Notes to Statement of Financial Condition

Note 1. Nature of Operations and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of operations: Dynamex Trading, LLC (the Company), a California limited liability company organized in August 2002, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Group One Trading LLC (the Member). The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority. The Company provides securities and derivatives execution services on U.S. national exchanges, clearing through a clearing broker.

The Company operates under the provisions of Paragraph (k)(2)(ii) of Rule 15c3-3 of the SEC and, accordingly, is exempt from the remaining provisions of the Rule. The requirements of Paragraph (k)(2)(ii) provide that the Company clear all transactions on behalf of customers on a fully disclosed basis with a clearing broker-dealer. The clearing broker-dealer carries all of the accounts of the customers and maintains and preserves all related books and records as are customarily kept by a clearing broker-dealer.

Significant accounting policies are as follows:

The Company follows generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), as established by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB), to ensure consistent reporting of financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

Use of estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Receivable from customer represents an amount due from a customer resulting from the non-performance of their prime broker in November 2011 for which the Company made the customer whole. Management evaluates the collectibility of this receivable on a regular basis and if deemed impaired, the receivable is written down to net realizable value. This significant estimate could change by a material amount in the short term.

Income taxes: Under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, the Company is treated as a division of the Member. Accordingly, no provision or benefit for income taxes has been made as the Company's taxable income or loss is included in the tax return of the Member.

The FASB provides guidance for how uncertain tax positions should be recognized, measured, disclosed and presented in the financial statements. This requires the evaluation of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the course of preparing the Company's tax returns to determine whether the tax positions are "more-likely-than-not" of being sustained "when challenged" or "when examined" by the applicable tax authority. Tax positions not deemed to meet the more-likely-than-not threshold would be recorded as a tax benefit or expense and liability in the current year. Management has determined that there are no material uncertain income tax positions through September 30, 2012. The Company is generally not subject to examination by United States federal and state tax authorities for the tax years before 2008.

Revenue recognition: Transaction fee revenues and related expenses are reflected net of market gains and losses and recorded on a trade-date basis as transactions occur.

Commission expense: Brokerage commissions and related trading expenses are recorded on a trade-date basis as transactions occur.

Dynamex Trading, LLC

Notes to Statement of Financial Condition

Note 2. Related-Party Transactions

The Company provides securities and derivatives execution services to an affiliate of the Member, Group One Trading, L.P. (Group One).

Pursuant to a written agreement, Group One provides the Company office space and certain administrative services.

Note 3. Concentration of Credit Risk

Substantially all of the Company's assets are held at Merrill Lynch Professional Clearing Corp. (the Company's Clearing Broker), a guaranteed subsidiary of Bank of America. Pursuant to agreement, the Company's Clearing Broker is required to, among other things, perform computations for proprietary accounts of introducing brokers and segregate certain assets on behalf of the Company. However, in the event of the Company's Clearing Broker's insolvency or in the event it does not fulfill its obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The Company does not anticipate nonperformance by its customers or its clearing broker. In addition, the Company has a policy of reviewing, as considered necessary, the clearing broker with which it conducts business.

Note 4. Indemnifications

In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties that provide indemnifications under certain circumstances. The Company's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. Management of the Company expects the risk of loss to be remote.

Note 5. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the SEC's Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1). Under this rule, the Company is required to maintain net capital of $100,000 or, 6-2/3 percent of "aggregate indebtedness," whichever is greater, as these terms are defined. The rule also requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital shall not exceed 15 to 1. Changes in net capital and aggregate indebtedness change from day to day, but at September 30, 2012, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $278,916 and $100,000, respectively. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 0.29 to 1. The net capital rule may effectively restrict distributions to the Member.

Note 6. Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events for potential recognition and/or disclosure through the date the statement of financial condition was issued.
