Independent Auditor's Report

Shareholders and Board of Directors
D.F.P. Equities, Inc.
Indianapolis, IN

I have audited the accompanying balance sheet of D.F.P. Equities, Inc as of June 30, 2009, and the related statement of income, retained earnings and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes the examining, and on a test basis, the evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as the evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that the audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly in, all material respects, the financial position of D.F.P. Equities, Inc. as of June 30, 2009, and results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended in conformity with general accepted accounting principles.

Board of Directors
D.F.P. EQUITIES, INC.
Indianapolis, IN

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of D.F.P. EQUITIES, INC. as required by Rule 17a-5(d) as of June 30, 2009 and for the year then ended, and have issued my report thereon dated August 15, 2009. As part of my audit, I examined the system of internal accounting control and the procedures for safeguarding securities to the extent that I consider necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards and by Rule 17-a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. In addition, I have reviewed the practices and procedures followed by the company.

1. In making the periodic computation of aggregate indebtedness and net capital as required by Rule 17a-3(a)(11).
2. In making the quarterly securities examination, counts, verifications and comparisons and the recording of differences required by Rule 17-1-13.
3. In complying with the requirement for prompt payment for securities of section 4(c) of Regulation T of the Board of Governor's of the Federal Reserve System.

Rule 17a-5 contemplates that the scope of the examination should be sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that any material weakness existing at the date of my examination would be disclosed. Under these standards and that rule, the purposes of such an evaluation are to establish a basis for and extent of other auditing procedures that are necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements and to provide a basis for reporting material weakness in internal control.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable but not absolute assurance as to the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets.

The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgments from management. However, for the purpose of this report under Rule 17-a-5, the cost of benefit relationship has been disregarded in determining the weakness to be reported.

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal accounting control. In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instruction, mistakes, or judgment error, carelessness or other personal factors.

Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be intentionally circumvented by management either with respect to the execution and recording of transactions or with respect to the estimates and judgments required in the preparation of financial statements. Further projections of any evaluation of internal accounting control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in condition and that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

My study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control for the year ended June 30, 2009 which was made for the purposes set forth in the first paragraph and would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system which may have existed during the period under review, disclosed no weaknesses that I believe to be material.

The company claims exemption from Rule 15c-3-3 under paragraph (k)(2)(A). Conditions of the exemption were being complied with as of the examination date and no facts came to my attention to indicate the exemption had not been complied with during the period under examination.

Respectfully,
