Board of Directors and Shareholder
Scarborough Securities Corporation

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Scarborough Securities Corporation as of December 31, 2008 and the related statements of operations, changes in shareholder's equity and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Scarborough Securities Corporation as of December 31, 2008 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on page 8 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2008

1 Significant accounting policies

Organization

Scarborough Securities Corporation (the "Company") was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York on June 10, 1997, and commenced operations on February 4, 1998. During 1998, the Company registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to Section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The Company concentrates its business activities as a broker of variable life insurance policies and annuity contracts. The Company, which is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"), carries no customer funds or securities and therefore is exempt from Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Income taxes

The Company, with the consent of its shareholder, has elected under the Internal Revenue Code to be taxed as an S corporation for federal income tax purposes. In lieu of corporation income taxes, the shareholders of an S corporation are generally taxed on their proportionate share of the Company's taxable income. Therefore, no provision or liability for income taxes has been included in the accompanying financial statements. A similar election has also been made for New York State purposes.

The Company has elected the cash basis of accounting for Federal and New York State income tax purposes.

The income tax returns of the Company are subject to examination by federal, state and city taxing authorities. Such examinations could result in adjustments to net income or loss, which changes could affect the income tax liability of its shareholder.

Revenue recognition

Revenue, which consists principally of commissions on variable life insurance policies and annuity contracts, is recognized when earned and no longer subject to renegotiation or refund.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recent accounting pronouncements

The adoption of recently effective accounting standards did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statements nor does the Company believe that any other recently issued, but not yet effective, accounting standards will have a material effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations when adopted.

2 Net capital requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital Rule (15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15:1. The rule also provides that capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting ratio would exceed 10:1. At December 31, 2008, the Company had net capital of $11,050, which was $6,050 in excess of its required minimum net capital of $5,000.

3 Related party transactions

The Company has entered into an agreement with Scarborough Alliance Corporation ("Alliance"), an entity that is wholly owned by the Company's sole shareholder, in which Alliance acts as the sales agent of variable life insurance policies and annuity contracts on behalf of the Company. Alliance is the insurance agency licensed by the various states in which the Company conducts business and, as required by state insurance law, is responsible for the billing and collection of the commission revenue earned by the Company. The Company pays Alliance a commission for its services. All of the Company's commissions receivable is due from Alliance.

The Company occupies office space and utilizes personnel and services provided by Alliance as part of its commission agreement with Alliance as described above. The financial condition and results of operations of the Company, as reported, are not necessarily indicative of the results that would have been reported had the Company operated completely independently.

4 Indemnifications

In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain a variety of indemnifications. The Company's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown. The Company does not anticipate recognizing any loss relating to these arrangements.

Board of Directors and Shareholder
Scarborough Securities Corporation

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY RULE 17a-5 OF THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION FOR A BROKER-DEALER CLAIMING AN EXEMPTION FROM RULE 15c3-3

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Scarborough Securities Corporation (the "Company"), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2008, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Hays & Company LLP

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2008, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
