INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Member of Solic Capital LLC

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Solic Capital LLC (a Delaware corporation), which comprise the statement of financial condition as of December 31, 2013, and the related statements of operations, changes in member's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that are filed pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Solic Capital LLC as of December 31, 2013, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The information contained in computation of aggregate indebtedness, and net capital, statement pursuant to rule 17(a)-5(d)(2) of the SEC, and computation for determination of reserve requirements and information relating to possession of control requirements under rule 15c3-3 of the SEC is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information in computation of aggregate indebtedness, and net capital, statement pursuant to rule 17(a)-5(d)(2) of the SEC, and computation for determination of reserve requirements and information relating to possession of control requirements under rule 15c3-3 of the SEC has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information in computation of aggregate indebtedness, and net capital, statement pursuant to rule 17(a)-5(d)(2) of the SEC, and computation for determination of reserve requirements and information relating to possession of control requirements under rule 15c3-3 of the SEC is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

1 BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Business

Solic Capital, LLC, (the "Company") is a wholly-owned subsidiary of SCBDMM, LLC and was incorporated in the State of Delaware on May 24, 2011.

The Company is a registered securities broker-dealer in various states and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulation Authority (FINRA) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). The Company does not maintain customer accounts nor does it currently have a clearing arrangement.

To generate revenue, the Company may raise capital through financial advisory services for private placement and mergers and acquisitions.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of presentation

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America under the FASB Accounting Standards Codification (ASC).

Cash and cash equivalents

The Company considers as cash equivalents all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less, which are highly liquid and are readily exchangeable for cash at amounts equal to their stated value.

Income taxes

The Company is organized as a Limited Liability Company ("LLC") and is disregarded as an entity for Federal tax purposes and, therefore, has no Federal tax liability. State tax liabilities are determined under individual state tax laws. The Company's income or loss is included in the Federal and state consolidated tax returns of the parent company, which is a partnership.

Revenue recognition

The Company recognizes revenue for consulting work that culminates in a securities transaction for which the Company is engaged to provide services in connection with a transaction, the closing of which involves the exchange of securities between two or more parties, and for which the Company is compensated in the form of success fees based on a percentage of the value (some or all) of the resulting transaction. The incremental revenue amounts are generally contingent on a specific event and the incremental revenues are recognized when the contingencies are resolved.

In limited circumstances, the Company recognized revenues as the related professional services provided. In connection with recording revenues, estimates and assumptions are required in determining the expected conversion of the revenues to cash. The Company may provide multiple services under the terms of an arrangement. There are also client engagements where the Company is paid a fixed amount for its service. The recording of these fixed revenue amounts requires the Company to make an estimate of the total amount of work to be performed and revenue is then recognized as efforts are expended based on (i) objectivity determinable output measures, (ii) input measures if output measures are not reliable, or (iii) the straight-line method over the term of the arrangement.

Total revenues include reimbursable costs, which are billed to customers. These reimbursable costs are recorded as a component of costs of service.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Impairment of long-lived assets

The Company periodically evaluates whether events or circumstances have occurred that indicate long-lived assets may not be recoverable or that the remaining useful life may warrant revision. When such events or circumstances are present, the Company assesses the recoverability of long-lived assets by determining whether the carrying value will be recovered through the expected undiscounted future cash flows resulting from the use of the asset. In the event the sum of the expected undiscounted future cash flows is less than the carrying value of the asset, an impairment loss equal to the excess of the asset's carrying value over its fair value is recorded. Fair value is determined based on discounted cash flows or appraised values depending on the nature of the assets. The long-term nature of these assets requires the estimation of cash inflows and outflows several years into the future.

Fair value measurements

The Company adopted the provisions of ASC Topic 820, "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures", which defines fair value as used in numerous accounting pronouncements, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosure of fair value measurements.

ASC 820 defines fair value as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. ASC 820 also establishes a fair value hierarchy, which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. ASC 820 describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 — quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 — quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets or inputs that are observable

Level 3 — inputs that are unobservable (for example cash flow modeling inputs based on assumptions).

3 LOAN RECEIVABLE

The Company has provided a revolving credit facility to a business pursuant to where the business can borrow up to $5,000,000 and where SOLIC's portion of the loan is 6.67% with a maximum of $333,500.00. Interest shall accrue on the unpaid principal balance at a fixed per annum rate of 8% and is due on August 1, 2016. All accrued unpaid interest on the unpaid principal balance on the monthly loan shall be payable monthly in arrears. As of December 31, 2013, the balance of the loan was $66,667.

4 NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS UNDER SEC RULE 15c3-1

As a broker/dealer, the Company is subject to SEC Rule 15c3-1, Net Capital Requirements for Brokers or Dealers, (the "Rule") which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital. The rule requires that the Company maintain minimum net capital, as defined, of $5,000 at December 31, 2012. The Rule also requires that the Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, as those terms are defined by the Rule, may not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2012, the Company's net capital was $49,249 which was $44,249 in excess of its required net capital and its ratio of indebtedness to net capital was 0, as the Company has no liabilities.

5 RESERVE REQUIREMENTS UNDER SEC RULE 15c3-3

SEC Rule 15c3-3, Customer Protection – Reserves and Custody of Securities (the "Rule"), requires, among other things, every broker or dealer to maintain a Reserve Bank Account in an amount not less than the amount computed in accordance with the Reserve Requirement formula provided under the Rule, unless such broker or dealer is exempted under the exemptive provisions of the Rule. The Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customers' securities. Accordingly, pursuant to Rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(i), the Company is exempted from the provisions of this rule.

6 INCOME TAXES

As the Company is organized as a single member liability company and is disregarded as an entity for tax purposes and its taxable income is reported by the parent company, there is no tax expense/benefit recorded by the Company.

Temporary differences between the amounts reported in the financial statements and the tax basis of assets and liabilities result in deferred taxes. As a disregarded entity, the Company does not report its deferred tax assets or liabilities in its financial statements. Rather, the parent company will report any related deferred tax items in its financial statements. If the Company was a stand-alone entity as of December 31, 2013, the deferred tax assets would be an immaterial amount.

7 SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Company has evaluated events occurring after the date of these financial statements through February 05, 2014, the date that these financial statements were issued. **Other than what is discussed below, there were no material subsequent events as of that date which would require disclosure in or adjustments to these financial statements.

\* On January 10, 2014, SOLIC Capital, LLC funded an additional $50,000.00 to the credit facility (see note 3).*

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL UNDER SEC RULE 17A-5(g)(1)

To the Member
Solic Capital LLC
Evanston, IL

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Solic Capital LLC as of and for the year ended December 31, 2013, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Solic Capital's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our audit procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Solic Capital's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Solic Capital's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by Solic Capital LLC including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because Solic Capital LLC does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- 1) Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
- 2) Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of Solic Capital LLC is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's previously mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined previously. However, we identified deficiencies relating to a lack of segregation of duties that we consider to be material weaknesses, as described above. This lack of segregation of duties was considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures performed in our audit of the financial statements of Solic Capital LLC as of and for the year ended December 31, 2013, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated February 12, 2014

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that [Name of Broker-dealer]'s practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at [Date], to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, FINRA, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
