Report of Independent Certified Public Accountant

John R. Marsden, proprietor
JRM Securities

I have audited the accompanying balance sheet of JRM Securities (a proprietorship) as of December 31, 2008, and the related statements of income, changes in proprietor's capital, and cash flows for the year then ended plus the other statements required by National Association of Security Dealers (change in financial condition, computations of net capital and aggregate indebtedness). These financial statements are the responsibility of the Owner. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by the owner, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above, plus the other statements required by the National Association of Securities Dealers (change in financial condition, computation of net capital and aggregate indebtedness), present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of JRM Securities as of December 31, 2008, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2008

Note A - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A summary of the significant accounting policies consistently applied in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements follows.

1. Nature of Operations and Basis of Accounting

JRM Securities, a sole proprietorship, is a local securities broker-dealer which is located in Erie, Pennsylvania. The Proprietorship's financial statements are presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The accompanying financial statements have been prepared solely from the accounts of JRM Securities. The clients of the Proprietorship are primarily located in the tri-state area.

2. Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Proprietorship's policy is to invest cash to meet its NASD minimum net capital in income producing investments. Temporary cash investments of $50,534 at December 31, 2008, consist of a certificate of deposit which is stated at cost which approximates market.

The Proprietorship maintains its cash balances in one financial institution located in Erie, Pennsylvania. Accounts at the institution are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $100,000.

3. Receivables

The Proprietorship considers accounts receivable to be fully collectible; accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts is required. If amounts become uncollectible, they will be charged to operations when that determination is made.

4. Property and Equipment

Depreciation of property and equipment, net of $1,464 salvage value, is provided on the straight-line method. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged against operations. Renewals and betterments that materially extend the life of the asset are capitalized.

Note A - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies - Continued

5. Income Taxes

The proprietorship itself is not a taxpaying entity for purposes of federal and state income taxes. Federal and state income taxes of the proprietor are computed on his total income from all sources; accordingly, no provision for income taxes is made in these statements.

6. Revenue Recognition

The Proprietorship, for purposes of this financial, recognizes revenue and expenses using the accrual method of accounting whereby revenue is recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred.

7. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the proprietor to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note B - Capital Requirements

JRM Securities is subject to the net capital requirements applicable to the business it is engaged in under The Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). Every broker-dealer with a business limited to mutual funds and variable annuities shall maintain a minimum net capital of $5,000 and shall notify the Self Regulatory Organization, the National Exchange and the Securities and Exchange Commission if the broker-dealer's net capital is less than the required minimum.

Independent Accountant's Report on Internal Accounting Controls Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

Board of Directors
JRM Securities

In planning and performing my audit of the financial statements and supplementary information of JRM Securities (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2008, I considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), I have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that I considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, I did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following: 1) Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons; 2) Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13, or, 3) Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling the responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

My consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that I consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

I understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purpose. Based on this understanding and on our study, I believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2008, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD), and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
