INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Board of Directors
Askar Corp.
Bloomington, Minnesota

We have audited the balance sheets of Askar Corp. as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the related statements of income, stockholders' equity and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's Management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly in all material respects, the financial position of Askar Corp. at December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the results of its operations, changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States.

ASKAR CORP.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1 - NATURE OF BUSINESS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Business - Askar Corp. (Askar) is registered as a broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. As of December 31, 2007, the Company is a registered broker-dealer in 50 states. Askar Corp's home office is in Bloomington, Minnesota.

The majority of Askar's commission revenue is earned from mutual fund and variable annuity investments executed on behalf of its customers. Askar also earns commissions on various life insurance products, annuity contracts, universal and variable life insurance policies, and securities transactions.

Commissions Receivable - Commissions receivable primarily represent accruals for amounts due from various mutual fund sponsors and life insurance companies. It is the Company's policy to use the reserve method to write-off uncollectible accounts. Management anticipates no substantial losses from present receivable balances. Therefore, there is no balance in the reserve at December 31, 2007 and 2006.

Marketable Securities - Marketable securities are carried at estimated market value.

Advertising - The Company expenses advertising costs as they are incurred.

Estimates - Management used estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could vary from the estimates that were used.

Concentrations of Credit Risk - Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of trade accounts receivables. Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade receivables are limited due to the large number customers comprising the Company's customer base and their dispersion across different industries.

Revenue Recognition - Commission revenue and related expense for mutual funds, variable annuity contracts, and securities transactions are recorded on a trade-date basis.

ASKAR CORP.

NOTE 2 - FORMATION OF HOLDING COMPANY/MANAGEMENT FEE

In January 2000, all of the outstanding stock of Askar Corp. was transferred to Askar Holding Company and Askar Corp. became a wholly owned subsidiary of Askar Holding Company. Askar Corp. has entered into a services agreement with Askar Holding Company for providing financial, legal, compliance, operations and accounting expertise, public relations, data processing, office space, purchasing and sale of services. $1,732,700 and $1,579,923 of Management Fees was paid for such services for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

NOTE 3 - STATEMENTS OF CASH FLOWS

Supplemental Disclosures of Cash Flow Information:	2007	2006
Cash Paid During the Year for:
Interest	$ -	$ -
Income Taxes	$ -	$ -

NOTE 4 - INFORMATION ON FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND RELATED RISKS

The Company sells securities and investments through representatives in many parts of the United States. Normal terms for commissions receivable are 30 days and the balances are generally low risk in relation to collectibility. No collateral is carried on the accounts receivable. The value of accounts receivable on the balance sheets is at face value, and if the accounts were to become uncollectible, the loss incurred would be the face value of the accounts.

NOTE 5 - INCOME TAXES

The Company files consolidated income tax returns with Askar Holding Company. Effective January 1, 2005 Askar Holding Company elected S-Corporation filing status. Askar Holding Company also elected to treat Askar Corporation as a Qualified S-Corporation Subsidiary. This election causes all items of income and expense to flow through to the owners of the Company. If the S-Corporation election had not been made, income tax expense would have been approximately $-0- and $40,000 for the years ending December 31, 2007 and 2006.

We have audited the financial statements of Askar Corp. for the periods ended December 31, 2007 and 2006 and have issued our report thereon dated January 18, 2008. As part of our audits, we made a study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards in the United States and Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. This study and evaluation included the accounting system, the procedures for safeguarding securities, and the practices and procedures followed by the client (i) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a) (11) and the reserve required by Rule 15c3-3(e); (ii) in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13; (iii) in complying with the requirement for prompt payment for securities of Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and (iv) in obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3. Rule 17a-5 states that the scope of the study and evaluation should be sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that any material weakness existing at the date of our examination would be disclosed. Under generally accepted auditing standards and Rule 17a-5, the purposes of such study and evaluation are to establish a basis for reliance thereon in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements, and to provide a basis for reporting material weaknesses in internal accounting control.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance concerning the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and concerning the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgments by management. However, for the purposes of this report under Rule 17a-5, the determination of weaknesses to be reported was made without considering the practicability of corrective action by management within the framework of a cost/benefit relationship.

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal accounting control. In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgment, carelessness, or other personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends on segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by management either with respect to the execution and recording of transactions or with respect to the estimates and judgments required in the preparation of financial statements. Further, projection of any evaluation of internal accounting control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, which was made for the purposes set forth in the first paragraph above and would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system and any that may have existed during the period, disclosed certain weaknesses that we believe to be material. Such weaknesses, with an indication of the corrective action taken or proposed, were as follows.

One person has the primary responsibility for most of the accounting and financial duties. As a result, many of those aspects of internal control which rely upon an adequate segregation of duties are, for all practical purposes, missing in your Company. We recognize that your Company probably is not large enough to make the employment of additional persons for the purpose of segregating duties practical from a financial standpoint, but we are required, under professional responsibilities, to call the situation to your attention.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the first paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the Commission's objectives.

We commend the management and staff of the Company for their assistance and cooperation during the audits. An audit imposes additional work on all personnel and we appreciate the effort by the management and staff of Askar Corp.

As was mentioned previously, these comments are made solely in the interest of establishing sound internal control procedures and improving the operation of the Company. We would be pleased to discuss these comments with you in detail and aid in the implementation if you so desire. Thank you for giving us the opportunity to serve you and we look forward to a continuing relationship with your firm.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the audit committee and management and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
