REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To The Stockholder
McManus & Miles Incorporated

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of McManus & Miles Incorporated (the Company), which comprise the statement of financial condition as of December 31, 2014 that are filed pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of this financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor consider internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of McManus & Miles Incorporated as of December 31, 2014 for the year ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2014

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. METHOD OF ACCOUNTING:

The company recognizes assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses on the accrual method of accounting for financial statement presentation and uses the cash basis for income tax purposes. The financial statements have been presented on a consistent basis with those of the prior year.

b. CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS:

For purposes of reporting cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

c. FIXED ASSETS:

Fixed assets are recorded at cost and are being depreciated using accelerated methods over their estimated economic useful lives.

d. INCOME TAXES:

The Company with the consent of its stockholder has filed an election to be taxed as an "S" Corporation under Section 1362(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and in New York State under Section 660 of Article 22 of the Tax Law. Such election permits its income to be taxed to the stockholder rather than the Company, whether or not such income has been distributed. Income taxes are payable to New York City which does not recognize "S" Corporation status (See Note 3).

e. USE OF ESTIMATES:

The Company's financial statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reported periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2. THE COMPANY

The Company derives its revenue from fees as an adviser in the structuring of financing involving project and asset based credits and as agent, in accessing capital for such financing in the private markets. Specifically, the firm assists in the placement of, or investment in project equity and debt, lease equity and debt and other forms of financing which require specialized attention, particularly those that are tax oriented.

Registration as a broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 was effective December 11, 1989.

3. INCOME TAXES

The Company uses the accrual method of accounting for book purposes and the cash receipts and disbursements method for tax return purposes. It is the policy of the Company to provide for deferred taxes on timing differences arising because of the differences of income and expense recognition between the two methods.

The liability for local income taxes consists of the following:

Current	$	175
Deferred		-0-
	$	175

4. PENSION AND FLEXIBLE BENEFITS PLANS

The Company maintains a Simplified Employee Pension Plan (SEP) for all eligible full-time employees. Contributions are made in an amount equal to an annually discretionary percentage (0 to 25%) of each employee's compensation. For the year 2014, the Company made no contribution.

Effective January 1, 1995, the Company approved and adopted a cafeteria plan so that its eligible employees would have the opportunity to choose between certain available benefits and cash compensation. In addition, the Company established a medical expense reimbursement plan and a dependent care plan so that its eligible employees can be reimbursed for certain health care expenses they incur.

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17A-5(g) (1) FOR A BROKER-DEALER
CLAIMING AN EXEMPTION FROM SEC RULE 15C3-3

To The Stockholder
McManus & Miles Incorporated

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of McManus & Miles Incorporated (the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2014 in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purposes of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g) (1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a) (11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3 (e). Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of the Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's previously above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency, is a deficiency or combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness, is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined previously.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2014 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the SEC, FINRA, other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
