Independent Auditors' Report

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of SCORE Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2007, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity, change in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement. An audit includes examining on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of SCORE Securities, Inc., as of December 31, 2007, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I and II is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2007

Note A Organization and nature of business:

SCORE Securities, Inc. was incorporated in the State of Texas, in 1994. The corporation is a non-public broker-dealer in securities registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under (S.E.C.) Rule 15c3-3(K)(2)(ii) which provides that all the funds and securities belonging to the corporation's customers will be processed by a correspondent broker-dealer. The corporation's office is located in Fort Worth, Texas and its customers are generally located throughout the State of Texas. The corporation's main source of revenue is providing brokerage services to institutional clients.

The corporation's Statement of Financial Condition is prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America which require the use of management's best judgment and estimates. Estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the Statement of Financial Condition and accompanying notes may vary from the actual results.

Securities Transactions

Security transactions (and related commission revenues and expenses) are recorded on a settlement date basis, generally the third business day following the transactions. If timing is materially different, commission income and related expenses are recorded on a trade date basis.

Note B Clearing:

The corporation operates under a separate "Fully Disclosed Correspondent Agreement" with both the Broadcort Capital Corporation and the Capital Institutional Services, Inc. The corporation does not have custodial possession of customer accounts or securities, clears all proprietary and customer's securities transactions on through the respective clearing broker-dealer and is therefore, exempt under paragraph 15c3-3(k)(2)(ii) from the remaining provisions of SEC Rule 15c3-3. Any customer funds or securities received are promptly forwarded to the appropriate corporation's clearing broker-dealer.

The corporation's clearing agreements with its clearing broker-dealers contain an indemnification clause. This clause relates to instances where the corporation's customers fail to settle security transactions. In the event this situation might occur, the corporation will indemnify the clearing broker-dealer to the extent of the net loss on the unsettled trade. At December 31, 2007, management of the corporation had not been notified by the clearing broker-dealers, nor were they aware of any potential losses relating to this indemnification.

Note C Contingencies and commitments:

Contingencies - the corporation is subject to various claims and complaints arising in the ordinary course of operations. In the opinion of management, all such claims would be without merit, and an unfavorable disposition would not have a material effect on the financial position of the corporation. Further, the corporation anticipates no losses due to environmental issues or hazardous employee working conditions.

Note D Significant accounting policies:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America and requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Advertising costs are expenses as incurred. Total advertising costs for the year ended December 31, 2007 were $1505.

Depreciation-Fixed assets are carried at cost and depreciated over the estimated life of the assets on an accelerated method of depreciation.

Deferred Federal income taxes are recorded to reflect timing differences between "book basis" and "tax basis" accounting differences. The timing differences at December 31, 2007 were too small to be material. The company at December 31, 2007, had a net operating loss of approximately $415,000 which will be carried forward to offset future taxable income. This net operating loss will expire as follows:

2025	$ 193,000
2026	222,000
	$ 415,000

The tax benefit from the net operating loss carryforward of approximately $125,000 has not been reported in these financial because management believes it is likely that the carryforward will expire unused. Accordingly, the tax benefit has been offset by a valuation of the same amount.

Income taxes are provided for the tax effects of transactions reported in the financial statements and consist of taxes currently due. The provision for federal income taxes may differ from the expected amount using statutory rates because certain expenses included in the determination of net income are non-deductible for tax reporting purposes.

Note E Cash flows

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, the corporation considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The statement of cash flows was prepared using the indirect method.

Note F Related Party Transactions

During the current year $38,532 of accrued interest payable, related directly to the prior year end subordinated borrowings and owing to the sole shareholder was forgiven by the shareholder.

Note G Capital Stock:

The corporation has 10,000 authorized of $1 par value common stock and 1,000 shares issued and outstanding at December 31, 2007.

Note H Defined Benefit Pension Plan

The corporation had a defined benefit pension plan covering substantially all of its employees. The plan was terminated in a prior year. Termination expenses of $1,280 were paid in 2007.

Note I Net Capital Requirements:

The corporation is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. The rule of the "applicable" exchange also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1. At December 31, 2007, the corporation had net capital of $47,835, which was $42,835 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm on Internal Control
Required by SEC Rule 17a-5 for a Broker-Dealer Claiming
An Exemption from SEC Rule 15c3-3

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of SCORE Securities, Inc., for the year ended December 31, 2007, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11), and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any way for the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance, that assets for which the company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation of may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters, of internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies which rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used for anyone other than these specified parties.
