To the Board of Directors
Stout Causey Capital Corporation
Sparks, Maryland

We have audited the financial statements of Stout Causey Capital Corporation for the year ended December 31, 2009, and have issued our report thereon dated February 22, 2010. Professional standards require that we provide you with information about our responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information in our letter to you dated January 6, 2010. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

Significant Audit Findings

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. In accordance with the terms of our engagement letter, we will advise management about the appropriateness of accounting policies and their application. The significant accounting policies used by Stout Causey Capital Corporation are described in Note 1 to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted and the application of existing policies was not changed during 2009. We noted no transactions entered into by the Company during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. There are no significant transactions that have been recognized in the financial statements in a different period than when the transaction occurred.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimates affecting the financial statements were:

Management's estimate that an allowance for doubtful accounts is unnecessary based on their review and analysis of the collectability of accounts receivable.

We evaluated key factors and assumptions used related to not having an allowance for doubtful accounts in determining that they are reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

The disclosures in the financial statements are neutral, consistent, and clear. Certain financial statement disclosures are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosures affecting the financial statements were:

The disclosure of related party transactions, which summarizes the transactions entered into with related parties.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and to communicate them to the appropriate level of management. There were no misstatements detected as a result of audit procedures and management has represented that they are not aware of any uncorrected misstatements.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated February 22, 2010. There is a copy of this letter available in the corporate office.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principal to the Company's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Audit Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management prior to retention as the Company's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our selection.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors and management of Stout Causey Capital Corporation and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties. We welcome any questions that you may have, and look forward to continuing our relationship with Stout Causey Capital Corporation.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of
Stout Causey Capital Corporation

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Stout Causey Capital Corporation (a Maryland corporation) (the Company) as of December 31, 2009 and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Stout Causey Capital Corporation as of December 31, 2009, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Stout Causey Capital Corporation

Notes to Financial Statements For the Year Ended December 31, 2009

1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Stout Causey Capital Corporation (the Company) was incorporated in the State of Maryland and is a broker/dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). The Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of SC&H Group, Inc. (the Parent).

Revenue Recognition

The Company provides consulting services related to mergers and acquisitions and business performance enhancement to organizations. The Company works on both a contingent fee and hourly fee basis. For contingent fee services, revenue is recognized upon settlement of a transaction. Hourly fees are billed on a monthly basis and revenue is recognized upon issuance of an invoice.

Cash and Credit Risk

The Company defines cash equivalents as cash held in checking accounts.

Cash held in banks may at times be in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insurance limit and management considers those circumstances to be a normal business risk.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable represents hourly fees earned on activities that occurred prior to and paid after December 31, 2009.

The company provides credit in the normal course of business to its customers and performs ongoing credit evaluations of those customers. Receivables are generally due thirty days after they are billed. The Company considers allowances for doubtful accounts based on factors surrounding the credit risk of specific customers, historical trends, projection of trends, and other information. Management of the Company periodically reviews the collectability of accounts receivable, and those accounts which are considered not collectable are written off as bad debts. As of December 31, 2009, the Company considers accounts receivable to be fully collectable; accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts is required.

Income Taxes

The Company is a Qualified Sub-Chapter S-Corporation of SC&H Group, Inc., thus income is passed through to the Parent. The Parent is an S-Corporation for Federal and State income tax purposes. In lieu of corporation income taxes, the stockholders of the S-Corporation are taxed on their proportionate share of the Company's taxable income or loss. Therefore, no provision or liability for Federal or State income taxes has been provided in these financial statements.

Stout Causey Capital Corporation

1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - cont'd.

The Company follows the FASB Accounting Standards Codification, which provides guidance on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprise's financial statements. As of December 31, 2009, the Company had no uncertain tax positions that qualify for either recognition or disclosure in the Company's financial statements.

Retirement Plan

The Parent maintains a 401(K) savings plan. Within Plan limits, the Company may contribute on behalf of each eligible participant a matching percentage of participant contributions. The Company elected to not contribute to the Plan for year ended December 31, 2009.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

2. REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and a maximum ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital. The Rule provides that minimum net capital shall exceed $5,000 and that aggregate indebtedness shall not exceed 8 times "net capital" as these terms are defined by the Rule. As of December 31, 2009, net capital was $598,923 which exceeds the capital requirements of $12,795 by $586,128. Aggregate indebtedness was $102,361 which is 0.17 times net capital. As of December 31, 2009, the Company is in compliance with these rules.

Stout Causey Capital Corporation

3. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company shares office space and personnel with affiliated companies. At the discretion of management, certain personnel expenses are charged to the Company. During the year ended December 31, 2009, personnel costs totaling approximately $950,072 were charged to the Company.

The Parent is obligated to pay all indirect expenses of the Company. The Company maintains an intercompany balance with the Parent and is responsible for settling all liabilities to the Parent for the Company's portion of such costs. This agreement affects the Company's financial position and operating results in a manner that differs from those that might have been achieved if the Company was autonomous.

The Company maintains an operating cash account from which all direct expenses of the Company are paid.

4. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Company has evaluated events and transactions subsequent to December 31, 2009 through February 22, 2010, the date these financial statements were available to be issued. Based on the definitions and requirements of generally accepted accounting principles, management has not identified any events that have occurred subsequent to December 31, 2009 and through February 22, 2010 that require recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL
REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2009

To the Board of Directors of
Stout Causey Capital Corporation

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Stout Causey Capital Corporation (a Maryland Corporation) (the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2009 in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemption provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Smith Elliott Kearns & Company, LLC
Certified Public Accountants & Consultants

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2009, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and other regulatory that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
