NASD Fines Banc of America Investment Services, Inc. $3 Million for Failing to Comply With Anti-Money Laundering Rules in Connection With High Risk Accounts

Firm Failed to Heed Repeated Requests for Information from Its Own Clearing Firm

Washington, D.C. — NASD announced today that it has fined Banc of America Investment Services, Inc. (BAI) $3 million in connection with the firm's failure to obtain customer information for certain high-risk accounts and for failing to have adequate communication with its parent bank to ensure that BAI's independent suspicious activity report (SAR) filing obligations were met.

"The anti-money laundering and terrorist financing laws are designed to ensure that customer and transaction risks are assessed and that firms take appropriate steps to address high risks," said NASD Executive Vice President and Head of Enforcement James S. Shorris. "BAI fundamentally failed to meet its obligations with these high risk accounts by failing to adequately investigate and pursue red flags, especially in the face of repeated requests for additional information about the accountholders from its own clearing firm."

Further, despite repeated and ongoing requests by its clearing firm, BAI failed to obtain the names of the beneficial owners and never restricted the activities in the accounts. BAI allowed the accounts to engage in large wire transactions, even though BAI did not have beneficial ownership information for them. In addition, throughout this time period, the firm continued to allow significant transactions to occur in the accounts despite the advice from a senior lawyer at BAI in March 2004 that BAI should obtain the names of the beneficial owners, and a determination by the BAI risk committee in May 2004 that the information must be obtained.

In addition, NASD also found that BAI had an inadequate compliance program for reporting suspicious transactions. While BAI relied on its parent, a bank with its own independent reporting obligations, to determine whether a suspicious activity report (SAR) should be filed, BAI did not have sufficient procedures in place to ensure that there was adequate communication between BAI and its parent as to whether a SAR should be filed and whether a SAR had in fact been filed. Consequently, BAI did not make certain that its independent obligations regarding the filing of a SAR were met. BAI was also unable to reliably incorporate the information that a SAR had been filed into an ongoing risk assessment of its... customers and to evaluate account activity going forward.

In concluding this settlement, BAI neither admitted nor denied the findings, but consented to their entry.

Investors can obtain more information about, and the disciplinary record of, any NASD-registered broker or brokerage firm by using NASD’s BrokerCheck. NASD makes BrokerCheck available at no charge. In 2006, members of the public used this service to conduct more than 4.7 million searches for existing brokers or firms and requested more than 207,000 reports in cases where disclosable information existed on a broker or firm. Investors can link directly to BrokerCheck at www.nasdbrokercheck.com. Investors can also access this service by calling (800) 289-9999.

NASD is the leading private-sector provider of financial regulatory services, dedicated to investor protection and market integrity through effective and efficient regulation and complementary compliance and technology-based services. NASD touches virtually every aspect of the securities business—from registering and educating all industry participants, to examining securities firms, enforcing both NASD rules and the federal securities laws, and administering the largest dispute resolution forum for investors and registered firms. For more information, please visit our Web site at www.nasd.com.