeting must be duly executed and specify the name of the applicable Award Option Holder, the company (that is, St. George) and the attorney, and also specify the meetings at which the appointment may be used. The appointment may be a standing one.

The power of attorney, or a certified copy of the power of attorney, should be lodged with the St. George Registry before the Option Scheme Meeting or at the registration desk on the day of the meeting.

An attorney will be admitted to the Option Scheme Meeting and given a voting card on providing at the point of entry of the Option Scheme Meeting written evidence of their appointment, their name and address and the identity of their appointor.

The appointment of an attorney will not preclude any eligible Award Option Holder from attending the Option Scheme Meeting in person and voting at the Option Scheme Meeting.

Voting by proxy

An eligible Award Option Holder is entitled to appoint one or two proxies. A proxy need not be a member of St. George. Each proxy will have the right to vote on a poll and also to speak at the Option Scheme Meeting.

To appoint a proxy, the Award Option Holder should complete, sign and deliver the Award Option Holders Proxy Form accompanying this Scheme Booklet. If an Award Option Holder wishes to appoint two proxies, a separate Award Option Holders Proxy Form should be used for each. A request should be made to the St. George Registry for an additional Award Option Holders Proxy Form. Replacement Award Option Holders Proxy Forms can also be requested from the St. George Registry.

Where two proxies are appointed, each proxy should be appointed to represent a specified proportion of the Award Option Holder's voting rights. If the proxy appointments do not specify the proportion of the Award Option Holder's voting rights that each proxy may exercise, each proxy may exercise half of the Award Option Holder's votes.

Award Option Holders should consider how they wish the proxy to vote. That is, whether the Award Option Holder wishes the proxy to vote 'For' or 'Against', or abstain from voting on, the resolution, or whether to leave the decision to the appointed proxy after discussion at the Option Scheme Meeting.

The chairman and the other St. George Directors intend to vote all valid undirected proxies which they receive in favour of the resolution.

If a proxy is not directed how to vote on an item of business, the proxy may vote, or abstain from voting, as that person thinks fit. If a proxy is instructed to abstain from voting on an item of business, that person is directed not to vote on the Award Option Holder's behalf on a show of hands or on a poll, and the shares the subject of the proxy appointment will not be counted in computing the required majority.

Eligible Award Option Holders who return their Award Option Holders Proxy Forms but do not nominate the identity of their proxy will be taken to have appointed the chairman of the meeting as their proxy to vote on their behalf. If an Award Option Holders Proxy Form is returned but the nominated proxy does not attend the meeting, the chairman of the meeting will act in place of the nominated proxy and vote in accordance with the directions on the Award Option Holders Proxy Form. Proxy appointments in favour of the chairman of the Option Scheme Meeting, the company secretary of St. George, or any St. George Director which do not contain a direction will be used to support the resolution to approve the Option Scheme.

A proxy will be admitted to the Option Scheme Meeting and given a voting card on providing at the point of entry to the Option Scheme Meeting written evidence of their name and address.

The appointment of a proxy will not preclude any eligible Award Option Holder from attending in person, revoking a proxy and voting at the Option Scheme Meeting.

The instrument appointing a proxy is required to be in writing under the hand of the appointor or of that person's attorney.

If an Award Option Holders Proxy Form is completed by an individual under power of attorney:

- the power of attorney under which the form is signed, or a certified copy of that power of attorney, must accompany the completed Award Option Holders Proxy Form; and
- the Award Option Holders Proxy Form may only be lodged in person or by post, unless the power of attorney has previously been noted by the St. George Registry, in which case the Award Option Holders Proxy Form can also be lodged by fax.

Completed Award Option Holders Proxy Forms can be returned using the return addressed envelope provided with the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part. An Award Option Holders Proxy Form must be received in person, by post or by facsimile at the St. George Registry in accordance with the directions on the back of the enclosed Award Option Holders Proxy Form by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008. An Award Option Holders Proxy Form received after this time will be invalid.

Online submission of proxy appointment(s)

Alternatively, Award Option Holders (other than Excluded Award Option Holders who are not entitled to vote) can submit their proxy appointment(s) online at www.stgeorgemerge.com.au.

To use this Online Proxy Facility, you will need your Securityholder Reference Number (SRN) or Holder Identification Number (HIN) and postcode, as shown on your Award Option Holders Proxy Form. You will be taken to have signed the Award Option Holders Proxy Form if you lodge it in accordance with the instructions on the website. A proxy appointment cannot be submitted electronically by a person acting on behalf of an Award Option Holder under a power of attorney or similar authority. The Online Proxy Facility may not be suitable for some Award Option Holders who wish to appoint two proxies with different voting directions. Please read the instructions for the Online Proxy Facility carefully before you lodge your proxy using this facility.

Annexure D Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting

St. George Bank Limited (ABN 92 055 513 070)

Notice of Extraordinary General Meeting of St. George Shareholders

Notice is given that an Extraordinary General Meeting of St. George Bank Limited ABN 92 055 513 070 will be held in Sydney at Exhibition Hall 1, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, Sydney on Thursday 13 November 2008 starting at the later of 10.30am (Sydney time) and the conclusion or adjournment of the Share Scheme Meeting.

Purpose of the meeting

The purpose of the meeting is to consider and, if thought fit, to agree to an amendment to the St. George Constitution to remove the 10% limit on the amount of issued share capital in St. George that any one shareholder (together with their associates) can hold.

As Westpac intends to acquire 100% of the issued ordinary capital of St. George pursuant to the Share Scheme, the Constitution Amendment must occur in order for the Share Scheme to be implemented.

The Constitution Amendment is conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming Effective. If the Constitution Amendment is approved by the requisite majority but the Share Scheme does not become Effective, the St. George Constitution will not change.

Resolution

The meeting will be asked to consider and, if thought fit, to pass the following resolution as a special resolution:

"That, upon the Effective Date for the Share Scheme, the St. George Constitution be amended by:

- (i) deleting the entire text of Article 10 and replacing with the words 'Not used';
- (ii) deleting the entire text of Article 11 and replacing with the words 'Not used'; and
- (iii) deleting the entire text of Article 12 and replacing with the words 'Not used'."

Required voting majority

In accordance with section 136(2) of the Corporations Act, a resolution to approve an amendment to the St. George Constitution must be approved by a special resolution. This means 75% of St. George Shareholders present and voting at the meeting (whether in person or by corporate representative, proxy or attorney) must vote in favour of the resolution for it to be passed.

By order of the Board

Dated 29 September 2008

Michael Bowan
Company Secretary

- (6) A person who contravenes sub-article (1), and any person believed by the directors to be a member in respect of any share owned by the first mentioned person does not, while that contravention continues, have any right:

Voting

Voting will be by poll. If you are a St. George Shareholder entitled to attend and vote at the Extraordinary General Meeting, you may vote by:

- attending the meeting and voting in person or, in the case of corporations, by corporate representative;
- appointing an attorney to attend and vote on your behalf; or
- appointing one or two proxies to attend and vote on your behalf, using the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form accompanying the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part.

St. George Shareholders or their representatives who plan to attend the Extraordinary General Meeting and who are not attending the Share Scheme Meeting are asked to arrive at the venue at approximately 9.30am (Sydney time) (that is, 30 minutes prior to the time designated for the start of the Share Scheme Meeting), so that their shareholding may be checked against the St. George Share Register, their power of attorney or appointment as corporate representative can be verified (as the case may be) and their attendance noted.

Jointly held securities

If the St. George Shares are jointly held, only one of the joint shareholders is entitled to vote. If more than one shareholder votes in respect of jointly held St. George Shares, only the vote of the shareholder whose name appears first on the Share Register will be counted.

Voting in person

To vote in person at the Extraordinary General Meeting, you must attend the Extraordinary General Meeting.

An eligible St. George Shareholder who wishes to attend and vote at the Extraordinary General Meeting in person will be admitted to the Extraordinary General Meeting and given a voting card on disclosure at the point of entry to the Extraordinary General Meeting of their name and address.

Voting by corporate representative

In order to vote in person at the Extraordinary General Meeting, an eligible St. George Shareholder that is a corporation may appoint an individual to act as its representative. The appointment must comply with the requirements of section 250D of the Corporations Act, meaning that St. George will require a Certificate of Appointment of Corporate Representative executed in accordance with the Corporations Act. A copy of such a Certificate may be obtained from the St. George Registry. The Certificate should be lodged with the St. George Registry before the Extraordinary General Meeting or at the registration desk on the day of the meeting. The Certificate will be retained by St. George.

If a Certificate is completed by an individual or a corporation under power of attorney, the power of attorney under which the Certificate is signed, or a certified copy of that power of attorney, must accompany the completed Certificate unless the power of attorney has previously been noted by St. George.

Voting by attorney

An eligible St. George Shareholder is entitled to appoint an attorney to attend the Extraordinary General Meeting on the shareholder's behalf. An attorney need not be a member of St. George. Each attorney will have the right to vote on the poll and also to speak at the Extraordinary General Meeting.

The power of attorney appointing the attorney in respect of the Extraordinary General Meeting must be duly executed and specify the name of the applicable St. George Shareholder, the company (that is, St. George) and the attorney, and also specify the meetings at which the appointment may be used. The appointment may be a standing one.

The power of attorney, or a certified copy of the power of attorney, should be lodged with the St. George Registry before the Extraordinary General Meeting or at the registration desk on the day of the meeting.

An attorney will be admitted to the Extraordinary General Meeting and given a voting card on providing at the point of entry of the Extraordinary General Meeting written evidence of their appointment, their name and address and the identity of their appointor.

The appointment of an attorney will not preclude any eligible St. George Shareholder from attending the Extraordinary General Meeting in person and voting at the Extraordinary General Meeting.

Voting by proxy

An eligible St. George Shareholder is entitled to appoint one or two proxies. A proxy need not be a member of St. George. Each proxy will have the right to vote on a poll and also to speak at the Extraordinary General Meeting.

To appoint a proxy, the St. George Shareholder should complete, sign and deliver the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form accompanying this Scheme Booklet. If a St. George Shareholder wishes to appoint two proxies, a separate Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form should be used for each. A request should be made to the St. George Registry for an additional Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form. Replacement Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Forms can also be requested from the St. George Registry.

Where two proxies are appointed, each proxy should be appointed to represent a specified proportion of the St. George Shareholder's voting rights. If the proxy appointments do not specify the proportion of the St. George Shareholder's voting rights that each proxy may exercise, each proxy may exercise half of the St. George Shareholder's votes.

St. George Shareholders should consider how they wish the proxy to vote. That is, whether the St. George Shareholder wishes the proxy to vote 'For' or 'Against', or abstain from voting on, the resolution, or whether to leave the decision to the appointed proxy after discussion at the Extraordinary General Meeting.

The chairman and other St. George Directors intend to vote all undirected proxies which they receive in favour of the resolution.

If a proxy is not directed how to vote on an item of business, the proxy may vote, or abstain from voting, as that person thinks fit. If a proxy is instructed to abstain from voting on an item of business, that person is directed not to vote on the St. George Shareholder's behalf on a show of hands or on a poll, and the shares the subject of the proxy appointment will not be counted in computing the required majority.

Eligible St. George Shareholders who return their Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Forms but do not nominate the identity of their proxy will be taken to have appointed the chairman of the meeting as their proxy to vote on their behalf. If an Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form is returned but the nominated proxy does not attend the meeting, the chairman of the meeting will act in place of the nominated proxy and vote in accordance with the directions on the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form. Proxy appointments in favour of the chairman of the Extraordinary General Meeting, the company secretary of St. George, or any St. George Director which do not contain a direction will be used to support the resolution to approve the Constitution Amendment.

A proxy will be admitted to the Extraordinary General Meeting and given a voting card on providing at the point of entry to the Extraordinary General Meeting written evidence of their name and address.

The appointment of a proxy will not preclude any eligible St. George Shareholder from attending in person, revoking a proxy and voting at the Extraordinary General Meeting.

The instrument appointing a proxy is required to be in writing under the hand of the appointor or of that person's attorney and, if the appointor is a corporation, in accordance with the Corporations Act or under the hand of an authorised officer or attorney. Where two or more persons are registered as a member, each person must sign the Proxy Form.

If an Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form is completed by an individual or a corporation under power of attorney:

- the power of attorney under which the form is signed, or a certified copy of that power of attorney, must accompany the completed Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form; and
- the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form may only be lodged in person or by post, unless the power of attorney has previously been noted by the St. George Registry, in which case the Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form can also be lodged by fax.

Completed Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Forms can be returned using the return addressed envelope provided with the Scheme Booklet of which this notice forms part. An Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form must be received in person, by post or by facsimile at the St. George Registry in accordance with the directions on the back of the enclosed Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form by no later than 12.00pm (Sydney time) on Tuesday 11 November 2008. An Ordinary Shareholders Proxy Form received after this time will be invalid.

Statement Pursuant to Section 249P of the Corporations Act 2001

To: ST.GEORGE BANK LIMITED ABN 92 055 513 070 ("Company")

Pursuant to section 249P of the Corporations Act 2001, we the undersigned, being (when aggregated with other signatories) in total at least 100 members of the Company who are entitled to vote at a general meeting, request the Company to give to all its members the statement outlined below that has been provided by the members making the request about a matter that may be properly considered at a general meeting.

"Shareholders opposing the merger with Westpac Banking Corporation"

St George is an extremely well known and respected Australian bank with a long history of commitment to its customers, staff and shareholders. It began as a building society in 1937 and has successfully differentiated itself from other major banks by building a customer friendly brand, focussed on product innovation and servicing local communities. St George's success is based on this differentiation and is due to the goodwill it has invested in its customers, communities and staff. This investment has built St George into a great Australian institution.

The Finance Sector Union (FSU) and other members believe the merger with Westpac is not in the best interests of customers, staff and shareholders.

We believe that the merger will:

- Result in the loss of up to 5,000 staff ;
- Reduce choice and customer service for Australian banking customers;
- Eventually see the iconic St.George and BankSA brands disappear.

There is every reason to believe that St George shares will remain profitable without the merger. In 2008, St George has the highest projected earnings per share growth of any of the major banks¹. For the past 5 years, St George's share price continues to outperform Westpac's, and St George has consistently increased return on equity (23.2% as of September 2007)². The merger with Westpac will fundamentally change the nature of St George and may well result in lower shareholder returns over the long term.

² St George Financial Results for year ending 30 September, 2007, St George Website

THE ST GEORGE BRAND

A merger between two companies is designed to create one company. Whilst Westpac asserts that their aim is to keep the St George brand separate from Westpac, in practise this is simply an illusion of choice and competition. The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission noted that "common ownership will remove the incentive for the two organisations to compete on price or on other aspects of the service offering."³

Westpac's record of maintaining separate branding and culture post mergers is poor. They failed to do this with Bank of Melbourne and failed again with Challenge Bank (WA). The St George and BankSA brands are very valuable and that value would be at risk if Westpac failed to properly protect and preserve the culture underpinning them.

The only way to genuinely retain St George as an independent company and independent competitor is to oppose the merger.

EMPLOYMENT

Industry analysts predict that up to 5,000 staff will lose their jobs if the merger proceeds with job cuts likely across duplicated back office functions such as call-centres, processing and support roles. The remaining staff will lose entitlements if St George ceases to be their employer.

St George has been a market leader and employer of choice in the finance sector. The superior terms and conditions enjoyed by St George staff have encouraged high levels of engagement, greater productivity and, consequently, good returns for shareholders.

Conversely, Westpac has failed to negotiate a collective agreement for its staff since 2002. In addition, Westpac employees continue to report chronic problems with under-staffing, unrealistic sales targets and dissatisfaction with pay levels. These issues impact on customer service and Westpac's customer satisfaction rating is consistently lower than St George.

CHOICE AND CUSTOMER SERVICE

St George is a market leader in customer satisfaction making it the envy of the major banks. Since 2001, St George has rated as much as 10% higher in customer satisfaction than Westpac.⁴ This has resulted in the attraction of new customers and sustained loyalty amongst existing customers.

If the merger proceeds there will be one less bank and consequently less choice for Australian consumers. A recent national poll of 1,000 people conducted by

⁴ Roy Morgan Data (as cited in The Sheet), 28 May 2008

McNair Ingenuity⁵ found that Australians are not satisfied with the current state of the banking market and sceptical about the merger delivering better outcomes for consumers.

The survey found that:

- 75% believe that the merger would mean less competition;
- 72% are already of the view that there is not enough competition between banks;
- 89% do not believe that the merger would result in lower fees;
- 69% believe that the merger would mean less pressure on banks to reduce fees and charges; and
- 21% of respondents with St George accounts indicated they would be likely to change banks if the merger proceeds.

A recent survey also found that most St George small business customers believed a merger with Westpac would be negative for their banking relationship and a significant number said they would consider switching banks.⁶ These results cast doubt on Westpac's business model that assumes revenue attrition of less than 5%.⁷

Westpac's hopes that it will lose less than 5% of revenue post merger is not supported by its track record in mergers, is much more ambitious than any previous result from bank mergers in Australia and is inconsistent with the view that many people prefer St George because it isn't one of the major banks.

The merger may create a bigger bank; however it may not necessarily create a better bank for customers.

CONCLUSION

The merger will have long term costs for all stakeholders. Consumers will have less choice, St George staff may lose their jobs and a high performing, iconic company that has maintained great returns for shareholders will disappear.

The success of St George is based on differentiation. It is not one of the big four.

As a St George shareholder you can be rightfully proud of the company you have helped build. You have contributed to developing a unique organisation that has successfully challenged its competitors to provide better banking services to the Australian community.

St George can continue to do this and still provide you with substantial returns on your investment well into the future. But it needs your continued commitment.

⁷ St George & Westpac proposed merger – ASX announcement 26 May 2008.

We urge you to consider all the consequences of the merger over the longer term.

We recommend that shareholders vote against the proposed constitutional amendment and the Scheme of Arrangement that will allow Westpac to takeover St George.

1 Details of the Westpac Proposal

On 13 May 2008, St.George Bank Limited ("St.George") and Westpac Banking Corporation ("Westpac") announced that they had agreed the key commercial terms for a proposed merger of the two companies (the "Westpac Proposal"). The Westpac Proposal was confirmed on 26 May 2008 following a two week exclusivity period during which St.George and Westpac undertook reciprocal due diligence and negotiated a Merger Implementation Agreement reflecting the key commercial terms of the Westpac Proposal.

Under the Westpac Proposal, holders of St.George ordinary shares ("St.George shareholders") will receive 1.31 Westpac shares for each St.George share held. In addition, St.George shareholders will be entitled to receive a final dividend capped at 97 cents per share in relation to the year ending 30 September 2008. On 8 September 2008, St.George announced that Westpac had agreed to the payment of a final and special dividend for the year ending 30 September 2008 of up to $1.25 per St.George share (including the previous final dividend capped at 97 cents for share). The cap of 97 cents on the final dividend reflects the exchange ratio of 1.31 Westpac shares for each St.George share. St.George shareholders will not be entitled to a final Westpac dividend for the year ending 30 September 2008 (which is capped at 74 cents per Westpac share).

St.George shareholders whose address on St.George's share register is in certain excluded jurisdictions¹ ("ineligible overseas shareholders") will not be eligible to receive Westpac shares under the Westpac Proposal. Such shareholders will receive in cash the net proceeds of the sale of the Westpac shares to which they would otherwise have been entitled.

The Westpac Proposal is to be implemented by way of a scheme of arrangement under Section 411 of the Corporations Act 2001 ("Corporations Act") between St.George and its ordinary shareholders (the "Share Scheme").

In addition to ordinary shares, St.George has other equity securities on issue which, under the Westpac Proposal, will be dealt with as follows:

- if the Share Scheme becomes effective, Westpac will offer to acquire the non-cumulative, redeemable and convertible preference shares known as SAINTS for a cash consideration of $100 per SAINTS (representing the face value of each SAINTS) by way of a scheme of arrangement between St.George and its SAINTS holders (the "SAINTS Scheme"). The SAINTS Scheme will not be implemented prior to the record date for the SAINTS dividend payable on 20 November 2008 so that SAINTS holders will be entitled to receive that dividend. SAINTS holders will also be entitled to receive any dividend that accrues between 21 November 2008 and the implementation of the SAINTS Scheme (the "stub dividend"). Implementation of the SAINTS Scheme is subject to and conditional upon the Share Scheme becoming effective;
- if the Share Scheme becomes effective, St.George will serve an exchange notice in respect of all the non-cumulative, unsecured preference shares ("SPS") and the non-cumulative unsecured, converting preference shares ("CPS" and "CPS II") nominating redemption as the exchange mechanism; and
- if the Share Scheme becomes effective, all award options (effectively nil exercise price options) (other than those held by excluded award optionholders) will be cancelled in exchange for the issue or transfer of 1.31 Westpac shares for each award option by way of a scheme of arrangement between St.George and its award optionholders (the "Option Scheme"). Westpac shares issued in relation to unvested award options will be held under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan and will be subject to disposal restrictions. The Option Scheme only applies to award options held by St.George employees other than eight senior executives and one former employee of St.George. These nine persons have entered into individual deeds to have their award options and executive options cancelled in exchange for Westpac shares;

¹ An excluded jurisdiction is one that is outside of Australia and its external territories, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, the United States, Hong Kong and Singapore.

GRANT SAMUEL

Implementation of each of the SAINTS Scheme and the Option Scheme is conditional on the Share Scheme becoming effective. However, implementation of the Share Scheme is not conditional on either the SAINTS Scheme or the Option Scheme becoming effective. The merger of St.George and Westpac will proceed as long as the Share Scheme is approved and implemented.

Westpac has agreed that any equity securities that remain on issue after implementation of the Share Scheme, including St.George's redeemable preference borrower shares and redeemable depositor shares, will be acquired by Westpac in accordance with the compulsory acquisition provisions set out in Part 6A.2 of the Corporations Act or by some other means determined by Westpac.

Westpac is one of Australia's four major banks, offering a complete range of banking and financial services to the retail, business and corporate sectors. It also has operations throughout New Zealand and the South Pacific and has offices in Singapore and Hong Kong. Westpac has been listed on the Australian Securities Exchange ("ASX") since January 1962 and, as at 15 September 2008, had a market capitalisation of $43.9 billion.

Based on market values as at 15 September 2008, at $61.0 billion the merged group will be Australia's largest financial services company and the second largest company by market capitalisation listed on the ASX. St.George shareholders will hold approximately 28% of the merged group and Westpac shareholders will hold 72%. Three St.George directors will join the Westpac Board, including the St.George Chairman, Mr John Curtis, who will become the Deputy Chairman of Westpac.

Under the Westpac Proposal, all Westpac and St.George brands, including BankSA and Asgard, will be retained, as will the branch and ATM network. Westpac has indicated that its intention is that there will be no net reduction in the number of branches and ATMs.

The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission ("ACCC") announced on 13 August 2008 that it would not oppose Westpac's proposed acquisition of St.George on the basis that the acquisition was unlikely to substantially lessen competition in the markets in which they compete. This announcement followed the release of the Act's preliminary views on 23 July 2008 where it identified the aggregation of the BT and Asgard platforms as a preliminary competition concern. Further market enquiries subsequently revealed that there were a range of substitutable products available to financial planning businesses and investors.

The Westpac Proposal is subject to a number of conditions that are contained in clause 3.1 of the Merger Implementation Agreement, the key terms of which are set out in Section 7 of the Scheme Booklet, including:

- receipt of all required regulatory approvals (including the Australian Securities and Investments Commission ("ASIC") and the ASX, the approval of the Federal Treasurer under the Banking Act 1959 (Cth) and the approval of the Federal Treasurer under the Financial Sector (Shareholdings) Act 1998 (Cth));
- the approval of St.George shareholders to implement the Share Scheme;
- the approval of St.George shareholders to change St.George's constitution to allow Westpac to acquire more than 10% of St.George's shares;
- the approval of the Share Scheme by the Federal Court of Australia;
- no order, injunction or other statutory legal restraint or prohibition is in effect preventing the implementation of the Share Scheme;
- the Westpac shares to be issued by Westpac as consideration under the Share Scheme are approved for official quotation by the ASX;
- no prescribed occurrences occur in relation to St.George or Westpac (which are defined to cover standard takeover prescribed occurrence events such as changes to capital structure, share issues, constitutional amendments and insolvency events);

GRANT SAMUEL

- no material adverse changes occur in relation to St.George or Westpac (which are defined to cover material changes in net assets, cash profits or loan impairment expense for the years ending 30 September 2008 and 2009); and
- the St.George and Westpac representations and warranties set out in Section 13 of the Merger Implementation Agreement are true and correct.

The Merger Implementation Agreement extends the exclusivity period for the duration of the Merger Implementation Agreement and includes no-shop and no-talk provisions. Under these provisions, St.George (including any of its representatives) may not solicit, invite, encourage or initiate any enquiries, negotiations or discussions with a view to obtaining any expression of interest, offer or proposal in relation to a competing transaction and must ensure that it does not negotiate or enter into, continue or participate in negotiations or discussions in relation to a competing transaction even if the competing transaction was not solicited, initiated or encouraged by St.George or the competing transaction has been publicly announced. St.George must not solicit, invite, facilitate or encourage any party to undertake a due diligence investigation on St.George or make available or permit the receipt of any non-public information in relation to St.George. St.George is required to notify Westpac if it is approached to engage in any activity that would breach these obligations. These provisions do not prevent St.George from considering or engaging in discussions in relation to any superior proposals which may emerge. The revised Merger Implementation Agreement signed on 8 September 2008 now provides for a break fee of $100 million in the event that any of the directors of St.George change their recommendation in relation to the Westpac Proposal or if a counter proposal is successful.

On 26 May 2008, the Board of St.George announced that it intended to recommend the Westpac Proposal to its shareholders subject to no superior proposal emerging, an independent expert's opinion that the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders and the St.George Board continuing to hold the view that the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders (compared to the position when the Westpac Proposal was announced on 13 May 2008).

2 Scope of the Report

2.1 Purpose of the Report

The Westpac Proposal is to be implemented by schemes of arrangement under Section 411 of the Corporations Act between St.George and its ordinary shareholders, St.George and its SAINTS holders and St.George and its optionholders (the "Schemes").

Under Section 411:

- the Share Scheme and the SAINTS Scheme must be approved by a majority in number (i.e. more than 50%) of the relevant security holders present and voting (either in person or by proxy) at the meeting, representing at least 75% of the votes cast on the resolution; and
- the Option Scheme must be approved by a majority in number (i.e. more than 50%) of option holders present and voting (either in person or by proxy) at the meeting, representing at least 75% of the value of the options held by the optionholders.

If approved by the relevant St.George security holders, each Scheme will then be subject to approval by the Federal Court of Australia.

Part 3 of Schedule 8 to the Corporations Regulations prescribes the information to be sent to shareholders in relation to schemes of arrangement pursuant to Section 411. Part 3 of Schedule 8 requires an independent expert's report in relation to a scheme of arrangement to be prepared when a party to a scheme of arrangement has a prescribed shareholding in the company subject to the scheme, or where any of its directors are also directors of the company subject to the scheme. In those circumstances, the independent expert's report must state whether the scheme of arrangement is in the best interests of shareholders subject to the scheme and must state reasons for that opinion.

Although there is no requirement in the present circumstances for an independent expert's report pursuant to the Corporations Act or the ASX Listing Rules, the directors of St.George have engaged Grant Samuel & Associates Pty Limited ("Grant Samuel") to prepare an independent expert's report setting out whether, in its opinion the Westpac Proposal is:

- in the best interests of St.George shareholders;
- in the best interests of SAINTS holders; and
- in the best interests of award optionholders, and to state reasons for those opinions. A summary of the report will accompany the Notices of Meetings and Explanatory Memorandum ("the Scheme Booklet") to be sent by St.George to its securityholders.

This report is general financial product advice only and has been prepared without taking into account the objectives, financial situation or needs of individual St.George securityholders. Accordingly, before acting in relation to their investment, securityholders should consider the appropriateness of the advice having regard to their own objectives, financial situation or needs. Security holders should read the Scheme Booklet issued by St.George in relation to the Westpac Proposal.

Voting for or against the Schemes is a matter for individual securityholders based on their views as to value, their expectations about future market conditions and their particular circumstances including risk profile, liquidity preference, investment strategy, portfolio structure and tax position. Securityholders who are in doubt as to the action they should take in relation to the Schemes should consult their own professional adviser.

Similarly, it is a matter for individual securityholders as to whether to buy, hold or sell shares in St.George, Westpac or the merged group. This is an investment decision independent of a decision to vote for or against the Schemes upon which Grant Samuel does not offer an opinion. Securityholders should consult their own professional adviser in this regard.

2.2 Basis of Evaluation

Schemes of arrangement pursuant to Section 411 can encompass a wide range of transactions. Accordingly, "in the best interests" must be capable of a broad interpretation to meet the particular circumstances of each transaction. However, there is no legal definition of the expression "in the best interests".

ASIC has issued Regulatory Guide 111 which establishes guidelines in respect of independent expert's reports. ASIC Regulatory Guide 111 differentiates between the analysis required for control transactions and other transactions. In the context of control transactions (whether by takeover bid, scheme of arrangement, the issue of securities or selective capital reduction or buyback), it comments on the meaning of "fair and reasonable" and continues earlier regulatory guidelines that created a distinction between "fair" and "reasonable". A proposal that, under takeover analysis, was "fair and reasonable" or "not fair but reasonable" would be in the best interests of shareholders. For most other transactions the expert is to weigh up the advantages and disadvantages of the proposal for shareholders. This involves a judgement on the part of the expert as to the overall commercial effect of the transaction, the circumstances that have led to the proposal and the alternatives available. The expert must weigh up the advantages and disadvantages of the proposal and form an overall view as to whether the shareholders are likely to be better off if the proposal is implemented than if it is not.

The Westpac Proposal is economically the same as a takeover offer. Accordingly, Grant Samuel has evaluated the Westpac Proposal as a control transaction and considered whether the offer is "fair and reasonable".

The term "fair and reasonable" has no legal definition although over time a commonly accepted interpretation has evolved. In the context of a takeover, an offer is considered fair and reasonable if the price fully reflects the value of a company's underlying businesses and assets. ASIC Regulatory Guide 111 continues earlier regulatory guidelines that create a distinction between "fair" and "reasonable". Fairness is said to involve a comparison of the offer price with the value that may be attributed to the securities that are the subject of the offer based on the value of the underlying businesses and assets. In determining fairness any existing entitlement to shares by the offeror is to be ignored. Reasonableness is said to involve an analysis of other factors that shareholders might consider prior to accepting a takeover offer such as:

- the offeror's existing shareholding;
- other significant shareholdings;
- the probability of an alternative offer; and
- the liquidity of the market for the target company's shares.

A takeover offer could be considered "reasonable" if there were valid reasons to accept the offer notwithstanding that it was not "fair".

Fairness is a more demanding criteria. A "fair" offer will always be "reasonable" but a "reasonable" offer will not necessarily be "fair". A fair offer is one that reflects the full market value of a company's businesses and assets. A takeover offer that is in excess of the pre-bid market prices but less than full value will not be fair but may be reasonable if shareholders are otherwise unlikely in the foreseeable future to realise an amount for their shares in excess of the bid price. This is commonly the case in takeover offers where the bidder already controls the target company. In that situation the minority shareholders have little prospect of receiving full value from a third party offeror unless the controlling shareholder is prepared to sell its controlling shareholding.

GRANT SAMUEL

Grant Samuel has determined whether the Westpac Proposal is fair by comparing:

- the estimated underlying value range of St.George shares and award options with the assessed value of the consideration to be received by St.George shareholders and award optionholders under the Share Scheme and the Option Scheme respectively; and
- the estimated underlying value range of the SAINTS with the consideration to be received by SAINTS holders under the SAINTS Scheme.

The Westpac Proposal will be fair if the consideration or the assessed value of the consideration falls within the estimated underlying value range of the relevant security. In considering whether the Westpac Proposal is reasonable, the factors that have been considered include:

- the relative contributions of St.George and Westpac to the merged group;
- the likely market price of St.George shares in the absence of the Westpac Proposal;
- the likelihood of alternative transactions that could realise better value and the likely consequences if the Westpac Proposal did not proceed;
- the impact of the Westpac Proposal on the ownership and control of St.George;
- the benefits of the merger of the St.George and Westpac businesses; and
- the costs, disadvantages and risks of the Westpac Proposal.

A proposal that, under takeover analysis, was "fair and reasonable" or "not fair but reasonable" would be in the best interests of securityholders.

2.3 Sources of the Information

The following information was utilised and relied upon, without independent verification, in preparing this report:

Publicly Available Information

- the Scheme Booklet (including earlier drafts);
- annual reports of St.George for the three years ended 30 September 2007;

- brokers' reports and recent press articles on St.George, Westpac and the Australian banking and wealth management sectors; and
- sharemarket data and related information on Australian listed companies engaged in the banking and wealth management sectors and on acquisitions of companies and businesses in these sectors.

GRANT SAMUEL

Non Public Information provided by St. George

- financial forecast for the year ending 30 September 2008 prepared by management;
- strategic plan for the three years ending 30 September 2009 to 2011 (which includes the budget for the year ending 30 September 2009) prepared by St. George management ("Strategic Plan"); and
- other confidential documents, board papers, presentations and working papers.

Non Public Information provided by Westpac

- information on synergies and costs associated with the Westpac Proposal; and
- high level management strategic plan for the four years ending 30 September 2008 to 2011.

In preparing this report, representatives of Grant Samuel held discussions with, and obtained information from, senior management and directors of St. George and senior management of Westpac.

2.4 Limitations and Reliance on Information

Grant Samuel believes that its opinion must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of the analysis or factors considered by it, without considering all factors and analyses together, could create a misleading view of the process underlying the opinion. The preparation of an opinion is a complex process and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary.

Grant Samuel's opinion is based on economic, sharemarket, business trading, financial and other conditions and expectations prevailing at the date of this report. These conditions can change significantly over relatively short periods of time. If they did change materially, subsequent to the date of this report, the opinion could be different in these changed circumstances.

This report is also based upon financial and other information provided by St. George. Grant Samuel has considered and relied upon this information. St. George has represented in writing to Grant Samuel that to the best of its knowledge and belief the information provided by it was complete and not incorrect or misleading in any material aspect. Grant Samuel has no reason to believe that any material facts have been withheld.

The information provided to Grant Samuel has been evaluated through analysis, inquiry and review to the extent that it considers necessary or appropriate for the purposes of forming an opinion as to whether the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St. George shareholders. However, Grant Samuel does not warrant that its inquiries have identified or verified all of the matters that an audit, extensive examination or "due diligence" investigation might disclose. While Grant Samuel has made what it considers to be appropriate inquiries for the purposes of forming its opinion, "due diligence" of the type undertaken by companies and their advisers in relation to, for example, prospectuses or profit forecasts, is beyond the scope of an independent expert. In this context, Grant Samuel advises that:

- the detailed due diligence reports prepared by Westpac and its accounting and legal advisers have not been provided to Grant Samuel;
- it is not in a position nor is it practicable to undertake its own "due diligence" investigation of the type undertaken by accountants, lawyers or other advisers; and
- it has therefore relied on:
 - the fact that both St. George and Westpac have publicly confirmed that their due diligence processes have been successfully completed by them and their advisers; and

GRANT SAMUEL

- the contents of the Investigating Accountant's Report (specifically the opinion expressed therein) prepared by PricewaterhouseCoopers Securities Ltd in relation to the financial information regarding the merged group.

Accordingly, this report and the opinions expressed in it should be considered more in the nature of an overall review of the anticipated commercial and financial implications rather than a comprehensive audit or investigation of detailed matters.

An important part of the information used in forming an opinion of the kind expressed in this report is comprised of the opinions and judgement of management. This type of information was also evaluated through analysis, inquiry and review to the extent practical. However, such information is often not capable of external verification or validation.

Preparation of this report does not imply that Grant Samuel has audited in any way the management accounts or other records of St.George or Westpac. It is understood that the accounting information that was provided was prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and in a manner consistent with the method of accounting in previous years (except where noted).

The information provided to Grant Samuel included:

- the forecast for St.George for the year ending 30 September 2008 prepared by management; and
- the Strategic Plan prepared by management and approved by the St.George Board.

St.George is responsible for this financial information. Grant Samuel has used and relied on this financial information for the purposes of its analysis. The major assumptions underlying the forecast and the Strategic Plan were reviewed by Grant Samuel in the context of current economic, financial and other conditions. However, it should be noted that the forecast and the Strategic Plan and the underlying assumptions have not been reviewed (nor is there a statutory or regulatory requirement for such a review) by an investigating accountant for reasonableness or accuracy of compilation and application of assumptions.

Subject to these limitations, Grant Samuel considers that, based on the inquiries it has undertaken and only for the purposes of its analysis for this report (which do not constitute, and are not as extensive as, an audit or accountant's examination), there are reasonable grounds to believe that the forecast and the Strategic Plan have been prepared on a reasonable basis. In forming this view, Grant Samuel has taken the following factors, inter alia, into account:

- the forecast for the year ending 30 September 2008 is based on actual operating results for St.George for the ten months ended 31 July 2008;
- the Strategic Plan, which includes the budget for the year ending 30 September 2009, was adopted by the St.George Board on 20 August 2008; and
- St.George has sophisticated management and financial reporting processes. The forecast financial information has been prepared through a detailed budgeting process involving preparation of "ground up" forecasts by the management of individual business operations and review by management of St.George.

The directors of St.George have decided not to include any forecast information in the Scheme Booklet and therefore the forecast and the Strategic Plan have not been disclosed in this report.

Grant Samuel has no reason to believe that the forecast or the Strategic Plan reflect any material bias, either positive or negative. However, the achievability of the forecast and the Strategic Plan is not warranted or guaranteed by Grant Samuel. Future profits and cash flows are inherently uncertain. They are predictions by management of future events that cannot be assured and are necessarily based on assumptions, many of which are beyond the control of the company or its management. Actual results may be significantly more or less favourable.

As part of its analysis, Grant Samuel has reviewed the sensitivity of net present values ("NPVs") to changes in key variables. The sensitivity analysis isolates a limited number of assumptions and shows the impact of the expressed variations to those assumptions. No opinion is expressed as to the probability or otherwise of those expressed variations occurring. Actual variations may be greater or less than those modelled. In addition to not representing best and worst outcomes, the sensitivity analysis does not, and does not purport to, show the impact of all possible variations to the business model. The actual performance of the business may be negatively or positively impacted by a range of factors including, but not limited to:

- changes to the assumptions other than those considered in the sensitivity analysis;
- greater or lesser variations to the assumptions considered in the sensitivity analysis than those modelled; and
- combinations of different variations to a number of different assumptions that may produce outcomes different to the combinations modelled.

In forming its opinion, Grant Samuel has also assumed that:

- matters such as title, compliance with laws and regulations and contracts in place are in good standing and will remain so and that there are no material legal proceedings, other than as publicly disclosed;
- the information set out in the Scheme Booklet to be sent by St.George to its securityholders is complete, accurate and fairly presented in all material respects;
- the publicly available information relied on by Grant Samuel in its analysis was accurate and not misleading;
- the Westpac Proposal will be implemented in accordance with its terms; and
- the legal mechanisms to implement the Westpac Proposal are correct and will be effective.

To the extent that there are legal issues relating to assets, properties, or business interests or issues relating to compliance with applicable laws, regulations, and policies, Grant Samuel assumes no responsibility and offers no legal opinion or interpretation on any issue.

3 Profile of St.George

3.1 Background

The St.George Co-operative Building Society was established in 1937 in the south of Sydney to provide housing loans. In 1951 it was incorporated in New South Wales under the name St.George & Cronulla Permanent Co-operative Building and Investment Society and it changed its name to St.George Building Society Limited in 1976.

By 1979, St.George had grown, through mergers and organic growth, to become the largest building society in Australia with assets of $1 billion, 130 branches and 800 staff. It was listed on the ASX in July 1992 after acquiring a banking licence and converting to a bank.

St.George expanded its services to commercial customers and became a full service bank in 1994 following the acquisition of the Commercial Banking division of Barclays. In 1997, St.George acquired Advance Bank Limited ("Advance Bank"), which had operations primarily in New South Wales and South Australia (following its acquisition of BankSA in 1995), and became the fifth largest bank in Australia.

The acquisition of Advance Bank diversified St.George's operations into funds management through Advance Asset Management Limited ("Advance"). At the time of acquisition, Advance had funds under management ("FUM") of $1.5 billion. In January 1998, St.George boosted its funds under management and administration to over $7 billion through the acquisition of SEALCORP, a leading provider of personal savings and investment products, for $270 million. Further acquisitions, particularly in margin lending, have built a portfolio of wealth management businesses that provide products and services that look after the financial future of customers. As at 31 July 2008, funds under management, administration and advice ("FUMA") were $42.0 billion.

Not all of St.George's expansion initiatives have been successful. Its 2002 agreement with Foodstuffs, New Zealand's largest supermarket retailer, to establish a supermarket banking joint venture, Superbank, was discontinued in August 2006 due to intense competition in the New Zealand market.

Since 2002, St.George has pursued a strategy of organic growth with a focus on customer relationships and diversification through the introduction of new products, new distribution channels and expansion into new geographies (Victoria, Queensland and Western Australia). Its strong customer focus, emanating from its origins as a state based building society, is seen as a point of differentiation from the major Australian banks.

St.George is one of the top 15 companies listed on the ASX and the fifth largest listed Australian bank with a market capitalisation as at 15 September 2008 of approximately $17.2 billion. At 31 March 2008 it had total assets of $136.3 billion, 400 branches and 8,801 staff.

² Staff comprises permanent, casual and temporary staff and contractors.

St.George has a long history of consistent double digit growth in earnings. This growth has been driven by strong revenues combined with control over costs. The five and a half year cumulative average growth rates ("CAGR") to 31 March 2008⁷ for net operating income and operating expenses were 8.3% and 4.2% respectively. Consistent high single digit growth in revenue and low single digit growth in operating expenses has resulted in double digit growth in earnings. The

five and a half year CAGRs to 31 March 2008⁷ for cash net profit after tax and cash earnings per share were 12.8% and 11.0% respectively. Dividends have also increased strongly, with a five and a half year CAGR of 15.2%, assisted by an increase in the dividend payout ratio from around 65% to around 80%.

Increases in operating expenses over the last three and a half years primarily reflect investment in staff and costs associated with expanding distribution. Increases in operating expenses have been more than matched by growth in revenue, with the cash cost to income ratio falling from 47.1% in the year ended 30 September 2005 to 42.5% in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008. Strong growth in revenue combined with effective cost control has resulted in St.George having the lowest cost to income ratio of any of its peers as at 31 March 2008.

Growth in net operating income and cash net profit after tax moderated in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008, reflecting the impact of the global credit crisis (see Section 4.3) on the cost of funds and deterioration in investment markets, which negatively impacted St.George's interest costs and other income. In addition, there was an increase in loan impairment expenses, primarily relating to a single name loan exposure. The reduction in revenue growth, offset by effective cost control, resulted in the cost to income ratio remaining flat at 42.5% for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 compared to the year ended 30 September 2007 (although it fell from 43.0% in the 12 months ended 31 March 2007).

Significant items in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 were a gain on the sale of St.George's investment in Visa Inc. ($54 million post tax), restructuring costs representing staff redundancies as a result of outsourcing and consolidation of sites ($30 million post tax) and tax expense related to interest deductions claimed by St.George on Depository Capital Securities from 1998 to 2003 that were disallowed by the Australian Taxation Office ("ATO") ($117 million post tax). The ATO's view was upheld by the Federal Court on 11 April 2008. While St.George is appealing the Federal Court's decision, it has recognised the full amount as at 31 March 2008.

Over the last three and a half years, St.George has identified a number of non recurring items which have not been included as significant items in its reported results on the basis that they do not meet the necessary criteria. St.George has also discontinued its New Zealand banking joint venture, which has not been excluded from the earnings shown above. Excluding these items gives a better indication of St.George's underlying performance:

GRANT SAMUEL

Growth in underlying cash net profit after tax has shown a similar trend to growth in cash net profit after tax over the last two and a half years.

Approximately 88% of St.George's earnings are generated by its banking business, which has benefited from growing lending and deposit volumes (particularly in business lending), effective management of net interest margins, effective cost management and sound credit quality.

3.3 Outlook for the 2008 Financial Year

On 12 August 2008, St.George released a market update in relation to its performance for the year ending 30 September 2008. St.George announced that unaudited cash net profit after tax for the 10 months ended 31 July 2008 was $1,073 million and that it was on track to meet its previous guidance of cash earnings per share growth for the year ending 30 September 2008 of 8-10% (assuming a reasonably sound economic environment and no further one off material credit losses).

Cash earnings per share growth of 8-10% translates to cash earnings per share for the year ending 30 September 2008 of $2.37-2.41 and cash net profit after tax of $1,317-1,341 million, representing growth in cash net profit after tax of 13.6-15.8%. It implies that St.George expects to achieve cash net profit after tax for the two months ending 30 September 2008 of $245-270 million (or an average cash net profit after tax of $123-135 million in each of August and September 2008).

The result for the 10 months ended 31 July 2008 reflects:

- solid growth in residential and middle market receivables and customer deposits;
- a decline in the cost to income ratio to 40.5% as a result of the business optimisation program which involves the centralisation of specialist head office functions, renegotiation of supplier contracts and review of information technology projects. Cost savings of $16 million are expected to be realised in the second half of the 2008 financial year; and
- sound credit quality despite the slowing economy.

A more detailed outlook for St.George's banking and wealth management businesses is set out in Sections 5.8 and 7.5 respectively.

Total assets grew by 8.4% to $136.3 billion in the six months ended 31 March 2008, with loans and other receivables (including bank acceptances) making up approximately 83% of total assets. Liquidity (represented by cash and liquid assets and financial assets at fair value) increased by 26.8% to $19.8 billion in the six months ended 31 March 2008, in response to the volatility in credit markets.

Retail funding and other borrowings, including bank acceptances and bills payable, represented approximately 96% of total liabilities as at 31 March 2008. Other borrowings include $718 million of CPS and CPS II.

Equity attributable to St.George shareholders of $6.9 billion represents 5% of total assets as at 31 March 2008. It includes $493 million of SPS and SAINTS. Net assets per ordinary share and net tangible assets ("NTA") per ordinary share have been adjusted to exclude SPS and SAINTS.

- ¹¹ Financial assets at fair value includes assets at fair value through the income statement, derivative assets and available for sale assets.
- ¹² Investment in associated companies is St.George's 50% interest in Ascalon Capital Managers Limited ("Ascalon") (See Section 5.1).
- ¹³ Intangible assets include goodwill and capitalised computer software costs, with goodwill representing approximately 90% of the total.
- ¹⁴ Other assets include deferred tax assets, property, plant and equipment and sundry debtors and prepayments.
- ¹⁵ Retail funding and other borrowings includes deposits, bonds and notes, loan capital, bank acceptances and bills payable.
- ¹⁶ Other liabilities include current and deferred tax liabilities, provisions (for SAINTS and SPS distributions, annual leave, long service leave, restructuring costs and other) and sundry creditors and accruals.
- ¹⁷ Minority interests represent a 25% interest in St.George Motor Finance Limited that is not owned by St.George.
- ¹⁸ Net assets is calculated as net assets less minority interests, SAINTS and SPS.
- ¹⁹ NTA is net tangible assets, which is calculated as net assets less minority interests, SAINTS, SPS and intangible assets.

GRANT SAMUEL

Net assets per ordinary share and NTA per ordinary share increased by 12.1% and 17.3% respectively in the six months ended 31 March 2008, reflecting the growth in net assets attributable to St.George ordinary shareholders (i.e. after SAINTS and SPS) of 18.1%, partially offset by the issue of an additional 28.5 million shares. The majority of these shares were issued as part of St.George's capital management program and are described in Section 5.6.

3.5 Taxation Position

As at 31 March 2008, St.George had carried forward income tax losses of approximately $10 million that relate to its supermarket banking joint venture. These tax losses were recognised in St.George's balance sheet as at 31 March 2008 on the basis that the directors believe that realisation of the tax asset was probable.

As at 31 March 2008, St.George had $738 million of accumulated franking credits (after allowing for the payment of the 2008 interim dividend).

3.6 Capital Structure and Ownership

3.6.1 Capital Structure

As at 15 September 2008, St.George had the following securities on issue:

- 566,529,267 ordinary shares (including 331,213 treasury shares);
- 632,627 zero price exercise options ("award options") issued under St.George's Executive Performance Share Plan;
- 1,087,489 options ("executive options") issued under St.George's Executive Option Plan;
- 3,500,000 SAINTS;
- 1,500,000 SPS;
- 3,250,000 CPS;
- 4,000,000 CPS II;
- 194,700 redeemable depositor shares; and
- 2,247 redeemable preference borrower shares.

All of these securities are listed on the ASX other than the employee awards and options, the redeemable depositor shares and the redeemable preference borrower shares.

Senior St.George executives are eligible to participate in the Executive Performance Share Plan as a form of long or medium term incentive or as a form of deferred short term incentive. Under this plan, participants are provided with awards where each award is a right to acquire a share in St.George for a nil exercise price. The various awards have the following key terms:

- the exercise of long or medium term incentive awards is subject to performance hurdles although the Board has the discretion to waive all or part of the hurdles (e.g. where a bona fide takeover offer becomes unconditional). Long and medium term incentive awards have no dividend entitlement or voting right; and
- deferred short term incentive awards are subject to a tenure hurdle. While the executive is entitled to receive dividend distribution payments following one year after the grant of the award, the executive must remain an employee of St.George for a three year period from the grant date for the beneficial interest in the shares to be transferred to the executive.

Awards lapse on the expiry date but may lapse prior to their expiry date if the executive leaves St.George due to resignation or dismissal before the vesting date or on termination of employment. The awards granted as at 15 September 2008 are summarised below:

As at 15 September 2008, 7,892 of the 632,627 awards granted had vested but had not had St.George shares allotted.

The Managing Director and Group Executives are also eligible to participate in the Executive Option Plan. Each option on issue is exercisable on payment of an exercise price into one ordinary share and has no dividend entitlement or voting right. The exercise of the options is subject to tenure and performance hurdles although the Board has the discretion to waive all or part of the hurdles (e.g. where a bona fide takeover offer becomes unconditional). Options lapse on the expiry date but may lapse prior to their expiry date if a Group Executive leaves St.George due to resignation or dismissal before the vesting date or on termination of employment. The options on issue as at 15 September 2008 are summarised below:

St.George issued 3.5 million SAINTS at $100 each on 13 August 2004 and 1.5 million SPS at $100 each on 20 June 2006. These securities qualify as Tier 1 capital for capital adequacy purposes. Distributions are paid on these securities, at the directors' discretion, quarterly at a floating rate of 70% of the sum of the 90 day bank bill swap rate ("90 day BBSW") plus a margin of 1.35% for the SAINTS and a margin of 1.1% for the SPS. St.George may convert these securities into ordinary shares, redeem, buy back or cancel these securities for their face value, or undertake a combination of these options on or after 20 November 2014 (for the SAINTS) and 20 August 2016 (for the SPS), subject to Australian Prudential Regulation Authority ("APRA") approval. The SAINTS are considered in more detail in Section 11.8.

St.George issued 3.25 million CPS at $100 each on 19 December 2006 and 4.0 million CPS II at $100 each on 28 December 2007. These securities qualify as Tier 1 capital for capital adequacy purposes. Distributions are paid on these securities quarterly at a floating rate of 70% of the sum of the 90 day BBSW plus a margin of 1.2% for the CPS and a margin of 1.6% for the CPS II. The CPS will mandatorily convert into ordinary shares on 20 August 2012 provided that two mandatory conversion conditions relating to the St.George share price are met. The CPS II will either convert into ordinary shares on 20 August 2013 provided that two mandatory conversion conditions relating to the St.George share price are met or St.George can arrange for a third party purchaser to acquire all of the CPS II on that date for face value. If a tax event, regulatory event or acquisition event occurs prior to 20 August 2012 (for the CPS) and 20 August 2013 (for the CPS II), St.George may (must in the case of an acquisition event) redeem, buy back, cancel or convert (or, in the case of CPS II, transfer) these securities for their face value, or undertake a combination of these options, subject to APRA approval.

SAINTS, SPS, CPS and CPS II holders are not entitled to vote except in limited circumstances.

The redeemable depositor shares and redeemable preference borrower shares were originally issued to depositors and borrowers when St.George was a building society to enable them to open a deposit or loan account. These shares are uncalled and unpaid. The shares are effectively paid up and immediately redeemed when the relevant deposit account is closed or loan is discharged. These shares are not transferable and have certain rights as set out in St.George's Constitution, including a right to vote on issues that affect their rights (on the basis of one vote per shareholder), and have certain obligations on a winding up. They have no rights to any dividends or distributions.

3.6.2 Ownership

St.George's Constitution prohibits ownership of more than 10% of St.George's issued shares. Since 1 July 2002, this shareholding limitation has been able to be amended by way of a special resolution of ordinary shareholders.

St.George has approximately 160,000 registered ordinary shareholders. The top twenty ordinary shareholders account for approximately 34% of the ordinary shares on issue. St.George has no substantial shareholders.

The top twenty registered ordinary shareholders are principally institutional investors or nominee companies. St.George has a significant retail investor base with a majority of registered shareholders classified as retail and representing approximately 60% of shares on issue. St.George ordinary shareholders are predominantly Australian based investors (over 99% of registered shareholders and securities on issue).

3.7 Ordinary Share Price Performance

3.7.1 Price History

The following graph illustrates the movement in the St.George ordinary share price and trading volumes since 1 July 2003:

Source: IRESS

The consistent growth in St.George's ordinary share price up until late 2007 reflected its strong asset growth and earnings performance, high levels of growth in credit markets and the strength of the Australian economy over this period. Having commenced trading on 2 July 1992 at around $6.00, the share price steadily increased, reaching $21.67 on 1 July 2003 and increasing to a peak of $38.50 on 15 October 2007.

However, the latter months of 2007 saw the global credit crisis and its impact on credit risk affect share prices, with the share prices of all listed banks falling considerably. The St.George share price was also impacted by its perceived greater reliance on wholesale funding, which was now in tighter supply and more expensive for all financial institutions. A slowing in the rate of growth of the Australian economy, particularly in residential property, also had a negative impact on bank share prices around this time (despite business lending continuing to grow strongly). Over the period from early December 2007 to early March 2008, the St.George share price fell from around $35 to $22, reaching a low of $21.40 on 7 and 10 March 2008.

St.George shares traded in the range $21 to $28 (prices the shares had not traded at since 2005) until the announcement of the Westpac Proposal on 13 May 2008. On the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal (St.George shares were suspended on 9 May 2008 pending the announcement of the Westpac Proposal), St.George shares closed at $26.65. Since the announcement of the Westpac Proposal, St.George ordinary shares have traded as high as $34.41, but much of this gain was subsequently lost as the share prices of all listed banks fell on the back of continued uncertainty in global credit markets and a weaker economic outlook. St.George shares fell to as low as $24.30 on 15 July, before a recovery in the following weeks, largely tracking movements in the Westpac share price (which benefited following the provision announcements by NAB and ANZ on 25 and 28 July 2008) and boosted by a market update confirming that St.George was on track to meet its guidance of cash earnings per share growth of 8-10% for the year ending 30 September on 12 August 2008. On 15 September 2008, St.George ordinary shares closed at $30.34.

GRANT SAMUEL

3.7.2 Liquidity

St.George is a liquid stock. Average weekly volume over the twelve months prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal represented approximately 1.9% of average shares on issue or annual turnover of around 99% of total average issued capital. This high level of turnover has been despite St.George's significant retail investor base.

3.7.3 Relative Performance

St.George is a member of various indices including the S&P/ASX 200 Index and the S&P/ASX 200 Banks Index. As at 15 September 2008 its weighting in these indices was approximately 1.8% and 8.8% respectively. The following graph illustrates the performance of St.George ordinary shares since 1 July 2003 relative to the S&P/ASX 200 Index and the S&P/ASX 200 Banks Index:

Source: IRESS

From July 2003 until mid October 2007, the St George share price underperformed the S&P/ASX 200 Index and generally outperformed the S&P/ASX 200 Banks Index (apart from a one off drop in November 2003). Over this period, the St.George share price increased by 78.8%, compared to a 122.9% increase in the S&P/ASX 200 Index and a 66.7% increase in the S&P/ASX200 Banks Index. The performance of the S&P/ASX 200 Index over this period has been positively impacted by the very strong growth in the share prices of resources companies. If the impact of resources shares is removed, St.George has generally outperformed the market over this period, reflecting its consistent strong growth in earnings.

The S&P/ASX Banks Index is heavily weighted towards major banks, which represent almost 90% of the index. The outperformance by St.George shares reflects St.George's superior earnings growth. In addition, up until late 2007, the listed regional banks (in particular St.George) generally traded at a premium to the major banks, reflecting expectations of industry consolidation or the impact of acquisitions (such as Bank of Queensland's acquisition of Home Building Society and Wide Bay Australia Limited's ("Wide Bay") acquisition of Mackay Permanent Building Society Limited (Mackay Permanent) in mid 2007, Bank of Queensland's offer to acquire Bendigo Bank Limited ("Bendigo Bank") in early 2007 and Bendigo Bank's subsequent merger with Adelaide Bank Limited ("Adelaide Bank") in late 2007).

GRANT SAMUEL

The impact of the global credit crisis in the latter part of 2007 has had a significant impact on the relative performance of St.George ordinary shares. The following graph illustrates the performance of St.George ordinary shares since 1 June 2007 relative to the S&P/ASX 200 Index and the S&P/ASX 200 Banks Index:

Source: IRESS

St.George shares have underperformed both the S&P/ASX 200 Index and the S&P/ASX Banks Index from June 2007 until the announcement of the Westpac Proposal on 13 May 2008. Over this period, St.George shares fell by 28.0%, compared to an 8.9% decline in the S&P/ASX 200 Index and a 17.9% decline in the S&P/ASX Banks Index. This relative underperformance may in part be explained by uncertainty in credit markets and St.George's funding mix relative to the major banks. Since the announcement of the Westpac Proposal on 13 May 2008, St.George shares continued to underperform in comparison to the S&P/ASX 200 Index until mid August 2008 (after which they outperformed the S&P/ASX 200 Index), and outperformed the S&P/ASX 200 Banks Index (except in the month of July 2008):

GRANT SAMUEL

Movements in the St.George share price have generally tracked movements in the Westpac share price since early June 2008. This could explain the relative underperformance of St.George shares (compared to the S&P/ASX Banks Index) from the beginning of July until the NAB, ANZ and Suncorp announcements at the end of July and the beginning of August, after which time St.George shares have outperformed the S&P/ASX Banks Index, but not Westpac shares. Westpac shares have arguably benefited more following the provision announcements by National Australia Bank Limited ("NAB") and Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited ("ANZ"), leaving Westpac (and Commonwealth Bank of Australia Limited ("CBA")) as the best performing major banks. The relative performance of St.George shares received a boost following its market update on 12 August 2008.

4 Overview of the Australian Banking Sector

4.1 Participants

The principal participants in the Australian banking sector are the major commercial banks, regional banks and branches of foreign banks.

Major Banks

The four major Australian banks (CBA, Westpac, NAB and ANZ), provide full banking services across Australia and collectively dominate the retail, business and institutional banking markets. Each of these banks operates an extensive nationwide branch network and is typically well represented in each geographic market and across industries in Australia.

As at 31 May 2008, the four major banks held approximately 63% of total Australian banking assets and 63% of total Australian banking deposits²⁰.

Regional Banks

Australia's regional banks are St.George, Suncorp-Metway Limited ("Suncorp"), Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Limited ("Bendigo and Adelaide") and Bank of Queensland Limited ("Bank of Queensland"). Bank of Western Australia Limited ("BankWest") is a regional bank dominant in Western Australia, but was acquired by HBOS Plc ("HBOS") in October 2003 and is now classified (in regulatory terms) as a locally incorporated foreign bank. These regional banks differ from the four major banks in terms of their relatively smaller lending portfolios, greater focus on traditional residential mortgages and typically greater focus on servicing customers in a particular state or region in Australia. This reflects their origins, most having been formed from state based operations that were originally owned by state governments and/or operated as building societies located in particular states. Due to its size and geographic spread, St.George is often considered the fifth major Australian bank, rather than a regional bank.

The regional banks compete predominantly in the retail and small to medium enterprise ("SME") segments of the market. The regional banks vary significantly in size and have a range of business models and strategies for growth.

As the regional banks have reached greater saturation levels in their home markets, they have expanded their business banking operations, broadened the geographic base of their businesses and entered more competitive segments of the banking market, including online savings deposit products. At the same time, the regional banks have been successful in maintaining high customer satisfaction levels as a point of differentiation from their major bank competitors.

As at 31 May 2008, the regional banks (excluding BankWest) held approximately 12% of total Australian banking assets and 14% of total Australian banking deposits²⁰.

Foreign Banks and Other Participants

Macquarie Bank Limited ("Macquarie Bank") is also a participant in the Australian banking sector, having become a trading bank in February 1985 following the deregulation of financial markets. However, as a result of difficult credit market conditions and increased cost of funding for its mortgage businesses, Macquarie Bank commenced winding back residential mortgage origination services in Australia in March 2008.

There are also a number of foreign-owned banks operating in Australia, primarily in specialist financing, corporate lending and advisory areas of the market. Few foreign banks have a retail branch presence in Australia. Other than HBOS (i.e. BankWest, which was a well established, full service regional bank prior to being acquired by HBOS), Citibank Australia and HSBC Bank Australia Limited are the only foreign-owned banks with limited retail branch infrastructures. In addition, ING Bank (Australia) Limited ("ING"), the Australian arm of Dutch bank ING Groep N.V., has built up a market share of approximately 3% of the banking market through the internet, call centres and aggressive marketing campaigns. However, the retail presence of these banks is small compared with the major and regional banks. Foreign banks have a significant position in the wholesale market (e.g. capital markets) in Australia where their global distribution networks provide an advantage over domestic competitors.

Non-bank financial intermediaries such as building societies and credit unions compete largely in the areas of accepting deposits and residential mortgage lending, mainly for owner occupied housing. Building societies and credit unions represent less than 3% of system assets.

4.2 Asset Base

Australian bank lending is dominated by residential mortgages, which represent around 54%²¹ of gross loans and advances. Non-housing lending comprises business lending (32%)²², credit cards (3%) and other consumer credit (6%). Business lending includes a significant proportion to the SME sector. A significant amount of corporate borrowing is from offshore markets and is therefore not represented in total Australian bank lending. Non-traditional forms of consumer credit such as margin lending have grown but still represent a very small portion of the total lending market.

Competition in the residential mortgage market has been intense over the last ten years, driven by low interest rates and readily available credit and the increase in non bank mortgage lenders and growth of the mortgage broker segment.

As at June 2007, non bank lenders such as Aussie Home Loans, Wizard and RAMS had built a share of approximately 20% of the Australian residential mortgage market. However, the impact of the global credit crisis (see Section 4.3) on the Australian securitisation market and the increased cost of funding have resulted in a dramatic decline for these businesses. RAMS, which was listed on the ASX in July 2007, has sold its brand and franchise distribution business to Westpac and GE Money has commenced a sale process for the Wizard brand name and retail distribution arm. Aussie Home Loans has been forced to act as a broker rather than originate its own home loans. Other non bank lenders have had to increase loan rates to uncompetitive levels or cease new originations as their access to funding has dried up.

Broker originated loans represent approximately 40% of all financing or refinancing transactions compared with around 29% in 2004. In addition, housing loans originated through brokers have experienced higher than system growth rates. Most major and regional banks have embraced the broker originated channel to offset slower housing loan growth through traditional network channels, but most have also restructured their arrangements with mortgage brokers in the last 12 months, resulting in lower and/or tiered commissions. The decline in activity by non bank lenders has reduced the number of suppliers for mortgage brokers, who are now largely limited to offering bank products.

The major banks as a group had been losing market share in residential mortgage lending to the foreign banks, non bank lenders and, to a lesser extent, the regional banks. Foreign banks and other new entrants had successfully grown through aggressive pricing tactics. However, the impact of the global credit crisis on non bank lenders and banks without a significant deposit base has resulted in a lessening of competition over the last 6-12 months and an increase in market share of the major banks and some of the regional banks (for both retail and commercial customers). As a result, banks have been achieving higher than system credit growth (compared to slightly below system credit growth prior to the non bank lenders exiting the market).

In the business lending segment, increased financial sophistication had resulted in larger corporates increasingly accessing debt capital markets on a direct basis, with disintermediation leading to reduced growth for bank business lending. However, there has been a reversal of this trend in the first half of 2008 as liquidity in debt markets has dried up. Competition in the business lending segment has also intensified amongst the major and regional banks. In particular, the downturn in the property cycle has seen competition intensify in the broker introduced SME market, as lenders seek to compensate for slower residential mortgage lending.

Credit card lending continues to grow and is dominated by the major banks which represent almost 80% of that market. Since 2002, however, credit unions, building societies and specialist credit card institutions have had an impact on this market. Reforms introduced by the Reserve Bank of Australia ("RBA") are designed to further increase competition in the credit card market.

4.3 Sources of Funding

Participants in the banking sector rely to varying degrees on three principal sources of funding, deposits, wholesale funding (through domestic and offshore capital markets) and securitisation of receivables assets:

Source: Company reports

Historically, domestic banks have relied on deposits from customers to fund balance sheet growth. Legislative and structural changes over the past 15 years have contributed to a highly competitive deposit market. These changes include:

- the introduction of compulsory superannuation, which has resulted in the diversion of savings away from traditional banking products and into managed funds; and
- the introduction of high yield online transaction accounts by offshore institutions including ING, Citibank and HBOS, which has reduced the "stickiness" of retail bank deposit accounts and resulted in foreign banks increasing their share of retail deposits. The migration to online transaction accounts has reduced net interest margins, particularly as some banks have experienced a high degree of cannibalisation in their deposit bases. In response to this competition, most major and some regional Australian banks now offer online transaction accounts and as a result, have slowed or reversed deposit market share losses.

²³ Long term wholesale funding includes subordinated debt and preference capital.

GRANT SAMUEL

As the gap between deposit liabilities and lending assets has grown, Australian banks have had to rely more on wholesale funding, particularly from overseas markets, which, as a result of the global credit crisis, has become increasingly expensive.

The global credit crisis emerged in August 2007 and was triggered by growing default rates among sub prime borrowers in the United States. Banks exposed to these loans and the securities derived from them have been forced to write off or provide for some very significant losses. This caused a loss of confidence in wholesale money markets, with banks reluctant to deal in the market and lenders pricing to compensate for risk. Despite Australian banks (other than NAB) having little or no exposure to the problems in the United States, banks around the world have been impacted by the fallout.

The cash rate/90 day BBSW spread is a measure of a key component of short term borrowing costs relative to variable rate banking products offered to customers. It is influenced by the risk premium banks need to pay and the outlook for the official cash rate. The cash rate is the common benchmark for interbank lending and borrowing on an overnight basis and the 90 day BBSW is the standard measure of bank wholesale borrowing rates over the short term. The global credit crisis has resulted in a substantial increase in the cash rate/90 day BBSW spread:

Source: IRESS

However, the spread is not a perfect proxy for risk premium as it also reflects the lags between movements in market expectations about movements in official interest rates (the cash rate) and the actual change in the cash rate.

The average cash rate/90 day BBSW spread for the last 12 months has been 50 basis points. However, following the meeting of the RBA Board on 5 August 2008 and its statement that "scope to move towards a less restrictive stance on monetary policy in the period ahead is increasing", the markets priced into the 90 day BBSW the expectation of a cut in the cash rate and the cash rate/90 day BBSW spread fell to around 2 basis points by the end of August 2008. The spread has subsequently widened following the RBA's announcement on 2 September 2008 that it would cut the official cash rate by 25 basis points. As at 15 September 2008, the cash rate/90 day BBSW spread was around 30 basis points.

GRANT SAMUEL

The global credit crisis has also increased wholesale term funding costs for Australian banks considerably (as has been the case with all banks globally). While there have been signs that spreads have eased in recent months from their peak in April 2008 of 128 basis points to just over 100 basis points over the 90 day BBSW, these rates are still well in excess of the margins of less than 20 basis points that the major banks could issue five year bonds at 12 months ago:

Source: RBA, UBS AG, Australia Branch

This chart is indicative of the additional premium that the major banks have had to pay for term wholesale funding.

Securitisation is a source of funding accessed by all financial institutions. While the major banks may have larger absolute volumes of securitisation, it makes up a greater proportion of the funding sources of regional banks and virtually all of the funding of non bank financial institutions. It was previously cost effective for regional banks and non bank lenders that have higher wholesale funding costs or limited access to debt funding. Securitisation vehicles are used to transfer loans to a separate entity that, in turn, issues debt securities to investors.

The global credit crisis has had a three fold effect on financial institutions:

- the securitisation market has contracted dramatically, forcing financial institutions to raise additional term wholesale funding. Although there continues to be a market for non mortgage asset backed securitisations (such as automotive loans) and there have been some domestic residential mortgage backed securities market issues in recent months, these have been of smaller amounts and at higher cost (e.g. Adelaide Bank's $502.5 million prime residential mortgage backed securities deal, including $450 million rated AAA and priced at 110 basis points over the 90 day BBSW, with a weighted average life of 2.7 years in July 2008 and St.George's $1 billion of residential mortgage backed securities facility privately placed in September 2008 for which pricing was not disclosed) and the residential mortgage backed securitisation market is expected to remain effectively shut in the medium term;
- the cost of wholesale funding has increased substantially. While the cash rate/90 day BBSW spread has contracted from around 50 basis points in March 2008 to around 5 basis points in August 2008, it has been extremely volatile and the margins that financial institutions with a credit rating below AA have had to pay for wholesale funding have increased above the margins paid by AA rated financial institutions; and

- some financial institutions have increased the proportion of short term wholesale funding on their books as they have had more difficulty accessing term wholesale markets (in part because of the cost becoming more expensive).

Funding markets are expected to remain uncertain and expensive for the foreseeable future. Banks have offset the rising cost of wholesale funding through improving customer spreads (on retail and commercial products). All of the major and regional banks have increased their standard variable loan rates by 50-60 basis points over and above the increases in the cash rate (although the four major banks have also announced that they will pass on the 25 basis point cut in interest rates announced by the RBA by 8 September 2008 and St.George has announced that it will cut lending and deposit rates by 30 basis points from 29 September 2008).

4.4 Key Drivers of Performance

Credit Growth

The level of credit growth underpins the earnings performance of the banking sector. Credit growth is closely linked to the strength of the Australian economy which can be represented by growth in gross domestic product ("GDP"). Credit growth has outpaced growth in nominal GDP by a considerable margin since 1994:

Source: RBA

On the back of record growth in property prices and housing loans during 2002 and 2003, credit growth increased to 15% per annum in 2004. From mid 2004, a slowdown in residential property markets saw housing credit growth decline, but this was more than compensated for by strong growth in business lending (on the back of the resources boom). Total credit growth peaked at 16.4% in December 2007 but has dropped off considerably since with the impact of interest rate rises, higher petrol prices and the global credit crisis during 2007 flowing through to credit growth. However, total credit growth for the 12 months ended 31 July 2008 of 11.2% is still marginally above the long term average of 10-11% and the easing of credit growth is expected to continue.

Source: RBA

The expansion of housing and personal lending over the past 15 years (up until late 2007) has been supported by robust economic conditions, low unemployment and positive consumer sentiment. Relatively low interest rates for much of this period encouraged an increase in debt per household, although rising asset prices resulted in housing affordability reaching record lows. In response, the Federal Government's first home buyer incentives have supported increasing home ownership. Housing credit growth (both owner occupied and investment) has weakened sharply in the last three months as higher interest rates, increasing fuel costs and sharemarket volatility have undermined consumer confidence. For the 12 months ended 31 July 2008, national home loan credit growth slowed to 9.8%, a level not seen since 1987.

Business lending is impacted by economic growth, interest rates and business confidence. Growth in business lending generally lags business confidence. Over the longer term, business lending growth has generally been more subdued than housing growth, falling substantially below housing lending growth from 2001 to 2004. However, more recently the economy has moved away from consumer driven growth towards business investment. This has been reflected in lending growth rates. Annual housing lending growth has declined since late 2006 and annual business lending growth overtaken annual housing lending growth since September 2005, increasing to a high of 23.8% in December 2007 (on the back of the resources boom). However, high fuel prices, dislocation in credit markets and interest rate increases have seen business confidence decline to its lowest level since the 1991 recession, and business lending has moderated considerably although at 15.0% for the 12 months ended 31 July 2008, it remains well above its long term average (of less than 10%) and there is an expectation that it will continue to moderate as the economy slows.

Led by the strength of the resources and construction industries, the Western Australian and Queensland economies have shown stronger growth than other states, although more recently, the South Australian economy has also shown signs of stronger growth, supported by its mining potential, low unemployment rate and population growth. Victorian economic growth has also improved, reporting its strongest rate of growth in three years in the 12 months ended 30 June 2008, well above its average long term rate of growth. New South Wales continues to report lower levels of growth compared to other states (with growth for the 12 months ended 30 June 2008 below its long term average rate of growth):

GRANT SAMUEL

Source: ABS, seasonally adjusted figures

Over the next few years, South Australia's economy and its rate of growth are expected to benefit from the commencement of a number of significant mining projects (such as Prominent Hill and Olympic Dam) and defence contracts (such as the Air Warfare Destroyers and Collins class submarines contracts). However, the broad trends of higher growth in the Queensland and Western Australia economies are expected to continue over the short to medium term.

Asset Quality

The global credit crisis and its impact on the sharemarket as well as the economic slowdown and high levels of household gearing have raised concerns for the exposure of banks to credit risk generally. While levels of non performing loans have been rising since reaching historical lows in December 2004, current levels across the banking sector remain low relative to 30 year data.

Substantial increases in impairment costs were reported by the major banks in their latest half year results. These charges were primarily against business loans as well as some provisions for margin lending losses (and not in relation to housing loans).

Since the major banks' half year announcements in April/May 2008, the domestic and global economies have continued to slow and NAB and ANZ have announced substantial increases in provisions for the year ending 30 September 2008:

- on 25 July 2008, NAB announced a provision of $830 million in relation to exposures to United States mortgage linked securities as a result of the sub prime crisis. This provision was in addition to a $181 million provision in the half year results and increased the level of provisioning in relation to the exposure to 90% (although current losses relating to the provision average only 2% of the total portfolio); and
- on 28 July 2008, ANZ announced a $375 million increase in its collective provision in response to the sustained deterioration in the global credit market and softening domestic economies in New Zealand and, to a lesser extent, Australia. In addition, ANZ advised that certain known credit issues had deteriorated including certain commercial property clients, securities lending and Bill Express and as a result, individual provisions were expected to be around $850 million in the second half.

The ANZ provisions reflect in part the deteriorating economy and the other major banks (CBA and Westpac) have confirmed that they do not have comparable exposures as NAB to United States sub prime mortgages or related securities. St.George has no exposure to these products. CBA's results announcement for the year ended 30 June 2008 on 13 August 2008 also included increased provisioning, particularly for corporate loans, reflecting market conditions. CBA's loan impairment expenses increased by more than 100% from $434 million in the year ended 30 June 2007 to $930 million in the year ended 30 June 2008, increasing the loan impairment expense to average gross loans and acceptances from 0.14% to 0.26%.

Although system asset quality is considered to be sound, impairment charges are expected to continue to trend upwards in the medium term, reflecting a more "normal" level of provisioning in a higher interest rate, lower economic growth environment.

Net Interest Margins

Over the past decade, the banking sector has experienced reducing net interest margins, reflecting increased competition from bank and non bank lenders, particularly in housing lending and deposits. More recently, the increasing use of higher cost wholesale funding by banks has also contributed to margin attrition.

Historically, the regional banks have, in general, earned a lower average net interest margin than the major banks. This gap primarily reflects the regional banks' greater proportion of housing receivables and relatively higher funding costs. Regional banks have experienced a slower decline in net interest margin than the majors, resulting in a narrowing of the gap. The regional banks have traditionally had a lower level of low interest deposit accounts compared to the majors so their margins have been less affected by competition for deposits.

The global credit crisis has seen competitive pressures on net interest margins decline over the last six months. The key drivers of net interest margin compression in recent months have been:

- the increase in the cash rate/90 day BBSW spread and bank funding margins, which has resulted in net interest margins being squeezed. To counteract this impact, most banks have raised interest rates by 50-60 basis points in excess of official cash rate increases over the last nine months (although the four major banks have also announced that they will pass on the 25 basis point cut in interest rates announced by the RBA by 8 September 2008 and St.George has announced that it will cut lending and deposit rates by 30 basis points from 29 September 2008);
- an increase in corporate/institutional lending growth as reduced liquidity in debt markets has resulted in corporate/institutional clients that had in the past directly accessed debt capital markets returning to bank funding;
- higher levels of liquid assets reflecting the volatile operating environment; and
- a marginal increase in fixed rate home mortgages.

Net interest margin compression is expected to continue.

Fee Based Income

As interest margins continue to decline, fee based income has become increasingly important. However, competition is also impacting fee income, with some financial institutions waiving introduction fees on housing loans and fixed monthly fees on transaction accounts.

To supplement banking related fee based income, most banks have implemented "bancassurance" strategies (generally through mergers with and acquisitions of non banking businesses), utilising their customer base and branch networks to cross sell a broader range of financial products. The ability to offer a full range of financial products (such as wealth management and insurance) to customers is perceived to protect the banks' franchise and provide future growth opportunities, while income diversification reduces exposure to the competitive pricing and declining net interest margins in banking activities.

GRANT SAMUEL

For example, it is now standard practice to offer bundled solutions such as home insurance with mortgages, car insurance with car loans and consumer credit insurance with personal loans.

Non interest income now makes up more than 50% of total operating income for Australian banks as a whole.

Cost to Income Ratios

In the face of declining interest margins, banks have also sought to improve cost efficiencies to maintain growth in profitability. Significant cost rationalisation programs have focussed on the reconfiguration of branch networks and the introduction of more cost efficient channels for delivery and distribution of services such as ATMs, electronic funds transfer at point of sale and internet banking. As a result of these programs, cost to income ratios across the banking sector have been steadily declining. The average cost to income ratio for the regional banks has historically been higher than that of the majors, reflecting their relatively smaller scale. However, as illustrated in the chart below, St.George and Suncorp operate at much lower cost to income ratios than the other regional banks with St.George in fact having a lower cost to income ratio than any of the major banks:

Source: Company reports, cost to income ratio for Australian banking business only

4.5 Ownership and Regulation

Ownership

There are legislative and government restrictions on bank ownership:

- under the Financial Services Sector (Shareholdings) Act 1998, financial services companies, including banks, are subject to a 15% shareholding limit, although the Treasurer may approve a higher percentage limit on national interest grounds; and
- the Federal Government has a "four pillars" policy under which mergers between the four major banks are not permitted. This is long standing policy rather than formal regulation, but it reflects the broad political unpopularity of bank mergers. In June 2008, subsequent to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal, the newly elected Federal Government reiterated its support for the "four pillars" policy.

GRANT SAMUEL

Regulation

APRA is the prudential regulator of the Australian financial services industry and is responsible for overseeing the prudential framework under which financial institutions, including banks, must operate to ensure that they are able to meet their financial obligations to customers. One of APRA's prudential requirements is capital adequacy. APRA also monitors liquidity and credit quality.

The capital adequacy requirements aim to ensure that banks maintain adequate eligible capital (a combination of Tier 1 and Tier 2 capital) to act as a buffer against the risks associated with their activities (calculated on the basis of risk weighted assets, including off balance sheet positions and a charge for market risk). These prudential standards are based on Basel I, the first standardised global approach to assessing the capital adequacy of banks, which has been in place since 1988.

As a result of advances in risk management practices, technology and banking markets, it became apparent that changes were required to Basel I and this culminated in the release of Basel II in 2005. Basel II is made up of three "pillars":

- Pillar 1 covers the minimum capital requirements for credit, market and operational risk, and has greater risk sensitivity than the Basel I requirements (e.g. the risk weighting for mortgages held by Australian banks drops from 50% to around 15-25%, reflecting the very low loss history);
- Pillar 2 covers the supervisory review process and requires banks to have capital targets consistent with their overall risk profile and current operating environment; and
- Pillar 3 relates to market disclosure and provides for enhanced market discipline through a disclosure regime.

The fundamental objective of Basel II is to provide improved risk management and greater alignment between economic and regulatory capital. Basel II was introduced in Australia from 1 January 2008 and three of the major banks (CBA, Westpac and ANZ) have reported under Basel II, with all three reporting a reduction in risk weighted assets compared to Basel I. APRA has indicated that some banks will need to hold more regulatory capital and some less, but on average, there should be modest reductions in regulatory capital.

From 1 January 2008:

- fundamental Tier 1 capital (essentially ordinary shares and retained earnings) must represent 75% of net Tier 1 capital; and
- residual Tier 1 capital is limited to 25% of net Tier 1 capital. Within residual Tier 1 capital, non innovative Tier 1 capital (perpetual non cumulative preference shares) must be at least 10% of net Tier 1 capital with non innovative Tier 1 capital (all other residual Tier 1 capital instruments that satisfy APRA requirements) making up the balance.

Net Tier 1 capital must constitute at least 50% of a bank's required capital base.

The Australian banking sector is also subject to the regulatory frameworks and obligations imposed by other legislation. In particular, the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006, which received royal assent in December 2006, imposes a number of obligations on banks, which have been phased in over a two year period. Considerable cost has been incurred by banks in implementing these reforms.

GRANT SAMUEL

4.6 Outlook

The performance of the banking sector over the next 12 months is expected to be influenced by:

- lower levels of competition, particularly in the home lending market, as the activities of non bank lenders are constrained by the credit markets and customer preferences shift to the safety offered by financial institutions. More corporates are expected to turn to banks for funding due to the more limited ability to raise debt themselves, although there will be competition amongst banks for this business;
- a slower economy on the back of higher interest rates, higher inflation and record fuel prices, all of which have had a negative impact on consumer and business sentiment. While economic growth is expected to continue to slow, the slowdown should be a "soft" landing;
- credit growth is expected to continue to slow. Housing credit growth is already in decline and this is expected to continue. Business credit growth has fallen away considerably and is expected to continue to slow over the next two years;
- funding will remain a key risk, driven by the lack of liquidity and increased volatility in global finance markets. Funding conditions are expected to remain tight over the next 12-24 months as investor sentiment takes time to recover. This will mean a continuation of wider credit spreads; and
- the deterioration in asset quality is expected to continue, albeit from 30 year lows. There has been recent evidence of a slowing labour market (albeit from a position of full employment) and this is usually associated with a deteriorating credit environment, especially for housing loans. Continued fallout from the global credit crisis is likely to see continued provisioning for business loans. The impact on financial institutions will differ depending on their exposures and risk management practices.

These factors are expected to result in a slowing of earnings growth for Australian banks.

5 St. George's Banking Business

5.1 Overview

St. George's banking business operates through three separate business units:

▪ Retail Banking

Retail Banking provides residential and consumer loans and personal financial services including transaction services, call and term deposits and small business banking. St. George targets key customer segments such as high end retail customers (Gold Service customers) and small business owners (Enterprise customers). St. George's financial planners are also part of Retail Banking as they are located in retail branches.

Retail Banking originates new business and services its customers through a number of channels. As at 31 March 2008, it had a retail network of 267 branches across Australia (excluding BankSA), most of which were located in New South Wales/Australian Capital Territory. Retail Banking has a national network of 1,124 ATMs which are also predominantly in New South Wales/Australian Capital Territory. There has been an increase in the number of ATMs in the last 12 months as a result of a partnership with BP to introduce almost 200 St. George branded ATMs into BP sites across Australia, improving customer accessibility. Other key distribution channels include St. George's call centre (Customer Contact Centre), St. George branded mobile lenders (operated as a network of licensees through Mortgage Connect outside of New South Wales and South Australia), a referral program where partners are paid an upfront fee and a trailing commission on successfully settled home loans that they refer to St. George (Mortgage Alliance), independent third parties such as mortgage brokers and the internet. Mortgage brokers are a very important distribution channel, responsible for 46% of new loans written in the six months ended 31 March 2008. St. George plans to continue expanding its branch and ATM network in its new geographies (Victoria, Queensland and Western Australia) over the next three years.

Growth opportunities for Retail Banking include increasing the number of products per customer, which at an average of 1.97²⁴ products per customer is below the 2.10-2.28²⁴ products per customer of the major banks. Retail Banking is also focussed on continuing to improve customer accessibility and increasing distribution channels.

▪ Institutional & Business Banking

Institutional & Business Banking is a portfolio of businesses responsible for corporate and business relationship banking, automotive and equipment lending and financial/capital markets. St. George has 30 co-located (with retail) or stand alone business centres. Institutional & Business Banking has won a number of Best Business Bank and Best Commercial Bank awards over the last five years.

While corporate and business relationship banking focuses on both business customers (loans from $250,000 to $1 million) and corporate and key customers (loans from $1 million up to $300 million), it has a "middle market" focus, with an average loan size of around $6 million (over the last 12 months). Corporate and key customers is the largest contributor to Institutional & Business Banking's profit, representing approximately 70% of total business unit profit. The business also focuses on key industry segments such as property and construction, professionals, manufacturing and wholesale, leisure and hospitality and health. The automotive industry is also one of Institutional & Business Banking's key industry segments. The automotive finance business provides wholesale finance and banking services for dealers and retail finance for vehicles bought at dealerships. The business has operations across Australia and has a national market share of approximately 20% of financial relationships with new vehicle franchise dealers based in metropolitan and major regional centres.

The financial markets business is responsible for liquidity management, securitisation, wholesale funding, capital markets and treasury market activities such as foreign exchange, money market and derivatives.

In 2007, Institutional & Business Banking commenced the "Best Business Bank Technology" ("B-Tech") programme, a continuation of the successful "Best Business Bank" programme which was focused on expanding and diversifying the bank's commercial middle market portfolio. The B-Tech programme revolves around improving process and system efficiencies. The business is 12 months into the three year programme, which is expected to deliver a substantial uplift in efficiency, service and profitability.

■ BankSA

BankSA provides retail banking, business banking and private banking services to customers in South Australia and the Northern Territory. BankSA has the largest distribution network in South Australia, with 109 branches, 188 ATMs and 98 electronic agencies. It has a further four branches and four ATMs in the Northern Territory. Bank SA has extended its services into country New South Wales and Victoria as part of St.George's initiative to expand rural banking. BankSA is a market leader in South Australia across the retail banking, business banking and rural banking businesses. The business employs approximately 1,300 staff²⁵ and has 528,000 customers.

St.George Insurance Australia Pty Limited ("SGIA") is St.George's wholly owned lender's mortgage insurance subsidiary. It is not treated as a separate business unit as its results are included within the Retail Banking and BankSA business units. However, its operations are significant, with $38.3 billion of loans insured by SGIA as at 31 March 2008 (over 50% of St.George's residential loan portfolio). SGIA has a limit of liability in place for each policy year, with excess of loss covered by reinsurance arrangements which vary depending on the type of loan insured. Since its inception in 1989, SGIA has not made a claim under its reinsurance treaties. SGIA's investment portfolio is managed independently by two external fund managers. As a result of the volatility in equities markets, the investment mix of the portfolio has recently been rebalanced to reduce the exposure to equities.

St.George provides a differentiated customer experience to the major banks by being customer centric rather than product centric. As at July 2008, St.George's retail bank customer satisfaction level was 76.4% compared to the average for the four major banks of 69.7%, a 6.7% differential. In middle market business banking, the differential was even larger at 13% (as at 31 March 2008, the latest figures available), with St.George enjoying 71% customer satisfaction. Customer satisfaction flows through to lower customer churn rates. For example, in August 2007, none of St.George's Institutional & Business Banking middle market customers were considering changing banks in the next six months compared to 17% of major bank customers who were considering changing.

As part of its focus on a differentiated customer experience, St.George has adopted a "local market model" for retail banking, which is based on driving greater delegated authority and ownership at the local (from state down to branch) level. In addition to improving the customer experience, this model is designed to increase accountability and attract and retain staff. For targeted business banking clients, the differentiated position is a "high-touch" relationship model with fewer customers per relationship manager and a focus on increasing the number of products per customer.

²⁵ 1,300 staff comprises permanent, casual and temporary staff and contractors and equates to 1,027 full time equivalents.

GRANT SAMUEL

5.2 Market Position

St.George has an estimated 8.9% share of the Australian residential loans market and a 9.4% share of loans in its key middle market business segment nationally:

St.George – Loan Market Share by State as at 31 March 2008
	Residential Loans	Middle Market Loans
Core states
New South Wales	14.7%	13.2%
South Australia	17.8%	21.9%
New geographies

Western Australia	5.5%	10.7%
Northern Territory	10.5%	8.2%
Total	8.9%	9.4%

Source: Cannex and St.George

The major banks each have a substantial share of the national residential loans market. CBA has the largest market share at around 22% and the other major banks each have around 15% market share. At a state level, St.George generally ranks behind the majors and any strong local banks (such as Suncorp and Bank of Queensland in Queensland and BankWest in Western Australia) except that St.George (through BankSA) has the third highest share of the South Australian residential loans market.

St.George has a material share of the middle market business loans market. However, this is very much a niche market and its overall share of the commercial lending market is smaller at around 6%²⁶ (as at 31 March 2008).

While St.George is strongest in its foundation states of New South Wales (including the Australian Capital Territory) and South Australia (through BankSA), it has pursued a strategy of accelerated growth in key customer segments in Victoria, Queensland and Western Australia. To date, this has been achieved through expansion of the distribution network. St.George's strategy is focussed on growing its targeted high value customer segments in these new geographies and positioning St.George as an effective alternative to the major banks.

Residential and Consumer Lending

Residential and consumer loans together represent 70% of St.George's loan receivables portfolio. Buoyant consumer and equity market conditions have driven strong growth in margin lending, credit cards and personal loans in recent years. However, collectively, these product lines account for only approximately 6% of the bank's overall loan receivables portfolio. Credit cards, although small, is a key growth area for St.George, with over 70% of new credit cards being issued to existing customers and only 25.3% of St.George's customers holding a St.George credit card as at 31 March 2008.

St.George has a significant retail banking presence in New South Wales and through BankSA in South Australia. The bank's branch network is the core distribution channel for housing loans and St.George's direct lending channels accounted for 54% of new settlements in the six months ended 31 March 2008. The broker channel is also critical to the bank's distribution model but in line with other banks, St.George has changed the basis on which commissions are paid to reflect the value of the business introduced. The proportion of new settlements sourced by third party brokers remained consistent at 46% in the six months ended 31 March 2008 (compared to 44% in the year ended 30 September 2007 and 45% in the year ended 30 September 2006).

The residential product mix is primarily standard variable, portfolio and fixed, which together represent approximately 86% of all residential loans, with fixed loans increasing considerably more recently in light of increases in variable mortgage interest rates. Low doc loans represent approximately 7% of all residential loans and no deposit loans are approximately 5% of total residential loans. Although a relatively small proportion of the residential loan book, low doc and no deposit loans continue to grow (by 11% and 14% respectively in the six months ended 31 March 2008).

The residential loan book is well secured, with the loan to valuation ratio for the total portfolio at less than 40% as at 30 June 2008. The loan to valuation ratio for mortgages written in the 10 months ended 30 June 2008 was 73.9%, with SGIA insuring and any mortgages with a loan to valuation ratio greater than 80% or mortgages considered low doc with a loan to valuation ratio greater than 60%.

Commercial Lending

Commercial loans are predominantly sourced by Institutional & Business Banking. Commercial loans offered by Institutional & Business Banking represent approximately 88% of the total commercial loans portfolio (with the balance being commercial loans written by BankSA).

Institutional & Business Banking's commercial lending portfolio, while focussed on the niche "middle market", is diversified and well secured. Over 90% of the portfolio is secured and over 80% is secured by property. The exposure concentration is diversified with approximately 70% of total portfolio balances smaller than $50 million and an average loan size of $6 million. Over 82% of the portfolio is in the key industry segments (excluding the automotive industry). Over 40% of commercial loans are for property investment with a further 10% to the construction industry. Loans to professionals represent just over 10% of the commercial loan portfolio with the other key industry segments representing less than 10% each.

Total middle market loan receivables as at 31 March 2008 were $27.6 billion, more than treble the $8.3 billion in middle market loan receivables as at 30 September 2002 and representing over 80% of the total commercial lending portfolio. This growth is reflected in market share increasing from 5.0% as at 30 September 2002 to 9.4% as at 31 March 2008. This is the result of a strategy implemented, pursued and refined since 1999 which focuses on providing a superior customer experience, the six key industry segments and not trying to be "all things to all people".

The success of the strategy is evident in the large proportion of new business sourced from existing customers (69%) and in the steady increase in the number of products per customer. For middle market customers as a whole, the number of products per customer has increased from 3.0

in September 2002 to 5.4 in March 2008. For key customers the result has been even better, with the number of products per customer increasing from 5.8 in September 2002 to 8.5 in March 2008.

Growth in Loan Receivables

Overall growth in loan receivables has been slightly below national system growth, reflecting the disproportionate share of loans in New South Wales, which has experienced slower growth than states such as Queensland and Western Australia.

Growth rates by key product and by state over the last two and a half years is summarised in the table below:

St.George has achieved strong growth in its key product areas over the last two years. Growth in middle market loan receivables in particular has been strong in all states, including New South Wales and South Australia (although off relatively low bases).

At a state level, St.George has performed largely in line with system growth in New South Wales. South Australia has been more challenging. Although it has historically performed largely in line with South Australian system growth, its growth has been just below system growth in the residential loans market in the year ended 30 September 2007 and the 12 months ended 31 March 2008. In contrast, middle market lending in South Australia has strongly outperformed the market over the last year and a half. In both Queensland and Western Australia, St.George has generally strongly outperformed both the residential and middle market lending markets in recent years while growth in Victoria has been largely in line or slightly below system growth.

Over the past three and a half years St.George has had extremely low levels of non performing loans relative to total loan receivables. This reflects Australia's strong credit environment over the last decade as well as St.George's prudent lending policies. For the period from September 1994 to September 2007, St.George's average loss rates have been 0.015% for residential loans, 0.25% for commercial loans, 1.7% for credit cards and 1.2% for personal loans. The average loss ratios for credit cards and personal loans are substantially higher but these products are only a small part of the total loan receivables portfolio.

St.George's credit quality compares favourably to that of the four major banks, in part reflecting its greater proportion of domestic residential loan receivables. As at 30 September 2005, net impaired assets as a percentage of net loan receivables for the four major banks averaged 0.18% compared to St.George's substantially lower ratio of 0.06%. Although the ratio for the major banks improved through to 31 March 2007, it has subsequently increased to an average of 0.19% as at 31 March 2008 while St.George's ratio has increased to 0.12% as at 31 March 2008. This relative performance reflects the strong quality of St.George's loan receivables portfolio despite its significant growth and the deterioration in credit markets.

³⁰ Collective and specific provisions are raised where there is objective evidence of impairment. For collective impairment, a provision is raised even where the impairment event cannot be attributed to individual exposures. The required provision is estimated on the basis of historical loss experience.

³³ Past due loans are loans that are greater than 90 days outside contractual terms.

³⁴ Bad debt write offs (net) as at 31 March 2008 represents movements for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008.

GRANT SAMUEL

From a coverage perspective, St.George's provisioning is conservative, with an average ratio of total provision and GRCL to bad debt write offs of 3.2 times and an average total provision to total non performing loans ratio of more than 100% over the last three and a half years. Over the same period, the ratio of total provision and GRCL as a percentage of total gross loan receivables has increased. This increase reflects the higher growth rates in asset classes within the loan receivables portfolio that experience relatively larger losses (i.e. commercial loans, credit cards and personal loans). The specific provision for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 includes a provision of $20 million relating to a $25 million margin loan secured against shares in Octaviar Limited ("Octaviar")³⁹. The remaining balance of $5 million was fully provided for as at 31 July 2008. Although St.George also has exposures to Centro Properties Group ("Centro") ($458 million) and Alloco Finance Group ("Alloco") ($60 million), no specific provision was made in relation to these loans as at 31 March 2008 as all loans were performing and the Centro loans are fully secured by the underlying property (with loan to value ratios of between 40% and 70%). The Alloco exposure is unsecured and has reduced from $60 million as at 31 March 2008 to $37 million as at 31 July 2008 as a result of asset sales and reduction of limits. St.George management expects St.George to benefit relative to other banks in the current uncertain market conditions as a result of its domestic focus and stronger credit quality.

5.5 Funding Sources

St.George generates funding for its loan receivables portfolio through the retail, securitisation and wholesale funding markets. The bank has a strong retail deposit base as well as a diversified wholesale and securitisation funding program. The historical composition of St.George's funding mix is shown below:

Source: St.George

As a result of strong asset growth, St.George's funding requirement has grown by approximately 55% over the last two and a half years, from $77.0 billion as at 30 September 2005 to $119.0 billion as at 31 March 2008. As at 31 July 2008, the funding requirement had increased to $130.9 billion. As at 31 July 2008, $55.3 billion of the funding requirement was provided by retail deposits with the balance of $75.6 billion provided by wholesale funding (including $16.4 billion of securitisation):

³⁹ The provision in relation to this margin loan is shown in the operating performance of St.George's wealth management business which is set out in Section 7.4.

St.George has an estimated 8.2% share of the retail deposits market nationally:

Each of the major banks has a share of the national retail deposits market of 14-18% (other than CBA, which has around 23% market share). The split of deposits between household and business for the major banks (excluding CBA) is, on average, 48% household and 52% business. CBA has a much higher proportion of household deposits at around 71%. In contrast, NAB is strong in business banking and ANZ is strong in corporate and institutional banking (with both having a larger proportion of business deposits than household deposits).

Despite intense competition for deposits, St.George's national market share of retail deposits has declined only marginally from 8.5% in September 2005 to 8.2% in July 2008. The branch network and Customer Contact Centres are key distribution channels for retail deposits as is the online channel (particularly following the launch of online applications for retail deposits in October 2007). In the six months ended 31 March 2008, retail deposits also benefited from increased customer demand for low risk banking products. High interest savings accounts and fixed term deposits in particular have increased as customers have taken advantage of the higher interest rates offered on fixed term deposits and on online savings products.

Retail deposits as a percentage of total funding (including securitisation) has declined from 51.1% as at 30 September 2005 to 43.0% as at 31 March 2008. This is largely due to the asset base growing faster than the deposit base. The two and a half year CAGR to 31 March 2008 for retail deposits was 11.0% compared to the CAGR for the loan receivables portfolio over the same period of 14.2%. The increasing shortfall between retail deposits and the total funding requirement has been largely funded by a substantial increase in the wholesale funding categories other deposits (certificates of deposit), offshore borrowings and, until recently, securitisation.

St.George has a lower proportion of retail deposits in its funding base (at 43%) than the major banks (which have customer deposit funding of 51-54%). Prima facie, this puts St.George at a competitive disadvantage, particularly in the current environment with the difficulty accessing and the higher cost of wholesale funds for banks generally as a result of the global credit crisis. However, the customer deposits referred to by the major banks generally include deposits from financial institutions (which are not included the table above and of which St.George has only a very small amount in comparison to the major banks). The liquidity characteristics of deposits become increasingly wholesale in nature as they move from household through to business, corporate and institutional. This apparent disadvantage is also offset by St.George's higher proportion of household deposits. St.George has a higher proportion of household deposits than any of the major banks other than CBA. Having said this, St.George's proportion of business deposits has been growing (at September 2005, business deposits represented 27.6% of total retail deposits compared to 35.6% as at 31 July 2008).

St.George's wholesale funding portfolio is diversified by term, product type, global geography and currency. As a result of its longstanding strategy of managing and diversifying its funding sources, the bank has been actively marketing to investors in the global markets for over 20 years and has built a number of issuance programs across a range of wholesale funding markets, including utilisation of securitisation markets. St.George has experienced funding teams in place with long track records of managing liquidity and accessing short and medium term funding and securitisation markets.

Securitisation has historically been a very cost effective source of wholesale funding for St.George and has enhanced the bank's term funding profile as the maturity profile matches the securitised loans. Consequently, the proportion of securitised assets in St.George's funding mix had increased steadily, peaking at just over 21% of total funding as at 31 March 2007. However, with run off and significant contraction of, most notably, residential mortgage backed securitisation markets as a result of the global credit crisis, securitised assets as a proportion of total funding requirements fell to 13.8% as at 31 March 2008. The contraction of securitisation markets has led St.George (and other banks) to source additional unsecured funding from the domestic and offshore debt markets. Securitisation has historically made up a greater proportion of St.George's overall funding than it has for the major banks (where securitised assets represent 3% or less of the total funding requirement).

In managing its funding mix, St.George seeks to minimise its overall financing costs while maintaining the right balance of short and medium term funds. As at 31 March 2008, the average weighted maturity of committed funds was 26 months, down from 32 months as at 30 September 2007 (reflecting the shorter tenor of debt issued in the last six months). As at 31 March 2008, 15% of committed term funding was due to mature in the next six months.

On 18 June 2008, St.George announced that it had completed 100% of its term funding requirements for the year ending 30 September 2008 and that it had also raised $1 billion of its estimated funding requirement for the year ending 30 September 2009 of $11-12 billion (including $6.7 billion of refinancing). As at 1 September 2008, St.George had raised $4.6 billion of its 2009 estimated funding requirement.

St.George expects that access to markets and pricing will continue to be challenging for all financial institutions due to the expected volatility and possible worsening of the funding markets. Due to widening credit markets for all financial institutions, St.George expects the cost of its wholesale funding to remain high in the near term. As an A+/Aa2 rated financial institution, St.George's cost of funding relative to the major banks (which are currently rated AA/Aa1) has also increased and this incremental funding margin is not expected to return to pre global credit crisis levels in the short term. However, St.George believes it can remain competitive relative to its peers despite higher funding costs as a result of its lower cost to income ratio. St.George estimates that every 1% of cost to income ratio benefit relative to its peers allows St.George to absorb additional funding costs of 6-8 basis points without impacting competitiveness (although it also results in lower growth in net profit after tax).

In response to volatile market conditions, as at 31 March 2008, St.George had increased its liquidity ratio to 13% of assets or $13.8 billion, well above the APRA agreed minimum ratio of 8%. It has also established a $3.8 billion residential mortgage backed security contingent liquidity facility that meets the criteria for repurchase agreements with the RBA.

St.George expects to fund future asset growth through a mix of retail deposits and additional wholesale debt. St.George has established a new medium term debt program for issuance in the United States (Rule 144A market) and intends to establish a similar program for issuance in Japan (Samurai market) by the end of September 2008 (subject to market conditions). These markets are already familiar with Australian banks as the major banks in particular have previously raised money in these markets. St.George has previously issued Rule 144A subordinated debt. Accessing these markets is expected to provide additional capacity at competitive pricing levels and introduce a new investor base for St.George. St.George is not relying on any further securitisation issues, although the market appears to have reopened (to a limited extent) with St.George issuing $1.58 billion of securitised automotive receivables in 2008 ($336 million in March 2008 and $1.24 billion in July 2008). In September 2008, St.George also issued $1 billion of residential mortgage backed securities, although this securitisation was privately placed to a single investor and represented a discrete opportunity for a particular account. St.George does not believe that it is indicative of a broader turnaround in the residential mortgage backed securities market.

St.George is rated by a number of ratings agencies. As at 15 September 2008, its long term issuer credit ratings were A+ (Credit Watch Positive) (Standard & Poor's), Aa2 (Under Review - Direction Uncertain) (Moody's) and A+ (Rating Watch Positive) (Fitch).

Under APRA guidelines, St.George's minimum Tier 1 regulatory capital ratio is 6.25% (reduced from 6.5% in December 2007) and its total capital ratio must exceed 9.5% (reduced from 10.0% previously). St.George maintains a buffer above these minimum requirements. As at 31 March 2008, St.George's capital adequacy was in excess of APRA's requirements, with a Tier 1 capital ratio of 7.0% and a total capital ratio of 10.1%.

In its market update on 12 August 2008, St.George announced that its Tier 1 ratio had fallen to 6.74% as at 31 July 2008, although it was still well above its minimum requirement of 6.25%.

On the basis of minimum APRA requirements, St.George had $439 million of excess capital as at 31 March 2008.

During the six months ended 31 March 2008, St.George undertook $1.6 billion of capital management initiatives to strengthen its capital position and support its growing asset base, including:

- a private placement of ordinary equity to institutions in November 2007 raising $759 million;
- the $392 million CPS II issue completed in December 2007;
- $76 million of ordinary equity raised through St.George's dividend reinvestment plan ("DRP") for the 2007 final dividend in December 2007;
- $85 million of ordinary equity raised through the Share Purchase Plan in March 2008; and
- a $336 million securitisation of automotive finance loans in March 2008.

In addition, since 31 March 2008, St.George has:

³⁷ Capital adequacy as at 30 September 2005 is based on financial information prepared in accordance with AGAAP. In all subsequent periods, capital adequacy is based on financial information prepared in accordance with APRA and AIFRS requirements.

³⁸ Required minimum capital base is based on a total capital ratio of 10.0% as at 30 September 2005 to 2007 and 9.5% as at 31 March 2008.

GRANT SAMUEL

- completed a $750 million subordinated notes issue which qualifies as lower Tier 2 capital in May 2008;
- redeemed $250 million of subordinated notes due to mature in 2013;
- raised $151.8 million of capital through the DRP for the 2008 interim dividend in July 2008; and
- completed a $1.24 billion securitisation of automotive loans in July 2008.

DRPs are used by all banks to assist in capital management. St.George's DRP plays an important role in its capital management as the bank has a relatively high dividend payout ratio of close to 80%. To minimise capital outflow, St.George's most recent DRP in relation to the 2008 interim dividend was offered at a 2.5% discount to prevailing market prices, which increased DRP participation to around 30% (from around 15% historically when no discount has been offered).

Standard & Poor's ratings agency uses its own measure of capital, the adjusted common equity ("ACE") ratio, which Australian banks use as an alternative measurement of capital adequacy. The ACE ratio is calculated by reference to core shareholders' equity less goodwill, intangibles and investments in non banking subsidiaries, divided by total risk weighted assets. St.George's ACE ratio of 5.2% compares favourably to the minimum required ACE ratio of 4.5% and has comfortably exceeded the required ratio over the last three and a half years.

As part of its progression to Basel II, St.George has developed models to more precisely measure a broader range of risks and has implemented a range of new processes to enhance risk management across the group. St.George is seeking Advanced Basel II status in respect of both credit and operational risk. Accreditation is currently scheduled for 2009 (deferred from January 2009), with timing subject to APRA approval. Pending Advanced accreditation, St.George will remain subject to Basel I requirements until the end of calendar 2008 and will be required to adopt the Standardised approach under Basel II from the beginning of calendar 2009. Management expects that the adoption of Basel II will not have a material impact on the bank's capital position.

Factors impacting St.George's capital requirements for the year ending 30 September 2009 include Basel II accreditation, growth in risk weighted assets, the state of securitisation markets, financial performance, dividend payout levels and DRP participation rates.

St.George's banking business has historically reported strong growth in revenue and earnings, reflecting the strength of the Australian economy and growth in credit markets over a number of years. In line with the market as a whole, the rate of growth moderated in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008, reflecting the impact of the global credit crisis on St.George's cost of funds and the impact of the deterioration in investment markets on the performance of SGIA's investment trading portfolio. SGIA's investment portfolio has subsequently been rebalanced away from equities, with hedges put in place to reduce the effective equities exposure within the investment portfolio to less than 10% at 30 June 2008, down from 33% as at 31 March 2008. In September 2007, the same strategy was used by SGIA to reduce its 48% equities exposure to an effective position of 16% as at 30 September 2007. As at 31 July 2008, the effective exposure within the SGIA investment trading portfolio had been reduced to less than 10%.

The above analysis shows that the underlying performance of St.George's banking business has shown reasonably consistent and steady growth over the last three and a half years.

The main source of income for St.George's banking business is the net interest income that it generates from its lending portfolio. Net interest income has consistently generated approximately 75% of total net operating income (after adjusting for the SGIA investment trading result and other one off items). Net interest income is driven by volume growth in lending receivables and the interest differential the bank is able to realise in funding this growth. St.George's banking business also generates fee income on lending and deposit products and other banking services.

The 20 basis point decline in St.George's net interest margin over the two years ended 30 September 2007 largely resulted from competitive pressure on lending spreads (13 basis points), as well as a change in the funding mix (an increased proportion of wholesale funding). However, in the six months ended 31 March 2008, the five basis point fall from 1.97% to 1.92% was not driven by competitive pressures, but related primarily to a change in the liquidity mix as the bank held higher levels of liquid assets in response to increased market volatility. The remainder of the decline was due to changes in the funding mix and higher wholesale funding costs. These negative factors were partly offset by the benefit of free funds (from improved returns on equity following three increases in official cash rates and the benefit from raising $844 million of ordinary share capital under the private placement and the Share Purchase Plan). St.George has attempted to recover higher wholesale funding costs from its customers by increasing interest rates over and above the increases in official cash rates. As at 31 March 2008, the standard mortgage variable rate had increased by 30 basis points and the business lending variable rate had increased by 50 basis points over and above the 75 basis point increase in official cash rates since November 2007.

The underlying cost to income ratio for St.George's banking business has fallen from 46.2% in the year ended 30 September 2005 to 41.6% in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008. This reflects the strong growth in revenue as well as effective cost management and investment in technology platforms to improve efficiency. St.George has a lower cost to income ratio than any of the major banks.

The growth in operating expenses in the year ended 30 September 2007 reflects investment in customer facing staff (particularly in the new geographies and in middle market banking) as well as increased occupancy costs associated with the sale and leaseback of St.George's Kogarah head office and branch openings. However, the increase in operating expenses was more than matched by growth in revenue, with the underlying cost to income ratio falling from 43.3% to 42.5% over the year.

GRANT SAMUEL

The quality of St.George's loan receivables portfolio is reflected in the low loan impairment expense. In addition to the loan impairment expense, in accordance with APRA requirements, St.George maintains a general reserve for credit losses. The balance of the general reserve for credit losses together with the after tax equivalent of the collective provision that is considered to satisfy APRA's general provision definition, represents 0.5% of risk weighted assets. St.George's asset quality is discussed in Section 5.4.

On a business unit basis, based on operating profit before tax for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008, Retail Banking contributed 49% of the operating profit of St.George's banking business, with Institutional & Business Banking contributing 35% and BankSA the remaining 16%.

5.8 Outlook

St.George's results for the six months ended 31 March 2008 were impacted, in particular, by an increase in specific impairment provisions and losses on SGIA's investment trading portfolio. At the time of the half year announcement, St.George stated that it expected that earnings in the second half of the 2008 financial year would benefit from, amongst other things, the full period impact of initiatives implemented during the first half of the financial year (such as repricing of lending products) and stabilisation of earnings from the SGIA investment trading portfolio following its rebalancing away from equities.

St.George confirmed that second half earnings were on track in a market update provided on 12 August 2008. While no specific guidance was provided for St.George's banking business, the following information was provided in relation to St.George's performance for the 10 months ended 31 July 2008:

- residential receivables growth slowed to 10% (on an annualised basis) and St.George expects to grow broadly in line with system growth;
- middle market receivables growth also slowed, but remained strong at 30% (on an annualised basis), leading to further gains in market share;
- the net interest margin benefited from loan repricing (40 basis points for the full period and a further 20 basis points from 8 July 2008) as well as strong growth in deposits (19% on an annualised basis) funding a greater proportion of loan growth;
- realignment of mortgage broker commissions has resulted in reduced costs;
- hedging of SGIA's equity exposures resulted in a $1 million post tax contribution in the last four months (compared to a $23 million post tax loss in the six months ended 31 March 2008);
- credit quality remains solid, assisted by St.George's relatively higher proportion of residential loans. Loan impairment expense was 22-23 basis points of average gross loans in the 10 months ended 31 July 2008 (compared to 18 basis points in the year ended 30 September 2007). There were no new corporate losses in the four months ended 31 July 2008 and regular portfolio and watchlist reviews suggest no further material credit losses in the second half of the 2008 financial year. The remaining balance on the Octaviar margin loan of $5 million has been provided for. Other exposures (Alco and Centro) continue to perform and provisions have not been raised against these loans. In addition, the Alco exposure has been reduced from $60 million to $37 million. St.George does expect some deterioration in credit quality from a moderating economic environment and higher interest rates; and
- a full period impact of cost disciplines initiated during the first half of the 2008 financial year (such as the business optimisation program).

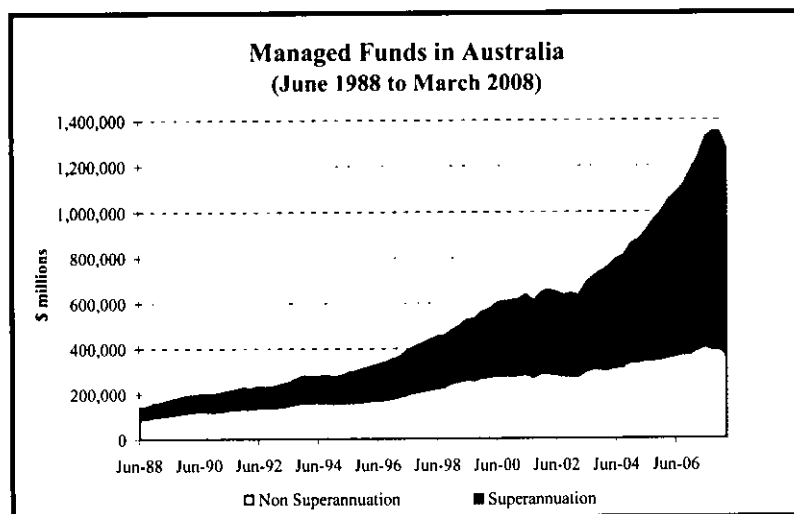

St.George also reconfirmed that it had no exposure to structured credit instruments and no exposures to United States or domestic sub prime lending.

6 Overview of the Wealth Management Sector

6.1 Size

The wealth management sector in Australia has enjoyed significant growth over the last two decades. Funds under management increased from $145.5 billion in June 1988 to almost $1.3 trillion in March 2008, making Australia the fourth largest onshore managed fund market in the world:

Source: ABS

The value of managed funds peaked in September 2007 and has fallen back in subsequent months following the impact of the global credit crisis and volatile investment markets on returns, the market value of the underlying investments and net inflows into managed funds. Despite this decline, the CAGR of the wealth management sector over the decade to March 2008 has been in excess of 10% per annum.

Superannuation funds dominate the Australian wealth management sector, accounting for approximately 71% of funds under management. Superannuation assets have grown rapidly, underpinned by government policies to encourage self provision for retirement such as The Superannuation Guarantee Scheme which was introduced in 1992 (at 5%, increasing to 9% by 2002/03). The value of superannuation fund assets placed with investment managers (as opposed to self managed funds and superannuation assets held in life office funds) has increased at an average rate of almost 15% per annum over the 10 years to 31 March 2008. Growth in superannuation assets is expected to continue, driven by population, employment and wages growth. In addition, recent favourable changes to taxation legislation have further increased the attractiveness of superannuation as a savings vehicle. An increasing awareness among Australians that current superannuation rates may not be sufficient to fund desired retirement lifestyles is also leading individuals and governments to focus on increasing the level of superannuation contributions.

In addition to the substantial increase in funds inflows as a result of superannuation contributions, growth in managed funds in Australia has been driven by:

- growth in the market value of the underlying investments and the high investment returns achieved from Australian equities (up until late 2007);
- growth in the size of the Australian workforce;

GRANT SAMUEL

- growth in investment platforms as the preferred vehicle for administration of underlying investments, giving retail investors the opportunity to access a broader range of investment products, which could not previously be directly accessed or could only be accessed at a higher management expense ratio;
- greater financial literacy among Australians, which in turn has led to a desire to have choice, flexibility and diversification in investments; and
- increasing investor interest in accessing offshore and non traditional investments, such as infrastructure trusts and hedge funds.

Despite the recent fall in value of managed funds, the RBA has forecast that funds under management will almost double to $2.5 trillion by 2015, representing average annual compound growth of approximately 10% per annum.

6.2 Structure

Over the last decade, the Australian wealth management sector has undergone significant structural change. Most notably:

- the wealth management value chain has "deconstructed" into several identifiable components including asset management, administration/servicing (including platforms) and distribution and marketing (including the provision of financial advice):

- the increasing role played by banks in the market through the acquisition of wealth management institutions;
- the growth of boutique asset managers to cater for an increasing trend towards specialist fund managers;
- the emergence of master trust and wrap platforms as the preferred vehicles for investment administration, offering customers greater choice and access to a greater range of fund managers; and
- increased regulation, which has made the Australian wealth management sector one of the most regulated in the world, affecting compliance, cost and fee structures.

Asset management

Asset management in Australia is characterised by a small number of large investment managers, some owned by international participants, domestic banks and life insurance companies, as well as a growing number of small to medium sized boutique asset managers (some of which have listed on the ASX). In recent years investment management has moved toward specialist managers for each asset class, reflecting an expectation that sector specific investment managers will achieve superior performance.

Consistent with the shift towards specialist managers, fund of fund products have become an increasingly popular investment option. Through a single fund, fund of fund products offer investors the opportunity to diversify across a range of specialist fund managers as well as asset classes. These products allow access to investment managers not generally available to smaller investors.

GRANT SAMUEL

The key advantage of the fund of funds approach to investment management is the lower risk of fund underperformance as a result of the fund employing a range of investment managers with complementary investment styles. Fund underperformance represents the major risk to the revenue of individual fund managers.

Platform management and administration

Platforms, including master trusts and wrap accounts, are portfolio administration services designed to ease the administrative burden associated with the management of diversified investment portfolios. Platforms typically allow retail investors to invest in funds and other securities (including shares and other listed investments) across a range of asset classes and providers, and incorporate sophisticated reporting facilities to allow investors and their advisers to monitor investment performance and related taxation implications. They have become a major component of the wealth management sector in Australia as they provide administrative convenience and choice to retail investors. Investment inflows through platforms have rapidly overtaken other sources of funds inflow over the last few years. Platform funds are concentrated among the major industry participants, with the top ten platform providers holding in excess of 85% of funds under administration.

Platforms are expected to continue to capture a significant share of retail funds and an increasing number of corporate superannuation funds as these funds transfer to products administered through platforms. Many industry participants believe platforms will grow at rates in excess of the managed funds sector growth rate.

Financial advice and distribution

As an intermediary between retail investors and fund managers and administrators, financial advisers have a strong influence on the placement of funds into retail products and services. The demand for professional financial advice is expected to increase as individuals take an increased responsibility for funding their retirement.

The development of the financial advice and financial planning sector has been influenced by a number of factors, including:

- the introduction of compulsory superannuation;
- growing levels of disposable income;
- the growing complexity of legislation regulating the superannuation, investment and retirement markets;
- growing interest and financial literacy among Australians, particularly in the sharemarket; and
- the increasing range and complexity of investment product offerings.

It is estimated there are more than 15,000 financial advisers in Australia. Approximately 33% of financial advisers are licensed by dealer groups that are majority or fully owned by the major banks and St. George.

Financial advisers have been responsible for driving much of the flow of funds through platforms. Recent industry research indicates that on average, financial planners use three platforms. Service levels provided by platform operators are important to the success of financial planning businesses and are a key consideration in determining adviser choice of platform for administration of their clients' investments.

GRANT SAMUEL

6.3 Participants

Over the last few years, strong industry growth has resulted in an increase in the number of participants in the Australian wealth management sector.

The sector can be classified as one with medium barriers to entry, with considerations such as the costs of establishing a fund, costs associated with compliance, employing competent staff, access to distribution through platforms and financial planners, advertising and developing a strong brand, limiting the number of sector participants. In addition, strong relationships with financial institutions in the wholesale markets can be highly advantageous.

The managed funds market is made up of retail funds, regular premium funds (life office) and wholesale funds. Retail funds make up approximately 40% of the total market. As at 31 March 2008, total retail funds under management was $541.7 billion. The top 10 companies (using the marketer⁴² view) held approximately 76% of the total retail market:

Retail Managed Funds as at 31 March 2008

2	NAB/MLC	64.7	11.9
3	AMP	59.1	10.9

5	Macquarie	43.7	8.1

Source: Plan for Life All Retail Managed Funds (Marketer View), March 2008

All of the major banks and St.George have involvement in the wealth management sector and have significant market shares across the retail components of the wealth management market.

6.4 Regulation

Growth in the wealth management sector has been accompanied by greater legislative controls, particularly in recent years.

A financial services licence is required to carry on a financial services business in Australia. ASIC oversees the financial services licensing regime, introduced by the Financial Services Reform Act 2001 ("FSRA") which has been in place since March 2004. The objective of the FSRA was to bring the regulation of all financial services and products under one regulatory framework and increase the level of compliance and competency in the financial services industry.

Some entities (such as "regulated" superannuation funds, investment managers and insurance providers) are also supervised by APRA. Self managed superannuation funds are under the supervision of the Australian Taxation Office.

⁴³ St.George, through Asgard, had approximately $40.1 billion in FUA (Administrator View) as at 31 March 2008.

GRANT SAMUEL

Recent changes have included legislation that provides employees with a choice in their provider of superannuation services. This has resulted in increased demand for financial advice and increased demand for choice, flexibility and diversification in investments.

The Federal Government continues to refine financial services regulation. For example, on 30 May 2008, ASIC released a consultation paper seeking comment on regulatory steps and other options it might implement to assist consumers to get simple, cost effective advice about how to use their superannuation fund.

The increasing regulation of the financial services industry has required industry participants to make significant investment in training, systems, compliance and product documentation. Compliance costs continue to increase, placing pressure on the profitability of smaller participants.

6.5 Outlook

Australians are becoming increasingly aware of the need for long term financial planning and wealth creation. Together with an ageing population (most notably, the flood of baby boomers facing retirement), this awareness is expected to underpin growth in managed funds and future demand for financial advisory services and increase the influence of advisers on the placement of investment funds flows.

While short term growth is expected to be limited as volatility, negative investment performance and low investor confidence continue in the short term, the platform market is expected to return to strong growth in the medium to long term. Key drivers of future growth in the platform market include:

- continued growth in compulsory superannuation contributions;
- the administrative benefits and flexibility provided by platforms; and
- increasing demand for professional financial advice and the increasing preference of advisers for the use of platforms.

A small number of large institutions will most likely continue to dominate the platform market while the number of smaller providers is expected to contract. The minimum level of assets under administration required by platforms to generate a profitable return is expected to rise as a result of increasing compliance costs, technology demands and competition amongst industry participants.

7 St.George's Wealth Management Business

7.1 Overview

St.George's wealth management business is a portfolio of businesses that provide products and services that look after the financial future of customers. The products and services offered by St.George's wealth management business are discussed below.

Investment Management

Advance and St.George Investment Services ("SGIS") provide investment management services. Investment products are distributed under the "Advance" brand and asset allocation is performed by SGIS. SGIS is a fund of funds manager that offers 20 investment funds to the retail and wholesale markets. Its multi-blend fund products consist of diversified (e.g. growth, defensive) and sector (e.g. Australian smaller companies, international shares) funds, both of which invest in a number of third party investment funds. Its single manager sector funds (e.g. Australian geared equities, Asian equities) each invest in wholesale investment managers that demonstrate consistent first quartile performance or have a unique selling proposition. Advance had approximately $7.3 billion in FUM as at 31 March 2008, with funds administered on the Asgard platform contributing the majority of funds in force and year to date inflows:

Dealer Group

Securitor is a dealer group owned by Asgard WS that provides financial planning services to both Securitor affiliated and licensee advisers (advisers not operating under the Securitor license). These services include training, education, and professional development, compliance processes, marketing support and its software platform AdviserNETgain, a system that integrates relationship management, market research, workflow and portfolio planning tools, together with back office processes. In addition, Securitor provides its affiliated financial advisers with a practicing licence, brand and professional indemnity insurance. There were approximately 440 Securitor and 430 licensee advisers as at 31 March 2008.

Margin Lending

St. George's margin lending business consists of four products. The majority of margin lending business written is standard (traditional) and allows clients to borrow funds against their existing security investments subject to those securities being on an acceptable securities list. The Savings Gearing product allows clients to maintain a long term investment strategy via monthly investments with loan advances from borrowed funds or direct contributions. The Protected Plan product allows clients to protect their geared investment from losses so long as the investments continue to be held, interest payments are not defaulted and the loan is not terminated early. The Asset Access product allows clients to use a portion of their property asset equity as security for margin loans. Margin lending receivables were approximately $2.5 billion as at 31 March 2008, having fallen from over $3 billion at 30 September 2007 due to falling equities markets and resulting margin calls.

Online Share Trading

directshares is St. George's online trading platform. Trading and execution is conducted by E*TRADE Australia Securities Limited. In addition to facilitating the trading of listed investment products (including shares, derivatives, and managed funds), directshares provides customers with market news, research and trading tools such as stock filters. directshares had approximately 44,000 accounts as at 30 April 2008.

Insurance

Through alliances with third party insurers, St. George distributes general (home, contents, motor, CTP, travel and business), consumer credit (non-life personal and credit card), and health insurance products to its customers. These insurance products are underwritten by CGU Insurance Limited, Swann Insurance Limited and BUPA Australia Health Pty Limited respectively. St. George Life Limited manufactures and distributes life risk products (death, trauma, TPD, and disability). On 4 August 2008, St. George announced that it had entered into a strategic alliance with AIG Life as part of its plan to accelerate the growth of its insurance business. The strategic alliance aims to substantially enhance St.George's manufacturing and distribution capabilities. Under the terms of this alliance, AIG Life will ultimately become the issuer/manufacture of individual life risk policies to be distributed through St.George Life. St.George Life will manufacture and issue consumer credit insurance, with all policy administration outsourced to AIG Life.

GRANT SAMUEL

Private Clients

St.George's Private Clients business provides highly personalised banking and financial management services through dedicated Private Bank Directors to high net worth clients. Services range from day to day banking and investment advice to risk management and estate planning.

Financial Planning

As at 31 March 2008, St.George employed approximately 130 salaried financial planners. These financial planners operate from St.George bank branches and are primarily located in New South Wales and South Australia. Fees are charged to clients on an upfront and ongoing basis based on the funds under advice.

Ascalon

St.George's wealth management business also includes St.George's 50% interest in Ascalon. Ascalon owns a portfolio of equity interests in boutique fund managers with specialist investment expertise that are seen to have the potential to become significant participants in the Australian funds management sector. Ascalon also offers support services to its investee boutique fund managers.

7.2 FUMA

The growth in St.George's FUMA from September 2001 to 31 March 2008 is shown below:

Source: St.George

FUMA grew at a CAGR of 21.6% for the six years ended 30 September 2007 to reach $49.7 billion. This growth was driven by strong equities markets and supported by St.George's investment in service delivery and distribution.

GRANT SAMUEL

In the six months ended 31 March 2008, FUMA declined by 11.8% to $43.9 billion as a result of the volatility in investment markets. Over the same period, the domestic equities markets (measured by the S&P/ASX 200 Accumulation Index) fell by 16.8%. The relatively better performance of St.George's wealth management business was in part due to strong inflows of $4.1 billion in the six months ended 31 March 2008, an increase of 4.7% from $3.9 billion for the same period last year. This positive net inflow reflects continued investment in distribution and retention with an 11.4% growth in salaried financial planners and Securitor advisers, an 8.5% increase in licensee advisers and a 32% increase in Securitor adviser productivity over the 12 months ended 31 March 2008.

7.3 Market Position

St.George focuses on providing high level customer service as well as quality products. This focus on service has won Asgard top 5 positions in the Wealth Insights Service Level Awards over the past three years. Other recent industry awards include:

- Asgard – Platform of the Year, Super (Financial Review 2006), Retail Portfolio Platform of the Year (Asset innovation awards 2006), Chant West 5-apple (star) rating (2008) and 2008 AFR Smart Investor Blue Ribbon Award for eWRAP Investment Platform;
- margin lending – Best of the Best, Margin Lending (Money Magazine 2007 and 2006), Cannex 5-star rating (2007 for the tenth consecutive year) and 2008 AFR Smart Investor Margin Lender of the Year; and
- AdviserNETgain – Best hybrid (Investment Trends 2006 and 2007).

The two largest businesses in St.George's wealth management portfolio (Asgard and margin lending) are both in the top 5 of their respective markets.

Asgard was ranked fifth by total FUA as at 31 March 2008 and fourth in annual net flows for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008:

Source: Plan for Life Total Master Funds (Administrator View), March 2008

Asgard's FUA market share was approximately 10% with annual net flows for the period increasing by 25% compared to previous period, and its net flows market share was 14%, an increase of 12% over the previous period.

This result reflects St.George's strong distribution network. In addition to its wholly owned dealer group, Securitor, Asgard maintains preferred status with more of the top 10 dealer groups in Australia (including the largest, Professional Investment Services Pty Ltd), than any other platform. Asgard is also the second largest provider of white labelled funds administration services (behind BT WRAP) which gives the business further scale and improved margins.

GRANT SAMUEL

St.George management has estimated that it had the fifth largest margin lending business in Australia as at 30 September 2007. Its market position was assisted by the acquisition of HSBC Australia Limited's ("HSBC") $420 million margin lending portfolio in August 2006 and has also benefited from distribution leverage from the Asgard eWRAP product.

Securitor is the thirteenth largest dealer group in Australia by number of advisers and is above industry levels in both the growth of FUA (Securitor 4%, industry 0%) and annual net flow (Securitor 20%, industry 11%) for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008. This result was lead by advisor numbers growing at above market level (Securitor 9%, industry 7%) and a 32% increase in advisor productivity during the period from continued investment in AdviserNET gain.

7.4 Operating Performance

The operating performance of St.George's wealth management business for the three years ended 30 September 2007 and the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 is summarised below:

⁴⁵ Managed fund income and average managed fund fees margin are for St.George group (and not just its wealth management business).

GRANT SAMUEL

St.George's wealth management business has historically reported strong growth in revenue and earnings, despite intense competition that has pushed average fee margins down. The business has benefited from:

- strategic acquisitions, such as the acquisition of HSBC's margin lending portfolio in August 2006 (which was in part responsible for the 27.0% increase in net interest income in the year ended 30 September 2007);
- strong investment markets;
- expanded distribution channels and product innovation;
- well established and maintained regulatory compliance standards; and
- changes in the regulatory environment such as removal of the superannuation surcharge from July 2005 and the changes to the superannuation rules from July 2007 (in particular the transitional arrangement that allowed individuals to make personal undeducted contributions of up to $1 million between May 2006 and June 2007).

In the 12 months ended 31 March 2008, operating profit before tax increased by only 1.6% compared to growth rates in excess of 20% in the prior two years as a result of flat managed fee income and a substantial increase in loan impairment expense. The flat managed fee income was impacted by the negative and volatile performance of equities markets that reduced funds balances. The increase in loan impairment expense represented a specific provision of $20 million made in respect of a margin loan of $25 million secured by shares in Octaviar (whose shares have been suspended since 23 January 2008). Operating expenses increased by 5.8% over the 12 month period (compared to 9.6% in the year ended 30 September 2007), in part reflecting the outsourcing strategy commenced with IBM which has assisted and improved cost competitiveness and service delivery.

Asgard (including Securitor) contributes approximately 60% of the operating profit before tax of St.George's wealth management business, followed by margin lending and Private Clients at approximately 11% each, Advance at approximately 10% and insurance the remaining 8% of operating profit before tax.

7.5 Outlook

As at 31 July 2008, St.George's FUMA was $42 billion, having fallen 15.6% from the balance at 30 September 2007 and 4.4% from the balance at 31 March 2008. However, Asgard remains in the top four in terms of net fund flows.

St.George expects equities market volatility, negative investment performance and low investor confidence experienced in 2008 to continue into the 2009 financial year. This will cause slower growth in fund administration fees due to reduction in the market value of underlying investments and reduced investment inflow, especially in growth assets. Redemption rates for discretionary (i.e. non superannuation) investments are also expected to be higher in light of continued inflationary pressure. These factors are expected to put downward pressure on FUMA although superannuation contributions are expected provide a degree of resilience. However, in these market conditions St.George also expects an increased demand for quality financial advice, insurance and debt products.

St.George expects to continue to achieve above system growth in its wealth management business in line with its strategy of accelerated growth through:

- continuing to grow aligned financial advisers in Securitor and licensee services;
- its strategic alliance with AIG Life to rapidly grow the insurance business by leveraging off St.George's extensive branch, platform and advisor distribution networks;

GRANT SAMUEL

- investing in software infrastructure to facilitate doing business (including AdviserNET gain practice management and planning software and integration of broker software in margin lending) and continued product development (e.g. gearing in superannuation);

8 Profile of Westpac

8.1 Background

The Bank of New South Wales commenced operations in Sydney in April 1817 and was the first bank established in Australia. In 1850 it became incorporated as a company under an Act of the New South Wales Parliament and expanded into Queensland and Victoria. In 1861 the bank commenced operations in New Zealand. By 1911, the Bank of New South Wales was represented in every Australian state as well as parts of the Pacific (New Zealand, Fiji and Papua New Guinea) and in London.

The bank's first acquisitions were made in the late 1920's, when its desire to grow and provide better service to customers saw it merge with both The Western Australian Bank (in 1927) and the Australian Bank of Commerce Limited (in 1931). In 1982, the Bank of New South Wales acquired the Victorian based Commercial Bank of Australia, adding 531 branches in Australia, 80 branches in New Zealand and one branch in each of London and New York as well as 83 agencies in Australia and New Zealand, consolidating its position as Australia's largest bank. In October of the same year, the bank changed its name to Westpac Banking Corporation. Further acquisitions were made in the late 1990's. Westpac acquired Challenge Bank Limited ("Challenge Bank") in Western Australia (in 1995), Trust Bank of New Zealand (in 1996) and Bank of Melbourne Limited ("Bank of Melbourne") in (in 1997). These acquisitions strengthened Westpac's competitive position in these markets by combining local market focus with the strength of a national bank.

In 2002, the bank made a number of strategic acquisitions to give it additional product, distribution and scale capabilities in the higher growth wealth management market. These acquisitions included Rothschild Australia Asset Management, parts of the Australian and New Zealand business of the BT Financial Group and a 51% interest in Hastings Funds Management (Westpac subsequently acquired the remaining 49% in September 2005). Westpac also relinquished its New South Wales Act based incorporation, becoming a public company limited by shares under the Corporations Act in August 2002.

Following the collapse of the United States commercial paper market which severely impacted listed mortgage originator RAMS Home Loans Group Limited in January 2008, Westpac acquired the RAMS brand and franchise distribution business of 97 stores owned and operated by 55 franchisees. This acquisition provided a new distribution channel and an additional source of growth for Westpac's retail banking operations.

In recent years, Westpac has followed a strategy of organic growth in its core markets of Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific region. Westpac is one of the top 10 companies listed on the ASX and the second largest of the four listed major banks with a market capitalisation of approximately $43.9 billion as at 15 September 2008. At 31 March 2008 it had total assets of $401.7 billion, 923 branches and approximately 29,000 staff.

8.2 Business Operations

Westpac's operations are carried out through five business units. In addition to its business operations, it has a Group business unit that represents group items (such as earnings on surplus capital and accounting entries for certain intra-group transactions), treasury (which manages interest rate risk and funding requirements) and structured finance (which originates and executes large principal transactions on behalf of Westpac).

8.2.1 Australian Banking

Westpac's Australian banking business is carried out through two business units:

- Westpac Retail and Business Banking provides products and services to Westpac's consumer, SME and commercial customers in Australia through a national network of branches, call centres, ATMs, internet banking services and specialised relationship managers (for SME and commercial customers). Westpac Retail and Business

Banking also includes management of third party consumer product relationships (such as mortgage brokers), retail branch operations in Hong Kong and Singapore, the operation of the RAMS franchise distribution network and has responsibility for working capital and specialised trade solutions operations for all Westpac customers.

- Westpac Institutional Bank provides financial services (including management of cash, funding, capital and market risk) to corporate, institutional and government customers either based in, or with interests in, Australia and New Zealand through specialist industry teams. Customers are supported through branches and subsidiaries located in Australia, New Zealand, London, New York and Asia. From October 2007, Westpac Institutional Bank also manages an equity business (equity derivatives, margin lending, broking and private portfolio management) which was previously part of BT Financial Group.

8.2.2 Wealth Management

Westpac's wealth management business is carried out through BT Financial Group. BT Financial Group designs, manufactures and distributes financial products including retail investments, personal and business superannuation, life and general insurance and client portfolio administration. BT Financial Group also provides financial planning advice and private banking products and services. As at 31 March 2008, BT Financial Group had FUM of $35.3 billion and FUA of $42.4 billion⁴⁶.

In October 2007, Westpac transferred its investment management business to a separate legal entity, BT Investment Management Limited ("BTIM") and subsequently sold a 40% interest in BTIM through an initial public offering. At the time of the initial public offer in December 2007, BTIM was the eighth largest funds management business in Australia with FUM of approximately $42 billion.

8.2.3 International

New Zealand Banking

Westpac is one of New Zealand's largest banking organisations and provides a full range of retail banking, business banking and wealth management products and services to New Zealand based customers. The wealth management business includes Westpac Life New Zealand and BT New Zealand. Westpac's New Zealand Banking business is conducted through a New Zealand subsidiary, Westpac New Zealand Limited.

The New Zealand Institutional Bank operates wholesale banking and financial markets businesses in New Zealand. It is not part of the New Zealand Banking business unit, but is conducted through a New Zealand branch of Westpac and is included as part of Westpac Institutional Bank.

Pacific Banking

Pacific Banking provides banking services through branches, ATMs, telephone banking and internet banking channels for retail and business customers throughout the South Pacific (Fiji, Papua New Guinea, Vanuatu, Cook Islands, Tonga, Solomon Islands and Samoa).

⁴⁶ These FUM and FUA figures do not eliminate interfunding between FUM and FUA.

Westpac has grown revenue and earnings strongly over the last five and a half years, generating a five and a half year CAGR to 31 March 2008⁵¹ of 8.9% for net operating income, 5.9% for

⁴⁹ The financial performance for the year ended 30 September 2006 has been adjusted to exclude the credit card accrual error (which has been included in significant items).

⁵¹ Growth calculations for the year ended 30 September 2005 have been calculated using financial information prepared on the basis of AGAAP.

⁵² Growth rates for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 are calculated by comparing performance for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 with performance for the 12 months ended 31 March 2007.

operating expenses, 11.0% for cash net profit after tax and 10.4% for earnings per share. Dividends have also increased strongly, with a five and a half year CAGR of 13.1%, assisted by an increase in the dividend payout ratio from around 62% to around 70%.

The apparent decline in growth in net operating income in the year ended 30 September 2006 results from a combination of factors, in particular, the prior year comparative reported results for the year ended 30 September 2005 not being restated for the impact of AASB 132 and AASB 139 (in relation to financial instruments) as these standards did not apply retrospectively. In addition, net operating income was affected by the impact of exchange rates on New Zealand earnings (although as a result of hedging of earnings, the impact is not significant at the earnings level).

The higher growth in operating expenses in the year ended 30 September 2007 was primarily the result of a 10% increase in salaries and other staff expenses reflecting an additional 794 full time equivalent employees (primarily high cost customer serving employees), increased customer volumes and performance related incentive payments. The increase in operating costs was more than matched by growth in revenue, with the cost to income ratio falling from 47.0% to 45.0% over the period.

Growth in net operating income increased in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008, despite the impact of the increase in wholesale borrowing costs, the decline in value of global and local investment markets and the difficult credit environment conditions (changes in funding availability, capital markets uncertainty and higher interest rates), which particularly impacted net operating income in the six months ended 31 March 2008. Growth in cash net profit after tax and cash earnings per share declined slightly in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 but were still double digit (at 11.8% and 10.4% respectively). Loan impairment charges increased substantially reflecting both high asset growth and the impacts of a deterioration in the credit environment in both Australia and New Zealand. Net impaired loans as a percentage of net loan receivables increased from 0.10% as at 30 September 2006 and 2007 to 0.17% as at 31 March 2008. Total provisions to gross loan receivables remained steady at around 0.63%.

On a business unit basis, growth in cash operating profit for Westpac Institutional Bank declined significantly in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 (to 5.0% compared to 21.0% in the year ended 30 September 2007). Although Westpac Institutional Bank's net operating income grew strongly, its results were impacted by a substantial increase in loan impairment charges, most of which was in relation to provisions against a small number of individual names (including two corporate exposures migrated from the watchlist and one margin loan), one of which has been in active management for over 12 months. The results for this business unit were also impacted by the transfer of the equity business from BT Financial Group to Westpac Institutional Bank in the six months ended 31 March 2008. The equity business broke even in the six months ended 31 March 2008, with its earnings significantly impacted by equity market volatility and a single large impairment charge.

On the other hand, Westpac benefited from a substantial contribution from the Group business unit ($185 million in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 compared to $63 million in the year ended 30 September 2007 and $55 million in the year ended 30 September 2006) primarily as a result of a reduction in tax provisions no longer required, R&D tax rebates, hedging of New Zealand retail earnings and an increased contribution from Treasury.

BT Financial Group also reported a decline in growth in operating profit after tax in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 (of 9.3% compared to 23.0% in the year ended 30 September 2007), reflecting the negative impact of declines in investment markets and above normal insurance claims.

⁵³ The financial information for the year ended 30 September 2002 that has been used in the calculation of the CAGRs was prepared on the basis of AGAAP and may be distorted by changes to reporting as a result of the adoption of AIFRS. Cash basis net profit in the year ended 30 September 2002 is before goodwill amortisation and significant items.

GRANT SAMUEL

Significant items in the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 were a gain on the sale of Westpac's investment in Visa Inc. ($205 million post tax) and a gain associated with the initial public offering of BTIM ($106 million post tax).

The contribution to profit by business segment and geographic region is shown below:

Source: Westpac

Approximately 88% of Westpac's earnings are generated by its banking business (including the banking operations in New Zealand and the South Pacific) and more than 75% of its earnings are generated from its business operations in Australia.

8.4 Outlook for the 2008 Financial Year

On 8 August 2008, Westpac released a market update in relation to its performance for the year ending 30 September 2008. Westpac expects to generate cash net profit after tax growth of 6-8% in the year ending 30 September 2008 reflecting:

- slowing loan volumes at the retail and institutional level in the third quarter, although Westpac has grown ahead of system (particularly in housing loans);
- revenue growth of 8-9% with little change in net interest margins in the second half compared to the first half and for non interest income, a decline in wealth management earnings offset by growth in Westpac Institutional Bank and Treasury performance;
- expense growth of 6-7%; and
- an increase in stressed loans consistent with the economic cycle. There were no new impaired loans in the third quarter within Westpac Institutional Bank. Total impaired loans are at similar levels to the first half of 2008. Westpac expects higher collectively assessed provisions for the second half of 2008 as a result of growth in lending, a rise in delinquencies and an expected further increase in its economic overlay.

Cash net profit after tax growth of 6-8% translates to cash net profit after tax for the year ending 30 September 2008 of $3,717-3,788 million. This implies that Westpac expects to achieve cash net profit after tax for the six months ending 30 September 2008 of $1,878-1,949 million, an increase of 2.1-6.0% over cash net profit after tax for the six months ended 31 March 2008.

⁵⁵ Geographic region contribution is based on reported profit after tax for the year ended 30 September 2007.

Total assets grew by 7.2% to $401.7 billion in the six months ended 31 March 2008. Loans and other receivables make up just under 75% of Westpac's total assets. Liquid assets (represented by cash and liquid assets and receivables due from other financial institutions) increased by 11.7% in the six months ended 31 March 2008 to $34.2 billion, in light of more volatile credit markets. In addition, in February 2008, Westpac completed the first Australian "internal" securitisation under which $10.6 billion of Westpac originated prime residential mortgages were held on the balance sheet as securitised assets. The internal securitisation is eligible for repurchase agreements with the RBA, providing an additional source of liquidity (the actual discounted repurchase agreement value of the internal securitisation is $8.3 billion).

Mortgages represent approximately 54% of Westpac's loan receivables and consumer loans make up a further 5%. The balance of loan receivables is split between business loans (24%) and corporate loans (17%).

Retail funding and other borrowings includes deposits, debt issues and loan capital and represent approximately 83% of total liabilities. Loan capital includes $595 million of 2004 Trust Preferred Securities ("2004 TPS"), which qualify as Tier 1 capital for capital adequacy purposes.

Net assets per share and NTA per share increased by 7.0% and 8.2% respectively in the six months ended 31 March 2008, reflecting the growth in net assets attributable to Westpac shareholders of

8.6 Funding Sources

Source: Westpac

As at 30 June 2008, 52% of Westpac's funding requirement was provided by customer deposits with the balance provided by wholesale funding. Customer deposits includes wholesale funding in Treasury (including certificates of deposit). Excluding this wholesale funding, retail deposits contributed approximately 34% of Westpac's total funding requirement. Westpac's wholesale funding portfolio is balanced and diversified, with very little reliance on securitisation (in terms of the contribution to total funding).

At its market update on 8 August 2008, Westpac advised that it had completed its $25-30 billion funding requirement for the year ending 30 September 2008 and had commenced pre funding for the year ending 30 September 2009. As at 8 August 2008, Westpac had completed $32 billion of term funding, with an average duration of 2.9 years. Despite the more challenging funding environment, Westpac has been able to complete this funding without shortening its maturity profile. 46% of all new term debt issued in the six months ended 31 March 2008 had a maturity of three or more years. Westpac has also lengthened its short term funding profile from 71 days as at 31 September 2007 to 92 days as at 31 March 2008.

Westpac's funding requirement for the year ending 30 September 2009 is expected to be in the range $20-25 billion (including all term debt refinancing), which is lower than the current year funding requirement, reflecting expectations of slower asset growth.

Westpac is rated by a number of ratings agencies. As at 15 September 2008, its long term issuer credit ratings were AA (Outlook Stable) (Standard & Poor's), Aa1 (Outlook Stable) (Moody's) and AA- (Rating Watch Positive) (Fitch).

Westpac first reported under Basel II in its March 2008 half year results. The transition to Basel II led to a significant increase in capital ratios as a result of a 12% decline in qualifying capital combined with a 26% reduction in risk weighted assets.

As at 31 March 2008, Westpac's Tier 1 capital ratio was well in excess of its target of 6.0-6.75% set under Basel I. Westpac is reviewing its target capital ranges in consultation with regulators and rating agencies and has not yet received confirmation of its prudential capital requirement under Basel II from APRA. However, given market volatility and the current environment, Westpac believes that it is appropriate to maintain higher capital adequacy ratios.

The pro forma ratios shown above include the impact of the issue of $660 million of subordinated debt in April 2008, the issue of $1,036 million of Westpac Stapled Preferred Securities ("Westpac SPS") in July 2008 and the impact of accreditation of Interest Rate Risk in the banking book (as if they had taken place as at 31 March 2008). These subsequent events have resulted in Westpac having a pro forma Tier 1 capital ratio of 7.7% and a pro forma total capital ratio 10.7%.

Westpac's ACE ratio of 6.0% compares favourably with its target ratio of 4.0-4.75% (set under Basel I).

8.8 Capital Structure and Ownership

8.8.1 Capital Structure

As at 15 September 2008, Westpac had the following securities on issue:

- 10,000 unsecured, unsubordinated, redeemable convertible notes.

The options and performance share rights have been issued to the Westpac Chief Executive Officer and Westpac executives and senior management under various share plans and agreements. The options and performance share rights vest over varying periods subject to meeting certain performance hurdles and expire 10 years from the date of grant.

Westpac issued 10.4 million Westpac SPS at $100 each on 30 July 2008. Each Westpac SPS consists of a perpetual, unsecured, non cumulative subordinated note issued by Westpac New York branch, stapled to a preference share issued by Westpac. These securities qualify as Tier 1 capital for capital adequacy purposes. Distributions are paid, at the directors' discretion, on these securities quarterly at a floating rate of the sum of 90 day BBSW plus a margin of 2.4%, adjusted for franking. Westpac may convert these securities into ordinary shares or transfer them to another party for their face value on 26 September 2013 subject to certain conditions being met. If certain conditions are not met, Westpac SPS may be redeemed for their face value, subject to APRA approval. Westpac SPS may be converted or redeemed early if a regulatory, tax or acquisition event occurs.

The unsecured, unsubordinated, redeemable convertible notes have been issued under Westpac's Debt Issuance Programme. The notes have been issued to professional investors and are not listed on the ASX. They have an issue price of $100,000 per note and pay a floating rate of interest. The notes mature on the fifth anniversary of the issue date unless redeemed or converted prior to this date. Westpac may elect to convert the notes into ordinary shares on the maturity date, if certain termination events occur or on giving at least 30 business days' notice to the noteholders.

8.8.2 Ownership

Westpac has more than 370,000 registered shareholders. The top twenty shareholders account for approximately 60% of the ordinary shares on issue and are principally institutional investors or nominee companies. Westpac has no substantial shareholders.

8.9 Share Price Performance

8.9.1 Share Price History

A discussion of Westpac's share price performance is set out in Section 10.

8.9.2 Liquidity

Westpac is a liquid stock. Average weekly volume over the twelve months prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal represented approximately 1.8% of average shares on issue or annual turnover of around 95% of total average issued capital.

8.9.3 Relative Performance

Westpac is a member of various indices including the S&P/ASX 200 Index and the S&P/ASX Banks Index. As at 15 September 2008 its weighting in these indices was approximately 4.5% and 22.6% respectively.

9 Valuation of St.George

9.1 Summary

St.George has been valued in the range $17.5-20.0 billion which corresponds to a value of $30.62-35.02 per share (after adjusting for the incremental dividend). The valuation represents the estimated full underlying value of St.George assuming 100% of the company was available to be acquired and includes a premium for control. The value exceeds the price at which, based on current market conditions, Grant Samuel would expect St.George shares to trade on the ASX in the absence of a takeover offer.

The value for St.George is the aggregate of the estimated market value of St.George's business operations and other assets and non trading liabilities. The valuation is summarised below:

St.George - Valuation Summary ($ millions)
	Section Reference	Valuation Range
		Low	High
Banking	9.4	15,400	17,600
Wealth Management	9.5	2,100	2,400
Value of business operations		17,500	20,000
Other assets and liabilities	9.6	26	35
Value of equity		17,526	20,035
Fully diluted shares on issue (millions) ⁶⁰		567	567
Value per share ($)		30.90	35.30
Incremental dividend per share ($)	9.7	(0.28)	(0.28)
Value per share adjusted for incremental dividend ($)		30.62	35.02

The valuation is before taking into account the final dividend for St.George shareholders for the year ending 30 September 2008 (which has been capped at 97 cents per share). Westpac's share price is also cum its final dividend which is capped at 74 cents (reflecting the exchange ratio of 1.31). The increase in the St.George dividend to up to $1.25 provides St.George shareholders with additional value of at least 28 cents per share (depending on the extent to which the final dividend is less than 97 cents per share). Grant Samuel has made an adjustment to take into account the incremental dividend of 28 cents per share. This treatment enables comparison on an equal basis with the value of the consideration.

The value range is relatively wide, reflecting the significant uncertainty in estimating a value for St.George in the current environment:

- the continuing global credit crisis is having a massive impact on bank funding costs in the short to medium (and possibly long) term. Investors are placing much more emphasis on pricing for risk, pushing up the credit margin paid by banks by a significant amount (particularly for longer term debt or for lower rated banks). However, these margins have been volatile and it is difficult to predict where they will settle although it is reasonably clear that funding margins will not fall back to the levels seen before the global credit crisis. In addition, as a lower rated bank (A+/Aa2) compared to the major banks, St.George faces an additional credit margin on wholesale funding which has also blown out since August 2007 and remains volatile with little sign of where it is likely to settle over the medium term. These factors make it very difficult to forecast net interest margins;
- growth rates for housing, personal and business lending have been declining simultaneously, a situation not seen since the introduction of the GST in June 2000. Credit growth has been growing at well in excess of nominal GDP for over 20 years as more of the population has taken on ever increasing amounts of debt (in particular, to finance higher housing prices). As the economy slows, housing prices decline and the population starts to “deleverage”, credit growth rates are likely to continue to fall but the extent of that decline is very difficult to predict as is the length of the slowdown period. Despite the RBA cutting the official cash rate by 25 basis points on 2 September 2008, the timing and magnitude of any recovery is uncertain, particularly given the need to balance high inflation against a stalling economy;

⁶⁰ Fully diluted shares on issue as at 15 September 2008 of 567,239,866 (low) and 567,485,742 (high) include St.George's 566,529,267 issued ordinary shares and 710,599 (low) and 956,475 (high) St.George shares that would be issued if all in the money share options and vested awards were exercised.

GRANT SAMUEL

- equities markets, which impact net inflows and funds management fees earned by St.George’s wealth management business, have been volatile. Global and Australian equities markets have fallen considerably in the last 12 months and their recovery and the return of investor confidence will take time; and
- volatile equities markets are also resulting in rapid changes in the value parameters (e.g. earnings multiples) that investors apply to banks and financial institutions.

As a result of these uncertainties, the valuation analysis should be treated with some caution. The combined effects mean that it is extremely difficult to make long term or even short term forecasts or value judgements with a high degree of precision. Relatively small changes in key assumptions could lead to material movements in value.

The valuation of the banking and wealth management businesses is considered in more detail in Section 9.4 (banking) and Section 9.5 (wealth management) of this report.

St.George’s business operations were valued using two methodologies:

- discounted cash flow (“DCF”) analysis and
- multiples of earnings (in particular, price earnings multiples) and multiples of NTA. Multiples of earnings before net interest and tax (“EBIT”) multiples were also considered in valuing St.George’s wealth management business.

The DCF analyses were based on financial models developed by Grant Samuel on the basis of the Strategic Plan prepared by St.George. The models use as their starting point the estimated balance sheet of St.George as at 30 September 2008 and project cash flows from 1 October 2008 to 30 September 2018. Separate models were developed for the banking and wealth management businesses.

The overall earnings multiples and NTA multiples implied by the valuation of St.George are summarised below:

GRANT SAMUEL

While St.George has provided guidance statements about cash earnings per share, it has not released specific forecasts of net earnings or business unit profits for the year ending 30 September 2008 or beyond. Accordingly, the implied prospective multiples set out above are based on broker consensus forecasts (see Appendix E for details). These forecasts are sufficiently close to St.George's forecast for the year ending 30 September 2008 and its budgets for the years ending 30 September 2009 and 2010 to be useful for analytical purposes.

Grant Samuel believes that the overall multiples implied by the valuation are reasonable in light of the uncertainties outlined above and having regard to:

- the market evidence as to the multiples at which peer group listed companies trade and the multiples implied by acquisitions of other companies in the banking and wealth management sectors;
- the attributes of St.George's business operations, in particular, the strategic attractiveness of St.George to an acquirer:
 - as the largest non major bank (and significantly larger than any of the other regional banks);
 - providing a one off opportunity for a major bank to consolidate its market position, particularly in light of the Federal Government's "four pillars" policy; and
 - with one of the largest wealth management platforms in Australia.

The overall multiples shown above represent a blend of St.George's banking and wealth management businesses (although wealth management represents only 10-12% of earnings); and

- the level of synergies available to acquirers of St.George. Takeover premiums are typically in the range 20-35% depending on the individual circumstances of a transaction. Synergies available to acquirers such as cost savings through merging operations are normally a significant factor in justifying an acquirer's ability to pay a meaningful premium over market prices. In the case of St.George, there are substantial synergies available to a number of acquirers. Operating synergies have been reflected in the valuations of both the banking business and the wealth management business.

9.2 Methodology

9.2.1 Overview

Grant Samuel's valuation of St.George has been estimated by aggregating the estimated market value of its business operations together with the estimated realisable value of non trading assets and deducting estimated non trading liabilities as at 30 September 2008. The value of the business operations has been estimated on the basis of fair market value as a going concern, defined as the maximum price that could be realised in an open market over a reasonable period of time assuming that potential buyers have full information.

The valuation of St.George is appropriate for the acquisition of the company as a whole and, accordingly, incorporates a premium for control. The value is in excess of the level at which, under current market conditions, shares in St.George could be expected to trade on the sharemarket. Shares in a listed company normally trade at a discount of 15-25% to the underlying value of the company as a whole (but this discount does not always apply).

The most reliable evidence as to the value of a business is the price at which the business or a comparable business has been bought and sold in an arm's length transaction. In the absence of direct market evidence of value, estimates of value are made using methodologies that infer value from other available evidence. There are four primary valuation methodologies that are commonly used for valuing businesses:

GRANT SAMUEL

- capitalisation of earnings or cash flows;
- discounting of projected cash flows;
- industry rules of thumb; and
- estimation of the aggregate proceeds from an orderly realisation of assets.

Each of these valuation methodologies has application in different circumstances. The primary criterion for determining which methodology is appropriate is the actual practice adopted by purchasers of the type of business involved.

9.2.2 Discounted Cash Flow

Discounting of projected cash flows has a strong theoretical basis. It is the most commonly used method for valuation in a number of industries, including banking and finance and resources, and for the valuation of start up projects where earnings during the first few years can be negative but it is also widely used in the valuation of established industrial businesses. DCF valuations involve calculating the NPV of projected cash flows. This methodology is able to explicitly capture the effect of a turnaround in the business, the ramp up to maturity or significant changes expected in capital expenditure patterns. The cash flows are discounted using a discount rate which reflects the risk associated with the cash flow stream.

Considerable judgement is required in estimating future cash flows and it is generally necessary to place great reliance on medium to long term projections prepared by management, if available. The discount rate is also not an observable number and must be inferred from other data (usually only historical). None of this data is particularly reliable so estimates of the discount rate necessarily involve a substantial element of judgement. In addition, even where cash flow forecasts are available, given the inherent uncertainty regarding the future performance of the business, the models can only include explicit assumptions for the early years modelled. Subsequent years are effectively an extension of the early years' assumptions or incorporate assumptions regarding the likely trends affecting the business. Furthermore, the terminal or continuing value is usually a high proportion of value. Accordingly, the multiple used in assessing this terminal value becomes the critical determinant in the valuation (i.e. it is a "de facto" cash flow capitalisation valuation). The NPV is typically extremely sensitive to relatively small changes in underlying assumptions, few of which are capable of being predicted with accuracy, particularly beyond the first two or three years. The arbitrary assumptions that need to be made and the width of any value range mean the results are often not meaningful or reliable. Notwithstanding these limitations, DCF valuations are commonly used in valuing banking businesses and play a useful role in providing a check on alternative methodologies, not least because explicit and relatively detailed assumptions as to expected future performance need to be made.

However, in the case of St.George, Board approved longer term forecasts of cash flows are not available. Grant Samuel has prepared DCF models for St.George's business operations. The DCF models calculate the value of income available to be distributed to shareholders as dividends after the retention of earnings to service the capital adequacy requirements of the business. The models incorporate assumptions that Grant Samuel believes to be reasonable. However, the models do not constitute a forecast or projection by Grant Samuel of the future performance of St.George's business operations. Grant Samuel provides no assurance or warranty that the future performance of the businesses will be consistent with the assumptions adopted in the models.

9.2.3 Capitalisation of Earnings or Cash Flows

Capitalisation of earnings or cash flows is the most commonly used method for valuation of industrial businesses. This methodology is most appropriate for industrial businesses with a substantial operating history and a consistent earnings trend that is sufficiently stable to be indicative of ongoing earnings potential. This methodology is not particularly suitable for start up businesses, businesses with an erratic earnings pattern or businesses that have unusual capital expenditure requirements. This methodology involves capitalising the earnings or cash flows of a business at a multiple that reflects the risks of the business and the stream of income that it generates. These multiples can be applied to a number of different earnings or cash flow measures including earnings before net interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation ("EBITDA"), EBIT or net profit after tax. These are referred to respectively as EBITDA multiples, EBIT multiples and price earnings multiples. Price earnings multiples are commonly used for the purpose of valuing banking and insurance businesses where interest income is an integral part of the business and earnings before interest is not meaningful. EBITDA and EBIT multiples are commonly used in valuing whole businesses for acquisition purposes where interest income and expense is not part of the underlying business. These measures are appropriate for the valuation of wealth management businesses.

Determination of the appropriate earnings multiple is usually the most judgemental element of a valuation. Definitive or even indicative offers for a particular asset or business can provide the most reliable support for selection of an appropriate earnings multiple. In the absence of meaningful offers it is necessary to infer the appropriate multiple from other evidence.

The primary approach used by valuers is to determine the multiple that other buyers have been prepared to pay for similar businesses in the recent past. However, each transaction will be the product of a unique combination of factors, including:

- economic factors (e.g. economic growth, inflation, interest rates) affecting the markets in which the company operates;
- strategic attractions of the business - its particular strengths and weaknesses, market position of the business, strength of competition and barriers to entry;
- rationalisation or synergy benefits available to the acquirer;
- the structural and regulatory framework;
- investment and sharemarket conditions at the time; and
- the number of competing buyers for a business.

A pattern may emerge from transactions involving similar businesses with sales typically taking place at prices corresponding to earnings multiples within a particular range. This range will generally reflect the growth prospects and risks of those businesses. Mature, low growth businesses will, in the absence of other factors, attract lower multiples than those businesses with potential for significant growth in earnings.

An alternative approach in valuing businesses is to review the multiples at which shares in listed companies in the same industry sector trade on the sharemarket. This gives an indication of the price levels at which portfolio investors are prepared to invest in these businesses. Share prices reflect trades in small parcels of shares (portfolio interests) rather than whole companies and it is necessary to adjust for this factor. To convert sharemarket data to meaningful information on the valuation of companies as a whole, it is market practice to add a "premium for control" to allow for the premium which is normally paid to obtain control through a takeover offer. This premium is typically in the range 20-35%.

The premium for control paid in takeovers is observable but caution must be exercised in assessing the value of a company or business based on the market rating of comparable companies or businesses. The premium for control is an outcome of the valuation process, not a determinant of value. Premiums are paid for reasons that vary from case to case and may be substantial due to synergy or other benefits available to the acquirer. In other situations premiums may be minimal or even zero. It is inappropriate to apply an average premium of 20-35% without having regard to the circumstances of each case. In some situations there is no premium. There are transactions where no corporate buyer is prepared to pay a price in excess of the prices paid by institutional investors through an initial public offering.

Acquisitions of listed companies in different countries can be analysed for comparative purposes, but it is necessary to give consideration to differences in overall sharemarket levels and ratings between countries, economic factors (economic growth, inflation, interest rates) and market structures and the regulatory framework. It is not appropriate to adjust multiples in a mechanistic way for differences in interest rates or sharemarket levels.

The analysis of comparable transactions and sharemarket prices for comparable companies will not always lead to an obvious conclusion as to which multiple or range of multiples will apply. There will often be a wide spread of multiples and the application of judgement becomes critical. Moreover, it is necessary to consider the particular attributes of the business being valued and decide whether it warrants a higher or lower multiple than the comparable companies. This assessment is essentially a judgement.

In determining a value for St.George's business operations, Grant Samuel has had regard to the price earnings multiples implied by the valuation range for the individual businesses and to the price earnings multiples implied by the valuation range for the company as a whole, compared to the price earnings multiples derived from an analysis of comparable listed companies and transactions involving comparable businesses. EBIT multiples have also been considered in relation to St.George's wealth management business.

Grant Samuel also reviewed the NTA multiples implied by the valuation of St.George and by the valuation of its banking business as a further cross check of the valuation conclusions. NTA multiples are more meaningful in the banking and finance industry than for other businesses because the net assets of banking and finance businesses are generally effectively represented by income generating assets and (for capital adequacy reasons) are correlated with the overall size of the businesses. NTA multiples are accordingly an indicator of the productivity of a banking or insurance business relative to the shareholders' funds employed to support the business.

9.2.4 Industry Rules of Thumb

Industry rules of thumb are commonly used in some industries. These are generally used by a valuer as a "cross check" of the result determined by a capitalised earnings valuation or by discounting cash flows. While they are only used as a cross check in most cases, industry rules of thumb can be the primary basis on which buyers determine prices in some industries. Grant Samuel is not aware of any commonly used rules of thumb that would be appropriate to value St.George's banking business. Multiples of FUMA are commonly used as a cross check in the valuation of wealth management businesses. However, it should be recognised that rules of thumb are usually relatively crude and prone to misinterpretation.

9.2.5 Net Assets/Realisation of Assets

Valuations based on an estimate of the aggregate proceeds from an orderly realisation of assets are commonly applied to businesses that are not going concerns. They effectively reflect liquidation values and typically attribute no value to any goodwill associated with ongoing trading. Such an approach is not appropriate in St.George's case.

However, as a capital based business, banking can also be analysed by reference to net assets. While less relevant than earnings multiples or cash flows it can play a role as a "sanity check" (see Section 9.2.3 above).

GRANT SAMUEL

9.3 Treatment of Business Operations

St.George has two main business operations, banking and wealth management.

The banking business is made up of three separate businesses, Retail Banking, Institutional & Business Banking and BankSA. The banking businesses have been valued as a single integrated business because:

- all banks have both retail and business banking activities (although the extent of each might vary). Therefore all of the multiples implied by the trading prices of the comparable companies and the prices paid in transactions represent a blend of retail and business (including corporate and institutional) banking activities. There are no comparable companies or transactions that operate in only one part of the market and to split the business into its separate components would involve further judgements that Grant Samuel does not believe are justified or necessary; and
- they are funded as a single business.

The different growth rates applicable to retail and business banking have been explicitly taken into account in the DCF analysis and are implicitly reflected in the implied multiples.

The valuation of the banking business includes a value attributable to St.George's wholly owned lenders mortgage insurance business, SGIA. SGIA has not been valued separately. While it is arguable that a different discount rate or multiple might apply to a mortgage insurer, any variation in value would be immaterial in the context of the overall valuation of St.George. In addition, SGIA has changed its investment profile to effectively be predominantly cash and fixed interest securities rather than equities. This lowers the risk of, and the return generated by, the business and also reduces its volatility.

The wealth management business is a portfolio of businesses that can be grouped as follows:

- funds administration, management and advice (Asgard, Advance, SGIS, Securitor and financial planning), representing approximately 70% of earnings;
- margin lending and Private Clients, representing approximately 22% of earnings; and
- other (directshares and insurance), representing approximately 8% of earnings.

All of these businesses are essentially fee based services except for margin lending and Private Clients. This is particularly the case following the recent announcement to outsource the manufacture of insurance to AIG Life and for St.George to focus on the distribution of insurance products.

Margin lending and Private Clients are capital based businesses and fit better with St.George's banking business from a valuation perspective as capital is required to support their growth. Therefore, the margin lending and Private Clients businesses have been included as part of St.George's banking business for the purposes of the valuation. The remaining wealth management businesses have been valued as a single business.

As a result of the reallocation of the margin lending and Private Clients businesses from St. George's wealth management business to its banking business, the earnings figures on which the implied valuation multiples have been calculated differ from those shown in Sections 5.7 and 7.4 of this report. A reconciliation of the earnings figures is set out below:

9.4 Banking Business

9.4.1 Overview

A value of $15.4-17.6 billion has been attributed to St.George's banking business. This valuation range is an overall judgement having regard to:

- estimates of present values of future free cash flows from St.George's banking business on a stand alone basis (based on a dividend discount model ("DDM")) under a number of scenarios using a range of different assumptions plus an allocation of potential net cost savings and other synergy benefits that could be available to acquirers of St.George's banking business. The components of value under this approach are summarised below:

St.George's Banking Business – Valuation Summary ($ billions)
	Section Reference	Value Range
		Low	High
Stand alone value	9.4.2	13.4	15.3
Allocation of value attributed to operational synergies	9.4.3	2.0	2.3
Value attributed to banking business		15.4	17.6

- the multiples of earnings and NTA implied by the acquisition prices of transactions involving banking businesses and the trading prices of listed Australian banking companies.

The primary focus was on the dividend discount analysis and multiples of net profit after tax. The value ranges selected are judgements derived through an iterative process. The objective is to determine a value that is both consistent with the market evidence as to multiples and fits with the output of the DCF analysis in terms of the various scenarios and ⁶³ Tax expense has been calculated by applying a corporate tax rate of 30.0% (underlying) and 30.2% (cash) for the year ended 30 September 2007 and 30.1% (underlying) and 29.0% (cash) for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008. These are the actual effective tax rates that applied in each of these periods.

⁶⁴ EBIT is equivalent to operating profit before tax.

GRANT SAMUEL

their likelihood. Multiples of NTA, while relevant in a capital based business such as banking, were given much less emphasis.

9.4.2 Dividend Discount Analysis – Stand Alone Banking Business

Grant Samuel has prepared a high level dividend discount analysis of St.George's banking business. This analysis has been used to estimate a stand alone value for St.George's banking business excluding a premium for control.

The DDM calculates future distributable post tax profits adjusted for the bank's earnings retention requirements for capital adequacy purposes. The DDM uses the Strategic Plan (through to the year ending 30 September 2011) as a starting point for constructing a model. The model was extended for a further seven years.

Given the uncertain market environment, the Strategic Plan was prepared on the basis of two scenarios for St.George's banking business:

- a scenario under which there is access to funding to support balance sheet growth and the additional costs of funding can be passed through to customers with minimal impact on volume; and
- a scenario under which access to funding is constrained for all financial institutions.

St.George has adopted a "target" level of performance that lies within these two scenarios for the purpose of preparing its budget for the year ending 30 September 2009.

A further scenario under which there is no access to funding was qualitatively addressed in the Strategic Plan.

While St.George has considered a number of scenarios in its Strategic Plan, it has not developed a detailed, integrated and flexible model for its banking business. As a result, Grant Samuel's model is necessarily a high level analysis based on summarised data and intended to demonstrate the effect on value of variances in several key revenue and cost drivers. A banking business is an inherently complex business, with its performance depending on a large number of variables such as volume growth and net interest margins. In addition, various simplifying assumptions have been applied to create the model and it is not possible to fully capture the possible effects of changes in one assumption on all other variables.

While the outcomes need to be treated with some caution, Grant Samuel considers that the analysis does provide some insight into value.

The main features of the model are:

- the model runs from 1 October 2008 to 30 September 2018;
- the model incorporates year by year assumptions for the years ending 30 September 2009 to 2011, and is based on long term assumptions and trends for the remaining periods;
- separate growth rate assumptions are made for St.George's housing lending, other personal lending and business lending portfolios;
- banking net interest income is based on projected net interest margins;
- banking non interest income is based on a projected percentage of net interest income;
- operating costs have been separated into fixed and variable components, with the fixed element projected to grow at 5% per year (a blended rate reflecting the impact of general and wages inflation) and the variable component increasing in line with growth in net receivables. This approach explicitly takes into account the impact of asset growth on the cost to income ratio;

GRANT SAMUEL

- loan impairment expenses and provisions are based on an assumed level of impaired assets relative to total risk weighted assets;
- a corporate tax rate of 30% is assumed;
- the model assumes that capital adequacy levels (including an appropriate buffer) are maintained through maximising the amount of residual Tier 1 capital (at 25% of net Tier 1 capital), lower Tier 2 capital (at 50% of net Tier 1 capital) and total Tier 2 capital (at 100% of net Tier 1 capital) with the balance provided by retained earnings. The model also assumes that capital requirements (on an individual and collective basis) will not be materially different under Basel II than under Basel I;
- the calculated future dividends are discounted to a present value using discount rates of 11-12%, representing the estimated cost of equity for the banking business. The rationale for selection of this discount rate is set out in Appendix A; and
- the model incorporates a terminal value based on calculated dividends for the year ending 30 September 2018 and incorporating a terminal growth rate of 5%.

The valuation parameters adopted and the associated calculations of future earnings and dividends do not represent forecasts or projections by Grant Samuel and Grant Samuel does not provide any assurance or warranty that they will be achieved. The valuation parameters and the associated future earnings and dividends are merely assumptions adopted for the purposes of the valuation. The model's assumptions have been determined by Grant Samuel. The assumptions may differ from the assumptions and expectations of St.George management as to the future performance of St.George's banking business.

In the current environment, forecasts of operational assumptions over the next 12-18 months are highly uncertain and subject to factors outside the control of St.George. Assumptions up to ten years into the future are even more uncertain. There is significant scope for differences in opinion on key assumptions (e.g. asset growth rates and net interest margins). Accordingly, Grant Samuel has analysed a number of scenarios, each of which assumes that the forecast for the year ending 30 September 2008 will be achieved. The assumptions underlying each scenario have been made by Grant Samuel with reference to the Strategic Plan and following discussions with St.George management.

A description of each scenario is outlined in the table below:

St.George's Banking Business - Summary of DDM Scenarios
Scenario	Description
Scenario A	Scenario A represents as closely as possible a "base case" (i.e. the set of forecasts judged most likely to occur). The key assumptions in this scenario include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ continued slowing of the economy but with a "soft" landing during the year ending 30 September 2010 and a subsequent recovery; ▪ slowing asset growth, but continued market share gains, particularly in other personal lending and commercial lending until target market share is reached, then reverting to long term system growth; ▪ funding remains an issue for all banks, but is available to support required asset growth although at a higher cost resulting in steady, albeit declining margin compression. Securitisation markets are assumed to reopen gradually, with securitisation reaching 11% of total housing loan funding in the medium term; ▪ credit quality remains under pressure in the near term with increasing loan impairment expenses, provisions and write offs in the initial years before reverting to long term average levels; and ▪ cost savings are achieved over the next three years consistent with the expectations of St.George management, resulting in an overall decline in the cost to income ratio to 34.6% by the year ending 30 September 2018.

GRANT SAMUEL

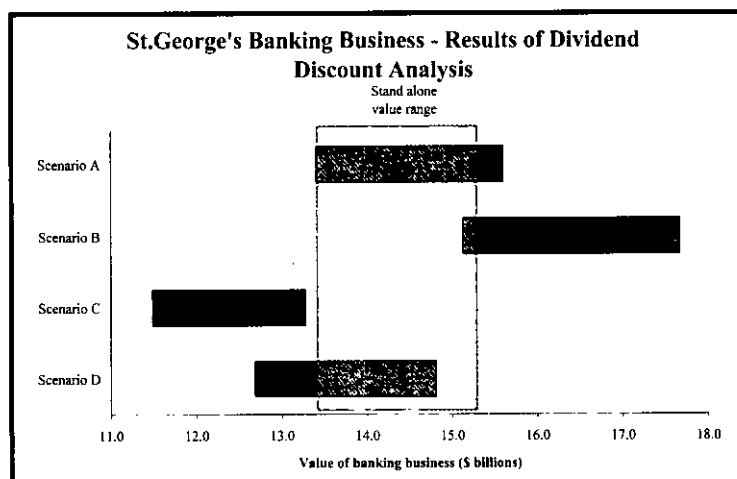

St. George's Banking Business - Summary of DDM Scenarios
Scenario	Description
Scenario B	Scenario B differs from Scenario A in that it assumes that the economic environment improves and credit markets stabilise and recover in the short term. This assumption is predicated on a scenario where: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ asset growth is strong (including immediate market share gains in Queensland, Victoria and Western Australia and in middle market commercial lending); ▪ funding constraints are removed and historical funding conditions return (including immediate reopening of securitisation markets) which allows wholesale borrowings to increase each year in line with targeted asset growth; and ▪ credit quality holds and improves.
Scenario C	Scenario C represents a situation where there is a sharper and longer decline in the economy and dislocation in credit markets intensifies. If this scenario eventuated, it would require all banks to reassess their strategies and respond accordingly. In this scenario the following assumptions are made for the initial three years: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ the overall cost of credit increases (particularly for longer term debt) and high funding costs are sustained. Securitisation markets are assumed to remain effectively closed; ▪ asset growth is weak and St. George loses market share as a result of passing higher funding costs on to customers (and despite this, net interest margins also decline); and ▪ credit quality deteriorates. The cost base is reduced to take account of these changed circumstances.
Scenario D	Scenario D represents the case where access to funding is constrained to a greater extent and for a longer period than contemplated under Scenario A. The major differences between this scenario and Scenario A are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ increased impairment provisions in response to economic conditions; and ▪ slower improvement in funding markets, resulting in a higher cost of funding and lower net interest margins in the initial years.

More detailed lists of the key assumptions underlying each scenario are set out in Appendix B.

The output of the dividend discount analysis is summarised below:

St. George's Banking Business – Dividend Discount Analysis ($ billions)
Discount rate	12.0%	11.0%
Scenario A	13.4	15.6
Scenario B	15.1	17.7
Scenario C	11.5	13.3
Scenario D	12.7	14.8

GRANT SAMUEL

The range of NPVs produced by the scenarios is significantly wider than the value range Grant Samuel has placed on St.George's banking business on a stand alone basis of $13.4-15.3 billion. Grant Samuel's range lies towards the upper portion of values produced by the dividend discount analysis, spanning the values produced by Scenarios A and D. Grant Samuel has considered the outcome of all of the scenarios in determining its stand alone value range for St.George's banking business. However, it should be noted that:

- it is extremely unlikely that the economy and credit markets will improve significantly in the short term as envisaged in Scenario B. Most analysts are expecting the economy to reach a "soft landing" over the next 12-18 months before a recovery commences. There is also no indication that the volatility in, and widening of, margins in credit markets will subside in the short term. Some market commentators have indicated that they expect the impact of the global credit crisis will take 12-24 months to work its way through the Australian credit markets; and
- in the event of Scenario C, the NPV impact on an acquirer would be less than for a stand alone St.George as an acquirer would not face the same level of incremental costs or constraints.

Grant Samuel believes that the values produced by the dividend discount analysis generally support a broad range of values for St.George's banking business on a stand alone basis of $13.4-15.3 billion.

The dividend discount analysis provides an indication of the stand alone value for the core banking business but does not capture any potential cost reductions or synergies that may be available to an acquirer of the business (and therefore generate a premium for control). The value of these operational synergies is addressed in Section 9.4.3 below.

In addition, Grant Samuel has undertaken a sensitivity analysis based on Scenario A. This analysis examines the sensitivity of this scenario to global changes in key variables (from the year ending 30 September 2012 onwards):

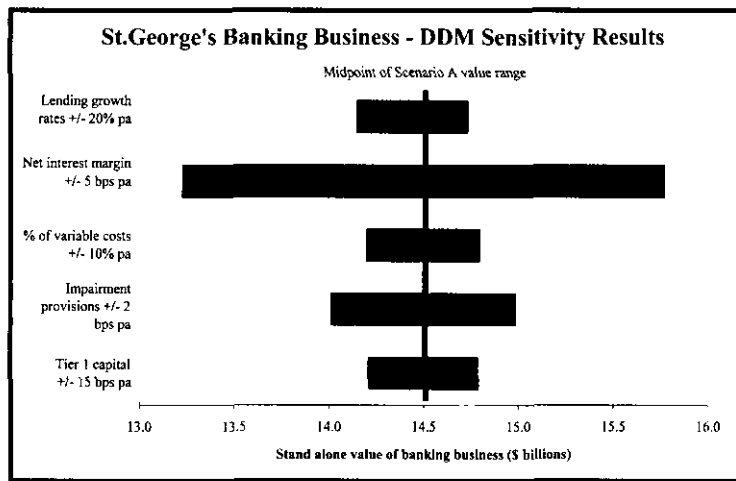

- lending growth rates in each key asset class (housing, other personal and commercial) are 20% higher or lower each year;
- net interest margins are 5 basis points higher or lower each year;
- the percentage of costs that are variable costs is 10% higher or lower each year;

GRANT SAMUEL

- impairment expense/total risk weighted assets is 2 basis points higher or lower each year; and
- target Tier 1 capital is 15 basis points higher or lower each year.

The output of the sensitivity analysis is summarised below:

A significant component of the total present value calculated by the model is attributable to the terminal value. This value is highly dependent on the assumed growth rate of dividends in perpetuity. The scenarios above assume perpetual growth in dividends of 5%.

Grant Samuel has tested the sensitivity of the calculated value under Scenario A to changes in the terminal growth rate assumption:

St. George's Banking Business - Terminal Value Sensitivity ($ billions)
Discount rate	12.0%	11.0%
3% terminal growth	11.8	13.3
4% terminal growth	12.5	14.3
5% terminal growth	13.4	15.6
6% terminal growth	14.6	17.5
7% terminal growth	16.4	20.3

As discussed above, NPVs from DCF analyses are subject to significant limitations and should always be treated with considerable caution. The NPVs show a relatively wide range across the different scenarios, highlighting the sensitivity to relatively small changes in assumptions. In particular, the analysis shows extremely high sensitivity to net interest margins but these are not capable of prediction with any confidence. A relatively wide range of reasonably credible scenarios for the future performance of the business can be developed.

9.4.3 Operational Synergies

To the extent that synergies are unique to a particular acquirer, it is normal valuation practice to exclude such synergies in determining fair value (although they can sometimes be "paid away" by the acquirer to the target entity depending on relative bargaining power).

GRANT SAMUEL

However, it is normal valuation practice to allow for synergies where they are achievable by more than one party. In this case, there are a number of potential acquirers of St.George that could achieve synergies through merging their operations with those of St.George.

The nature and extent of such benefits vary from party to party and depend on the operating model adopted by the acquirer. The history of Australian regional bank and building society acquisitions by larger banks indicates cost savings broadly in the range of 20-40% of the target company's cost base. In the case of St George, the available operating cost savings are likely to be at the lower end of this range, reflecting the fact that the business already operates at a cost to income ratio superior to that of the major Australian banks.

Westpac has provided the following information in relation to cost synergies:

- pre tax cost savings equivalent to 20-25% of St.George's cost base by the year ending 30 September 2011;
- funding synergies from a lower cost of wholesale funding for the merged group; and
- revenue attrition from loss of customers at less than 5% of St.George's revenue.

Westpac has also allowed for integration and transition costs (including transaction costs, restructuring costs, stamp duty and technology) of $700 million over two years.

Higher cost savings may be possible, but in the case of Westpac are limited by the operating model adopted of retaining the St.George brand and distribution channels for its consumer and business banking operations (i.e. no cost savings from removing duplication in branches) with separate management and chief executive officers ("CEOs"). However, this should be offset by loss of fewer customers and lower revenue attrition.

On the other hand, it is arguable that Westpac may be able to generate greater operational synergies than its peers, because, for example, the head offices of both Westpac and St.George are located in Sydney and because of the Westpac CEO's intimate knowledge of St.George's business operations (although this should reduce integration risk). However, based on the operational synergies achieved in other comparable bank acquisitions, Grant Samuel believes that the parameters set out above should be achievable by most acquirers of St.George and that it is reasonable to use the Westpac parameters as a proxy for generic synergies.

Grant Samuel has estimated an indicative value of $2.3-2.7 billion for the potential synergy benefits that may be available to acquirers of St.George. This value has been based on a DCF analysis. The main features of this analysis are:

- pre tax cost savings of 22.5% of St.George's cost base for the three years ending 30 September 2011. This represents the mid point of the 20-25% range provided by Westpac. These cost savings are assumed to be achieved progressively over the three year period (so that 100% is achieved in the year ending 30 September 2011);
- funding synergies of $130 million by the year ending 30 September 2011. This is consistent with brokers' estimates of this saving at approximately 20 basis points for wholesale term funding or $120-140 million per annum by 2011. Funding synergies are assumed to be achieved progressively over the three year period as St.George's wholesale term funding matures;
- revenue attrition of 2.5% of St.George's revenue base in each year;
- implementation costs of $700 million associated with achieving these synergies are assumed to be incurred equally in the years ending 30 September 2009 and 2010;
- a corporate tax rate of 30%;

GRANT SAMUEL

- the calculated future cash flows have been discounted to a present value using discount rates of 11.1-12.1%, representing a weighted average of the estimated cost of equity for St.George's banking business of 11-12% and its wealth management business of 12.5-13.5%; and
- the model incorporates a terminal value based on the net after tax cash flow for the year ending 30 September 2011 and a terminal growth rate of 5.2%, representing a weighted average of the estimated terminal growth rate for St.George's banking business of 5% and its wealth management business of 7%.

The value attributed to cost savings of $2.3-2.7 billion is 80% of the result obtained from the DCF analysis of $2.8-3.4 billion. This discount reflects:

- the execution risk associated with achieving the operating synergies; and
- the fact that acquirers do not generally "pay away" 100% of operating synergies to the target shareholders.

While this approach is simplistic, it is considered appropriate to make some allowance for the above factors.

The value of $2.3-2.7 billion attributed to cost savings is an estimate only, and will not be available to every potential acquirer of St.George. The amount of cost savings achieved will depend on factors such as the acquirer's existing administrative infrastructure and support services and the extent of any overlap in markets and products between the businesses.

The operational synergies reflect synergies attributable to the banking business and the wealth management businesses. No information has been made public on the cost savings expected in each business. Grant Samuel has allocated approximately 13-15% or $300-400 million of the value of the operational synergies to the wealth management business. This is slightly above the contribution of the wealth management business to the overall stand alone value of St.George (at approximately 12%) but this is considered reasonable given the relatively higher level of cost savings that would be expected to be generated from this business. This leaves $2.0-2.3 billion attributable to the banking business. Based on discussions with and information provided by Westpac, Grant Samuel believes that this allocation is reasonable.

9.4.4 Earnings Multiple Analysis

Summary of Implied Multiples

The valuation of St.George's banking business of $15.4-17.6 billion implies the following multiples:

St.George's Banking Business – Implied Multiples
	Variable ($ million)	Low	High
Multiple of net profit after tax
12 months ended 31 March 2008
- adjusted, underlying	1,068 ⁶⁵	14.4	16.5
- adjusted, cash	1,089 ⁶⁵	14.1	16.2
Multiple of geared NTA
As at 31 March 2008	4,932 ⁶⁶	3.1	3.6

⁶⁵ See the table in Section 9.3 for the source of these earnings figures.

⁶⁶ Banking business NTA is calculated as banking net assets of $2,781 million less estimated intangible assets of $996 million less minority interests of $6 million less SAINTS and SPS of $493 million plus other assets of $226 million and plus margin lending and Private Clients net assets of $3,420 million.

GRANT SAMUEL

Grant Samuel has also considered the implied multiples of earnings for St.George's banking business based on the forecast for the year ending 30 September 2008 and the budgets for the years ending 30 September 2009 and 2010. At the request of St.George, Grant Samuel has not disclosed the multiples of forecast and budgeted earnings implied by the valuation of St.George's banking business.

Interpretation of Multiples

Earnings multiples are normally benchmarked against two primary sets of reference points:

- the multiples implied by the share prices of listed peer group companies; and
- the multiples implied by the prices paid in acquisitions of other companies in the same industry sector.

In interpreting and evaluating such data it is necessary to recognise that:

- multiples based on listed company share prices do not include a premium for control and are therefore often (but not always) less than multiples that would apply to acquisitions of similar companies;
- acquisition multiples from comparable transactions are therefore usually seen as a better guide when valuing 100% of a business but the data tends to be less transparent and information on forecast earnings is often unavailable or based on brokers' forecasts;
- the analysis will give a range of outcomes from which averages or medians can be determined but it is not appropriate to simply apply such measures to the company being valued. The most important part of valuation is to evaluate the attributes of the specific company being valued and to distinguish it from its peers so as to form a judgement as to where on the spectrum it appropriately belongs;
- acquisition multiples are based on the target's earnings but the price normally reflects the fact that there are synergies available to the acquirer (at least if the acquirer is a "trade buyer" with existing businesses in the same or a related industry sector). If the target company earnings were adjusted for these synergies, the effective multiple paid by the acquirer would be lower than that calculated on the target's earnings; and
- acquisition multiples are a product of the economic and other circumstances at the time of the transaction.

Transaction Evidence

Details of acquisitions of banking businesses in recent years are set out in Appendix C. The multiples vary widely and may be affected by issues such as:

- non banking income sources (for example, CBA's acquisition of Colonial Limited ("Colonial"), which had significant non bank operations representing more than 70% of earnings and St.George's acquisition of Advance Bank, which had a funds management operation);
- the sale process. Higher multiples may be paid where there is more than one potential acquirer competing for a business. For example, St.George made offers to acquire both Challenge Bank (which was ultimately acquired by Westpac) and Metway Bank Limited ("Metway") (which was ultimately merged with Suncorp and QIDC). In contrast, the BankWest acquisition by Bank of Scotland plc ("Bank of Scotland") was essentially restricted to foreign banks and domestic banks domiciled in Western Australia, which would have limited the number of potential acquirers; and

- synergies and cost savings available to the acquirer (as well as expected customer and portfolio attrition). Acquisitions can be classified as either "in market" (where the target's business is in the same market as the acquirers as was the case in St.George's acquisition of Advance Bank) or "cross market" (where the target's business is in different markets such as Bank of Scotland's acquisition of BankWest). Higher multiples may be able to be justified for "in market" transactions as greater synergies should be available as a result of the significant overlap in distribution networks.

In addition, the credit, economic and sharemarket environment at the time of each transaction needs to be considered when interpreting the multiples. In effect each transaction has to be calibrated against the prevailing conditions. In this regard, the banking sector experienced a significant downturn during the early to mid 1990's, and the subsequent recovery period from mid to late 1990's was marked by industry consolidation and the privatisation of several government owned banking businesses. Forward price earnings multiples for the listed major banks fell to as low as 6-7 times in 1994, compared to levels of around 10-12 times by 1996 and 12-14 times from 1997 through to mid 2007. The implied multiples from transactions such as the acquisition of BankSA by Advance Bank, the acquisition of Challenge Bank by Westpac and the acquisition of BankWest by Bank of Scotland reflect, in part, the lower valuation levels prevalent in the banking sector during the early 1990's.

From 1996 onwards the forecast price earnings multiples implied by transactions rose quite strongly, generally to more than 14 times (with the exception of the National Bank of New Zealand and Advance Bank acquisitions) reflecting the more buoyant economic conditions of the past decade and strongly rising equities markets.

In contrast, the environment today is far more subdued and the short term growth outlook is particularly weak. Credit growth is expected to slow substantially, net interest margins are under pressure from higher funding margins (with a continuing flow through effect over the next 2-3 years) and there is increased risk of deteriorating asset quality. Reflecting this outlook, the major banks are now trading at an average forward price earnings multiple of around 10 times (within a range of 8-12 times), levels not seen since the mid to late 1990's. These changes appear to be cyclical rather than structural but it is nevertheless necessary to take account of them. Accordingly, the current environment suggests that appropriate acquisition multiples are now below the historical benchmarks of the last 10 years (subject to the overriding impact of the specific attributes of the target entity).

The multiples observed from the transactions involving non bank lending institutions are generally higher than for the banks. This possibly reflects the greater quantum of synergies expected to be generated from these transactions (generally 40-50% of the target's cost base), in particular for "in market" acquisitions (such as Wide Bay's acquisition of Mackay Permanent and Bank of Queensland's acquisition of Pioneer Permanent Building Society Limited). Given these differences, the non bank transaction multiples are considered to be less relevant in valuing St.George's banking business than the bank transactions.

On the basis of the above, the following transactions are not regarded as comparable in attributing a value to St.George's banking business:

- the acquisitions of BankWest (by Bank of Scotland) and BankSA as the particular circumstances of these acquisitions resulted in reasonably low implied multiples; and
- CBA's acquisition of Colonial as a result of its significant non bank activities.

Grant Samuel has also excluded ANZ's acquisition of National Bank of New Zealand from the core comparable transactions on the basis that this transaction, despite being the result of a competitive process involving Westpac and ANZ, implies relatively low multiples that are inconsistent with the multiples implied by the other core comparable transactions.

GRANT SAMUEL

The remaining comparable transactions have taken place at:

- historical multiples in the range 13.1-18.0 times net profit after tax;
- forecast multiples in the range 11.3-16.6 times net profit after tax; and
- NTA multiples in the range 1.1-3.1 times.

The multiples at the top end of the range are the multiples implied by the merger of Adelaide Bank and Bendigo Bank. Although this transaction is the most recent evidence of what an acquirer of a bank might be willing to pay, it took place in an environment when banks were trading on a median forward price earnings multiple of around 13 times (compared to around 10 times currently).

Sharemarket Evidence

The valuation of St.George's banking business has been considered in the context of the current sharemarket ratings of listed Australian major and regional banks. Listed bank multiples are relevant in so far as acquisitions are generally priced relative to listed multiples at the time of the transaction (not least because they determine the earnings dilution impact of any scrip bid).

The detailed sharemarket evidence is set out in Appendix D. While none of these companies is precisely comparable to St. George's banking business, the sharemarket data does provide an overall framework in which to assess the valuation of St.George's banking business.

The trading multiples show that:

- major banks are trading at multiples of 8.3-12.0 times last twelve months cash net profit after tax, 9.5-11.9 times forecast 2008 cash profit after tax and 8.0-11.8 times forecast 2009 cash net profit after tax; and
- regional banks are trading at multiples of 14.7-18.7 times last twelve months cash net profit after tax, 14.7-15.4 times forecast 2008 cash net profit after tax and 10.8-12.4 times forecast 2009 cash net profit after tax.

In reviewing this analysis it should be noted that:

- the multiples reflect the prices at which non controlling portfolio interests trade on the ASX and do not incorporate a premium for control;
- the four major banks are much larger than St.George's banking business and in each case include significant other trading activities including wealth management, general and life insurance and proportionately greater involvement in corporate and institutional lending, foreign exchange activities and offshore operations. In particular, all of the major banks have varying degrees of exposure to the higher growth wealth management sector, which would result in higher trading multiples than would be expected for a stand alone bank. The regional banks are also of varying size and each has a unique business profile and regional focus. For these reasons, caution should be used when inferring evidence as to the value of St.George's banking business from the trading multiples presented;
- since the announcements by NAB and ANZ of increased provisions affecting performance in the year ending 30 September 2008, the trading multiples of the major banks have moved into two distinct ranges:
 - CBA and Westpac, which are perceived to be the better managed and better performing banks, corresponding to greater market confidence and higher trading multiples in the range 11.9-12.0 times last twelve months cash net profit after tax, 11.7-11.9 times forecast 2008 cash net profit after tax and 11.3-11.8 times forecast 2009 cash net profit after tax; and

GRANT SAMUEL

- NAB and ANZ, which have been downgraded following their announcements, trading in the range 8.3-9.3 times last twelve months cash net profit after tax, 9.5-10.9 times forecast 2008 cash net profit after tax (the higher multiples reflecting the impact of the additional provisions) and 8.0-9.0 times forecast 2009 cash net profit after tax.

CBA and Westpac are trading at a premium of approximately 20-40% to NAB and ANZ; and

- regional banks have historically traded at higher multiples than the major banks. Reasons for this may include:
 - relatively higher lending portfolio growth rates over the last five years (in part as a result of expanding geographically from their core home states);
 - strong growth from business lending (in particular in the SME sector) in recent years. Although this growth has been relatively insignificant in market share terms, it has had an impact on overall asset growth achieved by the regional banks given their relatively low starting points;
 - benefit from the customer backlash against branch closures and lower service levels by the major banks since the late 1990's. Although the major banks have subsequently improved service levels, the service advantage still lies in favour of the regional banks, as evidenced by their superior customer satisfaction ratings; and
 - a market perception that there is a greater likelihood of consolidation among the regional banks than among major banks (particularly given the Federal Government's four pillars policy).

Nevertheless, as at 15 September 2008, Bendigo and Adelaide's multiples have fallen to be more in line with the (upper end) multiples of the major banks, possibly reflecting the announcement of weaker than expected earnings for the year ended 30 June 2008 on 11 August 2008.

Analysis and Commentary

In forming a view on an appropriate value for St.George's banking business, Grant Samuel has taken into account the following positive factors:

- the strategic value of St.George's market share, particularly in New South Wales where it has approximately 14.7% of the residential loans market. For any of the major banks, the acquisition of St.George would not only boost their market share significantly, it would deprive the other major banks of the opportunity to do so (as there are no alternative comparable acquisitions). In other words, it represents an almost unique opportunity to change market positioning;
- differentiated growth options from the major banks as a result of:
 - interstate expansion. St.George is still relatively small in the fast growing states of Western Australia and Queensland and is building a track record of sustained high growth in these states; and
 - its focus on high growth middle market business lending. This niche market has grown strongly in recent years and St.George has generated approximately twice system growth in this market;

GRANT SAMUEL

- higher customer satisfaction ratings than the major banks. There is particular opportunity in retail banking to increase the number of products per customer (which is well below the level of the major banks);
- historical strength on cost control and its lower, market leading cost to income ratio. The cost to income ratio is expected to continue to decline as a result of the business optimisation program. However, as St.George is already an efficiently run banking operation it has less potential to significantly reduce its cost to income ratio over time (in contrast to the major banks);
- lower risk portfolio than the major banks. St.George has no exposure to the high risk structured credit products that have resulted in major write downs for NAB and to a lesser extent, ANZ in recent months. Its assets are well secured, with an average loan to valuation ratio on residential loans of less than 40%. 90% of middle market receivables are secured (with 80% secured by the underlying property). St.George also has a lower exposure to corporate and institutional lending compared to the major banks. Any significant potential specific exposures not already provided for (such as Allico and Centro) are, at worst, likely to be one off events rather than indicative of systemic issues and immaterial to the overall valuation; and
- domestic focus with no offshore exposure. This contrasts to the exposure of all of the major banks to international banking markets. These exposures are predominantly in the United Kingdom and New Zealand, both of which have struggling economies.

On the other hand, there are also factors that would tend to constrain the appropriate multiples for St George's banking business:

- the impact of current market conditions such as slowing credit growth, increased costs of funding and the impact of a deteriorating economy on impaired assets and debt write offs will affect the short to medium term earnings growth prospects for all banks and St.George will not be immune from this. This is reflected in the sharp decline in the price earnings multiples of all Australian banks since November 2007 to the point where they are now lower than at any time in the last 10 years. Most of the comparable transactions occurred in much more favourable circumstances and, accordingly, lower multiples are now appropriate;
- compared to the major banks, St.George has a proportionately larger exposure to the slower growing New South Wales market which could impact lending growth if relative weakness in the New South Wales economy continues. St.George's greater proportion of residential mortgages compared to its peers could also impact earnings growth in the event of a further downturn in the New South Wales housing market;
- St.George is potentially more vulnerable than the major banks to a property cycle downturn with over 50% of its commercial loan book exposed to the property industry; and
- it has a relatively lower capital position compared to the major banks which may be considered to be a disadvantage given the current environment.

Another issue influencing the multiple would be the extent of synergy benefits potentially available to an acquirer. Grant Samuel's analysis of earlier bank transactions shows some relationship between the extent of savings expected and the multiple or the control premium but the relationship was not unambiguous. Nevertheless, synergies are likely to be a contributing factor to the multiple. Compared to other earlier transactions, St.George has a number of specific but offsetting factors:

- St.George's A+ credit rating compared to the AA ratings of the major banks results in a higher cost for wholesale funding. Following the widening of single A versus double A credit spreads, which was not a major factor in any of the earlier transactions, there is now a greater degree of funding margin savings; and

- lower scope to save operating costs because of:
 - St.George's existing high levels of efficiency; and
 - the likely need to adopt a business model that limits cost efficiencies (but minimises customer attrition).

The net effect of these factors is not clear but Grant Samuel does not believe the extent of synergies would be materially less than in other "in market" transactions.

In Grant Samuel's opinion, the multiples implied by the value attributed to St.George's banking business are reasonable relative to the evidence. The multiples implied by the valuation of St.George's banking business are compared to the core comparable transactions in the charts below:

Source: Grant Samuel analysis (Appendix C)

The multiples of historical net profit after tax in the range 14.1-16.2 times (cash) and 14.4-16.5 times (underlying) are towards the high end of the range, but consistent with transactions such as Metway's merger with Suncorp and QIDC, Bank of Melbourne's acquisition by Westpac and HBOS's acquisition of the remaining 43% interest in BankWest. St.George would generally warrant a higher multiple than these banks but this needs to be offset by the much more subdued outlook and generally lower ratings of banks today. Current trading multiples will inevitably impact the prices that acquirers are willing to pay for assets as they reflect current market sentiment and the outlook for banking businesses. The implied multiples are below those paid in the merger of Adelaide Bank with Bendigo Bank although this is considered appropriate given the higher bank trading multiple environment in which the Adelaide Bank merger with Bendigo Bank took place. At the time of the merger, the major banks were trading on a median price earnings ratio of 13 times, compared to 10 times today.

The forecast multiples for the year ending 30 September 2009 implied by Grant Samuel's valuation of St.George's banking business are not able to be published but are within the range of 11.3-16.6 times forecast net profit after tax for the core comparable transactions. Excluding the Adelaide Bank merger with Bendigo Bank, the forecast multiples are approximately in the middle of the relevant range. To provide further insight the following chart shows the implied forecast 2009 multiples for St.George group⁴⁷ (of which the banking business represents more than 85%) relative to the core comparable transactions:

Source: Grant Samuel analysis (Appendix C)

The multiples implied by Grant Samuel's valuation of St.George are well above the historical trading multiples of core comparable listed companies and also above the forecast trading multiples of core comparable listed companies, reflecting the premium for control implicit in the valuation:

Source: Grant Samuel analysis (Appendix D)

While the margin over historical NAB and ANZ price earnings multiples is very high, the multiples implied by the value range for St.George are 19-38% higher than the median of the historical price earnings multiples of CBA and Westpac. This is broadly consistent ⁴⁷ Based on broker consensus forecasts (see Section 9.1 and Appendix E).

GRANT SAMUEL

with premiums for control typically seen in bank takeovers. Grant Samuel has also considered the implied multiples of forecast 2009 net profit after tax for the banking business with the 2009 trading multiples for listed banks. The relationship is substantially the same as the historical multiples. The following chart shows the implied forecast multiples based on St.George group earnings⁶⁴:

It should be noted that all of the major banks have established wealth management businesses. Wealth management is a higher growth business than banking and this would result in the trading multiples for the listed banks being higher than the trading multiples for a stand alone bank. The wealth management businesses of CBA and Westpac in particular make a significant contribution to net profit after tax (in the order of 12-15%).

Grant Samuel has also considered the NTA multiples implied by the valuation of St.George's banking business. Capitalisation of NTA is a relatively crude valuation measure as it does not take into account the earnings potential of the business being acquired. However, it is widely accepted within the banking sector as a valid measure for assessing bank transactions, particularly as banks are capital based businesses. It has the merit of being easy to calculate and is to some degree objective. Unless the return on equity achieved by the bank involved is unusually high or low it has validity as a valuation parameter. The implied NTA multiple at 3.1-3.6 times is high. Comparable transactions have generally taken place at 1.7-2.7 times NTA and as high as 3.1 times NTA for Adelaide Bank's merger with Bendigo Bank. The high multiple is considered appropriate given:

- St.George generates a relatively high return on equity, slightly below the return on equity generated by Westpac but above that achieved by the other major banks; and
- all of the transactions other than Adelaide Bank's merger with Bendigo Bank took place under AGAAP. The NTA of banks fell on the introduction of AIFRS (primarily as a result of reclassification of securities previously treated as equity to debt). As shown in the table on page 113, the trading NTA multiples of the major banks (other than NAB) increased from 3 times to 4 times in the period from June to September 2005 (when AIFRS was introduced) and stayed at these levels until the impact of the global credit crisis saw them fall to around 3 times (excluding NAB and CBA) but still above pre AIFRS levels. Accordingly, it would be expected that transactions post the introduction of AIFRS would take place at higher multiples of NTA.

⁶⁴ Based on broker consensus forecasts (see Section 9.1 and Appendix E).

GRANT SAMUEL

9.5 Wealth Management Business

9.5.1 Overview

A value of $2.1-2.4 billion has been attributed to St.George's wealth management business. This valuation range is an overall judgement having regard to:

- estimates of the NPV of cash flows in a number of scenarios using a range of different assumptions for St.George's wealth management business on a stand alone basis and an allocation of potential net cost savings and other synergy benefits that could be available to potential acquirers of St.George's wealth management business. The components of value under this approach are summarised below:

	Section Reference	Value Range
		Low	High
Stand alone value	9.5.2	1.8	2.0
Allocation of value attributed to operational synergies	9.4.3	0.3	0.4
Value attributed to wealth management business		2.1	2.4

- the multiples of EBIT, earnings and FUMA implied by the acquisition prices of recent transactions involving wealth management companies or businesses and the trading prices of listed Australian wealth management companies.

The primary focus was on the DCF analysis and multiples of EBIT and net profit after tax. The value ranges selected are judgements derived through an iterative process. The objective is to determine a value that is both consistent with the market evidence as to multiples and fits with the output of the DCF analysis in terms of the various scenarios and their likelihood. Multiples of FUMA, while often used as a benchmark, were given much less emphasis.

9.5.2 Discounted Cash Flow Analysis – Stand Alone Wealth Management Business

Grant Samuel has prepared a high level DCF analysis of St.George's wealth management business. This analysis has been used to estimate a stand alone value for St.George's wealth management business excluding a premium for control.

The DCF model uses the Strategic Plan (through to the year ending 30 September 2011) as a starting point for constructing a model. The model was extended for a further seven years.

While the Strategic Plan incorporates various scenarios, it is a plan for St.George's business as a whole and the focus of the scenarios is St.George's banking business. The Strategic Plan is essentially a single scenario plan for St.George's wealth management business (although it does consider very briefly a scenario of slower growth in the 2009 financial year). There is no detailed, integrated and flexible model covering the wealth management business that has been developed by St.George. Accordingly, Grant Samuel's model is a high level analysis based on summarised data. Some flexibility has been incorporated, primarily in relation to the funds management and administration business, so that key income drivers can be varied but the outcomes need to be treated with some caution as there are necessarily various simplifying assumptions that have been applied to create the model and it is not possible to fully capture the possible effects of changes in one assumption on other variables (i.e. changes in assumptions are largely considered in isolation). In addition:

GRANT SAMUEL

- some of the assumptions are difficult to predict with any degree of reliability and are beyond the control of management. For example, there is scope for differences of opinion on key assumptions such as the recovery of and levels of returns from equities markets; and
- the Strategic Plan only projects the wealth management business down to the direct contribution level and assumptions have had to be made about the allocation of head office costs to the wealth management business.

The model also assumes no changes to regulation significantly impacting the volume of net inflows (such as the "Simple Super" changes that resulted in a spike in net inflows in June 2007).

Nevertheless, Grant Samuel considers that the analysis does provide some insight into value.

The main features of the model are:

- the model runs from 1 October 2008 to 30 September 2018;
- the model incorporates year by year assumptions for the years ending 30 September 2009 to 2011 and is based on long term assumptions and trends for the remaining periods;
- investment returns are projected at a fixed percentage of equity market returns based on historical experience;
- inflows and outflows of funds are separately modelled for Asgard and Advance. Margins are applied to average FUMA balances to derive managed funds fee income;
- other income is primarily from the insurance and *direct*shares businesses and (after the Strategic Plan period) is assumed to grow at a fixed rate per year. The earnings from the insurance business incorporate the impact of the recently announced accelerated insurance growth strategy (through the strategic alliance with AIG Life);
- net interest income is projected to grow at a fixed rate based on historical growth;
- operating costs have been separated into fixed and variable components, with the fixed element projected to grow at 5% per year (a blended rate reflecting the impact of general and wages inflation) and the variable component increasing on the basis of growth in FUMA;
- maintenance capital expenditure is assumed to grow at inflation. An allowance has been made for a major overhaul of the information technology system during the term of the cash flows (on the basis that a major overhaul is required once every 10 years). An allowance has been made in calculating the terminal value to reflect the impact of future overhauls on net cash flows. New capital expenditure is assumed to be depreciated on a straight line basis over five years;
- a corporate tax rate of 30% is assumed;
- the calculated geared after tax cash flows are discounted to a present value using discount rates of 12.5-13.5%, representing the estimated cost of equity for the wealth management business. The rationale for selection of this discount rate is set out in Appendix A; and
- the model incorporates a terminal value based on calculated geared after tax cash flow for the year ending 30 September 2018 and incorporating a terminal growth rate of 7%.

GRANT SAMUEL

The valuation parameters adopted and the associated calculations of future earnings do not represent forecasts or projections by Grant Samuel and Grant Samuel does not provide any assurance or warranty that they will be achieved. The valuation parameters and the associated future earnings are merely assumptions adopted for the purposes of the valuation. The model's assumptions have been determined by Grant Samuel. The assumptions may differ from the assumptions and expectations of St.George management as to the future performance of St.George's wealth management business.

In view of the uncertainties surrounding the key drivers of the value of St.George's wealth management business, Grant Samuel has considered a number of alternative scenarios rather than a single base case centred on the Strategic Plan:

St.George's Wealth Management Business - Summary of DCF Scenarios
Scenario	Description
Scenario A	Scenario A represents as closely as possible a "base case" (i.e. the set of forecasts judged most likely to occur). It assumes mildly volatile equities markets in the short term, with a corresponding negative impact on net inflows. The key assumptions in this scenario include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ flat equities markets in the 2009 financial year, followed by a growth spike in the 2010 financial year before gradually returning to long term average returns; ▪ slight negative growth in inflows in the 2009 financial year (albeit not as severe as in the 2008 financial year), followed by strong growth in the 2010 financial year before reverting to long term average inflow growth; ▪ managed fund fee margins continue to decline due to the changing product mix (growth in lower margin products such as Elements and eWrap outpacing growth in higher margin products such as master fund and corporate superannuation) and "bracket creep" (tiered pricing structures that charge lower fees on higher FUMA balances); and ▪ an overall decline in the cost to income ratio from 59.7% to 56.6% by the year ending 30 September 2018.
Scenario B	Scenario B differs from Scenario A in that it assumes the equities markets recover quickly in the short term, investor confidence is restored and growth in inflows rebounds strongly in the 2009 to 2011 financial years before returning to long term average levels in the 2012 financial year. This assumption is predicated on a scenario where: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ company earnings improve in the short term (i.e. the cost of debt falls and the economy improves); and ▪ inflation is brought back to target levels, allowing interest rates to fall which has a positive impact on economic growth and household spending.
Scenario C	Scenario C represents the situation where markets continue to fall in the short term (albeit at less severe levels than that experienced in the 2008 financial year) and volatility persists, reducing the level of inflows.

More detailed lists of the key assumptions underlying each scenario are set out in Appendix B.

The output of the DCF analysis is summarised below:

St.George's Wealth Management Business - DCF Analysis ($ billions)
Discount rate	13.5%	12.5%
Scenario A	1.7	2.1
Scenario B	2.3	2.8
Scenario C	1.4	1.7

GRANT SAMUEL

The range of NPVs produced by the scenarios is significantly wider than the value range Grant Samuel has placed on St. George's wealth management business of $1.8-2.0 billion. Grant Samuel's range lies marginally within the lower portion of values produced by the DCF analysis and within the values produced by Scenario A. Grant Samuel has considered the outcome of all of the scenarios in determining its value range for St. George's wealth management business. However, it should be noted that:

- the assumption of an immediate rebound in equities markets in Scenario B is considered to be optimistic. Despite the recent fall in oil prices from record highs and the RBA cutting the cash rate by 25 basis points in September 2008, general market conditions still indicate depressed growth for the near future. There is no clear sign that short term inflation and cost pressures will ease as commodity prices remain high driven by strong demand from China (coupled with constrained supply) and debt funding remains expensive and difficult to access; and
- the downside reflected in Scenario C is relatively more likely, based on the economic outlook and historical experience. In the nine Australian bear markets since 1960, the time taken to reach the market low from the high has been between one and two years, suggesting the current downturn could persist into 2010. With recovery, the same data suggests the time to reach the new market high following the low is generally between three and four years, implying it could take until 2013 for the market to return to the peak of 2007.

This is reflected in the value of $1.8-2.0 billion attributed to St. George's wealth management business on a stand alone basis (i.e. relatively closer to Scenario C than Scenario B).

Notwithstanding these uncertainties, Grant Samuel believes that the values produced by the DCF analysis generally support a broad range of values for St. George's wealth management business of $1.8-2.0 billion on a stand alone basis (i.e. before taking into account any potential cost reductions or synergies that may be available to an acquirer of the business and paid to the target entity as a premium for control).

In addition, Grant Samuel has undertaken a sensitivity analysis based on Scenario A. This analysis examines the sensitivity of this scenario to global changes in key variables:

- long term net inflows are 5% higher or lower each year;

GRANT SAMUEL

- investment returns are 5% higher or lower each year;
- a one off inflow or redemption of $500 million in 2009;
- managed funds fee margins are 2 basis points higher or lower each year; and
- operating expenses are 10% higher or lower each year.

The output of the sensitivity analysis is summarised below:

A significant component of the total present value calculated by the model is attributable to the terminal value. This value is highly dependent on the assumed growth rate of geared after tax cash flows in perpetuity. The base case assumes perpetual growth in geared after tax cash flows of 7%.

Grant Samuel has tested the sensitivity of the calculated value to changes in the terminal growth rate assumption:

St. George's Wealth Management Business – Terminal Value Sensitivity ($ billions)
Discount rate	13.5%	12.5%
5% terminal growth	1.3	1.5
6% terminal growth	1.5	1.7
7% terminal growth	1.7	2.1
8% terminal growth	2.1	2.7
9% terminal growth	2.7	3.6

The NPVs show a relatively wide range across the different scenarios, highlighting the sensitivity to relatively small changes in assumptions. In particular, the analysis shows very high sensitivity to equities markets growth, managed funds inflows and long term managed funds fee margins and none of these is capable of prediction with any confidence. A relatively wide range of reasonably credible scenarios for the future performance of the business can be developed.

The DCF analysis provides an indication of the stand alone value for the wealth management business but does not capture any potential cost reductions or synergies that may be available to an acquirer of the business (i.e. the premium for control). The value of these operational synergies is addressed in Section 9.4.3 and operating synergies of $300-400 million have been allocated to the wealth management business.

9.5.3 Earnings Multiple Analysis

Summary of Implied Multiples

The valuation of St.George's wealth management business of $2.1-2.4 billion implies the following multiples:

St.George's Wealth Management Business – Implied Multiples
	Variable ($ million)	Low	High
Multiple of EBIT
12 months ended 31 March 2008 (adjusted, cash)	150 ⁶⁹	14.0	16.0
Multiple of net profit after tax
12 months ended 31 March 2008 (adjusted, cash)	106 ⁶⁹	19.8	22.6
Multiple of FUMA
As at 31 March 2008	43,900	4.8%	5.5%
As at 31 July 2008	42,000	5.0%	5.7%

Grant Samuel has also considered the implied multiples of earnings for St.George's wealth management business based on the forecast for the year ending 30 September 2008 and the budgets for the years ending 30 September 2009 and 2010. At the request of St.George, Grant Samuel has not disclosed the multiples of forecast and budgeted earnings implied by its valuation of St.George's wealth management business.

Transaction Evidence

Details of acquisitions of wealth management businesses in recent years are set out in Appendix C. The Australian financial services industry has experienced considerable change since the introduction of compulsory superannuation. The industry structure and the activities of industry players have increasingly reflected a clear distinction between life risk products and wealth management/investment products, which have been a major beneficiary of the funds flowing into compulsory superannuation. Moreover, there has been a growing trend towards a "deconstruction" of the wealth management value chain, with industry participants choosing to be active in some or all of three major activities, asset management (wholesale and retail), asset administration (platforms and wraps) and advice based distribution.

The prices paid in transactions involving financial services participants have varied significantly, depending (amongst other factors) on the exposure of the relevant companies to the life risk sector versus the higher growth wealth management sector, or the parts of the wealth management value chain where the companies' activities were focused. Many of the transactions are relatively small and cannot meaningfully be compared to a business the scale of St.George's wealth management business. Indeed, the acquisition of St.George's wealth management business will be one of the largest transactions in the sector (surpassed only by the initial public offer of Platinum Limited ("Platinum") and the formation of ANZ/ING Funds Management). For other transactions, there is limited meaningful information available.

The transactions have been categorised according to their major activity, with a separate category for transactions involving companies or businesses operating in two or more of the ⁶⁹ See the table in Section 9.3 for the source of these earnings figures. As there is no material difference between adjusted cash earnings and adjusted underlying earnings, only the multiples implied by the adjusted cash earnings have been shown in the table.

major activities outlined above (which are referred to as integrated wealth management companies).

St.George's wealth management business is an integrated business engaged in funds management (Advance), asset administration (Asgard and SGIS) and financial planning (Securitor) activities. The following observations are made in relation to the multiples implied by integrated wealth management transactions:

- transactions involving integrated wealth management businesses tend to take place at higher multiples than transactions involving "pure" funds managers or asset administrators. This would be expected as integrated businesses would be able to generate back office efficiencies as well as provide a certain amount of "captive" business;
- initial public offers of integrated wealth management companies (e.g. Plan B Group Holdings Limited ("Plan B"), Wilson HTM Investment Group Limited, Select Managed Funds Limited ("Select") and IOOF Holdings Limited ("IOOF")), demerger transactions (e.g. Australian Wealth Management Limited ("AWM")) and acquisitions of interests of less than 50% (e.g. State Super Financial Services Limited) have taken place at consistently lower multiples than trade sales of 100% interests. This would be expected as these transactions represent portfolio values and therefore exclude a premium for control; and
- the other transactions involving integrated businesses have taken place at:
 - historical multiples in the range 13.6-18.0 times EBIT and 18.9-26.4 times net profit after tax;
 - forecast multiples in the range 13.3-14.9 times EBIT and 13.0-20.2 times net profit after tax; and
 - 1.8-5.0% of FUMA (excluding the formation of ANZ/ING Funds Management).

The range of multiples implied by these core comparable transactions is still relatively wide and the following factors should be taken into account:

- a number of the transactions (e.g. the formation of ANZ/ING Funds Management) involve substantial businesses with significant non wealth management operations (in particular, life and income insurance activities). As a consequence, the percentages of FUMA implied by these transactions are very high;
- many of the acquisitions have been strategic, for example, they enabled the acquirer to achieve a quantum leap in funds under management (e.g. Westpac's acquisitions of Rothschild Australia Asset Management Limited ("Rothschild") and BT Financial Group and the merger of Select and AWM); and
- businesses with a high proportion of retail funds under management (e.g. Associated Planners Group Limited (100% retail), BT Financial Group (57% retail) and IPAC Securities Limited (70% retail)) have commanded higher prices than businesses with predominantly wholesale funds under management (such as Rothschild (72% wholesale) and HSBC Asset Management (Australia) Limited (100% wholesale)).

The top ends of these valuation parameter ranges reflect transactions with significant strategic value. However, during the 2002/03 year a number of the acquirers of these businesses recognised significant writedowns against the carrying values of their wealth management businesses on the back of a downturn in Australian equities markets and a subdued outlook for inflows in the short to medium term. Consequently, multiples implied by the transaction evidence prior to 2003 may overstate the price that an acquirer may be willing to pay in the current market.

GRANT SAMUEL

On the other hand, when equities markets and earnings are weak, acquirers may be able to justify paying higher multiples of current and forecast earnings given the strong long term growth outlook for wealth management businesses and the lower current earnings. This view is supported by the high multiples of earnings implied by AXA Asia-Pacific Holdings Limited's ("AXA's") acquisition of Genesys Wealth Advisers Limited ("Genesys") and Synergy Capital Management Limited ("Synergy") in July 2008 which, while a comparatively small acquisition, implied multiples of around 20 times forecast earnings.

Asgard represents more than 50% of the earnings of St.George's wealth management business. It would therefore be appropriate to consider the multiples implied by acquisitions of asset administration businesses. However, there is little meaningful information to be obtained from these transactions (other than they occurred at around 2% of FUA) and they are all much smaller than St.George's wealth management business.

Sharemarket Evidence

The detailed sharemarket market evidence is set out in Appendix D. AMP and AXA are shown in table in Appendix D because they are the largest listed wealth management businesses in Australia. However, they also have significant operations in other areas (such as AMP's life insurance business) or outside of Australia (AXA has significant operations in Asia). Nevertheless, other than for the 2008 financial year (where earnings have been impacted by negative investment returns on capital in the life business), the multiples for AMP and AXA are not dissimilar to those of the more "pure" wealth management companies.

Grant Samuel considers that the core comparable listed companies to St.George's wealth management business are Perpetual Limited ("Perpetual"), AWM, IOOF and Plan B. Platinum and BTIM are also comparable, although their focus is funds management (which is only a relatively small part of St.George's wealth management business).

The other companies shown in the table in Appendix D are not considered to be core comparables to St.George's wealth management business as they have different business models or more diversified operations.

The listed core comparable wealth management companies are generally trading at:

- 6.1-11.6 times historical 2008 EBIT, 7.5-15.2 times forecast 2009 EBIT and 6.8-12.9 times forecast 2010 EBIT; and
- 10.9-14.5 times historical 2008 net profit after tax, 12.1-19.8 times forecast 2009 net profit after tax and 11.0-17.1 times forecast 2010 net profit after tax.

The range of trading multiples is wide and reflects the specific characteristics and positioning of each of the listed companies. In summary, they provide limited guidance as to appropriate multiples. The decline in the sharemarket over the last 12 months and its recent volatility have had a significant impact on the wealth management sector as earnings are directly related to FUMA, which in turn is constrained by poor investment returns. The impact of weak equities markets on the trading multiples of core comparable companies is illustrated below:

Source: Grant Samuel analysis (Appendix D)

The general increasing trend in the forecast multiples of the core comparable companies indicates that markets are expected to remain weak and earnings are expected to decline in the 2009 financial year before recovering in the 2010 financial year. Exceptions to this trend are:

- AWM, which has a vertically integrated business generating diversified earnings, a strong history of cost management and the capacity for acquisitions; and
- BTIM, which has achieved strong fund performance (with the majority of funds in the top quartile). This performance has attracted investors and lifted net inflows in a market experiencing overall net outflows.

While listed company multiples cannot be directly compared to a change of control transaction, Grant Samuel believes the implied multiples provide a framework in which to assess the value for St.George's wealth management business, particularly if the value attributable to synergies is excluded.

Analysis and Commentary

The valuation of St.George's wealth management business must be considered in the context of the market generally. The 2004 to 2007 years were the four strongest consecutive years of market growth for over 30 years, with the S&P/ASX 200 Accumulation Index recording a CAGR in excess of 30%:

GRANT SAMUEL

Source: IRESS

In the latter months of 2007, the global credit crisis triggered a global market downturn with the Australian market experiencing extreme volatility and negative returns of 20.1% in the 12 months from 15 September 2007 to 15 September 2008. This experience was comparable to that observed in other global markets such as the United States, where the S&P 500 fell by 19.1% and in Japan, where the Nikkei was down 32.0% over the same period.

Equities markets are expected to experience flat to negative growth in the next 12-18 months as company earnings remain under pressure from both increasing costs and declining revenues. Costs have increased as a result of restricted credit markets, record oil prices and labour shortages. On the revenue side, high interest rates have contributed to a slowing of household expenditure while the strong Australian dollar has reduced the demand for exports. Volatility is also expected to continue in the short term, with the risk of further earnings downgrades.

However, despite this short term negativity, the medium to long term outlook for the wealth management sector remains very positive, driven largely by the industry dynamics of compulsory superannuation contributions. Market commentators expect average annual growth in aggregate balances in excess of 10% per annum over the next ten years.

The outlook for poor performance in the 2009 financial year before returning to growth in the 2010 financial year is reflected in the trading multiples of the core comparable companies and is also reflected in the multiples implied by the valuation of St.George's wealth management business. The historical implied multiples for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 are similar to the forecast implied multiples for the year ending 30 September 2008 and the year ending 30 September 2009 with the forecast implied multiples for the year ending 30 September 2010 declining as growth returns.

Despite the short term negative outlook for St.George's wealth management business, it has a number of positive attributes that warrant multiples towards the top end of the range implied by the core comparable transactions:

- it is a major participant in the Australian managed funds industry with a significant market share. As at 31 July 2008, the business had FUMA of $42 billion, the fifth largest master fund in Australia and has been within the top four in master fund annual net flows over the last two years⁷⁰. It is significantly larger than any of the core comparable transactions (Rothschild had FUMA of $34 billion when it was acquired by Westpac in April 2002);

- it is a vertically integrated wealth management business, with activities across funds management, asset administration and distribution. The integrated nature of the business provides an element of “captive” business;
- Asgard is a highly successful wealth management platform. It has a high level of functionality and a strong client servicing capability relative to its peers. This in part has led to Asgard historically surveying well amongst independent financial planners and having a preferred status with more top 10 dealer groups than any other platform. Asgard has also experienced strong historical growth with a five year CAGR at twice the average rate of the eight largest platforms. Strong growth in the Asgard platform is expected to continue, especially through opportunities to expand the badged platform product;
- the potential for significant growth from non funds businesses, in particular insurance. St.George has recently announced a strategic alliance with AIG Life to accelerate the growth of its life insurance business by leveraging off its extensive branch, platform and advisor distribution networks; and
- St.George’s wealth management business has a strong domestic brand which provides a valuable point of differentiation especially in the higher margin retail wealth management sector.

In short, St.George’s wealth management business would be strategically attractive to a number of acquirers. In particular, Asgard represents a key strategic asset in the platforms market and would provide a significant increase in market share (if not domestic market leadership in funds administration) as well as potential growth opportunities for an acquirer.

The historical multiples implied by the valuation of St.George’s wealth management business are compared to the core comparable transactions in the charts below:

Source: Grant Samuel analysis (Appendix C)

In Grant Samuel’s opinion, the implied multiples for St.George’s wealth management business are reasonable relative to the market evidence. The multiples of historical EBIT and earnings are high, but are consistent with the multiples paid in transactions where significant synergies were expected to be achieved (such as Westpac’s acquisition of Rothschild, the merger of Select and AWM and the AXA acquisition of Genesys and the Synergy investment platform). The other transactions in the charts above are largely initial public offers and these multiples do not reflect any value for synergies. The forecast multiples for the year ending 30 September 2010 implied by Grant Samuel’s valuation of ⁷⁰ Plan for Life Master Funds, March 2008.

G R A N T S A M U E L

St.George's wealth management business are not able to be published but are slightly below the relevant range (based on forecast EBIT multiples) or towards the low end of the relevant range (based on forecast price earnings multiples), but this is considered to be reasonable given the risks associated with achieving forecasts two years into the future in the current market environment.

The consideration as a percentage of FUMA multiples implied by the valuation of St.George's wealth management business are high (at 5.0-5.7%) compared to the core transactions. Grant Samuel considers this high percentage to be reasonable given the business's significant non funds activities (in particular, insurance).

9.6 Other Assets and Liabilities

St.George's other assets and liabilities have been valued in the range $26-35 million and represent:

- cash received from the exercise of in the money options and awards on issue as at 15 September 2008 of $18-27 million. In the money options and awards are options that have an exercise price at or below the estimated underlying value of St.George shares and awards that have vested but have not yet been exercised to acquire St.George shares. The number of issued shares in St.George also reflects the exercise of these options and awards;
- St.George has an ongoing branch and head office sale and leaseback program in place. This program is expected to be completed by 30 September 2010. The estimated after tax profit on the sale of remaining properties of $21 million has been included as a surplus asset (with the replacement rental expense assumed to offset ownership costs in the earnings and cash flows used to value St.George);
- St.George's 50% investment in Ascalon, which has been included at its carrying value as at 31 March 2008 of $29 million. The carrying value is considered to be a reasonable estimate of the market value of this investment given that it resulted from an arms length transaction (in which St.George acquired its 50% interest for $25 million) in March 2006; and
- the $41.6 million restructuring provision included in St.George's balance sheet as at 31 March 2008 in relation to staff redundancy costs from restructuring back office business processes and consolidation of sites over the 2008 and 2009 financial years.

St.George has a number of other assets and liabilities that have not been included in other assets and liabilities for the purposes of the valuation for the following reasons:

- carried forward tax losses of $10 million (tax effected amount) as at 31 March 2008 which relate to St.George's supermarket banking joint venture in New Zealand have not been reflected in the valuation on the basis that they are immaterial to the overall value;
- St.George's defined benefit superannuation liability of $1 million on its balance sheet as at 31 March 2008 has not been included as a liability on the basis that St.George makes regular contributions to the defined benefit superannuation fund and has been advised by its actuaries that its regular contributions do not need to be increased and are sufficient to extinguish the existing shortfall in the short term. The regular contributions are reflected in the earnings and cash flows used to value St.George;
- a liability representing the 25% minority interest in St.George Motor Finance Limited has not been included on the basis that the valuation of St.George's banking business has been estimated using multiple and dividend discount analysis that is after taking into account this minority interest; and
- no adjustment has been made to the valuation for hybrid capital treated as equity (SAINTS and SPS) as the value of the banking business is net of the value attributable to SAINTS and SPS (in both the dividend discount analysis and through the use of cash price earnings multiples which are calculated after taking into account dividends paid on SAINTS and SPS).

GRANT SAMUEL

9.7 Incremental Dividend

In addition to the final dividend for the year ending 30 September 2008 (which is capped at 97 cents per share), under the Westpac Proposal, St.George shareholders are entitled to receive a special dividend so that the aggregate (final and special) dividend for the year ending 30 September 2008 is no more than $1.25 per share.

No adjustment has been made for the final dividend on the basis that the relative dividends to be paid by St.George and Westpac have caps that match the exchange ratio (i.e. neither group of shareholders are better or worse off).

However, the increase in the St.George dividend to up to $1.25 per share provides St.George shareholders with additional value of at least 28 cents per share (depending on the extent to which the final dividend is less than 97 cents per share). For the purpose of assessing a value for St.George shares, Grant Samuel has made an adjustment to take into account an incremental dividend of 28 cents per share (on the basis that a final dividend of 97 cents per St.George share is paid). This treatment enables comparison on an equal basis with the value of the consideration.

9.8 Franking Credits

No value has been attributed to St.George's accumulated franking credit balance of $738 million as at 31 March 2008 (after allowing for the payment of the 2008 interim dividend) in the context of the value of St.George as a whole. Under Australia's dividend imputation system, domestic equity investors receive a taxation credit (franking credit) for tax paid by a company. The franking credit attaches to any dividends paid by a company and the franking credit offsets personal tax for Australian investors. To the extent that personal tax has been fully offset the individual will receive a refund of the balance of the franking credit.

In Grant Samuel's opinion, while acquirers are attracted by franking credits there is no clear evidence that they will actually pay extra for a company with them (at any rate the sharemarket evidence used by Grant Samuel in valuing St.George's business operations will already reflect the value impact of the existence of franking credits). Further, franking credits are not an asset of the company in the sense that they can be readily realised for a cash sum that is capable of being received by all shareholders. The value of franking credits can only be realised by shareholders themselves when they receive distributions. Importantly, the value of franking credits is dependent on the tax position of each individual shareholder. To many shareholders (e.g. overseas shareholders) they will have very little or no value.

Nevertheless, for those shareholders that can utilise franking credits, the balance in St.George's franking credit account would have substantial value to them if the franking credits were attached to a distribution to shareholders such as a special dividend that was an alternative to a capital gain that was otherwise fully taxable. However, recent changes to Australian taxation legislation may result in franking credits having lesser value to resident investors than the receipt of a capital gain.

GRANT SAMUEL

10 Value of the Consideration under the Westpac Proposal

10.1 Summary

Under the Westpac Proposal, St.George shareholders will receive 1.31 ordinary shares in Westpac for each St.George share.

St.George shareholders will be entitled to the final St.George dividend for the year ending 30 September 2008 which is subject to a cap of 97 cents per share and a special dividend so that the aggregate (final and special) dividend does not exceed $1.25 per share. They will not be entitled to the Westpac dividend for the same period.

Grant Samuel has attributed a current value to the consideration of $30.13-33.40 per share based on a value range for Westpac shares of $23.00-25.50. No adjustment has been made for the final dividend as the relative dividends to be paid by St.George and Westpac have caps that match the exchange ratio (i.e. neither group of shareholders are better or worse off). The incremental dividend to be received by St.George shareholders has been taken into account in the value attributed to St.George shares.

The after tax value of the consideration will vary depending upon the particular tax position of individual shareholders but Australian resident shareholders are expected to be able to utilise the "rollover relief" provisions and therefore defer any taxation until ultimate disposal of the Westpac shares received.

The value range of $23.00-25.50 per Westpac share is relatively wide. Grant Samuel considers this to be appropriate and unavoidable in circumstances where:

- equity market volatility has been high and there is greater uncertainty and anxiety about economic conditions over the next 1-2 years at least; and
- the share price of Westpac, along with the other major Australian trading banks, has yet to find a stable trading level following the slump in prices from November 2007, a brief (partial) recovery in March and April 2008, a further sharp deterioration from May to July 2008 and then a recovery in August 2008.

In fact, it is important to recognise that in the present climate it is not possible to assess a value range for Westpac shares with a high level of reliability. It is possible that the Westpac share price could move outside this range between the date of this report and the implementation of the Westpac Proposal (currently expected to be 1 December 2008).

The value of the consideration will vary with movements in the Westpac share price. Accordingly, until the Westpac Proposal is implemented, St George shareholders are exposed to:

- changes in overall equity market conditions; and
- specific events that could impact the Westpac share price.

The actual value received could therefore ultimately exceed, or be less than, $30.13-33.40 per St.George share. Depending on the circumstances, significant (and sustained) movements in Westpac's share price could change the overall evaluation of the Westpac Proposal.

10.2 Approach

The Westpac Proposal involves a change of control of St George. Board and management will change and St George shareholders will own only 28% of the merged group. In these circumstances, the relevant test for St.George shareholders is the expected market value of the shares in Westpac received as consideration. This assessment requires an estimate of the trading price after the Westpac Proposal is implemented (rather than a pre bid price).

GRANT SAMUEL

It is normal practice to use the current market price as the starting point for estimating the value of an offer, particularly for large companies such as Westpac that enjoy high levels of market liquidity and are closely followed by a wide range of analysts and other commentators.

Accordingly, Grant Samuel has not undertaken a "fundamental" analysis of the value of the consideration. Grant Samuel did have access to St George's due diligence report on Westpac and held discussions with senior executives of Westpac about the Westpac Proposal. Grant Samuel was also provided with high level internal management forecasts for Westpac for the years ending 30 September 2008 to 2011. However, neither St. George nor Grant Samuel was provided with any internal Westpac financial models or other documentation on synergies. The consensus view of a well traded market supported by extensive analytical research is likely to be a more reliable estimate than that of a single external observer.

However, there are two questions to be addressed:

- is there any reason why the market price is not a true reflection of the fair market value of Westpac shares? For example, there could be:
 - important information about the business which would affect the share price but is not in the public domain;
 - mispricing by the market; and/or
 - abnormal trading activity in the company's shares; and
- will the proposed transaction, if implemented, have a material impact on the company's financial metrics, growth prospects, risk profile or other factors that would be likely to result in a change in the share price?

In considering these questions, Grant Samuel has:

- analysed the recent trading in Westpac shares;
- analysed the earnings and other multiples implied by the Westpac share price compared to its domestic and international peers;
- reviewed broker analyst research on Westpac and its peers; and
- analysed the impact of the Westpac Proposal on Westpac's key financial metrics.

10.3 Analysis of Westpac's Share Price Performance

The movement in the Westpac share price over the last five years is shown below:

Source: IRESS

Clearly, there has been a dramatic repricing of Westpac shares over the course of the last nine months. The share price increased relatively steadily over the four year period to late 2007 and peaked at $31.32 on 1 November 2007. Notably, the Westpac share price continued to strengthen even after the sub prime crisis began to emerge during July and August 2007.

However, as the effects of the subprime crisis began to spread to Australia (with the collapse of Centro in December 2007) and other events (such as the Societe Generale losses) arose, the share price declined steadily but significantly over the next four months (along with equities markets in general) to a low of $20.34 on 10 March 2008.

A partial recovery (back to a peak of $26.25) occurred over the next two months for both Westpac shares and equities markets generally (which appears to have been spurred by the Federal Reserve rescue of Bear Stearns). Westpac's closing price on 9 May 2008, the day prior to its shares being suspended pending the initial announcement of the Westpac Proposal, was $25.97 (cum the interim dividend paid on 2 July 2008).

Since the announcement of the Westpac Proposal, the Westpac share price has reverted to a downward trend, falling sharply to a low of $18.36 in mid July 2008, before showing signs of recovery again in August and September 2008. The closing price on 15 September 2008 was $23.15 and the volume weighted average price ("VWAP") for the preceding month was $23.29.

This volatility shows little sign of abating and it is unclear whether or not a stable level has been reached. Accordingly, it is extremely difficult to assess a market value for Westpac shares with a high degree of reliability.

The essential question is whether the recent performance and current price reflect the rational view of a well informed market adjusting to a more subdued outlook for the company (and the banking sector), or alternatively:

- is Westpac out of line with its peers?;
- has the market over-reacted to the recent economic gloom and fears?;

GRANT SAMUEL

- is the market informed about critical issues affecting Westpac's business (e.g. margins, operating costs, bad debts)?; and/or
- is trading in Westpac shares being materially affected by factors such as short selling?

Westpac Compared to its Peers

In addressing this issue, Grant Samuel considered the following factors:

- the share price performance of all the major Australian trading banks has (with the exception of NAB in the period up to mid 2004) been very similar over a long period of time. The following chart shows price trends over the last five years:

Source: IRESS

This consistency has remained evident even during the downturn since November 2007. All of the banks have suffered similarly up until late July 2008:

Source: IRESS

GRANT SAMUEL

The above chart shows that Westpac shares did outperform the shares of the other major banks in the weeks prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal (i.e. early May 2008), but then underperformed for a period resulting in all the banks performing almost exactly the same up until late July 2008, when NAB and ANZ announced that substantial increases in provisions would impact their 2008 financial year performance. While the NAB and ANZ announcements impacted the share prices of all of the major banks, CBA and Westpac shares were quick to recover. The net result has been that Westpac's overall performance since November 2007 has been broadly in line with one and better than two of its three peers.

It could be argued that Westpac's share price outperformance prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal was a temporary blip but the subsequent performance through to 15 September 2008 does not suggest there was any material aberration. It could in fact be argued that Westpac outperformed its peers prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal because it was perceived as being the best positioned of the four major banks and that its subsequent underperformance (up until late July 2008) is related to the consequences and concerns about, and risks associated with, the Westpac Proposal which are now abating;

- the four major trading banks have, up until July 2008 (and with the exception of CBA prior to 2004), traded at broadly comparable price earnings multiples:

Source: IBES, IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

The sharp decline in multiples from late 2007 reflects the share price declines but it is notable that they all moved in a very similar fashion.

However recent price movements and revisions to earnings estimates have meant that there is now more divergence in the relative multiples. The price earnings multiples of the four major Australian trading banks are summarised below (based on share prices as at 15 September 2008):

GRANT SAMUEL

Australian Major Banks – Price Earnings Multiples
Company	Year ended	12 months	Year ending 30 September
	30 September	ended	2008	2009	2010
	2007	31 March 2008	forecast	forecast	forecast
	historical	historical
CBA ⁷¹	12.2	11.9	11.9	11.8	10.9
Westpac	12.5	12.0	11.7	11.3	11.1
NAB	8.6	8.3	9.5	8.0	7.3
ANZ	8.6	9.3	10.9	9.0	8.1

Source: IRESS, company reports, brokers' reports

This analysis shows a clear distinction between CBA and Westpac on one hand and NAB and ANZ on the other, with CBA and Westpac being rated at a significant premium to NAB and ANZ. Currently, Westpac's forecast price earnings multiples are below CBA's but well above those of NAB and ANZ. The premium over NAB and ANZ can be justified by Westpac's superior attributes in terms of earnings growth, risk exposures and other factors. The reasons for the discount to CBA are less clear. If Westpac was trading at the same 2009 multiple as CBA its share price would be over $24;

- an analysis of dividend yields (based on share prices as at 15 September 2008) gives a similar result:

Australian Major Banks – Dividend Yields
Company	Year ended	12 months	Year ending 30 September
	30 September	ended	2008	2009	2010
	2007	31 March 2008	forecast	forecast	forecast
	historical	historical
CBA ⁷²	5.9%	6.3%	6.3%	6.4%	6.7%
Westpac	5.7%	6.1%	6.1%	6.3%	6.5%

ANZ	8.0%	8.0%	8.1%	8.1%	8.1%

Source: IRESS, company reports, brokers' reports

The major banks are currently trading on forecast 2009 dividend yields in the range 6.3-8.7% and forecast 2010 dividend yields of 6.5-8.9%, again with CBA and Westpac at the low end of the range and NAB and ANZ at the high end of the range. Westpac's dividend yield is above CBA's, but well below the forecast dividend yield for NAB and ANZ; and ⁷¹ The multiples for CBA are based on its 30 June year end. The multiples in the column 12 months ended 31 March 2008 and 2008 forecast are both for the year ended 30 June 2008.

- the NTA multiples of the four major banks are summarised below (based on prices as at 15 September 2008):

NAB	1.8
ANZ	1.7

The range of NTA multiples shows the same characteristics as the price earnings multiples and dividend yields.

Source: Capital IQ, company reports, IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

Prior to the introduction of AIFRS, all of the major banks (other than NAB) traded at similar NTA multiples. Since the introduction of AIFRS there has been more divergence between NTA multiples, with Westpac generally trading at an NTA multiple above ANZ and NAB and more in line with (or slightly below) CBA.

None of these factors suggest that Westpac is trading (even since the announcement of the Westpac Proposal) out of line with its peer group.

Market Overreaction

The chart on page 111 does show that the major banks are now trading at forward price earnings multiples (based on broker consensus forecasts) lower than at any time in the past 10 years (and in some cases longer).

The recent falls have taken the share prices of the banks back to levels last seen in 2006 (Westpac and CBA), 2003 (ANZ) and as far back as 2000 for NAB.

⁷³ NTA has been calculated based on the latest available balance sheet which is as at 31 March 2008 for all of the banks other than CBA, which is as at 30 June 2008.

GRANT SAMUEL

Despite the Westpac share price falling to as low as $18.36 in mid July (approximately 26% below its share price immediately prior to the initial announcement of the Westpac Proposal), it has subsequently recovered and as at 15 September 2008 is only 8.4% below its share price immediately prior to the initial announcement of the Westpac Proposal (see Section 11.2). This is a smaller fall than any of the other major banks (other than CBA) or regional banks (other than Bank of Queensland).

At its closing trading price on 15 September 2008 of $23.15, Westpac is trading within broker's estimates of its 12 month target price, which show a median share price of $23.50:

Westpac – Broker Target Prices as at 15 September 2008
Broker	12 month Target Price
Broker 1	$21.99

The greater than peer group fall in Westpac's share price through to mid July 2008 may in part be explained by the consequences of and risks associated with the Westpac Proposal and the fact that it is paying a premium for St.George. The Westpac share price has strengthened as the market becomes more confident that the Westpac Proposal will proceed.

The following factors also need to be taken into account:

- the outlook for both the economy and the financial services industry is arguably far more subdued than at any time over the past 10 years. There is a serious risk of a global financial crisis from which Australia would not be immune despite the continuing resources boom. Certainly, earnings growth for banks will be much more difficult to achieve:
 - funding cost increases are expected to squeeze margins as not all will be able to be passed on to customers; and
 - asset growth is likely to be limited and much lower than historical rates of growth. The past 4-5 years has seen unprecedented levels of system growth with annual growth in the range 13-16.5% compared to a long term average of 10-11%.

These high rates of growth will not continue. Apart from funding constraints (i.e. the bank's ability to raise equity and debt capital to lend), customer demand will be impacted by weak housing markets, higher interest rates and a slowing economy. The household sector is likely to be trying to reduce debt levels and the activity levels and asset generation in categories such as financial institutions (e.g. private equity) should contract. These factors are likely to outweigh any benefits from contraction of the non bank lending sector;

- security of dividend and consistent dividend growth has helped to underpin bank share prices over the past few years. However, the events of the last few months will lead to expectations of limited dividend growth, at least over the next 2-3 years as banks seek to preserve capital. This will inevitably have an impact on the multiples the market is prepared to pay; and

- even at current levels, Australian banks remain relatively highly rated in comparison to their global peers:

Source: Bloomberg, Capital IQ

Australian banks can justify a material premium over overseas banks because of their:

- stronger capital positions;
- asset quality, with much more limited asset impairment risks (in particular for the higher rated major banks, CBA and Westpac);
- secure franchises; and
- performance track record.

However, current prices still incorporate a meaningful premium.

While it is not possible to be definitive, it is not apparent that Australian banking stocks are mispriced or that there has been an excessive reaction to the deteriorating outlook.

Non Public Information

Under ASX Listing Rules, Westpac is required to keep the market informed of events and developments in a timely manner as they occur. In particular, once Westpac becomes aware of any information concerning it that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of its shares, Westpac must immediately tell the ASX that information (unless one of the exceptions applies).

Westpac management has confirmed to Grant Samuel that:

- relating to its existing business it is not aware of any information that has not been publicly disclosed that would have a material impact on its share price; and
- current broker consensus forecasts of cash net profit after tax are not materially inconsistent with Westpac's internal management projections for the years ending 30 September 2008 and 2009.

GRANT SAMUEL

St.George's due diligence investigation of Westpac did not discover any items not already in the public domain that, in its view, would be likely to have a material impact on the share price.

Share Trading

The fall in Westpac's share price after the announcement of the Westpac Proposal led some investors and analysts to suggest that Westpac could be the target of short sellers and/or hedge funds who wanted Westpac to improve the terms of its offer and whose selling depressed the price of Westpac shares.

Average weekly volume and transactions for Westpac shares from 9 May 2008 to 12 September 2008 and over prior periods is summarised below:

Westpac – Share Trading
Period	Average Weekly Volume (millions)	Average Weekly Transactions
13 May 2008 to 12 September 2008 (18 weeks post the announcement of the Westpac Proposal)	51.6	46,104
7 January 2008 to 9 May 2008 (18 weeks prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal)	39.1	30,155
1 January 2008 to 9 May 2008	37.9	29,359
1 January 2007 to 31 December 2007	29.8	17,582
1 January 2006 to 31 December 2006	26.8	11,146

Source: IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

While the average weekly volume of shares traded and the average weekly number of transactions since the announcement of the Westpac Proposal is above historical averages, this is to be expected as increased levels of trading usually follow the announcement of a transaction and there is nothing to indicate any material amount of short selling of Westpac shares.

In addition, management of Westpac has advised that it is not aware of any material short selling or unusual interest by hedge funds in Westpac shares since the announcement of the Westpac Proposal.

10.4 Impact of the Transaction

The acquisition of St.George would have a major impact on Westpac's operations and financial metrics.

The market has had limited financial information on the merged group. No detailed financial information on the merged group was provided at the time of the announcement of the Westpac Proposal. The Scheme Booklet only includes pro forma historical financial information for the merged group for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 which does not include any of the synergies or costs associated with the Westpac Proposal. As a result, it could be argued that the market is not fully informed about the impact of the transaction.

On the other hand, analysis of the Westpac Proposal is reasonably straightforward and there is no real change in the nature of Westpac – it will continue to be a banking and wealth management business. Some information on some of the components of the expected synergy benefits was released at the time of the announcement of the Westpac Proposal, including:

- pre tax cost savings of 20-25% of the St.George cost base by 2011;
- revenue attrition of less than 5%; and
- an allowance for $700 million in integration costs over two years.

GRANT SAMUEL

Based on this disclosure, most analysts have been able to estimate the merged group's financials. As a result, it is likely that the synergies from the Westpac Proposal are already reflected in the share price, at least to a material extent.

However, the funding benefits (from the merged group being rated AA) and revenue upside opportunities have not been quantified. There is also a distinction between these "hard" and other "soft" synergies such as the ability to instil St.George's customer focus throughout the merged group. To the extent that there is an element of the synergies that is not in the public domain (or not fully understood), the Westpac share price might react positively to the disclosure of additional information.

10.5 Conclusion

The recent volatility and highly uncertain outlook means that it is not possible to be definitive about the likely market value of Westpac shares after the Westpac Proposal is implemented.

Grant Samuel's judgement is that a Westpac share price of $23.00-25.50 is a reasonable estimate. At this price, Westpac is trading at the following multiples:

Westpac – Implied Multiples at $23.00-25.50
Period	Broker consensus cash net profit after tax ($ millions)	Price earnings multiple at
		$23.00	$25.50
Year ending 30 September 2008	3,754	11.6	12.9
Year ending 30 September 2009	3,880	11.1	12.3
Year ending 30 September 2010	3,953	10.2	11.3

The multiples are based on earnings before any impact of the acquisition of St.George.

The range relative to recent history is show below:

Source: IRESS

The current share price is in the lower half of the range. This reflects a view that while there is both upside and downside potential, on balance there is more upside:

GRANT SAMUEL

- the relatively low multiples and relatively high dividend yields by historical standards provide a significant degree of (but not complete) downside protection. The four major banks have fundamentally strong and secure franchises that will allow them to bounce back when the economy does turn back up;
- there is also an argument that Westpac should be rated more highly than its peers given its relative strength and positioning. Westpac is currently trading on a 2009 price earnings multiple which is towards the top end of the range of price earnings multiples of its peers but not at the top end. If Westpac was rated at the same multiple as CBA it would be trading at over $24;
- broker's DCF valuations and their estimates of 12 month price targets for Westpac are slightly above current share trading prices and it is more likely that share prices will revert towards these targets than continue to diverge away from them over time;
- the quantum of some synergies (such as funding and revenue opportunities as well as "soft" synergies) may not be fully appreciated and the market is likely to "discount" these until it sees evidence of them being achieved; and
- there is often a positive share price reaction as transactions get closer to being consummated.

GRANT SAMUEL

11 Evaluation of the Westpac Proposal

11.1 Summary and Conclusion

In Grant Samuel's opinion, the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

The last 15 months have seen the greatest upheaval in global financial markets in decades. Equities markets have fallen sharply with massive write offs by the global banking sector. Credit markets are in turmoil with pricing having undergone dramatic shifts and liquidity in some sectors non-existent. There is little sign of real stability returning in the near future. While the Australian banking market is in much better shape, there are signs of emerging problems from a softening economy and flow on effects from the contraction in offshore credit markets. These difficult conditions are expected to continue for some time.

Accordingly, it is extremely difficult to make even short term estimates of key value drivers such as underlying levels of asset growth, funding costs and net interest margins with any degree of reliability. Adding further uncertainty are the challenges Australian banks face in accessing sufficient wholesale funding to replace maturing lines of wholesale funding as well as meeting asset growth requirements. In addition, the share prices and market ratings of banks (both in Australia and globally) have plummeted over the last nine months and remain volatile.

Any conclusions and value judgements need to be considered in this light.

Grant Samuel has estimated the full underlying value of St.George, including a control premium, to be in the range of $30.62-35.02 per share (after adjusting for the incremental dividend). The value was estimated having regard to both DCF analysis and multiples of net profit after tax. There are a number of features of the valuation that should be noted:

- it reflects the highly attractive attributes of St.George including the strategic market share in New South Wales, the quality franchise and strong customer relationships, the scope for growth (in new regions and in commercial), the sound credit quality and the outstanding wealth platform;
- the value includes synergy benefits on the basis that in a competitive process, acquirers would pay away most of the common synergies;
- any concerns about the volume or cost of wholesale funding for St.George do not apply in assessing a "control" value as potential acquirers should be able to eliminate the incremental funding costs and be better positioned to achieve the volume of funding required;
- the implied overall price earnings multiples (12.4-14.2 times broker consensus 2009 cash net profit after tax) are not at the top end of historical benchmarks but this reflects the fact that the outlook today is far less positive than it was when many of the earlier transactions occurred. This is consistent with the fact that the four major Australian banks are currently trading at price earnings multiples well below historical norms;
- the DCF analysis generally assumes modest system credit growth over the next two years and flat equities markets before returning to more normal levels; and
- values towards the upper end of the range reflect the value if market conditions turn out to be less challenging than currently anticipated.

For the purposes of this report, Grant Samuel has assessed a current value for the consideration under the Westpac Proposal of $30.13-33.40 based on an estimated market value of Westpac shares of $23.00-25.50. This range compares to a closing Westpac share price on 15 September 2008 of $23.15 and a VWAP for the preceding month of $23.29.

GRANT SAMUEL

While the bottom end of the value of the consideration is slightly below the bottom end of the value range for St.George, it is the range for the value of the consideration and not an individual price that is the relevant consideration. There is a very substantial degree of overlap and over 85% of the value range for the consideration falls within the St.George valuation range. Accordingly, the Westpac Proposal is "fair" and therefore "reasonable".

In any event, given the uncertainties attached to the valuation of St.George, the volatility of bank share prices (including Westpac) and the fact that the consideration is entirely scrip (rather than cash), Grant Samuel believes that analysis of relative value provides insights as to the fairness of the value proposition for St.George shareholders that are at least as relevant and reliable as absolute values.

In this context, at the time the Westpac Proposal was announced, the market value of the consideration:

- fell within the underlying value range (albeit at the lower end); and
- represented a premium over the pre announcement St.George share price of approximately 24-28%. The quantum of the control premium at the time of the announcement of the Westpac Proposal, of more than $3.5 billion, suggests that Westpac is effectively paying away the vast majority of quantified synergies to St.George shareholders (although there are a number of other anticipated revenue enhancements that should create substantial value over time if successfully executed).

Westpac's share price fell sharply in the weeks after the announcement, eliminating the apparent premium. It has since recovered but is still below pre announcement levels. However, the whole banking sector has fallen significantly since 13 May 2008. Westpac has not announced any specific negative news and its share price decline has been less than NAB's and ANZ's but greater than CBA's. St.George would not have been immune from this downwards rerating of the sector. While it is not possible to know with certainty what St.George's share price would now be in the absence of the Westpac Proposal, it is Grant Samuel's view that, having regard to the movements in each of the listed banks and St.George's position, it probably would have fallen by at least as much as Westpac (but not necessarily for the same reasons). To this extent, the effective percentage premium being paid by Westpac is still as much as it was at the time of the announcement.

This relativity is also important going forward. If economic conditions deteriorate or bank shares are rerated down and Westpac's shares fall, the exchange ratio would remain fair (assuming there were no Westpac specific events) as both the likely stand alone trading price of St.George shares and the full underlying value range would move down in a similar fashion.

Other important factors which St.George shareholders should take into account include the following:

- the primary alternative to the Westpac Proposal is for St.George to remain as an independent listed bank (the "stand alone" option). While superficially appealing, there is a high likelihood of the St.George share price remaining at levels well below the value provided through the Westpac Proposal over the medium term. In the absence of the Westpac Proposal (or any takeover speculation) Grant Samuel believes St.George would currently be trading at less than $25.00.

Wholesale credit markets are currently very challenging with windows of opportunity but also periods of unavailability and capacity limits. If they remain difficult, the flow through of incremental funding costs will impact St.George's earnings growth relative to the major banks. In a worst case, St.George may face funding constraints that impact its ability to grow assets.

In addition, in the absence of the Westpac Proposal, there is a prospect that St.George will need to raise Tier 1 capital within the next 12 months, most likely through an equity raising. This could also be expected to have a negative impact on the share price;

GRANT SAMUEL

- while there is a possibility of a superior proposal being put forward by an alternative party, the likelihood is relatively low;
- St.George shareholders benefit from an uplift in attributable earnings per share (and, to a lesser extent, dividends per share). It would take some years of consistently higher growth by a stand alone St.George to catch up with the attributable earnings shareholders receive through the Westpac Proposal. In any event, there are arguments as to why the merged group might achieve comparable earnings growth to a stand alone St.George (e.g. emerging synergy benefits);
- the Westpac Proposal provides risk mitigation for St.George shareholders:
 - increased diversification of asset exposures; and
 - a higher credit rating and stronger balance sheet which provides enhanced capacity to manage through any continuation of the current difficulties in wholesale funding markets and, even more so, if there is any further deterioration; and
- the merged group will have a strong strategic position as the clear market leader in both banking and wealth management in Australia with a domestic retail focus that will appeal to investors. Its earnings growth prospects should be underpinned by the potential merger integration benefits that are expected to emerge over the next 2-5 years. St.George shareholders will have a 28% share of the merged group which gives a significant exposure to these upsides (while also having been paid for them through the premium).

As a scrip transaction, St.George shareholders will also retain their exposure (in fact an increased exposure as a result of the premium) to any general recovery in banking markets.

There are risks and disadvantages that should not be taken lightly. Shareholders will be exposed to Westpac specific risks (e.g. greater exposure to the New Zealand market). There are very substantial execution risks in the integration of the two businesses (notwithstanding the proposed business model of preserving St.George's customer facing activities as an independent business unit). However, in Grant Samuel's opinion, these do not outweigh the benefits.

11.2 Premium for Control

Takeover transactions are commonly analysed by reference to the extent of the control premium. In the case of the Westpac Proposal, this analysis is complicated by movements in the price of the Westpac shares being offered as consideration, along with the share prices of the rest of the banking sector, since the announcement of the Westpac Proposal on 13 May 2008.

Based on the closing Westpac share price on 9 May 2008, the last trading day prior to announcement of the Westpac Proposal, the offer represents the following premiums to the price at which St.George shares traded in the period prior to the announcement:

Westpac Proposal – Implied Premiums at Announcement ⁷⁴
Date/Period	St.George Price/VWAP	Westpac Price/VWAP	Value of Consideration	Premium
Closing price on 9 May 2008 ⁷⁵	$25.77	$25.27	$33.10	28.5%
1 week VWAP to 9 May 2008	$25.74	$24.78	$32.46	26.1%

⁷⁴ The VWAPs have been adjusted to remove the value of St.George's and Westpac's interim dividends of 88 cents per share and 70 cents per share respectively. The VWAPs have also been adjusted to remove the impact of unusual trades (e.g. 2.6 million Westpac shares that traded at 1 cent each on 24 April 2008) as these trades distort the calculated VWAPs.

The premium based on daily prices over this period can be depicted graphically:

Source: IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

The chart indicates that the effective premium has been relatively stable based on prices during the three months preceding the announcement (i.e. it does not suggest the relative prices were "out of kilter" at the time of the announcement).

Premiums for control in takeovers are typically in the range 20-35% (but can be outside this range). Where in the range they fall depends on the individual circumstances of the transaction (and is an outcome rather than a determinant of value). The premiums paid in other banking transactions have varied widely:

GRANT SAMUEL

Clearly, at the time of announcement the Westpac Proposal represented a significant premium, in line with both general market norms and other transactions in the banking sector.

However, following the announcement, the Westpac share price fell substantially from around $25 (net of the interim dividend now paid) to, at one point, below $19. It has since recovered to $23.15 (as at 15 September 2008) but this still represents a fall of 8.4% from pre announcement levels. This has reduced the apparent premium. At the same time, it is imperative to recognise that in the same period:

- the equity markets generally have also fallen significantly:

- the price of all banking shares has fallen:

St.George shares would not have been immune from this downturn. In the absence of the Westpac Proposal, it is almost certain that the share price would now be lower than it was on 9 May 2008. It is not possible to determine precisely by how much it would have fallen (and there are reasons why it might have been less or more than others) but Grant Samuel believes that the following analysis provides a reasonable basis for assessment.

The chart below calculates the implied premium that the Westpac Proposal now represents (based on Grant Samuel's assessment of the value of the consideration of $30.13-33.40) if the St.George pre announcement closing price of $25.77 (net of the interim dividend) is adjusted by amounts equal to the percentage fall in:

- the S&P/ASX 200 Banks Index;
- Westpac's share price; and
- the median of the regional banks listed above (excluding Suncorp):

⁷⁶ The 1 week VWAP share prices have been adjusted for any interim dividends payable in relation to the six months ended 31 March 2008. This applies to Westpac, NAB and ANZ share prices as at 9 May 2008.

GRANT SAMUEL

Source: IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

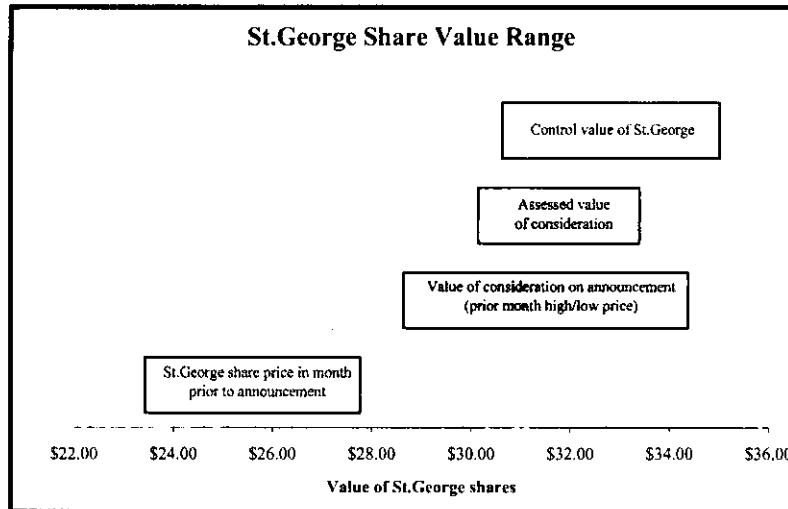

On this basis it can be seen that the Westpac Proposal still provides a material premium for control. While it is not possible to know with certainty what St. George's share price would be in the absence of the Westpac Proposal, it is Grant Samuel's view that having regard to the movements in the prices of individual banks and the key factors surrounding St. George, its share price would have fallen by at least as much as Westpac in this period (but not necessarily for the same reasons as the prices would have been driven by different events and facts). To this extent, the effective percentage premium being paid by Westpac is still as much as it was at the time of the announcement.

GRANT SAMUEL

11.3 Fairness and Reasonableness

Grant Samuel has estimated the full underlying value of St.George, including a control premium, to be in the range $30.62-35.02 (after adjusting for the incremental dividend). The value was estimated having regard to both DCF analysis and multiples of net profit after tax. The valuation is set out in Section 9. The current value attributed to the consideration under the Westpac Proposal is in the range $30.13-33.40 based on an estimated market value of Westpac shares of $23.00-25.50 (see Section 10). The relationship between the values is depicted below:

Source: IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

While the bottom end of the value of the consideration is slightly below the bottom end of the value range for St.George, it is the range for the value of the consideration and not an individual price that is the relevant consideration. There is a very substantial degree of overlap and over 85% of the value range for the consideration falls within the St.George valuation range. Accordingly, the Westpac Proposal is "fair" and therefore "reasonable".

However, the valuation analysis needs to be treated with caution:

- in the current circumstances it is not possible to estimate values with a high degree of confidence. There are very substantial uncertainties attached to any medium to long term projections of key value drivers such as asset growth or net interest margins. Relatively small changes to any of these key assumptions could have a material impact on the values generated by the DCF analysis;
- earnings multiples from previous bank acquisitions provide some guidance but the current situation and outlook is very different. Adjustments to the benchmarks to compensate for these differences are difficult to assess with any precision;
- the Westpac share price (along with the share prices of all banks) has been extremely volatile both prior to, and after, the announcement of the Westpac Proposal. This makes it difficult to determine a reliable value for the consideration offered under the Westpac Proposal. It is quite possible that the share price movements between the date of this report and implementation of the Westpac Proposal could move the value of the consideration outside the range shown above; and
- in periods of uncertainty such as the present, share market prices tend to be governed by market sentiment and are subject to rapid changes in sentiment (generally on the downside).

GRANT SAMUEL

There can often be a disconnect between market prices and "fundamental" value. It is quite possible that Westpac shares are trading at a discount to fundamental value (e.g. one assessed using a DCF analysis similar to that used to value St.George), particularly if a reasonably benign outlook was assumed (e.g. similar to Scenario A in the DDM analysis for St.George).

In any event, as the Westpac Proposal is entirely scrip (rather than cash) analysis of relative values is likely to provide insights as to the fairness of the value proposition that are at least as relevant and reliable as absolute values.

In this context, at the time of announcement of the Westpac Proposal:

- the value of the consideration of approximately $31-33 (based on share prices up to one month prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal) fell into the valuation range of $30.62 to $35.02 (albeit in the lower half). Based on the low and high share prices for the preceding month, the range for the consideration is $28.64 to $34.39; and
- the exchange ratio under the Westpac Proposal represented a premium over the pre announcement St.George share price of approximately 24-28% depending on the period measured (see Section 11.2).

There are reasons why a moderate premium might be appropriate for St.George:

- the synergies that are expected to be achieved will be lower than those achieved in other transactions because of the operating model being adopted (i.e. there will be no branch closures). Other acquirers would almost certainly follow a similar model to protect the value of the St.George business (and the goodwill being paid);
- the industry (and particularly Westpac) has a greater awareness of customer attrition issues (from the acquisitions of Challenge Bank and Bank of Melbourne) and bidders are likely to be conservative in their assessment of these issues;
- as banks have grown in market value over time and become more efficient, the cost savings as a proportion of value decline; and
- St.George's share price has from time to time reflected takeover expectations.

On the other hand:

- St.George is a very strategic asset that represents a unique opportunity for the acquirer to consolidate its market position. There are no comparable alternative opportunities;
- Westpac should be able to achieve greater funding synergies (that have not been achieved in other comparable transactions) given its higher credit rating and the current funding cost differentials;
- St.George's pre announcement share price may have been affected by concerns about funding constraints impacting growth. These concerns should not impact an acquirer; and
- there is no evidence of takeover speculation affecting St.George's pre announcement share price.

The quantum of the premium is more than $3.5 billion, suggesting that Westpac is effectively paying away the vast majority of quantified synergies to St.George shareholders (although there are a number of other anticipated revenue enhancements that should create substantial value over time if successfully executed). Having regard to all of these factors, Grant Samuel believes that the premium is appropriate. In other words, St.George shareholders receive a reasonable "share of the pie".

GRANT SAMUEL

The subsequent decline in the Westpac share price has substantially reduced the value of the consideration and the apparent premium.

However, the critical factor is that the decline is not Westpac specific. Westpac has not announced any negative news about its own business. Further, as the analysis in Section 11.2 (and Section 10) shows, there has been a downwards rerating of the whole banking sector since 13 May 2008 and banking shares have fallen across the board. The extent of Westpac's decline has been less than NAB's and ANZ's but greater than CBA's.

The following observations are relevant to St.George shareholders:

- the effective percentage premium is maintained to the extent that over the same period St.George's share price would have fallen by as much as Westpac's in the absence of the Westpac Proposal. Grant Samuel's view is that this is likely to have been the case (but not necessarily for the same reasons as the prices would have been driven by different events and facts). This relativity is also important going forward. If economic conditions deteriorate or bank shares are rerated down and Westpac's shares fall, the exchange ratio would remain fair (assuming there were no Westpac specific events) as both the likely stand alone trading price of St.George shares and the full underlying value range would move down in a similar fashion;
- the decline in share prices reduces the absolute quantum of the premium but not to a major extent and certainly not to the point where it would not represent a full premium;
- shareholders retain their full exposure to any recovery in bank share prices or banking markets through credit system growth or economic growth. Even if this recovery is sooner or stronger than anticipated (e.g. Scenario B in the DDM/DCF valuations), St.George shareholders will benefit through their holding in the merged group. In fact, their leverage to any such recovery is enhanced as a result of the premium being paid; and
- the merged group will have a strong strategic position as the clear market leader in both banking and wealth management in Australia with a domestic retail focus that will appeal to investors. Its earnings growth prospects should be underpinned by the potential merger integration benefits that are expected to emerge over the next 2-5 years. St.George shareholders will have a 28% share of the merged group which gives a significant exposure to these upsides (while also having been paid for them through the premium).

11.4 Contributions Analysis

The Westpac Proposal is essentially a takeover offer involving a change of control. However, the proposal is entirely scrip and St.George shareholders will hold 28.1% of the merged group and will continue to have significant economic exposure to the upside of the business. The merged group will have no controlling shareholder and a widely dispersed share register (albeit that a change of control transaction for the enlarged Westpac is an extremely remote prospect).

An alternative to a conventional takeover approach is to examine the relative contributions of the two groups of shareholders compared to the share of the merged group that they will hold if the Westpac Proposal is implemented.

In the absence of the information required to estimate the full underlying value of Westpac, Grant Samuel has analysed the transaction in terms of the relative contributions of the market value, earnings (net profit after tax) and NTA.

Market Value Contributions

In the ordinary course, particularly for large companies, such as Westpac and St.George, with well traded shares and extensive analyst coverage, it is reasonable to assume that sharemarket values represent an objective market consensus as to value.

GRANT SAMUEL

The following chart compares the relative market value contributed by St.George shareholders based on prices over the last 12 months compared to the 28.1% share of the merged group they will hold:

Source: IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

The chart indicates that based on prices in the month or two prior to the announcement, St.George shareholders will hold an interest in the merged group that is approximately 4% greater than their contribution (i.e. 28% compared to 24%). This greater share is the corollary of the premium for control being offered by Westpac.

Looking further back in time (up to the end of 2007), St.George shareholders are not receiving any greater share than they contribute (i.e. there is no premium to St.George shareholders) but little weight should be placed on this time period as it reflects different circumstances. In view of the dramatic changes in the banking market, more recent prices are a better guide to the true value contributions.

Earnings Contributions

The following table compares the relative contributions of earnings made by St.George shareholders:

Period	Cash Net Profit after Tax		St. George Contribution
	St. George ($ millions)	Westpac ($ millions)
12 months ended 31 March 2008	1,195	3,507	25.4%
Year ending 30 September 2008 ⁷⁷	1,312	3,754	25.9%
Year ending 30 September 2009 ⁷⁷	1,408	3,880	26.6%
Year ending 30 September 2010 ⁷⁷	1,500	3,953	27.5%

Source: Brokers' forecasts and Grant Samuel analysis

The analysis shows that at 25.4%, St.George shareholders' contribution of earnings for the 12 months ended 31 March 2008 is less than the 28.1% share of the merged group that they receive.

⁷⁷ Based on broker consensus forecasts (See Appendix E).

GRANT SAMUEL

St.George's contribution to earnings increases in the 2008, 2009 and 2010 financial years (based on broker consensus forecasts which assume that additional equity is issued to fund growth), but is still below the 28.1% share of the merged group that St.George shareholders will receive under the Westpac Proposal.

The analysis is incomplete in so far as it does not consider whether St.George's earnings warrant a higher (or lower) multiple than Westpac's in any assessment of relative contribution (i.e. they are effectively attributed the same multiple). Historically, St.George has traded at higher prospective price earnings multiples than Westpac (and the other major banks) but it should be noted that the gap has contracted to much smaller levels during the past 2-3 years:

Source: IBES, IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

Nevertheless, it provides a useful (if limited) perspective on the terms of the transaction and underlines the advantageous exchange ratio for St.George shareholders.

Net Tangible Asset Contributions

It is also relevant to consider relative contributions to NTA on the grounds that banking is essentially a capital based business. The following table compares the relative contributions of NTA made by St.George shareholders:

Relative Contributions of NTA
	St.George ($ millions)	Westpac ($ millions)	St.George Contribution
As at 31 March 2008 ⁷⁴	5,017	14,086	26.3%

Source: Grant Samuel analysis

This analysis shows that, based on NTA as at 31 March 2008, St.George shareholders are contributing approximately 26.3% of merged group NTA, less than the 28.1% share of the merged group that they will receive.

⁷⁴ NTA represents NTA available to ordinary shareholders and in the case of St.George excludes the book value of SAINTS and SPS.

11.5 Alternatives

Alternative Offers

It is possible that an alternative superior offer could be made for St.George. It has a number of attributes that would make it an attractive candidate for potential acquirers including:

- excellent retail franchise with better customer satisfaction ratings than any major bank in Australia;
- a strong market position in New South Wales, the largest market in the country; and
- a highly successful, vertically integrated wealth management business.

It could be of interest to both local institutions (e.g. the other three major banks) and, possibly, foreign banks (particularly those with existing interests in Australia). It is most likely to be of greatest interest to existing participants in the Australian banking market as they are:

- best placed to be able to create the greatest synergies, particularly operating cost savings; and
- place greater value on the market position because, at least for the other major banks, St.George's market share when added to their own would give them a position of clear leadership in New South Wales (and South Australia).

On the other hand:

- St.George has been "in play" virtually since the time it first listed in July 1992, and more particularly since July 2002, when the 10% shareholding limitation has been able to be amended by a special resolution of St.George ordinary shareholders. Both ANZ and NAB have previously held strategic stakes of 8.3% and 9.4% respectively. Yet despite all this "positioning", Westpac is the only party to have made a formal offer in all of this time. Undoubtedly, some of these holdings have been defensive and there may well have been changing circumstances and priorities but at the very least it suggests others have had their chances and chosen, for whatever reason, not to proceed. A further four and a half months has elapsed since the announcement of the Westpac Proposal and no alternative bidder has come forward;
- CBA may face very significant hurdles in gaining ACCC approval and has indicated that it has no interest in acquiring St.George;
- both NAB and ANZ have effectively ruled out major acquisitions following their announcements of increased provisions for the year ending 30 September 2008. At their current price earnings multiples, both would face significant earnings per share dilution issues in acquiring St.George;
- foreign banks face a number of challenges. The entire global banking sector is capital constrained with many overseas banks undertaking substantial rights issues just to shore up their existing balance sheets. They are likely to have other strategic imperatives for the use of scarce capital in the current climate. This makes cash offers problematic. However, scrip in an overseas company is unlikely to be highly attractive to many St.George shareholders. In any event, foreign banks (at least those without any existing Australian retail presence) are unlikely to be able to match the synergy benefits obtainable by an existing domestic competitor; and
- it is arguable that Westpac is able to extract a greater level of synergies than the other three major banks, and, more particularly, will have a greater level of confidence in its ability to execute the integration. It has made the decision to retain St.George as a separate brand and business (at the customer level) which is potentially critical to the retention of the value inherent in the business (and being paid for through the offer terms) although the others could come to a similar decision. St.George management believes that the "fit" of the two retail networks is better than with the other major banks (although there will still be considerable overlap). Finally, as the Westpac CEO was previously the St.George CEO (for a period of five and a half years up to August 2007) there is an in depth knowledge of how St.George operates and where savings can be made without impacting frontline operations. It is also likely to result in lower perceptions by Westpac of execution risk.

All these factors suggest that an alternative superior offer is relatively unlikely. Nevertheless, it is still possible not least because counter bidders are likely to want to wait to see the scheme documentation disclosures. The Scheme Meeting is scheduled to be held on 13 November 2008 and it is open for any party to put forward a proposal prior to that date. There are no structural impediments to any party wishing to do so. The revised Merger Implementation Agreement now contains provision for the payment of a $100 million break fee by St.George if any of the directors of St.George change their recommendation or if a counter proposal is successful. This would not be a significant impediment to a counter proposal (it represents only approximately 0.5% of the value of St.George). While the Merger Implementation Agreement also contains no-shop and no-talk provisions, these do not prevent St.George from considering any superior proposals that may emerge. In addition, there is ample time available to put a proposal together prior to the meeting.

If a superior proposal is not put forward prior to the Scheme Meeting, the Westpac Proposal is, in Grant Samuel's opinion, in the best interests of St.George shareholders.

Stand Alone Alternative

It is open to St.George shareholders to vote against the Westpac Proposal and pursue a "stand alone" strategy, continuing to operate as an independent banking and wealth management company.

One basis for this view might be that "now is not the time to sell". Bank share prices have fallen dramatically over the past nine months (back to 2006 for the better performing banks and to much earlier levels in other cases) and price earnings multiples for banks are at lows not seen in over ten years. The outlook appears to be particularly gloomy with expectations of low asset growth, declining margins, falling confidence and increasing borrower stress. Equities markets are very weak which is affecting wealth management inflows and asset levels. Surely therefore, wouldn't it be better to wait until the markets and the economy turns around (as they will inevitably, even if not for 2-3 years) and sell in more buoyant times at a much more attractive price? It might also be argued that in better times there might be greater interest from other banks in acquiring St.George (i.e. a more competitive process).

While there is some merit in these arguments:

- the St.George share price is likely to fall substantially from current levels if the Westpac Proposal does not proceed. The DCF analysis calculated a "stand alone" value of $26.84-30.54 per St.George share which represents the following multiples:

St.George – Implied Multiples at $26.84-30.54
Period	Broker consensus cash net profit after tax ($ millions)	Price earnings multiple at
		$26.84	$30.54
Year ending 30 September 2008	1,312	11.6	13.2
Year ending 30 September 2009	1,408	10.8	12.3
Year ending 30 September 2010	1,500	10.1	11.6

However, Grant Samuel would expect St.George shares to trade at a discount to this DCF value in the absence of the Westpac Proposal. The value range was largely premised on Scenario A in the DDM analysis with no particular funding constraints relative to the major banks because an acquirer would be able to overcome them.

As a purely stand alone business St.George would be more likely to face some degree of funding constraint on the downside and a lower trading price would be appropriate. Prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal, St.George shares were trading at a price of approximately $25-26 (adjusted for the interim dividend) and the market has declined subsequently. In the absence of any takeover speculation, Grant Samuel believes that St.George shares would be trading at less than $25.00; and

- shareholders are exchanging all of their shares for equity in an expanded Westpac. The essential issue is therefore one of relative value rather than whether or not a higher absolute price could be achieved at some future date. Westpac's share price performance is also likely to reflect the same drivers. A transaction at some future date may therefore not necessarily result in a better exchange ratio.

The considerations boil down to the trade off between the control premium (received up front through the advantageous exchange ratio) and the relative growth profile of the two businesses – a stand alone St.George and a merged Westpac/St.George.

One way of analysing the position is to compare the earnings growth differential between the two and the time frame that would be required for stand alone earnings per share to catch up with the position under the Westpac Proposal:

Relative Growth Breakeven
	Stand alone	Merged group
Equivalent cash earnings per St.George share for the year ending 30 September 2008 ($)	2.36 ⁷⁹	2.55 ⁸⁰
5% per annum growth in merged group earnings
Years to catch up if St.George earnings grow at 7% per annum (2% higher)		5 years
Years to catch up if St.George earnings grow at 8% per annum (3% higher)		3 years
Years to catch up if St.George earnings grow at 9% per annum (4% higher)		3 years
10% per annum growth in merged group earnings
Years to catch up if St.George earnings grow at 12% per annum		5 years
Years to catch up if St.George earnings grow at 13% per annum		3 years
Years to catch up if St.George earnings grow at 14% per annum		3 years

Source: Brokers' reports and Grant Samuel analysis

The analysis shows that it is the relative levels of growth in St.George earnings and merged group earnings that is important, rather than the absolute level of growth. The number of years that it takes for St.George to reach the same level of earnings is the same under the 5% scenario as it is under the 10% scenario.

The analysis indicates that even if a stand alone St.George did grow at rates of 3-4% per annum higher than a merged Westpac/St.George it would take three years for St.George shareholders to have the same level of attributable earnings as they do under the Westpac Proposal.

It might be argued that St.George has better medium to longer term growth prospects than Westpac or a merged Westpac/St.George. The sheer size of Westpac and its national spread of operations mean it is more likely to be constrained by system growth. It also has significant operations in the lower growth New Zealand market. Broker consensus forecasts of earnings per share growth over the next two years show St.George growing at a slightly higher CAGR than Westpac and CBA (albeit lower than the other regional banks).

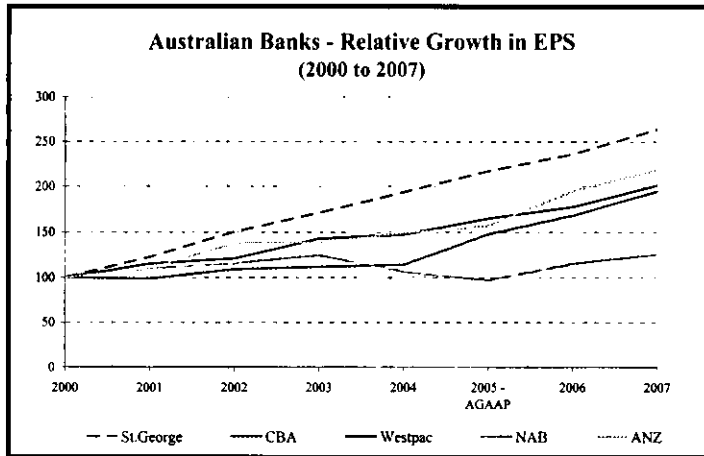

In contrast, St.George has:

- shown superior earnings per share growth over a long period of time:

⁷⁹ Based on broker consensus forecasts (see Appendix E).

⁸⁰ Calculated as cash earnings per share for the year ending 30 September 2008 for the merged group of $1.95 multiplied by the exchange ratio of 1.31. The cash earnings per share for the merged group has been calculated based on broker consensus forecasts of cash net profit after tax for St.George and Westpac for the year ending 30 September 2008.

GRANT SAMUEL

- has potential to grow substantially in markets where it is still in the early stages of building out its presence (Queensland, Victoria, Western Australia);
- is still developing its "middle market" corporate lending business; and
- it is better positioned than the major banks in terms of customer approval ratings and is behind the other major banks in aspects such as product penetration.

On the other hand:

- St. George's earnings growth rate in the last 2-3 years has been much closer to the major banks and, more recently, less than CBA's earnings growth;
- there has been a dramatic change to the banking environment since mid 2007 and, in particular, reduced availability of wholesale funding and an increase in the cost of funds premium for lower rated banks. The differential in funding costs for A versus AA rated United States bank issues is illustrated below:

Source: Bloomberg

GRANT SAMUEL

The differential has increased from an average of approximately 10 basis points from 2000 to mid 2007 to 70 basis points in August 2008. This increased cost of funds and intermittent access to debt markets (particularly overseas long term debt markets which St.George will need to tap to meet its 2009 financial year funding requirement) creates issues for a stand alone St.George both in terms of profitability and competitive position vis-à-vis the four major banks. Although St.George's lower cost to income ratio enables it to remain competitive with the major banks despite higher funding costs, there will be an adverse impact on earnings growth relative to the major banks as older facilities are refinanced (even if the extreme premiums moderate) if the difficult wholesale markets continue for the next 1-2 years (as seems likely);

- to achieve stronger growth, St.George will need to raise equity capital which will dilute its earnings per share growth (if earnings do not grow at a proportionately greater rate);
- St.George's future earnings growth may also be under pressure from:
 - increasing reinsurance costs. In addition, St.George's captive mortgage insurer, SGIA, has made good profit contributions in recent years through higher returns from equity investments but the investment policy has now been changed to one with a lower risk profile; and
 - much weaker commercial property markets impacting asset growth. This industry was a major contributor to St.George's Institutional & Business Banking business and it has a higher relative exposure than Westpac;
- to the extent the St.George business is a higher growth business it will also contribute to higher growth in the merged Westpac/St.George (compared to a stand alone Westpac); and
- broker consensus forecasts of earnings for the year ending 30 September 2008 do not include any synergy benefits. As these emerge over the next 2-5 years, they should make a material contribution to the earnings growth of the merged group.

On balance, Grant Samuel believes it would take well over five years for earnings to catch up. A stand alone strategy also entails higher risks for shareholders in terms of:

- less diversification of assets; and
- greater vulnerability to any further deterioration in wholesale funding markets.

11.6 Other Advantages and Benefits

There are a number of other advantages and benefits for St.George shareholders arising from the Westpac Proposal:

- there will be an uplift in attributable cash earnings per share for St.George shareholders. Based on broker consensus forecasts for the year ending 30 September 2008 (which do not reflect any of the costs associated with, or synergies expected from, the Westpac Proposal), the uplift is in the order of 8% (from $2.36 to $2.55 per St.George share). Westpac has not disclosed any forecast earnings per share information, but has stated that:
 - pre tax cost savings equivalent to 20-25% of St.George's cost base are expected to be generated by the year ending 30 September 2011 through aligning product processing operations and investing in technology, centralising corporate core functions, distribution savings and procurement and service contract savings; and
 - there is the potential for revenue synergies to be generated by the merged group as a result of the broader distribution base, broader range of products and expanded capability in wealth management, insurance and institutional banking.

G R A N T S A M U E L

Broker consensus forecasts for the years ending 30 September 2009 and 2010 (including these synergies) indicate an uplift in attributable cash earnings per share for St.George shareholders of 11.7% and 19.5% respectively;

- St.George shareholders are likely to enjoy an uplift in dividends per share. While no information on merged group dividends is provided in the Scheme Booklet, analysis by Grant Samuel based on broker consensus forecasts of merged group earnings per share and assuming a dividend payout ratio of 70% (consistent with Westpac's current dividend payout ratio) indicates a small uplift in dividends per share of 2.4% in the year ending 30 September 2010;
- the risk exposure will be lower because of the much larger and more diversified asset base and business mix of the merged group compared to St.George stand alone; and
- Westpac is rated AA by Standard & Poor's. It is expected that the merged group will retain this rating. This will reduce the vulnerability of the bank in what are clearly uncertain times. Similarly, the higher proportion of funding from customer deposits will also reduce risk.

These factors relate not just to the cost of funds but also to the ability to secure funding at all. While wholesale credit market conditions appear to have not deteriorated in the last 2-3 months, they are still vulnerable to rapid adverse change. There can be no confidence that conditions will improve further in the short term or remain stable over the medium term.

11.7 Disadvantages and Risks

Disadvantages and risks arising from the Westpac Proposal include the following:

- exposure to specific business risks inside Westpac such as:
 - the differing nature and scope of its business operations. Westpac has a different mix of financial market trading businesses to St.George as well as significant operations in institutional banking (which is characterised by a small number of large customers), underwriting and general insurance (manufacturing rather than just distribution), all of which expose St.George shareholders to different risks than they are currently exposed to;
 - exposure to the New Zealand market. Westpac generates approximately 15-20% of its after tax profit from its operations in New Zealand (including retail and institutional banking). St.George has no exposure to the New Zealand market. New Zealand is facing a substantial slowdown in economic growth in 2008 as a result of a slowing housing market, drought, high interest rates and rising inflation which have eroded consumer and business confidence. These conditions are likely to flow through into lower earnings and increased bad debts from Westpac's New Zealand operations;
 - large specific bad debts. Westpac has announced that it does not have the same level of exposure to the kinds of loans that have forced NAB and ANZ to announce significant increases in provisions and write downs for the year ending 30 September 2008. Westpac does have a small collateralised debt obligation portfolio but has publicly announced that this portfolio has experienced no measurable impact on earnings. However, all banks are exposed to varying degrees to increasing levels of bad debts and Westpac does have exposure to the weak commercial property (an issue for ANZ in its recent announcement) and New Zealand markets. On the other hand, Standard & Poor's confirmed Westpac's AA stable outlook on 29 July 2008 after a review of its likely credit losses in the short to medium term;
 - its legacy information technology systems which Westpac is in the process of reviewing and in which it expects to make significant investment over the next three to five years (50-60% above current spending levels). This will add complexity and risk to the integration process;

GRANT SAMUEL

- third party relationships with franchisees (within the RAMS business) and BTIM (through a licence agreement) create additional risks as poor performance or termination of the franchise agreements or the licence agreement may impact revenue and cause brand damage; and
- contingent liability risks. Westpac is involved in a number of actual or potential claims and proceedings in the ordinary course of its business (including tax related issues) that have not been determined and for which no provision has been made in its balance sheet because the outcome is uncertain or it is not possible to estimate the potential impact. Material adverse findings could impact Westpac's earnings.

These are the unavoidable risks in any business combination but:

- Westpac is subject to the disclosure requirements of the ASX; and
- St.George undertook a two week due diligence (admittedly relatively high level) investigation of Westpac and concluded that there was nothing that came to its attention that was likely to have a material impact on Westpac's share price;
- the acquisition of St.George is a very substantial transaction for Westpac, increasing total assets by 34% and shareholders' funds by 40%. The merged group will be Australia's leading provider of residential loans and will have the largest wealth management platform in Australia. It will be critical that St.George is integrated effectively into Westpac. In particular, the integration of the information technology systems of St.George and Westpac is complex and risky, and will require significant investment of time and resources. St.George is a very substantial business and will represent a significant proportion of the merged group's operations. The scale of the integration task is much larger than in any of the other recent bank transactions. The integration could also be impacted by loss of key personnel and by differences in the culture of St.George and Westpac.

Cost savings need to be realised without destroying the St.George (customer facing) business and its distinct culture. This will be a demanding and delicate task. The history of bank acquisitions over the past 15 years does not provide a high level of confidence that this can be achieved. In particular, the Westpac acquisitions of Challenge Bank and Bank of Melbourne resulted in very substantial losses of customers and goodwill. However, there are grounds for believing the Westpac Proposal may be more successful:

- Westpac is adopting a different model, leaving St.George to operate largely as a separate business (for retail and business banking) under its own brand and with no net reduction in branches or ATMs. This should minimise customer alienation; and
- the Westpac CEO was previously the CEO of St.George (until August 2007) and therefore has an in depth understanding of the business and its culture. Indeed, she has been introducing many of St.George's approaches and philosophies into Westpac since her appointment.

Nevertheless, a substantive risk remains:

- the two brand strategy is being attempted on a scale much larger than it has been in any other banking transaction. In addition, it is clear that, for many customers, the attraction of St.George is its smaller size and independence from the major banks and the positioning of St.George under the Westpac umbrella will have to be carefully managed; and
- the CEO is only one person. In reality, the day-to-day responsibilities of integration and future management will lie with the broader senior executive team; and
- because St.George shareholders are being offered Westpac scrip and not cash for their St.George shares, the value of the consideration that they will receive on implementation is uncertain as it will depend on the price of Westpac shares at the time and there may be short term volatility in the Westpac share price after the issue of new Westpac shares. However, this should only be of concern if St.George shareholders decided to sell their Westpac shares in the short term.

These risks are reflected in the Westpac share price. If the Westpac Proposal was assumed to be successfully implemented and the synergies fully realised there would be a case for a materially higher Westpac share price than $23.00-25.50.

In Grant Samuel's opinion while these disadvantages and risks are not inconsequential they are not significant enough to change the conclusion that the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders in the absence of a superior proposal.

11.8 Other

Transaction Costs

St.George has estimated that the total transaction costs of the Westpac Proposal will be approximately $40 million. These costs are one off costs and are not material in the overall context of St.George.

Of the total transaction costs, approximately $20 million will have been incurred or committed at the time that St.George shareholders vote on the Westpac Proposal. Therefore, the additional transaction costs that will be incurred if the Westpac Proposal proceeds are approximately $20 million. Total transaction costs represent approximately 0.3% of the current market capitalisation of St.George.

Ineligible Overseas Shareholders

Ineligible overseas shareholders will not receive Westpac shares. They will have the Westpac shares that would have otherwise been issued to them issued to a nominee who will sell the shares and distribute to the ineligible overseas shareholders the net proceeds from the sale. They may also have to pay tax on any profit on the disposal of their St.George shares (in their country of residence). However:

- their Westpac shares will be sold for market value;
- they can acquire Westpac shares through the ASX if they wish to retain an exposure to the merged group; and
- shareholders representing only approximately 0.19% of St.George's issued capital are expected to be impacted by these provisions.

11.9 SAINTS Holders

Background

SAINTS (Subordinated Adjustable Income Non-refundable Tier 1 Securities) are non cumulative, redeemable and convertible preference shares in St.George. St.George issued 3.5 million SAINTS at a face value of $100 each on 13 August 2004. The key terms of the SAINTS are:

- they are entitled to a preferred, floating rate fully franked dividend equal to 70% of the sum of the 90 day BBSW plus a margin of 1.35%. Dividends are paid quarterly in arrears on 20 November, 20 February, 20 May and 20 August each year. The applicable 90 day BBSW is the 90 day BBSW applying on the first business day of each dividend period. Payment of dividends is at the directors' discretion and is subject to a number of conditions;
- they are perpetual and have no maturity. St.George may require exchange on or after 20 November 2014. If St.George does not exchange the SAINTS by 20 November 2014, the margin will be increased by one time step up of 1.00% (to 2.35%) per annum until the SAINTS are exchanged; and

- on exchange, St.George may:
 - convert the SAINTS into St.George ordinary shares. The rate at which SAINTS convert into ordinary shares is calculated by reference to the VWAP of ordinary shares during the 20 business days preceding the exchange date less a discount of 2.5%, subject to a maximum conversion number of 400 ordinary shares for every SAINTS;
 - redeem, buy back or cancel the SAINTS for their face value of $100 each (subject to prior approval by APRA); or
 - any combination of the above.

The SAINTS were listed on the ASX on 16 August 2004. The closing price on the first day of trading was $101.00. The trading price of SAINTS since listing is illustrated below:

Source: IRESS

From listing in August 2004 until the end of January 2008, SAINTS traded at a slight premium to their face value of $100, presumably reflecting an allowance for the value of the accumulating dividends and reducing investor credit risk margin requirements. The subsequent fall in the SAINTS price to below face value reflects the impact of the global credit crisis on risk premiums and a view that a higher premium was now required by investors to compensate for the risk of investing in SAINTS. The risk premium on the SAINTS is fixed at 1.35% above the 90 day BBSW. By way of illustration, Westpac's July 2008 issue of Westpac SPS was priced at a risk premium of 2.4% above the 90 day BBSW (despite Westpac's higher AA credit rating).

Analysis and Conclusion

Under the Westpac Proposal, SAINTS holders will receive $100 cash for each SAINTS held. SAINTS holders will also receive the quarterly fully franked dividend of $1.52 per SAINTS for the period from 20 August 2008 to 20 November 2008 (to be paid on 20 November 2008) and any stub dividend that accrues between 20 November 2008 and implementation of the Westpac Proposal. The Westpac Proposal is currently expected to be implemented on 1 December 2008.

If the Share Scheme is approved but the SAINTS Scheme is not, Westpac has indicated that it will compulsorily acquire the SAINTS at some later date. The consideration that would be offered and the timing of any compulsory acquisition are uncertain (although under the Corporations Act, Westpac has six months to commence the compulsory acquisition process and that process will take a statutory minimum of one month).

The consideration of $100 per SAINTS represents the following premiums to the price at which SAINTS traded in the period prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal:

Westpac Proposal – Implied Premiums at Announcement
Date/Period	SAINTS Price/VWAP	Premium
Closing price on 9 May 2008 ⁴¹	$94.95	5.3%
1 week VWAP to 9 May 2008	$94.73	5.6%
1 month VWAP to 9 May 2008	$94.72	5.6%
3 month VWAP to 9 May 2008	$95.24	5.0%

Source: IRESS and Grant Samuel analysis

The consideration of $100 per SAINTS represents a 1.0% premium to the price of the SAINTS of $99.00 on 15 September 2008, although these current prices would almost certainly not be sustained in the absence of the Westpac Proposal.

In Grant Samuel's opinion, the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George's SAINTS holders. The reasons for Grant Samuel's opinion are summarised below:

- the exchange is at face value of $100 per SAINTS (which is equivalent to underlying value) and is therefore fair to SAINTS holders. As it is fair it is also reasonable;
- the proposed consideration of $100 per SAINTS represents a premium to the trading price of the SAINTS prior to the announcement of the Westpac Proposal. In the absence of the Westpac Proposal or an alternative proposal, the SAINTS price is likely to revert to pre announcement levels of around $95.00;
- the exchange for face value is in accordance with the terms of the SAINTS (albeit earlier than the terms of the SAINTS contemplated);
- the Westpac Proposal provides the opportunity for security holders to cash out of what would otherwise be a perpetual security (with exchange at St.George's option only) at above the price that they would be able to obtain through selling their SAINTS on market and reinvest the funds at current risk margins (which are higher than they were when the margin for the SAINTS was set in August 2004);
- while some SAINTS holders may realise a capital gain as a result of the Westpac Proposal, they will have received a cash payment from which any capital gains tax can be paid; and
- if the SAINTS Scheme is not approved and the SAINTS are compulsorily acquired by Westpac, there is no guarantee that the consideration offered would be at or above face value and the consideration would certainly be received at a later point in time than if the SAINTS Scheme is approved.

11.10 Award Optionholders

Background

Under the Executive Performance Share Plan, St.George has granted certain executives award options (nil exercise price options) to acquire St.George shares on a one for one basis, subject to satisfaction of certain performance and tenure hurdles. In addition, executives can choose to have St.George shares issued on exercise of award options subject to disposal restrictions of nil, three, ⁴¹ Last day of trading prior to the suspension of shares pending the announcement of the Westpac Proposal.

GRANT SAMUEL

four or 10 years from the date the original award option was granted. As at 15 September 2008, there were 632,627 award options held by 100 award optionholders.

Under the Westpac Proposal, award options (other than those held by excluded award optionholders²²) will be cancelled in exchange for the issue or transfer of 1.31 Westpac shares for each award option:

- where the award options are unvested immediately prior to the implementation date (expected to be 1 December 2008), the Westpac shares will be issued or transferred under the Westpac Restricted Share Plan. These Westpac shares will not be subject to any performance hurdles, but will be subject to a vesting period during which the Westpac shares must remain in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan. The vesting period for each award option will replicate the tenure hurdles that applied to the award options. The Westpac shares will vest provided that the award optionholder remains in employment with Westpac until the end of the vesting period. Award optionholders will not be able to trade Westpac shares held in the Westpac Restricted Share Plan until the vesting period ends;
- where award options have vested (but have not been exercised to acquire St.George shares) prior to the implementation date, the Westpac shares will be issued directly to the award optionholder and will not be subject to any restrictions; and
- where award options have vested and been exercised to acquire St.George shares but the executive has elected that the St.George shares acquired remain under a disposal restriction for a period of up to 10 years from the date of the original grant of the award options, the St.George shares will participate in the Westpac Proposal in the same manner as other St.George shareholders and there will be no disposal restrictions on the Westpac shares received (other than as set out in any employee share trading policy or applicable laws that may apply to executives from time to time).

If the Share Scheme is approved but the Option Scheme is not, Westpac has indicated that it will compulsorily acquire the award options at some later date. The consideration that would be offered and the timing are uncertain (although under the Corporations Act, Westpac has six months to commence the compulsory acquisition process and that process will take a statutory minimum of one month).

In Grant Samuel's opinion, the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George's award optionholders. The reasons for Grant Samuel's opinion are set out below:

- award options are exercisable into St.George shares on a one for one basis and will be converted into Westpac shares on the basis of 1.31 Westpac shares for each award option held. This results in award optionholders having the same number of Westpac shares that they would have had if they had exercised (or been able to exercise) their award options today and participated in the Westpac Proposal. In other words, award optionholders are being treated the same way as St.George shareholders and the same analysis and conclusions that apply to St.George shareholders (as set out in Sections 10 and 11 of this report) also apply to award optionholders. As Grant Samuel has concluded that the Westpac Proposal is in the best interests of St.George shareholders it is therefore also in the best interests of award optionholders;
- the terms of the award options and the Westpac shares that will be issued or transferred under the Westpac Proposal are identical in that:
 - the shares are not transferred to the award optionholder until the end of the vesting period and the award optionholder must remain an employee until the end of the vesting period; and ²² Excluded award optionholders are eight senior executives of St.George and one former senior executive of St.George who hold award options and executive options. These persons have entered into individual deeds to have their award options and executive options cancelled in exchange for Westpac shares and are not part of the Option Scheme.

GRANT SAMUEL

- in the interim, in relation to deferred short term incentive awards, the award optionholder remains entitled to receive dividends following one year after the grant in relation to the Westpac shares (even though the shares have not vested).

The Westpac Proposal is beneficial to award optionholders whose award options have not vested and are subject to performance hurdles as these performance hurdles will effectively be waived (i.e. the Westpac shares will only be subject to any tenure hurdle and will not be subject to any performance hurdles that existed in relation to the award options). Award optionholders who elected that the St.George shares acquired on exercise of award options remain under a disposal restriction will also benefit as there will be no disposal restrictions on the Westpac shares received (other than as set out in any employee share trading policy or applicable laws that may apply to executives from time to time);

- while there are some adverse tax implications for award optionholders with unvested award options or vested award options that have not been exercised to acquire St.George shares on implementation in that they will not have received any cash payment yet they will have to pay income tax or capital gains tax on the Westpac shares issued or transferred to them, in Grant Samuel's opinion, this disadvantage does not outweigh the advantages of the Westpac Proposal for award optionholders; and
- if the Option Scheme is not approved and the award options are compulsorily acquired by Westpac, the consideration that would be paid must be in the form of cash (rather than Westpac shares) and there is no guarantee that the consideration offered would be equivalent to or greater than the consideration offered under the Westpac Proposal. The consideration would also be received at a later point in time than if the Option Scheme is approved.

11.11 Taxation Issues

The analysis set out below outlines the major tax consequences of the Westpac Proposal and should be viewed as indicative only. It does not purport to represent formal tax advice regarding the taxation consequences of the Westpac Proposal for securityholders. Further details on the taxation consequences of the Westpac Proposal for Australian resident securityholders are set out in the Scheme Booklet. In any event, the taxation consequences for securityholders will depend upon their individual circumstances. If in any doubt, securityholders should consult their own professional adviser.

St.George Shareholders

As St.George did not list on the ASX until July 1992, all St.George shareholders will have acquired their St.George shares after 19 September 1985, and would ordinarily realise a capital gain or a capital loss on the disposal of their St.George shares.

St.George has requested a class ruling from the Australian Taxation Office confirming the taxation implications of the Westpac Proposal for St.George shareholders. Scrip for scrip rollover relief should be available to most Australian resident shareholders that exchange their St.George shares for shares in Westpac. This will defer the taxation on any capital gain until the Westpac shares are disposed of. If a capital loss would have been realised, rollover relief will not be available and a capital loss will crystallise.

SAINTS Holders

The transfer of SAINTS to Westpac will be a capital gains tax event for SAINTS holders who are Australian residents. SAINTS holders will make a capital gain to the extent that the capital proceeds received for their SAINTS are greater than the cost base of their SAINTS or make a capital loss to the extent that the capital proceeds are less than the reduced cost base of their SAINTS. The capital proceeds should be equal to $100 for each SAINTS although any stub dividend received may also form part of the capital proceeds. Individuals, complying superannuation entities and trustees who have held their SAINTS for at least 12 months prior to implementation should be entitled to discount the amount of any capital gain (after the application of any capital losses) by 50% for individuals and trustees and 33½% for complying superannuation entities. If the stub dividend does form part of the capital proceeds, any capital gain should be reduced by the amount of the stub dividend as the stub dividend will also be included in SAINTS holders' assessable income as a dividend. There will be no reduction in capital proceeds in relation to any stub dividend if a SAINTS holder makes a capital loss.

GRANT SAMUEL

Award Optionholders

The taxation implication of the Westpac Proposal for award optionholders depends on whether:

- the award options have vested and been exercised to acquire St.George shares prior to the implementation date; and
- the award optionholder elected to pay tax in the year in which the award options were received (under Section 139E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) (referred to as "paying tax up front").

In relation to unvested award options or vested award options that have not been exercised to acquire St.George shares:

- where tax was not paid up front, the value of the Westpac shares received will be taxed as ordinary income in the 2009 financial year at the award optionholder's marginal rate of tax. A further capital gain or capital loss will arise when the Westpac shares are subsequently disposed of (based on the change in value of the Westpac shares from the implementation date to the date of disposal). Award optionholders who have held their award options for at least 12 months prior to implementation should be entitled to discount the amount of any capital gain (after the application of any capital losses) by 50%;
- where tax was paid up front, a capital gain should arise on the implementation date equal to the value of the Westpac shares received less the cost base of the award options (where the cost base of the award options equals the market value of St.George shares at the date of the grant). Award optionholders who have held their award options for at least 12 months prior to implementation should be entitled to discount the amount of any capital gain (after the application of any capital losses) by 50%; and
- award optionholders will realise a capital loss where the Westpac shares received are subsequently disposed of or forfeited at a lower price.

In relation to vested award options that have been exercised to acquire St.George shares subject to a disposal restriction:

- where tax was not paid up front, no tax should be payable until the earlier of disposal of the Westpac shares, termination of the executive's employment with St.George and Westpac or 10 years from the grant of the award options; and
- where tax was paid up front, scrip for scrip rollover relief should be available as set out above.

11.12 Securityholder Decision

The decision whether to vote for or against the Westpac Proposal is a matter for individual securityholders based on each securityholder's views as to value, their expectations about future market conditions and their particular circumstances including risk profile, liquidity preference, investment strategy, portfolio structure and tax position. In particular, taxation consequences may vary from securityholder to securityholder. If in any doubt as to the action they should take in relation to the Westpac Proposal, securityholders should consult their own professional adviser.

Similarly, it is a matter for individual securityholders as to whether to buy, hold or sell securities in St.George, Westpac or the merged group. This is an investment decision independent of a decision on whether to vote for or against the Westpac Proposal upon which Grant Samuel does not offer an opinion. Securityholders should consult their own professional adviser in this regard.

Appendix A Selection of Discount Rates

1 Overview

The following discount rates have been selected by Grant Samuel to apply to the forecast dividends and nominal after tax cash flows of St. George's business operations:

St. George - Discount Rates
Business Operation	Discount Rate
Banking	11.0-12.0%
Wealth Management	12.5-13.5%

Different discount rates have been selected for each business because they have differing risk profiles.

Selection of the appropriate discount rate to apply to the forecast cash flows of any business enterprise is fundamentally a matter of judgement. The valuation of an asset or business involves judgements about the discount rates that may be utilised by potential acquirers of that asset. There is a body of theory which can be used to support that judgement. However, a mechanistic application of formulae derived from that theory can obscure the reality that there is no "correct" discount rate. Despite the growing acceptance and application of various theoretical models, it is Grant Samuel's experience that many companies rely on less sophisticated approaches. Many businesses use relatively arbitrary "hurdle rates" which do not vary significantly from investment to investment or change significantly over time despite interest rate movements. Valuation is an estimate of what real world buyers and sellers of assets would pay and must therefore reflect criteria that will be applied in practice even if they are not theoretically correct. Grant Samuel considers the rates adopted to be reasonable discount rates that acquirers would use irrespective of the outcome or shortcomings of applying any particular theoretical model.

The discount rates that Grant Samuel has adopted are reasonable relative to the rates derived from theoretical models. The discount rates represent an estimate of the cost of equity capital appropriate for these assets. This is the relevant rate to apply to dividends and geared after tax cash flows.

The cost of equity has been derived from application of the Capital Asset Pricing Model ("CAPM") methodology. The CAPM is probably the most widely accepted and used methodology for determining the cost of equity capital. There are more sophisticated multivariate models which utilise additional risk factors but these models have not achieved any significant degree of usage or acceptance in practice. However, while the theory underlying the CAPM is rigorous the practical application is subject to shortcomings and limitations and the results of applying the CAPM model should only be regarded as providing a general guide. There is a tendency to regard the rates calculated using CAPM as inviolate. To do so is to misunderstand the limitations of the model. For example:

- the CAPM theory is based on expectations but uses historical data as a proxy. The future is not necessarily the same as the past;
- the measurement of historical data such as risk premia and beta factors is subject to very high levels of statistical error. Measurements vary widely depending on factors such as source, time period and sampling frequency;
- the measurement of beta is often based on comparisons with other companies. None of these companies is likely to be directly comparable to the entity for which the discount rate is being calculated and may operate in widely varying markets;
- parameters such as the risk premium are based on subjective judgements; and
- there is not unanimous agreement as to how the model should adjust for factors such as taxation. The CAPM was developed in the context of a "classical" tax system. Australia's system of dividend imputation has a significant impact on the measurement of net returns to investors.

GRANT SAMUEL

The following sections set out the basis for Grant Samuel's determination of the discount rates for St. George's business operations and the factors which limit the accuracy and reliability of the estimates.

2 Definition and Limitations of the CAPM

The CAPM provides a theoretical basis for determining a discount rate that reflects the returns required by diversified investors in equities. CAPM is based on the assumption that investors require a premium for investing in equities rather than in risk free investments (such as Australian government bonds). The premium is commonly known as the market risk premium and notionally represents the premium required to compensate for investment in the equity market in general.

The risks relating to a company or business may be divided into specific risks and systematic risks. Specific risks are risks that are specific to a particular company or business and are unrelated to movements in equity markets generally. While specific risks will result in actual returns varying from expected returns, it is assumed that diversified investors require no additional returns to compensate for specific risk, because the net effect of specific risks across a diversified portfolio will, on average, be zero. Portfolio investors can diversify away all specific risk.

However, investors cannot diversify away the systematic risk of a particular investment or business operation. Systematic risk is the risk that the return from an investment or business operation will vary with the market return in general. If the return on an investment was expected to be completely correlated with the return from the market in general, then the return required on the investment would be equal to the return required from the market in general (i.e. the risk free rate plus the market risk premium).

Systematic risk is affected by the following factors:

- financial leverage: additional debt will increase the impact of changes in returns on underlying assets and therefore increase systematic risk;
- cyclicity of revenue: projects and companies with cyclical revenues will generally be subject to greater systematic risk than those with non-cyclical revenues; and
- operating leverage: projects and companies with greater proportions of fixed costs in their cost structure will generally be subject to more systematic risk than those with lesser proportions of fixed costs.

CAPM postulates that the return required on an investment or asset can be estimated by applying to the market risk premium a measure of systematic risk described as the beta factor. The beta for an investment reflects the covariance of the return from that investment with the return from the market as a whole. Covariance is a measure of relative volatility and correlation. The beta of an investment represents its systematic risk only. It is not a measure of the total risk of a particular investment. An investment with a beta of more than one is riskier than the market and an investment with a beta of less than one is less risky. The discount rate appropriate for an investment which involves zero systematic risk would be equal to the risk free rate.

The formula for deriving the cost of equity using CAPM is as follows:

$$Re = Rf + \text{Beta} (Rm - Rf)$$

where:

- Re* = the cost of equity capital;
- Rf* = the risk free rate;
- beta* = the beta factor;
- Rm* = the expected market return; and
- Rm - Rf* = the market risk premium.

The beta for a company or business operation is normally estimated by observing the historical relationship between returns from the company or comparable companies and returns from the market in general. The market risk premium is estimated by reference to the actual long run premium earned on equity investments by comparison with the return on risk free investments.

GRANT SAMUEL

The model, while simple, is based on a sophisticated and rigorous theoretical analysis. Nevertheless, application of the theory is not straightforward and the discount rate calculated should be treated as no more than a general guide. The reliability of any estimate derived from the model is limited. Some of the issues are discussed below:

■ Risk Free Rate

Theoretically, the risk free rate used should be an estimate of the risk free rate in each future period (i.e. the one year spot rate in that year if annual cash flows are used). There is no official "risk free" rate but rates on government securities are typically used as an acceptable substitute. More importantly, forecast rates for each future period are not readily available. In practice, the long term Commonwealth Government Bond rate is used as a substitute in Australia and medium to long term Treasury Bond rates are used in the United States. It should be recognised that the yield to maturity of a long term bond is only an average rate and where the yield curve is strongly positive (i.e. longer term rates are significantly above short term rates) the adoption of a single long term bond rate has the effect of reducing the net present value where the major positive cash flows are in the initial years. The long term bond rate is therefore only an approximation.

The ten year bond rate is a widely used and accepted benchmark for the risk free rate. Where the forecast period exceeds ten years, an issue arises as to the appropriate bond to use. While longer term bond rates are available, the ten year bond market is the deepest long term bond market in Australia and is a widely used and recognised benchmark. There is a very limited market for bonds of more than ten years. In the United States, there are deeper markets for longer term bonds. The 30 year bond rate is a widely used benchmark. However, long term rates accentuate the distortions of the yield curve on cash flows in early years. In any event, a single long term bond rate matching the term of the cash flows is no more theoretically correct than using a ten year rate. More importantly, the ten year rate is the standard benchmark used in practice.

Where cash flows are less than ten years in duration the opposite issue arises. An argument could be made that shorter term, and therefore lower, bond rates should be used in determining the discount rate for these assets. While Grant Samuel believes this is a legitimate argument, an adjustment may give a misleading impression of precision for the whole methodology. In any event, the impact on valuation would usually be trivial.

In practice, Grant Samuel believes acquirers would use a common rate. The ten year bond rate can be regarded as an acceptable standard risk free rate for medium to long term cash flows, particularly given its wide use.

■ Market Risk Premium

The market risk premium ($R_m - R_f$) represents the "extra" return that investors require to invest in equity securities as a whole over risk free investments. This is an "ex-ante" concept. It is the expected premium and as such it is not an observable phenomenon. The historical premium is therefore used as a proxy measure. The premium earned historically by equity investments is calculated over a time period of many years, typically at least 30 years. This long time frame is used on the basis that short term numbers are highly volatile and that a long term average return would be a fair indication of what most investors would expect to earn in the future from an investment in equities with a 5-10 year time frame.

In the United States it is generally believed that the premium is in the range of 5-6% but there are widely varying assessments (from 3% to 9%). Australian studies have been more limited but indicate that the long run average premium has been in the order of 6% using a geometric average

(and is in the order of 8% using an arithmetic average) measured over more than 100 years of data¹. Even an estimate based over a very long period such as 100 years is subject to significant statistical error. Given the volatility of equity market returns it is only possible to state that the "true" figure lies within a range of approximately 2-10% at a 95% confidence level (using the geometric average).

In addition, the market risk premium is not constant and changes over time. At various stages of the market cycle investors perceive that equities are more risky than at other times and will increase or decrease their expected premium. Indeed, there are arguments being put forward at the present time that the risk premium is now lower than it has been historically. This view is reflected in the recent update of the Officer Study² which indicates that (based on the addition of 17 years of data to 2004) the long term arithmetic average has declined to 7.17% from 7.94%.

In practice, market risk premiums of 5-7% are typically adopted in Australia.

- Beta Factor

The beta factor is a measure of the expected covariance (i.e. volatility and correlation of returns) between the return on an investment and the return from the market as a whole. The expected beta factor cannot be observed. The conventional practice is to calculate an historical beta from past share price data and use it as a proxy for the future but it must be recognised that the expected beta is not necessarily the same as the historical beta. A company's relative risk does change over time.

The appropriate beta is the beta of the company being acquired rather than the beta of the acquirer (which may be in a different business with different risks). Betas for the particular subject company may be utilised. However, it is also appropriate (and may be necessary if the investment is not listed) to utilise betas for comparable companies and sector averages (particularly as those may be more reliable).

However, there are very significant measurement issues with betas which mean that only limited reliance can be placed on such statistics. Even measurement of historical betas is subject to considerable variation. There is no "correct" beta. For example:

- over the last three years, St.George's beta as measured by the Australian Graduate School of Management ("AGSM") has varied between 0.77 and 1.18, and in June 2008 was measured at 1.18; and
- the standard error of the AGSM's estimate of St.George's beta has generally been in the order of 0.2 meaning that for a beta of, say, 0.95, even at a 68% confidence level, the range is 0.75 to 1.15.

- Specific Risk

The discount rate is designed to be applied to "expected cash flows" which are effectively a weighted average of the likely scenarios. To the extent that a business is perceived as being particularly risky, this specific risk should be dealt with by adjusting the cash flow scenarios. This avoids the need to make arbitrary adjustments to the discount rate which can dramatically affect estimated values, particularly when the cash flows are of extended duration or much of the business value reflects future growth in cash flows. In addition, risk adjusting the cash flows requires a more disciplined analysis of the risks that the valuer is trying to reflect in the valuation.

However, it is also common in practice to allow for certain classes of specific risk (particularly sovereign and other country specific risks) in a different way by adjusting the discount rate applied to forecast cash flows.

3 Calculation of the Cost of Equity

3.1 Risk-Free Rate

Grant Samuel has adopted a risk free rate of 5.8% for St. George's business operations. This is consistent with the current yield to maturity on ten year Australian Government bonds.

3.2 Market Risk Premium

A market risk premium of 6% has been assumed. Grant Samuel has consistently adopted a market risk premium of 6% and believes that, particularly in view of the general uncertainty, this continues to be a reasonable estimate. It is:

- not statistically significantly different to the premium suggested by the historical data;
- similar to that used by a wide variety of analysts and practitioners (typically in the range 5-7%); and
- the same as that adopted by most regulatory authorities in Australia.

Some research analysts and other valuers may use even lower premiums. Overall, Grant Samuel believes 6% to be a reasonable, if not conservative, estimate.

3.3 Beta Factors

Grant Samuel has adopted the following beta factors for the purposes of this report:

Equity Beta Factors
Business operation	Low	High
Banking	1.0	0.9
Wealth Management	1.3	1.1

Grant Samuel has considered the beta factors for a wide range of banking and wealth management companies in determining an appropriate beta for St. George's business operations. The betas have been calculated on two bases, relative to the Australian Stock Exchange ("ASX") and relative to the Morgan Stanley Capital International Developed World Index ("MSCI"), an international equities market index that is widely used as a proxy for the global stockmarket as a whole. Where a company is extensively traded by global investors it can be argued that the regression against the MSCI is more relevant but:

- this depends on who the "price setting" investors are; and
- it raises the issue as to whether a global risk premium is also appropriate and, if so, what that global premium is.

Put another way, there is no simple, universal answer.

The table indicates that banking companies generally have betas at or below 1.0, indicating less risk than the overall market. However, caution is warranted in selecting a beta for St. George's banking business:

- St. George's beta varies depending on the measurement source (its AGSM beta is 0.96 compared to Bloomberg betas of 1.12 and 1.04) and, as discussed earlier, has varied significantly over time (AGSM betas have ranged from 0.77 to 1.18 over the last three years). It is necessary therefore to consider the other comparable companies;
- individual company betas (from the same source and/or for the same period) fall within a similar range. For example, for the major banks, AGSM betas range from 0.76 to 0.96 and Bloomberg four year local index betas range from 0.87 to 1.00, although the tighter range of the Bloomberg four year betas results in a higher median and weighted average (0.96 from Bloomberg and 0.91 from AGSM). Bloomberg two year local index betas are also reasonably consistent in the range 0.93 to 1.02 (with a median and weighted average of 0.98); and

⁵ Bloomberg betas have been calculated up to 30 June 2008. Grant Samuel understands that betas estimated by Bloomberg are not calculated strictly in conformity with accepted theoretical approaches to the estimation of betas (i.e. they are based on regressing total returns rather than the excess return over the risk free rate). However, in Grant Samuel's view the Bloomberg beta estimates can still provide a useful insight into the systematic risks associated with companies and industries. The figures used are the Bloomberg "adjusted" betas.

- all of the listed banks (except for Bank of Queensland) have significant wealth management operations, which represent 5% (ANZ) to 15% (CBA) of after tax cash earnings. Wealth management businesses have higher systematic risk which results in higher betas than would be expected for "pure" banking businesses (refer to the table below).

Systematic risk has increased following the global credit crisis and increased sharemarket volatility and this is reflected in higher betas than would be expected (on average) over the long term. The table below shows the betas for the same companies as at 30 June 2007 (prior to the global credit crisis):

The banking company betas as at 30 June 2007 are consistently lower than they are currently, although it is also questionable whether, in hindsight, betas at these levels are sustainable given the extended period of benign conditions for Australian banks.

Taking all of these factors into account, Grant Samuel believes that a beta in the range 0.9-1.0 is a reasonable estimate of the appropriate beta for St. George's banking operations.

The table shows outcomes that suggest it is difficult to determine a reliable beta for St. George's wealth management business:

- individual company betas (from the same source) fall in a very wide range. For example, AGSM betas range from 0.81 (IOOF) to 1.71 (Treasury Group) and up to 2.35 (AWM) although this should be treated as an outlier;
- the Bloomberg two year betas for funds management companies are generally lower than the four year betas (although the two year betas for the financial services companies AMP and AXA are higher). The reason for this is unclear, although it indicates that wealth management companies have been slightly less volatile over this shorter period, despite increased volatility in the market over the last 12 months. However, the longer term measures may be more reflective of the true risks of the wealth management industry; and
- none of the listed companies is directly comparable to St. George's wealth management business (in terms of size and activities). The most comparable company, Plan B, has only been listed since July 2007 and does not have sufficient observations to allow meaningful analysis. It is also significantly smaller than St. George's wealth management business. The most comparable company from the table above is probably IOOF, although its betas are considerably lower than those of all of the other listed wealth management companies.

Intuitively, it would be expected that a wealth management company would have a beta greater than 1.0 as its performance is inextricably linked to the performance of the market as a whole. In ⁸ Based on share prices as at 15 September 2008.

⁹ Platinum, BTIM, Wilson HTM and Plan B have been excluded from this analysis as they do not have a sufficient number of observations to enable meaningful analysis. HFA listed on the ASX in April 2006 and therefore only has meaningful data for two years.

GRANT SAMUEL

the case of St.George's wealth management operations¹⁰, approximately 90-95% of revenue is generated from managed funds (and is directly related to the performance of the market as a whole). The balance of revenue comes from financial planning, insurance and online share trading (and has less correlation to movements in the market as a whole).

Wealth management betas have been similarly impacted by the volatility in the sharemarket over the last 12 months. The median AGSM beta as at 30 June 2007 for fund management companies was 1.10, compared to 1.71 now. Again, arguably neither of these betas is necessarily reflective of long term systematic risk for wealth management companies, but they do indicate a range within which it would be reasonable to assume the long term average beta might lie.

Taking all of these factors into account, Grant Samuel believes that a beta in the range 1.1-1.3 is a reasonable estimate of the appropriate beta for St.George's wealth management operations.

3.4 Cost of equity capital

Using the estimates set out above, the cost of equity capital for each of the business segments can be calculated as follows:

Cost of Equity Capital Calculations
Business operation	Low	High
Formula	$Re = Rf + Beta (Rm-Rf)$	$Re = Rf + Beta (Rm-Rf)$
Banking	$= 5.8\% + (1.0 \times 6\%)$ $= 11.8\%$	$= 5.8\% + (0.9 \times 6\%)$ $= 11.2\%$
Wealth Management	$= 5.8\% + (1.3 \times 6\%)$ $= 13.6\%$	$= 5.8\% + (1.1 \times 6\%)$ $= 12.4\%$

These are after tax discount rates to be applied to nominal dividends and geared after tax cash flows. However, it must be recognised that these are very crude calculations based on statistics of limited reliability and involving a multitude of assumptions.

Having regard to these matters and the calculations and data set out above, a discount rate range of 11.0-12.0% has been selected for application to St.George's banking business and a discount rate range of 12.5-13.5% has been selected for St.George's wealth management business.

4 Dividend Imputation

The conventional CAPM formula set out above was formulated under a "classical" tax system. The CAPM model is constructed to derive returns to investors after corporate taxes but before personal taxes. Under a classical tax system, interest expense is deductible to a company but dividends are not. Investors are also taxed on dividends received. Accordingly, there is a benefit to equity investors from increased gearing.

Under Australia's dividend imputation system, domestic equity investors receive a taxation credit (franking credit) for any tax paid by a company. The franking credit attaches to any dividends paid out by a company and the franking credit offsets personal tax. To the extent the investor can utilise the franking credit to offset personal tax, then the corporate tax is not a real impost. It is best considered as a withholding tax for personal taxes. It can therefore be argued that the benefit of dividend imputation should be added into any analysis of value.

There is no generally accepted method of allowing for dividend imputation. In fact, there is considerable debate within the academic community as to the appropriate adjustment or even whether any adjustment

¹⁰ For the purposes of the valuation, St.George's wealth management business excludes margin lending and private banking, which have been included as part of the banking business.

GRANT SAMUEL

is required at all. Some suggest that it is appropriate to discount pre tax cash flows, with an increase in the discount rate to "gross up" the market risk premium for the benefit of franking credits that are on average received by shareholders. On this basis, the discount rate might increase by approximately 2% but it would be applied to pre tax cash flows. However, not all of the necessary conditions for this approach exist in practice:

- not all shareholders can use franking credits. In particular, foreign investors gain no benefit from franking credits. If foreign investors are the marginal price setters in the Australian market there should be no adjustment for dividend imputation;
- not all franking credits are distributed to shareholders; and
- capital gains tax operates on a different basis to income tax. Investors with high marginal personal tax rates will prefer cash to be retained and returns to be generated by way of a capital gain.

Other have proposed a different approach involving an adjustment to the tax rate in the discount rate by a factor reflecting the effective use or value of franking credits. If the credits can be used, the tax rate is reduced towards zero. The proponents of this approach have in the past suggested a factor of up to 50% as representing the appropriate adjustment (γ). Alternatively, the tax charge in the forecast cash flows can be decreased to incorporate the expected value of franking credits distributed.

There is undoubtedly merit in the proposition that dividend imputation affects value. Over time dividend imputation will become factored into the determination of discount rates by corporations and investors. In Grant Samuel's view, however, the evidence gathered to date as to the value the market attributes to franking credits is insufficient to rely on for valuation purposes. More importantly, Grant Samuel does not believe that such adjustments are widely used by acquirers of assets at present. While acquirers are undoubtedly attracted by franking credits there is no clear evidence that they will actually pay extra for them or build it into values based on long term cash flows. The studies that measure the value attributed to franking credits are based on the immediate value of franking credits distributed and do not address the risk and other issues associated with the ability to utilise them over the longer term. Accordingly it is Grant Samuel's opinion that it is not appropriate to make any such adjustments in the valuation methodology. This is a conservative approach.

Adelaide Bank Limited/Bendigo Bank Limited

On 9 August 2007, Bendigo Bank Limited ("Bendigo Bank") announced an agreed merger with Adelaide Bank Limited ("Adelaide Bank") under which Adelaide Bank shareholders would receive 1.075 new Bendigo Bank shares for each ordinary Adelaide Bank share held. At the time of the acquisition, Adelaide Bank was a regional bank with total assets of approximately $31.6 billion and 25 banking branches located throughout South Australia. The merger brought together two banks with different but complementary business models, Adelaide Bank and its wholesale banking operations and Bendigo Bank's customer focused retail operations. The merged group intended to retain and develop both the Adelaide Bank and Bendigo Bank brands. The merger created a stronger, more diversified business with substantial scale and an enlarged presence in the fast growing funds management sector. It is expected to deliver significant value and EPS accretion for both sets of shareholders in the first full financial year, and ultimately provide pre tax cost synergies of $60-65 million, 35-38% of Adelaide Bank's cost base (in areas such as reducing functional overlap, information technology savings and the consolidation of corporate costs). There is also the potential for substantial revenue synergies including through an increased product offering of the merged group to both customer sets.

National Bank of New Zealand/Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited

On 24 October 2003, Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited ("ANZ") announced an agreement to acquire National Bank of New Zealand ("NBNZ") from Lloyds TSB Bank plc ("Lloyds TSB") for NZ$5.6 billion (excluding a dividend of NZ$575 million to be paid to Lloyds TSB from NBNZ's retained earnings prior to completion). NBNZ was one of New Zealand's leading banks with net loans and advances of NZ$35 billion, approximately 23% of total industry lending. The acquisition followed a six month bidding war involving other Australian banks, including Westpac Banking Corporation ("Westpac"). The acquisition of NBNZ (and its combination with ANZ's existing New Zealand operations) created the leading bank in New Zealand and was consistent with ANZ's strategy of having sustainable, top three positions in each of its businesses. ANZ intended to retain both the ANZ and NBNZ brands for retail and small business customers, with the rural market operating under the NBNZ name. ANZ intended to focus on improving customer service and the acquisition was not reliant on cost savings from branch closures. ANZ was targeting pre tax operational cost savings of A$110 million per annum within three years, primarily from savings in information technology, back office functions and head office integration.

Bank of Western Australia Limited/HBOS plc

On 9 May 2003, Bank of Western Australia Limited ("BankWest") announced a proposal from its majority shareholder, HBOS plc ("HBOS"), to acquire the 43% of BankWest shares that it did not already own for $4.25 cash per share by way of a scheme of arrangement. BankWest shareholders were also entitled to receive the interim dividend of $0.10 per share. BankWest is a full service bank based in Perth, Western Australia and at the time of the acquisition was the market leader in Western Australia, with approximately 25% of all bank advances and deposits. In other states, BankWest marketed a select range of products, primarily through its offices in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane and Adelaide. HBOS provided considerable capital and other support to BankWest and had indicated that if its offer was not successful, it would reassess its relationship with BankWest, in particular, the risk appetite and strategies of BankWest in the context of HBOS governance as a whole and this was likely to reduce BankWest's capacity to generate returns to shareholders in the near term.

Colonial Limited/Commonwealth Bank of Australia

On 10 March 2000, Commonwealth Bank of Australia ("CBA") announced an agreement with Colonial Limited ("Colonial") to merge by way of a scheme of arrangement. The consideration was seven shares in CBA for every 20 shares held in Colonial. Colonial was a life insurance, funds management and banking group with operations in Australia, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and throughout Asia. Approximately 27% of earnings (before head office costs) were generated by its Australian banking business (with life insurance and superannuation representing 60% and funds management representing 13%). The rationale for the merger was that it created scale (and resulting cost savings), diversified its operations and strengthened its growth platform. The merged group would be a leading Australian financial services organisation and the largest domestic bank and funds manager, with the scale and capability to compete in both domestic and international markets and grow strongly in the financial services area. Substantial cost saving synergies, estimated at $280-300 million per annum (pre tax), representing 26-27% of Colonial's cost base, were expected from the integration of CBA and Colonial.

GRANT SAMUEL

Trust Bank of Tasmania Limited/Colonial Limited

On 16 November 1999, Colonial announced that it would acquire, through its wholly owned subsidiary State Bank of New South Wales Limited, the assets and liabilities of the Trust Bank of Tasmania Limited ("Trust Bank") for $149.1 million from the Tasmanian Government. Trust Bank was a full service retail bank (providing personal and commercial banking services) with 40 branches in Tasmania. It held more than 30% of the Tasmanian retail deposit market and accounted for approximately 25% of outstanding loans in Tasmania. The acquisition expanded Colonial's national presence and established Colonial as a leading financial services provider in Tasmania. The integration of Trust Bank with Colonial was expected to result in significant cost savings, with the combined operating cost base of the businesses expected to fall by 5% as a result of the acquisition. In addition, the cost of wholesale funding supporting Trust Bank assets was expected to fall following the acquisition as a result of Colonial's higher credit rating (BBB+ compared to BBB-). Preservation and enhancement of existing service levels of Trust Bank customers was also stated to be a priority.

Bank of Melbourne Limited/Westpac Banking Corporation

On 3 April 1997, Westpac announced an agreement to acquire Bank of Melbourne Limited ("Bank of Melbourne") by way of a scheme of arrangement. The offer took the form of either $9.75 cash per share or a combination of cash and Westpac shares and included a special fully franked dividend from Bank of Melbourne of $0.90 per share. Bank of Melbourne was a specialist retail bank that operated predominantly in Victoria, although it also had branch representation in the capital cities of Queensland, Western Australia, New South Wales and South Australia. Bank of Melbourne also had small financial planning and general insurance operations. Westpac proposed that its Victorian retail and commercial banking business and Bank of Melbourne's business in Victoria be consolidated to create a combined retail banking business in Victoria conducted under the Bank of Melbourne name. The Westpac name would be used in the corporate and institutional segments of the banking market. It was also proposed that Bank of Melbourne retain its own identity and style of retail banking. Cost savings were expected to be generated from centralisation of administrative functions, and removal of overlap in branches (the number of branches in Victoria was expected to be reduced by between 80 and 100). The transaction generated pre tax cost savings of $76 million (39% of Bank of Melbourne's cost base) and incurred integration costs of $121 million.

Advance Bank Limited/St.George Bank Limited

On 14 October 1996, Advance Bank Limited ("Advance") announced a proposal by St.George to acquire all the ordinary shares in Advance by way of schemes of arrangement. Under the proposal, Advance shareholders would receive $2.10 cash, $5.00 worth of St.George shares and a special cash dividend of $0.20 (a total value of $7.30) for each Advance share. Both Advance Bank and St.George had strong positions in New South Wales and prior to the merger Advance was the largest regional bank in New South Wales and South Australia. The merged group would be the largest regional bank in Australia with over $40 billion in assets, deposits of $22 billion and shareholders' equity of $3.5 billion. St.George proposed that the operations of Advance Bank and St.George be merged in all states and the "Advance Bank" name withdrawn from the market. Advance Bank's "BankSA" brand would continue to be used in South Australia. St.George expected to achieve pre tax cost savings of $140 million per annum (approximately 30% of Advance Bank's cost base) within 30 months of completion of the transaction.

Metway Bank Limited /SUNCORP Insurance and Finance and Queensland Industry Development Corporation

The directors of Metway Bank Limited ("Metway") and the Queensland Government signed a heads of agreement on 27 May 1996 to merge Metway with SUNCORP Insurance and Finance ("Suncorp Group") and Queensland Industry Development Corporation ("QIDC"). The merger was proposed by the Queensland State Government to create a diversified, more competitive financial institution. Metway was Queensland's largest locally based bank with operations in Queensland, New South Wales and Victoria. At the time of the merger Metway had approximately $7.1 billion in assets.

The acquisition followed a previous merger proposal between St.George and Metway that did not proceed. St.George and Metway had agreed to a merger proposal in March 1996 whereby St.George would acquire 100% of the shares in Metway for $806 million. This proposed acquisition price represented multiples of 15.3 times estimated earnings for the year ending 30 June 1996 and 13.6 times prospective earnings for the year ending 30 June 1997. Prior to the meetings to be held to approve the proposed acquisition, the Queensland Government made its proposal to Metway. Meetings to approve the proposed acquisition by St.George were held on 26 June 1996 and the proposed acquisition was not approved by the requisite majority of ordinary shareholders. Accordingly, the proposed acquisition lapsed and the Queensland Government proposal was able to proceed.

Trust Bank New Zealand Limited/Westpac Banking Corporation

In April 1996, Westpac acquired Trust Bank New Zealand Limited ("Trust Bank NZ") for a consideration equivalent to NZ$2.24 per Trust Bank NZ share. Under the terms of the offer, Trust Bank NZ shareholders had the choice of receiving cash for their shares or one Westpac share for every four Trust Bank NZ shares held by them (plus any amount necessary to ensure that accepting the scrip alternative would leave the shareholder in the same position as if they had accepted the cash offer). The acquisition enabled Westpac to become the largest bank in New Zealand with total assets of approximately NZ$26 billion. Trust Bank NZ's strengths in the personal sector and its understanding of local retail markets and community issues, complemented Westpac's market knowledge, broader mix of products and greater access to global capital markets. The transaction generated synergies of NZ$131 million and incurred integration costs of NZ$105 million.

Bank of Western Australia Limited/Bank of Scotland plc

The sale of BankWest was announced by the Premier of Western Australia on 20 September 1995 and was the result of a partially restricted tender process conducted by the Government of Western Australia over the course of 1995. The tender process was restricted by the Bank of Western Australia Act 1994 which effectively limited the number of potential buyers to foreign banks, life companies and domestic banks domiciled in Western Australia. This may have reduced the multiples that would otherwise have been paid. As part of the sale agreement, Bank of Scotland plc offered 49% of the shares in BankWest to the public through an initial public offer in January 1996.

Challenge Bank Limited/Westpac Banking Corporation

Westpac announced in 28 July 1995 that it had acquired an 8.2% interest in Challenge Bank Limited ("Challenge Bank") and entered into negotiations with the directors of Challenge Bank with the intention of making a formal proposal to acquire Challenge Bank. Challenge Bank announced on 22 September 1995 that the directors of Challenge Bank has recommended acceptance of the formal proposal from Westpac. The consideration offered by Westpac was $5.00 cash per Challenge Bank share held or two shares in Westpac plus a cash sum for every three Challenge Bank shares held. In addition, Challenge Bank shareholders were entitled to receive the final dividend for the year ending 30 September 1995. The offer from Westpac followed a similar proposal from St.George on 27 July 1995 at $4.30 per Challenge Bank share. Westpac proposed that the operations of Challenge Bank and Westpac be merged in Western Australia and Victoria. Its announced intention was that a distinct Western Australian brand name would represent the merged entity in the Western Australian retail market. The Westpac name was to be used in the corporate, institutional and property finance segments of the market and in retail markets outside Western Australia. The acquisition was Westpac's first step in a strategy to expand into regions where it had a sub scale presence (Western Australia, Victoria and New Zealand). Substantial rationalisation benefits were expected to be available to Westpac from the integration of the Challenge Bank and Westpac businesses in the areas of head office administration, treasury activities, information systems, marketing and branch networks. It was estimated that Westpac could realise up to $50 million (approximately 50% of Challenge Bank's cost base) in annual cost savings over a period of three years.

GRANT SAMUEL

BankSA/Advance Bank Limited

The State Bank of South Australia (the predecessor to BankSA) had incurred large losses under government ownership, culminating in the South Australian Government undertaking to dispose of it. As a result, on 1 July 1994, the South Australian and Northern Territory banking operations of the State Bank of South Australia and the commercial lending and leasing operations in other states were transferred to BankSA, a new public company wholly owned by the South Australian Government. Following an open tender sale process, on 2 June 1995, agreement was reached with the South Australian Government for Advance Bank to acquire BankSA for approximately $730 million. The acquisition of BankSA provided Advance Bank with a significant position in the South Australian and Northern Territory retail banking and commercial lending markets, as well as finance and leasing operations in all mainland states of Australia. The acquisition also resulted in Advance Bank becoming the largest regional bank in Australia, with total assets of $19.5 billion.

Mackay Permanent Building Society Limited/Wide Bay Australia Limited

On 24 July 2007, Wide Bay Australia Limited ("Wide Bay") announced a $45.3 million takeover offer for Mackay Permanent Building Society Limited ("Mackay Permanent"). Following a competitive bid from the Bank of Queensland, Wide Bay increased its cash and scrip offer to a value of approximately $61.7 million which was recommended by the Board on 13 August 2007 and accepted by Mackay Permanent shareholders. At the time of the acquisition, Mackay Permanent was Australia's tenth largest building society with net assets of $18 million, a network of 12 bank branches and approximately 21,000 customers predominantly in Queensland. Mackay Permanent offered personal and business banking, and insurance products. The merger was expected to produce synergies of $4-6 million after tax in the first year.

Home Building Society Limited/Bank of Queensland Limited

On 31 August 2007, Bank of Queensland Limited ("Bank of Queensland") announced the proposed acquisition of Home Building Society Limited ("Home") for 0.84 Bank of Queensland ordinary shares plus cash for each share in Home, valuing the diluted equity of Home at $612.9 million. Home was a Western Australia based building society with 30 branches across Perth and various regional locations. Its operations consisted of a financial services division (housing and commercial loans, health and general insurance products, investment products) and a residential land development division involved in developing, financing and sale of vacant land for residential purposes. Bank of Queensland's rationale for the acquisition of Home was that it enabled it to establish a presence in the high growth state of Western Australia. Pre-tax synergies of $20 million were expected by the third year of acquisition.

Pioneer Permanent Building Society Limited/Bank of Queensland Limited

Bank of Queensland was one of four parties that made unsolicited offers to acquire Pioneer Permanent Building Society Limited ("Pioneer"), commencing in June 2006, when Mackay Permanent offered to acquire shares from a substantial shareholder for an undisclosed price. This was followed in July 2006 by offers from Wide Bay (at $4.32 per share, subsequently increased to $4.55 per share) and FirstMac Limited (at $4.50 per share for up to 14.9%, subsequently increased to $4.75 per share), prior to the announcement on 15 August 2006 of an offer from Bank of Queensland for 100% of Pioneer Permanent at $4.78 per share. The Bank of Queensland offer was supported by the Pioneer Permanent Board in the absence of a superior proposal. Pioneer Permanent had also been in discussions with Mackay Permanent about an offer at $4.80 per share, but this offer was informal and was conditional on Mackay Permanent holding an option over between 10.1% and 14.9% of Pioneer Permanent shares before an offer could be announced. The historical and forecast price earnings multiples implied by this transaction of 25.5 times and 23.5 times respectively reflect the competitive nature of the acquisition process and the synergies expected to be generated from combining the two Queensland based businesses.

StateWest Credit Society Limited/Home Building Society Limited

The scrip merger of State West Credit Society Limited ("StateWest") and Home was completed in August 2006. Home and StateWest were similar sized West Australian retail financial services organisations. The multiples implied by the merger are very high (at 32.9 times historical earnings and

GRANT SAMUEL

4.1 times NTA) and have been based on the Home share price at the date of completion. However, these very high multiples reflect the significant synergy benefits that were expected to result from the merger (estimated at $8-10 million per annum before tax, in excess of StateWest's historical earnings of $7.1 million). The merger agreement was based on a valuation of StateWest of $120 million, which implies a historical price earnings multiple of 16.8 times.

NRMA Building Society Limited/HSBC Bank Australia Limited

In November 2001, HSBC Bank Australia Limited ("HSBC") acquired NRMA Building Society Limited ("NRMA BS") from NRMA Insurance Group Limited for $138 million in cash. NRMA had $1.8 billion of residential mortgages, approximately $1 billion in customer deposits, around 70,000 VISA credit card accounts and personal and car loan customers at the time of the acquisition.

First Australian Building Society Limited/Bendigo Bank Limited

On 5 June 2000, Bendigo Bank and First Australian Building Society Limited ("FABS") jointly announced Bendigo Bank's proposal to acquire all of FABS's issued capital. The consideration offered was one Bendigo Bank ordinary share for every two FABS ordinary shares held. The merger was expected to result in significant synergies with no branch duplication.

IOOF Building Society Limited/Bendigo Bank Limited

On 3 March 1999, Bendigo Bank and IOOF Holdings Limited ("IOOF") announced that Bendigo Bank would acquire IOOF Building Society for $20 million cash plus 3.7 million ordinary shares in Bendigo Bank. The IOOF Group was a mutual organisation with approximately 300,000 members. Its core business was funds management and financial advisory services. IOOF and Bendigo Bank also agreed to form a 50/50 joint venture to provide Bendigo Bank clients with funds management and advisory services.

Genesys Wealth Advisers Limited and Synergy Capital Management Limited/AXA Asia Pacific Holdings Limited

In June 2008, AXA Asia Pacific Holdings Limited ("AXA") acquired the financial planning business of Challenger Financial Services Group Limited ("Challenger") for $150 million. This included the dealer group Genesys Wealth Advisers Limited ("Genesys") and investment platform Synergy Capital Management Limited ("Synergy"). Genesys had approximately 350 advisers with $12 billion in funds under advice as at 31 December 2007, while Synergy had $2.1 billion in funds under administration as at 30 April 2008. This acquisition further reinforced AXA's position of owning one of the largest financial adviser networks.

Lonsdale Financial Group Limited and Wrap Account Limited/DKN Financial Group Limited

In August 2007, DKN Financial Group Limited ("DKN") acquired Lonsdale Financial Group Limited ("Lonsdale") and Wrap Account Limited ("Wrap") from Zurich Australia Limited ("Zurich") for approximately $120 million. Lonsdale is a dealer group supporting a network of over 100 financial planning practices and 250 financial advisers across Australia. Wrap is an investment administration platform business with $4.2 billion in funds under administration. The acquisition provided DKN with significantly increased scale with a network of over 300 associated financial planning practices and $8.2 billion in total funds under administration as at June 2007. As part of the transaction, DKN also negotiated a marketing arrangement for the distribution of key Zurich products, enhancing the product range available to its financial advisers.

Plan B Group Holdings Limited – IPO

In July 2007, Plan B Group Holdings Limited ("Plan B") listed on the ASX at an offer price of $1.00 per share implying a market capitalisation of $75 million. The offer was significantly oversubscribed and this was reflected in the volume weighted average price ("VWAP") for the first seven trading days, which was materially higher than the offer price at $1.44 per share (and implying considerably higher EBIT and price earnings multiples and % of FUMA). Plan B is an Australian and New Zealand diversified wealth management business with more than 20,000 clients and over $1.6 billion in funds under management and administration. Plan B's activities include financial planning, investment management and administration, custodial and trustee services and independent financial advisor support. Approximately 75% of Plan B's revenue is generated from its operations in Australia with the balance generated from operations in New Zealand.

Wilson HTM Investment Group Limited – IPO

In June 2007, Wilson HTM Investment Group Limited ("Wilson HTM") listed on the ASX at an offer price of $2.00 per share implying a market capitalisation of $191.4 million. The VWAP over the first seven days of trading was materially higher at $3.30 per share, which partially reflected the limited number of shares on offer to the public (7% of shares were offered to the public, with 19.9% held by Deutsche Bank AG and the remainder held by directors and staff of Wilson HTM). Wilson HTM is an integrated investment house with activities in investment management and investment banking. Its investment management activities are primarily funds management through a number of subsidiaries and associates, including Pinnacle Investment Management. Wilson HTM had $3.3 billion in funds under management as at 31 March 2007. The investment banking activities focus on corporate finance, equity research, equity capital markets and stockbroking services for middle market companies. The relatively high consideration as a percentage of FUMA reflects Wilson HTM's significant non funds management operations.

Select Managed Funds Limited/Australian Wealth Management Limited

In January 2006, Select Managed Funds Limited ("Select") and Australian Wealth Management Limited ("AWM") announced a proposal to merge by way of a scheme of arrangement. Select shareholders received seven AWM shares for every two Select shares held, reflecting the nature of the transaction as a nil premium merger (the merged group would be 53% owned by AWM shareholders and 47% owned by Select shareholders). Both Select and AWM were vertically integrated wealth management businesses with activities in distribution, platform and investment. The high multiples reflect the significant scale of the combined business (with FUMA of approximately $22 billion), the expected benefits from combining two complementary businesses and the growth opportunities from an expanded distribution network and product offering.

GRANT SAMUEL

Select Managed Funds Limited – IPO

In March 2005, Select listed on the ASX through an initial public offer at $4.00 per share, implying a market capitalisation of $297.1 million. Select was a vertically integrated provider of wealth management services (investment management, investment platforms and financial advice). As at 31 December 2004, Select had approximately $1.9 billion in funds under management and approximately $3.6 billion in funds under administration. Select's distribution network consisted of wholly owned dealer groups, associates and third party financial planners which in total comprised approximately 700 financial planners with $1.3 billion in funds under advice.

Australian Wealth Management Limited – Demerger from Tower Limited

In November 2004, Tower Limited ("Tower") announced its intention to separate its Australian wealth management businesses from its New Zealand and Australian insurance business and list its wealth management business on the ASX. Tower transferred its Australian wealth management businesses into a new company, Australian Wealth Management Limited ("AWM"). Tower transferred all of its shares on AWM to Tower shareholders on a pro rata basis of 0.2908 AWM shares for every Tower share held and in return for that transfer, acquired from each Tower shareholder (and cancelled) 0.135 Tower shares for every Tower share held. AWM shareholders also received 1.355 entitlements for every AWM share held, to buy more AWM shares, which raised $130 million of capital. This resulted in an acquisition price of approximately 120 million $1.00 shares in AWM (held by existing Tower shareholders) and a cash payment of $130 million. The demerger sought to realise underlying value by enabling each entity to focus on its own business (i.e. Tower on its insurance and investment businesses in New Zealand and Australia, and AWM on the Australian wealth management businesses). It was also designed to simplify the structure of both companies and free up capital for Tower.

Associated Planners Group Limited/Challenger Financial Services Group Limited

In April 2004, Challenger announced that it had entered into a merger implementation agreement with Associated Planners Group Limited ("Associated Planners"). Associated Planners was a financial planning business with approximately 85 firms looking after more than 100,000 individual, business and corporate clients. Combined with Challenger's other financial services business, Garisson, Associated Planners increased Challenger's retail distribution network to approximately 450 planners with funds under advice exceeding $7.5 billion. The consideration of $100 million represents the face value of the scrip, of which approximately 11% was subject to an 18 month lock up and 25% was subject to a three year lock up. As a result, it may be appropriate to apply a discount for lack of marketability to the face value of these shares, in which case the consideration as a percentage of FUMA would be lower.

IOOF Holdings Limited - IPO

In December 2003, IOOF Holdings Limited ("IOOF") listed on the ASX at an indicative offer price of $2.75-3.25 per share, implying a market capitalisation of $175-206 million. The ASX listing followed IOOF's demutualisation, which was completed in June 2002. IOOF is an investment management and administration firm. At the time of its initial public offer, it was Australia's third largest independent fund manager with $11.8 billion in funds under management and administration. Its distribution network consists of aligned dealer groups (wholly owned dealer group Winchcombe Carson), independent financial advisers, alliances (Bendigo Bank) and third party administration arrangements. IOOF had delayed its initial public offer, which was initially scheduled for May 2003, as a result of market uncertainty (including an unsettled United States economy and the possibility of war with Iraq). The relatively low earnings multiples may in part be explained by weakness in equity markets at the time.

BT Financial Group/Westpac Banking Corporation

In August 2002, Westpac announced its intention to acquire part of BT Financial Group ("BT Financial") from Principal Financial Group for $900 million. In addition to BT Financial's significant Australian retail operations, the acquisition included BT Financial's New Zealand funds management operations and its corporate superannuation business and platform. The acquisition made Westpac one of Australia's largest retail funds managers and gave it significant master trust and wrap platform capabilities. Following the acquisition, Westpac had more than $30 billion of retail funds under management and $11 billion in funds under administration. Westpac did not acquire BT Financial's property trusts or direct property management services.

IPAC Securities Limited/AXA Asia Pacific Holdings Limited

In July 2002, AXA acquired IPAC Securities Limited ("IPAC") for $205 million. IPAC was an Australian funds management and financial planning business which at the time of the acquisition had approximately $3.3 billion in funds under management, 33 financial planners and strategic relationships with 80 independent advisers. Rothschild Australia Asset Management Limited/Westpac Banking Corporation

In April 2002, Westpac acquired Rothschild Australia Asset Management Limited ("Rothschild") for $323 million. Rothschild was a highly rated investment management firm with international strategic alliances and strong recommendations from independent researchers and institutional consultants. As a result of this acquisition, Westpac became Australia's fifth largest retail funds management business with $17 billion in funds under management and the eighth largest overall funds management business with $34 billion in funds under management (retail and wholesale). The acquisition also strengthened Westpac's distribution capability through Rothschild's network of over 1,000 independent financial planners. These strategic benefits and the significant increase in scale are reflected in the relatively high multiples implied by the transaction.

Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited/ING Funds Management

In April 2002, ANZ and ING Groep N.V. ("ING Group") announced the formation a joint venture creating the Australian and New Zealand funds management and life insurance business, ING Australia Limited ("ING Australia") valued at $3.75 billion. At formation, ING Australia held a top four position in Australian retail funds management and the leading position in New Zealand, with total funds under management and administration of $38.4 billion. As part of the transaction, ING Australia acquired ANZ's asset management business and outsourced investment management activities to ING Group's specialist investment business. Cost synergies were expected to be approximately $36-$54 million per annum over a three to four year period. The high consideration to FUMA value is due to the significant life insurance business in the joint venture.

BT Investment Management Limited - IPO

In October 2007, Westpac announced the spin off of BT Financial Group Pty Limited's ("BT") investment management business to form the separate entity BT Investment Management Limited ("BTIM"). Westpac retained 60% of the equity in BTIM, with the balance held by BTIM staff and other investors as part of an initial public offer. The indicative offer price of $4.80-$5.50 per share implied a market capitalisation of $768-$880 million. BTIM is an Australian based funds management business and at the time of its initial public offer had $42 billion in funds under management.

Platinum Asset Management Limited - IPO

In May 2007, Platinum Asset Management Limited ("Platinum") listed on the ASX at an offer price of $5.00 per share, implying a market capitalisation of $2.8 billion. Platinum is an Australian based fund manager specialising in international equities and had $20 billion in funds under management as at 13 August 2006. The initial public offer was restricted to members of existing Platinum funds, employees and retail clients of Bell Potter and CommSec. The VWAP for the first seven days of trading was $8.02, a significant increase in the $5.00 offer price. This implied a very high price earnings multiple of approximately 25 times, reflecting a combination of Platinum's limited free float, its positioning as a pre-eminent international equity manager, its strong historical net flows relative to peers and its strong platform distribution network. The high percentage of FUMA reflects both the high profit margins generated by the business and the emphasis on retail funds under management.

Perennial Investment Partners Limited/IOOF Holdings Limited

In October 2006, IOOF announced it had acquired the outstanding 21.85% of equity in asset management business Perennial Investment Partners Limited ("Perennial") that it did not already own. Perennial is a holding company specialising in the provision of funds management services to wholesale clients. The acquisition was based on an up front payment of $67.9 million to minority shareholders, which valued 100% of Perennial at $320 million. Perennial managed approximately $19.4 billion of external wholesale and retail funds (for IOOF) which it invested in fixed interest, Australian equities and international equities. The minority shareholding in Perennial Investment Partners was held by company executives. The high price earnings multiple reflected the importance to IOOF of owning 100% of the business.

452 Capital Pty Limited/Commonwealth Bank of Australia

In May 2005, CBA acquired 30% of 452 Capital Pty Limited ("425 Capital") for a consideration rumoured to be $100 million. 452 Capital is a funds management company with investments focusing on Australian equities and at the time of the acquisition, had approximately $4 billion in funds under management. The 30 June 2008 multiples for CBA and Bendigo and Adelaide are shown in both the LTM and 2008 forecast columns to ensure consistency with the other comparable companies for the 2009 forecast and the 2010 forecast.

Subject: Investigating Accountant's Report

Dear Directors

We have prepared this report on certain financial information of Westpac Banking Corporation ("Westpac") and St.George Bank Limited ("St.George"), and the "Merged Group" for inclusion in the Scheme Booklet Supplement dated on or about 30 September 2008, which is to be issued by St.George in connection with the proposed merger of St.George and Westpac.

Expressions defined in the Scheme Booklet have the same meaning in this report.

The nature of this Report is such that it should be given by an entity which holds an Australian Financial Services licence under the Corporations Act 2001. PricewaterhouseCoopers Securities Ltd is wholly owned by PricewaterhouseCoopers and holds the appropriate Australian Financial Services licence.

Scope

Westpac and St.George have jointly requested PricewaterhouseCoopers Securities Ltd to prepare an Investigating Accountant's Report (the "Report") covering the following information (referred to collectively as the "Financial Information"):

 - the balance sheets of St.George as at 30 September 2006 and 2007 and 31 March 2007 and 2008 included in Section 2.4 (a)-(d) of the Scheme Booklet; and

- (collectively, the "St.George Historical Financial Information").

This Report has been prepared for inclusion in the Scheme Booklet. We disclaim any assumption of responsibility for any reliance on this Report or on the Financial Information to which it relates for any purposes other than for which it was prepared.

Scope of review

Review of the St. George Historical Financial Information

The St. George Historical Financial Information set out in Section 2.4(a)-(d) of the Scheme Booklet has been extracted from the financial statements of St. George for the year ended 30 September 2007 and the half year ended 31 March 2008. The annual financial statements were audited and the half year financial statements were reviewed by KPMG who issued unmodified audit and review opinions.

The Directors of the St. George are responsible for the preparation of the St. George Historical Financial Information.

We have conducted our review of the St. George Historical Financial Information in accordance with Australian Auditing Standard AUS 902 "Review of Financial Reports" relating to review engagements. We made such inquiries and performed such procedures as we, in our professional judgement, considered reasonable in the circumstances including:

- an analytical review of the financial performance of St. George for the relevant historical period
- a review of work papers, accounting records and other documents
- a review for potential adjustments to the historical financial performance
- a comparison of consistency in application of the recognition and measurement principles in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and the accounting policies adopted by St. George, and
- enquiry of directors, management and others.

These procedures do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, thus the level of assurance provided is less than given in an audit. We have not performed an audit and, accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Review of the Westpac Historical Financial Information

The Westpac Historical Financial Information set out in Section 3.7 of the Scheme Booklet has been extracted from the financial statements of Westpac for the year ended 30 September 2007 and the half year ended 31 March 2008. The annual financial statements were audited and the half year financial statements were reviewed by PricewaterhouseCoopers who issued unmodified audit and review opinions.

The Directors of Westpac are responsible for the preparation of the Westpac Historical Financial Information.

We have conducted our review of the Westpac Historical Financial Information in accordance with Australian Auditing Standard AUS 902 "Review of Financial Reports" relating to review engagements. We made such inquiries and performed such procedures as we, in our professional judgement, considered reasonable in the circumstances including:

- an analytical review of the financial performance of Westpac for the relevant historical period
- a review of work papers, accounting records and other documents
- a review for potential adjustments to the historical financial performance
- a comparison of consistency in application of the recognition and measurement principles in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and the accounting policies adopted by Westpac, and
- enquiry of directors, management and others.

These procedures do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, thus the level of assurance provided is less than given in an audit. We have not performed an audit and, accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Review of the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information

The Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information set out in Section 4.9 (b)-(d) of the Scheme Booklet has been compiled by Westpac from the Westpac Historical Financial Information and the St.George Historical Financial Information. The Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information incorporates such adjustments including the pro forma transactions as the Directors of Westpac considered necessary to reflect the implementation of the Merger and the operations of the Merged Group going forward. The Directors of Westpac are responsible for the preparation of the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information, including determination of the adjustments, except that the Directors of St.George are responsible for the information regarding St.George provided to Westpac to prepare the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information.

We have conducted our review of the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information in accordance with Australian Auditing Standard AUS 902 "Review of Financial Reports" relating to review engagements. We made such inquiries and performed such procedures as we, in our professional judgement, considered reasonable in the circumstances including:

- a review of the pro forma adjustments made to the historical financial performance
- a review of the assumptions used to compile the pro forma balance sheet
- a comparison of consistency in application of the recognition and measurement principles in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and the accounting policies adopted by Westpac in relation to the Merged Group, and
- enquiry of directors, management and others.

These procedures do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, thus the level of assurance provided is less than given in an audit. We have not performed an audit and, accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Review statements

Review statement on the St. George Historical Financial Information

Based on our review, which is not an audit, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that the St. George Historical Financial Information, as set out in Section 2.4 (a)-(d) of the Scheme Booklet does not present fairly:

- the historical financial performance of St. George for the years ended 30 September 2006 and 2007 and the half years ended 31 March 2007 and 2008; and
- the historical balance sheets of St. George as at 30 September 2006 and 2007 and 31 March 2007 and 2008 in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles prescribed in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and accounting policies adopted by St. George.

Review statement on the Westpac Historical Financial Information

Based on our review, which is not an audit, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that the Westpac Historical Financial Information, as set out in Section 4.9 (b)-(d) of the Scheme Booklet does not present fairly:

- the historical financial performance of Westpac for the years ended 30 September 2006 and 2007 and the half years ended 31 March 2007 and 2008; and
- the historical balance sheets of Westpac as at 30 September 2006 and 2007 and 31 March 2007 and 2008

in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles prescribed in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and accounting policies adopted by Westpac.

Limitation of scope of review of the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information

The directors of Westpac are responsible for the preparation of the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information, except that the Directors of St.George are responsible for the information regarding St.George provided to Westpac to prepare the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information. In preparing the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information no adjustments have been made to reflect the fair values of acquired assets and liabilities in accordance with AASB 3 Business Combinations as described in Section 4.9 (b)(vi) of the Scheme Booklet.

Accordingly, the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information does not contain adjustments to the reported amounts of assets and liabilities that will be required to reflect their fair values and in particular does not recognise the fair value of identifiable intangible assets separately to goodwill. Consequently the pro forma income statement of the Merged Group does not include amortisation charges that would be required in relation to any such identifiable intangible assets which have limited useful lives.

Review statement on the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information

Based on our review, which is not an audit, except for the limitation of scope described above, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that:

- the pro forma balance sheet of the Merged Group as at 31 March 2008 and the pro forma income statement of the Merged Group for the year ended 31 March 2008 have not been properly prepared on the basis of the pro forma transactions and adjustments;
- the pro forma transactions and adjustments do not form a reasonable basis for the pro forma balance sheet of the Merged Group as at 31 March 2008;
- the Merged Group Pro Forma Historical Financial Information does not present fairly
 - the pro forma historical income statement of the Merged Group for the year ended 31 March 2008; and
 - the pro forma balance sheet of the Merged Group as at 31 March 2008, in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles prescribed in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and accounting policies adopted by Westpac disclosed in Westpac's audited financial statements for the year ended 30 September 2007.

Subsequent events

Apart from the matters dealt with in this Report, and having regard to the scope of our Report, to the best of our knowledge and belief no material transactions or events outside of the ordinary business of Westpac and St.George have come to our attention that would require comment on, or adjustment to, the information referred to in our Report or that would cause such information to be misleading or deceptive.

Independence

PricewaterhouseCoopers Securities Ltd does not have any interest in the outcome of the merger of Westpac and St.George other than the preparation of this Report and participation in due diligence procedures for which normal professional fees will be received.

The Implementation Committee must meet as often as is reasonably required and at least once per week until the Disbandment Date.

7.5 No partnership

Subject to this Agreement, nothing in this clause 7 requires either party to act at the direction of the other. 8. Meetings and Court Approvals

8.1 Court refuses to make orders

- (a) If the Court refuses to make an order under sub-section 411(1) of the Corporations Act to convene a Scheme Meeting or to make an order to approve a Scheme under sub-section 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act, St.George must appeal the Court's decision to the fullest extent possible except where:

However, the parties acknowledge that, in practice, it may be difficult to determine the extent to which Share Splitting has occurred.
- (d) If, following the investigations under this clause 8.2, both parties consider that Share Splitting may have caused or materially contributed to the Headcount Test not having been satisfied then St.George must:
- (i) seek Court approval of the relevant Scheme under subsection 411(4)(b) of the Corporations Act, notwithstanding that the Headcount Test has not been satisfied; and

- (b) Nothing in paragraph (a) prevents St.George from continuing to make normal presentations to, and to respond to, enquiries from, brokers, portfolio investors and analysts in the ordinary course in relation to the Scheme or its business generally.

19.2 No-talk restriction

Subject always to clause 19.5, during the Exclusivity Period, St.George must ensure that neither it nor any of its Representatives negotiates or enters into, continues or participates in negotiations or discussions with any other person regarding a Competing Transaction, even if:

- (a) that person's Competing Transaction was not directly or indirectly solicited, initiated, or encouraged by St.George or any of its Representatives; or
- (b) that person has publicly announced their Competing Transaction.

19.3 No due diligence

Without limiting the general nature of clause 19.2 but subject always to clause 19.5, during the Exclusivity Period, St.George must not:

- (a) solicit, invite, facilitate or encourage any party (other than Westpac or its Representatives) to undertake a due diligence investigation on St.George or any of its Related Bodies Corporate; or
- (b) make available to any person (other than Westpac or its Representatives) or permit any such person to receive any non-public information relating to St.George or any of its Related Bodies Corporate.

This clause 19.3 does not prevent St.George providing information to the ASX or St.George's auditors and advisers acting in that capacity in the ordinary course of business or to otherwise effect the Transaction, SAINTS Scheme or Option Scheme.

19.4 Notification

Subject always to clause 19.5, during the Exclusivity Period, St.George must immediately inform Westpac if St.George is approached by any person to engage in any activity that would breach its obligations in clauses 19.1, 19.2 or 19.3 (or would breach its obligations in clauses 19.1, 19.2 or 19.3 if it were not for clause 19.5) and as soon as reasonably practicable provide in writing to Westpac:

- (a) the identity of that person; and
- (b) details of the expression of interest and/or proposal or proposed Competing Transaction made by the person making the approach.

19.5 Exceptions

The restrictions in clauses 19.2 and 19.3 and the notification obligations in clause 19.4 do not apply to the extent that they restrict St.George or the St.George Board from taking or refusing to take any action with respect to a bona fide Competing Transaction (which was not encouraged, solicited, invited, facilitated or initiated by St.George or the St.George Board in contravention of clause 19.1), or to the extent that they require St.George to provide the notification referred to in clause 19.4, provided that the St.George Board has determined, in good faith and acting reasonably, after having obtained written advice from its legal and, if appropriate, its financial advisers, that:

- (a) the Competing Transaction is a superior proposal to the Scheme, or would be a superior proposal to the Share Scheme if it is proposed; and
- (b) failing to respond to such bona fide Competing Transaction or providing the notification referred to in clause 19.4 (as applicable) would be likely to constitute a breach of the St.George Directors' fiduciary or statutory obligations.

20. Reimbursement of Westpac Costs

20.1 Acknowledgement

St.George acknowledges that the Westpac Group has incurred and will continue to incur significant costs in relation to the Transaction (Westpac Costs).

20.2 Reimbursement

- (a) Subject to clause 20.3, St.George agrees to reimburse Westpac $100 million (plus GST, if applicable) for the Westpac Costs if at any time after 8 September 2008 and before the Sunset Date any of the following occur and Westpac does not proceed to acquire 100% of the St.George Shares by the Sunset Date:
- (i) a Competing Transaction offering superior consideration (having regard to price, timing and conditionality) to that offered by Westpac under the Share Scheme (Competing Bid) is announced or open for acceptance and, whether before or within 12 months after the Sunset Date:
 - (A) pursuant to that Competing Bid, the bidder acquires a relevant interest in more than 50% of all St.George Shares; and
 - (B) the Competing Bid is free or becomes free from any defeating conditions;
 - (ii) a person other than Westpac (or a Related Body Corporate) acquires, or agrees to acquire (whether or not that agreement is conditional) the whole or a substantial part of St.George's assets, business or property, where an agreement in relation to that acquisition is entered into prior to the Sunset Date;
 - (iii) the St.George Directors (or any one or more of them) fails to make, or withdraws, a recommendation to St.George Shareholders in favour of the Share Scheme;
 - (iv) the St.George Directors (or any one or more of them) endorses or otherwise supports a proposal or offer to acquire the St.George Shares (whether by way of takeover bid, scheme of arrangement or otherwise) or to acquire the whole or a substantial part of St.George's assets, business or property, made by a person other than Westpac (or a Related Body Corporate); or
 - (v) Westpac terminates this Agreement pursuant to clause 16.1, provided that the prevention of the breach of the relevant term of this Agreement was within the control of St.George.
- (b) The reimbursement of Westpac Costs by St.George to Westpac provided for in this clause 20 must be made within two Business Days after the receipt by St.George of a written demand for payment from Westpac. The demand may only be made after the occurrence of an event referred to in clause 20.2(a). The obligation to reimburse under this clause 20 cannot be triggered more than once.
- (c) For the purposes of clause 20.2(a) above, qualifications and explanations contained in the Scheme Booklet in relation to a recommendation to vote in favour of the Share Scheme shall not be regarded as a failure to make or a withdrawal of a recommendation in favour of the Share Scheme.

20.3 Compliance with law

The reimbursement of Westpac Costs by St.George under this clause 20 is not required, or is refundable, to the extent that such reimbursement would be unlawful.

20.4 No other liability

St.George shall have no liability whatsoever for any breach of this Agreement which arises out of, or which relates to, an event or occurrence referred to in clause 20.2(a), other than for its liability to reimburse Westpac for costs under clause 20.2(a) (where that clause applies).

20.5 Termination by St.George

For the avoidance of doubt, no liability to reimburse Westpac for costs under clause 20.2(a) arises if St.George, being so entitled, terminates this Agreement under clause 16.1 or 16.3(c) because of a material breach by Westpac or the failure of a Share Scheme Condition in clause 3.1(m), 3.1(n) or 3.1(o).
