1. General Information and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Description of Business

Oak Tree Securities, Inc. (the "Company"), is registered as a broker and dealer in securities with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). It transacts trades in equity securities through other brokers on a "fully disclosed" basis and receives commissions therefrom. In addition, commissions are earned on sales of limited partnership interests, mutual funds and other interests.

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting wherein income is recognized as earned and expenses are recognized when incurred. Commission revenue and the related commission expense is recorded on the trade date of transactions.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid financial instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

The Company maintains cash in one bank and one savings institution with FDIC insurance of up to $250,000 each. An additional deposit was maintained with a clearing broker, which is insured by SPIC.

Investments

When the company has firm investments in various equity securities, they are carried at fair value.

Income taxes

When appropriate, deferred income tax assets and liabilities are provided for differences between the tax basis of an asset or liability and the reported amounts in the financial statements brought about because the Company files income tax returns on the cash basis.

Depreciation

Furniture and equipment were depreciated on a straight-line basis over five years and fully depreciated at April 30, 2011.

2. Net Capital Requirement

As a registered broker and dealer in Securities, the Company is subject to the Securities Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1).

The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital as defined in the Uniform Net Capital Rule was approximately 0.20 to 1 at April 30, 2011. Aggregate indebtedness and net capital change from day to day. The Company is required to maintain a ratio of less than 15 to 1.

At April 30, 2011, the Company had net capital as defined of $131,568, which exceeded the minimum requirement of $5,000. The Company must maintain a minimum net capital of 120% of the minimum required capital to avoid interim reporting requirements.

3. Exemption from Rule 15c3-3

The Company is exempt from certain provisions of Rule 15c3-3 since it does not clear transactions in securities or hold customer funds or securities. The Company carries no margin accounts and promptly transmits all customer funds, delivers all customer securities and will not otherwise hold funds or securities of customers.

4. Commitment

The Company has a one-year commitment of $5,000 per month, which was renewed on January 1, 2011, for management services.

5. Income Taxes

The Company reports its income on the cash method of accounting for income tax purposes; and uses the accrual method of accounting for financial statements. The statements include income and expenses generated by commissions receivable from investment companies and commissions payable to Company representatives, which is not reported for tax purposes until the cash is received or paid. These differences create "timing" differences between taxable income and financial statement income.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL
ACCOUNTING CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

To the Shareholders
Oak Tree Securities, Inc.
Livermore, California

In planning and performing our audits of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Oak Tree Securities, Inc. (the "Company"), for the year ended April 30, 2011, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at April 30, 2011 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the shareholders and management of the Company, the SEC, FINRA and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
