Mr. Stan Whittlesey
President
EBH Securities, Inc.
Indianapolis, Indiana

I have audited the accompanying balance sheet of EBH Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2008, and the related statements of income, cash flows and changes in stockholder's equity for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of EBH Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2008, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

My audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information presented on pages 7-9 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements; and, in my opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2008

1. NATURE OF THE ORGANIZATION

EBH Securities, Inc. is located in Indianapolis, Indiana and was established on May 10, 1994 as a securities broker.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

EBH Securities, Inc. prepares its financial statements on the accrual basis of accounting where revenues are recognized when they are earned and expenses are recognized when they are incurred.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Purchased furniture and office equipment are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is recognized using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives of seven years and five years respectively.

For the statement of cash flows, investments with a maturity date of 90 days or less are considered to be cash equivalents.

REPORT ON THE INTERNAL CONTROL STRUCTURE

Mr. stan Whittlesey
President
EBH Securities, Inc.
Indianapolis, Indiana

In planning and performing my audit of the financial statements of EBH Securities, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2008, I considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine my auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing my opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, I have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by EBH Securities, Inc. that I considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregated indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11). I did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the monthly securities examination, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security account customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use of disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

My consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. My study and evaluation disclosed that no material weakness exists. This evaluation was considered in determining the nature, timing and extent of the procedures to be performed in my audit of the financial statements of EBH Securities, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2008. In addition, no facts came to my attention which would indicate the Company was not in compliance with its type k (2)(i) and k (2)(ii) exemptions from the requirements of SEC Rule 15c3-3. However, it should be noted that my examination was not directed primarily toward obtaining knowledge of such noncompliance.

I understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulation, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on my study, I believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2008 to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.
