Independent Auditor's Report

To the Managers
HighTower Securities, LLC
Chicago, Illinois

Report on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of HighTower Securities, LLC (the Company) as of December 31, 2013 that is filed pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Regulation 1.10 under the Commodity Exchange Act, and the related notes (the financial statement).

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statement

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of this financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of HighTower Securities, LLC as of December 31, 2013, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

HighTower Securities, LLC

Notes to Statement of Financial Condition

Note 1. Nature of Business and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of business: HighTower Securities, LLC (the Company) is a registered broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). The Company is also a member of the National Futures Association (NFA) and is registered as a commodity trading advisor (CTA) and as an introducing broker (IB). The Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of HighTower Holding, LLC (the Parent).

The Company provides full-service securities brokerage services to retail and institutional customers, primarily through the services provided by its registered representatives and advisors. Pursuant to a clearing agreement between the Company and its clearing brokers, National Financial Services, LLC and JP Morgan Clearing Corp., all securities transactions are cleared on a fully disclosed basis.

The Company operates under the provisions of Paragraph (k)(2)(ii) of Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and, accordingly, is exempt from the remaining provisions of that Rule. Essentially, the requirements of Paragraph (k)(2)(ii) provide that the Company clear all transactions on a fully disclosed basis with a clearing broker-dealer, and promptly transmit all customer funds and securities to the clearing broker-dealer. The clearing broker-dealer carries all the accounts of the customers and maintains and preserves all related books and records as are customarily kept by a clearing broker-dealer.

A summary of the Company's significant accounting policies follows:

Accounting policies: The Company follows Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), as established by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (the FASB), to ensure consistent reporting of financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Use of estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue recognition: The Company earns commission revenues from customer transactions in options, stock, mutual funds and fixed income securities. Commission revenues and related brokerage and clearing costs are recognized on a trade-date basis as securities transactions occur. Fee income consists primarily of fee income generated on customer assets, including fees from alternative investments, mutual funds, 401(k) and 529 Plans. Fee income is recorded when earned.

The Company also receives commission payments on client transactions which are included in other brokerage related revenues on the statement of income. These include insurance products, variable annuities, and other similar types of investments. Revenue is recorded when earned.

Interest income consists primarily of income generated by cash deposits held in accounts by the clearing brokers. Interest income is recorded when earned.

Fair value of financial instruments: The Company's financial instruments including cash, deposits with clearing organizations, payables, and due to affiliate, are carried at amounts which approximate fair value.

Note 1. Nature of Business and Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Income taxes: The Company is a single member limited liability company and is treated as a disregarded entity for federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, it does not file any tax returns, but its taxable income is reported as part of its Parent's tax returns. The Parent is a limited liability company whose income or loss is includable in the tax returns of its members.

The Company recognizes and measures its unrecognized tax benefits in accordance with the Income Taxes Topic of the FASB. When tax returns are filed, it is highly certain that some positions taken would be sustained upon examination by the taxing authorities, while others are subject to uncertainty about the merits of the position taken or the amount of the position that would be ultimately sustained. The benefit of a tax position is recognized in the financial statements in the period during which, based on all available evidence, management believes it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including the resolution of appeals or litigation processes, if any. Tax positions taken are not offset or aggregated with other positions. Tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold are measured as the largest amount of tax benefit that is more than 50% likely of being realized upon settlement with the applicable taxing authority. The Company has identified no uncertain tax positions through December 31, 2013, and accordingly, has not recorded a liability for the payment of interest or penalties.

The Parent is generally not subject to examination by U.S. federal or state taxing authorities for tax years before 2010.

Reclassification: Certain balances in the prior year financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

Subsequent events: The Company has evaluated subsequent events for potential recognition and/or disclosure through the date these financial statements were issued, see Note 6.

Note 2. Deposits with and Receivables from Clearing Brokers

At December 31, 2013, deposits with clearing brokers includes cash deposits totaling $235,094 that are required to be maintained in accordance with the Company's clearing broker agreements.

Receivables from clearing brokers on the statement of financial condition consist of cash and amounts due to the Company from its clearing brokers for commissions and fees earned by the Company.

Note 3. Related Parties

At December 31, 2013, the amount due to affiliate represents amounts due to the Company's Parent for certain shared expenses in accordance with an expense sharing agreement. The expense sharing agreement provides for the Parent to provide certain services to the Company. The Company is allocated an amount equal to the estimated cost of the expenses incurred in connection with providing these services.

Other assets includes an amount due from an entity affiliated through common ownership in the amount of $6,858 representing a prepayment for advisory fees to be collected on behalf of the affiliate.

Notes to Statement of Financial Condition

Note 4. Off-Balance Sheet Risk, Concentration of Credit Risk, Commitments, Contingencies and Indemnifications

Credit risk is the amount of accounting loss the Company would incur if the counterparty failed to perform its obligations under contractual terms. Substantially all of the clearing and depository operations of the Company are performed by its clearing brokers pursuant to clearance agreements. The Company's exposure to credit risk associated with the nonperformance of counterparties in fulfilling their contractual obligations pursuant to securities transactions can be directly impacted by volatile securities markets, credit markets, and regulatory changes.

In the normal course of business, the Company's clearing brokers make margin loans to the Company's customers, which are collateralized by customer securities. In permitting the customers to purchase securities on margin, the clearing brokers are exposed to the risk of a market decline that could reduce the value of the collateral held below the customers' indebtedness before the collateral can be sold, which could result in losses to the clearing brokers. The Company's agreement with the clearing brokers require the Company to reimburse the clearing brokers for any losses incurred related to customers introduced by the Company. The Company seeks to control the risk associated with customer activities by monitoring customer trading activity and by sharing in the commissions and fees earned by the registered representatives servicing those customers.

The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts, which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts. Management believes that the Company is not exposed to any significant credit risk on bank deposits.

In the ordinary course of business, the Company may be subject to various legal and regulatory matters. One current matter outstanding is in its early stages and the Company believes that the claims against it are without merit. The Company believes that the outcome of any such matters, individually or in the aggregate, if unfavorable, would not have a material adverse effect on the results of its financial position, operations, cash flows, or business.

In the normal course of business, the Company indemnifies and guarantees certain service providers, such as clearing brokers, against specified potential losses in connection with their acting as an agent of, or providing services to, the Company. The maximum potential amount of future payments that the Company could be required to make under these indemnifications cannot be estimated. However, the Company believes that it is unlikely it will have to make material payments under these arrangements and has not recorded any contingent liability in the financial statements for these indemnifications.

Additionally, the Company enters into contracts and agreements that contain a variety of representations and warranties and which provide general indemnifications. The Company's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. The Company expects the risk of any future obligations under these indemnifications to be remote.

HighTower Securities, LLC

Notes to Statement of Financial Condition

Note 5. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is a broker-dealer subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, administered by the SEC and FINRA, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital. The Company is required to maintain net capital of the greater of 6-2/3% of aggregate indebtedness, or $250,000 and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. Rule 15c3-1 also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash distributions paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1. At December 31, 2013, the Company had net capital of $4,779,563, which was $4,529,563 in excess of its required net capital of $250,000. The Company's net capital ratio was 0.46 to 1.

The Company is also subject to the CFTC's minimum capital requirements under Regulation 1.17. Under these rules, the Company is required to maintain "adjusted net capital" equivalent to the greater of $45,000 or $3,000 per associated person. The Company's net capital requirement is the greater of the requirement under Regulation 1.17 or Rule 15c3-1. At December 31, 2013, the Company's net capital of $4,779,563 exceeded the required net capital under Regulation 1.17 by $4,529,563.

Note 6. Subsequent Events

On February 3, 2014, the Company distributed $2,000,000 to the parent, reducing net capital and excess net capital by the same amount.
