Antarctica Advisors, LLC
Notes to the Financial Statement
December 31, 2018

1. NATURE OF BUSINESS

Antarctica Advisors, LLC ("the Company") is a Florida limited liability company registered as a broker-dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") approved on February 12, 2014. The Company is wholly-owned by i2 Advisory, LLC. The Company's operations consist of Mergers and Acquisitions advisory activities to corporate clients specializing in the global food industry.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Financial Statement Presentation

The accounting policies and reporting practices of the Company conform to the predominant practices in the broker-dealer industry and are in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Government and Other Regulation

The Company's business is subject to significant regulation by various governmental agencies and self-regulatory organizations. Such regulation includes, among other things, periodic examinations by these regulatory bodies to determine whether the Company is conducting and reporting its operations in accordance with the applicable requirements of these organizations.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers highly liquid instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company may, during the ordinary course of business, maintain account balances with banks in excess of federally insured limits.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at December 31, 2018. The actual outcome of the estimates could differ from the estimates made in the preparation of the financial statement.

Receivable from Customers

Receivables are carried at original invoice amount. Management determines if an allowance for doubtful accounts is necessary by regularly evaluating individual customer receivables and considering a customer's financial condition, credit history, and current economic conditions. At December 31, 2018, there are no accounts receivable from M&A advisory fees.

Income Taxes

The Company is a limited liability company that has elected to be treated as a partnership for income tax purposes. Under this election, taxable income or loss of the Company is included in the tax returns of its Member. Tax years that remain subject to a U.S. Federal Income Tax examination are 2015, 2016 and 2017. There is no interest or penalties recognized in the statement of operations.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Revenue from Contracts with Customers

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued an Accounting Standards update (ASU 2015-14) on revenue recognition. This ASU outlines a single comprehensive model to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers. This standard supersedes existing revenue recognition requirements and eliminates most industry-specific guidance from generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). The core principle of the revenue recognition standard is to require an entity to recognize revenue as the amount that reflects the consideration to which it expects to be entitled in exchange for goods or services as it transfers control to its customers. This ASU standard is effective for the Company on January 1, 2018. The ASU can be applied using a full retrospective method or a modified retrospective method of adoption. The Company adopted the new standard using the modified retrospective transition method, under which the cumulative effect of initially applying the new guidance, if any, would have been recognized as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings on the first day of fiscal year 2018.

We have completed the process of evaluating the effect of the adoption and determined there were no material changes required to our reported revenues as a result of the adoption. Based on our evaluation process and review of our contracts with customers, the timing and amount of revenue recognized based on ASU 2015-14 is consistent with our revenue recognition policy under previous guidance. We adopted the new standard effective January 1, 2018, using the modified retrospective approach, and will expand our consolidated financial statement disclosures in order to comply with the ASU.

Leases

In February 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842) which supersedes existing guidance on accounting for leases. This standard update intends to increase transparency and improve comparability by requiring entities to recognize assets and liabilities on the statement of financial conditions or for all leases, with certain exceptions. In addition, through improved disclosure requirements, the standard update will enable users of financial statements to further understand the amount, timing, and uncertainty of cash flows arising from leases. This standard update allows for a modified retrospective application and is effective for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2018; however, early adoption is permitted. Entities are allowed to apply the modified retrospective approach (1) retrospectively to each prior reporting period presented in the financial statements with the cumulative-effect adjustment recognized at the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented or (2) retrospectively at the beginning of the period of adoption (January 1, 2019) through a cumulative-effect adjustment. The effective date of this standard is January 1, 2019, at which time the Company will adopt the standard using the modified retrospective approach with a cumulative-effect adjustment to member's equity recorded at the beginning of the period of adoption. Therefore, upon adoption, the Company will recognize and measure leases without revising prior year comparative period information or disclosure. The modified retrospective approach includes a number of optional practical expedients that entities may elect to apply.

The Company's current operating lease portfolio is primarily comprised of office space. Upon adoption of this standard, the Company expects to recognize a right-of-use asset and lease liability related to substantially all lease arrangements. The Company has completed our assessment of the transition practical expedients offered by the standard. These practical expedients lessen the transitional burden of implementing the standard update by not requiring a reassessment of certain conclusions reached under existing lease accounting guidance. Accordingly, the Company will apply these practical expedients and will not reassess: 1) whether an expired or existing contract is a lease or contains an imbedded lease; 2) lease classification (i.e. operating or finance lease) of an expired or existing lease; 3) initial direct costs for an existing lease; and 4) whether an existing or expired land easement is or contains a lease if it has not been accounted for as a lease. The Company is in the process of determining the scope of impact of the standard update and the related data gathering. The Company is also evaluating and implementing changes to our process and internal controls to meet the standards update's accounting, reporting, and disclosure requirements. Although the Company has not yet completed our evaluation of the standard update, we cannot reasonably estimate at this time the quantitative impact that the adoption of this accounting standard will have on its financial statements.

Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through February 15, 2019, which is the date the financial statement was available to be issued and determined there are no items to disclose.

3. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Leases
