INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Members of
ACC Securities, LLC

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of ACC Securities, LLC, Inc. as of December 31, 2013, and the related statements of operations, changes in members' equity, and cash flows for the period from February 5, 2013 ("Inception") to December 31, 2013 that are filed pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a reasonable basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of ACC Securities, LLC as of December 31, 2013, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the period from Inception to December 31, 2013 in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matters

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I and II is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information in Schedules I and II has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information in Schedules I and II is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

ACC SECURITIES, LLC
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2013

Note 1 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting and reporting policies of ACC Securities, LLC (the "Company") conform to U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and to general practices within the securities industry. The following is a description of the more significant of those policies that the Company follows in preparing its financial statements. The financial statements present the financial position and results of operations of the Company, a multi-member Texas limited liability company, which was initially formed on September 10, 2010 and began business operations on February 5, 2013 ("Inception").

The Company, jointly-owned by ALLCAPCORP, LTD. CO., dba Allegiance Capital Corporation and Matadero, LLC (collectively referred to as the "Members"), is a registered broker and dealer in securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The Company's primary business is operating as a placement agent in private securities transactions between issuers and/or accredited institution(s)/qualified institutional buyers (QIB). The Company does not carry any margin accounts and does not hold funds or securities for customers. The Members make capital contributions as necessary to cover any regular operating or regulatory requirements.

Income Taxes

The Company is organized as a limited liability company and has no federal tax liability. State tax liabilities are determined under individual state laws of which none were payable. Temporary differences between the amounts reported in the financial statements and the tax basis of assets and liabilities result in deferred taxes. The Company is a multi-member limited liability company.

The Company has reviewed the guidance for how uncertain tax positions should be recognized, measured, presented and disclosed in the financial statements. The Company has evaluated such implications for all open tax years, and has determined there is no impact to the Company's financial statements as of December 31, 2013.

Any potential interest and penalty associated with a tax contingency, should one arise, would be included as a component of income tax expense in the period in which the assessment arises. The Company's income tax returns generally remain subject to examination by the regulatory authorities for three to four years from the date the return is due including extensions.

Revenue Recognition

The Company will earn selling commissions on the sale/placement of privately-held securities between an issuer and institutional investors or between two (2) institutional investors. Selling commissions will be reflected in the period in which assets are raised for the selling issuer or selling institutional investor.

The Company accrues interest on its investments in the period when earned.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

ACC SECURITIES, LLC
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2013

Note 2 - Related Parties

At December 31, 2013, the Company had an amount due to Allegiance Capital Corporation (Majority Member) of $2,733 which was primarily for certain shared expenses in accordance with an Administrative Services and Expense Agreement dated May 1, 2013. The Administrative Services and Expense Agreement provides for Allegiance Capital Corporation to provide certain services to the Company and is in accordance with NASD Notice to Members 03-63, Expense-Sharing Agreements. The Company incurred expenses totaling $7,290 for these services for the period from Inception to December 31, 2013.

The Company and its affiliates are related parties under common control and the existence of that control could create operating results and financial positions different than if the entities were autonomous.

Note 3 - Net Capital Requirements

As a broker-dealer, the Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital. Rule 15c3-1 requires that the Company maintain minimum net capital, as defined, of $5,000 at December 31, 2013, and requires that the ratio of "aggregate indebtedness" to "net capital," as those terms are defined by the rule, may not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2013, the Company had net capital of $20,301, which was $15,301 in excess of its required net capital and its ratio of indebtedness to net capital was 0.14 to 1.

Note 4 - Exemption from Rule 15c3-3

The Company is exempt from the provisions of Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission on the basis that the Company carries no margin accounts and does not otherwise hold funds or securities for customers. The Company has not executed any customer transactions during the period from Inception to December 31, 2013.

EXEMPTIVE PROVISIONS

The Company does not carry any customer accounts and is exempt from computing reserve requirements under Rule 15c3-3 paragraph (k)(2)(i) of the Securities and Exchange Commission as well as including information relating to possession or control requirements under Rule 15c3-3. The Company operates primarily with the purpose of acting as placement agent between an unregistered/non-reporting private issuer/company and/or institutional investor(s) in selling their privately held/unregistered securities to accredited institutional investors and/or qualified institutional buyers (QIBs). The Company does not hold customer funds or safekeep customer securities.

Independent Auditor's Report

On Internal Control

Required By SEC Rule 17a-5

Period from Inception (February 5, 2013)
to December 31, 2013

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control Required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission

The Members of
ACC Securities, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of ACC Securities, LLC (the "Company"), as of December 31, 2013 and for the period from Inception (February 5, 2013) to December 31, 2013, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2013, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of Members, management, the SEC, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
