INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors
H. Kawano & Co., Inc.
1149 Bethel Street, Room 503
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of H. Kawano & Co., Inc. which comprise the balance sheet as of April 30, 2016, and the related statements of income and retained earnings, cash flows and changes in stockholders' equity for the year then ended.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of H. Kawano & Co., Inc. as of April 30, 2016, and the results of its operations and its cash flows and changes in stockholders' equity for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report of Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements referred to above taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules 1 through 4 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements referred to above and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Business Activity

The Company operates as a mutual fund retailer on an application way basis.

Marketable Securities

The Company classifies its marketable securities as available for sale and they are carried at fair value. Fair values are generally based upon quoted market prices. Realized gains and losses determined using the average cost method are included in earnings. Unrealized gains and losses based on the difference between cost and fair value are reported in other comprehensive income.

Depreciation

Depreciation on furniture and equipment is computed on the straight-line method using estimated useful lives of 5-7 years and the accelerated cost recovery method.

Income Taxes

Deferred taxes are provided on a liability method, whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. Deferred income taxes reflect the tax effect on the unrealized gain on marketable securities.

The Company's income tax returns are subject to examination by the appropriate tax jurisdictions. As of April 30, 2016, the Company's federal and various state tax returns generally remain open for the last three years.

Use of Estimates in Preparation of Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

We have reviewed management's statements, included in the accompanying H. Kawano & Co., Inc. Exemption Report, in which (1) H. Kawano & Co., Inc. identified the following provisions of Rule 15c3-3 under which H. Kawano & Co., Inc. claimed an exemption under paragraph (k)(1) and (2) H. Kawano & Co., Inc. stated that H. Kawano & Co., Inc. met the identified exemption provisions throughout the most recent fiscal year without exception. H. Kawano & Co., Inc.'s management is responsible for compliance with the exemptive provisions and its statements.

Our review was conducted in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) and, accordingly, included inquiries and other required procedures to obtain evidence about H. Kawano & Co., Inc.'s compliance with the exemption provisions. A review is substantially less in scope than an examination, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion on management's statements. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to management's statements referred to above for them to be fairly stated, in all material respects, based on the provisions set forth in paragraph (k)(1) of Rule 15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Board of Directors
H. Kawano & Co., Inc.
1149 Bethel Street, Room 503
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

We have examined the financial statements of H. Kawano & Co., Inc. for the period ended April 30, 2016, and have issued our report thereon dated June 3, 2016. As part of our examination, we made a study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards and Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. This study and evaluation included the accounting system, the procedures for safeguarding securities, and the practices and procedures followed by the client (i) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by Rule 15c3-3(e); (ii) in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13; (iii) in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities of Section 4(c) of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and (iv) in obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3. Rule 17a-5 states that the scope of the study and evaluation should be sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that any material weakness existing at the date of our examination would be disclosed. Under generally accepted auditing standards and Rule 17a-5, the purposes of such study and evaluation are to establish a basis for reliance thereon in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements and to provide a basis for reporting material weaknesses in internal accounting control.

Board of Directors
H. Kawano & Co., Inc.
June 3, 2016

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance concerning the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and concerning the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgments by management. However, for the purposes of this report under Rule 17a-5, the determination of weaknesses to be reported was made without considering the practicability of corrective action by management within the framework of a cost/benefit relationship.

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal accounting control. In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgment, carelessness, or other personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends on segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by management either with respect to the execution and recording of transactions or with respect to the estimates and judgments required in the preparation of financial statements. Further, projection of any evaluation of internal accounting control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control for the year ended April 30, 2016, which was made for the purposes set forth in the first paragraph and would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system that may have existed during the period, disclosed no weaknesses that we believe to be material.
