ACCOUNTANTS' AUDIT REPORT

Board of Directors
Kimberly Capital Corp.

I have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Kimberly Capital Corp. as of December 31, 2007 and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Kimberly Capital Corp. at December 31, 2007, and the results of their operations and cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

My audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III and IV is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in my opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

KIMBERLY CAPITAL CORP.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS.
DECEMBER 31, 2007

1. ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF BUSINESS:

The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). The Company is a New Jersey Corporation.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

a) The Company is engaged in a single line business as a securities broker-dealer.

b) Securities Transactions:

Proprietary securities transactions is regular-way trades are recorded on the trade date, as if they had settled. Profit and loss arising from all securities are entered into for the account and risk of the Company are recorded on a trade date basis. Customers' securities transactions are reported on the settlement date basis with related commission and expenses reported on the trade date basis.

c) Marketable Securities are valued at market value.

d) Commissions:

Commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade-date basis as securities transactions occur.

e) Income Taxes:

The Company has elected to have its income taxed under the provisions of Subchapter "S" of the Internal Revenue Code, Section 1372. Under those provisions, the Corporation does not pay federal income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the Shareholder is taxed on her share of the Company's taxable income. Deferred tax expenses or benefits are recognized in the financial statements for the changes in deferred tax liabilities or assets between years.

f) Depreciation:

Equipment is stated at acquisition cost. Depreciation is computed by the straight-line and various accelerated methods over the estimated useful life of the property. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expenses when incurred and renewals and betterments are capitalized.

The cost and related accumulated depreciation of assets sold, or otherwise disposed of, are eliminated from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is reflected in income.

3. FINRA DISTRIBUTION:

In 2007, the NASD and the NYSE Member Regulation consolidated. As a result, FINRA made a special one-time distribution to each of its members.

Board of Directors
Kimberly Capital Corp.

In planning and performing my audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Kimberly Capital Corp. (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2007, I considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine my auditing procedures for the purposes of expressing my opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), I have made a study of the practices and procedures that I considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital provisions under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, I did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payments for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related cost of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of the inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, I noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities that I consider to be a material weakness as defined above.

I understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objective referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and the practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on my study, I believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors, Management, the SEC, NASD and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation or registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.
