INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Kuykendall & Schneider, Inc., as of December 31, 2009 and 2008, and the related statements of operations, change in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Kuykendall & Schneider, Inc., as of December 31, 2009 and 2008, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedule I is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the Years Ended December 31, 2009 and 2008

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES

Kuykendall & Schneider, Inc. (the Company) has a contract with Northeast Securities, Inc. to act as an intermediary for the Company. Northeast Securities, Inc. will arrange for execution and settlement of orders for customers of the Company and RBC Dain Correspondent Services, a division of RBC Dain Rauscher (RBC Dain CS) will clear those transactions. Northeast Securities, Inc. provides services required by broker/dealers concerning securities trades and accounts.

No separation of assets and liabilities as between current and non-current is made since, for a brokerage, such distinction has little meaning and requires arbitrary decisions. Such practice is generally accepted in the industry.

Securities transactions (and the related commission revenue) are recorded on a trade date basis.

The Company has elected self-insurance as to certain risks. Any losses are recorded when determinable. No losses were recorded during the years ending December 31, 2009 and 2008.

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 2: FEDERAL INCOME TAX

The Company has elected to be taxed as an S corporation. Gains and losses are included in the personal income tax returns of the stockholders and taxed depending on their personal tax strategies. Accordingly, the Company has no provision for current or deferred income taxes.

NOTE 3: COMMITMENT AND CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

The Company has a health and accident plan covering eligible employees. Such plan calls for the Company to reimburse allowable medical expenses subject to a limit of $2,500 per employee per plan year. The plan also specifies that each employee pay 25% of the allowable medical expenses. Expense for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 was $1,391 and $2,248, respectively, and is included in Other Operating Expense. This plan was replaced in 2009 with a Health Savings Account.

NOTE 4: RESTRICTIONS OF RETAINED EARNINGS

Pursuant to net capital provisions of various regulatory agencies, the Company is required to maintain certain minimum net capital as defined under such provisions. Such rules may effectively restrict the payment of dividends.

We have audited the financial statements of Kuykendall & Schneider, Inc., for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008, and have issued our opinion dated January 26, 2010. As a part of our audit, we reviewed and tested the Company's system of internal control (including the accounting system procedures for safeguarding securities and the practice and procedures employed quarterly in accounting for securities and resolving securities differences as required by Rule 17a-13) to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards. Under these standards the purpose of such evaluation is to establish a basis for reliance thereon in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other auditing procedures that are necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements.

The objective of internal control is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance as to the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgments by management.

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal control. In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgment, carelessness, or other personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon the segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by management with respect either to the execution and recording of transactions or with respect to the estimates and judgments required in the preparation of financial statements. Further, projection of any evaluation of internal control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, and that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation of the Company's system of internal control (including the accounting system procedures for safeguarding securities and the practice and the procedures employed quarterly in accounting for securities and resolving securities differences as required by Rule 17a-13) for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008, which was made for the purpose set forth in the first paragraph above, would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system. Our study and evaluation disclosed no conditions that we believe to be material inadequacies as defined in paragraph (g)(3) of Rule 17a-5.

We wish to thank your staff for the courtesy and cooperation extended our representative during the course of the audit.
