Independent Auditors' Report

The Members
AxxessNet, LLC
Lexington, Massachusetts

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of AxxessNet, LLC (a limited liability company) as of December 31, 2009 and 2008, and the related statements of operations and changes in members' equity and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of AxxessNet, LLC at December 31, 2009 and 2008, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the supplemental schedule on page 8 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

AXCESSNET, LLC
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2009 AND 2008

(1) ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF BUSINESS

Nature of Business:

AccessNet, LLC (the Company) is registered as a broker-dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA).

The Company provides consulting and facilitation services to assist its clients in procuring introductions and relationships for private placements of securities, business combinations, mergers or acquisitions, and other financing transactions. The Company's clients include domestic and foreign companies, primarily Israeli companies in the information technology industry.

Organization:

The Company is organized as a limited liability company (LLC). The terms of the LLC operating agreement limit the members' liability for losses, debts and obligations to their equity contributions. The members may, under certain circumstances, be liable to the Company to the extent of previous distributions made to them in the event that the Company does not have sufficient assets to discharge its liabilities. The Company does not have a formal termination date, although there are events described in the operating agreement that would cause immediate dissolution.

(2) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Adoption of New Accounting Standards:

In June 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued authoritative guidance that defines the new hierarchy for U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and explains how the FASB will use its Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) as the sole source for all authoritative accounting principles (other than Securities and Exchange Commission guidance for publicly-traded companies). This guidance was effective for reporting periods ending after September 15, 2009. As a result of the adoption of this guidance, note references to U.S. accounting standards have changed. This adoption had no impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

On January 1, 2009, the Company adopted the provisions included in FASB ASC 740, "Income Taxes", related to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. Under these new provisions, the Company, which is taxed as a partnership (see below), will evaluate the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions that may result in an entity level tax. If uncertain tax positions are not considered to be "more likely than not" to be sustained upon examination by tax authorities, a liability will be recognized for any excess benefit claimed, or expected to be claimed, along with any related interest and penalties. Management believes that there are no such excess benefits, interest or penalties to be recorded in the financial statements. The Company files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. There are no tax returns currently under examination by tax authorities. However, the years ended December 31, 2006 through 2009 remain open for examination by federal and state taxing authorities.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2009 AND 2008

(2) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Adoption of New Accounting Standards (continued):

The Company also adopted guidance included in FASB ASC 855, "Subsequent Events", that sets forth the period after the date of the balance sheet during which management must evaluate events and transactions occurring for potential recognition or disclosure in the financial statements. This guidance describes the circumstances under which such events or transactions require recognition and/or disclosure in the financial statements (Note 6).

Cash:

At times, cash on deposit with financial institutions is in excess of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) insurance limits.

Accounts Receivable and Revenue Recognition:

Success fees are recognized upon the successful completion of private placements of securities, mergers, acquisitions or other financing transactions. Investment advisory, other fees and interest income are recognized when earned and collectibility is reasonably assured.

Accounts receivable are recorded at cost less an allowance for doubtful accounts, if necessary. Management evaluates the collectibility of accounts receivable based on the current credit conditions of its clients. There was no allowance for doubtful accounts at December 31, 2008.

Federal and State Income Taxes:

The Company, as an LLC, is taxed as a partnership. The members are responsible for reporting their share of the Company's net earnings (losses) on their individual income tax returns. Therefore, no provision for income taxes is reflected in these financial statements.

Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Reclassifications:

Certain amounts in the 2008 financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the 2009 presentation with no effect on previously reported net loss or members' equity.

(3) BUSINESS RELATIONSHIPS AND REVENUES

Business development and strategic consulting agreements define the terms under which success and advisory fees may be earned. Revenues earned under the terms of these agreements of 77% in 2009 and 71% in 2008 were from one client in each year.

A receivable and the advisory fees earned in 2008 of $72,000 have not been recognized since collectibility, in the opinion of management, is not reasonably assured.

The balance of the note receivable from a client, which included accrued interest at 8%, was collected during 2009. Interest income earned on the note was approximately $800 in 2009 and $2,000 in 2008.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2009 AND 2008

(4) RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company has an administrative services agreement with the related party that provides the Company with office space, telecommunications, information technology, executive and other administrative services for a monthly fee, adjusted annually for increases or decreases in services and expenses. The related party is a corporation with common ownership and whose operations are similar to those of the Company. Administrative fees charged to expense in 2009 and 2008 totaled $240,000 and $480,000, respectively. Prepaid administrative fees at December 31, 2009 and 2008 relate to these fees.

(5) SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION REQUIREMENTS

As a registered broker-dealer, the Company is subject to the "Uniform Net Capital Rule", rule 15c3-1 of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The rule requires the Company to maintain "net capital" of at least $5,000 and a ratio of "aggregate indebtedness" to "net capital" not to exceed 15 to 1.

At December 31, the Company's aggregate indebtedness, net capital and the related ratio, as defined by the SEC, are as follows:

	2009	2008
Aggregate indebtedness	$ 9,000	$ 8,047
Net capital	$ 10,296	$ 43,485
Ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital	0.87 to 1	0.19 to 1

(6) SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Management has evaluated subsequent events from the balance sheet date through February 20, 2010, the date these financial statements were available to be issued, to determine whether there are events that should be recognized and disclosed to keep the financial statements from being misleading.

Instructions: Detail Listing must include the total of items maturing during the six month period following the report date, regardless of whether or not the capital contribution is expected to be renewed. The schedule must also include proposed capital withdrawals scheduled within the six month period following the report date including the proposed redemption of stock and anticipated accruals which would cause a reduction of Net Capital. These anticipated accruals would include amounts of bonuses, partners' drawing accounts, taxes, and interest on capital, voluntary contributions to pension or profit sharing plans, etc., which have not been deducted in the computation of Net Capital, but which you anticipate will be paid within the next six months.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of AcessNet, LLC (the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2009 in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgements by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control, and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2009 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Members, management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
