PART II — OFFERING CIRCULAR

ITEM 3. SUMMARY INFORMATION, RISK FACTORS AND DILUTION

Investing in the Company's Securities is very risky. You should be able to bear a complete loss of your investment. You should carefully consider the following factors, including those listed in this Securities Offering.

Emergency Lighting Technology & Manufacturing Industry Risks

Emergency Lighting Technology & Manufacturing Technology & Manufacturing Industry investments are subject to varying degrees of risk. The yields available from equity investments in Emergency Lighting Technology & Manufacturing Industry companies depends on the amount of income earned and capital appreciation generated by the company as well as the expenses incurred in connection therewith. If any of the Company's products or assets does not generate income sufficient to meet operating expenses, the Company's Common Stock value could adversely be affected. Income from, and the value of, the Company's Products and Assets may be adversely affected by the general economic climate, the Residential and Commercial Real Estate market conditions such as oversupply of related products or a reduction in demand for Residential and Commercial Construction or Renovation products in the areas in which the Company's Products and Assets are located, competition from other Residential and Commercial Emergency Lighting Suppliers, and the Company's ability to provide adequate Residential and Commercial Emergency Lighting Products. Revenues from the Company's Products and Assets are also affected by such factors such as the costs of production and the local market conditions.

Because Residential & Commercial Emergency Lighting Technology & Manufacturing Industry investments are relatively illiquid, the Company's ability to vary its asset portfolio promptly in response to economic or other conditions is limited. The relative illiquidity of its holdings could impede the Company's ability to respond to adverse changes in the performance of its Products and Assets. No assurance can be given that the fair market value of the Products Produced or Assets Acquired by the Company will not decrease in the future. Investors have no right to withdraw their equity commitment or require the Company to repurchase their respective Common Stock interests and the transferability of the Common Stock Units is limited. Accordingly, investors should be prepared to hold their investment interest until the Company is dissolved and its assets are liquidated.

Conditions in the Residential Housing and Commercial Real Estate Market and Economic Conditions May Affect the Company's Operating Performance

The Company's business is largely dependent on new Multi-Family Residential Construction and Renovation, as well as the Commercial Real Estate Renovation and Construction, mainly in North America, but also globally on a smaller scale. Low levels of consumer confidence, downward pressure on multi-family and commercial real estate prices, disruptions in credit markets limiting the ability of residential and commercial builders to finance construction projects, among other things, may affect investment in new and existing commercial and multi-family residential buildings. The new commercial real estate and multi-family real estate construction market has also undergone a downturn marked by declines in demand for properties, an oversupply of new and existing properties on the market and a reduction in the availability of financing for residential multi-family and commercial real estate builders and developers. The industry conditions and general economic conditions may have an adverse impact on the Company's business.

Continued Disruption in the Financial Markets could Negatively Affect the Company

The Company, its customers and suppliers rely on stable and efficient financial markets. Availability of financing depends on the lending practices of financial institutions, financial and credit markets, government policies, and economic conditions, all of which are beyond the control of the Company. A prolonged continuation of any adverse economic conditions and disrupted financial marketplace could compromise the financial condition of the Company's customers and suppliers. Customers may not be able to pay, or may delay payment of, accounts receivable that are owed due to liquidity and financial performance issues or concerns affecting them or due to their inability to secure financing. Suppliers may modify, delay or cancel projects and reduce their levels of business with the Company. In addition, weakened credit markets may also impact the ability of the builders and developers to obtain any needed financing to purchase the Company's products, resulting in a reduction in overall demand, and consequently negatively impact the Company's sales levels.

Changes in Raw Material Costs and Availability can Adversely Affect the Company's Profit Margins

The principal raw materials used by the Company all have historically been subject to price changes. Raw material pricing on the Company's key commodities has increased significantly over the past few years. In response, the Company may in the future be forced to announce price increases on certain product offerings to offset the inflation in raw materials, and the Company will continually monitor market conditions for price changes as warranted. The Company's ability to maintain gross margin levels on its products during periods of rising raw material costs depends on the Company's ability to obtain selling price increases. Additionally, the Company relies on its suppliers for deliveries of raw materials. If any of the Company's suppliers are unable to deliver raw materials to the Company for an extended period of time, the Company may not be able to meet its raw material requirements through other raw material suppliers without incurring an adverse impact on its operations.

The Company's Industry is Highly Competitive

The markets for the Company's products and services are highly competitive. The Company seeks to distinguish itself from other suppliers of multi-family residential and commercial building products and to sustain its profitability through a business strategy focused on increasing sales at existing supply centers, selectively expanding its supply center network, increasing sales through independent specialty distributor customers, developing innovative new products, and driving operational excellence by reducing costs and increasing customer service levels. The Company believes that competition in the industry is based on price, product and service quality, customer service and product features. Sustained increases in competitive pressures could have an adverse effect on results of operations and negatively impact sales and margins.

The Company could face Potential Product Liability Claims relating to Products it Manufactures or Distributes

The Company faces a business risk of exposure to product liability claims in the event that use of its products is alleged to have resulted in injury or other adverse effects. The Company currently maintains product liability insurance coverage, but it may not be able to obtain such insurance on acceptable terms in the future, if at all, or any such insurance may not provide adequate coverage against potential claims. Product liability claims can be expensive to defend and can divert management and other personnel for months or years regardless of the ultimate outcome. An unsuccessful product liability defense could have an adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations or business prospects or ability to make payments on the Company's indebtedness when due.

The Company May Incur Significant, Unanticipated Warranty Claims

Consistent with industry practice, the Company provides to homeowners limited warranties on certain products. Warranties are provided for varying lengths of time, from the date of purchase up to and including lifetime. Liabilities for future warranty costs are provided for annually based on Management's estimates of such future costs, which are based on historical trends and sales of products to which such costs relate. To the extent that the Company's estimates are inaccurate and it does not have adequate warranty reserves, the Company's liability for warranty payments could have a material impact on its financial condition and results of operations.

The Company is Subject to Various Environmental Statutes and Regulations, which may Result in Significant Costs

The Company's operations are subject to various United States environmental statutes and regulations, including those relating to: materials used in its products and operations; discharge of pollutants into the air, water and soil; treatment, transport, storage and disposal of solid and hazardous wastes; and remediation of soil and groundwater contamination. The Company's facilities are subject to inspection by government regulators, which occur from time to time. While the Company's Management does not currently expect the costs of compliance with environmental requirements to increase materially, future expenditures may increase as compliance standards and technology change.

Development Stage Business

Networked Emergency Systems, Inc. commenced operations in March of 2013. The Company is formed as a Texas Stock Corporation. Accordingly, the Company has only a limited history upon which an evaluation of its prospects and future performance can be made. The Company's proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of the Company's success must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the expansion of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions and a corresponding customer base. There is a possibility that the Company could sustain losses in the future. There can be no assurances that Networked Emergency Systems, Inc. will operate profitably.

Inadequacy of Funds

Gross offering proceeds of a maximum of $5,000,000 may be realized. Management believes that such proceeds will capitalize and sustain the Company sufficiently to allow for the implementation of the Company's Business Plans. If only a fraction of this Offering is sold, or if certain assumptions contained in Management's business plans prove to be incorrect, the Company may have inadequate funds to fully develop its business.

Competition

Competition exists for Residential and Commercial Emergency Lighting Technology and Manufacturing Products in most markets, including all sectors in which the Company intends to operate. The Company may be competing for assets with entities that have substantial greater economic and personnel resources than the Company or better relationships with suppliers and other Residential and Commercial Emergency Lighting Technology and Manufacturing Industry Related Professionals. These entities may also generally be able to accept more risk than the Company can manage. Competition from other Companies in the Residential and Commercial Emergency Lighting Technology and Manufacturing Industry may reduce the number of suitable prospective retail, wholesale or direct to builder / developer sales opportunities.

Dependence on Management

In the early stages of development the Company's business will be significantly dependent on the Company's management team. The Company's success will be particularly dependent upon the services of Mr. Mark Cohen, the Company's Co-Founder & Chief Executive Officer and Mr. Barry Thornton, the Company's Co-Founder and Chief Technology Officer.

Risks of Borrowing

Although the Company does not intend to incur any additional debt from the investment commitments provided in this offering, should the company obtain secure bank debt in the future, possible risks could arise. If the Company incurs additional indebtedness, a portion of the Company's cash flow will have to be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on such new indebtedness. Typical loan agreements also might contain restrictive covenants, which may impair the Company's operating flexibility. Such loan agreements would also provide for default under certain circumstances, such as failure to meet certain financial covenants. A default under a loan agreement could result in the loan becoming immediately due and payable and, if unpaid, a judgment in favor of such lender which would be senior to the rights of members of the Company. A judgment creditor would have the right to foreclose on any of the Company's assets resulting in a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results or financial condition.

Unanticipated Obstacles to Execution of the Business Plan

The Company's business plans may change significantly. Many of the Company's potential business endeavors are capital intensive and may be subject to statutory or regulatory requirements. Management believes that the Company's chosen activities and strategies are achievable in light of current economic and legal conditions with the skills, background, and knowledge of the Company's principals and advisors. Management reserves the right to make significant modifications to the Company's stated strategies depending on future events.

Management Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

The net proceeds from this Offering will be used for the purposes described under "Use of Proceeds." The Company reserves the right to use the funds obtained from this Offering for other similar purposes not presently contemplated which it deems to be in the best interests of the Company and its investors in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. As a result of the foregoing, the success of the Company will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of Management with respect to application and allocation of the net proceeds of this Offering. Investors for the Units offered hereby will be entrusting their funds to the Company's Management, upon whose judgment and discretion the investors must depend.

Minimum Amount of Capital to be Raised

The minimum amount of Securities that need to be sold in this offering for the Company to access the investment funds is $1,250,000. After the Minimum Amount of Capital required to be reached, all Investor funds will be transferred from the Company's Investment Holding Account to the Company. The Company cannot assure you that subscriptions for the entire Offering will be obtained. The Company has the right to terminate this offering of Securities at any time, regardless of the number of Securities that have sold. The Company's ability to meet financial obligations, cash needs, and to achieve objectives, could be adversely affected if the entire offering of Securities is not fully subscribed.

Management Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

The net proceeds from this Offering will be used for the purposes described under "Use of Proceeds." The Company reserves the right to use the funds obtained from this Offering for other similar purposes not presently contemplated which it deems to be in the best interests of the Company and its Investors in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. As a result of the foregoing, the success of the Company will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of Management with respect to application and allocation of the net proceeds of this Offering. Investors for the Units offered hereby will be entrusting their funds to the Company's Management, upon whose judgment and discretion the investors must depend.

Unanticipated Obstacles to Execution of the Business Plan

The Company's business plans may change significantly. Many of the Company's potential business endeavors are capital intensive and may be subject to statutory or regulatory requirements. Management believes that the Company's chosen activities and strategies are achievable in light of current economic and legal conditions with the skills, background, and knowledge of the Company's principals and advisors. Management reserves the right to make significant modifications to the Company's stated strategies depending on future events.

Control by Management

As of March 1st, 2014 the Company's Managers owned approximately 95% of the Company's outstanding Common Stock Units and 0% of the Company's Preferred Stock Units. Upon completion of this Offering, The Company's Management will own approximately 95% of the outstanding Common Stock Units of the Company and 0% of the outstanding Preferred Stock Units of the Company. Investors will not have the ability to control either a vote of the Company's Managers or any appointed officers. See "COMPANY MANAGERS" section.

Return of Profits

The Company has never declared or paid any cash dividends on its Common Stock. The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, to finance the expansion of the Company's Operations and Holdings. As a result, the Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends to its Common Stock Holders for the foreseeable future.

No Assurances of Protection for Proprietary Rights; Reliance on Trade Secrets

In certain cases, the Company may rely on trade secrets to protect intellectual property, proprietary technology and processes, which the Company has acquired, developed or may develop in the future. There can be no assurances that secrecy obligations will be honored or that others will not independently develop similar or superior products or technology. The protection of intellectual property and/or proprietary technology through claims of trade secret status has been the subject of increasing claims and litigation by various companies both in order to protect proprietary rights as well as for competitive reasons even where proprietary claims are unsubstantiated. The prosecution of proprietary claims or the defense of such claims is costly and uncertain given the uncertainty and rapid development of the principles of law pertaining to this area. The Company, in common with other investment funds, may also be subject to claims by other parties with regard to the use of intellectual property, technology information and data, which may be deemed proprietary to others.

The Company's Continuing as a Going Concern Depends Upon Financing

If the Company does not raise sufficient working capital and continues to experience pre-operating losses, there will most likely be substantial doubt as to its ability to continue as a going concern. Because the Company has generated no revenue, all expenditures during the development stage have been recorded as pre-operating losses. Revenue operations have not commenced because the Company has not raised the necessary capital.

Broker - Dealer Sales of Units

The Company's Preferred Stock Units and Common Stock Units are not included for trading on any exchange, and there can be no assurances that the Company will ultimately be registered on any exchange. The NASDAQ Stock Market, Inc. has recently enacted certain changes to the entry and maintenance criteria for listing eligibility on the NASDAQ SmallCap Market. The entry standards require at least $4 million in net tangible assets or $750,000 net income in two of the last three years. The proposed entry standards would also require a public float of at least 1 million shares, $5 million value of public float, a minimum bid price of $2.00 per share, at least three market makers, and at least 300 shareholders. The maintenance standards (as opposed to entry standards) require at least $2 million in net tangible assets or $500,000 in net income in two of the last three years, a public float of at least 500,000 shares, a $1 million market value of public float, a minimum bid price of $1.00 per share, at least two market makers, and at least 300 shareholders.

No assurance can be given that the Preferred Stock or Common Stock Units of the Company will ever qualify for inclusion on the NASDAQ System or any other trading market until such time as the Managing Members deem it necessary. As a result, the Company's Preferred Stock Units and Common Stock Units are covered by a Securities and Exchange Commission rule that opposes additional sales practice requirements on broker-dealers who sell such securities to persons other than established customers and qualified investors. For transactions covered by the rule, the broker-dealer must make a special suitability determination for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written agreement to the transaction prior to the sale. Consequently, the rule may affect the ability of broker-dealers to sell the Company's securities and will also affect the ability of members to sell their units in the secondary market.

Secondary Market

No application is currently being prepared for the Company's Securities to be admitted to the Official Listing and trading on any regulated market. No application is being prepared to include the Securities to trading on an "Over-the-Counter" or "Open Market", though the Company intends to submit an S-1 or Form 10 Filing within TWELVE MONTHS of the close of this securities offering. There can be no assurance that a liquid market for the Securities will develop or, if it does develop, that it will continue. If a market does develop, it may not be liquid. Therefore, investors may not be able to sell their Securities easily or at prices that will provide them with yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market. Illiquidity may have a severely adverse effect on the market value of the Securities and investors wishing to sell the Securities might therefore suffer losses.

Certain Factors Related to Our Common Stock

Because the Company's Common Stock may be considered a "penny stock," and a shareholder may have difficulty selling shares in the secondary trading market.

The Company's Common Stock Securities may be subject to certain rules and regulations relating to "penny stock" (generally defined as any equity security that has a price less than $5.00 per share, subject to certain exemptions). Broker-dealers who sell penny stocks are subject to certain "sales practice requirements" for sales in certain nonexempt transactions (i.e., sales to persons other than established customers and institutional "qualified investors"), including requiring delivery of a risk disclosure document relating to the penny stock market and monthly statements disclosing recent price information for the penny stocks held in the account, and certain other restrictions. For as long as the Company's Common Stock is subject to the rules on penny stocks, the market liquidity for such securities could be significantly limited. This lack of liquidity may also make it more difficult for the Company to raise capital in the future through sales of equity in the public or private markets.

The price of the Company's Common Stock may be volatile, and a shareholder's investment in the Company's Common Stock could suffer a decline in value.

There could be significant volatility in the volume and market price of the Company's Common Stock, and this volatility may continue in the future. The Company's Common Stock may be listed on the OTCQB, OTCQX, OTCBB, The Bermuda BSX Exchange, the London Stock Exchange's AIM Market, the Canadian TSX Venture Exchange or TMX Exchange, the Irish Stock Exchange, the Frankfurt Stock Exchange and / or the Berlin Stock Exchange, where each has a greater chance for market volatility for securities that trade on these markets as opposed to a national exchange or quotation system. This volatility may be caused by a variety of factors, including the lack of readily available quotations, the absence of consistent administrative supervision of "bid" and "ask" quotations and generally lower trading volume. In addition, factors such as quarterly variations in our operating results, changes in financial estimates by securities analysts or our failure to meet our or their projected financial and operating results, litigation involving us, general trends relating to the Residential and Commercial Garage Door Manufacturing and Technology Industry, actions by governmental agencies, national economic and stock market considerations as well as other events and circumstances beyond our control could have a significant impact on the future market price of our Common Stock and the relative volatility of such market price.

Compliance with Securities Laws

The Company's Securities are being offered for sale in reliance upon certain exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, applicable Texas Securities Laws, and other applicable state securities laws. If the sale of Securities were to fail to qualify for these exemptions, purchasers may seek rescission of their purchases of Securities. If a number of purchasers were to obtain rescission, we would face significant financial demands, which could adversely affect the Company as a whole, as well as any non-rescinding purchasers.

Offering Price

The price of the Securities offered has been arbitrarily established by our current Managers, considering such matters as the state of the Company's business development and the general condition of the industry in which it operates. The Offering price bears little relationship to the assets, net worth, or any other objective criteria.

Lack of Firm Underwriter

The Securities are offered on a "best efforts" basis by the Company Managers, without compensation and on a "best efforts" basis through certain FINRA registered broker-dealers, which enter into Participating Broker-Dealer Agreements with the Company. Accordingly, there is no assurance that the Company, or any FINRA broker-dealer, will sell the maximum Securities offered or any lesser amount.

Projections: Forward Looking Information

Management has prepared projections regarding anticipated financial performance. The Company's projections are hypothetical and based upon a presumed financial performance of the Company, the addition of a sophisticated and well funded marketing plan, and other factors influencing the business. The projections are based on Management's best estimate of the probable results of operations of the Company and the investments made by management, based on present circumstances, and have not been reviewed by independent accountants and/or auditing counsel. These projections are based on several assumptions, set forth therein, which Management believes are reasonable. Some assumptions, upon which the projections are based, however, invariably will not materialize due the inevitable occurrence of unanticipated events and circumstances beyond Management's control. Therefore, actual results of operations will vary from the projections, and such variances may be material. Assumptions regarding future changes in sales and revenues are necessarily speculative in nature. In addition, projections do not and cannot take into account such factors as general economic conditions, unforeseen regulatory changes, the entry into a market of additional competitors, the terms and conditions of future capitalization, and other risks inherent to the Company's business. While Management believes that the projections accurately reflect possible future results of operations, those results cannot be guaranteed.

ITEM 6. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

Thornton-Cohen Networked Emergency Systems

Smart building technology with our wireless emergency lighting products as the resilient networking technology

Our products are:
Smart
Green
Resilient

Overview

Secondary opportunities

- New regulations now require emergency PA systems in addition to emergency lighting. This is currently a $2.4B market, growing 300% in the next 5 years.
- The end-goal is to sell the technology/brand to one of the 'Big Boys' – Honeywell, Tyco, Cooper Industries, Google, etc.

Problems that are driving the market demand

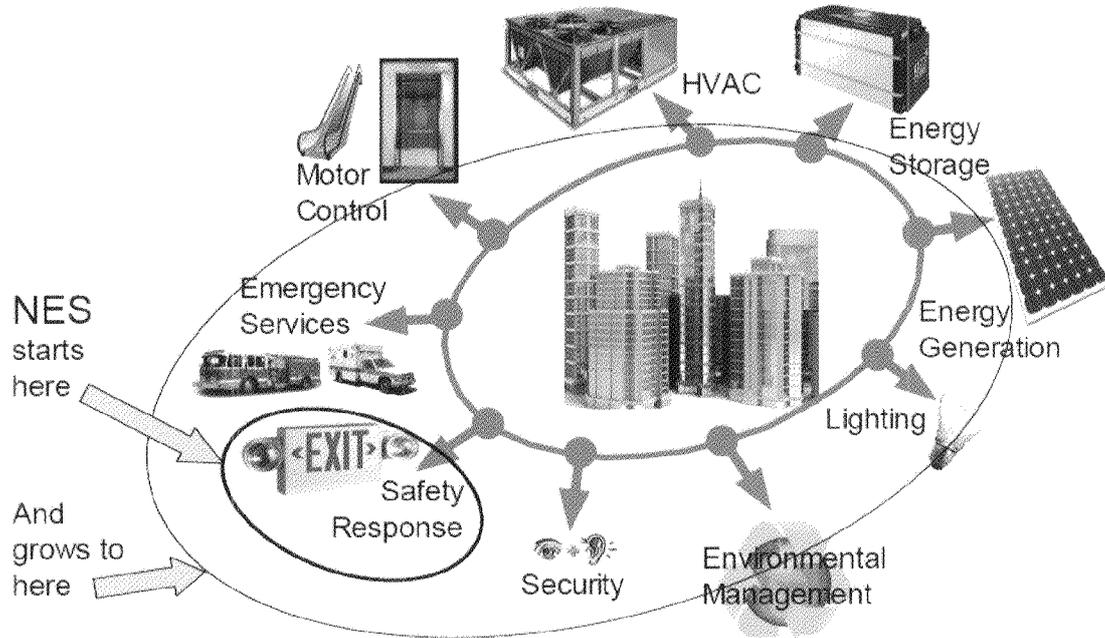

- Compliance – it's the LAW.
 - All building fire codes require emergency exit indication with active lighting and signs
 - All such devices require regular testing and records –
 - 30 second test every 30 days
 - Inspected every year and run for 90-minutes
 - Audit trail required
- Current products can't be tied into fire, security or emergency services
- No advantages for First Responders
- The new emergency PA regulations mean "pulling new wire" – very expensive
- Current products only have 90 minute "emergency life," but we're seeing emergencies are lasting much, much longer
- Growing need for resilience/redundancy in building design - we provide the data/communications backup network

Market Size

- Emergency lighting in the USA did $6.7B last year - expected to hit $10B+ in 3 years.
- The newly mandated requirement for emergency PA systems (called MNS) is another $2.4B market, growing to $9B+ in 3 years.
- Trends driving the market are the need for new commercial and public buildings such as airports, schools, offices, etc.
 - Retrofits to meet new mandated building codes
 - GSA's mandate of deep retrofits for greener buildings
 - Replacements due to emergencies & disasters
- Other trends include the integration of all emergency systems, and current emergency lighting products do not allow this.
- The latest industry goal is not only "green;" it's "Building Resiliency" – we are the redundant data/communications backbone for the building if the primary system fails.

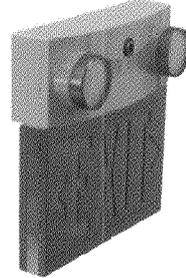

Our Solution

starts with Safety & First Responders, then grows to control situational awareness of an entire facility. We make a building come alive to serve the occupants and management, and we can audit the Green systems..

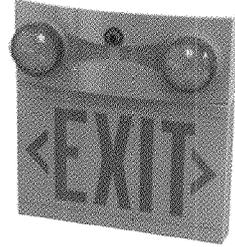

Our Solution

- MESH networked emergency lighting products that automatically configure & self-discover
- Status and testing can be viewed anywhere/anytime via smartphones, tablets, or any web browser, and includes audit trail
- Ability to communicate with fire-control panels
- Includes the emergency PA system AND a built-in microphones for 2-way communication – dramatically reduces both competitive product cost and installation labor cost
- Video is an option – great for security systems - as well as Smoke/CO/CO2/CH4 detectors
- Offers Cloud-based info storage for ongoing revenue stream
- From an independent sales rep in NY – “You’ll get the Product of the Year award!”

Product design

- 3 basic architectural shapes
 - Normal 2D wall mounting
 - Triangular version for corner mounting
 - Quad (4 sided) for data centers and hospitals where hallways intersect
- Each version has a standard feature set of:
 - Wireless MESH networking & data storage/control
 - 2-way audio communication (emergency PAMNS)
 - 12volt/24/volt/100-240 volt operation
- Each version has optional feature sets of:
 - Video
 - Smoke/CO/CO₂/Methane detectors

Product design is modular

- Efficiency of manufacture & product configuration

Additional products

In addition to the basic models, we have other products:

- “Sparky,” a device to detect electrical potential in the water and warn people of possible electrocution. Surprisingly, no products like this exist!
- Remote controlled 6 outlet power strips that integrate into our network for total control of office usage – monitor and control usage.
- Special interior designer versions that have considerably more style than the traditional emergency lights.

Technology & Product Development

Networked Emergency Systems is the integration of emergency lighting, AV, and Smart Wi-Fi - overall design is modular – we can readily build up the different models to suit demand.

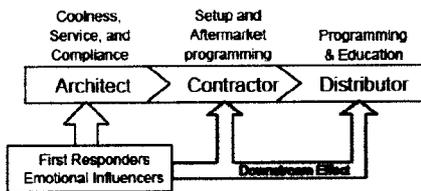

- We use a MESH network with localized/inclusive data storage
- We can include the smoke detector
- We add the PA system – including microphone for 2-way communications
- We have optional video for First Responders and security systems (security customers have told us they love the idea of the video cam hidden in the emergency lighting)
- Optional carbon monoxide/dioxide and methane detectors
- Cloud storage of video and testing audit trails
- We have a public Wi-Fi channel available, saving money for additional Wi-Fi system
- Lithium polymer batteries we use are landfill safe
- LED lighting is used (more Green than incandescent bulbs), with our battery management to save costs

Intellectual Property

- Provisional Patent 61/855.534 filed 5/17/2013 as “A Security and First Responder Emergency Lighting System”
- We expect to break it out into individual hardware and software patent applications.
- A preliminary patent search has been done without direct conflict detection or infringement.

Business/Marketing Model

- We sell through the standard distributor model using stocking distributors such as ADI and Tri-Ed, along with direct sales.
- Base model retail price will be $399, with Distributor cost at 50% ($199).

We grow the business by going after the decision makers, who are primarily the consultants and/or architects. We've formed an Advisory Board to involve these "Influencers." Additionally, we'll take advantage of the dealer training offered by the distributors like ADI.

- We support and court First Responder Organizations

Product launch

- The initial product launch is focused on 2 markets that offer the fastest sales cycle:
 - Retrofits (we'll also target GSA's Deep Retrofit Program)
 - Security
 - New York Security Systems has committed to initially push our products for the East Coast market, and we can use them as a reference for potential dealers.
- If get funded in the next 60 days, we might be able to exhibit at the 3 major industry shows which are all in the May/June timeframe in Las Vegas. This will give us tremendous visibility across the building, fire, and security markets.
- With our distribution partner, ADI, we'll do a country-wide "training tour" – this will introduce our products to ALL the major dealers/installers in the USA.
- John Petit, a contractor who does stadiums, has promised to specify our products in all his upcoming projects.

Competitive Landscape – Passive products

- Lithonia lighting. Part of Acuity Brands Lighting. $2B revenue last year.
- Hubbell lighting. $3B revenue last year. Their emergency lighting brand is Dual-Lite.
- Cooper Industries $6B revenue last year. One of their emergency lighting brands is SureLite.
- Thomas & Betts (just acquired by conglomerate ABB for $3.9B). Their emergency lighting brand is LightAlarms.

Competitive Landscape – networked products

2 competitors of networked lighting – NEXUS by Thomas & Betts, and DALI from Delmatic in the UK. BUT:

- They are wired; ours is wireless. This makes a huge difference in product cost and installation cost. Because they require you to pull new wire, their system has little appeal in retrofits or updates.
- They require more components in their wired system – you need a dedicated computer/server, you need their server (for Nexus), you need termination units, all of which add to the cost of the product and the complexity of the installation - which of course means more labor and therefore more cost as well.
- Their system does not have any detectors – no smoke alarms, no CO/CO2/CH4.
- Their system does not include the MNS/PA system.
- Their system does not offer video.
- Perhaps their biggest failure is they don't offer compelling savings over manual checking of emergency lighting systems!
