The Shareholders
JH Darbie & Co., Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of JH Darbie & Co., Inc. as of December 31, 2011 and the related statement of operations and changes in shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Regulation 1.16 under the Commodity Exchange Act. These financial statements are the responsibility of management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements presented are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by the management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of JH Darbie & Co., Inc. as of December 31, 2011 and the related statement of operations and changes in shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

JH Darbie & Co., Inc.
Notes to the Financial Statements
For the Year Ended December 31, 2011

1. Organization

JH Darbie & Co., Inc. (the Company) is a privately held corporation formed in New York in 1997 for the purpose of conducting business as a securities broker dealer (BD). As a BD, the Company is registered with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) to market investments in registered securities. Through its clearing broker, the Company clears securities transactions on a fully disclosed basis for its clients. The Company operates under the exempt provisions of the Security and Exchange Commission Rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(b).

The Company is registered with the National Futures Association (NFA) and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) to solicit accounts for trading in registered futures and options. The Company introduces its customers on a fully disclosed basis through a futures commission merchant (FCM). The FCM charges the customer a commission fee for trades transacted and remits a portion of these fees to the Company.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates- The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make reasonable estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of the assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses at the date of the financial statements and for the period they include. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Revenues- Commission revenues and related fees are recorded on a settlement date basis and the Company is reasonably assured of their collection.

Cash and cash equivalents- For the purpose of calculating changes in cash flows, cash includes all cash balances and highly liquid short-term investments with original maturity date of three months or less.

Income taxes- The Company has elected to be taxed as an S corporation under the Internal Revenue Service Code. Accordingly, under such an election, the Company's taxable income is reported by the individual shareholders and therefore, no provision for federal income taxes has been included in the financial statements.

3. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Cash and cash equivalents, receivable from clearance account, security deposit, and accounts payable and accrued expenses in the balance sheet are estimated to approximate fair market value at December 31, 2011.

4. Commitments and Contingencies

The Company is committed to a non-cancelable lease for office space and rents an office in New York City, New York. Minimum lease payments due under the lease are as follows.

2012	$167,710
2013	157,949
Net minimum lease payments	$325,659

Rent expense for fiscal year 2011 was $173,475

In fiscal 2011, an individual submitted a demand for arbitration to FINRA against the Company seeking damages of $220,000. The individual asserts that the Company breached its fiduciary duty and other misconduct. The Company is vigorously defending itself in this matter and at the date of these financial statements could not reasonably estimate a possible loss, if any, that may arise from this matter.

In October 2010, an individual submitted a demand for arbitration to FINRA against the Company and other broker dealers. The individual asserts that the Company unreasonably delayed the execution of securities transactions causing losses to the individual. The Company is vigorously defending itself in this matter and at the date of these financial statements could not reasonably estimate a possible loss, if any, that may arise from this matter.

5. Off Balance Sheet Risk

The Company executes various transactions for the benefit of customers through the clearing broker dealer on a fully disclosed basis. This business activity subjects the Company to certain off balance sheet risk, which may be in excess of the liabilities reported in the balance sheet. In the event that a customer is in default of an obligation to the clearing broker, the clearing broker will require the Company to fulfill the obligation on behalf of its customer.

The Company seeks to control these risks by monitoring the transactions of customer accounts on a daily basis. The Company has the authority to liquidate position in customer accounts at its discretion in order to ensure the account is in financial compliance with established requirements imposed by the clearing broker.

6. Concentrations of Credit Risk

Financial instruments which potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk are its cash and cash equivalent deposits. The Company, from time to time, maintains deposits at banks which are in excess of insured amounts.

7. Income Tax Provision

Provision for income taxes is comprised of the following:

Net income (loss) before provision for income taxes	$408,931
Current tax expense:
Federal	$0
State & City	22,198
Total	$22,198
Add deferred tax payable (benefit):
Timing differences	0
Allowance for recoverability	0
Provision for income taxes	$22,198

A reconciliation of provision for income taxes at the statutory rate to provision for income taxes at the Company's effective tax rate is as follows:

Statutory U.S. federal rate	0%
Statutory state and local income tax	5%
Effective rate	5%

8. Net Capital Requirement

As a BD, the Company is subject to Rule 15c3-1 of the Security Exchange Act of 1934 which requires the Company to maintain a minimum net capital, as defined under the provisions, of $5,000 or 6 2/3% of aggregate indebtedness, whichever is larger. The Company is also subject to the minimum net capital rules of the National Futures Association, which is defined as the greater of $45,000 or any amount based upon the number of brokers employed by the firm. The computation of net capital computation for the Company is as follows

CREDIT:

The Shareholders
JH Darbie & Co., Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of JH Darbie & Co., Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2011, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding customer and firm assets, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by the Company that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11); and the procedures for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3; and for safeguarding the occasional receipt of securities and cash until promptly remitted to the Company's clearing brokers. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities. The Company claims an exemption from SEC Rule 15c3-3 under the (k)(2)(i) provision, and therefore, no computation for determination of reserve requirements was necessary.

In addition, as required by Regulation 1.16 of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by the Company that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Regulation 1.16 in making (1) the periodic computations of minimum financial requirements pursuant to Regulation 1.17. The Company does not hold customer funds.

The management of the Corporation is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that the assets for which the Corporation has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of the inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changing conditions or the effectiveness of their design may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level of risk that the errors or irregularities in material amounts in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole may occur and not be detected within a timely period by the employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure that we considered to be a material weakness as defined above.

We understand that the internal control structure that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that an internal control structure that does not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and our study, we believe the Company's practices and procedures were adequate as of December 31, 2011 to meet the Commission's objectives.

In addition, our review indicated the Company to be in compliance with the conditions of exemption from Rule 15c3-3 pursuant to paragraph k(2)(i) as of December 31, 2011, and no facts came to our attention to indicate such conditions had not been complied with during the year.

The Shareholders
JH Darbie & Co., Inc.

In accordance with Rule 17a-5(e)(4) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, we have performed the procedures enumerated below with respect to the assessments and payments to the Security Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) for the year ended December 31, 2011 in order to assist you and interested third parties in evaluating the Company's compliance with applicable instructions of the Transitional Assessment Reconciliation (Form SIPC-7T). The Company is responsible for compliance with these requirements. These agreed-upon procedures were conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. The sufficiency of these procedures is solely the responsibility of those parties specified in the report. Consequently we make no representation regarding the sufficiency of the procedures described below either for the purpose for which this report has been requested of for any other purpose. The procedures performed and our findings are as follows.

1. We compared the listed assessment payments in Form SIPC-7T with respective cash disbursement records entries in the general ledger noting no differences.
2. We compared amounts reported on the audited Form X-17A-5 for the year ended December 31, 2011, as applicable, with the amounts reported in Form SIPC-7T for the year ended December 31, 2011 and noted no differences.
3. We compared any adjustments reported in Form SIPC-7T with supporting schedules and other working papers and noted no differences.
4. We proved the arithmetic accuracy of the calculations reflected in Form SIPC-7T and the related schedules supporting the adjustments and noted no differences.
5. We compared the amount of any overpayment applied to the current assessment with the Form SIP-7T on which it was originally computed and noted no differences.
6. Noted SIPC fees paid for 2011 was $7,697.

With regard to the SIPC fee assessment testing, we were not engaged to, and did not conduct an examination, the objective of which would be the expression of an opinion on compliance. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. Had we performed additional procedures, other matters might have come to our attention that would have been reported to you.
