INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors
Wilbanks Securities, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Wilbanks Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2007 and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Wilbanks Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2007, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the Schedules I and II is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Wilbanks Securities, Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2007

1. Organization and Nature of Business

The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) operating under SEC Rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(ii) which provides that all the funds and securities belonging to the Company's customers would be handled by a clearing broker-dealer. In accordance with the provisions of this rule, the Company executes all of its customers' transactions on a fully-disclosed basis, through an unaffiliated clearing broker-dealer which carries the accounts and securities of the Company's customers.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The financial statements include the accounts of the Company. The Company is engaged in a single line of business as a securities broker-dealer, which comprises several classes of services, including principal transactions and agency transactions.

Securities Transactions

Profit and loss arising from all securities transactions entered into for the account and risk of the Company are determined using the specific identification method and are recorded on a settlement date basis.

Customer's securities transactions are reported on a settlement date basis with related commission income and expenses reported on a settlement date basis. The amounts recorded for commission and income and expense for customers' securities transactions approximate the amounts that would be recorded on a trade date basis.

Marketable securities are valued at market value, and securities not readily marketable are valued at fair value as determined by management.

Income Taxes

The Company has elected and been approved to be a subchapter S Corporation. Therefore, each shareholders proportionate share of income or loss is included on their personal return.

Depreciation

Depreciation is provided on an accelerated method of depreciation basis using estimated useful lives of three to seven years. For federal income tax purposes depreciation is computed under MACRS or written off under code section 179.

Wilbanks Securities, Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2007

Statement of Cash Flows

For purposes of the Statement of Cash Flows, the Company has defined cash equivalents as highly liquid investments, with original maturities of less than ninety days that are not held for sale in the ordinary course of business.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statement. Actual results could differ from those estimates

2. Pension and Other Postretirement Benefit Plans

The Company has a contributory defined-contribution retirement plan covering substantially all of its employees. The benefits are based on each employee's compensation. The Company has decided not to contribute to the plan for the year of 2007 during 2008. The employee is fully vested in the employer's contribution. During the year the contributions totaled $15,000.

The Company does not provide health and life insurance benefits to retired employees.

3. Financial Instruments

Accounting Policies

The financial instruments of the Company are reported in the statement of financial condition at market or fair values, or at carrying amounts that approximate fair values because of the short maturity of the instruments.

Financial Instruments With Off-Balance-Sheet Risk

In the normal course of business, the Company's customer activities involve the execution, settlement, and financing of various customer securities transactions. These activities may expose the Company to off-balance-sheet risk in the event the customer or other broker is unable to fulfill its contracted obligations and the Company has to purchase or sell the financial instrument underlying the contract at a loss.

The majority of the Company's transactions with off-balance-sheet risk are short-term in duration.

4. Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities in which counterparties primarily include broker-dealers, banks, and other financial institutions. In the event counterparties do not fulfill their obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The risk of default depends on the creditworthiness of the counterparty or issuer of the instrument. It is the Company's policy to review, as necessary, the credit standing of each counterparty.

Wilbanks Securities, Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2007

5. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1 (and the rule of the "applicable" exchange also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1). At December 31, 2007, the Company had net capital of $296,288, which was $267,002 excess of its required net capital of $29,286. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital ratio was 1.48 to 1.

The Company is exempt from the Securities and Exchange Commission Customer Protection Rules (SEC Rule 15c3-3), which relate to reserves and custody of securities, under section (k)(2)(ii) of this rule.

6. Related Party Transactions

The Company has business relationships with companies with common shareholders. During the year the Company received $3,000 from these entities for reimbursement of office rent, expenses and wages and $461,100 in Commission revenue.

At the end of the year the Company had a receivable of $7,000 from a related Company.

7. Contingencies and Subsequent events

The Company has been named in approximately 46 NASD Arbitrations involving claimants who allege a variety of damages as result of unspecified investments made with a former registered representative of the Company. The claims involve a Ponzi scheme which apparently began in 2000 roughly 4 years before the representative became associated with the Company. Some of the claims also allege damages as a result of alleged declines in accounts maintained with the Company based on investments made by the former representative.

In connections with the above arbitrations the Company has recorded legal fees, various filing fees and cost of approximately of $418,000 on its books. The Company has received approximately $315,000 in reimbursements from its insurance carrier as of December 31, 2007. Additionally, the Company has recorded an accounts receivable reimbursement from its insurance carrier of approximately $14,000 as of December 31, 2007. The Company was reimbursed for these claims in January 2008. The Company has included these receivables as allowed assets under its Net Capital Computation as described in note 5.

Wilbanks Securities, Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2007

The Company has denied the allegations and to contested the cases vigorously through arbitration.

In March 2008 the Company settled these various arbitration matters for $493,000. The Company was reimbursed by the insurance carrier for such cost and Company's management and legal counsel do not expect any material adverse effect on the financial position or results of operations of the Company because of these matters.

In connection with the above Company has also filed a suit against another broker/dealer involving their allowing a former representative to resign under investigation. The suit claims damages for fraud, misrepresentation, negligence, gross negligence, tortuous interference with a contract, tortuous interference with economic advantage, and misrepresentation. The other broker/dealer has also countered sued the Company. The Company denied allegations and intends to contest the case vigorously through arbitration

During 2006 an Arbitration award was made against the Company in the amount of $271,000 in connection with a dispute as to Commissions owed a former representative. The Company recorded a liability for the reward in 2006. During 2007 the Company has recorded an award for an additional $24,000 for attorney fees and has accrued additional interest of $25,000 on the award. In January 2008 the Company paid to the court the balance of the award of $337,000. The Company continues to appeal the Arbitration Award.

The Company is involved in a lawsuit with a former legal council alleging damages for failure to properly represent the Company in various litigation matters. The attorney has countered sued for his pass due fees of $22,000. The Company disputes the balance due the attorney and in managements' opinion the Company will not be liable for the fees.

Wilbanks Securities, Inc.

8. Regulatory Matters

In February 2007 the Company and its two principal officers and shareholders entered into an Acceptance, Waiver and Consent (AWC) with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (formerly NASD) concerning certain failures of inspections of non-branch locations, reporting of customer complaints and maintaining of emails and other communications in an easily accessible place.

Under the AWC the Company and its principals agreed to censure and a $25,000 fine.

In March 2007 the Company and its two principal officers and shareholders entered into an agreement with the Oklahoma Department of Securities (OSD).

Under the agreement the Company had to retain within 30 days an Independent Compliance Consultant acceptable to OSD's Administrator. After the consultant's review of the policies and procedures the Company is required to implement the consultants recommended changes and additions.

Additionally, the Company has agreed to an order of censure by the OSD Administrator and for a period of two years the Company will not register a new agent who has been the subject of a regulatory action or criminal actions registered on his U-4.

Under the agreement Randall Wilbanks accepts being censured and prohibited from the supervision and training of representatives, or certain other compliance duties. After a period of two years and after showing certain courses and test have been completed the restrictions will be removed from his principal registration. However, he shall be prohibited from conducting office inspections or take a position as Chief Compliance officer with any broker-dealer or investment advisor.

Under the agreement Aaron Wilbanks' registration as a principal was suspended for ten days. He was required to take and pass the series 24 exam and attend a course on compliance. Additionally, Mr. Wilbanks consented to a fine of $2,500.

The Company and its officers have complied with all requirements of the various agreements.

Independent Auditors Report

on Internal Control

Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

Year Ended December 31, 2007

JAMES DEE
JOHNSON & COMPANY

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS P.C.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

Board of Directors
Wilbanks Securities, Inc.
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Wilbanks Securities, Inc. (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2007, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the company in any of the following:

1. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and
2. Comparisons and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives.

Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
