Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

Board of Directors and Shareholder
Payden & Rygel Distributors

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Payden & Rygel Distributors (the "Company") as of December 31, 2008, and the related statements of operations, changes in shareholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. We were not engaged to perform an audit of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Payden & Rygel Distributors at December 31, 2008, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the accompanying supplemental schedules on pages 9 and 10 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2008

1. Organization

Payden & Rygel Distributors, a California corporation (the "Company"), was incorporated on February 13, 1992, and is a wholly owned subsidiary of Payden & Rygel (the "Parent"). The Company is a registered broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is also a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority. The Company serves as distributor of shares of the Payden & Rygel Investment Group and Metzler/Payden Investment Group, each a series of mutual funds (collectively, the "Funds"). The Funds are managed by the Parent and Metzler/Payden LLC, an affiliated company. The Company assists the Funds in marketing and advertising the availability of Fund shares and enters into agreements with third party broker-dealers to assist in the distribution of Fund shares. Purchases of Fund shares are made through these third party broker-dealers or directly from the Funds themselves. Proceeds from the sale of the Funds' shares are deposited directly with the Funds' transfer agent by the investor or by the third party broker-dealers and are not maintained in any customer account with the Company.

The Company does not carry customer accounts nor perform custodial functions related to customer securities and is, therefore, exempt from the provisions of Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The following is a summary of significant accounting and reporting policies:

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recorded when incurred.

Revenue Recognition

As the distributor of shares of certain funds of the Payden & Rygel Investment Group, the Company receives distribution fees from these funds which are recorded when earned. Distribution fees are based on a percentage of average net assets in these funds.

Payden & Rygel Distributors
(a wholly owned subsidiary of Payden & Rygel)

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

The Company earns service fee revenue under an agreement with the Parent. See Note 5.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expense during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

General and Administrative Expenses

General and administrative expenses consist of registration, marketing and professional fees.

New Accounting Pronouncements

On July 13, 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) released FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes (FIN 48). FIN 48 provides guidance for how uncertain tax positions should be recognized, measured, presented and disclosed in the financial statements. FIN 48 requires the evaluation of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the course of preparing a company's tax returns to determine whether the tax positions are "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained by the applicable tax authority. Tax positions not deemed to meet a more-likely-than-not threshold would be recorded as a tax expense in the current year. FIN 48, as deferred, is applicable for the Company effective December 31, 2009. The Company does not expect the adoption of this standard to have a significant impact on its results of operations and financial position.

3. Net Capital Requirements

Pursuant to the Uniform Net Capital requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission under Rule 15c3-1, the Company is required to maintain a minimum net capital, as defined. In addition, the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, cannot exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2008, the Company had net capital, as defined, of $64,046, which was

3. Net Capital Requirements (continued)

$59,046 in excess of its net required capital of $5,000. The ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 0 to 1 at December 31, 2008, and management believes that the Company was in compliance with the net capital requirements.

4. Income Taxes

The Company files its tax return on a consolidated basis with the Parent and has a tax-sharing agreement to compute income tax expense/benefit on a pro-rata basis.

Income taxes, if any, are provided for current taxes payable or refundable and temporary differences arising from future tax consequences of events that have been recognized in the Company's financial statements or income tax returns. The effect of income taxes is measured based on enacted tax laws and rates.

No income tax is recorded for the year ended December 31, 2008. There are no deferred taxes as of December 31, 2008.

5. Related Parties

The Company has an agreement with its Parent whereby the Parent may pay the Company a fee in connection with the expenses incurred by the Company. The amount and timing of payment are at the discretion of the Parent, but shall not exceed the total expenses incurred by the Company, and the timing of payment shall be such that the Company always maintains capital in excess of all regulatory requirements. Amounts due from the Parent are noninterest bearing. Under the terms of the agreement, the Company received $35,000 in 2008 from the Parent. The Company recognized $65,746 as service fee income from the Parent in the current year statement of operations.

6. Indemnifications

The Company enters into contracts that contain a variety of indemnifications. The Company's maximum exposure under these agreements is not estimable. However, the Company has not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expects the risk of a material loss to be remote.

Supplementary Report

Supplementary Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5(g)(1)

The Board of Directors
Payden & Rygel Distributors

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Payden & Rygel Distributors (the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2008, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States, we considered its internal control over financial reporting (internal control), as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. The study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies, or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2008, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified
