To the Board of Directors
EBH Securities, Inc

Independent Auditor's Report

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of EBH Securities, Inc, as of December 31, 2010 and 2009, and the related statements of income, changes in shareholder's equity and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatements. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of EBH Securities, Inc as of December 31, 2010 and 2009 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the schedules beginning on page 9 2is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes To Financial Statements December 31, 2010

Note 1 – Significant Accounting Policies

Description of Business

EBH Securities, Inc is a limited-purpose, registered broker and dealer under the examining authority of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). As a securities broker dealer, the Company is engaged as a wholesaler of variable life insurance products, annuities and mutual funds. The Company earns revenue from commission fees on transactions in these products.

Estimates and Assumptions

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

Accounting Method

The accounts of the Company are maintained on the accrual basis of accounting. Income earned from customer security transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. If payments are not received or the transaction has not settled on customer transactions, accounts receivable is recorded to recognize that income.

Statement of Cash Flows

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity date of three months or less, to be cash equivalents. The Company did not pay any interest in 2010 and 2009, and paid income taxes of $244 and -0- during the year ended December 31, 2010 and 2009 respectively.

Note 2 – Related Party Transactions

The Company loaned $18,314 to its sole owner during 2009. In 2010 the Company loaned the owner an additional $1,968. This is recorded as a loan receivable on the balance sheet. Interest accrues on the outstanding balance at 3% per year. Annual payments are required until the loan matures on December 31, 2014.

The Company shares office space with two other entities with common ownership. There were no intercompany transactions with those two entities during 2010 or 2009. The sole shareholder is in a position to influence the amount of office expenses paid by the Company for the benefit of the other entities that are under his common control.

Notes To Financial Statements December 31, 2010

Note 3 - Income Taxes

The components of income tax expenses were as follows:

	2010		2009
	Federal	State	Federal	State
Current	$ (487)	$ (465)	$ 731	$ 465
Deferred	(403)	(250)	3,039	1,882
Total	$ (890)	$ (715)	$ 3,770	$ 2,347

The deferred income tax expenses result from the carryforward of prior year net operating losses. No additional net operating losses are available to be carried forward.

The Company has recorded a liability for unrecognized tax benefits. Part of this liability is derived from estimated amounts of penalties and interest related to the unrecognized tax benefits. Tax years ending December 31, 2007, 2008, and 2009 are still subject to federal inspection. All tax years are subject to state inspection.

Note 4 – Net Capital Requirements

The Company is required to maintain a minimum net capital by SEC Rule 15c3-1. Net capital required under the rule is the greater of $5,000 or 6-2/3% of the aggregate indebtedness of the Company. On December 31, 2010, the Company had net capital of $5,786, which was $189 in excess of its required net capital of $5,597. The percentage of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 1451.1%.

Note 5 - Control Requirements

There are no amounts, as of December 31, 2010, to be reported pursuant to the possession or control requirements under Rule 15c3-3. The Company is in compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3 under paragraph (k)(1) and thus is exempt from the provisions of Rule 15c3-3.

Board of Directors
EBH Securities, Inc

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of EBH Securities, Inc as of and for the year ended December 31, 2010, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities and including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17(a)-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c-3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
3. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that the assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

To the Board of Directors of

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies in internal control, that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. We did identify material weaknesses related to the segregation of duties and the control over the selection and application of accounting principles in conformity with GAAP. These weaknesses do not affect our report on these financial statements nor the internal control or control activities for safeguarding securities.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2010, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the FINRA, and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
