Opinion on the Statement of Financial Condition

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statement of financial condition of Amuni Financial, Inc. and Subsidiary (the "Company") as of December 31, 2024, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the financial statements). In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2024, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audit, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

December 31, 2024

(1) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Amuni Financial, Inc., (the "Company") is a securities broker/dealer headquartered in St. Petersburg, Florida with a branch office in Little Rock, Arkansas. The Company is a retail securities dealer and market maker operating primarily in the United States of America. The Company also organized a transportation company, 8365 Transport, LLC. The following items comprise the significant accounting policies which the Company follows in preparing and presenting its consolidated financial statements:

Management has evaluated all significant events occurring subsequent to the balance sheet date through February 25th, 2025, which is the date the consolidated financial statements were available to be issued, determining no events require additional disclosure in the consolidated financial statements.

Basis of Presentation. The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Amuni Financial, Inc. and 8365 Transport, LLC. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Estimates. The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition. The Company clears its proprietary and customer transactions through another broker-dealer on a fully disclosed basis. The following summarizes the Company's revenue recognition accounting policies:

Principal Transactions. Commission income and expense on principal transactions with customers are earned from the sale of securities owned. Income and expenses related to principal transactions are recorded on a trade date basis (the date that the Company fills the trade order by finding and contracting with a counterparty and confirms the trade with the customer). Management believes that the performance obligation is satisfied on the trade date because the underlying financial instrument is identified, the pricing is agreed upon and the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer.

Brokerage Commissions. The Company buys and sells securities on behalf of its customers. Each time a customer enters into a buy or sell transaction, the Company charges a commission. Commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on the trade date. The Company believes that the performance obligation is satisfied on the trade date because the underlying financial instrument or purchases is identified, the pricing is agreed upon and the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to/from the customer.

Trail Commissions. The Company receives payments from mutual fund and insurance companies in the form of distribution and/or service fees (12b-1 fees), trail commissions or renewal commissions, which are fully described in the applicable prospectus or offering document. Trail commissions are typically paid from the assets of the investment product and the amount is calculated as an annual percentage of assets invested by the Company's customers. The Company believes the performance obligation for providing advisory services is satisfied over time because the customer is receiving and consuming the benefits as they are provided by the Company.

Investment Advisory Fees. The Company provides investment advisory services on a daily basis. The Company believes the performance obligation for providing advisory services is satisfied over time because the customer is receiving and consuming the benefits as they are provided by the Company. Fee arrangements are based on a percentage applied to the customer's assets under management. Fees are received quarterly and are recognized as revenue at that time as they relate specifically to the services provided in that period, which are distinct from the services provided in other periods.

Securities Owned. Securities owned are carried at fair value. Unrealized gains and losses on securities owned are reflected currently in principal transactions.

Receivables from broker-dealers and clearing organizations. The Company's receivables from broker-dealers and clearing organizations include amounts receivable from unsettled trades executed on behalf of customers, amounts receivable for securities failed to deliver, accrued interest receivables and cash deposits. A portion of the Company's trades and contracts are cleared through a clearing organization and settled daily between the clearing organization and the Company. Because of this daily settlement, the amount of unsettled credit exposures is limited to the amount owed the Company for a very short period of time.

Depreciation and Amortization. Depreciation is provided using accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the economic useful life of the improvement or the term of the lease Income Taxes. The stockholders of the Company have elected to be taxed as an S-Corporation. For federal and state income tax purposes, all items of income and expense flow through to its stockholders, therefore no provision for income taxes is reflected in these consolidated financial statements.

GAAP sets out a consistent framework to determine the appropriate level of tax reserves to maintain for uncertain tax positions. A tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold is initially and subsequently measured as the largest amount of tax benefit that has a greater than fifty percent likelihood of being realized upon settlement with a taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. consolidated financial statements.

The determination of whether or not a tax position has met the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold considers the facts, circumstances, and information available at the reporting date and is subject to management's judgment. The Company's status as an S-Corporation is defined as a tax position under this accounting guidance. As of December 31, 2024, management is not aware of any uncertain tax positions that would have a material effect on the Company's

The Company recognizes interest and penalties on income taxes as a component of income tax expense, should such an expense be realized.

The Company files a U.S. Income Tax Return for an S-Corporation.

Fair Value Measurements. Fair value is the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The fair value hierarchy requires the Company to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The hierarchy describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1: Observable inputs such as quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities that are not active; and model-driven valuations whose inputs are observable or whose significant value drivers are observable. Valuations may be obtained from, or corroborated by, third-party pricing services.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs to measure fair value of assets and liabilities for which there is little, if any market activity at the measurement date, using reasonable inputs and assumptions based upon the best information at the time, to the extent that inputs are available without undue cost and effort.

their securities are classified with Level 2 of the valuation hierarchy.

The following describes valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value-

Securities Owned. Where quoted prices are available in an active market, securities are classified within Level 1 of the valuation hierarchy. Level 1 securities include exchange-traded equities. State and municipal obligations are valued using the Electronic Municipal Market Access system from the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board. Corporate obligations are valued using the Trade Reporting and Compliance Engine from the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority. The price from the last "inter-dealer" trade of the year is generally the fair value. Because this is not an active market, but has significant other observable inputs, their securities are classified with Level 2 of the valuation hierarchy.
