Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of
KW Securities Corporation

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of KW Securities Corporation (the "Company") as of March 31, 2010, and the related statements of operations and changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of KW Securities Corporation as of March 31, 2010, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III and IV is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to the Financial Statements
March 31, 2010

1. Summary of Business and Significant Accounting Policies

Business

KW Securities Corporation (the "Company") is a California corporation formed in 1980. The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as a securities broker-dealer and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA).

Method of Accounting

The Company has prepared these financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, and uses the cash method of accounting for income tax purposes.

Cash

The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts which at times may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash balances.

Commissions Receivable

The Company clears securities transactions through third-party broker/dealers and financial institutions. The clearing entity collects commissions earned and remits to the Company its share of commissions collected.

Revenue Recognition

Commission revenue and related expenses arising from securities transactions are recorded on a trade-date basis.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Income Taxes

The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of KW Financial Services, Inc. and is included in the consolidated income tax returns filed by its parent company. A portion of the consolidated income tax liability is allocated to the Company, as if the Company had filed separate income tax returns. There was no liability allocated to the Company for the year ended March 31, 2010 because management believes it to be immaterial to the financial statements.

The Company believes that it does not have unrecognized tax benefits in accordance with FASB ASC 740, "Income Taxes". Under that guidance, the Company assesses the likelihood, based on their technical merit, that tax positions will be sustained upon examination based on the facts, circumstances and information available at the end of each year. The measurement of unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted when new information is available, or when an event occurs that requires a change. With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to examination by tax authorities for years before 2005.

Use of Estimates

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

2. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At March 31, 2010, the Company had net capital of $49,328, which was $24,328 in excess of its required net capital of $25,000. The Company's aggregate indebtedness to net capital ratio was 0.1865 to 1.

3. Related Party Transactions

The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of KW Financial Services, Inc. (the "Parent") and has entered into an expense-sharing agreement with the Parent whereby the Company reimburses the Parent for a pro-rata share of overhead expense allocable to its operations. During the year ended March 31, 2010, the Company paid $299,860 as a reimbursement to the Parent for its share of expenses; such payments are reported as "management fees" in the accompanying statement of operations. As of March 31, 2010, the Company had $8,200 payable to the Parent for management fees, which is recorded as "due to parent" in the accompanying statement of financial condition. The Company also had $6,358 receivable from an affiliate, Lawrence A. Krause & Associates, Inc., for reimbursement of overpaid fees charged to the Company by its clearing broker-dealer but paid to the affiliate. This amount is recorded as "due from affiliate" in the accompanying statement of financial condition.

4. Deposit with Clearing-Broker

Under the Company's clearing agreement, a good faith deposit of $50,000 is required to be held at RBC Dain Correspondent Services. As of March 31, 2010, the Company had $50,000 on deposit with RBC Dain Correspondent Services.

5. Subsequent Events

Management evaluated subsequent events through May 24, 2010, the date these financial statements were available to be issued. There were no material subsequent events that required disclosure in these financial statements.

To the Board of Directors of
KW Securities Corporation

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of KW Securities Corporation (the "Company"), as of and for the year ended March 31, 2010 in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting ("internal control") as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Harb, Levy & Weiland LLP is a member of Nexia International, a worldwide network of independent accounting and consulting firms.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at March 31, 2010, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, FINRA, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
