Independent Auditor's Report

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc. as of June 30, 2009, and the related statements of income (loss), changes in shareholders' equity, changes in subordinated borrowings, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc. as of June 30, 2009, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the schedules on pages 11 through 13 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements June 30, 2009

Note 1 - Significant Accounting Policies

Description of Business

Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc. (the "Company"), an Ohio Corporation, provides brokerage services specializing in the trading of municipal securities.

Accounting Method

The accounts of the Company are maintained on the accrual basis of accounting. Security transactions and related revenue and expense are recognized based on trade date basis, regardless of when the transactions are settled.

Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Statement of Cash Flows

Cash equivalents consist of demand deposits held by banks. Cash segregated under federal securities regulation for the benefit of customers is not included as a cash equivalent item. The Company paid interest of $5,068 during the year ended June 30, 2009. The Company did not pay any income taxes during the year ended June 30, 2009.

Securities Owned

Securities owned are valued using quoted market values observed in an active market. The resulting differences between cost and market are included in income. This mark to market loss during the year ended June 30, 2009 was $7,860 and is included under the caption "Net gain on security transactions."

Note 2 - Cash Segregated Under Federal Regulations

Cash of $39,576 has been segregated in a special reserve bank account for the benefit of customers under rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2009

Note 3 – Securities Owned

Securities owned consist of trading securities at quoted market value. Following is a summary of the investment as of June 30, 2009:

Corporate stocks	$ 31,965

Note 4 – Income Taxes

The Company files annual tax returns based on calendar year income rather than book income which is reported on a fiscal year basis. Accrued income taxes represent an estimate of taxes due on income for the six months ended June 30, 2009 plus any balances due from previously filed returns. Temporary differences giving rise to the deferred tax asset of $46,359 consist of unused federal net operating loss carryforwards of $283,430 that may be applied against future taxable income and that expire in the years 2024 through 2029 and unused local net operating loss carryforwards of $403,612 that expire in the years 2009 through 2014. The deferred tax asset was reduced by a $3,360 valuation allowance. The valuation allowance decreased by $940 during the year ended June 30, 2009. Management believes the valuation allowance is necessary due to a short carryforward period for local income tax. The allocation of income tax expenses (benefits) is as follows for the year ended June 30:

	2009
Current Local	$ -
Current Federal	-
Deferred Local, net of valuation allowance	(3,016)
Deferred Federal	(13,410)
	$ (16,426)

The Company has elected to defer FASB Interpretation No. 48 – Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes. The Company evaluated uncertain tax positions in accordance with literature that was authoritative immediately before the effective date of the new interpretation.

Note 5 – Note Payable – Officer

The Company has borrowed $100,000 from its majority shareholder. This note is subordinated to the claims of general creditors and matures on December 30, 2016. Interest is payable at the rate of 5% per year.

Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2009

Note 6 – Commitments

The Company is committed under an operating lease for the rental of office space. Annual payments under this agreement are shown below:

For The Years Ending June 30
2010	35,431
2011	5,905

Rental expenses for the year ended in 2009 were $40,435.

Note 7 - Net Capital Requirements

The Company is required to maintain a minimum net capital by SEC Rule 15c3-1. Net capital required under the rule is the greater of $250,000 or 6-2/3% of the aggregate indebtedness of the Company. On June 30, 2009, the Company had net capital of $340,923, which was $90,923 in excess of its required net capital of $250,000. The percentage of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 2.7%.

Note 8 - Reconciliation Pursuant To Rule 17a-5(d)(4)

Computation of Net Capital Under Rule 15c3-1

There were a few reconciling items between the June 30, 2009 unaudited Focus report and this report. The net effect on net capital was an increase of $147.

Net capital as reported on the unaudited Focus report of June 30, 2009	$ 340,776

Net Capital as Audited	$ 340,923

Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2009

Note 9 – Financial Instruments with Off-Balance Sheet Risk

As a securities broker and dealer, the Company is engaged in various securities trading, brokerage and clearing activities serving a diverse group of institutional and individual investors and other brokers and dealers. A substantial portion of the Company's transactions are collateralized and are executed with and on behalf of its clients. The Company's exposure to credit risk associated with nonperformance of these clients in fulfilling their contractual obligations pursuant to securities transactions can be directly impacted by volatile trading markets, which may impair the client's ability to satisfy their obligations to the Company.

The Company does not anticipate nonperformance by clients or counterparties in the above situations. The Company's policy is to monitor its market exposure and counterparty risk. In addition, the Company has a policy of reviewing, as considered necessary, the credit standing of each client and counterparty with which it conducts business.

Note 10 – Related Party Transactions

A substantial portion of the Company's revenues are derived from related individuals and from entities partially owned and managed by related individuals. During the year ended June 30, 2009, security sales to related individuals and entities were over 95% of all security sales. In addition, certain overhead costs of the Company are reimbursed by these affiliated entities. The reimbursement of overhead costs amounted to $46,100 in the year ended June 30, 2009.

To the Board of Directors of
Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc. as of and for the year ended June 30, 2009, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities and including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g), in the following:

1. Making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3(e)
2. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
4. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by rule 15c3-3

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principals. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

To the Board of Directors of
Fox, Reusch & Co., Inc.
Page Two

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. We did identify a material weakness related to the control over the selection and application of accounting principles in conformity with GAAP. This weakness does not affect our report on these financial statements nor the internal control or control activities for safeguarding securities.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at June 30, 2009, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the FINRA, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
