To the Board of Directors
Mutual Money Investments, Inc.
d.b.a Tri-Star Financial

In planning and performing our audit of Mutual Money Investments, Inc. d.b.a. Tri-Star Financial (the Company), as of and for the year ended January 31, 2010, in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards as established by the Auditing Standards Board (United States), we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by Rule 15c3-3(e). Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.
3. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities and company assets that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at January 31, 2010, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, FINRA and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Mutual Money Investments, Inc.
d.b.a. Tri-Star Financial

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Mutual Money Investments, Inc. d.b.a. Tri-Star Financial as of January 31, 2010, and the related statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in stockholders' equity, changes in subordinated note payable, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Mutual Money Investments, Inc. d.b.a. Tri-Star Financial as of January 31, 2010, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II and III is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

MUTUAL MONEY INVESTMENTS, INC.
d.b.a. Tri-Star Financial
Notes to Financial Statements
January 31, 2010

1. Basis of presentation and summary of significant accounting policies

Mutual Money Investments, Inc. (MMII) d.b.a. Tri-Star Financial is a fully-disclosed broker-dealer engaged in the brokerage of fixed income securities and jumbo certificates of deposit. The Company operates on a fully-disclosed basis which means all brokerage transactions are cleared through and all customer accounts are carried by another broker-dealer, Southwest Securities, Inc. Fixed income securities brokered are primarily fixed/variable rate mortgage backed securities including collateralized mortgage obligations and securities issued by the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA), Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA) and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (FHLMC.) The Company's customers are located throughout the United States and consist of institutional investors and individuals.

The accompanying financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and with generally accepted accounting practices within the broker dealer industry. The following is a description of the more significant accounting policies.

Revenue and expense recognition

The Company utilizes the accrual basis of accounting. Commission income and associated expenses are recorded on a trade date basis.

Commissions receivable

The Company extends credit to its customers on an unsecured basis consistent with practices in the broker dealer industry. Commissions receivable are due from the Company's clearing broker for bonds brokered to customers throughout the United States. As of January 31, 2010, commissions' receivable due from broker dealers totaled $23,076.

Investment securities

The Company classifies its investment in debt securities as trading securities since they are bought and held principally for the purpose of selling them in the near term. Trading securities are carried at fair value based on market quotations with unrealized gains and losses reported in earnings. Interest income, including amortization of the premium and discount arising at acquisition, is included in earnings.

1. Basis of presentation and summary of significant accounting policies - continued

The Company's marketable equity securities are classified as available-for-sale. Marketable securities are carried at their aggregate market value with unrealized gain or loss reflected as a separate component of stockholders' equity. Realized gains and losses are recognized in the statement of income using cost determined under the specific identification method. The Company's investment in available-for-sale securities amounted to $5,397 as of January 31, 2010 and is included in other assets on the balance sheet.

Fixed assets

Fixed assets are stated at cost and depreciation is recorded on a straight-line basis using estimated useful lives of three to eight years. The cost of ordinary maintenance and repairs is charged to expense while major replacements are capitalized. Accumulated depreciation totaled $531,601 as of January 31, 2010.

Federal income tax

The Company uses of the asset and liability approach for financial accounting and reporting for income taxes. The provision for income taxes includes federal income taxes currently payable and those deferred because of temporary differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities due to differences in tax versus financial statement depreciation. The amount of current and deferred taxes payable or refundable is recognized as of the date of the financial statements, utilizing currently enacted tax laws and rates. Deferred tax expenses or benefits are recognized in the financial statements for the changes in deferred tax liabilities or assets between years.

MUTUAL MONEY INVESTMENTS, INC.
d.b.a. Tri-Star Financial
Notes to Financial Statements
January 31, 2010

1. Basis of presentation and summary of significant accounting policies – continued

The Company recognizes and measures its unrecognized tax benefits in accordance with US GAAP standards which requires the Company to assess the likelihood that tax positions (based on their technical merit) will be sustained upon examination based on the facts, circumstances and information available at the end of each period. The measurement of unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted when new information is available, or when an event occurs that requires a change. Because the Company used all of its prior year net operating loss to offset current year earnings, there are no uncertain tax positions as of January 31, 2010.

Statement of cash flows

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. Cash payments for interest totaled $52,556 for the year ended January 31, 2010. No federal income tax deposits were made by the Company during the current year.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Credit risk

The Company is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities in which counter parties primarily include broker-dealers, banks and other financial institutions. In the event counter parties do not fulfill their obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The risk of default depends on the credit worthiness of the counter party or issuer of the instrument. It is the Company's policy to review the credit standing of each counter party.

MUTUAL MONEY INVESTMENTS, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

January 31, 2010

2. Cash

Cash consists of deposits with the Company's clearing broker and various financial institutions. At January 31, 2010 the Company had deposits in the amount of $546,124 with the clearing broker which were not covered by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC.) Additionally, included in the Deposits with Clearing Organization and Others financial statement caption are deposits in the amount of $346,272 at January 31, 2010 which were not FDIC insured.

3. Income taxes

The provision for federal income tax includes the following:

Current tax	$62,161
Deferred tax	31,546
Total	$93,707

The current tax provision was reduced by $32,142 for the benefit provided by the utilization of net operating loss carryforwards. At January 31, 2010, deferred tax liabilities recognized for taxable temporary differences total $11,129. Application of statutory tax rates to pre-tax income differs from the above tax provision primarily due to non-deductible meals and entertainment expenses for tax purposes.

4. Notes Payable

The Company has a long-term note payable to a bank due in monthly installments of $752 including interest at 7.75% through June, 2012 unless earlier demand is made by the bank. The note is secured by office equipment and the guarantees of two shareholders.

Aggregate maturities of long-term debt until maturity (assuming earlier demand is not made) are as follows for the years ending January 31:

2011	$ 8,340
2012	3,273
Total	$11,613

5. Subordinated Note Payable

During the year ending January 31, 2010, the Company paid off its short-term subordinated loan with an affiliate in the amount of $250,000 plus interest in the amount of $25,000.

6. Leases

Approximate future aggregate annual rentals for office space and equipment as of January 31, 2010 under renewable operating leases with initial noncancellable terms in excess of one year are listed below for the years ending January 31:

2011	$119,354
2012	108,574
Total	$227,928

The Company has the option of renewing the office lease for two consecutive 5 year terms. Additionally, the Company leases trading software from a vendor. Total lease expense for the year amounted to $243,547.

7. Common and Preferred Stock

Common Stock

Common stock has no par value. As of January 31, 2010 there were 10,000 shares authorized and issued. Of these, 4,258 shares were included in treasury stock at a cost of $250,000 leaving 5,742 shares outstanding.

Preferred Stock

The Company is authorized to issue 10,000 shares of Class A non-voting preferred stock with a par value of $100 per share. Preferred stock shareholders are entitled to receive non-cumulative annual dividends based on the liquidation value of the preferred stock ($100 per share) at a percentage rate equal to the one year Treasury bill rate adjusted annually on the first day of January. There were no dividends paid or declared in the current year. As of January 31, 2010, 1,311 shares had been issued. Of these, 1,000 shares were included in treasury stock at a cost of $100,000 leaving 311 shares outstanding with a total par value of $31,100.

MUTUAL MONEY INVESTMENTS, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

7. Common and Preferred Stock - continued

The preferred stock is subject to a stock purchase agreement which provides for the redemption of preferred stock beginning in the year ended January 31, 2004 subject to regulatory approval. The agreement requires the Company to redeem up to 10% of the issued and outstanding shares each year until all shares have been redeemed. Such redemption is at the option of the stockholder. No redemptions were made in the current year.

8. Regulatory requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital of $100,000 and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At January 31, 2010 the Company was in compliance with both requirements.

9. Employee Benefits

Effective January 1, 2009 the Company established a 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan which permits participants, meeting certain eligibility requirements, to make contributions by salary reduction pursuant to section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. Substantially all employees of the Companies are covered by the plan. The Company matches participant deferrals not exceeding 4% of their annual compensation. The Plan allows for additional discretionary employer matching contributions. Participants vest in the employer contribution made on their behalf over a six year period based on years of service. Upon death or total and permanent disability participants become fully vested. During the year ended January 31, 2010 the Company accrued a matching contribution of $93,870.

Notes to Financial Statements
January 31, 2010

10. Related Party Transactions

During the current year the Company earned commission income of $132,273 from an affiliated hedge fund. As of January 31, 2010 the Company owned a 3.675% limited partnership minority interest in the general partner which is the registered investment advisor of the Fund. The balance in the Company's capital account, as of December 31, 2009, was $28,352. This minority interest is accounted for under the cost method of accounting at zero on the Company's balance sheet as of January 31, 2010.

11. Subsequent Events

Management has evaluated subsequent events through March 30, 2010, the date the financial statements were available to be issued. No additional disclosures or modifications were deemed necessary.
