Board of Directors
Brandon Investments, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Brandon Investments, Inc. (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2008, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
3. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customer as required by Rule 15c3-3

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2008, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, FINRA, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Board of Directors
Brandon Investments, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Brandon Investments, Inc., as of December 31, 2008, and the related statements of income and expenses, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Brandon Investments, Inc. at December 31, 2008, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2008

Note 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Brandon Investments, Inc. was organized on July 16, 1982, as a support organization of its affiliate corporation, Brandon Financial Planning, Inc. The company sells securities, life insurance, annuities, and other types of investments that would be recommended by its affiliate. The company derives its income from commissions on those sales.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, the company considers cash equivalents to include all highly liquid temporary interest-bearing deposits having an original maturity of three months or less.

Deferred income taxes are provided for the timing differences between financial statement and income tax reporting.

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is computed over the estimated useful lives of the assets using accelerated methods.

Note 2: RELATED PARTIES

Substantial managerial services, office facilities, and other benefited are provided by the company to Brandon Financial Planning, Inc., which is affiliated with the company through common ownership and control. There were no financial transactions between the companies except as outlined in Note 3.

Note 3: ADMINISTRATIVE OVERHEAD REIMBURSEMENT

This income item represents an allocation of the costs incurred by the company, as explained in Note 2 above. Many of the items of expense overlap between the two corporations, making it virtually impossible to separate them without cumbersome and time consuming time and/or other records. The allocations are based on percent of total income, which appears reasonable, according to management.

Note 4: PENSION PLAN

Brandon Investments, Inc. maintains a profit sharing plan for all eligible employees. Employees are eligible to participate in the plan upon attaining the age of 21 years, and completing 12 months active service. Vesting begins with the second year of service and participants become fully vested after six years. Contributions, based on established percentages of eligible paid compensation, amounted to $171,000 in 2008.

Note 5. INCOME TAX

Income taxes are provided for the effects of transactions reported in the financial statements and consist of taxes currently due plus deferred taxes, related primarily to differences between financial and income tax reporting (cash basis). The deferred tax assets and liabilities represent the future tax return consequences of those differences which will be either taxable or deductible when the assets and liabilities are recovered or settled. Deferred taxes also are recognized for operating losses that are available to offset future taxable income.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities consist of the following:

Deferred tax liabilities	$ 4,247
Deferred tax assets	(3,251)
Net deferred tax liability	$ 996
