ALIRA HEALTH TRANSACTION SERVICES, LLC

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Year Ended December 31, 2018

Note 1

Organization and nature of business

Alira Health Transaction Services, LLC (the "Company") (formally known as CMC Transaction Services, LLC) was formed in February, 2006 and is a Massachusetts limited liability company, which shall continue in perpetuity unless dissolved in accordance with the operating agreement. The Company acts as an agent for the issuer of corporate securities for private placements per management agreement with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). The Company is a registered broker under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is a member of FINRA and Securities Investor Protection Corp ("SIPC").

Note 2

Summary of significant accounting policies

Method of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, as established by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"), and issued in the FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("The Codification"), utilizing the accrual-basis method of accounting.

Revenue recognition

The Company recognizes revenue upon completion of private placement of corporate securities. Fees are charged based upon an agreed upon percentage of the proceeds of the transaction.

Income taxes

The members of the Company have elected to have the Company taxed as a partnership. Accordingly, the Company is not subject to federal or state income taxes. All taxable income/loss and tax credits are reflected on the income tax returns of the members.

Income tax positions

The Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") has issued a standard that clarifies the accounting and recognition of income tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the Company's income tax returns. The Company has analyzed tax positions taken for filing with the Internal Revenue Service and all state jurisdictions where it operates. The Company believes that the income tax positions will be sustained upon examination and does not anticipate any adjustments that would result in a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. Accordingly, the Company has not recorded any reserves or related accruals for interest and penalties for uncertain income tax positions. If the Company incurs interest or penalties as a result of unrecognized tax positions the policy is to classify interest accrued with interest expense and penalties thereon with operating expenses.

Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

The Company is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. Tax returns for the prior three years are subject to examination by taxing authorities.

Use of estimates

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Fair value of financial instruments

The carrying amounts of financial instruments, including cash, prepaid expenses and accrued expenses, approximates fair value due to the short-term nature of these assets and liabilities.

Subsequent events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through February 26, 2019, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2014, FASB issued Accounting Standards Updated (“ASU”) 2014-09 - “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” (Topic 606), which required an entity to recognize the amount of revenue that it expects to be entitled, for the transfer of promised goods or services to its customers. The updated standard will replace most existing revenue recognition guidance, in generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America, when it becomes effective; and, permits the use of either a “full retrospective” or “retrospective with cumulative effect” transition method in the recognition of income. In August 2015, FASB issued ASU 2015-14, which deferred the effective date of ASU 2014-09 by one year, making it effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2018. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the pending adoption of the new standard on its financial statements and has not yet selected a transition method.

We have reviewed management's statements, included in the accompanying "Exemption Under Rule 15c3-3", in which Alira Health Transaction Services, LLC (the Company) identified the following provisions of 17 C.F.R. § 15c3(k)(2)(i) under which the Company claimed an exemption from 17 C.F.R. § 240.15c3-3: (1) (the "exemption provision") and the Company stated that it met the identified exemption provisions throughout the most recent fiscal year without exception. The Company's management is responsible for compliance with the exemption provisions and its statements.

Our review was conducted in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) and, accordingly, included inquiries and other required procedures to obtain evidence about the Company's compliance with the exemption provisions. A review is substantially less in scope than an examination, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion on management's statements. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to management's statements referred to above for them to be fairly stated, in all material respects, based on the conditions set forth in paragraph (k)(2)(i) of Rule 15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Pursuant to that requirement, the management of the Company hereby makes the following assertions:

Identified Exemption Provision:
