Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Cutter and Company Brokerage, Inc. as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the years then ended, that are filed pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Security Exchange Act of 1934, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the Years Ended December 31, 2013 and 2012

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business Operations:

Cutter and Company Brokerage, Inc. (the Company) is a broker/dealer and was formed for the purpose of trading and dealing in stocks, bonds and all other securities. The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of various exchanges and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). The Company does not hold funds or securities for customers, owe money for securities to customers and does not otherwise carry customer accounts. Accordingly, the Company is exempt from SEC Rule 15c3-3 under the K(2)(ii) exemption.

Accounting Method:

The accrual method of accounting is utilized by recognizing income when earned and expenses when incurred. For income tax purposes, the Company reports under the accrual basis of accounting.

Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results inevitably will differ from those estimates, and such differences may be material to the financial statements.

Concentrations of Credit Risk:

The Company is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities in which counter-parties primarily include banks and other financial institutions. In the event counter-parties do not fulfill their obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The risk of default depends on the creditworthiness of the counter-party or issuer of the instrument. It is the Company's policy to review, as necessary, the credit standing of each counter-party.

At times throughout the year, the Company may maintain certain bank accounts in excess of the FDIC insured limits.

Cash Equivalents:

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

See independent auditors' report

Under this method, all uncollectible accounts are charged to the allowance account and the bad debt expense is determined by adjusting the balance in the allowance account to a reserve considered reasonable by management. No allowance for doubtful accounts was considered necessary at December 31, 2013 and 2012. Bad debt expense at December 31, 2013 and 2012 was $-0- for each year.

Advertising Costs:

Non-direct-response advertising costs are expensed in the year incurred. The Company did not incur any direct-response advertising costs during the period ended December 31, 2013 and 2012.

Marketable Securities:

Depreciation expense charged to operations for the year ended December 31, 2013 and 2012 was $10,579 and $12,555, respectively.

Property and equipment are summarized by the major classifications as follows:

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the Years Ended December 31, 2013 and 2012

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

The Company has not recorded depreciation in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The effects of this departure from generally accepted accounting principles are not material.

Reclassifications:

Certain reclassifications have been made to the 2012 financial statements, where appropriate, to conform to the 2013 presentation.

NOTE 2: RETIREMENT PLAN

At the beginning of 2006, the Company elected to adopt a safe harbor plan for the Company match and still maintain the discretionary profit sharing plan contributions for all eligible employees. With this plan, the Company match changed to match 100% of the first 3% withheld and 50% of the next 4th and 5th percent elected to defer. For the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012, the Company elected to contribute an overall percentage of 2.1% of gross wages to the plan. The employer match, profit sharing plan contribution and fees charged to operations for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012 was $91,397 and $67,010, respectively.

NOTE 3: DEFERRED TAXES:

The Company has adopted FASB Accounting Standards Codification 740-10, Income Taxes, to account for deferred income taxes. Deferred taxes are computed based on the tax liability or benefit in future years of the reversal of temporary differences in the recognition of income or deduction of expenses between financial and tax reporting purposes. The difference between tax expense and taxes currently payable is reflected in the balance sheet as deferred taxes. The items resulting in deferred taxes are as follows:

	2013	2012
Depreciation	$ (11,318)	$ (14,467)
Contributions (expires 2015)	-	1,068
Capital Loss (expires 2016)	25,500	27,415
Other Comprehensive Income	137,044	166,414
Attributable to Unrealized Holding Losses on Securities
Total	$ 151,226	$ 180,430

Deferred tax assets and/or liabilities are classified as current and noncurrent based on the classification of the related asset or liability for financial reporting purposes, or based on the expected reversal date for deferred taxes that are not related to an asset or liability. At December 31, 2013 and 2012, the Company had total long-term deferred tax assets of $31,755 and $37,888, respectively.

See independent auditors' report

CUTTER AND COMPANY BROKERAGE, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the Years Ended December 31, 2013 and 2012

NOTE 4: INCOME TAXES

The Company implemented FASB Accounting Standards Codification 740-10, Income Taxes. Included in this is a requirement under Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes that realization of an uncertain income tax position must be "more likely than not" (i.e. greater than 50% likelihood of receiving a benefit or expense) before it should be recognized in the financial statements as the amount most likely to be realized assuming a review by the authorities having all relevant information and applying current conventions. The code section also clarifies the financial statement classification of potential tax-related penalties and interest and sets forth new disclosures regarding unrecognized tax benefits or expense. The Company assessed its federal and state tax positions and determined there were no uncertainties or possible related effects that need to be recorded as of or for the year ended December 31, 2013 and 2012.

The federal and state income tax returns for the Corporation for 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013 are subject to examination by the respective taxing authorities generally for three years after they are filed.

The Company's policy for reporting interest and penalties related to income taxes is to expense as they are incurred. The Company feels there is a more likely than not chance that all tax positions will be fully recognized; therefore, no provision for potential interest or penalties on these tax positions have been made. The total penalties and interest the Company paid for 2013 and 2012 was $ - in both years.

NOTE 5: COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Company has obligations under operating leases with initial non-cancelable terms in excess of one year. Future aggregate annual rental for office space at December 31, 2013, is approximately

2014	$	178,397
2015		7,622
2016		6,352
2017 and thereafter		-
Total	$	192,371

During 2011 the Company re-negotiated the terms of the lease agreement to decrease the square footage. The re-negotiation required the Company to pay a buyout. In lieu of a cash payment the Company paid for improvements to the building. These improvements were recorded as rent expense totaling $61,442. The lease was renewed December 2012 and calls for monthly rent payments of $15,525 through November 30, 2014.

Rent expense charged to operations for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012, was $168,300 in each year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 5: COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES (Continued)

In the normal course of business, the Company is party to litigation and arbitration actions involving their broker activities. It is management's opinion that sufficient reserves have been provided for the financial statements and that errors and omission insurance coverage is adequate to provide for any significant judgments resulting from said litigation or arbitration.

NOTE 6: RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company leases the building from with Cutter & Company Real Estate Holding, LLC which is owned by the stockholders. See Note 5.

NOTE 7: NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

The Company is subject to the Uniform Net Capital Rule of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Under the Rule, the Company's aggregate indebtedness to all other persons cannot exceed 1500% of net capital. The Rule also requires that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the Company's net capital would fail to exceed 120% of the minimum dollar amount required. At December 31, 2013 and 2012, the Company had the following allowable net capital of $624,576 and $437,986, respectively, which was $574,576 and $387,986 in excess of the minimum required. The percentage of aggregate indebtedness to net capital at December 31, 2013 and 2012, was 70% for each year.

NOTE 8: SIGNIFICANT CONCENTRATIONS

Generally accepted accounting principles require disclosure of current vulnerabilities due to certain concentrations. Those matters include the following:

Major Brokers

The Company has one broker that makes up 27% and 26%, respectively, during 2013 and 2012 of the total outside broker commission paid out. While this is a significant concentration, it is less of a concern because the Company only retains ten percent of the brokers' gross revenues.

NOTE 9: FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

Included in the financial statements are certain financial instruments carried at fair value. The fair value of an asset is the amount at which that asset could be bought or sold in a current transaction between willing parties, that is, other than in a forced liquidation sale. The fair value of a liability is the amount at which that liability could be incurred or settled in a current transaction between willing parties, that is, other than in a forced or liquidation sale. FASB ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, establishes a framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under FASB ASC 820 are described as follows:

See independent auditors' report

CUTTER AND COMPANY BROKERAGE, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the Years Ended December 31, 2013 and 2012

Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets and liabilities in active markets accessible at the measurement date.

Level 2: Inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, and other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by market data for the term of the instrument. Such inputs include market rates and volatilities, spreads and yield curves. If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3: Certain inputs are unobservable (supported by little or no market activity) and significant to the fair value measurement. Unobservable inputs reflect the Company's best estimate of what hypothetical market participants would use to determine a transaction price for the asset or liability at the reporting date.

The asset or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2013 and 2012.

Common stocks, corporate bonds, and U.S. government bonds and securities – Valued at the closing price reported on the active market on which the individual securities are traded.

Mutual funds – Valued at the net asset value (NAV) of shares held by the Company at year-end.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Company believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

Report on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5(g)(1)

Board of Directors
Cutter and Company Brokerage, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Cutter and Company Brokerage, Inc.(the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2013, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), in the following:

1. Making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by Rule 15c3-3(e)
2. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's previously mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. A deficiency in internal controls exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

However, we identified the following deficiencies in generally accepted accounting principles and procedures that we consider to be significant deficiencies, as defined above. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures performed in our audit of the financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2013, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated February 21, 2014.

Organizational Structure

The size of the Company's accounting and administrative staff precludes certain internal controls that would be preferred if the office staff were large enough to provide optimum segregation of duties. The president should continue to remain involved in the financial affairs of the Company in order to provide an overview of transactions and the internal control structure.

Internal Control Structure

We are required to give consideration to the Company's ability to prepare financial statements and related note disclosures, as well as the oversight of the financial reporting process by those charged with governance. The Company does not have in place controls that would assure the preparation of internal financial statements and related note disclosures in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Company engages the independent auditors to draft the audited financial statements, derived from evaluating the Company's internally prepared financial statements and disclosures, as well as performing procedures to ensure that the disclosures are complete. Once drafted, the financial statements are submitted to the Company for review and approval. While this practice is common and practical, we must inform those charged with governance that this must be considered a significant deficiency in internal control since the financial statement preparation, including note disclosures, cannot be performed in-house.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2013, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, FINRA and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
