2. METHOD OF ACCOUNTING

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

Fees Receivables

Fees receivables are stated at their estimated realizable value. Allowance is estimated by the Company based on an analysis of specific customers, taking into consideration the age of past due accounts and an assessment of the customer's ability to pay. In the opinion of the Company, all receivables are collectible in full, therefore, there is no allowance for doubtful accounts at December 31, 2019.

Revenue Recognition

Referral fees revenue related to private placement offerings is recognized in the period the revenue is earned.

In May 2014, FASB issued ASU 2014-09, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers: Topic 606" to which supersedes nearly all existing revenue recognition guidance under generally accepted accounting principles. The Firm's revenue recognition policy conforms with the pronouncement by recognizing revenue in accordance with the five components of the pronouncement.

- Identify the contract with the customer
- Identify the performance obligation
- Determine the transaction price
- Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligation
- Recognize the revenue when the performance obligation is met
