We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

The Company is licensed by FINRA as a broker dealer. As such, it is registered to do business in the state of New York and in various other states.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition

Based on the nature of the services performed, the Company records fee income and other revenues upon the closing of capital transactions, or when its consultation services are rendered, or when the fee is not contingent upon the performance of future services by the Company, in each instance when it is determined that there are no uncertainties concerning the collection of such fees.

NOTE D - Income Taxes

Income tax credits on the statement of operations consist of the following components:

	Total	Federal	NY State	NY City
Currently refundable	$ (13,459)	$ -	$ (13,762)	$ 303
Deferred benefit	(115,000)	(88,700)	(11,700)	(14,600)
Total	$ (128,459)	$ (88,700)	$ (25,462)	$ (14,297)

At March 31, 2014, the Company has available remaining net operating loss carryforwards for federal, state and local tax purposes of approximately $1,800,000 which begin to expire in 2030. Deferred taxes are recognized for temporary differences between the basis of assets and liabilities for financial statement and income tax purposes. The differences relate primarily to prior year net operating losses, organization costs and; uncollected accounts receivable as at March 31, 2014. Because of the operating losses in those prior years, the Company had previously recorded a valuation allowance for the deferred tax assets relating to these temporary differences. However, as a result of the Company's earnings for the two years ended March 31, 2014, management has reversed the valuation allowance in the current year. The state and local income taxes currently refundable are due to overaccruals in estimated tax payments in the prior year.

The Company's income tax returns have not been examined by the taxing authorities since the Company's inception. The income tax returns for the years ended after March 31, 2010 are open to examination by the taxing authorities.

NOTE E - Exemption from SEC Rule 15c3-3

The Company is exempt from SEC Rule 15c3-3 under subparagraph (K)(2)(i) and, therefore, is not required to maintain a "Special Reserve Bank Account for the Exclusive Benefit of Customers."

FOR BROKER AND DEALERS PURSUANT TO RULE 15c3-3 UNDER THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

AS AT MARCH 31, 2014

The Company does not carry any customer accounts and is exempt from Securities and Exchange Rule 15c3-3 under paragraph (k)(2)(i) because it does not hold funds or securities for, or owe money or securities to, its customers.

To the Directors
TRIAGO AMERICAS INC. (D/B/A TRIAGO)

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Triago Americas Inc. (the "Company") as of and for the year ended March 31, 2014, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure..

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.
