Dear Mr. Lepore:

This is in response to your letter dated December 7, 2012 concerning the shareholder proposal submitted to Pfizer by Donald J. Perrella. We also have received a letter from the proponent dated December 19, 2012. Copies of all of the correspondence on which this response is based will be made available on our website at <http://www.sec.gov/divisions/corpfin/cf-noaction/14a-8.shtml>. For your reference, a brief discussion of the Division's informal procedures regarding shareholder proposals is also available at the same website address.

Re: Pfizer Inc.
Incoming letter dated December 7, 2012

The proposal requests a review of Pfizer's charitable contributions and political contributions and a report addressing the interrelation of both types of contributions.

There appears to be some basis for your view that Pfizer may exclude the proposal under rule 14a-8(i)(12)(ii). In this regard, we note that proposals dealing with substantially the same subject matter were included in Pfizer's proxy materials in 2011 and 2012 and that the 2012 proposal received 4.11 percent of the vote. Accordingly, we will not recommend enforcement action to the Commission if Pfizer omits the proposal from its proxy materials in reliance on rule 14a-8(i)(12)(ii). In reaching this position, we have not found it necessary to address the alternative bases for omission upon which Pfizer relies.

Sincerely,

Joseph G. McCann
Attorney-Adviser

DIVISION OF CORPORATION FINANCE
INFORMAL PROCEDURES REGARDING SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

The Division of Corporation Finance believes that its responsibility with respect to matters arising under Rule 14a-8 [17 CFR 240.14a-8], as with other matters under the proxy rules, is to aid those who must comply with the rule by offering informal advice and suggestions and to determine, initially, whether or not it may be appropriate in a particular matter to recommend enforcement action to the Commission. In connection with a shareholder proposal under Rule 14a-8, the Division's staff considers the information furnished to it by the Company in support of its intention to exclude the proposals from the Company's proxy materials, as well as any information furnished by the proponent or the proponent's representative.

Although Rule 14a-8(k) does not require any communications from shareholders to the Commission's staff, the staff will always consider information concerning alleged violations of the statutes administered by the Commission, including argument as to whether or not activities proposed to be taken would be violative of the statute or rule involved. The receipt by the staff of such information, however, should not be construed as changing the staff's informal procedures and proxy review into a formal or adversary procedure.

It is important to note that the staff's and Commission's no-action responses to Rule 14a-8(j) submissions reflect only informal views. The determinations reached in these no-action letters do not and cannot adjudicate the merits of a company's position with respect to the proposal. Only a court such as a U.S. District Court can decide whether a company is obligated to include shareholder proposals in its proxy materials. Accordingly a discretionary determination not to recommend or take Commission enforcement action, does not preclude a proponent, or any shareholder of a company, from pursuing any rights he or she may have against the company in court, should the management omit the proposal from the company's proxy material.

RE: Pfizer Inc. 2013 Annual Meeting

, Omission of Shareholder Proposal of Donald J. Perrella

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am submitting herewith my opposition to Pfizer's effort to exclude my shareholder proposal (Proposal) from consideration by shareholders at Pfizer's 2013 Annul Meeting. My Pfizer Proposal is:

WHEREAS our company is, most commendably, a leader in corporate charitable giving, and while most recipients are seemingly noncontroversial, some are not, The American Society of Reproductive Medicine which supports, inter alia, embryo destruction, clearly a controversial issue and one which is also a major political issue of our day, was given over $100,000 in 2011 and over $100,000 again in 2012. Our company also has supported The New York Stem Cell Foundation, one goal of which is furthering human embryonic stem cell research. Our company also has served as a 2012 Corporate Partner with organizations such as the National Gay & Lesbian Chamber of Commerce (head-quartered in Washington DC) and the Gay, Lesbian and Straight Education Network (headquartered in New York, NY) whose ultimate goals seem to include redefining marriage.

WHEREAS A number of other charitable contributions were for lobbying and political contributions, and so ,were more clearly involved in political matters.

WHEREAS under the Supreme Court decision, Citizen United, our company will be given greater latitude in supporting political candidates

RESOLVED: the shareholders request that the independent members of the Board of Directors institute a comprehensive review of Pfizer's charitable contributions and political contributions and issue a report addressing the interrelation of both and how will they serve overall corporate policy

p. 2 MY IIMILAR 2012 MERCK SHAREHOLDER RESOLUTION WAS:

WHEREAS our company has given money to seemingly noncontroversial groups groups like Meals On Wheels, Save the Children, and the Boy Scouts of America. It has also given money to Planned Parenthood - the largest abortion performing organization in the country. gay and lesbian organizations seeking to change the marriage laws of our country and was a sponsor of American Society of Reproductive Medicine, which supports (inter alia) human embryo destruction. These later recipients are involved in clearly more controversial issues. some of which are also major political issues of our day.

WHEREAS A number of other charitable contributions wernt to organizations more clearly involved in political matters. For example, we gave money to the Center for Political Accountability for a meeting “regarding the creation of a handbook on corporate political activity,” In addition, we gave money to Congressional Black Caucus Foundation and to Women’s policy, Inc. which educates elected officials,.

WHEREAS under the Supreme Court decision, Citizen United, our company will be given greater latitude in supporting political candidates

RESOLVED: the shareholders request that the independent members of the Board of Directors institute a comprehensive review of Merck’s charitable contributions and political contributions and issue a report addressing the interrelation of both and how will they serve overall corporate policy

1. MY 2012 AND 2013 RESOLUTIONS ARE CLOSELY RELATED

My 2012 Merck Resolution and my 2013 Pfizer Proposal are very similar in style, structure, scope and purpose, and their Resolved clauses are IDENTICAL (except for the corporate name in line 2 of each). Pfizer was aware of my 2012 Merck Resolution before they submitted this matter to the .SEC.

Despite strenuous efforts to omit my Proposal by Merck’s Corporate Secretariat, including even the submitting of an exclusion letter with the SEC, which was not granted, my Merck shareholder proposal was submitted to shareholders at Merck’s 2012 annual meeting. Although it was not passed, it did receive sufficient votes to permit its resubmission in 2013, and that has already been done

I believe Pfizer’s actions demonstrate its disdain for efforts by shareholders, particularly, small investors, ,to inform corporate management of shareholder’s concerns .

2. MY PFIZER PROPOSAL DIFFERS FROM PRIOR PROPOSALS

p. 3 In Sec. IV B and C, pp. 4-5. Pfizer seeks to exclude my Proposal alleging it is substantially the same subject matter as prior proposals included in Pfizer's proxy materials for years 2011 and 2012. I have never submitted a Shareholder Proposal to Pfizer before my current Proposal. Unlike every prior resolution cited by Pfizer, my Proposal is not concerned with disclosing contributions, or withholding contributions to any specific organization, but with addressing the interrelationship of both charitable and political contributions. This interrelationship, which is the subject matter of my Proposal, is totally absent from every prior proxy statement cited by Pfizer. As no prior resolution has done this, for this reason, my Proposal differs substantially from the prior proposals cited by Pfizer.

The Resolved clause of my 2013 Pfizer Proposal is identical to the Resolved clause of my 2012 Merck shareholder proposal except for the corporate name in line 2 of each. The SEC did not approve Merck's attempt to exclude my 2012 Resolution from the 2012 shareholder meeting. And Merck has not attempted to exclude it from consideration at its 2013 annual meeting. My 2012 Merck shareholder proposal, and my 2013 Merck Proposal are identical, and both are substantially equivalent to my 2013 Pfizer Proposal. Not one of my proposals is concerned with disclosure of charitable and political contributions, but rather with their interrelationship, which is a novel concept. I believe Pfizer's actions demonstrate its disdain for efforts by shareholders to inform corporate management of shareholder concerns regarding their company.

Pfizer's argument in paragraph "C" on page 5 of its letter is based on the premise that my Proposal is substantially similar to a previously submitted proposal that failed to receive sufficient votes in 2012 to permit resubmission for 2013. My Proposal was not submitted last year, has never been submitted to Pfizer shareholders, and, as shown in the preceding paragraphs, is concerned with the interrelationship of two types of contributions. This feature is not shown in any prior Proposal cited by Pfizer and, on inspection, my Proposal clearly is different from any prior proposal cited by Pfizer.

3. PROPOSAL WON'T AFFECT ORDINARY BUSINESS OPERATIONS

Sec. V of Pfizer's exclusion letter begins at the bottom of page 5 and continues to page 7. It says that my Proposal is an attempt to impede management's ability to run the company, to "micro-manage" the company. Nothing could be further from the truth. My Proposal does not approve or disapprove of contributions to any organization, but simply acknowledges the fact that some are controversial while others are not. The goal of my Proposal is the interrelationship of both charitable and political contributions to serve overall corporate policy, not to the approval or disapproval of any contribution. Whether p. 4 a particular organization is controversial or not is a factual matter of public opinion. An organization is controversial when public opinion is divided – some segments of the population approving, while others disapprove. My Proposal recognizes this fact but does not challenge a contribution to any group or organization irrespective of its goals and actions..

The first paragraph on page 7 of Pfizer's exclusion letter contains subjective allegations about both me and my Proposal that are factually unsupported and personally offensive. Thus, Pfizer says I seek "the cessation of contributions to controversial organizations, namely organizations that support embryonic stem cell research and same-sex marriage." Cessation of contributions to any organization is nowhere mentioned in my Proposal. This matter is totally imaginary and exists solely in the mind of the author of Pfizer's exclusion letter. Instead of focusing on the text of my Proposal, he creates an allegation out of thin air and throws it at me. Absent any factual basis. Pfizer's author claims to know what is in my mind. Let me tell you what is in my mind. It is the submission of my Proposal to Pfizer shareholders. I suggest that the world's largest, or at least one of its largest, pharmaceutical companies base any objection to my Proposal on factual matters, not conjecture. I ask the ladies and gentlemen of the SEC to note that nowhere do I ask Pfizer to stop contributing to any organization, either controversial or non-controversial.

In the last sentence of the 1st paragraph on page 7, Pfizer alleges that my Proposal "seeks a shareholder referendum on corporate contributions to 'controversial' organizations that support embryonic stem cell research and same-sex marriage." While I find the idea of a referendum interesting, it is a topic nowhere to be found in my Proposal. It exists solely in the unfettered, wild, speculative imagination of the author of Pfizer's letter. Absent factual support, it has no weight in any rational discourse. Frankly, the author of Pfizer's exclusion letter is terrible mind reader. Nothing in my Proposal calls for a referendum. This is another factually unsupported allegation that plainly shows the depths to which Pfizer will descend to prevent a shareholder Proposal from consideration by its shareholders. Why is Pfizer so concerned that it has to create non-existent issues? Is fearsome Pfizer frightened by puny me? Thank God for the SEC!

Section VII, the final portion of f Pfizer's exclusion letter begins at the bottom of page 9. It contends that my Proposal consists of multiple proposals, Why does Pfizer find it t so hard to understand the plain English of my Proposal and to limit its criticism to matters presented therein rather than manufacturing conjectural matters not in my Proposal? My Proposal has nothing to do with disclosing or regulating charitable and political contributions, but is directed to a single activity – the interrelationship of these two types of contributions.

p. 5 Multiple resolutions. Neither did Merck – another world class pharmaceutical company. Nor should the SEC do so now. To anyone who has a command of the English language, my Proposal is a single Proposal, not a multiple one. But should it be determined otherwise, my Proposal is nevertheless proper and acceptable in view of the Pfizer's own exclusion letter. As Pfizer noted on page 10, lines 2-4,

“...”Rule 14a-8(c) permits the exclusion of proposals that combine separate and distinct matters that lack a single unifying concept.””

In my Proposal, the unifying concept is interrelationship.

4. A PFIZER ERROR

Pfizer's exclusion letter erroneously states on page 2, Section III, last sentence, that I have “verified “Proponent's stock ownership of as of April 26, 2012.” WRONG!!! See Schwab letter to me of 21 Nov. 2012 (17TH page of Pfizer's Exhibit A). Line 1 of said letter correctly shows my ownership term of Pfizer shares from 9/22/2011-4/26/2012, after which they were transferred to my J.P Morgan account, where they were when I submitted my Proposal..

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing analysis, I respectfully request that the Staff NOT concur with Pfizer's request,

AS THIS IS NOT AN EX PARTE MATTER, I OBJECT MOST STRENUOUSLY TO ANY 2-PARTY COMMUNICATIONS BETWEEN SEC STAFF AND PFIZER'S REPRESENTATIVE(S). ALL COMMUNICATIONS MUST INCLUDE THE SEC AND BOTH PARTIES.

Very truly yours,

RE: Pfizer Inc. – 2013 Annual Meeting
Omission of Shareholder Proposal of Donald J. Perrella

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are writing pursuant to Rule 14a-8(j) promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, to request that the Staff of the Division of Corporation Finance (the “Staff”) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) concur with our view that, for the reasons stated below, Pfizer Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Pfizer”), may exclude the shareholder proposal and supporting statement (the “Proposal”) submitted by Donald J. Perrella (the “Proponent”) from the proxy materials to be distributed by Pfizer in connection with its 2013 annual meeting of shareholders (the “2013 proxy materials”).

In accordance with Section C of Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14D (Nov. 7, 2008) (“SLB 14D”), we are emailing this letter and its attachments to the Staff at shareholderproposals@sec.gov. In accordance with Rule 14a-8(j), we are simultaneously sending a copy of this letter and its attachments to the Proponent as notice of Pfizer’s intent to omit the Proposal from the 2013 proxy materials.

Rule 14a-8(k) and Section E of SLB 14D provide that shareholder proponents are required to send companies a copy of any correspondence that the shareholder proponents elect to submit to the Commission or the Staff. Accordingly, we are taking this opportunity to remind the Proponent that if the Proponent submits correspondence to the Commission or the Staff with respect to the Proposal, a copy of that correspondence should concurrently be furnished to the undersigned.

I. The Proposal

The text of the resolution contained in the Proposal is copied below:

RESOLVED: the shareholders request that the independent members of the Board of Directors institute a comprehensive review of Pfizer's charitable contributions and political contributions and issue a report addressing the interrelation of both and how will they serve overall corporate policy

II. Bases for Exclusion

We hereby respectfully request that the Staff concur in Pfizer's view that it may exclude the Proposal from the 2013 proxy materials pursuant to:

- Rule 14a-8(i)(12)(ii) because the Proposal deals with substantially the same subject matter as shareholder proposals that were included in Pfizer's 2011 and 2012 proxy materials, and the most recently submitted of those proposals did not receive the support necessary for resubmission;
- Rule 14a-8(i)(7) because the Proposal deals with a matter relating to Pfizer's ordinary business operations;
- Rule 14a-8(i)(10) because Pfizer has substantially implemented the Proposal; and
- Rule 14a-8(c) because the Proposal consists of multiple proposals.

III. Background

Pfizer received the Proposal, accompanied by a cover letter from the Proponent and a monthly brokerage statement from J.P. Morgan Securities, by email on November 13, 2012. After confirming that the Proponent was not a shareholder of record, in accordance with Rule 14a-8(f)(1), on November 14, 2012, Pfizer sent a letter to the Proponent (the "Deficiency Notice") requesting a written statement from the record owner of the Proponent's shares verifying that he had beneficially owned the requisite number of shares of Pfizer common stock continuously for at least one year as of the date of submission of the shareholder proposal. The Deficiency Notice also notified the Proponent of Pfizer's belief that his submission contained more than one shareholder proposal in violation of Rule 14a-8(c) and of the Proponent's obligation to reduce his submission to a single proposal. On November 26, 2012, the Proponent sent Pfizer a letter from Charles Schwab, dated November 21, 2012, verifying the Proponent's stock ownership as of April 26, 2012, and brokerage statements from J.P. Morgan Securities verifying the Proponent's stock ownership from April 26, 2012 through October 31, 2012. Copies of the Proposal, cover letter, broker letter, brokerage statements and related correspondence are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

IV. The Proposal May be Excluded Pursuant to Rule 14a-8(i)(12)(ii) Because It Deals with Substantially the Same Subject Matter as Shareholder Proposals Included in Pfizer's 2011 and 2012 Proxy Materials and the Most Recently Submitted of Those Proposals Did Not Receive the Support Necessary for Resubmission.

Under Rule 14a-8(i)(12)(ii), a shareholder proposal may be excluded from a company's proxy materials if it deals with "substantially the same subject matter as another proposal or proposals that has or have been previously included in the company's proxy materials within the preceding 5 calendar years," and the proposal received "[l]ess than 6% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed twice previously within the preceding 5 calendar years."

A. Precedent Regarding Exclusion under Rule 14a-8(i)(12).

The Staff has confirmed on numerous occasions that Rule 14a-8(i)(12) does not require that the proposals, or their subject matters, be identical in order for a company to exclude the later-submitted proposal. Although the predecessor to Rule 14a-8(i)(12) required a proposal to be "substantially the same proposal" as prior proposals, the Commission amended this rule in 1983 to permit exclusion of a proposal that "deals with substantially the same subject matter." The Commission explained the reason for, and meaning of, this revision in Exchange Act Release No. 34-20091 (Aug. 16, 1983):

The Commission believes that this change is necessary to signal a clean break from the strict interpretive position applied to the existing provision. The Commission is aware that the interpretation of the new provision will continue to involve difficult subjective judgments, but anticipates that those judgments will be based upon a consideration of the substantive concerns raised by a proposal rather than the specific language or actions proposed to deal with those concerns.

(Emphasis added.)

When considering whether proposals deal with substantially the same subject matter, the Staff has focused on the "substantive concerns" raised by the proposals, rather than the specific language or corporate action proposed to be taken. Thus, the Staff has concurred with the exclusion of proposals under Rule 14a-8(i)(12) when the proposal in question shares similar underlying issues with a prior proposal, even if the proposals recommended that the company take different actions.

In Medtronic, Inc. (June 2, 2005) and Bank of America Corp. (Feb. 25, 2005), the Staff permitted the exclusion of a proposal requesting a listing of all political and charitable contributions because it dealt with substantially the same subject matter as a prior proposal requesting that the company cease making charitable contributions. See also Dow Jones & Co., Inc. (Dec. 17, 2004) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting that the company publish in its proxy materials information relating to its process for donations to a particular non-profit organization because it dealt with substantially the same subject matter as a prior proposal requesting an explanation of the procedures governing all charitable donations); Saks Inc. (Mar. 1, 2004) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting that the board implement a code of conduct based on International Labor Organization standards, establish an independent monitoring process and annually report on adherence to such code because it dealt with substantially the same subject matter as a prior proposal requesting a report on the company's vendor labor standards and compliance mechanism); Bristol-Myers Squibb Co. (Feb. 11, 2004) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting that the board review pricing and marketing policies and prepare a report on the company's response to pressure to increase access to prescription drugs because it dealt with substantially the same subject matter as prior proposals requesting the creation and implementation of a policy of price restraint on pharmaceutical products); Eastman Chemical Co. (Feb. 28, 1997) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting a report on legal issues related to the supply of raw materials to tobacco companies because it related to substantially the same subject matter as a proposal that requested that the company divest its filter tow products line, a line that produced materials used to manufacture cigarette filters); Bristol-Myers Squibb Co. (Feb. 6, 1996) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting the formation of a committee to develop an educational plan to inform women of the potential abortifacient action of the company's products because it dealt with "substantially the same subject matter (i.e. abortion-related matters)" as prior proposals that requested the company refrain from giving charitable contributions to organizations that perform abortions).

B. The Proposal Deals with Substantially the Same Subject Matter as Two Previously Submitted Proposals.

Pfizer has received various shareholder proposals relating to its policies and procedures regarding political contributions over the past several years. Pfizer included the following shareholder proposal in its proxy materials for its 2012 annual meeting of shareholders (the "2012 Proposal," attached hereto as Exhibit B):

RESOLVED: "That the stockholders recommend that the Board direct management that within five days after approval by the shareholders of this proposal, the management shall publish in newspapers of general circulation in the cities of New York, Washington, D.C., Detroit, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Dallas, Houston and Miami, and in the Wall Street Journal and U.S.A. Today, a detailed statement of each contribution made by the Company, either directly or indirectly, within the immediately preceding fiscal year, in respect of a political campaign, political party, referendum or citizens' initiative, or attempts to influence legislation, specifying the date and amount of each such contribution, and the person or organization to whom the contribution was made. Subsequent to this initial disclosure, the management shall cause like data to be included in each succeeding report to shareholders."

“And if no such disbursements were made, to have that fact publicized in the same manner.”

In addition to the 2012 Proposal, Pfizer included the exact same shareholder proposal in its proxy materials for its 2011 annual meeting of shareholders (the “2011 Proposal,” attached hereto as Exhibit C).

As noted above, under Rule 14a-8(i)(12) a company may exclude a shareholder proposal from its proxy materials if such proposal “deals with substantially the same subject matter” as other proposals that the company “previously included in [its] proxy materials within the preceding 5 calendar years.” The substantive concern expressed in the Proposal and in the 2012 Proposal and the 2011 Proposal (together, the “Previous Proposals”) is with Pfizer’s corporate contributions and specifically political contributions. The Previous Proposals seek disclosure of Pfizer’s contributions in respect of a “political campaign, political party, referendum or citizens’ initiative, or attempts to influence legislation.” The Proposal seeks review and disclosure regarding Pfizer’s political contributions and charitable contributions, noting that a “number of ... charitable contributions were for lobbying and political contributions” and involved “political matters.” Accordingly, both the Previous Proposals and the Proposal seek reports regarding Pfizer’s political contributions. While the specific language and corporate actions proposed in the Proposal and the Previous Proposals may differ, each address the same substantive concern of political contributions.

C. The Proposal Included in Pfizer’s 2012 Proxy Materials Did Not Receive the Shareholder Support Necessary to Permit Resubmission.

Rule 14a-8(i)(12)(ii) provides that a company may exclude a proposal that deals with substantially the same subject matter as previously submitted proposals if the proposal received “[l]ess than 6% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed twice previously within the preceding 5 calendar years.” Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14 (July 13, 2001) explains that only votes for and against a proposal are included in the calculation of the shareholder vote; abstentions and broker non-votes are not included. As disclosed in Pfizer’s Current Report on Form 8-K, filed with the Commission on April 27, 2012 and attached hereto as Exhibit D, there were 204,684,969 votes cast in favor of the 2012 Proposal and 4,780,810,687 votes cast against the 2012 Proposal. This amounts to 4.11% of the votes cast in favor of the 2012 Proposal. Thus, the last time that Pfizer’s shareholders considered a proposal substantially similar to the Proposal, it received less than 6% of the votes cast. Accordingly, the Proposal, dealing with substantially the same subject matter as the Previous Proposals, is excludable under Rule 14a-8(i)(12)(ii) for failing to receive the requisite shareholder support.

V. The Proposal May be Excluded Pursuant to Rule 14a-8(i)(7) Because the Proposal Deals with a Matter Relating to Pfizer’s Ordinary Business Operations.

Under Rule 14a-8(i)(7), a shareholder proposal may be excluded from a company’s proxy materials if the proposal “deals with matters relating to the company’s ordinary business operations.” In Exchange Act Release No. 34-40018 (May 21, 1998), the Commission stated that the policy underlying the ordinary business exclusion rests on two central considerations. The first recognizes that certain tasks are so fundamental to management’s ability to run a company on a day-to-day basis that they could not, as a practical matter, be subject to direct shareholder oversight. The second consideration relates to the degree to which the proposal seeks to “micro-manage” the company by probing too deeply into matters of a complex nature upon which shareholders, as a group, would not be in a position to make an informed judgment.

Consistent with these principles, the Staff has taken the position that shareholder proposals that relate to contributions to specific types of organizations relate to a company’s ordinary business operations and thus may be excluded under Rule 14a-8(i)(7). See, e.g., PepsiCo, Inc. (Feb. 24, 2010) (permitting exclusion of a proposal prohibiting support of any organization that rejects or supports homosexuality); Starbucks Corp. (Dec. 16, 2009) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting a feasibility study on policy changes, including reducing “minimizing donations to charities that fund animal experiments”); Pfizer Inc. (PETA) (Feb. 12, 2007) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting a report on the justification for specifically contributing to the advancement of animal-based testing); Wachovia Corp. (Jan. 25, 2005) (permitting exclusion of a proposal recommending that the board disallow contributions to Planned Parenthood and other similar organizations).

Further, the Staff has also permitted the exclusion of shareholder proposals that relate to charitable contributions where the proposal itself is facially neutral, but the supporting statements demonstrate that the intent of the proposal is to stop the company from making contributions to certain organizations or types of organizations. For example, in Johnson & Johnson (Feb. 12, 2007) and Pfizer Inc. (Strobhan) (Feb. 12, 2007), the Staff permitted the exclusion of a proposal requesting that the company list all of its charitable contributions on the company’s website because the proposal was directed at “contributions to specific types of organizations.” The company noted that several statements in the preamble and supporting statement referred in some way to abortion or same-sex marriage and that the true intent of the proposal was to force the company to stop making donations to a particular charity or type of charity. The Staff concurred that the proposal therefore related to the company’s ordinary business operations and was excludable under Rule 14a-8(i)(7). See also Home Depot Inc. (Mar. 18, 2011) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting a listing of recipients of charitable contributions or merchandise vouchers of $5,000 or more because the proposal related to specific types of organizations, i.e., groups supporting the gay, lesbian, bi-sexual and transgender community and same-sex marriage); American Home Products Corp. (Mar. 4, 2002) (permitting exclusion of a proposal to form a committee to study contributions because the proposal included statements opposing Planned Parenthood and abortion); Bank of America Corp. (Jan. 24, 2003) (permitting exclusion of a proposal to cease making charitable contributions because a majority of the proposal referenced abortion and religious beliefs); Schering-Plough Corp. (Mar. 4, 2002) (permitting exclusion of a proposal to form a committee to study charitable contributions because the proposal “was clearly designed to involve the [c]ompany in the issue of abortion”).

Similar to the proposals in the foregoing precedents, although the Proposal itself is facially neutral in its request for a report on Pfizer's charitable contributions and political contributions, the recitals make clear that the Proponent also seeks the cessation of contributions to "controversial" organizations, namely, organizations that support embryonic stem cell research and same-sex marriage. The Proposal states that while Pfizer is a leader in corporate charitable giving and most recipients are "seemingly noncontroversial, some are not," implying that the Proposal opposes corporate contributions to organizations that address issues the Proponent believes are controversial. The Proposal then refers to The American Society of Reproductive Medicine "which supports, inter alia, embryo destruction, clearly a controversial issue and one which is also a major political issue of our day," and Pfizer's support for "The New York Stem Cell Foundation, one goal of which is furthering human embryonic stem cell research." The Proposal also refers to Pfizer's support of "organizations such as the National Gay & Lesbian Chamber of Commerce ... and the Gay, Lesbian and Straight Education Network ... whose ultimate goals seem to include redefining marriage." The statements in the recitals and the specific references to the groups noted above make clear that the Proposal, in effect, seeks a shareholder referendum on corporate contributions to "controversial" organizations that support embryonic stem cell research and same-sex marriage.

Because of the language of the Proposal, it is clear that the Proposal is not directed at charitable and political contributions generally, but rather at contributions to particular organizations that the Proponent disfavors. Similar to the facially neutral proposals in the precedents cited above, the Proposal is directed at particular charitable contributions and relates to Pfizer's ordinary business operations. Accordingly, Pfizer believes that the Proposal may be excluded from its proxy materials pursuant to Rule 14a-8(i)(7).

VI. The Proposal May be Excluded Under Rule 14a-8(i)(10) Because Pfizer Has Substantially Implemented the Proposal.

Rule 14a-8(i)(10) permits a company to exclude a shareholder proposal if the company has already substantially implemented the proposal. The Commission adopted the "substantially implemented" standard in 1983 after determining that the "previous formalistic application" of the rule defeated its purpose, which is to "avoid the possibility of shareholders having to consider matters which have already been favorably acted upon by management." See Exchange Act Release No. 20091 (Aug. 16, 1983) (the "1983 Release") and Exchange Act Release No. 12598 (July 7, 1976). Accordingly, the actions requested by a proposal need not be "fully effected" provided that they have been "substantially implemented" by the company. See 1983 Release.

Applying this standard, the Staff has consistently concurred with the exclusion of a proposal when it has determined that the company's policies, practices and procedures compare favorably with the guidelines of the proposal such that the company's actions satisfactory address the proposal's underlying concerns and essential objective. See, e.g., Deere & Co. (Nov. 13, 2012) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting that the company include human rights as a guide in its Code of Business Conduct, where the Code already contained a commitment to human rights and addressed a number of human rights matters); Duke Energy Corp. (Feb. 21, 2012) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting that an independent board committee assess and prepare a report on the company's actions to build shareholder value and reduce greenhouse gas and other air emissions where the company's "policies, practices and procedures, as well as its public disclosures, compare[d] favorably with the guidelines of the proposal"); ConAgra Foods, Inc. (July 3, 2006) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting a sustainability report where the company already published a sustainability report as part of its corporate responsibilities report); The Gap, Inc. (Mar. 16, 2001) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting a report on child labor practices of the company's suppliers where the company had established a code of vendor conduct, monitored compliance with the code, published information on its website about the code and monitoring programs and discussed child labor issues with shareholders); Nordstrom, Inc. (Feb. 8, 1995) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting commitment to a code of conduct for its overseas suppliers that was substantially covered by existing company guidelines); Texaco, Inc. (Mar. 28, 1991) (permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting that the company adopt the Valdez Principles where the company already had adopted policies, practices and procedures regarding the environment).

In addition, the Staff has permitted exclusion on substantial implementation grounds of shareholder proposals relating to charitable contributions and political contributions disclosures where the company already disclosed such information on its website and/or in company reports. For example, in PG&E Corp. (Mar. 10, 2010), the Staff concurred with the exclusion of a proposal requesting a report on the company's charitable contributions after the company demonstrated that a majority of the information requested by the proposal was already available to the public on the company's Grantmaking Program website. The Staff concurred with the company's view that it had substantially implemented the proposal, noting that "PG&E's policies, practices and procedures compare[d] favorably with the guidelines of the proposal." Similarly, in Exelon Corp. (Feb. 26, 2010), the Staff concurred with exclusion of a proposal requesting a report on policies and procedures for political contributions where the company had adopted Corporate Political Contributions Guidelines addressing the company's policies and procedures for political contributions and issued a report disclosing the company's political contributions. See also General Electric Co. (Jan. 18, 2011, recon. granted Feb. 24, 2011) (on reconsideration, permitting exclusion of a proposal requesting a report on legislative and regulatory public policy advocacy activities where the company prepared and posted a political contributions report on its website, noting that the report "compare[d] favorably with the guidelines of the proposal").

Similarly, Pfizer's existing website disclosures and reports with respect to its grants, charitable contributions and political contributions satisfy the essential objective of the Proposal – a report on Pfizer's charitable contributions and political contributions and how they serve corporate policy – and compare favorably with the guidelines of the Proposal. On its Grants and Contributions website, Pfizer provides information and disclosures regarding grants, contributions and other payments made by Pfizer, including both charitable contributions and lobbying and political contributions and how such contributions further Pfizer's business.

With respect to charitable contributions, Pfizer issues quarterly reports disclosing Pfizer's contributions to U.S. medical, scientific, patient and civic organizations, including the recipient name, program/project description and payment amounts. In addition, Pfizer's Grants and Contributions website also includes sections on Pfizer's "Statement on Transparency in Grants," and "Frequently Asked Questions" that address how Pfizer's support of organizations serves Pfizer's corporate policy, including Pfizer's belief that such support is "one way we contribute to the improvement of patients' lives and the advance of scientific research, in conjunction with our core business of developing innovative medicines." Copies of the foregoing website disclosures and reports are attached hereto as Exhibit E.

With respect to political contributions, Pfizer issues annual reports regarding Pfizer's political contributions, including contributions made by the Pfizer political action committee. Pfizer also makes available on its website a "Public Policy Engagement and Political Participation Highlights" report, which provides additional information on Pfizer's policies and procedures relating to political contributions. In addition, under the "Lobbying and Political Contributions" section of the website, Pfizer explains the importance of its public policy engagement efforts, noting that such engagement provides an opportunity for Pfizer to actively participate in public policy dialogues to explain its perspective, "particularly where essential aspects of Pfizer's business are being challenged by barriers to access, counterfeits, illegal importation and challenges to intellectual property protection." In the "Public Policy Engagement and Political Participation Highlights" report, Pfizer also explains that "it is crucial to our stakeholders that we engage on public policy issues that may affect our ability to meet patient needs and enhance shareholder value." Copies of the foregoing website disclosures and reports are attached hereto as Exhibit F.

Where a company has already acted favorably on an issue addressed in a shareholder proposal, Rule 14a-8(i)(10) does not require the company and its shareholders to reconsider the issue. Accordingly, Pfizer believes that its extensive disclosures and reports regarding its grants and contributions, including charitable contributions and political contributions, substantially implement the Proposal and that the Proposal is excludable under Rule 14a-8(i)(10).

VII. The Proposal May be Excluded Pursuant to Rule 14a-8(c) Because the Proposal Consists of Multiple Proposals.

Pfizer may exclude the Proposal from its 2013 proxy materials because the Proponent has combined two separate and distinct matters into a single proposal in violation of Rule 14a-8(c). As indicated above, consistent with Pfizer's obligations under Rule 14a-8(f)(1), Pfizer notified the Proponent in the Deficiency Notice that Pfizer believes the Proposal contains more than one proposal and therefore must be reduced to a single proposal to comply with Rule 14a-8(c).

Rule 14a-8(c) provides that a shareholder may submit only one proposal per shareholder meeting. The Staff has consistently recognized that Rule 14a-8(c) permits the exclusion of proposals that combine separate and distinct matters that lack a single unifying concept. For instance, in Textron, Inc. (Mar. 7, 2012), the Staff concurred with the exclusion of a proposal entitled “Proxy Access” that sought to allow shareholders to make board nominations in the company’s proxy materials by requiring that the company amend its governing documents consistent with seven enumerated provisions in the proposal. One of those provisions required that any election of a majority of board seats being filled by operation of the proposed proxy access mechanism must not be considered to be a change of control by the company, its board or its officers. The Staff concurred with the company’s view that this “change of control” provision diverged from the proposal’s overarching goal of providing shareholders with proxy access and instead sought to address a possible consequence of shareholders utilizing the proposed proxy access mechanism. Given this divergence, the Staff granted relief to exclude the proposal under Rule 14a-8(c), noting that the change of control provision “constitute[d] a separate and distinct matter from the proposal relating to the inclusion of shareholder nominations for director in Textron’s proxy materials.” In Parker-Hannifin Corp. (Sept. 4, 2009), the Staff concurred with the exclusion of a proposal entitled “Triennial Executive Pay Vote program” that consisted of three elements: (i) a triennial executive pay vote to approve the compensation of the company’s executive officers; (ii) a triennial executive pay vote ballot that would provide shareholders an opportunity to register their approval or disapproval of three components of the executives’ compensation; and (iii) a triennial forum, by webcast or otherwise, that would allow shareholders to engage in a dialogue with the compensation committee regarding the company’s executive compensation policies and practices. The Staff concurred with the Company’s view that implementation of the third element would require completely distinct and separate actions from the first two elements of the proposal. The Staff specifically noted that the third element of the proposed Triennial Executive Pay Vote program was a “separate and distinct matter” from the first and second elements and thus determined the proponent’s entire submission could be excluded.

Similarly, in PG&E Corp. (Mar. 11, 2010) the Staff concurred with the exclusion of a proposal entitled “Risk Reduction Policy” that asked the board to implement a policy stating that the company would, pending completion of certain studies of one of its power plants, (i) mitigate potential risks encompassed by those studies; (ii) defer any request for or expenditure of public or corporate funds for license renewal at the site; and (iii) not increase production of certain waste at the site beyond the levels then authorized. Although the proponent argued that all of the steps in the proposal would avoid circumvention of state law in the operation of the specific power plant, the Staff granted relief to exclude the proposal, specifically noting that “the proposal relating to license renewal involves a separate and distinct matter from the proposals relating to mitigating risks and production level.” See also Duke Energy Corp. (Feb. 27, 2009) (concurring in the exclusion of a proposal requiring the company’s directors to own a requisite amount of the company’s stock, to disclose all conflicts of interest and to be compensated only in the form of the company’s common stock, notwithstanding the proponent's argument that each of those items related to the broad concept of "improving director accountability"); Centra Software, Inc. (Mar. 31, 2003) (concurring in the exclusion of a proposal requesting amendments to the bylaws to require separate meetings of the independent directors and that the chairman of the board not be a company officer or employee, where the company argued the proposals would amend "quite different provisions" of the bylaws and were therefore unrelated).

Similar to the multiple-proposal submissions described in the precedent above, the Proponent's submission contains two proposals that combine separate and distinct matters that lack a single unifying concept in violation of Rule 14a-8(c). The Proposal relates to two separate matters: charitable contributions and political contributions.

Pfizer has separate and distinct policies and procedures with respect to its charitable contributions and political contributions. Pfizer's lobbying activities and political contributions help Pfizer address essential aspects of its business, including matters involving barriers to access, counterfeits, illegal drug importation and challenges to intellectual property protection. In this area, Pfizer engages with policy makers to address issues that may affect Pfizer's ability to meet patient needs and enhance shareholder value. Pfizer's grant and charitable contributions activities, however, serve a different purpose. Pfizer makes this clear on its website under "Frequently Asked Questions," where it states:

Pfizer respects the integrity of the medical, scientific and patient organizations with whom we partner. As such, we strive to achieve the highest level of ethical business conduct in our partnership grants and charitable contributions. Funding support to US-based medical, scientific and patient organizations is in no way intended to influence or reward the recipient for present, past, or future use or support of Pfizer medicines, or to gain access for promotion purposes, or to influence the outcome of a clinical trial. In addition, none of these payments is given to reward recipient organizations for influencing or attempting to influence specific legislation, regulation or governmental health care policies, nor are these payments given on behalf of government officials or elected officials. This support is one way we contribute to the improvement of patients' lives and the advance of scientific research, in conjunction with our core business of developing innovative medicines.

It is clear that Pfizer's policies with respect to grants and charitable contributions is neither related nor essential to Pfizer's policies and practices regarding lobbying and political contributions. The decision making processes for Pfizer's charitable contributions policies and political contributions policies involve separate considerations, have different criteria and further different corporate purposes.

Given that the Proposal seeks to combine separate and distinct matters, Pfizer believes that the Proposal contains multiple proposals and is properly excludable under Rule 14a-8(c).

VIII. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing analysis, we respectfully request that the Staff concur that it will take no action if Pfizer excludes the Proposal from its 2013 proxy materials. Should the Staff disagree with the conclusions set forth in this letter, or should any additional information be desired in support of Pfizer's position, we would appreciate the opportunity to confer with the Staff concerning these matters prior to the issuance of the Staff's response. Dear Mr. Lepore:

My name and address are given above. I currently own 500 shares of Pfizer Inc. common stock. I have continuously owned them for over one year and intend to hold them through the time of the next annual meeting. These shares are held in an account in my name at J. P. Morgan Securities. I am enclosing copy of the relevant page of my October 2012 statement, with irrelevant data redacted, showing such ownership

I intend to present for action at the Annual Meeting the following resolution.

WHEREAS our company is, most commendably, a leader in corporate charitable giving, and while most recipients are seemingly noncontroversial, some are not, The American Society of Reproductive Medicine which supports, inter alia, embryo destruction, clearly a controversial issue and one which is also a major political issue of our day, was given over $100,000 in 2011 and over $100,000 again in 2012 . Our company also has supported The New York Stem Cell Foundation, one goal of which is furthering human embryonic stem cell research. Our company also has served as a 2012 Corporate Partner with organizations such as the National Gay & Lesbian Chamber of Commerce (headquartered in Washington, DC) and the Gay, Lesbian and Straight Education Network (headquartered in New York, NY) whose ultimate goals seem to include redefining marriage.

WHEREAS a number of other charitable contributions were for lobbying and political contributions, and so were more clearly involved in political matters.

WHEREAS under the Supreme Court decision, Citizen United, our company will be given greater latitude in supporting political candidates

RESOLVED: the shareholders request that the independent members of the Board of Directors institute a comprehensive review of Pfizer's charitable contributions and political contributions and issue a report addressing the interrelation of both and how will they serve overall corporate policy

Very truly yours,

Re: Shareholder Proposal for 2013 Annual Meeting of Shareholders: Charitable Giving and Political Contributions

Dear Mr. Perrella:

This letter will acknowledge receipt on November 13, 2012 of your letter dated November 13, 2012 to Mr. Matthew Lepore, Vice President and Corporate Secretary giving notice that you intend to sponsor the above proposal at our 2013 Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

Rule 14a-8(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (Exchange Act), specifies that each shareholder may submit no more than one proposal to a company for a particular shareholders' meeting. We believe your proposal contains more than one shareholder proposal. As such, the proposal is required by Rule 14a-8 to be reduced to a single proposal.

In addition, Rule 14a-8(b) under the Exchange Act provides that the proponent must submit sufficient proof that it has continuously held at least $2,000 in market value, or 1%, of the company's common stock that would be entitled to be voted on the proposal for at least one year, preceding and including the date the proposal is submitted, which date is November 13, 2012.

Sufficient proof may be in the form of:

- a written statement from the record holder of your shares (usually a broker or bank) and a participant in the Depository Trust Company (DTC)¹ verifying that, at the time you submitted the proposal, you continuously held the requisite number of shares for at least one year;
 - if the broker or bank holding your shares is not a DTC participant, you also will need to obtain proof of ownership from the DTC participant through which the shares are held. You should be able to find out who this DTC participant is by asking your broker or bank. If the DTC participant knows your broker or bank's holdings, but does not know your holdings, you can satisfy Rule 14a-8 by obtaining and submitting two proof of ownership statements verifying that, at the time the proposal was submitted, the required amount of shares were continuously held for at least one year – one from your broker or bank confirming your ownership, and the other from the DTC participant confirming the broker or bank's ownership.

or

- if you have filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) a Schedule 13D, Schedule 13G, Form 3, Form 4 or Form 5, or amendments to those documents or updated forms, reflecting its ownership of the requisite number of company shares as of or before the date on which the one-year eligibility period begins, a copy of the schedule and/or form, and any subsequent amendments reporting a change in the ownership level and a written statement that you continuously held the requisite number of company shares for the one-year period.

The rules of the SEC require that your response to this letter be postmarked or transmitted electronically no later than 14 days from the date you receive this letter. Please send any response to me at the address or facsimile number provided above. For your reference, please find enclosed a copy of Rule 14a-8.

Once we receive any response, we will be in a position to determine whether the proposal is eligible for inclusion in the proxy materials for our 2013 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. We reserve the right to seek relief from the SEC as appropriate.

Sincerely,

Suzanne Y. Rolon

§ 240.14a-8 Shareholder proposals.

This section addresses when a company must include a shareholder's proposal in its proxy statement and identify the proposal in its form of proxy when the company holds an annual or special meeting of shareholders. In summary, in order to have your shareholder proposal included on a company's proxy card, and included along with any supporting statement in its proxy statement, you must be eligible and follow certain procedures. Under a few specific circumstances, the company is permitted to exclude your proposal, but only after submitting its reasons to the Commission. We structured this section in a question-and-answer format so that it is easier to understand. The references to "you" are to a shareholder seeking to submit the proposal.

(a) Question 1: What is a proposal? A shareholder proposal is your recommendation or requirement that the company and/or its board of directors take action, which you intend to present at a meeting of the company's shareholders. Your proposal should state as clearly as possible the course of action that you believe the company should follow. If your proposal is placed on the company's proxy card, the company must also provide in the form of proxy means for shareholders to specify by boxes a choice between approval or disapproval, or abstention. Unless otherwise indicated, the word "proposal" as used in this section refers both to your proposal, and to your corresponding statement in support of your proposal (if any).

(b) Question 2: Who is eligible to submit a proposal, and how do I demonstrate to the company that I am eligible? (1) In order to be eligible to submit a proposal, you must have continuously held at least $2,000 in market value, or 1%, of the company's securities entitled to be voted on the proposal at the meeting for at least one year by the date you submit the proposal. You must continue to hold those securities through the date of the meeting.

(2) If you are the registered holder of your securities, which means that your name appears in the company's records as a shareholder, the company can verify your eligibility on its own, although you will still have to provide the company with a written statement that you intend to continue to hold the securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders. However, if like many shareholders you are not a registered holder, the company likely does not know that you are a shareholder, or how many shares you own. In this case, at the time you submit your proposal, you must prove your eligibility to the company in one of two ways:

(i) The first way is to submit to the company a written statement from the "record" holder of your securities (usually a broker or bank) verifying that, at the time you submitted your proposal, you continuously held the securities for at least one year. You must also include your own written statement that you intend to continue to hold the securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders; or

(ii) The second way to prove ownership applies only if you have filed a Schedule 13D (§240.13d-101), Schedule 13G (§240.13d-102), Form 3 (§249.103 of this chapter), Form 4 (§249.104 of this chapter) and/or Form 5 (§249.105 of this chapter), or amendments to those documents or updated forms, reflecting your ownership of the shares as of or before the date on which the one-year eligibility period begins. If you have filed one of these documents with the SEC, you may demonstrate your eligibility by submitting to the company:

(A) A copy of the schedule and/or form, and any subsequent amendments reporting a change in your ownership level;

(B) Your written statement that you continuously held the required number of shares for the one-year period as of the date of the statement; and

(C) Your written statement that you intend to continue ownership of the shares through the date of the company's annual or special meeting.

(c) Question 3: How many proposals may I submit? Each shareholder may submit no more than one proposal to a company for a particular shareholders' meeting.

(d) Question 4: How long can my proposal be? The proposal, including any accompanying supporting statement, may not exceed 500 words.

(e) Question 5: What is the deadline for submitting a proposal? (1) If you are submitting your proposal for the company's annual meeting, you can in most cases find the deadline in last year's proxy statement. However, if the company did not hold an annual meeting last year, or has changed the date of its meeting for this year more than 30 days from last year's meeting, you can usually find the deadline in one of the company's quarterly reports on Form 10-Q (§249.308a of this chapter), or in shareholder reports of investment companies under §270.30d-1 of this chapter of the Investment Company Act of 1940. In order to avoid controversy, shareholders should submit their proposals by means, including electronic means, that permit them to prove the date of delivery.

(2) The deadline is calculated in the following manner if the proposal is submitted for a regularly scheduled annual meeting. The proposal must be received at the company's principal executive offices not less than 120 calendar days before the date of the company's proxy statement released to shareholders in connection with the previous year's annual meeting. However, if the company did not hold an annual meeting the previous year, or if the date of this year's annual meeting has been changed by more than 30 days from the date of the previous year's meeting, then the deadline is a reasonable time before the company begins to print and send its proxy materials.

(3) If you are submitting your proposal for a meeting of shareholders other than a regularly scheduled annual meeting, the deadline is a reasonable time before the company begins to print and send its proxy materials.

(f) Question 6: What if I fail to follow one of the eligibility or procedural requirements explained in answers to Questions 1 through 4 of this section? (1) The company may exclude your proposal, but only after it has notified you of the problem, and you have failed adequately to correct it. Within 14 calendar days of receiving your proposal, the company must notify you in writing of any procedural or eligibility deficiencies, as well as of the time frame for your response. Your response must be postmarked, or transmitted electronically, no later than 14 days from the date you received the company's notification. A company need not provide you such notice of a deficiency if the deficiency cannot be remedied, such as if you fail to submit a proposal by the company's properly determined deadline. If the company intends to exclude the proposal, it will later have to make a submission under §240.14a-8 and provide you with a copy under Question 10 below, §240.14a-8(j).

(2) If you fail in your promise to hold the required number of securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders, then the company will be permitted to exclude all of your proposals from its proxy materials for any meeting held in the following two calendar years.

(g) Question 7: Who has the burden of persuading the Commission or its staff that my proposal can be excluded? Except as otherwise noted, the burden is on the company to demonstrate that it is entitled to exclude a proposal.

(h) Question 8: Must I appear personally at the shareholders' meeting to present the proposal? (1) Either you, or your representative who is qualified under state law to present the proposal on your behalf, must attend the meeting to present the proposal. Whether you attend the meeting yourself or send a qualified representative to the meeting in your place, you should make sure that you, or your representative, follow the proper state law procedures for attending the meeting and/or presenting your proposal.

(2) If the company holds its shareholder meeting in whole or in part via electronic media, and the company permits you or your representative to present your proposal via such media, then you may appear through electronic media rather than traveling to the meeting to appear in person.

(3) If you or your qualified representative fail to appear and present the proposal, without good cause, the company will be permitted to exclude all of your proposals from its proxy materials for any meetings held in the following two calendar years.

(i) Question 9: If I have complied with the procedural requirements, on what other bases may a company rely to exclude my proposal? (1) Improper under state law: If the proposal is not a proper subject for action by shareholders under the laws of the jurisdiction of the company's organization;

Note to paragraph (i)(1): Depending on the subject matter, some proposals are not considered proper under state law if they would be binding on the company if approved by shareholders. In our experience, most proposals that are cast as recommendations or requests that the board of directors take specified action are proper under state law. Accordingly, we will assume that a proposal drafted as a recommendation or suggestion is proper unless the company demonstrates otherwise.

(2) Violation of law: If the proposal would, if implemented, cause the company to violate any state, federal, or foreign law to which it is subject;

Note to paragraph (i)(2): We will not apply this basis for exclusion to permit exclusion of a proposal on grounds that it would violate foreign law if compliance with the foreign law would result in a violation of any state or federal law.

(3) Violation of proxy rules: If the proposal or supporting statement is contrary to any of the Commission's proxy rules, including §240.14a-9, which prohibits materially false or misleading statements in proxy soliciting materials;

(4) Personal grievance; special interest: If the proposal relates to the redress of a personal claim or grievance against the company or any other person, or if it is designed to result in a benefit to you, or to further a personal interest, which is not shared by the other shareholders at large;

(5) Relevance: If the proposal relates to operations which account for less than 5 percent of the company's total assets at the end of its most recent fiscal year, and for less than 5 percent of its net earnings and gross sales for its most recent fiscal year, and is not otherwise significantly related to the company's business;

(6) Absence of power/authority: If the company would lack the power or authority to implement the proposal;

(7) Management functions: If the proposal deals with a matter relating to the company's ordinary business operations;

(8) Director elections: If the proposal:

(i) Would disqualify a nominee who is standing for election;

(ii) Would remove a director from office before his or her term expired;

(iii) Questions the competence, business judgment, or character of one or more nominees or directors;

(iv) Seeks to include a specific individual in the company's proxy materials for election to the board of directors; or

(v) Otherwise could affect the outcome of the upcoming election of directors.

(9) Conflicts with company's proposal: If the proposal directly conflicts with one of the company's own proposals to be submitted to shareholders at the same meeting;

Note to paragraph (i)(9): A company's submission to the Commission under this section should specify the points of conflict with the company's proposal.

(10) Substantially implemented: If the company has already substantially implemented the proposal;

Note to paragraph (i)(10): A company may exclude a shareholder proposal that would provide an advisory vote or seek future advisory votes to approve the compensation of executives as disclosed pursuant to Item 402 of Regulation S-K (§229.402 of this chapter) or any successor to Item 402 (a "say-on-pay vote") or that relates to the frequency of say-on-pay votes, provided that in the most recent shareholder vote required by §240.14a-21(b) of this chapter a single year (i.e., one, two, or three years) received approval of a majority of votes cast on the matter and the company has adopted a policy on the frequency of say-on-pay votes that is consistent with the choice of the majority of votes cast in the most recent shareholder vote required by §240.14a-21(b) of this chapter.

(11) Duplication: If the proposal substantially duplicates another proposal previously submitted to the company by another proponent that will be included in the company's proxy materials for the same meeting;

(12) Resubmissions: If the proposal deals with substantially the same subject matter as another proposal or proposals that has or have been previously included in the company's proxy materials within the preceding 5 calendar years, a company may exclude it from its proxy materials for any meeting held within 3 calendar years of the last time it was included if the proposal received:

(i) Less than 3% of the vote if proposed once within the preceding 5 calendar years;

(ii) Less than 6% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed twice previously within the preceding 5 calendar years; or

(iii) Less than 10% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed three times or more previously within the preceding 5 calendar years; and

(13) Specific amount of dividends: If the proposal relates to specific amounts of cash or stock dividends.

(j) Question 10: What procedures must the company follow if it intends to exclude my proposal? (1) If the company intends to exclude a proposal from its proxy materials, it must file its reasons with the Commission no later than 80 calendar days before it files its definitive proxy statement and form of proxy with the Commission. The company must simultaneously provide you with a copy of its submission. The Commission staff may permit the company to make its submission later than 80 days before the company files its definitive proxy statement and form of proxy, if the company demonstrates good cause for missing the deadline.

(2) The company must file six paper copies of the following:

(i) The proposal;

(ii) An explanation of why the company believes that it may exclude the proposal, which should, if possible, refer to the most recent applicable authority, such as prior Division letters issued under the rule; and

(iii) A supporting opinion of counsel when such reasons are based on matters of state or foreign law.

(k) Question 11: May I submit my own statement to the Commission responding to the company's arguments?

Yes, you may submit a response, but it is not required. You should try to submit any response to us, with a copy to the company, as soon as possible after the company makes its submission. This way, the Commission staff will have time to consider fully your submission before it issues its response. You should submit six paper copies of your response.

(l) Question 12: If the company includes my shareholder proposal in its proxy materials, what information about me must it include along with the proposal itself?

(1) The company's proxy statement must include your name and address, as well as the number of the company's voting securities that you hold. However, instead of providing that information, the company may instead include a statement that it will provide the information to shareholders promptly upon receiving an oral or written request.

(2) The company is not responsible for the contents of your proposal or supporting statement.

(m) Question 13: What can I do if the company includes in its proxy statement reasons why it believes shareholders should not vote in favor of my proposal, and I disagree with some of its statements?

(1) The company may elect to include in its proxy statement reasons why it believes shareholders should vote against your proposal. The company is allowed to make arguments reflecting its own point of view, just as you may express your own point of view in your proposal's supporting statement.

(2) However, if you believe that the company's opposition to your proposal contains materially false or misleading statements that may violate our anti-fraud rule, §240.14a-9, you should promptly send to the Commission staff and the company a letter explaining the reasons for your view, along with a copy of the company's statements opposing your proposal. To the extent possible, your letter should include specific factual information demonstrating the inaccuracy of the company's claims. Time permitting, you may wish to try to work out your differences with the company by yourself before contacting the Commission staff.

(3) We require the company to send you a copy of its statements opposing your proposal before it sends its proxy materials, so that you may bring to our attention any materially false or misleading statements, under the following timeframes:

(i) If our no-action response requires that you make revisions to your proposal or supporting statement as a condition to requiring the company to include it in its proxy materials, then the company must provide you with a copy of its opposition statements no later than 5 calendar days after the company receives a copy of your revised proposal; or

(ii) In all other cases, the company must provide you with a copy of its opposition statements no later than 30 calendar days before its files definitive copies of its proxy statement and form of proxy under §240.14a-6.

Dear Ms. Rolon:

Your FedEx letter of 14 November 2012 was received at 12:45 pm on Thursday 15 November 2012.

You have objected to my shareholder proposal on the ground that it contains more than one proposal, I am unaware of any interpretation of my shareholder proposal that can support such conclusion, and note that you have failed to demonstrate this..

My proposed Pfizer resolution is very similar to one I submitted for Merck's 2012 Annual Meeting. Merck didn't like it and took it to the SEC. To make a long story short. Merck lost, I won, and my shareholder proposal was submitted to Merck's shareholders at Merck's 2012 Annual Meeting.

I am sending herewith copy of my SEC-accepted shareholder resolution (Proposal 6) so you may see for yourself how similar it is to my proposed Pfizer shareholder resolution.

Please note that the Resolved clauses of the two proposals are identical.

I am also sending letter from Charles Schwab dated 21 November 2012, demonstrating continuous ownership by me of 500 shares of Pfizer Inc from 22 Sept. 2011 to 26 April 2012 when these 500 shares were transferred to my J.P. Morgan account.

I will document my continuous ownership of my Pfizer shares in my J.P. Morgan account since 26 April 2012 in my next fax letter.

Very truly yours,

Donald A. Perrella.

Please encourage our board to respond positively to this proposal to initiate improved corporate governance and make our company more competitive:

Special Shareowner Meetings—Yes on 5.

Board of Directors' Statement in Opposition to the Proposal

The By-Laws of the Company require the Board to call a special meeting of shareholders at the request of the holders of 25% or more of the Company's stock. The Company's By-Laws are supplemented by New Jersey corporate law, which provides that the holders of 10% or more of the Company's stock have the right to call a special meeting upon a showing of good cause in New Jersey Superior Court. The good cause requirement protects the interests of all shareholders by allowing the holders of 10% or more of the Company's stock to call a special meeting for legitimate purposes, including important matters that arise between annual meetings, while shielding shareholders and the Company from abuse of this right. Absent the good cause requirement, disgruntled or special interest minority shareholders could call special meetings for frivolous or self-serving purposes at significant expense and disruption to the operations of the Company.

Additionally, New Jersey law protects the right of shareholders to be heard on critical matters by requiring shareholder approval for significant corporate actions, such as a merger or sale of substantially all of the assets of the Company. The Company's Certificate of Incorporation also requires shareholder approval of such actions.

The Board believes that by maintaining the current approach to special meetings of the shareholders provided by New Jersey corporate law and by the Company's By-Laws, the overall interests of the Company and its shareholders are protected in a balanced and fair manner.

The Board of Directors recommends a vote AGAINST this proposal.

PROPOSAL 6. SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL CONCERNING A REPORT ON CHARITABLE AND POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Dr. Donald J. Perrella,  FISMA & OMB Memorandum M-07-16  owner of 5,734 shares of Common Stock of the Company, has given notice that he intends to present for action at the Annual Meeting the following resolution:

Whereas, our company has given charitable donations to seemingly noncontroversial groups like Meals On Wheels, Save the Children, and the Boy Scouts of America. It has also given money to Planned Parenthood, the largest abortion performing organization in the country, gay and lesbian organizations trying to change the marriage laws of our country, and was a sponsor of the American Society of Reproductive Medicine, which supports, inter alia, human embryo destruction. These later recipients are involved in clearly more controversial issues, some of which are also major political issues of our day.

Whereas a number of other charitable contributions went to organizations more clearly involved in political matters. For example, we gave money to the Center for Political Accountability for a meeting "regarding the creation of a handbook on corporate political activity." In addition, we gave money to Congressional Black Caucus Foundation and to Women's Policy, Inc which educates elected officials.

Whereas, under the Supreme Court decision, Citizen United, our company will be given greater latitude in supporting political candidates and issues.

Resolved: the shareholders request that the independent members of the Board of Directors institute a comprehensive review of Merck's charitable contributions and political contributions and issue a report addressing the interrelation of both and how will they serve overall corporate policy.

Ms. Suzanne Y. Rolon
Director – Corporate Governance
Legal Division
Pfizer Inc.
235 East 42nd Street
New York, NY 10017-5755

Dear Ms. Rolon:

Further to my fax letter to you of 23 November 2012, I am submitting herewith as Attachment 1, copy of page 7 from my J.P. Morgan (JPM) monthly statement for April 2012 showing deposit into my JPM account of 500 shares of Pfizer Inc. (from my Charles Schwab account) on 26 April 2012. These 500 shares have remained continuously in my JPM account since 26 April 2012 to today.

Attachment 2 is copy of a letter to me from JPM dated 19 November 2012 in response to my request for a letter of continuous ownership of my Pfizer Inc. shares, JPM's letter states that JPM does not provide a letter of continuous ownership. I was disappointed, but not surprised as it is just what JPM did last year when I asked for such a letter for my Merck shareholder resolution. As I do not determine policy for JPM and am powerless to compel JPM to issue such a letter, I did what JPM suggested and submitted to Merck copies of relevant JPM monthly statements proving continuous ownership of the Merck shares. They may not have been as compact as a continuous ownership letter, but they were from the same source and contained all the relevant ownership information requested,

Merck, however, refused to be satisfied and took the case to the SEC since I had failed (due solely to JPM's policy) to submit a letter of continuous ownership. I opposed Merck's action as I did not, and do not, believe (1) that I should be penalized for the policy of a third party (2) when I was, and am, powerless to stop or to change said policy, especially (3) when I provided proof of continuous ownership by submitting other JPM documents as JPM had suggested.

The SEC, however, did not act as Merck apparently expected or suggested, and, as indicated in my letter to you of 23 November 2012, the result was that my shareholder resolution was submitted to Merck shareholders at the 2012 Annual Meeting. Should you decide to follow Merck's path, I will oppose just as I did with Merck, but now I will also be able to cite Merck's failure as legal precedent.

Now returning to continuous ownership, I enclose as Attachment 3 copy of page 5 of my JPM statement for month ending 30 April 2012. It shows that I then owned 500 shares of Pfizer Inc. as the result of 5 lots of Pfizer Inc., each for 100 shares, purchased starting 7 July 2011 and ending 22 Sept. 2011. The acquisition date of each of these 5 lots is shown on this statement. Each and every one of these 5 lots has been owned by me continuously for more than one year!

Attachments 4-9 show continuous unchanged monthly balances of 500 shares of Pfizer Inc. for months April - October 2012. I have never sold any OF MY PFIZER SHARES.

As of today's date the 100 shares bought 7/7/2011 have been owned continuously by me for 1 year 4 months and 19 days.

As of today's date the 100 shares bought 7/25/2011 have been owned continuously by me for 1 year, 4 months and 1 days.

As of today's date the 100 shares bought 8/1/2011 have been owned continuously by me for 1 year, 4 months and 25 days.

As of today's date the 100 shares bought 8/3/2011 have been owned continuously by me for 1 year, 4 months and 23 days.

As of today's date the 100 shares bought 9/22/2011 have been owned continuously by me for 1 year, 2 months and 4 days.

Also on 22 Sept. 2012, I became the continuous owner of 500 shares of Pfizer Inc. for one year. I have owned these 500 shares of Pfizer Inc. continuously since then and will still own them at the time of the Pfizer 2013 Annual Meeting.

If you require anything further, Please advise me and I will attend to it promptly.

Very truly yours,

Donald J. Perrella.

Shareholder Proposals

We expect the following proposals (Items 4 through 7 on the proxy card) to be presented by shareholders at the Annual Meeting. Some of the proposals contain assertions about Pfizer or other statements that we believe are incorrect. We have not attempted to refute all these inaccuracies. However, the Board of Directors has recommended a vote against these proposals for the broader policy reasons set forth following each proposal. The names, addresses and share holdings of any co-filers of these proposals, where applicable, will be supplied upon request.

ITEM 4 – SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL REGARDING PUBLICATION OF POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Mrs. Evelyn Y. Davis, Watergate Office Building, 2600 Virginia Avenue, N.W., Suite 215, Washington, DC 20037, who represents that she owns 1,200 shares of Pfizer common stock, has submitted the following proposal for consideration at the Annual Meeting:

RESOLVED: “That the stockholders recommend that the Board direct management that within five days after approval by the shareholders of this proposal, the management shall publish in newspapers of general circulation in the cities of New York, Washington, D.C., Detroit, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Dallas, Houston and Miami, and in the Wall Street Journal and U.S.A. Today, a detailed statement of each contribution made by the Company, either directly or indirectly, within the immediately preceding fiscal year, in respect of a political campaign, political party, referendum or citizens’ initiative, or attempts to influence legislation, specifying the date and amount of each such contribution, and the person or organization to whom the contribution was made. Subsequent to this initial disclosure, the management shall cause like data to be included in each succeeding report to shareholders.” “And if no such disbursements were made, to have that fact publicized in the same manner.”

REASONS: “This proposal, if adopted, would require the management to advise the shareholders how many corporate dollars are being spent for political purposes and to specify what political causes the management seeks to promote with those funds. It is therefore no more than a requirement that the shareholders be given a more detailed accounting of these special purpose expenditures that they now receive. These political contributions are made with dollars that belong to the shareholders as a group and they are entitled to know how they are being spent.”

“Last year the owners of shares representing 4.6% of the votes cast voted FOR this proposal.”

“If you AGREE, please mark your proxy FOR this resolution.”

Your Company’s Response:

The Board of Directors believes that the Company’s current disclosures provide shareholders with comprehensive information on its political contributions. Pfizer complies fully with all federal, state and local laws, including reporting requirements, governing its corporate political and Political Action Committee (PAC) contributions. Pfizer’s political contributions disclosure policy provides that “[a]ll federal and state contributions and expenditures made by the Company shall be disclosed semi-annually on the Pfizer Inc. website.” This includes contributions to candidates, political committees and political parties, as well as contributions related to ballot measures. The Pfizer PAC and Corporate Political Contributions Report details, by recipient and amount, Pfizer PAC and Pfizer Inc. contributions to political committees, corporate contributions made in state and local elections, and certain contributions to trade associations. The Report also identifies, by name and title, each member of the Political Contributions Policy Committee (PCPC) and Pfizer PAC Steering Committee. The PCPC oversees the day-to-day operations of the PAC, including all PAC solicitations, and the Pfizer PAC Steering Committee reviews and approves all political contribution requests.

In addition, Pfizer asks trade associations receiving $100,000 or more from the Company in a given year to report to us the portion of Pfizer dues/payments used for political expenditures/contributions. We voluntarily include this information in the Report and on our website. Prior to publication, the PAC and Corporate Political Contributions Report is presented to the Board. We encourage shareholders to view the report on our corporate website at: www.pfizer.com/about/corporate_governance/political_action_committee_report.jsp.

We regularly re-evaluate our reporting practices to ensure that the Company's disclosure practices and policies meet the needs of our shareholders and other stakeholders; as part of this process, we speak with representatives from many shareholder and stakeholder groups. In 2011, the Company adopted a policy that prohibits employees from directly making independent expenditures using corporate treasury funds. This type of expenditure, which would permit employees to expressly advocate the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate, was the subject of the United States Supreme Court's 2010 decision in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission. We adopted our policy prohibiting such payments to demonstrate our responsiveness to shareholder concerns prompted by the Supreme Court's decision.

The Board believes that adopting this proposal is not in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders and, furthermore, that the proponent's request—specifically, that these contributions be published in certain U.S., local, and national newspapers and additional shareholder reports—would be an unnecessary expenditure of corporate resources and would not be useful to shareholders.

Your Board of Directors unanimously recommends a vote AGAINST this proposal.

ITEM 5 – SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL REGARDING ACTION BY WRITTEN CONSENT

Mr. William Steiner, FISMA & OMB Memorandum M-07-16 who represents that he owns 12,700 shares of Pfizer common stock, has submitted the following proposal for consideration at the Annual Meeting:

RESOLVED, Shareholders request that our board of directors undertake such steps as may be necessary to permit written consent by shareholders entitled to cast the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize the action at a meeting at which all shareholders entitled to vote thereon were present and voting (to the fullest extent permitted by law). This includes written consent regarding issues that our board is not in favor of.

This proposal topic won majority shareholder support at 13 major companies in 2010. This included 67%-support at both Allstate and Sprint. Hundreds of major companies enable shareholder action by written consent.

Taking action by written consent in place of a meeting is a means shareholders can use to raise important matters outside the normal annual meeting cycle. A study by Harvard professor Paul Gompers supports the concept that shareholder dis-empowering governance features, including restrictions on shareholder ability to act by written consent, are significantly related to reduced shareholder value.

In spite of our company trying to create the impression that it is shareholder-friendly, our company used corporate money to tilt the vote against widely-supported shareholder proposals in 2011. This included shareholder proposals for a shareholder right to act by written consent and a shareholder proposal for 10% of shareholders to call a special meeting. As a result the strong 2011 shareholder support for these topics was probably understated.

Please encourage our board to respond positively to this proposal to support improved corporate governance and financial performance: Shareholder Action by Written Consent—Yes on 5.

SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

We expect the following proposals (Items 5 through 10 on the proxy card) to be presented by shareholders at the Annual Meeting. Some of the proposals contain assertions about Pfizer or other statements that we believe are incorrect. We have not attempted to refute all these inaccuracies. However, the Board of Directors has recommended a vote against these proposals for broader policy reasons, as set forth following each proposal. The names, addresses and share holdings of any co-filers of these proposals, where applicable, will be supplied upon request.

ITEM 5—SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL REGARDING PUBLICATION OF POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Mrs. Evelyn Y. Davis, Watergate Office Building, 2600 Virginia Avenue, N.W., Suite 215, Washington, DC 20037, who represents that she owns 1,200 shares of Pfizer common stock, has submitted the following proposal for consideration at the Annual Meeting:

RESOLVED: "That the stockholders recommend that the Board direct management that within five days after approval by the shareholders of this proposal, the management shall publish in newspapers of general circulation in the cities of New York, Washington, D.C., Detroit, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Dallas, Houston and Miami, and in the Wall Street Journal and U.S.A. Today, a detailed statement of each contribution made by the Company, either directly or indirectly, within the immediately preceding fiscal year, in respect of a political campaign, political party, referendum or citizens' initiative, or attempts to influence legislation, specifying the date and amount of each such contribution, and the person or organization to whom the contribution was made. Subsequent to this initial disclosure, the management shall cause like data to be included in each succeeding report to shareholders." "And if no such disbursements were made, to have that fact publicized in the same manner."

REASONS: "This proposal, if adopted, would require the management to advise the shareholders how many corporate dollars are being spent for political purposes and to specify what political causes the management seeks to promote with those funds. It is therefore no more than a requirement that the shareholders be given a more detailed accounting of these special purpose expenditures that they now receive. These political contributions are made with dollars that belong to the shareholders as a group and they are entitled to know how they are being spent."

"If you AGREE, please mark your proxy FOR this resolution."

YOUR COMPANY'S RESPONSE:

The Board believes that the Company's current disclosures provide shareholders with comprehensive information on its political contributions. Pfizer complies fully with all federal, state and local laws and reporting requirements governing its Political Action Committee (PAC) and corporate political contributions. Pfizer's Political Disclosure Policy provides that, "All federal and state contributions and expenditures made by the Company shall be disclosed semi-annually on the Pfizer Inc. website." This includes contributions to candidates as well as to political committees, ballot measures and political parties. The Pfizer PAC and Corporate Political Contributions Report details, by recipient and amount, Pfizer PAC and Pfizer Inc. contributions to political committees, corporate contributions made in state and local elections, and certain contributions to trade associations. The report also identifies, by name and title, each member of the Political Contributions Policy Committee and Pfizer PAC Steering Committee, the two committees that make political contribution decisions.

In addition, Pfizer requests that trade associations receiving $100,000 or more from the Company in a given year report the portion of Pfizer dues/ payments used for political expenditures/contributions. This information, provided voluntarily on our part, is also included in the report and disclosed on our corporate website. Prior to publication, the PAC and Corporate Political Contributions Report is presented to the Board of Directors. We encourage shareholders to view the report on our corporate website at: www.pfizer.com/about/corporate_governance/political_action_committee_report.jsp.

The Company re-evaluates its reporting practices continuously to ensure that its disclosure and policies meet the needs of its shareholders and all stakeholders. Most recently, the Company adopted a policy that prohibits employees from directly making independent expenditures using corporate treasury funds. This type of expenditure, which expressly advocates the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate, was the subject of the United States Supreme Court's decision in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission in 2010. We adopted this policy to demonstrate our responsiveness to shareholder concerns prompted by the United States Supreme Court's decision.

The Board of Directors believes that adopting this proposal is not in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders. It believes that the additional information requested by the proponent, specifically to publish these contributions in certain U.S., local, and national newspapers and to provide separate shareholder reports about them, would be an unnecessary expenditure of corporate resources and would not be useful to shareholders.

Your Board of Directors unanimously recommends a vote AGAINST this proposal.

ITEM 6—SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL REGARDING PUBLIC POLICY INITIATIVES

National Legal and Policy Center, 107 Park Washington Court, Falls Church, Virginia 22046, which represents that it owns 150 shares of Pfizer common stock, has submitted the following proposal for consideration at the Annual Meeting:

WHEREAS:

Pfizer's primary responsibility is to create shareholder value. The Company should pursue legal and ethical means to achieve that goal, including identifying and advocating legislative and regulatory public policies that would advance Company interests and shareholder value in a transparent and lawful manner.

RESOLVED: The shareholders request the Board of Directors, at reasonable cost and excluding confidential information, report to shareholders annually on the Company's process for identifying

Transparency in Grants

Pfizer partners with many medical, scientific, patient and civic organizations to support their programs and activities, such as health education and scientific research. This support takes many forms, including grants, charitable contributions and partnerships for efforts that strengthen communities, and work toward a healthier world. Working with these organizations allows Pfizer to better understand the needs of the patients who take our medicines, while helping these medical, scientific and patient organizations inform and address the needs of those they serve.

Pfizer is committed to the principle of transparency — the disclosure of activities reflecting participation in efforts of public interest. These include such areas as funding for educational activities, the status of Pfizer's U.S. pharmaceutical post-marketing commitments, Pfizer's pipeline of experimental medicines, the registration and reporting of results of clinical trials, political contributions in the U.S. and payments to U.S. health care professionals. Here, we report grants and charitable contributions made by Pfizer to medical, scientific and patient organizations based in the U.S., including Puerto Rico. Pfizer began disclosing this information in 2008. During 2009, Pfizer began disclosing funding requests for healthcare-related support to civic organizations. In 2010, Pfizer began reporting legacy Wyeth programs.

The information reported here includes grants to support independent medical education, support for fellowship, scholarship and visiting professorship programs, grants to patient organizations, medical and scientific associations, and academic or other medical centers, charitable contributions, and healthcare-related support to civic organizations.

Statement on Transparency in Grants

In 2008, Pfizer began reporting grants and charitable contributions provided to medical, scientific and patient organizations in the US. This reflects our commitment to increasing transparency around the support Pfizer provides to organizations that work to improve the health of patients and advance science. This support is one way we contribute to the improvement of patients' lives and the advancement of scientific research, in conjunction with our core business of developing innovative medicines. In 2009, Pfizer began disclosing healthcare related support to civic organizations. In 2010, Pfizer's report included legacy Wyeth programs.

Prior to 2008, we highlighted a limited number of grants or charitable contributions in company press releases. As interest in more information across the health care spectrum has grown, public reporting became a natural next step.

To that end, Pfizer's support of these organizations and activities is reported on Pfizer.com. This reporting is a condition of accepting such grants and charitable contributions. Details disclosed include the recipient organization's name, a brief description of the program for which the grant or charitable contribution was given, and the amount of the funding. Pfizer may update the quarterly reports if additional relevant information becomes available.

What information is available on this web page?

The data posted on this web page reflects Pfizer's best effort to provide quarterly reports of grants and charitable contributions made by Pfizer to US patient, scientific and medical organizations, beginning in 2008. Funding reported here includes payments related to human medical care in the form of medical education grants, fellowship, scholarship and visiting professorship support for institutions and healthcare related partnerships, grants to patient organizations, medical and scientific associations, and academic or other medical centers, and charitable contributions. In 2009, Pfizer began disclosing healthcare related support to civic organizations.

In October, 2009, Pfizer acquired Wyeth Pharmaceuticals. Subsequently, the web page has been expanded to include grants provided by the Wyeth U.S. Pharmaceuticals Division during 2008 and 2009. As of 2010, Pfizer's report included legacy Wyeth programs.

For descriptions of these funding types, please visit our descriptions section. Reported information includes the name of the recipient organization, a brief description of the funded activity, and the amount of funding provided. Pfizer may update the quarterly reports if additional relevant information becomes available.

Top

Are organizations receiving Pfizer support aware of this effort?

Yes. Beginning in 2007, Pfizer has informed organizations that received funding of our plans to publicly disclose Pfizer's support. The response has been overwhelmingly positive.

Top

Will funding support to medical, scientific, patient and civic organizations based outside the US be reported?

Pfizer is currently working with external stakeholders globally to determine the appropriate method and scope of disclosure worldwide. Because laws and rules vary from country to country, reporting will vary. In the UK, for example, the Association of the British Pharmaceutical Industry requires disclosure of grants to patient organizations. Pfizer goes beyond this requirement and describes the nature of Pfizer's relationship with these groups.

Top

What is a Medical Education grant?

Pfizer supports the efforts of independent organizations in their mission to improve patient care through quality improvement initiatives as well as continuing education for healthcare professionals. Requests to support such programs are submitted through our website and managed by the Pfizer Medical organization. For those grant requests submitted in response to a request for proposal (RFP), external review panels (ERP) are responsible for the review and decision-making. ERPs consist of professionals from the medical and education communities with advanced degrees and expertise in a particular clinical area, or specific needs of a geographic region/learner groups, or expertise in CME, CE, continuing professional development (CPD) or Quality Improvement. Pfizer also supports live activities at national conferences and congresses; such grant requests from accredited providers are not subject to ERP review but must still be in compliance with all external guidelines and Pfizer policies.

Top

Is the volume of funding activities consistent throughout the calendar year?

No. Funding of grants and charitable contributions may fluctuate throughout the year, following the pattern of requests for such funding from medical, scientific and patient organizations.

Top

Are you going to disclose grants and charitable contributions made prior to 2008?

Data regarding charitable contributions made through the Pfizer Foundation are available beginning with 2001 on the website www.foundationcenter.org. For all other types of grants and charitable contributions, we began this disclosure with the 2008 calendar year to allow us to notify current and prospective grant recipients of our transparency initiative prior to disclosure. We also sought to solicit and incorporate the views of these organizations into the disclosure process, which we have done.

Where can I find more information about requesting a grant?

For information about submitting requests for medical education grants, visit www.pfizermededgrants.com. For information about applying for health care charitable contributions, visit www.pfizerhealthcharitables.com. For information about applying for fellowships and scholarships, visit www.promisingminds.com. For information on the broad range of programs Pfizer supports, visit www.pfizer.com/responsibility.

Top

Is any of the funding support reported on this web page used for the continuing medical education (CME) of health care professionals?

Yes. Many of the grants provided by Pfizer's Medical Education Group are used to support CME programs. During 2008, Pfizer discontinued the practice of directly funding CME programs provided by medical education and communication companies, but honored existing commitments. In October, 2009, Pfizer acquired Wyeth Pharmaceuticals and will honor any existing commitments with medical education and communication companies and disclose the programs in our report for the remainder of 2010. For more information about Pfizer's ongoing commitment to CME, visit www.pfizermededgrants.com.

Top

How does Pfizer ensure that grants and charitable contributions do not pose a conflict of interest with recipient organizations?

Pfizer respects the integrity of the medical, scientific and patient organizations with whom we partner. As such, we strive to achieve the highest level of ethical business conduct in our partnership grants and charitable contributions. Funding support to US-based medical, scientific and patient organizations is in no way intended to influence or reward the recipient for present, past, or future use or support of Pfizer medicines, or to gain access for promotion purposes, or to influence the outcome of a clinical trial. In addition, none of these payments is given to reward recipient organizations for influencing or attempting to influence specific legislation, regulation or governmental health care policies, nor are these payments given on behalf of government officials or elected officials. This support is one way we contribute to the improvement of patients' lives and the advancement of scientific research, in conjunction with our core business of developing innovative medicines.

Top

Is Pfizer disclosing all grants, charitable contributions, and other healthcare related funding requests made to US patient, scientific, medical, and civic organizations?

The data posted on this web page reflects Pfizer's best effort to disclose all grants and charitable contributions made by Pfizer to US patient, scientific and medical organizations, beginning in 2008. In 2009, Pfizer has begun disclosing other funding requests for healthcare related support to civic organizations. Gifts made by the Pfizer Foundation of every amount to all recipients are reported on an annual basis, and can be found at www.foundationcenter.org. Business expenses such as scientific congress exhibit fees and membership dues to medical associations, which provide some material value to Pfizer, are not included. Charitable contributions to cultural institutions and non healthcare related contributions to civic organizations and some aid to disaster-relief groups are outside the scope of this web page, though such funding by the Pfizer Foundation can be found in the Pfizer Foundation annual giving report at www.foundationcenter.org.

Lobbying and Political Contributions

Public policy affects our ability to meet patient needs and provide shareholder value. Essential aspects of our business are being challenged by barriers to access, counterfeits, illegal importation and challenges to intellectual property protection. For this reason, we actively participate in public policy dialogues to explain our perspectives. We have extensive knowledge about health care and many ideas about improving its efficiency, as well as a global perspective on public health, disease prevention and health education.

We believe that public policy engagement is an important and appropriate role for companies in open societies, when conducted in a legal and transparent manner. In the U.S. there are important federal and state lobbying registration and disclosure laws with which Pfizer complies.

There are also federal and state laws which prohibit and/or restrict the use of corporate treasury funds for political purposes. Corporate treasury funds may not be used to contribute to candidates for federal office. The Pfizer Political Action Committee makes contributions to candidates for federal office, and fully discloses its contributions on a regular basis to the Federal Election Commission. Corporate treasury funds may be used, where legally permissible, to contribute to candidates for state and local office. We publicly disclose our corporate political contributions and employee Political Action Committee contributions on our Web site.

Finally, corporate treasury funds may not be used to make "independent expenditures" in connection with federal and state elections. Pfizer has adopted a strict policy against making independent expenditures.

Pfizer PAC & Corporate Political Contributions R January 2011 – June 2012

Learn which candidates we support in your community.

Pfizer PAC – Our Voices, Our Impact.

A Message from Sally Susman, Chair, Pfizer PAC

I am pleased to share our annual 2012 election cycle political contributions report, which includes a list of candidates and political committees supported either by Pfizer or the Pfizer PAC from January 1, 2011 through June 30, 2012.

The Pfizer PAC is bipartisan; we contribute to candidates of both political parties. To date this cycle, we have supported 1,798 candidates at all levels of government. I hope you will take time to review the report to see which candidates the PAC supported in your state and community.

This election cycle is critical to our industry and reputation – our elected representatives are making difficult choices, including focusing on cost reductions which may limit access to medicines as well as protecting our ability to continue researching and developing innovative medicines.

Pfizer's goal is to generate sustained, positive "public will" among the general public, policy makers, and all of our stakeholders to help build constructive discourse in the political and regulatory environment in support of short- and long-term business objectives.

As Pfizer's PAC Chair and through my interactions with elected officials, I see first-hand how decisions are made that impact our ability to discover and bring to market innovative medicines that help the patients we serve. The Pfizer PAC supports candidates who are committed to maintaining and improving incentives for innovation and protecting and expanding access for the patients we serve.

Thank you for your support,

PFIZER PAC

Our Voices Our Impact

What is a PAC?

PAC stands for Political Action Committee. A political action committee is a government-regulated organization that anyone can form to raise money for political campaign donations. PACs are formed by individuals, non-profits, and even many major corporations.

How Does Pfizer PAC Work?

The Pfizer political action committee, Pfizer PAC, is a nonpartisan organization that provides opportunities for employees to participate in the American political process. The Pfizer PAC is an employee-run organization with a Steering Committee made up of Pfizer employees from different divisions of the company. All corporate PACs are funded by voluntary employee contributions. Pfizer PAC is no different; it relies on the participation of Pfizer colleagues.

Who Receives Pfizer PAC Contributions?

Pfizer PAC is nonpartisan. It supports Democrats and Republicans alike. From January 2011 through June 2012, Pfizer PAC supported 1,798 candidates. True to its nonpartisan values, Pfizer PAC is committed to support candidates from both political parties who share Pfizer's vision and values for healthcare. When choosing to make a contribution to a candidate, the Pfizer PAC considers candidates' views on issues that impact Pfizer and its employees as well as the presence of Pfizer facilities or employees in the candidate's district or state. A complete list of Pfizer PAC and state corporate political contributions for January 2011 – June 2012 is included in this report.

PFIZER PAC & POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS GOVERNANCE POLICY

Pfizer complies fully with all federal, state, and local laws and reporting requirements governing PAC and corporate political contributions.

Pfizer has a Corporate Policy Procedure (#802a) that requires all PAC and corporate political contributions to be compiled and published semiannually in a report that is made available to employees, shareholders, and the public, and posted on the Company's website at www.pfizer.com in "Lobbying and Political Contributions" under the "About Pfizer" tab within the "Corporate Governance" section.

At the end of each Federal election cycle, Pfizer's PAC and Political Contributions Report is audited by Bond Bebee, a certified public accounting and advisory firm. The firm's "Report of Independent Auditors" is available in Pfizer's PAC & Corporate Political Contributions Report, January 2009-December 2010 at http://www.pfizer.com/about/corporate_governance/political_action_committee_report.jsp.

Pfizer also requests that trade associations receiving total payments of $100,000 or more from Pfizer in a given year report the portion of Pfizer dues or payments used for expenditures or contributions that, if made directly by Pfizer, would not be deductible under section 162(e)(1)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code. We are disclosing such information received from our trade associations in this report.

Pfizer has a PAC Steering Committee comprised of eight colleagues who review and approve all PAC and corporate political contributions on a monthly basis. To ensure adequate representation, Steering Committee members represent different divisions within the Pfizer organization. The PAC Steering Committee evaluates candidates on a basis of their views on issues that impact Pfizer and its colleagues. It also takes note of whether Pfizer facilities or colleagues reside in a candidate's district or state. Contributions to candidates are not based on the political preferences or views of any individual colleague within Pfizer. In addition, all PAC and corporate contribution requests are shared with the Pfizer Political Contributions Policy Committee for review. The Political Contributions Policy Committee is responsible for governing the Pfizer PAC.

Pfizer does not traditionally make contributions to 527 Issue Organizations such as MoveOn.Org or Swift Boat Veterans. If we were asked to make such a contribution, it would have to be reviewed and approved by the Political Contributions Policy Committee and subsequently disclosed in our semiannual report.

Finally, in light of the Supreme Court decision in the Citizens United case, Pfizer has determined that it will not make any direct independent expenditures, a decision which has been discussed at the executive level as well as with the Corporate Governance Committee of our Board.

Public Policy Engagement and Political Participation

Engaging in Public Policy

In the highly regulated and competitive pharmaceutical industry, it is crucial to our stakeholders that we engage on public policy issues that may affect our ability to meet patient needs and enhance shareholder value. Essential aspects of our business are regularly challenged by barriers to access, counterfeits, illegal drug importation and challenges to our intellectual property protection.

We have extensive knowledge about health care and many ideas about improving its efficiency, as well as a global perspective on public health, disease prevention and health education and wellness. Pfizer remains committed to working with policy makers to help create an innovative environment where we can cultivate new medicines and bring them to the market, and ensure that patient health and safety remains a priority.

Pfizer's Political Contributions and Political Action Committee (PAC) Policy

Corporate Political and Pfizer PAC Contributions:

In the U.S. there are important federal, state and local election laws with which we comply.

The Federal Election Campaign Act (FECA), as amended, prohibits corporations from providing money or in-kind contributions to federal candidates, political parties, political committees or any other entity in connection with a federal election. While some states and local jurisdictions have similar prohibitions on corporate contributions, others permit corporations to directly support state candidates, political parties and committees.

Pfizer has a long-standing policy prohibiting the use of corporate contributions in federal elections, and the Company expects all colleagues to comply with the FECA and corporate policy. The federal contribution ban applies not only to monetary support, but also covers the use of corporate resources and/or services of any monetary value. For this reason, colleagues are prohibited from using any corporate resources for federal election purposes. In state and local jurisdictions that permit corporate contributions, colleagues must seek legal review and approval prior to committing corporate funds or resources to a state or local candidate, political party or political committee. In states where corporate contributions are allowed, Pfizer will use treasury funds to make contributions directly to candidates. These political contributions are made to support the election of candidates, political parties and committees that support public policies important to the industry, such as innovation and access to medicines. Political contributions may not be given to an official in exchange for an official act or to advance particular business projects.

The Pfizer Political Action Committee (PAC) is a nonpartisan organization that provides opportunities for employees to participate in the American political process. The Pfizer PAC is an employee run organization with a Steering Committee made up of Pfizer employees from different divisions of the Company. The Pfizer PAC is funded by voluntary employee contributions. Click here to view the current report.

External Auditor Review

At the end of each Federal election cycle (every two years), the Pfizer PAC is audited by Bond Bebee, a certified public accounting and advisory firm. The firm's Report of Independent Auditors is available in Pfizer's PAC & Corporate Political Contributions Report, January 2009-December 2010 at: http://www.pfizer.com/files/investors/corporate/2009_2010_pac_report.pdf

Independent Expenditures:

In light of the Supreme Court decision in the Citizens United case, Pfizer has determined that it will not make any direct independent expenditures.

527 Issue Organizations:

Pfizer does not traditionally make contributions to 527 Issue Organizations such as MoveOn.Org or Swift Boat Veterans. If we were asked to make such a contribution, it would have to be reviewed and approved by the Political Contributions Policy Committee (described below) and subsequently disclosed in our semiannual political contributions report.

International Political Contributions:

A Pfizer Entity is permitted to make political contributions to political parties, candidates for public office or election committees in countries outside the United States where it is lawful to do so and in certain circumstances. Please see our Corporate Procedure for further information.

Policies and Procedures for Approval/Oversight of PAC and Corporate Political Expenditures

PAC Steering Committee/Political Contributions Policy Committee:

A Steering Committee comprised of eight colleagues reviews and approves all PAC and corporate political contributions on a monthly basis. To ensure adequate representation, Steering Committee members represent different divisions within the Pfizer organization. The PAC Steering Committee evaluates candidates on the basis of their views on issues that impact not only Pfizer but our patients as well. The Committee also takes note of whether Pfizer facilities or colleagues reside in a candidate's district or state. In addition, all PAC and corporate contribution requests are shared with the Pfizer Political Contributions Policy Committee, or PCPC, for review. The PCPC, chaired by Sally Susman, Executive Vice President, Policy, External Affairs and Communications, is comprised of senior leaders from different divisions within the organization, and is responsible for governing the Pfizer PAC.

Board of Directors:

The Board of Directors at Pfizer plays an important role in Pfizer's public policy engagement and political participation. The Corporate Governance Committee of the Board is responsible for maintaining an informed status on public policy issues that may potentially affect the reputation of the pharmaceutical industry and Pfizer. The Board also reviews the PAC and Corporate Political Contributions report before it is published.

Pfizer's Disclosure Policies

Political Contributions:

Pfizer complies fully with all federal, state, and local laws and reporting requirements governing PAC and corporate political contributions. Pfizer also requests that trade associations receiving total payments of $100,000 or more from Pfizer in a given year, report the portion of Pfizer dues or payments used for expenditures or contributions that, if made directly by Pfizer, would not be deductible under section 162(e)(1)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code. Pfizer has a Corporate Policy Procedure (#802a) that requires all PAC and corporate political contributions be compiled and published semiannually in the PAC and Corporate Political Contributions Report available at www.pfizer.com. We also disclose the information we receive from our trade associations in the semiannual report.

Pfizer continuously re-evaluates its reporting practices to ensure that its disclosures meet the needs of its stakeholders. Over the years, shareholder engagement has helped Pfizer to expand its level of disclosure and create or modify corporate policies related to political expenditures.

Federal and State Lobbying Activity:

We file quarterly reports of our federal lobbying activity in compliance with the Honest Leadership and Open Government Act of 2007 (HLOGA). In addition to Pfizer's federal lobbying activity, the amount we report also includes the amount spent on federal lobbying activity by trade associations of which Pfizer is a member. These reports are available to the public at: http://www.senate.gov/legislative/Public_Disclosure/LDA_reports.htm or at: http://clerk.house.gov/public_disc/index.aspx

With regard to Pfizer's state lobbying activity, Pfizer complies with state registration and reporting requirements in all the states where Pfizer is currently active.

Trade Associations

We are a member of several industry and trade groups, including the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the Business Roundtable, the National Association of Manufacturers, the Biotechnology Industry Association, and the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America (PhRMA). These organizations along with the others we belong to represent both the pharmaceutical industry and the business community at large in an effort to bring about consensus on broad policy issues that can impact Pfizer's business objectives and ability to serve patients. At times we may not completely share the views of these various industry and trade groups and/or members, but we are able to voice our concerns, as appropriate, through our colleagues who serve on the boards and committees of these groups.

A partial listing of our trade association memberships is available on our website at:
