IMPORTANT

This material is not an invitation to make a deposit with Man AHL Diversified Futures Limited (the 'Company') nor does it constitute an offer for sale of shares issued by the Company. Man Investments is authorised and regulated in the UK by the Financial Services Authority. There is no guarantee of trading performance and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future results.

It should be noted that the majority of the products that include AHL are priced on a monthly basis and it is this pricing, therefore, that forms the basis of the majority of performance fees earned. However, the products that are priced on a weekly basis give a more up-to-date indication of the progress of AHL. It should also be noted that whilst the products that will be reported have been chosen to be indicative of the typical AHL product, the performance of the individual products do vary. The product that will be reported weekly will be Man AHL Diversified Futures Ltd. Its price is calculated based on the close of business each Monday and its price will be published after close of business London time on Tuesday of each week. The product that will be published on a monthly basis will be Athena Guaranteed Futures Limited, which is priced based on the close of business on the last business day of each month. Its price will be released by 7am on the third business day of each month. Man will release the latest twelve month performance and the performance since inception figures for its representative AHL funds for comparative purposes, calculated using the last weekly valuation for each month, at the time the last weekly figures for the month are published.

The prices of this and other AHL products are also reported in the Financial Times and the International Herald Tribune, in addition to data services such as Reuters, Bloomberg, Micropal and Telekurs, as well as on the web site of Man Investments at www.maninvestments.com.

Press Release

14 January 2009

THIRD QUARTER INTERIM MANAGEMENT STATEMENT

Man Group plc makes the following Interim Management Statement for its third quarter ending 31 December 2008.

Peter Clarke, Group Chief Executive, will host a conference call for investors and analysts at 08:00 GMT this morning. Access numbers for the call are included at the end of this release.

Market conditions in the three months to 31 December continued to be extremely challenging, with high volatility, low levels of liquidity, limited availability of leverage and year-end redemptions by many investors. While Man is not immune from these conditions, their impact has been mitigated by continued private investor demand for conservatively structured products and Man's leadership in the strongly performing managed futures style.

The initiative announced in November to protect investor capital by reducing investment exposure across the MGS product range is substantially complete. This accounted for a reduction of $9.7 billion in Funds Under Management (FUM) in the period, the majority of the total decrease.

- FUM at 31 December 2008 was an estimated $53.3 billion, compared to $67.6 billion at 30 September 2008. Private investor FUM was $32.3 billion and institutional FUM $21.0 billion.
- The principal cause of FUM reduction in the period was the previously announced de-risking of the MGS product range and the associated rebalancing of these products. This rebalancing is required to maintain an appropriate overall balance of investment styles within each MGS product in accordance with the investment mandate, and related predominantly to AHL allocations. The overall effect was to reduce FUM by $9.7 billion in the quarter. From an MGS investor perspective, investment exposure has been quickly and efficiently reduced, product assets have been preserved and all capital guarantees remain effective in accordance with product terms.
- Private investor sales for the three months to December 2008 remained robust, at an estimated $2.7 billion. This includes $0.6 billion of client money raised in the November IP220 product launch, reflecting continued investor demand for principal protection and access to the managed futures style through AHL. Private investor redemption levels increased in the period to $3.8 billion, principally in open-ended products. Guaranteed products had a small net inflow in the quarter and open-ended products a net outflow.
- Investors saw overall positive investment movement of $1.2 billion in the quarter, driven by strong AHL performance, up 22% for the quarter and 25% for the calendar year¹. The continued positive performance of AHL has generated substantial net performance fee income for shareholders in the third quarter.
- The institutional sales environment remains very subdued. Estimated sales of $0.4 billion and continued redemptions in the quarter resulted in a net outflow of $2.1 billion. RMF saw negative performance of 7% for the quarter, but was ahead of industry benchmarks both for the quarter and the calendar year.

- Other movements, including the FX translation effect associated with a strengthening dollar and maturities, were a negative $2.6 billion.

Peter Clarke, Group Chief Executive of Man Group, said:

"The outlook for global markets in 2009 remains uncertain and, against this backdrop, our private investors are likely to focus increasingly on principal protection and liquidity. Our products are designed to provide long-term investment exposure to a range of strategies capable of performing across the market cycle. We have pro-actively positioned investors' existing portfolios for these markets by reducing risk and balancing exposures to reflect the mandate of the products. We have delivered material positive performance for our investors overall in the quarter and generated significant performance fees for our shareholders, despite difficult markets. The flexibility of our product range allows us to tailor our forward sales pipeline to meet the strong demand for managed futures, by offering AHL guaranteed products across the wide geography of our investor base.

"The outlook for institutional sales remains very subdued in the short term and continued institutional redemptions mean that we will see institutional net outflows until markets stabilise and confidence returns.

"Through these turbulent markets we have preserved financial resources, maintained surplus capital and acted to protect investors. Looking further ahead, our international scale and track record will continue to afford us market access and investment opportunities, reinforcing our leading competitive position."
