Opinion on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Arena Financial Services, LLC (the "Company") as of December 31, 2020 and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "Financial Statement"). In our opinion, the Financial Statement presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2020 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

This Financial Statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's Financial Statement based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Financial Statement is free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statement, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the Financial Statement. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the Financial Statement. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The Company was accepted as a registered broker dealer by FINRA on October 12, 2016. 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The significant accounting policies used to prepare these financial statements are as follows:

Basis of preparation

The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") and are stated in United States dollars.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in member's capital during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash

Cash includes cash held at bank. Cash equivalents are short term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of less than three months that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant changes in value. As of December 31, 2020, the Company held no cash equivalents. The Company custodies cash with one major financial institution (the "Custodian") which at times may exceed insured limits.

Revenue recognition

Commissions and fee revenue are recognized in the periods during which the related services are performed and the amounts have been contractually earned. The Company has not placed any clients as of December 31, 2020 and recognized no revenue. Effective January 1, 2018, the Company enacted Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2014-09 "Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606)" which did not have a material impact on the financial statements.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Income taxes

AIGH is considered a partnership for United States federal income tax purposes. AIGH is not subject to United States federal income tax at the entity level. Each member is individually liable for its distributable share of all items of income, gain, loss, and deduction for such taxable year of the AIGH. A member must take such items into account even if AIGH does not distribute cash or other property to the member during the member's taxable year.

As a single member limited liability company, the Company is considered similar to a corporate division and recognizes an allocation of income taxes in its financial statements based on its allocation of AIGH's total tax expense / (benefit). The Company shall pay or receive its share of the aggregate tax allocation in a given year based on the taxable income or loss of the Company as compared to AIGH's total taxable income or loss.

As of December 31, 2020, the Company's allocated share of net operating loss carryforwards was $52,914 that will begin to expire after 2035. In addition, the Company's allocable share of other tax adjustments related to the deferred tax asset amounted to a reduction of $5,904, for a total deferred tax asset of $47,010. The Company considered all available positive and negative evidence, including recent operating results, projected future taxable income, the 15 year amortization period of the tax basis of its organization costs, and the 20 year carry forward period for the net operating loss related to New York City in evaluating whether the Company should establish a valuation allowance for the deferred tax asset. A significant piece of objective negative evidence evaluated was the cumulative loss incurred by the Company. Such objective evidence limits the ability to consider other subjective evidence, such as management's projections for future growth. On the basis of this evaluation, management determined that a full valuation allowance of $47,010 would be recorded against the total deferred tax asset. However, the amount of the deferred tax asset considered realizable could be adjusted if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward period are increased or if cumulative losses are no longer present whereby additional weight would be given to subjective evidence such as management's projections for future growth. For the year ended December 31, 2020, the Company did not have any current or deferred income tax expense.

Credit Losses

On January 1, 2020, the Company adopted FASB ASC Topic 326 – "Financial Instruments – Credit Losses" ("ASC Topic 326") which replaces the incurred loss methodology with the current expected credit loss methodology. ASC Topic 326 requires an organization to measure all expected credit losses for financial assets held at the reporting date based on historical experience, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts. Previously, GAAP required an "incurred loss" methodology that delayed recognition until it was probable a loss had been incurred. Under the new standard, the allowance for credit losses must be deducted from the amortized cost of the financial asset to present the net amount expected to be collected. The income statement will reflect the measurement of credit losses for newly recognized financial assets as well as the expected increases or decreases of expected credit losses that have taken place during the period. The Company adopted this guidance using the modified retrospective transition method and the impact was not material.

3. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company has entered into an expense sharing agreement with its affiliate, Arena Management Co., LLC ("AMC"), from which it receives shared personnel and operating services. AMC pays certain expenses in line with the expense sharing agreement and is reimbursed by the Company based on their allocable share. The Company is charged for these services based upon (a) actual costs incurred when attributed directly to the Company (direct expenses), (b) an allocation of general office space, overhead, and non-employee resources based on the percentage of space used for the period incurred (shared expenses), and (c) salaries and benefits based on the percentage of time spent for direct employees that are shared between the Company and AMC (direct employees).

For the year ended December 31, 2020, the Company incurred administrative and service fees of $38,010 to AMC. At December 31, 2020, administrative and service fees payable and direct reimbursements due to AMC of $68,026 were included in due to affiliate on the statement of financial condition.

3. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS (CONTINUED)

For the year ended December 31, 2020, the Company paid salaries and benefits of $226,299 directly to shared employees of the Company. At December 31, 2020, all salaries and benefits were fully paid.

4. REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS

The Company is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of a minimum net capital balance and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined by the SEC, shall not exceed 15 to 1. Under this rule, the Company is required to maintain net capital equivalent to the greater of $5,000 or 6 2/3% of aggregate indebtedness. At December 31, 2020, the Company had net capital after deduction for non-allowable assets of $20,843, which was $15,730 in excess of its minimum required net capital of $5,113. At December 31, 2020, the Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 3.68 to 1.

5. MEMBER'S CAPITAL

The Company's authorized member's capital consists of an unlimited number of membership interests. Changes to the Company's membership interests are as follows:

Membership Interests	Number	Capital
Opening balance	118,710	$1,187,100
Issued	20,000	200,000
Ending balance	138,710	$1,387,100

All the issued and outstanding membership interests of the Company are held by AIGH.

6. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

The Company may be involved in legal matters that arise from time to time in the ordinary course of the Company's business. At this time, the Company is not aware of any legal matters of this type that are believed to be material to the Company's results of operations, liquidity or financial condition.

7. INDEMNIFICATIONS

In the normal course of business, the Company enters or may enter into contracts which provide a variety of general indemnifications. The Company's maximum exposure under these indemnifications is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. Management expects that the risk of material loss associated with such indemnifications to be remote. Therefore, the Company has not accrued any liability with such indemnifications.

8. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On January 21, 2021, AIGH subscribed an additional $100,000 of equity capital to the Company.

Management has evaluated subsequent events through the date that the financial statements were issued and has not identified any additional events that require adjustments or disclosures in these financial statements.
