Independent Auditors' Report

Board of Directors and Stockholders
Penrod Financial Services, Inc.
Branson, MO

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Penrod Financial Services, Inc. as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements and supplemental information are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Penrod Financial Services, Inc. as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the supplemental information located on pages 9-15 are presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statement and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

PENROD FINANCIAL SERVICES, INC.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended December 31, 2011 and 2010

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant policies is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. These accounting policies conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

Business Activity

Penrod Financial Services, Inc. (the Company) is a registered broker/dealer company. The Company is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). The FINRA, which operates subject to Securities and Exchange oversight, is the largest non-government regulatory for all securities firms doing business in the United States.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Net Cash and Cash Equivalents

At times during 2011 and 2010 the Company's cash and cash equivalents could have exceeded the federally insured limits. The Company is at risk for amounts in excess of this limit. To date the Company has not incurred any losses on deposits in excess of federally insured limits.

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Commissions Receivables

The Company considers commissions receivable to be fully collectible; accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts is required. If amounts become uncollectible, they will be charged to operations when the determination is made.

Securities Transactions

Customers' securities and commodities transactions are reported on a trade date basis with related commission income and expenses reported on a trade date basis.

Income Taxes

The Company implemented FASB Accounting Standards Codification 740-10. Included in this is a requirement under Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes that realization of an uncertain income tax position must be "more likely than not" (i.e. greater than 50% likelihood of receiving a benefit or expense) before it should be recognized in the financial statements as the amount most likely to be realized assuming a review by the authorities having all relevant information and applying current conventions. The code section also clarifies the financial statement classification of potential tax-related penalties and interest and sets forth new disclosures regarding unrecognized tax benefits or expenses.

The Company assessed its federal and state tax positions. It was determined there were no uncertainties or possible related effects that need to be recorded as of or for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010.

The federal and state income tax returns for the Corporation for 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011 are subject to examination by respective taxing authorities generally for three years after they are filed.

The Company's policy for reporting interest and penalties related to income taxes is to expense as they are incurred. The Company feels there is a more likely than not chance that all tax positions will be fully recognized; therefore, no provision for potential interest or penalties on these tax positions have been made. The total penalties and interest the Company paid for 2011 and 2010 was $-0-, respectively. These amounts were due to late tax payments and not because of disputed tax positions.

The Company has elected S corporation status for federal income tax and Missouri franchise tax reporting purposes. As an S corporation, substantially all income tax liability flows through to the shareholders with the exception of various state corporate level taxes. Accordingly, the financial statements do not include a provision for federal income taxes. Should the Company convert to a C corporation status for federal and state income tax purposes, deferred tax balances, as calculated on the date of the conversion, would be recorded as a reduction in shareholder's equity.

NOTE 2 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The sole shareholder of Penrod Financial Services, Inc. is also the sole shareholder of Penrod Agency, Inc., dba Penrod Financial Group, an insurance agency. Penrod Financial Services, Inc. reimburses Penrod Agency, Inc. for their pro rata share of overhead expenses. The allocation percentage used for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010 was 75%.

At December 31, 2011 and 2010, Penrod Financial Services, Inc. owed Penrod Agency, Inc. $3,123 and $2,835, respectively.

At December 31, 2011 and 2010, the Company had net capital of $10,981 and $12,628, respectively, which was $5,981 and $7,628 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000.

Report on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5(g)(1)

Board of Directors
Penrod Financial Services, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Penrod Financial Services, Inc. (the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), in the following:

1. Making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by Rule 15c3-3(e)
2. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's previously mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses.

However, we identified the following generally accepted accounting principal deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be a significant deficiency, as defined above. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing and extent of the procedures performed in our audit of the financial statement of Penrod Financial Services, Inc. as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011 and this report does not affect our report thereon dated February 24, 2012.

Organizational Structure

The size of the Company's accounting and administrative staff precludes certain internal controls that would be preferred if the office staff were large enough to provide optimum segregation of duties. The president should continue to remain involved in the financial affairs of the Company in order to provide an overview of transactions and the internal control structure.

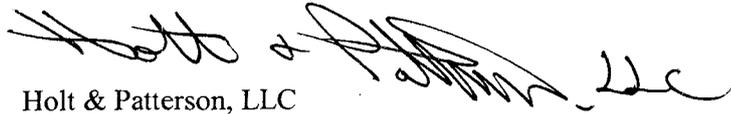

Internal Control Structure

We are required to give consideration to the Company's ability to prepare financial statements and related note disclosures, as well as the oversight of the financial reporting process by those charges with governance. The Company does not have in place controls that would assure the preparation of internal financial statements and related note disclosures in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Company engages the independent auditors to draft the financial statements, which includes drafting the primary financial statements and disclosures, as well as performing procedures to ensure that the disclosures are complete. Once drafted, the financial statements are submitted to the Company for review and approval. While this practice is common and practical, we must inform those charged with governance that this must be considered a significant deficiency in internal control since the financial statement preparation cannot be performed in-house.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2011, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, FINRA and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
